NARDIN'S ASSISTANT WILL STUDY ABROAD

Miss L. L. Brown, assistant to the dean of women and in charge of Pan-Hellenic will leave her position at the end of this year to study a year abroad, according to an announcement yesterday. Miss Brown expects to continue her studies in history in Paris. As yet no announcement has been made as to who will fill her place.

Air Service Quota Will Be Complete By Saturday—Wait

The air service enrollment quota of 200 students should be completed by Saturday noon, is the opinion of A. H. Wait, officer in charge. Mr. Wait intends to put the list of these students enrolled for the purpose of aviation course in the hands of Major O. L. Brunzell at that time.

"Those who enroll need not be taking R. O. T. C. work now," Mr. Wait said.

Men who complete the course will be commissioned in the air service reserves of the sixth corps area with headquarters in Chicago.

When the list of those enrolled in the course is put in the hands of Major Brunzell, he will take the matter up with the corps area headquarters in Chicago. Those at the headquarters will then refer the matter to the chief of the air service in Washington.

Band Concert to Begin at 6:30 on Lincoln Terrace

Maj. E. W. Morphy, of the School of Music, will conduct the university band in an open air concert, the second of a series of the twilight concerts begun two weeks ago, at 6:30 o'clock this evening on the campus.

Professor Morphy will leave for Lake Geneva, Friday to act as one of the judges at the Wisconsin state school band contest to be held there Friday and Saturday.

THIRTEEN WOMEN GET CASH AWARDS

Regents to Ratify Names For Undergraduate Scholarships at Next Meeting

Thirteen undergraduate women will be awarded cash scholarships next month in accordance with the recommendation of the committee on loans and scholarships. The faculty has approved the recommendation and the names will be sent to the regents for ratification later, announced Prof. Julius Olson, chairman of the committee.

The students recommended are Myra C. Runkel '25, Janet Hull '26, for the Fanny P. Lewis Scholarship; Linda E. Barry '26, Dorothy Haskins '25, for the A. A. U. W. scholarships of $200 each; Esther Segner '25, Iris Moncar-Sellen '26, for the Amelia M. Doyon scholarships; Ernestine V. Kandel '25, for the Kappa Kappa Gamma scholarship of $150; Aurelia Grether '27, for the $100 Mortar board scholarship; Alice L. Pegg '26, for the $200 W. A. A. award; Theodora Haman '26, for the $100 S. G. A. scholarship; Annabel Bodden '26, for the $100 Mortar board scholarship; Eloise Francke '27, for the Crucible award; and Selma C. Bolstad '26, for the Christian R. Stein scholarship.

The amounts for the Lewis, Doyon, and Stein Scholarships will not be announced until July when the Board of regents meets to ratify the recommendations and to compute the interest on the loan funds. Awards for the ten scholarships are made on the basis of scholastic ability and financial need.

DEAN TO REPRESENT A. A. U. W. IN EUROPE

Miss Lydia Lawrence Brown, assistant dean of women, has been chosen as the official delegate of the American Association of University Women to attend the international conference of the organization which will be held in Christiania, in July. Miss Brown was the local delegate to the Paris conference held two years ago.

The American Association of University Women is a member of the International federation, and about 100 delegates from the United States will represent the American association at the international meeting. A number of women from the local chapter are planning to attend as unofficial representatives.

ALPHA GAMMA DELTA PLANS FOR NEW HOUSE

Plans are being considered by Alpha Gamma Delta House association for their new house, to be erected on their property on Lake-lawn place adjacent to the Psi Upsilon house, according to Grace Goldsmith '24, active representative on the association. No definite decisions have been reached as yet, and the sorority expects to remain in its present quarters at 418 North Francis street next year. The new building will probably be ready for occupancy in the fall of 1925.

Canoeists Are Weather Wise; Act Role of Human Barometer

Human barometers are the canoeists; they do not venture out unless the weather is warm, the lake calm, and perhaps the moonlight adding its silver light to the scene, although the moon isn't necessary, according to E. M. Niebuhr, who is in charge of the boat house.

Just 32 canoes are available for lovers of this aquatic pastime. Knowing Lake Mendota as they do, one could hardly call the campus darters temperamental if they walked, talked, or danced when the lake was rough and the weather cold.

Picnic parties, usually rent canoes on Saturday and Sunday only, at a fee of $2 for six hours. It is not necessary to rent canoes in advance during the week, but it is advisable to order ahead if planning a picnic party. Every canoe was taken the night before Venetian night.

It's lovely out on the lake, but canoeists don't stay out very long. A half hour is the usual time, although if the weather is pleasant, they may remain out from one hour to two or more. The urge to go somewhere else brings many of them in in a short time.

First Senior Sing, New School Event, Draws Big Crowd

Success greeted the first senior "sing" held last night on Lincoln terrace. More than 150 senior men turned out to take part in the event and a large audience gathered to hear the selected harmonies.

Assisting in the program of music were the men's Glee club and the Haresfoot orchestra of eight pieces. Both organizations added materially to the beauty of the event, the first of its kind to be held at Wisconsin.

Norris Wentworth '24, was chairman of the committee that made arrangements for the "sing."

POSTPONE COURT POLL UNTIL FALL

Rush of Work at Last Minute Forces Election Delay

The student court elections will not be held until next fall, Wilber Wittenberg '24, chairman of the committee on elections of the senate, announced yesterday. The balloting had been scheduled for this week but it was found impracticable to do it then.

Due to pressure of other duties and the proximity to examinations it has been impossible for the deans of the respective colleges to select the men in their departments as candidates for election. The elections committee decided that rather than rush the election through before giving the voters a chance to make intelligent choices it would be better to wait until fall.

