RECORD CAMPUS ENROLLMENT IS ALREADY MADE

Registration at University Breaks Former Number By 41

A new registration record of 7,057 students enrolled up to Wednesday evening was announced by the registrar's office yesterday. At the same time last year 7,016 men and women had enrolled, a gain of 41 for this year.

The larger enrollment indicates that last year's final registration of 7,440 will be passed, and a new record of more than 7,500 will be made before the end of the present year.

There are not as many new students in attendance this year as there were last, which may indicate that the peak of high registrations has been reached. The number of men and women remains on about the same ratio as previously as there were 2,601 women and 4,456 men registered up to yesterday morning.

Freshmen have decreased in numbers. There were 2,008 registered Wednesday evening, while a year ago there were 2,140 enrolled. The registration of other classes follows:

Senior 1,291; junior 1,581; sophomore 1,549; graduated 535, and special and unclassified 93.

There are approximately 200 more seniors than last year, and about the same number of juniors and sophomores. The exact figures for last year are:

Senior 1,093; junior 1,562; sophomore 1,600; freshmen 2,140; graduated 514, and specials and unclassified 107.

The exact registration by colleges and schools will be announced by the registrar's office this afternoon.

"CO-OP" HOUSES AT UNIVERSITY PLAN FOR YEAR

Tabbard Inn, Journalism and Charter Houses Name Officers

Three co-operative houses of the university have already made plans for the academic year.

The Journalism house, 430 N. Frances street, established last year, is organized with Bernice Brun '23 as president, Edith Porter '24 vice-president and Dorothy Lawton, '24 secretary. The women of the journalism house are planning to bring authors and journalists to the university campus for addresses.

Tabbard Inn, 444 N. Charter street has twenty-one women with Miss Stella Hinz as chaperon and Elsa Kingslow '23 as president. The women rent their house from the university.

Charter house, 626 N. Charter street has 14 women with Miss Ruth Garwood as chaperon and Gretchen Meyme '23 president. They also work according to schedule.

Freshman Medical Exams To Be Completed Monday

With only a few freshmen left the Medical examinations should be completed by Monday. It has been an unusually quiet week, the records being about on a par with other years.

All Students Invited to Attend Reception at Y. M.

"All university men and women are invited to attend a reception at the university Y. M. C. A. Sunday evening, to meet President Birge and Miss N. Birge," said Sec. Frederick E. Wolf yesterday.

President Birge will address the meeting and will speak on religion. The Ladger orchestra will play at the reception and special musical numbers and community singing will entertain the guests.

Three Recommended For Student Court Prosecutor

Three Law students last night were recommended by Dean Harry S. Richards of the Law school to be prosecutor for the Student court. They are George A. Garrigan '24, Clifford G. Mathys '23 and Walter A. Williams '23. Members of the court took the recommendations under advisement and will appoint a prosecutor before the next regular meeting, October 5.

CO-ED RUSHING COSTS ARE CUT

Sororities of Pan-Hellenic Agree to Limit Expenses For Season

Limitation of expenses shall be the keynote of all rushing this year, according to an agreement made by all sororities at the first meeting of the Pan-Hellenic association yesterday in Lathrop hall.

Elaborately engraved invitations will now give way to the specific form designated by the members of "Pan-Hell". In addition to this the sororities are urged to cut down expenses in any other way that they may find possible.

Pass Rigid Rules.

In order that every sorority may have an equal chance, it has been necessary to pass other new rules. Sororities whose members have talented fraternity friends are no better off than those whose members are not as fortunate because the "one hired orchestra" rule can not be hired, where previously at least in and play "gratis."

That girls could not use cars for rushing was a rule last year. It has been even more rigid this year. From now on a rushee may not even use her own car if she is accompanied by a sorority girl.

Initiation Requirements.

There are to be no parties on Thursday, this year, altho informal rushing may go on after 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Girls may take their rushees home after informal dates only after 6 o'clock. They may call for them for not only the first formal date but for all informal dates.

This year no student may be initiated by any sorority until she has completed at least one semester of work. This rule will affect many girls, who are entering the university for the first time as sophomores or juniors, who have usually been initiated right after the mid-semester examinations.

In a combined effort to lower the prices of orchestras the Pan-Hellenic and Inter-Fraternity council will have a joint meeting next Tuesday. Two plans are then to be submitted and some definite action decided upon.

FRESHMEN WILL BE WELCOMED OFFICIALLY TO UNIVERSITY THIS MORNING WHEN STUDENT BODY PARTICIPATES IN VARSITY WELCOME

Instructions For Pageant

Freshmen will gather on the lower part of the upper campus in front of the clock tower of Music hall and will be formed into a column four abreast for the march to the Lincoln monument.

Sophomores will form on the walk in front of the Engineering building, by twos, the women leading, and headed down the hill.

Juniors will form on the walk in front of the Law building, by twos, the women leading, and headed down the hill.

Seniors, graduates, and Law students will meet in front of the Biology building, form by twos, the women leading, and proceed into the arcade at the front of Bascom hall, passing out of the center arch of the arcade, and then divide into two columns, ready to cross the Lincoln monument for the march down the campus to escort the freshmen into position.

Members of the Council of 40 will form the classes into line. File-leaders will be assigned to lead each group.

Clear, Warmer Weather For Impressive Spectacle

The hand of welcome will be extended to every member of the class of 1926 at 11 o'clock this morning when the entire university will participate in the first student function of the year, the Varsity Welcome.

