Bloomington Ind., Champaign and Dan-ville, III., Soon to be Added to the Booking Map.

Bloomington, Ind., March 17.
Bloomington is offe of the towns to be included in a new vaudeville circuit which Matt Kusell of Champaign is organizing for William Morris Inc. Mr. Kusell has been negotiating for the lease of the Collseum here for this purpose, and the deal has about been closed. Two other towns have been selected, Champaign and Danville. A suitable building in Champaign has already been leased, occupying a location in the heart of the business district, which will be made into a first class theater for next winter's season. It is planned to spend $15,000 on the Champaign house.

ned to spend $15,000 on the Champagn house.

A location is now being sought in Danville for the purpose, either of remodeling a building into a suitable theater, or erecting a new building that will comprise the essential features of a first class vaudeville playhouse. It is planned to open all three of the houses about Christmas time next December.

Recently J. J. Matthews, representing Mr. Morris, visited Bloomington, Champaign and Danville, and rendered a personal report to Mr. Morris in Chicago. Mr. Kusell of Champaign also being called into the conference. Authority was then given to Mr. Kusell to negotiate for suitable locations in the three cities.

CLEVELANDERS PASS FILM RESOLUTION

Machine Operators' Union Vote Thanks to International Company, Cleve-land Exchange and THE SHOW WORLD.

land Exchange and THE SHOW WORLD.

Cleveland, March 17.

The following is self-explanatory: "Whereas, the moving picture and projecting machine operators' union, local number 160, I. A. T. S. E. is composed of moving picture operators, of Cleveland. Ohio, and vicinity, and, whereas, the object of this association is for the uplifting and improving of the motion picture business, and whereas, a large delegation of moving picture operators have witnessed the exhibition of independent films, controlled by the International Projecting and Producing Co., and to be handled in Cleveland, by the Cleveland Film Renting Exchange Company at the Family Theater, East Ninth street, on March 11. through the courtesy of Mr. Edward Helm, manager. And whereas, it is the sentiment of this association that the projection and exhibition of such pictures will greatly improve the industry, it is therefore resolved:

"That we extend to the International Projecting and Producing Company and to the Cleveland Film Renting Exchange Company evidence of our desire to co-operate with them in placing before the public, the character of films, which they control, and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the manager of the above named theater, the Cleveland Film Renting Exchange Company, the International Projecting and Producing Company and THE SHOW WORLD, of Chicago.

JAS. W. ROGERS, President.

MORRIS BUILDING UP! NO MORE CONTINUOUS SAYS FATHER KEITH

Parent of the Supper Show Relegates the Relic to the Ragheap and Turns to Two a Day.

Philadelphia, March 17.

B. F. Keith, "Father of the Continuous," has laid his pet child to rest, as if to celebrate its arrival at the age of maturity. Continuous vaudeville is now twenty-one years old, in this town at least, for it was inaugurated nearly that long ago at the Bijou in Eighth street, now leased to the Empire Burlesque Wheel, and for fourteen years obtained a handsome livelihood there, so handsome indeed that it warranted the father in building a million-dollar playhouse in Chestnut street on the site of the old Baldwin estate, where it has continued to live in comparative luxury until the current week, when it will resign.

With the advent of the spectre known as the slump, business has not kept quite up to the mark at the new stand, although ous," has laid his pet child to rest, as if it is probable that, dollar for dollar, the receipts at "Keith's" will stand most favorable comparison with other playhouses in town. For two decades, however, B. F. Keith has had such absolute faith in his pollcy of continuous vaudeville that he scorned any suggestion of change, and insisted on playing the "supper acts"—more often to empty benches than not, much to the discomfort of the players who were thus compelled to do "three-a-day."

While it is stated that the change to two performances daily is merely an arrangement for the coming summer season, it is quite probable that the plan will be continued for all time, and in such event the admirers and well-wishers of B. F. Keith will warmly congratulate him. The supper show deserves a place beside the melodrama—a form of play once popular with the low foreheads.

STRENUOUS CAMPAIGN IN EASTERN CITIES

International Projecting & Producing Company's Special Exhibitors Draw Big Crowds in Buffalo, Cincinnati, Syracuse and Columbus.

The unique campaign of the International Projecting & Producing Company in exhibiting its films in the larger cites is being kept up, and has resulted in rallying to the independent flag may trust exhibitors. The company is proud of the product which it handles, and is not averse to showing it. President J. J. Murdock believes that this is much more satisfactory than for the exhibitor to read highly colored and oft-times absolutely false statements regarding the subjects to be released in a subsidized press, misleading the exhibitor and exchange.

H. J. Streyckmans, secretary of the In-

H. J. Streyckmans, secretary of the International company, has held some rousing meetings during the week, and in every instance the films shown have won commendation and applause. It should be taken into consideration that these exhoitions are attended by film men who are accustomed to seeing pictures every day, and when subjects are shown them to move them to demonstrative action they must be very fine, indeed.

Many Exhibitors Present.

In Cleveland, O., the exhibition was given at the Family theater under the auspices of the Cleveland Film Renting Exchange Company, one of the exchanges which will handle the International films. Among those present were one hundred moving picture theater owners and managers, including:

Peckham Is Enthusiastic.

Peckham Is Enthusiastic.

C. H. Peckham, manager of the Cleveland Film Exchange Company was very enthusiastic, and stated to a representative of THE SHOW WDRLO that he had been swamped with orders for service.

"Exhibitors come to me and state that if we can continue to sumply them with such goods, they are with us forever. I know that the International company can do so, as I am familiar with many of the companies whom they represent. When I resigned as an executive officer of the Film Service Association and announced that I would conduct an independent exchange, it was with the idea in mind that the product which the International Projecting & Producing Company now controls would be available. A number of the agencies were held at that time by an individual who has recently joined the trust, and for reasons best known to himself, and which are no doubt obvious to any one who will give the matter a moment's thought, he did not exploit the goods, but tried to the best of his ability to kill the demand.

"All the moving picture trusts in the world could not make an exhibitor believe that he can make more money with their inferior product, once he actually sees the pictures that are produced by these independent manufacturers."

WEBSTER WOULD WIN BUT WAS HANDICAPPED.

Claims That Had He Been Allowed His Way in Policy of Park Theater His Stock Would Have Paid.

Way in Policy of Park Theater His Stock Would Have Paid.

Philadelphia, Pa., March 12.

The story printed in these columns two weeks ago, to the effect that the Harry McRae Webster Players had quit the Park theater after four weeks work, referred to a fight having occurred between Webster and a stage hand. This portion of the story probably emanated from those interested in the other side of the question.

As a matter of fact, had there been a fight it would probably have been very much one-sided, for Webster himself is an athletic sort of proposition, and the average stage hand would have had very little chance with him.

While admitting that he had lost several thousand dollars in the venture Webster still believes that he had every chance for success had he been permitted to inaugurate certain well defined policies which he had outlined at the time he installed his company. He save that he was prepared for and quite willing to "drop" a few thousand more to prove his faith in the proposition, but under existing conditions he could see nothing but failure ahead.

The report that he had abandoned his new West Philadelphia theater scheme is entirely without foundation. He has continued upon his plans in that direction and firmly believes that the house will be ready for opening at the beginning of next season.—WALTER.

Shadowed by Three closed the season at the Majestic in Grand Rapids last Sunday night. The company played Detroit last week and picked up the extra Sunday night as Thomas E. Shea did not care for it.

ACTOR DISAPPEARS.

Alex Francis, who played the Englishman in Coming Thro the Rye, which played the Great Northern recently, disappeared when he and his wife were about to take the train for New York. He excused himself to buy a magazine and did not return. Detectives were put in search of him but when this is written no track had been found of him. It is not a case of desertion, according to the opinion of his friends, as he has disappeared this way before. At St. Louis he was lost for three days. The trouble caused by the closing of the show and the worry connected with it is thought to have unbalanced his mind. Mrs. Florence Francis is the widow of the late George Honey, and has a daughter in the profession.

George Cohan, who is at Atlantic City, recuperating from a severe attack of grip, says he is not sick now—simply tired. He agreed to rest only upon the earnest plea of Sam Harris and his physician, who felt that grip after a life of hard physical and mental toil warranted a short respite of labor for brain and body. Mr. Cohan was undeniably a sick man a short time ago, but since his visit to Atlantic City he is in buoyant spirits and greets his friends daily on the board walk. After a sea voyage and a short stay in Europe he will return to the stage for a late summer engagement on Broadway.

BLANEY LOSES CASE AGAINST FISK O'HARA

Supreme Court Justice Fitzgerald Denies Application for Injunction —Former Will Appeal.

The injunction restraining Fiske O'Hara from appearing under any other management than that of the Charles E. Blaney Amusement Company, was denied by Supreme Court Justice Fitzgerald in New York and the court held that the contract between Blaney and O'Hara implied obligations on one party when there are no clear and definite obligations imposed upon the other party to the contract.

will carry the case to higher courts.

The Justice held that the thirteenth clause of the contract covenants that the terms theatrical season and seasons shall be construed to mean the time intermediate between the time fixed by the party of the first part for the commencement and the end of the performances in which the said Fiske may be cast each year and season, the said party of the first part having the right to determine when each theatrical season shall begin and terminate.

The Justice says further: "The sole power is conferred on the plaintiff to fix and limit the duration of each season throughout the entire contract, a period of ten years, and it was further agreed that defendant should not be entitled to receive any pay whatsoever, except for every week that he should actually render and perform services.

"Plaintiff might thus arbitrarily deprive defendant of the means of earning a livelihood. 'A court of equity should never, by injunction, imply obligations on one party when there are no clear and definite obligations imposed upon the other party to the contract."

Ask Damages to the Amount of $100,000 From Newspaper Which Has Not Been Coloring Its News to Suit Them.

Marc Klaw, upon behalf of Klaw & Erlanger, has instituted a suit for libel against The New York Press, and damages to the amount of $100,000 will be asked.

Some time ago the Theater Managers' Association of New York withdrew its advertising from The Press and since that action, the newspaper has made no effort to color its news to suit the managers. Instead The Press has been running column after column of matter which was calculated to injure rather than increase the business at the theaters.

The members of the company held on, hoving against hope, but at length refused to sing and act without pay. It is said that the show came to grief through officers of the law hovering around with their eagle eyes on the cash box.

