BADGERS AND BUCKEYES TO BATTLE TODAY

Play First of Two Game Series at Camp Randall at 3:30

Coach John St. John's Ohio State baseball team will play the first of a two game series with the Badger nine at Camp Randall this afternoon. The game will start at 3:30, late enough for those who have afternoon classes to attend.

On Saturday afternoon the two teams will again meet in conjunction with the state normal school track meet at Camp Randall. The baseball game will be the first event of the afternoon, starting at 1:30 and will be followed by the track events.

Badgers Coming Back

Quite unusually the Badger lineup will be practically the same as the one which started against Illinois last Saturday since there have been no new casualties reported during the week. It will be the second time during the season in which primarily the same team has participated in two consecutive games. The injured and sick are slowly coming back with Miller the latest to be released from the infirmary, where he had been confined with mumps. He will be in no condition, however, to participate in either of the two games this week.

Zulfer Starts on Mound

Just who Coach Kent will pick for mound duties today depends somewhat on the Buckeye choice. It is likely, however, that Zulfer will be used today and Ogle tomorrow. The Ohio choice lies between Keim, a left hander, and Fish, who defeated the Badgers in the first game between the two teams by a

INTER-COLLEGE CROSS COUNTRY RACE SATURDAY

Two Prize Cups Will be Awarded to Winners of Distance Runs

Two prize cups will be awarded to the winners in the annual inter-college cross country run, which will be held during the State normal track meet next Saturday. The run will take place about 4 p. m., and will cover a distance of 2.3 miles, with the start and finish at Randall field.

This is the first year that cups will be the prizes thus given to winners in this sport, and it is due to the efforts of the members of the famous 1912 and 1913 teams that this is made possible. The following "W" men, members of the 1911 team that took the western championship that year, have donated a cup which will go to the best freshman runner: I. A. White, capt., J. A. Becker, G. T. Bresnahan, W. B. Goldie, C. S. Healey, and R. F. Nelson. Not to be outdone by the 1912 alumnae, the team which captured Western conference honors in 1913, has given a cup that will go to the best non-"W" cross country man of the sophomore, junior, or senior classes. The 1913 champions were: G. T. Bresnahan, capt., J. A. Becker, W. B. Goldie, W. D. Harvey, H. B. Merrill, and I. A. White.

In addition to the cup, members of the winning team next Saturday will be awarded their college insignia.

VERDANT LIDS BURN TONIGHT

Freshmen to Celebrate Cap Night on Lower Campus

Tonight the lower campus will witness again the traditional passing of the verdant lid when the freshman class, encircling an immense bonfire, will celebrate by cap burning ceremonies, the official end of restraint by traditions.

In spite of the skepticism of old-timers, who say that the frosh, officially exempted from spring-time terrors, haven't much to celebrate, the undercurrent of rumors throughout the first year body indicates that there will be a big time tonight. There will be a general joy-dance around the fire, followed by a parade around the square. Nothing really definite is planned; nobody can predict what such a crowd may do.

"Everyone be out," urged Walter Perkins, president of the class yesterday afternoon. "This is a big chance to make a name for ourselves. We want a bunch to meet at the gym at 1:30 to start collecting wood and a big crowd there at 4 o'clock to pile up the fire and protect it from sophomores. Everybody be on the campus by 7:30; the fire will be lighted as soon as it is dark."

Co-eds Will Feed the Hungry, Field Day at Camp Randall

Nobody who attends Field day, June 5, or the inter-fraternity baseball games which will be held the same day, will have a chance to go hungry if Auta Lyman and her refreshments committee have anything to say about it.

The events of the day will begin at 3:30 at Camp Randall, and from then on through the afternoon a sandwich booth will be kept open where the hungry can buy sandwiches, pickles, ice cream cones, pop, candy, crispettes, and—don't tell anybody—pretzels.

Those who wish to go from Camp Randall to the dancing drama, which will be staged at 6:30 in the open air theater, will surely be able to find enough to eat at this sandwich booth to sustain them through the evening program.

The committee which is assisting Auta Lyman in the arrangements for food consists of Marjorie Severance, Belle Knights, Romaine Berryman, Hazel Hoag, Mabel Winters, and Consuela Burwell.

CHADBOURNE HOLDS ANNUAL SWINGOUT

Chadbourne hall held its annual swingout last night for the 14 senior women resident in the hall. At six o'clock the junior women formed an arch of apple blossoms under which the seniors, led by Ruth Marie Urban, house president, passed to the dining room. During the dinner, original songs were sung about each member of the junior and senior classes. The guests of honor included: Dean F. Louise Nardin, Miss Lucy Newton, Mrs. Flett, former mistress of Chadbourne, Miss Birge, Miss White, and Miss Daut-hart.

At the close of the dinner new officers of Chadbourne hall were installed by Ruth Marie Urban. These officers, elected last week, are: Mary Preston, president; Zifrian Blish, vice-president; Valeria Olson, secretary; Amoretta Jones, treasurer; Ailene Geiger, librarian; Jane Salisbury, social chairman.