Eleven o'clock classes will not meet, and every student in the university is expected to attend the Welcome with his class.

Weather forecasters predict an excellent day for the function. The Welcome will be held on Monday in case of rain, but reports late last night indicate a clear, warm day is in store.

To See New Caps
Members of the freshman class are to be greeted at the foot of the hill by the seniors, graduates and law students and led up the hill, where they will pass in review before members of the upper classes, to the Lincoln terrace.

New freshman caps will be sold at the foot of the hill where the class will congregate to await the senior escort.

Approximately 250 members of the class has not purchased caps, according to an estimate made by E. J. Grady, manager of the University Co-Op.
Approximately 750 caps were

DANCE? DRINK? FIRST MIXER TO BE REAL FROLIC

Refreshments Will Be Served At Varsity Dance Tonight At Gym

"Refreshments are our latest inducement," announced Morton C. Frost, '23, in charge of the initial Union Board mixer in the men's gymnasium tonight.

The committee plans on more than 2,000 people present at the opening mixer, which, as usual, will be an all university affair with adequate representation from all social groups.

"We want this year's mixer to be the most efficient introductory device ever staged," Frost added.

Informality and congeniality will prevail throughout the evening. The special low price of 25 cents makes it a popular entertainment in reach of everyone.

The S. G. A. is working in conjunction with Union Board to perfect plans. More than 30 S. G. A. representatives will act as a floor committee to help guide the new coed. The serving of ice cream and soft drinks will be also under S. G. A. supervision.

Union Board is making arrangements to run eight to 10 mixers this season, an increase over the six held last year. These affairs are conducted by the university for university students and aim for fellowship rather than financial results.

Special Rail Rates Are Made For Michigan Game

Special railroad rates are being made between Madison and Chicago for students who are going to attend the Michigan-Wisconsin Football game Nov. 18. According to an official statement of the Northwestern railroad, the rate on line will be fare and a third. This change will make the cost of the round trip $6.23 instead of the regular rate of $9.36.

The Michigan Central will sell round trip tickets at one fare rate between Chicago and Ann Arbor providing there is a minimum of 250 to cover special train service. Tickets are limited. Students must leave Ann Arbor not later than midnight of the date of the game.

ATTENDS WORLD MEET IN CHINA

Rogers Declares College Men in Far East Are Big Factors

Carl Rogers '23 vice-president of the university Y. M. C. A., who left last February as a representative of the American student Y. M. C. A. for the World's Student Christian federation which met in Peking, China, returned to the university this week.

"There is no other country in the world where students are held so highly as in China," said Rogers. "The students are the men of the hour. The fact that they have a direct influence on the government is causing them to prepare themselves for political lives in hopes of a better future government."

Students representing 32 nations, according to Rogers, discussed their attitude toward the world problems of today, and sought for a way in which to bind together the students of the world in fellowship and future amity.

One of the most potential subjects which was discussed was that of war. The students almost unanimously agreed that international controversies could be settled peacefully and that war was unnecessary.

WEATHER: CLEAR.

Clear weather is predicted for Madison and vicinity today and tomorrow. Temperatures are expected to be higher today than the ywere yesterday.

FRAT TO LOSE SOCIAL RIGHTS

Violation of Pledging Rules Brings Rigid Conference Action

Social privileges for the year last night were withdrawn from Zeta Beta au fraternity by the judiciary committee of the Interfraternity conference as a result of violation of the three months' pledging rule.

Complaint was made to the committee by members of Phi Sigma Delta fraternity that a freshman pledged to their fraternity had broken his pledge. Two days later he had pledged Zeta Beta Tau, they testified.

Interfraternity rules provide that no man who breaks his pledge with one fraternity shall pledge with another fraternity within three months, without consent of the first fraternity.

The usual penalty which would be imposed for such a violation of rules would be withdrawal of initiation right for one year.

In the case of Zeta Beta Tau fraternity the penalty was modified because of the fact that it is a new organization and had made several requests for copies of interfraternity rules. The conference did not comply with these requests, members of the fraternity said.

Adolph Berger '23, Walter Goldsmith '24, and David Taub '25 representing Zeta Beta Tau fraternity and Elbert Greenberger '23, Aaron Scheinfeldt '24 and David Chudnow '25 represented Phi Sigma Delta fraternity.

Methodist Choir Will Reorganize For Year

Tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock the University Methodist choir will hold its first meeting at the M. E. church, University avenue and Charter street. Tryouts for the choir will be held at this meeting. This was the announcement made today by Prof. Lowell L. Townsend, director.

The choir is composed of thirty-five picked voices, and is open to the entire student body. These probably will be from 15 to 20 of last years members who will return this year. The vacancies will be filled by the tryouts tomorrow night.

KICKOFF OPENS SCRIMMAGE FOR BADGER ELEVEN

First and Second Teams Go Through Strenuous Practice Tryout

For the first time this season, a kick-off started the daily scrimmage of Coach John Richards' first and second-string Varsity eleven yesterday afternoon.

Merrill Taft, fullback, started the ball a-rolling when he booted it from placement to Gibson who was relegated to the second squad. Gibson made a speedy return of about 25 yards.

The Varsity line-up took on a definite shape during scrimmage. Not one substitution was made and the regulars went through their battle without any mercy calls for time. Two changes were essayed by "Big Jawn". Harris a regular Jack the Ripper went to right half in place of Gibson.

