" The alternate domination of one faction over another, sharpened by the spirit of revenge, natural to party dissensions, which, in different ages and countries, has perpetuated the most horrid enormities, is itself a frightful despotism. The disorders and miseries which result gradually incline the minds of men to seek security and repose in the absolute power of an individual; and, sooner or later, the chief of some prevailing faction, more able or more fortunate than his competitors, turns this disposition to the purposes of his elevation on the ruins of public liberty ". *

NEXT SUMMER

Now that Winter is half over, it is time to be thinking of Summer plans. We still have a chance to share with our guests from the Windy City (Chicago) and our neighbors from surrounding cities and villages our Winter Sports, but in the Summer is when we have our real opportunity to share the beauty of our lake and verdure clad hills.

Our Village is convenient to millions who like to get out into the country. There are excellent highways and many of them. There are all the Summer Sports available, motoring, golfing, fishing, sailing, swimming, horse back riding, hiking.

A paper from St. Petersburg, Florida, recently came to the attention of the editor, in which were listed as having registered with the Chamber of Commerce that previous day, 538 persons, making a total of 39,613 this Winter Season.

Isn't there a suggestion there for us here in Williams Bay to follow next Summer ? The Village has an office in the new Fire Station, which will be furnished and be available as a registration place for all who visit here next Summer. As soon as word gets around that there is a Registration Office , nearly every one will be interested in seeing that his name is placed there.

The Village Clerk can have certain hours at the office. Other Village Officials and volunteers can be on hand when there is any special occasion. In other words the effort will be made to show our Summer residents, guests and transients who are with us for the season, week or day, that we welcome them in our midst and wish to make their stay a happy one.

Let's Have your comments on the suggestion. We will print them in " Bay Leaves."

WILLIAMS BAY ALLCRAFT GUILD

The response of local producers to the invitation extended by the All-Craft Guild to enter their work in an exhibit held in the Williams Bay Community Room on Friday and Saturday of last week was very gratifying when one considers that workers were asked to limit their entries to products of original design and superior workmanship.

While out-of-town interest was not great, it is felt that the objective of the exhibition has been reached for, it brought together a group of more than a dozen willing and talented workers with whom it will be possible to start the enterprise.

Let us walk around the exhibition room and note the displays as we go;

First- there is a new idea for a fireside iron that may be used to move logs or big lumps of coal without soiling or burning the hands of the housewife. It has, in fact, a handle so generous in length that it could also be used in a small furnace. This iron is the work of Mr. Louis Rasmussen.

Next comes a delightful group of pewter dishes exhibited by George Hotton. Further along is a group of wooden plaques and calendars pyrographed and painted by Mrs. G. Van Biesbroeck. These cheery and colorful bits of country landscape and bird life, made from the original designs of the artist, composed one of the most popular exhibits in the show.

Mrs. Oscar Palm showed two very handsome sets of table mats and an attractive apron together with some beautifully cross-stitched covers for the back and arms of an upholstered chair. Mrs. A. Ohl presented two dainty aprons made from original designs and a cute little baby bonnet never before seen on the market. She also had samples of some very effective colonial rugs.

Mr. Ivar Nicholson surprised everybody with his unusual work in inlaid tables, three of which were exhibited. (Cont.)

The Horvath family was well represented. William, with his carved wooden trays, Robert, with a group of lamps, candlesticks and ash trays of new design, and the father, Mr. Louis Horvath, with his own oil paintings and a group of articles made by his pupils in his class he gives in connection with a P.W.A. project. Other PWA entries were made from Delavan where classes are supervised by Mr. Arnold Blodgett and Mr. Fairchild, and from the PWA project classes in Lake Geneva.

Mrs. Kachel has two hooked rugs of lovely hue.

Mrs. Karen Steele was represented by three dolls and two sachets made with the daintiness and taste that characterizes every thing she does.

A group of wrought iron designs for fire screens designed by Mrs. Van Biesbroeck, may perhaps suggest to some ambitious young man, the idea of establishing a work-shop where such things could be hammered.

A very good specimen of a candlestick in wrought iron was brought by Harry Everson, his own design, in very graceful lines.

Now comes an entirely new idea in a "Lazy-Ann" buffet table for four, designed by Mrs. Van Biesbroeck, who says that this table was the result of a great deal of thinking about how to make easier, informal Sunday suppers at her own home. She adds that she will make this idea the property of the Guild, and whatever money may come from the sale of "Lazy Ann" tables, will be used to help with the running expenses of the Guild.

