STUDENTS REPRESENT PUBLICATIONS AT MEET

Prof. W. G. Bleyer of the Course in Journalism and four students representing university publications will leave today for the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Inter-collegiate Press Association held this year at Prairie du Chien.

Donald Trenary '27 will represent the Octopus at the meet while Ewart Merica newly appointed editor of the 1927 Badger will voice the opinion of that publication. The Daily Cardinal will be represented by Helen Baldauf '25 and Wes Dunlap '25.

The W. I. P. A. has members in all of the Wisconsin colleges such as Ripon and Lawrence and most of the normal schools throughout the state.

TWO ARE ELECTED TO EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION

Victor R. Portmann '26 and Prof. E. M. Johnson of the Course in Journalism were recently elected to membership in the National Editorial Association, an organization for the furtherance of journalism in the United States. The 10th annual Law school association banquet will be held at 6 o'clock tomorrow night in the Crystal room of the Lorraine hotel.

Guests at the banquet will be members of the Law school faculty, members of the state supreme court, Governor John J. Blaine, Attorney General H. L. Ekern, and judges of the local courts.

The Law school quartette composed of Arthur Inman L2, John Desmond L2, Ernest Pitt L1, and Clarence Desmond L1 will furnish the music for the banquet. Prof. J. D. Wickham will be toastmaster.

The Law school association is an organization of which all law students are members and directs organized activities of the lawyers.

"A. B. HALL SHOULD BUY NEW SET OF LECTURE JOKES"

"I'm going to tell A. B. Hall to buy a new set of jokes to use in his lecture in elementary law," was the reply a certain faculty member made when he was asked what he was going to say at the Gridiron banquet given by Sigma Delta Chi May 29. He laughed in anticipation of how Prof. Hall would receive his "roast" and then hastened to add that he really didn't mean it. However this faculty man, whose name we are bound to keep secret, said he had some things in his mind which he thought he would dare speak at the Gridiron banquet.

It is the purpose of the Gridiron banquet to make a frank discussion of all university problems possible. Personal remarks will not be permitted but differences of opinion will be freely expressed and friendly criticism will be expected by those attending the banquet.

The caps, gowns and hoods for Master of Arts and Master of Science will be $5.50 for a week or a day, and for those receiving Doctor degrees the rate is $6.00 for a week or a day. He is a graduate of the University of California and will attend his class reunion to be held in Berkeley next week. He is also going to visit his father who resides in San Francisco. To Move Band is Like Moving Circus,
Says Maj. Morphy

"Moving the band to La Crosse next Saturday will be much like moving a circus," said Major E. W. Morphy, director of the university concert band, which has been invited by the citizens of that city to play in the normal school auditorium Saturday afternoon and evening as the closing feature of their "Good Music Week."

Fourteen heavy trunks containing kettle drums, string bases, soubaphones, and other large base horns, will be sent to La Crosse on the same train which the 70 members of the band will take out of Madison at 7 o'clock Saturday morning. Most of the men will return Sunday, although some are coming back Saturday night.

A march arranged by Major Morphy exclusively for the university band, will be the closing number of the afternoon concert, which has been designed to appeal to the college and high school students in the audience. Major Morphy's arrangement is adapted from the original organ score of Lemmens' "Marche Pontificale."

Most of the afternoon program is made up of pieces with which high school students are familiar from their appreciation courses.

CADET BAND ADDS ANOTHER FEATURE TO HORSE SHOW

Program Has New Event in
Attempt to Break Water
Jump Record

The cadet band from St. John's Military academy at Delafield will play at both performances of the horse show this week-end, according to an announcement made yesterday by George M. Schlotthauer '25, assistant general chairman of the show. The rodeo atmosphere of the show Saturday afternoon will be enhanced by a feature "water jump" event in which horses from stables in Southern Wisconsin and Northern Illinois will try to break the world's broad jump record.

The show came a little closer to reality last night with the arrival of the first horse. Housed in a special box car and attended by three darkies, the horse came from Louisville, N. Y., where it was representing its owner, Mrs. Mary Stuart Morton of Oconomowoc.