The husky Racine lad tore into the line with speed and force. He was used often and with much effectiveness, and if yesterday's showing is a fair indication of what he will do throughout the season, Harris has already cinched his job on the Wisconsin Varsity squad.

Taft Has Try-Out

Richards will undoubtedly try several combinations before he finally settles on a definite choice for two of the backfield positions, right half and fullback. Taft was stationed in the middle backfield position. Possessing build, speed and an educated toe, seems to lack the punch which goes with a star backfield man. He hit the line standing up at full length several times and as a result was stopped before he traveled many yards.

Pearse replaced Nichols at center—a change which may be only temporary, however. Both men do their best work with the second team. On Wednesday, Pearse, playing with the scrubs, was the mainstay of the center line. Yesterday, holding the pivot position for the regs, he had a hard time with Nichols. A bottle royal can be expected for the job.

Although too much significance cannot be placed upon the appearance of Cardinal jerseys, the official varsity uniform, on the first team, yet nine men donned them for the Thursday scrimmage.

Practice Forward Passes.

Forward passes played their daily part in varsity's attack on the second eleven. Barr heaved several successful short throws to Williams, Harris, and Tebell. Bob Whitten, playing a whale of a game for the seconds, intercepted one, and Millman, quarterback, grabbed another near his goal line and dashed down the field. This Millman person looks like a good bet for quarterback when Barr passes into history. He tore off a long run which might have carried him 20 yards farther and over the goal line, but in attempting to elude several tacklers, slipped and fell. Millman carries the ball between his hands, shifting it to either side a la Al Davey.

Punch was lacking in the varsity attack. Twice Rolie's regulars were close enough to the goal line to touch it and twice the second team held with a stone-wall defense. Scrimmages are growing more furious each day with the two teams losing much of their raggedness. Pulaski and Tebell at ends, Murray and Below, tackles, Hohlfield and Christianson, guards, and Pearse or Nichols, center, will give Wisconsin a line that can stack up with the best of them.

Coach Lowman Watches.

Eyraud Crozier was out in a uniform for the first time. He worked out with the squad, but did not get into scrimmage. Crozier relieved Sundt at fullback several times last year and he may be the logical successor to "Stoughton Guy."

Coach Guy S. Lowman was on the Camp Randall practice field looking over material. He will take charge of the all-Americans, com-

Barr's Eligibility Still An Unsettled Question

The question of Wallace A. "Shorty" Barr's eligibility is still hanging fire pending an official announcement from the office of Registrar W. D. Hestand. Athletic Director Thomas E. Jones communicated with the "hill" authorities this afternoon, but he was unable to say that "Shorty" is scholastically eligible. It is reported that definite information will be forthcoming this afternoon.

George W. Lewis, who for three years has been basketball and baseball coach at Indiana university and who has been acting as athletic director, has handed in his resignation which will take effect at the end of the present football season.

CHAMP TRAINS; Foe CONFIDENT

Demetral Plans Strenuous Fight Against Johnny Meyers Here

Jimmie Demetral, challenger and Johnny Meyers, middleweight wrestling champion of the world, went through their paces before large crowd yesterday afternoon. They are gradually tapering into the condition which will make them most fit for the championship match to be held at Monona park on Sunday afternoon.

The bout hung in the balance while Demetral was refusing Meyers the use of his gymnasium. Unable to obtain a place for his workouts, Meyers practically called off the match when he was dissuaded and assured that he would be permitted to train in Demetral's quarters. The two men work at different times, neither seeing the other. Begrudged the use of training quarters, Meyers may decide to severely chastise the Madison Greek next Sunday. He will seek to throw Demetral in the shortest possible time, but the local man will be in the ring for more than the purpose of just staying. He is determined to wrest the title from Chicago's entry.

Confidence fairly oozes from the Demetral camp. The contender's brother, himself a veteran and classed as one of the three best heavy-weight grapplers, declared yesterday that his kin would conquer if he kept cool and followed a predetermined line of attack.

A record assemblage is expected to witness Madison's first championship mat battle.

Dante's Divine Comedy Offered By Department

For the first time, Prof. Angelo Lipari, of the Italian department, is offering a course in which Dante's Divine Comedy will be studied. It will be given under the course number Italian 160, and only those who have had Italian 10, or its equivalent, or have the special permission of the instructor, will be allowed to take the course for credit.

Because there have been so many requests made by people who knew little or no Italian for such a course special preparations have been made for auditors. It was originally planned to give the lectures in Italian. The department now announces that unless all those taking the course have the necessary linguistic preparation, the lectures this year will be in English.

The course will consist of the reading of the text in the original following as far as possible the Italian custom and method, and of a series of expository lectures on each canto, aiming to bring out primarily the beauty of Dante's poetry.

Prof. Lipari will give an introductory lecture entitled, "Dante's Conception of the Universe," at 2:30 o'clock today in 257 Bascom hall. Later the class may be held at 3:30 o'clock Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. Those interested are requested to see Prof. Lipari.

WHIP HARRIERS INTO FORM FOR COMING MATCH

Michigan or Iowa May Oppose Badgers in Three-mile Event

With the possibility of a three and one-half mile match with Iowa or Michigan on Oct. 21 looming up on the cross country horizon, Coach Mead Burke has a four weeks time to whip his harriers into tip-top form.

Although at this time the fray on Oct. 21 is hanging fire until a meeting of the athletic council, followers of the hill and dale sport are hopeful that such a race will be arranged.

