An Appeal To Every Alumnus

The Living Endowment Plan is as follows: Let us plan to raise an endowment of $75,000, to net the Association $3750 a year. Instead of asking Mr. Smith to withdraw $1000 from his business and give it to us for investment, we ask him to endow the Association with that sum, but to keep the principal himself and pay us interest at 5 per cent. Thus, $50 a year adds $1000 to the fund; $25 adds $500; $15 adds $300; $10 adds $200 and $5 adds $100.

To make up an endowment of $75,000 we need

	Income	Principal
20 at $50 a year.....	$1000	$20,000
40 at $25 a year.....	1000	20,000
100 at $10 a year.....	1000	20,000
150 at $5 a year.....	750	15,000
Total	$3750	$75,000

It is hardly necessary to speak of the urgent need of more funds for the Alumni Association. We do not need the money to pay for a dead horse, we are out of debt; but we do need it for active, aggressive work. The time will soon come—it may be upon us any minute—when the Association will be called upon to actively participate in the mobilization of alumni experience and ability for the prosecution of the war. Given funds, we can respond to the call. No Alumni Directory has been published in six years. We do not think the alumni should be called upon to pay for such a publication, but in this time of war economy it may be that the University cannot do it alone. Given funds, some plan may be devised by which, with our help, the publication can be made. Given funds, we can finance a membership campaign to double our membership. Given funds, the good work done by the University can be so impressed upon the good people of Wisconsin—by press work, by lectures, by movie films—that false attacks will die in their infancy, and the view of the voter can be broadened until he sees the fallacy of an exorbitant nonresident tuition.

The possibilities are unlimited. The time is ripe. Will you do your part? Use the card!

THE FUNDS COMMITTEE AND THE LIVING ENDOWMENT FUND

By CHARLES B. ROGERS, '93

At the June 1915 annual business meeting of the Alumni Association, the President was directed to call an Alumni Conference the following November.

He did so, calling every class secretary, every secretary of a local association or club, and several other active alumni.

At this meeting the President was directed to appoint committees on athletics, reorganization, membership, and funds. The committees on athletics and reorganization have reported and been discharged. Under the new constitution the Alumni Council last November continued the committees on membership and funds, authorizing the President to appoint new members to fill vacancies, if any.

The Funds Committee as now constituted consists of C. B. Rogers, '93, chairman; John Lord, '04, (president of the Association), and Dr. A. J. Ochsner, '84, of Chicago; Thos. Lloyd Jones, '96, and H. L. Ekern, '94, of Madison; Geo. A. Buckstaff, '86, of Oshkosh, and Arthur Dce, '11, of Milwaukee.

The new constitution provides for two endowment funds—a permanent fund to be handled by three trustees, who are to invest the same and pay over to the treasurer only the net income, or as directed by the giver in case of special endowment funds; and a living endowment fund, consisting of annual pledges, which is to be kept separate from the other funds of the Association, but may be transferred to the general fund for the present use of the Association as needed on vote of the Alumni Board.

Under this plan, privilege is given the subscriber to withdraw and discontinue payment by giving six months' written notice to the secretary. Notice is necessary, for someone must be found to take the place of the withdrawing subscriber. The promise terminates, of course, at death. Subscriptions will be payable on call after received.

After serious consideration the committee adopted the plan of the Living Endowment Fund for their immediate effort. We do not in any way wish to discourage anyone who is willing to make a permanent endowment; but we feel that the living endowment plan will give quicker results, reach a much larger number of the Alumni and stir up more patriotism.

This article, and the appeals on the cover and front page of the MAGAZINE are the first steps of the active universal campaign. Other steps will follow.

MEETING OF ALUMNI BOARD

By LILLIAN TAYLOR, '05

Prior to the special meeting of the board called at 1:30 p. m. at the Alumni Headquarters on May 8, there was an informal discussion at the University Club of commencement activities by members of the Alumni Board together with Dr. Charles H. Vilas, '65, of the Board of Regents, Prof. Julius Olson, '84, chairman of the faculty committee on public functions, and Herman Zischke, president of the senior class. Harry Gleick, '15, Law '17, also suggested the adoption of a plan for special music on the upper campus after the pipe of peace ceremony on class day night each year. In addition to any special instrumental or vocal music that might be arranged for he particularly urged general participation in the singing of University songs by all seniors, juniors, and alumni together with all other students and friends of the University that could be present who would be willing to participate.

