SORORITIES ACT TODAY ON NEW RUSHING RULES

Pre-School Plan, Party Schedule and Costs to Come Up

The action sororities will take concerning revised rushing rules for next fall will be decided at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon when Pan Hellenic association hold a special meeting in Lathrop parlors to discuss the recommended suggestions for changes in the rushing arrangements.

The early rushing plan, which provides that rushing commence on September 19 before the opening of classes and not the first week and after, as has been the custom, will be considered. It is believed that a new system of this nature will prevent interference with a good scholastic start.

Plan More Rushing Events

Another matter of discussion will be a new schedule of rushing affairs to replace the one tea, two informal parties and one formal affair held last season. According to the suggested revision, the eight events planned will better enable the sororities to become thoroughly acquainted with the girls they are rushing.

The opening tea will be held Wednesday, September 19, followed by two informal functions on Friday. Two more informal affairs will be held Saturday, September 22, followed by a second tea from 2 to 6 o'clock on Monday. The plan provides next for a general sifting which will result in invitations to an informal function on Thursday, January 27, followed by the final formal affair on Friday.

Hired music may be obtained for only one party, under the plan, and all sororities making similar contracts for 3-piece orchestras for $25, through a special arrangement with Thompson's.

May Charge for Dinners

Invitations for the first tea may be sent out any time after June 25. Pledging will take place on Sunday, September 30. The process of invitations and acceptances through the dean's office will remain unchanged.

A means of cutting down financial expenses will be considered in the form of charging the rushees a set sum of 35 cents for lunches and 50 cents for dinners.

No rushing may be done in chapter houses, as previously, thereby eliminating the use of machines or country and city homes of alumnae for entertainment purposes. The question of wearing pins during rushing will be taken up.

"Stop Thief" Mail Order Sale Will Begin Today

Beginning today, public sale of seats for "Stop Thief" will be conducted by mail order at the Parkway theater.

Due to the large number of prom groups attending the play in the evening, seats for this performance can be obtained only by those who mail their orders immediately.

Several prom groups which have arranged for other pre-prom functions on the evening of February 1 are attending the matinee. It also is expected that a large number of student play-goers will prefer the afternoon performance.

The usual custom of having the prom play a formal function has been abandoned this year. Both matinee and evening will be informal. The play is included in the general group of prom functions; however, it is a public affair and is not restricted to prom-goers.

Hulce is Selected to Serve With Exhibit Group

Prof. Ray S. Hulce of the animal husbandry department has been selected as a member of the judging corps composed of 12 men who are to place exhibits of the Ayrshire breed of cattle at 1923 shows and fairs by the Ayrshire Breeders' association.

Prof's Edisonian Query Stumps 78 And Brings Unique Answers

Bonar Law was passed by the International Economy conference. Henry C. Wallace is the originator of "Get Thin to Music."

Hugh Walpole is a correspondent for The New York Tribune.

Jesse Willard is a movie star, Henry C. Huber is head of the movie industry, Roy Haynes is a Chicago murderer and Victor H. Arnold is a Milwaukee politician and former head of the budget.

These are a few of the answers written down in an accuracy quiz given to 78 students in the junior editing class in the Course in Journalism, Monday morning. The examination was conducted by Prof. E. M. Johnson at the suggestion of the editorial staff of The Cardinal, desiring to learn what the students are reading.

Twenty names prominent in articles in the Chicago Tribune and the Wisconsin State Journal last week were selected by Professor Johnson for examination. The results give the class an average of 11.4 misses. The 38 men students averaged 11.2 misses, the 40 women, 11.7.

"Kewpie" Williams, conceited freshman in McCutcheon's "An Heir at Large," was called a sport writer, Rollie Williams, lip contest judge, and a writer for The Tribune. In all, 72 students failed to establish correct identity.

Three students missed on David Lloyd George. One thought him to be prime minister of England, one, member of parliament and the third generalized by calling him a British statesman.

Herrin is a former president of France, a figure in a Chicago scandal, the scene of Ku Klux Klan troubles, and a leader of the miners, according to answers of 20 students.

Clara Phillips was classed as a singer; Emile Coue, an evangelist, somebody prominent in China, French minister at reparations conference, and eminent scientist. Chancellor Cuno is Belgian minister, German ambassador, French statesman and an Italian statesman all at one time. Only 35 of the 78 students in the class succeeded in determining his correct identity. Arthur Sears Henning has the trying duties of head of the British finance commission and a German official.

One student still thinks Jesse Willard is heavyweight boxing champion.

"The results of the quiz show that the students read more scandal news than other subjects," Professor Johnson said yesterday.

"It takes them a long time to get prominent names fixed in their minds, as is shown by the fact that many missed the questions on Hugh Walpole, Capt. J. K. Skipworth, Chancellor Cuno, Charles Dawes and Senator Huber. Once a name is fixed, students fail to keep in touch with changes in position and other happenings concerning these persons.

The test was conducted seriously but without warning to members of the class. Lloyd George, Bonar Law, Gov. Len Small, Henry C. Wallace, Victor H. Arnold, Emile Coue, Clara Phillips, Hugh Walpole, Barbara La Marr, Capt. J. K. Skipworth, Jesse Willard, Raymond Poincare, Chancellor Cuno, Arthur Sears Henning, H. C. Huber, Chas. G. Dawes, Roy A. Haynes, Chester C. Platt, "Kewpie" Williams and Herrin.

Counting five off for each mistake, how high a grade can you make in identifying the names?