Regardless of whether Michigan or Iowa is chosen to be the foe for the Badgers a very close contest can be expected. In the conference race at Bloomington, Indiana, last fall Michigan placed fifth, while it is known also that Coach Bresnahan at Iowa City, former Wisconsin star, has some strong runners, in Phelps, Ashton, Peterson, Noll, and Morrow.

Of this group Ashton was a place winner in the mile at the conference track meet this spring, and Phelps is a freshman from last year who showed remarkable ability in the two mile event.

Finkle out of Line-up

Wisconsin's feat of placing third in the conference cross country meet at Bloomington last year was largely due to the peerless running of this year's captain—George Finkle, who will be out of the line-up because of injuries. Coach Burke will have his hands full building up new material to offset the loss and maintain a high rating.

Following the three and one-half mile meet will come a match with Minnesota at Minneapolis on Nov. 4 and a contest with Chicago at Madison on Nov. 11, both over the standard five mile course.

The conflict with Minnesota will be the hardest of these two events as shown by the fact that the Gophers were victorious over the Badgers in all the distances events in track last May. On the other hand the Maroon millers and two millers were humbled by the Cardinal runners, Wall, Ramsay, and Schneider. The latter men will be back on the squad this year.

Classic at Purdue

The wind-up of the heavy schedule will be the great conference classic at Purdue on Nov. 25. This is a meet in which not only all the Big 10 schools are represented, but also a number of other institutions of high athletic standings. Wisconsin's most formidable opponents at Purdue this year, besides Minnesota and Iowa, will be Illinois and Ames who placed first and second respectively in the conference last year. The Suckers, in spite of the loss of 12 veteran distance men still have two noted stars in Wells and Scott and many likely runners from last year's freshmen.

Recent additions to the Badger squad during the last three days has boosted the total number of candidates to 41. Under the tutelage of Coach Burke and inspired by the example of veterans such as Ramsay, Wade, Moorhead, Schneider and Rossmel the squad promises to develop into a winning one.

Pat Herron, former assistant coach to Glen Warner, football coach at Indiana university. Coach Stiehm is expected to return within

Chinese Soccer Devotees To Play "Internationals"

The Chinese students' club of Wisconsin will meet the International students' team in a soccer football game on the lower campus at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in response to the challenge of the latter team.

The International team, organized as last year, for the purpose of challenging the Chinese team, will be lead by Capt. Svere Strom, '23. The Chinese recently won the soccer trophy at the Chinese Mid-west conference at Northwestern university.

The two teams will play a series of three games for the purpose of promoting interest in soccer as a sport. If enough interest is aroused in the game, a varsity team will be chosen from the best men of the two teams.

GIRLS' HOCKEY TEAM PRACTICE

Member of Recent Scotch International Team Will Be New Instructor

Waving hockey sticks, battered balls, bruised legs, sore shins, blistered hands, breathless enthusiasts again hold sway at the women's hockey field at Camp Randall where snappy preliminary games are already being held for all the women interested.

Miss Ingales, a member of the Scotch international hockey team several years ago, will instruct in hockey this fall.

Miss Weason, Miss Cairns, and Miss Mosscroft were all at a special hockey camp this summer held at Mt. Pocono, Pennsylvania, under the direction of Miss Constance Applebee, coach at Bryn Mawr, and Miss Helen Armfield, center on the all England star hockey team. Hockey this fall will be conducted with even more than the usual enthusiasm.

"These early practices, utilizing the first two weeks, will help greatly in making good class teams. We hope to have a great number turn out," Miss Cynthia Wesson asserted yesterday.

Practices are open for all women interested and are held at 4:30 o'clock every afternoon and at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

FIFTY FRESHMEN BEGIN FOOTBALL PRACTICE WORK

Director Jones Welcomes Yearlings Into University Athletics

Fresh football practice by Monday afternoon will be under full sway. Fifty men will be equipped with uniforms today, while the remainder of the yearling aspirants will wait until Saturday. By the beginning of next week everyone who has the proper qualifications and the desire to play freshman football will be taken care of.

At the first meeting last night there was slightly over a hundred men present who signed up for the squad. Of this number, those whose qualifications in weight and experience are the best will be given uniforms today. Many other men are expected to report at Randall field within the next day or so.

Athletic Director Tom Jones was in charge of the meeting. He welcomed the new men to Wisconsin athletics, and expressed a desire to see them keep the proper Wisconsin spirit. Keg Driver, freshmen football coach; Jim Brader, his assistant, and Guy S. Lowman were other speakers at the meeting.

"Your scholastic record must be maintained before you can be of any use to Wisconsin," said Mr. Driver. "If you flunk in your studies while playing freshman football, your best chances to make the varsity team are gone."

Other points which were stressed in the talks, were the value of training properly and of using every spare moment to advantage. It is not difficult to make a success of both school work and athletics if the student arranges his work properly.

In general, the new material looks very good. The number of heavy men greatly outranks the number of smaller men.

A FITTING TRIBUTE.

ALL classes will be dismissed today at 11 o'clock so that all students may turn out on the upper campus and take part in the third annual out-door Varsity Welcome.

At the two previous Varsity Welcomes immense throngs of students and towns people have turned out to give the glad hand to the freshmen. They were inspiring spectacles, vast demonstration of Wisconsin spirit, fitting tributes to Wisconsin tradition.

It is to be expected that the upper campus will be thronged today.

The Welcome this year will be especially notable, for the Class of 1926 will don the new freshman cap at that time.

