BADGERS MEET GOPHERS IN CRUCIAL GAME TODAY

DADS GET CHANCE TO REVIEW DOINGS OF FAVORITE SON

Cross Country Race, Game and Dinner to Hold Father's Interest

Fathers to the number of 1,000, from all sections of the country, will find the whole university at their disposal today, according to the plans of the joint faculty-student committee, headed by Dr. H. C. Bradley and John L. Bergstresser '25, which were completed at a meeting held at noon yesterday.

From 8 to 11:30 o'clock this morning fathers are invited to inspect the university grounds and buildings. Laboratories, the libraries, and class rooms will be open and fathers may visit all members of the faculty, who will be in their offices to meet them.

Cross Country at 11

Student guides will be available at the information booth which has been established in front of the Administration building at Park and State street. Tickets for the faculty-father dinner at 6:30 o'clock may also be obtained at this booth. On account of the limited space available, tickets can only be furnished to those who have made reservation before 6 o'clock Friday evening.

The cross-country meet, between Wisconsin and Minnesota will start at 11 o'clock from the gymnasium on Langdon street, over a 4.9 mile course, ending at the same place about 11:30 o'clock.

The high point of the day's events will be the Wisconsin-Minnesota football game at Camp Randall field, which is called for 2 o'clock. Fathers will sit with sons and daughters in a special section on the 50-yard line.

Birge Welcomes Fathers

Following the game President Birge will keep open house at his home, corner Park and Langdon streets, from 4:30 to 6 o'clock. He will be glad to meet fathers and their sons and daughters.

The events of the day are the result of the work of several months on the part of a joint committee of faculty members and students appointed last May by President Birge. The faculty committee includes Dr. H. C. Bradley, chairman, and Professors Max Mason, J. F. A. Pyre, Thomas Lloyd Jones, C. K. Leith, and Mr. D. L. Halverson. Members of the student committee are John L. Bergstresser, chairman, John A. Dollard, Porter F. Butts, Eliot Sharp, Eugene Tuhtar, Clifford Franseen, Marshall Diebold, Lester Kissel, and Ellis G. Fulton.

Gophers Clamor Down Langdon, Up State 2,000 Strong

Gophers completely overran Madison last night. Wherever one rambled he encountered groups of them. Some gathered in small bunches and made noises such as gophers are supposed to make. But they were not the striped kind of gophers which farmers delight in feeding paris green.

Minnesota gophers they were. The whole chirping army of them were from that old north star state which is so famous for its snuff-sniffing Scandinavians and cow-milking senators. They were down to see their pigskin jugglers exchange tugs with the cheese-fed Badgers. And among all that dust-begrimed collection of Minnesota gophers none seemed unwilling to admit that he came from Minnesota. Wherever one meandered it was Minnesota, Minnesota.

But it is a great invasion even if the Gophers are not striped, and it's lucky for Madison that each one of these gophers won't dig a little hole for himself. There would be over 2,000 holes around the city if they did.

FATHERS' DAY PROGRAM.

8-11:30 a. m. Tour of inspection of the university grounds and buildings. Student guides.
11:00-11:30 a. m. Cross country race; Wisconsin vs. Minnesota, 4.9 miles, beginning and ending at the gymnasium.
2:00-4:00 p. m. Football game, Minnesota vs. Wisconsin, at Camp Randall stadium.
4:30-6:00 p. m. Informal reception to Fathers and their sons and daughters at the president's home, Park and Langdon streets.
6:30-8:00 p. m. Father-faculty dinner at the gymnasium.

VODVIL'S POSTER CONTEST STARTS

First Prize $5, Second Prize $3;
Professors to Judge
Entrees

A poster contest for Union Vodvil on December 5 and 6 in which the first prize is $5 and the second prize is $3, starts this noon and ends on October 25. Kenneth C. Kehl '26 is in charge of the contest, and will receive the posters at 644 North Frances street.

A committee consisting of Professors Colt, Barnum and Wilson will judge the entries and make the awards.

