ANNUAL MESSAGE

OF THE

GOVERNOR OF WISCONSIN,

DELIVERED TO THE LEGISLATURE, IN JOINT CONVENTION,

JANUARY 9, 1868.

To the Legislature:

The circumstances which attend your coming together are well calculated to call forth our deepest gratitude to the Creator for the merciful kindness with which He has guided us, as a people, through the year just closed. The Divine hand has not grown weary of showering upon us blessings in richest profusion. His gracious smile has rested continually upon every department of our industry, crowning the husbandman, the miner, the manufacturer, and the laborer, with the rewards for which they toiled. Our resources have been developed, capital has largely increased, our population has been swollen by the influx of hardy, honest immigrants; neither pestilence nor famine has been permitted to gain lodgment in our midst. The year has been marked by no glaring infraction of the public peace, but law and order have reigned supreme within our borders.

Heartily do I congratulate you, gentlemen, and through you our common constituents, upon the general thrift and prosperity of the people, and earnestly do I unite with you in imploring a continuance of God's goodness and care to our beloved commonwealth.

In the discharge of the duty devolved upon me by the constitution, to communicate to you the condition of the state, and recommend such matters as may be deemed expedient, I shall confine myself to general statements, referring you for details, to the various annual reports, which are herewith submitted. A careful examination of these reports will enable you to determine accurately whether or not the public moneys have been judiciously and honestly expended, and whether or not the public servants have been faithful.

in the discharge of the duties with which they have been intrusted. Such a determination is due both to the people and to those whom they have honored with their confidence. You will find the gentlemen in charge of the state departments, and of the different state institutions willing and anxious to co-operate with you in managing the public affairs with the utmost economy consistent with the general good. In the belief that before many years the people will demand a constitutional convention, I refrain from making several recommendations which would, if carried out, involve a change in the fundamental law.

The finances of the state are in excellent condition.

STATE DEBT.

The present indebtedness of the state is	$2,279,057 00
Of which there is due to the school fund	1,394,900 00
Normal school fund	381,500 00
University fund	101,000 00
State bonds in the hands of individuals	401,600 00
Currency receipts outstanding.....	57 00

State bonds to the amount of $35,500 have been purchased with trust funds, canceled, and certificates of indebtedness issued in lieu of them, according to law. The trust funds of the state have never been more safely invested, or in better condition. I again recommend that provision be made for their future investment. The state bonds outstanding will undoubtedly be absorbed by them during this year. I think the commissioners should be authorized to invest these funds in United States or other first class bonds. Certainly no system can be devised which will not be safer and better than the original one based upon loans to individuals.

The receipts and disbursements of the general fund during the last fiscal year were as follows :

RECEIPTS.

State tax and tax on suits	$352,136 88
From banks	5,906 92
Insurance companies	52,184 05
Railroad companies.....	239,480 71

The Secretary of State presents an estimate of the expenditure from the state treasury, from October first, 1867, to January 1st, 1869, fifteen months, as follows :

Salaries and permanent appropriations.....	$67,400 00
Legislative expenses.....	87,800 00
State prison and charitable institutions.....	161,000 00
Appropriations not paid.....	171,138 00
Clerks and employees	47,600 00
Miscellaneous appropriations.....	69,200 00
State debt and interest.....	172,000 00
War fund.....	13,000 00
Expenses for last quarter of 1868.....	68,000 00
	<hr/>
Total estimated expenditure.....	$857,138 00
	<hr/> <hr/>

Estimated revenue for the same period :

Balance in the general fund.....	$8,594 13
Insurance companies.....	40,000 00
Railroad companies.....	240,000 00
Telegraphs, plankroads and peddlers.....	3,500 00
Tax on suits.....	3,000 00
Instalment on bonds from banks.....	3,000 00
State tax for 1867.....	649,608 86

Total	$973,056 52
	<hr/> <hr/>

It is estimated that not more than $10,000 remain due to soldiers on account of extra pay. The war fund, as a distinct fund, is no longer necessary. I therefore concur in the recommendation of the Secretary of State, that it be closed and all claims growing out of the war be hereafter paid from the general fund.

Persistent efforts have been made to secure a final settlement of the claim of the state against the general government on account of expenses incurred in connection with the war, but up to this time such settlement has not been effected. In addition to the sums heretofore paid $131,437 24 have been allowed the state during the past year, leaving unadjusted accounts to the amount of about $248,000 00. It is possible that a portion of the claim will finally be disallowed by the treasury department, under the strict rules which govern in the settlement of such accounts. Should this prove true, recourse must be had to congress for relief. The claim is in every respect a just and correct one, and I do not doubt its ultimate liquidation by the government, in the defense and support of which Wisconsin made the disbursements which form its basis.

There was expended from the Governor's contingent fund during the past year $1,163.17, leaving a balance of $2,310.74 in the fund.

Of the appropriation of $500.00, made last winter for the support, at the Chicago charitable eye and ear infirmary, of indigent Wisconsin soldiers suffering from diseases of the eye or ear, contracted while in the service, there has been expended $391.04.

In transporting from Germany to this place the Tank library collection, it was found necessary to expend $379.50 of the $500.00 appropriated for that purpose. Including this valuable addition, numbering 5,186 volumes, the Historical Society library now numbers 31,517 volumes—6,517 having been added to it during the last year.

TAXES.

The aggregate valuation of taxable property in the state, as equalized by the State Board of Equalization, is $211,479,319.36, being an increase since 1865 of $57,212,699.06. The last legislature failed, much to the detriment of the public interest, to agree upon any change in the laws for the assessment and collection of taxes. That these laws need amendment and revision, no one at all familiar with their working can for a moment doubt. As they are now executed a very large portion of the value of all property entirely escapes taxation. I quote from the valuable report of the Secretary of State on this subject :

“The lamentable fact stands out, that the assessors generally do not govern themselves by the plainest provisions of the law. The assessment returns of nine-tenths of the counties of this state, exhibit evidences of palpable violations of the law, in cases where there is no danger or possibility of misapprehension. Not only is a large amount of property omitted from the rolls, but in most cases, what property is assessed, is assessed at only one-half its real value. And these assessments are made, under their official oaths, by men of the highest standing in the communities where they reside. The most perfect law in the world, if executed upon the same principles, would prove a most miserable failure.

“ As examples of the value placed by assessors upon their official oaths, may be mentioned the following facts :

“ In one county the county board of assessors, after having taken the oath to assess all property at its actual cash value, as provided in the law, immediately passed a resolution to assess all property at fifty per cent. of its value. In another county, the assessors agreed to assess bank stocks worth par, and personal property, at forty cents on the dollar, and real estate in proportion. In another county, horses were valued at thirty dollars, cows at eight dollars and sheep at twenty cents each. In very few counties was there even a pretense of assessing property of any kind at more than one-half or two thirds of its actual value. All this was done in open and deliberate defiance of the law and of instructions issued from this office.”

The suggestions and recommendations of the Secretary in this connection merit your serious attention, and I certainly hope you will replace the present imperfect and inadequate law by one at once equitable and efficient.

LANDS.

The legislature, by chapter 537, general laws of 1865, provided for an equal division of the swamp lands then unsold, and the proceeds of such lands previously sold, between the normal school fund and the towns in which they were located, the lands set apart to the towns to be sold by the state, and the proceeds to be paid to the towns each year. During the last fiscal year there was paid to county treasurers for towns, on account of sales, the sum of $68,268 38. Since the enactment of the law referred to, others have been passed by the legislature making appropriations for special purposes, of lands belonging to towns. Such appropriations, I am convinced, should not have been made without the consent of the towns owning the lands, and I trust no more will be made, unless the wishes of those directly interested are known and consulted. The lands belong to the towns, and they are entitled to control their disposition.

There was sold by the state, during the past year, 67,945 acres school land, 3,330 acres university land, 21,901 acres normal school land, and 9,686 acres agricultural college land.

LAWS.

I feel it my duty to call attention to the condition of our statutes, and the imperative necessity for their speedy codification or revision. They have been amended with such frequency as to render it impossible at this time to ascertain, without long and laborious research, the law in force upon any given subject. The difficulties thus presented to all who have occasion to consult the statutes are exceedingly annoying and burdensome. The index of all amendments, for the publication of which provision is made by joint resolution number 11, 1867, will be of very great service, but I recommend that you provide for the complete and immediate revision of the statutes, unless you are of the opinion that a constitutional convention will be shortly called.

I have heretofore very freely expressed my opinions regarding special legislation, and yet cannot refrain from reiterating the belief that it is a great and growing evil, which calls for a check at your hands. Our volumes of private and local laws have become monuments of legislative folly, and it is not at all strange that the people complain of the time and money spent by the legislature each year in granting relief for which adequate provision has been made by general laws. This class of legislation is not desired by the mass of the people, and those individually interested should be compelled to seek relief in the mode pointed out by the statutes. In addition to the objections indicated, I fully believe that much of the legislation relating to private charters is an evasion of section one, of article eleven of the state constitution. I trust you will inaugurate a reform in this direction, and will leave to the courts and boards of supervisors all matters coming within their jurisdiction. Should you do this, I am confident that, while interested individuals may deary the improvement, the people will receive it with entire satisfaction.

EDUCATIONAL.

The promptness and cheerfulness with which the people respond to every demand made by the educational interests of the state upon both purse and sympathy, is a source of gratification to all who have at heart the permanent well being of our commonwealth. The almost universal appreciation of the value of an enlightened public opinion, and the thorough belief that such can only be obtained by means of popular education, augur well for the ultimate success of both state and nation. The untiring energy of our educational men, with the hearty co-operation of the people, have laid the foundations broad and deep, and Wisconsin will soon be a leader, instead of a follower, in all matters pertaining to schools and colleges. The able report of the Superintendent of Public Instruction shows that—

The number of children in the state between 4 and 20 years is..	371,083
Number who have attended public school during the past year...	239,945
Number of teachers required.....	5,059
Number of schools visited by county superintendents.....	4,223
Average number of days each attended school.....	71½
Total value of school houses and sites.....	2,522,726
Total amount paid for school purposes.....	1,803,378

The increase in expenditure for school purposes is nearly one-half million of dollars in excess of any past year. I am pleased to note another increase in the remuneration of teachers. The mission to which the teachers of the land have dedicated themselves is a noble, and, in very many instances, a self-sacrificing one, and they should be well and generously repaid.

I have deemed it my duty, as it certainly was my pleasure, during the past year, to extend to the various educational institutions of the state such official attention as other engagements would permit—a duty which I shall endeavor to discharge more thoroughly in the future. All seemed animated by a noble spirit and strength which will in the end conquer any and all obstacles which may confront them.

The total productive school fund is.....	$2,096,307 60
Receipts of the school fund income last fiscal year.....	165,097 97
Apportioned by the superintendent of public instruction....	166,619 70

413,897 acres of school land remain unsold.

The town organization of schools, recommended by the Superintendent seems to be well calculated to secure a more efficient and economical management of school affairs, and, as it will render taxation for educational purposes more equitable, provide for a gradation of schools, and a better system of classification, I commend it to your favorable consideration.

The Normal School at Platteville continues in a prosperous condition, and the school building is being greatly enlarged to meet the wants of pupils. The building, in process of erection at Whitewater, will be completed early the coming spring, when the school will be opened. The Regents have resolved to established a Normal School in the city of Oshkosh as soon as a building suitable for the purpose can be erected.

Total productive normal school fund.....	$602,791 92
Receipts of the income fund last fiscal year.....	38,935 39
Amount of income fund in the state treasury at the disposal of Regents, January 1st, 1868.....	29,227 25

480,520 acres of normal school lands remain unsold.

The State University, freed by the just action of the last legislature from many of the pecuniary embarrassments which have in the past greatly retarded its progress, gives cheering evidence of renewed life and vigor, and is now receiving, without stint, the confidence of the people, so long withheld, and without which no state university can be more than a partial success. The institution has been filled to overflowing during a portion of the past year, and the Regents ask the erection of an additional building for the accommodation of students, which I trust will be granted as soon as practicable. Wisconsin is rapidly growing in wealth and resources, her common school system is one of which she may well be proud, and there is no reason why her University should be either an absolute or comparative failure. A liberal policy toward the institution, alone, is essential to the accomplishment of the great object sought. Such a policy has, I rejoice to say, already been inaugurated, and I hope, for the honor of the state, will be permanently adopted. I recommend that the Superintendent of Public Instruction be made by law an ex-officio member of the Board of Regents. That officer should be officially connected with every state educational board. Of the university lands, 14,991 acres, and of the agricultural lands 223,869 acres remain unsold. The total productive fund belonging to the University is $215,298 83. The receipts of the income fund for the last fiscal year amounted to $18,338 24.

BENEVOLENT INSTITUTIONS.

The Benevolent Institutions of the state are all in admirable condition, reflecting great credit upon the gentlemen who have been intrusted with their management, and well calculated to inspire the people with pride and satisfaction. An inspection, during the past summer of several like institutions at the east, confirmed me in the opinion that Wisconsin is in nowise behind her sister states in kind and fostering care of her unfortunate citizens.

Two wings have been added to the State Hospital for the Insane, rendering that institution adequate to the care of about 350 patients. There are now 178 inmates, and no more can be received until the legislature provides the means for fitting up the new wings, and for the payment of the necessarily increased current expenses.—Humanity seems to require that all the insane persons in the state should be furnished with a retreat and proper care. It is a harsh necessity which compels the confinement of beings not criminal, but simply unfortunate, in jails and prisons. There are not less than 700 such within our borders, for the care and treatment of whom no provision has been made. Either a new asylum, or an addition to the present one, is necessary.

The original building of the Institute for the Education of the Blind, being unsafe, has been removed, and in its stead a wing must be erected for the accommodation of pupils. The whole number of pupils instructed during the past year is fifty-four.

The additions, heretofore authorized, to the Institute for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb have been completed in a satisfactory manner. Eighty-five pupils have been inmates of the institution during the past year.

In my last annual message I suggested to the legislature the importance of a State School for the instruction of imbecile and idiotic children. A careful examination of the reports of a number of such schools already established in the country, together with a visit to one in successful operation in an eastern state, has convinced me of their entire practicability. There are many such children in the state, none of whom can receive an education except in a well appointed institution especially adapted to their wants. The opinion of those who are devoted to the mental advancement and well being of our youth is entitled to weight in this connection, and is expressed in the following resolution adopted at the last meeting of the state teachers' association: "Resolved, That it is the sense of this association that the state of Wisconsin ought to take immediate steps to found an asylum for the education of its imbecile and idiotic children." The appeal of these children for your aid in receiving intellectual development is a strong one, and will not, I know, be lightly disregarded.

The Soldiers' Orphans' Home is filled to its utmost capacity, an average of 280 children being present. Frequent applications for admission are made which must be denied. It is the opinion of the trustees, that if a school building should be erected, all who will desire admission can be accommodated. The state should furnish a home for all such children as need it, and I trust such an arrangement as will insure the desired result will be promptly made. Left by the patriotism of their fathers in the defence of our common country, with none to care for and protect them, it is the duty, and a pleasant one, of the state to assume their guardianship: and until the people cease to hold in grateful recollection the gallant deeds of those who died maintaining our nation's honor, they will gladly provide these helpless Orphans with homes and education. I need not commend them to your kindly care. I recommend that you make ample appropriations to defray the current expenses of the benevolent institutions, and provide for such additions and repairs as may be necessary. Also a reasonable appropriation to the orphan asylums and hospitals in the city of Milwaukee.

STATE PRISON.

The report of the State Prison Commissioner gives the aggregate number of prisoners under his charge during the year as 294. That the financial management of the prison could not have been improved is clearly shown by the following brief extract from the report:

Total expenditure during the last fiscal year.....	$54,835 17
Value of permanent improvements made by convict labor.....	$53,123 04
Increase of supplies during the year	1,302 25
Actual cost, less value of improvements and supplies.....		<hr/> <hr/> $409 88

The improvements made were all of a very necessary character, being continuation of work on the north wing, grading, extension of outer wall, well, flagging, &c., and would have much exceeded the present cost if made by other than convict labor. In discipline and general administration, I doubt if any prison in the country excels it. I fully concur in the suggestions of the commissioner as to the system of working the prisoners for the benefit of the state, and recommend the appropriation of $35,000, which is deemed sufficient to pay current expenses for this year, complete the north wing, and put into the workshops the machinery required. I am confident that, after the completion of the buildings and the establishment of the mechanical departments, the earnings of the convicts will, if properly managed, be sufficient to pay all expenses of the prison. The prison school, established by law, has proved a perfect success, and the zeal manifested by the convicts in mental culture is very gratifying.

REFORM SCHOOL.

The State Reform School, an institution which enlists the hearty sympathy of all good men, is well accomplishing the ends for which it was established. The whole number in the school during the past year was 217. Largest number at any one time, 162. The new buildings have been completed, the grounds and farm have been improved and evidences of thrift and comfort meet the eye on every hand, sure indications of the fidelity and efficiency of those, in whose hands the management has been placed. A sufficient appropriation should be made to meet the current expenses of this year, estimated at $20,500, and $4,500 balance due on buildings. The cordial cooperation of the legislature with the managers, year by year, will enable them to continue to give to the state from among the inmates of this school intelligent and valuable citizens.

BANKS.

There are but fifteen banks doing business under the banking law, with an aggregate circulation of $96,332 00. It being extremely improbable that the people of this state will ever desire an increase of this circulation in preference to United States treasury notes, I concur in the recommendation of the Comptroller that the office of Bank Comptroller be abolished.

No taxes have been collected of the national banks doing business in this state, under the provisions of chapter 125, General Laws of 1867. A case testing the validity of the tax is now before the Supreme Court.

MILITIA.

There has been no material change in the state militia during the past year. A few independent companies have been organized and manifest considerable spirit. Our militia law is so defective as to be nearly a dead letter, but until congress decides whether or not it will provide for a national militia system, it is best to defer action upon the subject. The Adjutant General has published in his report as complete a list as is now possible of the names and places of burial of Wisconsin soldiers who died in the service. This will give important information to the friends of the deceased soldiers, and will very materially lessen the correspondence of the office. Within three months the records of the adjutant general's office will be completed, and the necessity of supporting it, as a distinct office, no longer existing, it will then be dispensed with, and the records will be placed in charge of the governor's secretary.

STATE CAPITOL.

The contract for the completion of the rotunda of the capitol was let by the commissioners according to law for the sum of $83,636 00, and although the contract is not yet completed, work under it has progressed to an extent which insures greater comfort and convenience. The dome should be constructed as soon as possible, and an appropriation sufficient for that purpose should be made, to be expended as the work progresses, probably during 1868, 1869 and 1870. This contract should be let for the entire construction of the dome. It can be built under one much more satisfactorily than under a number of contracts. The artesian well in the park has been sunk to a depth of 980 feet, but up to this time is not a success. The completion of the present contract will leave the well 1,000 feet deep. There has been expended upon it to date $8,622 70. It is now for you to decide whether or not the enterprise shall be abandoned. Such a well in successful operation would be of very great value to the state, and would justify the expenditure of an additional sum of money.

IMMIGRATION.

The Board of Immigration, provided for by chapter 126 of the general laws of 1867, was organized by the appointment of B. Domschke, Esq., of Milwaukee, John A. Johnson, Esq., of Dane and Edmund Sweeny, Esq., of Jefferson, the Governor and Secretary of State being members ex officio. Under the direction of the board a pamphlet has been prepared, giving an accurate and instructive account of the resources, climate, lands, laws, institutions, and an outline map of the state. Twelve thousand copies have been printed, which are now being circulated in Europe, and will no doubt efficiently disseminate information which will greatly tend to the increase of immigration to our state. The board, in their report, advise an appropriation of $5,000 for use this year. The powerful aid which increased immigration would exert in the material development of Wisconsin cannot be over estimated; I therefore cordially indorse the suggestion of the board.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION.

The proposed amendment to section 21 of article 4 of the state constitution, providing for the payment to each member of the legislature of a salary of $350 per annum, and mileage, was submitted to the people at the last general election and by them ratified.

The last legislature adopted the following joint resolution, proposing an amendment to the state constitution :

“ Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That section four of article eight of the constitution of the state of Wisconsin is amended, to read as follows : ‘ The state shall never contract any public debt except in the cases and manner herein provided, but the legislature shall provide by law that for every twenty continuous miles of railroad, operated by other than horse power, hereafter built and equipped as a first class railroad within this state, there shall be donated from the state treasury to the company building the same, one hundred thousand dollars. For that purpose a public debt may be created, and bonds may be issued in addition to the debt provided for by section six and section nine of article eight.’ ”

Also the following :

“ Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, That section 1, of article 3 of the constitution of the state of Wisconsin, be amended so as to read as follows :

*“ Every person of the age of 21 years or upward, belonging to either of the following classes, who shall have resided in the state for one year next preceding any election, shall be deemed a qualified elector at such election: 1st. Citizens of the United States. 2d. Persons of foreign birth, who shall have declared their intentions to become citizens, conformably to the laws of the United States on the subject of naturalization. 3d. Persons of Indian blood, who have once been declared by law of congress to be citizens of the United States, any subsequent law of congress to the contrary notwithstanding. 4th. Civilized persons of Indian descent, not members of any tribe: providing, that the legislature may at any time extend by law the right of suffrage to persons not herein enumerated; but no such law shall be in force until the same shall have been submitted to a vote of the people at a general election, and approved by a majority of all the votes cast at such election.”*

These propositions have been before the people for a year, and have doubtless elicited considerable discussion. You are therefore probably quite well informed as to the views of your constituents upon the questions involved. Should your information upon the subject lead you to believe they desire the ratification of these amendments, you will of course ratify them, and provide for their submission. They are fraught with interest and importance, and should perhaps be considered by the people when free from the excitement of a presidential campaign. In this view it might be well, should they receive your ratification, to postpone their submission to some general election subsequent to the next one.

INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS.

During the past summer an accurate survey of the Wisconsin river was made under the direction of the United States' government, the result of which I am informed demonstrates beyond a doubt the practicability of rendering that river navigable at a much smaller expense than has hitherto been thought necessary. The interests of Wisconsin, and indeed of the entire northwest, still call loudly for the improvement of the Fox, Wisconsin and Rock rivers. The former of these is being constantly improved by the company having it in charge. A detailed report upon the necessity of the Rock river improvement has been made to me by a committee of gentlemen appointed for that purpose, copies of which will, at an early day be transmitted for your information. There is every reason to believe that national aid will be rendered in furtherance of the improvements indicated. They are all of such obvious importance that I feel assured you will embrace every possible opportunity to facilitate their early consummation.

Seventy miles of the military wagon road, from Fort Howard to the Michigan state line, have been completed and accepted, and such completion has been certified to the Secretary of the Interior, as required by law. The entire road will probably be completed during the coming summer.

The 200,000 acres of land granted by congress to aid in the construction of the Sturgeon Bay ship canal, remain undisposed of by the state.

In this connection, I desire to renew my recommendation of last year, that your influence be exerted for the early completion of the Northern Pacific railroad, and of the ship canal around the Falls of Niagara, both of which, if in operation, would be sources of incalculable benefit to this state and the whole country. Several new lines of railroad are being vigorously carried forward, and there are indications that others will be commenced within this year. The people of the sections through which these roads are being constructed, alive to the benefits to be derived from them, are contributing large sums of money, in aid of their construction. There seems good warrant for believing, that the day is not far distant when we shall see every portion of the state in possession of abundant railroad facilities.

NATIONAL.

I cannot forbear recommending that you ask the Federal Government to insist upon a full and satisfactory settlement of the expatriation question. The recent re-affirmance by a foreign nation, of the doctrine of feudal times, in the trial of naturalized citizens of the United States for alleged violation of an allegiance long since renounced, compels a vindication of the power and will of this Republic to protect its citizens wherever found. Those who came among us from the old world, seeking homes, the protection of our laws, and the benefits of our institutions, justly demand that their status be definitely and forever fixed. Justice to them, and to our national self-respect require immediate action upon this question. When we invite immigrants to this country, pass laws extending to them the rights, and requiring of them the duties of citizenship, we, by the plainest implication, assert the right of expatriation, and pledge ourselves to guarantee that right. We are in honor bound to redeem the pledge. The nations of the earth are forced to respect the rights of the native American citizen, and the same respect must be exacted for those who, though born in foreign lands, have become by naturalization, citizens of the United States. In countless numbers they have accepted our proffered welcome, in good faith they have renounced all fealty to other powers, and to the genuineness of their new allegiance the national cemeteries of the land bear ample, but melancholy testimony. To afford them now but the partial protection of our flag would be a distinction between the adopted and the native born, at once invidious and disgraceful.

Congress is earnestly addressing itself to the important work of more completely adjusting the financial affairs of the country, and I believe the people may confidently expect that, within a reasonable period, a policy will be adopted which, while commanding the entire approval of the nation's creditors, will secure the honest payment of the national debt, at such rate of interest, and at such time in the future, as will relieve them somewhat from the burdens of taxation now pressing upon them. They may also expect, and, I think, with no fear of disappointment, that our revenue laws will be so amended and improved as to secure greater equality of taxation to all portions of the country; that taxes will be assessed upon articles of luxury, exempting as far as possible the necessaries of life; that all revenues will be promptly collected, and that every violation of the revenue laws will be severely and speedily punished. Taxation should be reduced to the lowest possible rate compatible with the perfect maintenance of the public faith, and, to secure this result, the most rigid economy must prevail in every department of the government. Our representatives, recognizing the great importance of retrenchment, and their accountability to the people, will, I am satisfied, discharge their full duty in this direction.

The work of reconstruction is progressing as rapidly and as satisfactorily as could be expected when we consider that a great majority of those who were leading traitors are opposing the pacification of the country upon any basis which will not insure to them full control of the states lately in rebellion, and place under subjection to them the union men of that section. Such have constantly sought since the cessation of hostilities to save from the ruins of their crushed confederacy some of the pernicious principles upon which it was founded, and have seemed resolved to accept no terms which the government might offer. They have opposed, and still bitterly oppose, all schemes of reconstruction unless of their own dictation. When the war was ended, and the paroled armies of treason had returned to their homes, the people of the north had a right to expect from them obedience to and acquiescence in the laws of the land. In this just expectation they have been continually disappointed.

Those who sustained this union and who gave to its support freely of their blood and treasure, have some rights which traitors are bound to respect, and which will be enforced. They have a right to an early restoration to the union of the states lately in rebellion upon a basis of equal and exact justice to all men. They have a right to demand that the local governments of those states shall be placed in the hands of men who are neither forsworn nor unrepentant of their treason; that union men of every grade and condition shall receive that protection to which they are entitled, and without which this government would be but a stupendous farce. They are satisfied with the congressional plan of reconstruction now being carried out, and will not materially change it, because it guarantees these rights, and because they believe its main features essential to the future safety of the Republic. The principles which underlie it cannot be successfully opposed, and those at the south who are so bitterly hostile to them are proving themselves entirely unworthy of the generous forbearance received by them at the hands of a people whom they have so deeply injured. Nothing is demanded in a spirit of anger or revenge. Seeking the safety of the nation, we demand only what is deemed essential to its future peace, and to the perpetuity of our free institutions. No one asks the permanent disfranchisement of any class of people at the south, but simply that those, who by their position and education, controlled the southern masses and led them into rebellion against the government, and who are responsible for all the precious blood which has been shed, and the lives which have been sacrificed, shall not be permitted to regain their former political power until they indicate by their action a willingness to acquiesce in the principles which pledge to all men equality before the law, and ample protection in the enjoyment of all the rights which belong to men and citizens. Early restoration to all forfeited privileges is within their grasp. Let them, embittered no longer by sectional rancor and defeated partizanship, join hands with the people of the north in redeeming the nation's pledges, and in placing the Republic upon a basis of justice and right which shall endure through the coming ages, and gladly will all extend to them the hand of friendly, hearty welcome. Strong in the consciousness of being right, and in the full faith that ultimately the right must and will prevail, united by an honest devotion to the best interests of the entire country, and unflinching in the holy determination to hand down to posterity, without a stain, and stronger than ever before, the government which the Fathers gave them, the Union men of this land, North and South, will stand firm and undismayed until the great work is done, and harmony reigns once more throughout our whole domain.

LUCIUS FAIRCHILD,

EXECUTIVE CHAMBER, January 9th, 1868.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
SECRETARY OF STATE.
FOR THE
FISCAL YEAR ENDING SEPTEMBER 30, 1867.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE, }
MADISON, Wis., Oct. 10, 1867. }

To his Excellency, LUCIUS FAIRCHILD,

Governor of the state of Wisconsin :

I have the honor to submit, as required by law, a statement of the funds, revenues and expenditures of the state for the fiscal year ending on the 30th day of September, 1867, together with several statistical reports and recommendations.

The balance in the treasury at the close of the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1866, was $212,465 25, belonging to the General Fund, the War Fund, the several trust funds, and sundry minor funds.

The balance in the treasury at the close of the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1867, was $157,738 21, belonging to the several funds above enumerated.

The receipts into and disbursements from the several funds in the treasury during the past year, were as follows :

In the appendix to this report will be found statements in detail properly classified as to objects of expenditure, and showing to whom and for what purpose each account was audited. A careful examination of these details will afford, of itself, all the necessary suggestions towards retrenchment in the administration of state affairs; and to these details the attention of the proper authorities is respectfully solicited.

STATE INDEBTEDNESS.

The present indebtedness of the state is $2,279,057 00, and is classified as follows :

Certificates of indebtedness—
School fund	$1,394,900 00
Normal school fund.....	381,500 00
University fund.....	101,000 00
	$1,877,400 00

July 1, 1887.....	10,000 00
July 1, 1888.....	47,000 00
	49,000 00
Currency certificates outstanding.....		$401,600 00
		$2,279,057 00

The above statement shows a reduction of state indebtedness of $3,134 00, which has been paid from the General Fund. Bonds to the amount of $35,500 have been taken up and invested in certificates of indebtedness to the Trust Funds, leaving bonds of the state and currency certificates outstanding to the amount of $401,657 00. The outstanding bonds can all be taken up before maturity by the Trust Funds, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 25 of the General Laws of 1866.

Every succeeding day and year demonstrates the wise policy of the state in abolishing the unsafe system of loans upon real estate security to irresponsible parties, with a certainty, based upon past experience, of losing a large per centage of the investment. The good faith of the whole people is now pledged to the payment of the interest due the several Trust Funds upon their certificates of indebtedness; and unless a large majority of the people, under false teachings, become demoralized, the public faith will be kept inviolate, and the educational interests of the state fully protected. The views expressed in my last annual report remain unchanged; and in view of possible attempts to overthrow the present system, the following paragraph is repeated:

“The state, by virtue of several laws, the last of which is found in chapter 25, General Laws of 1866, very wisely provided for the investment of the Trust Funds in the bonds issued by the state for war purposes. This not only withdraws the bonds from market, enhances the value of those still outstanding, and relieves the people from the burden of taxation which would be felt, were the principal to be paid at maturity, but it is the most safe and most economical method of providing for the safekeeping of these sacred funds, and the prompt payment of the interest when required for distribution among the people in support of Common Schools, Normal Schools and the State University. So long as the bonds of the state can be purchased with the surplus of these several funds, it is to be hoped that no other source of investment will be sought. It is fortunate that the necessities of the state have forced the abandonment of the former pernicious system of numberless loans, in small amounts and on most uncertain security.”

GENERAL FUND.

The following is a condensed statement of the receipts and disbursements of the General Fund, showing the sources from which the revenues of the state are derived, and the several objects of expenditures, from which it appears that the balance on hand in this fund is $8,594 13.

As will appear from the foregoing statement, the receipts into the General Fund, are in some particulars in excess of previous estimates. The receipts from insurance companies, estimated at $30,000, owing to wise and liberal legislation and the introduction of new companies into the state, amount to the sum of $52,184 05. The receipts from railroad companies, on account of the three per cent. tax on receipts, amount to the sum of $239,480 71, being nearly $40,000 in excess of the estimates. This was due to the increased business of the roads, occasioned by the flourishing financial condition of the people of the state. From the license to hawkers and peddlers $3,090 92 was received, being an increase of nearly $3,000 over the receipts of the previous year. This is due to the efficient law of the last session for its proper collection. From these several sources, a still larger revenue may confidently be expected the coming year.

Owing to the large appropriations to the several state institutions, the expenditures for the last year have slightly exceeded the estimates. With this exception the estimates are substantially correct.

By reference to the items above enumerated, it will be seen that the amount paid for the support of the state prison, and the eleemosynary institutions of the state was $310,798 08. For the completion and improvement of the state capitol the sum of $52,103 55 was paid. These appropriations, with the interest on the public debt form the principal portion of the annual expense of the state government. These items of expenditure may be stated as follows :

State prison and charitable institutions.....	$310,798 08
State capitol and improvements.....	52,103 55
Interest and payment on debt.....	162,458 98
Total.....	$525,360 61

The following statement shows the appropriations made in the year 1867, including the balance due on appropriations of 1866, the amounts paid thereon the past year, and the amounts still due on account of the same ; most of which will be paid previous to the first day of January, 1868 :

The detailed statement of accounts audited from the General Fund will be found, properly classified on pages 49 to 96 of the appendix to this report.

WAR FUND.

The War Fund, during the continuance of the late rebellion, consisted of the amounts realized from loans, and such appropriations as were made from time to time. The necessity for raising money for war purposes having passed away, only the small balance due from banks on the sale of state securities, together with the proceeds of the sale of military stores, can now be credited to this fund.

It is respectfully suggested, that this account be closed, and that the balance overdrawn be charged to the general fund. The only legitimate charges against this fund being for aid to families of volunteers, and the expenses of the adjutant general's office, there does not appear to be any further necessity for keeping up the appearance of war. The amount still due for volunteer aid is very small, and consists only of a few unadjusted claims.

The receipts and disbursements of this fund for the last fiscal year, were as follows :

RECEIPTS.

Semi-annual payment of 1 per cent. on bonds	$3,154 90
Sale of military goods.....	18 00
	$3,172 90

	$10,739 02	$10,739 02

The various items of the war fund, as audited, will be found on page 97 of the appendix to this report.

SCHOOL FUND.

The School Fund is composed of :

1. Proceeds of lands granted by the United States for support of Schools.
2. All moneys accruing from forfeiture or escheat and trespass penalties on school land.
3. All fines collected in the several counties for breach of the penal laws.
4. All moneys paid as an exemption from military duty, and
5. Five per cent. on sale of government lands.

The amount of the productive School Fund on the 30th day of September, 1866 and 1867, was as follows :

	1867	1866
Amount due on certificates of sales	$535,015 56	$554,350 74
Amount due on mortgages	166,392 04	192,641 43
Certificates of indebtedness.....	1,394,900 00	1,394,900 00
Total productive fund.....	$2,096,307 60	$2,141,892 17

The decrease in the productive fund for 1867 is only an apparent decrease. The sum of $80,703.25 which appears as an overpayment from the School Fund in 1866 was included in the productive fund of that year, and has since been paid out of the receipts from certificates and mortgages. There is an actual increase of productive fund of $35,118 68, with a balance of cash in the treasury amounting to $31,869 25, which will be invested in Wisconsin bonds.

The changes in the first two items of the productive fund as stated above, have been produced as follows :

Am't due on certificates of sale Sept. 30, 1866	$554,350 74
Decrease by forfeitures.....	$30,227 70

Chapter 537 of the General Laws of 1865, after much discussion and long and careful deliberation, was passed as a final settlement of the much vexed question, as to the proper disposal of the swamp land grant. By this act, one-half the swamp lands were set apart to the Normal School Fund, and the proceeds of the remaining half were appropriated to the several towns in which the lands lie for the purpose of draining and reclaiming said lands. Constant efforts are being made to secure these lands for other purposes than (as expressed in the grant, under the guise of public and local necessities; but more frequently for the purpose of speculation and individual aggrandizement. Those lands set apart for drainage purposes, now belong to the towns in which they lie; and the policy of alienating them for any other object than the one specified, is very questionable; and nothing but the most imperious necessity would justify such a proceeding. It not only is a violation of good faith on the part of the state, but perpetrates an injustice against the towns interested, and produces great confusion in the books of the land department. In my opinion, no further grant of these lands should be made without the consent of the people of the towns, fairly expressed at an election held for the purpose. The attention of the legislature is respectfully called to these suggestions.

		$298,094 13
State tax for 1867.....	$649,608 86
State tax for previous years.....	25,353 53
		$674,962 39
Total revenue, estimated.....		$973,056 52

The above estimate of expenditures is based upon the ordinary expenses of the last fiscal year, and for the term of twelve months ending October 1, 1868. But as provision must be made for the quarter ending January 1, 1869, an additional estimate has been added to the amount as estimated for the fiscal year only.

No estimate is made for any probable appropriations for the completion of any of the public buildings, since these are entirely under the control of the legislature. Means, however, should be provided to meet all demands upon the treasury promptly, to the end that the public credit be not jeopardized.

In the estimated revenues for the fiscal year, the taxes due from national banks for the years 1865 and 1866, the collection of which is provided for in chapter 125 of the general laws of 1867, are not included. The constitutionality of this law is questioned, and it is understood that cases are now before the supreme court involving the principle at issue. Until this question is determined, no estimate can be made.

STATE CAPITOL.

In compliance with chapter 152 of the general laws of 1867, the commissioners therein named advertised for proposals to complete the work on the rotunda of the capitol.

The following is a copy of such advertisement :

“ TO CONTRACTORS.

“ OFFICE OF BOARD OF BUILDING COMMISSIONERS, }
 “ Madison, Wis., April 12, 1867. }

“ Notice is hereby given, that sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Secretary of State, in the State Capitol, at Madison, Wisconsin, until 12 o'clock M., on the 18th day of May next, for the erection and completion of the rotunda of the state capitol building, as provided by chapter 152 of the general laws of Wisconsin, approved April 11, 1867, in accordance with plans and specifications and under the general direction and superintendence of S. V. Shipman, architect, at whose office, over State bank, at Madison, Wisconsin, said plans, specifications and detail drawings will be on exhibition on and after the 20th day of April; and where all necessary information and instructions in regard to the work will be given.

"The terms, conditions and restrictions specified in said chapter 152 of the general laws of 1867, and in chapter 59 of the general laws of 1866, shall be held to constitute a part of the contract, and will be insisted upon by the building commissioners.

"A bond of at least one-half of the whole sum to be paid for doing said work will be required of the party or parties to whom said contract shall be awarded, with good and sufficient securities, to be approved by the building commissioners, conditioned for the prompt and faithful prosecution and completion of the said work under said contract. All proposals must specify the names of such securities proposed to be given, with the written consent of such persons to the use of their names for that purpose.

"The commissioners reserve to themselves the right to accept or reject any or all proposals presented, which they shall deem not compatible with the interest of the state.

"Proposals will be directed to 'Hon. Thos. S. Allen, Secretary of State,' and endorsed 'Proposals for erecting and completing the rotunda of the State Capitol.'

"L. FAIRCHILD, Governor,
 "THOS. S. ALLEN, Sec'y of State,
 "WM. E. SMITH, State Treasurer,
 "CHAS. R. GILL, Att'y General.
 "J. M. RUSK, Bank Comptroller,
 "Building Commissioners."

On the 18th day of May, 1867, bids were opened as follows :

1.	Lewis & Allen—
	For the work complete, in accordance with plans and specifications.....	$83,500 00
	(No sureties were named in connection with the above bid, as required by the commissioners.)
2.	William T. Fish—
	1. For all complete, except iron work.....	$29,100 00
	2. For the work complete	94,100 00
3.	C. S. Rankin & Co.—
	1. For iron work complete.....	$60,400 00
	2. For same, excepting braces, bolts and covering pedestal of dome, &c	45,700 00
	3. For same, excepting additional items.....	43,600 00
4.	Robert B. Livsey—
	1. For the work complete.....	$84,456 00
	2. For all, excepting iron work.....	33,040 00

5.	John Bentley—
	For the work complete.....	$84,994 00
6.	William Goodnow—
	For the work complete.....	$83,636 00
7.	E. W. Skinner—
	1. For the work complete.....	$88,380 00
	2. For the iron work only.....	59,645 00
8.	N. S. Bouton & Co —
	For iron work only.....	$65,000 00

The commissioners, after due deliberation, awarded the contract to William Goodnow, of Milwaukee, as having made the lowest and best bid in accordance with the terms and provisions of the advertisement and specifications. Their decision in the case has recently been sustained by the supreme court of the state on application of Lewis & Allen for an injunction.

The work is successfully under way, under the supervision of Col. S. V. Shipman, architect, whose plans and specifications have been adopted by the commissioners.

COUNTY AGRICULTURAL SOCIETIES.

An abstract of the annual reports of twenty-four county agricultural societies will be found on pages 184 and 185, marked as schedule "K." All these societies held an annual fair and are entitled to and have drawn the sum of $100 00 each, as provided by law. From these reports the receipts and disbursements appear, in the aggregate, as follows :

Receipts from membership, entries, &c.....	$20,325 69
Paid for premiums and expenses.....	17,442 00
Amount of cash on hand.....	2,883 69

REGISTRATION OF MARRIAGES.

Chapter 110 of the revised statutes provides that the registers of deeds of the several counties of the state, shall be provided with books in which they shall register the "marriages which may have been contracted, and the births and deaths which may have occurred, within his county." Section 11 of said chapter also provides that the secretary of state shall annually report an abstract of such registration as shall be returned to him by the several registers.

The following is an abstract of all the returns made to this office for the year 1866 :

Number of marriages, Adams.....county.....	45
Calumet.....do.....	62
Green Lake...do.....	99
Kenosha.....do.....	135
La Crosse...do.....	40
Racine.....do.....	20
Trempealeau..do.....	35
Washington..do.....	176
Winnebago...do.....	56
Wood.....do.....	32
Total reported for 1866.....	700

The law requires that a return be made from each county every six months. For the first six months of the year 1867, the following returns have been made :

Number of marriages, Adams.....county.....	17
Calumet.....do.....	18
Dane.....do.....	135
Dodge.....do.....	55
Door.....do.....	12
Fond du Lac..do.....	42
Green Lake..do.....	36
Juneau.....do.....	27
Kenosha...do.....	50
La Crosse...do.....	41
Manitowoc...do.....	39
Milwaukee...do.....	143
Portage.....do.....	13
Sauk.....do.....	100
Trempealeau..do.....	61
Washington..do.....	37
Waukesha...do.....	20
Winnebago...do.....	50
Wood.....do.....	9
Total for six months in 1867.....	805

It appears from the above statements that only ten counties made returns according to law for the year 1866 ; while in 1867 the number had increased to only nineteen, out of the fifty-eight counties in the state.

For all practical purposes the law might as well not exist ; since even in those counties reporting, only a small number of the marriages contracted, are included in the returns. The returns of births and deaths are still more meager ; only four counties making any returns at all. Imperfect returns of this kind, instead of furnishing any information, only lead to error. If there is any value attached to correct statistics, or to the fact of having a record of marriages, births and deaths, the law should provide for its more perfect enforcement. The registers of deeds of the several counties are all furnished with the proper books and blanks for keeping these records, and for making their returns, and it is not supposed that the failure rests with them. It is rather the neglect of clergymen and other persons authorized to perform the ceremony of marriage, to comply with the law, and make their returns to the register of deeds. For this neglect no penalty is provided. To secure then, a compliance with the law, it is respectfully suggested that the proper blanks be furnished by the secretary of state, and that such penalties for non-observance of the law be provided, as shall be deemed sufficient to secure its general observance.

In relation to the registration of births and deaths, I know of no way to secure its completeness; since persons are born into the world and depart from it without the attendance of a physician. The parents of a child, or the family of the deceased, are the only persons who could be relied upon to furnish the information in this particular, unless it were made the duty of the Town Clerk of each town to make an annual or semi-annual report from such information as he might be able to obtain. This subject is respectfully referred to the consideration of the legislature.

RAILROAD COMPANIES.

An abstract of the several reports of the railroad companies of this state, will be found in the appendix to this report, on pages 162-7, marked "I." Owing to the consolidation of several lines and companies with other companies, foreclosures under mortgages, and extension of a portion of the lines into other states, it is impossible to make a satisfactory summary of their standing and business transactions for the past year. The reports do not show the number of miles operated in the state, the amount of capital stock subscribed and paid, nor the cost of the several roads with any approach to accuracy. For this reason, no attempt at a consolidation of the reports will be made. The detailed reports of each company will be found marked as appendix "J," commencing on page 168.

It is respectfully suggested that chapter 91, of the general laws of 1858, be so amended, as to require more definite specifications as to the length of track and branch roads in the state, fuller statements of the characteristics of the several roads, reports of the kind and amount of freight transported, with the rate per ton per mile on through and local freight, and such other items as may be of interest to the people and the legislature.

INSURANCE COMPANIES.

Abstracts of the annual reports of the several insurance companies transacting business in this state, will be found in the appendix to this report, marked, respectively, "C," "D," "E," "F," and “G,” and classified as fire and marine, life, accident, live-stock, and home companies. From these reports it will appear that the business of insurance in the state is largely on the increase.

From these reports it appears that the number of companies transacting business in the state for the past year is as follows :

Fire and marine companies of other states.....	57
Life companies of other states.....	30
Accident companies of other states.....	5
Live-stock companies of other states.....	2
Companies organized under Wisconsin laws.....	8
Total.....	102

The number transacting business in 1866 was as follows :

Fire and marine companies of other states.....	51
Life.....do.....do.....do.....	15
Accident.....do.....do.....	5
Companies organized under laws of Wisconsin.....	8
	79
Increase in 1867.....		23

FIRE AND MARINE COMPANIES.

The fifty-seven companies of other states, transacting business in this state, exhibit, in the aggregate, the following statement :

Capital stock paid in.....	$30,595,665	50
Total assets.....	46,994,015	80
Total liabilities.....	4,018,752	57
Total amount of premiums received during the year 1866....	34,428,279	57
Total amount of losses paid during the year 1866.....	20,064,006	79
Total amount of expenditures for the year 1866.....	32,076,694	19
Amount of premiums received in the state of Wisconsin...	1,041,694	07
Amount of losses paid in the state of Wisconsin.....	620,387	25

LIFE AND ACCIDENT COMPANIES.

The abstracts “D” and “E” show the following aggregate statement of the transactions and standing of life and accident companies :

Capital stock paid in.....	$4,324,590	00
Total assets.....	85,731,817	68
Total liabilities.....	6,344,968	23
Total amount of premiums received during the year 1866....	34,167,710	01
Total amount of losses paid during the year 1866.....	5,090,973	55
Total amount of expenditures for 1866.....	13,553,592	72
Amount of premiums received in Wisconsin.....	531,452	23
Amount of losses paid.....	79,913	49

The gross amount of premiums received in the state of Wisconsin for the year 1866, by all the companies not incorporated by the state of Wisconsin was as follows :

Fire and marine companies.....	$1,041,794 07
Life and accident companies.....	531,452 28
Total	$1,573,146 35

Amount received in 1865 :

Fire and marine companies.....	$666,994 88
Life and accident companies.....	335,717 43
	1,002,712 31
Increase.....		$570,434 04

The amount of losses paid in Wisconsin for the years 1865 and 1866 was as follows :

In 1866 :

Fire and marine companies.....	$620,387 25
Life and accident companies.....	79,913 40
Total	$700,300 65

In 1865 :

Fire marine companies.....	$164,056 53
Life and accident companies.....	69,871 13
	233,927 66
Increase.....		$466,372 99

The amount paid into the treasury by the several insurance companies for license and taxes was as follows :

For the fiscal year ending September 30, 1866.....	$34,729 45
For the fiscal year ending September 30, 1867.....	52,184 05
Increase.....	$17,454 60

No abstract is made of the reports of the two live stock companies or of the Wisconsin companies for the reason that these companies have not heretofore reported to this department, and the number is yet so limited, that the detailed statements as found in the appendix, furnish all the information necessary without condensation.

From the above statement of indebtedness of the several counties of the state for arrears of state tax, it appears that the whole amount now due is $25,353 53. At the end of the fiscal year ending September 30, 1866, the amount due the state for arrears was $74,366 60, showing a reduction of indebtedness of $49,013 07. This reduction has been occasioned by prompt payment on the part of many delinquent counties, and by a credit given to the county of Marathon for the sum of $20,271 34, in accordance with chapter 22 of the general laws of 1867. This credit was given in consideration of a deed to the state of 40,540 acres of land by said county. This deed has been executed and recorded, and is now on file in this office. The lands therein conveyed, will be offered for sale at the expiration of one year from the time of passage of said law, as is therein provided. The lands are understood to be good lands, and there is little doubt that the amount for which they were taken, will soon be realized from their sale.

STATE OF WISCONSIN, County of Dane, ss.

Thomas S. Allen, being duly sworn, says that the foregoing list contains the names of all the clerks employed in the office of secretary of state during the year ending September 30, 1867, as he verily believes; that the amount was actually paid to each clerk as stated, and that the same was necessarily expended to enable him to properly discharge the duties of the office of secretary of state:

THOS. S. ALLEN,
Secretary of state.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 10th day of October, 1867.
E. A. SPENCER,
Notary public.

ASSESSMENT AND EQUALIZATION.

In accordance with the law on the subject, the biennial assessment of property was made for the year 1867, and the valuations as returned from the several counties were equalized by the state board of equalization which met on the first Tuesday of September. Owing to the efforts and honest determination of the assessors in some counties, and to the efforts made by this department, sustained by a few prominent citizens of the state, the assessment returns are more satisfactory than for many years. A revision of the law in some respects, and a more general determination on the part of assessors to do their duty, must result in still greater improvement another year.

The following comparative statements will show the changes made since the previous biennial assessment in 1865. The figures are as returned by the several counties and not as equalized by the state board :

Number of acres returned in 1867	18,304,475 07
Number of acres returned in 1865.....	17,563,316 52

Aggregate.....do.....do.....do.....1865	154,266,620 30
Total increase in value returned 1867	$57,212,699 06

A tabular statement, showing the aggregate value of property in the state as returned by the several counties and as equalized by the state board of equalization, together with the amount of state tax apportioned to the several counties, will be found in appendix "B," on pages 114, 115, 116 and 117 of this report. It appears from this statement that the state tax apportioned for 1867 amounts in the aggregate to the sum of $649,958 86, which is 3 1-3 mills upon the dollar valuation as equalized.

It further appears that the state board, in making the equalization, adopted the very questionable policy of reducing the aggregate valuation of property, as returned, as follows :

Aggregate value of all property returned.....	$211,479,319 36
Aggregate.....do.....do.....equalized	196,851,160 97
Decrease by equalization	$14,628,158 39

The gradual increase in valuation of property in the state for the last five years respectively, will be seen from the following statement :

Aggregate valuation for 1863.....	$153,071,773
.....do.....do.....1864.....	152,652,752

.....do.....do.....do.....do.....do.....1867.....	211,479,319

The aggregate valuation, for 1867, is composed of the following items :

Valuation of lands as returned.....	$119,667,158 49
.....do.....city and village lots	41,018,244 16
.....do.....personal property.....	50,798,916 71

In relation to assessment laws as in relation to other laws, it is much easier to discover and expose defects, than to suggest appropriate remedies. The opinion is almost universal, that the present laws need revision and amendment. Complaints are constantly received by this department from assessors in all parts of the state, as to their inability to construe them in some cases, and as to the impossibility of enforcing them in others. The great difficulty seems to lie in securing a proper return of the amount and value of personal property. It is charged that under the present law, a large proportion of taxable property is covered up by the owners, and is beyond their reach, and consequently escapes its share of taxation.

That there is some truth in these statements, every person familiar with the subject, can bear witness. But it is my candid opinion, that were the present law understood by assessors, as it should be, and executed by them in its letter and spirit, there would be less cause for complaint. It is human nature to seek to shuffle off individual responsibility and short-comings upon so-called defects or inconsistencies in the law. The lamentable fact stands out,—that the assessors generally do not govern themselves by the plainest provisions of the law. The assessment returns of nine-tenths of the counties of this state, exhibit evidences of palpable violations of the law, in cases where there is no danger or possibility of misapprehension. Not only is a large amount of property omitted from the rolls, but in most cases, what property is assessed, is assessed at only one-half its real value. And these assessments are made, under their official oaths, by men of the highest standing in the communities where they reside. The most perfect law in the world, if executed on the same principles, would prove a most miserable failure.

As examples of the value placed by assessors upon their official oaths, may be mentioned the following facts :

In one county the County Board of Assessors, after having taken the oath to assess all property at its actual cash value, as provided in the law, immediately passed a resolution to assess all property at fifty per cent. of its value. In another county, the assessors agreed to assess Bank stocks worth par, and personal property, at forty cents on the dollar, and real estate in proportion. In another county, horses were valued at thirty dollars, cows at eight dollars, and sheep at twenty cents each. In very few counties was there even a pretense of assessing property of any kind at more than one half or two-thirds of its actual value. All this was done in open and deliberate defiance of the law and of instructions issued from this office.

An earnest attempt was made by this department to secure a fair valuation of all the property of the state at the last annual assessment. New forms and instructions were sent to each assessor, calling attention to the plainest and most important provisions of the law. The following extracts from these instructions will show that no officer acted in ignorance of his duty :

“ A correct and uniform valuation of all the real and personal property in the state, affords the only guarantee of the equal distribution of the burdens of supporting our state and municipal organizations. A strict compliance with the spirit and letter of the assessment law on the part of assessors, is absolutely necessary to secure justice to all and injustice to none. An assessor who cannot conscientiously govern himself by the law, should resign and give place to some one who can and will. And it should be the duty as well as the pleasure of all good citizens to sustain these officers in the full discharge of their duties. With opposition on the part of the community, the task imposed upon the assessor is irksome and unwelcome ; and, moreover, has the tendency to defeat the perfect and equal operation of the law.

“ The law, itself, is so definite and precise in its provisions, that with ordinary care, and diligent and careful study, there should be no difficulty in its correct interpretation. There are two principal considerations which should be borne in mind as the special object of the assessment law :

“ 1st. ALL PROPERTY, of whatever nature, unless exempt by law, should be listed. To discover this property, whether in land, money, credits, bonds and mortgages, stock, or goods and chattels, is the first duty of the assessor.

“ 2d. THE TRUE VALUE of all such property should be ascertained. This is to be done by the assessor, upon his oath, so far as property is exhibited to him, and not by the person enumerating the various articles of which his property consists, as appears from sec. 8 and sec. 12 of the law of 1865. It is not the fault of the law that property in this state is assessed at one-half or one-third of its value, but of its inefficient execution by those elected and sworn to administer it according to its true intent.”

“ The practice adopted by some assessors, of valuing all personal and real property at one half or one third its true value is clearly contrary to law, and subjects the assessor to all its penalties. Moreover, it is a palpable violation of his oath. It cannot be justified on the ground that the board of county assessors have so agreed ; since this agreement is also a violation of their oath, and of the law.”

The wholesale violation of official oaths and general disobedience of the law, arise from the fear that the several boards of equalization will not correct the inequalities as between the different towns and counties of the state. But notwithstanding this fear, it is due to the assessors and citizens of the counties of Fond du Lac, Winnebago, Green Lake, Marquette, and several others, to state that they performed their duty faithfully and were sustained by the state board of equalization. Had all other counties complied with the law as faithfully, the aggregate of property as returned in the whole state would have reached the sum of $400,000,000 instead of the discreditably small sum of $196,000,000 as equalized.

As before remarked, the defects of a system are more easily detected than are remedies suggested; and it is with some diffidence that I advance any considerations on the subject.

1. The first principal consideration to be borne in mind as the special object of the assessment law is, that all property of whatever nature, unless exempt by law, should be listed. To discover this property with the assistance of the law, is the first duty of the assessor. There is no difficulty as regards real estate. In relation to personal property, the present law provides for sworn statements from owners or agents. But the statements required are too general in their terms. They allow the concealment of a large amount of property by including an indefinite number of items of personal property under one general heading, and in one amount. In place of the eight different items provided for in sec. 8 of the present law, the statement should contain a classification of from twenty to thirty sub-divisions of the various classes of personal property held by owners in the several branches of business, and should show all the property in the possession of the party, leaving the deduction for exemption to be made by the assessor or by the town board of equalization. An improved form of this kind, with sufficient penalties provided for making false statements, would add from twenty-five to fifty per cent to the annual value of personal property in the state. The assessor, moreover, whenever he has reason to believe that any property is omitted or under estimated in the statement, should be authorized and directed to examine witnesses if necessary, or to add such amount to that contained in the statement as he may think just, subject to an appeal to the town board of equalization. Personal property, other than merchants' or manufacturers' stock, kept for use or sale, and owned by non-residents, should be listed in the town where it is situated. With amendments in these particulars, and with competent assessors, there should be no difficulty in securing a full assessment of all the property of the state.

2. Having ascertained the full amount and description of real and personal property, the next important consideration is to place it on the rolls at its true value. This should be entirely the duty of the assessor, guided by such information as it is in his power to obtain. The failure to do this, arises usually from either the incompetency or the unwillingness of the assessor to perform his duty according to law, controlled as he is, more or less, by the public opinion of his particular locality, and dependent for re-election upon the votes of a constituency whose only interest is to get their property rated at as low a figure as possible. Experience does not show that laws can make men honest or capable; and those laws are, therefore, most expedient, which can be enforced and sustained. The question in this case seems to me to resolve itself into this: How can the services of men be secured as assessors, who will perform their duty fearlessly and faithfully? That this cannot be done under the present system, when the officer is chosen by popular vote to perform an unpleasant duty, past experience has demonstrated. The appointing power should be removed somewhat further from those so directly interested in defeating the objects of the law. Without abolishing the system of town assessors as has been proposed, let the appointment of these officers rest with the county board of supervisors; let them report to the clerks of the board for uniform instructions as to the valuation of property, all acting as now, under instructions and forms issued from this department. This plan seems to me feasible, and the transition from the present plan would cause no confusion or misunderstanding. The assessor in such case would not feel bound to consult the private wishes of every man in his district, since he is made independent of his vote and responsible to higher authority.

In revising the assessment law, the report of the commissioners appointed under the act of 1866, as embodied in senate bills No. 31 and 32 of the session of 1867, will be found of great value; since many of the objections to the present system are obviated by the propositions therein contained.

STATE UNIVERSITY.

The secretary of state, under the law of 1866, re-organizing the university, was made secretary of the board of regents. But as the report of the regents will contain a full and complete statement of the doings of the board, and of the progress made in the organization of the different departments of the university, reference here will only be made to its financial condition.

The University Fund now consists of the University Fund proper, and of the Agricultural College Fund, which have been united for the purpose of sustaining an agricultural department in connection with the university. The amount of the fund, as appears from the statements on previous pages, is as follows:

University Fund—
Due on certificates of sale.....	$69,192 88
Amount due on mortgages.....	6,892 00
Certificates of indebtedness.....	101,000 00
Dane county bonds.....	16,800 00
Cash on hand.....	1,181 56
		<hr/>
		$195,066 44
Agricultural College Fund—
Due on certificates of sale.....	$12,417 00
Dane county bonds.....	6,000 00
Cash on hand.....	1,815 39
		<hr/>
		$20,232 39
Total principal of both funds.....		<hr/> <hr/>
		$215,298 83

The balance of cash on hand, as above stated, will be invested in securities on or before the first of June next, together with such additional amounts as arise from the sales of lands in the mean time; the whole amount drawing interest at the rate of seven per cent. per annum.

There remains still unsold 16,993 acres of University land, and 223,870 acres of Agricultural College land. These lands as yet are selling slowly, but the proceeds of the sales will increase annually the productive funds to some extent.

There is a balance of income on hand belonging to these funds, as follows :

University Fund Income.....	$5,619 54
Agricultural College Fund Income.....	1,090 08
	$6,709 62

This balance, with the amount paid for interest on lands, due January 1, 1868, the amount appropriated by the state under chapter 82, Laws of 1867, and Tuition fees from students, will constitute the whole amount of means applicable to the support of the University up to June 1, 1868, at which time the interest on certificates of Indebtedness, and Dane County bonds will be due and payable.

The amount of available funds for the present University year will then stand as follows :

Balance on hand.....	$6,709 62
Interest on Lands, estimated.....	6,195 00
Appropriation by State.....	7,303 76
Tuition Fees.....	2,000 00
Total	$22,208 38

From this amount must be paid the salaries of the Faculty, and teachers, for the whole of the present University year, and all the expenses necessary for repairs, fuel, insurance, and expenses of the meetings of the Regents.

The institution is now in good hands, under competent control, and in a highly flourishing condition; and bids fair to justify the high expectations of the people of the state.

An examination of the items of disbursement for the last two years will show that the expense of the several meetings of the Board of Regents has been large. The same is true in case of the Regents of Normal schools. The aggregate of expenses of meetings of the Regents for the last two years, is as follows :

Regents of the University.....	$2,520 36
Regents of Normal Schools.....	1,043 12
	$3,563 48

This appears like a large sum for mere expenses, since no salary or per diem is paid to the members of either board. It is worthy of the consideration of the legislature whether the two boards should not be consolidated into one, and the number materially reduced. There would be a double advantage in this change. In the first place, the expense of meetings would be diminished more than one-half; and in the second place the educational interests of the state would be under the same control, and brought into more harmonious relations. Under this system, if adopted, the Superintendent of Public Instruction would be the proper executive officer and secretary of the board. This would be following the system adopted in some of the older states, and appears most feasible, besides being the most economical. The income of neither of these institutions is adequate to their respective wants, and any system which will diminish their expenses without impairing their efficiency, is worthy of consideration. In this spirit the above suggestion is made.

EXPERIMENTAL FARM.

In accordance with the terms of Chapter 114, Laws of 1866, Dane County issued bonds to the amount of $40,000 for the purpose of purchasing a farm for experimental purposes, in connection with the agricultural department of the State University. These bonds have been hypothecated and sold, realizing up to the present time, in cash, the sum of $29,358 72. The remainder of the bonds will be taken up by the University Fund in accordance with Chapter 46 of Laws of 1867, making a productive fund of $40,000, bearing seven per cent. interest.

The amount of real estate purchased is 196 acres, including several buildings, costing as follows:

Paid in 1866.....	$23,672 00
Paid in 1867.....	6,719 30
Total cost of Farm.....	$30,391 30

The remainder of the money, when invested, will be devoted to the improvement of said farm and to such experiments as may be deemed useful by the Professors of the Agricultural Department.

MISCELLANEOUS RECOMMENDATIONS.

Section 27 of chapter 10 of the revised statutes, provides that the secretary of state shall make such suggestions and recommendations in relation to the finances of the state, as he may think advisable. Most of those deemed necessary or important, have been presented on previous pages. In addition to these, I will only add the following, which were contained in my last report, in regard to which, my views remain unchanged:

The revenues necessary to pay the expenses of the government should, as far as possible, be raised from the productive property of the state, and a discrimination made, if practicable, in favor of men in moderate circumstances whose property is barely sufficient for their support. With a proper economy in expenditures of public money, and a strict and rigid system of accountability on the part of the state, county, and town officers, at least half a million of dollars might be annually saved to the people of the state. But this can only be done by a reduction in the number of public officers, particularly of assessors, collectors, road-overseers, &c., whose duties might easily be performed, and much more correctly and properly by one-tenth the number now authorized.

In this connection I would recommend that a uniform system in keeping the books and accounts of the several towns and counties be adopted, providing for the proper checks and a systematic method.

I also recommend that each county be required to report annually to this office, an abstract of all taxes levied, specifying the amount and purpose for which they are to be raised. This will enable the legislature and the public to see at a glance the aggregate taxation of the state, and the amount applied to particular objects.

There are sources from which revenue to a large amount might be realized, from which at present no revenue at all is derived. At the last session of the legislature six hundred and nine private and local laws were passed; at least four hundred more than there was any necessity for. I suggest the propriety of requiring of the applicants for charters and strictly private laws, the payment of a sum which will reimburse the state a part of the amount expended in passing the laws. There is no injustice or impropriety in requiring such a payment. The people of the state at large are not benefitted at all by a very large proportion of the charters that are passed by the legislature, and there is certainly no impropriety in requiring of every person who applies for a charter that would not operate beneficially upon the interest of at least a large proportion of the people of the state, or for a strictly private law, that he pay the expenses necessarily incident to its passage.

No revenue is now derived from express companies, who are doing a large and lucrative business in the state. It is respectfully suggested that to require the same rate of license from them that is now required of railroad and telegraph companies, would be no injustice to them, and is due to the state in consideration of the protection of the state laws.

Other sources of revenue will suggest themselves to the legislature, from the proper use of which it is to be hoped that the necessity of a direct state tax will soon cease to exist; and thus the great difficulty of adjusting and equalizing assessments be removed.

Believing the report of the condition of the several funds of the state to be correct, and hoping for a full and fair investigation,

I am, very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

THOS. S. ALLEN,

Secretary of State.

FOX AND WISCONSIN RIVER IMPROVEMENT.

The last annual report from this department shows that in pursuance of a law of the state the Fox and Wisconsin river improvement company had deposited with the state treasurer the sum of forty-seven thousand one hundred and four dollars and eighty-one cents ($47,104 81) for the following purposes, to wit :

For the payment of Improvement Fund certificates, numbers 18 and 20, when the same should be presented, the sum of three thousand one hundred and thirty-three dollars and sixty-six cents ($3,133 66); and for the completion of the Fox and Wisconsin rivers as required by law, the balance of said deposit.

The certificates, numbers 18 and 20, above referred to, having been presented the sum of $3,133 66 has been paid therefor and the same are on file in this office.

By a law of the last session of the legislature it is provided that the money on deposit for the completion of the improvement may be expended for that purpose in such manner and at such time as the governor of the state shall approve. In pursuance of this law the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000*) has been paid out during the year for work done on the Improvement.

SECURITIES OF INSURANCE COMPANIES.

A part of the securities deposited with the state treasurer by Insurance Companies in accordance with the requirements of chapter 320 of the laws of 1865 remain on deposit. The law having been repealed they are held subject to the order of the respective owners.

BANK COMPTROLLER'S CURRENCY CERTIFICATES.

By chapter 15 of the laws of 1867, the State Treasurer is authorized to settle with the stockholders and bondsmen of the insolvent banks of this state for the balances due upon the Bank Comptroller's certificates, given for the circulating notes of such banks, held by the treasurer at the time of the failure of such banks, upon such terms as he might deem for the interest of the state. Under this law a few settlements have been made during the year, and some collections made that probably would not have been made otherwise.

In the exercise of the discretion authorized by this law, settlements have generally been made with the parties liable on such certificates, upon the same terms agreed upon by other holders of certificates.

The amount received during the year from this source is one thousand two hundred and twenty-nine dollars and eighty four cents, ($1,229 84,) as follows :

J. C. Hopkins, for St. Croix River Bank.....		$35 00
J. C. Hopkins, for Waupaca County Bank.....		125 20
A. H. Van Norstrand, for Koshkonong Bank.....		441 50
J. C. Hopkins, for Mercantile Bank.....		54 65
C. H. Spafford, per H. Terry, for Oconto County Bank.....		72 21
Southern Bank.....		23 08
Henry Muhlberger, for Mechanics' Bank.....		14 84
J. C. Hopkins, for Laborers' Bank.....		34 60
Harvey Terry, for City Bank of Beaver Dam.....	$47 36
North Western Bank.....	28 21
Bank of North America.....	147 63
		$223 20
Less 25 per cent. allowed for collecting.....	55 80		167 40
*Received of J. M. Rusk, Bank Comptroller, on final distribution of assets of certain banks.....			261 36
			$1,229 84

The parties liable on such indebtedness cannot in every case be found. There is reason to believe, however, that something more will be realized from this source in the future.

BANK BONDS.

During the year there has been received into the war fund from banks, on account of the balance due the state on the sale of war bonds in 1861 and 1862, the sum of $3,154 90, as follows :

From Columbia county bank.....	$200 00
Rock county bank.....	340 00
Farmers and Mechanics bank.....	200 00
Waukesha county bank.....	1,000 00
†Exchange bank of Darling & Co.....	215 00
Bank of Fox Lake.....	160 00
Bank of Madison.....	300 00
Bank of Sheboygan.....	310 00
Corn Planter's bank.....	429 90
		$3,154 90

NATIONAL BANK TAXES.

As directed by chapter 125 of the general laws of 1867, the statement contemplated by section one of said chapter was transmitted to the town, city or village collectors of taxes of such places

* This amount was received in coin, forwarded to New York, and sold at a premium of $94.53, which item appears in the General Fund receipts.