BEEBE DEPICTS JUNGLE'S LORE

Famed Entomologist Shows Brilliant Story of Animal Life

Lore of the jungles of British Guiana, interspersed with slides which showed bits of the glorious brilliancy of color so rampant in the animal life on the tropics, were the salient features of the lecture given by Mr. William Beebe, ornithological curator of the New York Zoological gardens, in the Engineering building auditorium last evening.

Mr. Beebe has chosen British Guiana as the field for his studies for three reasons: (1) because it is a British colony and therefore hospitable to zoological explorers, (2) because it is so near to the United States, and (3) because animal conditions there are in some cases but little changed from those existing at the time when Columbus discovered America.

The greater part of the lecture was given over to the presentation of fascinating lantern slides, which ranged in their scope from reproductions of beautiful flower forms to microscopic organisms.

The lecture was completed by the showing of two reels of motion picture film, one of which portrayed the habits of the Attus moth and the other the capture of a giant anteater.

In speaking of the value of the motion picture as a means of furthering zoological study, Mr. Beebe declared that it could never supplant the written notes, direct photographs and colored plates which have until now been used.

Kuenzli is Elected as Apis Club President

W. A. Kuenzli '24, was elected president of Apis club at a meeting yesterday afternoon in the Entomology building. Other officers elected for the coming semester are J. F. Crawford '23, vice-president; R. Butler '24, secretary-treasurer.

DR. J. H. HOLMES HERE FRIDAY TO TELL OF EUROPE

"Europe—Whither Bound?" will be the subject of the address to be given at 7:30 o'clock Friday night in Music hall under the auspices of the Social Science club, by Dr. John Haynes Holmes of the Community church, New York city. The reception committee of the club will give a banquet in honor of Dr. Holmes at 6 o'clock Friday night at the Capital cafe. Reservations for this should also be made through H. B. Shier '24, secretary of the club.

Dr. Holmes is not a stranger to Madison, since he spoke here two years ago at the gymnasium to an audience of approximately 1600 people on the subject, "Industrial Democracy." Besides being a preacher, Dr. Holmes is an author, a writer for "Unity," a weekly magazine, an economist, a traveler and a lecturer.

He recently has returned from a trip through Russia, Germany, France, Belgium and England. On labor and court industrial problems, Dr. Holmes is very well posted and is considered an authority on national and international movements. He has acquired the distinction of having his article on the Gandhi movement in India republished in a magazine of wide circulation in India.

The Social Science club attempted to secure the gymnasium for Dr. Holmes because of the nature of his address, but owing to the final examinations which follow next week, President Birge advised against the use of the building.

Three hundred seats have been reserved in Music hall for the students in Prof. W. H. Kiekhofer's 1-a and 1-b economic sections, for sociology students and for members of the club. Already 250 tickets have been given out. Students entitled to and desiring a ticket should communicate with Shier '24 by calling B. 4422.

DOGS TO RACE AT CARNIVAL

Elaborate Preparations For Winter Event Are Being Made

Plans to make the 1923 Ice Carnival the largest and best ever held in the history of the university are well under way. The week end beginning Thursday, February 8 will be filled with interesting and spectacular winter sport events and monopolize the attention of the student body during these days.

The annual Ice Carnival of the University will cooperate with the Madison Winter Sports week, and the buttons sold to finance the celebration will admit the wearer to both university and city functions. The buttons will be sold to all students at 50 cents each, which is half rate.

The finance committee appointed by the Madison Association of Commerce which is sponsoring the proceedings, expects to raise $5000 dollars by this method.

Ski Meet Will Start

The international ski tournament on February 3 will be considered a starter for the winter sport events later on. On the same date the student ice boat race will take place. A plan is under consideration in which each ice craft will carry a representative of the sporting section of a state newspaper of Wisconsin.

According to the present plans the schedule will include the following:

On Thursday a hockey game with some outside team probably Fond du Lac, will take place and arrangements for tobogganing and skating will be made. Pinckney street hill will probably be iced for coasters, and skaters will be provided with ample illumination on both Monona and Mendota. Friday is set for the city skating and skiing races on Monona, while Saturday will be the main carnival day for the university. The championship ice boat races will be run off, and as usual the winners will be awarded hand.

ASSEMBLY HITS AT EXPENSIVE SOCIAL EVENTS

Resolution Condemning Parties Here Brought Up Yesterday

A resolution strongly condemning undemocratic social functions at the university was introduced in the state assembly yesterday morning by Assemblyman Freehoff of Waukesha.

The resolution recommended no definite action in the annihilation of the functions branded as undemocratic, but declared that social events which many find impossible to attend, have no place in the university. It urged that a committee composed of representative students and faculty members be organized to formulate rules to wipe out exclusiveness.

Prom Not Mentioned

Assemblyman Freehoff is the man who it was reported, had a resolution framed to prevent the 1924 Junior prom from being held in the capitol. No mention of prom was made in Freehoff's latest resolution.

No action was taken on the resolution yesterday. It was referred to the consideration of the Committee on Revisions which will consider its form and worthiness of consideration. The committee is not permitted to hold the resolution longer than one day. It probably will be returned to the assembly today or tomorrow, according to E. C. Shaffer, chief clerk.

Alarmed Over Situation

The resolution follows: "Whereas, expensive social functions participated in by only a small portion of the students have developed at the university; and

Whereas, while this legislature believes that there should be as little interference as possible with the private life of students outside of the classroom, it is alarmed at the growing tendency toward making the university less democratic than a great state university should be; and

Whereas, the students and the faculty heretofore have demonstrated their readiness to curb outside activities of students which are detrimental to the university, through voluntary action without waiting for legislative compulsion, in eliminating the practice of hazing; therefore be it

Resolved, by the assembly, the senate concurring, that this legislature hereby expresses its conviction that expensive, formal social functions, which many students find it financially impossible to attend, have no place in the student life at the university; and be it further

Resolved, that this legislature urges the prompt organization of a committee composed of members of the faculty and of representative students to formulate and enforce rules and regulations which will eliminate all tendency toward exclusiveness in the social functions con-

STATE BUREAUS PLAN BUDGETS

76 Millions Requested For Expenses During 1924-25

Budget requests totalling $76,197,015, the amount which heads of state departments and institutions estimate will be required to meet their fiscal needs for the biennium 1923 to 1925, were placed before the legislature yesterday by J. B. Borden, secretary of the state board of public affairs.