Some of the performers, who are still here, say that the management promised time and time again to do something "in a day or so," but last Thursday night the patience of the members of the cast was strained to a point where tolerance of the conditions was impossible and the complainers took action.

The actors walked out and the few people who were attracted to the theater were told that there would be "no performance."

Frank L. Mahara, manager and owner of Mahara's Minstrels, is not exactly a candidate for membership in THE SHOW WORLD'S Society of the Stung, but at Lyons, Kansas, he accepted two complimentaries which will easily take their place at the head as oddities. The town has a population of 2,000 and he played it to $47.50 gross. The profession will easily understand that he had at least half an hour to while away before settling up with the house manager. Just to pass away the time he perused the reading matter on the twenty-five complimentaries taken in and almost fainted when he read upon two of them "account of embalming." He did not recover sufficiently to inquire of the manager concerning the comps., but as The County Chairman closed in the town rather abruptly two

CANDY KID ATTRACTS!

Kilroy & Britton's Musical Melodrama Drawing well at Lincoln J. Carter's Playhouse.

There are not many shows playing the popular priced Stair & Havlin houses this season which are in the same class with Kilroy & Britton's The Candy Kid. This statement will go unchallenged when it is stated that the company has made money this season in spite of the conditions which have discouraged other melodramatic producers.

The company opened the season at the Alhambra in Chicago last July and, after a long trip south and east, returned to the Criterion, opening with a matinee last Sunday. The first performance ran $50 more than the opening performance of the preceding attraction and the business during the week indicates that the gross will be $500 more than the house has been getting lately.

This is easily understood by those who see the show. There is a combination of musical comedy and melodrama and vandeville which is bound to appeal to any taste and which is presented on such an elaborate scale that one is inclined to wonder why the company does not play houses which obtain higher prices. When the play was first produced the foster parents of The Candy Kid were low comedians and a change has been made now which is a great improvement to the show. Instead of a Dutch comedian and an Irish biddy the foster parents are country folk and players have been secured for these roles who, from an acting standpoint, make them stand out prominently. Louise Willis contributes the best acting of the performance as the country woman. Her impersonation is a work of art. It is easy to descend to farce in such a role, a fault Miss Willis avoids at all times. Richard Maddox, who is also very capable, gets away from his character for a time and sings some parodies, but this is necessary to avoid a stage wait.

Wanda Ludlow, in an ingenue role, contributes some excellent acting and her attractiveness aids considerably in making her work effective. Willard Francis, in the ittle role, has such a fat part that he makes good in spite of the fact that his abilities are not in line with the character. W. Oscar McWaters, who h

Renewal of Old Films.

A new industry, pertaining to moving pictures, which has passed beyond the experimental stage, is the renewing of old and worn out films. For more than a year a Chicago firm has been experimenting along this line and has finally attained a degree of perfection which has won the hearty indorsement of leading film exchanges not only in this city, but elsewhere throughout the country. W. W. Mackay, who is well known in film circles, is at the head of the manufacturing firm, which trades under the title of the American Film Renewing Company.

ANDY KID ATTRACTS! GIRL FROM RECTOR'S COMING TO CHICAGO

Al. H. Woods Has Secured the International Theater and Will Present His Salacious Play After April 10.

The Girl from Rector's, Al H. Woods' salacious play, is coming to Chicago and will open an engagement at the International theater on Saturday, April 10.

The attraction will remain here several weeks and Woods would not be surprised if it remains all summer.

A new company will be organized, as the New York company will remain at Weber's until fall.

Vivian Blackburn will play Angelica in the Chicago company, a part played by Nella Webb in New York. Harriet Raymond will play Loute, which is played on Broadway by Violet Dale. Etienne Girardot, formerly with Charley's Aunt, will play the professor, which is played by Dallas Welford in the New York company. Beatrice Lasca Durnell will also have one of the principal feminine roles.

Although they have been seen in Chicago on several occasions, the visit of Howard and Howard to the Majestic and Olympic during the past two weeks has again demonstrated the great popularity of the now familiar Sport and the Hebrew Messenger Boy act. The father of the two boys—for they really are brothers—is a Jewish rabbi of New York city. E. S. Keller, formerly with Wm. Morris, is booking the act. The present contracts with the Orpheum are for solid time until April, 1910.

GOLDEN GIRL DOING SPLENDID BUSINESS.

Biggest Success the LaSalle Theater Has Had Since The Time, The Place and The Girl.

Mort Singer appears to have another The Time, The Place and The Girl in The Golden Girl, which is now at the LaSalle theater. Every indication augurs that it will be fully as successful as The Time, The Place and The Girl, both in Chicago and on the road. The Golden Girl is doing a better business than The Girl at the Helm, in fact the best business the La Salle has had since The Time, The Place and The Girl.

and The Girl.

Visiting theater managers who have witnessed the performance are particularly anxious for the attraction. It is certain that the show will make a big hit in the south for there are references to Dixie which cannot help but create enthusiasm in that territory.

From present indications it is likely that another company will have to be organized for the road next August for it does not look like the attraction will have lost its popularity with La Salle patrons by that time. New scenic equipment will be prepared for the road company as only one setting is permitted at the La Salle.

The Golden Girl is best described as a

The Golden Girl is best described as a splendid entertainment. It does not outshine all other musical comedies from a standpoint of book or music but there is an indefinable something about it that pleases. The Howard music is of the whistling variety similar to that in the other La Salle shows.

whistling variety similar to that in the other La Salle shows.

The Golden Girl is a rather peculiar title but its value from an advertising standpoint is exceptional. It is euphonious and can be displayed on printed matter to advantage. It is generally conceded that a title with Girl in it has drawing powers and there are hundreds of musical comedies which could be named to prove this point.

The company is a very capable one. Harry L. Tighe succeeds Cecil Lean in a role evidently written for Lean. Tighe lacks the personality of his predecessor and while he is nice looking, smiles pleasantly, is unaffectedly boyisn, naturally exuberant, and plays the part capably, he cannot be said to be a great hit. In securing Winona Winter instead of Florence Holbrook a fair exchange has been consummated. Miss Winter is a beautiful girl, with a sweet voice and great big eyes which cannot help but make her a favorite. Harold Crane has the part of a lady killer who does not underestimate his powers and Helen Cullinan has a similar part, being styled "the fiend" by the West Point cadets to all of whom she has been engaged at various times. Mr. Crane plays his part effectively and Miss Cullinan is attractive and winsome enough to play havoc with almost any heart. James Bradbury offers an excellent characterization.

Both Tighe and Miss Winter have Both Tighe and Miss Winter have dreams in the second act, and the comedian, who is without family connections of which he can be proud, sees his forefathers, a pirate, a convict, a Nihilist and a money-maniac, played respectively by John Fogarty, Vincent McCarthy, William Robinson and Arthur Wanzer. This quartette affords the comedy of the play.

Another feature is the dancing of Earl Mountain, Harold Hall, Alice Gordon and Annabelle Nielson. It is introduced in a novel way and by taking turns with the comedians they not only avoid any waits but provide a number which is as enjoyable as anything in the production.—E. E. M.

He was conceded to be one of the most popular newspaper men in the Quaker City and his many friends there are proud of his success.

pany; E. Saunders, Pittsburg Calcium Light & Film Co.; C. Burton and C. Thompson, Consolidated Film Co.; R. M. Mock and W. R. Palmer, Motion Picture Supply Company. Many of those present were accompanied by their wives and women relatives. Among Rochester's social leaders who graced the occasion with their presence were Miss Edna Mock, Mrs. W. R. Palmer and Miss Pearl Meyers.

The pictures were greeted with rounds of applause, and it is safe to predict that Rochester will have a goodly number of first class theaters exhibiting the product of the International Projecting & Producing Company.

R. M. Mock, of the Motion Picture Supply Company, one of the exchanges which will handle the International films in Rochester, said:

"We can snap our fingers at the trust with such products as this. I have seen many moving pictures, but never anything like the pictures of the International Company. Since the exhibition I have taken on a good many first class customers, and I can assure you that it is with a sigh of relief than I can feel that the stuff I send out to my clients is the proper kind, and will swell their box office receipts. The trust levies a tax of $2.00 a week on its licensed exhibitors, in return for which it vaguely promises them protection. The best protection you can give a customer is to furnish him film with which he can make money to pay for his service."

Buffalo, a Trust Stronghold.

Buffalo, a Trust Stronghold.

At Buffalo, N. Y., considered a stronghold of the trust, the meeting was held at the Golden Palace theater, Main street, on Sunday morning, March 14. Notwithstanding the fact that at the present time there is not an independent film exchange or theater in Buffalo, and the early hour at which the exhibition was given, about fifty film men were on hand. Some came to scoff and criticize and departed with the independent seed planted firmly in their breasts; others openly stated that they could not compete with houses which would show such product as Mr. Streychmans exhibited, and that they would be compelled to join the independents. Among those present were the following:

C. H. Wagner, United Vaudeville Company; A. Luttgart, Comique theater; A. McCullom, Golden Palace; E. Morton, Bijou-Dream; A. Weingarten, Grand; J. Schugart, Buffalo Film Exchange; manager Hippodrome; manager Migara Street theater; manager Genese Street theater, and manager of the New theater.

Syracuse Out in Force.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 16.

One of the most successful meetings of the campaign was held at Syracuse, N. Y., on Tuesday at the Antique theater and more than one hundred and twenty-five film enthusiasts were present to witness the exhibition of International films. The pictures were invariably applauded, but the Pompeii and Italian Cavalry films aroused the house to great enthusiasm.

Messrs. Mullin and Somborn of the Mullin Film Service report an increasing number of requests for service.

J. M. Mullin, president of the Mullin Film Service said: "If anything were needed to nail the last nail in the trust coffin, this exhibition has been the correct hammer. I talked with many of those present, not a few of whom were more or less inclined to the trust films, and without exception I found that we had won them over by this display. I am more than pleased with the outlook, and I predict it will be but a matter of a few weeks at most until the trust will begin to wonder how our coup came about."

Mr. Somborn expressed his thorough gratification at the result of the day's work.

The Meeting at Columbus.

Columbus, O., March 17.

A full house responded to the call of the International Projecting & Producing Company at the Columbus theater today, and the campaigners under the leadership of H. J. Streyckmans, were hailed as heroes of the hour. George Thompson, owner, and S. Sachs, manager of the theater, expressed themselves as highly pleased with the exhibition and declared emphatically their intention to switch from trust to independent service. There are several other houses lined up for the same switch. The Wyandotte Film Exchange was jubilant over the quality of the films. Mr. Thompson said: "It is very plain to be seen that we must have independent service in order to conduct our business successfully. A meeting is called for Cincinnati tomorrow."

