The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

Two Young Fellows

One time they say that the late Smith Skenandore and Nelson Metoxen were travelling around when they were young. They were riding a two-wheeled cart pulled by a single horse. Then it got dark as they were going home and somewhere along the road there were some cows on the road that they did not see. One of these cows was standing right there in the middle of the road when they got there and their cart climbed up the rear end of the cow. Then she stood right up and turned the cart over. They say it went any old way and the two of them went sprawling. Dirt just flew up. She then they righted their cart and went right on. They were not even hurt.