For the first time, freshman caps will have a part in an official university event. For the first time, the caps will be donned without coercion. For the first time, freshman headgear will assume a deep meaning.

The green caps will be worn today to denote acceptance by new men of an old spirit and old traditions. They will be worn to show that those new men are proud to share in that spirit and those traditions.

MAKING "TRADITIONS"

IN the last few years, senatorial students have treated Wisconsin to a lot of poppycock and twaddle about "traditions."

Student senators, actually taking themselves seriously, met in President Birge's office and attempted to legislate tradition. They passed regulations as to where freshmen and upperclassmen should be privileged to sit and loiter about the campus. They labeled these "traditions," and published them in the Cardinal. Then the student body, including the senators, promptly forgot about them.

Later on they presented a referendum to the student body, making it a "tradition for students to salute the president of the university on passing him. The referendum was passed by a sweeping vote.

We have never seen a student salute the president of the university. We are very doubtful about whether the president of the university wants to be saluted.

"Tradition," by the very derivation of the word, means something handed down by word of mouth through successive generation. To be a tradition, an idea or custom must be adopted by common consent and attain respect through age. A tradition must grow; it cannot be manufactured.

A Venerable Heritage

WISCONSIN has traditions, venerable traditions, worthy of respect.

The old green cap represented a student tradition of hazing which became disreputable and has been discarded by all except a few rowdies.

The new green cap is not a tradition, but it represents university traditions, venerable and worthy of respect.

On Stagg field last year a Wisconsin eleven was fighting its last contest of the season. It was a hard-fought game, a heart-breaker; and it ended in a 3-0 defeat.

Guy Sundt, Badger full-back and captain, was playing his last Conference game that day. In the middle of the game he fractured his collar-bone. A man with a broken bone might be expected to drop out.

But Sundt was fighting. He held his place and played until the final whistle, fighting for the touchdown that would mean a victory.

"There are no quitters at Wisconsin." That is a Wisconsin tradition.

Years ago, when Richard T. Ely, Wisconsin's great economist, was a young man, he stood before the board of regents, on trial for economic heresy. He had dared to voice doctrines not accepted by the authorities of the day.

At that time the board of regents declared that the university stood and would stand for fearless "winnowing and sifting" of evidence in search of truth. That declaration is found on a bronze tablet at the entrance to Bascom hall.

Fearless investigation and research, free discussion, are Wisconsin traditions. Somewhat battered in the last year or so, perhaps; but traditions, nevertheless. Traditions worth fighting for.

Two weeks ago, America mourned the death of Bishop Samuel Fallows, '59, Wisconsin's oldest alumnus.

In a long life of religious and social service, Bishop Fallows had stood as a leader in every movement toward a betterment of the human lot. His loss was felt by the whole nation.

Personal service is a Wisconsin tradition.

Not so many years ago, intercollegiate athletics were a stinking mess. Star players were usually ringers. Unfair tactics were the rule rather than the exception.

The Big 10 Conference was formed to clean up athletics and make them worthy of the institutions they represented.

Wisconsin took a leading part in organizing the Conference and has maintained its dignity in athletics in succeeding years.

Clean competition is a Wisconsin tradition.

These are but few of the great, worth-while things for which Wisconsin stands. There are many others, and examples of each are myriad.

These traditions are a great heritage from the men who made Wisconsin. They are the heart and soul of the university. They are the basis of Wisconsin spirit. They are what makes Wisconsin great.

About these traditions there can be no argument. Their acceptance constitutes loyalty to the university. Their violation, whether by the lowliest freshman or by the occupant of the highest academic chair, constitutes disloyalty to the university.

A Symbol of Loyalty.

THAT green cap which will be worn today is a symbol of loyalty to these traditions, to Wisconsin spirit, to Wisconsin.

Those freshmen who are proud of their university who are loyal students, will wear the caps today.

Those upperclassmen who have absorbed the spirit of the university, who are loyal to the university will show that loyalty by attending the varsity welcome this morning.

Communication

OUTSIDE ACTIVITIES.

To the freshman this week, are being presented many and varied opportunities. There is the opportunity, or rather the urge, to see each and every show in town, to eat all the chili and hot dogs on sale, et cetera.

There is also the opportunity, or rather the necessity, to begin that process of digging in among one's books to defend one's self against the coming nine months' bombardment of quizz and lectures.

Aside from the above, over which the rule of the survival of the fittest must prevail, let us consider the advisability and necessity of the freshman's entrance into one or more of the university activities for which he is best fitted.

The opportunities for this are plenteous, the Badger, the Literary Magazine, the Commerce Magazine, etc., all of which stand ready to gather into the fold those who may offer their services.

For those to whom the "freedom of speech" appeals, we suggest the debating societies where much can be vociferated and gestulated with a minimum of harm. Freshmen athletically inclined face the broad, open vistas of the practise gridiron.

Freshmen these are your opportunities! Get out and push—don't be a dead one! Show that you appreciate what you believe Wisconsin is going to do for you. Roll up your sleeves and dig in!

Many Rooms Available

Despite Big Enrollment

Many rooms are still available for student. In spite of the large enrollment there are more unoccupied rooms than in former years. Large lists of both double and single rooms may be secured at Lathrop and South halls.

MADISON, Wis., Sept. 21.—(By the Astigmatic Press.)—With an enrollment that is said to be gratifying to merchants here, the alleged University of Wisconsin yesterday opened full blast, it is reported. The so-called freshman class is hinted as being above the average although it is learned from one in high authority that the female representatives are not likely to alienate the affections of the males' text books.

