Moderato

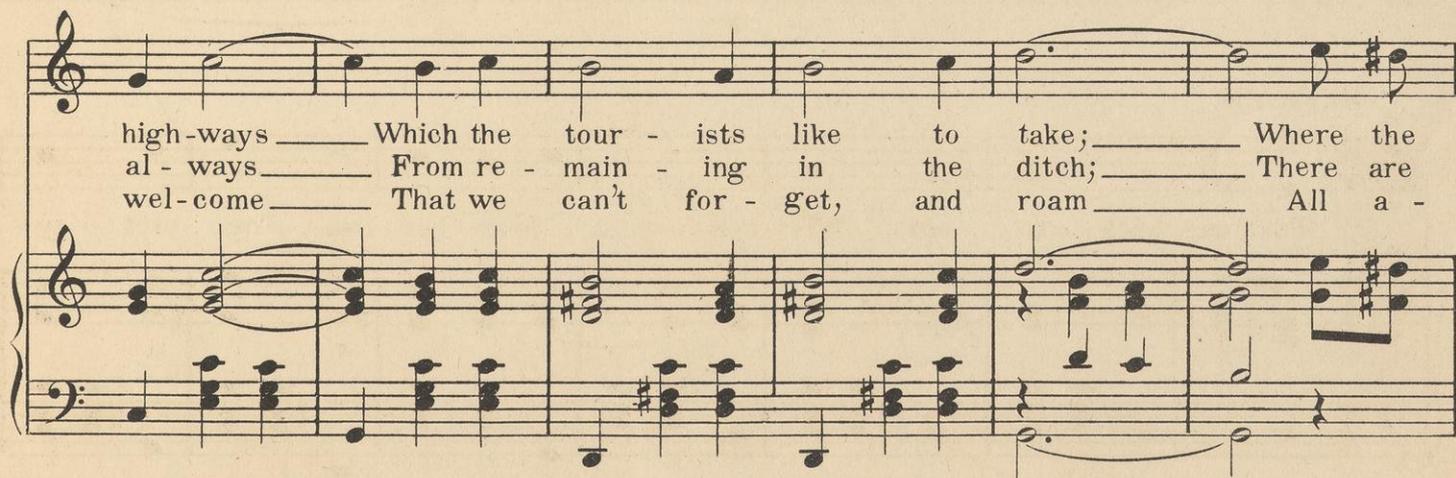

There's a wide - ness to the prair-ies — Of our There is joy with - in her bor - ders — For the When the sum - mer months are ov - er — And we old Wis - con - sin State, — There's a pleas ure on the poor as well as rich, — And her high - ways lead you all re - turn to home, — There's a mem - 'ry of her high-ways — Which the tour - ists like to take; — Where the al - ways — From re - main - ing in the ditch; — There are wel - come — That we can't for - get, and roam — All a - trips are full of scen-ry From the dawn till close of parks of ev-ry na-ture Some the best that man can round the hills and riv-ers Of our pleas-ant sum-mer day, And we meet the friends who're stop-ping give, And we all u-nite in claim-ing home, Where the trips and ev-en camp-ing

To en joy va-ca-tion's play.
 There's a state in which to live.
 Were the best that we have known.