The "water jump" will be made of a three foot brush hurdle approached between two wings. On the opposite side of the hurdle there will be a canvas spread on the ground to represent water.

Competition in this event will start with the "water jump" 12 feet across. The canvas will be gradually unrolled until the competitor staying in the contest longest fails to clear the "water" after taking the brush hurdle. The present world's record is 32 feet. Six of the best horses in southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois have been entered for the event.

Class contests in tennis, baseball, archery, and track are the outstanding events of Field day. This year telegraphic meets will be held with Northwestern and Minnesota universities in track, and with Cornell in archery.

"THE PIGEON" BY CURTAIN CLUB IS A CALM, TALKY PLAY

By J. F. W.

Much applause from a sympathetic audience rewarded the efforts of the Curtain club, faculty dramatic organization, in their presentation of John Galsworthy's fantasy, "The Pigeon" last night in the Central high school auditorium.

The play itself is quiet, and with a tendency, not altogether unpleasant, toward talkiness. The club's interpretation was in this mood, and marked by a commendable calm and reserve. No one rose to histrionic heights, but the general caliber of acting was very high.

The difficult part of Ferrand, with its handicap of its French lines and construction, was ably handled by Mr. James R. Caldwell, Mrs. Dora Ingraham Roach, as the unfortunate Mrs. Megan, also did well. The others, especially Mr. William J. Tannowitz, performed creditably.

Coach Jones Swings Trackmen To Grind For Quadrangular Meet

Badger Cinder Men Train for Chicago Outdoor Meet
After Rest

"Back to work" was the summons handed to the track men by Coach Jones yesterday. Since the strenuous early spring work of the California trip and Kansas and Drake Relays the Badger mentor has given his men a brief period of rest before starting in on a series of dual, quadrangular, and conference meets.

With the important outdoor quadrangular meet at Chicago only 10 days away, Camp Randall will again be a scene of intensive track work. Wisconsin won both the indoor and the outdoor meets last year, and took the second annual indoor tilt again this season, but victory in the outdoor competition will be gained only by the hardest kind of work.

Ohio Biggest Competitor

Ohio looms up on the horizon as a dangerous rival for Wisconsin's honors in the four cornered battles of the cinderpath. Snyder and Guthrie are a track team in themselves. Both of them are hurdlers of the first water, excellent high jumpers, and capable of winning points in the dashes and broad jump. Kennedy and Black are a pair of middle distance men on the Buckeye aggregation that will be hard to keep out of the point column.

While Northwestern and Chicago do not possess such well balanced all around teams they have plenty of individual stars such as Cusick, Martin, and Bouscher, who will cut into the point column of the Badgers.

Coach Jones is anxious to start the last lap of the 1925 track season with a victory, and is leaving no stone unturned to secure that end. After the brief rest the men should be in the best of shape to start the final training period with a rush.

Hammer Throw Undecided

Tryouts in the hammer throw are on deck for tonight's workout with such men as Tressler, Muegge, Sauger, Schwarze, and Schroeder competing. Tressler is the only experienced tosser on the squad and is expected to win the trials. Muegge and Sauger have been showing good form in practices this spring and are booked to push their veteran competitor hard for high honors. Schwarze, while holding records in the shot and discus, has never tested his ability with the hammer, so little is known of his prowess in this field.

The postponed two mile relay, slated for the Mid-West Relays, between the varsity and frosh, will be run off tonight. Both teams will be running without their full strength. The varsity will compete without the services of their captain, Valley, while the freshmen will enter the race without Elleson, sterling frosh middle distance man.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — Walter Hagen, British open and American professional champion, played a sensational round over the Woodward course yesterday in beating Dan Goss, home professional, 6 and 5. Hagen turned in a 69 card for a par 72 course, registering six birdies in beating par by three strokes.

OAK PARK VOTES FOR FIELD HOUSE

High School to Receive Appropriation Three Times That of U. W.

A quarter of a million dollars for a new field house sounds indeed large when these figures are compared with no others, but when one considers that the village of Oak Park, Illinois, has recently voted a village appropriation of $750,000 for a new field house for the Oak Park high school, the late bill of the Wisconsin legislature appears rather meager indeed.