JOUS CAMPAIGN IN EASTERN CITIES MURDOCK APPRECIATES EXHIBITORS' ATTITUDE

Extends Thanks for Patience Shown International Company—Puts End to Certain Rumors—Permanent Quarters Soon Ready.

By J. J. Murdock

Now that the first release day approaches, I desire to personally thank the many exhibitors and exchange men for the great patience they have shown toward our company. It has demonstrated to me that they have fully appreciated that there was something more than a mere matter of films to be considered in forming a gigantic organization for the conduct of an independent campaign.

Regarding Contracts.

From and after our initial release day, we will release regularly on each succeeding Monday, and we will use our best efforts to have all reels reach the exchanges in time to take advantage of the release day.

In order to avoid any misunderstanding whatever on the subject of the price of our film, we hereby notify all, that the price of our film is 11c per foot.

Falsity of Rumors.

Falsity of Rumors.

It has been rumored that we are a part of the trust. It has been rumored that the trust would sooner or later swallow us up. It has been rumored that we never had any films and never intended to have any, and after exhibitions had been given in many cities it was rumored that the films then displayed were all we had. The first two rumors are so absolutely ridiculous that I shall not take up time to deny them. Either I am an honest man or a liar. I leave the public to judge. I did, however, take occasion to refute the statements regarding our lack of film, by sending a man to New York where he gave three days' consecutive exhibition of films, without repeating a subject. To some extent even this sort of refutation was unavailable, for a rumor was immediately started to the effect that we had at last gone our limit and that our three day exhibition was all we could ever give, that the films there shown were our entire stock in trade.

I believe I have learned a valuable lesson by this experience. I believe it has taught me something that I should have known before, namely, that a false rumor must sooner or later sink to the oblivious bottom by sheer force of its own gravitation. We have passed beyond the period of promises. Our future course will be punctuated with persistent activities of a tangible character, I say, of a tangible character, because our activities of a tangible character, because our activities of a tangible character, the course will be punctuated with persistent acmived of promises. Our future course will be punctuated with persistent acmivities of a tangible character, because our activities of a tangible character, because our activities up to this time have been more or less internal, but our butterfly has now emerged from its chrysallis and the world may examine its colors.

Tricks of the Trade.

Tricks of the Trade.

My experience thus far in the film business compels me to admit that there are more tricks in this trade than in any of which I have any knowledge. The mere circulation of damaging rumors by hirelings appears to be but the least offensive of the measures adopted by our opponents. You can hire a man to do

Regarding Contracts.

A great dead of study has been given to the form of contract to be used in furnishing our service to the various exchanges.

The contract to be used in furnishing our service to the various exchanges are to contract when the contract which are the unscruptulous individual who might come into poods will be accepted and paid for by consignee on arrival at destination, would be sufficient. This would be about the only contract we would need. But a number of important exchanges have requested us to draw a form of contract, whereby we could extend to all legitimate exchanges, protection as far as lies in our power against the unscruptulous individual who might come into possession of our goods through misrepresentation. And as it is our desire to have our contract meet with the approval of all, we deem it advisable to furnish the exchanges with service without restriction until we confer with a number of the exchange representatives of the exchanges and would are to do or to contemplate formulate a contract which will be acceptable to all parties concerned; which will be done at an early date.

All kinds of rumors have been circulated against the Independent movement, and the latest trick is, that a fictitious contract purporting to be an instrument executed by the International Projecting & Producing Company is being circulated containing unreasonable conditions, and should it be brought to your notice, you will know from whence such a document emanates and for what malicious purpose.

We, therefore, make a bona fide offer of Ten Thousand Dollars to any one hold-international Projecting & Producing Company, except a few simple contracts which are written or typewritten, and in which the subject matter does not exceed one hundred words, and which are entirely satisfactory to the exchanges having received them, and contain conditions identical to those herein stated, and we are quite such that it will be satisfactory to you.

Our shipments will always be made for the regular release day, and wil and say more contemptible things than you would dare to do or to contemplate yourself. Personally, I have always fought fair and I can see no advantage in changing my tactics at this late day.

Is it possible, as it would appear, that men can use our courts as a joke,—as a convenience for the purpose of intimidation and the furtherment of their own nefarious plans? Or to enter into collusion in the enforcement of the laws of the land? For instance, I am told that certain moving picture houses have been raided by officers of the law, but that some of them were aware in advance that the raid is a pure fiction, invented for the purpose of strengthening the cause of certain of our competitors. Some of these managers whose places have been raided either plead guilty and enter a weak defence, or else fail to appear at the hearing, thus giving the entire procedure the semblance of a justified attack, and, whether intentionally or not, making a farce of justice and comedians of the constabulary.

These methods, I learn, are by no means new in the film game, but they are again being used. at this juncture it of the constabulary.

These methods, I learn, are by no means new in the film game, but they are again being used, at this juncture, it would seem, in order that the exhibitor in general may be frightened out of using our films for fear he may be the next victim, knowing full well that until our goods are on the market and tampered with, we can extend no relief to either the exhibitor nor the exchange man.

We were fully warned of the probability of these plans by a gentleman who during a trip to New York City, unbosomed himself to a fellow passenger, outlining the whole scheme far in advance and explaining in minute detail what the preliminary campaign was to be.

The Gum Shoe Squad.

The Gum Shoe Squad.

Among other matters which this confiding individual mentioned was that there would be a gum shoe squad formed, solely for the purpose of intimidating exhibitors, and that one or more of the Chicago exchanges would be equipped with four of these soft pedal gentry. It may prove unfortunate for our competitors that their confiding member did not know that his fellow passenger on the train was connected with the International Company, and was at that very time en route to New York to consult with an attorney on matters pertaining to the interests of the company. But this harassment of exhibitors will come to an early end, if I read the signs of the times correctly. I would not deny any man the privilege of using our courts, because I would not deny others a privilege which our company will frequently avail itself within the next few weeks. We intend, however, to contrast our court proceedings with those of our opponents, in that we shall enter with clean hands and make our exit without soiling them.

It seems to be the aim of some of our competitors to prove that one lawsuit does not decide a point of law any more than one swallow makes a summer, and it would appear to be the aim of their logic to increase the number of lawsuits on the same issue rather than carry one to conclusion,—in other words, to conclude the simile, they gather together a flock of swallows and neglect to obtain the warm atmosphere necessary to give the season its proper label.

One thousand lawsuits upon the same issue are no better than one, until the point is finally adjudicated, unless they are brought for the purpose of intimida-

If the alleged patents of some of our competitors are valid, why have not their claims been established by means of a test case?

Independence Necessary,

Our competitors take advantage of the weakness of humanity. They know that among the masses there is always a member whose conscience tells him to do one thing, but that the yellow streak predominates against his better judgment, and always keeps him grovelling and subservient to the man he makes his master, and yet, if he, himself, would assert his rights he would readily rise to rule the situation.

The man who has got the nerve today to assert his independence, is going to travel the pathway to success. It has always been so and ever will be so throughout all history. The independent movement offers the oppressed exhibitors a staff to lean upon. Not only the avowed independent movement, but the other exhibitors as well, for he should welcome the avenue of escape which this movement affords him, when the lines shall have been drawn too closely about him to make a decent livelihood a possibility. When the exchanges have been cut down to thirty-five, as our competitors, now plan, there will be many more flocking to our banner, welcoming us as the savior of their situation. It may be well to repeat here that which we have repeatedly stated in our announcements published in THE SHOW WORLD, that there is no exclusive exchange and no exclusive territory appointed for the handling of our films. Every legitimate exchange has an equal opportunity.

Permanent quarters are now being arranged on the seventh floor of the Schiller Building. The vaults, exhibition rooms and executive offices will be completely equipped with all modern conveniences. These quarters are now nearing completion, and with their opening we will have one of the largest and best arranged film headquarters in the world.

The Brayton Manufacturing Compan of this city is authority for the stateme that many local theatorium managers ar clearing the expense of house operation of the managers of advertising slides. The scheme is left entirely to the manage himself or his agent, and usually the business men of the neighborhood in which the theatorium is located are solicited for advertisements. In view of the fact that the advertisements, which are displayed in colors are read by seventhous and persons weekly, it is claime that this is a most profitable form of publicity, not only for the business mabut for the exhibitor as well.

Cincinnati House Issues Call.

Cincinnati, March Is The Cincinnati Film Exchange has issued a call to all exhibitors not to sign any trust agreement and assume them that there will be a plentiful supply of independent films. He got quite a reception from admirers who saw him at the Grand recently, and Monday night was forced to take four bows at the finish. One newspaper in its review of the bill says:

"Tom Waters in jokes and funny culupping on the piano is very acceptable and earns all of the $325 he is billed to receive next Sunday at the close of the last performance."

Waters recently closed with Coming Through the Rye and is now negotiating with several managers for a starring tour next season in the legitimate theaters.

The code of honor by which vaudeville performers are governed is peculiar to an outsider. An act which is first class will make good wherever it is placed, for the stage manager is generally competent enough to avoid conflicts which would really endanger the success of an offering.

W. F. Mann's The Fighting Parson opened on August 13 last and after braving windstorms, bad business and other difficulties, closed March 13. Harry Chapell is not the least bit superstitious, but next season he wants a show which opens on some other day of the month than the 13th.

Clyde Fitch has named the central character in his new comedy The Bachelor, in which Charles Cherry is to be seen for the first time as a star, George Goodale, in honor of the oldest dramatic critic in America.

Joseph Brooks was similarly honored by Eugene Walter, when he wrote Paid in Full.

Ethel Barrymore, according to a friend who writes about her, declares: "The more natural and simple a person is the greater the surprise his actions always cause." It is natural to love, perhaps simple to marry, yet the announcement that Miss Barrymore has wed Russell Griswold Colt, of Providence, caused a great surprise.

"Some day some profound psychologist will arrive who will explain the mystery of the chorus girl. He will tell the subtle changes which underlie the fascination which a woman on the stage exercises over a certain class of men."—A writer in the Sunday Tribune.

It is because a certain class of men can insult women of the stage without their being offended.