At the meeting at the Alumni Headquarters, 821 State Street, at 1:30 the following were present: J. S. Lord, '04, president; Lillian Taylor, '05, recording secretary; C. N. Brown, Law '81, treasurer; Mrs. T. E. Brittingham, '89; C. B. Rogers, '93; R. C. Disque, '03; W. A. Foster, '15.

Absent: Zona Gale, '95, vice president; G. A. Buckstaff, '86; Dr. J. P. Dean, '11.

Letters explaining that Mr. Buckstaff could not be present because of the wedding of his daughter and that Miss Gale could not be present because she had been called to New York were received. On motion of Mrs. Brittingham the board agreed that the senior class should be encouraged to proceed with musical arrangements as outlined by Mr. Gleick.

The motion by Mr. Disque that it is the sense of this board, after consulting with representatives of the regents, the faculty, and the students, that Commencement be carried on in the usual way and that each reuning class carry out its own program as it sees fit, carried unanimously. After full discussion of Mr. Roger's motion that no limitation be placed on the dowment fund it was also unanimously approved.

Mr. Disque informed the board that the Intercollegiate Intelligence Bureau had, under date of March 23, sent a form letter and an enrollment blank to all male graduates of the University since 1890. That on March 29, on recommendation of President Van Hise, the Finance Committee, and the Executive Committee of the Board of Regents had made an appropriation of $400 for the purpose of securing this list of graduates willing to serve the United States Government in case of war and that on April 25, the Executive Committee of the Board of Regents were authorized to appropriate not to exceed $1,000 from any fund which may be available to take a census of the students of the University, men and women, with regard to what they can do and what they are willing to do this summer in preparation for war, and their placement. President Lord and ex President Rogers voiced the approval of the board of this patriotic volunteer work without compensation on the part of the local branch of the Intercollegiate Intelligence Bureau. Elsewhere in the MAGAZINE will be found a copy of the letter and of the blank sent out by Chairman Disque. Graduates who have not already filed a blank with the committee can, by tearing page 259 from the MAGAZINE, filling it out, and addressing it to the U. W.

Intercollegiate Intelligence Bureau, 204 Eng. Bldg., save the committee time, printing, and postage. Blanks from graduates prior to 1890 will be very welcome. Members of the class of 1917 who have not already made other arrangements for military service are also urged to enroll with the U. W. branch of the Intercollegiate Intelligence Bureau as are also members of the faculty.

After agreeing that Mr. Rogers, chairman of the Funds Committee, should prepare an article on the living endowment plan for the June issue of the MAGAZINE, the board adjourned at 3 P. M.

DECENNIAL CLASS REUNION FUND

By JULIUS OLSON, '84, CHAIRMAN OF FACULTY COMMITTEE ON LOANS

The first University loan fund was The John A. Johnson Loan Fund, established in 1878, for the benefit of Scandinavian students to be maintained as such until, in the judgment of University authorities, it should be available to all students of the University. This change was made several years ago.

Originally the Johnson Fund was $5,000. Only the interest is loaned, and when payment is made, the amount is added to the principal. The principal now exceeds $14,000, yielding over $700 annually, which is the main stay of the committee's funds.

The Graduating Class Fund was begun, in 1900, in a very modest way from the profits of the Senior Class Play; during the succeeding nine years additions were made by the graduating classes. The total amount raised in this way was about $2,000 which has been kept in constant circulation. I need not mention minor funds that have been in operation for several years, as they are enumerated in the University Catalogue. It should be mentioned, however, that during the present year two new funds have been placed at the disposition of the committee, namely, the Class of 1916 Fund of about $650 and the Kuppenheimer Fund of $1,000. These two funds have made it possible for the committee, during the present year, to meet the unusual demands upon it due to the stringent and puzzling regulations relating to nonresident tuition.

The purpose of the above facts is to indicate that the resources of the Loan Committee have been small; and yet much—very much—good has been done. That our limited resources have accomplished so much, is mainly due to the vigilant and business-like methods of Secretary McCaffrey in collecting accounts. He has been liberal in granting extensions to worthy beneficiaries, but unrelenting with those who have been inclined to disregard their obligations.

I trust that the committee that has taken upon itself the great work of organizing the alumni for concerted action in this important matter will find an encouraging response. It offers an important field of activity in which alumni may maintain a vital relation with their alma mater.