Oak Park has long been noted for its athletic facilities. It has a stadium adjacent to the school itself which cannot be equalled by any other high school in the country. And now, besides the accommodations within the concrete structure the village has seen fit to appropriate just three times as much money as has been designated for an identical purpose by the University of Wisconsin. What is more, the Wisconsin field house will pay for itself.

Oak Park high school has for years been the leading member of the Suburban League. It has turned out football, basketball, track, and baseball championship teams season after season, and now it has taken the lead in the betterment of high school athletic facilities. Incidentally, trackmen from this school hold records in five of the Mid-West carnival events.

ANN ARBOR—For a period of one week the Michigan football team will take its doses of spring practice under the leadership of William Roper, Princeton coach, and Al Witmer, line coach and head basketball coach at Nassau, whom "Bill" brought with him from the east. FROSH SET TEETH AS SOPHOMORES TRAIN FOR MEET

First Year Trackmen Train to Down Sophs After Fall
Defeat

The traditional freshman-sophomore outdoor track and field meet which is held annually on the Camp Randall cinder course will materialize next Sunday afternoon following the baseball game between the Badgers and Wolverines.

The defeat which the frosh received last December 6 from the second year athletes seems to act as an incentive to the yearling men in this meet. The December indoor meet resulted in a score of 54 1-3 for the sophomores and 44 2-3 for the freshmen.

Dash Looks Good

Probably the best race will be the 100 yard dash. Miller, Hurt, Rudolph, and George Eisele are the freshmen who will compete against Kuester and Voight, sophomores. Hansen, Dellecker, and Murphy will represent the frosh again Annis, Turdle, and O'Neil in the hurdle events.

Stowe and Kañalz will be the frosh pitted against Rambeau and Voight of the sophomores in the quarter mile event. The half mile race will probably be run by freshmen Elleson, Reeves, and Parker against sophomores Meisner and Campbell. Meisner may also represent the sophomores in the mile run against Chapman and McKee.

Chapman in Two Mile

Schwenker will run for the sophomores in the two mile event, opposing Chapman and Clevay of the frosh. Captain Sappenberg, Harry Barnes, Newton, and Heckendorf of the frosh will be pitted against O'Neil and Osterberg of the sophomores in the jumping contests.

In the weight events the frosh will have Kanaltz, Van Horn, Johannus, Ramley, and Vailencourt. The sophomores are comparatively weak in the weights.

PSI U'S TAKE HONORS IN PIER BUILDING RACE

The lake front building race is over with premier honors going to Psi Upsilon fraternity. The victory was not a walkaway for the members of Alpha Delta Phi, Chi Psi, and Delta Upsilon pressed the leaders close. Second place honors are in dispute between these last three named.

Intramural News

Tennis

Representatives from fraternities on the campus interested in tennis will meet at 12:45 o'clock Thursday noon in the Intramural office to discuss plans for an interfraternity tennis tournament. At this meeting fees and forms of competition will be brought up. At the present time it has been planned to have the competition on the team basis of two single matches and one doubles. Courts will be reserved for all of the matches.

It is expected that a great number of men will turn out and that all fraternities on the campus will be represented. Competition will doubtlessly be keen, for there are a number of expert net men among the members of the various fraternities.

Swimming

All entries in the interfraternity swimming meet which will be held at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night, May 12, must be in the Intramural office by Friday night. The entry fee of $4 must also be paid by that time.

The teams which have entered the meet are Tau Kappa Epsilon, Beta Theta Pi, Delta Kappa Epsilon, Theta Xi, Alpha Delta, Phi Kappa Tau, and Alpha Kappa Lambda. All of the regular events will be run off with the exception of the shorter distances and the breast and back strokes.

Baseball

In tomorrow's interfraternity baseball games Acacia will meet the Phi Gamms on the varsity diamond at 6 o'clock; at the same time on freshman field number one Phi Sigma Kappa will tackle Phi Kappa, while on freshman diamond number two Phi Delta Phi will meet Phi Delta Theta, and at 5:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon on the lower campus the Alpha Deltas and Delta Sigma Pi will clash.