The friends of Edwin Clifford have been kept busy defending him lately and there is no longer any use of concealing the truth. The rumors which have been going the rounds are true. He has become addicted to writing poetry. Here is one of the efforts and its purpose is plain:

Jim Dumps was bluer than the blue His rent and butcher's bill was due, "Go to the National," his wife told him. He went, and now he's Sunny Jim.

If the actors organize and affiliate with the American Federation of Labor there are plenty of men around Chicago who will be glad to be walking delegates. It will take at least one walking delegates of performers who can be left to themselves with any degree of safety will be the character women. Soubrettes are often unreasonable and unless the orders of the Federation are obeyed to a greater extent than the orders of stage managers and husbands the strike called for such and such an hour may not materialize if there happens to be supper engagement which conflicts.

OTIS HARLAN GETS HIS.

Rennold Wolf, in speaking of the coming of A Broken Idol to New York, says:
"With the production is coming Otis Harlan, who has been its mainstay and who is largely responsible for its great success."

Strange how Rennold Wolf got such an impression as this!
Otis Harlan has not been the mainstay of A Broken Idol by any means, nor has he been largely responsible for its success.

The chorus is the mainstay of A Broken Idol and the balloon number along with the entertaining qualities of the play have been responsible for its success. Otis Harlan is actually unfunny in this play, according to the judgment of The Breeze, and everyone to whom the editor has conversed on the subject. Almost anyone will agree that there are hundreds of comedians who can get more out of the part than Harlan. The management must certainly have been disappointed in his work.

must certainly have been disappointed in his work.

It is believed that Harlan was engaged owing to his "drawing powers." He has "drawing powers." But they consist mainly in attracting tony actors and actresses to the theater, who do not pay their way in. While at the Whitney it is reported that he wrote letters inviting players to come and see him.

Otis Harlan is a good business man. He knows the tricks by which one can "get in" well. His friends have no right, however, to claim that he made A Broken Idol, for it is an injustice to a score of players who contributed as much as he did, if not more, to the success of the musical comedy.

A member of Ethel Barrymore's company is responsible for this:
"If Ethel Barrymore remains on the stage, now that she is Mrs. Colt, will her work be classed as horse play?"

George Tyler is a showman clear through. A failure now and then no more discourages him than the lack of demand for an article in one of the departments of the store would depress John Wanamaker. Tyler believes in taking chances, and it is this quality which has endeared him so to every one engaged in the theatrical business in Chicago.

"For people who present unspeakable plays or music shows there should be the police regulation which is applied to every other form of vice. It is not an answer for a manager or player to say that the crowds flock and that he needs the money."—Wilton Lackaye.

The managers of such attractions should be dishonored and classed by their associates among the procurers of the vice market.

Dramatic editors must not hesitate to help themselves to anything that strikes their fancy in The Breeze. The Brooklyn Times clips some of the "Do You Remembers" and they make good reading. The London (Ontario) Free Press reproduces The Saturday Sermon printed week before last. John J. Kierans, who provides an interesting page for the Sunday Philadelphia American, uses his shears frequently when he sees The Breeze. The San Francisco Call finds entertaining things which it reproduces, and there are hundreds of others. Help yourselves, boys!

GUSTAVE MILTON DIED OF A BROKEN HEART.

A sad story is going the rounds of the newspapers concerning the death of Gustave Milton, of the Milton Trio, widely known among vaudevillians. The Dubuque, Iowa, Herald says:

The Trio opened at Birmingham, Ala., to play over the Interstate time, a circuit of eight consecutive weeks. The management of the first house did not like the act and canceled it. The blow was a severe one to the members, particularly to the old man, who had just recovered from a long and critical siege of illness.

was a severe one to the members, particularly to the old man, who had just recovered from a long and critical siege of illness.

The trio started back to Chicago and the broodings of the veteran actor seemed to increase with each passing mile. At a little way-station along the road where they stopped to change cars the old man suddenly collapsed and before physicians could be summoned he breathed his last on the depot benches where he had been carried by loving hands. The statement is given out that it was clearly a case of a broken heart which killed the sufferer.

What makes the circumstances seem the sadder is the fact that the young daughter, who was the mainstay of the act, made a hard fight against long odds for the life of her father, which teature is widely known to members of the profession, among whom she has come to be held for some time past as a heroine from a standpoint of courage.

Hundreds of dollars were necessitated for a difficult operation which the doctors thought might and day, the daughter finally got enough together to have the operation performed. It was pronounced successful and the Birmingham engagement was the first after the Trio was united again.

The cancellation, coming just when things began to look bright after a long struggle in the dark, was too much for the old man and he died of a broken heart.

Ethel May Astonishes Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 17.

Ethel May certainly had Milwaukee talking. The Sentinel, in reviewing a performance of the Van Dyke and Eaton stock company at the Alhambra said of her: "The exhibition given by Ethel May is one of the most amazing of its kind ever seen in Milwaukee. She is a young woman of unusually attractive appearance and she gowns herself handsomely. During her exhibition she is seated on a platform built out over the orchestra pit, her eyes blindfolded and her nearness to the audience destroying any suspicions of a confederate act. She works rapidly, calling the names and answering questions written some time before by the persons in the audience and retained in their possession, her assistant on the stage locating each person by the hand uplifted in response to the name. During the few minutes she is on the stage she answers a great number of questions, many of them in detail. Were it to be judged merely from the standpoint of a memory test, it would be a remarkable performance."

"Flamme" Returns to Stage.
Flint, Mich., March 15.
"Flamme," a former well known dancer, who has been on the stage in various countries with her act, but who for the past five years or more has lived a more private life, returned to the stage this week, making her reappearance at the Bijou, in this city.

In private life "Flamme" is Mrs. J. R. Shannon. Her husband is local manager of the Grinnell Brothers branch store, and is known as an author of several plano numbers. For a time this season he played the plano in the theater orchestra at Stone's, this city. Mrs. Shannon is a native of Paris. Her husband will act as her manager during the time she is in vaudeville.—BRADNER.

Edna Wallace Hopper and her company playing Fifty Miles from Boston were billed for the Grand March 11, but the train from Pensacola which was due here at 6:20, was two hours late and did not arrive until 8:20, when the curtain goes up at 8:30. Jack Young, the manager, at one time thought he would delay the curtain 30 minutes and give the company time to get up the scenery but after they arrived he went on the stage before a very large audience and announced that there would be no show as he did not want to try to do what was impossible. Money for tickets was refunded at the box office next morning at 9 o'clock.—LONG.

Had Just Recovered from a Long Illness San Francisco New Orpheum to be and Cancellation Was More than Thrown Open to the Public Just He Could Stand. Three Years After the Fire.

Thrown Open to the Public Just Three Years After the Fire.

San Francisco, March 14.

The event in the theatrical world which all San Francisco seems to be looking forward to is the opening of the new Orpheum theater, which is scheduled for April 19. The applications for seats have already far exceeded the capacity of the house and judging from the letters received every day by the management, every man, woman and child in this city wants to be at the Orpheum on the opening night.

The house will be opened on the third anniversary of the day the old building was destroyed by fire. In the great fire of 1906 the Orpheum was one of the first buildings down town to fall a victim to the flames and by noon time of that day there was not a brick left standing untouched by fire. The management obtained a location on Ellis street near Fillmore and within 9 months after the fire had another Orpheum in operation. In the meantime performances had been given in the Chutes theater.

The new building represents an investment of one million dollars. The playhouse is fitted with every convenience and labor-saving device known to theatrical architects and it is undoubtedly the handsomest and best equipped theater west of Chicago.—MALLABAR.

Merry War Looked For.

Binghamton, N. Y., March 18.

The Armory theater, opened here four years ago as a Keith vaudeville house under the management of Weber & Rush, of New York, will produce Klaw & Erlanger and syndicate shows beginning next season, and the vaudeville programs will be transferred to the Lyric theater, now running as a low-priced vaudeville house. Both theaters will be under the control of the Crescent Theater Company, formed and incorporated this week, and composed of Edward M. Hart, local manager of the Armory, president; Roderick McClough Davidson, lessee and manager of the Lyric, secretary and treasurer, and P. Joseph Congdon, of this city, who has been connected with local theatrical productions for a number of years. This is the first opening the theatrical syndicate has had in this city, the Stone operahouse being run as an independent booking house. It looks as if there would be a merry war here next year in theatrical circles, with the Shuberts playing attractions at the Stone, and the syndicate producing their shows at the Armory.—BROOKS.

New Trenton House a Success.

New Trenton House a Success.

Trenton, N. J., March 11.

The State Street theater which opened Monday afternoon under new management and a change of policy, has met with a most flattering success. Three performances were given to more than 4,500 persons and it was necessary to stop the sale of tickets at the evening performance and it is little wonder, with such a program as was offered at 5 and 10 cents, which consisted of four vaudeville acts and four reels of pictures of the highest class of American and European subjects. The headliner in the vaudeville bill was Caesar Revoli, character impersonator in A Scandal in a Restaurant, in which he impersonates seven different characters. It scored heavily.

The house is now under the control of the State Street Theater Company and is under the direction of Elroy and Drake. Pictures are changed twice daily and vaudeville is changed twice daily and vaudeville is changed twice a week.

But One Night Show.

But One Night Show.

Flint, Mich., March 15.

Stone's theater, which recently was placed on the Sullivan & Considine vaudeville circuit, has adopted a new policy and now is playing but one night show, with a matinee every day except Sundays. Heretofore the theater was under the two-shows-per-night regime, but the management claims that better acts and a more complete bill can be secured when but one performance is given each evening. The house has been doing an immense business since the change went into effect and during the week just closed, when the bill was headed by Miss Laura Jaffray and her English Rockers, broke all records for business.—BRAD-NER.

The grounds will be illuminated with thousands of electric prisms. The gardens will be laid out in a perfect bower of beauty, with fountains, beds of flowers and wide walks. There will be an up-to-date garage and carriage sheds. troubles within the past several weeks and lawsuits have been the order of the hour.

The trouble seems to have begun when Managers Mandel Lurie and Noel Travers installed a stock company, which, almost from the first, proved to be a losing investment. The salaries of the actors got behind and the first sign of trouble came when J. R. Gray, an actor, filed suit against the management asking judgment in the sum of $656.75, claiming to have had assigned to him the amount due to Virginia Thornton, Harry Cleveland, and other members of the company. The salary was said to have been due between the dates of January 1 and January 23. In his bill of complaint Gray alleged that the managers were about to sell the stock scenery and properties and that Lurie had absconded. Harry E Cleveland filed the second suit against the Andrus-Cushing Lighting and Fixture Company and Sheriff Tom Morris, to recover $500 damages for an alleged unlawful attachment made upon the box office. In his complaint he stated that the electric company had obtained a $50 judgment against Lurie and that the Sherif had attached and taken $83, none of which monies belonged to Lurie at the time, because the actors were continuing the performance on their own account.