"Sit together, listen together, sing together, eat together, and talk together and you'll work together."

CHICAGO

By FELIX BOLDENWECK, '02

On March 16, at our luncheon at the Grand Pacific hotel, Dr. A. J. Ochsner, '84, told us of the hospital preparations which are being made under his supervision. Dr. Ochsner is in charge of the organization of the medical staff, the hospital equipment, and the nurses in this district. The great amount of detail work, the collection of equipment and the solicitation of funds for the same are receiving his personal attention, as well as that of his assistants. The Chicago District medical staff was appointed some time ago; four of its five members are natives of Wisconsin and three of these are U. W. men. Volunteer medical service during the Spanish-American war resulted in many unnecessary amputations and the record shows that where 345 of our soldiers and marines were killed in combat, over 3,000 died from fevers and other diseases. In contrast to our preparedness the Doctor cited the incident of a young American army surgeon in the Red Cross service who had the opportunity to serve in both the Allied and the Central Powers' hospitals. This young doctor witnessed the bringing into the allied base hospital a total of 15,000 wounded soldiers, all of whom were cared for, wounds dressed, and minor operations performed in the period of eighteen hours. This surprising efficiency of organization was surpassed by that of the Central Powers where the same number of wounded soldiers were brought in and similarly attended to in the course of only three hours. These examples show us that the prompt organization of our best talent is of greatest importance in preparing for any emergency that may arise.

The study of our own past experiences has shown to what extent the medical profession can be overrun by the medical tramp. All this work is going on under the auspices of the American Red Cross.

The address of Rt. Rev. Bishop Samuel Fallows on March 23 will long be remembered by the large and enthusiastic luncheon gathering. He stirred the patriotic fire of his hearers with his reminiscences of the Civil war and reminded us, that in that war the volunteer system failed and President Lincoln had to resort to conscription; that 1,130,000 soldiers who fought for the North, and a like number for the South, were lads under eighteen years of age; that the battle of Gettysburg was fought nearly entirely by boys averaging only eighteen years of age. Thorough unpreparedness prevailed throughout, not only in the ranks, but extended even to the officers and the medical forces. The raw recruits were drilled for only about three weeks before going to the front, where they were led by incompetent officers and fought in some of the bloodiest battles.

"The war of the revolution was fought by an army of 86,000 men under Gen. Washington. That army, when the war ended, had melted down to only 18,000. President Washington saw clearly that a volunteer system for the protection of our country would fail. He created a national militia and required all physically able citizens to join and drill regularly.

"It is the lesson which we must draw from our own war-time experiences which should awaken the Americans from their superb indifference to events which our wiser men saw coming on. To-day, in the midst of preparations for war, is the time when sentiment and predelection of races must cease. Our country is the melting pot for thirty-two nationalities. Our flag must be maintained, the emblem of freedom."

On March 30, Judge C. B. Rogers, '93, our past president, and our secretary, Robt. Crawford, '03, addressed us on a number of questions of importance to the University and to the alumni. Judge Rogers pointed out that the University was greatly handicapped through lack of funds to carry on its work under the best conditions. It would seem, he said, that the raising of an endowment fund among the alumni should be begun at the earliest moment possible, and that the expenses of a campaign to effect this should be previously assured by annual subscriptions totalling not less than $2,500, the work of soliciting this fund to be centralized at Madison, probably under the direction of a commission including alumni and members of the faculty of the University. This fund should be used for building purposes, for loans to students, and for other emergencies. Judge Rogers advised a post-card canvass of the alumni to ascertain their opinion on this subject.

Mr. Crawford spoke of the improved state of the Alumni Association's finances and gave the following statistics: There are now forty-three clubs, or local alumni organizations, located throughout the United States. The total number of living graduates is 11,897 (3,600 women and 8,297 men). The alumni residing in Wisconsin number 5,876 (1,804 women and 4,072 men). During the last five years alone 1,328 women and 2,672 men, a total of 5,400 students, were graduated. During the last four or five years the Association has been handicapped by lack of funds, even for getting out our MAGAZINE. Now that the treasury is in better shape, our Secretary believes that an annual subscription fund of $2,500, such as the one spoken of by Judge Rogers, will enable the Alumni Association to get busy and do things.