Church Baseball

The Church Intramural Bassball league will open play at 5:30 o'clock on the lower campus tomorrow afternoon when the Hillel Foundation team meets the Baptists. Five squads are entered in the league. They are Hillel Foundation, Baptists, St. Paul chapel, Presbyterians, and Luther Memorials.

Games will be played each week on Tuesdays and Wednesdays. The round robin style of schedule will be adhered to.

TENNIS CHAMPION WILL BE DECIDED WITH TEST MATCH

Final Round of Fall Tourney
Scheduled for Play in
Few Days

Because of the weather conditions last fall the all-university tennis tournament was not completed. The final round between Durand and Boldenwick has not yet been played off, but Coach Masely has decided to run this match off as soon as possible. When it is completed the tennis champion of the university will be decided.

The annual freshmen spring tennis meet will also be played in a few days. A sheet is posted on the bulletin board of the men's gymnasium now, and all freshmen who wish to take part in the tournament must sign up at once. Any freshman is eligible to take part in this tournament.

The varsity team has been working out for the last few days and shows some improvement over its inconsistent play of last week. Many of the men lacked fight and drive in the matches against Minnesota, but this fault is being overcome and a new team is expected to face the Iowa men.

St. John's Nine Faces Heavy Spring Schedule

MILWAUKEE—With a strenuous schedule of games arranged, which includes contests with the soldiers' team of Camp Benning, Ga., and Milwaukee Normal, Coach Fletcher of St. John's Military academy, is driving his men hard for these big games.

On Saturday the cadets will clash with Crane Tech at Delafield and on May 16 will meet Mission college at John's, playing a return game with the collegians May 23 on their home grounds. The dates for Camp Benning and Normal games have not been definitely decided.

Great Britain Names

Davis Cup Net Team

LONDON—Great Britain's Davis cup tennis team, which will meet the Polish Davis cup team May 15-17, will be composed of L. A. Godfree, captain, C. K. Kingsley, F. G. Lowe and J. D. B. Wheatley.

Discouraging the use of literary devices such as coincidence, chance, and sudden death, he declared that the events in a novel must be convincing. The happy ending is all right, he said, if it is justified. All the threads of the story must be followed to a conclusion satisfactory to the reader.

Vail Increases Number of Oarsmen Going to Monona

Crew Progress is Hampered by Continual Unfavorable
Weather

Because of the continued bad weather the number of men transported each afternoon to Lake Monona has been increased from eight to 24. If but eight men were taken each day, and if the elements were to stay as they are, the continuance of this unfavorable spell would prevent the practice and development of the proper number of men for the best perfection of the crew.

As long as the oarsmen are taken to Monona each afternoon their training will be hindered greatly, for much time is lost in the going and coming. Since shells cannot be kept at Third Lake, rough water on Mendota necessitates portaging three shells every afternoon. This makes the workouts exceedingly short, and at this period of their training the men should spend fairly long sessions on the water.

Right now the oarsmen are going through the mid-period of training, and it is easy to see why the workouts should not be quite so short. The first month or so of training must be taken easily to work the men gradually up to the condition which they must be in for races. The last period of the season before the big regatta should not be too strenuous for the men, and, besides, by this time they have learned the essentials and do not require long sessions at the oar. With short periods of training at the beginning and the end of the season, only the middle is left for the longer workouts.

Prof. Foster, New Faculty Member, is Critic of Writing

Dr. Foster of Delaware university, who is coming to Madison as a member of the English staff, this fall, is a critic of novel writing. In a lecture at the University of Delaware, on "How to Judge a Novel," he summarizes his discoveries.

Discouraging the use of literary devices such as coincidence, chance, and sudden death, he declared that the events in a novel must be convincing. The happy ending is all right, he said, if it is justified. All the threads of the story must be followed to a conclusion satisfactory to the reader.

These questions can be used to judge a book. Does the plot contain a logical series of events?

CHI CHIEN HSU

Early yesterday morning there died in Madison a Chinese student. His name was Chi Chien Hsu.

Although after all is said and done, death is death, it is something of a different thing in a foreign and strange land, far from kindred hearts and souls.