PRESIDENT WILL REVIEW CADETS THIS AFTERNOON

Commissions and Honors Will be Awarded at Annual Event

At 4:30 this afternoon the Presidents salute will be fired from one of the artillery field pieces announcing the arrival of President E. A. Birge who will, as has been the custom for many years, review the cadets. The review will start promptly on time as the ceremonies will be longer than the other reviews that have been held so far this year.

Following the review President Birge will award the commissions and warrants to those winning them. He will also award the prizes and medals for Pistol, Rifle, Company, and individual competition to those winning them.

The field officers for next year will also be announced at this time.

The President's review has always had a prominent place on the calendar of the university activities. The review proper will be practically the same as was held when the Government inspectors were here a short time ago.

NEW AERO CLUB WANTS FLYING STATION HERE

Aviators From Varsity Organization at Madison Club Banquet

Madison will have a flying station, conducted by former air-men now attending the university, if plans formed at a banquet of the Aero club organized last night at the Madison club, materialize.

It was announced that active steps will be taken to secure both planes and a suitable location for the hangars, in the near future. Officers of the club were elected as follows: Ora McMurray, president; Howard Stark, vice-president; Frank Davies, secretary; R. J. McKinnon, treasurer. All of these men have seen service with the aviation corps, several having received decorations for daring in action.

The club wishes to invite all men in the university who hold pilot's or observer's licenses to get in touch with Davies, 16 Mendota court, or phone Fairchild 24, in regard to getting their names enrolled as charter members.

Major Wood was elected an honorary member of the club, and will use his influence to secure the co-operation of the War department in putting this project through. Thus far, all the members are pilots who saw service with the American or British air forces.

ZULFER AWARDED CONFERENCE MEDAL

The conference medal for athletic and scholastic ability was awarded yesterday to Anthony G. Zulfer, '20. Zulfer has won three basketball W's and two baseball W's and was captain of the basketball team in 1918-19. His scholastic average for four years was 88.1.

The medal is given by the conference to each university to be awarded by the university to the man in the senior class who stands highest in athletics and scholarship. In the five years that the medal has been awarded this is the first time it has been given to a basketball man.

The ten leading athletes of the class are picked in each school and their scholastic records investigated by the committee of judges who pick the winner.

COLLEGE CREWS IN ANNUAL TILT ON MENDOTA

Intra-mural Rowing Contests Take Place at 10 Tomorrow

The annual intra-mural crew race will be rowed on Lake Mendota at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Coach "Dad" Vail has a large squad working, most of whom have been in training for at least two years. The crews are evenly matched and a thrilling race is predicted for the crowd which is expected to line the shore of the lake.

The regatta is expected to attract more than usual attention this year due to the fact that there has been considerable agitation on the campus for a Wisconsin crew to be sent to the inter-collegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie. The faculty action on the matter depends, to a great extent, it is felt, on the enthusiasm shown Saturday.

The enthusiasm of the 40 oarsmen for a varsity crew was evidenced last night after practices when a petition to the faculty for the reinstatement of rowing as a university sport was shown to them. The men literally fought for the chance to be the first to sign.

Wisconsin was the only university in the conference to send crews to the big eastern races up until five years ago when rowing was abolished at the recommendation of the clinic. It was stated at that time that rowing was injurious to the orasmen's health, causing an enlarged heart; but the crews have been under the supervision of the clinic all this spring and no ill effects have been evident.

Grantland Rice, the famous sport writer, is quoted as saying that Wisconsin was one school that he admired. "Wisconsin was the only western university which sent a

SENIOR BOOKLET TO APPEAR SOON

Production Staff of Class Play to Put Out Commencement Souvenir

A twenty-page booklet edited by the production staff of the senior class play will be the forerunner of the activities of the commencement of the class of 1920. This will contain the first complete announcement of the entire commencement program. It is being prepared with the aim in view of giving to every senior a souvenir of his graduation.

The underlying scheme of the bulletin will be a resume of the accomplishments of the senior class. A class page including class officers with cuts of prominent seniors will be among the first pages. Then the cast of the class play to be presented June 21 and 22 will be given with cuts of various characters.

A foreword by President Birge and a eulogy of the senior class by Bertram Zilmer will be among the chief articles; then will follow sky-rockets edited by Walter Schwinn. Among the representative features of the bulletin will be the "Who's Who" of the senior class.

The staff wishes it understood that this bulletin is to be given free to every senior on the campus. It will probably be ready for delivery some time next week.

FOR those fraternities who fear they must go out of business under the old name, and who are seeking for a new title, may we suggest that a chapter of the Asparagus club might be formed. One of our legislators is in favor of fraternities because he himself belongs to the Asparagus club, which has 99 members throughout the state.

IF the flora and fauna are to be called upon to help in new names, why not the Sour Grapes club for the man who boasts that he has been pledged to two fraternities and initiated into neither.