Among the other speakers of this meeting were Fred Silber, '94, John Lord, '04, Fred White, '81, Geo. Haight, '99, J. G. Wray, '93, and F. H. Hatton, '01. These speakers presented the fact that some of the best men of our faculty had gone elsewhere because of better salaries. Frederick Turner, '84, and Frederick Haskins to Harvard; D. C. Jackson to Mass. Inst. of Tech., and Chas. Barnes to Chicago. These men could have been retained by Wisconsin had the Alumni Association been in a position to act. Before that is possible, however, it requires a fund of a million dollars, the income from which could be used to increase the University's annual budget.

If each of—say, 8,000 alumni—were to pay into this proposed fund an average of $25 per year for five years, this fund of one million dollars would be assured at an early date. This, however, requires an organization specially fitted to handle the work of soliciting and collecting the subscriptions. Yale, Harvard, Purdue, Illinois, and Michigan have funds collected in a similar manner. It is the alumni who must share in this work. At the close of the meeting a committee of five men was appointed to investigate and report on a feasible plan for raising this fund.

On April 6, Geo. I. Haight, '99, gave a talk entitled "Our Rights" before the club. This scholarly discussion, dealing principally with our Supreme Court, will appear as a special article in the MAGAZINE.

Friday the 13th, that time honored jinx, caused a change in our program. Governor Phillip, whom a large attendance had hoped to greet, could not come, being detained by most important affairs of State. Dr. Albert Ochsner read the governor's telegram which expressed his regrets at not being able to be with us.

Dr. Ochsner then introduced his friend Dr. Roth, State forester of Michigan, and in charge of the department of forestry of the State University at Ann Arbor. Dr. Roth extended to Wisconsin the greetings of the University of Michigan. His talk emphasized and deplored an American trait—extravagance. He illustrated with examples of our individual, civic, and national life that this extravagance is caused by the fact that we have lost connection with those things that are most important in life. Even when at war we are apt to lose sight of the fact that the few million men engaged today in combat must be supplied with food, clothes, and shelter, all of which are products of the earth. It is the supply of these commodities which forms today's greatest work.

In Michigan, agriculture is labor hungry, and because of the scarcity of farm labor less than one-half of the normal yield will be produced this year. The problem of winning the farm hand back from the city with such inducements as higher pay and safety insurance is one which must be viewed seriously not only by the farming communities but by the cities as well.

Forestry is of the greatest importance at the present time. We have been so prodigal in the waste of our lumber that in Michigan alone the timber on over 12,000,000 acres has been cut down and the land is idle—nonproductive today. In fact it was only during a recent session of the Michigan legislature that a most important law was passed—namely: to replant these forests at the rate of 5,000 acres per year. At that rate it would take 240 years to replant what has been laid waste in less than half a century.

Our national forests have not fared much better; the total replanting up to date, when full grown, amounts to only a little over one hour's supply for our lumber mills. The old crop, our virgin forests, have not been even partly replanted. The New York and Pennsylvania legislatures have appointed commissions, as has also the Federal government but although a good start has been made, the people themselves have not taken a real interest. Pennsylvania alone preserved 1,000,000 acres as a state forest but nevertheless the losses due to forest fires and cutover forests have been such that only 10 per cent of the former agricultural yield is obtained from their farms. Our Federal government has appropriated only about one-half cent per acre per year for the maintenance of our forest lands—whereas European countries pay out nearly twenty-five cents per acre, annually.

Dr. Roth urged his hearers to get behind this Forest Preserve Movement, and by thus interesting college alumni he hopes to start a nationwide propaganda with enough push behind it to bring results from Congress and our state legislatures. He pointed out that this was the most feasible method of insuring the future food, clothing, and shelter for our country.

MINOT

By MARGARET GREENE, '07

On the evening of February 23, the Wisconsin alumni and former students now living in Minot enjoyed a most delightful dinner and reunion at the Waverly Café. Those present were: J. J. Coyle, '00, R. A. Nestos, '02, H. C. Fish, '03, G. S. Woledge, '04, Alfred Larson, '07, Margaret Greene, '07, May Hall Fish, ex '08, A. B. Lee, ex '09, Johanna Soland, '11, Dr. J. C. Jackman, '12, W. F. Gettelman, '14, Doris McFadden, '16. The Wisconsin spirit was not lacking, as was demonstrated in the informal talks given by all. It was decided to organize a local Wisconsin club at once and the following officers were elected: J. J. Coyle, president; Doris McFadden, vice president; Johanna Soland, treasurer; Margaret Greene, secretary.