Requirements for the posters are that they emphasize the words "Union Vodvil at the Parkway theater on December 5 and 6." No act is to be represented in the posters, but the spirit of vodvil is to be typified. The size of the posters is to be approximately 22 by 36 inches. They will be judged on originality, skill, and how they express the spirit of Union vodvil.

FRAUTSCHI CANDIDATE FOR BOARD POSITION

Lowell Frautschi is running as sophomore recommended candidate for Union board. He is a member of the Union board assisting staff, the Daily Cardinal staff, and is in the first regimental band. He is president of freshman commission, and is a member of Wisconsin players, Skull and Crescent and Sigma Nu fraternity.

Today's Fathers' Day is the 4th—But What a Difference

If one were to search historically into the record of Fathers' Day at Wisconsin, he would find that before today there have been three, three of different characters and of vastly different sizes.

The first known attempt of Wisconsin students to entertain their fathers in an organized way was made in the fall of 1921 when a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity who attended the University of Illinois the year the Illinois Dad's Day was originated, proposed to his group the plan of entertaining fathers on the week-end of a home conference football game.

That first day for fathers was a small but joyous one. An auto tour in and about Madison and the cross-country race with Michigan occupied the whole of Saturday morning; the game and the post-mortem in the afternoon. Following a banquet in the evening, the fathers were engaged in a bowling match with their sons, the losers to be paddled by the winners. The sons paddled. An Orpheum party and a fireside singing bee and a discussion of university affairs completed the evening.

Enthusiasm for the idea of entertaining fathers and of giving them an insight into the things for which they were spending their money grew, with the result that a half dozen fraternities and sororities planned Dads' Days for the Indiana game in 1922.

54 CANDIDATES FILE PETITIONS, ELECTION OCT. 31

Nine Offices Filled By Default; Publicity Deadline is Tuesday

Fifty-four candidates have filed their petitions for the general election October 31. All petitions in order to be accepted had to be in by 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the time set by the elections board as the deadline for filing. In the case of two petitions filed, the candidates may be ineligible because of scholarship.

Nine offices went by default and one will remain vacant because no petition was filed. The sophomore class officers were elected by default and four Badger board candidates will go into office automatically. No petition was filed for graduate member of the Student senate.

Students File Candidacy.

The positions to be filled and the candidates for them are as follows: Senior president, John Bergstresser and Jack Harris; senior vice president, Margaret Campbell and Dorothy John; senior secretary, Helen Robinson and Anne Smith; senior treasurer, Erwin Gerber and Leon Herreid; sergeant-at-arms, Wenzel Fabera and Ralph Wackman.

Prom chairman, Gordon Brine and Clifford Huff.

CHAMPIONSHIP SPIRIT SENDS FIGHTING TEAM INTO TRADITIONAL TILT

FREAKS SPUTTER FOR CAMERA MEN

Contestants Start From Li- brary; Complimentary Tickets For Drivers

The freak automobile contest starts immediately after the cross country race this morning from the lower campus. All students desiring to enter the parade should be parked in front of the library before or during the race in order to be given an official place in the parade.

The parade will go west on Langdon to Park, turn on State street and continue around the square, being judged in front of the Strand theater. Every contestant will receive a complimentary ticket to the Strand for the production next week. The Badger will give a free copy to the winner of the Badger inscription contest, and the Strand three prizes for winning in the freak contest.

Moving pictures of the parade will be taken by M. E. Diemer, university photographer, and will be shown at the Strand next week. In addition, photographers for the Fox and Pathe news weeklies will be on hand and the pictures will be shown throughout the United States.

BADGER ISSUES CALL FOR SENIOR SUMMARIES

"All seniors who have not sent their senior summary cards to Badger office, should do so before October 20, as that date will be the deadline," according to Helen Taylor '25, classes editor of the Badger. "These cards should be accompanied by the photographer's receipt and a check for $1.50, the latter to cover part of the costs of publication." The photographer's rates will be discontinued after October 20 also, so it is important to both the Badger and the student to get these cards in by the designated time.