Judgment in the sum of $63.65 was granted in the first suit by Justice Card, but Lurie, who has returned, claims he is backed by a brother in Seattle and gave notice of appeal.

United States Amusement Company Formed in Toledo to Take Many of the Theaters for Pictures and Vaudeville.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 16.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 16.
Buffalonians are much interested in the report of the recent launching of the United Amusement Company in Toledo, Ohio. Henry J. Brock, of Buffalo; John O. Hooley, manager of the Burtis theater, Toledo; A. A. Gotschall and H. E. Smith of Toledo and William Allen of Detroit, owner of the Comique theater, consummated the deal. The company was formed to take charge of a number of leases it now holds in some thirty cities throughout the United States. Nearly all the leases comprise bouses which formerly played melodramas. The object of the new company is to place in all of its houses first class vaudeville at popular prices.

Some time ago the Stair & Havlin syndicate turned over to John O. The success of Burt's is said to have been responsible for the formation of the United States Amusement Company.

Mr. Hooley, A. A. Gottschall and H. E. Smith, of the Toledo Film Exchange, will be interested in the new company, as will William Allen, owner of the Theater Comique in Detroit. The last named will be the general manager of the new concern.

Film Men of Providence File Suit Against William H. Hall of Bijou at Fall River, Alleging Broken Contract.

Fall River, Mass., March 15.

Fall River, Mass., March 15.

William H. Hall, lessee of the Bijou theater, a moving picture house of this city, is being sued by Thomas L. Walsh of Providence and Charles E. Matthews of East Providence, the latter being "displayers of moving nictures."

The plaintiffs say that the defendant Hall promised, if they would obtain a charter and give him $5.000 worth of stock in the corporation, then on the execution to him of a mortgage for $15,000 on the building and lease, he would transfer the $5,000 worth of stock to the plaintiffs. Messrs. Walsh and Matthews said that they employed attorneys and tried to get the charter, obtained promises of subscriptions for stock and went to much trouble and expense, but they allege that the defendant disposed of the building and lease and refused to complete his undertakings, and so notified the plaintiffs. They claim that they have been deprived of the $5,000 worth of stock that they were to get from Hall and they sue for $7,000 damages. Richardson, Hammill & Lavander are counsel for the plaintiffs.

The litigation is believed to be the outgrowth of certain negotiations he entered into between the close of the shortlived management of the theater by Castiglioni and others, last year, and its being taken by the present management.—SAN-FORD.

It will have a splendid location and will of course play S. & C. vaudeville.

for a two week's stay, and is presenting a repertoire of plays seen in Chicago too rarely.

On Monday night the great actor appeared as Hamlet, and his portrayal of the role commands unstinted praise. Not only is his Hamlet well acted but the supporting company and the production in every detail is praiseworthy.

O. L. Hall, in the Journal, says: "The Hamlet submitted to this public annually by E. H. Sothern is incomparably the best that treads the American stage."

W. L. Hubbard, in The Tribune, says: "The Sothern portrayal is one which commands respect and commendation more for the scholarliness and care which it evidences than for any great inspirational or imaginative qualities it possesses. It is a portrayal which has been thought out in its minutest detail by a man who is a tireless student, an earnest thinker, and a scholar. The reason for doing everything that is done is plain to the discerning onlocker, and such is the actor's mastery of the technic of his art that no effect he wishes to get fails in the obtaining. His is a Hamlet interesting, instructive, and containing many elements and many moments of distinct beauty and power. It is not the most poetic Hamlet the theater has known, but it is one which reflects high credit upon Mr. Sothern and which is an ornament and an honor to the American stage."

The indications are that the engagement will be a very successful one from a financial standpoint, and certainly no artist who has appeared in Chicago this season deserves better patronage from those who desire to encourage the class of players and the class of plays deserving of the success.

THERN'S HAMLET PLAYGOERS SHUNNING NEW YORK THEATERS

Forty Per Cent of the Seats Vacant in Eleven Houses According to New York Press Figures.

That Chicago is faring better than New York during the theatrical hard times is proven, if figures printed in the New York Press are correct.

It is a matter of general comment that conditions in Chicago are improving every week and visits to eleven Manhattan theaters, including three where the big successes of the season are playing, show that those theaters are playing to less than 60 per cent of the capacity.

The Stuyvesant theater, where The Easiest Way is playing, and the Bijou, where A Gentleman from Mississippi holds forth, were included in the eleven theaters. These two houses were crowded, according to The Press. At the Criterion, where The Richest Girl is playing, The Press says there were fewer than 300 persons in the house, or less than one-third of the seating capacity occupied. It will be remembered that The Richest Girl did not draw exceedingly well in Chicago recently.

These eleven theaters were chosen at random, says The Press, and a thorough counting of the empty seats in the orchestra, boxes, balcony and gallery was made. The theater received the benefit of the doubt in the count, and yet with all that it is clear that more than 40 per cent of the seats in those eleven houses were empty.

Daly's had 600 empty; Weber's was playing to little more than 50 per cent of the seats were occupied. The Savoy was about half full.

Here are the statistics of the eleven houses:

| Name ofTheater.CriterionNew YorkStuyvesant .AstorGaietyBijouGarrick | Capa-city.9101,9001,0001,309802900960 | SeatsOccu-pied.2901,3501,0001,109402900400 | SeatsEmpty.620550None200310None560 |  |
|---|---|--|--|--|
| Daly's  | 1,026   | 426  | 600  |  |

| Weber's   | 900   | 485  | 415  |  |
| Total1  | 11,782  | 7,162  | 4,620  |  |

The foregoing figures obtained are a convincing proof of the dullness of the New York theaters this season. On the other hand, the shows that really have merit are drawing crowds. By 8:30 there was not a seat left in the Stuyvesant. The gallery was thronged and many persons were glad to get standing room there at 50 cents.

In the Criterion theater, where one of Charles Frohman's shows is being presented, the audience was dolorous-looking. Not even the center of the orchestra was packed. The side seats were empty and the back rows had one or two lonely occupants. There were twenty-five persons in the balcony and thirty-five in the gallery. Ten of the fourteen boxes were empty.

In the New York theater, where Anna Held is the "star," the last six rows of the orchestra were empty, while empty seats were sprinkled about nearer the stage. In the last row of the balcony not even an usher was seated. In the center of the balcony, where the $1.50 seats are, there were gaps of seats. The gallery also was only partly filled. The boxes were crowded.

The Girl from Rector's was not alluring that night from The Press' statement, for it says there were gaps of empty seats in Weber's theater. There were rows of empty seats in the orchestra and the gallery. The boxes were partly filled. There were about 485 seats out of a total of 900 seats occupied.

Runaway Girls to Return.

Clark's Runaway Girls, which gave a poor performance at Sid Euson's earlier in the season, come to the Trocadero next week, and it is said that the show has been made over until it is a fair entertainment. The performers include: The Famous Livingstons, The Great Carroll, Perry & Elliott, The Bowery Boys Quartette, Estelle Rose, Gloie Eller, Lottie Stone, Belle Smith, Marion Gordon, Helen Garibaldi, Katherine Moon, Sadie Burgess, Dolly Russell, Lillie Lawton, Lillian Burgess, Edna Emory, Helen Peck, Sigrid Moore, Irene Turner, Maud Eicker, Viola Gordon and Maud Livingston.

AT THE MUSIC HALLS

AMERICAN.

AMERICAN.

Jack Lorimer is the headliner at the American Music Hall this week and while he is a clever comedian and a good dancer he is an entertainer only and is far from being the artist that Harry Lauder is. He is billed as a comedian on the same line as Lauder and it is almost impossible to see his performance without drawing comparisons. Like Lauder, he does several numbers alone and one in which he is assisted by a Highland lassie. Lauder individualizes the character represented in each of his songs, while Lorimer remains Lorimer. He is, however, a clever comedian, a good dancer and has a good singing voice.

Arthur McWatters and Grace Tyson offer their burlesque on The Thief and Mr. McWatters gives several imitations. This clever pair never fails to create enthusiasm and their travesty on the Bernstein drama is well worth seeing.

Joseph F. Sheehan and his company continue in the tabloid version of the opera Martha. Mr. Sheehan, Gladys Caldwell, Veronica Condon, William J. Jorgenson and Louis Lavalle acquit themselves creditably.

Charles Barnold's dog and monkey actors give the act which has been so well received everywhere, with a few changes which keep it up to the times. There is a dog which wears a sheather gown this season which makes a hit and the intoxicated canine dissembles as cleverly as ever.

He was one of the big hits on the bill Monday night and earned the applause he received.

Windsor McKay entertains with some cartooning on a blackboard. Cameron & Flanagan remain another week with their novel act, On and Off, and The Three Slaytons open the show with the acrobatic act which is familiar to vaudeville patrons. The novel introduction to their act is certain to make a bit on any bill.—E. E. M.

OLYMPIC.

A crowded house was on hand Monday night to greet the players on the Olympic bill, and it is quite possible that each person went away well satisfied that he had obtained his money's worth, even though there may have been occasional spots in the bill to which he could have found objection from the standpoint of amusement.

the bill to which he could have found objection from the standpoint of amusement.

Thos. Quigley opened the program with a number of illustrated songs, of the Shapiro ilk, which were liked. He was followed by Felice Morris and her company in a skit called The Old, Old Story. It may have been the age of the story which militated against its appealing qualities. Miss Morris worked hard, Edward Coxen did his best and Russell Basset played a stage father in good style, but even with this combination the dialogue refused to be bolstered to the sitting up point. Frances Wilson is named as the author of the skit, but it is certain that this is not Wilson, the comedian. Ray Cox furnished the first bright spot and was thanked generously for coming to the rescue, with her clever dialogue and songs. The Les Salvaggis, four French dancers and an assistant, provided a delightful dancing number that was highly appreciated by the audience. The Italian Trio of singers proved the big hit of the bill and were recalled many times. Thorn and Carleton, in a happy dialogue, demonstrated what an easy matter it is to make a living in vaudeville—provided you can provide the right sort of stuff. Staley and Birbeck's Transformation Musical Act was enthusiastically received. Marshall P. Wilder was in one of those cheerful moods such as are contagious. His monlogue proved a delightful number. DeBiere, an illusionist, closed the bill with an act of tricks, many of which were decidedly novel and all of which were keenly enjoyed.