We hope to have frequent meetings and to get in touch with alumni and students living near Minot. The meeting was closed by singing the Toast and giving the yell!

NEW YORK

By CARL F. GESELL, '13

The luncheon last Tuesday terminated a very successful and well attended series of meetings of the club. We have been most fortunate in discovering an abundance of talent among our alumni here and each week we have listened to an entirely new subject of popular interest. Through these gatherings we have been able to reach practically every alumnus in Greater New York, in addition to providing convenient meeting places for visiting alumni.

On April 10 Charles Brandon Booth gave a most interesting discussion on the prisoner and his relation to society. Mr. Booth is thoroughly familiar with every branch of prison work and those who heard him left with an entirely changed opinion of this important social question.

For the past two and a half years the reports we have received concerning the armies of Europe have been statements of military maneuvers only; little, if anything, has been said of the actual conditions surrounding the soldier while not engaged in battle. No organization has perhaps done more to relieve the monotony of the soldier's existence and to better the hygienic and social conditions of the men than the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A. They have not only made living conditions possible but have carried on extensive educational courses among the prisoners, which will be of great value to them when they return from war. The Club was certainly fortunate in hearing this first hand from Carlisle Hibbard, '00, who not only is familiar with every detail of the system but has actually been behind every line of Europe. Mr. Hibbard also explained in detail the work of other Wisconsin men in the prison camps of Germany and Northern Africa.

At the last meeting W. B. Brown, '05, responded to the subject of the subway and elevated system of Greater New York and gave the club a bit of real information on the matter of underground tunneling. He explained the various phases of rapid transit construction from the advent of the elevated railway to the present system of rapid transit. From the opening of the subway in 1904 the increase has been very rapid and at the present time the actual mileage completed and under construction totals 621 miles, which will form positive connection with every borough of New York and will cost approximately $333,000,000. It will then be possible to travel underground (with the exception of a few miles, from Woodlawn North of Manhattan) via Lexington Av. and Clark St., Brooklyn, to New Lot addition, a total distance of 30 miles.

You can depend on New York having a big bunch at the reunion in June. We also wish that any alumnus who contemplates being in the city or vicinity would get in touch with us.

PHILADELPHIA

By E. F. RICE, '08

On Saturday evening, April 21, we held our first annual banquet at the City Club. Fifty-seven loyal alumni gathered around the board to hear President Van Hise who came all the way from Madison to tell us of the progress and future needs of the University. To many of us, who get back only every five or ten years for the reunions, it was a revelation to hear of the changes and the growth, and if such a thing is possible, it made us all feel just a little more proud of our alma mater. Wisconsin pennants, cardinal-hued carnations, sky rockets, and all the old songs, made us forget that our undergraduate days are only a memory.

David Hanchett, '10, was Master of Ceremonies, and toasts were responded to by Dr. E. R. Johnson, '88, C. C. Parlin, '93, H. S. Youker, '94, Miss Quackenbush, '11, and Mrs. Avery, ex '15.

We had all plans made for a rousing reception to our track team, and were keenly disappointed when we learned that our entries had been scratched at the Penn. Relay Carnival on account of the war preparations.

1917 COMMENCEMENT 1917

SUNDAY, June 17, Baccalaureate Sermon by Rev. Hugh Black
 MONDAY, June 18, Class Reunion Day

A NEW COMMENCEMENT WEEK FEATURE

The present senior class plans a new feature for Commencement week which should take its place among the traditions of the University. It is a song festival, following the Pipe of Peace ceremony, and will take place above the Lincoln Statue at the top of the Hill, at midnight on Monday, June 18. The senior class will there sing "Alma Mater," "On Wisconsin," and other of the good old Wisconsin songs.

A committee of the class is working out the details at present, and the Alumni Council at their last meeting heartily endorsed the idea. It is a fitting tribute to pay to the Old Hill and to the University, and the new tradition has met with favor among the seniors.

Committee: Harry Gleick, chairman; Harry Bulles, W. Truran, Romona Reichert, Majory Adams, Helen Barr.

N. B.—All special class activities—lunches, dinners, picnics, dances, etc., should be held on Monday.

TUESDAY, June 19, ALUMNI DAY

CLASSES

CLASS REUNIONS

"Seven's" and "two's" are reminded that it is time to plan for the reunion to be held next June.