CANDIDACY FOR SENATE ANNOUNCED BY TAYLOR

William Taylor has announced his candidacy for junior member of the Student senate. Taylor was student manager of intramural athletics for two years, and took part in the sophomore semi-public debate. He is a member of Wisconsin players, Hesperia literary society, Octopus staff and Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

FIELD HOUSE IS OPEN TODAY AS REST ROOM

The field house at Camp Randall will be open from 1 to 5 o'clock this afternoon as a restroom for women attending the Minnesota game. The field house is used in connection with the sport field, and it is the plan of the physical education department to open it for Notre Dame and the Iowa games also. A woman will be in attendance.

PETROFF SPEAKS ON BULGARIAN PRISON LIFE

Louis Petroff '26 spoke on "Life in Bulgarian Prisons," which was the feature of the first Blue Shield extension program last night in the Westport town hall. Mr. Petroff's home is in Bulgaria and through social service work there he has had much opportunity to observe prison life. He is majoring in sociology.

Archie Henry '25 presided and gave a short talk on the purpose of Blue Shield. Ardeth Hillberry '25 accompanied by Gladys Miller '27 led the audience in community singing.

First Real Battle Finds Wis- consin Ready to Do or Die

Big Ten history will be made at Camp Randall today. Wisconsin and Minnesota, traditional rivals for 34 years, meet again in the first conference battle of the year for each team. The loser is out of the championship race.

For the past three years the teams have met on a muddy field and the real merits of both teams has been obscured. The weather conditions today promise to be fine and the strength of each team will be seen for the first time during the 1924 season.

Trim Minnesota! Lick the Gophers!

How many times has that battle cry rocked the campus? How many times have Badger teams taken the field against the Northmen and done or died in the attempt to keep their records clean?

Today, at 2 o'clock, the fighting Badgers again meet their hereditary foes in what will be their first real test of the season. The Badgers will be upon their mettle, for things have not rolled along any too smoothly for them this fall, and are going into the fray in a spirit of do or die.

Minnesota Is Formidable.

Minnesota is accorded more than an even chance by many authorities; the line from tackle to tackle is one of the strongest in the mid-west, while the backfield, with Lidberg and Graham, is threatening and fast. The Northmen are determined to even the count, which in recent years has stood in favor of Wisconsin.

The Minnesota team arrived from Milwaukee at 10 o'clock this morning and was sidetracked directly onto the Randall track. The team sojourned in Milwaukee yesterday and worked out on the Marquette field, but will not have an opportunity to work on the field at Camp Randall before the game.

Coach Ryan sent his charges through a light workout yesterday afternoon, drilling on passes and kicks, and on the new plays that he has been soaking into them all week. Three men are out with injuries, but the rest of the squad is in first class condition.

Spirit Grows.

Solbraa, Wiswell and Leitt will not be able to play, it was announced yesterday. The first two are ends and their loss will cut down the number of wing men that the coach has to fall back on. Leitt, who is the best drop kicker on the squad, may be sent in if it becomes necessary to kick, although he would enter the game with his arm in a sling.

The atmosphere at Coach Ryan's workshop has undergone a distinct

Athletic Review Presents Badger, Gopher Features

The first issue of the Athletic Review will be sold on the campus this morning and at the game this afternoon. A complete lineup of players for both Wisconsin and Minnesota, including names, position and number of players, is the feature of the magazine.

Four complete pages of Wisconsin players' pictures and one page of Minnesota stars with a frontispiece of Coach Jack Ryan, are incorporated in the book.

A program of Fathers' Day, a history of Minnesota-Wisconsin games and articles on the season's sports complete the issue.

strewn about the dressing rooms change in the last few days. Signs reading: The Fighting Badgers, Every Man a Fighter, Never a Quitter at Wisconsin, and so on, show the psychology that the coach has been instilling into the men, a psychology that at last is bearing fruit.

Last minute changes in the personnel of the team that starts the contest today are expected. Scarcely a man on the squad is sure of his place, and the coach may change his mind at the last minute, especially in regard to the backfield.