Hsu, with some of his compatriots, showed his respect and admiration for this country and for this university by coming here to study. Like them, he was a brilliant student.

His funeral will be held at four o'clock this afternoon at the Frautsch's funeral parlors. It would indeed be a fine thing if Wisconsin students—his schoolmates—could attend his funeral and show him thereby the respect and courtesy which they would like to have extended to an American who died in China, apart from all his friends.

AN INVITATION TO ACCEPT

Students, faculty members and alumni have been cordially invited to inspect the new plans for the Memorial Union at the Memorial Union offices during the next few days. Although refreshments will not be served, so far as we know, we can guarantee to any one who accepts this invitation that he will have not only an enlightening but a very pleasant time.

Here is an opportunity offered to you in a splendid spirit, an opportunity which you really can not afford to miss. We do not want to have the men in charge cast dark glances at us for sending a host of inspectors into their offices; we do not necessarily flatter ourselves that anything which can be said here will do so; but we are sure that no matter how many guests we are responsible for, there will be no dark frowns. For the men in charge are more than willing to give their time and energy to explaining the plans to those who are interested. And they hope that they will be able to do much explaining, that there will be a throng of Badgers interested enough in the project to pay them a visit, if we understand them correctly.

The Memorial Union is to be your building. You have, presumably, put some of your money into it. You have been waiting, patiently or impatiently, for something to happen which will lead to the erection of the Union. Here, in the plans, you have evidence that a great deal has been happening. Take a look and see what you think of the results.

The Daily Cardinal believes firmly that as a whole the Memorial Union, if built according to the present plans, will be unrivaled as a structure of its kind.

There may be one or two minor points which it does not favor, but they are, after all, very minor, and in the main, the plans seem to be just the thing which we want.

What do you have to say about it?

1925 EXPERIMENTS

The announcement in yesterday morning's issue of the Daily Cardinal to the effect that commencement this year will take place out of doors—weather permitting—is one which is bound to interest not only those who are directly affected by it but also Badgers the country over. It means that Wisconsin will no longer hold the most important ceremony of the academic year in a stock pavilion. But it means more; it means that the commencement will be something more of a ceremony than it could ever be indoors. Wisconsin will join California and the few other institutions in the country in which commencement is an imposing ceremony.

For at least two years, perhaps for more, students and faculty members have been working to the end achieved when the matter of having an outdoors commencement was settled recently. It is a splendid move, and it shows every indication that is being carried out in an excellent manner.

The class of 1925 will inaugurate not only this new institution but also an entirely new kind of class day, for as announced last week, class day exercises this year will not consist in the usual run of speeches which bore even the few doting parents who make up its audiences. An attempt is being made to lend some element to the exercises which will really interest not only visitors, but members of the class. With the number of speeches cut down to a minimum, with a sing and a picnic supper substituted for them, it might well be expected that the ceremonies should draw a larger audience—more general interest—than they have heretofore.

At the same time it must be kept in mind that both changes are decidedly experiments. Both of them may fail to prove to be wise experiments. Indications, however, would lead one to believe to the contrary, at least that they are warranted. With the members of the senior class rests largely their success, especially in regard to class day. If they wish to join together in a last informal gathering, to sing and picnic on the shores of Lake Mendota as the sun drops into University Bay, to sit about in groups lolling on the bank of the lake with examinations over to recall the pleasures of four years—if we are not being unduly sentimental—they can make this new class day not only a great success but an occasion of real happiness not soon to be forgotten.

"IF YOU HAVE TEARS—"

But you probably haven't; they are doubtless all shed long since. Or else they were never shed at all, which means that they never will be shed.

No, it is not that we weep with Rome over the death of Caesar; not that we listen to Marcus Antonius along with the crowd and hear him recall how Caesar wore his mantle. Mark was growing old, or must have been, along about that time, for he waxed exceedingly sentimental. And probably it is only those who are now growing old who would think of waxing sentimental over this latest and local tragedy—murder—the death of (what shall we call it?) the death of Madison's lake shore.

But sentimentality is not always out of order; we would be in a bad way if there were no people alive who were not affected emotionally in what cynics and business men a nauseating manner.