THE humorous thing about the Barb pow-wow was that half of those attending didn't know that they were Barbs until the leader told them so.

ANOTHER joker is the fellow who proudly stated that he was not a fraternity man; yet he had a sorority girl, went to Prom, fussed every night, and—in his own words—"that ain't all."

OUTING CLUB TO HOLD WAR CANOE PICNIC SATURDAY

The university boat house—3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, a bright sunny day, two war canoes beside the dock, hampers of food already stored in the canoes, and a crowd of girls—that is the setting for the Outing club war canoe picnic tomorrow.

All those desiring to join the picnic this Saturday must sign up on the poster on the Outing club bulletin board before Friday night.

The work of Outing club formally closed last night with the final meeting in Lathrop hall. At this meeting 19 women were awarded Outing club pins, signifying that they have completed 25 hours of active participation in outdoor sports. During the year about 40 pins have been awarded.

At this meeting also officers who missed the installation picnic were installed.

Those who received their pins last night were Alice Day, Aileen Casey, Rosemary Lyons, Helen Chase, Norma Carl, Esther Wanner, Elizabeth Long, Roberta Voit, Marjorie Carlson, Elfrieda Wells, Helen Kahn, Erna Hollenbeck, Alta Judson, Helen Meyers, Esther Malmin, Natalie McKenzie, Olive Kingston, Ethel Schumacker, Vera Templin.

Although I look like prose.

So if you meet me, pigeon-toed,
A-walking up the hill,
Please try and think there is a nook
That I was meant to fill.

I'm going to be marcelled
Massaged, and fixed up brown.
I'm going to be careful how I look
In this hilarious town.

My books, I throw them in the lake
I ne'er shall need them more.
I'll bluff my way just like the rest
Though all the profs get sore.

I'll dance all night to merry tunes,

THIS IS A HARD ONE

In Sunny Pyre's drama class the talk wandered around to psychic phenomena. "Now," asked Sunny, "When a person strokes your head, and thus cures a head-ache, what do you call it? That is, what process is used?" The class sat still and quiet for a moment before some intelligent burst out with, "Osteopathy!"

Famous Last Lines
"Well, I'd like to see you sometime before you leave for home."

SENIORS FROLIC AT BLUE DRAGON PICNIC

Over 100 senior girls displayed plenty of the good old class spirit at the Blue Dragon picnic yesterday afternoon in Monona park. The picnic was the last informal, get-together meeting for this year.

Potato salad, bacon, rolls, pickles, ice cream cones, and marshmallows at 6 o'clock succeeded in livening the crowd sufficiently. Songs, variety, and games followed.

Helen Snyder, president of Blue Dragon, gave a short talk at the close of the picnic. She pointed out the desirability of belonging to the American Collegiate Alumni which has its new national home in Washington. A general discussion of plans for the formation of a summer camp followed. Plans were made to keep in touch with members of the senior class during each year. It was decided to have a reunion of the class of 1920 in five years.

OCTOPUS WANTS FACULTY HUMOR

Contributions from professors and instructors will be welcomed by the Octopus, so none need to complain of the low class of humor from now on. Any kind of contributions, but especially short jokes, will be welcome to the board, if they are handed in sometime today.

Boxes are put in Main hall, the Engineering building, the P. E. P. building, and the Biology building, to receive contributions. They may also be taken or sent to the Octopus office in the Union building. This is the last chance this year for contributors to win fame.

ASSEMBLY VOTES MILLION FOR STATE UNIVERSITY EXTENSION

Salary Increase Wins But Socialist Vote Kills Hineman Bill Appropriating $90,700 for an Addition to the Chemistry Building

The assembly Thursday by a vote of 47 to 41 killed the Hineman bill appropriating $90,700 for an addition to the chemistry building at the university and a moment later turned around and by a vote of 49 to 38 passed the Coe bill appropriating upwards of a million dollars for increases in salaries, repairs and operating expenses for the state university and then by a vote of 71 to 13 passed the normal school appropriation bill carrying an appropriation of $250,000 for operation.

The passage of the university salary and operating expense bill and normal school operating expense bill the two measures calling for one million dollars means that the legislature intends to take some action at this session to increase the taxes of the state to raise money for this purpose. Before the finance committee Thursday afternoon a hearing will be given to the two bills which provides for the raising of money by mill taxes and the other which provides for raising the money by income taxes. Either one of these measures or a compromise of both must be enacted at this session of the legislature in order to raise the money by passage of the university bills. The university and normal school bills will go to the senate for consideration Friday morning.

The Socialists killed the chemistry building appropriation bill. Axel Johnson asked if this was not a part of the general plan for the proposed state hospital indicating that the farmers would oppose the hospital appropriation bill.

Assemblyman Coe led the fight for the university appropriation bill declaring it was absolutely necessary to increase the appropriation or lose many of the best teachers at the university. He made a great plea for the upbuilding of the school system of the state from the common or graded schools to the university and said this could only be done by increasing the salaries. Assemblyman Metcalfe, Socialist leader, in opposing the bill declared the Socialists were in favor of the school system, in favor of improving it wherever possible but this bill was building from the top down instead of from the bottom up. There was little argument on the normal school appropriation bill. Chairman Kurtzacker of the finance committee declared more money must be appropriated or the institution will have to close.