† Since the close of the fiscal year the Exchange bank of Darling & Co. has paid the further sum of $215 00, being for the July installment of 1867.

as had national banks doing business therein. A copy of the session laws containing said law was also forwarded to each collector.

No money has been received, up to this time, under this law.

It may be proper to state here that a case involving the constitutionality of the law of 1865, providing for the taxation of national banks, has been recently argued before the supreme court of the state and a decision thereon is expected at an early day,

STATE INDEBTEDNESS.

On the first day of October, 1866, the indebtedness of the state amounted to $2,282,191 00, divided as follows :

Certificate of indebtedness to School Fund.....	$1,394,900
do do University Fund....	101,000
do do Normal School Fund	346,000
State bonds.....	440,100
Currency certificates issued in 1865.....	191	$2,282 191

Of the above there has been paid during the year :

State bonds.....	$3,000
Currency certificates	184	3,134

Leaving total indebtedness on Sept. 30th, 1867..... $2,279 057

Some change has been made during the year in the form of this indebtedness by the investment of trust funds in state bonds, and by issuing certificates of indebtedness therefor. It may now be classified as follows :

State Bonds.....	$401 600
Certificate of indebtedness to School Fund.....	1,394 900
do do Normal School Fund.....	381 500
do do University Fund.....	101 000
Currency certificates.....	57
	$2,279 057

Included in the amount of state bonds as stated above are twenty-seven thousand dollars ($27,000) which have been assigned to the state by state banks in accordance with the provisions of chapter 282, laws of 1865.

The circulating notes of such banks are redeemed at this office, and are from time to time returned to the bank comptroller for cancellation, who surrenders an equal amount of state bonds which are then cancelled.

By the terms of the assignment made by such banks the state is entitled to the benefit of lost circulation ; so that these bonds thus assigned amounting to twenty-seven thousand dollars ($27,000) will be paid by redeeming so much of the circulating notes of the assigned banks as may be presented.

This leaves the sum of three hundred and seventy-four thousand six hundred dollars ($374,600) of state bonds in the hands of individuals or corporations.

By existing laws the trust funds are required to be invested in these bonds and there is reason to believe that by January, 1870, the receipts into these funds will be sufficient to take up the entire amount.

When this is accomplished the entire debt of the state will be held by the several trust funds. The interest on the same must be provided for and paid annually into the respective incomes of the University, School and Normal School Funds instead of being paid to the holders of the bonds, as would be the case should they not be taken up by the trust funds.

Whenever it is deemed advisable to pay this war debt and save the annual interest thereon, provision can be made for so doing as readily as if the bonds originally issued were held by capitalists in or out of the state.

In order to be prepared for such a contingency, as well as to have at all times a safe investment for trust funds after our state bonds are taken up, authority should be given to the commissioners to invest in bonds of the United States.

I have the honor to be, very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

WM. E. SMITH,

State Treasurer.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
BANK COMPTROLLER,
FOR THE
FISCAL YEAR ENDING SEPTEMBER 30, 1867.

STATE OF WISCONSIN,

OFFICE OF BANK COMPTROLLER, }
MADISON, Oct. 1, 1867. }

To his Excellency, LUCIUS FAIRCHILD,

Governor of the state of Wisconsin :

SIR—I have the honor to transmit to the legislature my annual report as Bank Comptroller.

Very respectfully,

JEREMIAH M. RUSK,
Bank Comptroller.

ANNUAL REPORT.

OFFICE OF BANK COMPTROLLER, }
MADISON, Oct. 1, 1867. }

In obedience to the requirements of law, I submit the following report of the condition and transactions of this department during the past fiscal year :

The whole number of banks doing business on the first day of October, 1866, according to the last annual report, was nineteen, with an aggregate capital of.....	$611,000 00
The whole number now doing business is fifteen, with an aggregate capital of.....	500,000 00
Decrease of capital in twelve months,.....	$111,000 00

During the past year the following banks have voluntarily relinquished business, and deposited treasury notes in this department for the redemption of circulating notes outstanding.

	CAPITAL.
City Bank of Prescott,.....	$25,000 00
Exchange Bank of Darling & Co,.....	36,000 00
Farmers' & Mechanics' Bank.....	25,000 00
German Bank.....	25,000 00
	$111,000 00

There have been no banks organized in the state under the general banking law during the year.

The aggregate amount of securities held in trust for banking associations, Oct. 1st, 1866, was.....	$143,054 16
The amount held Oct. 1st, 1867, is.....	99,894 00
Decrease in twelve months,.....	$43,160 16

The decrease has been in the following securities :

Wisconsin 6's.....	$6,000 00
United States 6's.....	700 00
United States 7-30's.....	3,500 00
Treasury Notes.....	25,424 00
Coin.....	7,536 16
	$43,160 16

The amount of circulation outstanding on the first day of October, 1866, was.....	$142,557 00
The amount on the first day of October, 1867, is.....	96,332 00
Decrease in twelve months.....	$46,225 00
	<hr/> <hr/>

For a particular statement of the condition of each individual bank, and a brief summary of the securities held by this department as security for their outstanding circulation, I refer you to schedule hereunto annexed, marked "A."

A monthly statement of the condition of the banks has been published on the first of each month, showing the circulation of each bank, and the stock on which the same is based, the amount of circulation retired, if any, in each month, and such other information as was deemed of importance to the public.

The following named banks, to wit :

Bank of Albany,
 Appleton,
 Beaver Dam,
 Eau Claire,
 Fond du Lac.
 Portage,
 Beloit Savings Bank,
 Dodge County Bank,
 Hall and Brothers' Bank,
 Koshkonong Bank,
 Mechanics' Bank,
 Mercantile Bank.
 Oconto County Bank,
 Osborne Bank,
 Portage County Bank,
 Reedsburg Bank,
 Southern Bank,
 Tradesmen's Bank,
 Waupun Bank,
 Waushara County Bank.
 Winnebago County Bank,
 Wisconsin Valley Bank,

were wound up by the Bank Comptroller in 1861; the securities on deposit with the State Treasurer to secure their outstanding circulation, sold by the Bank Comptroller, and the net proceeds applied to the redemption of their said circulation, pro rata.

The Bank Comptroller redeemed said circulation when presented, and issued to the parties returning the same, certificates showing the amount returned, the amount paid thereon, and that the holder would be entitled to balance due, when collected (if ever), on personal bonds.

In the year 1866, after the bills on these banks had been redeemed for nearly five years, there remained in my hands about seven thousand dollars in coin, to the credit of those banks, for the distribution of which the banking law made no provisions.

The holders of the certificates above named, believing that the balance of the circulation unredeemed was lost, and would never be presented, claimed, that the fund then on hand should be divided among themselves, and commenced suit in the Supreme Court for the same, also for the vacation of the charters of said banks, which said court, on November 14, 1866, ordered, "That the articles of association of said banks be and the same are hereby vacated, and that the existence of said corporations be, and the same are hereby annulled and dissolved, and that said corporations be excluded from all corporate rights, privileges and franchises," but declined to act in the matter of the distribution of said fund, whereupon said parties commenced suit for the same in the Circuit Court of Dane County, which said court, on November 26, 1866, made an order in the case of each of said banks, of which the following is a copy of a part thereof, as published by the clerk of said court in the Wisconsin State Journal, as ordered :

"STATE OF WISCONSIN—Circuit Court for Dane county.

* * * * *

"All persons who hold the circulating notes of either of the banks hereinbefore named, or who hold the Bank Comptroller's certificates for the bills of said banks, or either of them, returned for redemption and partially paid, will please take notice that an order has been duly entered in each of the above entitled causes, requiring all persons who hold the circulating notes of said banks or either of them, or who have or hold the certificates of the Bank Comptroller for notes returned to him for redemption and partially paid, to produce and prove the same to this court on or before the 10th day of December, 1866, and in default thereof that they will be deprived of all benefit of participation in the distribution of the fund remaining in the hands of the Bank Comptroller, as the proceeds of the sale of the securities deposited for the redemption of the circulating notes of said banks. And that the court will on that day proceed to make distribution of said fund, and direct the mode of and the parties to whom and among whom it shall be distributed.

"Dated Nov. 26, 1866.

"H. A. LEWIS, Clerk."

On December 13, 1866, a final judgment was rendered by said court in the case of each of said banks, of which the following is a copy in blank, filled out as applicable to each case :

"STATE OF WISCONSIN, Circuit Court for Dane county

"Harvey Terry, plaintiff, against Jeremiah M. Rusk, Bank Comptroller, &c., et al., defendants.

"On reading and filing the proof of publication of the notice required by the interlocutory judgment in this action, and proof of the service by mail of a copy thereof upon each of the banks of this state, as also required by said order, and upon filing the application of the persons hereinafter named to be made parties to this suit, to participate in the distribution of the fund now in the hands of the defendant, the Bank Comptroller, and which has been adjudged to belong to the plaintiff and such persons as hold the circulating notes of the ——— and certificates of the Bank Comptroller for circulating notes returned to him for redemption; and upon hearing the proofs and allegations of the parties, it is found and determined by the court that such persons have returned the amounts hereinafter mentioned respectively.

“And on motion of Hopkins & Foote it is hereby ordered and adjudged that such persons be and hereby are made parties to this suit, and are entitled to share equally with the plaintiff in the distribution of said fund according to the amount of bills returned by them respectively, so that each shall receive the same per cent. upon the amount returned.

“And on like motion it is further ordered that before making any distribution of said fund, the defendant, J. M. Rusk, Bank Comptroller as aforesaid, pay to Hopkins & Foote, the plaintiffs' attorneys, out of said fund the sum of ——— dollars and ——— cents, the costs and disbursements as taxed in this case, and take therefor their receipt. And it appearing to the court that there remains in the hands of said defendant, J. M. Rusk, as Bank Comptroller, after the payment of the costs as aforesaid, the sum of ——— dollars and ——— cents in coin, to be distributed according to the directions of this judgment, and that said sum will pay ——— per cent. upon the amount of bills thus returned,

“It is now on motion of Hopkins & Foote, the attorneys for the plaintiff, ordered and adjudged that J. M. Rusk, Bank Comptroller as aforesaid, pay in coin to the plaintiff, and each of the parties hereinafter named, or their attorneys, who have proved their claims in this case to the amount stated and set down opposite the names of each respectively, the rate per cent. above stated on said sums, to wit, to the plaintiff, Harvey Terry, ——— per cent. on $———, amounting to $———.”

[Here follows a list of parties who have returned certificates, the amount so returned, the per cent. due thereon, and amount to be paid.]

“And take their receipts therefor, which shall be a full discharge of said Bank Comptroller for said fund.

“Dated, December 13, 1866.

“By the Court,

“ALVAH STEWART, Judge.”

In the cases of four banks there was a surplus remaining after payment of amount due on certificates which the court ordered to be paid to the owners of said banks.

In the cases of three banks their entire funds were absorbed in costs.

I have complied with the above orders, paid out the whole amount to the credit of said banks and taken receipts therefor.

Some of these banks have compromised with the holders of certificates and the judgments against them have been satisfied. Suits are still pending against others for collection of the balance due. I think all claims collectable will be settled during the current year.

I make the following statement for the benefit of parties interested :

During the compulsory withdrawal of State Currency, in the years 1865 and 1866, it was the opinion of many that the plan of a national currency would have but a brief existence and be followed by the revival of our former system. It is now my settled opinion that this will never occur; that the people will never again be satisfied with anything short of a uniform national currency; and by national currency, I mean, that which is issued by the United States government itself. The currency issued by national banks should give place to United States Legal Tender notes, and the bonds upon which that currency is based, or an amount equivalent thereto, be negotiated for and cancelled; but this should be done in a gradual and satisfactory manner, so as to create no financial disturbance. I think such a course would greatly relieve the General Government, cause no serious injury to any one, and meet the almost unanimous approval of the people. I do not purpose to enter into any argument here to sustain these views, as it would require too much space; neither is it necessary, as this subject does not enter into our state legislation. I have alluded to it as bearing upon, and preliminary to the recommendation which I now make, to wit:

THE CLOSING UP OF THIS DEPARTMENT.

Almost the entire business of this department from its commencement in 1852, has been based upon the single item of circulation and the securities protecting it; ever changing but never settled, the banker generally endeavoring to keep his margin small and the comptroller to make it larger.

Nearly all the banks in the state organized under our banking law have been wound up and funds deposited in this office for the redemption of their bills. Should the amendment to the banking law, to be submitted to the people at the next election be adopted, the remaining banks will probably immediately thereafter desire to close up their circulation account. During the next two years nearly all the bills on state banks will have been redeemed, their time for redemption have expired, and the book accounts with the banks closed; also all suits now pending will undoubtedly have been brought to final issue and settled, thus leaving the bank comptroller little else to do beyond receiving the semi-annual reports of the few banks that may continue business under their charters.

I, therefore, recommend to the legislature the passage of an act for submission to the people, closing this department on the first of January, 1870, and transferring its remaining business to another state department, of which I think the State Treasury would be the most appropriate.

The first section of the general banking law provides, among other things, that "At the general election to be held in this state on the Tuesday next succeeding the first Monday in November, A. D. 1853, and every two years thereafter, there shall be elected by the people, a Bank Comptroller, whose term of office shall commence on the first Monday in January, A. D. 1854, and continue two years, and until his successor is elected and qualified."

Section fifty-two of the same law also provides, "This act may be amended by any future legislature, but no amendment thereto shall take effect or be in force until it shall have been submitted to a vote of the electors of the state in a similar manner as is provided for in this act, and been approved by a majority of all the votes cast on the subject."

It is therefore apparent, that in order to carry into effect the above recommendation, the said act must be passed at the next ses- sion of the legislature, and submitted to the people one year from November next. I will here urge upon the legislature, the exercise of great care in perfecting such act, so as to accomplish the desired object and meet all necessities which may arise under the contemplated change.

On the first of January last, finding that the business of the office warranted it, and desiring to reduce the expenses as far as possible, I then discharged the bookkeeper, night-watchman and agent in New York; since which time the entire business of the office has been performed by myself and deputy, Mr. D. B. Ramsey, whose salary is twelve hundred dollars.

The appendix will show :

- "A."—Securities, circulation and capital of banks.
- "B."—Names of stockholders, and the amount of stock held by each.
- "C."—Names of personal bondsmen for each bank.
- "D."—List of banks and their officers.
- "E."—Taxes paid to the state by each bank.
- "F."—Bank note impressions destroyed during the year.
- "G."—Bank note impressions now on hand.
- "H."—Bank note plates now on hand.
- "I."—Condition of each bank in the state.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JEREMIAH M. RUSK,
Bank Comptroller.

TRUSTEES' REPORT.

To his Excellency, LUCIUS FAIRCHILD,

Governor of the state of Wisconsin :

In pursuance of the requirements of law we have the honor of submitting to you, and to the people of this state, the report of our doings in the management of the institution entrusted to our charge for the year ending the 30th of September, 1867, being our eighth annual report.

In our last report we mentioned that under the act of the legislature of 1866, appropriating the sum of ninety-eight thousand and five hundred dollars for the enlargement of the hospital, by the building of one longitudinal, and one transverse wing on each side of the main building, that the board had through its executive committee entered into contract with Messrs. Andrew Proudfit, for the mason work, and Anderson, Davidson & Co., for the carpenter and joiner work, the whole contract price being ninety-eight thousand dollars ($98,000); and that up to the time of making our report the work had been commenced and had progressed very satisfactorily. The contractors have since pushed forward the work to nearly completion so much so that we have every assurance that the enlargement will be ready for occupancy early the coming year. The work, as far as the board have been able to discover, has been done in a good, substantial and workmanlike manner, fully up to the requirements of the specifications and the terms of the contract; comparing favorably in every respect to the previously built main buildings and wings. When these wings are ready for occupancy it will double the present capacity of the hospital, furnishing accommodations for three hundred and fifty patients.

The last legislature appropriated the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) for heating apparatus, furniture, window guards, sewerage, &c., in and about the hospital buildings.

The executive committee report that under the act making the appropriation they have made the following contracts :

For heating, lighting and plumbing fixtures, with Messrs. Davis, Standish & Co., of Chicago, for that work, consisting of putting in the gas pipes, plumbing and heating apparatus, hot air registers, ventilators, drying closets, ventilating coils, return pipes for condensed steam, &c., furnishing all the materials therefor for the sum of $10,300.

With William Askew for window guards, at twelve dollars each.

With David Burns, of Fort Howard, for one steam boiler of forty-five horse power, with valves and fittings complete, for $1,670.

With Andrew Proudfit for doing the necessary mason work, including materials therefor, for enclosing the steam coils in the new buildings, at the price of $15,00 per thousand for the brick work.

They have also contracted with Pollard & Nelson for painting the window guards for the sum of $350.

Arrangements were also made by them with the superintendent of the hospital for doing the necessary grading, building of air duct, etc., as will be seen by the following action of the board at their adjourned semi-annual meeting, in May last. Also other matters of interest :

“The committee to whom was referred the semi-annual report of the superintendent, would respectfully report that they have had the same under consideration and would recommend,

“First,—The board of trustees approves the course pursued by the superintendent in not collecting pay from such patients as were in the habit of paying, for the first three weeks of the current year previous to the passage of the act repealing the law requiring pay, and that no further demand be made for this three weeks pay.

“Second,—That the superintendent be instructed to open a correspondence with the proper persons at Washington with a view of having such of our soldier patients as are entitled to admission in the United States Government Institution transferred thereto, and that he also endeavor to procure transportation from the government for such as may be transferred.

“Third,—That the executive committee be instructed to examine the law with a view of ascertaining if the suggestions of the superintendent in relation to having work about the new wings, for which an appropriation has been made, done by the patients and hospital teams, so that the sum appropriated, or a portion of it, can be added to the fund for current expenses, and that in the event it can be legally done, they make arrangements accordingly.

“Respectfully submitted,

“SAMUEL D. HASTINGS,

“DAVID ATWOOD,

“W. D. BACON,

Committee.”

The above report, was on motion received and adopted.

Perhaps it might as well be stated here that the Board asked of the last Legislature an appropriation of fifty thousand dollars to defray the current expenses of the Hospital for the year 1867. The Legislature gave us only forty thousand dollars, and as will be seen by the report of the Treasurer, there is remaining in his hands applicable for paying orders from this fund, only $194 89, to carry us through the last quarter of this year. In anticipation of this deficiency, it became necessary to devise ways and means to increase that fund. Hence the action of the Board as embodied in the above report in the third recommendation. In accordance with that recommendation, the executive committee made the arrangement with the Superintendent by which all of that labor could be done with the teams of the Hospital assisted by the patients, and the current expense account receiving the benefit therefrom.

The Legislature of last winter also deemed it inexpedient to appropriate the sum of ten thousand dollars asked for by the Board to pay arrearages of current expenses for several years past. These items of deficit have been accruing for several years, owing to the insufficiency of the appropriations for those years, the reasons for which have often been given in our reports, until they have reached the above mentioned amount, and, the failure of the Legislature in giving us an appropriation covering that amount, places us still in a very embarrassing position,—certainly not very desirable.

It was thought expedient at the semi-annual meeting in April last, to have a bill introduced in the Legislature for the passage of an act changing the time of holding our annual and semi-annual meetings. A bill was accordingly introduced and immediately passed, changing the time of the annual meeting from the first Tuesday to the second Tuesday of October, of each year; and the time of the semi-annual meeting from the second Tuesday of April to the second Tuesday of May, of each year. The principal reason for asking this change in the law, was that for the past two years, at the usual time of holding the meeting in April, the roads leading from Madison to the Hospital were in an impassable condition, making it necessary for the Board to adjourn for a month in order that they might comply with the requirements of the law, and visit the Hospital; thus incurring the expense of two meetings at that time of the year, instead of one.

At the same meeting the following resolution was offered by Mr. Mason and adopted by the Board :

“Resolved, That we respectfully call the attention of the benevolent rich to the claims of the (Wisconsin) Hospital for the Insane and ask them to include this among the charities embraced in their bequests.”

The annual meeting of the Board was adjourned by previous arrangement, from Tuesday the 8th of October, to Tuesday the 22d day of October, at which time, the Annual Report of the Superintendent having been presented and read, was on motion, referred to a select committee of three to report on the several recommendations therein contained. The committee made the following report, which was adopted by the Board.

“The committee to whom was referred the Superintendent’s report have had the same under consideration and beg leave to report as follows: In reference to that portion of the report asking for suggestions relative to furnishing out-door exercise for female patients, the committee wish to say:

“First, It is of the first importance, in order to break in upon the monotonous reveries of the insane, to bring the patient as much as possible in contact with the curative agencies of nature, light, air, water and the various objects of interest about us.

“Second, Insanity being largely the result of Physiological derangement, it is in our judgment essential to the restoration of the patient, that gentle systematic physical exercise in the free air and sun light, should be substituted for the closeness and seclusion of the cloister. Therefore, we submit the following resolutions:

“Resolved, That it is the sense of this board that additional means of exercise and amusement be employed for the improvement of the patients in the Hospital.

“Resolved, That we deem it judicious for the superintendent to employ one suitable person in each department, whose duty shall consist in contriving ways and means to instruct and amuse the patients by gymnastics, dancing and music—perhaps in the winter season, on alternate days—bowling balls, cultivating flowers and vegetables, and simple, gentle, intellectual exercises on the black board, &c., &c.

“In regard to that portion of the report relating to the indiscreet remarks made by young visitors, we think the superintendent must devise some way of protecting his patients from the evil. Perhaps a card placed at the entrance of the hall, warning visitors of the liability of falling into a vein of sneering and frivolous remarks will be all that is needed.

“Resolved, That in view of the reluctance with which the legislature makes appropriations for paying borrowed money, we deem it inexpedient to admit to the new wings patients until the necessary funds shall have been appropriated for their support.

“All of which is respectfully submitted.

“ R. Z. MASON, “ EDWARD PIER,
 “ W. D. BACON,
 “ Committee.”

At the same meeting the executive committee submitted a very able report of their doings relative to the affairs of the hospital, containing also numerous recommendations, which were deemed of so much importance, as affecting the vital interests of the institution. that the report was referred to a select committee, who, after careful deliberation, submitted the following report, which, on motion, was unanimously adopted:

“To the board of trustees of the Wisconsin hospital for the insane :

“The undersigned, the committee to whom was referred the report of the executive committee, are impressed with the importance of many of the suggestions contained in the report, and in order to give practical efficiency to the recommendation of the committee, we would present to the Board for consideration and adoption the following resolutions :

‘1. Resolved, That the executive committee be instructed to cause an investigation to be made at as early a day as practicable, by competent and skillful men, as to the waste of heat consequent upon the present location of the steam generator, and that they report the results of the investigation to the Board at its next meeting, with their opinion as to the propriety of removing the heating apparatus to or near the main building,

‘2. Resolved. That the Superintendent be instructed to procure as far as in his judgment he may deem it practicable, the supply of all staple articles for the Hospital, by contract in advance ; first, publicly inviting proposals therefor, and that he report at the next meeting of the Board his action under this resolution.

‘3. Resolved, That in response to the wise and judicious recommendation of the executive committee, a special committee of three be appointed, whose duty it shall be to make a critical and searching examination into the affairs of the Hospital since its organization, giving special attention to its internal economy, its expenditures, its general habits, and the doings of its officers and managing committees, to report at the next meeting of Board. The members of the committee shall be allowed three dollars per day for each day actually employed in the discharge of the duties of their appointment and their necessary expenses.

‘4. Resolved, That in the opinion of the Board, it is expedient to ask of the Legislature an appropriation for the ensuing year of $80,000, sufficient to provide for the maintenance of three hundred and fifty patients, and to pay past arrearages—the number it is estimated the Hospital will accommodate when the enlargement is brought into use.

‘5. Resolved, That the committee charged with the investigation of the affairs of the hospital, be instructed to examine the by-laws of the institution and report such alterations and additions as experience in its management, or the management of kindred institutions or otherwise show to be needed.’

“Respectfully submitted,

“SAMUEL D. HASTINGS,

“FRANK S. LAWRENCE,

“J. C. SHERWOOD,

As will be seen by perusing the fourth resolution of the above report, it is deemed necessary to ask of the legislature for an appropriation of at least eighty thousand dollars for current expenses for the ensuing year, provided the hospital is filled with patients to its full capacity. This amount may seem large, but on reflection will be found to be no larger in proportion to the number of patients treated than for former years, and it is earnestly to be hoped that the legislature will accede to our wishes, as the state will then be enabled to extend its charity to a much larger number of patients than it is now doing, and for whom it has very generously provided room.

As to the internal workings and management of the Hospital,—the number of patients treated during the past year, the number of removals, by death and discharges, the number cured, &c., &c, we would respectfully refer you to the very full and able report of the Superintendent, which is published in connection herewith—appended to which you will also find a detailed statement of the expenditures of the Institution, and for which warrants have been drawn upon the Treasurer; also, accompanying this, is the report of the Treasurer, also in detail, of orders paid by him out of the various funds placed in his hands.

In closing this report we, as heretofore, commend this noble charity of the state to the fostering care of the Legislature so on to assemble, and invite them to scrutinize our acts closely, by committee or otherwise; and that they in the benevolence of their hearts will grant us the means, by which we can ameliorate the sufferings of so many of our unfortunate fellow citizens who are bereft of their reason—is earnestly desired.

Very respectfully submitted on behalf of the Board.

H. H. GILES,
President.

FRANK S. LAWRENCE,
Secretary.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT

To the Trustees of the Wisconsin State Hospital for the Insane :

GENTLEMEN :—It is my duty to present to you the eighth (my fourth) annual report of this institution.

Never thankful to a kind Providence for the watchful care extended to our helpless household as well as to myself and immediate family, we feel to commence the new year of our official connection with this institution with much courage and with renewed expectations of a busy and useful life.

I think it is a little remarkable when we consider the weak and exhausted condition in which most of our patients are received, with broken down constitutions and the many days and weeks of excitement through which they must pass; many suffering from organic disease of the brain, some from consumption, and almost all from some kind of bodily disease; that so few cases terminate fatally.

Of the whole number under treatment this year, less than 3 1-2 per cent. have died. Much can be claimed in this small mortality list for our good house, excellent, plain, nourishing food, healthful exercise, cleanliness of person and clothing, kind and considerate care from nurses and attendants, and proper medicines.

In regard to medical treatment of the insane, I am quite certain that much error prevails in the professional as well as in the public mind, I have been led to fear, from my intercourse with thinking as well as with unthinking men, that there is a general feeling that insanity is a disease that time will cure, and if not cured by it then is set down as one of the Providential dispensations that are supposed to occur in the affairs of mortals.

Fully acknowledging the indispensable benefits of moral and physical treatment in insanity, still I believe medicine worth more than either, or even both, in the acute stage of the disease. Very few patients seek an entrance here whose physical systems are in good condition; some one or all the great organs of the body, the liver, stomach, bowels, kidneys, generative, circulatory or respiratory organs, one or all are not performing their normal functions. A failure of performance of the proper duties of these organs must deteriorate the life giving and sustaining fluid of the body—the blood —deteriorated blood circulating in the brain will not allow it to perform proper mental processes. A manifest improper performance of these is aberration of mind—insanity.

Now to correct the improper performance of organic functions, medicines are necessary, and none the less so when insanity co-exists. I find much more use for certain classes of medicines than when in private practice. Stimulants, tonics, sedatives, deobstruents, anaphrodisiacs, emenagogues and anti-periodics are in daily use here; thereby shortening the period of excitement and recovery, and if recovery is not effected, improving the bodily health and diminishing the per cent. of mortality.

In this connection I wish, again, to urge the necessity of early treatment. “The occasion fleeting” is one of the celebrated apothegms of Hippocrates; in no form of disease is it more applicable than in disease of the brain—the mind—incipient insanity. How many friends of the insane, daily lament their delay in this matter.

Most families have never entertained the thought, that it is their duty to submit their alienated relatives to early treatment; in fact they have no thought to submit them at all, until they can no longer be cared for at home, because of violence or tendency to suicide or homicide. Then—when the best opportunity for cure is passed—they come and seek admission for them here; saying pathetically, “the Lord knows we have endured everything for the last six month or more—have been afraid to sleep nights for fear of violence, fire,” &c. &c. We think the neighbors ought not to say in this case (as they did in the case of Mr. so and so) “that we hurried him off too soon”; little thinking they are guilty of a greater wrong, in delaying the application.

I feel that the medical profession has a duty to perform in this matter which has been neglected much too long. It is no intimation of your distrust in your own skill, to at once recommend the relatives of an impending case of insanity, to hasten to the Hospital. You have no conveniences out of it for their proper treatment, even if you have more skill.

When a member of a family, in which alienation of mind is strongly hereditary, is submitted to us for treatment, we find it has been of six months or more duration, we feel but little hope of cure; but if, of only as many days, we receive it with much assurance, in maintaining a favorable prognosis, unless it is accompanied with long standing, vicious or filthy habits. Therefore I wish to say to the families of Wisconsin, when you find a member of your household wandering in mind or “acting strangely, call at once the best medical skill in your vicinity, and act at once, on his advice; never waiting until your friend has committed suicide or homicide, or is otherwise beyond cure; or to solicit your neighbors not to think you have hurried them off to the hospital too soon.” While you are complying with these suggestions do not commit another wrongful error almost as great as delay in applying for early treatment—viz: using fraud and deceit in getting them here. Say plainly to them "that you and the physician employed have no facilities for properly treating a case of such great severity of disease, and you will take them to a hospital where there is a doctor who makes a specialty of such diseases, where you hope he or she will soon be restored to health." If this sort of conversation will not induce them to come, it is much better to use necessary force and bring them. This last step will be forgiven after recovery, whereas deception will be remembered and many times will retard the cure.

At the termination of last year there were in hospital—

I have taken occasion to explain, in my two preceding annual reports, that those marked "much improved," were such as still retained some harmless delusion, or other morbid mental peculiarities, but were able to attend to ordinary business and make themselves useful members of society, some of them entirely recovering at a pleasant and well ordered home.

The causes of death were as follows :

Exhaustion from chronic mania,.....	4
Phthisis,.....	2
Cerebro spinal meningitis, occurring during acute mania,.....	1
Gastro-enteric fever,.....	1
Organic disease of the brain,.....	1
General Pareses,.....	1

Only one death during the acute stage of mania.

The new wings are approaching completion, but not with the rapidity required by you of the contractors, and I am led to fear that unless more force is put on, they cannot be completed before another year. Not over two thirds of the plastering in the west wing is done and none in the east wing. No floor is laid in either and the work seems months from completion. The general character of the work is substantial and good.

What part of the building shall be used after it is completed and before the Legislature makes an appropriation to support patients, will be a matter for your board to consider.

The air ducts to the new wings placed under my charge by you are nearly completed, and the grading and filling will be proceeded with as soon as we can get possession of the ground.

The farm has yielded abundantly, and well repaid our labor, with the usual abundance of grapes, berries, currants, asparagus and all other garden vegetables cultivated in this climate. We have raised 672 bushels of wheat, 100 bushels of oats, and will probably have 750 bushels of corn, 2,500 bushels of potatoes, and 1,000 bushels of root crops. Our corn was very much injured by the late hail storm, causing a loss of at least 500 bushels.

We competed at the State Fair, and were awarded the first premium again on working oxen; and also the first premium on greatest and best varieties of potatoes, and second premium on beans and a yearling grade heifer.

An average of fifty per cent. of our male patients have been daily employed in assisting in the various labors about the farm, garden, kitchen, engine-house, cattle-yards, grading and filling, improving about the new wings, &c., &c. Many of our patients, who are incurably insane, render valuable assistance about the several places of employment and deserve our confidence as much as the average of employees. I begin to feel that we are a step in advance of most other American institutions in furnishing desirable employment and diversions for our male patients. But we are seeking earnestly some out-of-door employment for our females; where they can have the benefit of air and sunlight; not where they can walk and talk for an hour or two, a few days in the week, but where they may busy themselves every day in the year, except, of course, the Sabbath and inclement weather.

I have thought much on this subject, and see by the memoranda of our visiting committee, that they bravely recommend it in general terms, but do not advise any specific branch of industry, nor what particular thing we shall engage in. Public sentiment will not allow us to send them to pick up stones, chips, brush, or pull weeds, or hoe among the corn, potatoes, or root crops. Many of them now assist in sewing, in the kitchen, laundry and other house work, but it is not that kind of employment suited to the necessities of a class of our fellow-beings who have been educated from infancy to avoid out-of-door air and sunlight as vulgar and damaging to the complexion.

Many gentlemen in your board have long been engaged in efforts to ameliorate the condition of the insane, cannot you assist, by your advice and influence, American superintendents in this matter—to afford some rational out-of-door employment to convalescent and incurable insane females. I sincerely hope your deliberations will assist me in this matter.

The subject of admitting visitors to the Hospital has been discussed at different times by your Board and the officers of the Institution. I think that we have all come to the conclusion that it is well to allow all persons to freely visit the Hospital and its grounds during fixed hours every day in the week, except the Sabbath, thus convincing the public mind of the beauties of the place, cleanliness and quietness of the house, industry and earnestness of its officers and happiness of its inmates. Thereby inducing families to submit the alienated to early treatment with less reluctance.

I think that nearly all visitors who come here with an earnest desire to inform themselves of the true condition of the insane, feel that patients are better off here than they possibly could be in any other place in our state, not excepting, when placed in the best of private families. But there is a class of persons, not entirely, but mostly between the ages of sixteen and twenty-five years, who have been in the habit of visiting the house during pleasure excursions and thoughtless diversions, who think "it is very funny" to pass through our wards with as much levity and mirth as they would exhibit at the opera, theatre or other place of amusement, pointing out this or that patient, asking, "is that a subject," "is he crazy," and other equally offensive remarks. Many of these persons belong to respectable families, but seem to have left their good breeding at home. I am quite willing to say, that they were not all residents of Wisconsin by any means. This want of consideration was carried to such an extent in July and August that, as to induce the most sensitive of our patients, to refuse to occupy the sitting-room, causing me to insist on its discontinuance. Many patients are very sensitive, and it is not easy to convince them, that there is any good cause, unless it is their appearance, for any undue amount of levity. Although their mental processes are disarranged, their perceptive faculties are acute, allowing them to judge well and express their judgment, of who is the well bred gentleman or lady, or who is the buffoon or loafer—the one always careful of the feelings of others, especially the unfortunate—the other, believing others as senseless as themselves.

I have drawn orders, during the past fiscal year, on your treasurer, to the amount of $44,118, 97 cents, which is an excess the amount expended last year of $2,033 42, which is accounted for, by the exceeding high price of flour and meat, the former having reached the extortionate price of $14 per barrel during the last year, and also by the fact, that we have just paid for six hundred and twenty-one tons of coal, at $8 37 1-2 per ton, amounting to $5,190 87 1-2, all of which is on hand.

On the appropriation for the improvement about the new wings, building the air-ducts and sewers, I have issued certificates to the amount of $758 05. Much work has been done and material furnished, for which certificates will be issued in a few days.

On the appropriation for furnishing the new wings, I have drawn orders to the amount of $97 16, a member of your executive committee having purchased the ticking, sheeting, and curled hair for the beds, the vouchers not having passed through my hands. I have made an arrangement with the State Prison commissioner for 100 bedsteads, of a pattern for our especial use, at five dollars each. We shall need some seventy more which can be provided as the necessity occurs. I have made arrangements with the woolen factory of F. Briggs & Co., for three hundred and fifty all wool blankets, with no nap on them at ninety cents per pound—single and napless blankets washing much better than double ones with a nap on them.

I expect your board will instruct me as to the time when patients will be received into the new wings, and the number. Had we the means to fully furnish the wards and support the patients, we could receive 170 more, making 350 in all. We shall need some more kitchen facilities and some means of conveying food to the extreme wings, both of which I shall provide for unless your Board instruct otherwise.

We shall need $80,000 for our support for the next fiscal year, if the house is to be filled. It is possible that we will not need the whole of this sum for support of patients, but in making these new wings in complete order, there will be many items of expenditure, for furniture and other necessary things, for which there is no provision, and will of necessity come out of current expense account.

I think the laws and by-laws are sufficiently explicit in regard to the reception of patients in our enlarged accommodations—to receive all curable cases, no incurable case to exclude a curable one. Counties to be entitled to room in proportion to population.

At the last session of the Legislature the act requiring the wealthy class of our citizens to pay for the support of relatives here was repealed. All now are maintained at the expense of the state. The repealing law took effect January 21st, after which I felt that I had no right to require or receive pay.

I have received as pay for maintenance of patients since October 1, 1866, to January 21, 1867, the sum of.....	$1,182 06
Balance in my hands October 1, 1866.....	107 55
Total.....	$1,289 61

On January 8th, last, I paid Treasurer.....	$1,000 00
I refunded to Wilkinson.....	5 50
On October, 1, 1867, I paid Treasurer of Hospital.....	284 11
	$1,289 61

This closing the account.

I have also this day paid over to the Hospital treasurer four hundred dollars, received by me for vegetables, hides, pelts, &c., sold by me during the last year.

The legislature, at its last session, passed an act declaring that no spiritous liquors should be sold, given away, &c., within one mile of this Hospital, thereby intending to protect us from the disgraceful scenes heretofore enacted only a few rods from our corridor windows. The law failed to require any particular officer to prosecute for its violation. One of its violators was prosecuted and fined, but the case was appealed and the law-breaking was and is continued. The appeal is still pending in the circuit court. This matter of selling spiritous liquors so near our Institution is not only a great annoyance to the patients and officers in its direct effect, but is instrumental in lowering the discipline of employees, rendering a change frequently necessary, thereby in many cases depriving us of experienced help. Men having no families, will, during long winter evenings, and on the Sabbath day, float off to where they can find associates and excitement—certainly if the noise and confusion of bar-room broils can be heard in their sitting-room.

Will not your Board petition the Legislature to amend the law, so as to make it the duty of the Attorney General to prosecute for its violation, or what would be more effectual, ask for an appropriation to buy the one hundred and twenty acres of land, directly on our north line; thereby rendering it impossible for dens of this kind to come within one hundred rods of this, our greatest state charity.

Our donations have been about as usual. The Green Bay Advocate, Grant County Herald, the Prison City Leader, the Waukesha Plaindealer and Dodgeville Chronicle have all made their welcome weekly appearance. The Chicago Daily Tribune has been kindly furnished us, for the last few months, by the Hon. Horace White, of Chicago. Other excellent papers have been received regularly, some of which we have paid for, the editors of others have not sent in their bills, but have not informed me of an intended donation. Ex-Gov. Farwell, Hon. T. O. Howe and Hon. B. F. Hopkins have kindly furnished us with Congressional publications. I also received from the same hand two pounds of Arnauthka or Russian wheat, from which we raised ninety pounds—one bushel by measure weighing sixty-five pounds. I intend to use it for seed another year.

A few of our female patients were employed, nearly a week, on a neighboring farm, in hop picking, and earned $29, which I intend to use in purchasing books to replenish our well used library.

Section 11 of our by-laws, in consequence of the greatly increased number of patients to be received, may need amendment, so as to allow me to employ temporarily, another assistant, who will be much needed before your semi-annual meeting in April, with an understanding, that he will be nominated for confirmation by your board at that time, should he exhibit proper capacity for the position.

There has been no change in the subordinate officers of the nstitution—assistant physician and matron—each making brave efforts to faithfully discharge the onerous duties imposed upon them.

I feel that we shall soon commence a new career of usefulness in our enlarged, substantial and beautiful house. I have seen no building devoted to the same use, that is its superior in architectural beauty, and outside or inside finish. The outside, all of cut stone of uniform color, the inside, throughout lined with brick and finished with three coats of plaster, the last being of hard finish—white as snow.

With a heating and ventilating apparatus equal to anything on this continent.

With all these fine arrangements together with the uniform courtesy and many unexpected expressions of confidence manifested towards me by your Honorable Board during my superintendency, I feel that this Hospital must advance to a first class position, with similar institutions in this country.

I have the honor to be your most obedient servant,

A. H. VAN NORSTRAND, M. D.,
Superintendent.

The usual tabular statement and items of current expenditures are hereto appended.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

To the Trustees of the Wisconsin State Hospital for the Insane :

The undersigned treasurer would respectfully report that the financial affairs of the hospital for the past fiscal year may be stated as follows :

GENERAL FUND FOR CURRENT EXPENSES.

This fund arises from appropriations made by the legislature, from pay for the maintenance of patients, from sale of surplus produce, and from the sale of articles that become useless to the hospital. It will be seen by my last annual report, that on the 1st day of October, 1866, this fund was overpaid to the amount of three thousand and twenty-nine dollars and ninety-six cents.

Since that time I have received from various sources the following sums of money, to-wit :

From state treasurer balance of appropriation for 1866.....	$10,000 00
From Dr. Van Nostrand in 1866.....	1,000 00
From state treasurer, appropriation for 1867.....	40,000 00
From Dr. Van Nostrand in 1867.....	884 11

Making a total of.....	$51,684 11
------------------------	-------------

I have paid out of this fund upon orders drawn by the superintendent, and by the secretary of your board, the sum of.....	51,489 72
---	-----------

Leaving a balance in the treasury of.....	$194 39
---	----------

applicable to the payment of current expenses for the last quarter of the year 1867.

BUILDING FUND.

This fund arises from an appropriation made by the legislature in 1866, for the enlargement of the hospital. The transactions in this fund, since my last annual report, have been as follows :

Amount on hand, Oct. 1, 1866.....	$10,000 00
Received from state treasurer.....	70,000 00
Total.....	$80,000 00

I have paid out to contractors, and for incidental expenses connected with the erection of the new wings of the hospital, by the authority of the executive committee.....	72,741 15
--	-----------

Balance in the hands of treasurer, Oct. 1, 1867.....	$7,258 82

FINISHING AND FURNISHING FUND.

This fund arises from an appropriation made by the legislature of twenty-five thousand dollars, for finishing up the hospital enlargement, putting in heating apparatus, plumbing, window guards, etc., and for furnishing the same for the reception of patients. From the lack of money in the state treasury applicable to the payment of this appropriation, there has been no money whatever received from that source on account of this fund.

For the purpose of carrying on the necessary work of completion, contracts were made, materials purchased and services required, which could not be procured without ready means. I have therefore, with the authority of the executive committee, borrowed the sum of ten thousand dollars, which has been placed to the credit of this fund. This account then stands as follows :

Cash received.....	$10,000 00
Paid out on the authority of Executive Committee, for work done, materials furnished, and advances on contracts not yet completed.....	9,628 59
Balance on hand.....	$371 44

I have the authority of the State Treasurer for saying that no money can be received from the Treasury on this appropriation until after the payment of taxes this fall, and when so received the money thus borrowed must be paid therefrom.

A full detailed statement of disbursements from the above last mentioned fund, which will be fully set forth in a subsequent report.

Respectfully submitted.

SIMEON MILLS,
Treasurer.

REPORT OF EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

The undersigned Executive committee of the Board of Trustees of Wisconsin Hospital for the Insane, respectfully report :

That the general affairs of the hospital for the past year have been attended with the usual success, with no reverse or misfortune worthy of mention. The professional and sanitary history of the hospital will be more especially related in the reports of the superintendent and the visiting committee ; and its financial affairs will be stated in the treasurer's report. That the expense account has been attended with the usual economy, will doubtless be found by an examination of items ; and we trust that to these and all other matters connected with the hospital the board will give critical attention.

The enlargement of the hospital buildings has been progressing through the summer as fast as practicable. Although it is not probable that the new wings will be finally completed at the time fixed, Nov. 1st, yet it is the belief of your committee that the contractors have used due diligence in the work. Probably four more weeks will be required for the completion of their contract, and making the enlargement ready for occupation. This delay is of no real disadvantage, however, as the new buildings cannot be opened for the reception of patients until funds are provided for their maintenance. By the treasurer's report it will be shown that the legislative appropriation for the maintenance of the hospital, for the current year, fall somewhat short of the purpose with the present number of patients.

The lowest bidder for the heating, lighting and plumbing fixtures, M. H. Leahy, declined to enter into contract at the sum fixed in his bid, and your committee contracted with Davis, Standish & Co., of Chicago, for that work. It consists of putting in the gas pipes, the plumbing and heating apparatus, hot air registers, ventilators, drying closets, ventilating coils, return pipes for condensed steam, &c., and furnish all the material therefor. The contract price is $10,300.

Your committee has also made other contracts, as follows :

With William Askew, for furnishing window guards, at $12 each.

With David Burns, for furnishing one steam boiler, of 45 horse power, with valve and fittings complete, for $1,670.

With Andrew Proudfit, for the mason work and materials therefor necessary to inclose the steam coils used in heating the new building, at $15 per 1000 for the brick work.

And with Pollard and Nelson, for painting the window guards in the new building, for $350.

The question of economy in heating the Institution has become one of the most formidable with which we have to deal. The reports for several years past, show that the item of fuel is considerably larger than any one other—in fact, approximating towards the lead of the entire provisioning of the establishment. So far as can be seen, the future presents no outlet of relief in that respect—unless experiments yet to be made shall demonstrate the economy of peat over other fuel in this section. Coal will not become plentier, and wood is gradually being exhausted. It is too late to re-locate the Hospital nearer the wood lands. And it seems to us, that in dealing with this matter, it is only practicable to give attention to every means for economizing the modes of producing and of using heat. In arranging for heating apparatus for the Hospital enlargement, your committee has used all practicable diligence in examining the best forms of steam boilers as relating to economy in producing steam. We have examined with much care what is known as the "Harrison Boiler," having visited Chicago and Horicon for that purpose, where boilers of that class are in operation. Its chief merits seem to be in its great strength, rather than any marked economy as a generator of steam. It was represented to us as giving a saving of from 20 to 30 per cent. in fuel over ordinary steam boilers, but the manufacturer, Mr. Harrison, of Philadelphia, does not formally claim that saving. He rests more specifically on its advantages as being proof against explosion under any practicably steam pressure. The question of strength in a boiler is one not to be disregarded; but in the case of the Hospital, where great pressure is never necessary, and where the ultimate strength of an ordinary boiler is never more than half called upon, it seems to us, that economy in producing steam in proportion to the fuel used, is the quality to be sought for.

These considerations, together with the fact that the Harrison boiler costs one-half more than the best forms of other boilers in use, decided us not to purchase it. Subsequently, our attention has been called to what is known as the "Burns' boiler," now being manufactured in Fort Howard, in this state, and two of our members have examined it as fully as circumstances would permit. Its advantages seem to be in presenting more fire surface and in using up the heat more thoroughly than any boiler now known to us, there being, with the exception of the fire doors, no part of it traversed by the fire not surrounded by water space. Two of these boilers, now in use on steamboats running on Green Bay, are demonstrating its fuel-saving qualities, the owners thereof estimating its economy in that respect to be at least 30 per cent. over any other. Your committee, as already stated, has contracted for one of them, of 45 horse power, and hope that its test, in heating the enlargement, will develop one means for reducing our fuel expenses.

In giving attention to economy in heating the Hospital, no one can fail to be impressed with the belief that there must be a considerable waste of heat in sending it, from where it is produced, a long distance to the spot where it is used. The most commonplace engineer knows the importance of preserving his steam from condensation, and even in the short transit from the boiler to the engine, but a few feet in extent, carefully packs his steam pipes with non-conducting materials. And yet we are producing steam at our engine house, and undertaking to convey it through 30 rods of an underground, cold passage to where it is applied. If in the passage of steam a few feet from the boiler to the engine it is condensed to an annoying extent, how can we hope to prevent an alarming waste in sending it through 500 feet of excavation in the earth? This method has been in use since the Hospital was built. It was doubtless devised and approved on what seemed to be good scientific principles; and might at this day stand unquestioned but for the close search necessary for ways to lessen our enormous outlays for wood and coal. It is our belief that an investigation by intelligent and skilled authority in such matters will decide that this plan of transmitting heat involves a very great waste; and we urgently recommend to the Board that such an investigation be provided for at an early time; and that, in case there should appear to be sufficient benefits resulting therefrom, provision be made for the removal of the steam generators directly to the main building.

The air ducts and sewers necessary for the hospital enlargement have been carried on under the management of the superintendent, and are nearly or quite complete. This work has been done at trifling expense to the fund, through his volunteering to perform it mostly with labor of patients.

Your committee present for your consideration the question whether it may not be advantageous that all staple supplies for the hospital be contracted for by the year or other period, in advance, after publicly inviting proposals therefor. Among the reasons in favor are—

1. The probable economy of purchasing supplies directly of one dealer, who can afford, having a definite engagement to deliver large quantities at fixed times, to sell at the lowest prices.
2. The avoiding of hostility to the institution and its officers from those tradesmen and others who imagine themselves slighted in not receiving a share of its trade; and who are too apt to charge its officers with dishonesty in participating in the profits thereof.

Your committee would call the attention of the Board to the fact that the Hospital has been in operation upwards of seven years, during which time nothing like a critical and searching examination has been made into its internal economy, its expenditures, its general habits, and the doings of its officers and managing committees. All these affairs are annually presented in the yearly reports, and received with what attention can be given at your annual meetings, which are necessarily brief; monthly and semi-annual visits are made by visiting committees and by your Board, but for apparent reasons these cannot give more than a superficial glance at its workings. We recommend, therefore, that a committee be provided for by the Board for examining its affairs in detail. It is doubtless quite certain that such an examination would show the inner operations of the institution as fair as those of the outer surface; but such a result would be a vast benefit to all connected with its management and trusts in fortifying them with the confidence of the people in going on with the delicate and responsible tasks in their charge. And an adverse result if such is possible, ought to be reached at once.

It is also recommended that the same committee shall be instructed to examine the by-laws of the Hospital and report such alterations and additions as experience in the management of the institution show to be needed.

It is recommended that the Board, in asking for an appropriation for the Hospital for the ensuing year shall provide for the maintenance of three hundred and fifty patients—the number which it is estimated that the Hospital will accommodate when the enlargement is brought into use.

Respectfully submitted,

SIMEON MILLS,
C. D. ROBINSON,
W. R. TAYLOR,

Executive Committee.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
STATE PRISON COMMISSIONER,
FOR THE
FISCAL YEAR ENDING SEPTEMBER 30, 1867.

OFFICE OF THE STATE PRISON COMMISSIONER, }
WAUPUN, Wis., Oct. 1, 1867. }

To his Excellency, LUCIUS FAIRCHILD,

Governor of the state of Wisconsin :

SIR :—In obedience to the requirements of law, I have the honor to submit my fourth annual report as State Prison Commissioner, containing a “full and accurate” statement of the concerns of this institution for the fiscal year ending on the 30th day of September, 1867.

At the date of my last report, September 30th, 1866, the whole number of convicts in this prison amounted to one hundred and sixty-nine. There have been received since that time, one hundred and twenty-five, making the total number confined during the year two hundred and ninety-four. During the same period there were discharged, on reduction of time, under the provisions of chapter 324 of the general laws of 1860, seventy-one; by Governor’s pardon, sixteen, and by expiration of sentence, one; leaving in confinement at the present day, two hundred and six convicts, viz : one hundred and ninety-one males and fifteen females. This being an increase of thirty-seven over the number confined at the close of the previous year.

The lowest number of convicts during the year was one hundred and sixty-nine in the month of October, and the highest, two hundred and seventeen in that of June.

The average for the year is one hundred and ninety-four.

The number of prisoners convicted for crimes against persons was twenty-two, and for crimes against property, one hundred and three.

Four convicts were sentenced for life.

The average of sentences of the convicts committed during the year, is one year, eleven months and three days.

Five convicts have been received who had previously been discharged from this prison : three for the second, one for the third, and one for the sixth time—the last mentioned individual, undoubtedly a monomaniac on the subject, every time for stealing a cow.

Taking into consideration the whole number of convicts discharged, since the organization of the prison, amounting to one thousand and eighteen, the number of recommittals during the year seems to be of a very satisfactory and encouraging nature.

I take pleasure in reporting, that the year just closed has been characterized by an unusual degree of prosperity. No escapes, nor attempts to escape have been made. The prisoners submitted to the discipline generally without punishment or complaint, and not a single case of violence, or gross insubordination has occurred. They performed the labor, assigned to them, with cheerfulness and alacrity. They were favored with general good health, and of the two hundred and ninety-four convicts, confined during the year, not one has been taken by death from our midst.

The legislature in its last session, appropriated the sum of sixty thousand dollars, ($60,000,) for current expenses and the erection of the north wing of the prison. Owing to my inability to draw, from time to time, the necessary funds thus appropriated, I am carrying now, as will be seen from the annexed statements, a large indebtedness, amounting to twelve thousand and ninety-two dollars and fourteen cents, ($12,092 14). It is, however, proper to state in this connection, that the balance of five thousand one hundred and ninety-three dollars and eighty-nine cents, ($5,193 89), unexpended at the date of this report, together with the sum of twenty thousand dollars, ($20,000) still due from the state treasury, amount to twenty-five thousand one hundred and ninety-three dollars and eighty-nine cents, ($25,193 89), showing a surplus of cash assets over liabilities, of thirteen thousand one hundred and one dollars and seventy-five cents, ($13,101 75). The inventory of stock, supplies and materials on hand, amounts to twelve thousand nine hundred and sixty-seven dollars and seventy-one cents, ($12,967 71). With these facts and figures before me, I am certainly justified in saying that the financial affairs of the prison are in a sound condition.

For the purposes hereafter mentioned, I would respectfully ask for an appropriation of thirty-five thousand dollars ($35,000), for the ensuing year.

In accordance with the recommendation of the "Joint Committee on Prison affairs," last winter, I proceeded with the erection of the north wing, commenced in the spring of 1866. It will be remembered that at the date of my last report, the outside walls of this structure were carried up to the top of the window caps, being a height of 25 feet, and that the foundation of the cells had been laid. As the work progressed with great rapidity, I am able to report that this building, as far as the mason work is concerned, is now completed. All the cells, two hundred and forty in number, are laid, the outside walls and octagons are finished, and if the weather should prove favorable during the coming month, we shall succeed in putting on the tin roofing.

It may be of some interest to know, that the whole work has been done by convicts who never, before the wing was begun, had worked an hour at the trade. They were assisted only and directed by one overseer, and notwithstanding these disadvantages, it is apparent at first sight, that this building is not alone equal, but even superior in every respect to those ever before erected on these premises.

Various minor improvements have been made, during the year, of which the following are the most important :

We have graded the street along the front wall, and laid a sidewalk of flag stone, 943 feet long and eight feet wide.

We have extended the front wall to the northern boundary of the prison precincts, a distance of 150 feet, and have constructed a stone culvert, 579 feet in length, from the south-east corner of the prison lot to the main sewer.

To supply the cell room more conveniently with good drinking water, I had a new well drilled for that purpose.

The value of the permanent improvements, made during the past year, amounts to $53,123 04. For further particulars on this subject I beg leave to refer to the respective tables hereto annexed.

As we shall have the satisfaction of witnessing, within a few months, the final completion of the Wisconsin State Prison, it may not be out of place to give now a full description of the prison premises and buildings. In doing so I prefer to quote from the able "Report on Prisons and Reformatories of the United States and Canada," published by Messrs. Rev. C. E. Wines and Dr. Theodore W. Dwight, of New York. The latter gentleman, who visited and inspected this institution, says in the interesting work referred to :

"This prison (Wisconsin) is situated at Waupun, and may be pronounced, in all respects, one of the finest in the United States.

The premises comprise an area of twenty acres, eight of which are enclosed by a stone wall, twenty feet high and three feet thick. The front wall is a series of stone pillars and arches, five hundred and seventy-five feet long, filled with an iron net-work. At the time of our visit, the draining was very imperfect. All the filth that accumulated was emptied into sink-holes, dug for the purpose of receiving it. But in the winter of 1863-4, the commissioner of the prison, Henry Cordier, Esq., succeeded in procuring the necessary legislation for the construction of a sewer, of ample dimensions, with a fall of about forty feet, from the prison yard to Rock river, by which the drainage will be made perfect*. There is a handsome garden, of nearly an acre in extent, in front of the prison buildings.

The prison buildings consist of a main building, (used as a residence for the commissioner, officers' rooms, chapel and hospital) cell room, a female prison, workshops, washhouse, barn and stables and wood shed.

The prison proper, or cell room, is two hundred feet long, fifty feet wide, and thirty-two feet high. It is a structure of dressed lime-stone, with ten windows on each side, each window being sixteen feet by five feet. In the middle part of this room is a stone block containing the cells.† The cell room for female convicts, surrounded by a separate stone wall, fifteen feet high and two thick, is seventy-three feet in length, thirty-four in width, and twenty in height.

The cell room for men contains four tiers, with two hundred and eighty cells in all. The size of the cells is seven feet long, six wide and eight high. That of the women contains thirty-six cells in two tiers, each cell being ten feet long, six wide and eight high. They are placed on each side of the room, with a hall fourteen feet wide between. Each cell in the female prison has a window. The furniture of the cells, both in the male and female departments, consists in the following articles; a cot, stand, stool, wash-basin, knife, fork, spoon, salt-box, vinegar-bottle, spittoon, lamp and night-tub.

The chapel is in the second story of the main building, and is sixty-seven feet long, thirty-six wide, and eighteen high. It is connected by a stairway with the cell house, and the only furniture is a pulpit and the necessary seats for convicts, with a few for citizens also.

The hospital, likewise in the main building, and connected with the cell-room, is an apartment twenty-eight feet long, twenty-seven wide and eighteen high. It contains only six beds; but this number, up to the present time, has been found sufficient.

There is no dining room, as the prisoners take their meals in the cells.

The guard room is twenty-eight feet by twenty-six feet by eighteen feet. It is on the lower floor of the main building, communicating with, and overlooking the cell room. In it are kept the arms of the prison and the keys of the several departments.

* This sewer was completed a year ago, and is in good working order.

†The north wing being erected now and nearly completed is a facsimile of the south-wing, here described.

A row of buildings, of cut stone, three hundred and fifty feet in length, by forty feet in width, and two stories high, contains the work shops, viz: stone, cabinet, shoe and tailor shops. Each department in these shops is forty feet by eighteen and twelve feet high.

The blacksmith's shop, also of cut stone, is eighty feet by forty, and sixteen high. The wash house, (same material) is forty feet, by twenty-five, by sixteen.

It is thus seen that the Wisconsin state prison is of the most durable materials throughout, well built, well appointed, and substantial in all respects. It is also the most orderly and the most neatly kept of all the western prisons visited by us."

The inmates of this institution have heretofore been mainly employed in putting up buildings and making other permanent improvements; but now, as these improvements are nearly completed, it will become necessary to devise some ways and means for the future employment of our convicts.

Two systems of prison labor are principally adopted throughout the United States.

The first system is that of working the convicts on account of the state—the state supplying the capital and selling, through its agents the manufactured articles, the same as an individual or a company.

The second system, known as the contract system, consists in letting the labor of the convicts, for a certain number of years, at so much per day for each man.

This system is the one adopted in nearly all the American prisons, and it should be naturally inferred from this fact, that it was the most beneficial in its effects, regarding the discipline, as well as the finances of the prisons. Experience, however, shows that such is not the case. It is the unanimous testimony of ablest prison officers in the United States, that the evils, resulting from the contract system, are injurious to the discipline and hostile to the reformation of convicts. And the simple statement, that the prisons working under this system, with the exception probably of those of Connecticut and New Hampshire, failed to make themselves self-supporting, should be conclusive evidence, that there is "something rotten in Denmark," especially when we know, that very large profits are made by contractors from prison labor.

The other system, working convicts on account of the state, is adopted only by the Clinton prison in New York and those of Maine and Wisconsin. The first two named prisons are not alone self-supporting, but afford even a source of revenue to their respective states. It should here be added, that the contract system was not abolished in the Clinton prison, until 1865. Up to that time the public treasury was taxed to the amount of thirty thousand dollars and over, per annum, for the support of this institution.

I now take pleasure in calling your attention to the following statement, which will show, that the financial results, attained under this system in our own prison, may be pronounced highly satisfactory :

Cash balance on hand, Sept. 30, 1866.....	$7,936 92
Received on appropriations.....	40,000 00
Amount unpaid.....	12,092 14
Total.....	$60,029 06
Cash balance on hand, Sept. 30, 1867.....	5,193 89
Total expenditures.....	$54,835 17
Value of permanent improvements.....	$53,123 04
Increase of supplies, stock and materials, since Sept. 30, 1867.....	1,302 25
Total offset.....	$54,425 09
Actual expenditures.....	$409 88

It will be seen from the foregoing statement, that the whole amount appropriated for prison purposes, less the small sum of $409 88, has been invested in public buildings and other valuable improvements, and that the institution came, in fact, very near being self-supporting.

The question now arises, what have been the actual expenditures of the prison, since its organization in 1851? My predecessors in office have kept no account of the earnings of the convicts. By considering the following figures, however, we may judge, whether or not the management of the prison, under its present system of labor, has been economical and profitable, and conducted to the best interest of the state. The legislature has appropriated, in all, for prison construction, improvements and current expenses, the sum of six hundred and twenty-four thousand and seven hundred dollars and eighty-seven cents ($624,700 87). The present estimated value of grounds and buildings, personal property and cash assets, is five hundred and thirty-four thousand and ninety-seven dollars ($534,097), consequently the actual cost to the state for the support of her convicts for sixteen years, would be only ninety thousand six hundred and three dollars and eighty-seven cents ($90,603 87), or not even six thousand dollars ($6,000) per year, in a pecuniary view, a very favorable result.

It is my deliberate opinion that the system of working our convicts on account of the state, as heretofore, is preferable to the contract system under which this prison, like nearly all others, would remain forever a drain upon the public treasury. To carry on, however, our manufactories successfully, it will become necessary to provide for a sufficient working capital, in addition to a certain amount for current expenses for the first coming years. Having once established the mechanical departments of the institution upon a sound basis, by manufacturing good articles and procuring a ready market for their sale, the necessity will soon cease for making further appropriations for the support of the prison.

In the report of the chaplain, to which your attention is respectfully called, will be found some interesting facts, in regard to the moral and educational condition of the convicts. His statements being full and satisfactory, I wish to refer only to the prison school, established about six months ago. The law authorizing its organization was passed in the legislative session of last winter, and provides that eight hours in each week should be devoted to teaching the convicts in the common branches of education. Although the time, stipulated for this purpose, has been found insufficient in many respects, the results obtained surpass my most sanguine expectations. It is really surprising to notice the zeal manifested, even by aged persons, to learn the arts of reading and writing, and their progress corresponds with their zeal. Many who could read only imperfectly, or not at all on entering, are capable of reading fluently now, and many of those who never wrote a line in their life, are capable already of writing short letters to their friends. But a few convicts, if any, will hereafter leave this prison without a knowledge of those two useful and important branches.

I cannot dismiss this subject without acknowledging the valuable services rendered by our worthy chaplain, who gratuitously officiated as superintendent of the school. He was assisted only by a number of convicts, who in the capacity of teachers discharged their duties very creditably and with much zeal. They, as well as the scholars, never gave cause for complaint, but behaved themselves with the utmost decorum. The experience, thus made, should set at rest all doubts as to the practicability of convict schools. Instead of being destructive, I found them favorable to good discipline.

In view of the fact, that secular instruction has been neglected to a great extent in the American prisons, it is to be hoped that the time may soon come when more liberal provisions will be made for the education of convicts. Dispel ignorance and you prevent crime.

The number of female convicts, now confined, is fifteen, an increase of five during the past year. They have been mainly employed in knitting, shirt making, mending, and other work of the same kind. Taking into consideration the degree of their moral and educational culture, being far below that of male convicts, their conduct may be pronounced quite satisfactory. This department is still under the supervision of the excellent matron, Miss Harrington, who for nearly three years has discharged the onerous, and often unpleasant duties of her position with much acceptance.

In conclusion, permit me to say, that the subordinate officers have performed their various duties with zeal and fidelity, and have always manifested a deep interest in the prosperity of the institution.

Very respectfully,

H. CORDIER,
State Prison Commissioner.

STATE OF WISCONSIN, Dodge county, ss.

Henry Cordier, being duly sworn, says that the contents of the foregoing report, by him subscribed, are just and true, according to the best of his knowledge and belief.

H. CORDIER, State Prison Commissioner.

Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 30th day of September 1867.
JOHN WINGENDER, Notary Public.

CHAPLAIN'S REPORT.

WAUPUN, Sept. 30, 1867.

In presenting my report for the year ending September 30, 1867, I take pleasure in saying, that the moral agencies employed for the benefit and reformation of the convicts, had in the main a very salutary effect. My efforts as chaplain have been seconded by the sympathy and co-operation of our excellent commissioner, and all his subordinate officers, to whom I am much indebted for whatever success I may have had in the performance of my duties.

I can truly say, that the inmates of this institution seem not to consider it a task to attend divine service on sabbath, but esteem it a privilege. No compulsory means have been necessary to bring them to church, or maintain good order while they have been there. The best attention is given to the religious services, and the gospel finds an advocate in every heart. Old and young feel its blessed influence, and acknowledge the justice of its claims. Many, whose life has been a failure in the past, form resolutions in their hearts to walk the road of Christians when once free, and all have been led to hope in the mercy and grace of God, who is their kind Father yet, although they fell poor sinners on the wayside.

We have not accomplished all that we desired, yet we are happy to see marks of improvements in our convicts. Their so often expressed determination to commence a new life, when free, and redeem themselves by a virtuous conduct from the stain of having been a prison convict, is in a great many of them well meant and sincere.

Our prison school is in successful operation. The register shows the attendance of scholars, since the organization of the school, to have been sixty-eight, from which number eleven have been discharged from the prison. Thirteen knew nothing of reading and writing when they were admitted into the school, and the rest were able only to read the most easy parts of the First Reader. They were equally poor in penmanship, in their incorrect attempts may be called by that name. Only six of the whole number were able to write their own letters, and their writing could be deciphered with difficulty. The long periods between the school days—Saturday and Sunday afternoons are only devoted to teaching—have done much to retard the advancement of the pupils in their studies. Nevertheless I am able to report two only in the primary class—and they were recently admitted—six in the first reader, and the balance are able to read in the Second and Third Reader. In writing, the school has progressed finely, but few finding it necessary to have others write their letters for them. It is not hard to find worse writers among even those who can boast of better opportunities. Spelling, mental and practical arithmetic are taught, and the fundamental principles of arithmetic are quite well mastered. It would be difficult to find a body of men equal in numbers, who knew as little of arithmetic as my pupils, at the time they entered school, yet the advancement already made, inspires me with hopes of greater success in the future, and the accomplishment of greater good to those unfortunate men.

I owe much of my success in the school to the commissioner, who has ever felt a deep interest in the prosperity of the school, and done all in his power to make it a success.

HENRY DREW,
Chaplain.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

WAUPUN, Sept. 30, 1867.

In submitting my annual report, I would state that the health of the convicts has been remarkably good for the past year, no deaths, nor a single case of any contagious disease, having occurred.

Sporadic cases of pneumonia, diarrhoea, dysentery, &c., yielding readily to treatment, constitute the list of acute diseases with which we have had to contend. There has been quite a large number of syphilitic cases received during the past year; all are improved by treatment, and in some there has been a radical cure. The rigid cleanliness enforced in the prison has been a means in producing this result.

We have had but few cases of surgery, and those of minor importance.

There are six inmates of the prison who are mentally deranged, the most of them of a mild form. Mr. Cordier is preparing a separate apartment for this class of persons, which will be a great benefit to them as well as to the prisoners generally.

In nearly every instance the convicts improve in health, from the time they are admitted, consequently those persons who come here for one or two years, go away in a much better condition than they were when they came in. This result is owing wholly to the system of regimen adopted in this institution which cannot be materially improved.

D. W. MOORE,
Prison Physician.

REGULAR MEETINGS,

Second Wednesday in January, April, July and October.

MANAGERS' REPORT.

To his excellency, LUCIUS FAIRCHILD,

Governor of the State of Wisconsin.

The undersigned, Managers of the State Reform School, herewith present their eighth annual report.

The number of inmates in the school at the beginning of the year was :

Boys	118
Girls	16
	134	134

Number committed during the year :

Boys	66
Girls	6
	72	72

Run away of past year, returned :

Boy		1

Returned from absence, on ticket :

Boys		10
Girls
	10	10

Whole number in school, during year :

Boys	190
Girls	27
	217	217

The highest number in school, at any one time, during the year, was 162.