The requests for funds to operate the state government and its activities, were submitted to the members of the two houses without recommendation by the public affairs board. In each instance the finance joint committee of the legislature will consider the estimates contained in the budget, and recommend appropriations commensurate with what it feels is the actual need.

Requests for funds are $8,000,000 larger than the appropriations granted by the 1921 legislature. They call for $68,201,000 to be spent on operation, $1,433,433 to be spent on maintenance and $6,561,004 to be spent on capital for the various state departments and institutions during the biennium.

Boards, commissions and departments ask $19,537,601 to carry on their activities during 1923-24 and $21,554,561 for 1924-25. Charitable and penal institutions have requests of $5,721,368 for 1923-24 and $6,734,564 for 1924-25, while educational activities exclusive of the university and normal schools are asking $3,067,889 for 1923-24, and $2,234,759 for 1924-25.

The nine Wisconsin normal schools ask $2,719,240 for the first year of the biennium and $2,572,126 for the second, while the university request is for $5,995,177 for the first year and $6,099,728 for the second. This makes the total requests $36,981,276 for 1923-24 and $39,215,739 for 1924-25, the largest estimated financial needs ever advanced by the state departments and institutions.

Wild Battle Throws Terror Into Dublin

DUBLIN—Dublin today was recovering from the most intense fighting within the city since the siege of the Four Courts. Irregular forces launched a sudden attack on several strategic points last night and although driven off, they continued intermittent firing until early today. For a short time the citizens caught on the streets fled in all directions seeking refuge from the bullets. Motormen abandoned their trams and passengers lay on the floors to avoid being hit.

Baillie Leaves $28,000; Widow and Sons Heirs

Approximately $28,000 was left by the late Edward T. Baillie, Madison business man and school board member, who died here two weeks ago, according to a petition to prove will which was filed in county court here today.

About $20,000 worth of personal property and $8,000 real estate are included in the estate. Julia Baillie, widow of the deceased, and two sons, Edward and Joseph, are the heirs.

Madison Scouts Rally To Be Held Friday

$55,000 Cash in Savings Stamps is Redeemed Here

Approximately $55,000 has been paid out in cash at the city post office for the redemption of war savings certificates since the first of the year when the stamps became payable.

All applications for redemptions before January 1 have been sent in to the Federal Reserve bank. The delay in mailing out checks was caused by the great number of requests which came in directly before the holidays. The bank plans to mail out all checks promptly within the next few weeks.

Many people are exchanging their 1918 series stamps for the new Treasury Savings certificates which are issued in $25, $100 and $1,000 denominations. These certificates sell respectively, for $20.50, $82 and $820 and are payable in five years.

Elect Three to Industrial School Board

Mayor Kittleson and Mr. Ramsay's terms expire. Death of Mr. Collins a week ago creates the third vacancy on the board which may also be filled by election of the board tomorrow night. Other matters of a minor nature will be discussed by the board.

BOWLING LEADS OUT OF DANGER AS FINALS NEAR

Phi Sigs and Alpha Chi Sigs Top Greek Leaguers

With only the last matches of the season remaining on the interfraternity bowling schedule, leading teams in both divisions virtually are sure of victory. While it is possible that the leaders may be overtaken in the matches to be rolled this week, indications point wins for the pace-setters in both divisions.

In the first division, the Phi Sigma Kappa five has a fairly safe lead with 30 victories and 6 defeats. The Sigma Phi Epsilon team is a close second with 28 wins and 8 defeats. The T. K. E. team is a poor third with 21 wins and 15 defeats.

In the second division the race is somewhat closer. The Alpha Chi Sigma team, which has held second place until recently, slid into first place in the last matches and leads the Sigma Nu bunch by one game. The D. U. five holds third with 24 wins and 12 defeats.

PHILLY HURLER THROWS MEAN DRINK

Cecil Causey "drawing one" in New York drug store.

Cecil "Red" Causey, former Giant hurler who is booked to pasture with the Phils the coming season, is in mid-season form right now—as far as the soft drink season is concerned. Causey is earning his "beans" money as clerk in a New York drug store. And he slings a mean coca-cola, say fans who call on him.

Fair Bowlers Begin Tournament in Lathrop

Every woman who wants to go out for the class bowling team must sign up in the Lathrop alleys today. Juniors and seniors are urged to come out.

Thus far 5 have signed up for the seniors, 6 juniors, 15 sophomores, and 14 greshmen. Squads are made up of 8 to 10 and teams are picked from these squads. Squads are to be selected the middle of February.

High scores on the Lathrop alleys up to date are Helen Zuelke '23, 204; Mildred Duvie '25, 184; Emily Hunt '25, 179.

HURLERS DRILL DESPITE LOSSES

Team Crippled By Loss of Four Men to Professionalism

Despite the loss of the captain and three battery men upon whom he planned to build his 1923 baseball team, Coach Guy Lowman continued to hold early season practice yesterday afternoon.

The loss of four men through their ineligibility for having played professional ball came as a severe blow and baseball prospects are extremely vague at the present time.

Lowman will not work all of his men until after examinations, but for the purpose of getting a line on some of his material he has a dozen men working every afternoon.