The assembly rescinded its action of Tuesday when the Graass motion to shut out all resolutions not germane to the call was passed so far as to permit consideration of the joint resolutions offered by Assemblyman Klein memorializing Congress to pass an appropriation bill which would permit increasing of salaries of postal employees. The resolution was adopted almost unanimously. The Otto resolution memorializing congress to take steps for constitutional amendment permitting the nomination of president and vice-president by direct vote of the people was adopted 48-30.

On motion of Assemblyman Nolan a limit for the introduction of new bills was placed at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Assemblyman Otto offered five new bills Thursday morning pertaining to the rent situation all of which were referred to the joint finance committee.

The joint finance committee Thursday afternoon will consider means for raising money necessary to finance the university and normal schools of the state. At Wednesday afternoon's meeting of the committee the necessity for appropriations was considered. E. J. Dempsey of Oshkosh presented the needs of the normal schools and showed that an increase in mill taxes would raise $670,000 annually and put the nine normal schools of the state on a financial footing. The needs of the university were presented to the committee by President E. A. Birge and H. J. Thorkelson, business manager.

Chairman A. H. Wilkinson of the finance committee announced on Thursday morning that the committee would hold a hearing Thursday afternoon on the Severson bill, which provides for income tax, surcharges to raise the money and on the Ney bill which provides for mill taxes. It is possible that neither method will be adopted but that a plan will be worked out providing a part of this money will be raised by mill tax and a part will be raised by income taxes.

"It is proposed to increase the specific appropriation for 'operation' of the university by an additional appropriation of slightly less than a million dollars, or $998,529," said Mr. Thorkelson, business manager of the university.

"The proposed increase in mill tax would bring an increase in the university fund income, but none of this is available except by specific appropriation act passed by the legislature. It will be noted that the proposed change in the mill tax from 3/4 to 5/8 will bring in somewhat over a million dollars increased income for 1920-21, and the proposed addition to the appropriation for operation is slightly less than a million dollars.

"The situation regarding the operation appropriation for the biennium 1919-1921 may be roughly stated as follows:

"The legislature of 1919 provided for an estimated enrollment of 5,000 students for 1919-20 and 5,400 for 1920-21, or a total of 10,400 for the biennium, by making available some $3,650,000.

"The catalog for the fiscal year 1919-20 will show an actual registration of 7,294 students in regular two-semester courses. It seems certain that the attendance next year will be larger. It is therefore fair to estimate that during the biennium 1919-21 instruction must be provided for some 15,000 instead of approximately 10,000, or an increase of approximately 50 per cent of the estimate made in November, 1918, for the biennium 1919-21.

"In March, 1919, prices were about 61 per cent above the level of 1914. In April, 1920, they were about 96 per cent above that level, i. e., the excess costs have risen more than 50 per cent since the budget for 1919-21 was practically agreed upon. To meet this double demand for larger work at higher cost, the regents ask for an increase in the mill tax from 3/4 to 5/8, an increase of two-thirds. This will yield approximately one million dollars additional income, and in order to render this increase income available for operation, they ask for an equivalent increase in operation of nearly one million dollars in the operation appropriation for 1920-21, or less than one-third of the total estimated cost of operation for the biennium of 1919-21.

"The original budget of the regents for 1919-20 was not sufficient to take care of the greatly increased attendance and the aggravated problem of the cost of living, coupled with the fact that surrounding universities were paying considerably higher salaries than Wisconsin, made it imperative for salary increases to be given for the rest of the year. The regents accordingly made salary increases effective the second semester, and this means that further sums must be added to the salaries for the entire year in order to keep the existing salary rates."

caretaker work, and in several university departments. Besides these are a number of good jobs of steady duration for those staying for summer school. Secretary Wolf at the university Y. M. C. A. should be seen by those desiring these jobs on Friday or Saturday.

STUDENT HONOR

AFTER every great war, historians tell us, there has been a period of moral laxity, a period in which people disregard the laws of personal property and blink at aberrations from honesty and at peccadillos which spot personal honor.

In this respect the present is not unlike other post-bellum eras. The amazing thing, however, is that this viciousness has raised its head within the walls of the university, where moral ideals are supposed to be nurtured. Of this present depravity the most common manifestation is dishonesty in class work and in examinations. Daily on the campus one hears stories of the manufacture of clever cribs, of new ways to take advantage of unsuspecting faculty members to the point of extorting passing grades. These practices are not considered debasing, as one would logically suppose they should be. On the contrary, the stories are thought amusing, and the cheats deemed more ingenious than the naive, trusting professors.

