PRICE 5 CENTS

EXPENSES HERE FOR LAST YEAR ARE $5,249,730

University Spends $112,000 More Than in 1921; Issue Report

The total amount of money expended by the University of Wisconsin during the last fiscal year, July 1, 1921—June 30, 1922, for operation, maintenance, reconstruction and supplies was $5,249,730.00, according to a report submitted to the board of regents by J. D. Phillips, acting business manager of the university. This amount is $112,906.95 greater than the expenses for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921.

More than 53 per cent of the budget was spent for instructional and administrative services; 9.77 per cent for wages, 5.30 per cent for maintenance of offices, 15.91 per cent for consumable supplies, 7.74 per cent for maintenance of building and grounds, 7.42 per cent for permanent improvements and 1.14 of the total amount for refunds to students who had withdrawn from school.

$31,000 Goes For Stamps

The report shows that various departments added more than $31,000 dollars to the coffers of Uncle Sam through expenditures for postage stamps. More than $25,000 dollars were spent for telephone and telegram service in order to keep things moving. The total amount for travelling expenses slightly exceeded the $100,000 mark.

A survey of the disbursements also shows that this student municipality consumes approximately $2,600 dollars worth of light and power each month. Another interesting item is the amount spent for lectures, concerts and convocations which during the last fiscal year cost $68,572.49. The upkeep cost for dormitories and commons alone was $70,648.09.

L. and S. College Spends Most

Of the $2,853,023.68 spent for instructional and administrative purposes among the colleges, the College of Letters and Science spent $947,628.81, the College of Agriculture $581,827.16 and the College of Engineering, $237,200.46.

For wages alone the Agricultural school paid out more than $204,000, the College of Letters and Science coming second with an expenditure of $43,088.77.

For the maintenance of office forces the Agricultural school exceeded the $95,000 mark, the College of Letters and Science following with $20,635.65.

The amount in dollars spent for consumable materials and supplies by the College of Agriculture runs into the 305,000 locality. The medical school is second on the list with a disbursement of $68,318.62.

Extension Work Costs $492,576

HELLENIC SOCIETY PICKS ROSTOVTEFF

Prof. M. T. Rostovteff of the ancient history department has been elected an honorary member of the Society for Promotion of Hellenic Study in England. He has done extensive research in the history of ancients and is the author of a book on ancient art in the Near East.

Professor Rostovteff has arranged for a semester's leave of absence to deliver a series of lectures at the Lowell Institute, Boston, on "Economic Conditions in the Roman Empire."

After spending a month in Boston he will leave for England, and in April, with Professor Carl Russell Fish and Paul Knaplund, also of the history department, will represent the University of Wisconsin at the international meeting of historians which will be held at Brussels, Belgium.

Professors Fish, Rostovteff and Knaplund, who is at present in England, will return to the university in the fall.

MANY FOX TROTS SUBMITTED FOR JUDGING, JAN. 10

Prom fox trots will be judged on January 10 and 11, Mayo Story '24, chairman of the fox trot committee announced yesterday. Inquiries coming to Miss Story indicate that a large number of people are working on fox trots at the present time. Some of the products are being submitted in an unfinished condition.

"A large number of people working for the prize have told me that they have either a good harmony worked out or a good melody, and are experiencing some difficulty in getting both combined," Miss Story said. "The committee wants to suggest that some of those people might get together and produce good fox trots," Miss Story said. "They are free to do so if they please. We also want it understood that the sale of the number is entirely in the hands of the producers. No attempt to restrict its sale or circulation will be made."

A prize of $50, solicited among Madison merchants, will be given to the producers of the winning fox trot. It will be judged by the fox trot committee at Lathrop parlors. Reservations for trials can be made by calling Miss Story at B. 3456.

100 ORGANIZE PROM GROUPS

Enthusiasm Runs High Among Non-fraternity Men; Break Record

Approximately 100 non-fraternity men already have interested themselves in the organization of prom parties and are planning entertainment for a number of groups.

Many more men not affiliated with Greek letter societies have assured the men's arrangements committee for the junior event that they will attend, but will join club parties.

Records of past proms show that non-fraternity men's interests in the 1924 prom surpasses that evidenced at this time of year in any other prom. The plans for the parties this year are more complete and include more events than ever has been provided before for the group.

"Nonfraternity men held several meetings before the holidays and have a number of parties planned already," Charles Gary '24, chairman of the men's arrangement committee, said yesterday. "Their parties will begin on Wednesday, a fact which shows that they have wholeheartedly accepted the prom committee's attempt to make this the best prom that ever was held for non-fraternity men."