The loss of Phil Hoffman, pitching ace, and Montgomery, the most likely candidate for the receiving job, leaves the batter question as Lowman's greatest worry. Little material of the same calibre as those men who have been lost seems to be available.

Of the men who are working now, five are catchers and the others are hurlers. They all seem to be of about the same class, and from the few practices which have been held Lowman has not found any one to be better than the others.

The customary southern spring training trip will be taken again year, and the schedule for the games has been announced. It includes games with three Mississippi schools and one in Alabama.

The schedule for the spring trip follows:

April 6 and 7, Mississippi at Oxford; April 9 and 10, Mississippi A & M at Starkville; April 11 and 12, University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa; and April 13 and 14, Mississippi College at Jackson.

GRAPPLERS GET OVERTIME WORK AS MEET NEARS

Coach Hitchcock's Men Take on Blue Ribbon Form

Pointing toward the two wrestling meets next month with Minnesota and Iowa here, Coach Hitchcock has his men working overtime every afternoon. Minnesota comes on February 19 and Iowa February 23.

Judging from the showing the team made at Northwestern Friday, Hitchcock has little to fear from Conference schools, but he is taking no chances because Minnesota is known to have a husky and experienced bunch of grapplers.

The hardest dual meet of the year will be on March 9 when Wisconsin travels to Ames, which is famed for its wrestlers and track teams. Coach Hitchcock's ambition is to defeat Ames and prospects are good for his doing so this year.

The team is captained by one of the best and most experienced mat men in the Conference. Capt. Edward Tempkin earned a name for himself last year and can be counted on to win every match this year. Behind him he has a team of strength and a squad with also is fortunate in having George Hitchcock for wrestling coach.

The team came out of the Northwestern tilt in the best condition, with the exception of Gregor, whose legs were badly scraped up by his opponent.

FORM SQUAD OF 30 FROSH TANK MEN LAST NIGHT

The frosh swimming meet last night helped to give Coach Steinauer some idea of the material available from the first year men, and a squad of 30 men was selected who will start practicing immediately after final exams. The regular squad will be picked from this group.

The men on the squad are Louis C. Leak, M. Gil, Fred H. Stemm, J. M. Bell, Ed Snell, Ed Johnson, J. H. Tee, S. A. Megeath, John Ray, Ted Gray, John Hale, J. H. Riley, A. M. Strand, R. A. Nixon, Herbert M. Aitken, D. A. Buckley, C. G. Vulter, Paul T. Smith, H. H. Jaeger, E. G. Beck, R. B. Coleman, H. A. Tyke, L. J. Rieselbach, H. C. Wolf, S. W. Roland, S. W. Sorenson, C. E. Kading, E. A. Quim, Don West, B. P. Newton and R. Koch.

The squad has been handicapped greatly thus far, as the varsity team has needed the tank constantly since its completion. Although the frosh have only had one or two practices, Coach Steinauer says that there are 12 or 15 men who look especially promising. The team will start practicing with the varsity squad very soon after the second semester begins.

A. of C. Members to Plan Bigger Business

Members of the Madison Association of Commerce were made happy last night. At least they should have been. They were first served a splendid dinner at the Christ Presbyterian church and then, in the business meeting following were given ample opportunity to air their views on a variety of questions.

"We are going to have an Ice Carnival that Madison people can be proud of. Madison is the playground of the middle west in summer. We are going to make it the winter playground as well," declared Louis Hirsch.

The advisability of a Ford day for Madison was introduced by Lester Thompson. This question was referred to the automobile committee of the chamber.

The third suggestion was introduced by Louis Andelson, of Andelson Bros., to promote greater Madison business. The suggestion was given the support of all members present.

JANESVILLE — Damage of $10,000 was done at the A. P. Fossum farm in Beloit township Thursday night by fire which destroyed two barns. Five cows, four hogs and two horses were burned

Stanford Athletes to Suffer Ineligibilities

Seven football stars at Stanford university were declared ineligible because of scholastic deficiencies, according to an announcement made by the university registrar recently. The Varsity men are Murray, Cuddeback, George Houck, Joseph Douglas, Norman Dole, Charles Johnston, Bill Pheney and Thatcher Taylor. Four in the freshmen squad also will be ineligible to compete next fall. Eighty-five in all were suspended, including three track men, Glenn Hartranft, national intercollegiate shot put and discuss winner, Thurman Clarke, quarter miler, and Al Smith, distance man.

PREDICTIONS GO FLOOIE AS IOWA AND PURPLE WIN

Badger Five Works to Prevent Upset By Gophers

The Big Ten basketball race took on a complex appearance after defeats suffered by Michigan and Purdue, touted as the two best possibilities for the championship.

In a dime-novel finish, Iowa snatched an 18 to 17 victory from the crippled Wolverines. Michigan was leading by one point with 25 seconds to play when a Hawkeye grabbed the tip-off and slung the sphere in the general direction of the basket. The long shot dropped in the net and the game ended with the Hawks in a one-point lead.

Michigan Not at Best

Wisconsin cannot lay too much stress upon the Michigan defeat. Coach Guy S. Lowman who officiated in the contest, said yesterday that Michigan was weakened by loss of Cappon, star guard, who was not in condition to play. Cappon is the bulwark of the Michigan defense. Lowman gave a good deal of credit to Haggerty, new Michigan forward, who is developing into one of the stars of the team.

Overconfidence had to do with Purdue's loss to Northwestern. The Boilermakers cannot forget that they are Conference champions even though Butler college trounced them 43 to 20, in a recent preliminary contest.

Gullion, as usual, is the big scoring star for Purdue. He caged three baskets against the Purple.