The whole amount paid for current expenses during the past year, ending at this date, was..... $24,247 56

Which is discharged as follows, viz:

Improvements and repairs.....	$451 47
Fuel and lights.....	1,534 27
Wheat, flour and feed.....	3,769 66
Groceries.....	2,152 57
Meats.....	1,175 77
Fruits and vegetables.....	204 47
Farming utensils and seeds.....	586 90
Hardware and tools.....	474 33
Blacksmithing.....	187 91
Shoe shop.....	567 75
Furnishings.....	4,340 07
Furniture.....	45 00
Books and stationery.....	319 55
Medicine and medical service.....	143 45
Printing.....	31 00
Postage and revenue stamps.....	45 00
Insurance.....	486 08
Freight and express.....	128 49
Livery.....	41 50
Salaries and labor.....	6,466 81
Managers.....	354 00
Miscellaneous.....	713 91
	$24,247 56

Were it not for the fact that we have a large amount of fencing to build on our farm, and many expenses incident to our new situation, we should expect with additional land to decrease our expenses the coming year; but we will not be able to do so for the reasons above set forth; and the absolute necessity of improving our land at once, that we may have the increased benefit at the earliest moment, and work our farm to the best advantage.

There is now in the hands of our treasurer, as will be seen by his report, belonging to the current expense account..... $556 86
Which with the overdrawn appropriation of..... 6,000 00
Will nearly, or quite, pay our current expenses to the close of the year 1867.

Estimated amount for current expenses for 1868.....$24,230 50
Deduct amount due from counties..... 3,730 50

Leaves balance of.....$20,500 00

Which will need to be appropriated for current expenses for 1868.

We were compelled to expend more money on account of our buildings than was estimated by us or any of the committee who visited us; but we could not see how we could get along without the buildings, and the necessity of the case was to us so apparent that we took the responsibility of finishing them up, when we could do so at less expense than to stop and again commence, trusting to the legislature to pay the bills incurred, and without which we could not take care of our present number of inmates.

Our treasurer's report shows building accounts paid by him to the amount of.....	$13,355 35
Cash received by him on building account.....	$13,195 24
Leaving balance due him of....	$160 11
We have also audited and allowed accounts chargeable to the building fund not paid by the treasurer, amounting to....	$3,756 94
Making a total of.....	$8,917 05
And to complete the payment of contracts now made will take say.....	$582 95
Making a total of.....	$4,500 00
To which add for current expenses for 1868.....	20 500 00
Makes a total for all purposes for 1868, of.....	$25,000 00

The board of managers desire again to call attention to the practice of magistrates, who send to this institution children of tender years, feeble in body and mind, apparently incapable of crime, sent for some nominal offence, to impose upon the state the burden of their support. The law gives the board the power to review the action of the committing magistrate; but the practice still continues to some extent, and is not without expense. The change of system from the congregated to the family has produced a manifest improvement. The new buildings answer admirably the purposes of their erection. The inmates can now be divided, arranged and classified with reference to their fitness for association together, thus ensuring success in their reformation when success is attainable. Never in the history of this institution has there appeared so much to encourage its friends. The whole appearance of the farm, garden, buildings, and more particularly the boys and girls, give evidence of a better state of things. While once the inmates looked grave and sad, if not really unhappy, they now look cheerful and happy. They seem no longer to regard with suspicion or aversion those having them in charge, and do not look upon their residence in the school as an imprisonment for punishment, but rather as a desirable place for reformation and improvement. The managers sometime since adopted the plan of giving to such inmates as should by pre-eminent good conduct deserve it a final and unconditional certificate of discharge. This certificate has been granted to two boys. One has gone into a reputable business in Milwaukee and shown himself trustworthy in every particular. The other is in the employ of the state in the school, and both are living witnesses of the good which has been and can be done by the Reform School. The effect of their discharge in this manner has been good upon the school. It is a pleasure to introduce visitors to these graduates, and to call the attention of your excellency to them in this, our official report. At the last agricultural fair at Waukesha, our whole "school was dismissed" upon their parole to appear at the ringing of the bell; our treasurer giving them notice that he was security for their prompt appearance at roll call. They dispersed themselves at pleasure over the grounds, without the slightest restraint, and it was perhaps a question whether they derived more pleasure from an examination of the articles on exhibition than they afforded the public by their good conduct. During the fair one of the boys saw a gentleman drop a $10 bill from his purse, and at once picked up the money, followed the loser, notified him of his loss, and restored the money, receiving $1 for his honesty? How many boys out of a Reform School could be found who would not have been as honest as this one. The managers have succeeded in securing, by exchange, a piece of land connecting the old and new farm, thus saving a large amount of travel, and promoting our convenience in many respects, as was contemplated and authorized by the legislature. We are gratified at the condition of the buildings, the grounds and the inmates. The amount of work done on the buildings and grounds, grading, draining, fencing, cultivating, transplanting, removing and refitting out-buildings, removing and using to the best advantage the "debris" from the old building, the building of walks and various other operations carried on mainly by the boys, without expense to the state, are all deserving of mention and approval. There is one fact in the history of our school which has thus far escaped public notice which we cannot pass over in silence. Since opening in July, 1860, we have had under our charge, congregated in this locality, which has been liberally criticised on sanitary grounds, four hundred and seventy-two of the poor, ignorant and vicious boys and girls, whose previous training had been as little conducive to physical and moral vigor, and yet, thanks to a kind Providence, up to this date we have not lost an inmate; a sufficient answer to every charge of unhealthiness urged against the location of the State Reform School of Wisconsin.

We again publish, for the benefit of those interested, the laws, rules, &c., governing this institution,

The above account clearly shows, that a large majority of the inmates have been destitute of parental care and control, and many of them even worse than parentless. When we consider in addition to this, the power of early impressions and the permanence of hereditary taints and tendencies, it is not surprising that the progress of reform in some is slow. Many of these homeless children come to us with the deep wrought impression, that "nobody cares for me." We are often told by them, "I have no friends, I never had any." It is one of our most difficult tasks to correct this impression, which, while it exists is fatal to all progress. So long as a child feels that he has no friends, he has no motives to noble action. The effect is sometimes wonderful, when one of these children comes to feel "there is one who loves me." It is a spring blossom that foretells the coming summer.

The child once convinced, that there are those who possess a kind feeling towards him, and the work of reform is well begun. Still, much remains to be done. The child has all his former bad habits to meet and overcome—and who knows the power of habit? Not a few of these boys have, at an early age, been addicted to falsehood, theft, profanity and sabbath-breaking; they have chewed and smoked tobacco, they have run at large with others older in vice and long inured to crime—many have played cards, drank beer, robbed melon patches, stolen apples, destroyed property—they have been accustomed to disputes and frequent fights, slept out in barns, boxes and out-houses—sometimes cruelly driven from their homes by brutal parents, until they are morally depraved, physically diseased and mentally imbecile. Some of these, though children, are astonishingly debased in mind and habits—young in age, old in crime.

This is but an imperfect statement of the work now in our hands. It would be a labor without compensation but for the good fruits that we are permitted to see. It is solid satisfaction to be able to say, that nearly all show evidence of improvement; with some it is slow, with others it is marked and rapid; with a few it is apparently labor lost, only as we comfort ourselves with the thought, that they might be worse if they were not restrained.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR.

Every part of an institution of this character should have a direct reference to its fundamental object. One element of every department must be reform, or the system is incomplete.

The inquiry is often significantly made in institutions of this character, "where is the reformatory department?" We should be able, in whatever part of our buildings or premises we are, to reply with emphasis—it is here.

In my judgment, there is no better element of reform than labor. No single influence will restore fallen humanity to its normal condition. Labor alone will not do it. Still it is an essential reformatory element. If all parents furnished their children with suitable and steady employment very few would need to be sent to the reform school. A habit of industry is indispensable to a good citizen, and such a habit can only be acquired in youth.

It is with this view of my duty, that I have arranged the department of labor. It is based upon the three following principles: First, every child should have regular and daily employment. Second, this employment must be suited to the age, strength, and as far as possible, to the natural taste and capacity of the child—and, lastly, the child must be made to feel an interest in his work, and strive to excel in it.

Our condition, occasioned by the lack of buildings and the confusion caused by rebuilding and refitting everything in and around our premises for the last twenty months, has not been very conducive to system in the labor department, still, I flatter myself that a careful investigation of the work accomplished will prove satisfactory to the board of managers, both as respects to the character of the work accomplished and the influence upon the inmates who have done it.

I desire to call attention again to the growing necessity for some additional branch of mechanical labor for the inmates. I think the time to begin to act is now. No new business could go immediately into full operation, but the preliminary steps should be taken at once.

Our addition to the farm is a valuable acquisition. With good management it will lessen the current expenses of the school, and furnish healthful and suitable employment to a large number, many of whom may thus be induced to follow this useful branch of industry for life. We have still, however, a large class of boys unprovided with suitable employment. We are compelled to crowd the knitting class and employ on the farm and for general work an unnecessary number for the sake of keeping them employed; especially is this true in the winter. Thirty boys could be employed in some other business without detriment to any now pursued in the school. If it can be made a source of revenue, well. If it can only be made to pay expenses it would still be a benefit, as it would aid in reform and qualify our youth to become useful citizens.

The sewing department proper, consists of the girls belonging to the school and one woman. During the past year, however, while fitting up our new buildings with bedding, carpets, &c., we have, a part of the time, employed more than one woman. The matron with her sewing-machine, and others of the employees have aided in doing the large amount of work above enumerated.

GARDEN.

The garden, considering the season, has yielded a fair return.

We have used during the summer and fall of green peas 5 bushels, sweet corn, 15 bushels, onions 6 bushels, turnips 6 bushels, beets 5 bushel, carrots 2 bushels, cabbages 200 heads, currants 6 bushels, tomatos 8 bushels; of lettuce, asparagus, cucumbers, strawberries, squashes, melons, citrons, pie-plant and pumpkins, a moderate supply.

We estimate the vegetables yet in the ground as follows:

Carrots.....	317	bush.
Beets.....	50	.do..
Turnips.....	635	.do..
Onions.....	90	.do..
Parsnips.....	8	.do..
Vegetable oysters.....	4	.do..
Cabbages.....	300	heads

* These carpets were made from those furnished by the governor from the old capitol.

We have 7 bushels of early peas, and a large supply of other garden seeds, such as onions, beets, carrots, cabbage, &c.

A half acre is now planted to strawberries, and a small beginning made in grapes and raspberries. Also, a few ornamental trees have been planted.

FARM.

We have plowed this year about 120 acres. We have mowed some 20 acres and pastured perhaps 15.

34 acres sowed to wheat yielded.....bush.	350
20do.....oats.....do.....do..	550
10do.....buckwheat yielded.....do..	65
26 acres planted to corn yielded.....do..
5do.....beans..do.....do..	30

4 acres were rented, one was planted to willows, one to vines and the balance was devoted to roots and garden purposes.

The corn crop was good in quality but not a large yield; the partial failure is mostly due to poor seed. As much was fed early and not measured no correct estimate can be made. The stalks are in good order and are nicely stacked. The fine husks are separated and cured for mattresses and door mats.

The hay yield was about a ton per acre.

The pasture furnished ample feed for the stock, which consists of seven cows, one three-year-old heifer and two calves.

We hope by a free use of manures, a judicious management of the soil and a proper rotation in crops to improve the condition of our land and consequently the quantity produced.

In addition to the stock above named, we have five work horses; we have also twenty fattening hogs and thirty store hogs.

We have built about 160 rods of post and board fence and have some 200 rods more well under way.

By proper management, we trust the farm will become a valuable auxiliary to the school, not only by furnishing supplies, but by giving our young men a correct practical knowledge of farming

GENERAL OUT-OF-DOOR WORK.

Some thirty boys under the charge of the yardmen have done a large amount of work on the grounds around the new buildings. With the exception of a few days' work of the teams, when they could be spared from the farm, these boys, with the pick, spade and wheelbarrow, have removed earth and debris from the old ruins, from five to twenty rods, to the amount of over 9,100 cubic yards. They have made sixty-five square yards of paved walk and 1,092 square yards of gravel walk. They have dug two large vaults ten feet deep, excavated for under-pinning the hospital building, taken up 200 feet of drain tile, dug trenches below frost for 300 feet of drain tile and excavated for sixty feet of sewer. They have wheeled the stone for the walls of the vaults and hospital, and with the aid of a mason fifteen and one-fourth days, built these walls, laid the drain tile and built the sewer. This sewer is the completion of the main sewer, extending to the river. This was mostly built last year. It is laid in water lime—a considerable portion of the distance it is eight feet below the surface and is of sufficient size for a person to crawl through from end to end.

These boys, with the aid of the farmer boys occasionally, have sawed and split some 300 cords of wood. They have also moved fences, dug post holes for yard fences, removed old rubbish, &c.

DIVISION BY FAMILIES.

Under our present arrangements the inmates are separated into "families." This plan facilitates the discipline and order of the school, and at the same time renders it more home-like. Children of like organization and disposition are thus brought together. A less number being under one overseer, more special attention can thus be given to each individual inmate. The benefits of this arrangement are obvious. It is true, however, that more overseers are required, and men of higher qualifications, both intellectually and morally, than would be demanded of all the employees under the old system. It is not every good officer who makes a good overseer. A man in charge of a family of boys has more to do than to look on and give orders. He must watch with parental vigilance and solicitude every development of character in his boys, and embrace with avidity, every opportunity to gain their confidence, and by this means secure a controlling influence over them. The child must feel that his overseer is his friend. Then, and not till then, can he lead the child in right ways. Punishment may restrain, but cannot reform. The spade and mattock may pulverize the soil, but showers and sunshine are indispensable to vegetation.

With our buildings, as now arranged, we can accommodate but four families of boys, and one of girls. Another building to enable us to make five families of the boys is much needed. At this time

Family No. 1 contains, boys.....	48
2.....do.....	47
3.....do.....	25
4.....do.....	23
of girls, contains.....	12

At present the number in each family is regulated by the capacity of the family building. These buildings are separate and distinct, except that family No. 3, consisting of small boys, occupies a wing of the building appropriated to the girls and female employees. Each family has separate play-grounds and out-buildings.

GIRLS' DEPARTMENT.

For the first time in the history of our school have suitable accommodations been provided for the female portion of the inmates. We have now comfortable rooms for about twenty or twenty-five girls. In addition to the "sewing-room" work mentioned above, the girls do their own dining room work and washing. The girls have the same school privileges as the boys.

HEALTH.

To the Allwise Provider of all blessings would we accord our sincere thanks for life and health another year. God has graciously spared us through eight years of our history without the loss of one by death.

With the exception of two cases predisposed to lung complaint, one case of diarrhœa, and one of hip disease, we had no sickness worthy of mentioning.

Very few cases of sore eyes have occurred since conveniences for washing have been provided. Inmates wash five times per day, bathe their persons one or more times each week.

Cleanliness of person, regularity in eating, sleeping and exercise, are our preventives and remedies.

DIVISION OF TIME.

In summer inmates rise at.....	5:30
breakfast at.....	6:30
retire at.....	8:30
	<hr/>
In winter, rise at.....	6:00
breakfast at.....	7:00
retire at.....	8:00
	<hr/>

Labor four hours per day.

Attend school five and a half hours per day.

In winter labor four hours per day ; attend school four and a half hours per day.

The remaining time between rising and retiring, is occupied in washing and meals, recreation, reading, devotional exercises, &c.

CLASSIFICATION AND DISCIPLINE.

The school is classified by grades based entirely on conduct. All enter the school in the fifth grade ; they are entitled to promotion on the first and middle of each month. When an inmate enters the first grade and holds his position with no discredit for three "Grade times," he is promoted to the Grade of Honor. Those in the Grade of Honor are entitled to a separate table, certain additional privileges, and positions of trust when occasion offers.

In the government of the school, we appeal first to the understanding and the conscience—"is it right,"—secondly, to self-interest, "is it not best,"—when these fail, privation of privilege, loss of play-time, a solitary sitting or standing position is our next resort. In more obstinate cases the pupil is placed in 6th Grade, which is bread and water and loss of play for one day. When the case is still more aggravating, he is placed in the 7th Grade, which is bread and water for food, and a standing position during school, work and play hours, until he comes to terms. A record is kept of all promotions and punishment.

VISITORS.

Our visitors' record shows the names of nearly 700 visitors during the past year, and I doubt not that the unrecorded would have swelled the number to over 1,000.

We are glad to see all friends of the school and take pleasure in showing them through all parts of the Institution, and we most earnestly invite all to come, see and know for themselves. A thorough insight has cured the prejudices of many.

Visitors are welcome all days, (Sundays excepted,) between the hours of 10 A. M. and 5 P. M.

Saturday afternoon is the best time for parents and relatives to see the inmates, but the most unfavorable time for the general visitor as neither work or school will be seen in its regular order.

CONCLUSION.

We endeavor to make our institution a home for the friendless and wayward as nearly as possible; yet we are conscious that it is not, and cannot be made "the home where mother is."

In our general exercises which occur daily, instruction is imparted in matters pertaining to health, manners and habits, duties and obligations to society, and many of the general principles of natural science. In this connection I desire to acknowledge much valuable aid rendered by public men, not from our immediate vicinity only, but from different parts of the state.

We acknowledge gratefully our obligation to many of our citizens for assistance in the public duties on the Sabbath, and especially in the Sunday school.

My assistants are, most of them, efficient, and are, in my opinion, endeavoring to discharge their duties to the best of their ability.

My thanks are due to the entire Board of Managers for their continued kindness to me, to my family and associates, and for their co-operation in promoting the interest of the institution.

Very respectfully,

A. D. HENDRICKSON,

Superintendent.

RULES AND BY-LAWS.

The managers of the State Reform School do ordain and establish the following ordinance and by-laws for their own government, the government of the institution and its officers, and the discipline of the inmates thereof.

MEETING OF THE BOARD.

SECTION 1. The board of managers, three of whom shall be necessary to form a quorum for the transaction of business, shall meet at the office of the superintendent on the second Wednesday in January, April, July and October annually—the second of which meeting shall be styled the annual meeting. Extra meetings may be held either by adjournment or by request of a majority of the managers in writing; and in all cases of extra meetings, the managers shall be notified by the secretary of the time and place of such meeting, by personal information, or by depositing in the mail, to the address of each manager, at least one week before said meeting, a notice of the time thereof, and for what purpose called.

SEC. 2. At all meetings of the board, the following shall be observed as the regular order of business: 1st. Reading and approving minutes of previous meeting. 2d. Petitions and communications presented and considered. 3d. Reports of officers of the institution. 4th. Reports of officers and committees of this board. 5th. Unfinished business, or business lying on the table. 6th. Miscellaneous business connected with the institution and all matters pertaining thereto, not included in the above specifications. 7th. Before the adjournment of each meeting sine die is declared, the meeting shall cause the minutes thereof to be read and approved.

SEC. 3. The common parliamentary rules that govern all deliberative bodies shall be used to govern the meetings; and on all questions before the board, the ayes and noes shall be recorded at the request of any member.

OFFICERS OF THE BOARD AND THEIR DUTIES.

SEC. 4. The officers of the board of managers shall be a president, vice-president, treasurer and secretary, who shall be chosen by ballot at the annual meeting—each of whom shall hold his office for one year, or until his successor shall have been chosen and prepared to enter upon the duties of the same. Vacancies in any of the offices may be filled at any meeting of the board.

SEC. 5. The president shall preside at all meetings of the board, and shall sign all orders on the treasurer for the disbursement of money, and perform such other duties as the board may direct. The vice-president shall discharge all the duties of president, when the latter is absent.

SEC. 7. The treasurer shall execute to the state a bond, with at least two freehold sureties to be approved by the president, in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties and disbursements of all moneys which may come into his hands by virtue of said office, according to law and the by-laws of the institution; and whenever the said bond shall have been executed and approved, as herein set forth, the president shall notify the secretary of such approval, who shall record the same on the minutes of the board; and the said bond shall then be deposited in the office of the secretary of state. The treasurer shall receive no compensation for his services.

SEC. 7. Whenever there shall be money appropriated for the state reform school, the treasurer may draw the same in sums not to exceed the penalty in his bond, and at least one-half the amount thus drawn shall have been disbursed before any further sum shall be drawn from the state treasury, and at no time shall the amount in the hands of the treasurer exceed the amount of the penalty in said bond.

SEC. 8. A certificate from the secretary showing the amount of money in the hands of the treasurer at date of last report, and the amount paid since last report, as per voucher returned to the secretary, shall be evidence to the state treasurer of the disbursements thereof.

SEC. 9. The treasurer, upon the reception of any money belonging to the reform school, shall immediately notify the secretary, giving the date of reception, amount from whom received, and the secretary shall charge the same to the treasurer, in a book to be kept for that purpose.

SEC. 10. The treasurer shall keep a record of all disbursements of money made by him, which he shall pay only on such bills as shall have been endorsed by the superintendent, or verified by affidavit, and attested by the secretary, as allowed by the board of managers; and all such bills properly receipted shall be his proper vouchers for the payment of the same. He shall make out, at the October meeting, a detailed statement of all his receipts and disbursements during the previous year, which statement shall be published with the annual report.

SEC. 11. The secretary shall keep a record of the proceedings of the board, and shall perform such other services for the institution as the board of managers shall direct. He shall file and preserve all papers presented to and relating to any business of the board, and no papers shall be permitted to be taken from the files except by a vote of the board, to be entered upon the minutes.

SEC. 12. The members shall at all times have access to the minutes of the board, and the papers on file with the secretary; and if, from any cause, the secretary shall be absent from the meeting, the president may appoint a secretary pro tem.

SEC. 13. The secretary shall keep a record in gross, of the accounts allowed at each meeting of the board, and shall cause a list of the accounts, with their several amounts, and to whom allowed, to be appended to the annual report.

OFFICERS OF THE INSTITUTION AND THEIR DUTIES

SEC. 14. The officers of the Reform School, shall be a superintendent, an assistant superintendent and matron, who shall hold their offices during the pleasure of the board.

SEC. 15. All officers of the institution shall be chosen by ballot of the managers, as follows: The managers shall openly nominate such person or persons as they may think fit for the office which is about to be filled. Opportunity shall then be given to the members in a free conversation, to express their opinions as to the qualifications of such persons. An informal ballot shall then be taken, and the result declared, and the board may then proceed to make an election; provided that three votes will be required to elect or remove the superintendent,

SEC. 16. The superintendent shall have power to appoint such persons as may be necessary for the wants of the institution, subject to the approval of the board, and shall be the chief executive officer, and responsible head of the institution, subject to the direction of the managers and executive committee. He shall prepare a code of rules and regulations for the government of persons employed in the institution, and the inmates thereof, and shall see that all officers and employees are energetic and faithful in all respects in the performance of their duties.

SEC. 17. The superintendent shall present to the board at the quarterly meeting in October, a detailed report of the situation of the institution, with a list of the persons received therein during the preceding year, and their disposition, and make such suggestions as he may deem beneficial thereto; he shall also cause to be kept in books, to be provided for that purpose, a correct account of all the expenditures of the institution, and for what purpose, and also any amounts received from the shoe and tailor shops, farm products, or any other source, under appropriate heads, and present a balance sheet of the same with his annual report.

SEC. 18. All accounts for the supplies of the institution, for contracts for the superintendent, and for salaries of officers and employees of the Reform School, must be endorsed as correct by the superintendent, before the same will be audited and allowed by the board of managers.

SEC 19. The salary of the superintendent shall be at the rate of one thousand dollars per year; of the assistant superintendent not to exceed seven hundred dollars per year; and of the matron, two hundred dollars per year, to be paid quarterly; and they shall reside in the institution and devote all their time and labor to the service thereof.

SEC 20. The furniture necessary for the superintendent and family shall be furnished by himself, and the officers and employees of the institution shall board therein at the expense of the state; but no officer or employee, except the superintendent, shall have a family in the institution.

SEC. 21. The superintendent shall enter in a book, to be provided for that purpose, the name, age, sex, birth place, from whence and by whom committed, the time of reception, and obtain, as nearly as possible, a brief, correct history and description of the person of each individual committed to the institution, the delinquency for which committed, and when discharged; and if apprenticed, the name and place of residence of the person to whom apprenticed; and in case of death, the time and cause thereof; and such record shall be at all times open to the inspection of each member of the board.

SEC. 22. The average length of time inmates shall remain in the school, subject to its discipline and instruction, shall be two years. No inmate shall be discharged by the superintendent before that period, without the advice and consent of at least two members of the board of managers.

SEC. 23. The superintendent shall not sign any petition or certificate of good behavior, for the pardon of any inmate without the advice and consent of the board.

SEC. 24. Amendments may be made to the by-laws at any quarterly meeting: provided, however, that no such amendment shall be made unless there shall be three votes in the affirmative.

ADMISSION OF INMATES.

Letters are frequently addressed to us asking for information of the method of securing the admission of children to the school. We have therefore arranged the different acts of the legislature relating to it, in one chapter, with reference to the volume of session laws in which each amendment is published.

CHAPTER 457—SESSION LAWS, 1865.

An act to amend chapter 236 of general laws of 1861, entitled "an act for the government and management of the State Reform School, and to repeal chapter 189 of the revised statutes, entitled 'of the House of Refuge.'"

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows :

SECTION 1. Section one of chapter 236 of the general laws of 1861, is hereby amended by striking out the word "fourteen," where it occurs in said section, and inserting the word "ten" in lieu thereof, so that said section will read as amended: "The state reform school at Waukesha, in the county of Waukesha, shall be the place of confinement and instruction of all male children under the age of fifteen years, and all female children under the age of ten years, who shall be legally committed to the state reform school as vagrants, or on conviction of any criminal offense, by any court having competent authority to make such commitment."

SECTION 2. The board of managers are hereby directed, as soon as practicable, having a proper regard for their safety, to discharge from the state reform school all females who were received after they had attained the age of ten years, and hereafter no female shall be received into said school above the age of ten years: provided, that this act does not require said board to discharge any female above the age of ten years, who was received before she had attained the age of ten years.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication.

Approved April 10, 1865.

CHAPTER 236, SESSION LAWS, 1861.

An Act for the government and management of the State Reform School, and to repeal chapter 189 of the revised statutes, entitled "of the House of Refuge."

Sec. 1. (Repealed.)

Sec. 2. (As amended, session laws 1863, chapter 187.)—From and after the first day of May, A. D. 1863, the superintendent of the state reform school, shall charge to each of the several counties in this state, in a book provided by him for that purpose, the sum of one dollar per week, for the care and maintenance of each person remaining in said state reform school, who was committed thereto as a vagrant, or by reason of incorrigible or vicious conduct, or who may thereafter be received into said state reform school, committed for vagrancy or incorrigible or vicious conduct, from each of such counties respectively: provided, that the costs of the original commitment of all persons to said state reform school, shall be chargeable to the county from which the person committed to said school is sent; and, provided further, that it shall be the duty of the superintendent of said state reform school to procure the arrest and return of any person escaping therefrom; and it shall also be the duty of any justice of the peace, marshal or constable, upon information of such escape, to arrest and return any such fugitive, as above mentioned,

Sec. 3. (As amended, session laws 1862, chapter 315, section 2.)—The superintendent of the state reform school shall keep an accurate account of the amount due from each county for the support of persons therefrom, and shall annually, on or before the tenth day of October in each year, report to the secretary of state, the amount which may then be due from each county for the year ending on the first day of October preceding, which report shall state the name of each person for whom such account is rendered, the number of weeks which such person has been in said school during said year, and the amount charged for each of said persons respectively; and such oath shall be verified by the oath of said superintendent as to its correctness.

SEC. 4. (Repealed.)

SEC. 5. (As amended, session laws 1862, chapter 345, sec. 3)—The secretary of state shall add the amount due from any county in this state for the support of such persons to the state tax apportioned to said county, and such amount shall be collected and paid into the state treasury for the use of the state reform school.

SEC. 6. (As amended, session laws 1862, chapter 345, sec. 4.)—The board of managers shall consist of five members, who shall be appointed by the governor and hold their offices for three years; said board to be divided into three classes, and so divided that the term of one class shall expire each year, on the first Tuesday of March, and shall receive for their compensation two dollars and fifty cents per day for every day actually employed, and ten cents per mile for every mile actually traveled, and shall verify their account by their oath or affirmation.

Sec. 7. Such managers shall have the power to make rules, regulations, ordinances and by-laws for the government, discipline and management of the state reform school, and the inmates thereof, as to them may seem just and proper: provided, that such rules and by-laws shall be in accordance with the constitution of this state and the constitution of the United States; and they shall have power to place the children committed to their care, during the minority of said children, at such employments, and cause them to be instructed in such branches of useful knowledge, as shall be suited to their years and capacities; and they shall have power in their discretion to bind out said children, with their consent or the consent of their parents or guardians, if they have any, as apprentices or servants during their minority, to such persons and at such places, to learn such proper trades and employments, as in their judgments will be most for their reformation and amendment, and the future benefit of such children: provided, that the charges and power of said managers upon and over the said children shall not extend, in case of the females, beyond the age of eighteen years and, provided, also, that the religious opinions of the inmates shall not be interfered with.

Sec. 8. The said managers shall appoint a superintendent of said state reform school and such officers as they may deem necessary for the interest of the institution, with a view to the accomplishment of the object of its establishment and economy of its management; and the said managers shall make out a detailed report to the governor of the performance of their duty, on or before the tenth day of October in each year, which report shall contain a statement of the number of persons in the school at the commencement of the year, the number received during the year, and in the institution at the commencement of the year, together with all such facts and statements as they may deem necessary to communicate; which report shall be laid before the legislature by the governor.

Sec. 9. All and singular the provisions contained in the chapter of the revised statutes, entitled "of masters and apprentices," shall apply to the apprentices and servants, and the persons to whom they shall be bound under and by virtue of this act, and every minor so bound and the officers binding him and his master, shall be subject to all the provisions of said chapter.

Sec. 10. The courts and several magistrates in any county in the state, may, in their discretion, sentence to the state reform school any such male or female who may be convicted before them as a vagrant, or of any petit larceny or misdemeanor; and the several courts may, in their discretion, send to said state reform school any such male or female who may be convicted before them of any offense which, under the existing laws, would be punishable by imprisonment in the state prison: provided, in all cases, the term of commitment shall not be less, in case of males, than to the age of twenty-one years, and in case of females, than to the age of eighteen years.

SEC. 11. The managers of the state reform school shall have power, in their discretion, to restore any person duly committed to said school, to the care of his or her parents or guardian before the expiration of their minority, if in their judgment it would be most for the future benefit and advantage of such person.

Sec. 12. The courts and several magistrates in any county in the state shall also have the power to commit to the state reform school any male or female child, under the ages specified in section one of this act, upon complaints and due proof made to said court or magistrate by the parent or guardian of such child, that by reason of incorrigible or vicious conduct, such child is beyond the control and power of such parent or guardian, and that a due regard for the morals and future welfare of such child manifestly require that he or she should be committed to the guardianship of the managers of said State Reform School.

Sec. 13. The Governor shall visit the State Reform School once at least in each year, and make such suggestions in regard to the management, government and discipline of the institution as he may deem for the interest of the same.

Sec. 14 Chapter 189 of the revised statutes, entitled " of the House of Refuge," and all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed.

Sec. 15. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved April 13, 1866.

CHAPTER 106—SESSION LAWS OF 1866.

AN ACT to amend chapter 236 of the session laws of 1861, entitled " an act for the government and management of the State Reform School, and to repeal chapter 189 of the revised statutes, entitled ' of the House of Refuge,' " and the acts amendatory thereof.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows :

SECTION 1. The state reform school, at Waukesha, shall be the place of confinement and instruction of all male children between the ages of eight and sixteen years, and of all female children between the ages of seven and ten years, who shall be legally committed to the said state reform school as vagrants, or on conviction for any criminal offense, or for incorrigible or vicious conduct, by any court having competent authority to make said commitment.

SEC. 2. The managers of the state reform school are hereby clothed with the sole authority to discharge any child or children from said reform school, who have heretofore been or may hereafter be legally committed thereto ; and such power shall rest solely with said board of managers, and with no other person or persons ; but it shall be the duty of said board of managers, and they shall have power to return any child to the court, justice or other authorities ordering or directing said child to be committed, when in the judgment of said managers they may deem said child an improper subject for their care and management, or who shall be found incorrigible, or whose continuance in the school they may deem prejudicial to the management and discipline thereof, or who in their judgment ought to be removed from the school for any cause; and in such case said court, police justice or other authority shall have power and are hereby required to proceed as they might have done, had they not ordered the commitment to such school.

Sec. 3. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved April 12, 1866.

It will be seen by an examination of the act, that every inmate must be committed by court or magistrate. Frequent application is made for the admission of children, by their friends, on the ground of incorrigibility, with the hope that the restraining influences of the school may save them from actual crime. The twelfth section of this act was framed with express reference to such cases, and it is believed to be the most important one in the whole chapter. Such cases, when committed, should at once be taken to the school without being imprisoned, as is sometimes done, in the county jail for several days, with matured and hardened criminals. In some cases more vicious examples are there seen, and more corrupt influences experienced than during the whole previous life.

Objection has been made to the term of commitment, which in every instance must be during the minority of the inmate. This is regarded by many as the period of actual confinement in the school, while it is designed only to give the board of managers such control over the inmate as to secure his complete and thorough reformation. Provision is made for the discharge of every one when, in the opinion of the board, it would be safe and proper to do so.

There is another reason why the term of commitment should be as it is. There are many children who have no parents or guardians, and who, if discharged on the expiration of a sentence of one or two years, would have no one to provide for them, and if good homes should not be secured at the time of their discharge, which cannot always be done, they would be thrown upon society, homeless and friendless, and be compelled frequently to resume those vicious habits from which they may have been only partially reformed. It is impossible to determine the length of time necessary to reform any one case at the time of commitment. It must be left discretionary with those in the immediate charge of the school. Experience has shown that in a majority of cases, the average time is about two years, while some require a much longer period before they are fitted for places of trust and responsibility.

REPORT OF TRUSTEES.

To his Excellency, GOVERNOR FAIRCHILD :

The Trustees of the Institution for the Blind, in presenting their Eighteenth Annual Report, transmit also the reports of the Treasurer and the Secretary of the Board and that of the Superintendent of the Institution. These papers furnish the necessary details of information in regard to the expenditures made for the Institution and also an account of its operations during the year.

The Trustees feel great pleasure in reporting that the prompt repeal of the law of April, 1866, placing restrictions upon the reception of pupils, has, in a great measure relieved the Institution from its difficulties. It is rapidly recovering its former position of usefulness and is fairly entitled to be once more regarded as a credit to the state. The number of pupils began to increase immediately after the repeal of the law and is still increasing. The entire number who have received instruction during the year is fifty-four. The largest number ever under instruction in any year is fifty-nine. There were sixty-four pupils connected with the school in 1866; but for various reasons, all were not in actual attendance during the school year. The Trustees feel entire confidence that the check to the prosperity of the school will prove but temporary.

The condition of the west wing of the house has for several years has been such as to occasion uneasiness. It was built upon a very poor foundation; and as long ago as 1854 it had settled so much that the Trustees thought the fact worthy of mention in their report for that year. In 1864 it was propped up for the sake of rendering it temporarily secure; but it has long been apparent that it must ere long be replaced by a more substantial structure. The heavy burdens necessarily imposed upon the state by the circumstances of the times, have from year to year prevented the Trustees from asking an appropriation to rebuild it. They are now obliged to report that, much against their will, and to the great inconvenience of the Institution, they have been compelled to take down the greatest part of the wing, it having been reported to the Board by a committee of builders appointed to examine its condition, that it was in great danger of falling. The steam fixtures contained in it were removed to the third story of the main building which had previously had no permanent provision for heating.

The male members of the school, except half a dozen little boys, have been lodged in the shop building.

The removal of this wing interferes quite seriously with the operation of the Institution; but it could not be helped, and the regret to be expressed about it is, that the funds for its re-erection had not previously been obtained; so as to make the time during which the school must suffer from this cause, as short as possible. It will be necessary for the legislature to make immediate provision for building a new wing.

In this connection, the trustees must say, that it has long been felt, that whenever this necessity for re-building the west wing should arise, it would be best to erect also a transverse wing beyond it, in order to obtain room for a greater number of pupils. The construction of the present building was begun in 1851, upon a plan capable of subsequent enlargement. This is probably the only practicable plan in the case of young and growing states like our own, although it subjects the Institution for many years to the necessity of occupying a structure but partially adapted to its wants. That which is now occupied has answered well for a small school; and, all things considered, it has done the state great credit for its early liberality to the unfortunate. As the state has grown the number of pupils has steadily increased, until the full capacity of this building for accommodating a school has been reached. Judging by our past experience, and by the history of the Institutions in older states, there can be little doubt, that with the increase of population, improved facilities for traveling, and extended knowledge of the benefits conferred upon the blind by the Institution, the number to be educated here will continue to increase, and that with still greater rapidity than heretofore, so that by the time ten years have passed away, it will be necessary to provide for the instruction of 100 pupils annually. Before the west wing can be rebuilt, more room than it can afford will be absolutely required. It will certainly be better to build at once all that will be required soon. The operations of building will seriously incommode a school of blind children, and therefore it will be wise to make the time through which they are to continue as short as possible. By building both wings at once, not only will the necessary room be speedily secured, but a much more desirable arrangement of the space can be made, and finally, it is easy to see that there will be a great saving of expense. These considerations have had such weight with the trustees, that they have entered upon the preparation of plans and estimates of cost, designing to lay them before your Excellency in connection with this report. The architect employed to embody their ideas has failed to prepare the papers in season. It will be necessary, therefore, to present them for the examination of the committee of the legislature at their annual visit next winter.

An appropriation of $1,000 00 was made by the last legislature for the purchase of a pasture for the cows kept at the Institution. An eligible lot, of about ten acres, has been bought, cleared, fenced, &c., at a cost of $978 51. About thirty-five cords of excellent wood were procured from it.

At the time of making the last annual report the Treasurer of the Institution had in his hands $3,863 68. An order for $22 50 which had been previously issued by the Secretary had not then been presented for payment, consequently the Institution had actually

In the hands of the treasurer, Oct. 18, 1866..... $3,841 18

The treasurer has since received the following:

From state treasury, one-quarter approp'n of 1866....	4,000 00
.....do.....three-quarters.....do....1867....	12,000 00
.....do.....special approp'n for land.....	1,000 00
From J. M. Allcott, board and tuition of child.....	75 00
	$20,916 18

The expenditures of the trustees as shown in detail by the secretary's report are:

For completion of shop building.....	$1,649 33
For land and preparing it for use.....	978 51
For taking down west wing.....	350 00
For salaries of resident officers.....	2,900 68
For current expenses, including provisions, fuel, wages, repairs, &c.....	13,903 42
	19,781 94

Balance in treasurer's hands..... $1,134 24

There still remains in the state treasury, to the credit of the Institution, the sum of $4,000, so that the entire sum available for carrying it on until the 1st of February, 1868, is $5,134 24.

Considerable expense has unavoidably come upon the Institution in connection with the removal of the west wing. Considerable carpenter work became necessary; steam works had to be changed, and provision had to be made at the shop for the comfortable lodging of some twenty persons. Some of the bills are still unsettled, but the entire expense originating in the removal of the wing will be in the neighborhood of $1,000. Even with this burden cast upon them the Trustees are not without some hope of succeeding in their efforts to bring the Institution up to the close of the year for which its appropriation was made, free from debt. If they should, for the first time in several years, fail in this attempt, the unusual circumstances of the case certainly furnish ample excuse.

The necessary expenses of the Institution, from Jan. 31, 1868, to Jan. 31, 1869, are estimated at $18,000.

The trustees feel from year to year a deeper conviction of the importance of the Institution committed to their hands. It is shedding the light of knowledge upon paths otherwise hopelessly dark, cheering the course of many a life otherwise destined to perpetual wretchedness, and raising to positions of usefulness many who, but for its agency, were doomed to miserable dependence. Rejoicing that they have been permitted to take part in so beneficent a work, they commend the Institution to the continued favor of the people of Wisconsin, and to that of the Supreme Benefactor of us all.

R. B. TREAT, President.

ORRIN GUERNSEY, Secretary.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

Gentlemen of the Board of Trustees :

The year for which I have now to present a report to you has been a peculiar one in the history of the Institution. From October to March we worked on the charity-school plan with about twenty pupils, whose standing was such as to admit of instruction only in the primary branches of knowledge. From the first of March to the last of June, the state having once more adopted the free-school system, we had a school of forty-five pupils including many who had made greater attainments. Since the fall term commenced forty-eight pupils have been in school. The whole number of persons instructed in the course of the year is fifty-four, of whom nine are new pupils. Three finished their course here at the close of the term in June. A few pupils have not returned yet, who may be expected to do so at any time, and applications have been received for the reception of some others. The effect of the law of 1866, placing restrictions upon the reception of pupils here, has been to check the growth of the school; but it seems probable that this will be only temporary.

A few changes have occurred in the corps of officers. Mrs. Whiting, who had been matron of the Institution for five years, resigned her position in August, on account of poor health. She had been diligent and skilful in the performance of her duties and well deserved the good opinion with which all concerned regarded her services. Her place has been taken by Miss I. H. Phelps, of Ripon, a lady who is believed to be well qualified to perform its duties. Only two teachers were required in the literary department until spring. At that time the increased number of pupils of a higher grade making it necessary to form new classes, Mrs. Little temporarily accepted the charge of a part of the work. This term the vacancy has been filled by the appointment of Miss C. L. Baldwin, a lady who has had several years of successful experience in teaching seeing scholars. The other officers of the Institution remain unchanged.

The school has been conducted on the same principles as in previous years. It has three departments—the literary, the industrial and the musical. The aim is to give each pupil a thorough knowledge of the rudiments of a good English education. Those who prove to be capable of further progress take up also the branches of English studies usually attended to in good academies and high schools. Rigid examinations are made from time to time and the standing of each pupil is regulated by these without any reference to age or to the time which he may have spent in school. During the fall of 1866 and the following winter, classes were taught in Reading, Spelling, Arithmetic, Geography and Writing. In each of these studies, except the last, there was more than one class. From March to June, there were in Reading two classes, in Spelling two, in Arithmetic three, in Geography three, and in Grammar, Writing, Natural Philosophy, Geometry and Astronomy one each. This term we have classes in Reading, Spelling and Geography, two in each; in Arithmetic four, and in Writing, Grammar, Rhetoric, Geometry and Zoology one each. The writing class is this year using the Braille system. By means of peculiar apparatus, and an alphabet composed of points instead of lines, those who employ this system are able to commit their thoughts to paper with much greater rapidity and less liability to mistakes than with the card and pencil, and afterwards to read by the touch what has been written. Observation of what has elsewhere been effected by the adoption of this system, encourages the hope that it will prove to be an improvement upon our former method. Our own experience with it is too short to justify any decided statement of its merits. It will probably be necessary to continue to teach also writing with the card and pencils as heretofore. Six lessons per week are given in each study.

In the industrial department the boys of suitable age and strength, are taught broom making. They have entered into it with considerable zeal and energy, and made better progress than in some previous years. The younger boys and girls work some every day at bead work. This may not be very valuable to them as an occupation from the pursuit of which they will derive much perceptible benefit in after life; but it cultivates the sense of touch, gives facility and nimbleness to the use of the fingers and furnishes very valuable training for learning other manual arts. The older girls sew and knit and do various kinds of fancy work. The benefit they derive from these occupations is incalculable. Once skilled in them, they can never lack something to do; and they are thus saved from idleness in future. One of the most powerful causes of dissatisfaction and misery is thus destroyed. They also acquire confidence in their own power to be useful and thus bring into action a very efficient cause of happiness.

It is usual to present in these reports a statement of the receipts and expenditures in this department. Such a statement is given below. In the broom shop the interest which the boys have felt in the business has caused them to use a larger amount of stock than usual, in proportion to the time and the number employed. High prices have prevailed during the year for stock, while unfortunately the manufactured article has been disproportionately low; consequently the shop has been a greater source of expense to the Institution than usual. I have been unwilling to press the brooms to a sale in the present condition of the market, and therefore over two hundred dozen remain still unsold. These must be disposed of soon. In finishing the shop and rearranging things there, some labor has been put upon repairs and changes of broom machines, the cost of which cannot be definitely stated, and therefore no mention of tools is made in the statement which follows:

No account has been kept of the amount of sewing done by the sewing class. Something has, however, been saved to the Institution by the large amount of plain sewing that they have done, which must otherwise have been paid for.

In the musical department, as in former years, instruction has been given to all (except a very few cases where there were good reasons for varying from our custom), in vocal music. In the early part of the year there was material for only one choir. When a larger number of pupils had assembled, two were formed. They practice five hours a week. Individual training is also carefully given to many pupils.

Thirty-one pupils have taken lessons on the piano; thirteen on the melodeon; thirteen on the violin, and a few on the guitar.

The health of the school has been in general good, considering that it is composed of persons suffering a deprivation that takes away much of the pleasure of that exercise in the open air which is necessary to perfect health. Only one case of severe illness is now recollected.

A daily drill for half an hour in light gymnastics has recently been commenced by all the girls and a majority of the boys. It is hoped that this exercise will result in a general increase of physical vigor, and in a more easy and graceful carriage of the entire person.

In June last, I made a special report to you upon the condition of the west wing of the house. I had carefully watched it for several years, and was convinced that the effects of last winter upon it had been such as to render it actually perilous to occupy it for another year. The inspectors then appointed by you to examine it, decided that my opinion was undoubtedly correct. In accordance with their report to you, the wing has been taken down to the level of the water-table. A small portion of the wall at the end of the hall, and the stairs to the second story were also left, and a cheap roof thrown over the latter, so that access to that story could be had at that end of the house. The boys of the school are now mostly lodged in the shop building. We are put to continual inconvenience in carrying on the operations of school in the space that is left us; and the good order of the school is endangered by placing so large a portion of it in a detached building. Still I am convinced that no other action would have been justifiable under the circumstances.

It will, of course, be necessary to ask the next legislature for an appropriation for re-building this part of the house; and I most earnestly recommend, that you so represent the matter to that body as to procure the funds for an extension of the building by the erection of the long contemplated transverse wing. For the erection of such an addition, there will, before long, be an imperative necessity; for undertaking it at once there are weighty, and it seems to me, convincing reasons. Two years ago, I had occasion to speak, in my report to you, of the defectiveness of the statistics of blindness. I presented then certain data going to show, that the number of blind persons in Wisconsin, could not be less than five hundred, of whom one-fifth were in need of the privileges of the Institution. I have since seen no reason to alter the opinion then expressed. Every year their number increases, and (except as unwise legislation has temporarily interfered) every year the demand upon the Institution has increased. In the natural course of things, but a very few years can elapse before there will be one hundred pupils here at a time. Since then, we are so soon to require space for that number, it would seem to be clearly the best policy to provide it while we are building. This will save money, and enable us to obtain a much more convenient arrangement of the rooms. Another quite important consideration arises from the fact, that the structures to be erected lie immediately between the rest of the house and the shop, to and from which the boys are of necessity, continually passing. They will find a great deal of difficulty in doing this while the work is in progress, and it will be hard to avoid their sometimes incurring actual danger. If the work which would otherwise spread over two periods of a year or two, can be condensed into one, the boys will be saved a great deal of trouble and the officers of the Institution from much anxiety.

It may not be inappropriate to mention here, some of the things that it is necessary to provide for, in preparing to accommodate one hundred blind pupils. It is plain that their condition and the peculiar methods of their instruction, require special adaptation in the building they are to occupy.

The scholars learn almost altogether from the lips of the teacher instead of from books; therefore several classes cannot, as in common schools, be engaged in study at once in the same room. This makes five or six school rooms necessary. Some of these should be tolerably spacious. It must not be forgotten that we must provide space in our school rooms, not only for pupils, teachers, and apparatus, but also for numerous visitors. In fine weather every day brings a number, some singly and some in parties of a dozen or more. They wish to see how the blind are taught and how much they can learn. Not only may the public fairly claim the right to see the operations of the Institution, but it is for its advantage that they should do so. They are, therefore, always welcome; but it can not be denied that, when the room is small and the class large, they are sometimes in the way. The only way to prevent this is to make the rooms of ample size. Great quantities of costly and bulky apparatus are required. Places must be provided where this will be kept safe from accident and yet be so perfectly accessible as to insure its being brought immediately into use when the occasion arises. These should not be mere closets, but have space enough to allow the teacher, in many cases, to take the class to the apparatus instead of moving it. The great amount of attention given to music makes it necessary to devote ten or twelve small rooms exclusively to this purpose. Then there should be three or four comfortable, home-like sitting rooms, besides the school-rooms which will partially answer for the same object. None of these apartments, except perhaps the music rooms, should be very far from the ground; because it is unwise to bring in the natural objection to going up and down long flights of stairs, to strengthen the natural inclination of blind persons to stay in the house instead of moving freely about in the open air.

The other arrangements necessary for the accommodation of so large a family, are not peculiar to the condition of the blind, and therefore need not be referred to here.

The building hitherto occupied is really fitted, (and I have been told was designed) only for a part of a larger structure, which would furnish room for some things which this has never been able to furnish even to a small school. The central part has space for only four rooms, neither of which is large. Each wing is barely large enough for two more. Only two rooms can be fitted up as school rooms, although we are even now obliged to find places for four and occasionally five classes to work at the same time. Apparatus and map rooms are totally wanting. There are plenty of comfortable dormitories; and a considerably larger number of persons could be boarded and lodged in the house than can be taught in it. Still in erecting it, as it did, at a time when the number of pupils was very small, and the prospect of a speedy increase not so strong as now, the state did a thing of which every citizen of Wisconsin had a right to feel proud. It cannot be doubted that when the necessities of the case are understood, the next Legislature will act with the same wise liberality towards the blind as did their predecessors fifteen or sixteen years ago.

During the last winter and spring I was occupied somewhat more than two months in performing the duty assigned to me by your resolution instructing me "to visit kindred institutions in other parts of the country for the sake of observing their operations and gathering information calculated to promote the efficiency of this Institution." I visited the Institutions for the Blind in Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Missouri and Illinois, and in addition to these, many Institutions for the Deaf and Dumb, the Feeble minded, and the Insane, in different states. I have great pleasure in acknowledging here the cordial reception everywhere given me by their officers, and their great kindness in facilitating my observations and communicating the results of their experience. Everywhere in this trip I endeavored to make myself as thoroughly acquainted as possible with the actual working of the Institutions visited, especially where any peculiarity was observed. Information was sought from their officers in regard to the general principles upon which they are conducted; and views were exchanged upon a multitude of special topics, both practical and theoretical, connected with the education and improvement of their inmates. To embody the results of all these observations and conversations in a report to you, would be impracticable. It shall be my effort to make them manifest in the increased power of the Institution to confer benefits upon the blind children of our State.

Thanks are due to the publishers of the following papers, which have been sent to the Institution in the course of the year, without charge. They will confer a valued favor by continuing the practice:

Weekly Sentinel	Milwaukee.
Semi-Weekly Wisconsin.....	do
Weekly State Journal.....	Madison.
The Crescent.....	Appleton.
The Advocate.....	Green Bay.
Prison City Leader.....	Waupun.
The Democrat.....	Janesville.
The New Covenant.....	Chicago.
The Northwestern Christian Advocate.....	do

In conclusion, gentlemen, it is fitting that I should record my grateful appreciation of your disinterested concern for the welfare of the Institution, and of the kindness you have shown toward myself. More especially is it fitting, that mention be made with deepest thankfulness of the continued blessing of that Being, without whose favor all our labors had been fruitless. And may He who has graciously disposed the people to devise liberal things toward the Blind, bestow on us, upon whom the work devolves, wisdom and skill to carry their benevolent purposes to successful accomplishment.

ADMISSION OF PUPILS.

Any person wishing to make application for the admission of a pupil into the Institution, must address the superintendent, giving definite and truthful answers to the following questions, viz.:

- 1st. What are the names and post office address of the parents or guardians of the person for whom application is made?
- 2d. Are such parents or guardians legal residents of the state of Wisconsin?
- 3d. What is the name and age of the person for whom application is made?
- 4th. At what age did he or she become blind, and from what cause?
- 5th. Is he or she of sound mind, and susceptible of intellectual culture?
- 6th. Is he or she free from bodily deformity and all infectious diseases?
- 7th. What are his or her personal habits and moral character?

Upon the receipt of such application by the superintendent, the applicant will be notified as to whether or not the person in question will be admitted, and no one must be sent to the Institution until such notification shall have been received.

No person of imbecile or unsound mind, or of confirmed immoral character, will be knowingly received into the Institution; and in case any person shall, after a fair trial, prove incompetent for useful instruction, or disobedient to the wholesome regulations of the Institution, such pupil will be thereupon discharged.

All are expected to come provided with an adequate supply of good, comfortable clothing, which must be replenished from time to time, as it becomes necessary.

The stock of clothing should embrace suitable articles for both summer and winter, and a sufficient number of each kind to admit of the necessary changes for washing and repairing.

All the clothing must be sent in good condition not only upon the first entrance of the pupil, but also at each subsequent return from home, after the vacation.

Each article should also be distinctly marked with the owner's name or initials, in order to prevent confusion or loss.

A small sum should be deposited with the superintendent for occasional expenses.

It is important that new pupils should enter upon their term of instruction at the commencement of a session; and it is expected of all others that they shall be present at the opening of the school, and remain until it closes, on the last day of the session, unless prevented from doing so by sickness or other emergency. It is also expected that timely arrangements will be made for the departure of every pupil from the Institution within a few days after the close of each session.

All letters to the pupils should be addressed to the care of the Institution, in order to insure their prompt reception.

From ten to fourteen is the most favorable age for entering the Institution, provided the pupils have judicious care and training at home, prior to that age. But as this is not always the case, and as there are many who lose their sight after that age; or, having lost it earlier, do not find an opportunity of going to school at the proper time, the regulations of the Institution allow of the admission of all proper subjects who are not under eight or above twenty-one years of age.

It must be borne in mind, however, by the friends of blind children, that though they have the privilege of sending them to the Institution at a later period than the one mentioned as the best, yet it is of the highest importance that they should be sent within said period; for as they grow older their neglected powers lose their susceptibility for cultivation, rendering the training more and more difficult until they become wholly incapacitated for receiving such an education as will fit them for a life of usefulness, independence and happiness. It is not uncommon to witness results of this kind, arising out of the morbid tenderness with which a blind child is frequently regarded by its friends, rendering them unwilling to intrust him, at the proper age, to the care of strangers, lest some harm should befall him. Indeed, every year's experience serves to indicate more clearly, the lamentable prevalence of this unjust neglect; as there are constantly applying for admission into the several institutions of the country, those whose melancholy lot is to lead a life of hopeless ignorance and dependence, but who might, with proper training in early youth, have become happy and useful members of society, maintaining themselves comfortably and respectably.

The term of instruction is not limited to any definite number of years, but is determined in each individual case by the acquirements of the pupil and consequent fitness for graduating. The length of each one's term will of course depend upon his aptness to learn, and the extent of the course to be pursued.

The session of the Institution commences on the first Monday of September in each year, and closes on the last Wednesday of June following; leaving a vacation of more than two months, during which time the pupils have an opportunity of visiting their homes and replenishing their clothing.

Parents of blind children are cordially invited to visit the Institution, that they may decide from their own observation whether it is best to send them here.

All persons are requested to send the names and addresses of blind children of their acquaintance to the superintendent.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
ADJUTANT GENERAL,
FOR THE
FISCAL YEAR ENDING SEPTEMBER 30, 1867.

GENERAL HEAD QUARTERS, STATE OF WISCONSIN,

ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,

Madison, September 30, 1867.

To His Excellency, LUCIUS FAIRCHILD,

Governor :

I have the honor herewith to submit the annual report of this office for the year ending this day.

I am, Very respectfully,

Your Obedient Servant,

JAMES K. PROUDFIT,

Adjutant General.

ANNUAL REPORT.

Governor :

During the past year this office has conducted a large amount of correspondence with claimants and their agents or friends, in regard to back pay, bounties, pensions, &c., claimed to be due from the General Government for military services during the late war, also in regard to claims for state aid and local bounties. A large correspondence is had with the different departments of the United States Government at Washington, in regard to these matters and for the perfection of records. We have been called upon and have furnished to the War Department many copies of muster rolls and other records, all of which have had to be copied in this office. These attentions have been largely reciprocated by the officers of the different bureaus or offices of the War Department, and especially that of the Adjutant General, for which kindnesses our thanks are due, as large and useful additions have been thereby made to our records which could not have been obtained from any other source.

The business of the office, in connection with claims, remains, at this time much larger than could have been anticipated. Almost daily letters are received from parties who are just taking initiatory steps for asserting claims against the Government which accrued in all the years of the war. There has been no falling off in correspondence during the year past. Letters have been written and certificates issued to the number of about 2,500, each of which has caused more or less searching of the records.

The company records, in book form, upon which the office has been engaged with some force since the close of the war, is now nearly completed. About 30 companies remain to be made up complete, while about the same number which were made by company officers will have to be made anew, on account of incorrectness. One hundred and eighty-four have been made in the office during the year. When these records are completed, the convenience of searching out personal military histories will be greatly enhanced and great wear and tear of original and valuable muster rolls and other papers will be avoided.

Since my last report Capt. George F. Rowell and Major John F. Hauser, both of whom served faithfully and well in this office as clerks for several years, have resigned their situations to engage in private business. The former left the office Jan. 1st, 1867, and the latter this day. Their places have not been filled, as the record work upon which they were principally engaged, especially Major Hauser, is nearly completed. Two clerks are now employed and after a short time the service of one more may probably be dispensed with.

The edition of the consolidated report of this office printed in 1866, covering the period of the war, has long been exhausted. It has been almost exclusively given out to the people of the state upon application. The work was a very valuable, interesting and reliable military history of Wisconsin during the war. The copy was prepared and compared with the official records with great care, and the printer's proofs were read and corrected three times so as to make it a very correct work.

The edition was three thousand in number and the desire of the people to obtain the book would have called for very many more. Since the work was published many additions and corrections have been made to the records, and copy for a revised edition could now be prepared for little expense, which would be a very great improvement upon the original. I am satisfied that the people would cheerfully endorse the expenditure of the money necessary to give a more general circulation among themselves to the official history of the distinguished part which they took in suppressing the rebellion and saving the nation from destruction.

I also take the liberty of again renewing the recommendation which has been heretofore made, both by my predecessor, General Gaylord, and myself, that the state ought to cause the publication of a catalogue of enlisted men who served in Wisconsin regiments in the war of the rebellion. Nearly all the states that were loyal to the General Government during the war have already published such lists, but Wisconsin has only published rosters of officers. The enlisted men of Wisconsin organizations as a class made a splendid record for patriotism, valor and all the qualities that distinguish good soldiers, and are as worthy of public notice, consideration and gratitude as the officers. In fact a majority of the latter were enlisted men during a portion of their term of service and rose from the ranks for good soldierly conduct.

In pursuance of directions of your Excellency a system of commissions, by brevet, to enlisted men for distinguished services or great gallantry and good conduct under fire, was inaugurated by the following order from this office :

“ General Orders No. 8.

“ GENERAL HEADQUARTERS STATE OF WISCONSIN,
 “ ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
 “ MADISON, October 4th, 1866.

“ In view of the many acts of great personal gallantry performed during the late war by enlisted men of Wisconsin regiments and in view of the fact that no sufficient provision has been made for publicly acknowledging such bravery in the rank and file, the Commander-in-chief, Governor Fairchild, has determined to extend, by promotions by brevet, the recognition of this State to such Wisconsin soldiers as, by the display of extraordinary valor, have merited the distinction.

“ The commissions issued under this order will state upon their face the particular act of gallantry in recognition of which they are given, and no commission will issue except upon written recommendations from persons themselves cognizant of the facts therein stated, giving the nature of the act to be rewarded, and the circumstances under which it was performed, with date and name of battle

“ As the whole value of these promotions will depend upon their being properly bestowed, commissions will in no case issue except upon the most positive proof, and as these commissions would be too numerous to be valuable if given to the many thousands noted for their general good behavior and meritorious services during the war, they will issue to those only who have won them by distinguished gallantry.

“ By order of the Governor,

“ JAMES K. PROUDFIT,
“ Adjutant General.”

A general circulation was given to this order among former Wisconsin officers of the army, and one hundred and twelve commissions have been issued to enlisted men with rank as captain or lieutenant, in accordance with recommendations from their late companions in arms, and the approval of your Excellency. This plan of complimenting extraordinary service is most excellent, but it fails altogether to reach the thousands of cases of most persevering bravery and good behavior generally, through long years of bloody war which marked the history of Wisconsin's soldiers, and which true, patient heroism should not pass unnoticed. A list of these appointments, together with an abstract of the recommendations upon which they are based, is hereby submitted, marked “ Appendix A.”

A number of commissions have issued during the year, complimentary in their nature to deserving officers and enlisted men of the 15th and 49th Regiments of Wisconsin Volunteer Infantry, to fill vacancies existing at the time of muster-out of those regiments. A list of these is submitted marked “ Appendix B.”

During the year, official circulars and orders have been received from the office of the Quartermaster General of the United States Army containing lists of the Federal dead, who are buried in the different national cemeteries and in other places throughout the country, including the burials at different rebel prisons. A list of the Wisconsin dead contained in the Rolls of Honor, has been carefully compiled and arranged in alphabetical order for publication with this report as “ Appendix D.” It is believed that this list will be useful to the friends of some of our deceased soldiers who have been unable heretofore to ascertain the place or date of death, on account of not being able to give the organization to which the missing soldiers belonged. The list contains the names of about three thousand five hundred men, whose places of burial lie scattered from the Atlantic to the Great Plains, and from Maine to the Rio Grande.

MILITIA.

The condition of the militia is not materially different from what it has been for some years past, although a little life has been displayed during the year. Three companies of infantry and two companies of light artillery have organized, as follows :

INFANTRY.

Green County National Guard,.....Monroe.
Milwaukee Veteran Corps,Milwaukee.
Cream City Guards,.....do....

ARTILLERY.

Lancaster Light Artillery,.....Lancaster.
Richland Center Light Artillery,.....Richland Center.

The roster of officers appointed in these organizations will be found in "appendix C," as well as some other appointments and resignations in the militia.

In order to have an efficient and useful militia in the state, a thorough re-organization must be had, and if this be not done soon under the auspices and with the aid of the general government as has been anticipated might be the case, by organizing a National Guard to be apportioned to Congressional Districts, then it ought to be taken in hand by the state. The present militia law of the state is very imperfect and nearly useless as a basis of efficient organization, and the militia is as well as can be expected. Without wishing to elaborate this subject, a repetition of what was said last year is submitted as follows :

"I am of opinion that the only proper and fair means of supporting and maintaining any number of efficient militia troops would be by providing by general taxation for funds to aid in supporting first class independent volunteer companies, with power in the hands of the Governor to withhold the aid or disband the companies for neglect of duty. Under a plan of compulsory service, or a commutation instead, an enrollment must be had every year. This is cumbersome and expensive, and as many would escape both duty and commutation, it is doubtful if any fund would be left with which to provide for the troops. It might also occur that a large portion of the people would choose to serve as militia, which, while it would materially decrease the revenue, would only provide us with an army of cornstalk, broomhandle and ramrod soldiers, such as in the olden time used to grace, or rather disgrace, the militia musters of some of the older states. A commutation of this kind is also substantially is the nature of a capitation tax, and is distasteful, if not absolutely unconstitutional. * * * * *

“The sum of ten dollars per year given by the state to each man serving in an independent company, under safe restrictions, to aid him in uniform and other expenses, together with what could be raised by enterprising companies from other sources, would probably be sufficient to keep on foot an efficient body of troops. The number to be thus aided ought to be limited in the wisdom of the legislature to such a force as might be deemed proper and desirable. Probably 20 companies, or about 2,000 troops would not be too many. The maximum expense under this proposition would be $20,000 per year.”

Upon the basis indicated above, or something similar, it is probable that a militia system could be measurably perfected and a force organized that would be effective when public exigencies might require their services.

That portion of the law of 1863 which required an annual enrollment of the militia was repealed by the legislature of 1866, and no enrollment has since been made. A few independent companies which have been formed since the close of the war, and which are composed principally of old soldiers, are believed to possess some vitality and organization, but all the older companies are dead, or nearly so.

MILITARY PROPERTY.

RECEIPTS.

During the year past three companies of militia have returned small arms to the state as follows :

Green County Badgers	96 stands.
Kekoskee Union Guards	95 ..do...
Delavan Union Guards	84 ..do...

Section 2, Battery A, of Milton, Rock county, returned one caisson, with implements and harness, 47 artillery sabres and 40 yager rifles with accoutrements.

ISSUES.

Armaments have been issued to new organizations as follows :

Cream City Guards, Captain Florian Ries, 50 Springfield rifled muskets, with accoutrements, and 1,000 rounds ball cartridges.

Lancaster Light Artillery, Captain Charles H. Baxter, one 6 pounder Bronze S. B. Field Gun, caisson, 4 sets harness, carriage, limber and implements.

Ordinance has been issued to citizens as follows :

G. M. West, Esq., Brandon, Wis., June 12th, 1867, one 6 pounder S. B. Bronze Field Gun, with carriage, limber and implements.

Col. John Hancock, Oshkosh, Wis., June 17th, 1867, one 6 pounder S. B. Bronze Field Gun, with carriage, limber and implements.

The armament of the state remains the same as last year, no new arms having been received.

The state owns ten pieces of Field Artillery. Of these eight are serviceable and two unserviceable. Of the latter, one is a trophy, captured by the 14th Wis. Infantry, at Shiloh, and is honey-combed. The other was dismounted by fire at Camp Washburne, Milwaukee, in 1863. It was destroyed by the heat for all use except to cast over, and the United States issued a new one to the state last year in its stead. It is on hand together with one 12 pounder light Gun (Bronze S. B.)

There is on hand four thousand two hundred and five stands of small arms, and there is in the hands of militia and citizens, one thousand nine hundred and eighty-one stands, making total small arms, six thousand one hundred and eighty-six stands.

The arms, accoutrements and other military property in my charge are scattered all about the Capitol building and park, and the ammunition, amounting to 84,000 rounds ball cartridges for infantry, and 73 rounds shot and shell for artillery, is stored in a private magazine outside the city limits. The state has long needed an armory and magazine. This fact has been reported annually for many years, and the matter is continually growing worse. It is impossible to keep the arms and military stores of the state in any proper condition, or even safely as they are now situated. Nearly everything has to be kept boxed and piled up in the smallest possible space, and if, under such circumstances proper care were possible it would be exceedingly laborious. The artillery, gun carriages, caissons, limbers, &c., on hand, are parked out of doors for want of shelter or the means at my disposal to obtain it.

I have sold during the year, in pursuance of authority granted by the last legislature, the following property :

One old artillery saddle.....	$2 00
One lot old iron.....	6 00
One shanty at Camp Randall.....	10 00
Total.....	$18 00

The amount of eighteen dollars received by me for sales as above reported has been paid to the state treasurer and his receipt taken therefor. The shanty sold is one that was purchased by me from the United States, by your direction in the summer of 1866, and was used to store ammunition. In consequence of the grounds being prepared for the exhibition of the State Agricultural Society the ammunition was removed to a private magazine and the shanty sold. The price received is the same that was paid for it.

The arms of the state are of many different patterns and calibres, and about 1,000 are unserviceable, while hundreds more are in very bad condition. During the year five hundred and thirty-six small arms, in very bad order, have been cleaned, repaired and rendered serviceable.

The arms and military stores have been in charge of Capt. Angus R. Macdonald, State Armorer, assisted by M. Leonard, gunsmith.

The battle-flags of our regiments, borne through the late war, together with the flags captured from the rebels and returned to the state, which were formerly stored in the basement of the capitol in a mixed pile, have been placed in the different offices and in the rooms of the State Historical Society, properly marked and displayed, so that people who so desire can see them, and also as to render them much less liable to wear and tear as they can now be seen but not handled.

Abe and Tim, the war eagles belonging to the state, have been properly cared for by Capt. Macdonald, and appear to be doing finely.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JAMES K. PROUDFIT,
Adjutant General and Acting Quartermaster General.

APPENDIX.

APPENDIX A.

LIST OF COMMISSIONS BY BREVET,

Issued previous to Sept. 30, 1867.

ATWOOD, OLIVET A., of Ithica, Wis., late corporal, "B" Co., 20th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, Nov. 23, 1866, to rank from Dec. 7th, 1862, in recognition of personal gallantry and daring displayed by him on the following occasions: At the taking of a rebel battery by his regiment at Prairie Grove, Ark., Dec. 7th, 1862, where he captured two rebel artillerymen, and charging a rifle pit at Vicksburg, Miss., where he was the first man in the charge and alone took several prisoners, before the detailed party came up. At Morganzia, La., where he was taken prisoner and made his escape from a guard of six rebel soldiers, and one lieutenant, bringing to camp with him the arms of the lieutenant. At Spanish Fort, opposite Mobile, Ala., where on the first night of investment, the command being short of beef, he entered the rebel lines and drove therefrom to the federal camp thirty head of cattle.