Carl Herman Performs "Miracle."
Carl Herman, the electric king, performed what is almost a miracle at Winnipeg last week. A girl was carried on the stage with a crippled arm and leg and after his "treatment" he handed her $2 with the admonition to go out and buy a football and have some fun. The little girl walked off the stage as if she had never been crippled.

the Sunday Matinee and Will Have a Big Week in Englewood.

Yorke & Adams are playing to his business at the National theater this week and it is one of the most entertaining musical comedies which has appeared at that popular theater.

Playing the Ponies, which is the whicle of these amusing comedians again this season, was written by Aaron Hoffman and as the title indicates has a racing flavor. Yorke & Adams have the roles of adventurers and never since they became stars have they had better opportunities of displaying their talents in the last act the table scene which they presented at Hammerstein's and the Percy Williams houses in and around New York last spring and for which they received $750 per week, is interpolated and it fits into the play so well that it might have been written to order. In that scene they are assisted by Madge Lawrence, who makes a clever foil for the wit of these well known comedians. Gus Yorke is the Pincus and Nick Adams the Poncus, retaining the names of the characters in Bankers and Brokers. Yorke is the same unlucky man as of old and with Adams anxious for adventure gets his share of ill luck.

Wallace Beery has the role of Bill Welch, a race track hanger on, and makes much of his opportunities. Edde Morris is a jockey whom the comedians beth claim as their son and who accepts the double parentage in good humor. Madge Lawrence has the role of an adventuress and sings frequently. Engle Young in a soubrette role is attractive and sings and dances cleverly. Lanker De Wolfe has a second soubrette role which she plays acceptably.

The chorus is well trained and the costumes and production look nice from the front.

OLGA NETHERSOLE URGES LEGISLATION

Thinks the Illinois Law Has Ruined th Dramatic Effect of Enough Plays for Change to be Made.

for Change to be Made.

Olga Nethersole passed through Chicago Tuesday and took occasion to urge the right of children to act in Illinois. It is possible that she heard of Mrs. Fisks trying to cuddle a 17-year-old boy on he lap in Salvation Nell or of the younge sister in The Warrens of Virginia, who was quite grown up instead of the child the audience was expected to believe her, for she urged that an act be passed by the legislature permitting children to have employment in theaters.

"Illinois is the only place in any civilized country where children may not appear on the stage," said Miss Nethersole. "The provisions in the present factory in spection laws are abominable and I, with others, am interested in having it amended. I now have a bill drafted after the English law which will be introduced in the legislature. I have discussed the matter with Judge Pinckney and others to get points.

"I love children and I think the mother as the star in her home surrounded by he children occupies an enviable position far beyond what can be gained in a caree. Still, I believe that dramatic art should not suffer because of laws which really do no good when one understands the situation.

Our Policy

For many years theatrical managers have made certain donations to the daily newspapers and to the amusement weeklies, and from the way these managers act when something creeps into print which does not suit their purpose, they expect that the paltry sums set aside for advertising will influence the writers to COLOR THE NEWS in their favor.

When some great daily comes out and prints the truth the managers of this ilk at once feel that they are injured and in order to bluff other newspapers from daring to print the NEWS OF THE THEATERS they at once discontinue their advertising in the columns of the offending journal

The editors of the leading dailies are in many instances unfamiliar with the way the theaters are handled. They conclude that the theaters spend a large sum each year in their columns and that they are entitled to "notices" each week, which are calculated to make the advertisements paying investments. They realize by experience that theater managers are hard handle, but often jump to the conclusion that their dramatic critic is unfair when a theater manager lodges complaint. They do not realize that the theater manager expects the NEWS TO BE COLORED when he pays an advanced price for amusement advertising.

For years the amusement weeklies have printed the announcements sent out by theatrical managers and producers with-out investigating them at all. The editors thought it their province TO PRINT

WHAT THE MANAGER WANTED
PRINTED and the readers of amusement weeklies came to believe that a "show paper" was a manager's organ and its statements were to be taken with a lib-eral allowance of salt. Such managers cannot realize the policy of THE SHOW WORLD. They will tell you that this paper is unfair because it PRINTS THE NEWS. They will insist that no one reads THE SHOW WORLD and that it has no influence, hoping to thus offset its rapidly increasing circulation. The real objection such managers have to this paper is that

THE SHOW WORLD REFUSES TO COLOR THE NEWS.

We do not claim that we are always right. It is human to err and sometimes correspondents send in reports or information reaches this office which does some manager a slight injury. In such instances THE SHOW WORLD is glad to make a correction, and once more its editors determine to be more careful in passing on news stories before they are admitted to these columns.

THE SHOW WORLD AIMS TO PRINT THE NEWS.

It does not wish to injure the business of any manager or producer. It would deeply regret any error which caused a theater to lose one cent in patronage or a manager to lose one single day's book-

The policy of THE SHOW WORLD is popular with managers who mean to meet their obligations, who make no pretensions which the facts will not bear out, and with performers who seek to be benefited as well as entertained by reading a journal devoted to the welfare of amusements.

Those managers who have gained their standing by what is generally termed FOUR FLUSHING hate THE SHOW WORLD, and mouth against it at every opportunity. The man who does things in the dark, of which he is ashamed to have his wife and family learn, HATES PUBLICITY as he would a poisonous reptile, and his dissatisfaction with THE SHOW WORLD'S policy is therefore not surprising.

Niagara Falls, N. Y.—The city is to have another new theater, this one to be located at the North End. It will be erected on Main street, between South avenue and Cleveland avenue, and will be known as the Grand. The North End Amusement Co. is promoting the enterprise, and contracts for the construction of the building were awarded yesterday afternoon. The theater will have a frontage of about 40 feet on Main street and will be 150 feet deep. It will cost in the neighborhood of $25,000. Robert Clark and A. E. White are the two principal stockholders in the new company.

Hastings, Neb.—The Hastings lodges of the United Commercial Travelers and the Ancient Order of United Workmen have started a campaign for the building of an opera house here. They are proceeding on the theory that the Hastings Commercial club will aid the project to the extent of purchasing, or having sold, 1,000 tickets at $10 each for the opening theatrical performance. It is the purpose of the leaders in the movement to build an opera house that will cost not less than $35,000. In the Hastings lodges of the two orders there are approximately 650 members, nearly all of whom reside in Hastings. It is believed that most of the stock in the enterprise can be sold within the membership.

STOCK MANAGERS TO FORM COMBINATION

W. W. Wittig Calls Meeting in Chicago to Propose Plan of Amalgamation of Interests.

A call for a meeting of manager of stock neaters has been sent out by W. W. W. G. owner of the Lyric theater of Minnepolis, to be held at the Stratford Hotel this city, Mar. 18, for the purpose of ganizing an association and establishing central agency, through which, as was sently explained in these columns, royty plays would be handled at a saying to be individual manager.

Mr. Wittig claims that he has already ceived sufficient replies to his call to sure a big meeting and he is confident at the plans he has to propose to his flow managers will meet with their apoval.

Mr. Wittig is quoted as saying: "It is absolutely essential that we stock managers should get together at once. Millions of dollars in ticket sales are represented weekly by the stock theaters and since all the road show interests are thoroughly organized, it is about time that we had an association of our own. I mean to propose the establishment of a central office in charge of a competent secretary."

cretary. Charles Marvin, who controls three of the leading stock theaters of this city, did not seem to think very well of some of Mr. Wittig's plans. He said, in part:

"The entire scheme—or at least as much as I know of it—reads well on paper, but I very much doubt the practicability of it in operation. You will appreciate that there are seldom more than a half dozen that is, plays of proven worth for stock production—such plays as have made their mark the season before in the legitimate houses. Even if it were possible through a combination of the managers to obtain such plays at a reduced royalty, the reduction would probably be almost insignificant, even if we could guarantee thirty or forty weeks booking. As to the general run of stock plays, it seems to me highly improbable that a sufficient number of units in such an organization could agree in their selection. The play that would suit one man's clientele would be unfitted for another's. Personally I am a great believer in organization and I would like to see Mr. Wittig's plan succeed. Naturally if the royalty reduction scheme succeeds, it will mean a reduced cost in printing for all of us."

BUSY SUMMER LIKELY OVER IN CLEVELAND.

Many Dramatic and Musical Stock Com-panies are Now Being Planned by the Managers.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 12.
Cleveland, theatrically, will be busy during the summer, as there is talk of stock companies being placed in the different theaters. The outdoor theaters will, as usual, present attractions of the quality which have made them paying propositions. Productions could be presented in all down town theaters, with a small outlay for cooling devices. The Star during last summer presented a stock burlesque with great success, and will probably do the same this year, while the Lyceum, Colonial, Empire and Opera House will present attractions of caliber that would attract patrons as well as transients. The Hippodrome will present vaudeville, and Keith's Prospect will have moving pictures all the year. Mark and Harris will undoubtedly present some interesting attractions at the Coliseum, and the Euclid Garden will have stock musical comedy. Laura Nelson Hall and Ralph Herz have been engaged by Manager Wm. J. Wilson, of the Hippodrome forces, for a season of four weeks at the Euclid Garden, to begin June 1st. Mitchell Mark's name has been given as lessee of the Garden, to begin June 1st. Mitchell Mark's name has been given as lessee of the Garden, and W. J. Wilson as manager.—YOUNG.

MASSACHUSETTS' LAW IS STRICTLY OBSERVED.

Fall River, Mass:, March 15.

The manner in which the "under age" law is being pushed in this state is well illustrated by the following incident:

John P. Hill, manager of the Imperial Theater, Providence, was fined $25 and costs in the sixth district court, in that city by Judge Frederick Rucckert, Friday, after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of allowing Edward McNally, a boy under 16 years of age, to appear on the stage of his theater without the necessary permit signed by Mayor Fletcher.

The McNally lad, together with John Green, above the minimum age limit, appeared at the Imperial at the amateur performance on Thursday night, having gone from Fall River for the purpose. They sang and won consideration from the audience, with the result that the first prize was awarded to them.