Larson at quarterback, Doyle Harmon at one half, and Harris or Barnum at the other, with Leo Harmon at full, is the lineup the coach announced last night. Harris is sure to start, but Barnum may see action, although he is new and inexperienced.

20,000 at Game.

Leo Harmon's defensive work has improved somewhat during the last week, and this, coupled with his punting ability, gives him first call over the other fullbacks.

Polaski and Blackman will start at end, with the rest of the line practically the same that played in the last game. Schwarze and Straubel have been putting up quite a fight for the tackle berth, but the big boy seems to have an edge.

More than 20,000 persons will view the game today, according to Paul Hunter, director of ticket sales. A lot of seats remain unsold, but fair weather will probably bring a considerable crowd from out of town to the classic.

Twenty-eight men made the trip from Minneapolis, and according to latest reports the team is in fine physical condition. The squad consists of Captain Cox, Gross, Abramson, Gay, Graham, Cooper, Swanbeck, Wheeler, Morris, Matthews, Just, Schutte, Lidberg, Peterson, Ascher, Foote, Guzy, Clapp, Fisher, Christgau, Mason, Gordon, McDonald and Peplaw.

Strength Against Army
in New York

One of the most important grid battles in Big Ten football circles today is the Michigan-Illinois battle. Last year these two teams tied for the conference championship and today's game will decide which of the two teams will remain in the running for the pennant this year. Previous scores cannot be taken into account in predicting the outcome of the game. The two elevens are fairly evenly matched, and the team that takes advantage of the breaks of the game will carry home the bacon. If there is any choice it lies with Coach Zuppke's men.

Two other conference games that will have an important bearing on the championship are the Chicago-Indiana and Purdue-Northwestern tilts. The Maroons should have a little the best of their argument with the Hoosiers if preliminary games count for anything. Stag's men started the season in poor form but staged a strong comeback against Brown last week. The Hoosiers have failed to show any great strength in their preliminary games, and were defeated last Saturday by Louisiana. Purdue has lost one conference game this season to Ohio, but is determined to put Northwestern out of the running today. If the Purple warriors maintain the same pace that they started they should add another defeat to the Boilermakers' total. Baker, Purple star, is one of the finds of the season and will make a strong bid for an all-conference berth.

Iowa and Ohio State are both playing non-conference games and should round into shape for their conference games next week.

In the east the Army-Notre Dame game is attracting attention. So far the Catholics have not met any stiff competition and little is known of their real strength, but they will have to give all they have if they are to emerge with a victory over the West Pointers. The Navy and Princeton will clash in what promises to be a close game. Last week both Princeton and the Navy made a poor showing and the two teams are out to retrieve their lost reputation.

An interesting intersectional game will be the Nebraska-Colgate fracas. By virtue of their strong showing against the Illini and in their game last week the Cornhuskers should send the Easterners home in defeat.

Ames and Coe, two early season opponents of the Badgers, will play important games in the Missouri valley and Mid-West conference respectively.

A special band cheering section will appear at the game this afternoon. The entire band of 141 men have been supplied with specially made megaphones to be carried on the march.

"The band will not only play during the game, but will also put a concerted effort into the yelling," said Major Morphy yesterday. "The band is out to do its best to stir up pep, not only by playing, but by cheering also. The purpose of the band at games is to arouse enthusiasm, and we are going to do it in every way to back the team and the cheer leaders."

Between halves plans have been made to consolidate the Minnesota and Wisconsin bands.

A band pageant may be given on the field somewhat similar to the custom followed last year at the Chicago game.

BADGERS HARRIERS
ALONG LAKE DRIVEBurke's Men Are in Best of Condition After Steady
Practice

The Badger cross country team will run its second race of the season at 11:10 o'clock this morning against the squad from Minnesota. The meet will start in front of the gymnasium. Ten men will run for Wisconsin and eight for the Gophers.