ANDERSON, PETER, of Monroe, Wis., late private, "B" Co., 31st Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, Aug. 20, 1867, to rank from March 19, 1865, in recognition of distinguished gallantry displayed by him at the battle of Bentonville, N. C., at that date, where an Indiana Battery being so hotly pushed that the men abandoned their guns, private Anderson mounted one of the horses, and with a ramrod for a whip, took one of the guns out from midst of the enemy, and safely to the Head Quarters of his commanding General, upon whose recommendation he was awarded a medal of honor.

ADAMS, JEROME, of Pleasant Valley, Wis., late sergeant of "A" Co., 16th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, Sept. 10, 1867, to rank from July 24, 1864, in recognition of distinguished gallantry displayed by him at that date, before Atlanta, Ga., in refusing to leave the colors which he was guarding, though severely wounded, and remaining with them until the battle ended.

BRADLEY, JOHN T., of Madison, Wis., late sergeant, "G" Co., 11th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed first lieutenant by brevet, Nov. 7th, 1866, to rank from May 1, 1863, in recognition of his conspicuous bravery at the battle of Port Gibson, Miss., May 1, 1863, Big Black River, Miss., May 7th, 1863, Vicksburg, Miss., May 22, 1863, Jackson, Miss., July, 1863, and Mansfield, La., April 8th, 1864.

BENNETT, JAMES, of Madison, Wisconsin, late sergeant, "D" Co., 37th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed first lieutenant by brevet, Nov. 27, 1866, to rank from July 30, 1864, in recognition of his personal gallantry in the engagement before Petersburg, Va., known as the "explosion of the mine."

BARNEY, JOHN A., of Mayville, Wis., late sergeant, "B" Co., 10th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, Nov. 28, 1866, to rank from Oct. 8th, 1862, in recognition of conspicuous personal gallantry displayed by him on the following occasions: At the battle of Perryville, Ky., where the color bearer and all of the color guard being killed or wounded, he seized the colors, and regardless of his own safety, brought them off the field under a terrible fire from the enemy. Also at the battle of Chickamauga, Ga., Sept. 19 & 20th, 1863, where, though sick and excused by the Medical Officers from duty, he left the ambulance at the first sound of the battle, and taking his place in the ranks of his company fought until he received a wound in his left arm, which rendered amputation necessary.

BENDIXON, OLE M., of ———, late a sergeant "D" Co., 15th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, Jan. 24th, 1867, to rank from Oct. 8th, 1863, in recognition of conspicuous gallantry displayed by him at the battle of Perryville, Ky., where, though excused from duty by the surgeon of the regiment, by reason of sickness, upon hearing the battle commence immediately in front of the hospital, and being informed that his regiment was about to attack the enemy, he asked permission to join his company, and immediately picked up a gun and reported for duty, and when told that he was too weak to follow in the charge they were about to make, replied, "let me go as far as I can, I cannot stay here and see my comrades fight the battle alone as long as I am able to point my gun." Though exhausted, he remained with his company during the entire engagement.

BRADLEY, JOHN T., of Madison, Wis., late brevet 1st lieutenant 23d Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain, by brevet, Feb. 9th, 1867, to rank from May 1, 1863, in recognition of distinguished gallantry displayed by him on the following occasion: At the battle of Port Gibson, where, throughout an entire day and night he bore the flag of his regiment under a heavy fire, both artillery and infantry manifesting a daring even to recklessness. At the assault upon the rebel works at Vicksburg, Miss., on the 22d of May, 1866, where sergeant Bradley, with his color guard, bore the flag across the space between our front and enemy's works, under one of the most murderous fires of the war, planted it upon the rebel ramparts and maintained it there for six hours, and until darkness compelled their withdrawal, for which he was complimented by his regimental commander. At Jackson, Miss., July 11th, 1863, where the brigade to which his regiment was attached, was ordered to drive the enemy into his works at a certain point, sergeant Bradley, though sick and excused from duty, took his place in the regiment and remained at his post until the order was executed. On the morning of April 8th, 1864, being engaged with the Company "E," 23d Wisconsin Infantry, in skirmishing, he marched and fought upwards of ten miles with his feet bare and bleeding, and in the battle of Mansfield, La., in the afternoon of the same day, he acted in so gallant a manner as to elicit the admiration of all his comrades, and the encomiums of his company and regimental commanders. On this occasion, the rebels charged "in mass" upon the skirmish line, and Sergeant Bradley not hearing the command to fall back on the line of battle, and scorning the cover of tree or stump, stood his ground, coolly and deliberately firing his piece, until he was run over by the rebel masses and captured.

BLACKMAN, ELONZO, of ———, late private, "E" Co., 7th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, Feb. 14th, 1867, to rank from Dec. 20th, 1864, in recognition of cool daring and strategical skill displayed at that date in the capture, with the aid of one comrade, while on a foraging expedition, near Hatcher's Run, Va., of five armed rebels, bringing them and their arms and accoutrements into camp.

BURDWELL, ALONZO, of Glencoe P. O., McLeod Co., Minn., late sergeant "E" Co., 7th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, Feb. 14th, 1867, to rank from Dec. 20th, 1864, in recognition of cool daring and strategical skill displayed by him at that date, in the capture, with the aid of one comrade, while on a foraging expedition near Hatcher's Run, Va., of five armed rebels, bringing them and their arms and accoutrements into camp.

were rapidly forming in line for a further advance, doing fearful execution and checking the advance until our second line of battle could complete its formation.

HORTON, JOHN, of ———, late corporal, "G" Co., 36th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed first lieutenant by brevet, Aug. 18th, 1867, to rank from June 1st, 1864, in recognition of determined bravery at Turner's Farm, Va., and in standing by the colors in every engagement in which the regiment participated, HANSON, OLE K., of ———, late sergeant, "A" Co., 15th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, May 22d, 1867, to rank from May 27th, 1864, in recognition of distinguished gallantry displayed by him at the battle of Dallas, though wounded five times he refused to leave the field and finally fell into the hands of the enemy he having advanced so far that it was impossible for his regiment to reach and save him.

HANSON, JENS, of ———, late private, "K" Co., 15th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, June 7th, 1867, to rank from Sept. 19th, 1863, in recognition of conspicuous gallantry manifested by him at the battle of Chickamauga at that date under the following circumstances: A charge was made by the rebels and the brigade to which the 15th regiment was attached was outflanked and compelled to retreat a short distance. In this retreat the color bearer was severely wounded and dropped the colors, which Jens Hanson noticed and exposing himself to a deadly fire advanced to the front and picked them up thereby preventing their falling into the enemy's hands. Hanson was afterwards captured and died a prisoner at Andersonville.

HAMILTON, STEPHEN H., of Madison, Wis., late sergeant, 12th Battery Light Artillery, appointed captain, by brevet, June 7th, 1867, to rank from Sept. 19th, 1862, in recognition of distinguished gallantry and coolness under fire displayed by him at the battle of Iuka, where, after the infantry on the battery's right had been driven back and the 10th Iowa Infantry and one section of the 12th Battery alone stood their ground, Serg't Hamilton to give by his example courage and steadiness to the men, loaded his gun "by detail" amid a shower of bullets. At the battle of Alatoona, Ga., Oct. 5th, 1864, Serg't Hamilton's brother was instantly killed while pointing his gun, and the sergeant sprang forward, took his brother's place, finished sighting the gun, and continued to direct it until the end of the engagement.

- INGALLS, BENJAMIN F., of Plainfield, Wis., late sergeant, "A" Co., 16th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain, by brevet, Sept. 10th, 1867, to rank from Aug. 20th, 1864, in recognition of distinguished personal bravery displayed by him at Atlanta, Ga., where he volunteered to hold an advanced position in which he was exposed to a heavy cross-fire for over ten hours.
- JONES, WILLIAM J., of Madison, Wis., late private, "C" Co., 16th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain, by brevet, Jan. 22d, 1867, to rank from April 6th, 1862, in recognition of conspicuous gallantry displayed by him at the battles of Shiloh, Tenn., and Corinth, Miss., at the latter of which he manifested distinguished bravery on the skirmish line on the morning of the first day's fight in holding his position, which was on the extreme left of the line, and by his example kept the left from being turned. In a subsequent part of the engagement he received a wound in his right arm which rendered amputation necessary.
- JOHNSON, NELS, of ———, late sergeant-major, 15th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain, by brevet, June 24th, 1867, to rank from Sept. 19th, 1863, in recognition of distinguished daring manifested by him at the battle of Chickamauga, Ga., where he displayed conspicuous bravery in urging the men forward in the charge made by the brigade, during which he received a severe wound in his leg which compelled him to leave the field, saying to the men before he left, "stand by the flag, boys."
- JUNGE, HENRY M., of Neenah, Wis., late sergeant, "I" Co., 2nd Wisconsin Cavalry, appointed captain by brevet, March 19, 1867, to rank from Nov. 28, 1864, in recognition of extraordinary valor and courage manifested by him in an engagement near Yazoo City, at that date, when his regiment having run into an ambuscade was compelled to beat a hasty retreat, and sergeant Junge gathered around him eight or ten men, and for nearly ten miles covered the retreat.
- JAMES, DAVID G., of ———, late private, "C" Co., 16th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, June 7th, 1867, to rank from Oct. 3d, 1862, in recognition of conspicuous bravery manifested by him at the battle of Corinth, Miss., and Bald Hill, before Atlanta, at the latter of which he was taken prisoner, while endeavoring to hold a rifle pit long enough to enable some wounded comrades to go to the rear.

- KANOUSE, DAVID M., of Sun Prairie, Wis., late sergeant, "F" Co., 36th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed first lieutenant by brevet, Jan. 31, 1867, to rank from June 2d, 1864, in recognition of conspicuous gallantry displayed by him at the battle of Cold Harbor, Va., where he was captured by the enemy.
- KANE, MICHAEL, of ——— ———, late sergeant, "D" Co., 19th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, Nov. 28, 1866, to rank from Oct. 27, 1864, in recognition of the personal daring and coolness under fire manifested by him at the battle of Fair Oaks, Va., where his regiment failing to carry the enemy's works by a charge, were ordered to lie down, and while lying under the works exposed to a heavy fire, he coolly folded his blanket and placed it at his head as a protection, and when summoned by the rebels to surrender stubbornly refused to do so, though a particular mark for their infantry; and later in the day, when the enemy made a fierce charge which resulted in the capture of most of his regiment, he made a dash to the rear amidst a shower of bullets and came out safely, bringing with him the folded blanket containing no less than eight bullets.
- KLINE, AUGUSTUS, of ——— ———, late sergeant, "A" Co., 6th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed first lieutenant by brevet, Dec. 24, 1866, to rank from Aug. 28, 1861, in recognition of conspicuous bravery displayed by him at the battles of Gainesville, Second Bull Run, South Mountain, Antietam, Fredericksburg, Fitzhugh Crossing, Gettysburg, the Wilderness, and in front of Petersburg, Va., where he was severely wounded.
- KELLOGG, GEORGE D. of ———, late private, "A" Co., 23d Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain, by brevet, Dec. 28th, 1866, to rank from May 23d, 1863, in recognition of the cool, daring and conspicuous gallantry displayed by him at the charge on the defences of Vicksburg, Miss., May 23d, 1863, under the following circumstances: He fought all day on the glacis of the fort, with his company, and at evening, when the company was relieved by a detachment of the 4th Minnesota Infantry, and ordered to retire, he not hearing the order, remained during the night with the relief, fighting with distinguished bravery. The officers commanding the Minnesota troops were shot down in taking position, and the command devolved upon a sergeant. Kellogg, the only one familiar with the ground and the position of the enemy, practically commanded the detachment, the men of which unite in saying that, under a galling fire, he directed their aim; placed them in a protected position, thereby enabling them to inflict great damage on the enemy. To his great gallantry they attribute their salvation.

KEOGH, PATRICK, of Port Washington, late sergeant, "K" Co., 16th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed 1st lieutenant, by brevet, July 10th, 1867, to rank from July 24th, 1864, in recognition of distinguished gallantry displayed by him before Atlanta, Ga., at that date, where he was severely wounded.

KERNEY, WILLIAM, of Fennimore, Wis., late private of "H" Co., 7th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain, by brevet, March 19th, 1867, to rank from May 9th, 1864, in recognition of conspicuous gallantry displayed by him at the battle of Lanrel Hill, Va., under the following circumstances: Three days before the battle he had received a wound in the head in a charge on the enemy's line, and was taken to the field hospital. On the morning of the 12th, learning that his regiment would be engaged with the enemy, he left the hospital, after obtaining special permission, and, with a bandage around his head covering the wound received on the 9th, he reported to his company, and fought with desperate valor.

LOVEJOY, HARVEY W., of ———, late private, "K" Co., 32d Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, Dec. 19th, 1866, to rank from Aug. 19th, 1864, in recognition of conspicuous gallantry displayed by him before Atlanta, Ga., on that date, where he volunteered to make chevaux de frise in front of a twelve-gun battery, and remained steadily after his comrades had retired behind the works to escape the fire of the sharpshooters, and until shot through the head, from which he nearly lost his life, and is permanently disabled.

LARSON, TORY, of ———, late private, "F" Co., 15th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain; by brevet, April 1th, 1867, to rank from Sept. 19th, 1863, in recognition of distinguished gallantry at the battle of Chickhmauga, where, when the command was forced to fall back, he assisted an officer of his regiment, who was badly wounded and in danger of falling into hands of the enemy, to the rear, at a time most men would have deemed it enough to take care of themselves.

LANDOLT, W. H., of Ozaukee, Wis., late sergeant "C" Co., 5th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, June 7th, 1867, to rank from April 6th, 1865, in recognition of his conspicuous gallantry at the battle of Sailor's Creek and Petersburg, at both of which his officers having been killed, he commanded his company, at the latter of which he led them in the charge until he lost a leg.

MAYFIELD, GEORGE H., of ———, late sergeant, "H" Co., 36th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed first lieutenant by brevet, April 18, 1867, to rank from June 13th, 1865, in recognition of distinguished gallantry displayed by him at Petersburg, Va.

- MOODY, JAMES C., of ———, late corporal, "I" Co., 6th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain, by brevet, Dec. 10th, 1866, to rank from March 31st, 1865, in recognition of conspicuous gallantry displayed by him at the battle of Gravel Run., Va., where, in defense of the colors of his regiment, he brained a rebel soldier with the butt of his musket.
- MEUSER, WILLARD, of ———, late sergeant, "I" Co., 20th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain, by brevet, Jan. 31, 1867, to rank from July 1, 1863, in recognition of distinguished gallantry at the battles of Gettysburg, Pa., and Wilderness, Va., at the former of which he led the right of the company, at the opening of the first day's fight, in the charge through the woods beyond Seminary Hill, advancing beyond any other, and capturing five prisoners.
- McINTYRE, HIRAM, of Princeton, Wis., late sergeant, "F" Co., 36th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed first lieutenant, by brevet, Jan. 31st, 1867, to rank from June 18th, 1864, in recognition of distinguished daring manifested at the "Melon Patch" charge before Petersburg, Va.
- MOORE, DANIEL B., of Mifflin, Wis., late brevet first lieutenant, "E" Co., 11th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, Feb. 25th, 1867, to rank from April 9th, 1865, in recognition of distinguished gallantry displayed by him at the assault on Fort Blakeley, Ala., of that date, in preserving the life of the officer in command of his company, at the risk of his own, under the following circumstances, viz: The officer and sergeant Moore, had alone gained the inside of the rebel works, when the former was brought down by a rebel shot and overpowered by superior numbers. Sergeant Moore, seeing his condition, gallantly cut his way to him, shooting a rebel soldier who was in the act of thrusting him a second time with his bayonet and fought desperately over him until the works were carried.
- MOREY, CHESTER L., of Chicago, Ill., late corporal, "I" Co., 36th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed second lieutenant, by brevet, April 18th, 1867, to rank from April 2d, 1865, in recognition of distinguished gallantry displayed by him at the battle of Petersburg, Va.
- MARKHAM, A. J., of ———, late sergeant major 36th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, April 18th, 1867, to rank from April 2d, 1865, in recognition of distinguished gallantry in being one of the first men in the rebel fort captured at that time.

NORTON, JAMES B., of ———, late quarter-master sergeant, 16th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, Feb. 9th, 1867, to rank from Oct. 3d, 1862, in recognition of distinguished gallantry at the battle of Corinth, Miss, where, serving as a corporal in company "E," and yet a mere boy in years, he was taken prisoner in attempting to help a wounded sergeant off the field, being willing to sacrifice his own life to save that of his wounded comrade. During the siege of Atlanta, Ga., he drew the attention of his officers frequently by his conspicuous daring.

NELSON, W., of Viroqua, Wis., late sergeant, "I" Co., 10th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, June 29th, 1867, to rank from April 28th, 1862, in recognition of distinguished gallantry displayed by him under the following circumstances: A detachment of twenty-two men, under the command of sergeant Nelson and another sergeant, was on duty guarding a bridge east of Huntsville, when it was attacked by a force of some two or three hundred cavalry, which, under the lead of sergeant Nelson, it gallantly fought for over two hours, and repulsed in the most signal manner. For his conspicuous bravery on this occasion, Sergeant Nelson was complimented by Gen. Buell, commanding Army of the Ohio, in General Orders, concluding as follows: "such is the conduct that duty and honor demand of every soldier, and this example is worthy of imitation by higher officers and larger commands.

OLSON, OLE B., of ——— ———, late private, "F" Co., 15th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed second lieutenant by brevet, April 4th, 1867, to rank from April 7th, 1862, in recognition of conspicuous gallantry displayed by him on picket at the time the ironclad "Carondelet" ran the blockade at Island No. 10.

O'CONNOR, ALBERT, of Lodi, Wis., late sergeant, "A" Co., 7th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, April 18, 1867, to rank from March 31, 1865, in recognition of conspicuous and distinguished daring in rescuing with the assistance of a companion, a captain of the 9th New York Infantry Volunteers, under the following circumstances: Seeing a stand of confederate colors, sergeant O'Connor with a comrade recrossed the creek for the purpose of capturing them, and were only foiled in their efforts by the firing of the Union troops. Observing a detachment of some nine confederates they attempted their capture, and succeeded in taking three of their number, with the federal captain who was in their hands, and dispersing the remainder. Also for distinguished gallantry on the 1st of April, when with five enlisted men of the other command, seeing a stand of confederate colors at the breastworks, where the troops of his command made their second charge through the open field, he rushed in front of the line of battle to secure the colors. In the contest, which was hand to hand, his five comrades were all killed. Sergeant O'Connor shot the confederate color bearer, seized the colors which had been taken up by the confederate captain with one hand, and with the other using the butt of his musket, killed the officer, when, being surrounded by confederates, he was compelled to relinquish the colors and take shelter behind a tree, where he remained fighting until our line advanced and rescued him.

OLDER, ADELBERT, of———, late corporal, "B" Co., 36th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed first lieutenant by brevet, April 18, 1867, to rank from June 1st, 1864, in recognition of distinguished gallantry displayed by him at that date, in a charge upon the enemy's works at Turner's Farm, Va., where he was wounded and taken prisoner, afterwards dying in Libby Prison.

OVERSON, JAMES, of———, late corporal, "C" Co., 15th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, Aug. 20, 1867, to rank from Sept. 20, 1863, in recognition of distinguished gallantry displayed by him at the battle of Chickamauga, Ga., where his company being hard pressed, and his captain having fallen he took position in front, and encouraged his comrades to maintain their position in the fight. In this engagement Overson was severely wounded.

PATRICK, CHARLES, of———, late sergeant, "H" Co., 6th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, Dec. 10, 1866, to rank from March 31, 1865, for conspicuous gallantry displayed by him on that day at the battle of Gravel Run, Va., in defending the colors of his regiment from capture, to do which successfully, he found it necessary to kill his opponent with the bayonet.

PARKER, EZEKIEL, of Platteville, Wis., late private, "C" Co., 6th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, March 19th, 1867, to rank from July 1st, 1863, in recognition of distinguished courage displayed by him at the battle of Gettysburg, Pa., of that date under the following circumstances, viz. : The rebels being hard pressed, a few of them with several battle flags, found partial protection in a shallow ditch ; seeing their situation, Private Parker rushed forward, and when within five paces of a rebel flag, deliberately raised his gun and fired into those around it, but before he reached the flag, he was wounded, fell and was taken prisoner. After his exchange he enlisted as a veteran, and returned from his veteran furlough just as his regiment was forming line to advance at the battle of the Wilderness. He reported to his commanding officer, who told him that he had but partially recovered from wounds received at Gettysburg, and that he would leave him behind in charge of some horses. He replied, " If you so order I will, but I prefer to go in and fight the foes of my country," and receiving a musket he bore himself heroically in the fight.

PERRY, LESLIE J., of ———, late sergeant, " D " Co., 2d Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, March 30th, 1867, to rank from May 5th, 1864, in recognition of distinguished gallantry displayed by him on the following occasion : At the battle of the Wilderness, in resisting the charge made upon the Iron Brigade by a force of rebels more than five times their number. In the engagement, Sergeant Perry was one of the foremost in the fight, holding his ground with tenacity almost reckless in its character. Also in the charge upon the rebel works at Spottsylvania, on the 11th of May, 1864, Sergeant Perry was again one of the van and conspicuous for his personal daring.

PALMER, RALPH L., of ———, late sergeant, " H " Co., 36th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed first lieutenant by brevet, April 18th, 1867, to rank from July 30th, 1864, in recognition of conspicuous gallantry displayed by him at the battle of Cold Harbor, and for always being on the lead with his company and conspicuous in every engagement.

PIERCE, CHARLES, of Sextonville, Wis., late sergeant, " A " Co., 36th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed first lieutenant by brevet, April 18th, 1867, to rank from July 1st, 1864, in recognition of conspicuous gallantry displayed by him in volunteering to bear the colors in presence of the enemy after the original color guard had all been killed or disabled in action.

PEDERSON, SIVE, of ———, late private, " K " Co., 15th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, June 7th, 1867, to rank from Dec. 31st, 1862, in recognition of distinguished gallantry displayed by him at the battle of Stone River, Tenn., under the following circumstances : The right wing to which the 15th belonged was forced to retreat some distance; in this retreat the men became scattered and the rebel cavalry followed up their advantage and captured many prisoners. Pederson was commanded, by a rebel cavalryman with some rebel comrades near him, to surrender, but seeing some of our cavalry advancing from the woods and encouraged thereby refused and fired at the rebel and killed him. By his coolness on this occasion he not only saved himself but also several near him. He was afterwards captured and died at Andersonville after his regiment was mustered out of the service.

RAHN, WILLIAM, of Green Bay, Wis., late private, "H" Co., 9th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed second lieutenant by brevet, March 19th, 1867, to rank from Sept. 30th, 1862, in recognition of conspicuous bravery at the battle of Newtonia, Mo., at that date.

ROWELL, GEORGE F., of Madison, late sergeant, "E" Co., 23d Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, Dec. 11th, 1866, to rank from Dec. 29th, 1862, in recognition of distinguished gallantry on the following occasion: At the first attack on Vicksburg, where, though sick and under the care of the surgeon, he stole away from the hospital boat, joined his company and bore himself gallantly through the fight. At the battle of Arkansas Post, where, notwithstanding he was sick and excused from duty by the surgeon, he insisted on going to his company, there engaged, bore himself with great bravery during the day and at night he was so exhausted by his efforts that he was carried back to the hospital boat by some of his comrades. During the entire Vicksburg campaign, though suffering from severe sickness he was with his company in every battle and skirmish and was conspicuous for personal daring at Port Gibson, Champion Hills and Big Black River.

RICHARDS, SOLON, of Ordino, Wis., late sergeant, "E" Co., 7th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, January 24th, 1867, to rank from July 1st, 1863, in recognition of distinguished gallantry displayed by him at the battle of Gettysburg, Pa., under the following circumstances. In one of the fierce charges made by the rebels on our troops in the first day's battle, one of their regimental flags was seen to fall, with its bearer, midway between our line and that of the enemy. Sergt. Richards therefore started to capture it. He advanced to the supposed spot, but owing to the roughness of the ground, or the flag bearer's ability to crawl off with it, he did not find it. He, however, saw two armed rebels hugging the ground for safety, ordered them up, and brought them off prisoners, amid the cheers of the regiment. During all this time the bullets were falling around him like hailstones, but he received no harm except a slight wound in the foot.

RAINS, JOHN W., of Lancaster, Wis., late private, "C" Co., 2d Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, March 19th, 1867, to rank from September 30th, 1862, in recognition of distinguished gallantry displayed by him at the battle of Gainesville, Va., of that date, where, though badly wounded, he persistently refused to leave the field, and remained until the engagement was over.

ROUHAN, CHARLES, of ———, late corporal, "C" Co., 5th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, September 28th, 1867, to rank from April 6th, 1865, in recognition of distinguished gallantry displayed by him in pushing ahead with three companies on the skirmish line at the battle of Sailor's Creek and capturing Lieut. Gen. Ewell and his staff.

SMITH, MORTICA, S., of ———, late sergeant, "A" Co., 29th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed first lieutenant by brevet, November 30th, 1866, to rank from May 16th, 1863, in recognition of conspicuous gallantry displayed by him at the battle of Champion Hills, Miss., May 16th, 1863.

SOMMERBY, JOHN L. of ———, late private, "I" Co., 6th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain, by brevet, Dec. 10th, 1866, to rank from Aug 29th, 1862, in recognition of his great gallantry at the battle of Gainesville, Va., where, after being severely wounded in the throat, he picked up his musket and remained in the ranks, firing with great coolness, until wounded in the arm and permanently disabled.

SANFORD, HENRY, of ———, late private, "F" Co., 2d Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain, by brevet, Dec. 11th, 1866, to rank from May 9th, 1864, in recognition of conspicuous gallantry displayed by him while serving as scout in the Army of the Potomac, in carrying despatches from the headquarters of said army at Spottsylvania Court House, through the enemy's country to Belle Plaine, on the night of May 9th, and for similar services on the night of June 1, 1864.

STANNARD, A. C., of Milton, Wis., late private, "G" Co., Berdan's sharpshooters, appointed 2d lieutenant, by brevet, Jan. 31st, 1867, to rank from August 30th, 1862, in recognition of distinguished gallantry displayed by him at the second battle of Bull Run, Va.

SAARE, WILLIAM, of ———, late sergeant, "A" Co., 6th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed first lieutenant by brevet, Jan. 9th, 1867, to rank from Aug. 29th, 1862, in recognition of conspicuous gallantry displayed by him at the battles of Gainesville, Second Bull Run, South Mountain, Antietam, Fredericksburg, Chancellorville, Gettysburg, Mine Run and Wilderness. He was wounded at the battle of Laurel Hill, May 10th, 1864, and returned to duty Feb. 21st, 1865, after which time he participated in the engagements of Gravel Run and Five Forks.

STOREY, GEORGE A., of Busseyville, Wis., late private of "G" Co., 20th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, Jan. 31st, 1867, to rank from June 25th, 1863, in recognition of conspicuous daring and fidelity manifested by him at Vicksburg, Miss., under the following circumstances: When on duty on the picket line, the rebels suddenly made a vigorous attack upon it with musketry and artillery, and drove all back except private Storey and a comrade, who stood fast, and gallantly held the post until relieved by troops from camp, for which exhibition of distinguished courage he was complimented in general orders by Major General Heron, commanding the division.

SCOTT, WILLIAM, of Racine, Wis., late sergeant, "G" Co., 20th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain, by brevet, Jan. 31st, 1867, to rank from June 25th, 1863, in recognition of distinguished gallantry displayed by him at Vicksburg, Miss., under the following circumstances: He was on the picket line with a detail under the command of a captain of his regiment when the rebels suddenly attacked them with musketry and artillery, and the whole line beat a hasty retreat except two men, Serg't Scott and a comrade, who stood firm and held their post until relieved by troops from the camp, for which fidelity and daring he was complimented in General Orders by Maj. Gen. Herron, commanding the division.

SHAW, R. D., of Garden Valley, Wis., late sergeant, "C" Co., 37th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed first lieutenant, by brevet, Feb. 14th, 1867, to rank from July 30th, 1864, in recognition of conspicuous bravery manifested by him at that date before Petersburg, Va., and in the assault, capture and defence of Fort Mahone, April 2d, 1865.

SALLANDER, MICHAEL, of Retreat, Wis., late corporal, "F" Co., 8th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed second lieutenant, by brevet, May 22d, 1867, to rank from Dec. 15th, 1864, in recognition of conspicuous gallantry displayed by him at the battle of Nashville, Tenn., and at the siege of Spanish Fort near Mobile, Alabama.

STRAUBEL, AUGUST, of Green Bay, Wis., late private, "H" Co., 9th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed second lieutenant, by brevet, March 19th, 1867, to rank from Sept. 30th, 1862, in recognition of conspicuous bravery at the battle of Newtonia, Mo., at that date.

SMITH, GEORGE A., of Boscobel, Wis., late corporal, "H" Co., 7th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain, by brevet, March 6th, 1867, to rank from May 5th, 1864, in recognition of distinguished gallantry displayed by him at the battle of the Wilderness, Va., under the following circumstances: The 7th regiment, with other regiments in line, charged upon the enemy who was secreted in and sheltered by the thick timber and undergrowth, Corp'l Smith rushed ahead of the line in the charge and seizing the battle-flag of the 48th Regiment Virginia Infantry, bore it triumphantly to our advancing line amidst a shower of bullets.

SHUBERT, HARVEY, of Sugar Creek, Wis., late private, "I" Co., 28th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, June 29th, 1867, to rank from April 10th, 1865, in recognition of his noble and gallant conduct at that date. In the evening as he was about to take post in the rifle pits in front of the rebel works at Mobile, a commission from the Governor as an officer in a new regiment was handed him. Thinking a moment he determined not to leave his command on the eve of a conflict and sticking a piece of candle in the sand he threw himself beside it and wrote a letter declining the commission for that reason.

SMITH, JOHN, of Rome, Wis., late sergeant, "L" Co., 1st Wisconsin Cavalry, appointed captain by brevet, Sept. 10th, 1867, to rank from April 13th, 1864, in recognition of distinguished bravery displayed by him at that date, under the following circumstances: A force of 25 men, among whom was Sergeant Smith, was on the picket line, when the rebel Gen. Wheeler, with a large cavalry force made a dash upon the line. The lieutenant in command surrendered with nineteen men, without resistance, but Sergeant Smith mounted his horse, called the remainder of his comrades around him, and with them, fought his way out and escaped.

TRUE, H. W., of ———, late private, "I" Co., 5th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, Feb. 25th, 1867, to rank from April 6th, 1865, in recognition of conspicuous gallantry manifested by him in pushing ahead with three companions on the skirmish line at the battle of Sailor's Creek, Va., and capturing Lieut. Gen. Ewell and his staff.

TRUELL, EDWIN M., of Mauston, Wis., late private, "E" Co., 12th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed first lieutenant by brevet, Nov. 15th, 1866, to rank from July 21st, 1864, in recognition of his conspicuous gallantry at the battle of Bald Hill, near Atlanta, Ga., July 21st, 1864, where in a charge of the regiment upon the enemy's works, disregarding a severe wound received in the ankle, he kept on with his comrades until brought to the ground by a dangerous wound in the right foot, which subsequently made amputation of the leg necessary.

TIMME, ERNEST G., of Oshkosh, Wis., late private, "C" Co., 1st Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, June 29th, 1867, to rank from Sept. 20th, 1863, in recognition of distinguished gallantry displayed by him at the battle of Chickamauga, Ga., where, while bravely assisting in repulsing a rebel attack he lost an arm.

WEISSERT, AUGUSTUS G., of Madison, Wis., late sergeant major, 8th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, Oct. 17th, 1866, to rank from June 6th, 1864, in recognition of his extraordinary courage during the Red River expedition, and of his gallantry at Lake Chicot, Ark., June 6th, 1864, and at Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 15th, 1864, where he was severely wounded while in the foremost rank of the column of assault.

WATSON, CHARLES D., of Wauwatosa, Wis., late sergeant, "E" Co., 24th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, Feb. 21st, 1867, to rank from Dec. 31st, 1862, in recognition of distinguished gallantry displayed by him at the battles of Stone River, Tenn., and Chickamauga, Ga., in the latter of which, though severely wounded three times, he remained at his post fighting heroically to the end. His gallantry attracted the attention of his company and regimental officers, and he was one of the three selected from Co. "E," by Gen. Rosecranz, for the "Roll of Honor." He bore himself with great gallantry also in the battles of Resaca, Adairsville, Dallas, Kenesaw Mountain, Peachtree Creek, Atlanta, Jonesboro, Franklin and Nashville, Tenn.

WEHRWEIN, SIMON, of Manitowoc, Wis., late private, "B" Co., 9th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain by brevet, February 23d, 1867, to rank from April 30th, 1864, in recognition of conspicuous bravery displayed by him at the battle of Jenkins Ferry, Arkansas, where, though wounded severely, he did not leave the field, but remained with the company fighting manfully to the end.

WINSOR, CHAUNCEY A., of Stockton, New York, late sergeant, "A" Co., 6th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed first lieutenant by brevet, Dec. 10th, 1866, to rank from March 31st, 1865, in recognition of his conspicuous gallantry at the battle of Gravel Run, Va.

WOELZ, HENRY, of Green Bay, Wisconsin, late corporal, "H" Co., 9th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed second lieutenant by brevet, March 19th, 1867, to rank from September 30th, 1862, in recognition of conspicuous bravery displayed by him at the battle of Newtonia, Mo., at that date.

WEBER, ADOLPH, of Milwaukee, Wis., late sergeant, "I" Co. 9th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed first lieutenant by brevet, March 19th, 1867, to rank from April 30th, 1864, in recognition of conspicuous gallantry at the battle of Jenkins Ferry, Arkansas, where, after being severely wounded, he fell into the hands of the enemy, and after eighteen months imprisonment joined his command, having re-enlisted as a veteran.

WILLIAMS, STEPHEN, of Briggsville, Wisconsin, late corporal, "I" Co., 36th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed second lieutenant by brevet, March 19th, 1867, to rank from June 5th, 1863, in recognition of conspicuous gallantry displayed by him at the battle of Cold Harbor, Va.

WILLIAMS, STEPHEN, of Briggsville, Wis., late brevet second lieutenant, 36th Wisconsin Infantry, appointed captain, by brevet, March 30, 1867, to rank from June 3, 1864, in recognition of distinguished gallantry displayed by him at the battle of Cold Harbor, Va., where he was severely and painfully wounded, but refused to be borne from the field by his comrades, telling them to look for those who were worse off, and when the surgeon came to him at the time of receiving his wounds, he refused to let him dress them—saying that some of the other boys needed his services more than he did, and that he could take care of himself, which he did by crawling on his hands and knees three-quarters of a mile through the woods in the darkness.

RULES OF ADMISSION OF PUPILS, ETC.

1. All the deaf and dumb of the state, between the ages of twelve and twenty-five years, are entitled to an education, without charge for board or tuition, in this institution, upon compliance with the rules. Persons, however, desirous of placing a pupil in the school, should write to the superintendent, informing him of the name, age and residence of the mute; the cause, if known, of deafness, &c. The superintendent will immediately answer, stating the time when the pupil will be received.

2. Pupils from other states are received at a rate of one hundred dollars per annum, for board and tuition.

3. The length of the course of instruction is five years; and that the students may become more proficient in their studies, they are allowed and advised to remain one year more. At the end of six years, the superintendent may select such pupils as he may consider would be particularly benefited by continuing longer at school; and if approved by the board of trustees, they shall be permitted to remain an additional year.

4. Pupils will be admitted on the following conditions: 1st. The pupil, well provided with clothes, is to be brought to the institution punctually, at the commencement of each session, for the period of five years, unless detained at home by his or her sickness. 2d. The pupil is to remain in the school until the last Wednesday of June in each year. 3d. No parent or guardian shall be allowed to take a pupil out of the school without the consent of the board of trustees.

5. It is the intention of the trustees to render the institution self-supporting, as far as practicable, and that every pupil, on leaving its walls, shall be so proficient in some useful occupation, or trade, as to be able to procure a livelihood, without reliance on the charities of others. In accordance with this design, all the scholars will be required to labor a portion of each day; the girls performing the lighter kinds of housework, and in various kinds of needlework, as plain sewing, ornamental work, dressmaking, or millinery, &c.; and the boys at various trades, the necessary work about the institution, and the cultivation of the farm and garden.

6. The annual sessions of the school continue ten months, commencing on the first Wednesday in September, and closing on the last Wednesday of June. Every pupil is to come promptly on or before the first day of the session, and is to remain until the last of the same. The only exceptions allowed are cases of sickness, or where leave of absence in writing has been granted, either by the principal, or in case of the absence of the principal, the professor to whom he has delegated the power.

7. No pupil, unless under extraordinary circumstances, can be received at any other time than the commencement of the session.

8. Parents and guardians are required, if possible, to furnish annually to each pupil, the following supply of clothing.

FOR MALE PUPILS.

WINTER CLOTHING.

2 or 3 coats,	1 pair of boots,
2 or 3 vests,	2 pairs of shoes,
2 or 3 pairs of pantaloons,	2 hats, or 1 hat and 1 cap,
2 shirts,	2 pairs of drawers,
2 flannel shirts,	2 pairs of mittens or gloves.
5 pairs of socks,

SUMMER CLOTHING.

2 coats,	2 pairs of pantaloons,
2 vests,	1 palm-leaf hat.

ADDITIONAL ARTICLES.

2 ivory combs,	2 pairs of suspenders,
2 pairs wooden combs,	4 pocket handkerchiefs.

FOR FEMALE PUPILS.

3 or 4 calico dresses,	2 night gowns,
3 woolen or worsted dresses,	3 pairs of shoes and 1 pair rubbers,
1 Sunday and one sun bonnet,	3 or more changes of underclothing,
4 pocket handkerchiefs, and 1 hood,	2 woolen sacks (colored) or two cotton flannel underwaists.
3 pairs of summer stockings,
4 pairs of winter stockings,

Instead of the sacks, little girls might be provided with aprons with long sleeves, and made to come up well on the neck.

ADDITIONAL ARTICLES.

1 shawl or cloak,	1 pair mittens,
1 coarse and 2 ivory combs,	1 hair brush.
2 hair combs,

In addition to the above outfit, a sum of not less than $5 is to be deposited with the superintendent for incidental expenses.

9. It is not intended that the clothing should be of an expensive kind. For boys' winter apparel, plain, home-made cloth is sufficiently good. For summer wear, country linen will answer for pants, with some kind of dark goods for coats and vests. Light-colored cloth should not be used for the boys' outside garments—it soils so readily and requires so much washing. Girls' calico dresses may be made of a cheap article, which will not fade; and while for older girls, at least one pair of morocco shoes should be furnished, one or both the other pair should be of good calfskin. On all articles of clothing which it is possible to mark, the full name of the pupil should be written with indelible ink. For socks and woolen articles, the name can be written on strong, heavy tape, and then sewed on. The woolen socks and cotton flannel underwaists included in the list of clothing for female pupils, are very necessary in cold weather, not only for comfort, but as preventives of colds and coughs. Dresses for winter should always be made to come up well on the neck. Each pupil should be supplied with a trunk or chest.

10. Those persons bringing pupils or taking them away, cannot be furnished with board, lodging or horse-keeping at the institution.

11. All business letters, or letters of inquiry in regard to pupils in the institution, or those whom it may be designed to place there, should be addressed to

H. W. MILLIGAN,
Principal of the Institute for the Deaf and Dumb, DELAVAN, WISCONSIN.

TRUSTEES' REPORT.

The Board of Trustees of the Wisconsin Institution for the education of the Deaf and Dumb, beg leave to submit to the Legislature their sixteenth annual report, together with the reports of the several officers of the Institution.

The past year has been one of great prosperity for the Institution. The pupils have been uniformly attentive to their duties, and have made commendable progress in those pursuits and studies, which, in the language of the law establishing the institution, tend to qualify them "for the enjoyment of the blessings of free government, obtaining the means of subsistence and the discharge of those duties, social and political, devolving on American citizens."

Under the provisions of the act of the Legislature of 1866, making appropriation for building the west wings of the Institution building, the trustees, after procuring the services of A. C. Nash, Esq., of Milwaukee, as architect and Superintendent, proceeded to advertise for proposals for the erection of said wings, in the State Journal, published at Madison, the Milwaukee Sentinel, and the Racine Advocate. The contracts were let in accordance with said act, and the building has been built and completed in the most substantial and elegant manner, comparing favorably, in our opinion, with any public building in the State.

It was found necessary to enlarge the boiler house, to erect a new out-building, and sewers, and to make somewhat extensive alterations and repairs in the old part of the buildings to adapt them to the new heating and lighting apparatus, in consequence of which, and from other causes, the expenditures for building have somewhat exceeded the appropriations for that purpose.

There has been expended for building purposes the sum of $31,007 18 exceeding the appropriations for that purpose, $5,007 18. This excess of expenditure has been unavoidable, in order to secure to the institution the advantages designed by the legislature.

The Legislature of 1866, appropriated the sum of $5,000 for the purpose of procuring steam heating apparatus for heating the Institution building and for lighting with gas; and the legislature of 1867 appropriated the sum of $3000 in addition thereto, for that purpose. In pursuance of the acts making such appropriations, the Trustees contracted with M. M. Leahy, Esq., of Milwaukee, for suitable steam heating and gas apparatus for the institution, and the same have been in operation for some weeks.

It has been found necessary, however, to make some slight alterations, and there have been found some little difficulties in their operation, which has delayed a final settlement with the contractor and makes it impossible to state the exact cost, at this time. It is estimated, however, that an appropriation of $3000 will be necessary to pay the indebtedness incurred for this purpose.

The Principal, Superintendents, Instructors, Assistants, and all connected with the institution, have been faithful in the discharge of their duties, and under their charge there is every reason to hope and expect that the institution will retain the high character for usefulness which it has so long enjoyed—an honor to the state by whose munificence it is sustained, and a blessing to those unfortunate ones for whom it was established.

We refer to the reports of the several officers of the institution for a more full statement of its general condition, and for statements in detail of the expenditure of the funds appropriated for its use.

It is estimated that there will be necessary for the institution for the coming year, the following sums, which the Honorable Legislature is most respectfully and earnestly petitioned to provide for by appropriations :

For indebtedness incurred for Building and for Heating and Lighting apparatus.....	$8,000 00
For Current Expenses.....	27,000 00

All of which is respectfully submitted.

C. H. STURTEVANT,
Sec'y Board of Trustees.

PRINCIPAL'S REPORT.

To the Board of Trustees of the Wisconsin Institute for the Deaf and Dumb.

GENTLEMEN : The Institute has prospered in all its departments during the past year. In the schools, the teachers have done themselves credit by their teaching, and the pupils have made good progress in their studies. A fair amount of work has been done by the boys in their shops, and by the girls in their work-room.

Eighty-five pupils have been in attendance during the year.

It may not be out of place to state briefly the successive steps taken in their instruction.

The first object in teaching new pupils is to open communication with them. As language—written or spoken—is impossible, the language of signs is used. These signs represent some quality of the object represented. When the pupil understands that the sign represents the object, its name may be written on the slate, and the pupil taught that both the sign and the written word represent the same object. This process may be extended to include names, qualities and actions. Thus signs are used in the early stages of instruction as a means of teaching written language. When this end is attained, they may be disused, as tools are laid aside when a structure is completed. Thus educated mutes always converse with speaking people in writing.

The manual alphabet has no connection with the system of signs, but is used by those who understood it because it is more convenient than writing.

The specimen of composition given below, shows how far instruction may be carried in one year.

I. J. D.—Became deaf at three years

“ MY DEAR PARENTS : I received your letter. I read it. I am well. Are you well ? Is my brother well ? Is my Aunt Emma well ? The pupils are well. There are 95 pupils in the institute. I wish a letter. I wish to see my brother and sisters. I love my parents. I think about my home. The pupils are at play in the evening.

“ Your affection daughter.”

In school one year.

During the second year, geography and arithmetic may be taught to a class. As their knowledge of language is by no means extensive, text books with short sentences and simple words are desirable. Outline maps are especially useful in teaching geography. Practice in the use of language—writing, compositions, and writing from dictation—are the principal school-room exercises, not only for this year, but during the whole course.

The following is by a pupil who has been in school two years :

P. E.—Born deaf.

A boy was very smart, and he was about four years old. He went out and played in the lawn. He was pleased to make chairs and stools for his sister. He went to the garden and he was pleased to talk with his brother. He saw gold money on the grass and he picked it. He ran to his father and he showed it to him. His father lost his gold money. He was glad to get it again. After some time he bought a pony for his son. He gave it to him, and he was glad because his father gave it to him. He used to ride on the pony's back, and he had a small carriage. He asked his sister to ride in the carriage. She was much amused to ride in it. She sometimes rode on the pony's back. His father kept it in a barn, and he fed it every day.

In school two years.

As the ideas of the pupil multiply and enlarge, he feels the need of new forms of language ; he writes longer sentences, he uses "ifs" and "buts," and he makes mistakes. This is by no means discouraging to a teacher, yet parents often complain that their children write worse and worse.

In the fall of 1864, the number, of mutes in the state of proper age to enter the Inst., was not sufficient to warrant the admission of a new class. We therefore have no class of three years standing in the Institute.

The class which has completed its fourth year at the Institute are studying Practical Arithmetic, Geography—part 3d, and Common School History. They are also exercised daily in the use of language and in composition.

The following is a composition from one of this class.

J. W.—Born deaf.

A man was a French painter. He wanted to get famous in the world. He thought how he could get famous. He determined to travel to get one who was very beautiful and fair. In a few days he saw a beautiful and fair boy like an angel. He determined to draw a picture on cloth. When he finished the picture he showed it to all the people. In a few days he wanted to find one like a fiend. He determined to travel and seek him. In fifteen years he entered a large prison. He saw one like a fiend. He was awful to see him. The painter determined to draw a picture. When he finished to draw the picture he showed it the fiend. He said to the painter that he was the beautiful and fair boy. The painter could not believe him, but he said true. Now he was very wicked and a murderer.

This story shows us if any boy is very beautiful and fair he may become a very bad boy. But if any boy is very homely he may be good and kind. I hope God will help any very pretty boy if he wants to be a good boy.

In school four years.

T. C. S.—Deaf at six months.

I was born in R., in Dane county. When I was six months old I became deaf by sickness. My parents took great care of me. My small clothes fitted me. My mother has kept my baby clothes till now. She showed them to me some months ago. I was surprised at them. When I was eight years old I often disobeyed my parents. I never heard about the Institution for Deaf and Dumb. My folks moved to Augusta from Dane county when I was ten years old. I was an ignorant boy. I had not heard about God. I often disobeyed my parents. I often ran away. I often quarreled and struck other boys. My parents heard that this new house was built in Delavan. They were glad for it. They sent me to here four years ago. I thank God for it, because He is kind, and the government of Wisconsin gives much money to us for the deaf and dumb.

In school four years.

Three public examinations of all the classes are held each year. These continue two or three days. Questions written on slips of paper are drawn by the class, and the answers written from memory on the large slates in view of the audience. The results of these examinations determine the standing of the pupils for the next year.

As a class advances, the methods of teaching become more like those of schools for speaking children. The language of signs is gradually disused and the manual alphabet takes its place. The pupils become more familiar with language, their minds gain strength and they become better able to use ordinary text books. The class of five years standing is now using Grammar, Arithmetic, History, and Geography.

The following shows fair powers of thought :

J. M.—Born deaf.

The people in the Frigid Zone live under ground. They love to eat candles and tallow. The men do not work but only hunt seals and other animals. The women work hard. The people ride on sleighs drawn by many dogs or by reindeer. They build houses of ice. They are very short men, about four feet high. They wear the skins of seals and other animals. The Frigid Zone is very cold, and many people have tried to go through it, but the cold killed them. I heard that many icebergs flow from it to Maine. Dr. Kane was an American who went through the Frigid Zone, and he was successful. He returned back to the United States. After some years he died, and the people mourned for him.

In school five years.

The following is by a pupil who lost hearing after she had learned to talk, but who received all her education here :

E. V.—Became deaf at six years.

My birth place was in a pretty village. When I was young a dangerous sickness happened to me ; I was sick with scarlet fever ; I grew worse and worse day and night. Before I was sick I was merry as a bird and played all day long. One afternoon I was almost dead. I saw many friends and relations around my bed weeping, but I felt very peaceful. In a few days I was better again. I was able to sit in a rocking chair. My father spoke to me but no word entered my ears again. My friends all wept to think how mournful it was for me to lose my hearing. My parents helped me to sit out on the stoop where many beautiful trees shaded above the stoop and many merry birds were singing. I often thought how happy I was to hear the birds sing before I was deaf, but I know it was better for me for God to take away my hearing. I was nearly six years old when I became deaf. After six years more I was sent to a beautiful institute to learn to read and write. I have many kind friends and a kind teacher and I try to follow in the Lord's steps.

In school five years.

As the pupil who wrote the above is entirely deaf she cannot profit by oral instruction. Her recollection of language is however of great advantage to her, and it is our aim in all such cases to make the greatest possible use of their powers of speech.

The oldest class in the institute are studying Monteith's Physical Geography, Arithmetic, Anatomy and Physiology, and Quackenboss' Composition.

Friends of the pupils and the people of the state generally are earnestly invited to visit the institute and see the progress made in cultivating both the intellectual and mechanical powers of the pupils.

Thirteen of the pupils in attendance during the year did not return at the beginning of the term in September. Twenty-three new pupils entered at that time, making the whole number ninety-five—ten more than have ever been here at one time before.

By the liberality of the legislature our buildings are now large enough to accommodate all the children in the state who are suitable subjects of our care.

The addition to our numbers made the employment of another teacher necessary. Mr. W. A. Cochrane, of Beloit, was accordingly engaged at the beginning of the term in September, 1867. His qualifications, natural and acquired, make his success as a teacher beyond doubt.

I cannot close without expressing to the contractors of the new wing, Messrs. Stevens & Dewing (masons), and Mr. Blair (carpenter), the thanks of the officers and inmates of the institution for their uniform courtesy and kindness in all their intercourse with us. The material used and the manner in which the work is done are also no less worthy of praise than their manner of doing it.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.

We wish again to return thanks to the publishers who have sent us papers gratuitously during the past year.

The issues are looked for with much interest and read with great pleasure and profit by the pupils.

We have received the following :

Semi-weekly Wisconsin.
 Weekly Milwaukee Sentinel.
 State Journal.
 Janesville Gazette.
 Prison City Leader.
 North Western Christian Advocate.

We are also indebted to Hon. H. E. Paine for favors received.

SHOE SHOP.

The following shows the debits and credits of the shoe shop during the year :

Owing to the sickness of the master of this shop during the latter part of the season, the exhibit is not as favorable, financially, as it was for the previous year.

PHYSICIAN'S REPORT.

To the Board of Trustees of the Wisconsin Institution for the education of the Deaf and Dumb.

GENTLEMEN:—The past has been a year of unprecedented health at the Institution.

A very few cases only of acute disease have occurred, and less than the usual number of cases of a chronic character have demanded the services of the Physician.

The time lost to study and other duties by pupils from illness has been much less than in any previous year of my service, a period of nine years.

In the absence then of any pathological data of importance upon which to base a report, I turn with pleasure to notice the improvements you have made in the arrangements of the Institute buildings, which will have influence of upon the hygienic welfare, as well as the comfort of the pupils.

I congratulate you upon the success of your efforts in this direction, which have resulted in the completion of spacious and well ventilated dormitories; the introduction of water throughout the buildings, thus furnishing facilities for the bath, that efficient adjuvant to health, and prophylactic of disease—the certainty of an equable temperature throughout the entire building, insured by the introduction of steam for heating purposes. Many catarrhal affections of the air passages to which mutes are peculiarly subject, and from which the inmates of this Institution have formerly suffered to a considerable extent will be avoided by this arrangement, which obviates the necessity of passing from the (perhaps) overheated school rooms through cold halls.

These combined advantages above enumerated, together with other sanitary regulations such as regular and timely alternation of exercise and study, with regular hours and a wholesome dietary, cannot fail to insure the healthfulness and comfort of the pupils.

Your efforts to bring about these results demand the heartfelt thanks and gratitude not only of the immediate patrons of the Institution, but of all good men throughout the state.

Respectfully submitted,

G. H. BRIGGS, M. D.,
Physician to Institute.

TRUSTEES' REPORT.

To his Excellency, LUCIUS FAIRCHILD,

Governor of the state of Wisconsin :

In compliance with an act of the Legislature, entitled "an act to provide a home for the orphans of Wisconsin Soldiers," we herewith submit the second annual report of the "Board of Trustees of the Soldiers' Orphans' Home," being for the year ending September 30, 1867.

In presenting this report it is not deemed necessary to refer particularly to the history of the Institution, as the facts in regard to its establishment are of so recent date as to be familiar to all. In regard however, to the objects to be attained by its establishment, we are of opinion that incorrect ideas have been entertained to a considerable extent. We differ in opinion with those who regard the inmates as paupers, and the Institution as a State Alms-house, with the sole object of supplying barely sufficient food and clothing to sustain life. We believe the Legislature in establishing the "Home," designed to make it not only what its name indicates, but also an institution of learning, where the unfortunate children of Wisconsin's patriot sons may receive such educational and moral training, as will enable them to provide for their own support, and become intelligent and worthy members of society. Acting upon this theory, we have necessarily incurred more expense in its management, than would have been required, to simply provide sufficient food and clothing to sustain the lives of the inmates, but we regard the expenditure as not in vain, for we believe the "Home" as an educational institution will compare favorably with the best common schools of the state.

The Legislature, at the last session, appropriated the sum of forty thousand dollars to pay arrearages and to defray the current expenses of the year. For a detailed report in regard to the disbursements of this fund, as well as much interesting information in regard to the school, and the general management of the institution, we respectfully refer to the reports of the late Financial Agent, and the present Superintendent, herewith submitted.

Practicing the strictest economy, consistent with the objects to be attained, and the comfort and welfare of the inmates, we have still been unable to reduce the expenses of the institution below the amount of the last annual appropriation. Most of the children are received in a destitute condition, and their immediate necessities in way of clothing, &c., constitute a large item of expense. And, as is usually the case when large numbers are collected from various parts of the country, epidemic diseases have been prevalent, necessitating extra labor, and consequently additional expense. For more specific information in regard to the sanitary condition of the Institution, we refer to the report of the attending physician, hereto attached.

On the first of May last Mrs. Harvey, Superintendent, and Gen. Harnden, Financial Agent, resigned their respective offices. The Board of Trustees parted with them, as officers of the "Home" with great reluctance. During their connection with the Institution they evinced much zeal and energy in the discharge of their duties, having managed its affairs with rare ability, and to the general satisfaction of the Board of Trustees. Mr. F. B. Brewer was appointed to succeed Mrs. Harvey as Superintendent, and also to perform the duties of Financial Agent, (that office having been abolished) and Mrs. Brewer was appointed Matron. We believe the present officers and teachers are laboring with fidelity and energy, to secure, in the fullest manner, the results designed to be attained, by the establishment of this Institution. The very high price and poor quality of wood obtainable at Madison, have induced us to make a change in the mode of heating. We have substituted coal as fuel, which we confidently believe will be found more economical, while it adds greatly to the comfort of the inmates.

The "Home" is now filled to its utmost capacity, there being an average of about two hundred and eighty children, and there are now many applicants for admission who cannot be received for want of room. Should a suitable school house be erected, it would add much to the efficiency of the school, and enable us to receive quite an addition to the number of inmates. The Board of Trustees, considering the combustible nature of the buildings and the great liability to fire, in such an institution, have deemed it good policy to keep an insurance upon the same. We have now an insurance in various companies, upon the buildings and furniture, to the amount of twenty-five thousand dollars, at an annual cost of about three hundred and seventy-five dollars.

We respectfully recommend an appropriation by the Legislature, of the sum of forty thousand dollars, for payment of current expenses for the present year, believing that a thorough investigation of the financial management of the institution, will show that amount necessary, even with the most strict economy.

A number of the children now in the Home have arrived at such age as to be capable of self-support, and the interests of the institution will require their early discharge. They are mostly well educated, intelligent children, and competent to perform many of the duties of business life. We appeal to our citizens, and especially to business men; who can give employment to this class of persons, to aid us in securing good homes, or profitable situations, for these unfortunate children.

In conclusion, we trust that the representatives of the people, in their law-making capacity, will extend to this helpless and homeless band of orphans, a cordial sympathy and a fostering care. The state has no charge more sacred. We can never repay the sacrifices made by their fathers, for us, and for our country. Should we neglect their helpless and destitute orphans, we should be unworthy the liberties and privileges we enjoy.

N. M. LITTLEJOHN,
President.

R. M. STRONG,
Secretary.

The schools are thoroughly graded. No. 1 grade is taught by Miss Lilly J. Robinson. This grade is made up of the class in the primer and the class in the first reader. These scholars are taught reading and spelling and the elements of geography and arithmetic, orally.

Number 2 grade consists of scholars reading in the second reader and is taught by Miss Eunice Willman. These pupils, in addition to reading and spelling, are taught primary geography and arithmetic.

Number 3 grade is taught by Miss Abbie J. Riddle. These pupils read in the third reader and study number three geography and intellectual arithmetic.

Number 4 grade consists of an advanced class in the third reader and a class in the fourth reader, and is taught by Miss M. C. Hiles. The class in the third reader finish up No. 3 geography and study the elements of written arithmetic and primary grammar. The class in the 4th reader study number four geography, practical arithmetic and analytical grammar. In addition to these regular studies the older scholars are drilled in rhetorical exercises, and many who manifest a taste for it, are taught music and drawing. The rhetorical exercises are taught in the evening, owing to the fact that the time in day school is wholly occupied with their regular studies. The music is taught by Miss Abbie J. Riddle, and the drawing by Miss M. C. Hiles. These ladies, separate and aside from the arduous duties of the schoolroom, keep up a class in music and drawing.

There is a class of twelve boys that attend the Business College. They are from the Home, from half-past eight o'clock till half-past ten o'clock. This class is gratuitously taught by Professor Worthington, for which he will please accept our sincere thanks. In our daily exercises, the children are instructed in matters pertaining to health, manners and habits, and their duties and obligations to society, and especially are they instructed to practice it in their daily intercourse with each other. They are drilled every evening in Calisthenics. This is done in connection with music, which not only renders it useful and instructive, but very interesting. Our Sabbath-school is one of the pleasantest affairs of the whole routine of our duties. It is under the management of William E. Smith, State Treasurer, assisted by Mr. Downs, a student of the State University, and it is a source of the greatest pleasure to me to state that never have I seen such an interest manifested by any class of people in behalf of any school, as the citizens of Madison manifest in behalf of this Sabbath-school. While no sectarianism is taught, all denominations join in pointing these children to the high way of holiness.

The children are generally contented. There has been but a single case of runaway, and I have been informed he is at home with his mother. Three have left the Home without permission, but have returned the same or the next day.

Five children have been taken away by their mothers, who have changed their situations so as to be able to take care of them now, and three have been adopted.

Total number who have left the Home..... 9

Washing at present averages over 1,500 pieces per week, and the only aids we have are two wringers and two hand washing machines. There are no means of drying the clothes except on lines out of doors on the play grounds, and in rainy weather it has been almost impossible to have clothes in readiness from week to week. Your attention is earnestly called to this great necessity.

One woman aided by the children does all the ironing; two women in the dormitories, one nurse in the sick room, two seamstresses and three cooks; one cleaner assisted by the girls does all the cleaning. The girls do all the dining-room work, and assist in every department. The girls are taught to sew and knit. The boys are organized into squads, with a captain or overseer at the head of each squad. These boys are assigned their regular tasks such as splitting wood, cleaning yard, preparing vegetables, &c.

Three men are employed; one engineer, one night watch, and one laborer.

The total number of employees, together with the superintendent, matron and four teachers, is 23.

The following named newspapers are furnished gratuitously to the Home, for which the generous donors will please accept our sincere thanks:

Prison City Leader.

Daily Wisconsin, (Milwaukee.)

Daily Union, (Madison.)

Grant County Herald.

Madison State Journal.

Mr. J. J. Starin, of Whitewater, will please accept our thanks for pie-plant sent us last spring, also for apples and grapes this fall.

Mrs. Dr. Reed, of Beaver Dam, reminds us frequently of the interest she feels in the Home, by sending all sorts of reading matter to the children.

Mr. Page, of the Journal, furnished us with a number of copies of Harpers, for which he will please accept our thanks.

Col. E. B. Gray, agent for the Publishing House of Barnes & Co, of New York, gave the Institution fourteen volumes of the Teachers' Library, which are great aids to the teacher.

The most valuable contribution is that of sixty-two bibles; fifty of which came from Milwaukee, and were obtained through the exertions of the Rev. Mr. Allison, for the Home, and the other twelve were donated by the Dane county Bible Society.

It gives me pleasure to state in this public manner, my appreciation of the faithfulness and efficiency of the officers of this Institution. The most of them served in the army, and distinguished themselves by standing firm in the night of the nation's affliction. Their endurance and privations with the soldiers, have qualified them to look well to the interests of their children.

STATEMENT OF SURGICAL CASES TREATED.

Numerous cases of simple hurts requiring the attention of a surgeon have occurred, but only one worthy of particular notice.

Charles Spencer Johnson fell from the third story balcony, breaking both bones of the forearm of each arm, producing a comminuted fracture of the right arm, and so injuring his spine as to paralyze his legs, and destroy the motion of his neck. His arms were set, and mended well, but he has as yet no use of his lower limbs. He has, however, entirely recovered the motion of his neck.

DEATHS.

Cornelia Rouse, aged about seven years, died October 29th, 1866, of diphtheria, the membrane suddenly forming below the reach of sight, and strangling her.

Effie Macalway, aged about five years, died October 30th, 1866, of typhoid fever.

Matilda Stearns, aged about eight years, died November 11th, 1866, of quick consumption. She was taken with congestion of the lungs following an attack of measles and rapidly passed into consumption.

Ada Richards, aged about nine years, died February 22d, 1867. Was taken with stroke of paralysis on the eighth of February, with symptoms of typhoid fever, but changed into inflammation of the brain, of which she died.

Mary Ann Hess, aged about six years, died February 26th, 1867, of inflammation of the brain.

William Blanchard, aged about seven years, died March 10th, 1867, of dysentery. Was treated on arrival at the Home for the itch, with which he was perfectly rank; was getting well, took cold, had the whooping cough, followed by dysentery, from which he died.

Nearly all of the children are at present in good health. During the year it became necessary to increase the size of the hospital, but the necessity for increased room no longer exists. No mention has been made of numerous cases of simple colds and coughs.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

SUPERINTENDENT

OF

PUBLIC INSTRUCTION

OF THE

STATE OF WISCONSIN,

FOR

THE YEAR ENDING AUGUST 31st, 1867.

JOHN G. McMYNN,
SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

OFFICE OF SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,
MADISON, December 10, 1867.

To His Excellency, LUCIUS FAIRCHILD,

Governor of Wisconsin :

SIR :—I have the honor to transmit, through you, to the Legislature, the Annual Report of the Department of Public Instruction, for the year ending August 31, 1867.

I am, sir, very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

JNO. G. McMYNN,
Superintendent of Public Instruction.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION.

OFFICE OF SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION
MADISON, December 10, 1867.

To the Legislature of Wisconsin :

GENTLEMEN :—In the returns made to this Department for the school year ending August 31, 1867, is found evidence of increased interest in educational affairs among the people, and of increased activity among school officers.

The duty of the State to provide public instruction for all its children is no longer questioned, and the necessity for such an administration of school affairs, as an efficient performance of this duty requires, is very generally acknowledged. Our common school system is adapted to the wants, the feelings and the habits of our people; and a wise legislation will seek to develop it in harmony with those individual rights, of which a free people are always jealous, and which a free government will always sacredly guard. Our public schools are maintained for the instruction of all, regardless of their condition in life. They have a tendency to obliterate artificial distinctions, by placing all upon the same plane of usefulness and happiness. They are public in the same sense that courts of justice are public, and common as the air and the light are common. Hence no wise legislator can attach greater importance to any other interest of the State than to education, and every measure calculated to promote it must command the approval and aid of all good men.

GENERAL STATISTICS.

Absolute accuracy cannot be expected in reports collected from over four thousand districts. District clerks are generally conscientious in the discharge of official duties, and hence we may conclude that any errors that may exist in the returns will balance each other, and that totals and averages of the statistics are for all practical purposes, substantially correct.

I.—SCHOOL-DISTRICTS.

If we count nine parts of districts as equivalent to four whole districts, the number was :

In 1867.....	4,612
In 1866.....	4,420
Increase	192

It is probable that more new districts have been formed than the returns indicate.

The new districts are offset by a consolidation of old ones. The desire to unite districts is an encouraging fact. The advantages of large districts are so many and so apparent, that few intelligent school officers fail to appreciate them. It is to be hoped that the policy of consolidation will soon supersede that of subdivision, and that public opinion will soon demand a town organization of schools, thus abolishing independent school-districts within the towns altogether. So long as we adhere to the present system of small and independent districts, we must not expect a strong and vigorous organization. There is no good reason why all our thickly settled country towns should not each have a good central grammar school, with primary schools conveniently located, the whole being managed, by a town board, with a degree of efficiency and vigor that it is impossible under existing arrangements to secure.

The number of districts which reported this year is 4,546, or 171 more than made returns in 1866, and 66 less than the whole number. As it is probable that those districts alone, which failed to maintain a school five months, neglected to report, we see that only about one district in seventy has failed to support a school during the time required by law.

II.—NUMBER OVER FOUR AND UNDER TWENTY YEARS OF AGE.

The whole number of persons, in the state, of school age, on the 31st of August, 1867, was 371,083, which is 16,566 more than were reported for 1866.

The increase in the number over four and under twenty years of age, for each of the past ten years, has been as follows :

1859	14,794
1860	10,113
1861	10,149
1862	8,923
1863	12,999
1864	8,941
1865	9,118
1866	15,493
1867	16,566

The greatest increase in one year was in 1855, the number being 31,825, and the least was in 1862, being only 8,923.

III.—NUMBER OF CHILDREN OF SCHOOL AGE RESIDING IN DISTRICTS MAINTAINING A SCHOOL FIVE OR MORE MONTHS.

This item in the reports is of the utmost importance, for it is upon it that the apportionment of the income of the school fund should be based. Town clerks should carefully examine the reports received from district clerks, and no money should be apportioned to any district that has not maintained a school at least 110 days, including legal holidays. The number reported under this heading is 330,263, which is 40,820 less than the whole number reported of school age in the state. There is reason to believe that this item of the reports is not accurate, and an opportunity will be given to town clerks to correct it before making the apportionment for 1868.

IV.—TOTAL NUMBER OF PERSONS ATTENDING THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Number under 4 years of age, (estimated,).....	2,900
Number over 20 years of age, (estimated,).....	3,469
Number over 4 and under 20 years of age,.....	233,576
Total,.....	239,945

This number is 5,680 more than the number in attendance during 1866. Of those over 4 and under 20 years of age in the state, 63 per cent. are reported as having attended school some portion of the year.

It is cause for regret to find so many children less than 4 years of age attending school. Certainly no parent of ordinary intelligence will subject his child to the irksome routine of ordinary school life before he has reached at least six years of age. Listlessness, apathy and disgust are too often the results of the restraint necessarily imposed upon the children in school; and, if teachers cannot persuade parents to keep their children at home until they are old enough to be benefited by school exercises, it is their duty to afford them facilities for play rather than for learning, and to amuse rather than to instruct them.

V.—TIME OF ATTENDANCE.

The average length of time the schools were kept open was 137 days, which is 5 days more than in 1866. With an enrolment of 239,945, the number of days possible attendance is 32,872,465, but the number of days actual school attendance is 17,275,686, or about 52 per cent. of the possible attendance; or in other words, there were, taking one day with another, 52 scholars of each 100 enrolled, in attendance at school during 137 days of the past year. Therefore the average time each scholar attended school was 71 1-4 days.

VI.—GRADED SCHOOLS.