"We already have secured a long list of places at which their parties can be held and we have orchestras for them," Gary said. "They can make their parties as elaborate as they please and some of them already have made plans which will surpass many of the fraternity parties."

The next meeting of the men will be held at 7 o'clock Tuesday night at the Y. M. C. A. where more groups will be organized.

"Prom records from last year show that non-fraternity attempts were a failure," Edward S. Dodge '24, assistant committee chairman said. "A report of what has been done so far this year would indicate quite the opposite. The prom idea is growing from year to year as each prom chairman makes further attempts to democratize it. We hope the fellows will appreciate the fact that this is 'The Prom for Every Badger.'

Lehigh Asks Colgate to Explain Split Contract

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Jan. 5—Lehigh university is investigating an alleged break of a contract by Colgate university for a gridiron battle next fall. President Richards of Lehigh has sent a letter to the Colgate university authorities asking an explanation concerning the matter. Colgate was to receive $3,500 for the game.

NOTED SPANIARD LECTURES HERE

PROF. DON SOLALINDE

Prof. Don Antonio G. Solalinde of Madrid, Spain, will give two illustrated lectures during the coming week in 112 Bascom hall. The first will be held at 4:30 o'clock Monday, and the second Tuesday afternoon. Both will be given under the auspices of the department of romance languages. Prof. Solalinde will deliver the lectures in Spanish.

Senor Solalinde, who is professor of Spanish literature in the Centro de Estudios Históricos of Madrid, is in the United States to give courses in Columbia university, the University of Michigan, the University of California and Leland Stanford university.

Since 1912, Professor Solalinde has made continuous researches in the field of Spanish medieval literary history, under the direction of the eminent Spanish scholar, Don Ramon Menendez Pidal. He is also the author of numerous studies.

Professor Solalinde is conducting classes in Spanish literature at the University of Michigan now, and after a lecture tour through the universities of the East and the Middle West, he will go to the University of California for the intersession and summer session, and to Leland Stanford university for a short course.

UNION DANCES BRING CAMPAIGN BEFORE ALUMNI

That the Memorial Union's holiday dances were a success because they brought the Union drive before the alumni in various states is the belief of the campaign's staff and Prof. Edward H. Gardner, advisor of the drive.

"We already have secured a long list of places at which their parties can be held and we have orchestras for them," Gary said. "They can make their parties as elaborate as they please and some of them already have made plans which will surpass many of the fraternity parties."

The next meeting of the men will be held at 7 o'clock Tuesday night at the Y. M. C. A. where more groups will be organized.

"Prom records from last year show that non-fraternity attempts were a failure," Edward S. Dodge '24, assistant committee chairman said. "A report of what has been done so far this year would indicate quite the opposite. The prom idea is growing from year to year as each prom chairman makes further attempts to democratize it. We hope the fellows will appreciate the fact that this is 'The Prom for Every Badger.'

More than 800 couples attended the dance held at Milwaukee of which more than half were alumni. Approximately $150 was cleared at this dance under the direction of Walter E. Bauman '24. The Varsity quartet entertained the dancers.

WEATHER: SNOW
The weather forecast indicates snow Sunday with slowly rising temperature. Monday probably will be fair. The temperature rose from a minimum of 10 above at 5 a. m. to a maximum of 19 above at 7 p. m. yesterday.

BASEMENT FIRE THREATENS NEW PHI PSI HOUSE

The loss by fire of one of the newest and most expensive fraternity houses on the campus was narrowly averted last night at 9:30 o'clock when a blaze in the basement of the new Phi Kappa Psi house next to the University club was discovered and extinguished.

Quick response by the fire department prevented the spread of the flames. A rubbish pile, ignited by hot ashes, was the cause. Considerable smoke came from the basement of the building and it was feared that the interior of the rooms upstairs would be damaged. Little damage was done, however.

Members of the Phi Psi chapter had begun moving into their new home yesterday. Any damage which was caused by the fire will not delay their plans.

Charles Heyl, chief of the Madison fire department, said last night that it was a wonder there were not more fires in the university district because of the carelessness in disposal of rubbish and waste.

"All the fraternity and sorority houses have basements littered with paper and rubbish," Chief Heyl said. "Fire inspectors on their rounds constantly warn the students about the disposal of rubbish, but these warnings are of no avail.

"It is a wonder that all such houses don't burn down. We work on the theory that it is better to prevent fires than to extinguish them, but others don't seem to feel that way about it."

