At School Close

Pupils, let us, ere we part,
Take a retrospective thought
Of the things close to the heart,
That this closing day has brought

Youthful friendships lasting long,
Memories enshrined in love;
Voices ringing in glad song
Pure as angel songs above.

Lessons, that together we Learned here in the days gone by;
In the future you may see, --
Know the wherefore and the why.

Life is all before you now
With its promises so fair;
Have you ever thought just how They would be fulfilled, and where?

Faith and hope in thee abide,
For life's promises are true;
Patient be till time and tide
Bring her rich rewards to you.

VERY SINCERELY,

YOUR TEACHER

Lyda Hughes

SELECTED QUOTATIONS

SHAKESPEARE

Experience is a jewel, and it had need be so, for it is often purchased at an infinite rate.

TACITUS

Truth is strengthened by observation and time, pretences by haste and uncertainty

LONGFELLOW

The mind of the scholar, if you would have it large and liberal, should come in contact with other minds

JAMES A. GARFIELD

Next in importance to freedom and justice is popular education, without which neither justice nor freedom can be permanently maintained

A mighty Tree of Giant Strength
With Branches fixed so low,
That all may grasp its lower Limbs,
Was planted years ago.
'Twas planted by Almighty Power,
With Purpose most sublime,
Its Praise is sung by every Tongue,
In every Land and Clime.

The Tree of Learning is the Work
Of Nature's highest Art,
And Men and Women are but Leaves,
A very simple Part;
But thro these leaves the Tree breathes Life
And this Empyrean Tree
Will stand a living Monument
Throughout Eternity
