INTRODUCTORY.

IN presenting the first issue of the Sheboygan Directory, it must be premised that many errors and omissions may be expected, notwithstanding that every care has been taken to obtain full and accurate information. This is a fault peculiarly liable to affect the initial issue of any directory, for obvious reasons. There exists, in the first place, an unwillingness among many people to give the necessary information, not knowing the object for which it is intended; and then, should mistakes be made in the taking of names, there is nothing from which to rectify the blunder. In subsequent issues, the directory previously published will always serve as a check against errors in canvassing and compilation.

It is not considered within the scope of a work of this character to enlarge upon the history of business prospects of the city, its aim being to directly answer the questions which may arise, as to the residences, business connections, etc., of the inhabitants.

Estimating from the number of names contained in this work, we would place the present population of Sheboygan at 10,500, a number which we consider fairly within the limits, and a very close approximation to the actual residents of the city.

Thanking the business men for the support and encouragement so generously accorded, I am,

Very truly,

A. G. WRIGHT.