FROSH WOMEN'S CONVO MONDAY

Nardin to Talk on Fields Open to Women; Attendance Compulsory

Attendance will be compulsory at the convocation of all freshman women to be held at 4:30 o'clock Monday afternoon in the concert room of Lathrop hall for the purpose of arranging the freshman women's schedule with a definite view toward their future vocation.

The convocation is under the direction of Lois Jacobs '24, general chairman of the students vocational committee.

Dean F. Louise Nardin will speak on the general fields in which women may now enter and the requirements in preparation for each. She will advise the women as to what courses to elect to best fit themselves for their future work and also will point out the great need for careful consideration in choosing their subjects for the next semester.

The second semester of the freshman year marked the branching from the routine first semester curriculum definitely as to requirements, and careful attention must be given to get off the pre-requisites for the later highly specialized courses.

The convocation has been held several years for the benefit of first year women who are undecided as to their later vocation. It aims to clear up all of the main difficulties as clearly and briefly as possible.

Prof. Lescohier Speaks at Wesley Forum Tonight

BADGERS TAKE OPENER EASILY BY 21-10 SCORE

Northwestern Fails to Penetrate Defense and Hit Cage

CONFERENCE SCORES
Wisconsin 21, Northwestern 10
Iowa 35, Chicago 23.
Michigan 30, Illinois, 13.

(Special to The Cardinal)
EVANSTON, Ill., Jan. 6—Wisconsin easily defeated Northwestern University 21 to 10 last night in a game featured by the stellar basket shooting of Rollie Williams and Captain Gus Tebell.

Wisconsin took an early lead in the first few minutes of play and was never in any danger of losing it. So close was the guarding of the Wisconsin men that the Purple's were held to five points in the last half.

Wisconsin started the game aggressively, working the ball time after time into Northwestern's territory only to miss the shot at the basket. The teams failed repeatedly to tally by the short direct pass method and in the last half both teams resorted to long shots almost entirely. Northwestern was unable to find the basket not only from the field but on fouls as well.

Gage's Free Throws Feature

The free throwing of Gage was the feature of the game. He scored seven out of nine chances, thus contributing considerably to the total number of points. Not only did free throws feature the stellar basket work of the Badgers but also many clean long shots from mid-floor caused people to catch their breath at frequent intervals.

For Northwestern the basket shooting of Franzen and the guarding of Jimmie Patterson were the outstanding features. Time after time Patterson spoiled almost certain shots for the Badgers. Franzen was clearly the class for the Purple in scoring points although Stegman was a potent factor.

The box score is as follows:

	B	FT	PF	TF
Franzen R. F.	0	0	2	0
Stegman L. F.	1	0	1	0
Holmes C.	1	0	2	0
McKenzie R. G.	1	0	2	0
Patterson L. G.	0	4	2	0

Wisconsin (21)	B	FT	PF	TF
Gage R. F.	3	7	0	0
Elsom L. F.	1	0	2	0
Gibson C.	0	0	0	0
Williams R. G.	2	0	1	0
Tebell L. G.	1	0	1	0

Free throws—missed Northwestern, six; Wisconsin two. Umpire, Winter, Illinois, Schommer, Chicago.

TUTORING CLASSES TO START MONDAY

The Y. M. C. A. free tutoring classes organized for students who have fallen behind in their school work because of sickness or other unfortunate reasons, will begin at 7 o'clock Monday evening.

Paul Robertson '23, who is in charge of the work, has secured instructors to tutor in practically all of the subjects taught on the hill. Instructors will distribute the schedules for the tutoring sessions in their classes Monday morning. The schedule also is printed on page seven in this issue of The Cardinal.

The work taken up in the classes from 7 to 8 o'clock will be repeated from 8 to 9 o'clock so that those who wish may attend two different classes each night. Tutors will be glad to discuss particular difficulties and explain specific problems which were not taken up in the regular meeting.

ONE IS KILLED IN AUTO SMASH

Milwaukee Train Hits Car
at Yahara River
Crossing

One Madison girl was killed and two other persons were perhaps fatally injured about 1:15 o'clock yesterday when a Milwaukee road passenger train struck an automobile at the Yahara river crossing just off Winnebago st., demolishing the machine and hurling four occupants against a tree near the right of way.

The fourth passenger in the car, a boy, escaped injury.

The dead:

Belle Beorve, 10 years old niece of William Boyd.

The injured:

Mrs. William Boyd, age 56, wife of Desk Sergeant Boyd of the police force.

Martin Jones, 39, machinist, roomer at the Boyd home.

Paul Boyd, age 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd, was not injured.

Jones sustained a fractured skull and is in a very serious condition at the Methodist hospital.

Mrs. Boyd's injuries had not been fully determined, but it is known that she suffered a broken hip and possible internal derangements.