It is planned to hold the court election immediately after the opening of the term in September so that it will be over before the general elections at the same time as the general voting is to remove the judiciary body will be as far removed from political tickets and slates as possible, the committee stated.

All Seniors Must Attend Exercises to Get Diplomas

All seniors who hope to receive their degrees this year must be present at the commencement exercises on Monday, June 23, according to an announcement made by Prof. Julius Olson, chairman of the committee on public functions. Those who are absent from this event will not receive their diplomas, unless they are able to present valid excuse to the dean of their college.

The university has found it necessary to take this action because of an increasing tendency on the part of many students to leave Madison as soon as their examinations are over and then ask to receive their diplomas "in absentia."

The seniors will wear their caps and gowns in the procession. Only those who have completed their work may march. Those who will complete their work at the end of summer school may attend the baccalaureate exercises, but will not be with the graduating class in the procession or in the hall.

FACULTY HONORS T. E. BRITTINGHAM

Pass Resolution Lauding Services of Late Alumnus to University

In honor of the late Thomas E. Brittingham of Madison, who died May 3 on shipboard, while returning from South America, the faculty of the University of Wisconsin, at its June meeting, by rising vote unanimously adopted the following resolution commemorating his service on university governing boards, his life-long affection for the institution, and his many gifts and final bequest:

"The faculty of the University of Wisconsin expresses its deep sorrow and sense of loss in the death of Thomas Evans Brittingham, a man of large affairs and rare judgment in the business world; a public spirited citizen, who gave generously of his means and time to measures which would advance the general welfare of his state and city.

"He was particularly devoted to the University of Wisconsin. He served as a member of the Board of Visitors, and later as a member of the Board of Regents, and chairman of its executive committee. While thus engaged he strove constantly to make the university more capable of achieving its high destiny in the lives and well-being of the citizens of the state.

"His retirement from the Board of Regents did not mean a lessening of interest in the university, and he kept in constant and sympathetic touch with its affairs to the end of his days. An alumnus in spirit, his name was ever welcomed in grateful fellowship, and although not a graduate he was made a life member of the Alumni association.

"His gifts to the university, including the Lincoln statue, the Muir bust, the Van Hise bust, his donation to the university hospital, and the final bequest of the residue of his estate to the university and public causes, demonstrated his abiding interest and faith in the ideals of service for which a public university stands."

PRIZE WINNERS ASKED TO APPLY FOR AWARDS

All prize winners in the water carnival held in connection with Venetian night are to report to John Souerby '26, chairman of the prizes committee, Fred Gustorf '25, general chairman of Venetian night said yesterday. The lists of the winners kept by the recorder for the events were misplaced. By reporting to Souerby the winners may secure their prizes.

BADGERS TO APPEAR SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The 1925 Badgers will arrive in Madison at 2 o'clock Saturday morning. They will make their formal appearance on the campus Saturday afternoon according to Ben Anderson '26, business manager of the Badger. The Badgers will be ready for distribution and open sale at Music hall. Students who have lost their subscription coupons should call at the office in Union building. The price for the regular sale is $5.

SENIOR LINE OF MARCH TO BE IN ORDER OF DEGREE

Assembling Points For Graduates at Commencement Designated By Corp

In the plans for commencement exercises this year, medical students will enter the line of march as a separate college instead of as a school in the College of Letters and Science. Prof. C. I. Corp, in charge of arrangements for the assembling and march of the seniors, announced yesterday.

Placards on the upper campus will mark the assembling points for the various schools. The leaders in the line of each school will carry these same placards at the head of the group on their march to agricultural pavilion. Here an official usher will receive them and assign proper places in the arena.

Formation of Colleges

The march to the pavilion will be headed by the band and the schools will follow in this order: The Law school from the meeting point in front of Bascom hall; the College of Agriculture from the front of North hall; the College of Engineering from the front of Engineering building; the Medical school from walk between Engineering building and Park street; the School of Music from the same place; the College of Letters and Science from the same place; and the candidates for higher degrees from the north end of South hall.

Upon arrival at the pavilion, the lines will separate and reverse, the groups at the end of the line headed by President Birge filing into the pavilion first, the candidates for the higher degrees following President Birge.

Faculty Members Usher

The general ushers are chosen from the faculty members who remain in the city, and will not be in cap and gown. Prof. O. L. Kowalko is in charge of the procession as it forms on the campus. Prof. J. G. Fuller will have charge of the corps of ushers in agricultural pavilion. Prof. L. E. A. Kelso will assign seats to the band, faculty members, and honor guests.

For seating the graduates and escorting them to the platform to receive their degrees, ushers in cap and gown have been appointed as follows: Professors I. C. Corp, G. L. Larson, Frank P. Woy, Ford H. McGregor, W. A. Sumner, F. C. Krauskopf, A. O. Hougen, and Messrs. R. J. Rowark and P. H. Hayland. Prof. W. H. Wright will officiate at the east entrance and Prof. H. D. Orth at the west entrance.

Olson Confers Degrees

In conferring the degree of doctor of philosophy, Prof. Julius E. Olson will be assisted by Professors F. L. Paxson, Carl Russell Fish, Frederick Austin Ogg, and Carl Stephenson.

As the candidates for degrees entirely fill the arena of the pavilion, visitors will be seated in the balconies surrounding the arena. There are no reserved seats, excepting the few which are held for guests of the university.

Final Contribution to Friendship Fund Urged By Chairman

The committee for the Student Friendship drive is sending out an urgent request that all outstanding pledges for the fund be sent in at once.