Gophers May Upset Meanwell Five

Robbins is a guard who probably will supplant Holwerda, regular on last year's quintet. Robbins counted five free throws against Northwestern and seems to eclipse his veteran rival. Eversman and Masters, Purdue forwards, had trouble in locating the basket. The Boilermakers led at the end of the first half and were beaten only in the last minutes of play. McKenzie, captain, and Stegman are given most of the credit for Northwestern's win.

Coach Meanwell is driving his Badger team hard in preparation for the game at Minneapolis Saturday. Although the Gophers are supposed to be especially weak this year, there is no reason to believe that they cannot upset the dope on Wisconsin as they have often done in previous years. It was not so long ago that a Badger five, championship contender, went up to the Gopher stronghold and lost a 22 to 21 contest when they thought victory was sewed up.

Doc Cooke has enough eligibles to make a couple of Varsity teams, reports from Gophertown say. He is forced to use a reserve outfit composed of men who are playing their first year of Conference basketball.

Dope Favors Wisconsin

Michigan walloped Minnesota, 32 to 11. Iowa beat Michigan, 18 to 17 and Chicago 35 to 23. Wisconsin trounced Chicago, 24 to 13. Thus, Wisconsin is, all things being equal, about on a par with Michigan, and 20 points better than Minnesota. Paper comparison is uncertain, however, as Hughie Fullerton will tell anyone who asks him about the late world series.

With Gibson coming back after his slump, and with Gage and Elsom hitting on all cylinders, the Wisconsin offense is gaining momentum. The Badgers will be keyed up for the Minnesota game and will then let down until after the examination period when they take up the hardest part of the schedule.

in building up a successful team this year Kubosh is the outstanding all around man at present.

The first meet will be Milwaukee February 10, Milwaukee has a very good team this year and meets Chicago, another of the Big Ten schools. This meet with the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. team will be only a preliminary contest and will test the strength of the Badgers before the Big Ten contests due.

PRICE CUT

THE reduction of the price of Tom, though not of immense significance in the individual account, is an encouraging sign. Considered collectively, it will mean a saving of more than $1,000.

It is significant evidence that the Prom committee is practicing as well as encouraging economy, an indication of a movement to make Prom more proportionate to pocketbooks.

If the same spirit is shown by those organizing parties incident to Prom, it will mean a saving of 15 per cent.

BOOK AID

THE book problem again is imminent. With the beginning of the new semester, it will again be necessary to dip into pocketbooks for text book purchases. The high price of most text books makes this an excruciating process.

The Y. M. C. A. is doing real service by conducting an exchange for second hand books.

Here's a chance for a co-operative attack on the high price of books. By selling text books no longer needed you can raise money to buy at a reduced price texts that you need.

WISE CHOICE

FROM is a time of relaxation, a period of playing between the end of a grind and the resumption of routine. The University players have shown their good judgement by picking for Prom a play which makes no intellectual demands on its audience.

The organization of players has as its purpose the promulgation of good drama which has a higher aim than mere entertainment, but sound sense has told it that Prom time is no occasion for aesthetic and intellectual concentration. People want to play at Prom time and the players are helping them play.

"Stop Thief" is frankly a farce, a side-splitting stimulus for laughs. It is in the spirit of the season.

NOT YET

A startling upset in basketball a dope gives Wisconsin an auspicious rating in the percentage column. But it is not wise to take too much stock in mere scores; Wisconsin has some mighty hard teams yet to meet. The season has scarcely begun.

Last fall, shortly after Homecoming, we observed that September championships are not very valuable, and expressed the hope that Wisconsin would not have a December championship in basketball.

We have not yet noticed any indications of overconfidence, and we hope that any tendencies that way will be inhibited. March championships are especially desirable, but we hope students will wait awhile before deciding where to put the pennant.

DIAMONDS AND DOLLARS

ANOTHER contingent of Badger athletes has been consigned to the ranks of the has-beens, so far as Varsity competition goes. The baseball team has been appreciably weakened.

Wisconsin, however, is not unique in this respect. Other Conference institutions have been dropping men right along, without concurrent publicity.

It is a sad evidence of university spirit to find that so many men have yielded to the lure of the diamond's commercial worth. But still, we suppose, it is but evidence that athletes are human.

The action on the matter and others of the kind is encouraging evidence of the high standards of university athletic competition.

Approximately 250 women students are earning part of their expenses here.

A 16-foot chess board was used in radiophone chess matches recently played by the Universities of Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Approximately 4,000 sons and daughters of business men were enrolled here last year according to a survey conducted by a student magazine.

Electric meter men from 46 Badger cities last year enrolled in a special short course in the College of Engineering.

A large number of commencement addresses in Wisconsin high schools are now given each year by university professors.

Winnebago county is represented here this year by a total of 99 students, including 25 women and 74 men.

Looking Back On Wisconsin

The annual Agricultural dance will be given tonight in Lathrop hall.

Engineering and Agricultural freshmen are to hear Dean Birge today at a special convocation.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

A plan has been suggested whereby the university will conduct all exams in one week, and close the other week, thereby evincing Wisconsin by saving fuel.

John R. Richards was reappointed football coach yesterday.

Chairman Ayer of the fuel committee praises Wisconsin fraternities for the stand which they have taken in regard to the fuel question. He thanks them for the sacrifices they have made.

The associate advertising manager of The Cardinal is to enter the aviation corps.

Professors Laud Many Attributes Of Hugh Walpole

"Hugh Walpole, whom I met about six weeks ago at a luncheon in New York, has a very engaging personality," Prof. J. F. A. Pyre of the English department says of the English novelist who will speak Thursday night in Music hall.