Miss Belle Beorve, niece of the Boyd's died from internal injuries, a few minutes after the ambulance brought her to the hospital.

The accident occurred about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Jones, who is a machinist at the Gisholt Machine Co., is a roomer at the Boyd home. It was his car in which they were riding.

None of the hundreds who gathered at the scene of the tragedy had witnessed the accident. Just how it happened is not known. Mr. Jones rounded the corner of Winnebago st. and turned past the Yahara hotel. This street crosses the Milwaukee road tracks within a hundred feet from the corner.

From a short distance away it is difficult to determine whether or not a train is approaching, it is said, and evidently Jones was not aware of the oncoming passenger.

The automobile was advancing at only a fair rate of speed, it was reported. It was struck squarely by the locomotive and hurled some 20 feet against a tree. The machine was a total wreck. It was a Buick touring car.

Paul Boyd, age 12, saw the train coming. He yelled to Jones to stop the car and then jumped out of the machine into the street just before the crash.

His mother and her niece did not understand his yell at the instant, and a moment later it was too late. The woman and the girl and Jones were hurled into the air by the impact.

Mrs. Boyd's body was thrown several feet landing beside the track. The other two were hurled further. The girl never regained consciousness. Mrs. Boyd and Mr. Jones were partially conscious when they arrived at the hospital.

Three doctors worked over the crash victims. They were Drs. R. H. Jackson, Dr. J. A. Jackson and Dr. A. S. Jackson. They hold out hope for the recovery of Mrs. Boyd and Mr. Jones.

Jones suffered a fractured skull and other injuries and may not live through the day, it was said. The body of the girl was removed to the Powers undertaking parlors

AMERICAN WILL TELL OF RUSSIAN TROUBLES FRIDAY

"My Experience in Soviet Russia" will be the subject on which Madame Pierre Ponafidine will speak under the direct auspices of W. A. A. January 12 in Music hall.

Madame Ponafidine is a woman of American birth and the wife of a Russian who owned a large estate between Petrograd and Moscow. She escaped from Russia this year and has an interesting story to tell of the "experiments" being carried on there now. She describes only what she actually saw on her own estate after it was taken over by the government.

She also explains how information is kept from the Russian citizens. She insists she did not know Theodore Roosevelt had been dead until almost nine months later when she came to this country. All the news of the United States was colored and presented a dismal prospect to all who were trying to come over.

Since her arrival in America last February, Madame Ponafidine has spoken in Buffalo and New York.

Prof. Macklin Returns From Investigating Tour

"Merchandising holds the secret of how the farmer can regain his buying power," declared Professor Macklin, in his discussion of the results of his research work.

Prof. Macklin will give the farmers and university students an account of his findings at the Farmer's Marketing conference that will be held at Agricultural hall, January 29—February 2. Mr. Macklin is said to have one of the best collections of data on cooperative marketing in the country.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

WISCONSIN AND INDIANA STACK UP TOMORROW

Hoosiers Are Optimistic Over Outcome of Game

With one Conference game under its belt, the Wisconsin basketball squad travels today to Bloomington, Ind., where it stacks up against Coach Les Mann's Hoosiers on Monday night.

The Hoosiers are more or less of an unknown quantity, but their early season showing indicates that they will rank with the leading teams—at least in the forepart of the race. Indiana won all three of its preliminary games while Wisconsin dropped two and captured one.

Coach Les Mann is a former big league baseball player. He was a regular outfielder with the Boston Braves and the Chicago Cubs in the National league and played in the Federal league also. Mann left the major leagues to teach basketball and baseball at Indiana. He succeeds George Lewis, former Wisconsin star, who recently resigned to take up a position with an industrial firm in Bloomington.

Thomas is one of the Indiana luminaries. He is a star on the court and also plays on the football team. The game tomorrow will be the first played between Indiana and Wisconsin for several years.

INDIANA TEAM IS OPTIMISTIC OVER WISCONSIN GAME

(Special to The Cardinal)
BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Jan. 6.—The University of Indiana will open its Conference basketball season Monday night when the Crimson netmen meet the University of Wisconsin basketball team here.

With three non-Conference victories on the tally sheet, Indiana's season looks very favorable according to local athletic authorities. Coach Mann has been drilling the squad of 20 men for the last six weeks on short passes and basket shooting. He intends to use only the short pass in his defensive work.

Bahr, Sanford, Coffey, Crowe and Thomas, all of last year's squad, are helping defend the colors again this season. No injuries have been received by any of the men in practice with the exception of Yoars, utility man, who received a broken nose shortly before vacation.