"The close of the semester is approaching rapidly and there are a number of pledges which have not yet come in," Jim Vallee '26, in charge of the fund, announced yesterday. "Other universities have already sent in their amounts which were subscribed to the full amounts. Wisconsin doesn't want to be the last to contribute to a cause of this kind."

"Additional contributions would be very welcome in order to swell the fund. They must be sent in immediately, though. Since the drive is being conducted for European students who are in actual need the national committee wants to send the fund at once."

WORKERS ACTIVE FOR HOMECOMING

Plan to Bring Back More Alumni Than Ever Before

Preparations for the 1924 Homecoming are already being made, and many of the details concerning entertainment, and alumni, are now being arranged, according to Rawley Porter '25, assistant general chairman.

The alumni committee, with Norton V. Smith '26, as chairman, plans an intensive campaign which will bring back more graduates than have ever attended any previous homecoming. Letters to fraternities and sororities have already been sent out, urging them to begin preparations for Homecoming this summer, and, let it be said, to alumni are being prepared.

"We are planning to write such letters that the alumni will be drawn back by their very magnetism," Smith said yesterday.

The information committee will have more booths than have been used at any other Homecoming. Representatives will be at all stations to meet incoming trains.

A card catalogue will be prepared, giving information concerning all available alumni, for the service of those who wish to look up their former classmates, according to Margaret Ashton '25, chairman of this committee.

"The registration committee will use Music hall as a general registration center, and will have several other booths located at convenient places on the hill where the alumni can secure information," Elizabeth Sears '25, chairman of this committee, said.

Other committees which are working under the direction of Porter are the men's arrangements committee, Henry Alinder '25, chairman; women's arrangements, Elizabeth Brown '25, chairman; traffic, Gordon Walker '26, chairman; parade, Wenzel Fabera '25, chairman.

ASK SENIOR GIRLS TO WEAR WHITE DRESSES

"It has been the custom of the Senior girls to wear white dresses under their graduation gowns, although it is not compulsory," is a statement made by Margaret Callen, '24, president of Mortar board. In order to insure uniformity, it is hoped that every girl will wear a white dress. The regulation collar is required, as well as black hose and black slippers.

DISTRIBUTE MILITARY BALL FAVORS FRIDAY

One hundred and fifty Military ball favors will be distributed from 1 to 5 o'clock Friday at the Union board office, according to Howard Lyman '24. All couples who did not obtain favors at the capitol on the night of the ball should call for them at that time, as this will be the last chance to distribute them, Lyman said.

There will be several extra favors that will be on open sale at the same time; so that if any students desire to get a sample favor, they can be obtained for 60 cents apiece.

After Friday the favors can only be obtained by getting them from Ezra Crane at 622 Mendota court.

Keys For the Keyless, Badger Critic Urges, Censuring "Octy"

(Editor's note. This is the third section of a pre-review of the 1925 Badger written especially for The Cardinal after the author had been presented with an advance bound volume. The last article will appear tomorrow.)

BY SATYRICUS

Who writes the captions for these departmental pictures? Look on page 11, "Like a Typical Newspaper Office—The Copy-desk." Why of course everybody knows that every newspaper uses two men and eight girls on a copy desk. If they didn't what would become of all these girls who graduate in journalism. It's a double-barrelled cinch that they don't all get married.

And that reminds us. Did you know that the Wisconsin chapter of Sigma Delta Chi came near being disbanded last year? They gave a party to Theta Sigma Phi and had a grand row over deciding who should bring the sisters. Of course genial Joe Lawler solved it by making the brothers draw lots, and the losers brought 'em.

There has been a good deal of argument on the campus recently about the awarding of keys for services rendered on publications. Many people would have us believe that the honorary societies are behind this. Again our love of truth makes it necessary for us to spill the beans. It is a plot on the part of the Octopus gang against the Badger staff. The whole contention is beautifully summed up in the ringing words of Larry Hastings, "Keys should be limited exclusively to the people who produce humor and obviously the Badger is not a humorous publication." Mr. Hastings, will you please look through this book carefully? No, we're not referring to the satire section. It's our personal opinion that this book is like Paul Eschweiler—never so funny as when attempting to be serious. Then of course, Mr. Hastings, there is the perfectly legitimate query—who, aside from the staff, thinks the Octopus is a humorous publication?

Credit is due the 1925 staff for reducing the athletic section some 25 pages. We have long regretted the practice of past Badgers in giving so much space to the dual track meets which mean so little to all but the participants. Why perpetuate the fact that some one could only jump 5 feet 2 inches up from or 18 feet 3 inches over the ground. You'd think the man who could only run a hundred yards in 12 seconds would not care to be reminded all the rest of his life that he had run against three others who were worse than himself.

Where, oh, where in the book is the section devoted to social dancing? Can you just off-hand name a single activity in our collegiate life that gets as much of our time, money and energy? Time was when a group of young people had the gumption and originality to think of something different to do on Friday or Saturday night. We are so old we can remember when any of the prominent campus uccens would not be insulted if invited to 'hike out to Middleton for a good country dinner. They not only did not view the inviter as mentally unbalanced; they accepted, even though up to that time the moron had not yet invented the funny baggy pants of the modern front porch hiker.

And these dances, we invite you to look in on any one of them any place any week end. Young folks with solemn pained expressions go jiggling about with all the enthusiasm of a condemned criminal on his march from the death cell to the scaffold. If any one dares to display smiles or light grins, he is at once set down as a follower of Al Smith in his fight for beer and light wines.

Over in the corner you'll see a couple with about as much animation as that displayed by a two-inch gold fish in a three-inch globe. There seems to be just one rule which must religiously be observed. "Never jiggle unless the music is playing." But all this is beside the point. We still contend that the Badger has shamefully neglected our most important activity.