"At the time Walpole, who is good looking and popular, was being much 'lionized' by New York society women. His sociability and fame as a writer made him a much sought after guest."

Walpole is the most promising of the English novelists in the opinion of Carl Russell Fish, professor in the department of history. "The pictures he draws of the different classes of English society and the different periods of history are substantial in their content, and clear cut and vivid in their treatment," Professor Fish said.

"I have never heard Hugh Walpole speak," Professor Fish said, "but if his early environment had any effect, the lecture will be well given. Walpole's father is the Bishop of Edinburgh, in Scotland, and the boy grew up in public speaking atmosphere."

Prof. Karl Young of the English department, says of Mr. Walpole: "The university is very fortunate to have Hugh Walpole here. He is the particularly distinguished novelist of our time, and is capable of expounding his art. Probably few persons now lecturing could present the essentials of contemporary fiction any more effectually."

Prof. Andrew Hopkins' Mother Passes Away

Mrs. Hopkins has lived on her farmstead more than 50 years. She was the widow of the late Richard Hopkins who has developed the farm.

Judson Resigns as Head of Chicago U.

Harry Pratt Judson, president of the University of Chicago since 1907, has resigned, effective Feb. 20, the sixteenth anniversary of his elevation to the position, it was announced Monday night.

Ernest D. Burton, head of the department of New Testament and early Christian literature and director of the libraries, has accepted the position of acting president.

President Judson, who has been a member of the faculty since 1892, is retiring, a statement said, to devote more time to investigations and publications on which he has been working. The board conferred on him the title of president emeritus.

JAZZ BAND PLAYS ORPH LAST HALF

Closed by many of the Orpheum's regular patrons as one of the best bills of the current season, the triple headliner program may be seen for the last time tonight.

The Great Leon and his "Wonder Workings" are mystifying the first half and audiences, chiefly because of accomplishments are all originated by himself and his illusions are quite different from any ever presented by any other illusionist.

Another act that is considered a strong number is that of Byal and Early. In addition to their exclusive songs, they introduce comedy talk which enlivens their part of the evening's entertainment.

Other acts contributing to the performance the fore part of the week are Milton Pollack and players in George Ade's "Just Out of College;" The Royal Venetian Five in "A Venetian Musical Melange;" Moore and Fields in "Spilling the Beans;" and Kinzo, the interesting entertainer.

Youth and Melody Features Last Half

Jazz Bands are one of the new forms of entertainment for vaudeville. A surpassingly good one, before Carl Shaw and Lo Lorraine will dance and sing, is to be heard in the act "Youth and Melody." The songs and dance steps hail from Broadway, where they are favorites in the theaters and cafes along the gay street.

The comedy portion of the new program will, in part, be supplied by Brady and Mahoney. The title of this originality in skits is "The Fireman and the Chief." One character will represent a Hebrew fireman and the other a typical chief of the department.

Four more standard Orpheum circuit attractions will be added to make the week-end bill measure up to the high quality established by Orpheum vaudeville.

6 STUDENTS OF EUROPE TO TOUR U. S., LECTURING

Although six students from various universities of Europe will travel through the United States on a lecture tour, Wisconsin is not to be one of the lucky universities to hear them. The students are coming to America under the auspices of the National Student Forum and will visit approximately 50 universities in its tour which is to last until May.

The students represent the University of London, the University of Leiden, the University of Heidelberg, the International People's Institute, Alsmore and the Universities of Copenhagen and Prague.

The party will be divided, three students under the leadership of Hon. Rothchild, the executive secretary of the Forum, will visit the colleges in the East and northern states; the other three, under the guidance of George Pratt, Jr., foreign secretary and treasurer will go through the western and southern states.

Some were present at the Students' conference in Toronto, and it is felt that they will be successful in bringing about a closer feeling between the nations and in clearing away some of the misunderstanding which now exists.

ICE CARNIVAL COMMITTEES

An important meeting of all carnival committees will be held at 5 o'clock tonight at the headquarters in the Union building.

HARRY P. JUDSON

Libe Is In Possession Of Many Interesting And Rare Manuscripts

(Editor's note—This article concludes a series of three begun in Sunday's Cardinal on the Wisconsin Historical library.)

The manuscript room on the first floor of the Library building is the holy of holies of the Wisconsin Historical society. In this sanctuary can be found a tremendous collection of valuable letters, journals, survey-books, pension statements, muster-rolls and a wealth of old original material bearing upon the early history of the country and state.

The 2,000 or so volumes are chiefly, but not wholly, concerned with the exploration and early settlement of the region lying between the Appalachian mountains and the Mississippi river. The society also owns a small number of European manuscripts.

Draper Collection is Far-Famed

The Draper collection, gathered by one of the society's fathers, is one of the most famous groups of manuscripts in the land. It covers a period from 1735 until the close of the War of 1812. In it are manuscripts gathered from an area including Alabama, Illinois, Mississ-sippi and New York.

The larger portion of Dr. Draper's famous collection consists of the man's interviews and widespread correspondence with pioneers and their descendants while seeking information concerning frontiersmen and Indian chiefs, all of which is freely interspersed with his critical comments and notes.

One of the most striking sets of manuscripts collected by Dr. Draper is that of Daniel Boone's writing which fills about a dozen volumes.

As one turns the yellow leaves covered with age-worn handwriting, he smiles as he pictures the silver-haired, enthusiastic collector riding his nag about the countryside gathering together his invaluable group of manuscripts.

Numbers 500 Books

The collection known as the Wisconsin manuscripts, numbering over 500 volumes, is next in importance. Almost half of these pertain to the early social, political, military and commercial history of Wisconsin and Illinois. They deal primarily with the fur trade and Indian affairs.