The number of schools of two or more departments is 357. This class of schools is increasing, and no fact connected with our educational affairs is more encouraging.

The disadvantages of the practice of providing but one school for scholars of different ages and attainments are too manifest not to attract serious attention. The discomfort, and in very many cases, the physical suffering to which all, and particularly the younger scholars are subjected, call imperatively for some relief. Where there is a great disparity in the ages of the pupils, the work of education can not be carried on appropriately or progressively. Both instruction and discipline should be adapted to the age and proficiency of pupils. There are periods of development of mind and character, and each period demands the training adapted to it. The methods are based upon general principles, but they vary to correspond with the work to be done, which is determined by the progress already made.

A system of discipline adapted to advanced scholars presses with unwise severity upon the young, and the exercises appropriate to the peculiar wants and temperaments of the younger pupils will tend to endanger the habits of study and good order of the older scholars. To properly instruct young children requires the use of methods quite the opposite of those employed for those more advanced. The oral and simultaneous methods adapted to the primary school distract the attention of those who should form habits of patient application, and a school, in which there is no proper method of classification, makes no provision for the discussion, explanation and undivided attention of both teacher and scholars, without which no real progress can be made by those old enough to pursue those branches of learning requiring close and careful study.

The following, from the pen of Hon Henry Barnard, describes, in fitting language, the condition of many of our public schools. He says :

“ From the number of class and individual recitations, to be attended to during each half day, these exercises are brief, hurried, and of little practical value. They consist, for the most part, of senseless repetitions of the words of a book. Instead of being the time and place, where the real business of teaching is done, where the ploughshare of interrogation is driven down into the acquirements of each pupil, and his ability to comprehend clearly is cultivated and tested ; where the difficult principles of each lesson are developed and illustrated, and additional information imparted ; and the mind of the teacher brought in direct contact with the mind of each pupil, to arouse, interest and direct its opening powers ; instead of all this and more, the brief period passed in recitation, consists, on the part of the teacher, of hearing each individual and class, in regular order and quick succession, repeat words from a book ; and on the part of the pupils, of saying their lessons, as the operation is most significantly described by most teachers, when they summon the class to the stand. In the meantime the order of the school must be maintained, and the general business must go forward. Little children, without any authorized employment for their eyes and hands, and ever active curiosity, must be made to sit still, while every muscle is aching from suppressed activity, problems must be solved, excuses for tardiness or absence received, questions answered, whisperings allowed or suppressed, and more or less of extempore discipline administered. Were it not a most ruinous waste of precious time,—did it not involve the deadening, crushing, distorting, dwarfing of immortal faculties and noble sensibilities,—were it not an utter perversion of the noble objects for which schools are instituted, it would be difficult to conceive of a more diverting farce than an ordinary session of a large public school, whose chaotic and discordant elements have not been reduced to system by proper classification. The teacher, at least the conscientious teacher thinks it anything but a farce to him. Compelled to hurry from one study to another, requiring a knowledge of methods altogether distinct, from one recitation to another, equally brief and unsatisfactory, one requiring a liveliness of manner that he does not feel and cannot assume, and the other closeness of attention and abstraction of thought, which he cannot give amid the multiplicity and variety of cares, — from one case of discipline to another pressing on him at the same time,—he goes through the same circuit, day after day, with a dizzy brain and aching heart, and brings his school to a close with a feeling that with all his diligence and fidelity he has accomplished but little good.”

The graded school is the only means by which proper provision can be made for a proper classification of pupils, and for exercises and modes of discipline adapted to those of different ages and attainments. It would also secure greater permanency in the employment of teachers and thus, to some extent, remove an evil from which our schools so generally suffer. As most of our schools are at present managed, the good accomplished is in spite of the tendency of the system. The ‘own system of school organization will make graded schools practicable, and this efficient agency is demanded by every consideration that can influence those desirous of promoting the public good.

VII.—TEACHERS AND TEACHERS’ WAGES.

The number of teachers required to teach the schools is 5,059, and the number who have been employed during the past year is 8,357. We thus see the extent to which the teachers of our schools are changed. The consequences of these frequent changes are highly injurious. It is not an uncommon practice to employ a female teacher in summer and a male teacher in winter, and different teachers each successive summer and winter. Each successive teacher is unacquainted with the children or their parents; he is ignorant of the methods pursued by his predecessor, and has himself had but little experience in teaching, and thus his success is hazarded, the progress of the school retarded, and the confidence of his employers not secured. Weeks are lost in vain attempts to effect an organization, new methods and new regulations are disapproved, new text books are introduced and some of the scholars are put back to review their studies, and others are pushed forward into studies for which they are not prepared. Three or four months are worse than wasted, when the school closes preparatory to another change without a step of progress.

While the pay of teachers is less than it ought to be, and while many of those most competent are induced to seek employment that involves less labor and secures better compensation, there is nevertheless a steady increase in the average salaries,

The following table shows, for the past ten years: (1) the monthly wages of male teachers; (2) the monthly wages of female teachers; and (3) the ratio of the wages of female to the wages of male teachers:

Year.	Male.	Female.	Ratio per ct.
1858	$27 02	$14 92	55
1859	22 93	14 29	63
1860	24 20	15 30	63
1861	23 01	14 62	63
1862	25 82	15 82	61
1863	27 11	16 81	62
1864	32 39	19 43	60
1865	36 45	22 24	61
1866	38 63	24 05	62
1867	40 76	26 34	64

The following statement shows the number of certificates of each grade, granted to male and female teachers during the past school year:

	1st Grade.	2d G'de.	3d G'de.	Total.
Certificates of male teachers...	79	118	1,625	1,822
Certificates of female teachers..	26	165	4,868	5,059
Total.....	105	283	6,493	6,881

The number of male teachers decreased during the war, but it was supposed that the number would be relatively increased with the return of peace.

The following statement shows how far this expectation has been realized :

	1865.	1866.	1867.
Certificates granted to male teachers....	2,090	1,308	1,822
Certificates granted to female teachers..	4,992	4,806	5,059
Total	7,082	6,114	6,881

While the number of male teachers may be expected to increase, and that of female teachers to diminish relatively to the whole number employed, there is reason to believe that our primary schools will continue in charge of female teachers. No friend of education will regret that the necessities growing out of the war have demonstrated the superior fitness of women as teachers of youth. If they are well qualified by knowledge and training, their patience, tact and fine instincts peculiarly fit them to govern, influence and instruct the young.

For our grammar and high schools, however, we need, as principals, men of attainments, character, experience and skill. The work demanded in these positions is difficult, requiring a degree of executive ability, as well as a power of endurance that women seldom possess.

The demand for well qualified teachers has been greater this year than ever before. The establishment of graded schools in so many of our villages and towns has created this demand; and teachers who have furnished evidence of ability to properly conduct this class of schools are sure of permanent employment with good salaries.

The salaries paid to the principals of the public schools in our cities and larger villages range from $1,000 to $1,800.

VIII.—COUNTY SUPERINTENDENCY.

The number of schools visited by the County Superintendents, as reported, is 4,223. This is not to be confounded with the number of visits, which is much greater.

Although there exists some dissatisfaction in connection with this office, in some parts of the State, we feel confident that the objects sought by its creation have been, in some good degree secured. These objects were :

1. A better supervision of the schools by an officer having the authority and ability to improve their condition.

That this object has been secured, is generally acknowledged by those acquainted with the condition of the public schools six years ago, and familiar with their present condition. Improved methods of instruction have been introduced, and better order very generally prevails. Many of them have been well classified, and they have been graded, where circumstances permitted, so as to secure economy and efficiency in their management. Courses of study have been adopted and extended, and in many of the country towns there are facilities for acquiring an education, that could never have been secured without intelligent supervision. That there are towns where the schools are inferior to what they were before this system was adopted, is not only possible, but certain. Under the old system of town superintendency, there were some towns that secured a proper supervision of their schools, but these were the exceptions. And, that there are counties under the present system that have very inefficient Superintendents may be asserted, and perhaps proved ; but no person, who knows the work that has been done during the past year in our State by these officers, can doubt, that on the whole, all has been accomplished that could reasonably have been expected, and that we owe a debt of gratitude to our County Superintendents, for their patience, self-denial, energy, and industry, that we cannot pay.

The schools in our country towns cannot enjoy all the advantages that favor the schools in our cities and villages, but they may be improved by the same means, and among them none is more important than a searching, constant, and intelligent supervision.

2. A careful and thorough examination of teachers.

This has been secured so far as possible. The fact that so many of the teachers in our public schools are not qualified in respect to character, experience and attainments, is not the fault of the examining officer. It has been absolutely necessary to license hundreds who are illy fitted for their important work, or to close many of our schools. The inducements to engage in other and more lucrative employments are so strong as to lead many of our best teachers to abandon a calling that barely affords the means of living, and removes all hope of saving anything for the future. No other class of persons is so poorly paid, and to no other are there offered so few incentives to aim at excellence and to achieve success.

County Superintendents can not raise the standard of attainments much above that which the people demand. Those who do this are almost sure to excite an opposition that is too strong to be withstood. A few disappointed teachers with their sympathizing friends can easily effect a change in officers, and thus a premium is offered to time-serving, incompetent men, who are always ready to avail themselves of every opportunity to secure by chicanery what they cannot obtain by merit.

But, in spite of all adverse circumstances, the standard of attainments has been raised. Our teachers are better qualified than they were six years ago. In some of the counties where county superintendents have been sustained by the people, the change for the better is too marked to be questioned. Salaries have been increased, schools have been taught a longer time during the year, and teachers have found permanent employment. Incompetent men and women have been refused certificates. Character has been made a prerequisite to employment, and ability and acquirements have become the only means of retaining it.

Our experience has not been unlike that of other states, where the testimony is strong, if not unanimous, that this educational agency is a necessary part of any good school system. Hon. Newton Bateman, Superintendent of Public Instruction for Illinois, in his last biennial report, says :

“County supervision of schools is the right arm of power in our system. It can not be dispensed with. It has done more than any other agency to make our schools what they are, and its vitalizing influence is more manifest every year. More and better work has been done by it the past year than in any other year since the system was established. Some of the counties have been almost revolutionized in respect to schools and education during the past year, and the county superintendents have done it. They have visited the schools, visited the parents, held institutes, addressed the people, issued circulars, written for the press, published reports, and mightily awakened and quickened the public mind. By their influence and efforts districts have been consolidated, schools have been graded, superior teachers employed, courses of study perfected, controversies settled, school-houses built and furnished, and the whole aspect of educational affairs changed for the better. I know that these things are so, because I have seen them. I have visited many of these good and true men in the scenes of their labors, and witnessed the results that I describe. I declare my belief that the destruction or crippling of the county superintendency would be the severest blow that could fall upon our common schools."

Similar testimony can be found in the annual school reports of every state where the system has been established.

A meeting of the county superintendents of the state was held at La Crosse, on the 23d of July last, pursuant to a call issued by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. The meeting was harmonious in its action and profitable to those in attendance. The experience of the more successful was made instructive to those needing advice and encouragement; and plans for work, methods of conducting examinations, and measures calculated to awaken interest among parents and teachers were discussed.

The resolutions adopted by the convention will be found among the proceedings, which are published in the appendix.

IX.—SCHOOL-HOUSES.

The number of public school-houses in the state is 4567, which is 111 more than the number reported last year. Of these 451 are built of stone or brick, showing an increase of 41 during the past year. The number reported with outhouses in good condition is 1867, or 241 more than in 1866. The number with sites containing one acre or more is 946, while 3621 sites are each less than one acre in size. The number of sites well enclosed is 903, or about one in five. The number of scholars that can be accommodated in the public schools is 259,284.

Many of the school buildings erected during the past year, in design, arrangement and location, show an increasing appreciation of the art of architecture, and thus furnish evidence of true social progress. The educating influence of public buildings is never overlooked by an intelligent community, and the vandalism that mars or injures them is as much an effect as a cause of indifference toward that art that has always marked a high civilization.

The following cities and villages contain each a school-house and site, valued at $10,000 or more :

Janesville, highest valuation of school house,.....	$50,000 00
Fond du Lac,.....do.....do.....do.....	34,000 00

Mineral Point,.....do.....do.....do.....	10,000 00
Portage City,.....do.....do.....do.....	10,000 00

There are school-houses in Racine, Geneva, Lake Mills and Elkhorn, not reported, valued at more than $10,000 each, and steps have been taken to erect buildings at Baraboo, Oshkosh and White-water, which will cost from $15,000 to $30,000 each.

The amounts annually expended for school buildings have increased since the close of the war, and furnish evidence of that deepening interest that promises so much for the future.

For the years from 1861 to 1864 inclusive, the average amount annually expended was $86,203.; but, the amount levied in 1865, as reported in 1866, was $174,903. The amount for the year ending August 31, 1867, is $349,594.

These figures tell in emphatic language the lesson that the people have learned by the terrible civil conflict through which they have passed. While the country was struggling for existence, they could only afford a tax of $86,203, annually, but, no sooner had peace smiled, than they doubled this amount, and, the next year, more than quadrupled it.

The cash value of school-houses and school-house sites as reported for 1866 and 1867, is as follows :

	1866.	1867.
Cash value of school-houses.....	$1,763,917 00	$2,189,159 00
Cash value of sites.....	277,727 00	333,567 00
Total.....	$2,041,644 00	$2,522,726 00

X.—SCHOOL APPARATUS.

The value of school apparatus, as reported, is $84,432. Many of our schools are furnished with globes, outline maps and charts, while some are provided with apparatus for illustrating the truths of chemistry and natural philosophy.

XI.—SCHOOL DISTRICT LIBRARIES.

The returns show that the present library system is a failure, so far as most of the districts of the State are concerned. The attention of the Legislature was called to this subject in the report from this department, for 1866. By a comparison of the returns for the past two years it is obvious that we cannot hope to secure the benefits of one of the most efficient educating agencies of the present day, until we provide for town libraries.

	1866.	1867.
Number of volumes added during the year.....	926	713
Amount expended for libraries during the year.....	$1,149	$1,098
Whole number of volumes in the district libraries..	26,667	23,758
Cash value of school district libraries.....	$21,893	$19,563

The adoption of the town organization for the management of the public schools would lead to the establishment of town libraries, but until this system is secured there is little probability that the annual returns will show any increased interest in providing suitable books for the young.

XII.—PRIVATE SCHOOLS.

In those villages and cities where the public schools are well conducted, there are few "private schools," and the numbers in attendance are annually diminishing, but where the public schools are taught by incompetent teachers, or where they are crowded, or under inefficient supervision, parents naturally provide for the education of their children by individual enterprise.

While any good school, public or private, should be sustained, we think that true educational progress is usually measured by the degree of interest manifested in supporting the public schools, and in almost any community, the public school, if it is as good as the private school, will push the latter from the ground. The true friends of education will hail with sincere gratification all good schools, and will labor to make the public schools so good that private schools cannot successfully compete with them.

The returns indicate a considerable increase in the number of these schools, but it is believed that the whole number was not correctly reported in 1866 :

	1866.	1867.
Whole number of private schools,	319	386
Number of teachers,	390	571
Number of pupils registered,	9,760	18,403

The returns in regard to average daily attendance are entirely unreliable and it is difficult to obtain accurate information in regard to this class of schools.

XIII.—ACADEMIES.

The returns for the past year do not indicate any increase in the number of the academies, and the receipts from tuition are somewhat diminished. "Milton Academy," so widely and so favorably known has become Milton College, and is carrying forward the same good work in which it has been so long engaged. The few institutions of this class in our state, are among our best schools. They are to our country towns what the High Schools are to the cities. They afford to many the advantages for obtaining a good education, which the ungraded public school cannot provide, and every friend of education would rejoice to see them more prosperous than they are.

The following statement is compiled from the returns made in accordance with chapter 27 of the General Laws of 1866 :

Number of academies,.....	9
Number of students during the year,.....	1,495
Cash value of land,.....	$18,000
Cash value of buildings,.....	114,800
Amount of income except tuition,.....	1,687
Amount of tuition fees,.....	15,232

XIV.—COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES.

The prosperity of our colleges and universities is one of the most cheering signs of educational progress. Although they have not been the objects of a munificence so princely as have some of the colleges of the older states, yet they have been able to increase their corps of instructors, erect new buildings, add new departments of study and provide better laboratories and libraries for the use of their students.

The following statement embraces the principal statistics reported to this department as required by law :

The Institutions from which reports have been received are Beloit College, Lawrence University, Milton College, Prairie du Chien College, Racine College, Wisconsin Female College, and the State University.

....do.....do....Soldiers' Orphans' Home.....	280
Total	261,871

If the numbers in the Reform School, the benevolent institutions of the State, and the Orphan Asylums of Milwaukee are added to the foregoing, we find that at least 262,000 of the youth of the State have received more or less school instruction during the past year. We may, from data collected in the reports, form an estimate of the amount of absenteeism.

The whole number of persons over 4 and under 20 years of age in the State is 371,083. From this number let us deduct for the blind, deaf and dumb, insane, idiotic and others unable, from various causes, to attend school in any one year, 10 per cent. This reduces the number to 333,775. From this number we have to deduct those over 4 and under 20 years of age, who have attended the public schools, together with those who attended private schools, Academies, Colleges, the Normal School, and those in the Soldiers' Orphans' Home, the Reform School and the other public and private benevolent institutions in the State, leaving an aggregate of 255,631, which shows that 78,344 persons over 4 and under 20 years of age have not been in school during the past year.

But as no child should attend school until he is 6 years of age, and as very few can after they are 17, let us ascertain the number between these ages. The number over 4 and under 6 years of age together with the number over 17 and less than 20 years of age is 31.26 per cent. of the number between the ages of 4 and 20 years: hence the number over 6 and less than 17 years of age, who have not attended any of the schools reported to this Department during the past year is 53,858. After making liberal deductions for those attending private and denominational schools not reported; for those living where public schools are not yet organized; and for those enumerated, but whose parents have not been able to send them to school during the past year, or who are receiving their education at home, we must conclude that at least 25,000 persons over 6 and under 17 years of age, who ought to have been attending the schools during the last year have not attended them a single day. We are not to infer from this deduction that so large a number are year after year growing up in ignorance, for some of these will doubtless attend school next year; but, in whatever light we view the fact, we cannot escape the conviction that it is from this part of our population that our criminals will come, and that to punish and reform them then, will cost much more than it would to educate them now.

FINANCIAL STATISTICS.

The amount received during the year ending August 31, 1867, for the support of public schools, as reported by county superintendents, is as follows :

Deducting from total receipts for 1867, the amount on hand August 31, 1866, and the amount of income of the school fund as reported, and we find the amount raised by tax for public schools, in 1866, to be $1,503,378. This is $391,059 more than was raised the preceding year.

The following statement shows (1) the aggregate valuation of the property of the state from 1857 to 1866, inclusive, (2) the amounts annually raised by tax for the support of public schools, and, (3) the number of mills raised for each dollar of valuation

II.—EDUCATIONAL FUNDS.

The productive educational trust funds of the State were, on the 30th day of September, 1867, as follows :

Common School Fund.....	$2,096,307 60
University Fund.....	193,884 88
Normal School Fund.....	602,791 92
Agricultural College Fund.....	18,417 00
Total.....	$2,911,401 40

These funds are drawing interest at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, and are invested as follows:

In certificates of sales.....	$726,647 86
In mortgages.....	284,553 54
In certificates of State indebtedness.....	1,877,400 00
In Dane county bonds.....	22,800 00
Total.....	$2,911,401 40

By the courtesy of J. A. Bate, Esq., chief clerk of the Land Office, I am enabled to furnish the following statement of the non-productive educational trust funds, consisting of lands owned by the State, and for sale, September 30, 1867:

Belonging to the School Fund.....	413,897.22 acres.
....do....do...University Fund.....	14,991.77 acres.
....do....do...Normal School Fund.....	480,520.79 acres.
....do....do...Agricultural College Fund.....	223,869.85 acres.
Total lands for sale.....	1,133,279.63 acres.

There are in addition to the foregoing, 70,000 acres of land to be equally divided between the Drainage and Normal School Funds, which have not yet been brought into market.

III.—SCHOOL FUND.

The school fund consists of—

1. The proceeds of all lands that have been or hereafter may be granted by the United States to this state for educational purposes, (except the lands granted for the purposes of a University.
2. All moneys, and the clear proceeds of all property that may accrue to the state by forfeiture or escheat.
3. All moneys that may be paid as an equivalent for exemption from military duty.
4. The clear proceeds of all fines collected in the several counties for any breach of the penal laws.

All moneys arising from any grant to the state where the purposes of such grant are not specified.

6. The five hundred thousand acres of land granted by Congress under an act approved September 4, 1841; and
7. The five per centum of the net proceeds of the sales of public lands within the state.

The productive School Fund, on the 30th of September, 1867, was as follows :

Amount due on certificates of sale,.....	$535,015 56
Amount due on mortgages,.....	166,392 04
Certificates of State indebtedness,.....	1,394,900 00
Total.....	$2,096,307 60

This amount is $18,584 57 less than the amount reported last year, but as an overpayment of $80,703 25 was included in the productive fund of 1866, and which has since been refunded, there is an actual increase of the fund, (after deducting $352 01 paid to counties for taxes collected by the state, and $1,047 78 refunded for overpayments in the transactions of the past year) of $35,118 68— and there remains a balance not yet invested of $31,869 25.

The amount due on certificates of sales is $19,335 18 less than was reported last year, and the amount due on mortgages is $26,249 39 less. These changes will be understood from the following statement :

Amount due on certificates of sale, Sept 30, 1866	$554,350 74

If to the productive school fund, as reported by the Secretary of State, be added one-fourth of the productive normal school fund, the income of which is annually apportioned with the income of the school fund, the amount of the fund, interest on which at 7 per cent. will be apportioned in June, 1868, is as follows :

Reported by Secretary of State.....	$2,096,307 60
Amount due school fund on account of five per cent. fund...	101,262 33

The school fund will increase slowly in the future. It should be increased by every practicable means. It is believed that the amount received from fines for violation of penal laws is less than it would be, were the laws so framed as to secure to the fund what justly belongs to it. It is difficult to understand how only $2,846 08 was obtained from this source during the past year, and still more difficult to see why several of the most populous counties in the state have not contributed any part of this small amount. The attention of the Legislature is respectfully called to the statement of "fines" received from the several counties, which is published in the report of the State Treasurer, for the last fiscal year.

IV.—SCHOOL FUND INCOME.

The amount apportioned by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and certified to the Secretary of State, on the 15th of June, 1867, was $166,710 41.

The apportionment was forty-seven cents per scholar. A detailed statement will be found in the appendix.

The annual apportionments, from 1849 to 1867 inclusive, are as follows :

Years.	No. of Children.	Apportionment.
1849	70,457
1850	92,647	3 8-10 cents per scholar.

The apportionment for each year is made upon the returns of the preceding year ; hence the amount apportioned for any one year will be found by multiplying the number of children reported the preceding year by the number of cents per scholar apportioned that year.

The following is a statement of the receipts and disbursements of the school fund income as reported by the Secretary of State for the year ending September 30, 1867.

IV.—NORMAL SCHOOL FUND.

The productive portion of this fund consists of the proceeds of the sale of lands set apart for the support of Normal Schools, by chapter 537 of the General Laws of 1865, and on the 30th day of September, 1867, was as follows :

Amount due on certificates of sale.....	$110,022 42
Amount due on mortgages.....	111,269 50
	<hr/>

Under the provisions of chapter 116, of the General Laws of 1866, the sum of $10,000 was transferred from the income of the Normal School Fund for the purpose of completing the building at Platteville, and the same amount for the same purpose at Whitewater. Chapter 118 of the General Laws of 1867 authorized the transfer of $8,000 in addition to Whitewater normal school and of $5,000 to Platteville normal school. As this money will all be required for the purpose indicated, the transfer has been made on the books of the office of the Secretary of State.

VI.—WHITEWATER NORMAL SCHOOL BUILDING FUND.

Under an arrangement with the Board of Regents of Normal Schools, the city of Whitewater deposited $25,000 with the State Treasurer, for the purpose of securing the location of a Normal School at that place, and for the purpose of erecting a suitable building. The legislature by chapter 116 of the General Laws of 1866, and chapter 118 of the General Laws of 1867, authorized the transfer of $18,000 from the Normal School Fund Income for the same purpose. In this manner, the receipts into this fund are accounted for.

The following is a statement of the account :

VII.—PLATTEVILLE NORMAL SCHOOL BUILDING FUND.

The legislature by the provisions of chapter 116 of the general laws of 1866, and of chapter 118 of the general laws of 1867, authorized the use of $15,000 of the Normal School Fund Income for the completion of the buildings at Platteville. This amount has been transferred to this account.

The annual statements of the condition of the University Fund, the Agricultural College Fund, and the incomes of these funds will be found in connection with the report of the President of the Board of Regents of the University, which is published in the appendix.

VIII.—WEBSTER'S DICTIONARY.

The number of copies of Webster's Dictionary purchased of Messrs. G. & C. Merriam, of Springfield, Massachusetts, under authority of chapter 16 and chapter 106 of the General Laws of 1867, is one hundred and fifty. Of these one hundred and twenty-nine copies have been distributed to districts heretofore unsupplied, and thirteen copies have been sold to districts in accordance with the provisions of chapter 32 of the General Laws of 1867.

Receipts from the proper officers are on file in this office for all distributed to unsupplied districts, except for those sent out so recently, that sufficient time has not elapsed to secure the return of proper vouchers. It is believed that all have reached those to whom they were sent. For those sold receipts are on file, the money having been paid into the State Treasury according to law.

There are eight copies on hand, and an appropriation sufficient to purchase one hundred and fifty copies is recommended.

A detailed statement of the number distributed and of the number sold, and of the counties, towns and school districts to which they were sent, will be found in the appendix.

IX.—OFFICE LIBRARY.

The Library of this Department contains a complete set of Legislative Documents of the State, and about 800 volumes, consisting of reference books, school books, reports and miscellaneous works of an educational character. There is an annual appropriation of $50 for the purchase of such educational works as the Superintendent of Public Instruction may select.

The amount received on account of the Office Library Fund, since I have been in office, is $231.79, and the amount expended is $167.41, leaving a balance on the 10th day of December, of $64.-38. The annual appropriation for 1867 has not yet been drawn. A detailed statement of receipts and disbursements is given in the appendix.

X.—TEXT BOOKS.

The following comparative statement for the past two years, shows the number of districts in which the text books most used in the State are found :

The foregoing statement is not strictly accurate, as the school books used in the cities and larger villages are not, in all cases, reported. In the annual report for 1866, from this department, the following remarks were made, which I desire to repeat :

“ As most of the books in the foregoing list are suitable for our public schools, it is recommended that no changes be made where they are now in use, except so far as the classification of particular schools may require ; and that school officers should, in those cases where no text books have been officially adopted, carefully select from those now in general use in the state, and adopt such as, after due examination, they shall prefer.”

I have endeavored to prevent needless changes in text books, and in my official action I have kept this object steadily in view. To what extent this policy has been successful, is indicated by the foregoing statement for the past two years. I am aware that this policy does not meet the approval of those who desire to monopolize the school book business of the State, and that it has, in some instances, subjected me to a covert and strong opposition, but I feel confident that those, whose interests it was my official duty to protect, will approve my course when it is tested by its legitimate results.

NORMAL SCHOOLS.

The State Normal School, at Platteville, has been in operation since the 9th of October, 1866. No other normal school is yet opened, but it is believed that the one located at Whitewater will be ready to receive students as soon as next spring. The Board of Regents of Normal Schools have not yet commenced the erection of buildings at Oshkosh, Sheboygan or Stoughton, but they have determined to commence the building at Oshkosh as soon as the 1st of September, 1868, and that at Stoughton by the first of May, 1869.

The development of our normal school system is the most difficult educational problem that presents itself for solution at the present time. To make these schools promote the interests of public education, to so conduct them as to secure for them the confidence of the people, to so manage them as to train teachers in them for the common schools; to guard against the tendency to convert them into academies or high schools, to render them so attractive and so efficient as to bring large numbers of teachers under their influence, and to carry them on with such economy as to keep their expenses within the income provided for their support, will demand the watchful care of the people, the heartiest co-operation of the Legislature, and the greatest discretion and wisdom of the Board appointed to manage them.

They may be well attended, the discipline may be excellent, and their teachers well qualified, classes may graduate with honor and the people may cherish a just pride in the attainments of those who have pursued their courses of study; in fact, they may be excellent colleges, but if they are not training schools for teachers, and if everything else be not kept subordinate to the specific object for which they were founded, the result will be disastrous, not only to these schools, but to our whole educational system. The success of normal schools in other States—while it has been such as to warrant a hope that the policy we have inaugurated, may be successfully carried out—has not been so marked and so uniform as to assure us that we shall not encounter difficulties that prudence, forecast and energy alone will enable us to overcome.

The report of the Board of Regents of Normal Schools, made in accordance with section 10, chapter 116, of the General Laws of 1866, is herewith submitted, and to it the attention of the legislature is respectfully called, for a “full and detailed account of the doings of the Board, and of all their expenditures and of all moneys received.”

STATE UNIVERSITY.

The people of the State feel a deep interest in the prosperity of the State University, and the recent action of the Regents in reorganizing it is watched with earnest attention. The legislature, at its last session, in obedience to public opinion, increased its income so as to enable those, having the University in charge, to provide instruction in agriculture, mining, engineering and other industrial arts. The knowledge necessary to the development of our material resources is imperatively demanded, and to the College of Arts in our State University the people are turning to find it.

Our State is rich in its soil, its forests and its mines, but the hand of intelligent industry is required to make the riches available. The curriculum of the University and the sympathies and efforts of its officers and instructors must be in harmony with the progress of industrial science, or we shall fail to secure the benefits anticipated.

Under the management of the President of the University lately appointed, we hopefully and confidently look to see those branches of knowledge, that relate to agriculture and the mechanic arts, made prominent in the University course, and we believe that he brings to his great work that enthusiasm, experience and energy necessary to command success.

The annual report of the President of the Board of Regents of the University is, by permission of the Governor, published in connection with the report from this Department, and to it reference may be made for information in regard to the management of the Institution for the past year.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTES.

Institutes have been held in thirty-three counties during the year ending August 31, 1867. The number held is forty-two. These were attended by 1,601 teachers. They were generally conducted by the County Superintendents assisted by teachers and other friends of education. The influence of these institutes on the communities in which they were held and upon those who attended them, has been beneficial in every respect.

By chapter 30 of the General Laws of 1867, the Board of Regents of Normal Schools are authorized to provide for holding teachers' institutes; and acting under the provisions of this act they appointed a committee, at a meeting held March 20, 1867, with authority to aid in organizing teachers' institutes by providing suitable instructors, and auditing such accounts for expenses as they may authorize any person acting under their direction to incur. The amount appropriated for each institute was a sum not exceeding fifty dollars, and the whole amount placed subject to the control of the committee was $2,000 per annum.

The committee has not employed any person to hold institutes, but has allowed such accounts presented by County Superintendents, as were accompanied by vouchers showing that the amounts had been appropriated in the manner contemplated by law. It is believed that this action of the Board has been judicious, and that it is in the right direction.

It is, however, believed that the interests of education demand that the Board shall inaugurate an efficient system of county teachers' institutes. It is a mistake to suppose that for years to come, our Normal Schools will directly benefit the great body of our teachers. Comparatively few of those who teach, attend them, although number is annually increasing. The majority will not spend the time required to learn the better methods of the Normal School. Indeed, the institute is needed to lead both people and teachers to appreciate the Normal Schools. By presenting its methods of teaching, explaining its modes of discipline and arousing all who attend the institute, it is really the agency through which the Normal School may be made more useful. A desire for better qualifications on the part of teachers, and for better qualified teachers on the part of the people may be excited by institute exercises, and satisfied by the Normal Schools.

The institute is efficient just in proportion to the culture and power of those who conduct it. Comparatively little instruction can be given in the branches taught in the public schools; but, the art of teaching can be taught, and its theory can be elucidated, so that all shall see that a mere knowledge of books is but a small part of what a teacher must have, in order to do his work. If possible, those having charge of our institutes should be men of wisdom as well as knowledge, of power as well as ability. Such men cannot be obtained except for definite objects. They must be well paid and their success must not be hazarded by want of a well settled policy. We believe that conducted by men of the right stamp, the institute may be made to vitalize our whole school system. All our educational institutions would participate in the benefits it would confer.

For detailed information in regard to Teachers' Institutes during the past school year, reference may be made to the appendix.

STATE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

The association held its Fifteenth Annual Session at La Crosse, commencing on the 23d of July, and continuing three days. The Association is composed of the leading educational men of the state, and at its annual meetings addresses are delivered, essays read, and important educational questions are discussed. The meetings are generally well attended, and teachers return to their schools with enlarged views of their duties and responsibilities, and with minds refreshed and hearts strengthened. At these meetings were first proposed and discussed some of the most important educational measures that have passed into our educational history. The County Superintendentcy, the Normal School System, and the numerous amendments that have so much improved our school laws, were here first examined and recommended.

The meeting at La Crosse was interesting and profitable; and the unbounded hospitality of the people of this enterprising city rendered this session of the Association the most pleasant ever held. The citizens of La Crosse spared neither time, effort nor money to promote the comfort and pleasure of all in attendance.

The Association was addressed by Rev. H. M. Thompson, of Nashota; Professor O. M. Baker, of Milwaukee. President of the Association; Professor E. F. Hobart, of Beloit; Professor O. R. Smith, of Janesville; Hon. J. L. Pickard, City Superintendent of Schools, Chicago; Governor Fairchild, and Prof. B. M. Reynolds, of Madison; Professor G. S. Albee, of Kenosha; Hon. H. M. Dunnell, State Superintendent, Minnesota; Ira F. Duvoll, City Superintendent of Schools, St. Louis; Professor H. D. McCarty, Leavenworth, Kansas; President W. C. Whitford, Milton; Hon. J. M. Gregory, Regent Illinois Industrial University; Rev. S. Farrington, Janesville; and President Chadbourne, of the State University.

A synopsis of the proceedings of the Association will be found in the appendix, and the recommendations made are believed to represent, in the main, the prevailing educational sentiment of the State.

OFFICE WORK, TRAVEL, &c.

Under authority of chapter 67, of the General Laws of 1866, an edition of eight thousand copies of a school code, containing all the school laws of the State, together with necessary instructions and forms, plans for school-houses, etc., was published in September last.

An effort was made to explain the meaning of the law, so as to prevent occasions of difficulty in the management of school affairs, and to adapt the instructions to the practical wants of those not always accustomed to the ordinary forms of business, and not often able to obtain legal advice.

Each section of the law is followed by a commentary as concise as practicable, and it is believed that the instructions are full enough to embrace most of the difficulties that are likely to arise, and it is hoped, definite enough to afford aid in removing them. Numerous references are made to the decisions of courts of other States upon questions that have not been decided by the Supreme Court of our State, and it is believed that this new feature of the code will be received with general favor.

A copy was sent to each district clerk, each town clerk and each county superintendent.

The preparation of the School Code, occupying considerable portions of the spring and summer months, and business connected with the Normal Schools and State University, have prevented me from visiting as many different counties of the state as I should otherwise have been able to visit.

I have attended institutes held at Baraboo, Beaver Dam, Bristol, Fond du Lac, Janesville, Juneau, Mineral Point and Union Grove, and wherever I have been, I have examined the schools, and so far as practicable, addressed the people and teachers upon educational matters.

The number of appeal cases decided during the past year has been larger than usual. Up to the date of this report, forty-eight cases have been acted on, which is more than twice the average number for the preceding five years. As the law requires prompt action on these cases, their consideration often interferes with work outside the office.

Besides the decisions rendered, a large number of opinions have been given, some of them involving much care and labor.

More than two thousand letters have been written in answer to those received, and the number of reports, circulars, blanks, &c., sent out is much larger than during any previous year. Most of the labor, growing out of the correspondence of the office, has been performed by the Assistant State Superintendent, Hon. A. J. Craig.

For more than a year past, I have been Secretary of the Board of Regents of Normal Schools. The labor of recording the proceedings, keeping the accounts, serving on committees and conducting the correspondence has been considerable; and meetings of the Board have taken time that I would have preferred to spend in attending teachers' institutes. I have also, as a Regent of the University, in common with other members of the University Board, been obliged to give more than the usual time to its meetings, on account of work connected with its reorganization.

SCHOOL LAWS.

The school laws of the State, as embodied in the school code, are believed to be, in the main, as well adapted to the wants of the people as they can be, until the Legislature shall see fit to provide for a town organization of the schools. The amendments made at the last session have proved of great value.

It has been suggested by some of our best teachers and County Superintendents, that such a change in the law relating to teacher's certificates, as will entitle the person holding a third grade certificate, to teach in any town of the county in which the same is granted, is desirable.

In case a school officer neglects or refuses to perform his duty, it is practically impossible to remove him under the law as it now is, and as there are no penalties attached to violations of duty, except in a few cases, the interests of education are frequently disregarded with impunity. Some provision that will secure a more prompt and faithful discharge of duty on the part of those selected by the people to attend to school affairs, is respectfully recommended.

The applications by cities, villages and towns for special acts of incorporation for school purposes, have become so numerous that a general law under which any city, village or town can submit the question of a local school organization to a vote of the inhabitants is recommended. Such a law, providing that any town adopting it should be exempt from the operations of the general school law, except in regard to the requirements relating to reports, statistics and taxation, in order to share in the annual apportionment of the income of the school fund, would be approved by the people, and would facilitate the establishment of graded schools.

In the opinion of many of our best school officers and teachers the time has come for the Legislature to provide a State Board of examination for ascertaining and recognizing the attainments and qualifications of such teachers as by a successful experience have shown their fitness for their honorable avocation.

The State ought to distinguish those who are eminent in the profession of teaching, by granting them state certificates and relieving them from the humiliating necessity of appearing frequently for examination before those who are their inferiors in attainments, experience and ability to teach. The influence of state certificates, given by a board of competent men, would be beneficial upon those who are just entering upon the work of teaching, and would encourage a class of men and women to whom society is under every obligation that gratitude can impose. I earnestly ask the legislature to take this matter into careful consideration—for I know that a law providing some suitable recognition of eminent service in teaching would be regarded with great favor by our teachers and would be generally approved by the people.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION.

It is estimated that, during the past year, at least 25,000 persons over six and under seventeen years of age, residing in the state, have not attended school. Of this number, at least 20,000 are growing up in ignorance, and therefore forming those vicious habits that will make them useless, if not dangerous, to society. An evil of such magnitude is calculated to arrest the attention of thoughtful men; and, hence it is that many advocate a law that shall secure to every child, possessed of ability to learn, so much education as shall fit him to properly discharge his duties as a citizen. While no one supposes that mere instruction will always prevent crime and pauperism, yet education—the training of hand and head and heart—will reduce them to the minimum, and hence it is the only agency we know that will protect society from their terrible effects.

No objection can be made to a law requiring the parent to provide shelter, food and clothing for his children; but, to starve the mind is not less wicked than to starve the body. To require the attendance of children at school may be a violation of the individual rights of parents, but to enforce education by compelling parents to instruct and train their children so as to fit them to be useful to society is quite a different thing. To require for every child a good education is not the same as requiring that every child shall have the education the State has provided for him. The State may leave to parents to obtain the education where and how they please, simply providing that all shall have the means within their power of obtaining such as is demanded. This removes the subject from the battle-field of sects and parties, and infringes upon no rights of the individual.

That a law may be framed so as to be unobjectionable and yet require the proper instruction and training of all children there can be no doubt. Says John Stuart Mill, "The instrument for enforcing the law could be no other than public examinations, extending to all children, and beginning at an early age. An age might be fixed at which every child must be examined to ascertain if he is able to read. If a child proves unable, the father, unless he has some sufficient ground of excuse, might be subjected to a moderate fine, to be worked out, if necessary, by his labor. * * * Once in every year the examination should be renewed, with a gradually extending range of subjects, so as to make the universal acquisition, and what is more, retention, of a certain minimum of general knowledge, virtually compulsory. Beyond that minimum, there should be voluntary examinations on all subjects, at which all who come up to a certain standard of proficiency might claim a certificate."

That those who advocate compulsory education have the best interests of society in view there is no reasonable doubt. Whether public opinion demands enactments that shall secure it is for the Legislature to consider.

EDUCATION OF FEEBLE MINDED CHILDREN.

To complete the circle of benevolent institutions founded by the State, and to provide for the instruction and training of a class of persons whose deplorable condition excites the deepest sympathies of those whose attention has been directed to their needs, there should be established, as soon as practicable, an asylum for the education of feeble minded children. That unfortunate class, usually known as idiots, can be, in many cases, so trained and taught as to become useful members of society, and there is scarcely one who cannot be benefited. As we find them here and there in our State, they are without care, and in many cases, without protection ; sometimes the sport of thoughtless children, and too often the pests of society, exerting a depraving influence over the young which subsequent instruction can with difficulty counteract. These depraved and helpless beings are on our hands, and it is our duty to render their existence harmless to society, if we cannot make it desirable to themselves. While we have provided for the orphan, the blind and the deaf and dumb, we have entirely neglected the most unfortunate class towards whom benevolence can be shown. I feel it is hardly necessary to call the attention of the Legislature to the condition of these persons, for we cannot doubt that the people of the State desire that provision should be made for taking that care of them that Christianity requires.

TOWN ORGANIZATION OF SCHOOLS.

That the present independent local district system is not satisfactory to those most interested in a successful administration of our educational affairs is so true as to be generally admitted. Were it not true that the success of any system depends more upon the intelligence and energy of its agents than upon the machinery of its structure, we might almost despair of progress under our present school organization. Still, it is not wise to argue that, because a system that is theoretically bad may be so wisely administered as to be productive of good, it therefore is unwise to change it for a better.

The defects of our present school district system are radical, and, without a change, irremediable. The experience of the American people in the management of public affairs has demonstrated the Town to be the true unit. To a certain extent this unit is recognized in our system. Town Boards of Supervisors have power to divide their respective towns into school districts, in such manner as they may deem proper. They may alter boundaries of districts ; annex a part of one to another, unite several into one, or divide one into several. Their authority is limited only by the right of appeal to the Department of Public Instruction. They divide funds and property in case districts are annulled; and thus, in several respects, we have the Town District system in operation in our State.

Instead, however, of carrying out this principle, and providing a town school board to manage the school affairs, we have created from three to ten other boards in each of the towns, to which the management of the schools is entrusted. Each of these district boards has power :

1. To establish and keep in operation, for at least five months during the year, such schools as may be required to accommodate children over four and under twenty years of age, in their district.
2. When authorized by a vote of the district, to purchase or lease school-house sites, to purchase or build school-houses, and to keep them in repair.
3. To expend the money belonging to the district and to keep an account of receipts and disbursements.
4. To adopt and enforce all needful rules and regulations for the government, instruction and management of their school.
5. To employ teachers and fix the amount of their compensation.
6. To adopt text books, designate the course of study and to visit and examine the school.
7. To provide fuel, furniture, apparatus and whatever is necessary to the good of the school.

These and other duties imposed upon District Boards by law, show that they are charged with the most important interests of the people. Their duties are difficult, demanding for their proper discharge, high character, general intelligence, broad views, solid judgment, public spirit, integrity and refinement. The first thing that strikes the mind in examining our present system in the light of these facts, is the difficulty of finding men to act as school officers who possess the necessary qualifications. Under existing arrangements this is practically impossible. The present system requires too many officers. If we assume five as the average number of districts in each town of the state, we have, counting the Town Supervisors and the Town Clerk, nineteen school officers for each town, or more than fifteen thousand in all. We have, then, one school officer for every twenty-five children over four and under twenty years of age. It would seem that such a reduplication of offices is entirely needless. It certainly seems to be in direct conflict with the usual methods of doing business. It will not stand the test of common sense. Nineteen officers to manage any other branch of public business for a town would be declared to be at least three times as many as necessary. Every man knows that one third the number would manage the educational affairs of a town three times well.

Hon. Newton Bateman, Superintendent of Public Instruction of Illinois, in his Sixth Biennial Report, speaking of the high qualifications needed in school officers, says :

“Are nineteen such men to be obtained for these positions in every township of Illinois? It is idle to think of it. If there are five, the State is rich indeed. I do not know how many there are; but this we know, that in every township, as in every community, there is among the citizens a graduated scale of competency and excellence, descending from the best down to the worst, and that, beginning at the top, the fewer we take for our committee, or board, the better will be its average quality. A township that can not furnish nineteen men fit for school officers, might furnish five. Or if the five even, are not what they should be, it is still self-evident that their average fitness will be greater than when diluted by the accession of fourteen more, each and all of whom are inferior to any one of the five.

“The pernicious consequences incident to the defect of our local system may all be epitomized by the statement that it necessitates the elevation to the important offices of trustees and directors, of many indifferent and incompetent men; of men who either care little for common schools, or who have not the knowledge or ability to do much for them. It clogs, encumbers, and deadens the system; dragging in its train the evils of misjudgment, mismanagement, inefficiency, and demoralization. And there is no remedy, without a radical change of plan.”

But our present system requires not only a needless number of officers, but it also requires a corresponding number of public meetings and elections. These involve time and expenses of various kinds that may in part be estimated, but, they give rise to difficulties, that, in hundreds of instances, completely cripple the public schools, and the loss arising from which cannot be told.

The able Report from which I have just quoted, presents this point with such force, and it so well describes the experience of this Department, that I beg to call attention to the following extract :

“The effect of this state of things hardly needs to be described. In the first place it makes an unreasonable demand upon the time of the people, to attend so many elections and meetings for voting purposes. A great majority of the voters are farmers and mechanics, and persons engaged in other industrial pursuits, who can ill afford to leave their work so many days every year, in addition to the time spent at the numerous general elections, State, county and town. They feel it vexatious and harrassing to have to quit their private business and pursuits so often for such purposes. It has a tendency to make them sour and unfriendly towards the whole system, to be dragged so frequently to the polls, and to be compelled to mingle in scenes for which most of them have no relish.

“It must be noted, too, that the time necessarily spent in attending the meetings and voting, is often but a small part of that lost in connection with these frequent elections. In proportion to the increase of such local voting conventions, is the number and acrimony of neighborhood disputes and quarrels, Parties are formed, and rivalries and jealousies are engendered, often as bitter and virulent as those which rage on wider fields of action, and in more important contests. Indeed, it often seems to me that the spirit of feud and faction is hottest and most implacable, in proportion to the fewness of the belligerents, and the nothingness of the matter in dispute. Certainly, I never wish to deal with contestants more rancorous, in contests more trivial, than have arisen out of differences of opinion among the inhabitants of school districts. But the point is, that the consideration necessary to form a right judgment concerning the many questions to be voted on, and especially the numerous conferences, excited disputations and pertinacious efforts put forth to carry a pet measure or defeat an opponent, consume far more time than that actually spent in voting; so that the objection to so many elections on the score of the time required and involved, is really one of no small importance.

“ It follows, in the second place, that many of these elections are attended by a mere handful of persons; that others go by default—and that in a still greater number, the business is done in a very careless and hasty manner. It is rare indeed that one-half of the qualified voters of a school-district are present at the elections; not seldom there are barely enough to organize; while in many instances, every year, and from year to year, the day of election comes and goes, unnoticed and unregarded.

“ But the most serious evils resulting from so many petty elections, so scantily attended and hurriedly conducted, are the ill-advised measures adopted; the incompetent men elected; and the endless wranglings and controversies growing out of the irregular and illegal manner in which the elections are managed and the returns made. Summoned from their industrial pursuits, upon what many of them consider very trivial business, the inhabitants hurry to the place of meeting, in no amiable mood, and hurry through the work in hand, in a mechanical and indifferent sort of way, intent only upon hurrying back home again as fast as possible. Of course, the worst things are liable to be done, and the best things to be left undone. The most unfortunate sites are liable to be selected for school-houses, the most unsuitable building plans to be adopted, and wrong action to be taken in respect to taxation, extension of schools, and other questions of vital moment to the educational prosperity of the district. Or, if the meeting is for the election of officers, the same causes operate to endanger the defeat of the best men in the district. Indifference, or the pressure of business, keeps away those who would favor good teachers, good schools, and liberal educational endowments; while those, if any, who are opposed to each and all of these things, muster at the polls in full force. Once in office, down goes a school policy which it may have taken years to build up, and which it will require years more to re-establish.

“ Then, too, the proceedings are seldom conducted in all respects according to law. This occurs not only on account of indifference or haste, but quite as much from our complex statutory provisions in regard to elections, a proper knowledge of which can not reasonably be expected of the majority of those who are compelled to act as officers of school district elections. The irregularities vary to almost every conceivable degree; from those of so vital a nature as really to make the election void, to those too trivial for serious notice.

“Perhaps the notices were not posted up; or there were not enough of them; or they were not put in the right places; or they were not issued long enough beforehand; or they were not signed by the right persons, or by enough persons, or were not signed at all; or the time of opening and closing the polls was not stated; or if stated, the time was too early or too late, too long or too short, or in the evening when it should have been in the day; or an improper place was designated for the meeting, such as a certain private house, barn, cornfield, grove, or woodpile, instead of the school-house; or the election was ordered on a wrong day of the week; * * * * or the voting was viva voce instead of by ballot; * * * * or the candidate was ineligible; or the voters’ names were not registered; * * * * or questions were voted on which were not announced in the call; or the clerk kept his records in pencil, or did not record them at all, or carried them off in his hat and lost them * * * * Upon the defeat of a favorite candidate or measure, the search for flaws in the election commences, and upon the discovery of one or more of those mentioned, (no difficult task it would seem,) an attempt is immediately made to prove that the election was void, or to break down the business action of the meeting, and such attempts often result in expensive litigation, angry feelings, and permanent mutual alienation.

“If the tone of these remarks should seem like trifling, I beg to say that I speak but the simple truth. My official correspondence is burdened with such things, however preposterous, and the letters are all answered, with the seriousness and candor to which the earnestness and good faith of the writers entitle them. I am not to be understood, of course, as characterizing in the foregoing manner all local school elections, or even a considerable fraction of them, but I do say that the tendency of such multitudinous district elections is bad and that continually."

Without discussing the difficulties growing out of the instability of district boundaries, the multiplication of districts, and the want of provision for transferring pupils from one district to another, let us consider the subject of grading and classification.

The merits of Graded schools need not be argued. Their superiority in economy and efficiency is admitted. Now, there is no difficulty in applying this principle to our country schools. Abolish the present district boundaries, except so far as they may be used to aid in the establishment of primary, grammar and high schools, and, with a township organization, we have the same system that in our cities and larger villages is found to be so much superior to the independent district system. We are not only unable to secure gradation of the schools, under existing arrangements, but classification also is practically impossible in the majority of them.

The average number of scholars in the public schools in the agricultural districts is not more than thirty-five. The number of branches required to be taught is at least six. Here are six classes to start with, or an average of about six pupils to a class. But there must be classes to correspond with the attainments of the scholars. This will require that there should be at least three in Spelling, three in Reading, two in Writing, three in English Grammar, two in Geography and three in Arithmetic or fifteen in all. If History of the United States is taught, and if other branches are required, we have from one to five classes more. But with fifteen classes reciting, each once a day, and allowing one hour for recesses, we find that twenty minutes a day is all the time that can be allowed for the instruction and drill of each class. But this estimate is too favorable. The truth is that the time-table of many of the schools will show that not more than ten minutes can be allowed to each class for explanatory illustration and testing the pupil's knowledge of the subject.

Superintendent Bateman, discussing the subject, says :

"Bound by district lines which effectually prevent any comprehensive plan of co-operation by which the schools of the township can be graded, and each child be allowed to attend that school which is nearest, or which is, all things considered, the best for him, and by which alone the true end and best results of common schools can be realized; hampered by transfer restrictions, which, though necessary under the existing arrangement, are nevertheless, subject to such contingencies of indifference, or caprice, or captiousness, as to cut off, to a great extent, the very privileges they were intended to secure; with a limited territory, limited means, and a scanty number of pupils; each district is left to make its way as best it can, in isolation and weakness. In nine cases out of ten, there is in each rural district but one school house, one teacher, and one school. The first has generally but one room, is too small, poorly ventilated, imperfectly furnished, and, of necessity, destitute of the best modern improvements; the second is such as the scanty means and divided counsels of the district will enable it to secure; and the third is what the preceding conditions must inevitably make it.

“Into that one room, and to the care of that one teacher, press all the school-going children of the district. All ages, and both sexes are there; from the brave little fellow with his Primer, intent upon the mysteries of the alphabet, to the lads and misses who are ready to grapple with analysis and fractions and roots, while one and another comes with a request from father or mother to be allowed to study Book-Keeping, or Natural Philosophy or Algebra, or the Latin Grammar. What, I repeat, can the teacher do? The number of scholars, with the diversity of their attainments, ranging from the merest rudiments to the most advanced, added to the number of studies either required or desired to be taught, sets at defiance all attempts at classification. Is it not lamentable to see an otherwise magnificent system of public education thus shorn of its strength at the vital point where the school is organized and the teaching performed?”

The adoption of the Town system of School organization was recommended by my predecessor, in his annual report for 1863, and its many advantages over the local district system were pointed out. He showed that under it, we can secure that supervision of the schools we need; that taxation will be more equitable; that the ill feeling consequent upon changes in district boundaries will cease to arise; that school houses will be built when and where they are needed, and taxes for their erection be less burdensome; that schools can be properly graded; that teachers qualified for the different grades can be employed; that the system will be more economical than the present one; that the schools will be more uniform in the length of time they are taught during the year; that incompetent teachers will be sifted out, and that those employed will secure more permanent positions.

The State Superintendent of Pennsylvania, after a trial of this system says:

“By our system, a township, borough or city is a school district. In very large cities there may be two or more districts, but the boards must be united for managing the schools in one organization, under the name of a board of control. The Secretary who is ex-officio district Superintendent, visits the schools monthly, and reports to the board, and transacts all the minor business of the board, and is paid such compensation as the board shall think proper. The chief advantages of our township system are the facilities afforded for grading the schools wherever it is practicable, the simplicity of reporting to the State department, which it affords, the ease with which uniformity of text books can be secured, the means which it affords for securing a superintendent of each district, and the systematic visiting and reporting the condition of the schools to the board, and the ease with which each board may be communicated with and reached, through the official department of the State Journal, which is made a State organ, and sent to the secretary of each board at the public expense. In a population of three millions we have only about 1,700 boards of directors. We should have not more than 1,500; but we were vexed with a few independent districts which should never have been allowed, by which the number is increased.”

We believe that no objection can be made to this system which cannot be easily answered and removed. All the essential principles of our present law would remain. It would simplify our school machinery, and would easily adapt itself to our educational wants and habits. Some of the immediate benefits of the town organization would be,

1. To secure in each town as many schools as there are now districts, and more or less as may be found best; all of them, however, so organized as to be parts of a system adapted to the special wants of the community.

2. To end disputes about district boundaries.

3. To dispense with a large number of school officers, and to reduce largely the number of school elections.

4. To provide for each child going to that school which is most convenient and beneficial to him, considering his attainments and the studies he is pursuing.

5. To diminish the aggregate expenses of the schools, and to establish a uniform rate of taxation for the town.

6. To secure an efficient system of school supervision for each town.

7. To enable every town to establish a system of graded schools.

8. To secure for the schools better teachers and for the teachers better compensation.

9. To improve school-houses and to provide them with what is needed for the use of the schools.

10. To promote uniformity of text books and to introduce methods of teaching and courses of study.

11. To obtain more reliable statistics.

12. To secure and to care for town libraries, containing a greater variety and a larger number of books than can be obtained under the present system.

In regard to the practical effects of the adoption of this system, the able school officer to whom reference has repeatedly been made in this discussion, Hon. Newton Bateman, says :

“Not a right, power, or duty of the state superintendent, or of any county superintendent, would be added, subtracted, changed or modified in any manner whatever; the office of township treasurer would be just as necessary as before, and his powers and duties remain substantially as now, though much simplified by the abolition of the districts; the boards of trustees and directors would continue in the discharge of their respective duties until the day fixed by law for the election of the new township school boards. Upon the election and qualification of these boards, all district boards of directors throughout the State would cease to exist; * * * all school houses, lands and other district school property, would revert to and come into the control of the township board of education, who would thereupon assume and exercise the rights, powers and duties, all and singular, which now devolve upon boards of trustees and directors respectively. * * * Not a common school in the State would be closed or interfered with, not a teacher discharged, not an existing contract annulled. The great educational work of the State would move right on as if nothing had happened: no visible sign would appear to show that an immense administrative reform had taken place, and a new and glorious era dawned upon our system of public instruction. The vast accumulations of school property would be preserved intact; but few school houses would have to be moved, and none at all immediately, for, as a general rule, school sites and buildings that are in the right places now, would be equally so then. Thus, quietly, without shock or confusion, almost without public knowledge or notice, the system would lay down the heavy, galling harness of her ten-thousand-headed policy, and assume the light elastic armor of a fresh, compact and simple, but far more expansive and powerful organization. As in the case of our matchless civil government, the people would be reminded of its existence chiefly by the richness of the blessings which it would dispense.

GENERAL REMARKS.

During the three years in which I have held the office from which I am soon to retire, it has been my good fortune to co-operate with the successive legislatures and friends of education in some of the most important educational measures that have been adopted in the State.

The division of the swamp lands in 1864 into two equal parts, and the creation of the Normal School fund from one of these, is a measure destined to exert a powerful influence on the cause of education in all time to come. The fund thus created now consists of over $600,000, and more than 700,000 acres of land. I know of no other such fund for the support of Normal Schools. It has attracted the attention of other countries and excited wonder in older States.

The incorporation of the Board of Regents of Normal Schools, for the purpose of using the income of the Normal School fund in establishing and maintaining schools for the training of teachers, followed in 1865; and the action of this Board in locating schools at different places in the State called for such honesty, forecast and firmness as are almost as rare as they are desirable.

One of these schools has been in operation more than a year, and another will soon be opened.

In 1865 the Congressional grant for the promotion of industrial education was united with the University fund, and the Board of Regents of the State University found the work of reorganizing the institution almost impossible. In 1866, the legislature responded favorably to the appeal of the Regents for help, and the University is now started under favorable auspices, and we may hope that it will be not only an object of interest, but a source of State pride.

The legislation of 1865, by which the educational trust funds were relieved from the expenses of management, was, in effect, the same as adding from $10,000 to $15,000 a year to the income of the school fund, and about $1,000 to the income of the University fund. The income of the school fund has also been increased by the annual interest of $101,000, which the State owed the school fund on account of the Rock River canal. The income of this fund has increased in a ratio greater than the school population; for, with an enumeration in 1866, which was 33,552 greater than in 1863, the apportionment was also greater by three cents per scholar. The income of the University is also increased by about $8,000 per year.

In 1866, provision was made, by which the Regents of Normal Schools can use $5,000 per year in holding teachers' institutes. Under judicious management this agency will greatly promote every educational interest of the state.

The school laws have been so amended as to prevent almost entirely the employment of unqualified teachers, and the duties of district Boards and county Superintendents have been clearly defined.

It has also been my privilege to meet the people of the state on many occasions, and to address them upon matters relating to education. I cannot convey a correct idea of the deep and intelligent interest they have taken in the prosperity of their schools. This can be best learned by a careful study of the reports for the present year. This interest is no transient feeling. It is born of the terrible civil conflict through which we have passed. We see, as no people ever saw before, that there is no foundation upon which to build a hope for our country's welfare, except upon the education of all the people. We not only see but we feel, that, under God, we owe our existence as a nation, to our public schools. This conviction is finding its fitting expression in increased taxes and princely donations for educational objects.

I have found the teachers of the state earnest, faithful and self-sacrificing, and I know how much of our present prosperity is due to their unobserved and unobtrusive labors. To them I am deeply indebted for sympathy and counsel, and their uniform courtesy and kindness will never be forgotten.

The official relations of this Department with the County Superintendents of the state, are such as to require mutual confidence in the discretion and intelligence of each other. In scarcely a single instance have I found this confidence misplaced. To them and to other school officers, am I indebted for many valuable suggestions, and I have to return them my heartfelt thanks for their intelligent and kindly co-operation.

After a residence in the state of more than nineteen years, most of which time has been spent in work connected with our public schools, the conviction is stronger than ever before, that the capacity of our school system is not fully appreciated, and, that, inestimable as are the blessings it has already conferred, they are few and small compared with those we shall enjoy in years to come.

APPENDIX.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
BOARD OF REGENTS OF NORMAL SCHOOLS
FOR THE YEAR ENDING AUGUST 31, 1867.

Hon. JOHN G. McMYNN,

Superintendent of Public Instruction.

SIR:—In accordance with the requirements of section 10, of chapter 216, of the General Laws of 1866, I have the honor to submit the following report, embracing “a full and detailed account of the doings of the Board, and of all their expenditures, and of all moneys received, and the prospects, progress and condition of the Normal Schools,” under their charge, for the year ending August 31, 1867.

At a meeting of the Board held at Madison, September 5th, 1866, a proposition from citizens of Trempealeau, offering a site, containing five acres of land, and eleven thousand five hundred dollars in cash, to secure the location of a State Normal School at that place, was received, but no definite action has yet been taken in regard to locating a school in the Sixth Congressional district.

The Building Committee, consisting of Regents McMynn, Starr, Thomas and Sholes, were, at this meeting instructed “to decide upon sites for State Normal Schools at such points as have been selected for such schools.” Thirty days were given the committee in which to perform this duty, and the acceptance of such sites by the Board was made dependent upon the fulfillment of the pledges made in behalf of the respective localities. The committee, in the discharge of this duty, have selected sites at Oshkosh, Sheboygan and Stoughton; those at Platteville and Whitewater having been previously selected.

Prof. Charles H. Allen was appointed Principal of the State Normal School, at Platteville, with a salary of $2,000 per annum.

Proposals for erecting the Normal School building at Whitewater, according to plans and specifications furnished by G. P. Randall, Architect, were opened. The following is a synopsis of the propositions made :

William T. Fish, Madison.....	$53,900
Lewis & Allen, Madison.....	50,000
John Bentley, Milwaukee.....	47,650
C. R. Underwood, Shelbyville, Ill.....	46,000
R. Clancy, Madison.....	45,500
Thomas McGrath, Chicago.....	42,500
O. C. Rosman, Whitewater.....	42,475
W. T. Bushnell, Normal, Ill.....	38,600

Besides the above, Messrs. Sorenson & Fredericson, of Madison, offered to do the carpenter work, tin work, painting and glazing for $27,900, and Messrs. Lewis & Allen, of Madison, proposed to put in the heating apparatus for $2,250.

The Board did not accept either of these bids, for the reason that the lowest proposal for completing the building, exceeded the amount then at the disposal of the Board for this object—this amount being about $33,000. They however determined to proceed in the erection of the building, and on the 6th of September the building committee, consisting of Regents Starr, Thomas, Sholes and White, (Regent McMynn having resigned and Regent White having been appointed in his place), were directed to take the necessary steps, and were authorized to employ a Superintendent to take charge of the work.

The following regulations for the admission of students to the State Normal Schools were adopted :

“1. Each Assembly district in the State shall be entitled to six representatives in the Normal Schools, and in case vacancies exist in the representation to which any Assembly district is entitled, such vacancies may be filled by the President and Secretary of the Board of Regents.

“2. Candidates for admission shall be nominated by the County Superintendent of the county (or if the County Superintendent has not jurisdiction, then the nomination shall be made by the City Superintendent of the City) in which such candidate may reside, and they shall be at least sixteen years of age, of sound bodily health and good moral character. Each person, so nominated, shall receive a certificate setting forth his name, age, health and character, and a duplicate of such certificate shall be immediately sent by mail, by the Superintendent, to the Secretary of the Board.

“3. Upon the presentation of such certificate to the Principal of a State Normal School, the candidate shall be examined under the direction of the Principal of said school, in the branches required by law for a third grade certificate, except History and Theory and Practice of Teaching, and if found qualified to enter the Normal School in respect to learning, he may be admitted, after furnishing such evidence as the said Principal may require, of good health and good moral character, and after subscribing the following declaration :

“ I _____ do hereby declare that my purpose in entering the State Normal School is to fit myself for the profession of teaching, and that it is my intention to engage in teaching in the schools of this State.

“ 4. No person shall be entitled to a diploma, who has not been a member of the school, for which such diploma is granted, at least one year, nor who is less than nineteen years of age ; and a certificate of attendance may be granted by the Principal of a Normal School to any person who shall have been a member of such school for one term, provided, that in his judgment such certificate is deserved.”

It was determined to open the school at Platteville on the 9th of October, and Regents Sholes, Robbins and Starr were appointed a committee with authority to employ teachers, open a model school, purchase supplies, fix rates of tuition for the model school and to make such arrangements as they deemed proper. Regent Robbins was authorized to collect and pay into the State Treasury the amount subscribed by the citizens of Platteville for repairing and improving the Normal School building located in that village. He was also authorized to collect tuition fees, due from those attending the model school and required to submit a statement of amounts collected.

The next meeting of the Board was held at Whitewater, on the 21st day of Nov., 1866. The President and Secretary of the Board were directed to draw warrants for such sums as, from time to time, the Building Committee should certify to be correct, and required for erecting the building at Whitewater. They were also authorized to draw warrants quarterly in payment of the teachers and Janitor of the Platteville Normal School.

The Board approved the action of the committee on employment of Teachers for the State Normal School at Platteville.

The teachers employed were :

Chas. H. Allen, principal.....	salary,	$2,000 00
J. Wernli, assistant principal.....	do..	1,500 00
Esther M. Sprague, teacher model department.....	do..	1,000 00
Geo. M. Guernsey, professor mathematics.....	per month...do..	125 00
Fanny Joslyn, preceptress.....	do.....do..	62 50
Henry Treganown, janitor.....	do.....do..	25 00

The terms of the school were fixed as follows :

First term to commence on the first Tuesday of September, and to continue sixteen weeks. Second term to commence on Tuesday succeeding New-Year's day, and to continue fourteen weeks ; and the third term to consist of ten weeks, and to end on the last day of June.

On the 20th of March, a meeting was held at Madison, and the Board appointed a Committee, consisting of Regents Sholes, Fairchild and Smith, to aid in organizing teachers' Institutes, and to carry out so far as practicable the provisions of chapter 30, of the General Laws of 1867, entitled an "an act to authorize the Board of Regents of Normal Schools to provide for holding teachers' institutes." This committee was authorized to allow for the necessary expenses of each institute held, a sum not exceeding fifty dollars, provided, that no school officer should receive any compensation for any services rendered in connection with the holding of Institutes.

A petition was presented to the Board from inhabitants of Pierce and St. Croix counties, asking the location of a State Normal School at River Falls.

It having been found impossible to erect the Normal School building at Whitewater, unless the Board could have more money at their disposal, the legislature was asked to appropriate an additional sum of $8,000 for this purpose. At the same time authority was asked to use $5,000 more for enlarging the Normal School Building at Platteville. The legislature promptly granted the relief sought, and the Board thus have at their disposal for the building at Whitewater, $43,000.; and for enlarging that at Platteville, $20,000

The Building Committee were directed to procure plans and specifications for enlarging the Normal School Building at Platteville, and to advertise for proposals.

May the 22d the Board met at Madison. The proposals for enlarging the building at Platteville were opened, but as none of the bids were within the means at the disposal of the Board, the Building Committee were authorized to enter into contract with responsible parties for the erection and completion of the enlargement of the Normal School building at Platteville, provided, that the cost shall not exceed $17,500, and the building shall be completed by the 1st day of September, 1868.

The Board, at this meeting, by resolution expressed the opinion that it is expedient to commence work on the Normal School building at Oshkosh, as soon as September 1st, 1868.

Since the last meeting of the Board the Building Committee has entered into a contract with Hon. Hanmer Robbins, of Platteville, for the completion of the Normal School building, at that place, at a cost to the state of $17,500. Work has been commenced, and the Board feel confident that it will be successfully carried on.

The success of the Normal School, at Platteville, has been all that the most sanguine anticipated. More room is required as the number in attendance is steadily increasing.

The Board hope to be able to open the school at Whitewater as soon as the 1st of May, 1868. The difficulty of procuring brick prevented the resuming of work there as early in the season as was desirable, but the walls are up and nothing will interfere with the steady progress of the building.

The great educational interest committed to the hands of the Board is attracting great attention, not only in our own but in other states, and we hope that all reasonable anticipations will be realized. We trust that the foundations for a system of training schools for teachers has been laid, and that with time, effort and wisdom we may build a superstructure that shall be worthy the munificence of the people and the character of the State.