Lewis to Make No Great Changes in Next Year's Octy

No very radical change will be made in the Octopus for next year, according to Gordon Lewis '25, recently elected editor-in-chief for the coming year.

"We expect to use a different kind of paper and the pages will be smaller," he said. "We are hoping to use more halftones than have formerly been used. In fact we want the greater number of our illustrations to be half-tones."

Octy will not have as many special feature numbers as before; the jokes and drawings will be more general than they have been this past year. The only special number that is planned will be the Big Ten number at the convention of the Mid-West College Comic association next fall.

charge of the committee arrangements for the trip, Peet '26 has charge of the be given Friday. Elizabeth '25, president of the Y. W. and Dorothy John '25, undergraduate representative to the conference, will be among the delegates attending. The delegation is by means complete, the Y. W. office announced.

CARDINAL SPORTS

ATHLETICS IN THE
COLLEGIATE WORLDVARSITY JUNIOR
CREW OFF TODAY
FOR CULVER RACEMeet Academy Crew Saturday
Afternoon; Twelve Men
Take Trip

The varsity junior crew leaves this morning at 9:05 o'clock for Culver, Indiana where they will race the strong Culver Military Academy eight, Saturday afternoon. The junior crew has been working in the water in preparation for the race.

The race will be over a mile long. The junior crew is not taking its own shell along but will use one of the Culver boats. There is some disadvantage in this as the Culver shells are built for a starboard stroke instead of a port stroke as the boat used here. This necessitated the changing of the stroke man in the junior crew.

The second crew has been somewhat weakened by loss of Jax and Grunitz who were taken with the varsity to Poughkeepsie. The Cardinal crew will meet a strong eight in the Culver outfit which has covered the mile in 5:10 coming in second in an eastern regatta held at Yale this spring. The Badgers are in good shape however and will row a fast race, according to Don Newcomb, who is coaching the junior crew.

The second eight went over the mile course last night and will be on the water tomorrow morning at 7 o'clock for another run over the course before leaving.

The Cardinal line-up is Esser, bow; Holmes, No. 2; Houdek, No. 3; Steele, No. 4; Tessier, No. 5; Van Wagener, No. 6; Wallager, No. 7; Rhode, stroke; Kitchen, coxswain. McCorkle, substitute and Arey, commodore, will also make the trip.

EXAM PREPARATION
NEEDED, SAYS DEANGoodnight Advises All Students to Make Adequate
Plans For Finals

"Every loyal student who thinks of the university and of himself will make adequate preparation for the coming examinations," Dean S. H. Goodnight, said yesterday. "The examinations are the test of the semester's work by which students are judged."

"An attempt has been made to end all student activities for the examination period to give students time for proper work and sleep," the dean said.

Preparation for examinations is likely to be more complete and satisfactory if the student makes out a list of questions covering the entire course for use in his study, Professor F. C. Sharp of the psychology department, declared yesterday.

In addition to forming a list of questions to cover the course, three other things are to be kept in mind during the preparation for examinations according to Professor Sharp.

The meaning of the different parts of the course should be gained so that it can be reproduced and little memorizing should be done.

Organization of material facilitates in preparation besides preventing confusion concerning parts and details of the course. The preparation should enable the student to see the course as a whole with the proper relations of its parts, he believes.

GOPHERS TO PLAY
FINAL GAME HEREBall Team Prepares For Final
Contest of Season
Saturday

After tucking the scalp of the Notre Dame nine under their belt the Varsity ball team is turning its attention to the final game of the season with Minnesota this Saturday.

The men are all in good shape after the tilt with the Irish and in the opinion of Coach Guy Lowman have a 50-50 chance of ending the season with a victory.

At the start of the season the Minnesota nine did not loom up as a strong contender for a high place among the conference teams but as the season progressed their stock rose considerably. In the recent game with the strong Ohio team that was rated as a pennant winner at the opening of the season the Gophers emerged victorious and followed this up with a win over the Indiana pastimers.

Christianson will undoubtedly be Lowman's choice to do the heavy work on the mound for the Badgers; otherwise the lineup will be the same as that which started the Notre Dame fray.

The game will not start at 3 o'clock as scheduled but has been postponed until 4 o'clock because several of the men on the squad including Captain Aschenbrener have a final examination to take Saturday afternoon and will not finish in time to start the game at 3 o'clock.

Versus

The big event for this week-end will be the conference track and field games. Illinois is an overwhelming favorite to cop, while Iowa, Michigan and Wisconsin should fight it out for second place.

In a big meet of this sort, it is not the well-balanced team that rules favorite, but the team with some individual stars. Illinois is strong, however one figures, and we expect the suckers to have things pretty much their own way.

A few of the outside teams may cause some upsets, but there seems to be no one of these teams which is exceptionally strong. Some will send individual stars who may sway the standings of some of the teams.

A new mark in the pole vault is very likely if Dean Brownell of Illinois has his arm in shape. He was injured at the time of the dual meet with California, and his injury has been slow in healing.

The dashes will be closely contested with such stars as Ayers and Evans of Illinois, Whitman of Michigan, Coulter and Brookins of Iowa, and McAndrews of Wisconsin. Indications point to better than even time in the century and a possible record in the 220.

Valley will have a battle on his hands to retain his laurels in the 880; last year Lloyd upset the dope by copping handily, and we are backing the Ashland Flier to repeat.

As we understood it the winners in this meet are eligible for the final tryouts for the American Olympic team.