At any rate, Madison—a part of it—no longer wears its mantle which became it so well. And it is Madison's fault, partly, and that of inevitable fate.

We all know that this city could have been a miniature Brussels—or perhaps more appropriately, a miniature Washington. It was harmed in its original layout. And now the old part of Madison is fast dying—we mean the Langdon street, Lake Mendota residential section of years ago. Soon there will be nothing left thereof save fraternity houses.

At the present writing there are but three lake shore lots between the university grounds and the foot of Wisconsin avenue which have not been sold or are not being offered for sale to fraternities. Langdon street has suffered the same fate.

Madisonians still build impossible dreams of a lake shore drive with fine residences facing it and the lake. And now see to what a pass we have come.

Yes, we must forgive them, bear with them awhile, heed their final plea as they go down in the melee caused by rising property prices and the ability of organizations to pay more for desirable property coupled with the noise of the Latin quarter—we must heed their final plea that we enjoy these situations as much as they did—as they would now were they but able to enjoy them, for their sole consolation is that now a greater number of people have this opportunity for enjoyment.

We can sympathize with them a little, can we not? They leave silently, hopelessly, and we do not know that they go. But they know it.

The university has sent out Mother's Day invitations. Have you sent your personal invitation yet?

Prexy is making every possible effort to get all mothers here for May 29th to 31st. If the present weather continues we would suggest an iceboat race for their entertainment.

Minnesota and Dartmouth are to play a chess match by radio. Gosh, how we'd like to get a job as cheerleader for the event.

"That athlete doesn't know much." "No, but he knows Little."

A co-ed co-ed speaks fiercely because us women are not going to be allowed at the Gridiron banquet. Don't worry, old thing, although women may not get to the Gridiron they will probably be put on the pan.

A group representing campus publications are leaving for the W. I. P. A. convention at Prairie du Chien today. Which reminds us of a little incident that happened to us in that town. We were driving toward it about 10 one night and noticed several lights flickering within its confines. "Aha," said we, "a lively place." When we arrived there we found that the lights were men with ashlights looking for the sidewalks.

The Delta Zetas and the pirates of old appear to have something in common. The motto of both appears to be "Walk the Plank."

Turk tells us that one fresh phoned Prexy and asked him to be sure and tell his mother to bring his clean laundry when she comes down for Mother's Day, as he is about out of clean socks. Prexy told him he would include it on the invitation.

HOW TO EAT A GRIDIRON

(By special request of some persons who expect to be invited to the Gridiron banquet, Rockets has decided to publish a set of instructions for eating the blooming things.) A gridiron should be eaten.

en with the fingers and not a attack with the fork. The northeast corner should be firmly grasped between the thumb and forefinger of the left hand and folded over until it is parallel with the southwest corner. The overlapping corners are caught between the second and third fingers of the right hand while the left hand relinquishes its hold and regrasps the gridiron in the middle, with the little finger locked in the little finger of the right hand. With a dexterous movement the gridiron is shifted until the southeast corner points due north. The gridiron is then re-folded, grasped between the palms of both hands, and eaten. Care must be taken to remove the hands before swallowing the gridiron.

The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra is just one big family, says the press story. Mighosh, imagine! Suppose the whole family wanted to practice different pieces on their instruments at the same time!

Now that Strat Corbett has come back, if only Puss Thompson would return, writing Rockets would be a real pleasure instead of the grind it is now.

Vix sends us the headline from the Minnesota Daily,

COURSE GIVEN IN

TOWN RECREATION

Vix is not sure just what is meant by town recreation, but he wonders if it is not a course in necking.

"Bill, bring me my dogskin. I'm going out to play tennis."

Later: Meth came up and told us that we were among the group going to W. I. P. A. at Prairie du Chien. We hope they don't read the Deet there. If they do, we will probably be met at the city limits by a group of citizens with machine guns and escorted back to the charms of dear old Madison.

Violation of Libe Rules Causes Four to Get Penalties

Violations of library rules have been penalized by the disciplinary committee. A freshman was penalized eight extra credits for signing a fictitious name to a reading room slip. A junior was recently suspended for not returning a library book when asked to. Two students were fined $6 and $4.50 for not returning books when specified.