I transmit herewith the financial statement of the Secretary of the Board, together with correspondence in regard to teaching Natural Science in our Normal Schools, between the Secretary and Prof. E. S. Carr, of the State University, and Dr. J. J. Brown, of Sheboygan.

H. ROBBINS,
Vice President.

REPORT

OF THE COMMITTEE ON TEACHERS' INSTITUTES.

MADISON, Dec. 10, 1867.

To the Board of Regents of Normal Schools:

GENTLEMEN :—The undersigned, a committee appointed March 20, 1867, with authority to aid in organizing teachers' institutes, etc., would respectfully report :

That we have not employed any persons, as instructors for institutes, but have depended upon County Superintendents to conduct them, assisted by teachers and friends of education. As the resolution, under which we have been acting did not indicate as the sense of the Board, that it was time to inaugurate a system of County Institutes, we have endeavored to encourage County Superintendents to avail themselves of this efficient agency to promote education in their respective counties, by auditing such accounts for expenses incident to holding the same, as they certified to be correct.

The following is a statement of the amounts which we have authorized to be paid from the income of the Normal School Fund :

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF VISITORS

OF STATE NORMAL SCHOOL AT PLATTEVILLE.

HON. JOHN G. McMYNN,

Sup't Public Instruction.

SIR:—The Hon. A. Bronson and Henry S. Magoon, two of the members of the Board of visitors appointed to visit and examine the state Normal School at Platteville, not having been present at the time fixed for said visit and examination, two of the undersigned, to wit: D. Gray Purman, and William E. Carter, the former being county Superintendent of Schools of Grant county, Wis., and residing at Lancaster, and the latter residing at Platteville, were requested by J. T. Mills, to assist him in making the examination and Report required of said visitors by law.

The undersigned thereupon proceeded to make the examination of said school required by law, and beg leave to submit the following Report:

The school was organized October 9th, 1866, with the following staff of teachers, to wit:

- Prof. Charles H. Allen, principal.
- “ Jacob Wernli, assistant principal.
- “ George M. Guernsey, Prof of Mathematics.
- Miss Fanny S. Joslyn, teacher of physiology, history, &c.
- “ Esther M. Sprague, principal of model school.

And the school has continued under the charge of the same Faculty throughout the year.

During the first term the number of students was as follows:

Regularly admitted normal students.....	62
Preparatory normal students.....	19
Academic students.....	18
Model class.....	40

During the second term, commencing January 8th, 1867, the numbers attending the different departments of the school were as follows :

Regularly admitted normal students.....	74
Preparatory normal students.....	12
Academic students.....	33
Model class.....	50

During the third term the numbers were as follows :

Regularly admitted normal students.....	60
Preparatory normal students.....	24
Academic students.....	10
Model class.....	52

During the entire year there have been taught and trained, as part of the regular normal course, classes as follows :

In Reading, Spelling, Writing, Grammar, Arithmetic, Geography, the Theory and Practice of Teaching, German and Vocal Music.

Classes have also been taught and trained during one or more terms of the year in the following studies :

Physiology, Botany, Algebra, Geometry, Rhetoric and Composition, Political Economy, History of the United States and Government, and during the winter term a course of Experimental Lectures on Practical Science was delivered by the Principal.

Before students are admitted regularly into the Normal School proper, they are expected to pass such an examination as would under the law entitle them to a Third Grade certificate, except in History and the Theory and Practice of Teaching, and are expected in addition, to come provided with a nomination to the School, from the County Superintendent of the County in which they reside. For that purpose suitable blanks have been prepared and furnished to those officers. It has hitherto been a custom in the School to permit students who came provided with the usual nomination and who failed to pass examination, to attend during one term free of expense for tuition, as Preparatory Students, and this custom accounts for the number of students given above under that head.

As the Normal School proper has not hitherto been large enough to fully occupy all of the time of the Faculty, an Academic Class has been organized and conducted by the Faculty hitherto, and will continue so to be, until the Normal Classes shall have reached such proportions that time for other classes can no longer be spared ; by which time it is expected the Model School connected with the Normal School will be able to furnish the usual Academic training to such students as may desire to prepare themselves to enter College.

The Model School connected with the Normal School is designed chiefly to furnish opportunity for training students in the latter, in the actual practice of teaching, under the immediate supervision and inspection of the Faculty. But it is desired, and the undersigned earnestly recommend that the Model School should be so organized and conducted as to give to such students as may prefer it to the regular Normal course, a thorough Academic training. This course in the opinion of the undersigned would tend both to elevate and dignify the school and to widen the sphere of its usefulness.

The undersigned are informed that no regular course of study and training for the school has been adopted, and it is believed to be eminently desirable that the course of study and training necessary and preliminary to graduation should be fixed upon and promulgated at as early a day as possible. It may not be out of place to say here, that inasmuch as few persons who will enter the School will design to make teaching the business of their lifetime, the course of study and training when fixed upon should be such as will at the same time qualify the student for the more immediate duties of a teacher and for the ordinary business avocations of life.

The Normal School building is at present much too limited in extent for the needs of the school, and with such limited accommodations the best results cannot reasonably be expected. But when the new buildings, now in process of erection shall be completed, with the greatly improved facilities the school will then possess, it is believed that greatly more important results may be confidently expected.

Thus far no difficulty whatever has been encountered in obtaining suitable accommodations at reasonable rates at Platteville for the students attending the school.

The undersigned found the school under the most perfect discipline. No improvement in that respect could, it is believed, be suggested or desired.

The examination, which was continued throughout three days, was conducted in the most thorough manner, offering no opportunity for collusion or favoritism. In the examination of each class, a long list of questions was prepared in writing, covering all branches of the study, the subject of the examination, so far as the class had proceeded in it. Usually, questions enough were prepared to provide each student in the class with two, three or more of the slips of paper on which the questions were written. The slips of paper were then thoroughly mixed, and distributed among the students, usually by a member of the committee, in such a manner as to insure perfect fairness in the distribution. The slips were all numbered from one upward, and as each number was called, the student having it was expected to rise and explain orally as fully as possible the subject or subjects included in the question.

Both after the close of as well as during the explanation of the questions by the students, the undersigned and such persons present as desired to do so, freely asked such questions in relation to the subjects under discussion as suggested themselves.

The undersigned take great pleasure in saying that notwithstanding the severity of the examination conducted in the manner above stated, the students very nearly without exception, acquitted themselves with very great credit. Indeed the thoroughness and solidity of the knowledge displayed by the several classes examined, of the subjects under examination left little to be desired, and was especially gratifying to the undersigned.

Trusting that this report may be as satisfactory to you as the visit and examination were to the undersigned, they beg to subscribe themselves,

Your obedient servants,

J. T. MILLS,
D. GRAY PURMAN,
W. E. CARTER,
Committee.

PLATTEVILLE, Wis., Aug. 31, 1867.

REPORT OF THE PRINCIPAL OF THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL AT PLATTEVILLE.

STATE NORMAL SCHOOL,
PLATTEVILLE, WIS., December 1, 1867.

HON. JOHN G. McMYNN, Sup't Public Instruction :

SIR:—I have the honor to submit the following statement concerning the work of the state Normal School, during the year :

1. There have been in attendance upon the school, at different times during the year 123 ladies, and 96 gentlemen ; total, 219, exclusive of the model school. Of this number 135 have brought nominations from county or city superintendents, and passed the required examination for entering the school, (some, however, after attending a preliminary term,) and 15 have brought nominations and failed to pass the required examinations. Eight came from other states. About 20 teachers of some experience, for their own improvement have come in and staid from two weeks to a term, and the remainder have paid tuition as academic students. The attendance upon the model school has averaged about 45.

2. During the present term our gross attendance has been 84 ladies and 53 gentlemen.

3. The average attendance for the four terms is 60 ladies and 48 gentlemen.

4. The average age of those admitted, at time of admission was, ladies, 19 1-4 years, gentlemen, 19 3-4 years.

5. Before entering the school 70 ladies and 25 gentlemen had taught in the public schools of the State ; and 61 ladies and 33 gentlemen have taught or are teaching, since having been members of the school.

6. The number nominated and entered from the respective counties is as follows :

Grant.....	67
La Fayette.....	28
Iowa.....	16
Milwaukee, (city).....	5
Walworth ¹	2
Waukesha.....	2
Vernon.....	2
Waupaca.....	2
Washington.....	2
Dane.....	2
Columbia.....	1
Pepin.....	1
Dodge.....	1
Kenosha.....	1
Oconto.....	1

7. The present Board of Instruction is as follows :

Charles H. Allen, Principal,.....	salary.....	$2,000
Jacob Wernli, Assistant Principal,.....	do.....	1,500
Duncan Mc Gregor, Professor of Mathematics,.....	do.....	1,200
Fanny S. Joslyn, Instructor in History, Geography and Physiology,.		800
Mrs E. A. Graham, Principal of Model School,....	salary.....	800
Charles Zimmermann, Instructor in Drawing,.....	do.....	200

8. At the beginning of the present term Prof. Duncan McGregor took the place of Prof. Geo. M. Guernsey as Professor of Mathematics; Mrs. E. A. Graham, that of Miss Esther M. Sprague, as Principal of the Model School; and Mr. Charles Zimmermann has been employed as a teacher of outline and perspective drawing.

9. The repairs upon the building we now occupy have compelled us to put the Library into such a position, that it is impossible to use it or give its condition. When the new structure is completed we shall have abundant room, and can then make it available. During the year we have received the publications of the Smithsonian Institute, and also a valuable donation from Mr. Augustus Tyler, of two volumes, consisting of Plates and descriptions of the Animals of this continent. We have also been supplied by the Board with a set of Appleton's New American Cyclopaedia.

10. The great difficulty we encounter in bringing the school into a satisfactory condition, arises from the constant and pressing demand for better teachers. Our fall and spring terms are seriously interfered with by pupils going out to engage in the winter or summer schools. This, so far as we are concerned, is the more to be regretted, as our yearly examinations must come at the close of the spring term. We feel, however, this compensation: some schools are furnished with better teachers, though we are liable to be judged of by unripe fruit.

In the main, great discrimination has been exercised by County Superintendents in regard to nominations, though a few have come to us unfitted, either physically or mentally, for teachers. Many have not come up to our required grade, though that has been by no means high. More care in this respect would save disappointment and in some cases unpleasantness.

No changes have been made in regard to terms of admission. The school, during the last term, has been full and many Academic pupils have been sent away. We have, however, been able to receive all who came regularly nominated, and who could pass the required examination.

Students board in private families, and thus far, little difficulty has been experienced in finding good board at prices ranging from $2 50 to $3 25 per week.

Feeling that we need more help in the great work in which we are engaged, and looking forward with pleasure to the time when some of our sister schools shall be in operation,

I am, very respectfully, Your ob't servant,

CHAS. H. ALLEN, Principal.

CORRESPONDENCE.

NOTE.—The following correspondence in regard to teaching Natural Science in the Normal Schools, and thus securing its introduction into our common schools, is published in order that teachers may avail themselves of the valuable suggestions made by Prof. Carr and Dr. Brown:

OFFICE OF SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,
MADISON, WIS., February 27th, 1867.

DR. J. J. BROWN, Sheboygan :

MY DEAR SIR:—Your letter of the 14th instant was duly received, but was laid aside for a few days on account of a press of business. In reply I have to state :

1. I think the Board of Regents of Normal Schools will at no distant day, see the necessity of providing instruction in Natural Science for students attending the State Normal Schools. Your views, as expressed in your letter, are, it seems to me, such as will commend themselves to the judgment of all engaged in the work of education.

2. My impression has been, that, for some time to come, one professor of Natural Science could give instruction in two or three schools, by such arrangements as could be made to have the lectures at different times in the several schools. Perhaps a course of six weeks in Botany for each school during the Summer, and a course of about the same length during the Winter in elementary Chemistry, with some instruction in Physiology during the other term would answer for two or three years. The object sought in establishing our Normal Schools is to fit persons to teach in our public schools, and we must be governed by circumstances in determining the degree of fitness to which students must attain before leaving the schools. We, of course, cannot keep students in school long enough to train and instruct them thoroughly, but we can do something, and what we are able to do at all, we can do well.

3. Permit me to suggest that you prepare a communication for the Board, calling attention to this matter, and indicating in outline a proper course of lectures for our Normal Schools, and adapted to the present requirements of our common schools.

It will afford me pleasure to lay such a paper before the Board.

I am, very respectfully, yours,

JNO. G. McMYNN,
Secretary Board R. N. S.

SHEBOYGAN, March 4, 1867.

HON. JOHN G. McMYNN,

DEAR SIR:—Your favor of the 27th ultimo is just received, and for which I am ever so much obliged to you.

You suggest that I prepare a communication for the Board in regard to the teaching of the natural sciences in our Normal Schools, and also to indicate a proper course adapted to the requirements of our common schools.

Unacquainted as I am at present with our schools, I do not feel competent to perform such a task—but since I have importuned you on this subject, I will do your bidding so far as to express my crude ideas.

In marking out a plan your own words should be kept constantly in view. In the letter now before me you say: “We of course cannot keep students in school long enough to train and instruct them thoroughly, but we can do something, and what we are able to do at all we can do well.” Therefore, students in the natural sciences should not spend all their time in laying only a foundation for some grand superstructure which they will never build.

As for instance in Botany, not to recite by course an elaborate vegetable physiology, nor learn much of exotics which they most likely will never see—but study first our indigenous botany, plant by plant, just as they grow in our fields and woods; and make each plant a complete and perfect lesson by itself. Thus the student, plucking and analyzing a plant with his own hands and learning its botany, has something to show for each hour spent, and should be able to impart the same to others. In this way “we can do something and what we are able to do at all we can do well.”

So too with Entomology.

A very large proportion of the common school houses of our state are situated in the most favorable localities for the pursuit of these studies, and a weekly or semi-weekly ramble of a school, for an hour or so, over the fields or through the woods with a competent teacher, in the pursuit of these studies, would be no loss of time in regard to other branches, and would in time work a marvellous change in the education particularly of our farming population, just where it is most useful and most needed. The lack of education in the natural sciences strips from the life of the farmer a large share of its charms, and reduces his occupation too much to a life of mere drudgery.

This should not be so, for this class of our people are the most numerous, and on them, to a great extent, depend all other interests of our state. On their intelligence and virtue must we ever depend for the safe keeping of all our political institutions and liberty.

Our teachers should write the natural history of our state and every school district should furnish its own part.

In chemistry, that portion which is most useful and relates to the most familiar and every day occurrences of life, and requires the least apparatus to teach, should be selected first for study, and students should be taught in our Normal schools, not alone by brilliant experiments and eloquent lectures, but mainly by individual manipulations. Failures to demonstrate even simple facts in chemistry, and discouragements in teaching the same, often occur from a mere lack of familiarity with the manipulations. In this it is not enough for a teacher to know a thing himself, but he must be able to prove it to others—not that he has seen a certain acid or salt manufactured, but that he has made it himself and can do it again. Here too, “what we are able to do at all we can do well.”

Elementary chemistry can be taught in our common schools with the most meager apparatus, if the teachers have ordinary ingenuity and have had experience with chemicals.

I do not think the details of anatomy and physiology can be profitably studied in our common schools. But “something” of the bones, muscles, nerves, bloodvessels, stomach and lungs, and as much more as is necessary for knowing how to preserve our health, should be taught to all. They should study this department in its most general and simple parts and with special reference to hygiene. Every lesson should have a practical application to the ordinary phenomena of life. The skeleton of some small animal, a few plates of human anatomy, and some plain text book would suffice for teaching this department in our common schools.

I beg your pardon for writing so long a letter, and hoping to hear from you again, I remain

Yours respectfully,

J. J. BROWN.

OFFICE OF SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,

MADISON, Wis., March 8, 1867.

PROF. E. S. CARR, Madison,

MY DEAR SIR :—The Board of Regents of Normal Schools have to take some action, at no distant day, in regard to the teaching of natural science in the schools under their control. It has seemed to me that some instruction in Chemistry, Botany, and Physiology, should be given to the classes now organized in the Platteville school, and that a plan should be adopted that may be developed as circumstances may warrant or necessity require. I would be glad to know your opinion in regard to certain points, that the Board may have the advantage of your experience and observation in connection with this subject. If you can find the time to answer the following questions, I shall take pleasure in laying your communications before the Board at its next meeting, which is to be held on Wednesday the 20th instant :

1. Do you regard natural science as a necessary part of a course of study adapted to those who are preparing themselves to teach?
2. Which branches do you regard as most important, and what is the order in which they should be taught?
3. Could a course of lectures, not exceeding six weeks in length, be arranged so as to be of greater benefit to scholars, if their time should be occupied with some departments of natural science, than if it should be devoted to mathematics and literature?
4. What plan would you recommend the Board to adopt in providing for giving instruction in two Normal Schools?

I have only indicated, in the foregoing, questions that the Board will soon have to answer, but I shall be obliged to you, if you will express your views freely and fully in regard to the whole subject.

Very truly, yours,

JNO. G. McMYNN,
Secretary B. R. N. S.

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN,

MARCH 18, 1867.

Col. JOHN G. McMYNN :

DEAR SIR :—Your favor of the 8th inst., making certain inquiries with regard to instruction in the Natural Sciences, is received, and I proceed to answer them briefly in their order.

1st. “Do you regard the Natural Sciences as a necessary part of a course of study adapted to those who are preparing themselves to teach?”

To this question, in common with all modern educators, I give a decided affirmative, on the ground that these studies should begin in all our primary schools, and be prosecuted in their analytical and scientific development in the grammar and high school.

First, because such a course is in accordance with the natural laws of intellectual and physical development; and secondly, because no other studies can compare with these in giving that intellectual culture and knowledge which fit men and women for the ordinary and extraordinary pursuits of life.

The powers and faculties of observation are first developed in children. They see, hear, feel and compare before they understand and reason. The moment a child has an independent existence, it begins to acquire a knowledge of objects through the medium of the senses. Is its attention turned to animals? It begins to study Zoology—to plants, Botany, to minerals, Mineralogy, to rocks, Geology, &c.

Thus the senses, the organs of our relationship with the external world, and the media through which knowledge is acquired, under proper guidance become developed and strengthened, and the mind receives its appropriate aliment, knowledge, without which there can be little or no intellectual growth. It appears to me as unreasonable to suppose that the mind of a child can have a healthy and vigorous growth by confining it to books, and purely intellectual processes, (the common method of schools,) as that its body can be developed into manhood by exercise alone, without appropriate food. As the mind and body become developed in accordance with the laws of their being, the child passes from the phenomena or appearance of natural objects, to an analysis of their parts and finds an explanation of these phenomena in the laws of the natural world.

The skilful teacher who knows what and how to teach, who has had any experience in instructing children in the way above indicated, will testify to the interest with which these studies are pursued, and the discipline and culture which they afford.

The natural sciences, aside from the discipline and culture which they give, have a utilitarian value which can hardly be over-estimated, and which entitles them to a place in every public school. It is their province to explain the laws of health, the nature and preparation of food, the constitution of the air we breathe, the composition of the soil we cultivate in fine, all the arts and processes upon which civilized life depends. They have given us the control of the forces of the material world, by means of which, acting in accordance with the Divine command, we are subduing the earth and extending our dominion over it.

It is a common complaint that education does not better fit (but rather unfits) the young of both sexes for the common pursuits of life. If this is so, the fact finds an explanation in the neglect of those studies which by serving to enlighten labor, elevate agriculture and the useful arts to the dignity of professions.

That teacher would surely increase his influence in any community who could explain the phenomena and instruct the housewife, the farmer and manufacturer in the nature of familiar processes, and thus add both directly and indirectly to his usefulness.

These, then, are some of the reasons why I think the Natural Sciences should be taught in our common schools, and why teachers should be taught how to teach them.

2d. "Which branches do you regard as most important, and what is the order in which they should be taught?"

Leaving general physical or Natural Philosophy out of the question, the more important branches in my opinion would be chemistry and its applications, especially to heating, lighting, ventilation, food, agriculture, &c., the physiology of plants and animals considered with reference to hygiene and culture; Geology, in its relation to mining, agriculture and the history of our race. These branches should be taught in the order above mentioned.

In the public schools these studies should be preceded by the Natural History of minerals, plants and animals, that is, the study of their sensible characters, followed by the elements of Physics or Natural Philosophy.

3d, "Could a course of lectures, not exceeding six weeks in length, be arranged so as to be of greater benefit to scholars, if their time should be occupied with some departments of Natural Science, than if it should be devoted to mathematics and literature?"

A course of instruction extending through six weeks, and including fifty or sixty lectures, with accompanying class exercises, given by a competent person, could be made of more value to students preparing themselves for teachers than the yearly course as usually given. The more time students could give to these subjects during the course, the greater would be their progress. The success of this instruction would depend much upon the encouragement given by teachers of the institution in which such courses should be given.

4th, "What plan would you recommend the board to adopt in providing for giving instruction in two Normal Schools?"

Such is the relative importance of the Natural Sciences to all other studies and pursuits of life, especially those in which the masses of the people are interested, that I consider this question as one of the most important that can come before the Board. In my opinion the Board should employ some thoroughly competent man, who should give the whole or a part of his time to instruction in the Normal Schools and Teachers Institutes.

The employment of a man worth $3,000 per year, for one-half of his time, in the way above indicated, would accomplish much more for the cause of popular education, than the services throughout the year of one worth half that sum. Massachusetts for several years employed Agassiz and Guyot, the most eminent naturalists not only of this country but of the world, in her Normal Schools and Teachers' Institutes, and the influence of their instruction is felt to-day not only in every public school, but on every farm and in every workshop in New England.

Availing myself of your invitation to express myself freely on these matters, I cannot too strongly urge upon your Board the importance of a correct method of teaching the Natural Sciences. The usual text book instruction I regard as not only useless but positively injurious. The experience of nearly every student who has gone through the usual routine of instruction in our academies and colleges will justify this statement. Text books are useful as aids and then only when written by competent persons.

The texts for the students of natural science are the objects themselves, which must be seen, handled and experimented with, as the case may be, under the guidance of competent teachers. In no other way can a true acquaintance with things be obtained.

A teacher may be quite familiar with the routine of a text book, and know perfectly well whether a scholar recites from it correctly, and yet be almost wholly ignorant of the subject. I know of young (and old) maids who are to-day giving acceptable instruction, i. e. hearing text book recitations in our educational institutions, on human anatomy and physiology, who do not know, as far as their own knowledge is concerned, whether the stomach is above or below the diaphragm, or whether the brain occupies the cavity of the cranium or of the pelvis. Classes, too, in geology, who recite well, and whose names stand high on the merit roll, may be, and not unfrequently are, in common with their teachers, entirely ignorant of the geology of their immediate neighborhood, because not given in the text book, and could not tell from personal observation granite from sandstone.

The mistaken view is quite prevalent in the community and among teachers themselves, that instruction given in the way I have indicated would require expensive apparatus and collections. But the collections of nature, every where around us, of minerals, rocks, plants and animals far exceed in instructional value artificial collections, and I can safely affirm as the result of twenty-five years of experience that the teacher who cannot demonstrate experimentally all the principles of general physics and chemistry with twenty dollars worth of apparatus, aside from that which every household and blacksmith's shop will afford him, does not understand his business. The kitchen, the workshop, the foundry and manufacturing establishments of every description, together with the farm and barn yard where chemical and physical processes are seen in practical relations should form a part of his Laboratory.

I have thus, in reply to your queries, expressed my views upon the educational value of the Natural Sciences, and touched briefly upon the defects in the present method of teaching them,—defects which I believe can be remedied in a great measure through the instrumentality of Teachers' Institutes and Normal Schools.

With great respect,

Yours, very truly,

EZRA S. CARR.

ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
REGENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN,
FOR THE YEAR ENDING SEPTEMBER 30, 1867.

To His Excellency, LUCIUS FAIRCHILD,

Governor of Wisconsin:

On behalf of the Regents of the University of Wisconsin I have the honor to submit to you the following annual report, required by law, for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1867.

The last annual report showed the action of the Regents in their endeavor to re-organize the University under the provisions of chapter 114 of the General Laws of 1866; that they had acquired the necessary lands for an experimental farm; how they had been disappointed and embarrassed in their efforts to obtain a suitable "President of the University;" that they had at last been compelled to continue instruction at the institution substantially as it existed theretofore, and how the then available means of the University would be insufficient to effect the development and changes contemplated by the act of re-organization. Although the pecuniary assistance so much needed, and since then promptly granted by the legislature in the annual appropriation of $7,303 76 for ten years, has not yet been available, (the first annual appropriation being in use for the ensuing year), yet the Regents have already greatly felt the benefits of this endowment which, for the next ten years at least, places the institution financially in a condition where solid and permanent organization and development become possible. Hence the Regents find it a cause for congratulation that they are able to report that during the past year they have succeeded in supplying the University with a proper executive head in the person of Professor Paul A. Chadbourne, M. D., formerly of Williams' College, Massachusetts, and afterwards, and at the time of his election here, President of the State Agricultural College of that State, who was elected President of the University of Wisconsin on the 22d day of June, 1867.

President Chadbourne has since then very zealously and ably assisted the regents in laying the foundations for the present and future organization and development of the university; and although the results so far accomplished may not perhaps satisfy the expectations of some, who, themselves without experience in such matters, would have a great and renowned institution of learning created in the space of a year, or of others, who, dissatisfied with the past results of our university, would begin by tearing down and uprooting every thing that connects the past with the present; yet it is confidently believed, that an earnest and impartial consideration by men of experience and judgment of what has so far been accomplished by the President and Regents of the University, is all that could reasonably be expected and should satisfy the just hopes of the friends of the Institution and of the people of the State.

To create such an institution of learning as is contemplated by the law of re-organization, and as the regents hope will eventually be reared to the lasting honor and benefit of our young and noble State, requires a large, able, learned and experienced faculty, a correspondingly large number of well prepared students, and correspondingly large and ample means. All this can be reached in time; some of it, the regents believe, they have already obtained, but, as in all really great things, so here time, patience, industry, perseverance and good judgment are essential to success. It must not be forgotten, that we are just beginning with slender means to lay the foundation for a university, and that this report can be expected to show only progress in the work of construction.

THE FACULTY.

At the expiration of the collegiate year several changes in and additions to the number of instructors, were made by the regents. The following is the faculty, as at present constituted:

PAUL A. CHADBOURNE, M. D.

President and Professor of Mental and Moral Philosophy.

JOHN W. STERLING, LL. D.,

Professor of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy.

EZRA S. CARR, LL. D.,

Professor of Chemistry and Natural History.

JOHN P. FUCHS, M. D.,

Professor of Modern Languages and Literature.

WILLIAM F. ALLEN, A. M.,

Professor of Ancient Languages and History.

T. N. HASKELL, A. M.,
Professor of Rhetoric and English Literature.

R. E. HARMON, A. B.,
Tutor.

AMOS H. THOMPSON, A. B.,
Tutor.

MISS ELIZABETH EARL,
Preceptress in the Normal Department.

MISS CLARISSA WARE,
Associate Preceptress.

MISS FRANCES BROWN
Teacher of Music.

MISS LOUISA BREWSTER,
Teacher of Painting and Drawing.

Following the classification prescribed in the law of re-organization, I beg to submit the following statement concerning the present condition of the several colleges and departments of the University, the number of students, the courses of study in each department or college, the contemplated development thereof, &c., availing myself for that purpose of much that is contained in the printed catalogue of the present year.

I.—THE COLLEGE OF ARTS.

Candidates for admission to the College of Arts, are examined in English Grammar, Geography, Mental and Written Arithmetic, Plain and Solid Geometry, and in Algebra to Quadratic Equations.

The following is the course of instruction in this department :

FIRST YEAR.

First Term.

MATHEMATICS.....Algebra begun—Loomis.
GERMAN.....Ahn's Method.
NATURAL HISTORY.....Botany.
ELECTIVE STUDIES.....Practical Botany and Agriculture, French and Latin.

Second Term.

- MATHEMATICS.....Algebra completed—Loomis.
 Conic Sections.
 GERMAN.....Select Readings.
 HISTORY.....
 ELECTIVE STUDIES....History of Useful Plants, Physical Geography, Climatology, French, Latin.

Third Term.

- MATHEMATICS.....Plane Trigonometry, Mensuration, Surveying and Navigation—Loomis.
 GERMAN.....Schiller's or Goethe's Plays.
 NATURAL HISTORY....Botanical Analysis.
 HISTORY.....
 ELECTIVE STUDIES....Horticulture, French, Latin.
 Themes and Declamations weekly during the year.

SECOND YEAR.

First Term.

- MATHEMATICS.....Spherical Trigonometry—Loomis Analytical Geometry— “ RHETORIC.....Day.
 NATURAL HISTORY....Mineralogy—Dana.
 HUMAN ANATOMY....Lectures.
 CHEMISTRY.....Youmans.
 ELECTIVE STUDIES....Laboratory Practice, Qualitative Analysis, Blowpipe
 Analysis

Second Term.

- PHYSICS.....Snell's Olmsted begun—Lectures.
 CIVIL POLITY.....Political Economy—Perry.
 CHEMISTRY.....Organic and applied.
 NATURAL HISTORY....Zoology begun—Agassiz.
 ELECTIVE STUDIES....Laboratory Practice, Quantitative Analysis.

Third Term.

- PHYSICS.....Snell's Olmsted completed—Lectures.
 CIVIL POLITY.....International Law, Constitution of the United States.
 NATURAL HISTORY....Zoology completed.
 General Physiology.
 ELECTIVE STUDIES....Differential and Integral Calculus, Natural History of Domestic Animals, Entomology.
 Themes and Declamations weekly during the year.

THIRD YEAR.

First Term.

ASTRONOMY.....Snell's Olmsted.
 MENTAL PHILOSOPHY...Haven.
 ENGLISH LITERATURE..Shaw, begun.
 NATURAL HISTORY.....Geology and Mining.
 ELECTIVE STUDIES.....Examination of Soils, Forestry.

Second Term.

LOGIC.....Whately.
 MORAL PHILOSOPHY...Hopkins.
 ENGLISH LITERATURE..Shaw, completed.
 RHETORIC.....Bascom.
 AESTHETICS.....Bascom.
 ELECTIVE STUDIES.....Modern Languages, Chemical Analysis, Determinative Mineralogy.

Third Term.

NATURAL THEOLOGY...Chadbourne.
 ANALOGY.....Butler.
 EVIDENCES.....Hopkins' Lectures.
 HISTORY.....Guizot's History of Civilization, General Reviews.
 ELECTIVE STUDIES.....Reviews.

Critical Essays, Declamations and Forensic Disputations, weekly during the year.

The College of Arts is organized under the following section of the General Laws of 1866, chapter CXIV :

“SECTION 2. The College of Arts shall embrace courses of instruction in the mathematical, physical and natural sciences, with their applications to the industrial arts, such as agriculture, mechanics and engineering, mining and metallurgy, manufactures, architecture and commerce, in such branches included in the College of Letters as shall be necessary to a proper fitness of the pupils in the scientific and practical courses for their chosen pursuits, and in military tactics; and as soon as the income of the University will allow, in such order as the wants of the public shall seem to require, the said courses in the sciences and their application to the practical arts, shall be expanded into distinct colleges of the University, each with its own faculty and appropriate title.”

The plain object of this section is to provide, not only for a general scientific education, but also such a range of studies in the applications of science as to meet the wants of those who desire to fit themselves for agricultural, mechanical, commercial, or strictly scientific pursuits. The course of study already adopted is such as to provide for a sound education in the elements of science and at the same time to give a great freedom in the selection of studies according to the choice of the individual student. As higher demands are made they will be met by adding to the list of elective studies, and by the enlargement of the Faculty of Arts, so as to form distinct schools, as provided for in the act of reorganization.

POST GRADUATE COURSE.

After the present year provision will be made for such graduates, and other students properly prepared, as wish to devote themselves to special scientific studies. There will be no class system; but each student will be allowed to attend any lectures delivered to the undergraduates, and will have the aid and direction of the President and Professors in the study of Engineering, Practical Chemistry, Mineralogy, Botany, Zoology, Geology, Agriculture and other branches of learning. The development of this "post-graduate-course" will in time give to the Institution the true character of a University, and it being beyond and outside of the ordinary college studies pursued at other colleges, it is expected that many students will be drawn hither to pursue these special studies.

AGRICULTURE.

So far the regents have been disappointed in their efforts to secure a competent and proper person for the professorship of agriculture. They selected a gentleman for that position, who, from his familiarity with the subject of agriculture in this State and elsewhere, from the particular study and attention which he had given thereto, from the especial and prominent interest which he had shown in the development of agriculture and in the establishment of an agricultural college in this State, and from his other well known acquirements and learning was, not only by the regents, but by all who felt interested in this subject, believed to be the person best qualified for this most difficult and little explored branch of education. The regents regret that they have been unable to secure his services, being well satisfied that it will be very difficult to fill this place satisfactorily. There are but few persons in the country well qualified for such a position and while most of them are unwilling to accept it, the available men are in great demand. This place requires a man of great scientific ability not only, but also of practical knowledge and experience in agriculture. The history of agricultural schools in this country and in Europe shows that they are the most difficult to sustain. This difficulty will be increased in the West where land is yet so cheap and so productive that there is less inducement to study agriculture than in older portions of the country where land is much dearer and where a more scientific cultivation of the soil is demanded.

The regents, however, are well aware of the imperative necessity, under the Act of Congress, donating agricultural lands, and under the provisions of the law of re-organization of the University, speedily to put this department in practical operation. They believe that they will be able to fill the chair of agriculture satisfactorily during the coming winter; and, at all events, should they be unable so to do, they have the offer and promise of President Chadbourne that, in such a case, he will himself assume the duties of that professorship until a suitable person can be obtained for it.

The land purchased for the Experimental Farm has been fenced and men have been and will be put at work upon it to prepare it for cultivation in the spring. Steps have also been taken to have all the University grounds properly and advantageously laid out and improved.

At the request of the State Horticultural Society, five acres of the farm have been set apart for its use, so that the University will have the aid of the best practical talent in the State in experiments of fruit culture.

Nearly 10,000 thousand acres of the Agricultural College lands have been sold during the past year. If the sales continue at this rate, the regents will soon have the means to increase the number of instructors in the higher departments. It is to be hoped that the increase of means will be adequate to the increased demands for educational facilities.

In addition to the studies on agriculture, which form a part of the elective course in the College of Arts, courses of lectures will yearly be given by the President, the resident Scientific Professors, and by Professors and Lecturers from abroad, who have made a special study of the various subjects relating to agriculture. By the employment of non-resident Lecturers, the University will have the benefit of the scientific knowledge and practical skill of gentlemen in this and other states, whose services as permanent professors could not be secured.

II.—THE COLLEGE OF LETTERS.

The College of Letters is organized under the following section of the act of re-organization :

“SECTION 3. The college of letters shall be co-existent with the college of arts, and shall embrace a liberal course of instruction in language, literature and philosophy, together with such courses or parts of courses in the college of arts as the authorities of the university shall prescribe.”

Under this provision a course of instruction has been adopted which is intended to be equal to that of the best colleges in the country. Instructors for the college of letters can be secured with much less difficulty than for some of the scientific branches ; it is therefore fully organized with students in all its departments.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class are examined in Geography, Arithmetic and Algebra, to Quadratic Equations ; in English, Latin and Greek Grammar ; in Cæsar, Virgil, Cicero's Orations, and in three books of Xenophon's Anabasis.

The following is the course of instruction in the college of letters :

FRESHMAN CLASS.

First Term.

MATHEMATICS.....	Geometry begun—Loomis.
LATIN.....	Livy—Lincoln.
GREEK.....	Xenophon's Anabasis.
FRENCH.....	Robertson's Method.
LECTURES.....	Laws of Health and Methods of Study.

Second Term.

MATHEMATICS.....	Geometry continued.
LATIN.....	Cicero de Senectute and de Amicitia. Latin Composition.
GREEK.....	Xenophon's Memorabilia.
FRENCH.....	Readings of Chapsal's Lecons et Modeles de Literature Francaise.

Third Term.

MATHEMATICS.....	Geometry completed.
LATIN.....	Horace—Odes. Latin Composition.
GREEK.....	Memorabilia continued. Greek Composition.
FRENCH.....	Racine's Athalie, Iphigenie.
ANTIQUITIES.....	Greek and Roman.

Themes and Declamations weekly during the year.

SOPHOMORE YEAR.

First Term.

MATHEMATICS.....	Higher Algebra—Loomis.
LATIN.....	Horace—Satires.
GREEK.....	Homer—Iliad.
GERMAN.....	Ahn's Method.
NATURAL HISTORY.....	Botany.

Second Term.

MATHEMATICS.....	Algebra, completed—Loomis. Conic Sections.
LATIN.....	Horace—Epistles.
GREEK.....	Aeschylus or Sophocles.
GERMAN.....	Select Readings.

Third Term.

MATHEMATICS.....	Plane Trigonometry, Mensuration. Surveying and Navigation—Loomis.
LATIN.....	Tacitus.
GREEK.....	Demosthenes.
GERMAN.....	Schiller's or Gœthe's plays.
NATURAL HISTORY....	Botanical Analysis—Gray's Manual.

Themes and Declamations weekly during the year.

JUNIOR YEAR.

First Term.

MATHEMATICS.....	Spherical Trigonometry—Loomis. Analytical Geometry.
CHEMISTRY.....	Youman's and Lectures.
NATURAL HISTORY....	Mineralogy—Dana.
HUMAN ANATOMY.....	Lectures.

Second Term.

PHYSICS.....	Snell's Olmsted, begun with Lectures.
CIVIL POLITY.....	Political Economy—Perry.
CHEMISTRY.....	Organic and Applied.
NATURAL HISTORY.....	Zoology begun—Agassiz.

Third Term.

PHYSICS.....	Snell's Olmsted completed, with Lectures.
CIVIL POLITY.....	International Law, Constitution of United States.
NATURAL HISTORY....	Zoology completed.
.....	General Physiology.
ELECTIVE.....	Calculus.

Themes and Declamations weekly during the year.

SENIOR YEAR.

First Term.

ASTRONOMY.....	Snell's Olmsted.
MENTAL PHILOSOPHY...	Haven.
ENG. LITERATURE.....	Shaw begun.
NATURAL HISTORY....	Geology and Mining.

Second Term.

LOGIC.....	Whately.
MORAL PHILOSOPHY...	Hopkins.
ENG. LITERATURE.....	Shaw completed.
RHETORIC.....	Bascom.
ÆSTHETICS.....	Bascom.
ELECTIVE.....	Ancient or Modern Languages.

Third Term.

NATURAL THEOLOGY.....	Chadbourne.
ANALOGY.....	Butler.
EVIDENCES.....	Hopkins—Lectures.
HISTORY.....	Guizot's History of Civilization.
.....	General Review.

Critical Essays, Declamations, and Forensic Disputations weekly during the year.

III.—PROFESSIONAL AND OTHER COLLEGES.

There is so far but one department organized belonging to this branch of the university. It is

THE NORMAL DEPARTMENT.

This department is organized under chapter 117 of the General Laws of 1867, amending the act of re-organization by prescribing that the University shall be open to female as well as male students, under such regulations as the board of regents may deem proper, and it is intended to furnish a thorough education for ladies and to admit them to all the advantages of university education. The normal room and boarding house are under the immediate care of the Preceptress and her associate teachers, but instruction is given to the normal classes by the President and all the professors of the university. Students in this department may also attend all university lectures, and may, in addition to the course of study prescribed for graduation, elect any study in the college of arts or letters.

The following is the course of instruction prescribed for the normal department:

JUNIOR YEAR.

First Term.

MATHEMATICS.....	Higher Arithmetic, Mental and Written.
LANGUAGE.....	Grammar—Verbal Analysis—Syntax. Geography and Map Drawing General Exercises.
ELECTIVE.....	French or Latin.

Second Term.

MATHEMATICS.....	Arithmetic completed.
LANGUAGE.....	Grammar—Verbal and Sentential Analysis.
NATURAL SCIENCE.....	Physical Geography. General Exercises.
ELECTIVE.....	French or Latin.

Third Term.

MATHEMATICS.....	Elementary Algebra.
NATURAL SCIENCE.....	Physiology.
HISTORY.....	United States.
ELECTIVE.....	French or Latin.

MIDDLE YEAR.

First Term.

MATHEMATICS.....	Elementary Algebra, completed Plain Geometry.
NATURAL HISTORY....	Botany.
LANGUAGE.....	German. Rhetoric.
ELECTIVE.....	Latin.

Second Term.

MATHEMATICS	Solid Geometry and Plane Trigonometry.
LANGUAGE.....	Criticism and English Literature. German.
NATURAL HISTORY....	Zoology.
ELECTIVE.....	Latin.

Third Term.

MATHEMATICS	Higher Algebra.
LANGUAGE.....	German. English Literature.
CIVIL POLICY.....	Constitution and Science of Government. Political Economy.
ELECTIVE.....	Latin.

SENIOR YEAR.

First Term.

MATHEMATICS	Higher Algebra, completed.
PHILOSOPHY.....	Mental.
EVIDENCES.....	Lectures.
HISTORY.....	Ancient.

Second Term.

NATURAL SCIENCE....	Natural Philosophy. Chemistry. Geology.
PHILOSOPHY	Moral.

Third Term.

MATHEMATICS	Spherical Trigonometry.
NATURAL SCIENCE.....	Astronomy.
PHILOSOPHY.....	Aesthetics. Natural Theology. Essays and Reviews.

General exercises in Reading, Composition and Elocution throughout the course.

ETXTRAS.—Music, Drawing and Painting.

During the past year the Regents have had under consideration the establishment of a Law School, a Commercial School, and a Medical School as distinct colleges in connection with the University. Want of present means as well as the more immediate cares of re-organization have prevented them from taking active measures for the establishment of these three colleges; but it is to be hoped that at no distant day they will be able to expand the usefulness of the University in these directions.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.

The object of this department is to prepare young men for the regular classes of the University, and, although not especially prescribed by law, it was deemed essential by the Regents under the present circumstances. A large number of young men constantly apply for admission from the different parts of the State who must necessarily receive preparatory instruction before they can be received in the college classes. When our high schools shall have become sufficiently developed throughout the State, so that they can furnish the necessary preparation for students who intend to enter the University, this department can be dispensed with. At present its direct and indirect advantages are so great that every Professor called upon to instruct in it, prefers to take the extra work rather than to cripple the University. The principal studies are English Grammar, Geography, Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, and Latin and Greek, so far as these two languages are required for entering the college of letters. Instruction is also given in Elocution, Reading and Orthography.

MILITARY TACTICS.

It is provided by law that all male students of the University, of whatever college, shall receive instruction and discipline in military tactics, the requisite arms for which shall be furnished by the state. Last year the Regents believed that a competent officer of the regular army would be detailed by the general government, under a recent act of congress, to act as military professor; but under the construction and action of the war department, they have been unable to obtain such a detail. Steps have, however, been taken to bring this subject again prominently before congress, and little doubt is entertained that ample provision for this department of instruction will be made by congress. The Regents have, therefore, not deemed it advisable to make special provision for military instruction, until it is known what the action of congress will be on the subject. But a military company has been formed under command of competent officers, so that all students of the University have here an opportunity for military drill, and many have availed themselves of it.

MISCELLANEOUS MATTERS.

Besides the students in the regular classes, it is provided that students may enter the University at any time and select any three studies taught that term in either of the colleges or in the preparatory department. These are classed as "University Students," in distinction from those in the regular college classes.

There are, at present, one hundred and forty-eight male students in the preparatory and college classes, and eighty eight young ladies in the normal department. Of these students forty-six receive free tuition, under section 9 of the act of reorganization.

The degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred on those students who have completed the course of study in the college of letters; and the degree of Bachelor of Philosophy, on those who have completed the course of study in the college of arts; while the young ladies who complete the prescribed course of study in the normal department are entitled to diplomas of graduation under the seal of the University.

The North Dormitory Building contains thirty-two rooms for students, accommodating about 90. This is used for male students, while the South Dormitory Building is used exclusively for female students. There being 148 male students this term, the accommodations have been insufficient, and the university has been compelled to obtain rooms elsewhere, at a much higher price than was received from students for room-rent. Notwithstanding the objections which are sometimes urged against the dormitory system, it must be apparent that for our university it is absolutely required. Even the present number of students could not find accommodations in the city of Madison except at an inconvenient distance and an expense which few of them could afford to pay. The enlargement of these accommodations for students therefore becomes a matter of pressing necessity, and since the resources of the university, including the legislative appropriation, are hardly sufficient to defray the necessary current expenses, it is confidently expected by the regents that the State will provide for the erection of another building. The building now used for young ladies is not fitted for them. If a proper building could be provided for them, that which they now occupy could be used by young men, and then the university would have rooms and boarding accommodations enough for some time to come.

Concerning the financial condition of the University, I beg to refer to the annexed annual report of the Secretary of the Board of Regents, showing in detail the receipts and disbursements of the different funds and their respective incomes appropriated for the support of the University. It appears that the total income of the ensuing year, including the estimated receipts of tuition fees, will be $22,208 38, an amount barely sufficient for the support of the departments as now organized, including the contemplated chair of agriculture. If we compare this income with that of the University of Michigan, which, as I am informed, was over $67,000 last year, (being three times as much as ours will be for the ensuing year), it will at once appear why our University cannot, for many years to come, be expected to equal that of which our sister State, Michigan is so justly proud. The example of Michigan is one well worth our emulation, and I hope that the time may not be far distant when our State University, which, since my connection with its administration I have seen near the brink of bankruptcy, and scoffed and sneered at from all sides (the much-abused step-child of the State, "that had no friends.") will rise to be worthy of the name "University." New life has been infused into it, and it will not disappoint the people if they will properly support and aid it.

EDWARD SALOMON,

President of the Board of Regents of the University.

APPENDIX.

REPORT OF THE SECRETARY.

MADISON, WIS., October 10, 1867.

HON. EDWARD SALOMON,

President Regents of the University of Wisconsin :

SIR—I have the honor to submit the following statement of the condition of the Funds pertaining to the University, in my capacity as Secretary of the Regents, under the provisions of chapter 114, Laws of 1866.

The University Fund now consists of the University Fund proper, and of the Agricultural College Fund, which have been united for the purpose of sustaining an agricultural department in connection with the university. The amount of the fund, as appears from the statements below, is as follows :

UNIVERSITY FUND.

Due on certificates of sale.....	$69,192 88
Amount due on mortgages.....	6,892 00
Certificates of indebtedness.....	101,000 00
Dane county bonds.....	16,800 00
Cash on hand.....	1,181 56
	<hr/>	$195,066 44

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE FUND.

Due on certificates of sale.....	$12,417 00
Dane county bonds.....	6,000 00
Cash on hand.....	1,815 39
	<hr/>	$20,232 39

Total principal of both funds.....	<hr/>	<hr/>	$215,298 83
------------------------------------	-------	-------	--------------

The balance of cash on hand, as above stated, will be invested in securities on or before the first of June next, together with such additional amounts as arise from the sales of lands in the mean time, the whole amount drawing interest at the rate of seven per cent. per annum.

There remains still unsold 16,993 acres of University land, and 223,870 acres of Agricultural College land. These lands as yet are selling slowly, but the proceeds of the sales will increase annually the productive funds.

The following comparative statements exhibit the condition of the University and Agricultural College Funds at the end of the fiscal years ending September 30, 1866 and 1867, respectively :

UNIVERSITY FUND.

	1867.	1866.
Amount due on certificates of sales.....	$69,192 88	$71,288 70
Amount due on mortgages.....	6,892 00	7,842 00
Certificates of indebtedness.....	101,000 00	101,000 00
Dane county bonds.....	16,800 00
Total productive fund.....	$193,884 88	$180,230 70

Dane county bonds.....	6,000 00
	$18,417 00	$5,080 00

The changes in the first two items of the productive University Fund, specified above, have been produced as follows :

Amount due on certificates of sales Sept. 30, 1866.....		$71,388 70
Decrease by forfeitures.....	$1,425 00
Decrease by payments.....	7,680 06	9,105 06
		$62,283 64
Increase by new certificates of sale.....		6,909 24

Decrease by payments.....	950 00
Amount due on mortgages, Sept. 30, 1867,...	.....	$6,892 00

The increase in the Agricultural College Fund arises from additional sales of lands.

The following statements show the receipts and disbursements of the University and Agricultural College Funds respectively, for the year ending Sept. 30, 1867 :

Under the provisions of chapter 46, of the laws of 1867, the Commissioners of School and University Lands were directed to invest the principal of the University and Agricultural college funds in the bonds of Dane county, to the amount of forty thousand dollars. These bonds were issued in pursuance of section 16, of chapter 114, laws of 1866, for the purpose of purchasing an experimental farm, to be used in connection with the agricultural department of the University. These bonds were hypothecated by the regents in 1866, and a portion of them, amounting to the sum of $28,500, have been taken up by the above-mentioned funds, of which amount only eighty cents on the dollar has been paid. The remainder of the bonds will be taken up as soon as the state of the funds admits.

The receipts and disbursements of the funds above-mentioned were as follows :

UNIVERSITY FUND INCOME.

The University fund income consists of the interest on the productive fund and such donations as may from time to time be made.

The amount of receipts and disbursements during the last fiscal year, was as follows :

Receipts.

From the above statements it appears that there is a balance of income on hand belonging to these funds, as follows :

University Fund income.....	$5,619 54
Agricultural College Fund income.....	1,090 08
	<hr/>
	$6,709 62
	<hr/> <hr/>

Since none of the salaries of the Professors for the present University year have been paid up to the first of October, although one quarter's salary is due, this balance, with the amount paid for interest on lands, due January 1, 1868, the amount appropriated by the State under chapter 82, Laws of 1867, and Tuition fees from students, will constitute the whole amount of means applicable to the support of the University up to June 1, 1868, at which time the interest on certificates of Indebtedness, and Dane county bonds will be due and payable.

The amount of available funds for the present University year will then stand as follows :

Balance on hand.....	$6,709 62
Interest on lands, estimated.....	6,195 00
Appropriation by State.....	7,303 76
Tuition fees, estimated.....	2,000 00
	<hr/>
Total.....	$22,208 38
	<hr/> <hr/>

From this amount must be paid the salaries of the Faculty, and teachers, for the whole of the present University year, and all the expenses necessary for repairs, fuel, insurance, and expenses of the meetings of the Regents.

EXPERIMENTAL FARM FUND.

The receipts into this fund from the sale and hypothecation of Dane County Bonds in 1866, was $29,358 72. During the fiscal year ending September 30, 1866, there was paid out for lands purchased, the sum of $23,672 00, leaving a balance on hand at the commencement of last fiscal year, of $5,686 72. There have been no further receipts during the last fiscal year.

The following is a statement of the disbursements from this fund during the year ending September 30, 1867 :

Disbursements.

For lands—

Elizabeth Haight and others.....	$2,582 00
A. E. Morley.....	1,593 00
James Richardson.....	544 30
Carrie F. Henderson and others.....	2,000 00
	<hr/>
		$6,719 30

For expense improving farm—

Frank & Hopkins, lumber.....	$451 00

Cornelius Oleson, building fence.....	50 31
	<hr/>	888 34
Total accounts audited and paid.....		<hr/> <hr/> $7,607 64

As appears, there is an overpayment of this fund to the amount of $1,920 92, which will soon be more than balanced by a further investment of the bonds.

Respectfully, your obedient servant,

THOS. S. ALLEN,

*Secretary of State, and ex officio
Secretary of Regents of University.*

REPORTS OF COUNTY SUPERINTENDENTS.

BURNETT COUNTY.

Herewith I send my annual report—the last one under my term of office. Three teachers have been employed in our two districts during the year, one male and two females. The first one was a very poor teacher, but, unable to find any one else. I was obliged to accept him for two months. The two female teachers did their best, especially Mary Tewksberry, but were unable to secure regular attendance of the scholars.

The school-house in district 2 is now completed, and is the best in the neighborhood. The District Clerk, Canute Anderson, deserves credit for his energetic efforts in providing his district with a beautiful house and furnishing materials and site in advance.

The interest among the people for education is very small as yet, and I have been unable to get the parents to send their children regular to school. Hoping that my nominated successor will succeed better than I have done, and do more for the important and great object of education, I say farewell.

G. WM. FORSELL,
County Superintendent.

DODGE COUNTY.

West District.

There are in this district one hundred and seven school houses capable of accommodating six thousand five hundred and eight pupils. The number of children in the district over four and under twenty years of age is eight thousand seven hundred and eight. It will from this be seen, that there are twenty-two hundred children entitled to an education, that cannot find accommodations in our public schools. Many of the houses are not only too small, but out of repair and badly constructed for school purposes. It is gratifying to be able to state, that things in this respect are rapidly improving. Several new buildings for school purposes have been erected during the past year, that reflect credit upon the people where they are located. The greater number are sufficiently large to accommodate all the children residing in the district and contain those improvements in seating and ventilation which experience has demonstrated to be necessary.

GRADED SCHOOLS.

There are seven graded schools in this district, exclusive of those in the city of Beaver Dam. These schools have been under the charge of competent instructors, and it is believed will compare favorably with any in the state.

LIBRARIES.

The different libraries in the several school districts contain eight hundred volumes, valued at $748. These libraries, if properly managed, are of incalculable benefit to the young. But great care should be taken in the selection of books. To invest money in the trashy literature with which the country is flooded, is a thousand times worse than throwing it away. Books should be selected with a view to improvement as well as entertainment, and for this purpose selections can be made from the domains of science, history and biography. The youthful mind must have food, but let it be pure and wholesome.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE.

The various reports show, that there are two thousand nine hundred and sixty-eight children in this district over four and under twenty years of age, that have, during the year, attended no school either public or private. This is an alarming state of things, when taken in connection with the fact, that reflecting minds every where concede, that the welfare of society and the safety of our institutions depend upon the intelligence of the people. It is in this view of the case, that property owners are taxed for the support of our public schools. If this be just, and few can doubt it, have we not a right to insist, nay, to demand that these children shall receive the benefits of a common school education?

MONTHLY REPORTS.

I have required Monthly Reports from all the teachers in my jurisdiction, showing the order of exercises, the different branches of study pursued, the progress made, the deportment of the scholars and other valuable information. For this purpose blanks have been furnished to enable the teachers to discharge this duty without unnecessary labor or delay. The expense attending this measure is small and the results believed to be beneficial.

Teachers are held to a personal accountability, while any difficulty occurring in school may be reported to the superintendent, and oftentimes removed by a timely word of caution or advice.

VISITING SCHOOLS.

I have visited during the year one hundred and seventy-nine schools, and found them mostly in a prosperous condition. Where failures have occurred, it was owing mainly to the neglect or inability of the teachers to enforce discipline. In other cases, I have reason to believe that the schools would have been successful, had the District Boards visited them as required by law, or parents shown that interest in the schools which their importance demands. It has been my object besides examining into the condition of the schools, noting the progress made, and making such suggestions as circumstances seemed to require, to impress upon the minds of the young the importance of rightly improving their time, of forming correct habits and living virtuously as the only means of securing their own happiness and becoming good citizens.

Upon the whole we have reason to congratulate ourselves upon the efficiency and success of our school system, and to feel encouraged to further efforts in behalf of popular education.

LORENZO MERRILL,
County Superintendent.

EAU CLAIRE COUNTY.

The town clerks have been exceedingly tardy in their reports, and some of them so imperfect that I was obliged to send them back for correction. I have labored hard to get them as correct as possible, but there are many imperfections still which I could not remedy.

I would simply add that great improvement respecting the schools of this county is evident, and this seems very generally to be appreciated by the people, although I failed to receive the nomination for another term. I hope the work may fall into more faithful hands. It has been a work that I have enjoyed. The past year has been one of unprecedented success of the teachers in this county. I have labored to systematize the methods of instruction with greater success than I anticipated, and it is with some degree of gratification that I compare the condition of the schools now with that of six years ago when the work fell into my hands. The great danger to the system of county superintendents is that party politics, or what is worse, personal preference or opposition, or the desire to favor with the income of the office, will control in the nominations, while those really caring for educational interests neglect to attend the primary meetings, and the few control the election.

The people of this county seem really to be awake to the interests of the schools. I have visited nearly every school in the county twice during each term, and first at the earliest possible period after its commencement to assist the teacher in organizing.

This to the teachers has been worth more in securing success than any other labor I have bestowed. The teachers appreciate it, and it has been the means of securing their highest confidence.

A. KIDDER,
County Superintendent.

GRANT COUNTY.

A few days ago I forwarded you my annual report for the year ending Aug. 31, 1867. But, at your request and in order to give a fuller statement of the condition of the schools and educational interests of Grant county, I make the following special report :

ERRORS IN ANNUAL REPORT.

In the financial pages the "amount received," less the "amount paid out" does not leave the "money on hand," for this reason, viz : in the towns of Blue River, Ellenboro, Glen Haven, Harrison, Hickory Grove, Lima, Little Grant, Fennimore, Millville, and Waterloo, there are districts that report deficits ; and quite a number of these towns report money as being raised, without reporting any expenditure of it, yet no money reported as "on hand ;" so some report money as "paid out," when no account is given as to how it was raised. And in many districts the importance of voting taxes separately for the several purposes specified, was lost sight of ; hence you will find, in these cases, taxes all put in one sum as money received from "all other sources" or under the head, "teachers' wages," thus rendering the report very imperfect and untrustworthy as a guide to the amount of money raised or expended for particular purposes. So in the body of the report there is too little accuracy ; some districts, for example, report a number of pupils under four or over twenty as attending school, but give no account of the number of days' attendance, and some town clerks report the "total days' attendance" the same as the "number of days a school has been taught ;" others give no report of the number attending school, &c.

There is no way to remedy these errors, but for the people to elect, as district and as town clerks, men who can read and write the English language, and, at least, add an ordinary column of figures.

TIME—HOW EMPLOYED.

I have held, during the year, nineteen examinations, consuming thus eleven weeks. In addition to these public advertised examinations, I had, (under the plea of scarceness of teachers, mainly last fall,) to give private examinations to seventy-three applicants—these, generally, came to my office without previous notice, hence, were the cause of a loss of much time, about five weeks, that should have been given to school visitation. The above deductions, increased by the whole of the time necessary for preparation of questions for both the spring and the fall examinations—which is no small task—and in doing the office writing, correspondence, records, &c., leaves about thirty weeks, in which to visit the two hundred and twelve schools, (which there are, as per town clerks' reports, in the county,) some of them with two, three, four or five departments.

I held this year three Institutes—one of three days' continuance, for the west part of the county, at Patch Grove, attended by about fifty teachers; one, of four days, for the south part of the county, at Platteville, attended by seventy teachers; and one, of three days, at Lancaster, attended by sixty-five teachers. Charles H. Allen assisted in conducting the first two, and Jacob Wernli the last, whilst others—teachers in the county—rendered valuable aid in class drills. Of these three Institutes, I think I may say, that they were eminently successful, and too much credit for their success can not be given to Professors Allen and Wernli, of the State Normal School. At Patch Grove, lectures were delivered by Professor Allen, Hon. Hanmer Robbins and Professor W. B. Clark, of Patch Grove Academy, who also rendered efficient aid there, as well as at Lancaster, in class exercises. At Platteville, Professor Allen lectured two evenings, and Professor George M. Guernsey one; at Lancaster, lectures were delivered by Professor Wernli, Hon. J. T. Mills and Professor Beardsley of Lancaster Institute. These lectures were all thoroughly practical and commonsense talks with and to the teachers. In addition to the above, the Superintendent lectured at Patch Grove and Platteville.

In the course of the year I have, besides examinations and office work, made one hundred and fifty-one visits to schools—the number of visits would have been considerably larger but for the time spent in private examinations last fall. I have endeavored to make these visits of as much benefit as possible to the districts. I counsel with teachers in regard to modes of instruction, government, classification, and general management, (sometimes personally, other times by written note,) and I have a circular addressed to School Boards, which I use in visiting schools. This is of necessity general, but at the foot is a blank space, in order that I may call attention, by number, to any of the specifications that I may regard as apposite to the school, and may write also any thing further that I may have to say. This circular is in the main embodied in a circular which I prepared this fall to be read at the Annual School District Meetings, and which I append to this report. This circular has accomplished good results in many cases; and has always, I believe, with one exception, been kindly received, whether the suggestions contained in it were regarded or not.

In this case, the school house stood upon a highway, grounds uninclosed, no out house, the blackboard small and almost worn out, the seats with high, perpendicular backs and no chair for the teacher.

I, as kindly and politely as I knew how, called attention specially to the need for an out house, for a better blackboard and for more comfortable seats for the children. The clerk upon receiving the circular, informed the teacher, that the district were satisfied with the appurtenances as they were, that they were good enough, and if they did not suit me, I could furnish new; yet, the second day after, in conversing with me, he claimed that he had for a long time urged the necessity for the same improvements that I recommended.

During these visits I delivered a number of evening lectures, in different parts of the county, upon the wants of the schools and the best means to supply these wants. I have aimed in these lectures to state simple truths in a plain way; to enlist parents fully in the important work of providing suitable school-houses, apparatus and appurtenances; and to beget an enlightened public opinion in favor of sustaining good schools for a greater, instead of poor schools for a less length of time, as the latter has been too much the practice. And I am assured the work has not been done in vain.

GRADING OF SCHOOLS.

In the matter of grading I can report little or no change. The classification of the school at Hazel Green was somewhat systematized, but lacks much yet in thoroughness.

CHANGE IN DISTRICTS

I am glad to report that in some localities there is a better opinion beginning to spring up in regard to the size of school districts. Hitherto the practice has been to divide and sub-divide, but this year there has been a move in the opposite direction. In the town of Clifton, districts 1 and 5 have been consolidated, and so in the town of Lima, joint district 6 and districts 4 and 8 have been united. By these changes there is certainly far more ability to sustain a good school, and this end accomplished will compensate the increased distance that the children have to travel. Some few families in these two new districts will of necessity have a considerable distance to send their children to school, but I am informed that the union in each case was effected with great unanimity.

And during the year, at least one joint district, consisting of parts of four towns, has been broken up: a new district being formed in each of the four towns

The joint districts are a fruitful source of much trouble and inaccuracy in the reports,—one clerk of such district, I know, has reported fully to the town clerk of four separate towns, so the children of his district are four times enumerated. There is little real need for the formation of such districts. More than half the applications (that come to my knowledge) for the formation of joint districts, as well as being set off from one district into another, have their origin in petty quarrels or neighborhood jealousies.

Were all the joint districts in the county broken up, such disposition might be made of the territory composing them, that few, if any persons would suffer detriment from the change.

SCHOOL HOUSES.

There have been a number of school-houses built within the year. First, among these is the house in the village of Lancaster, a brick building, 72x56 feet, containing rooms for ten teachers, and capable of accommodating about five hundred pupils. The cost of this house is about $16,000. The site contains almost three acres, is well enclosed, and covered with native trees, being altogether the most attractive grounds in the county.

Unfortunately, owing to the fact that the old house had to be razed to give place for the new, at least a year (from April 1, 1867 to April 1, 1868,) will pass by without any public school in this village. The interim will be filled up as best it can by a number of private schools and the Lancaster Institute.

I would note further that a school house has been built in each of the following districts, viz. : districts 8 and 9, Beetown; district 3, Bloomington; districts 2 and 3, Blue River; district 3, Fennimore; district 2, Hazel Green; joint district 1, Harrison and Lima; joint district 9, Lima and Platteville; district 4, Marion; district 7, Potosi; district 7, Waterloo; districts 6 and 12, Wingville; and joint district 1, Woodman and Marion. And in districts 6, Hazel Green, and 7, Platteville, the school-houses have been enlarged, by removing one end wall and building an addition, making in each of these last two, an ungainly-looking room—the ceiling of the latter being so low as to render the room unfit for a school room. This gives a total of sixteen new houses, and two enlarged. Some of these are built without plan, it is true, and are ill suited to the purpose intended; but most of them are really good buildings, and are a credit to the districts. I would especially mention that of joint district 1, Harrison and Lima. This is according to a plan that I furnished them, and is, I think, the best arranged house built in the county during the last four years. I have continually urged that school-houses should be built after improved plans, as arrangement of furniture, &c., has so much to do with the success of a school, and as it costs no more to do a thing in a right way than to do it in a wrong way.

Besides these new houses, much has been done in the way of improvement. In district No. 5, Platteville, the grounds have been well enclosed and a cistern made; in Boscobel a well has been sunk, furnished with a pump, and a number of drinking cups chained to the pump; and in district 6, Clifton, a set of out-line maps and primary charts have been procured.

EXAMINATIONS.

There were present at my examinations 402 candidates; of these 338 received certificates,—4 of the first, 16 of the second, and 276 48 doc.

of the third grade. I granted 42 local, or special, certificates, generally upon application, from school-boards for such license. Of the above number, 12 are twice counted, leaving 326 different persons receiving certificates. So that there is now an excess of one hundred teachers over the number required to teach the schools. And so last fall there were sixty-six more licensed teachers than were required to teach the schools. These examinations have been partly written and partly oral, and upon the scale recommended by the State Conventions of County Superintendents. My questions have always been fair test-questions, free from quibbles and quiddities.

TEACHERS—WAGES, & C.

It is a matter of congratulation that sixty-five teachers should be retained in the same schools during the year; about twenty in the same schools, in which they taught last year; four for three years; one for four years; one for five years; and two for six and one-half years. The wages of teachers have remained about the same as last year. I believe the highest wages paid male teachers was $85,00, and female teachers $55,00 per month.

The average standing of teachers is far superior to what it was last year. If the standard of qualification should continue to be advanced, or even not permitted to sink below the present scale, our schools must show a marked improvement in the years to come.

MONTHLY REPORTS.

Two hundred and ninety teachers have been faithful in making the monthly reports to this office. The longer I use these reports the more fully am I convinced that their influence is very beneficial both to teachers and schools, and they furnish me a fund of information I could not otherwise obtain. I have, upon visiting the schools, found it true, without an exception, that those teachers who are most prompt, accurate and tidy in making their reports, keep superior schools, as compared with those whose reports are often tardy to reach me, soiled and inaccurate and incomplete.

APPURTENANCES.

My report shows that in five districts the school-grounds have been enclosed; that in fifteen, out-houses have been built; that in forty-seven, a list of text books has been adopted by the board; that in four, outline maps have been purchased, &c.; but still it is certainly humiliating that in a county like Grant but fifty-four school-houses out of two hundred and twelve, or little over one-fourth, or twenty-five per centum, are furnished with out-houses; and that but twenty-six are furnished with outline maps, and but twenty-five sites enclosed, not quite twelve and one-half per cent. If these things are wanting, one would but waste time and words to speak of cisterns or other arrangements for water, bells, clocks, adornments of school-room walls, and grounds, and the various æsthetical et caetera that tend to refine.

(Circular to be read at the Annual Meeting.)

OFFICE OF COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT,
LANCASTER, WIS., August 5, 1867.

To School District Officers :

GENTLEMEN :—Could I, I would be present at the annual meeting of every district in the county. This is simply impossible, so I take this means of communicating with you and the citizens of the district.

I would respectfully ask attention to the following matters :

1. In the election of district officers, for the ensuing term, let an effort be made to secure men who have both the ability and the inclination to promote the welfare of the school. Generally, those who have children to educate feel a deeper interest than those who have none.

2. In determining the amount of tax necessary for repairs, the condition of the fence and outhouses as well as of the school-house ought to be considered. In a great many districts of this county there are no outhouses ; and in many others the outhouses are so exposed or so out of repair or so filthy as to be no better than none. This matter demands your attention. Refinement and purity are not easily rooted out of the minds and hearts of children, but there are some assaults that it is difficult for even innate feelings to withstand. The school-house should be enclosed by a substantial and tasteful fence. The yard should be divided into two separate portions for the girls and the boys ; and a privy should be provided for each sex in opposite corners of the yard. This subject is respectfully urged upon the attention of the people as worthy of their careful consideration.

3. In levying a tax for the payment of teachers' wages, do not have too great regard to cheapness ; too often a cheap teacher keeps a dear school. As shown by the last Annual Report of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, no class of persons are so poorly paid as teachers, if you take into consideration the average length of time the schools were taught. Let us be wise in managing our educational interests. A true economy shuns alike parsimony and prodigality.

4. In many districts of this county the school houses are entirely unfit for school purposes ; and others have no seats or desks fit for the use for which they are intended ; many have no place provided where pupils may orderly put away their hats and bonnets ; many have no wood box, hence the wood is scattered over the floor—no scraper, hence the floor is littered with mud ; few have sufficient good black board surface, outline maps, primary charts, and recitation seats ; the annual meeting is the time for the consideration of these things. A few hours' labor will, in many cases, render a school room much more convenient and comfortable.