After this week there will be a lull in everything but studies. Even now an observant person will notice the decline in attendance, both on the drive and

In the two-mile run, John C. Read '24, George A. Piper '25, Russell L. Perry '25, and Gerald Wade '24 will compete. Harry F. McAndrews '25 and Stanley J. McGivern '26, will enter the sprints, while LaVern W. Muzzy '25 will contest in the broad jump.

Championship Not Predicted
Other track men who will participate in the conference meet are Eugene W. Tuhtar '25 and Edward B. Donohue '25, high jump; Elmer C. Krieger '25, William Schmidt '24 or Donald H. Jones '25, pole vault; Leo B. Harmon '25 and Wayne Limberg '26, shot put; Willis L. Tressler '26, hammer throw; and Gordon Aller '26, discuss throw. It is possible that either W. Campbell '26 or Theodore W. Goers '26 will run in the half-mile event, while Gordon D. Lewis '25 will be a member of the one-mile relay team.

Although a Big Ten championship is not predicted for the Badger cinder path men, they will undoubtedly make a good showing in the conference games. Wisconsin has a well-balanced squad, but injuries to McAndrews, who pulled a tendon in the quadrangular meet at Camp Randall on May 17, may reduce the chances of the Cardinals.

at the Alpha Delta boat house.

The highly-touted Navy crew was given a drubbing by Penn. and, as a result, will not row at Poughkeepsie this year.

Yale with one of the most powerful crews in the east will not row on the Hudson because of their race with Harvard. Ed Leader, former Washington coach, developed the Yale crew.

Jack Ryan reminded his men of the coming exams. Jack intends to take no chances on losing some of his most valuable men if he can possibly prevent it.

Right now it looks as though Leo Harmon, "Benny" Harmon, "Pat" McAndrews, and "Mike" Stone of last year's all-American will all be eligible in the fall. These four backfield men added to last year's varsity and this year's freshmen will complete a most formidable array of "leather pushers."

Baron Bed just informed me that in his estimation Wisconsin will probably not win both the conference track meet and the Poughkeepsie regatta. Such a gambler!

Remember way back, when the students and the "towners" used to have free-for-alls, and the last one, which was finally settled near the old Hausman's brewery, threatened to become a more or less sanguine nature.

Only Four Teams
Remain in Greek
Horseshoe Meet

Defeat of the Theta Delta Chi team and of the Phi Psi squad by the Sigma Nu and Phi Kappa Sigma respectively, has decreased the remaining number of teams in the interfraternity Horseshoe Pitching tournament to four.

The first round of the tournament, which is being run on an elimination basis, has now been completed. The Sigma Nu pitchers will meet the Phi Kappa Sigmas in the second round, while the Betas will engage the Phi Deltas.

Winners in the second round will soon toss for the championship cup, which has been put up for the barnyard golfers to ring.

150 PARTICIPATE
IN WATER SPORTSSuccessful Season Takes Place
Here; Many Awards Are Made

A great deal of interest was displayed this year in water sports, and a fairly good season was enjoyed, according to Joe Steinauer. Nearly 150 men took part in the different teams and events which were run by the school. The different teams and events were varsity team, water basketball, freshman team, interfraternity teams, class teams and college teams. The special events were Big Ten meets, interfraternity relay and water basketball, interclass and intercollege swims.

Approximately 70 men reported for the varsity squad but this was reduced by ineligibility which greatly hampered Coach Steinauer in making a championship team. Captain Czerwonky was the real star deserving getting many points in the conference meets. Out of four conference meets Wisconsin lost three because there were not men capable of taking seconds and thirds to back up the continued line of firsts that were taken. The results of the meets were as follows:

Iowa, 33; Wisconsin, 35.
Minnesota, 37; Wisconsin, 31.
Chicago, 46; Wisconsin, 22.
Indiana, 43; Wisconsin, 25.

The men who were awarded the varsity "W"s are Captain Czerwonky Simpkins, and Gerber. The manager, Ed. Banner for his service received a varsity "W". Those receiving "sWt"s are Koch, Bell, Bennett, Flueck, and Crane. Other men on the squad who did not win an award but who won points are Winchell, Sapper, Cook and Megeath.

Fifty-seven men entered the interclass meet which the freshmen won. The juniors came second with the sophomores and seniors third and fourth. The following men were awarded numerals for the places they won in this meet. Seniors, Aultman; juniors, Morley, Cook; sophomore, Bell. Freshmen, Stevens, Ratcliff, Thomson, Hershberger, Wheatley, Parker, Grigsby, Alexander, Hotten, Teich.

32 In Intercollege Meet
Thirty-two men turned out for the intercollege meet. It was really a meet between the L and S and the Engineering colleges; because there were not enough men from the other colleges to constitute a team. The L and S won the meet with a 40 to 19 score.

Approximately 30 entered the college championship meet. Each man chose three events and two were picked for him. The winners are as follows:

Varsity, Gerber, first; Flueck, second; Meyer, and Butler tied for third.

Freshmen, Hershberger, first; E. B. Hotchkiss, second; Thomson, third.

Numeral Awards
Additional awards were given the following men on merit. These men received numerals: Meyers '24, Johnson '26, Winchell '25, E. B. Hotchkiss '27, E. L. Hotchkiss and Westrich, frosh manager.

Ninety men participated in interfraternity water basket ball. These men represented 12 different fraternities. First place was won by Sigma Chi; second, Lambda Chi Alpha, third, Theta Xi.

In all there were some 50 awards

GOLF TEAM BEATS
HAWKS 15 TO 6 IN HARD MATCH HERELose Morning Round But Score
Shutout in Afternoon
Play

The Varsity golf team defeated the highly touted Iowa team today at Maple Bluff Golf club 15 to 6. This is the first match that the Iowa team has lost this year. This shows that the team is improving and that they should be in fine shape for the Conference meet.