MAKE CHANGES IN AG FACULTY

Two Members Are Added To the Personnel of University Staff

Few changes have been made in the personnel of the agricultural faculty. This fact is one of the outstanding features of Dean H. L. Russell's biennial report to the board of regents announced yesterday. Changes have been made as follows:

Helen Parsons succeeds Dorothy Roberts who died as the result of injuries sustained from the explosion of a gas stove last semester. L. H. McKay replaces M. H. Scott as service extension specialist. Reid Murray has been appointed as a member of the animal husbandry faculty staff. He will also act as secretary of the Wisconsin Live Stock Breeder's association. T. L. Bewick will succeed E. J. Cooper as director of the sport course. Miss J. Krueger succeeds Miss Abby Marlatt as director of the home economics department during the absence of Miss Marlatt.

Two new faculty members have been added to the animal husbandry staff for the ensuing year. Prof. E. S. Savage, noted authority on feeds and feeding, comes from Cornell to do research work and teach live stock feeding at Wisconsin. S. D. Sims, of the University of Purdue, will teach classes in animal husbandry.

Asks Probe of Graft

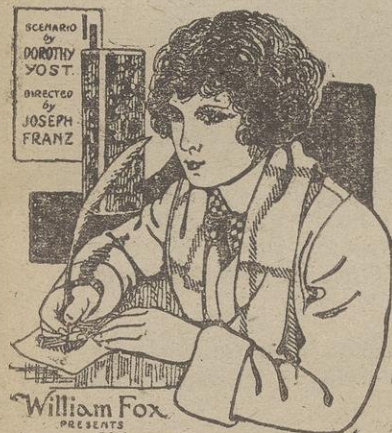

Charges in Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis., — District attorney Zabel went before Judge Backus in Municipal court this afternoon and read a petition asking the court to convene a grand jury at once and appoint a special prosecutor to work with the jury to investigate rumors of graft in Milwaukee county.

Mr. Zabel informed the court that numerous charges had been made in the recent primary campaign by some candidates, particularly Attorney Carl H. Juergens who ran for district attorney, that there was corruption in city and county governments.

Judge Backus indicated that he would issue the call for a grand jury soon. He said that he would appoint a special prosecutor.

The German Kaiser's Own Story.

The long-awaited autobiography of Germany's deposed emperor will be published in The Chicago Daily News, beginning Tuesday, September 26, and continuing in daily installments until completed.

The story is well told, and will command the attention of readers everywhere. Many of the author's opinions and statements are fantastic from the American point of view, but interest in the narrative is increased, rather than lessened, by this fact. Old controversies are sure to be revived, old discussions renewed, by the former Kaiser's defense of Germany and his attacks on the leaders of other nations. For instance, he takes seriously the old canard about a secret treaty against Germany and Austria, in 1897, by the United States, Great Britain and France. This is only one of his declarations that will amaze—and amuse—the American reader.

Beginning with a chapter on Bismarck, the ex-emperor traces history through four decades. In a general way the story is chronological, although in the opening chapters the writer often diverges into events long past, or into the remote future. But from the time he reaches the period immediately preceding the world war the story moves in rapid action, and is in many respects informative notwithstanding the author's prejudice, eccentricity, and, in many instances, his surprising misinformation.

It is a story of absorbing interest to the reader of history and of current events alike, and is bound to create a world of discussion.

In view of the undoubted great demand for this unprecedented publication, orders for The Chicago Daily News should be placed with news-dealers without delay in order to avoid disappointment. Or, send one dollar to The Chicago Daily News, 15 North Wells street, Chicago, and receive the paper, postage prepaid, for two months.

Senate Vote Upholds Veto on Bonus Bill

Bill Is Lost By 4 Ballots; Badgers for Measure

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—For a third time the soldiers' bonus legislation has failed of enactment.

The senate late yesterday sustained President Harding's veto of the Fordney-McCumber bill, the vote of 44 to 28 failing four short of the two-thirds majority that would have been necessary to have made it a law without the executive's signature. Five hours before the senate acted, the house over-rode the veto 258 to 54.

The action of the senate makes impossible veterans' compensation legislation at least until the next session of congress, which will begin early in December. Meantime, however, it is the purpose of proponents to continue the fight and the bonus may become an issue in some of the congressional and senatorial campaigns this fall.

DUFFY SCORES VETO.

(By the Associated Press)

FOND DU LAC, Wis.—Scoring the presidential veto of the soldiers' bonus bill, F. Ryan Duffy, state commander of the American Legion, on Wednesday declared that the organization will continue to insist on government recognition of the former service men's claim.

"The American Legion," said Commander Duffy, "expected this action from President Harding, although we feel that the great majority of the people of the United States desires that the bill become a law. We think it poor taste on the part of the president to make an argument against this bill by mentioning the large amount of money that the government has paid on account of insurance and aid to disabled men.

"The president forgot to state that as far as insurance is concerned the former service men have paid for that out of their own pockets by paying monthly premiums and that the government has even made money profit on the insurance feature.

"The legion will continue to insist in spite of the president's veto that men who fought receive the same consideration as all others have received at the government's hands who had some part in winning the war."

Ford Reopens

100,000 Go Back To Work On Friday Morning

DETROIT—The plants of the Ford Motor Co. in the Detroit district, which closed last Saturday because of the coal situation, thereby throwing 100,000 workers out of employment in different parts of the country, will re-open tomorrow morning, it was officially announced today.