A proof of this deplorable attitude is found in the following remarks which were overheard on the hill:

"Why should A—take cheating seriously? Most of the other professors don't. They realize that everybody cheats more or less, and let it go at that. Besides, those who do care in all probability could never catch you; and if they did, what would be the penalty—three or at most five-fifths additional to graduate. If you don't cheat, you will probably fail and lose the same number of credits anyway. It's an even chance in either case. So why not take the chance?"

That is a broad docket. It accuses the faculty of connivance with the dishonest students; it declares that Wisconsin men and women have not sufficient mentality to EARN their degrees. A college degree should not be a piece of foolscap, but a mark of distinction, an embellishment. If a college bestows its rewards upon mediocrities, and upon persons who have not made even an effort to attain mediocrity, then it is time for the upright students to unite in self-defense and to demand:

First, that the faculty shall shield itself from the suspicion of collusion with dishonest students by expelling from the university all those found guilty of fraudulence, however slight.

Second, that a rigorous policing system shall be instituted in examinations, not so much to catch the dishonest students as to protect the honest students.

Third, that every effort shall be made by the students, faculty, and executive officers to stabilize the market value of the degrees of the University of Wisconsin by preventing them from falling into the hands of these persons whose conduct in the university and possibly in the future will not redound to the credit of our Alma Mater.

Come on Wisconsin, let's make our diplomas mean something!

SOPHOMORE SPIRIT

LAST night the spirit of the Sophomore class was tested. Every circumstance was present to tempt them to throw aside all restraining considerations and stage a wholesale "lake party."

Under trying circumstances, the traditions committee and officers of the class resisted every attempt to introduce lawlessness into their proceedings. A number of freshman violators of traditions had been sentenced by the Student Senate to receive duckings. For that purpose, sophomores assembled and conducted the convicted freshmen to their appointed bath. Although they paraded to the Madison high school and back to the lake, a distance of approximately one mile, perfect order was maintained. When a few impetuous members of the class attempted to seize passing freshmen, other sophomores ran from the crowd and persuaded them to stick to the program of ducking only the violators of traditions.

Such action does not indicate a lack of spirit. Every sophomore seemed to be aching for a scrap. But the class has learned self-control. In spite of egging on from an occasional bystander, they refused to lose their heads. A determined, disciplined gathering of the sort indicates the finest type of class spirit.

Freshmen must not mistake the temper of the class of '22. Furthermore, abiding by the rules against indiscriminate hazing has won them the support of the upper classes. A freshman outbreak will be opposed by the entire university. They can show true university spirit in no way so well as to maintain order and obey the varsity traditions. These traditions are a part of Wisconsin life. To object to them shows an exaggerated sense of self-importance and a failure to get into the game.

LEGION TAKES VARSITY NAME FOR NEW POST

Will Aid University With Memorial Day
Program

The name "University of Wisconsin Post of the American Legion" was selected for the post composed of university students at a meeting at 7 o'clock last night in the auditorium of the Engineering building. Post-commander Morton Markus explained the practice of naming the posts and told that the one selected would serve to distinguish the university post from the others in the city which have been named after some local man who has been killed in the service.

Memorial day plans were discussed and it was agreed that the post help the university with the program which they have arranged for that day. The members of the university post are to meet at the Engineering building at 10:30 Monday morning and go from there to take part in the university program.

As a means of meeting the national and state dues and also to pay for whatever expenses may be incurred during the year it was decided that regular members pay $2.00 each year and associate members $.75.

Before the end of the school year the post plans to have all the ex-service men in the university enrolled. Application blanks have already been secured and may be obtained from George Chandler at Room 151 Main hall.

What the College Editors Say

WHY NOT WORK THIS SUMMER?

The men of the universities are constantly being called upon to solve some national problem. The greatest difficulty which confronts the American people today is the labor question. Every one states that the only salvation from the present high prices and high wages is an increase of laborers of the country.

It is within the power of college men to alleviate existing conditions. They are able, simply by turning out in full force during the coming summer vacation to do their bit in the farm lands, the factories and the offices near them. A large percentage of the men in the universities work during the summer months. It is an economical or physical necessity for them to do so. But there is a great number who have never done any work during their entire lives. It is to these men that this appeal is addressed. It is not a mere suggestion—this call which our country has issued for every man who is physically able to work in some field during the summer months.

Economists state that we are fast approaching a panic and that this can only be averted by increasing the supply of labor. When the supply equals the demand, and then only, can we feel confident that the future of the United States is assured. The college man can do his part with benefit to himself as well as to his fellow citizens, and it is the duty of every able-bodied university or college man to show the country that when it comes to the test of true patriotism he at least will not be found wanting.—The Michigan Daily.

"Y" WILL HELP OBTAIN ROOMS FOR VISITORS

The university "Y" has invited all alumni and students who will need to secure rooms for themselves or their friends during commencement week to make use of the facilities for locating rooms which will be provided there. The "Y" rooms, and all who make written application to Al Crawford, alumni secretary, will be referred to the Y. M. C. A. The committee rooms at the "Y" have also been placed at the disposal of the various classes for reunion meetings, and for other committee meetings during Commencement week.