The weather was ideal for play today. The course was also in the best shape that it has been in for some time. In the morning round it looked bad for the home team but some thing must have changed their eyes for they came back in the afternoon round with a slam.

The meet was run on a point basis. One point given for taking the most number of holes on each nine and one for the man taking most of the eighteen. In the doubles the points are doubled.

Team Chances Brighter
Now that the team has won from one of the strongest teams in the conference it has taken much new hope and will begin practice for the Big Ten meet which is June 13 to 21 inclusive. The tournament will be held on the Briar Gate golf club course, Highland Park, Illinois.

June 18 each university competing for the team championship will enter a team of four men, each of whom will play thirty-six holes. The team with the lowest aggregate score for the thirty-six holes will be awarded the conference championship.

The sixteen men that turn in the lowest score on the first day of play will qualify for the individual championships which will start Thursday. The individual championship will consist of two rounds of eighteen hole match play.

Play Finals Saturday
Friday one round of the semi-finals will be played and Saturday the finals of thirty-six holes will be contested. The above plan is the one that has been used for the past few years. There will be no prizes awarded to the champions.

The exact team that will represent Wisconsin at the Big Ten tournament has not yet been decided on but it is probable that the same line up that played against the Hawks will go. Captain Bock was quite pleased with the showing since his team was the first to beat the Hawks this year.

UP THE HILL

Again, as the careful listener strolls up the hill to his eight o'clock or one-thirty and gradually passes by those who are climbing with him he hears strange words issuing from the lips of his fellows. The words are not as they were three weeks ago when the students were just becoming aware of the fact that examinations were only a month off. Oh no, they are fearful, panicky. They sound like the words of the bride's and groom's mothers on the evening before the wedding—at the practice, let us say. They are panicky. Listen.

"My dear, I just simply can't do all that I'm supposed to before these blame—Why, I've got at least a whole semester's work to do in—in a-a-about one we-e-ek. "—"

"And I, why you know, Dot, I'm so absolutely swamped it's pitiful, positively pitiful—I got anyhow four whole courses to work up before—"

"Mother wants to come up for commencement about two weeks ahead of time, but I'll be darned if I see how I can get any time before the seventeenth to—Why, got all the work to do I 's supposed to do this semester. Three topics, thesis, reading notes, reports—"

"Work! Did you say work? Say, I've got enough work to do—enough work to—to keep Pharaoh's pyramid-building crew busy for the whole of time. 'Least it might just as well be about that much. 'Bout a whole semester's—"

"I wish it would rain. I just wish it would rain every minute from now till those awful examinations are over. I just wish it would rain so I could study, I wish it would—Don't see no sense in exams anyhow, but wish it would—"

"No more dates for me, roomy, not for some long days. If that old granny of a German teacher don't flop me out on my tin ear when these here ex's grab me by the collar, I'll eat my katey. Just naturally got one whole year's work to do in—"

"Whew! Bucked till three this morning, but never again—don't care if I don't get the damned stuff done—but I have got a whole semester's—"

"Why, I've let all my work wait over until now. Monday I had to get in two over-due themes—Lordy, what a job—Tuesday had a 'Merican history reading report as long as the milky way—Thought I'd choke on that—And Wednesday, holy cow, we had an ex in French that 'ud knocked you for a row of bathhouses—yah, just a mere little quiz—Then that bozo of an econ instructor went an' set the date for our final for today an' I just found out about it yesterday—Just naturally been doing a whole semester's work in one week—"

And so it would seem that the campus had been a joyous place throughout the present semester, that no one had done a lick of work and that now every student from the first to the last was ready to give up the ghost. But no, they'll struggle along, do their "semester's work in one week" better or worse, pinning all on a night of cramming, on bluff and on some bits of knowledge gathered by accident here and there.

KILLING THE KING

Newspaper reports say that there is an anarchist's plot afloat to kill off the rulers of Europe. Interesting, indeed. It seems that some such plot started a rather big scrap 10 years ago this August. But that is a minor detail. The really amazing part of it all is that poor little Georgie of England is included in the list of possible victims. Nobility pays the penalty of being noble, the sword of Damocles, you know. But why in the world, if anarchists want to get rid of the rulers of Europe, do they pick on the figure heads.

Evidently King George must be having a good deal to say about British and world affairs if he is thus picked out for death. But that is difficult to believe. No, there's little danger of his being one of the real potentates. The power of the king of England has been fading away gradually, more honor to the British.

And if King George were actually assassinated, then the Prince of Wales would take the throne, become the King of England. Then the darling of the girls of every nation could no longer be their darling. He would have to assume the dignity befitting to a king and people would soon forget what a jolly person he is at heart. There would be even greater need of his marrying, and evidently that is the last thing the Prince wants to do. There is another drawback—that being that as soon as the Prince became king he too might be singled out for death.

No, anarchists are stupid people. If they don't like Millerand and feel that they can get him out of the way only with a bullet, why of course, quite naturally, they should snuff him off. A mere case of murder, the same thing that is going on time and time again in America while Americans sit by and never even shrug. But let them spare the king.

Spade-fulls From the Union

BY JOHN DOLLARD

The following letter was received at the Memorial Union headquarters recently from a member of the cooperation committee.

"That Memorial Union news sheet was welcome and inspiring. Although 500 miles away, we caught the flame and spirit of those guns.

"Think of the U. W. spirit that will be broadcasted when the class of '24 is released on June 23! They are an inspiration to alumni.