5. If you are about to build a school house, first have a plan—much money is often wasted by building without a plan. Seats and desks should face the teacher, the entrance should be in the south end, the teacher's desk in the north end, and the blackboard should extend quite across the north end, and if needed, fill all the spaces between windows, &c., around the room. A school house should never be built snug up to a road to catch all the dust and noise of passers-by, nor by a smith-shop or a mill. There are some school houses with ample grounds that seem to dispute the right of wagons to pass that way—they crowd so upon the roads.

6. The law makes it your duty to visit the schools. Your visits encourage both the teachers and the pupils. By visiting early in the term you can accomplish more good than visiting at a later day, by suggesting corrections for any irregularities.

As official visitors, we should observe and try to correct, where correction is needed, among other things :

1st. The general department and application of pupils, the discipline and modes of instruction.

2d. The irregularity of attendance and tardiness of a portion of pupils.

3d. Whether there is a uniform series of text books, and whether there is any lack of text books in the branches the pupils are required to study.

4th. The extent, convenience and condition of the black board. Often I find the black board up so high as to be out of the reach of the little ones ; also whether there is a supply of outline maps, primary charts, map of Grant county, &c.

5th. The temperature, ventilation and general comfort of the school-room ; the height, width and inclination of the seats and desks, compared with the wants of the pupils.

7. The length of this circular admonishes me that I may not discuss many important questions that come before you at your district meeting. I would further simply suggest the following :

1st. Has your school been kept five months by a qualified teacher ?

2d. Is your school kept in session during alternate Saturday's ? If so, is it not a waste of time ?

3d. Are teachers employed in your school without first obtaining a certificate from the county superintendent ? Hereafter, in accordance with the action of the State convention of county and city superintendents at La Crosse, and frequent decisions of the state superintendent that the course is illegal, certificates from adjoining counties will not be endorsed.

I have offered the foregoing questions and suggestions hoping that they may lead to such action as will benefit the school. The responsibility of a voter at a district meeting is great. It is here that we find the source of the determining influence of society.

Then this is the summing up of the whole matter : I regard the teachers as being better qualified and more earnest in their work ; the schools as being a great advance this year upon what they were last ; and, possibly, the people generally more interested in the schools, as shown by a desire for better teachers, and by an increased and increasing number of school visits given in the monthly reports.

D. GRAY PURMAN,
County Superintendent.

GREEN LAKE COUNTY.

A good degree of interest in the prosperity of our common schools, has been manifested by the citizens of our county during the past year.

The desire for well-qualified, efficient teachers is becoming general, and the average wages of teaching are now higher than ever before. Teachers are encouraged. Grateful for every token of appreciation from school officers and patrons, they will doubtless devote themselves with increased earnestness to the duties of their calling, and thus a new impetus will be given to the cause of education throughout the country.

The subject of better school accommodations is beginning to receive some attention, but not as much as its importance demands. A new brick school house has just been completed in the town of Brooklyn ; also, a fine stone structure for a Union School, in the village of Princeton, is being built, which will be ready for use by the middle of November next. And there are encouraging indications that several new brick school houses will be erected during the ensuing year. Such facts testify to the increasing interest of our people, in the care and enlightenment of the rising generation.

Let every friend of intelligence, good order and social progress but feel, as he ought, that he is in a degree responsible for the condition of the schools and the standard of education in the community in which he resides, and an impulse would be given to the cause of popular education, encouraging alike to all officers, and to every good citizen of our commonwealth.

A. A. SPENCER,
County Superintendent.

KEWAUNEE COUNTY.

I can only say that in this county the cause of common schools and education generally has been very much improved during the past year. We have two Graded Schools of two departments each. Two very respectable and conveniently arranged frame school-houses have been built the past season, one in Casco, and one in Ahnepee. Take it all in all, I believe Kewaunee county has made considerable improvement in her educational interests.

LYMAN WALKER,
County Superintendent.

LA FAYETTE COUNTY.

Since transmitting my last annual report to your department, I have, from personal observation and contact become somewhat better acquainted with the condition of the schools generally of this county, and am hence better prepared than when I last addressed you, to present a few observations in the shape of a "Special Report," touching what I deem important to the general well-being of our common schools.

Within the past year, I have held meetings of the people at twenty-six different points in our county, with a view of exciting if possible, a greater interest in school matters than we generally find pervading communities dependent upon our common schools for educational advantages.

While these meetings have not been as successful as I could have wished with respect to numbers in attendance, I am convinced from the results which have attended many of them, that great and lasting benefits may be conferred by school officers upon our schools through such agencies.

These meetings have taught me that the lamentable lack of interest among the people in school matters, so universally a subject of remark by school officers, is to be ascribed rather to the absence of a true appreciation of their relation to our common schools, than to a spirit of deliberate indifference to an interest which, in a country like ours, constitutes the foundation upon which rests our entire social and political structure.

In announcing or calling these assemblies of the people, curiosity was at once excited to know what could be the character of "Educational Meetings," as they have been styled. Many supposed that the Superintendent designed presenting to the people technical disquisitions upon the subject of education; something that would be above the comprehension of those for whose benefit the meetings were intended.

This fact, I subsequently ascertained, operated materially against the success of the movement in certain localities, keeping many away who, had they known that the object of the "Educational Meeting" was simply to enable the Superintendent to get the people together and address them in a plain, matter of fact, common sense manner, touching the relations they sustain to their schools, would, by their presence, have greatly enhanced the interest of the assemblies, and, I believe, learned something of their duties and responsibilities as patrons of the public schools.

In my last report to your department, I took occasion to allude to the necessity which I conceived to exist for an increase in the wages of teachers, and I am now more than ever convinced, that due attention to this matter on the part of the public will prove most advantageous. There has, to be sure, been a marked increase in teachers' wages within the past two or three years, but there is still room for improvement. The average rate of teachers' wages in this county may be said to be about $25 per month. Such compensation as this is by no means adequate, if we would create what is so much to be desired, viz., a class of professional teachers. Indeed, there is no class so poorly paid as the teaching profession generally. And as a result of this state of things, young men are in the habit of teaching during the winter months, and seeking some more remunerative channel in the summer; whereas, if sufficient wages were paid they would make a business or profession of teaching, and thus necessarily become better qualified for the work than it is possible for them to do as at present engaged. There is no good reason, that I can conceive of, why the compensation of teachers should not at least approximate in a reasonable measure to that received by employees in the various clerical positions occupied by young men and women.

Assuredly, the position occupied by the teacher who is charged with the moral and intellectual training of from twenty to fifty children, involves quite as weighty a responsibility as that borne by him who holds the position of clerk.

The plan practiced by some of our county superintendents of addressing the people upon school topics through circulars read at the annual district meetings, commends itself to my judgment as an excellent means of reaching all concerned, and shall be adopted in this county should I be continued in my present position.

Apropos of this, I may observe that I have been placed under obligations to I. N. Cundall, Esq., of Fond du Lac county, and to D. Gray Purman, Esq., of Grant county, by the receipt during the past year from these gentlemen of various valuable papers relating to school interests in their respective counties.

CHAS. B. JENNINGS,
County Superintendent.

MARATHON COUNTY.

I have visited and examined eight schools, and am pleased to be able to report favorably of them.

District No. 7, town of Wausau, has nearly completed a good me school-house.

It is very desirable to have a uniformity of text books in the schools. The great variety now in use hinders the teacher from laboring efficiently.

It is a subject of complaint that parents seldom visit the schools. Surely parents should esteem teachers and sustain their authority in proportion as they are faithful in all things. Except they cooperate with them decidedly and heartily, and take part with them, even though it be against their own children, except when it is clear that authority is abused and cruelty practiced, the teacher must fail and the pupils be injured. So fond and partial are most parents, that they are too ready to take part with their children against teachers and all others.

THOMAS GREENE,
County Superintendent.

OCONTO COUNTY.

I send you herewith, my annual report. I have delayed it several days, in order to have all the town clerks' reports to embody in it; using in the meantime all reasonable means to secure prompt and accurate reports; but still you will find that one (the Pensaukee) report, is wanting.

My report is defective in other respects, I am well aware. I have taken much pains to have it accurate in all its details. I could, however, only use such materials as subordinate officers furnished me; and they were evidently defective in some respects. I first publicly called the attention of District and Town Clerks to the importance of accurate and prompt reports from them. I then addressed those personally whose reports were faulty or failed to reach me, and you have the result.

Some of the officers lack the requisite knowledge, and some lack interest.

There is, I presume, nothing in my county, which does not exist in others, that would furnish material for a special report which would be of service to the general cause of education.

Three new school houses have been built during the year, and arrangements are making for three or four more in the year to come.

The county is new, and there are many difficulties to overcome before our schools are made what they ought to be. I think the prospect is brightening, but slowly.

JNO. FAIRCHILD,
County Superintendent of Schools.

OZAUKEE COUNTY.

At the time of transmitting my annual statistical report to the State Department, I was occupied with the fall examinations and Institute, else this special report should accompany it; besides both were forwarded together last year, and the special report was not looked upon as such.

During the winter term I visited every school in the county, spending half a day in each, accompanied in all cases, where it was possible to secure such co-operation, by the members of the District Board. In nearly every school I conducted the usual exercises, together with a review examination in the different branches studied, and noticed very decided improvements since the preceding visitation, to which I directed the attention of the District Boards. During the summer term all the schools in operation (comparatively few) were visited. The summer schools, except in the villages, are but thinly attended.

In some country districts where a young lady whiles away some two or three months in the summer with about a dozen children from four to nine years of age, would it not be better to keep all the school term, agreed upon by the district, in the fall and winter? And yet I should hesitate to counsel any course that might tend to keep the door of a school-house closed all summer.

The value of large districts and graded schools begins to be more thought of and appreciated. Last year one small district was dissolved, and incorporated with the adjoining district, and a similar tendency elsewhere is perceptible.

Only those schools that are under the charge of teachers of ability, are frequently visited by the District Board and others; while in those conducted by poor teachers little or no interest seems to be taken. We have four graded schools; three having two departments, and one having three departments. Three new stone school-houses have been built during the year, and others are about to be built next spring and summer.

At and since the fall, examinations fifty-nine certificates have been issued, fifty-one of the third grade, six of the second grade, and two of the first grade. Only thirty-six applicants presented themselves at the public examinations, the remaining twenty-three consist of old teachers who seem to think that their experience in the profession should exempt them from such a process, and of inexperienced young men and ladies, who are always on the look out for those schools that remain, after the holders of fully legitimate public examination certificates are served. Even this is an improvement on former years.

Heretofore the examinations were, for the most part, written, so much as to appear and in reality be private, rather than public examinations; this fall they were conducted almost exclusively on the oral principle, and with this form visitors were satisfied and teachers perfectly reconciled.

There are some few teachers whose strongest claim to a certificate or rather to a license to teach, consists in presenting a paper signed by the board and citizens of some certain district, expressing a wish to have them as their teachers. Unwillingly have I granted a license (limited of course) to such persons, actuated by a scarcity of teachers, and the fear that, in such a case, if the wish of the district were not respected the school-house might remain closed during the term.

I have held an Institute in the latter part of October, the second since I became Superintendent, and the latter has proved so great an improvement on the former, both in the attendance and the interest manifested as to inspire high hopes of the good to be accomplished by such exercises. This, together with the regular meetings of our Teachers' Association, lately organized, promises to bring about a better state of things in matters pertaining to education.

P. K. GANNON,
County Superintendent.

PEPIN COUNTY.

The class of teachers in this county are growing better each year. The demand for good teachers is on the increase and some districts are more concerned about the quality and abilities of the teacher than the wages. But the majority of the districts are still in favor of "cheap teachers." The selfishness of man is manifested as much in our school matters as anywhere else. In some districts in this county there are a majority of men who have no children, and being tax payers they vote down the school—refusing to raise funds necessary to maintain it. Hence some of our school children are deprived of schooling from this cause—men refusing to raise money to educate other folks' children. This I call a short-sighted and niggardly policy for people living in the United States.

Our school-houses, as a general thing, are poor concerns, rough logs thrown together, as if for herding sheep or cattle, with few out-houses and badly constructed seats. There are but few good school-houses in the county.

As yet people here will not vote a tax for a school library, school apparatus or outline maps. There is not a school-house in the county supplied with outline maps.

It is high time that our legislature change the school month from 22 days to 20 days. The people demand this change, and especially the teachers.

JAMES R. HANAN,
County Superintendent.

PIERCE COUNTY.

As our county is quite new and much of it thinly settled, so we have not arrived at the degree of perfection to which we hope gradually to attain. In part of the towns we have some very fine school-houses, which are an ornament to the county and a credit to the districts in which they are situated. The larger number of our school districts have rather poor school-houses, which have been built some time when the inhabitants were poor. But there is an irrepressible desire in this county for building new school-houses after the best and most improved plans; also for repairing others and making them comfortable and convenient for both teachers and scholars.

During the past year our schools have been supplied with well qualified teachers, who have shown themselves masters of their profession by the success that has attended most of their labors.

This constant and gradual improvement of our schools is due to several causes which I need not mention here.

I am pleased to state that quite a number of our teachers have been employed in the same district—some two terms, some three or more, and one lady has become a permanent and indispensable fixture to the welfare of the school in which she has so faithfully labored many a weary year.

There are many officers and patrons in this county who are unwilling to employ any teacher except those well qualified and adepts in teaching; yet it cannot be denied but that there are some who still cling to the pernicious idea that a cheap school teacher is as good as any other.

As long as this radical belief exists and is operative among our officers and patrons, so long we may not only expect but shall have poor teachers, poor schools and ignorant scholars. During the summer term, I have required monthly reports from our teachers for which I furnished blanks, which I think has produced a salutary influence upon our teachers and our schools. Every legally organized school in the county I have visited twice during the year, and some, oftener. My official visits to our schools always have been without notice to the teachers.

These visits have shown to me plainly that most of our teachers are laboring hard for the interests of those committed to their care; also, that there is almost a universal negligence on the part of school officers and patrons in visiting our schools. The presence of efficient officers and patrons in our schools would give much encouragement to our teachers, and often seem to lighten the burden of their arduous labors.

I consider our present school system to be working well in this county, and is fitly adapted to the wants of the people in our frontier counties.

We do not expect to reach perfection in this present life, but we will strive to better the condition of our schools by thought labor and money. For the accomplishment of this, strenuous efforts must be constantly put forth by all parties interested.

The officers who manage our schools should be selected with much care and discretion. Our schools belong to the people, and we should be governed by no motive in elevating men to office but what would tend to the best interests and future welfare of our scholars.

We do not expect, in this county, to surpass other portions of the state, but we intend to hold a fair rank, other things being equal.

I feel, as I am about to close my labors as a school officer, that my time has not been spent in vain, and I hope and trust, that my successor will find the schools of this county in a healthy and prosperous condition.

DANIEL THURSTON,
County Superintendent.

POLK COUNTY.

I have the honor of transmitting to you this, my fourth annual report. During my four years of labor in the schools of this county, it is truly gratifying to me to see the changes that have been wrought for the better. The little bark-covered shanty has been exchanged for the respectable school-house, and where the foot of man scarce before had trod, the merry group of children have assembled from day to day to receive instruction from one who has passed an ordeal of a rigid examination. Our county is new, and as yet sparsely settled, consequently we labor under many disadvantages compared to that of other counties having older organizations and richer districts.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS.

We have twenty-three school districts and two joint districts, twenty-two of which have maintained school five or more months during the school year. One district has been disorganized, and three new ones have been organized, making an increase of two districts, and some more new ones are about to be organized.

FINANCES.

As will be seen by the financial statement of my statistical report there is a sad discrepancy. In vain have I appealed to the town clerks for corrections of their reports; they assure me that it is impossible for them to obtain correct reports from the district clerks. After having tried in vain to procure correct statistics, I send you such as I can obtain. Two towns give me no financial statement at all, and others give erroneous ones. These matters, I think, should be investigated.

SCHOOL HOUSES.

There have been five neat log school houses built the past year at an aggregate value of $750. There are still two districts destitute of school houses. The best school house in the county is valued at about $1,000, and the poorest at $50, the aggregate value, $6965, and the average value to $316 59 (including sites.)

TEACHERS.

The number of teachers employed varies little from that of last year. only four male teachers have been employed. The average wages of males is $40 50 per month.

The average wages of female teachers is $27.61—$4.30 higher than it was last year.

We have, with but few exceptions, the same teachers we had last year. Owing to the increasing severity of the examinations, some are dropping off, not being able to keep pace, but the majority have with commendable zeal and earnest effort made rapid progress in their studies and efficiency in teaching. With very few exceptions those who read educational works, and devote their whole time and attention to their profession, are successful teachers; and it occurs to me that the profession never will attain to its proper standing until sufficient inducements are held out to cause young men and young women to devote their lives to the noble work. At present none but young persons can afford to spend their time in teaching. Those who have family responsibilities resting upon them must do something that will pay better; consequently our schools are mostly supplied with novices instead of experts in the art.

SCHOOL VISITATIONS.

During the year I have made 78 school visits, and have generally made suggestions in reference to methods of teaching, commending those things which I thought worthy of commendation, and calling the attention of the teacher to the things that I thought might be improved, all of which suggestions were kindly received, and in many cases resulted in perceptible improvement. At the spring examinations teachers were required to say that they would make an effort to improve their school grounds, which I found in my summer visits had not been neglected. It was indeed gratifying to find that wherever it was practicable, trees had been planted and play grounds had been nicely cleared off. Many thanks to those teachers who have thus assisted in carrying my plans into effect. No set of teachers could have been more faithful in their work, and no work could have resulted in more good.

SCHOOL PATRONS.

The people generally are interested in their schools, and so far as taxing themselves goes their liberality in most cases is not often excelled, yet their effort here to a great extent seems to stop, and it is difficult in many cases to get the facts before the people, that here their duty does not end, but that their interests should be manifested in furnishing maps and apparatus for the school room;

in replenishing their district library, if they have any; in making their school attractive by decorating and beautifying the room, the house, and its surroundings, and by frequently visiting the schools themselves, encouraging the teacher by co-operative sympathy and action. Could the people be made to see, realize and practice these things, a thorough reform would be wrought in our schools; and until then our school system is insufficient

SCHOOL LAWS.

The amendments to the school code passed by the last legislature are satisfactory to the people, with the exception of that which relates to the boundaries of a school district, limiting it to six miles square. It is sincerely hoped that such law will be repealed or amended by the next legislature, so far at least as it effects these frontier districts.

R. H. CLARK,
County Superintendent.

PORTAGE COUNTY.

This report is the last which my official duty calls upon me to transmit to your department. This year will end my official connection with the common schools of Wisconsin. Hence, this may be regarded in the light of a valedictory from the "Veteran Superintendent."

Four years' supervision of the schools of this county has ripened into conviction, in my mind, that the following are existing facts:

1st. The great majority of the people of this county believe, that good schools are good institutions.

2d. They are willing to tax themselves for the support of such schools.

3d. Many of them are willing to, and do, make sacrifices of time and personal ease in order that they may be able to send their children to school. While, it is also true, that too large a number, while they assent to the necessity of a good education, to prepare their children for the grave responsibilities of American citizenship, and for domestic and social duties, are remiss, often culpably so, in the duty of sending them to school. A lack of the manifestation of proper interest, in the progress and deportment of their children while in school, is also a prevalent evil; the bad effects of which are too numerous to mention in this report.

4th. Persons are too often selected for district officers without regard to their fitness for that position, and who are especially unfit from a lack of a just appreciation of the magnitude of the interests committed to their charge.

5th. That the good effects of an intelligent and faithful supervision of schools is not in danger of being too highly estimated, and and that there is less danger of the man who discharges the duty of Superintendent being too liberally paid.

6th. That the person chosen to the office of Superintendent, should not only be a man of thorough education—a person of large experience as a teacher, but should also be one in whose mind there is a living conviction of the truth, that of all earthly things, none tower higher in importance, as a means of advancing and securing the happiness and prosperity of the people, individually and collectively, than a well ordered system of education for the masses of the people; and withal, has love of country and love of humanity enough to inspire him with determination and energy to work unremittingly to establish such a system.

Short of this, the office of County Superintendent is a mockery, a mere useless appendage to a slow coach.

It follows as a necessary consequence that in order to secure the services of a superintendent with such qualifications, a compensation proportionate to the ability and labor required must be paid.

This county, I am happy to say, has made some progress in the building of school-houses during the past year, and in repairing and rendering sightly and comfortable those previously built. Two good frame school-houses have been put up in the town of Almond, and one in the town of Stockton. Preparations are being made for the erection of quite a number more during the coming year

Our educational interests are, at best, keeping pace with the advancement of the county in wealth and population.

I would, in conclusion, repeat substantially, my remarks in my last annual report in relation to this county. We need a larger number of teachers educated for that profession. To supply this want Normal Schools, in sufficient numbers and in such localities as to make them cheaply accessible to all who desire to engage in the business of teaching, should be established.

So long as our schools have to be supplied with teachers from the ranks of those who engage in teaching as a temporary occupation, or as a "stepping stone" to some more lucrative and less laborious profession, our common school system will be, to a great extent, a failure.

W. R. ALBAN,
County Superintendent.

RICHLAND COUNTY.

I was appointed to the office of county Superintendent in November, 1866, soon after the examination of that year was held. Since that time I have traveled over the county, held one examination, delivered several lectures, and written some articles for the county paper upon school matters.

Have also held a convention which recommended a series of text books to be used in the school. The teachers have made monthly reports for the first time; at the close of the first week of school, the teachers have sent me a programme of the exercises, that I might make some suggestions before I could visit the schools.

I have become acquainted with the schools, and the people; there are many difficulties to be overcome. I am not able to report any progress among the teachers, in modes of teaching, or in ability to teach, as I have visited the schools but once. Whatever the progress may have been, there is opportunity for more; a large number of licenses are granted every year; so that all may have some kind of a school. Many districts "seek cheap teachers."

Log school-houses without desks are slowly disappearing, and better houses are taking their places.

The people think the old books, the old modes of teaching, and the town Superintendency vastly superior to anything modern, of the kind.

The increase of salary for the next term of office, will enable the Superintendent to devote his time to the duties of the office; this may popularize the system, and make the schools more efficient.

GEO. D. STEVENS,
County Superintendent.

SAUK COUNTY.

In compliance with request I have the honor to submit the following special report of the schools in Sauk county for the past year:

I.—WORK PERFORMED.

1. Examinations. During the Fall examinations sixty-three applicants were examined, forty-eight of whom received certificates. At the Spring examinations, one hundred and seventy-eight applicants were examined, one hundred and twenty-nine of whom received certificates.

2. Private Examinations. After the public examinations in the Fall, although there were teachers enough holding certificates in force to supply all the schools in the county, district clerks seemed to meet with difficulty in securing them, probably because a large part of them were not intending to teach during the winter. This, of necessity, occasioned a great many private examinations, upon which fifty-three certificates were granted. Eighteen certificates were granted upon special applications in the spring.

3. Limited Certificates. One hundred and four limited certificates were granted, as follows: sixty-nine in the fall, and thirty-five in the spring;—and this, with the fact that several received certificates twice, will account for the large number of certificates granted.

4. School Visitation. In all the towns in the county, I visited one hundred and thirteen schools, and to these made one hundred and fifty visits. In addition to these I made about ten to districts in which there had been no schools, or in which the schools had closed before my arrival.

After my visits I usually wrote letters to the district boards concerning the discipline and management of the schools, the classification of the scholars, uniformity of text books, the condition of the school-room and the furniture, and the condition of the out-houses, recommending alterations and repairs when needed.

5. Institutes. Two institutes were held, one at Spring Green, attended by twenty-five teachers, and one at Baraboo, attended by sixty-two. Evening lectures were delivered before the latter by Rev. Spencer Carr, Rev. Warren Cochran, Hon. Jno G. McMynn and Jabez Brown, Esq. These lectures were well attended, and by them, as well as by the exercises at the institutes, a new interest was awakened in favor of public education.

6. Teachers' Reports. At the examinations the teachers were supplied with blanks for monthly reports, and by far the larger part of them reported as instructed. Abstracts of a part of these reports were published in the leading paper of the county, but they were received so irregularly that this has proved an item of but little interest. Yet it has been productive of some good, and judiciously used hereafter, must serve to increase the usefulness of the teacher.

II.—TEACHERS.

Owing to the scarcity of teachers last fall a good many of an inferior grade were licensed to supply the demand. But in the spring a large number of a better grade was in attendance at the examinations, from whom a very fair class of teachers was selected. Certificates were granted to none under sixteen years of age. Although persons at that age were considered as altogether too young to assume the responsibilities of a teacher, a good many, under the circumstances, had to be accepted. Older teachers, however, those who have had several years' experience, are coming into the field. The younger have improved a good deal by the year's experience. They know much more of the branches in which they are required to be examined. Many are striving for the higher grade certificates. The fact that eight second grade certificates were granted, six of them at the spring examination, is a proof of this. Several are now attending school and studying the higher branches with the design of taking first or second grade certificates next examination. The teachers all understand better the art of teaching and governing. The schools, generally, have been well conducted.

The following teachers, whom I visited during the year, deserve credit for the excellent manner in which they conducted their schools: Jabez Brown, Ironton; W. C. Mullenix, Vallton;

Misses Mary and Lucy Flanders, and Miss Bell Hurlbut, Baraboo; Mrs. Lizzie Van Norman, Spring Green; Miss Marion Miles, Fairfield; Miss Rilla Dennett, Prairie du Sac; Miss Ann M. Scott, Newport; Miss Abbie R. Peck, Excelsior; Miss Carrie Clark, New Buffalo.

III —THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL.

It is a matter of no little regret that none of our teachers care to attend this school. This county is entitled to twelve representatives there, yet, although I have let pass no opportunity to inform them of the conditions and terms of admission, and the advantages to be derived from attending, I have had but one application. That was made nearly a year ago, but I have not heard from the applicant since. I made written requests to over twenty to accept a nomination, but all declined for various reasons.

IV. NON-ATTENDANCE.

During the summer term, the percentage of attendance at the schools was very low. Up to about the middle of the term the attendance was good. But after that, all the larger scholars, and many of the smaller ones, were kept at home to work in the hop fields. This state of things will exist as long as the people are engaged in hop raising. The summer term of school will be of but little benefit to the scholars while their parents permit their interest in this pursuit to supplant their interest in the education of their children.

V. SCHOOL HOUSES.

1. New Buildings.—The following towns have built new houses, viz: Baraboo, 2; Merrimack and Sumpter, (joint,) 1; Bear Creek, 3; Spring Green, 1; Ironton, 2; Washington, 1; total, 10.

2. Buildings Proposed.—The village of Baraboo has voted to build a twenty-thousand dollar school-house, half the money to be levied this fall, and half next. It is the intention of the citizens of this place to have an excellent graded school.

Several other districts have taken measures to build during the coming year. Among them may be mentioned the villages of Delton, Loganville and Sandusky.

3. Character of Buildings.—The house built in Merrimack, is of stone, and cost fourteen hundred dollars. It is small, but large enough to accommodate comfortably all the scholars in the district. Compared with the best in the county, it is not lower than second rate. The houses built in the other towns, with two exceptions, are frame, and great improvements on the old ones.

Good houses are now in use in the following districts: No. 1, Sumpter; Joint No. 4, Merrimack and Sumpter; No. 5, Sauk City; No. 5, Merrimack; No. 2, New Buffalo; No. 6, Woodland; No. 4, Ironton; No. 1, Bear Creek; No. 4, Spring Green.

The first of these is the best public school building in the county.

It is large, well finished and comfortable. It cost two thousand dollars. The site contains about an acre of ground, is well covered with shade trees, and is enclosed with an excellent board fence.

One-fourth of all the buildings in the county are not fit for school purposes. I have not space to notice each one or I would do so; but among the poorest may be mentioned the one in district No. 8, Westfield; No. 1, Franklin; No. 2, Bear Creek; No. 8, Washington; Joint No. 7, Baraboo and Sumpter; No. 7, Spring Green. The house now in use in the village of Baraboo, is a very poor one. It is not large enough to accommodate half the scholars in the district. It is not worth repairing and is hardly serviceable.

The other villages in the county, Spring Green, Prairie du Sac, Loganville, Ironton, Reedsburg and Delton, are in need of very much better houses than they now have.

The above report shows that, although we are far short of what we should be in many respects, we have improved during the past year; that public opinion is becoming enlightened on the subject of education, and that there is promise of still greater improvement during the year to come.

R. B. CRANDALL,
County Superintendent.

ST. CROIX COUNTY.

The principal facts of public interest relating to the condition of the public schools in this county during the past school year may be stated as follows:

1st. Eight school-houses have been built—one in Troy, two in Erin, one in Hudson, one in Somerset, one in Warren, one in Pleasant Valley and one in Kinnikinnic. More still are needed in districts recently formed, and not less needed in some of the older districts, such as are suffering from the discomforts, and one may truly say, the degradation incident to the shabby, dilapidated school-houses. Our best school buildings are in the newer districts, some of which are models of good taste and liberal economy, built with some regard to the comfort and convenience of the generations of children who are to occupy them. If people generally could understand how much a well-constructed and well-furnished school-house contributes to the good order and contentment of its occupants, no less pains would be taken in providing such, than is bestowed upon private dwellings and church edifices.

2d. During the past year our teachers have been unusually successful. We have no normal schools, and it is feared we are not soon likely to have any accessible to this point; still our teachers make good use of such means as they can command for self-culture and improvement in the art of teaching, and, with few exceptions, deserve credit for their fidelity and good management in the school

ro. m. With no little sacrifice and expense, they have attended institutes and associations, and seem to feel the necessity of higher culture and better qualifications for their duties. There are no academies or high schools in this part of the State to which at the present time they can be admitted; and on this account our schools may suffer in comparison with those in more favored localities. But our public examinations have shown that respectable attainments are possible, even where such privileges are wanting; and it is believed that a remedy for such privations may be found at least in some degree, in raising the standard of education in our common schools. With this end in view, we have made our examinations as thorough and suggestive as our circumstances would admit. Also, at the appointed times on Saturdays, in different parts of the county, teachers with their schools have been invited to meet for the purpose of comparing the different methods of teaching, and the proficiency of their pupils. Such associations are profitable to our schools. In them, parents, school boards and teachers are brought into conference, and pupils are stimulated to excel in the branches of study which are to be exhibited. They are also occasions of interest to the neighborhood, and serve to call public attention to the condition of the schools. They serve also to encourage and strengthen teachers, and to incite them to proper aims in their vocations.

3d. Our annual institute, held in the village of New Richmond, was well attended. It is an encouraging fact that but few teachers in the county neglect to attend our institutes and associations. In the absence of help from abroad, our more experienced teachers assist in conducting the exercises of the institute. Progressive teachers prize these opportunities for mutual instruction and improvement, and are ambitious to bring "beaten oil" into the sanctuary of the school room.

4th. During the winter term the majority of the teachers in the county made monthly reports of their schools to the parents, and quarterly reports to the superintendent. These reports were generally attended with good results. In the summer term but few reports were received at this office, owing perhaps to the limited supply of blanks. In future no occasion will be given for such an excuse.

5th. Visits of parents and district boards to the schools have been few. Still parental vigilance has not been wanting. The teachers' steps to and from the school room have been carefully marked, and the reports of their doings and sayings, as communicated by the children, duly weighed and considered. It is painfully true that the concern and interest that most parents seem to have in their school are chiefly manifested, not by personal inspection of its real condition, but by uncandid criticisms and groundless complaints. Still there is substantial evidence of a growing interest in the public schools of this county. There is a demand for better qualifications in teachers. The expenditures for the support of schools are increasingly liberal. One district has commenced a library; others have procured outline maps; and others still have enlarged and furnished their school-houses. There are still other indications which are equally encouraging and gratifying.

6th. Irregularity in attendance is still a cause of complaint; but the annual reports of the year past, show that this embarrassing evil has been considerably diminished, although in some schools it is still deplorable. A law requiring that children should not only be sent to school, but to be regular in attendance, would, in my estimation, contribute largely to the prosperity of our schools.

7th. I have visited all the schools twice during the year, with the exception of one or two which at the time of my visits in their neighborhood could not be reached by ordinary conveyance, on account of the bad traveling. These visits, more than one hundred in number, were made as soon as practicable, after the schools commenced, and in most instances occupied about half a day. They were made without formality, and, sometimes, almost unconsciously both the teacher and the superintendent were engaged at the same time in conducting the recitations of the class. These familiar visits appeared to be welcomed both by teachers and pupils, and were intended to awaken an interest which might be communicated to the neighborhood.

In looking back through the last four years of official relations with the schools of this county I think I can see that the influence and results of the county superintendency in this county have had the effect to awaken public interest in popular education, to raise the standard of qualifications in teachers, to render our school-houses more servicable for the comfort and accommodation of their occupants, and our schools in respect to discipline and thoroughness better fitted for the training of our children and youth.

A. H. WELD,
County Superintendent.

TREMPEALEAU COUNTY.

Fifty-three districts have supported schools in the county during the year, being an increase of nine districts over the number reported last year. Two thousand two hundred and sixty-six children have attended the schools, showing an increase in the number of pupils of nine hundred and eight. The teachers' monthly reports show a better attendance, though it is only about sixty-five per cent. of the number registered. The schools have improved considerably since last year. Nearly every district has endeavored to support a school at least five months, and a majority of the districts wish to support schools as much of the time during the year as is profitable for the pupils to attend. They desire well qualified teacher and are willing to pay good wages. This growing interest in the cause of education among the people is truly encouraging.

THE TEACHERS.

Of the eighty-two different persons employed in our schools during the year, four have failed from inability to keep order in the school-room. The remainder have done well, and a few have excelled. Most of the teachers of our county manifest a lively interest in their work and appear to appreciate the responsibility of their situation, yet there are many of them young and comparatively inexperienced.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

A Teachers' Institute was held at Galesville in February. It was well attended and was a complete success, resulting in an improved method of teaching in a majority of the schools during their summer terms.

TEACHERS' CERTIFICATES.

Seventy certificates were granted during the year, sixty-eight of which were of the third grade, one of the first and one of the second grade. Of the above number six were limited to particular districts. About sixty per cent. of the applicants were licensed to teach.

VISITATIONS.

With one exception all the schools of the county have been visited by the County Superintendent once during each term. Several of them have been visited twice during the term, and in a few instances three times. It has been very gratifying and encouraging to note the growing interest and liberality among the people in favor of education.

SCHOOL-HOUSES.

Three new school-houses have been erected during the year, and considerable improvement has been made in the way of repairs, and in inclosing and ornamenting school grounds.

S. S. LUCE,

County Superintendent.

WALWORTH COUNTY.

During the year ending August 31st, there have been held in the county fourteen public examinations, with the following result :

Total number of applicants.....	305
Number receiving 1st grade certificates.....	8
.....do.....2d.....do.....	9
.....do.....3d.....do.....	131
.....do.....limited certificates.....	87
Whole number licensed.....	230
.....do.....refused.....	75
Per cent. licensed.....	75

As the total number of teachers required to teach our schools is 150, it will be seen that there has been no scarcity of teachers in this county.

We sadly need a more efficient class of teachers for our country schools. Although there are many good, successful teachers in these schools, still there is a very large class who, especially in the primary teaching which every such school affords, may be set down as failures. Such must be licensed however, that the demand may be supplied.

I have during the year made 215 visits among the schools of the county. I have found nearly all the teachers trying to do well. I think the schools are steadily improving, and we may hope ere long to see the time when poor and indifferent teachers shall be the few exceptions. The great improvement in our graded schools, together with the normal schools will do much to bring about this result.

Our graded, perhaps I should say village schools, as we have but one thoroughly graded, have with but one exception made good progress during the year.

At Delavan, since my last report, a fine, large school building has been completed at an expense of nearly $18,000. The house has been in use since November last. The school, under the very efficient management of Mr. T. C. Chamberlin and an excellent corps of assistants, has been thoroughly graded and during the year the pupils have made rapid progress in study. As the people of Delavan were the first to provide a commodious building and a graded school, they can now justly claim the most efficient school in the county.

In Geneva a handsome school-house, costing $17,000, is nearly finished. It will be furnished with single desks and chairs throughout and be provided with inside shutters, in short completed.

I think no other village in the State, of the same size, can boast so fine a school-house.

The pupils in the public school, under the charge of Mr. E. P. Brooks, have made good progress. I would mention the primary department, under the charge of Miss A. Curtis, as worthy of special commendation.

In Elkhorn a beautiful building to cost $12,000 will be completed Jan. 1st. Elkhorn is the only place in the county that has provided commodious grounds for the school house. The house provides for four departments and five teachers, and for elegance and convenience it is not often surpassed. The school during the past year has been under the charge of Mr. A. J. Cheney, and although the old house affords anything but facilities for teaching, Mr. Cheney has maintained a good interest among the pupils throughout the year, and they have made fine progress. Both patrons and pupils felt keen regret that Mr. Cheney should leave the school at the close of the year.

In Whitewater no movement has yet been made toward providing suitable buildings for the schools of that place. The old buildings are poorly constructed, dilapidated and crowded as some of the rooms are, must be very unhealthy.

With a census of 1,058 between the ages of four and twenty, there are only poor accommodations for 400 pupils. The people of Whitewater pay annually not less than from $12,000 to $18,000 for the education of their children at academies and seminaries, away from home. With suitable buildings better schools in every respect could be furnished at home for less than half the money.

It is to be hoped that some move will soon be made to provide for the educational wants of the most beautiful and thriving village in the county.

The school for several years has been under the charge of Mr. E. Dewey, and is doing well.

The school at East Troy under the efficient management of Mr. Geo. W. Heath and Miss Rose Swart, has done finely. Mr. Heath, at the close of five or six years of very successful labor in the East Troy school, has gone to Racine much to the disappointment of his pupils and patrons.

Mr. McBride, at Honey Creek, has maintained a keen interest among his pupils throughout the year, and the progress of the school has been good.

In Darien, owing to the inefficiency and mismanagement of the principal, the grammar department of the school has made little or no progress. The primary department has done very well.

The good people of Sharon seem inclined to turn their attention from their public school to an academy, instead of pursuing the wiser policy of enlarging their public school house and maintaining a school that will provide for the wants of all and make one common interest.

I mention with pleasure the following country schools as, in my opinion, worthy of especial commendation: No. 9 of Whitewater, and No. 4 of Sugar Creek, taught by Miss Elsie A. Smith; No. 6 (I think) of Whitewater, taught by Miss Ada A. Hamilton.

No. 5 of Richmond, and No. 9 of Lyons, taught by Miss M. E. Bloss.

No. 4 of Darien and No. 3 of Sharon, taught by Miss Mattie A. Rogers.

No. 6 of Darien, by Charles Allen, and the same by Miss Addie Shepherd.

Nos. 3 and 12 of Darien, by Miss M. D. Bennett.

No. 10, of Sharon, by Miss A. E. Hall.

No. 3, of Darien, by Miss Sophie Case.

No. 10, of Walworth, by Miss Ellen Fairchild.

No. 8, of Walworth, by Miss Addie Porter, for lively interest of pupils.

No. 2, Walworth, by George M. Coon, for excellent discipline and fine interest among pupils.

No. 3, of LaGrange, by Wm. R. Taylor.

Nos. 8 and 3, of LaGrange, by Miss Laura Williams.

No. 1, of Linn, by J. Melvin Wilson, especially for teaching reading.

No. 4, of Linn, by Lewis Marsh, and the same by Miss Libbie Groesbeck.

No. 7, of Linn, by Miss Josie Standish,

No. 7, of LaFayette, by Miss Mary Allen, for thorough knowledge of the business.

No. 5, of LaFayette, by Newton I. Straight, for excellent discipline, and teaching reading.

No. 5, of East Troy, by Miss S. K. Edwards.

No. 2, of Spring Prairie, by Lewis Funk, for unusual interest of the teacher.

No. 12, Spring Prairie, by Miss E. M. Finch.

No. 9, Spring Prairie, by Robt. Webb.

No. 10, Spring Prairie, O. T. Williams, and the same by Miss Jennie Fowler.

No. 5, of Spring Prairie and Geneva, by Miss Carrie Latham.

No. 4, of La Fayette, by Miss Alice Dewing

No. 4, of Lyons, by Chas. M. Bright, for excellent discipline and thoroughness in teaching.

No. 8, of Bloomfield, and

No. 9, of Spring Prairie, by M. E. Burt. This teacher has a clear understanding of the matter to be taught and the manner of teaching.

I find my list more than twice as long as that of last year. There are many others whose earnestness in learning the theory and art of teaching I could commend, and I am glad to say that the number of successful teachers is rapidly increasing.

Several nice school-houses have been built or finished during the year, in the country districts.

School houses have been erected or completed in the following country districts: At La Grange Centre, No. 9 La Grange, No. 3 La Grange and Palmyra, No. 4 La Grange, No. 2 of Spring Prairie, No. 7 Geneva, No. 5 Walworth, No. 9 Sugar Creek, and No. 1 East Troy. These buildings have cost from $800 to $1600 each. I think it would be hard to find a better arranged house than has been built at La Grange Centre.

We need more graded schools, but I doubt if they will be provided until we have the township system. It would be simpler and much more efficient than the present system. I think the county is ready for the change.

ORVILLE T. BRIGHT,
County Superintendent.

WASHINGTON COUNTY.

Many quite important improvements were made during the past year in regard to school-houses, and even more than could be expected; new, comfortable, capacious buildings were erected in different parts of this county, calculated not merely for the present time. Many districts have improved their old school-houses, repaired them and furnished them with the necessary utensils, especially blackboards.

Decided improvement can easily be noticed. Washington county has now a class of teachers, ardent for self-improvement, zealous in their occupation, and a friendly intercourse among them proves that a professional spirit is alive in them. At least one-half of the number of teachers are re-employed, where they taught last winter—proving that they gave general satisfaction.

The attendance of the pupils also is encouraging, and the officers and parents of the different school districts co-operate to support the work of their teacher and their superintendent; the schools are frequently visited, and the inhabitants of the districts raise in their annual meetings more money for teachers' wages and with greater pleasure than they ever did.

With the experience of the past years and a full knowledge of the wants of our schools, we all shall set out upon the duties of the coming term with renewed hope and courage, and shall make it our aim to advance the interest of our common schools.

FRED. REGENFUSS,
County Superintendent.

WAUKESHA COUNTY.

There are sixteen townships in the county, containing five hundred and seventy-six square miles of territory, divided into 73 entire, and 98 parts of districts. There are 120 school-houses. Of these districts one employs seven teachers; one four; and four two each; the rest employ but one teacher each. It requires 133 teachers to supply all the schools at one time.

The number of children reported, between the ages of 4 and 20, as in the county on August 31st, is 10,637. Of these, but 10,297 draw public money. 7,097 are reported as having attended school at some time during the year, leaving 3,540 who have not attended.

The aggregate number of days taught by qualified teachers, is 19,098. To do this work 219 different teachers have been employed. The total number of days' attendance is reported at 535,667. The cost of this work is as follows: Average wages of male teachers, $43,37 per month; of female, $26,13. Total expense, less sums paid on indebtedness and for building purposes, is $29,619 29. The average number of days taught is 158. From these items we find the cost per scholar enrolled to be $4 17. In Milwaukee City, the average number of days taught is 195; and the cost per scholar enrolled is $6 45, which reduced to the scale of 158 days, gives $5 22. The average attendance of each scholar enrolled in this county is ONLY 75 1-2 DAYS ; being but 48 PER CENT. OF THE TIME. In view of the fact that it would cost but a trifle more to teach all at once, we may consider over one-half our money lost by irregular attendance. Or, if ALL would attend for one-half of the 158 days, we would have just as much schooling for one-half the expense. This irregularity brings the cost per scholar actually in attendance up to $8 31.

SCHOOL-HOUSES.

Of the one hundred and twenty school-houses, twenty-two are built of stone or brick, three of logs ; the remainder are frame. Two log houses, (one some time since abandoned,) are in Menomonee, and one in New Berlin. Thirty-two lots are reported as well enclosed, but these figures are too large ; for the site whose gates are off the hinges for the year together cannot be called well enclosed. Seventy-seven are reported as having outbuildings. But, from actual inspection, I regret to say, that no more than ten are constructed with anything like due regard to decency. On some sites there is no place for them ; the house being set in a corner with a public highway on two or more sides ; or the site barely large enough for the house. Others have built them open to the street, where they are soon defaced and destroyed, and while they last, they are places of impurity before the eyes of the pupils, and ought to be regarded as public nuisances.

Much improvement has been made in the school buildings of the county. Five entire new buildings have been erected, viz : Menomonee Falls ; Sussex ; No. 3, Vernon ; No 5, Genesee ; and at Mapleton. Oconomowoc has fitted up the old Methodist Church for a high school, and made it a very fine room for school purposes. Merton village has built an addition for a primary department, and changed the old room so that it is now one of the very best in the county. The one at the Falls cost about $5,000, and stands unrivaled for appearance, convenience and comfort, among the village school houses of the State. In many districts the houses have been re-seated, or re-furnished, and I believe in every instance Boards have tried to construct on the most approved model their funds would permit.

There are still very many districts which really need new houses, or very extensive alterations in the old, to accommodate their pupils. Nor are these always the least wealthy. Among them are Delafield, No. 4 ; Stone Bank, in Merton ; No. 1, Oconomowoc ; No. 7, Vernon ; No. 6, New Berlin ; No. 2, Mukwonago ; No. 1, Lisbon ; No. 8, and No. 4, (Pilgrim's district,) Menomonee ; No. 3, Pewaukee, is to erect a stone house, and No. 6, Brookfield, a brick one, during the ensuing year.

The faults most to be avoided in building are--the site too low ; too exposed, by being on some corner between two roads ; having too little playground, and no room for a back yard ; the house too low ; not high enough above the ground ; no proper means of ventilation ; no wood-shed nor out-buildings ; no entries ; no hooks for clothing or shelves for dinner-pails ; the furniture, desks and seats too high, too long, too broad and of the wrong shape ; too little black-board ; (of which there cannot be too much) ; a pulpit-prison for the teacher, instead of a table with a drawer ; no chairs, broom, water-pail, dust-pan, ash-kettle, wood-box, shovel, poker, duster, curtains or blinds and wash-basin. All these should be provided as indispensable necessities, and the children be taught to use and take care of them, as in such apparently trifling cares of youth faithfully performed, is laid the foundations for greater trusts soon and sure to come.

SCHOOL DISTRICT RECORDS AND REPORTS.

Notwithstanding the necessity of correct records and reports, great negligence is tolerated by district officers, and there is a lack of business accuracy in this particular that is deplorable. No department of educational business is more loosely conducted. In some districts, not even the form of a record is kept ; while, in many, it amounts to little more than a mixed memoranda. Treasurers serve without bonds, or receive the money or books before the bonds are made, and go out of office without settlement. District clerks' reports to the town clerks do not balance, and items are put in wrong columns, or left out altogether. Teachers are allowed to leave without having properly footed up the register. And withal, it is impossible to get an accurate statistical or financial report from any town. This is especially true of Merton and Muskego, but is so far general, that it seems invidious to specify. This negligence is the cause of nearly all the litigation and ill-feeling that occurs, and is of infinite detriment to the educational interests of the State. Electors should encourage their officers to be particular ; nay, should exact precision in all district business. This matter cannot be too urgently pressed.

TEACHERS' REPORTS.

Under the advice of the state Superintendent and other educators, a system of published Teachers Reports has been adopted in this county. So satisfactory is the plan that it has been adopted by many of the leading counties in the state. Last year $25 was appropriated to each paper publishing these reports. The object is to bring the condition of every school to the inspection of the public each month, and to present at the same time to teachers and parents such advice and information as these reports and school visitations may suggest. It also furnishes an incentive to the pupils to urge them to regularity and punctuality of attendance, and good deportment. I would recommend that the system be perfected and continued. Boards may aid by requiring the teacher to furnish them as wanted by the superintendent.

INSTITUTES.

It is made the duty of the superintendent to conduct at least one institute each year for the instruction of teachers. But there is no provision made for defraying the expenses incident to the work. Heretofore the printing has been charged to the county, some expenses have been met by a tax on the teachers present, and some have been met by private contributions. These are very uncertain and unequal sources of revenue. One institute has been held this year at Oconomowoc, during the last week of August. The services of Mr. S. D. Gaylord, of Sheboygan, were secured to conduct the exercises. Dr. O. W. Wright and Hon. J. M. Bingham, lectured. Fifty-seven teachers attended. The citizens of Oconomowoc did much to add to the interest and to the comfort of those in attendance. The Board of Normal School Regents allowed $50 towards defraying the expenses. But as soon as the Normal School for this district is in operation, this aid will be withdrawn. The importance of institute work among our teachers is such that provision ought to be made for at least two each year. I would recommend that a certain sum be appropriated for institute work, conditioned, that an equal sum be raised from other sources, and that certificates of attendance be issued to those who attend punctually during the whole session. A superior order of talent can then be secured in the management, and better results may justly be expected. Experience has already proved the superiority of those teachers who habitually attend institutes.

TEACHERS' EXAMINATIONS.

During the past year twelve public and nine special examinations have been held. Last year there were over sixty applications for special examination. The difference is the result of change in the arrangement of supplementary examinations, and of requiring written evidence, properly certified, that the applicant was unable to attend a public examination. During the year there have been 309 applicants for examination. Of these 16 have received second grade, 133 third grade, and 63 district certificates; 97 have been refused. Of the applicants 58 were gentlemen, and 251 ladies. While the standard of qualification is quite as high as in any neighboring county, it is gratifying to see so large a portion able to pass. The neatness and accuracy of the examination papers will stand comparison with any county in the state. They are written with ink on uniform paper, folded and indorsed alike, and each one's papers fastened together with an eyelet, and placed on file. No standard is too high so long as teachers enough are furnished the county. The object sought is to secure the best, for it is much easier to prevent an illy qualified person from teaching than to oust him when once he begins. It must be understood that examination is intended to prevent the incompetent and unworthy from teaching, and to designate the worthy and competent. A certificate simply recognizes attainment and moral character, and the holder may or may not possess ability to teach. Examinations should therefore be made thorough tests of scholarship, including neatness, order and facility of expression before strangers. They should be such as will involve special preparation of teachers for the business. It is often said inferior qualifications will do for a particular school, because the pupils are backward. The very best knowledge and tact combined are required to teach an idiot; any one can learn something when started right; first impressions always bed themselves deep in the character; then secure good teachers, the best you can find, in the backward schools.

So far as known to this office, but two teachers without certificates have been employed by districts in the county during the past year. The officers in these districts are still liable to a fine of $100 each, for paying out the public money to such teachers. Yet there is much negligence in the matter of certificates and contracts. Even in the largest school in the county—Waukesha Union—as well as in others, teachers have been teaching without written contracts, and without having copies of their certificates on file with the Clerk.

SUPERINTENDENT'S WORK.

The examination of 309 applicants, writing an average of eight pages each, involves the reading and marking of 2,472 pages of manuscript. This part of the work has been almost entirely done by myself, while a clerk has been employed to assist in enrolling the names, copying the marking, filling the certificates, and making the final record. Each examination lasts three days, and at least three days more are occupied in finishing the record and returning answers to the applicants. The examinations occur semi-annually between the usual terms of school. I have attended the State Teachers' Association and the convention of County Superintendents, from which I derived many valuable suggestions to put in practice among our schools. The examinations extended from March 27th to May 3d; and from September 16th to November 7th. The Teachers' Association and convention of Superintendents occupied the last week in July, and part of the first in August. The institute was the last week in August. Every Saturday is set apart as an office day for the convenience of those having business at the office. The intervals of time have been employed in preparing reports, questions and institute work, office correspondence, and visiting schools. 103 schools have been visited, and 161 visits made. Last year 121 schools were visited, and 196 visits made. The falling off is principally owing to the loss of one horse and the disabling of another.

Nine evening lectures have been given, aside from Institute and Examination exercises, in Districts where it was thought especial benefit might be wrought for school interests. No more than three schools can be visited in one day, and generally, but two. If the visits are too short, little good is done; if too long, all cannot be visited in the year. They should be long enough, however, to become acquainted with the classification and advancement of the pupils, and the teacher's method of instruction. It is also obvious that inexperienced teachers and difficult schools should receive more attention than those whose character for good management and order is established. Much more could be accomplished, if the number of schools was such that each could be visited during the first half of the school term. But in a county of this size, such a course is simply impossible. In visiting schools, attention has chiefly been given to the classification of the school, the order maintained, and the teacher's method of instruction. Nor can I fail to notice the treatment of the school furniture and house. Time does not permit what ought to form a part of the work—the inspection the District records. I have made the visits unannounced, and as informal as circumstances would admit. It is in this department of public duty, that the ability and tact of the Superintendent is most severely tried.

SALARY OF SUPERINTENDENT

In view of the fact that this is an office of much responsibility, requiring for it the best educational talent, and that there is enough work to fully occupy the whole time of the incumbent, and that he must, necessarily, have a horse with which to travel about the county, the salary ought to be raised. It should not be less than $1,200. I would call your earnest attention to this subject. There are now three teachers in the county each receiving much higher pay than the superintendent, without one-half his responsibility, and with much less labor to perform. The salary is less now than that of a mechanic, notwithstanding the important nature of the duties of the office, and the education and ability necessary to fit a man for it.

GRADED SCHOOLS AND DIVISION OF DISTRICTS.

The superiority of graded schools is such that districts will find it to their advantage to divide the school, instead of the district. No teacher should have over 60 pupils, at the very most, under his charge. Where the school is larger, divide into departments, and employ more teachers. When possible, I would recommend districts to build with a view to a future division of the school. Supervisors should see that wealthy districts are divided and annexed to stronger, so that good schools may be maintained.

IN CONCLUSION,

I believe the schools in this county, and the cause of education generally, are advancing in all essential particulars. I believe public attention has been excited to this subject, and that an interest is awakened which will not slumber. If we look back a few years, and compare then with now, we are convinced that the cause of education is advancing with giant strides among the people. When we look into the future, and see that the cause of human liberty, the principles of self-government and the perpetuity of our institutions hang dependent upon the intelligence and morality of the people, we feel that the cause cannot advance too rapidly, or be too well sustained. We can but feel that it is worthy our most careful attention and earnest consideration. When we scan the kind of education furnished by our schools to-day, we must own that the moral and æsthetical nature of our pupils is too much neglected. While home is the peculiar seat of moral instruction, let us not forget that the public has responsibility to bear and duty to perform toward elevating public morals. But the æsthetical culture should certainly not be neglected by the public, the party most able to cultivate and improve it. Mingle beauty with utility. Add ornament to the purely practical in the structure of our school-houses. Surround them with those cheap beauties of nature, trees and flowers. Furnish the house and grounds, if possible, with everything good taste will approve, and pure morality suggest, that while the intellect is strengthened and developed, the two higher natures may keep even pace. In these matters there is yet room for improvement. Let no warrior cast aside his shield nor waver from the line, till Waukesha county is placed where she is able to be, in the foremost rank of the educational army of our state.

I. N. STEWART,
County Superintendent.

ATTENDANCE.

By referring to the table on pages 147-8, it will be seen that the rate per cent. of attendance, based upon the number belonging, is as follows :

High school.....	96.1
Grammar Department.....	93.1
Intermediate Department.....	89.6
Third Primary Department.....	89.9
First and Second Primary Departments	88.0
Average	90.0

The attendance has not been as regular as during the three preceding years. By referring to the comparative table just given, it will be seen that the per cent. of attendance at Fond du Lac is with the exception of Milwaukee, the lowest of the five cities mentioned.

The following clause was added, at the beginning of the past year, to that referring to attendance: "Absences which occur when the attendance of the pupil would occasion a serious and imprudent exposure of health, shall be regarded the same as absences occasioned by sickness."

It immediately became evident that advantage was taken of this clause. At least, it was observed that some pupils were absent on days the inclemency of which would not have detained them previous to its adoption. And it was observed, further, that weather which made the exposure in attending school "serious and imprudent," did not withhold parental permission to walk the streets, or play about the city. The rule seems a just one, and if faithfully observed could occasion no serious decrease in the attendance, or materially interfere with the progress of the pupil. But as interpreted, certain pupils, not distinguished by the teachers as those in ill-health, but usually those not ambitious in study, who need every hour of school, were uniformly absent in stormy weather, although seven-eighths of their companions found no difficulty in attending. Such irregularity, aside from the loss of instruction sustained by those absent, tended to demoralize the attendance of the school, to retard the progress of the classes and to dishearten the teachers.

Teachers were powerless beyond personal influence to correct it, because an excuse from parents made the absence the same as one occasioned by sickness. It is probable that a few teachers did not use all the means available to secure a better attendance in this respect. This can be seen by referring to the table and comparing the attendance of the different schools. Some, however, by visiting parents, corrected it to a great extent. As this, especially in the higher grades, is to a great degree the occasion of the decrease in the rate of attendance, it is hoped that some way may be devised by which this paltry excuse to remain from school may be removed. But the principal causes of irregular attendance are the following: Indifferent parents and truancy.

INDIFFERENT PARENTS.

There is a large proportion of pupils who are compelled to work a part of the year, either to support themselves or their parents. Necessity, if it teaches the benefits of industry and a full employment of time, is a good master. Though it is to be regretted that many so young are thus losing the educational privileges of our schools, it is a matter of congratulation that, save the vicious influences by which they may be surrounded in occasional employments, the greater number are acquiring habits which will make them useful citizens. But there is a class of pupils who have parents who seem totally indifferent to their habits. Whether their children run the streets, work in the mills or attend school, they are equally satisfied. The influence of such a want of home training is too evident to need comment. Teachers, however faithful, fail almost universally in exerting any good influence over such pupils. I have spent considerable time during the past year in visiting such parents, endeavoring to arouse them to a sense of their duty to their children. Indifference, arising from ignorance or depraved habits, rendered most of them deaf to parental obligation. Is it not the duty of the public to exert its influence in behalf of children so circumstanced? Has the city no authority over the formative period of its future citizens?

TRUANCY.

Within the last three years truancy has increased to an alarming extent. From the various influences already stated, and the rapid growth of our city, we can but fear that during the coming year the number who thus absent themselves from school will be largely increased. Unusual exertion was made during the past year to reform truants. Parents and pupils were visited—in some instances by both teachers and superintendent. Only a few were reclaimed. The example of those who do not attend school at all, and of those who attend when they please, was generally too strong. There are many instances where the truants have widowed mothers who employ every hour of the day away from home, laboring for the support of a large family of children. Such have come to me in tears, begging for some influence to keep their children in school. Both themselves and teachers frequently report that their children were at first regular in attendance, but that the influence of habitual truants and idlers first enticed them away, and as they grew older they learned to disregard entirely maternal and school authority.

It is sad to think that in this enlightened period, in a city crowded with churches, in a community that generously supports a good school system, a large share of that class for which free schools are especially provided should, from the various causes stated, grow up in ignorance and vice. It is hoped that the next year's report will record the results of, at least, an effort made by the city authorities to correct this growing evil.

CONTROL OF ATTENDANCE BY CIVIL AUTHORITIES.

Those who attend school irregularly and those who do not attend school number 3046. From the best data that can be secured I find that at least 500 of that number are habitual truants and idlers, or have parents who are to a greater or less extent indifferent to their best interests. The excessively crowded state of our schools at times has, no doubt, caused an indifference on the part of some parents and also furnished an excuse for absence and truancy for some pupils. Yet the fact still remains, that nearly 500 of those who should regularly attend school, or at least have regular employment, do not, and are thus daily becoming more and more susceptible to the various evils that so easily influence idlers. Can a community ignore the moral welfare of 500 of its children? If they were diseased either physically or mentally, hospitals and asylums would be provided for them; were they criminals, prisons would be built for them. Is it wise legislation that allows children, by running the streets, by habitual idleness and by frequenting vicious society, to learn the rudiments of an education that will fit them for lives of indolence and crime, and will make them a serious expense to society in providing officers of the law to watch them, courts to try them and prisons to hold them?

Argument seems unnecessary. In the minds of those that have the future good of our city at heart there can exist but one conclusion. It is the duty of the city not only to provide means by which our youth may become good citizens, but by its authorities to constrain those who are too young or too ignorant to appreciate, to an employment of those advantages.

There are cities in our land which have had for several years and now have, police whose especial duty it is to see how those of school age employ their time. They are called truant officers, and have authority to question all truants and idlers, and to take them to school or their work. In some instances they are empowered to enter houses, even the homes of the offenders, and by persuasion or compulsion to secure their attendance at school. If their continued attentions fail to correct the habits of the truants, they are then arrested as common vagrants and brought before a court especially provided for such. Usually a reprimand from the magistrate in open court is the first punishment. This often makes such an impression upon the mind of the truant as to lead at once to his reformation. If this fails and he appears again at court with the charge of truancy sustained, he is sentenced to a reform school. In our own city the expediency of such a system in all its details is doubtful. But it seems as if much good might be accomplished with the means we have at hand, without materially increasing the present expenses. Let habitual truancy and idleness be declared vagrancy. Let it be the duty of the police to question all children found where they should not be, and to influence their attendance at school. On the report, by a teacher, of the name of a truant at the police office, let it be the duty of the chief to send an officer for him, and by persuasion, by holding over him the penalty of the law, by force if necessary, take him to school. If all this fails, after repeated warnings to the child and to the parents, let the offender be arrested as a vagrant and tried at the police court. It might be well to appoint an officer especially for this duty. One would be an ample provision and other duties might be attached.

You will pardon me in occupying the space I do with the subject of attendance. It is important in relation to efficiency of our schools, and the many issues growing out of it of vital moment to the welfare of so many of our youth, have for a long time weightily impressed me. Earnestly hoping that the presentations and suggestions here given will receive your consideration, I leave the subject with you, believing you will devise some method of reform adequate to its importance.

INSTRUCTION,

It has been the endeavor of teachers to become familiar with the best methods of instruction, and as nearly all are enthusiastic, apt, and original, a marked degree of improvement has become manifest.

It is to be feared, however, that in some instances eagerness for method, for form, is leading to a neglect of the substance. The teacher should remember that however approved her methods of instruction, she cannot teach what she does not know, and that to teach well, to awaken the minds of her pupils, she must know more than she attempts to teach. Some err in thinking that in graded schools they are responsible only for the knowledge which the pupils have of that portion of the course which is directly under their charge. This is a great mistake. Their responsibility includes the whole course. They must review all previously gone over in order to proceed intelligently with their own, and must comprehend and be familiar with what is to come, in order not only to prepare their pupils for the next grade, but to interest them in such a manner that throughout their school days and when school demands shall no longer urge them, they will be so stimulated with a desire for knowledge that they will go on in pursuit of it, for its own sake alone. To do this, and to do justice to her own especial branches, she must study; she must have a clear comprehension of the importance of the whole course and be able to show by the relations of the different branches taught that they are merely links in the great chain of knowledge. In short, instruction, although it should be given in detail, should not be abstract and fragmentary, but relative and concrete. Mathematical studies, for example, should not be taught merely as abstract sciences treating only of the wonderful relations of numbers and quantities, but the pupil by familiar illustrations and examples should be early impressed with the idea that they are practical expositions of the methods by which those relations may be used in solving the every day questions of life. As he advances in his course of study, the impression should become fixed that the principles learned lead on to other and higher principles, a knowledge of which comprehends not only the laws that govern the different phenomena of the universe, but the laws of the mental, moral, religious, civil and commercial development of humanity.

GRAMMAR.

The instruction in this branch has been for the past two years far more successful than formerly, and there is a decided increase in the interest manifested in it by pupils. This is owing to the banishing of the text book from the intermediate grade and substituting oral instruction. The art of correct speaking and writing cannot be taught by forcing upon the young pupil the grammar before he has learned its object.

Many thus incur a great dislike to it and learn to look upon it as an arbitrary aggregation of rules and forms of no particular utility to themselves. Let the teacher, by careful language and judicious criticism, show the beauty of correct and concise sentences, train their tongues to speak correctly and their ears to at once catch the incorrect expressions in common use, and then, without the use of a text book, teach how the different words they use may be grouped together in classes and how they depend one upon another.

If the teacher is fully in earnest and well-informed in regard to the subject, an interest will be excited among the pupils that will urge them to consult the text book. Thus the transition to the grammar becomes natural and easy, and pupils learn to look upon it as a useful book, teaching them how the educated talk and write.

Our schools are throughout thoroughly graded. The course of instruction includes fourteen years; six grades in the Primary department, two in the Intermediate, two in the Grammar and four in the High school.

We have just succeeded in raising the standard of the High school by adding one year to the time of preparation for the same.

As our city increases in size we find truancy increases. This has led me to urge upon the authorities the necessity of civil control of the attendance at school.

During the past year teachers have received a generous co-operation from parents and school officers, and the schools have been more successfully disciplined and taught than ever before.

With our revised "Course of Instruction," which gives more time to the pupil and teacher, especially in the lower grades, we are looking for a high degree of efficiency in instruction.

Superintendent of Schools.

CITY OF GREEN BAY.

JOHN G. McMYNN,

DEAR SIR :—In compliance with your request, it affords me pleasure in giving you such information respecting our public schools as may be of interest. In the spring of 1866 we organized a Board of Education under our revised city charter. This board engaged in the work of education with a determination to improve the condition of our schools. They enlarged and repaired our school buildings most thoroughly, putting the out-buildings and fences in good order, sought and employed competent and qualified teachers, advanced their salaries, furnished them with uniform text books, graded as thoroughly as possible, secured the services of a male teacher for the high department at a salary of $1400 per annum. We are now erecting a brick building with four departments at a cost of about $12000. Our teachers are all supplied with weekly and monthly reports which are returned monthly to the board. By these reports we find the number of scholars enrolled last year 457, and the rate per cent. of attendance 91.7.

In conclusion, it affords me pleasure in stating that our schools were never in as prosperous condition as at the present time, the people feeling a renewed interest in their welfare.

A. H. ELLSWORTH,
City Superintendent.

 CITY OF HUDSON.

Hon. JOHN G. McMYNN :

In compliance with your request I submit the following report of the schools under my charge :

Our city schools were organized under a special charter of the legislature, passed in 1858, and by that charter the management of our schools was placed under the control of a board of education, consisting of six members, who have absolute control of all matters pertaining to the conduct of the same, in all their details, and the levying of taxes within the limit of three per cent. on all the taxable property of the city. The graded system has been adopted, though since our disastrous fire a year since, for want of room, we have been obliged to accommodate the full number of pupils in limited rooms rather than adhere strictly to grade.

Our higher department, in which the languages and higher mathematical branches are taught, has for six years been under the charge of Miss Charlotte M. Mann, a graduate of Antioch College, Ohio, and niece of that veteran educationalist Horace Mann, who has in every way proved herself a superior and highly competent teacher. Her method is thorough, combining good government and strict discipline, with a happy faculty of imparting information, in a degree seldom found in teachers.

In this school some of the most successful teachers in our rural districts have received their discipline, and our County Superintendent remarks, that "it is to this school we must now look for our teachers for the country districts."

Our other departments consist of one intermediate and three primary, making five departments which do not nearly accommodate all the pupils entitled to attend school, some of the departments averaging an attendance of 80 scholars to the room and having a register of 105, while several several select schools are in operation.

The most successful of our primary departments has been in charge of Miss Mary Van Meter for four years, and we have yet to hear the first word of complaint, from parents, in regard to the discipline, or the improvement of her pupils. Other teachers are doing their parts equally well, but none of them have had the same experience in our schools as those mentioned.

As usual, in newly settled sections of our county, where all are striving to make money for themselves, and keep taxes as low as possible, our citizens feel chary of paying heavily for school purposes, always comparing present school advantages with those of their youth, and if only a little in advance of a generation past, they feel perfectly satisfied, not realizing that our schools are usually a generation in the rear of the march of the world's improvements. Thus the Board have always been cramped in the means placed at their disposal, finding it totally inadequate to make our schools sufficient in number, or to make them as efficient as could be desired.

But our city is in a measure awakening to a more enlightened policy and bonds to nearly the amount of $6000 have been issued for the purpose of building houses for the primary departments, with the expressed determination which it is to be hoped will, at no distant period be carried into execution, of erecting a large and expensive structure that shall be an ornament to our city.

I am not aware that there are any children in the city over four years of age that do not attend either public or select schools

Our foreign population are quite punctual in their attendance, and show a degree of advancement that compares favorably with our native blood.