The dormitory plans to entertain as guests all the alumni who have contributed to the local budget of the year. A sustaining membership is to be inaugurated, and all who are members are to be given an annual entertainment, where they will hear reports of the progress of the "Y" work.

1,000 SINGERS IN COMMUNITY MUSICAL FETE

All City and University Organizations Combine in Concert at Gym

By ADRIAN SCOLTEN

The most novel and spectacular musical concert ever projected will be staged in the University gymnasium next Tuesday evening, June 1. The big show will begin at 7 o'clock.

The performance will be given by a thousand artists, many of whom have long been stars in the Madisonian musical world. For the first time in the history of Wisconsin's capitol city, these musicians will be associated together for one evening to give one stupendous program.

The program is a climax of the reviewing of the material in the Music Memory contest which has engaged the attention of all music lovers of Madison for the past month.

Many Artists Perform

In this big convocation there will be the Italian band, the University Regimental band, violinists from the Wisconsin School of Music, cellists from the university, and the Mozart club.

Besides the foregoing, there will be a number by the University Girls' Glee club, a number by the combined church choirs of the city and Choral Union, a number by the Choral Union alone, and a selection played simultaneously on three pianos.

In addition to all this, there will be a song by 750 Madison school children, and another by the high school students of the city.

Interpretive Dancers

Beautiful conceptions of three classics in music, will be expressed by a group of twenty-five interpretive dancers. These same dancers played a leading part in the great University Circus of last week.

In this big festival of music, massed bands and great choruses will produce effects which suggest the great events of large music centers such as New York, and Cincinnati.

New Seating Scheme

Through an ingenious seating arrangement, the entire program will be brought within the time limits of an hour and one-half. Instead of a regular platform which all the various organizations must mount, all the performers will be seated around a hollow square which has been reserved for the interpretive dancing. As the turn comes for each number, the performers will simply give the numbers from where they have been stationed. The dancers alone will use the space in the middle. This seating arrangement will accommodate at least 3,500 people.

This program is open to the public and will be free of charge. All participants will have seats reserved for them. The doors will be open to the public at 8:45.

This is the only music program of the year in which children, high school youths and maidens, university students, business men, industrial workers and women of the city, all play a part and will be a real community event.

WEATHER

The highest temperature during the past 24 hours was 78 at 4:56 p. m. and the lowest was 59 at 5 a. m. Sun sets at 7:26.

An area of high barometer is advancing eastward across the trades accompanied by fair weather. A frost occurred in North Dakota this morning and may be expected tonight in central Wisconsin. Low barometer in western Canada is causing showers around Puget Sound and rapidly rising temperatures in the northern Rockies.

COMMUNICATIONS

BELIEVES MINORITY PUSHES
ANTI-FRATERNITY
CAMPAIGN

To the Editor of The Cardinal:

I do not believe that one-half of the non-fraternity men believe in or sanction the movement for the abolition of fraternities. Undeniably, evils exist in the present system, but the good accomplished by the fraternities and sororities far outweighs the evil. The two chief reasons for the abolition movement are political and social. The political problem is exceedingly simple. Let the non-fraternity men organize in sufficient numbers and show enough pep and initiative to counteract the fraternity influence. The social problem does not seem to offer any solution. However, common sense reasoning should show that the mere abolition of fraternities will make little difference. As long as the house and its members are there, the same conditions will exist; the legislature may abolish the Greek letter fraternity, but would hardly have any control over clubs or boarding houses.

The whole movement of abolition smacks of Bolshevism and extreme radicalism. Because I cannot enjoy the social privileges some other man does, does not give me right to attempt to destroy his rights and privileges. It is even harder for a man who has formerly known no social superior, and who has ample means at his disposal to be overlocked or to be considered a social inferior. Yet the mere reason that I was overlooked at rushing time doesn't make me yowl for the abolition of fraternities. Suppose I didn't have the means to join one, should I try to keep my non-fraternity classmates from joining?

A football man gets a great deal more praise, honor, and adulation than an ordinary man; but do you, on that account, want to abolish athletics? Come down to earth and try to see how fraternities have aided in our money drives, our activities, and our whole school life. Do you want to kill Wisconsin's prestige?