Orders for the re-opening of the plants were telegraphed here today by Edsel B. Ford, president of the company, who is in Cincinnati. Mr. Ford said cancellation of the interstate commerce commission's service order No. 23 had made it possible again to obtain coal.

Blaine Holds Conference on Coal Status

Presentin Shows Big Gain in Soft Coal Shipments

Gov. J. J. Blaine went over the Wisconsin coal situation last night with the state fuel committee in order to acquaint himself with the coal needs of communities and industries. Figures presented to him by P. H. Pressentin, secretary of the committee, showing that shipments of soft coal had risen from 454,000 tons in the last 10 days of August to an estimate of 956,000 tons for the present week relieved any apprehension of a fuel shortage.

The matter of establishing an office of the fuel committee at Milwaukee as requested by the chamber of commerce of that city was discussed and practical agreement reached that there was no need for and change in the present administrative system.

Decision was also made at the conference that the fuel committee would continue to purchase coal for all state institutions except the capitol power plant, for the time being. Bids will later be asked from coal companies.

Pool Offices In Cantwell Rooms, Plan

Ordinance Building May Be Leased Later; To Build

State headquarters for the Northern Wisconsin Co-operative Tobacco pool will be located in the Cantwell building, if plans now under consideration are favorably accepted by the executive board of the pool in their meeting today. Definite action on the location is being delayed until all of the board can be assembled at the meeting this afternoon.

The officers would be located on the fourth floor, in connection with the rooms now occupied by the Association of Commerce. This would force the Boy Scout headquarters to some other location and give the tobacco men the use of two small office rooms and the large room for display and other office work.

Plans to build a huge central warehouse in Madison with a floor space of some 40,000 square feet will be taken up today. The plans to take over the Steidle plant on the east side, better known as the Four Lakes Ordnance building, failed yesterday afternoon. This building may be leased at a later date, if it is necessary, it was stated by C. N. Pulley of the department of markets.

C. A. Neprud, former Wisconsin football star, now superintendent of the Vernon county asylum, has been appointed field manager of the tobacco pool.

Britain to Pay U. S. $50,000,000 Interest

WASHINGTON — Great Britain's payment of interest of her war debt to the U. S. due Oct. 15, will amount to approximately $50,000,000, according to the belief expressed today by high treasury officials. In setting forth this opinion, treasury officials disclosed that the British government had asked the U. S. if an approximation of the $65,000,000 of interest due next month and of the $35,000,000 of interest due November 15, might be made in October pending arrangements for re-funding the $5,000,000,000 British debt. The British debt at present bears interest at the rate of 5 per cent payable in semi-annual installments, but as there is a probability that the funding scheme would provide for interest at 4½ per cent, treasury officials thought probable that the approximation would be allowed in October.

Calls Special Session For Ship Subsidy

Senate And House Plan to Adjourn Friday

WASHINGTON—President Harding today notified senate and house leaders he will summon congress in special session Nov. 15 to pass the ship subsidy bill. It is expected the extra session will run into the regular session, which begins the first Monday in December.

Immediately upon receipt of this mandate from the president arrangements were made to adjourn the present session Friday of this week. A resolution to this effect was passed by the house, providing for sine die adjournment at 2 p. m. Friday and similar action will be taken by the senate.

The president expressed a preference for a recess of the present session until Nov. 15, thereby permitting members to go home to attend to their elections. The cost of an extra session, if mileage, stationery allowances, salaries of employees who are hired by the session and other incidentals are provided as usual, is more than $300,000.

Among other things the president desires legislation to give the United States railroad labor board authority to compel obedience to its decisions and he holds it desirable that congress should get an early start in the preparation and consideration of appropriation bills for the fiscal year beginning on July 1, 1923. These plans of the president are agreeable to most if not all of the congressional leaders.

Dancing Turkey Aids U. W. Student to Rake in Dimes

With the reopening of the university and the return to school of thousands of men students, stories are going the rounds of unusual jobs that brought students money during the summer months.

One young man worked in a coal mine at Walesburg, W. Va. His pal, also a student, worked as a steel cutter in rolling mills in the same town.

A number of students, preferring to remain in Madison through the vacation months, worked as concrete wheelers in the construction of the new athletic stadium at Camp Randall. One proudly declared, to a group of fraternity brothers, that he was one of several who could come back to his alma mater in future years and tell his children who were in school that he had helped to construct the grandstands on the field where "Big Ten" games were played.

The prize for the best job goes to a youth from Neillsville, Wis., who ran a concession at county fairs.

The boy had what he called the "dancing turkey—a live turkey—the only one in the world that could dance to phonograph music." He coined money, and is said to have enough to complete his scholastic career. The method was simple.

A polished steel plate in a rope arena served as a stage. The turkey would be placed in the ring when the music started. A mild flame under the ring protected from the prying eyes of spectators by a drape served to heat the plate just enough to make the turkey dance.

The scheme worked fine. Crowds would watch the "wonder bird" dance and would then tell others. A dime admission reaped a huge profit.

The upkeep of the event was small. The turkeys after a few days in the ring would become used to the heat and would refuse to dance. Then the student would trade his trained turkey to some unsuspecting butcher for another turkey. Butchers were always glad to get trained turkeys, but soon found their mistake when they tried to make them dance.

Next summer the student plans to establish a string of similar shows and have one in each state.