At 4 P.M. last Saturday, all the exhibitors and sponsors met in the Community Room to discuss future plans. It was decided to organize a contest for the best design for a trade-mark for the Guild, to be used on each article handled by them, on stationery, etc. Details of contest rules will appear in later papers.

It is hoped that this enterprise will grow into the beautiful and helpful thing it is meant to be. It should bring out the best in work and feeling in everyone concerned as it is a non-profit organization based only on good fellowship and cooperation, and on a desire to develop the better things in the Community.

SKI-BALL NEW HOT BEVERAGE

Now with the winter sports season barely under way the new beverage has an extraordinary vogue. Ski-Ball parties have become the rage among snow and ice lovers.

HOW TO MAKE A SKI-BALL

At the resorts a special Ski-ball glass is used. It is a cute little mug made of thick glass, with an extra heavy bottom and a handle. However, it tastes just as good in any handled glass or cup that will withstand a boiling liquid.

At the bottom of the glass place a teaspoon and a half of granulated sugar. Stick a quarter inch slice of lemon with twelve large whole cloves, or 18 small ones, and put this on top of the sugar. Next stand upright in the glass a stick of cinnamon that is long enough to use as a muddler. Now your props are all ready and you fill the glass with freshly brewed five minute tea. The tea must be brewed just right for best results. Use one teaspoon of tea for every cup of furiously boiling water and let it steep a full five minutes (no less). Black tea is preferred. TRY IT!

Mr. Hugo Kosen of Chicago, and children were at the Bay last Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Kosen has leased the Lockwood Tourist Camp for the past three years and will be back again next summer. He left a subscription to BAY LEAVES so as to get the news.

The following letter has been received from our good friends and neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Harry N. Bryant, Chicago. We are glad to print it.

Chicago, Ills.,
January 31-

Editor of
BAY LEAVES, Williams Bay
Dear Sir-

"Boy", I sure got "panicky" when I received your last issue, reading Last number, unless,--You should have seen me duck for our dollar for a year subscription. You won't take that little paper away from us--No Sir, not even if I have to pay five dollars for it.

About a year ago we bought a little home at 59 Spring St., in Williams Bay, and I am telling you we think a lot of it., and hope some day to make it our all year round home.

We like the people, the store keepers and your public officials, they seem always ready to be of some service to you.

Speaking of public officials, I know it's a tough job, because I was active in politics in my own community, and few people realize the responsibility and appreciate the work done by the officials. I am sure the people of Williams Bay do appreciate their work.

At one time I was a Wisconsin Real Estate Broker, also operated in my home town, Chicago, and found a great deal of pleasure in recommending Lake Geneva region.

My past experiences, such as United States Secret Service Agent, A Lieutenant of the A.P.L Div., former Deputy Sheriff and Chicago Police Reserve Officer, should qualify me as a good judge of good people, and Williams Bay has them.

Best luck for BAY LEAVES

DO YOU WISH TO TAKE A COLLEGE COURSE? YOU WILL SOON BE ABLE TO TAKE IT RIGHT HERE .

Last Monday night the Williams Bay School Board was host to a group of Schoolboard members and Superintendents from various surrounding towns to discuss the question of establishing a branch of the University of Wisconsin Extension to serve the needs of the young people of the Southern part of Walworth County. The University was represented by Frank Holt, who is Dean of the University Extension Division, and his two field workers, Mr. Allen and Mr. Lowe. These gentlemen took turns explaining the opportunities that the University offers-- this extra-mural department of the State University has now spread its activity to 15 Wisconsin towns aside from the larger center at Milwaukee-- the group that is nearest combines the cities of Racine and Kenosha.

This service has been developed especially during the depression years when so many deserving students were unable to bear the expense of living at Madison. A preliminary survey in this section has shown that a substantial number of graduates of this year as well as former graduates from our high schools are in that class. Dean Holt explained that it was to meet the needs of such a group that these secondary university centers were created. He emphasized the quality of the work done in these branches. Experienced teachers of the Madison faculty are conducting the courses which can cover freshman and sophomore studies. The departmental Chairmen of Madison are personally supervising the work; they check up on equipment, surroundings, and library facilities, they give constructive assistance in keeping the work on a par with what is done on the campus. There are the same entrance requirements, the same limitation of teaching loads, the same subjects are offered and there are the same rules of attendance. The instruction gives full credit which can be transferred to other institutions if desired.