As the west is fast filling up with settlers who have had the advantages of New England schools, and whose first question upon their arrival in our midst, is in reference to schools, I am happy to say that those under my charge are fast approaching the standard of the best eastern institutions of the same character, and that throughout the West the common school system is but little, if any, behind the older portions of our country.

Respectfully yours,

S. HUNT,
Superintendent of Schools.

CITY OF KENOSHA.

To the Superintendent of Public Instruction of Wisconsin :

SIR—In compliance with your circular letter, asking for a report of the condition of our Public Schools, I would say, that during the past year there has seemed to be an increased interest in educational matters in this city, and the public schools have received more than the usual amount of attention. The people are determined to have good schools in which to educate their children, and with few exceptions the tax for school purposes, although large, is cheerfully paid. They only demand that they shall receive a fair equivalent for the amount paid. As a natural result from such a state of feeling our schools are nearly all in a flourishing condition, and some of them may well be regarded as models. One great obstacle in the way of complete success seems to be the want of a proper appreciation of the benefits to be derived from our school system. This is manifested in the absence of large numbers of children from school during the entire year. The whole number enrolled in this city, as being within the school age, is 1,583, while only 828 have attended the Public Schools. This ought not to be the case in any community in America. It would seem that some measure should be devised to correct this evil. Another difficulty is, want of regularity in attendance. Parents do not seem to realize the injurious effects of a few days' absence from school, and too often permit their children to remain at home for trivial reasons. During some portion of the past year a feeling of reluctance has been manifested on the part of some patrons of our schools to have their children compelled to learn the lessons assigned them. A few have earnestly objected to having their children kept after school hours to complete the work which their own negligence during school hours has left undone, and some have advised corporal punishment as a substitute. But believing that the education and not the punishment of the scholar was the object to be attained, we have insisted upon the former plan and have endeavored to persuade such persons, that their duty to their children demanded a cheerful acquiescence in the enforcement of what we deemed to be a beneficial regulation. During the present term, but little difficulty has been experienced, and we trust no further opposition will be made to the application of the rule.

A brief sketch of the general plan of our schools may not be devoid of interest. They are divided into five departments, viz: Sub-Primary, Primary, Intermediate, Grammar and High School. Each department is composed of from one to three grades, represented in as many different rooms. The number of teachers employed is fifteen, all of whom are females except the Principal of the of the High School. The salaries paid for a year of forty weeks are as follows:

Principal of High School.....	$1,500 00
One assistant	450 00
One assistant	500 00
Principal of Grammar School, (No. 1.).....	400 00
Principal of Grammar School, (No. 2.).....	450 00
Teachers in Primary and Intermediate Departments.....	275 00

We have raised by direct tax this year $9,265 00, a part of which is to pay the deficiency on former estimates.

MARK DRESSER,
City Superintendent.

CITY OF MADISON.

The public schools of this city during the year just closing, have been under the charge of one superintendent, assisted by seventeen teachers. During the Fall term the assistant teachers have all been ladies.

The salary of the superintendent is $1500; the salaries of the ladies vary from $320 to $540 a year. New teachers, unless special arrangements are made to the contrary, receive at the rate of $320 a year for the first term, and for succeeding terms at the rate of $400 a year.

Since my last Report to your department, the progress towards excellence in our schools has been good, and the teachers have discharged their duties with a most commendable fidelity. If it were not, perhaps, out of place, I should be glad to speak particularly, of the zeal, earnestness, ability, and faithfulness which they have shown in accomplishing their daily tasks, Subordinate agents, in carrying forward great enterprises, are too apt to pass unnoticed, not receiving due credit for the part they perform in bringing about desired results.

The teachers in these schools have not been wanting in their high and important vocation. Discipline has improved, the standard of scholarship has risen, the classification has become more strict, and more studious habits have been cultivated in the pupils, and we are encouraged to think that our schools compare favorably with those of sister cities, at least they are far in advance of the position they held two or three years ago.

The new building opened at the beginning of the year, gave us about two hundred and fifty additional seats, and another new building, to be opened at the commencement of our next term, will give about two hundred and fifty more, when our city will be pretty well provided with seats.

A great drawback to our school system is the proximity of the State University. The school system of any city having no High school may be compared to a headless trunk—it is incomplete. Now various causes tend to take those pupils to the University that should form a High school. The standard of admission to the classes in their Preparatory Department is so low that their course of study overlaps the course of study in our Grammar Department, and they admit pupils who cannot receive admission to our High school course. Such is the true state of affairs, and it works mischief to the schools of this city.

These facts may be construed as a credit to us or a discredit to the University so far as their standard of admission is concerned. We can enforce strict classification and strict discipline until we rise to the point where our courses are common, whereupon such enforcement sends our pupils to that Institution. I am no enemy to the University, a strong friend rather, but I wish to see it performing its true function. I believe it should begin where the High schools and Academics leave off. I believe the standard of admission should not be equivocal, but fixed, defined and if not permanent should be at least on a rising scale. Thus the University would send back a refreshing, healthful, and encouraging influence upon the public schools; friends would cluster round it, lending it a fostering hand, and it would continually add to the accumulating glory of the public school system of Wisconsin.

B. M. REYNOLDS,
City Superintendent.

CITY OF MILWAUKEE.

OFFICE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS,
MILWAUKEE, Dec. 17, 1867.

Hon. J. G. McMYNN,

Superintendent Public Instruction,

DEAR SIR :—It affords me much pleasure to be able to state that in no year since the organization of our public schools, has the increase in the number enrolled and the daily attendance, been so large as during the past. The increase in daily attendance was over twenty-seven per cent.

There were residing in the city, August 31, 1867, 22,135 children of school age. Of this number 9,424 were enrolled in our public schools during the year, with an average daily attendance of 4,908. In the private schools the enrollment was 6,429. Of the number enrolled in the public schools, only about 52 per cent. were in actual daily attendance, presuming the per cent. of daily attendance in the private schools to be the same, we have 8,251 children in our schools every day, out of a school population of 22,135.

During the past year the board increased the wages of the teachers 20 per cent. The amount expended by the board was $60,836.2. The cost of instruction per pupil, estimated on the number enrolled, was $6.45; estimated on the average daily attendance $12.39. In 1866 it was, on number enrolled, $6.07; on daily attendance $12.63. About $40,000 has been expended upon school houses, by the common council, during the past year. This is independent of the amount expended by the board. A primary school building has been erected in the 2d Ward, also one in the 6th Ward. Each of these buildings will accommodate about 500 pupils. They are built of brick and are commodious and handsome structures. About forty feet has been added to the 9th Ward school building, and the old building altered, so that the school house will now accommodate 400 additional pupils. The new school house erected in the 3d Ward in 1866, at a cost of about $27,000, was occupied in January. This building was intended to accommodate from 600 to 700 pupils. We have already been obliged to fit up additional rooms in the basement, the number enrolled being nearly 900.

The legislature in March last passed an act requiring the board to establish a high school in the city on or before the first Wednesday in January, 1868. The board has taken the necessary steps to carry out the purpose of the act, and the school will open at the time designated.

During the year the Superintendent has examined 240 classes, containing 7,118 pupils. The result of the examination shows that 86 1-2 per cent. of the answers given were correct. About one hundred teachers have been examined during the year. Of the 105 teachers employed in the public schools, 70 hold first grade certificates.

The number of days' attendance during the year was 960,195; cases of absence, 135,277; cases of tardiness, 26,364; visits of Superintendent, 620; Commissioners, 543; others, 5,751. There were 15 transferred from one school to another, upon certificates of good standing, and 71 permits granted to pupils to attend school in wards of which they were non-residents. There were 354 cases of suspension under the rule requiring teachers to suspend pupils absent six half days in any four consecutive weeks, 55 suspensions for bad conduct, 8 for truancy, 5 for defacing furniture, 8 for playing in school building, and 1 for being absent from a regular examination.

Including suspensions, permits, &c., over five hundred cases have arisen during the year, requiring a decision from the Superinsendent, exclusive of cases in which the teachers have sought counsel and advice. One of the most important duties of the Superintendent is that of assisting with his advice and authority in difficult cases. Quite a number of such cases have occurred within the past year, but they have been arranged in a manner satisfactory to both teachers and parents, without having recourse to the Board. I inclose a table showing the value of the public school property of the city.

Very respectfully,

F. C. POMEROY,
Superintendent of Schools.

CITY OF MINERAL POINT.

Hon. JOHN G. McMYNN,

Superintendent of Public Instruction.

DEAR SIR:—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your official circular of the 4th inst., requesting my report of the public schools of the city of Mineral Point, for the school year ending Aug. 31st, 1867.

In compliance with your wishes, as expressed through your official communication, and my own desire to see this city and its schools properly represented in your, no doubt, able and valuable annual report, I take great pleasure in forwarding to you the desired information.

Our public schools here, by chartered privilege of the legislature, included in the act of incorporation, are under the control of a board of education, consisting of two commissioners appointed by the common council, and a city superintendent elected at the annual charter election. The supervision, control and management of the schools of the city, are expressly conferred, in the charter, on the school board, with the burden of management falling on the Superintendent. It is also provided that none other than the system of graded or union schools shall be adopted. In order to secure this gradation of system, and to comply with this provision of the charter, a large, commodious and handsome brick building, was purchased by the then school board, known here as the "Methodist Seminary." It contains five departments—"High School, Grammar School, two Intermediate and Primary departments," which have been in operation for some five or six years, and of which I am proud to say that our State Superintendent can bear attestation, from personal observation, owing to the circumstance of his kind and honored visit to our city on the occasion of our last Teachers' Institute.

We have just completed a large, rock building, two stories high, ready for seating, situated in the Second Ward, on a conspicuous elevation, which would be a credit to the spirit and enterprise of the city, but for some palpable defects in the plans of the building, which cannot now be remedied so as to make it a pleasing and attractive specimen of architecture. In erecting public buildings we should try to develop good taste and a love for the beautiful, for architecture consists in beauty of order, beauty of shape and beauty of proportion. This school-house will have four departments—First and Second Primaries, First Intermediate and Grammar School. It has been built under the auspices of the city council, and superintendence of a building committee of that body; and I think it is to be regretted that the members of the school board were unadvisedly set aside from co-operating with them in the undertaking, as I am of opinion that had they been allowed to participate in the responsibility it would have been better and more satisfactory to all the parties concerned, and less liable to public objection and criticism.

We have made considerable improvement, in repairs, on our school buildings within the school year, and have bought a large bell for the seminary. It is contemplated by the board to procure a set of Philosophical apparatus for the use of the High School.

We have also secured the professional services of a lady to give instruction in vocal music in our public schools; so that our city is making decided progress in educational matters, generally.

The interest of teachers, parents and the friends of education, seems to be on the alert, and to advance steadily.

With a good graded system, good school-houses, good accommodation and uniformity in school books, we certainly cannot help advancing. I take pleasure, too, in bearing testimony of the important and beneficial results of Teachers' Institutes, to the teachers who attend them. The facts are obvious in their improved methods of instruction.

We have a good Principal, and a good co-operative staff of female teachers, who seem to labor faithfully for the general good; as our schools are strictly speaking, but branches of one school, or one entire system.

Having been prevented by an accident, which crippled my right arm, from forwarding an earlier reply to your circular, I must now content myself with but a brief and imperfect report, particularly as respects statistics; hoping that the report of our clerk, made to the county Superintendent will be furnished you, and supply any deficiency.

I will state, however, what I can remember, and vouch for in this respect.

CITY OF WATERTOWN.

In compliance with your circular letter I have the honor to submit the following facts and statistics, showing the condition of our schools during the school year ending August 31st, 1867 :

I stated in my last report that I had organized a system of reports which would enable me thereafter to dispense with the necessity of guesswork in making out annual reports.

I feel happy to say that I have not been deceived in this hope. Our system works admirably well; it reflects light and order upon all relations of our schools, and by readily pointing out existing deficiencies, it materially aids in the search for remedies.

There have been enrolled in the registers of our public schools, during the last school-year, 1,361 pupils; 682 of whom were boys and 679 girls. The whole number of days the schools were in session was 193; the number of half-days attendance was 348,942, giving an average daily attendance of 904 pupils, while the average number belonging to the schools was 973, and the highest number belonging, which occurred during the winter term, was 1,001.

From the above items we obtain the following per cents.:

Per cent. of attendance on enrollment.....	66.5
Per cent. of average number belonging on enrollment.....	71.5
Per cent. of attendance on average number belonging.....	9.3

No children are admitted to the schools under five years of age, and many of parents do not send their children to school before their seventh birthday, while the large majority of our youth leave school between the ages of fourteen and fifteen and thereafter may be found in the school of the mechanic and merchant. Furthermore, there are several hundred children found in the parochial or private schools.

If all these facts are taken into consideration, it cannot be denied that the above exhibit is a favorable one.

The organization of the schools during the last year remained the same as before and as exposed in my report of 1866, to which I refer you for every thing that concerns gradations, number and distribution of grades in the several schools, programmes, reports, discipline, course of study, etc., and, therefore, also the number of teachers employed during the year was the same as before, to-wit: 17; 3 of whom were males and 14 females. With the exception of 2, they had been previously employed, and let me here add in acknowledgment of their exertions, that they have, to the best of my knowledge, carried into more or less successful, indeed, but in general, laudable operation the "course of study" previously marked out for them by the established grade, and that nearly all of them gave great satisfaction to the Board by their zeal, skill and experience.

Most of our teachers, though only four of them, were Germans, or of German descent, were able to teach at least all the elements of the German language; they all understand how to make a successful use of the blackboard, of which we have at present more than 1200 feet in our schools, and some of them are very skillful in the use of the crayon and the pencil.

The number of American pupils studying the German has therefore been steadily increasing, and at the last public examination of Union School No. 1, many fine drawings, sketches and geographical charts, made by the pupils, were exhibited.

In my last report I have complained of irregularity of attendance and the frequency of unexcused tardiness. Our records of the last school year show that very much can be reached, in this respect, by the combined and well directed efforts of teachers and school-officers.

Our attendance has increased to 93 per cent., but most successful we were in eradicating tardiness. The total tardiness of the year was 10,507, giving about 12 cases of tardiness for every pupil belonging, but in the first month of the school year we had 1788 cases of tardiness on 931 pupils belonging, making an average of 20 cases of tardiness per annum, per scholar, while in one of the months of the ensuing spring, there were only 633 cases on 991 scholars, depressing the average to 6 2-3 cases per annum, for every scholar belonging.

The running fall term shows results still more favorable; but though I am convinced now by my own experience, that by active school officers and judicious teachers, an immense good can be done in this respect, still it is my impression that something might and should be done by legislation to insure more regular attendance at our public schools. The right of society to guard against the evils incumbent on ignorance is conceded by all; the expediency only of enacting compulsory measures has been doubted by many; but no American citizen should be allowed to bring up a family destitute of the rudimentary principles of knowledge, and still, such is the case, to some extent, all over the state, and as long as it is not considered a crime against the state and society, and so treated by both, so long it will continue to be so. So much the more I feel glad to see the public wide awake to the importance of the question, which during the past year has been earnestly discussed all over the states. Initiatory steps have been taken by some of our legislatures, and I hope that Wisconsin will be among the first to aim a deadly blow at the root of two of the greatest evils, by which the public school is afflicted; absence and tardiness.

During the summer we have erected in the Fourth Ward a large and commodious school-house, furnished with all the essential modern improvements and a carefully selected teaching apparatus, and ample enough for the accommodation of 500 pupils. It was opened on the 9th of September last and has wrought important changes and very material improvements in our system, the details whereof will be given in next year's report.

The evening school mentioned in my last report, was kept during three months ; it has proved a success, is running again this winter and will, I trust, become a permanent item of our school system.

G. M. STEELE,
President.

LAWRENCE UNIVERSITY, Appleton, Wis., Oct. 10, 1867.

Hon. J. G. McMYNN,

Superintendent of Public Instruction, State of Wisconsin.

DEAR SIR—Lawrence University has been in operation as a College about fifteen years. Though laboring a great part of that time under considerable financial embarrassment, it has always maintained an efficient board of instruction, and a thorough course of study. It has been found necessary here, as in most Western Institutions of the same grade, to combine a preparatory and academic department with the collegiate. The attendance in both has been somewhat above the average of colleges in the new States.

Two features are kept prominent in the general policy of the College :

First. It has been the aim to have so large a range of study as to allow a certain amount of selection and variation corresponding in some measure to the variety of ability and adaptation in different individuals. The Board of Instruction have been of the opinion, that a thorough curriculum, embracing the Greek and Latin languages, as pursued in most of the Colleges of this country, if not the best possible to be desired, is, at least, the best that has ever been proposed. Such a course we deem essential to the highest mental training, complete scholarship and the ripest culture. On the other hand, it must be admitted, that there are numbers of young men and women who are not capable of the highest style of general scholarship, upon whom a protracted classical training would be thrown away, who, nevertheless will develop successfully in certain directions, and to whom a course of study equally extensive but of a different kind would be of incalculable benefit. Such persons should not be deprived of the opportunity which such a course would afford them. For such, it is believed, that a more extended range of mathematical study, more time spent on the sciences, philosophy and English literature, giving as much mental labor as in the classical course, if not to all the most profitable, would at least be better for some than no course at all, or than for them to endeavor to do that to which they have no sort of adaptation. Lawrence University, while not yet able to realize its own ideals, with reference to such an extensive range of study as is referred to, and while rejecting the vulgar theories, so much cried up just now, of a miscalled "practical education," aims steadily at the greatest possible good to the greatest possible number.

The second feature alluded to, is that of equal facilities and privileges in all respects, to both sexes. It is believed that in this Institution, more than in any other in the State, if not in the West, this principle fully prevails. My own experience here, of more than two years, decidedly confirms me in the conviction, before wavering, that this is the true policy in the education of the sexes. Public sentiment has some time since advanced to the repudiation of the once received opinion that the feminine mind is incapable of extended discipline and culture. But there are many who still object to education of the sexes in the same institutions and in the same classes, notwithstanding the fact that they are to be together in the companionship and experiences of life. There are still more who doubt the propriety of admitting both on the same conditions, with the same liberty and the same limitations of selection in their studies. In the Lawrence University, young ladies are admitted to all the departments on precisely the same conditions as young gentlemen. They are permitted to compete for all the prizes and participate in all the honors. It is not asserted, that young ladies need the same kind of training as young gentlemen in all respects. Indeed, it is believed, or ought to be, that young gentlemen, as has been above intimated, differ widely in their adaptations and needs as regards a system of study. Therefore, we insist, that a sufficiently wide range should be allowed for selection. It is upon this principle, that while the same requirements are here made of all, for entrance into the College classes, each is at entrance permitted to take either a classical or a scientific course, and in the latter two years of the course any who choose—and a majority of ladies do so choose—are allowed to substitute for certain of the severer scientific studies, music, painting or other ornamental branches, subject to the decision of the faculty. •

So far as my observation goes, the plan works admirably. I may say, without any personal vanity, that I have been surprised and delighted at the scholarship attained by some of our young ladies.

I am confident, that I have never seen more successful students in any even of our Eastern Female Seminaries.

Begging pardon for trespassing so largely upon your space, I remain,

Yours very truly,

GEO. M. STEELE,
Pres't Lawrence University.

P. A. CHADBOURNE,

President of the University of Wisconsin.

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN, Oct. 5, 1867.

Hon. JOHN G. McMYNN :

SIR :—Herewith I hand you the statistical report of the University of Wisconsin for the collegiate year ending June, 1867. The changes that have been made in the organization of the institution since that time need some explanation in order to show its present and prospective condition.

The Faculty for the present year is as follows :

PAUL A. CHADBOURNE, A. M., M. D.,
President and Professor of Mental and Moral Philosophy.

JOHN W. STERLING, LL. D.,
Professor of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy.

EZRA S. CARR, LL. D.,
Professor of Chemistry and Natural History.

*Senior Class. †Middle Class. ‡Junior Class. ¶Preparatory Class.

T. N. HASKELL, A. M.,
Professor of Rhetoric and English Literature.

WILLIAM F. ALLEN, A. M.,
Professor of Ancient Languages and History.

JOHN B. PARKINSON, A. M.,
Professor of Mathematics and Principal of the Preparatory Department.

JOHN P. FUCHS, M. D.,
Professor of Modern Languages and Literature.

R. E. HARMON, A. B.,
Tutor.

AMOS H. THOMPSON, A. B.,
Tutor.

MISS ELIZABETH EARLE,
Preceptress in the Normal Department.

MISS CLARISSA WARE,
Associate Preceptress.

MISS FRANCES BROWN,
Teacher of Music.

MISS LOUISA BREWSTER,
Teacher of Painting and Drawing.

The courses of instruction were arranged according to the plan of reorganization so far as the arrangements could be perfected in the limited time between the election of President and the opening of the term. In the college of Letters, the course of instruction in Languages, Literature and Science is intended to be equal to that of the best colleges in the country. Its plan is therefore very simple and instructors can be secured for it with comparatively little difficulty. It is now fully organized, with students in all its classes.

The College of Arts stands upon an entirely different basis. Its organization is such that it can be expanded indefinitely until each course of study becomes so prominent as to take its place as a distinct school or college. This will be readily understood from the following section of the general laws of 1866, under which the College was organized, Chap. cxiv. :

“SECTION 2. The College of arts shall embrace courses of instruction in the mathematical, physical and natural sciences, with their applications to the industrial arts, such as agriculture, mechanics and engineering, mining and metallurgy, manufactures, architecture and commerce, in such branches included in the College of Letters as shall be necessary to a proper fitness of the pupils in the scientific and practical courses for their chosen pursuits, and in military tactics; and as soon as the income of the University will allow, in such order as the wants of the public shall seem to require, the said courses in the sciences and their application to the practical arts, shall be expanded into distinct colleges of the University, each with its own faculty and appropriate title."

That this department of the University will require time for its full development must be apparent. Men of science and reputation cannot readily be obtained. They generally prefer to remain where they have made their reputation, and if circumstances compel them to change their location, they have liberal offers in abundance. For most of the scientific schools now springing up in the country, young men must be taken who have a reputation to make. The most difficult places to fill satisfactorily are the Professorships of Agriculture. There are but few men in the country fitted for such a position, most of those fitted for it will not accept it, so that the available men are in great demand. For this place in the University we must have a man of undoubted scientific ability with a practical knowledge of Agriculture. The history of all the agricultural schools in this country and in Europe shows that they are the most difficult schools to sustain. Nothing but the highest talent and enthusiasm on the part of the Professors will save the Agricultural Colleges now in process of organization from being miserable failures. In the west land is so productive and so cheap that there is less inducement to study agriculture than in portions of the country where land is dear and produce commands a high price. The Agricultural Colleges in the west will need more careful management than in any other part of the country. It must be their work to show that farming is connected with many of the most interesting problems in science, so that if rightly pursued it demands high intellectual training as well as strength of arm. They must save the country from loss by pointing out the means of preserving the fertility of the soil, and they must add to its wealth by showing improved methods of cultivation, and by originating new varieties of plants better fitted than those we now have for the soil and climate of each state. It will be a work of years for the Agricultural Colleges to make their influence felt as they ought. In the mean time we must not only give all the facilities for instruction in this science which young men will avail themselves of, but be sure, by a steady and healthy growth, to create a demand for the most ample provision which the gift from Congress will enable us to make.

It is confidently expected that the Regents will be able, the coming winter, to fill the chair of Agriculture in a manner that shall give the highest guarantees of success and the department of Agriculture will then take its rank in the University as a distinct College. If they are unable to do this, the President will himself assume the duties of this Professorship, until the chair can be filled in a satisfactory manner.

The course of study required in the College of Arts is ample for a general scientific education, as a foundation for the special scientific study and investigation which will be provided for in the colleges of special science, and in a more general way in the Post-graduate course. The facilities in all the special departments will be increased just as fast as there is a demand for them.

The Preparatory Department is not required by law, but seems to be indispensable to the University at the present time. It is designed mainly for the preparation of young men for the College classes. The principal studies are English Grammar, Geography, Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry, and Latin and Greek, so far as these two languages are required for entering the College of Letters. Instruction is also given during the entire course, in Elocution, Reading and Orthography. The full course requires three years, but students can enter in advance on examination, and the classes are so arranged that those who desire to complete the classical course in two years can do so, and those who wish to pursue English branches alone, are well provided for. Students can enter the University at any time and select any three studies taught that term, in either of the colleges or in the preparatory department. They are classed as University students, in distinction from those in the regular classes.

The Department for young ladies under the re-organization, really constitutes a distinct college, in which they are admitted to all the advantages of University education. The rooms assigned to them and the Boarding House are under the immediate care of the Preceptress and her associate teachers; but instruction is given to the classes by the President and all the Professors of the University. The students may also attend all University lectures. In addition to the course of study prescribed for graduation, they may select any study in the College of Arts or of Letters.

There are the present term, one hundred and forty-eight students in the Preparatory and College classes. The number of young ladies is eighty-eight.

It will require three or four years to bring all the departments of instruction provided for in the re-organization into good working order. Departments cannot have a full trial until a fair number of students can be properly fitted to enter them. It will then be known whether the plan is adapted to the public wants and whether it is carried out with the skill and energy required to put the University among those of the first rank. There are other excellent Colleges and Universities in the state that must grow with it. We cannot expect the same sort of growth as would occur in a state where all institutions are made of little importance compared with state University. The Normal Schools will undoubtedly for a time diminish its numbers, but if the educational machinery of the state works as it ought, the increased interest in education will soon give work enough for all.

Few young men can withstand the inducements offered in active life for money making, to give themselves for years to hard study in order to secure that training of mind and accurate knowledge of science that shall fit them for original investigations. It is best that most men should content themselves with so much of science as can now be made available in the different business pursuits of life. This is what is termed a practical education. Some young men must be induced to go beyond this point and have the means of doing so, or there is an end to progress. The present practical age is what it is because some men had the courage to advance far beyond the limits of the practical education of former times. The greatest improvements in our times have sprung from what seemed to be useless experiments and investigations a century ago. The next generation will without doubt be reaping benefits from scientific investigations that for the present are apparently without practical value. While, therefore, it is the object of this University to give a practical education, it would be unworthy of the State if it confined its work to doing this alone. It must advance every year, doing the common work of education in a thorough manner, it must also encourage and direct those who have the time and inclination to push far beyond the ordinary college courses.

There seems to be a demand for a Law School in connection with the University. The city of Madison offers peculiar facilities for carrying on such a Professional school. Many of the Alumni of the University are already taking prominent places at the bar. As soon as some of the more pressing wants of the University are cared for, an effort will be made to organize a department of law. It would seem from the applications made that this should be established as soon as the agricultural department is well provided for.

Very truly yours,

P. A. CHADBOURNE.

* Including receipts for board of students.

Since the preceding table was in the hands of the printer, reports have been received from Tafton and Marshall academics, of which a brief abstract follows :

Tafton academy is located at Bloomington, Grant Co. It was founded in 1858, had 67 students in all departments during the past year, and Rev. M. M. Brown is the principal.

Marshall academy is located at Marshall, Dane county. It was organized in 1864, opened in 1867; had 131 students during the year; Rev. J. J. McIntire is the principal Communication from Rev. Henry Colman.

CLINTON, WIS., Dec. 19, 1867.

Hon. JOHN G. McMYNN,
Sup't of Public Instruction,
 Madison, Wis.

MY DEAR SIR:—I have the honor of the receipt of your favor of the 18th inst., in which you request me to present some plan by which some suggestions offered by me in a communication of Sept. 21st, may become practicable.

I regret there is so little time at my command, before the sending of your annual report to the printers, and that I have not at hand the laws of the state of New York on this subject.

It occurs to me however that, as it would be unjust to tax those districts supporting graded schools for the aid of others, that the bounty of the state should be extended to all schools of an academic grade, whether chartered or public. Such bounty would not only give the much needed aid to seminaries and academics, but also encourage weak districts to establish schools of a high grade, and thus doubly promote the interests of higher learning.

To be more definite,—

First. Suppose the legislature to levy a tax of one-fifth of a mill on a dollar, or to set aside certain proceeds of the swamp lands as an academic educational fund.

Second. Let the Superintendent of Public Instruction distribute, pro rata, any monies thus appropriated, among the graded public schools and the chartered institutions of learning, except the State University and Normal Schools which are already provided for, according to certain specified provisions.

Third. Let any such schools, complying with all laws pertaining to them, receive from said fund according to the actual attendance of those students pursuing, at the same, at least two academic studies; provided no such students be charged by the school at a higher rate than $25 per annum for tuition and public rooms.

Fourth. Let the following be declared academic studies :

1. Language : Advanced English Grammar, some work on English Composition, English Literature, Rhetoric, German, French, and all the Latin and Greek required for entering the Freshman Class of the State University.

2. Mathematics : Higher Arithmetic, Algebra, Geometry and Trigonometry.

3. Commercial : Book Keeping, Commercial Arithmetic and Commercial Law.

4. Physical Science : Physical Geography, Philosophy, Chemistry, Physiology, Botany and Zoology.

5. Miscellaneous : History, Universal and of the United States, Science of Government, Evidences of Christianity and Natural Theology.

Fifth. Each school desiring to share the benefits of this law shall signify such desire through its principal or school officers to the Superintendent of Public Instruction on or before the first day of January of each year, and in addition to all other reports required by law, shall make to the same officers the following report on or before the first day of September of each year :

1. The whole number of academic students in attendance during the academic year preceding the date of the report.

2. The actual average daily attendance of these.

3. The whole number of months of 20 days each that such students have been in attendance.

4. That all the requirements of the law have been met.

The whole to be certified to, upon oath, by the principal of the school.

Sixth. Let no agent be appointed lest the expenses eat up the larger part of the fund.

I have the honor to remain,

Your obedient servant,

H. COLMAN.

PROCEEDINGS OF STATE CONVENTION

OF COUNTY AND CITY SUPERINTENDENTS, HELD AT LA
CROSSE, JULY 24, 1867.

Pursuant to call, the City and County Superintendents of Wisconsin met at Singers' Hall, in La Crosse, at 3 o'clock P. M., July 23d, 1867. The Convention was called to order by the State Superintendent, Hon. J. G. McMynn.

On motion, Superintendent McMynn was elected Chairman, and N. E. Goldthwait, Secretary.

A business committee of three was appointed by the chair, consisting of Superintendents Stearns, Cundall and Munger.

The roll was called and the following Superintendents answered to their names :

State Superintendent—J. G. McMynn.

Assistant State Superintendent—A. J. Craig.

County Superintendents—D. W. Rosenkrans, of Columbia ; P. I. Adams, of Crawford ; O. O. Stearns and N. E. Goldthwait, of Dane ; Lorenzo Merrill, of Dodge ; I. N. Cundall, of Fond du Lac ; D. Gray Purman, of Grant ; J. E. Atwater, of La Crosse ; Jas. F. Devine, of Milwaukee ; Geo. D. Stevens, of Richland ; J. I. Foot, of Rock ; I. N. Stewart, of Waukesha ; J. E. Munger, of Winnebago ; A. H. Weld, of St. Croix ; A. Kidder, of Eau Claire.

City Superintendents—F. C. Pomeroy, of Milwaukee ; B. M. Reynolds, of Madison ; S. D. Gaylord, of Sheboygan ; O. R. Smith, of Janesville ; J. E. Atwater, of La Crosse.

On motion of Superintendent Purman the topics reported by the business committee were referred to sub-committees, as follows :

1. Lectures in the School Districts—Cundall, Purman, Weld and Adams
2. Teachers' Institutes—Goldthwait and Devine.
3. Method of Visiting Schools—Purman, Merrill and Smith.
4. Town Libraries—Atwater, Gaylord and Kidder.
5. Method of Examining Teachers—Pomeroy, Munger and Weld.
6. Text Books—Rosenkrans, Smith and Foot.
7. Means of Increasing Interest among Parents—Gaylord and Cundall.
8. Erection of School-houses—Munger and Craig.

9. Uniformity of School-reports—Stewart and Goldthwait.
10. Indorsing and Renewing Certificates—Stearns and Pomeroy.
11. County Teachers' Associations—Reynolds and Stewart.
12. Wants of Primary Classes, in our Schools—Rosenkrans and Pomeroy.

Pending the report of committees, Superintendent McMynn called Superintendent Stearns to the chair, and offered the following resolutions :

Resolved, That we earnestly recommend to each County Superintendent to edit an aducational column in the leading paper in his county, and to use all proper effort to secure the publication of articles relating to education, either original or selected, in all newspapers circulating among the people and teachers under his jurisdiction.

Referred to business committee.

Resolved, That in conducting the examination of teachers, the County Superintendent should attach such importance to an acquaintance with the principles of writing as to secure for this branch greater attention in our public schools, and that the neatness and taste shown in the arrangement of work upon the blackboard or upon the examination papers, should be considered in granting certificates.

Referred to committee on method of examination of teachers :

WHEREAS, Libraries are an efficient means of disseminating useful knowledge among the people, therefore,

Resolved, That, in the opinion of this convention, it is the duty of the Legislature to provide :

1. For the appointment of a Board of Commissioners, charged with the duty of selecting appropriate books, and making arrangements for their distribution to the different towns, villages and cities of the State.

2. For a Town Library Committee to have charge of the town library, under such provision of law as will make it available to the people for reading purposes, and secure it from loss or unnecessary damage.

3. For the appropriation of the money already raised by tax for library purposes, and the use of not exceeding ten per cent. of the income of the School Fund.

4. For the sale of books to towns at one half the cost price of the same.

Laid on the table for further action.

Resolved, That the publication of reports of schools, in the various counties of the State, is so beneficial in every respect, that we most earnestly recommend to every County Superintendent to require of every teacher a monthly statement showing—at least :

1st. The number of persons, male and female, designated separately, over four and under twenty years, residing in his district on the 31st of August preceding such report.

2d. The number of persons, male and female, designated separately, registered, since the same date.

3d. The number of members of the school at the date of making the report.

4th. The average daily attendance for the time covered by the report.

5th. The per centage of each of the last three items, of the whole number over four and under twenty years of age residing in the district at the close of the last school year.

Referred to committee on uniformity and definiteness of school reports.

Superintendent Kidder, of Eau Claire, offered the following resolution :

Resolved, That the amendment of the school code the past winter is working injustice to many districts and to the school interests in our frontier towns, by restricting any school district from more territory than six miles square.

Referred to Superintendents Kidder and Weld.

Superintendent McMynn offered the following :

Resolved, That the County Superintendents of Wisconsin assembled in convention, desire to express their gratification on account of the recent legislation by Congress, whereby a Bureau of Education has been organized, and a gentleman placed at its head in whose ability we all feel great confidence, and for whose character we cherish great respect.

After stirring remarks by the mover, the resolution was unanimously adopted.

Reports upon the condition of public schools having been called for, Superintendents Stevens and Goldthwaite, of Dane, Merrill, of Dodge, Kidder of Eau Claire, and Reynolds, of the city of Madison, reported for their several districts, giving encouraging accounts of the condition and prospects of the schools under their charge.

The report of the committee on "County Teachers' Associations" was presented by Superintendent Stewart, and read as follows :

Your committee are of the opinion

1st. That Teachers' Associations should be held as often as once in six months.

2d That the exercises of such meetings should consist of suggestions from the County Superintendent, derived from his observations while visiting schools, and discussion on these and subjects wholly practical in their bearing on the every day work in the school-room.

3d. These meetings should be as informal as is consistent with the purpose to be accomplished.

4th. That the sessions should be short, and held in different parts of the county; they should be for conference, not merely to give instruction in certain branches.

5th. An evening lecture by the County Superintendent, or other suitable persons might open the sessions.

B. M. REYNOLDS,

I. N. STEWART,

Committee.

After discussion by Gaylord, Stewart, and Reynolds, the report was adopted.

The chair called upon the Hon. J. L. Pickard, of Chicago, for some remarks at this stage of the meeting. He spoke of great results from small associations. A few fired with zeal may arouse others to action. Also the more informal the meeting the more important the results. Let these associations be held in the most destitute parts of the country. He spoke in feeling terms of old associations thronging his memory as a result of his visit among old friends and co-workers.

Adjourned to 8 o'clock, A. M., on Wednesday.

WEDNESDAY MORNING SESSION.

The convention met at 8 A. M. The roll was called and the following additional Superintendents responded: Rich, of Adams, Kidder, of Eau Claire, Parks, of Iowa, Allen, of Vernon.

Superintendent Stearns, chairman of committee on "endorsing and renewing certificates" reported:

1. In regard to endorsing certificates, your committee can hardly regard it as an open question, inasmuch as the State Superintendent has uniformly decided that such endorsement is not legal or valid. We see no good reason to dissent from that opinion.

2. Your committee are of the opinion that the renewing of certificates should be left to the discretion of the Superintendents.

O. E. STEARNS,

F. C. POMEROY,

Committee.

Supt. McMynn made some remarks on the importance of this subject, suggesting that a renewal of First Grade Certificates would stimulate more teachers to apply for the highest grade.

Supt. Stewart stated the practice in his county was never to renew certificates.

Supt. Stearns stated he uniformly required the examination papers of applicants examined in other counties

Supt. Merrill stated that he endorsed any certificates given within a year.

Report adopted.

Supt Foote stated in reply to Park, that it was not his practice to renew or indorse.

Letters were read from the following Superintendents, not present, expressing their interest in the object of the convention :

Hanan, of Pepin ; Coombs, of Racine ; Ellsworth, of Green Bay City ; Regenfuss, of Washington ; Jennings, of La Fayette ; Briggs, of Kenosha ; Kenyon, of Juneau ; Lucas, of Dunn ; Bright, of Walworth ; Crandall, of Sauk, and Gannon, of Ozaukee.

Adjourned to 11 1-4 o'clock, to attend the Teachers' Association.

At 11:15 A. M., meeting called to order by the President. A motion to adjourn to Milwaukee at a future day, after full discussion, was tabled. The committee on Primary Schools submitted a report which after some discussion was recommitted

Supt. Purman offered a report on methods of visiting schools. This subject was earnestly discussed by Superintendents Kidder, Rosenkrans, Reynolds, Cundall, Stewart and McMynn. Pending discussion, a statement was made in explanation by Supt. Pomeroy, from the committee on "Methods of Examining Teachers."

The convention then adjourned to 4 o'clock P. M.

WEDNESDAY, July 24—4 o'clock P. M.

The convention was called to order.

Supt. Purman was called on to read his report on "Methods of visiting schools." After discussion the report was adopted as follows :

Your committee on "Method of Visiting Schools," beg leave to report :

That, whilst we believe it is difficult to recommend any one method of visiting schools in preference to all others, and that the circumstances of the case must determine the mode of the visit, we would recommend that in all cases where it is practicable, the School Board and other patrons of the school should be in attendance, and where the School Board are not in attendance, the County Superintendent should, in writing, call their attention to the condition of the school, and point out imperfections in the school-house, its appurtenances, its grounds and its out-houses ; that classes should be examined critically or silently listened to, as conducted by teachers, as the case may seem to demand, and that the teachers should be informed in writing or otherwise of any defects in government or modes of recitation, as well as any excellencies discovered therein, etc. ; and that these visits should be made as near the beginning of the school term, and for as long a time as the number of schools under the supervision of each Superintendent will permit ; and that the results of such visits should be given in the county newspapers ; and further, that new and inexperienced teachers should be the first to receive these visits; and that these visits should usually be made without previous information being given to the teacher.

Respectfully submitted,

D. GRAY PURMAN,
LORENZO MERRILL,
O. R. SMITH.

The report on Primary Schools was read and adopted, as follows :

Your committee submit that the object of sending little children to school is not that they may sit on a bench and say the alphabet two or four times a day, nor yet that they may be out of the way of their mothers at home.

As all future men and women must pass through childhood, and as their wisdom or folly, strength or weakness, happiness or misery, depends mainly on their treatment during this stage of existence, it is of prime importance that teachers, parents and school officers, should direct public opinion and action so as to make it safe to live in an age of schools. We recommend the adoption of the following resolutions :

Resolved, That the most comfortable, most roomy, most airy and best furnished school-rooms and the most healthful circumstances and arrangements, instead of being reserved for intermediate and higher schools should be furnished for the primary department.

Resolved, That children under nine years of age will not only make better proficiency in learning in three hours school a day, than in six or seven, but will stand a better chance to acquire and retain those indispensable bodily energies which will enable them to work their way in after life. But when we shall reach the time that school-houses and grounds shall be furnished with the conveniences of comfortable homes, and our teachers, so well acquainted with the laws which govern the growth, health and development of the young that they can blend or diversify the physical and mental exercises of their pupils, and arrange instruction, study, recreation and rest for their several classes according to the needs of their nature, we may then safely and properly hold school for primary scholars, seven or ten hours a day.

Resolved, That the small scholars in all our common schools should learn to write and count while they are learning to read, and at the same time, by means of maps and oral instruction attain a knowledge of the principal truths of physiology and the laws of health, as well as of geography; that all of these scholars should participate in a regular course of slate exercises, and also be daily exercised at the blackboard, and that the plea of want of time to attend to these things on the part of teachers is simply a confession of ignorance of the art of teaching.

Resolved, That a proper number of the seats and desks in country school-houses should be suitably arranged for the use of small children, and where this has not been done, the County Superintendent should advise and direct the rearrangement.

Resolved, That the chairman of the convention be instructed to memorialize the Legislature, at its next session, for the passage of an act requiring that all teachers of primary schools shall be examined in physiology and the laws of health

D. W. ROSENKRANS,

F. C. POMEROY,

Committee.

On motion of Sup't Rosenkrans, a committee on "salaries of school officers" was appointed by the chair, consisting of Rosenkrans, Foote and Stewart.

The following resolution was presented by Superintendent Foote and adopted.

Resolved, That in our opinion five days of school in one week are of more value than a greater number, and that the practice of teaching on Saturdays in the district schools should be discountenanced.

Superintendent Munger presented the following report, which was adopted :

The committee to which was referred that portion of the report of the business committee relating to school houses, would respectfully report, that the school houses suited to the wants of the districts in their earlier organization, are by no means fit for the accommodation of these same districts now that they have become more populous and wealthy : Therefore,

Resolved, That in addition to the care bestowed upon the more obvious duties of County Superintendents, the erection of commodious, well ventilated, and duly furnished school houses should receive the earnest attention of all school officers.

Resolved, That no part of the Superintendent's time can be more profitably employed than in recommending suitable plans for school buildings, the proper improvement in desks, blackboards and appurtenances, as well as beautifying school sites with shade trees and suitable shrubbery.

J. E. MUNGER,

A. J. CRAIG,

Committee.

Superintendent Goldthwait offered the following, which after discussion, was adopted :

Resolved, That in the opinion of this Convention the standing for a third grade certificate, for each branch of study, should have, on a scale of ten, a minimum of six ; for a second grade seven ; for a third grade eight.

Adjourned to 8 o'clock A. M., Thursday.

THURSDAY, 8 A. M.

Meeting called to order by State Superintendent McMynn. Letters were read from the following Superintendents not present: Alban, of Portage County; Cummins, of Mineral Point; Thurston, of Pierce; Fairchild, of Oconto.

Moved by Superintendent Purman that the State Superintendent be requested to call the County and City Superintendents' Convention at such time and place as he may see fit, provided that it be not called for the same time as the State Teachers' Association.

Superintendent Cundall, from the Committee on "Lectures in School Districts," presented a report, which was adopted, and reads as follows:

The Committee to whom was referred the subject of Popular Lectures, would respectfully submit the following report:

While in a general sense the importance of education is conceded and acknowledged, there yet remains much practical disbelief as to the proximate or ultimate uses of knowledge. In every community there are found some who think that attention to schools does not pay, not so much because the schools are poor, but because they do not understand why the uneducated man is not as well off, as happy and as useful as he would be if he were a graduate of Harvard or Yale. In American communities this number may not be large, but among the foreign population every Superintendent sees evidence of this in irregular attendance, or non-attendance on schools and neglect of everything that pertains to the school work, while the general element in communities falls far below a due appreciation of mental culture.

It is, therefore, necessary, in some way to secure a correct sentiment on this subject. No one has better facilities for doing this than a county superintendent of schools, and a well directed effort in this line brings quick and ample remuneration. The labors of every superintendent furnish arguments for use, and such as can be used with effect.

After the school day is over, the superintendent away from home can, without a very great extra tax on his energies, devote at least an occasional evening to frank, free discussion with the people where he happens to be, or arranges to be. It is difficult to discuss any topic on which his mind will be likely to rest without incidentally bringing out much material which will serve to set men to thinking relative to the uses and importance of knowledge.

The people should be made and kept intelligent as to the peculiarities and importance of our educational system, its history and progress. They should understand the laws relating to school matters, as well as the origin, history and condition of the school fund. They should know the facts relative to attendance upon the schools and the real condition of the work done in the school room. This fully understood, the fact will naturally occur that something needs to be done, and the question, how to do it. So that the removal of difficulties will prepare the way for the new work. The people are easily accessible. They are generally pleased to see their officers or servants, and reciprocate any appearance of attention, and especially of labor for or interest in their children. While facts and incidents drawn from the country itself, which can be found to illustrate every conceivable point, will have a force and interest to them which could not be elicited by abstract statements, peculiar advantages are afforded for communicating information relative to improvements, especially in the buildings and grounds; that the place be regarded as a home, fitted up, every part of it to elevate, ennoble and refine.

Probably erudite discussions may not be often called for, but facts and incidents which are in the hands of every visitor of schools may be so used as to do good, awakening sympathy with the teacher and care for the training of the child. Labors of this kind, when tried have proved successful, and abundant testimony is given that the people are willing and eager to listen to council on these subjects, and that plain words are productive of good. We, therefore, recommend the passage of the following resolution :

Resolved, That lectures to the people, in school districts, on such topics as are of general or special importance, or needed in the respective localities, may be made a powerful means of promoting the interests of education.

Adjourned to 11, A. M.

THURSDAY, 11 o'clock A. M.

The convention was called to order. Unfinished business was called up and disposed of as follows :

The resolution on "Publishing Educational Matter," after striking out the words "to edit an educational column in the leading paper in the county," was adopted. Resolution on "Writing" was carried. Resolution on "Libraries" was referred to the proper committee. Resolution on "Publication of Report of Schools in the various counties," passed.

Adjourned to 4 o'clock P. M.

4 o'clock P. M.

Convention met pursuant to adjournment, at four o'clock P. M.

Communications were read from the following Superintendents : Green, of Green County; Miller, of Marquette; Austin, Wau-shara; Green, of Marathon; Furlong, of Waupaca, and other letters were omitted for want of time.

A communication from Mr. R. C. Spencer, of the Milwaukee Commercial College, in reference to instruction in penmanship, was read.

An hour was occupied by Superintendent McMynn, in answering questions on various topics presented by members of the convention.

It was moved and carried to instruct the Committee on "Uniformity and definiteness in School reports," and "Permanent County Superintendent Records," to report at the next meeting.

Resolved, That a committee consisting of Supts. Munger, Cundall and Weed are hereby appointed to consider ways and means by which to increase the school fund of the State, and be directed to report at the next meeting. Adopted.

Moved that the State Superintendent mention further topics for discussion in his call for the next convention.

Supt. Weld introduced a series of resolutions expressing appreciation of the liberality of the Legislature and the interest of the Governor in matters pertaining to education.

Resolved, That as citizens of the state of Wisconsin, and as school officers under the provisions of its statutes, we do hereby most gratefully recognize the wise and patriotic liberality of our Legislature in the establishment and munificent endowment of Normal Schools, in the recent appropriation to the State University, and especially in its readiness during its later sessions to consider and advise for the wants of our public schools.

Resolved, That it is a matter of congratulation to educational men, and to the citizens of the state, that our Governor, Lucius Fairchild, has manifested such sincere interest in the cause of education; and by his influence we hope a new impetus will be given to our cause.

Resolved, That as Superintendents, we will with united and earnest efforts, endeavor to sustain and support the State Superintendent in his plans to advance the educational interests of this state, and that we hereby tender to Hon. J. G. McMyun, and his associates in office, our acknowledgements for their uniform promptness and courtesy in their official relations with us.

The following resolutions were reported by the business committee and heartily adopted:

Resolved, That this convention tender its thanks to the La Crosse Republican and such other papers of the city as have published their proceedings.

Resolved, That the thanks of this convention are due to the Congregational Society of this place for the free use of their church during our session.

The hour for final adjournment having arrived, the State Superintendent made a brief closing address, congratulating the convention on the harmony and good feeling that had prevailed during our sessions. He expected the inspiration of the association here with the teachers and school officers of the state, would go with him to the sterner duties of his office. He expressed the hope that the correspondence between the State and County Superintendents might become more extensive, and result in greater good to the general interest of the public schools.

J. G. McMYNN, President.

N. E. GOLDTHWAITE, Secretary.

FIFTEENTH ANNUAL SESSION
OF THE
WISCONSIN TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

LA CROSSE, July 23d, 1867.

The Association convened informally at Singer's Hall, at 8 o'clock, Tuesday evening, and after prayer by Rev. Mr. Chapin, of La Crosse, and music by the quartette, listened to a lecture upon Intellectual Gymnastics by Rev. H. M. Thompson, of Nashota.

July, 24th.

The Association convened Wednesday morning, and was called to order by the President, O. M. Baker, of Milwaukee, at a quarter past nine o'clock. The association was warmly welcomed by Hon. B. F. Montgomery, in behalf of the citizens of La Crosse; response by the President of the association. The annual address by the President was delivered at 10 o'clock.

[President Baker's address being too long for insertion entire, we give its principal points, in order to a better understanding of some of the proceedings of the convention.]

RE-ORGANIZATION OF THE ASSOCIATION.

Those of you who have attended the previous meetings' of the association, have no doubt heard it remarked, as I have, that we have too much of "business" and "discussion," and too little of those exercises in which by far the largest portion of those present are most deeply interested. * * * * *

Hence is suggested the propriety of so re-organizing the association as to give ample time for the business and for institute instruction, the result of which will be a more careful consideration of ideas which we may wish embodied in statutes, and a greater probability of exerting an influence upon the legislature that will secure an embodiment. Added to this will be a class of teachers better acquainted with educational means, through the instruction given in the lectures and class exercises, and better cultured in the use of these means, through the comparison of methods to which they have listened.

The plan which has suggested itself to me is to have two sessions each year; * * attended by the leading educators of the state, including principals of normal, high, grammar and union schools, presidents and professors of universities, colleges and academies. Here let all points having reference to any change in our school system be brought and discussed fully, clearly and critically, and the influence on the legislators who assemble a few days thereafter will be greatly augmented. * * * *

The second or general session, as it may be called, which should be, as now, attended by the great mass of teachers who come here for personal improvement, should consist, mainly, of those exercises relating to school room work.

COUNTY SUPERINTENDENTS.

A few years since, as a result of the agitation on the subject, among the educators of the state, the system of county superintendency was established; and although, as is generally the case with any new project, it has not fully realized our wishes and expectations, yet in the increased educational interest and improvement in our schools, a class of teachers better qualified, better school edifices, and improved methods in discipline and instruction, are enough to encourage us to persevere and seek to remedy the defects of the system, while new vigor is infused into its workings.

* * * *

There exist many abuses which indeed furnish good ground for complaint by the lovers of good schools; still these evils are incidental, and if rightly examined will not be found to be inwrought into the system, (though amendments to the law are undoubtedly needed,) but a direct result of the action of the people—and complementary to the good judgment of the Superintendent.

Incompetency of superintendents is urged, and we hear teachers saying, "I want no man to examine me until he shall have first been examined by a State Superintendent, or some other properly qualified person."

Are not these results a necessary consequence of the small salaries paid?

In 1866 the average salary of county superintendents in the state was $536 per annum. * * * *

There must first exist a public sentiment that will pay an adequate salary, and then the people may safely be trusted, and more safely than any one man. I tell you, fellow-teachers, we now have better talent in these offices than is being paid for.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS AND VENTILATION.

More school buildings, we venture to say, are being erected this year, than almost any year previous, and in many instances they are to be noble monuments to the cause for which they are erected.

* * * * *

There are many items connected with this subject upon which we should like to dwell, but time forbids, and we pause only to mention the single matter of ventilation, upon which there seems to be a culpable, if not almost a criminal neglect. This is too late a day for men to acknowledge their ignorance on this subject. Too much agitation has already been given to it—too many books have been written about it.

We do not over rate the importance of this subject—indeed we think it is vastly under-rated. We venture the assertion that not more than one school room in twenty, if indeed there are twenty in the whole state, has proper facilities for ventilation.

COMPULSORY EDUCATION.

Annually we are expending in this state nearly eleven hundred thousand dollars, for the education of 352,004 children, of which 234,265 attended school in 1866, leaving a balance of 117,749 unprovided for. Deduct from this 12,985, the number estimated to have attended private schools, and we have 104,754.

From this, make the large allowance of fifty per centum for those who are at work, and those who are physically unable to attend school, and we have the number of 52,377 not attending school nor engaged in any other useful occupation. * * * *

Does it need any argument more than a statement of facts, to prove the need of a law that shall bring these 50,000 children under influences that shall train them to be intelligent and virtuous citizens?

It is urged that it is not democratic---that it infringes upon the liberty of the citizen.

In what consists the liberty of the individual, but a subordination to the general good?

Is not democracy founded on intelligence? Then surely the higher the degree of culture, mental and moral, the purer the democracy—and if a pure democracy is a desirable form of government, and is most conducive to the liberty of the individual, then surely it must be consistent with personal liberty, and must be essentially democratic, to compel the education of the child, that he may be fitted to contribute and to enjoy the highest type of democratic government.

EDUCATIONAL JOURNAL.

The Journal of Education which was dropped some two years ago, in consequence of the withdrawal of the patronage of the State, ought to be re-instated. There should be enough energy among the 8,000 teachers of the state, to support a first class journal as an organ of that body. Its influence in the development and culture of public sentiment upon education that would exhibit itself in improved buildings and fixtures, increased salaries for teachers and Superintendents, and improved methods of instruction, would repay a thousand fold its cost.

The dissemination of educational intelligence ought to be the great care of the teacher, and is a prime necessity for the State, which will reap an abundant reward for any expenditure it may incur in the establishment of an educational journal, in the increased efficiency of district officers in the discharge of their duties, and in the greater accuracy of educational statistics.

METRIC SYSTEM.

Your attention has no doubt been called to the Metric system of weights and measures, and while it is quite unnecessary for me to discuss the matter at any great length, or speak of it in detail, a passing notice seems to be required.

We must educate the rising generation in the old and new systems, and this too, so thoroughly, that the value of one can be readily told in the terms of the other. Then, and not much sooner, may we expect a complete change.

NORMAL SCHOOLS.

The value of the Normal Schools of Wisconsin, can be judged as yet, only from the earnest endeavors of those under whose fostering care they have become a fact. The wisdom of establishing several schools instead of one may be questioned in view of the sparse population, the contiguity of the sites and the time necessary to secure a uniform instruction.

Every teacher should discourage the pernicious practice of incorporating a preparatory department with the normal—an union often effected but disastrous to the great aim of the latter, because the valuable time of the normal instructor is consumed in imparting the matter to be taught, rather than the method of teaching it.

STATE UNIVERSITY.

We should hail the reorganization of the State University as indeed gratifying.

Too long has it received that disrespect to which it has been entitled. Too long has there been on the part of the people a lack of appreciation of the worth of a university that shall be an honor and a pride of our State.

Then it is no small matter of congratulation that there is so flattering a prospect of its awakening from its fossil lethargy and taking a position worthy of the dignity of our State.

Let us lend a helping hand in every effort to increase its efficiency, and bid it God speed in its high mission.

CONCLUSION.

Thus, fellow teachers, I have presented a few suggestions for your consideration, which appear pertinent to the work of this Association. It is hoped they may receive the attention due to their importance, and from our deliberations may result a remedying of the evil and strengthening of good tendencies in each.

We are here as a representative body of laborers in the great work of the intellectual improvement of man. It, in a great measure, rests with us to say how far we may succeed in the furtherance of this great object in whose interests we are met, and what educational reforms shall trace their source to the 15th annual session of the Wisconsin Teachers' Association.

Let us then be earnest and faithful in our work here, and take with us as we go hence to our several stations in the educational field, a more exalted idea of the duties devolving upon those engaged in the dignified and honorable profession of educating American freemen.

Let us be true to the responsibilities of the hour, and labor with steadfast purposes to give the government of our beloved land, the immovable foundation of an educated people.

The future is in our hands. Though our work may not be properly appreciated, and our compensation may be small, yet the time will come when shall be recognized the power of the log school houses scattered over our state, and the true worth of the school master abroad.

On motion of S. D. Gaylord, of Sheboygan, the President's address was referred to a Committee consisting of F. C. Pomeroy and R. C. Spencer of Milwaukee, and A. J. Cheney of Delavan, with power to appoint sub-committees.

C. H. Allen of Platteville, was elected Treasurer pro tem.

Reports from standing committees were received.

A report on the Spencerian Proposition, was read by F. C. Pomeroy. The Association voted to receive and place the same on file.

S. D. Gaylord submitted a report upon Re-organization of the Association: Committee discharged, and report referred to special committee consisting of Alexander Kerr of Beloit, W. D. Parker of Janesville, J. Wernli of Platteville, O. R. Smith of Janesville, and J. C. Pickard of Madison, and made the order for 2 o'clock, P. M., Wednesday.

The Committee on President's address, reported through F. C. Pomeroy, referring portions of the address to the sub-committees as follows:

Reorganization of the Association.—S. D. Gaylord, W. C. Whitford, and E. H. Merrill.

County Superintendents.—J. G. McMynn, J. C. Pickard, and J. K. Purdy.

School Buildings and Ventilation.—S. D. Gaylord, I. N. Cundall, and J. Wernli.

Compulsory Attendance.—O. R. Smith, H. B. Furness, James Craig.

Educational Journal.—J. G. McMynn, H. D. Hendrickson, H. Coleman.

Metrical System.—J. E. Munger, J. W. Heath, C. W. Cutler.

Normal Schools.—C. H. Allen, J. G. McMynn, N. P. Gage.

Reorganization of State University—P. A. Chadbourne, J. G. McMynn, G. W. Steele.

The sub-committee on compulsory attendance, reported through O. R. Smith, and after some discussion by Messrs. Smith, Reynolds, and Goldthwait, the report was adopted as follows, and the committee discharged :

“Your committee to whom was referred so much of the President’s address as relates to the compulsory education of the children of this State, beg leave to report the following resolutions :

1st. Resolved, That the Wisconsin Teachers’ Association endorses the principle of compulsory education, and pledges its influence to secure the establishment of the same upon the statute book of the State.

2d. Resolved, That the legislative committee be and hereby is instructed to prepare a bill which shall secure the education of all children in the State, and to present the same at the Executive Session of the Association if such Executive Session be held.”

O. R. SMITH,
H. B. FURNESS,
JAS. M. CRAIG,
Committee.

The sub-committee on the part of the President’s address which relates to the Metrical System, reported as follows and the report was received and the committee discharged :

“The committee to whom was referred the Metrical System of weights and measures, beg leave to submit the following :

WHEREAS, The Metrical System of weights and measures is so simple, has been authorized by the United States Government and has been adopted by Governments which seems to indicate a strong probability of general use, therefore,

Resolved, That it should be taught in the schools of Wisconsin in connection with the other systems now in use.”

J. E. MUNGER,
G. W. HEATH,
C. W. CUTLER,
Committee.

The sub-committee to whom was referred that part of the President's address relating to the State University, reported through their chairman I. A. Chadbourne, as follows; the report was received and the committee discharged :

"Report of the committee on so much of the President's address as related to the reorganization of the State University."

"The committee * * can only report at this time what the result of that reorganization ought to be. It has been the aim of the Regents to place the University on such a basis as to meet the present educational wants of the state, and also to provide for the addition of professional schools and advanced courses of instruction just as soon as they shall be demanded. It will offer a full scientific and classical course of instruction to all who have the courage and good sense to spend a few years in youth in thorough preparation for the work of life. But its lecture rooms will be open to all who choose to avail themselves of its advantages and those engaged in the public instruction of the state will not only always be welcome there, but may come feeling that they are upon their own ground, that they are by their very connection with the common schools of the State, honorary members of the State University.

The reorganization will amount to nothing unless it receive the intelligent support of the educators of the State. The University must have time to bring together a body of able, learned men—to expand its departments—before it can become what it ought to be—the fitting crown of the educational system of the State. The State University should surely take this position and so long as it occupies a subordinate or doubtful position, so long the state machinery for the education of the people will be imperfect. So far from interfering with any educational interests or institution, it should be so conducted as to increase that respect and desire for sound classical and scientific education, that shall bring new life to every school and college in the State. Every citizen and especially every educator has a right to expect that the liberal endowment now possessed by the University shall be so used that the students of Wisconsin shall have no occasion for going beyond our own borders for the highest type of University education."

Respectfully submitted.

P. A. CHADBOURNE,
JNO. G. McMYNN,
G. M. STEELE,

Committee.

E. F. Hobart of Beloit, followed this report with a paper upon "Natural History," introducing frequent practical illustrations.

Adjourned at 12 1-2 o'clock.

The Association was called to order at 2 o'clock by the President. The committee on reorganization of the Association was instructed to be in readiness to report at 9 o'clock Thursday.

Q. R. Smith, of Janesville, read a paper on "The Primary School."

Adjourned at 4 1-2 o'clock.

The Association convened at 7 1-2 o'clock. Prayer by Rev. Mr. Rice of Milwaukee, followed by sacred music by the glee club. Lecture by J. L. Pickard, of Chicago, Ill., upon "Habits"

Gov. Fairchild, being called out, made some general remarks to the Association.

July 25th.

The Association was called to order at 9 o'clock A. M. by the President. Prayer by Rev. S. C. Bulkley of La Crosse. B. M. Reynolds, of Madison, read a paper on "The order of Arithmetic, Algebra, and Geometry, in a course of Mathematics," followed by an Institute exercise by G. S. Albee, of Kenosha.

The committee on honorary membership reported through C. H. Allen, thirty-two names for membership. Report adopted and committee discharged.

Recess thirty minutes.

The president introduced J. G. McMynn, State Superintendent, the first president of the association, who conducted the exercises during the remainder of the morning session.

Remarks of a general and educational character were made by Jno. G. McMynn, of Wisconsin, M. H. Donnell of Minnesota, Ira F. Duvoll, of St. Louis, Mo., and H. D. McCarty, of Leavenworth, Kan. W. C. Whitford, of Milton, read a paper upon "A review of education in the state."

A verbal report from the committee on Normal schools was made by C. H. Allen, and the committee was discharged,

The committee on reorganization of the association, reported through Alexander Kerr, amendments to articles 2d and 7th of the constitution of the association: The association adopted the report as follows, discharging the committee:

"The committee to whom was referred the business of reorganization are unanimous in reporting that they deem it unadvisable to change the constitution which has carried this Association successfully through fifteen years of its history.

Nevertheless to secure more careful deliberation upon questions, which for want of time cannot be properly discussed at the regular meetings they respectfully offer the following amendment to be known as Art. 7:

ART. 7. The Executive Committee shall have power to call an executive session of the Association for the purpose of considering questions of educational policy, at such time and place as they may deem advisable.

The Committee would also recommend that Article 2d be amended by inserting after the words "consist of" and before the word "persons" the words "school officers and of," and after the word "annually" the clause, "from this tax female teachers shall be exempt," so as to read :

"ART. 2 The Association shall consist of school officers and persons engaged in teaching in the State. who shall pay one dollar annually ; from this tax female teachers shall be exempt. Honorary members may be elected at any annual meeting, who may, by the payment of the annual fee, become active members "

ALEXANDER KERR,
W. D. PARKER,

G. W. HEATH,
J. STEWART,
G. D. STEVENS,

Committee.

The Association authorized the officers to draw upon the Treasurer for the amount of its indebtedness.

The resolution relative to establishing a State Asylum for imbecile children was taken up, and adopted by a unanimous vote :

"WHEREAS, It is one of the highest duties of the State to provide for the education of its children,

AND, WHEREAS, this education should reach every child in the State,

AND, WHEREAS, the peculiar condition of imbecile children renders it impossible to educate them properly in our public schools, and requires special training, therefore,

Resolved, That it is the sense of this Association that the State officers ought to take immediate steps to found an Asylum for the education of its imbecile and idiotic children."

The Nominating Committee made the following report through Alexander Kerr :

"Your committee appointed upon nominations beg leave to recommend for officers of the Wisconsin Teachers' Association for the years 1867-8 :

President O. R. Smith, Janesville.

Vice-President I. N. Cundall, Rosendale.

Secretary A. G. Abbott, Milwaukee.

Treasurer T. C. Chamberlin, Delavan.

Counsellors John G. McMynn, C. H. Allen, J. C. Pickard, W. C. Whitford, G. S. Albee.

ALEXANDER KERR,

C. W. CUTLER,

T. J. BROOKS,

JULIA CHAMBERLIN,

CORDELIA POTTER,

Committee.

On motion of A. J. Cheney, the Secretary was instructed to cast the ballot for the Association. The result of the balloting was in accordance with the committee's recommendation, and was so declared.

The Standing Committee upon Legislation reported through A. J. Craig, as follows :

"Your committee would respectfully report, that while they have done but little as individuals in procuring legislation in the direction indicated by the Association, some progress has been made, and through the efforts of Supt. McMynn, amendments to our school law were passed by the Legislature last winter, making it more complete and harmonious in its operation, giving more power to the County Superintendents, especially in reference to examining and condemning dilapidated school houses, and in compelling officers to regard the requirements of law in reference to the employment of qualified teachers.

It is the opinion of your Committee that the Association should from time to time, after careful consideration, express the views held by its members as to what legislation is needed to develop and perfect our school system, and that these views, properly presented, will have, as they ought to have, a good deal of influence in shaping the action of the legislature upon the subjects submitted to their consideration.

A. J. CRAIG,

F. C. POMEROY,

Committee.

The Association convened at half past seven o'clock; prayer by Rev. Mr. North; Rev. S. Farrington, of Janesville, delivered a lecture upon "Education."

W. C. Whitford presented the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

1. Resolved, That we acknowledge anew our dependence on our Heavenly Father, and we express our devout gratitude to Him for the preservation of our lives, and for the opportunities which he has granted us during the past year.

2. Resolved, That, as the State Teachers' Association, we congratulate our State University on the acquisition of Prof. P. A. Chadbourne as Chancellor; a thorough scholar, an able educator, and a man of large experience in public life.

3. Resolved, That by the presence of the Hon. J. M. Gregory of Illinois, Hon. J. L. Pickard of Chicago, Hon. Ira F. Divoll of St. Louis, Hon. M. H. Dunnell of Minnesota, and Prof. C. H. McCarty of Leavenworth, Kansas; we recognize some of the foremost educators of the West, to whose labors and influence our public schools are indebted for their prosperity and success.

4. Resolved, That in the warm-hearted, open-handed welcome extended to us by the citizens of La Crosse, and in their generous hospitality in throwing open their dwellings and arranging for our convenience and pleasure while here, we recognize an interest in the welfare of this association, and the cause of education in our state, which we can but appreciate, and for which they have our hearty thanks.

5. Resolved, That the thanks of this Association are tendered to the various railroads and steamboat companies of the state, for their liberality in granting return passes to its members, and in providing for their comfort over the various routes of travel.

6. Resolved, That we recognize the especial interest taken by the press to secure reports of this meeting, as a token of the interest its readers have in our work, and we feel closer united to a power represented here by the Chicago Republican, Chicago Tribune, the Nation, Daily Wisconsin, and La Crosse Republican, and to the editors of the latter we are especially indebted for multiplied generous courtesies.

7. Resolved, That our thanks are especially due to the local committee of arrangements for their untiring efforts in preparing for the entertainment of the unusually large number of teachers present, and also to the Glee Club for the varied music furnished during our exercises.

8. Resolved, That we tender our thanks to the German Singing Society of La Crosse, for the use of the hall generously furnished us, and for the music they have provided on this occasion.

The Association adjourned sine die at 10 o'clock.

O. M. BAKER, President.

W. D. PARKER, Secretary.

The decrease in the productive school fund is only an apparent decrease.

In 1866 this fund was overdrawn $80,703 25, which amount, however, was included in the productive fund of that year, and has since been paid from the receipts of the last year, still leaving a balance of $31,869 25 in the fund, which will be invested in Wisconsin bonds, thus making a large actual increase in the productive fund.

THOS. S. ALLEN,
WM. E. SMITH,
CHAS. R. GILL,

Commissioners of School and University Lands.