The entire student body and town are very enthusiastic about possibilities for a Conference championship this year, and are looking forward to the game Monday as a test of the outcome of the remainder of the season.

Below is Placed on Trumbull's All-American

Marty Below has been placed at tackle on the first all-American team which was picked by Walter Trumbull, conductor of The Listening Post in the New York Herald. Other Big Ten men placed on the first team are Kirk, Michigan, guard; McMillen, Illinois, guard; Locke, Iowa, quarter; Kipke, Michigan, back, and Thomas of Chicago at back. The entire second team is composed of eastern players with the exception of Martineau of Minnesota in the back field.

Retail Men Plan Big Dinner For Jan. 15th

The annual retailers' dinner, under the auspices of the Madison Association of Commerce will be held at the Christ Presbyterian church Monday, Jan. 15. About 150 local retailers are expected to attend.

The men will discuss informally plans for an ice carnival, a "Ford Day," greater Madison business program and mailing lists. The committee in charge is composed of W. C. Schumacher, Louis Anderson, Arthur Hedquist and Lester Thompson.

Miss Elizabeth O'Grady returned to Washington, D. C. She was accompanied to Chicago by her sister Miss Kittie-Mae, 14 N. Franklin street, whose guest she has been for two weeks.

New Basketball Rules Bring Speed And Fairer Penalties

Just before the present season opened, basketball followers were speculating as to the probable effects of the new rules on the game. Most teams have now played three or four games and a few tendencies and results both in the scoring and other departments can be noted.

When the new rules were made, the stand-pat element argued that doubling the penalty for personal fouls committed on members of the offensive team in its scoring end-zone would make free throws too important a part in the final score despite the fact that the common technical fouls formerly penalized with a free throw are now classified as violations, for which the ball merely changes hands out of bounds.

Analysis and comparison of the official scoring records for the first three games played by Ohio state university team last season and this show a surprising fixedness in the possibility of points resulting from fouls in a single game under the old and new rules.

The combined toll of personal fouls on both teams in three games under the old rules was 47, under the new 48. Extra throws on the 48 personal fouls, exacted under the new rules, numbered 26. But their effect on the pendulum was neutralized by elimination under the new rules of 30 free throws awarded for technical fouls called in three games under the old code.

The facts seem to leave a decided balance in favor of the new rules.

"We now have a system of graduated penalties that more nearly fit the crime, instead of the same infliction for minor offenses (traveling with the ball or breaking a dribble) as for vigorous personal offenses (holding or pushing an opponent)" L. W. St. John, director of the national basketball rules committee, declared.

The court of public opinion which sits in judgment at the games also has registered a few observations, the most decided of which is that the game under the new rules is much faster and therefore more interesting to watch.

Thus is put to rest some uneasiness expressed before the rule-makers that stopping to take the ball out of bounds every time a player traveled or broke his dribble would slow the game up more than stopping to toss a foul.

Lighted Rink is Being Prepared For Skaters

With the snow swept from a large portion of Lake Mendota, skaters can now take their exercise on the ice north of the gym.

A portion of ice extending from the Chi Psi house to the toboggan slides has been cleared. A shelter house has been erected near the slide which will be heated. Hot lunches are to be served in the house.

Electric lights will be placed around a section of the lake and a rink maintained. The toboggan slides also have been put in repair and are available for students.

Winter sports are taking their place in the fore of athletic activities. Plans already are being made for the winter carnival which is to be held on February 10.

TEGTMAYER WILL OUTLINE BADGER AT CONFERENCE

Gamber Tegtmeyer '24, editor of the Wisconsin Badger, has been requested to give an outline of the 1924 year book before the Western Student conference, meeting at Northwestern university March 15-17.

In requesting Wisconsin's editor to present this topic at the conference, members of both the Northwestern and Purdue committees stated that it was because the Badger was undoubtedly the best year book in the conference.

A new plan is to be tried this year at the conference. Instead of each school presenting one problem for discussion as has been the custom, an outline plan of some activity will be required from each representative.

A member of the Missouri Valley conference will outline activities in their conference, showing the methods used in handling problems arising in that district and how they have been solved.

The University of Texas, which has successfully tried out a student manager plan, will outline the methods used in the southern school. In this connection it is understood that there has been some agitation for a similar system here and it is expected that the Wisconsin delegation will make a report to the Student senate upon the plan after the conference.

Interest in Women's Baseball is Rising

Women's baseball squads will be picked sometime during this week and interest in that sport is now at a high pitch. Many informal contests have been held between different classes already and the games indicate that the official women's baseball interclass tournament, which will be played off the last part of February and in March, will be made up of a series of hotly contested matches. This year's junior class won the championship last year as sophomores.