Library rules were made for protection, according to librarian assistants, and must be enforced. Fines are small when they can serve their purpose in being so, but usually in order to be effective, fines have to be raised to considerable amounts.

When fines are paid, they are put into a general fund, something on the order of a laboratory fee whose purpose is to cover breakage, wear and tear. This library fee goes, eventually, to replace lost or worn out books.

PERU STUDENTS TAKE LIFE EASY
—PROF. STUART

Students and Instructors Wander in and Out of Classes Carelessly

"The student body in Peru doesn't take life seriously," said Prof. Graham Stuart, formerly professor of political science in the university, and social professor of political science in Leland Stanford university since September, 1923, the date of his departure from Wisconsin. Professor Stuart recently returned from Peru where he was sent by the Carnegie Institute to write a monograph of the Peruvian form of government.

"The students and professors wander in and out of school, and both are usually late to classes. The students study to be either lawyers or politicians, and those who study law usually become politicians anyway," he added.

"Sports are practically unknown, although they have recently been introduced. I was interested in seeing two teams of girls playing association football in an open field near Lima," continued Prof. Stuart.

Discussing the question of prohibition in the Panama canal zone, Professor Stuart said that there were two territories, the Spanish, where prohibition did not exist, and the American district which observed the 18th amendment. The two districts are divided only by a street.

"Peru is a place for Americans if they can get a contract with an American firm, but I would not advise a young man to go down without a definite contract in advance," he said. "In Lima it is possible to get along with English," he said in conclusion.

Many Enroll for Military Training
at Summer Camps

Battle Creek, Baltimore, and Sparta will be the scenes of training from June 19 to July 30 for advanced students in the R. O. T. C.

Any student between the ages of 17 and 31 may attend the citizens' military training camps at Camp Custer and Jefferson Barracks, Miss., from July 23 to August 21.

One six week training period is compulsory for all men in the advanced courses, while those finishing second year of military drill in June are eligible for enlistment. Nothing but satisfaction of age requirements is necessary for participation in the training offered by the C. M. T. camp officials.

In addition to free transportation, rations, medical care, quarters, and subsistence, men students enrolled at the R. O. T. C. camps are to receive $21 each month. Because of the excellent training, recreational activities, and the other benefits derived from attendance, the C. M. T. camps provide only the primary expenses but no additional pay.

Advance figures of those desiring to attend show a decided increase over those of previous years.

Monthly Lectures Will Be Continued By Phi Kappa Phi

"The lectures sponsored by Phi Kappa Phi were so successful this year that the same plan will be carried out next year," said Prof. Willard G. Bleyer of the lecture committee. "At most of the lectures the room was packed and many people were standing."

A lecture was given each month beginning in November and ending in April. The progress made in the last 25 years in the various sciences was the subject of all the lectures.

Phi Kappa Phi, honorary fraternity for the seniors who have engaged in many activities and maintained a high scholastic standing for their first three years, each year sponsors a series of lectures by Wisconsin men.

Countries

Eighty-eight Madison people and persons living in this vicinity have been issued passports to Europe, it was learned today. The passports are for practically every country in central Europe, and a majority of them also include the British Isles, and some the Scandinavian countries.

England, France, Italy and Germany will be visited by almost every one of those who have sought passports, their applications show. A passport must be obtained through the clerk of the United States district court by every American citizen who goes to Europe. Persons who are not citizens must obtain passports from the consul or representative of the country of which they are still a citizen.

The delegation of Madisonians who are going to Europe this year include persons from many walks of life, professors, laboring men, bankers, industrial men, scientists, musicians, actors, physicians, retired business men, home economists, and unemployed women.

Those issued passports during the first four months of this year from Madison and vicinity are: Julius Jenson, Louis Godfrioux, Alice F. Jackson, Rebecca Flint, J. A. Leeder, Prof. R. R. Aurner, Martin Higgins, Dina Bull, Cris O. White, Heinrich Oetman, J. J. Lynch, Prof. Charles H. Mills, Mildred Wilcox, Gustave and Ella Naffz, Adam Arentz, Joseph Schneider, Harriet C. Reunion of Journalism Grads to be Held Week of Commencement

In celebration of the completion of 20 years of journalistic instruction at the university, a reunion of all graduates of the Course in Journalism and all former students in journalism will be held at the coming commencement.