Music Memory Contest

No. 5. The Next Step in Studying

Consider the many moods exemplified in our list of 28. Romantic love appears in its tenderer aspects in the Barcarolle, From the Land of the Sky Blue Water, Oh, That We Two Were Maying, Liebestraum, while the more virile aspects are portrayed in Celeste Aida. Closely allied are the compositions that express a more general tenderness and affection, such as To a Wild Rose, Lullaby, The Swan, Bridal Chorus, and Traumerei. Akin to these, but lacking in a certain warmth, are selections dealing with peace, quiet, and rest. This music has a sweep and calm which is absent from the stirring love song. Examples are Old Black Joe, He Shall Feed His Flock, and Ave Maria. In emotional tone these shade quickly into compositions in which weariness, longing for rest is expressed. Swing Low is halfway between the peace expressed in Old Black Joe and the grief of the Elegy. A step further and we are in the presence of the pain and even despair portrayed by the Adagio from the Pathetic Symphony and the Prelude. The opening theme of the Unfinished Symphony has a mysterious undetermined quality which is closely akin to unrest. Joy permeates the minuet in G., the final theme of the Unfinished, the Melody in F, To Spring, Moment Musical, the Pilgrims' Chorus, and the Stars and Stripes Forever. Oh For the Wings of a Dove, in spite of the fact that the words express weariness and longing for rest has a melody which is soaring in imagined freedom. Great ceremony is conjured up by the Triumphal March, Pomp and Circumstance, Polonaise Militaire, the Lohengrin Bridal Chorus, especially when played loudly, as it should not be, and in the Stars and Stripes Forever when played broadly.

SCRIBES PICNIC AT MONONA PARK

Journalists Drop Dignity to Play Kid Games at Final Joy Fest

Playing "last couple out" and "three deep" at Monona park last night proved far more exhilarating to forty members of the Press club than bucking feature articles for C. J. 2 or 3. Accompanied by Professors Bleyer and Hyde and E. Marion Johnson the picnickers "trolleyed" and motored out to the park, where a wiener and cider spread was followed by games in which faculty members took the lead.

A little later in the evening, "Fat" Dennis and Dave Weiss suggested striking up the "nickelodeon" in the Monona park pavilion for dancing. Accordingly the veteran piano was crammed with the necessary change and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing. Although Turkey in the Straw and Old Black Joe took the place of more recent selections, the time was even enough for the dancers to enjoy their evening. Weiss made himself popular by acting as custodian of the punch bowl which consisted of a can of cider.

Miss Katherine Beebe, chairman of the social committee, was in charge of arrangements and refreshments. The lunch consisted of wieners, salad, cider and cake.

WILSON VETOES PEACE MEASURE

President Declares Act
Would Stain U. S.
Honor

WASHINGTON — The Republican peace resolution was vetoed today by Pres. Wilson.

Such a method of making peace with Germany, the president said, "would place an ineffaceable stain upon the gallantry and honor of the United States."

The president added that the peace resolution omitted mention of many important objects for the vindication of which the United States entered the war.

"Such a peace with Germany" the message continued, "a peace in which none of the essential interests which we had at heart when we entered the war is safeguarded—is, or ought to be, inconceivable, is inconsistent with the dignity of the United States with the rights and liberties of her citizens and with the very fundamental conditions of civilization."

OCTOPUS HUMOR TO LIVEN GRADS' LIVES

"When I am stranded down in Evanston next year, teaching Latin to impossible high school youngsters, I shall live for the stimulus the 900 seniors will subscribe," said one senior when interviewed as to the campaign for Octopus subscriptions for next year now running among the seniors.

Lela Hendricks, Octopus circulation manager, and her helpers, Lydia Hendricks, Mildred Olson, Marjorie Ruff, and Fern Busby, canvassed the fraternities and sororities last night, and today the campaign among the rest of the seniors will be started.

"I expect that about 800 out of the 900 senior will subscribe," said Miss Hendricks, "judging from the popularity the Octopus has had this year. We will also take subscriptions of underclassmen who are not expecting to return next year, if they come to the Octopus office in the Union building."

Art of Love Making Not On Wane Says Billie, Disputing Geraldine

NEW YORK—"Love, like measles, is contagious," said Miss Billy Burke, actress, when asked if she agreed with Geraldine Farrar's statement that "the art of love making is on the wane." She emphatically disagreed with Miss Farrar.

"It would be frightfully bore-some if there were but one way—a sort of set, cut and dried plan," she continued. "Women's tastes differ."

"Love is not necessarily accompanied by strong, emotional display. Off the stage it is not dramatic, for lovers are reduced to a state of simplicity amounting almost to childishness. They use one-syllabled words—a hesitancy in speech betrays them—their brains refuse to function and they are very much at each other's mercy."

"Love is not a whirling succession of mad 'I-love-yous,' nor of passionate kisses, as Miss Farrar says. It is a gentle tolerance, kindness and deep consideration; a burial of the eternal ego. Love embraces commands, jealousies and heart-aches. Some of the world's greatest lovers have been the least pretentious."

"I have held my fascinating husband for six years, and if Miss Farrar's methods are better than mine, she welcome to them. Parenthood makes a great, great difference, and our own little Patricia is an unbreakable link in Mr. Ziegfeld's and my domestic happiness."

NEW BARRELS COME TO LIGHT

Harding Fund $113,109;
Butler Financed for $40,550

WASHINGTON—The senate campaign investigating committee got some light today on efforts in behalf of the candidacy of William G. McAdoo for the democratic presidential nomination and also was told that $113,109 had been raised for the campaign of Sen. Harding, and that $107,704 had been spent. This is the third largest campaign fund of which the committee has had evidence.