WISCONSIN 8TH IN TOTAL HONOR FOOTBALL VOTE

Wisconsin polled 211 votes and ranks eighth in a list of 22 universities which have men eligible for the first five all-American teams which were compiled by the Romeike Agency, taken by a census based on the votes of news-paper critics.

Below with 57 votes, was given the largest vote of Wisconsin men and is placed on the second team. Others on the second team with their total votes are: Barr, 56, and Williams with 47. Tebell received 51 votes and is placed on the third team.

The first team is composed of Gray, Princeton and Goebel of Michigan at ends; Julian, Brown, and Treat, Princeton as tackles; Schwab, Lafayette, and Minnick, Iowa, at guard; Garbisch, Army is the center; Buell, Harvard at quarter; Locke, Iowa, at full; and Kaw, Cornell, and Owen, Harvard as halfbacks.

Michigan heads the list of universities with 365 votes, Iowa second with 345, and Chicago third with 268. Although Wisconsin ranked eighth in total votes she is tied for third place with Chicago and Princeton for the number of men placed on the teams, each have four men.

Iowa Swamps Chicago in First Tilt, 35 to 23

(Special to The Cardinal)

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 6—Iowa's basketball team won its first Conference game of the season when it defeated the Chicago quintet, 35 to 23, at Bartlett gymnasium here tonight. The Hawkeyes are coached by Sam Barry, cage mentor who used successfully Coach Walter E. Meanwell's system of play at Knox college last year.

SCOTT IS RIGHT ABOUT CHICAGO SAYS CULLER

E. A. Culler of the philosophy department sanctions the recent statement of Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern university, who described Chicago as "the center of higher learning of America." Dr. Scott spoke Thursday afternoon at the public conference on "Fifty Years of Cultural Progress" held at the Chicago public library in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the institution.

"The increase in attendance at institutions of higher learning during each of the last five decades has been relatively three times as great as the increase in the population of the city," Dr. Scott said. "From 1873 to 1873 the growth of Chicago has been marvelous, from a frontier city, to a railroad city, later an industrial city, and then a financial city. But now with justice we may speak of Chicago as the pre-eminent educational city of the country."

President Scott reminded his audience that in 1840 the population of Chicago was 48,000, and the public schools were taught by four male teachers, while today there are in Chicago and Evanston six colleges or universities, nine theological schools, eight law schools, six medical schools and two collegiate schools for business.

"Chicago university and John Hopkins university Baltimore, Md., are the two greatest universities for research in the United States," Mr. Culler declared. "Fully 25 percent of the students at Chicago university are post graduate students or doing extensive research work."

Announcement that Wisconsin scholarships will soon be available to those eligible has been made by the committee on loans and scholarships.

The Wisconsin scholarships were established in 1919 when the board of regents appropriated the sum of $5,000 for undergraduate scholarships consisting of 50 scholarships of $100 each.

Applicants must be first year students, either men or women, who are registered as residents of Wisconsin, who have shown worth and ability and who are in need of financial assistance. Students in the Law School, the Medical school, the Graduate school, or upper class students in other colleges are not eligible. WINTER COMES

WINTER is with us again and with it winter sports.

Pucks fly on the lower campus. Skaters dodge snowbanks on the lake. The toboggan slide which was built three years ago and has always lacked snow has been initiated. Skis are in use.

The most pleasant of sports and the most vigorous of exercise are close at hand. A few students are taking advantage of them. More should.

It is indeed strange that winter sports have not been more vigorously promoted in past years. Football and basketball and other major sports are all right in their way as spectacles and spirit-builders, but in the long run it's mass athletics that count.

Winter sports are mass athletics. When skating time comes, we have thousands participating rather than watching and merely exercising their throats.

Physically, and to a great extent mentally, an hour's skating is worth considerably more to the individual than an hour's cheering.

The athletic department is more and more showing its realization of the value of winter sports. Two years ago it initiated the skating race across the lake. This year it has employed a special coach for winter sports. It also has added a touch of virility to the great event of the winter by scheduling a ski tournament for Prom time.

By sending a team to Lake Placid it put Wisconsin side by side with other great winter sports institutions. The team did not win, it is true; but it held its own; and such competition is worth while.

That that team did not make a better showing, in spite of Madison's excellent advantages, is significant. It is conclusive evidence that Wisconsin students have not made sufficient use of their advantages. That winter sports have not been promoted sufficiently.

The time for the ice carnival is approaching. That ice carnival is the most effective means for promoting winter sports. It should be one of the great events of the university, equal in magnitude to prom.