The main difference from regular campus residence is economic-- students live at home and have to travel only a short distance. This brings the cost in reach of almost any youngster having university ambitions. Some of them even manage to keep part-time jobs to defray the expenses -- full details were given about the financial requirements. A group will not be started until there is assurance that a minimum of 25 students will register. Only then will the university be in a position to finance the salary and traveling expenses of the members of the faculty. The student is required to pay $5.00 per credit per semester and if he takes a full load of 15 credits per semester this would amount to $150 per year. In many places the local Schoolboards appropriate in their budget a certain percent of this amount; some offer 20%, some 2/3 of the yearly cost and some carry the whole amount, being of the opinion that free schooling should be extended to higher education. This is a matter left to local option. The University does not concern itself with these arrangements. The yearly scholarship given by the University of Wisconsin to a student of high academic achievement in high school is applicable to the University Extension department. In other words, the $55.00 tuition scholarship would decrease the student's fees by that amount on the Extension Center fees.

The audience was duly impressed with the splendid service that the University thus spreads over the State. Many questions as to further details of organization came from the floor and for over an hour the Madison delegates explained all phases of the University Extension work. The School Board of Williams Bay suggested that this community would be the logical place for a new center, attractively situated as it is at a small distance from a number of larger communities. Appropriate housing has been under consideration by the Board of Education. That the plan of a University Extension in this section is meeting with general approval was brought out by the fact that some delegates were wondering if classes could not be started at once so as to include the second semester this year. Dean Holt thought this could not be done until next fall since some time is required to enroll the students, to secure the necessary faculty members and to arrange their circuits which generally cover several towns.

Prospective students and their parents are urged to discuss the question with the School Superintendents and to declare their intentions of enrolling so that the necessary quota can be assured.

A CISCO STORY

While fishing for ciscos a week or so ago Andrew Anderson's bottle of beads used for bait, slipped into the hole in the ice, and a week later when fishing, to his surprise, he pulled up his line and on the hook was the bottle he had lost. The line was in 73 feet of water. This is a true "fish" story.

Four men from the State Highway Department have been surveying our lake shore including the railroad property in order that the State Highway Engineers can make a study of possible locations for St. H.36 when it is paved.

There were many visitors to the Bay last Sunday. Automobiles bearing Illinois licenses were lined along the lake shore parking places.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Atwater have moved into the Chas. Madison house on Spring St. Mr. Atwater is employed by the Hollister Lumber Co.

Williams Bay is attracting many fine young people here who are making homes. We know we are growing!

The indicator at the Water Station showed a leak of some extent in the mains. Supt. Ripley has been testing the various mains to locate the leak. It was found to be some where along the lake shore and by means of a leak testing device, was finally located across Edgewater Park on Geneva St. Wm. O'Neill, who laid part of the water pipes when they were installed, is fixing the leak today. It was necessary to use an air pressure stone crusher to break up the road on account of the ground being frozen.

Mr. and Mrs. A.W. Wakely of Kenilworth, Ill. and Cedar Point, had a party of thirty-five friends out last Sunday to enjoy the Winter sports.

Wonder who will see the first robin?

GOING MODERN

A husband came home from his work one day recently and his wife was enjoying a "sit down strike", declaring she was not going to do any more housework. She demanded the he employ a maid so that she might have more time for leisure. Wonder what would happen if all the housewives in America should try it!

Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Weihoff, daughter, Mary Ann and a party of guests, were at their lake shore home Saturday and Sunday. They seldom miss a weekend coming to enjoy the winter sports, about which they are enthusiastic.

Mr. C.F. Spence, who stopped off here for a visit with his son, Mel Spence, on his way from Winnipeg Canada, to the Mardi Gras at New Orleans. Returned last Monday and is now on his way back to Canada. He traveled by bus from Chicago to New Orleans through the flooded area. The New Orleans States (news-paper) dated Feb. 11, told of Mr. Spences' experiences enroute.

LOST- Sunday, February 14-Small white gold wrist watch, with the letters-MIMO on the face. Some place between Spence's and the lake shore. Finder please leave it with BAY LEAVES-44 Elm St. REWARD.

The Cub Scouts and their dads are assured of a Cisco Supper tonight (Thursday) at the school as Mike and Carl got their limit on Wednesday .

* Speaking of Cisco fishing it seems that everybody is getting their limit these days. Ed. Zabler found them fighting for a chance to be hooked yesterday.

There are scores of fishing shacks (some quite comfortable) on the Lake at various points which are considered the best places by the old timers. The Bay has its share.