Agent Maymon, of the S. P. C. C. was in the audience and the two boys were taken in charge as witnesses. The younger had no permit. A week ago the same boys tried to get a chance to appear at the Imperial, but failed.—SAN-FORD.

Moving Picture Competition.

Sunburg, Pa., March 16.

Considerable opposition is being shown between the two moving picture places at Northumberland. Ralph Achenbach, the manager of the Pastime theater, who was the first to open a moving picture show in the town, is being slowly forced to give up his patronage by the management of Boust's theater, who are running six reels of film at each show and in addition are giving away prizes, consisting of canary birds, pictures and clocks. Boust himself is an eccentric character and will go to extremes in getting business for his house.—Mc-CREARY.

To Play Pantage's Acts.

San Bernardino, Cal., March 12.
The Unique theater will hereafter repive acts over the Pantage's circuit. The nique is doing capacity business, and lanager Leonard did a wise thing when e substituted vaudeville for cheap musial comedy, of which the theatergoers ere thred. The Princess theater has losed its doors, as a result of a lack of atronage and is being remodeled into a usiness block.—E, L. W.

LUNA PARK MAY BE CUT UP INTO LOTS.

Cleveland's Pleasure Resort is in Danger. Joe Weber's Burlesque at Olentangy in Columbus.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 12. Cleveland, Ohio, March 12.
There has been some talk about Luna Park being cut up into building lots, and again, that it was to continue as an amusement park with many additions. If the latter proves true a large theater will be presented and big musical comedies will be presented. With a few new attractions and a theater in which stellar musical productions could be presented a new atmosphere would be created, and one that would mean big crowds.—YOUNG.

Columbus, Ohio, March 9.

Columbus, Ohio, March 9.

Olentangy park will open about the middle of April with popular priced vaudeville running to the last of May, when Joe Webber will bring his New York company for a few weeks of burlesque. The Vaughan Glaser stock company will probably be the attraction later in the season. The park will have many new features this year, among them a shoot-the-chutes, the acres have been added to the park grounds. The park will continue under

FIRST SUNDAY SHOWS GIVEN AT TWO CITIES.

Webster City, Ia., March 16.

Webster City, Ia., March 16.
Galesburg, Ill., had its first Sunday show last week. The ministers protested to the city officials, but the latter took no steps to stop the performance, a vaudeville show. The audience applauded the statement from the stage that the show was but the beginning of Sunday theatricals in the town. Manager Cowan, however, was later arrested and will be prosecuted by the Law and Order League. The theater people claim that the churches of the city have been used on Sundays for political rallies.—TUCKER.

Evansville, Ind., March 16.

The first Sunday show in this city in nearly two years did a record-breaking business at the Wells Bijou, when Mrs. Temple's Telegram was presented matinee and night. The Clansman appeared March 16 and Poly of the Circus comes March 19 and 20.

New Vaudeville Circuit.

New Vaudeville Circuit.

Dallas, Texas, March 15.

M. H. Hughes, a former resident of this city, but now of San Francisco, and owner of four vaudeville theaters there, is in Dallas arranging to organize a $1,000,000 corporation for the operating of a circuit in this state which will include Dallas, Waco, Houston, San Antonio, Galveston and Fort Worth. An application for a charter for this large concern will be applied for in the near future, according to a statement made today by Mr. Hughes. He said the Dallas house would be ready for public patronage by Sept. 1, 1909.

Boycott for Short Time.

Minneapolis, March 15.

The Theatrical Stage Employes Union put a boycott on the Unique theater last week, placarding the city with "unfair" signs, which were covered with the "fair" posters after being up two days. The management adjusted the matter by unionizing the house.—BARNES.

To Manage Hotels.

Jay Caulfield, treasurer of Powers theater, and Charles Nikodeum, treasurer of the People's, have purchased hotels at South Haven and Pawpaw, Mich., where they will be found the coming summer.

MRS. NORRIS' MONEY IN THE NEW VENTURE

Wife of the Founder of Norris & Rowe Show Talks of Past Circus Experience and Future Plans.

Santa Cruz, Cal., March 15.
One of the pluckiest and most estimable women in Santa Cruz is Mrs. C. I.
Norris, wife of the founder of the Norris & Rowe circus, and sufferer with her husband in his recent financial misfor-& Rowe circus, and sufferer with her husband in his recent financial misfortune.

"I never was happier in my life than I am today," she remarked to the interviewer, her face radiant with smiles. "For the past four years my life has been somewhat of a nightmare, for during all that time the Norris & Rowe circus was losing money and I feared for the outcome. All my husband's earnings during the years previous with his successful dog and pony show, have been lost in the larger circus. Success was always his until he took in Mr. Rowe as a partner and began to enlarge the circus. Mr. Rowe had practically no money of his own to add to the circus capital, so, of course, my husband was the one who had to bear the loss.

"During all these past four years I knew that trouble was ahead, the circus was so big and unwieldy, but my husband did not want to forsake it, and Mr. Rowe wanted to enlarge it rather than reduce its size. The two partners could not agree and have not been on speaking terms for several years, so, of course, that was bad for the success of the circus. Two years ago my husband started the Cazad Dog and Pony Show in addition to the circus and I toured the country with him in it. We cleared $8,000 for the year's work, which was most gratifying, but all this profit was consumed in paying the circus losses for the year. My husband's brother traveled with the circus, and to see it continue to lose money worried him, and he tried to get my husband to sell out at any sacrifice, but without avail. As you know, the brother committed suicide here and he told me just before the tragedy that worriment over the fate of the show was the cause. My husband hoped on, anticipating better times ahead when he could RINGLING BROTHERS sell his interest at a big figure and retire without loss. But the happy time never came and the show failed. My husband managed to realize some cash on the sale and he also got the dogs and ponies.

Reorganizing Dog Show.

Reorganizing Dog Show.

"And now we are happier than we ever were during all our circus days. We are at present reorganizing our old time animal show, and will open up in Santa Cruz with our first show some day in the first week of April. We will start out from this city with two cars, 30 dogs, 15 ponies and 12 monkeys. We have named our new organization The Norris California Show, and some of my money has gone into it. I have always been saving with my earnings and have never allowed Mr. Norris to use them in the circus. I have been waiting until we started out with the dog and pony show again, for the success of which I gladly give anything I have.

"My husband, however, is a brave loser."

again, for the success of which I gladly give anything I have.

"My husband, however, is a brave loser and we are both very happy now that the climax has been reached and passed. He mentions how Barnum went broke once, and if it didn't bother Barnum he doesn't see how it should bother him. To get the dogs in training we gave a number of shows in halls around the county, and we did fine. I played the piano, and helped where I could, as in the old days, and we heartily enjoyed it. You see, with the big circus, the proprietor's wife was not supposed to take any part, but I always traveled with my husband except when I came home to Santa Cruz for a rest. Money is not everything in this world—happiness comes first, and you can rot have happiness when you are constantly worried with perplexing cares. Today we are both very happy. Our Santa Cruz friends did not desert us when the crash came, but were kinder to us than ever before, so we will start out with high hopes for future contentment and prosperity."—McPHERSON.

Show Left Baraboo, Wis., Last Sunday, Passing Through Chicago on its Way to Madison Square Garden.

The Ringling Brothers' show left Baraboo, Wis., Sunday, for New York city, where the season of 1909 begins. The show trains passed through Chicago and were delayed here several hours during the transfer from one road to the other. The rehearsals begin today (Friday) and the opening is scheduled for next Thursday. The spectacle this year will be entitled "Zenobia's Entry into Palmyra." A feature of the performance will be the Schuman horses from Germany. Twelve of these equines walk on their hind legs at the same time. At another time four of the horses are attached to a brewery wagon on which are four big hogsheads which are unloaded by four other horses. One of these horses actually harnesses and unharnesses himself.

The Great Lawrence troupe of acrobats. consisting of 14 persons, three ponies and a donkey, will be another feature. The Three Saxton Brothers offer another wonderful act. Two of these men lie on their backs side by side supporting a bridge over which a touring car, carrying four persons, passes.

ACCIDENT AT OPENING OF NORRIS & ROWE.

Santa Cruz, Cal., March 14.

The Norris & Rowe Show opened here March 11, playing under the auspices of the Elks. The performance was well liked. During the afternoon show there was a narrow escape from an accident. A man rides a tight rope with his son on his shoulders and his wife on the rear of the wheel. There was a mishap and the man, boy and bicycle fell to the ground while the woman caught the rope. The parade was of good length and the side show above the average.

RHODA ROYAL'S RIGHTS TO THE HALL OF FAME.

Only Man Considered by John W. Gates When There Was Talk of Another Large Circus in America.

Rhoda Royal, whose likeness appears on the front page of this issue, is well known to the amusement world and the amusement loving public as well. For a score of years he has been identified with tented enterprises and for two years past has had an indoors circus in the winter season which has served to make his name stand out among those which are to occupy niches in the hall of circus fame.

name stand out among those which are to occupy niches in the hall of circus fame.

He is considered by many to be the premier stage director of the circus world and the leader among horse trainers. For many years the Rhoda Royal name has been synonymous with all that is best in the way of high school menage horses. Today his name stands among the few which are an asset to those who contemplate the organization of a mammoth tented enterprise.

When John W. Gates considered the circus game a short time ago, and the fact appears to be established that he did consider an investment of this nature for a brief time, it was Rhoda Royal on whom the project depended, and there are many who believe that there would have been another large show on the road this season had Mr. Royal been willing to add his name and contribute his ability to the new enterprise.

- -I've been giving you some straight from the shoulder in my advertisements.
- Some of them may not have been just what you wanted to hear.
- -But let me call your common sense to one Big Fact-it's a darned sight safer to listen to the truth than to listen to things you like to hear whether they are true or not.
- -If I wanted to make a grand-stand play wave the flag, bawl out a lot of George Cohan patriotism and appeal to your passion, I could make a big hit with some of you.
- -But I'd rather appeal to your coldblooded business sense.
- Therefore, I say, if you are in the moving picture game to make mone don't listen to any argument on God's green footstool but one- and that one argument is "QUALITY."
- -If you're worried about present con ditions, if you're afraid the threatened fight is going to hurt you-then re member what I promised you in m last few ads., namely, that no matter what happens, I'll serve you with the kind of films you want, the kind that will make money for you. The more money I can make for you the more I can make for myself.
- I may be hot-headed, but I'm no letting any fool sentiment run away with my business reason.
- This is plain speech. If you don't like it, then it's because you'd rather have me tell you fair stories. And I won't!