The Cardinal hereby pledges its utmost efforts to make this year's ice carnival the biggest ever.

And in the meantime Coach Viner needs more men for the hockey team.

Hockey is a sport in which Wisconsin should excel. But as a Badger sport it is young and has not yet been successful. Material has been scarce and could not be developed in one season. But it is being developed out on the lower campus now.

You may not be a world beater as a hockey player, but if you can skate, go over to the hockey rink and try the game. Coach Viner will teach you how.

FOR EVERYBODY

IT'S to be the Prom for Every Badger, so the slogan says; and the committee is doing its utmost to make it so. Organized groups naturally put on their own parties, and at times the impression has been received that prom is an event for the organized groups.

What the situation was four years ago, we do not know; but in the last few years there has been no justification for such an impression. Especially is there no justification this year.

Several prom going groups have been organized already for this year and more are being organized by free lance students. There is no reason for anybody's being left out.

COACH?

THE weeks pass and no announcement has yet been made about who is to coach the next year's Badger eleven. So far as anyone can observe, Coach Richards' resignation has been taken for granted by the athletic council.

The students want John Richards back, at least for one more year. Until they know that he is coming back or has refused positively to come back, the student body will not be satisfied.

We ask the athletic council whether it has urged Coach Richards to come back. We should like to have an answer.

While here in the university, Mr. Baas was very popular, and for three years was leader of the Glee club. He was also a member of Edwin Booth dramatic club in 1904 and 1905.

In 1906 and 1907 he studied in Berlin, but returned the next year to tour the New England states and Canada with the "Ben Greet Shakespearean Players". He was director of the vocal department of the Columbia College of Music at Seattle in 1908.

Tickets for the recital are on sale at the A. E. Smith Music store on State street. Women will canvass the university district next week in the ticket sale campaign.

Is That Stage Kiss
Genuine or Not?
Fisk O'Hara Tells

People imagine that the actors or actresses that they see upon the stage or screen must be fond of each other when they embrace or kiss. But—ah!—in many instances the people that indulge in this osculatory pastime do not speak to each other off the stage, yet they have that wonderful gift of imagination that they can fool the public.

Sometimes a kiss on the stage means a great deal and sometimes it doesn't, to wit: in "Land of Romance"—in which Fiske O'Hara will be seen at the Parkway Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday, he places a kiss on the lips of the girls whom he is supposed to be engaged to in the first act but it is a stage kiss.

The last act tells the tale. He walks up to Miss Pat Clary, and gives her one of those real clinging, loving kisses that mean so much, but here's the hitch: Miss Pat Clary in private life is known as Mrs. Fiske O'Hara. So there you are, but still it does not take away from the handsome Irish tenor all the romance that one has held for him in the past.

O'NEILL PAROLE TURNED DOWN

Daugherty Refuses to O. K. Act of State Board of Control

Joseph P. O'Neill, first prohibition director of Wisconsin, now serving a year's term in the Milwaukee House of Correction must serve out his term in spite of the fact that he was recently recommended for parole by the state board of control and Gov. Blaine.

Word came from Washington yesterday that Atty. General Daugherty has refused to approve the parole on the ground that under the law federal prisoners must have been sentenced to more than a year to be eligible to parole.

Under the law, a federal prisoner under sentence in a state institution is subject to parole the same as state prisoners except that federal prisoner paroles must be approved by the attorney general.

Had O'Neill taken the original sentence of one year and a day, in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, which was later reduced, by Judge F. A. Geiger to one year, he probably would have been paroled months ago, according to officials as were Hyman R. Gordon and Joel Jacobson, former Kenosha saloonkeepers sentenced the same day to federal prison.

Judge Geiger had reduced the sentence to enable O'Neill to be confined in the House of Correction as only federal prisoners sentenced to one year or less may be imprisoned elsewhere than a federal prison. O'Neill pleaded to be sent to the House of Correction.

penditure, in the first case one of $82,647.61 and in the second instance one of $49,290.50. The College of Letters and Science is second in appropriations for maintenance by a narrow margin. The medical school paid out the next highest amount for improvements which reached the $13,000 mark.

The general summary of expenditures by colleges is: Agriculture, $1,319,12.25; Letters and Sciences, $1,174,898.43; Medicine, $30,932.74; Engineering, $323,909.61; Education, $65,456.14; Law, $56,433.04; Music, $49,638.56.

Other significant amounts are Extension division, $492,576.96; physical plant, (heating, maintenance of buildings and grounds, power etc.) $296,534.39; Washburn observatory, $14,711.14; and general library, $79,022.14.