'Manicure Shop' Bill Pleases Orph Patrons

Seasoned vaudeville-goers scratched their scalps and looked at each other in mystification last night at the Orepheum theater when the curtain rose on the final act, "The Manicure Shop." For familiar forms sauntered onto the stage and sprung a new wrinkle in co-operative efficiency.

Teams of entertainers varying from trick cyclists to pulchritudinous prancers joined forces and worked double time to make up a first rate musical comedy act.

On the whole, the company put on a bill that hit several high spots without missing all the thank-you-ma'ams.

BROSIOUS & BROWN. A star cyclist and a cabbage face that masticates explosive cigars.

FRANCIS & MARSHALL. Two feminine singers well equipped for their respective offerings. One sings a "little girl" song; the other an Irish washwoman chanty.

JOHN NEFF. Wise and a cracked fiddle. Many laughs from well developed wheezes.

SHERLOCK SISTERS & CLINTON. Syncopated songs by a pair of peaches and a limber dancer. Well staged with clever costumes quickly changed.

Stone Charges Officials "Tip Off" Bootleggers

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Declaring that constables and other officers in certain counties in the state were not only refusing to give him assistance in enforcing the prohibition laws, but were actually "tipping off" moonshiners and bootleggers of federal raids, James A. Stone, federal prohibition director today assailed officials of certain counties in the state as in sympathy with law-breakers.

"I cannot at this time mention names of any of the counties I refer to," he said "but in the near future, if further action on my part becomes necessary I am prepared to give names and instances where raids failed because of 'tips' given by officials taken into confidence by federal agents."

sold during the week at the Co-Op and it is estimated that 100 were sold elsewhere. Members of Skull Crescent, under the supervision of and Crescent, under the supervision of Philip P. Nolte, will conduct the sale of caps.

Members of womens' organizations also are helping to make the welcome a success. Members of S. G. A. passed out cards of instruction to prevent confusion previous to the pageant of the classes.

The procession of seniors, graduates and law students will be led from the arcade of Bascom hall across Lincoln terrace and down the center of the upper campus by a "Guard in White" to be composed of 24 senior women.

Women Lead

The front ranks of the senior parade will be composed entirely of women. The procession will proceed to the foot of the hill where the freshmen are to congregate. It will then turn back leading the freshmen to the top of the hill.

The line will divide before Lincoln terrace and will circle about on both sides until all of the freshmen reach a position before the platform which will be directly in front of Lincoln statue.

Sophomores and juniors will proceed from their respective places in front of the Engineering and Law buildings to places directly behind the freshmen. The classes will be led and directed by members of the Council of Forty.

Movies of the entire welcome will be taken by the University Photographic laboratory. Prof. M. E. Diemer, director of the laboratory, will take the pictures for the Fox news service.

President Birge, the deans and the speakers will occupy a place directly south of the speakers' platform. Seats for members of the faculty will be placed just west of the president's box.

Justice Burr W. Jones of the Wisconsin Supreme court will greet the class on behalf of the state. Prof. William H. Kiekhofer of the Economics department will make an address on behalf of the faculty and Wayne L. Morse '23 will express the student body's greetings.

Don New Headgear

The "Badger Ballad" sung to the tune of "If You Want to Be a Badger" will be sung by members of the upper classes before Morse makes his address. Programs with words for the songs and yells will be passed out before the class procession.

The new freshman caps will be donned immediately after the arrival of the class before the speakers' stand at the monument.

Prof. Julius F. Olson of the faculty committee on public function, of the Council of Forty, arranged and Robert L. Stewart, president the program.

Chamlee, 'Young Caruso,' To Give Concert in City

Mario Chamlee, called the "young Caruso," by a prominent New York critic, will give a concert at Christ Presbyterian church Thursday, October 5th, under the auspices of the Mozart club of this city. When Chamlee made his debut at the Metropolitan opera house a year ago he was hailed by critics as an artist worthy of honors second only to those heaped on the greatest of all modern tenors, Caruso.

In April, soon after Caruso was taken ill, the New York Globe published the following praise of the young tenor: "Mr. Gatti Cassazza was fortunate in having such a host of first fine tenors when Mr. Caruso fell ill. They saved the day. One of them, Mario Chamlee, a young American, may even be the next Caruso."

The Mozart club has been unusually fortunate in securing this talented singer, and Madison music lovers are anticipating a musical treat second to none of its kind at the present time.

Complete Plan Of Community Union Drive

Leaders Aid Workers To Meet Tonight at
Y. M. C. A.

Generals, captains and team workers for the Community Union drive, Sept. 26, 27 and 28, will meet at the city Y. M. C. A. at 7 o'clock tonight to receive final instructions for the campaign.

"It is important that every worker be present tonight," said Edward D. Lynde, executive secretary, "for in addition to again outlining sales talks, etc., we will pass out the prospect lists and the subscription cards."

Prospect lists of public and parochial school teachers have been eliminated from the cards for team workers and will be turned over to the principal of each school who will solicit the teachers after school hours.

Madison school children are playing a big part in the drive. Each child has written a letter to his or her parents calling attention to the need for money to operate the 14 Madison social agencies holding membership in the Community union, while hundreds of children have, under the leadership of their teachers, visited the institutions operated by the organizations.

Theodore Montague's flying squadron is now at work, the first team to get into action. The ward teams do not start work until Tuesday morning. Daily gatherings of the teams will be held during the three days of the drive at which time reports will be submitted on the progress of the work.