There are also about 300 vol-

OHIO STATE 8TH IN UPKEEP COST; ASK MORE FUNDS

(Special to The Cardinal)
COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 16—Both in expenditures per capita of population and per $1,000 of wealth for higher education Ohio was eighth among states of the Middle West during 1921-1922, according to statistics compiled by Carl E. Steeb, business manager of Ohio State university.

The figures were presented in support of the $9,000,000 appropriation request before the legislature from Ohio State university to finance its program until the middle of 1925.

Expenditures by mid-western states, per capita of population for higher education, ranged from $1.80 in Iowa to 48c in Ohio, the average being $1.28, the table completed by Mr. Steeb reveals. On the basis of expenditures per $1,000 of wealth, the range was from $1.40 in Michigan to 26 cents in Ohio, it shows.

Continuing, the table points out that appropriations support 10 institutions of higher education in California, eight in Wisconsin, seven in Michigan, six each in Minnesota, Illinois and Ohio, three each in Iowa and Indiana.

"At the average per capita rate of $1.28, Ohio would have raised $7,400,000 during 1921-22, or at the average rate per $1,000 of wealth the amount realized would have been $3,600,000," Mr. Steeb concluded.

Civil War Documents

In the possession of the society is a considerable collection relative to the Civil War and documents concerning certain phases of the political history of Wisconsin and the United States. A large collection of manuscripts from the archives in Paris, Ottawa and Washington bearing directly on the early history of Wisconsin and its immediate neighborhood is of prime interest.

Although the society makes no serious attempt to collect autographs, it has acquired several interesting sets. The most important of these is the autographs of the signers of both the Declaration of Independence and the federal constitution.

A book in the stacks contains one of the seven existing signatures of William Brewster.

Woman's Place is in Politics, Says Ross

Prof. E. A. Ross of the sociology department declared that woman has her chance for freedom if she will enter politics, when he spoke before the Sinai Social Center club of Chicago Monday night on "Woman and the Man-made World."

"Women must not climb on the band wagon of any party," Ross said. "They must go it alone and create a new era which will be as much theirs as man's, by being keenly alive to the value of the vote."

"Until the time of the industrial revolution, women were subservient, self-effacing and mothering. Then, when she lost many of her rights, she was relegated into the class of mere searchers for a pro-

Baas Pleases In Colorful Song Program

Large Audience at Benefit Event Delighted by Offering

By CHARLES N. DEMAREST

The benefit recital given by Alexius Baas at Christ Presbyterian Church last evening for the Psychiatric Institute at Mendota was attended by a large audience which was obviously pleased with the program.

Mr. Baas did some splendid singing in the "Evening Star" aria from Tannhauser where his voice was smooth and connected; he might well have been excused for singing the number poorly because a small baby insisted on competing with the soloist throughout the greater part of the song.

Three salt water ballads of Masefield, set to music by Keel, likewise called forth, perhaps, the best work of the evening. They were sung in English and English which was intelligible to the audience.

Mr. Baas' last group of American songs began with MacDowell's "Long Ago" interpreted simply and artistically. The group included Mr. Baas's own arrangement of Kipling's "Oonts" in which the composer seems to have caught the spirit of this swaggering ballad and given it a spicy rhythmic musical setting.

There were songs in German, in Italian, and English, and contrary to the rule of many singers the English was perfectly understandable. In addition to his splendid diction, too much praise cannot be given to Mr. Baas's pianissimo. His soft tones are so perfect that one never tires of listening to them even though they may be used oftener than good taste warrants. These tones were particularly effective in the encore "Duna" by Magill.

Margaret Otterson, the accompanist, was all that could be desired. Throughout the entire program she furnished a background for the soloist which was colorful and perfectly in harmony with interpre-

MORE INTEREST NOW SHOWN IN BOXING CLASSES

Interest in boxing is on the increase in the university. In the regular boxing classes that Coach Edward Borgelt conducts, approximately 75 men work out each afternoon. These are composed of sophomores chiefly. The coach says that there are from 15 to 30 others interested in the pastime who practice regularly. Most of them are boxers who showed extraordinary skill in the tournaments held last winter.

Several boxing meets will be held during the next semester, but these will be confined to the university. An offer for Wisconsin to participate in a tourney to be held at Marquette university had to be refused by the coach.

The first meet will be held early next semester and will be an inter-class affair, free for everyone, but those winning matches last year. Later on an all-university function will be staged which will be wide open to all entrants. There has been some talk in the military department of running off an inter-company boxing tournament, but nothing definite has been done.

tion. This was especially true in the "Evening Star" aria at the end of which she was called upon to share the applause with Mr. Baas.

Madison To Lose Jurisdiction Over Whole City Block

The city of Madison will soon lose some of its sovereignty. One whole block in the downtown area will be absolved from city authority.

Assemblyman Sachtjen today introduced a bill in the assembly granting complete jurisdiction to the United States of the block for the new postoffice site. This means that Madison officials will have nothing to say within the confines of this block.

Complete ceding of all jurisdiction is always demanded by the federal government before property for federal buildings is bought.

SENATE POWER IS IN DANGER

Staudenmeyer Balking and Nye Will Probably Be Named

Control of the state senate by progressives is again threatened. Senator George Staudenmeyer, dissatisfied with committee assignments given him, stated yesterday that he would refuse to be bound by action of progressive leaders in the future.

With the Staudenmeyer defection looming, also appears the likelihood that Ray Nye, defeated in November by O. G. Kinney, will win out in the election for state senator in Douglas county. This would give the administration men only 16 out of 33 votes in the senate.