Mrs. H. J. Taylor

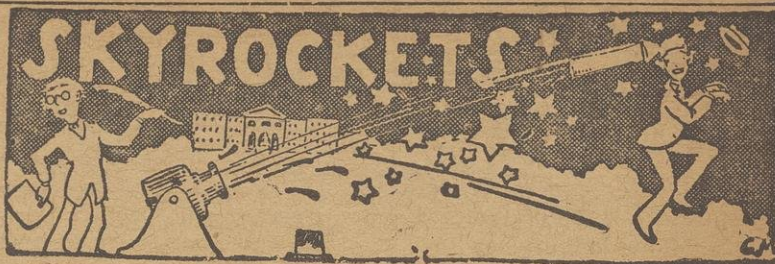

Dollard '22

On Wednesday, May 14, the roar of a three-inch gun on Muir Knoll waked the late sleepers—in classes and out—to the fact that something was going on at Wisconsin. Another roar, and another, shaking the windows of the Engineering Building, followed; the deans probably swore mightily and students looked on with joyous anticipation. Because they knew that the great and only Class of '24 was in action, and because every sullen boom meant 500 new dollars for the Memorial Union.

The fun began in the morning with the letters WAR scrawled in great Gothic type all the way across the back page of the Cardinal. "Seniors are Fighting for the Union," they said. "The cannon will boom for every ten new life memberships." "Keep the Cannon Roaring."

And they did. They kept it roaring all day.

In this determined army, there were no privates; they were all generals, and all the generals worked in the ranks. The Campaign Chairman, "Tex" Dawson, who hails from the panhandle, carried a musket the same as all the rest, and himself led the canvassing operations. "Walt" Frautschi, President of this remarkable class, was one of the most vigorous solicitors. "Gordy" Wanzer, one time Prom Chairman and other things too numerous to mention, labored and shed blood in the cause. "Verne" Beardsley spent time when he should have been enjoying himself and writing his thesis, getting out some extraordinary publicity. And "Howie" Lyman, colonel of the Cadet Corps will have to stay over until summer school, largely as a result of the time which he put in on the job. The girls, also, worked like Trojans, and turned in more than their share. And so on, every man with his shoulder to the wheel and his own money in the pot.

We too, as we sit down to our typewriter for the last time this year to knock off this feeble attempt, wish that some good soul would say to us, "Well done, my good and faithful servant," but knowing that there is no person to do this, we must wake up what conceit there is in us and say to ourselves, "You have done noble!"

Now that the Field Day, Venetian Night, and the Swing Out are all over, we guess that the only thing left to do is to study. Which reminds us of a certain son, "Heavens, Earth is Hell!"

Use Calendars to Prevent "Hogging" of Courts in Fall

The registration plan used in the assignment of tennis courts this spring has been fairly successful, according to Mr. Rice at the gymnasium. The players register for the courts every afternoon from one to 7 o'clock. On Saturdays and Sundays they may register from 7 in the morning until 7 at night. The courts are assigned for one-hour periods.

Certain players take advantage of this system to monopolize the courts with the result that a new plan has been devised for next year in order that everyone may have an opportunity to use them. Upon presenting his fee card, the student will receive a calendar. Every time that he is assigned to a court his calendar will be punched, and in this way, the officials hope to prevent "hogging" of the courts.

The favorite courts are those on Park street. From 3 to 6 o'clock seems to be the popular tennis hours, because of the fewer classes and cooler temperature.

Rehearsing will last from 4 o'clock until dark. It will be necessary to hold such rehearsals four or five more times before presentation of "Rollo's Wild Oat," June 19 and 20, so that intensive work may be started, according to Miss Orth.

SACHTJEN TELLS OF LAW EVASION

Politics, Enforcement Personnel, and Legal Loopholes Aid Dodgers

Three factors make enforcement of prohibition difficult, Herman W. Sachtjen, state prohibition commissioner, declared in an address on Wednesday noon before the Knights of Columbus luncheon club in the clubhouse, E. Wilson st.

Politics, personnel of enforcement bodies, and legal loopholes were given by Mr. Sachtjen as the stumbling blocks of enforcement.

"One of my men who went out with a special investigator of an organization in Madison came back that he was unable to tell me he and the investigator secured the evidence," Mr. Sachtjen declared in citing incidents that had to discharge him.

Real difficulties arise in wet places, he stated, because, after enforcement is secured the officials in these hands the prosecution lies do not do their full duty, fearing to antagonize their constituents.

Knowledge of the law on the part of violators of the law enables the violators to employ subterfuges, Mr. Sachtjen said.

"Right here in Madison my men got a bottle of moonshine from an icebox in a soft drink parlor," he declared, "but at the preliminary hearing a man, with no money and no reputation to lose, testified that the bottle was his property."

"Other places employ men who carry the liquor on their persons and, when a search warrant is issued authorizing search of the premises, we can not search the persons of those men in the establishment. Again, bottles labeled with physicians' prescriptions can not be touched by the enforcement officials, even when the bottle is behind a bar, and the men handling the stuff take advantage of that fact."

Missouri Legislator Shot By 2 Gunmen

ST. LOUIS — State Senator Michael J. Kinney, 49, was shot four times and probably fatally wounded by two gunmen while waiting for a train at Oakland station today. Sen. Kinney has been a prominent Democratic leader in Missouri since 1912, when he succeeded to the leadership of the Democratic wards in the Levee district on the death of Tom Kinney, his brother.

PHONE MEN TALK STORM INSURANCE

Loss From Sleet Storms Cause Ten Wisconsin Companies to Fail

Facing the fact that more than $3,000,000 worth of damage was done by sleet storms in 1923-1924, and that ten Wisconsin telephone companies have so far failed to resume operations as a result, executives of a hundred or more state telephone concerns attending the fifteenth annual convention of the Wisconsin Telephone association here on Wednesday prepared to take definite action to insure their companies against such catastrophes in the future.