The reunion will be in charge of an arrangement committee with members in New York, Chicago, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Detroit, Madison, and many other cities in which former students are now engaged in newspaper and magazine work and in advertising. Franklin Bump, Jr., '20, is in charge of the local arrangements.

The Course in Journalism has developed from a single class of 35 students, meeting in a class in news writing as a part of the English department, into an independent department with 350 students enrolled. Instead of a single instructor the course has grown until there are now five journalism instructors and three advertising men.

Willard G. Bleyer was the original instructor of journalism and has progressed in the expansion of the course, making it in large measure, what it is today. He is now head of the department and professor of Journalism.

Bureau Headed by A. King Finds Jobs For More Than 340

More than 200 men and about 140 women students in the university have found employment through the Student Employment Bureau which is located in the administration building, and has been in operation since January.

"All grades of employment from manual labor to tutoring, in the case of those who are capable, are furnished to students," Miss Alice V. King, who is in charge of the bureau, said yesterday. "Doing manual labor for board, washing dishes and driving cars are among the part time occupations for men."

"Nearly all of the women who apply for part-time work want to take care of children. The second choice of women is office work. There are, however, more calls for women to do house work and more calls for men to act as salesmen than can be filled at one any time," Miss King said.

"It is evident that this has been a very successful year in spite of the fact that the bureau is not old enough to have any complete reports," she said.

Students may apply to the employment agency for full time summer work. Miss King is now engaged in finding summer work in industrial concerns and at summer resorts.

CONVOCATION AND WHA CONCERT GIVEN TODAY

Two student recitals will be given today, the WHA concert at 8 o'clock and the weekly convocation at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Miss Alice Winston '27, pianist, and Harry Sisson '26, violinist, will give the radio program which will include Debussy's "Arabesque," Palmgren's "Swan," and Leschetizky's "Etude."

The participants in the convocation will be Marion Napper '28, Betty Hannum '28, Vera Heidemann '25, Luella Nienaber '26, Lorene Schoenfeld '27, Ruth Persson '27, and Vera Kuehn '28.

J. B. Nichols Given Scholarship; Leaves For Upsala, Sweden

Selected by the American-Scandinavian scholarship committee to be awarded a fellowship in chemistry, James B. Nichols, grad, will leave the university for the University of Upsala, Upsala, Sweden, where he will study under Prof. Svedberg, who was a visiting professor at the university in 1923. The fellowship was awarded April 18.

Mr. Nichols is the second student who has been selected from the university in the last few years, Elmer Kraemer having had a scholarship during the year 1921-22. The work which Mr. Nichols will carry out will be a continuation of the work that Professor Svedberg started here in 1923, the work being an application of centrifugal methods, to the determination of very finely divided suspended material.

Twenty American students are sent to the Scandinavian countries yearly, 10 to Sweden, five to Norway, and five to Denmark, by the American-Scandinavian Scholarship committee. As many Scandinavian students come to the United States yearly to study. Mr. Nichols will return to the university for his degree after a year in Sweden.

12 VILAS ESSAYS ARE SUBMITTED

Largest Number Ever Turned in for Annual Prize Contest

Twelve essays were submitted in the William F. Vilas Memorial essay contest up to Monday noon, the last day that essays would be accepted. "This is the largest number of essays that has ever been submitted in competition for the prize," Prof. R. E. N. Dodge, chairman of the contest, declared yesterday. A first prize of $50 and a second prize of $25 will be given.

In June, 1912, the late Mrs. Anna M. Vilas turned over the sum of $4,000 to a local trust company, the annual income of which was to be used for the William F. Vilas Memorial prizes for essays, the administration of which was to be conducted by the English department of the university.

The judges of the essays are Prof. R. E. N. Dodge, chairman; Prof. W. E. Leonard, and Professor Perry. Announcement of the pride-winning essays will be made shortly before commencement.