We shall be glad to hear from class officers or committees on reunion from the classes of 1912, 1907, 1902, 1897, 1892, 1887, 1882, 1877, 1872, 1867, 1862.

By HENRY W. HOYT, '72

The class will have a reunion in June. Responses from members assure us that a large percentage will attend.

1887

The thirtieth anniversary of the class of 1887 will be commemorated on Monday, June 18. The members will meet at the Madison Golf Club at five o'clock for a dinner there. Further particulars will be given to members of the class by personal correspondence.

Yours truly,

OSCAR HALLAM,

743 Goodrich Ave, St. Paul, Minn.

REUNION OF THE LAW CLASS OF '92

Kerr, DeMoe, Swanson, Wood, Shuttleworth, Marling, Coyne, Heck, and Warner join in this call. Heck writes from Racine, "I know of nothing that could prevent my being there except being drafted into the army again." We have had no reunion for fifteen years. The untimely death of Judge Tarrant broke up a well planned 20th anniversary reunion. We earnestly hope nothing may interfere with our 25th anniversary reunion of this year. Let communications and acceptances be addressed to Earnest N. Warner, 109 W. Main Street, Madison.

REUNION COMMITTEE

CLASS OF 1907

694 BROADWAY
MILWAUKEE, WIS.

HEAR YE TWELVERS! and if you haven't delegated your business cares for the four big days in June, stop and go seek a substitute now. If you have joined the ranks, the Arrangements Committee will get you a furlough. If you are following the Honeymoon Trail remember those summer nights on old Mendota. The Nineteentwelve Wisconsin will be there four hundred strong from dawn on the 16th until the moon sets on the 20th, meeting the old faces in the old haunts and remember, our ranks may never again be full.

Headquarters have been established at 617 State Street, on the car line in the middle of the big noise, one block from old Lake Ehler and two from Mendota. A reception squad will be there to give you the glad hand at all hours of the day and night and at that place will be meted out costumes, good to look upon and of excellent quality. We will clothe you from the waist up but you must furnish a white base for us to work upon. All this will come out of that five dollar bill which some of you still intend to send.

The big grand review of the class is slated for 1:30 P. M. on Tuesday. It will be led by Red Parker and Prexy will be in the stand to inspect the first mile or two. It will be a family affair so bring your wives and sweethearts.

On Monday, the day when mere alumni who don't belong to Twelve do not interfere, the real big action takes place. A bright sun and a clear sky is the forecast for that day, when the class picnic will be staged. There will be a boat ride—by day and by moonlight—and eats to suit every appetite. Between meals there will be dancing, sports, and stunts galore. Fat men's races, baby contests, songs, and swimming will plug up possible intermissions. University trained chaperons certified by Dean Mathews and Dean Birge will be furnished on application.

Stunts are being planned for every occasion including the all-alumni dinner, business meeting, and ball, and there will be new original snappy songs for each event.

The class will hold an old-time class meeting where business will be transacted in orderly fashion and where President Eckardt will preside. A permanent organization will there be effected, permanent officers chosen, reports made, and multifarious ideas for which Twelve was always conspicuous, will be aired.

Milwaukee members plan on making the trip in automobiles as do many from other near-by towns. There will be autos enough to circumnavigate the Capitol square on Sunday morning and awaken calm sedate old Madison from its five-year sleep.

From Portland, Ore., comes the message that "Skin" Miller and "Stu" Blythe will attend and from Pennsylvania and from New York, Dakotas, Texas, and California come messages of prodigal sons and daughters who are returning.

From far Honolulu comes a cable message which is worth reproducing.

The following guests were University friends and classmates of Mrs. Stiles: Mrs. C. A. Gifford, Mrs. Mary C. Welsh, Mrs. John Sumner, ex '70, Mrs. Albert T. Lamson, ex '71, Mrs. Fred. Conover, '85, and Mrs. T. J. Marston, '67. Mrs. Stiles was Miss Ella Field of Beloit. She was a popular student and besides the regular college course she was a student of art and has done some very creditable work. The ladies spent a most delightful afternoon recalling interesting experiences and laughing over the many jokes which were played in the school days of the long ago. All were unanimous in deciding not to mention dates nor ages for time had left no tell-tale marks, showing that it is merely necessary to keep the heart young regardless of the passing years.” Mrs. T. J. Marston.