DINNER TO N. S. A. BEFORE OLYMPIA RACE.

Officials and Others Associated with Roller Racing are Entertained Prior to Big London Race.

The following account of a dinner tendered to the National Skating Association and others interested in the roller racing sport was clipped from the London Sportsman of February 27 and mailed to this paper by W. B. Barnes. In view of the scarcity of details in this country, this account will probably prove interesting to all American skaters, even at this late day.

this account will probably prove Interesting to all American skaters, even at this late day.

"Prior to the racing at Olympia last night the officials and others connected with the racing were entertained to dinner. Col. Winslow presided, those present including Messrs. S. B. Jevons (Editor of The Sportsman), C. P. Crawford, F. A. Wilkins, Col. Cummings, Messrs. W. D. Nixon, F. Wilson, V. M. Mansell (The Sportsman), Tod Sloan, J. M. Dick, L. Woodhouse, F. H. Payne, C. D. Cochrane, Col. Cobbett (hon. sec. N. S. A.), Messrs. Guy M. Campbell (chairman N. S. A. Rollers Committee), Newton Digby (hon. sec. N. S. A. Fen Centre), R. C. Fowler (hon. sec. English Figure Department N. S. A.), C. Val Hunter, D. K. Hall, W. Stanton, R. H. White, H. G. Brockman (assistant hon. sec. N. S. A.), S. R. Noble, T. H. Woolen, J. Stanley, A. March, J. C. Tacagni, and others.

"Col. Winslow, in the course of an amusing speech that was punctuated by some laughter, proposed the toast of the National Skating Association. He remarked that, from a business point of view, he would advise those who wished to become financially interested in roller skating to have nothing whatever to do with any rink that had not a good floor and supplied first-class states, for otherwise failure only was in store. He paid a great compliment to the ability of Mr. C. P. Crawford, who since he opened the Liverpool rink had enabled the English public to indulge in good skating. They were interested financially in roller skating, but at the same time hoped to beconsidered sportsmen as well. Their ideal was to have rinks all over the United Kingdom at which young men who lead sedentary lives could come down and indulge in clean and honest sport. The N. S. A. were doing their best to provide that sport, and he welcomed the presence of those connected with it.

"Col. Cobbett, in reply, regretted the absence of Mr. Hayes-Fisher, the president of the N. S. A. They were indebted to The Sportsman for the manner in which it had assisted the Association it is endeavors t

Mr. Guy M. Campbell, in proposing 'The Chairman,' paid a high tribute to the great energy that had been displayed by those responsible for the conduct of the Olympia rink. He referred to the fact that the rink on which the races had taken place was laid down in 48 hours by 300 men. That was energy, as was also that which prompted them to open 23 rinks, all of which were successful. The Crawford and Wilkins rinks were doing a great deal of good, and the Association would do all in its power to assist the skating movement. The toast was coupled with the name of Mr. C. P. Crawford. "Col. Winslow having briefly replied, Mr. Crawford remarked that he hoped the N. S. A. and himself would later on come together and promote amateur races throughout the kingdom.

"Mr. Nixon, who also spoke, said that 149 Englishmen entered the competition."

throughout the kingdom.

"Mr. Nixon, who also spoke, said that 149 Englishmen entered the competition, and that they had racing that night everybody who was anybody in roller skating. He hoped that it would be possible for the N. S. A. to arrange time tests at Olympia to set up roller-skating records.

"Mr. Barnes, the Liverpool manager, who also spoke, remarked that results proved that roller skating was not an amusement of the moment, but that it had come to stay.

"Mr. W. D. Nixon proposed the toest."

"Mr. W. D. Nixon proposed the toast of The Sportsman, to which Mr. S. B. Jevons (the Editor) replied. Mr. Brockman, the assistant hon. secretary of the N. S. A., also spoke.

N. S. A., also spoke.

"Mr. Guy M. Campbell read a letter from Mr. W. Hayes-Fisher, the president of the National Skating Association, in which he expressed his personal satisfaction at the great racing he had seen. The N. S. A. were preparing a special badge for Mr. Crawford, which they hoped that gentleman would accept."

TWO FAST RACES AT THE SAN SOUCI RINK.

"Nip" M Izer Breaks All Past Records in Skating a Mile in 2:43 3-5 Under W. S. A. Supervision.

What were conceded to be two of the best races ever run in Chicago took place at San Souci rink, March 5, and were witnessed by more than three thousand persons. Manager Mort. G. Wolf, were witnessed by more than three thousand persons. Manager Mort. G. Wolf, enthused by the running of Dorando and Hayes against picked relay teams, matched his Sans Souci Champion "Nip" Melzer, against three of the fastest sprinters in the city of Chicago, namely Hugh Gillice, Wm. Denning and Stuart Garner, dividing the oistance between them so that the first two men skated five laps apiece and the third man four and one-half laps, the racers deciding the order in which they should skate against him William Denning was chosen to start first and was lined up before the starter with the little champion. At the crack of the gun Melzer was off in the lead, but he immediately fell in behind Denning, who set a terrific pace, when Gillice, who was to skate second, swung on to the track and relieved Denning without losing a particle of a second, which was one of the best changes ever witnessed and was cheered greatly by the enthusiastic crowd. Gillice being a crackerjack at this distance nearly lost Melzer, who started to waver on the third lap of his pace, but, pulling himself together, he hung on and under a great burst of speed shot by Gillice on the last lap, gaining at least twenty feet, when Garner as the last relay man swung out on the track and overtook Melzer on the first lap. Here the battle of supremacy took place, Garner working for all there was in him to try to wrest the honors from the little Sans Souci flyer, but on the last lap Melzer, who is noted for his great sprinting qualities, passed Garner and crossed the tape a few feet to the good in the fastest time ever reported in the roller skating game on a flat track of two forty-three and three-fifths ((2:43 3-5). Mr. Joseph Marshall, president of the Western Skating association, and Dr. Louis Stettauer, O. K.'d the time, which the Western Skating association, will surely let stand as a record, beating the previous record by five seconds.

Following this great race a one mile handicap race, which was skated in two heats and a final, was won by Carl Carl enthused by the running of Dorando and

The Ringling Brothers got out a special one sheet for New York with these two lines across the top: "First time in New York—Ringling Brothers' World's Greatest Shows." Harry Curtis, who will be twenty-four hour man with the Hagenbeck-Wallace show again this season, is at Peru, Ind., and can generally be found around the Elks' club rooms. He worked nine weeks during the winter, with two different hall shows, which happened to need agents for brief periods. Curtis took a great interest in the local option fight in Indiana and has developed into quite a politician. He was a very ardent supporter of the wet cause.

Must Be Off Streets Early.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 17.

The Barnum & Bailey shows will arrive from Altoona on Sunday, May 30, and will play here May 31. The mayor has given the show the privilege of moving the paraphernalia from the cars to the lot on Sunday, with the understanding that the show must be off the streets by 10:30 a. m. The circus will exhibit on the Reils' lot at Sixth and Reils' Lane. The contract was made on March 3 by Nick Petit. It is thought the show pays $150 for the lot, and the license will likely be $100.—BUXBAUM.

QUITS TENT SHOWS AND IRISH COMEDIANS.

Eddie Daley, formerly connected with various tented enterprises, is at the National theater this week, being manager of Yorke & Adams in Playing the Ponies. He states that the report that he would be with one of the big tented organizations this summer as special representative, is without foundation. "I am through with the circus game for all time," he said.

with the circus game for an time, said.

Next season Mr. Daley will be with Yorke & Adams in a new musical comedy under the direction of B. E. Forrester. The play is now being written by Aaron Hoffman, who wrote Playing the Ponies and many other successes.

"You can print that I am through with tent shows," was Dalev's parting remark "and also through with Irish comedians."

Every Dog Has His Day.

Every Dog Has His Day.

Valparaiso, Ind., March 17.

Frank Purcell will leave here shortly for Denver, accompanied by, or rather accompanying, W. E. Franklin's dog, "Major." The general manager of the Sells-Floto shows thinks a great deal of this canine and will not consider its riding in a baggage car. To overcome this a special permit was secured from the general passenger agent of the railroad for "Maje" to ride in smokers. That the trip may not weary him Purcell will make the trip by easy jumps. He will go from here to Davenport, where he and the dog will lay over three hours. The next move will be to Omaha, where the night will be spent. Another stop will be made at Fairbury, Neb., and then the travelers will go on through to Denver.

Wanted $200 License. Reading, Pa., March 17.

When a representative of the Barnum & Bailey show called at the city treasurer's office to make arrangements for the appearance of that circus here June 3, he was asked $200 license. The agent thought the price exorbitant. It is not known just what action was taken but the show will be seen here.

HART HAS NO FINGERS BUT CAN CHOP WOOD.

Montgomery, Ala., March 16. Clyde Hart, the 15-year-old son of Mrs. Emma Hart of Phenix City, Ariz., has signed a six months' contract with the Cosmopolitan Carnival Company, which recently exhibited in that city. He will show what a person can do who has no fingers, each hand coming to a point where the fingers should be. He uses the two stumps in a very dexterous manner, and can grasp an ax or hatchet, and cut wood, do carpenter's work, etc. The deformity is a natural one, and his feet are similarly deformed. His general health is excellent and he is very strong.—LONG.

Leopard Escaped from Cage.
Webster City, Iowa, March 15.
After both of its eyes had been blown out, a 45-calibre bullet sent into its side and a pitchfork thrust into its abdomen, a ferocious African leopard belonging to the Yankee Robinson shows, surrendered at the show's winter quarters at Ingersoll park. It died as the result of its wounds. Maddened from being held without a mate in one spot for many weeks, the animal had wormed its way out of its cage and got loose in the park.—GEO. C. TUCKER

HAS JERRY MUGAVIN GIVEN SHOW A NAME?

The circus which was known as the Howe's Great London show last season, may travel under that name this season and it may use the Van Amburg name. Jerry Mugavin, the manager, must have determined this point but no word has been received in Chicago of his decision. The circus opens the season at Atlanta, Ga., March 25-27, where it plays under the auspices of the Atlanta fire department. Chief W. B. Cummings writes that the firemen have secured the "Van Amburg and Howe Circus," but it is not believed that Mugavin has any Intention of combining the names for his road tour.