This matter, delegates declared, is the most important question which is to come before the convention.

As a result of negotiations by a special committee of the association with several large insurance companies, it was apparent Wednesday that one of the most novel insurance experiments in history may be undertaken. The insurance committee Wednesday afternoon laid the project before the association and asked it for its opinion.

To Carry Insurance

Under the proposed plan several large insurance companies would insure the association and its member companies against loss by long interruptions in service caused by sleet storms. Members of the association's committee which has been at work on the plan consists of W. L. Smith, Neilsville; J. C. Gaveny, Arcadia; J. F. Krizek, Milwaukee.

In a report submitted by the committee, there were listed ten telephone companies which were put out of business by the sleet storms of last winter, and twenty others have been able to give only limited service to date.

Between 300 and 400 telephone company executives are here attending the convention. The sessions are held in the new Loraine hotel.

PLAN TO IMPROVE
"HALL" INTERIOR

Council Committee Investigates Strength of Present Structure's Walls

A report on the strength of the walls and foundation of the city hall and an estimate of the cost of remodeling the entire building will be drafted by the special committee composed of the board of public works and a committee of three aldermen which will report at the earliest opportunity.

The inspection was referred to a special sub-committee composed of the state building inspector, city building inspector and the city engineer, appointed by the committee on Tuesday night.

A tentative discussion on the project was held by the committee. The majority of the members favored tearing out the entire interior of the building, lowering the floors and utilizing the additional space to create a fourth floor. The remodeled building, when completed will probably be of fireproof construction with tile floors.

The committee's report will probably be submitted to the common council next week.

SCHOOL TEACHERS' PAY RATE CHANGED

New Salary Schedule Places
Instructors on Definite
Training Basis

The salary schedule for teachers in the Madison schools as adopted by the Madison Association of Public School Teachers was submitted to the board of education at its meeting Tuesday night by T. W. Gosling, superintendent of schools. The schedule stabilizes the salaries of all teachers, according to the length of service.

This is the first time that the salaries of instructors in the schools has been placed on a definite basis. The plan has been adopted in many other cities, Mr. Gosling reported. Members of the board felt that definite action on its adoption should be delayed pending study by the individual board members. A special meeting of the board will be held next Tuesday night to vote on the schedule.

The report is based on pre-service training, experience and training in service. All teachers serving the same period and with like amount of experience will receive an equal salary. With the adoption of the schedule persons employed as instructors will be in a position to know what amount they will be earning after a certain number of years.

This schedule does not include special teachers. Their initial salaries will be determined individually by the superintendent. All credits for professional work and for summer travel are subject to approval of the superintendent before being applied to salary increases.

Adoption of the schedule by the board will not fix a maximum salary, the report states. The board will reserve the right to grant any additional compensation it may seem fit. The schedule merely limits the minimum which can be paid teachers in the Madison school.

PHYSICAL ED PAPER TO HAVE LATE NEWS

The Physical Education bulletin, edited by the Physical Education club, will be out at the end of this week, according to Gretchen Kroncke, '24. This will be the third issue published this year. The Field day exercises will be reported, and a list of the graduating seniors and the positions that they have accepted for next year will be printed.

DANCERS TO AID A. A. U. W. FETE

University Women Will Present Entertainment on Saturday

Six dances interpreted for the Dance drama will be a part of the program for the spring fete, which the A. A. U. W. is giving Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock on the grounds of the College club. A dance fantasy, "Pierrot of the Minute," will be presented as the principal feature of the program. Adelin Briggs and Dorothy Williams will take the leading roles in the piece.

"Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy," "Run, Run, Run," "Captain Bing," "Jolly Peter," "Scarf Dance," and "Bacchanale," are the dances which will be given by members of Margaret D'Houbler's classes. A number of flute selections will complete the program. During the afternoon tea and refreshments will be served.

The funds raised from the entertainment will go toward the $100 scholarship which the A. A. U. W. will award for the first time this June in addition to its two $200 general awards.

The scholarship committee of the club is in charge, with Elizabeth D. Young as chairman. Miss Margaret McCarthy is chairman of the dramatic committee which is making arrangements for the fete. Tickets may be obtained for 75 cents at the S. G. A. office, the College club, or from members of the club.

Beginning at 1:20 this noon and continuing to Friday, additional tickets will be placed on sale in Bascom hall.

General Hospital Graduates Fifteen Nurses This Year

The nurse can be a great influence in the betterment of her community, according to Charles E. Whelan, who delivered the address at the graduation exercises of the nurses' training course of the Madison General hospital at the Unitarian church Tuesday night. Fifteen women received their diplomas from Dr. J. H. Bradley, who emphasized the importance of the nursing profession and the interest of the hospital in its graduates.

"You can help to make your surroundings a good or bad community by the influence you have on its people in the matter of sanitation, solution of health problems and educating the public in subjects concerning the better living conditions," said Dr. Whelan. "They look up to you to practice the better things which will make life worth living both in physical and spiritual side. Your good deeds can not only increase the prestige of your profession but they can materially aid in that worthwhile task of making everyone happier and healthier."

The invocation at the exercises was delivered by Rev. H. H. Lumpkin of Grace Episcopal church. Miss Temperance Johnson, a student nurse at the hospital, sang several solos and Constance and Marie Endre played violin solos.

A banquet was given for the graduates at the Park hotel on Monday night by the alumni of the training school. Dr. Charles S. Sheldon was toastmaster at the gathering.