The Rev. J. W. Bashford, Methodist bishop in China, conducted the corner-stone ceremony for the Wesley Foundation on May 3. Later in the afternoon he delivered the invocation at the “war convocation” at the Stock Pavilion. In the evening he addressed a University audience on the subject of “Re-adjustments in China,” ably setting forth certain findings relating to education, government, and religious life in the Chinese republic, and advocating that the United States extend democracy by revising the exclusion acts.

Julius Olson, chairman of the faculty committee on public functions, successfully conducted a "war convocation" at the Stock Pavilion on May 3 which was probably the largest and most noteworthy ever held at the University. The speakers were President Van Hise, '79, for the University, Wm. Kiekhofer for the Faculty, Sen. Wilcox for the State, and Burt Williams for the Public. In addition to these orators Prof. Olson enlisted the services of Bishop Bashford to deliver the invocation, Prof. Dykema to lead the singing, and two bands and two regiments of cadets to lead the procession to the Pavilion. Excerpts from the war message of President Wilson were printed in the program, as were also the words of "The Star Spangled Banner," "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," "Battle Hymn of the Republic," and "America," which were sung by the audience.

ALUMNI STRENGTH

“The first result of good organization of a representative college class is the helpful, enriching bond which is thus provided for the members themselves. Some of the rarest and fondest experiences of a college man's life are to be found in the life-long companionship with friends discovered and intimately known in undergraduate days. Meeting individuals of this intimate circle is a joy; association occasionally with numbers of them is an inspiration; following the careers of these men throughout a lifetime is of the most vital interest, and the knowledge that each man's life is being thus watched by his classmates is an encouragement and a steadying influence. Personal contact of man with man, of one unit of life with other units, is by some thinkers considered the chief purpose of life, as it is its chief means of development.”—From A Hand Book of Alumni Work.

The way to preserve and strengthen such an organization after leaving college is by securing and maintaining active loyal membership in the General Alumni Association. Annual dues, including the ALUMNI MAGAZINE, are but Two Dollars a year. Life membership, including the ALUMNI MAGAZINE, is Fifty Dollars. The official publication goes to all members regularly on the 25th of the month preceding date of publication. Four thousand graduates have already joined. 1917 can help the Membership Committee pass the 5,000 mark.

SPECIAL OFFER TO 1917 GRADUATES

Membership for 1917-18—One Dollar if payment is made before June 15, 1917.

Life membership—Twenty-five Dollars if payment is made before June 15, 1917.

Your class secretary is your representative on the Alumni Board. His voting strength depends on your numerical support, for every hundred members from his class or fraction thereof. June, July, and August numbers of the ALUMNI MAGAZINE will be sent free to all members who before June 15. Please fill out the membership card and mail it accompanied by the requisite dues to your class vice president, Eleanor E. Ramsay, care of the General Alumni Association, 821 State Street.

“Speed the day when every man and woman who ever attended the University is enrolled as a member of the General Alumni Association. It is one very practical way of showing your faith in the University and your desire to stand behind it.”

CAMPUS NOTES

About one hundred fifty University men left May 12 for Ft. Sheridan for three months of army training. A monster farewell demonstration was given the morning of their departure. Classes were suspended for two hours so that all students might attend formal farewell exercises on the campus.

Up to May 9 the total number of students who had given up their studies to go into preparedness or military work passed the 700 mark, 300 of them into intensive drill, 150 into the army, 300 into farm and other emergency food production work, and over fifty into navy, militia, aviation, signal corps, and other special forms of the service.

Harry Craig, '19, American ambulance driver, has been decorated with the French war cross for "extraordinary bravery under fire."

The wireless station was dismantled when war was declared, but has again been put in commission for special work for the navy department.

Assistant Commandant Fitzmaurice has been called to Milwaukee to assist in examining candidates there for officers' training.

Ian Hay (Captain Beith of the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders) gave an illustrated talk to a packed house at the Gym April 25, on "The Human Side of Trench Life."

Prof. E. A. Ross of the department of sociology will go to Russia early in June as special representative of the American Institute of Social Service, to conduct extensive investigations.

Eber Simpson of Oshkosh, "W" man in three sports, is president of the athletic board. He defeated Paul Meyers of Milwaukee 569 to 276.

Lawrence, Ripon, Carroll and Beloit men enrolled in the intensive drill course with University students.