State Appropriation Ratio Less. Of the receipts received for the maintenance, operation and construction cost of running the university 56.10 per cent is received from the state, 22.12 per cent from the students, 4.9 per cent from the U. S. government, 0.60 per cent from interest, 0.02 per cent from the counties, 3.51 per cent from gifts and 13.46 per cent from various sources (sales, etc.).

A survey made over a period of 10 years shows that in general the ratio of receipts from the state to the total receipts has been gradually decreasing while the ratio of the receipts from students, gifts and various sources has been increasing.

Scratch your head and cudgel your brains, for this is a deep problem and a solution to all the parts may be difficult. The reward for the person who tries to solve it will be one gross of icicles or a one-way ticket to Mendota (as the donor sees fit).

Given: Last evening at 10 minutes past 5 o'clock a frosh was seen going north on Park street "wearin' th' green" and whistling. Overcoat was nil.

He appeared tired as if he had just come from a hike. Past this sauntering fellow were hurrying other people wrapped in their heavy overcoats.

To prove: Was the given frosh comfortable? What was he thinking about? Is he the epitome of loyalty or should he be given the one-way boost to Mendota?

CHINESE GRAD WRITES DRAMA

"Poor Polly" Based on Writer's Experiences While at Wisconsin

Cheng-Chin Hsiung, the first Chinese student to graduate from the Department of Speech, has written a one act play, "Poor Polly", based on his experiences while taking post graduate work here.

The play, a well worked piece of drama, full of grasping situations, deep character study, with an intricate double-triangle plot, is ultra-fashion American with Oriental touches. Pauline, the heroine, is a wealthy co-ed and society girl taken from the statistics published in the Commerce Magazine last year.

The scene of the play is laid in a parlor of a sorority house at the University of North Carolina where the Carolina Playmakers are putting on the play, and where Mr. Hsiung is working for his doctor's degree.

"I have enough material here for a full length play, but choose the one-act form and technique, that is, I try to condense, tell the story backwards, making every speech count and reveal character," Mr. Hsiung writes in the Foreword to his play.

"The characters," the author continues, "I have analyzed and synthesized from my actual experiences in canvassing, mental testing, and in my undergraduate work at Iowa State College and Cornell University and postgraduate work at the University of Wisconsin and the University of North Carolina.

"I need but four; Peter, James, Sara and Polly. Sara is a girl I have met and glad to have met. Polly I have given mental examination to and is a woman I love to hate. Her speech response is recorded here almost verbatim. My eloquence is due to my objective and subjective knowledge of my characters. I have had many a sleepless night in writing the play. Most of the dialogue has been written in the dead silence of the night."

Northwestern Chemistry Head to Appear Before Chemists Here

Prof. B. A. Lewis, chairman of the Chemistry department at Northwestern university, will address the Wisconsin section of the American Chemical society on "The Organic Chemist at Work," at 6 o'clock Wednesday, January 10, in the auditorium of the Chemistry building.

Through his distinguished work with the Chemical Warfare service and his organic research, Professor Lewis is widely known in scientific circles. He is a most interesting and inspiring speaker and the lecture offers an unusual opportunity to any one interested in Chemistry.

The story of the scientific development of the vinyl arsines, in which he has been doing medicinal research, will be used to illustrate the methods of successfully solving problems in organic chemistry.

Suicide Body Brought Here For Examination

The body of William Peters, Waupun farmer, will be turned over to Dr. A. S. Loevenhart, university toxicologist, for examination by Dr. C. H. Bunting as soon as he is given orders to release the body.

Women Voters to Meet in S. G. A. Room Thursday

A special meeting of the Collegiate League of Women Voters will be held at 4:30 o'clock Thursday in the S. G. A. room at Lathrop's hall to decide on a new day for meetings during the coming semester. Mrs. Louis Kahlenberg will speak at this meeting on "Legislative Procedure". Ohio State University Has Enrollment of 8,850

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 5—Whose sons and daughters are going to college these days?

"See Bradstreets" might once have been the answer, but not so any more, at least for the fast-growing state universities of the Middle West, according to figures contained in the annual report of Dr. W. O. Thompson, president of Ohio State university.

Of the 8,850 students enrolled during the year last closed, in Ohio state university, 1,224 were children of farmers, Dr. Thompson reveals. Of the remainder, 449 were children of merchants, 292 of salesmen, 276 of superintendents and managers, 222 of railroad employes, 226 of physicians and surgeons, 216 of accountants, 219 of state and city officials, 186 of engineers, 183 of manufacturers, 189 of contractors, 141 of artisans and so on through a wide list of vocations.