Dr. Butler's candidacy has been financed to the extent of $40,550, Judge John R. Davies, of New York testified.

New Wood Fund.

Dan Hanna, of Cleveland, agreed to raise $500,000 to finance the campaign of Gen. Wood, the committee was told by John T. King of Connecticut, who first was the manager of Gen. Wood's national organization.

Mr. King said this agreement was made at a meeting at New York between himself, Mr. Hanna and Mr. William Loeb, former private secretary of Col. Theodore Roosevelt. The witness said Mr. Hanna "was to go out and gather it in for 18 months' work."

He added that it was not discussed with Gen. Wood.

CLAIM KOLCHAK PLACED IN CAGE

VANCOUVER, B. C.—Admiral Kolchak, former head of the all Russian government, after his capture by revolutionists, was placed in a cage at Irkutsk and exhibited for a nominal charge, according to N. Deberg, former member of the admiral's staff who arrived today. Crowds surrounded the cage, according to Deberg, heaping epithets upon him and jeering at him.

NINE FROSH ATONE FOR SIN AT LAKE PARTY

Final Rites Administered With Fitting Funereal Ceremony

With all the austere stateliness that only a "Senate Lake Party" can invoke, nine frosh were led to watery atonement last night. Securely tied to a two-inch hawser, and led by their eminent leader, President Perkins, the party left the Union building, walked down Langdon and Wisconsin avenue to the Madison High school to convince a number of Soph's that every thing was quiet on the Patomac, and then back to Henry street and the lake. A few weak, very weak, attempts were made at singing, but the convicts did not seem to care for such strenuous exercise; so nothing was done to go against their most holy wishes. If the black gowns of the most "austere body" had been present, a description of a funeral parade would be sufficient to describe the whole thing in detail. Frosh were even permitted to walk beside their condemned brothers, and they didn't even have to push the button.

After the regular "funeral," according to latest reports, several unofficial baths were given to frosh in the vicinity of the "Y." One order-loving sophomore tried to intercede for the victims and was himself precipitated into the drink by a group of ungrateful yearlings.

Jennings was the first to get his yearly bath. There was no excitement during this event. Several more of the "gang" were thrown in, with only a splash accompanying their downfall. The only fun in the party occurred, when after suitably disposing of Ken Leith in-so-far as the ducking was concerned, the executors turned their attention to the next man, forgetting that Leith was still on the dock. Two splashes followed in quick succession and then with a whoop and yell for "23" Leith again entered the briny deep having done all the damage he could. He headed out for sea and out of the reach of eager hands, coaxing the executioners to come after him, but with no success. Cheers from the hill-top followed this achievement of the convict, and he was later rescued by two of the excited bystanders.

The following men were ducked in accordance with the Senate's ruling: Jennings, Leemhus, Balk, Sogard, Harsch, Skaife, Perkins, Peterson, and Leith.

The sophomore leaders made strenuous and successful efforts to keep order. They were aided at all times during the evening by members of the Inter-fraternity council who insisted that the duckings should extend only to those who had been sentenced by the senate.

VARSITY PLAYS OHIO TODAY

score of 2 to 1. Breaks in that battle all went Ohioward and time after time the Badgers were prevented from scoring merely because they could not hit in the pinches or were deprived of runs by bad bits of luck.

The Ohio team stands next to Michigan in games won and lost having defeated every team except the Wolverines. The rejuvenated Cardinal nine, however, is out after the jinx which has been chasing it and the Buckeyes will have to battle every inch of the way if they are to take even one of the two contests.

A Radical Change

Three sales in the place of one is going to be the policy of this store. We have decided to go after the volume of business and not the individual sale for our profits.

Our plan is to sell shoes at such small profits that three pairs will obtain for us the profit that one pair did here-to-fore.

We try to bring you the best merchandise in the markets at the lowest price all the time, and eliminate, as far as possible the spasmodic "bargain events" and "cut price sales." Our great aim is to get your fullest confidence by deserving it. It is to be no circus stunt or a merchandising trick but just a clean business proposition between you and ourselves, and here is what we intend to do in our Madison store.

We have instituted a method of discounts ranging from 10 to 30% on our present prices on all shoes, according to their selling values regardless of style or make.

A present our three stores, Madison, Grand Rapids and La Valle are stocked heavily with high grade and medium grade shoes, with big purchases all booked for future delivery at prices which will enable us to carry out our plans indefinitely.

We know as well as you do that shoe prices are too high and you surely realize that the merchant must pay the manufacturer his price or go without the goods. He cannot regulate the market, only his profits and this is what we are doing. Whether or not this plan will work out only your co-operation and time will determine. We are sure the people of Madison and vicinity will appreciate what we are doing to lower the cost of shoes, will support this movement, and supply themselves with shoes that they know are priced right.

Remember all shoes will be sold at a discount, no marking over of prices, and at this point let us impress upon you that our prices are not even based upon the present high market quotations. No old undesirable goods or odd sizes or broken lots, but clean, new up-to-date footwear.

Our new policy went into effect Today