Wisconsin debaters closed the season with a victory over Texas on their affirmative debate on the subject of compulsory military service, after losing to Minnesota on the negative of the same question.

Geo. Carlson, guard, has been elected captain of the basketball team for 1917-18.

The Regents have granted one of the Chilean scholarships to Miss Hilda Rojas, on the recommendation of Dr. Jose M. Galvez of the U. of Chile.

Iron Cross Elections. Seniors: Geo. Baldwin, Guy Black, Harold Olsen, Carman Smith, Wm. Macfadden. Juniors: Roy Burlingame, Chase Donaldson, Cecil Holman, Howard Hancock, Paul Meyers, Eber Simpson, and Verne Varney.

F. E. Whitney of Milwaukee has been elected leader of the Glee club, and Jas. Richardson of Ft. Atkinson, manager.

More than sixty faculty men are drilling at the armory, with the intention of either joining the army or aiding in the training of recruits.

Mrs. Amy D. Winship, said to be the oldest university student, recently celebrated her eighty-sixth anniversary. She plans to re-enter the University.

The First Regiment band is considering three plans for summer: First, to offer its services to Col. Roosevelt; second, to offer its services to Ft. Sheridan; and, third, to go on a professional concert tour.

BOOK NOTES

The Pacific Ocean in History (Macmillan Co., N. Y., $4.00) edited by H. Morse Stephens and H. E. Bolton, '95. The volume consists principally of a collection of papers and addresses presented at the Panama-Pacific Historical congress held at San Francisco, Berkeley, and Palo Alto, July 19-23, 1915. Mr. Bolton contributed papers on "The Early Explorations of Father Garcés on the Pacific Slope," and "French Intrusions into Mexico, 1749-1752."

Lydia of the Pines (Frederick A. Stokes Co., N. Y.) by Honore (McCue) Willsie, '02. "The novel might be called, indeed, the story of a personality, so strongly does Lydia dominate it and all the people by whom she is surrounded. Mrs. Willsie has done a particularly fine piece of work in the way in which she has realized that personality, made it vital and convincing, and, above all, thoroughly interesting for the reader. It marks a long step in advance of her previous books." From the N. Y. Times.

The World Book (Hanson-Roach-Fowler Co., Chicago) edited by M. V. O'Shea, professor of education. Wisconsin contributors are W. L. Westerman, professor of history, Edw. Steidtmann, '06, assistant professor of geology, Geo. Wagner, assistant professor of zoology, E. A. Ross, professor of sociology, and Jos. Jastrow, professor of psychology. "It is one of the most complete and instructive series of books published today. No teacher can do the best work without them. Topics on different methods of teaching are handled by experts in this line. The immense amount of other subjects handled makes this work better than the old form encyclopedia." Middle-West School Review of Omaha, Neb. "The title of this work leads one to expect something unusually fine in the way of encyclopedias. No one will be disappointed who has this expectation. It is a valuable and moderately-priced set." Moderator-Topics, Lansing, Mich.

Property and Contract (Macmillan Co., N. Y., two vols., $4.00) by R. T. Ely, professor of political economy. "This book is the outgrowth of many years of study on the part of one of America's most distinguished economists. In it is summed up his mature judgment on many matters of vital concern to every citizen. It discusses both the legal and economic aspect of those fundamental questions that have to do with property. The position of its author is both a guarantee of the soundness of the facts set forth and ample justification for the serious consideration of the many suggestions with which the work is fraught."

Jeffersonian Democracy in New England (Yale Univ. Press, New Haven, Conn., $2.00 net) by Wm. A. Robinson, '10. "The author discusses fully the political conditions in New England, the growth of Republicanism, party methods, the Federalist reaction, the party basis, Republicanism and religious liberty, the national significance of New England Republicanism and the distribution of the party. The volume includes maps showing the party distribution, a bibliography based very largely on the newspapers of the period, and an index."

SENIORS!

The July issue of the ALUMNI MAGAZINE will contain names and addresses of secretaries of over forty local Alumni Clubs from San Francisco to New York.

Recent graduates locating in cities having University of Wisconsin clubs find it to their advantage to get acquainted with other Wisconsin graduates residing in such cities. The local secretaries will be glad to secure your address and form your acquaintance.

ALUMNI

The University will welcome the return of its graduates for Reunions at Commencement in June, believing that such meetings, conducted with fitting simplicity and dignity, will be of real benefit to the University and to the country at the present time.