Both the senate and assembly confirmed committee appointments made in the lower house by Speaker Dahl and in the senate by the committee on committees, but only after a wrangle in the upper house. Senator Staudenmeyer, when he failed to get a place on the joint finance committee, told the senate that he would refuse to serve on the committee on education and public welfare to which he was assigned, and would only consider serving as chairman of the highways committee. He declared that hereafter he would not consider himself bound to those who are accepted as the progressive leaders of the senate, charging that they had violated an agreement made with him.

A move to put over until today confirmation of the committee assignments in the senate, made by Senator Gettelman, Milwaukee, and backed by other members, lost on a vote of 15 to 8.

France Not Imperialistic in Policy Says Stuart

"France has no imperialistic plan when she insists on using force to collect reparations payments from Germany," said Prof. Graham H. Stuart at a meeting of the Lions club yesterday noon at the Park hotel.

"France has been rebuilding the devastated regions at a rapid rate, on the expectation of Germany living up to the terms of the treaty of Versailles, but has given up hope of Germany living up to these terms unless forced to do so," Prof. Stuart pointed out.

E. A. Richardson of Evansville, Ind., known as "The Hoosier Poet," and "Big Rich" entertained the Lions with stories of his experiences and recitations of his poetry.

Radio Cannot Give Inspiration of Religion

That radio broadcasting of sermons from the city churches to the country churches, will not solve the rural church problem, is the opinion of men interested in its solution. Such a plan has possibilities, but these are limited.

Rev. Elzer Tetreau, director of rural studies, said:

"Rural communities look upon their pastors as 'good fellows,' ready and willing to co-operate with them during the week, and on Sunday to stand before them with a message backed by a personality and urged by the nearness of the pastor to his congregation. The radio can never supply this much needed personal element."

Harvard Prexy Denies Having Attacked Jews

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 15.—A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard university, denied that he had made a statement saying that the Jews would in time have to be treated as the negroes in the south, as some reporter had credited him with saying.

The following statement was made at Harvard Monday:

"President Lowell denies having said the things attributed to him. This grossly misrepresents his views, since it attributes to him an unfriendly attitude, which he does not have."

ASK DELAY IN BRITISH DEBT

England Would Make Final Payment in 66 Years, is Plan

WASHINGTON—The British debt commission expected to be ready to resume yesterday negotiations with the American commission on the refunding of the British debt. The scheduled meeting Monday was postponed while the British awaited instructions from their government on certain points over which a difference of view is understood to have developed. The points involved were not disclosed.

On the question of the time of final payment on the debt the suggestions thus far developed were said to range from 50 to 66 years with the American commission proposing the shorter period and the British the longer as compared with the 25 years litigation fixed by congress. It is on the question of interest rate however, that the two delegations are believed to be farthest apart. On this point, the only statement made was that the United States could not accept a rate as low as 3 percent and also that a graduated rate, of which there have been suggestions, would be undesirable for several reasons.

Huber Says Federal Child Labor Laws Are Essential

SHORT COURSE ALUMNI PLAN GAY REUNION

The Short Course alumni banquet at Lathrop hall, January 29, is one of the principal attractions scheduled during Farmer's week at the College of Agriculture, January 29 to February 3.

The occasion will be a reunion of graduates of the University of Wisconsin Short Course in agriculture and will be attended by many successful farmers. Since its establishment, more than 6,000 students have graduated from the Short Course.

A Wisconsin products dinner will be served to those attending the banquet. Addresses will be given by Dean H. L. Russell, Prof. J. L. Tormly, Prof. R. A. Moore, who is considered "daddy" of the Short Course, and by Peter Schwartz, Waukesha prominent farmer.

The banquet is being sponsored largely by members of the present Short Course. Tickets may be secured from G. A. Baumann, 1317 Spring street.

A huge campaign to advertise dairy products will be launched at the meeting of farmers during Farmer's week. The movement has the endorsement of prominent advertising experts from all parts of the United States. At a recent meeting in Fond du Lac, more than 300 farmers went on record in favor of the proposed campaign.

Many counties in Wisconsin will send delegates to the Farmer's Marketing conference, according to preliminary reports. Jefferson county reports that more than 200 farmers from that section of the state will attend. Grant county, Waukesha county and many other counties will be represented at the conference.

A label for Wisconsin quality products will be selected by the farmers at the meeting. All Wisconsin products that conform to a certain standard will bear a label distinguishing them from imitations. By such identification it is hoped to build a strong market for Wisconsin farm products in the east.

Wanzer Replies for Prom

"Assemblyman Freehoff was not referring directly to the coming prom or else he had not read the announcement made yesterday that the price of admission had been reduced," Gordon B. Wanzer, prom chairman, said when interviewed concerning the resolution last night.

"We are doing everything in our power to make it easier than it has been before to go to prom and about all we can do is cut the admission, recommend that no flowers or favors to be used, boost inexpensive prom functions and advice against expensive house parties. All these things we have done. We cut $800 of the prom budget at the time we decided on $6 tickets instead of $7. We are boosting an inexpensive theater party and a ski tournament as prom functions."

That the approaching prom is not being made undemocratic was the statement made by Charles V. Gary, chairman of the men's arrangements committee.

"We have a large number of non-fraternity men organized into prom parties at the present time," Gary said. "No previous prom has done as much for them. We constantly are having meetings for them, we have a standing invitation in The Cardinal for them to call us and we are planning their parties, securing houses for their out-of-town friends, getting orchestras as reasonably as they can be had and doing our best to make it a 'Prom for Every Badger'."

The ticket sale was opened by Oscar Sander, ticket chairman, last night. Supper reservations and tickets can be held by calling Sander between 7 and 8 o'clock each evening until January 20 at 1590.
