The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

UNDERGRADUATE STRIKE BULLETIN # 6

Monday this university was virtually shut down; 75% of the undergraduates participated in this strike action. Chancellor H. Edwin Young and the administration maintain that this university will continue to function until research has stopped. In whose interests is this university run? We feel that those whose interests center primarily around research cannot be expected to fulfill an adequate obligation toward undergraduate education. A major reason for our support in this strike is educational planning. The TAA proposal would give us an effective and real decision-making power in terms of classroom structure, curriculum, and grading procedures.