Those who will wear the Cardinal jerseys are Captain George Piper, Perry, Petaja, Berbstresser, Kubly, Cohen, Schilke, Schwenger, Schutt, and Campbell. These men are all in the best of condition and have been working hard all week in preparation for this meet.

Minnesota will be represented by the following men in the meet, Captain McLaughlin, Hubbard, Brandes, Popkin, Vye, Nelson, Schuck and Swanson.

Two Gophers Out.

Two of the Northerners' best men will not be able to run today. They are ex-captain Brown and Jacobson. Brown is the man who took first place here last year. He is not in condition this year. Jacobson was taken sick the day before the team left for Madison.

The meet will not be an easy one for the Badger harriers to win. The Gopher squad is very good, especially Brandes, who is a wonderful distance man. But Coach Burke thinks that his men will again come through, because they are all in excellent shape.

Those running for Wisconsin are practically the same who ran last Saturday, except that Carter and Link will not be able to participate.

Officials Appointed.

Officials for the meet today are: T. E. Jones, referee and starter; Professors Miller, Truog and M. timer, finish judges; R. Duncan, R. Nickerson, and F. Leitz, timers. The course is along the lake drive and is 4.9 miles long, one mile more than in the meet last Saturday.

Coach Burke would like to see a good crowd out to cheer the men as they come in after the long grind.

Mexico Sportsmen Favor Basketball
to Bull Fighting

"Basketball is fast replacing the bull fights, and football is the national sport of Mexico," said Richard Williamson, '01, national Y. M. C. A. secretary of the Republic of Mexico, at a meeting of the junior council yesterday noon at the university association.

"During the past four years, national tournaments have been held to decide the championship in this sport for the entire country. Possibly the first two basketballs that were ever taken to Mexico were in my equipment when I went to that country in 1903," said Mr. Williamson.

In Mexico emphasis is placed on the physical development rather than on sectarian differences.

MORE GOLF ENTRIES
IN FRATERNITY MEET

Entries for the inter-fraternity golf tournament are increasing. The closing date for entries is 12 o'clock Saturday, Oct. 18. All fraternities who contemplate entering must, by this date, have paid to Berg, director of intramural sports, the entry fee of $3.00.

Drawings of matches will be made and printed in Tuesday morning's Daily Cardinal. The silver cup award will be made at the termination of the matches—about three or four weeks hence.

The course of play has not yet been definitely decided on.

STUDENT APPEALS TO REGENTS FOR DEGREE

The board of regents received a letter Wednesday from a Madison law firm demanding a hearing before the board for a student who was denied a degree. The matter was referred to President Birge when it was shown that such matters come under his jurisdiction.

THREE GRID GAMES
SCOUTED THIS WEEK

Only three games are to be scouted this week. Guy Sundt will get the dope on Chicago at the Chicago-Indiana game, Marty Below journeys to Urbana to view the Michigan-Illinois tussle, and Barney Traynor makes a pilgrimage to Iowa City to view Iowa tactics in the Lawrence-Iowa scrap. No scout could be sent to the Notre Dame-Army game at New York because of the distance. Coach Guy Lowman will be at home this week-end after watching Notre Dame play for the last two games.

So It Seems

Today's the day, and the outcome of this afternoon's football game is going to mean a lot to both teams. And the weight of the game doesn't hinge upon the fact that the Big Ten championship is sought after, but it's a game of games, and each team wants to defeat the other for traditional reasons.

Twenty thousand persons (exclusive of press representatives who are a good-sized audience of themselves) will witness the game, according to Hunter, who is receiving frantic telegrams asking for tickets, to say nothing of phone calls.

Last night the Gopher fans began to arrive—jams around the capitol square proved that—and Madison was all agog. When the band, team, and special trains carrying Minnesota rooters arrive this morning, the climax will come.

Ryan has announced his lineup for tomorrow. It is the same as has been predicted, with the exception that Barnum is slated to go in at right half.

Many think that Harris will be kept on the sidelines tomorrow. Don't believe it. Harris is the one real fighter on the team, and despite the fact that his tackling is weak, he is always on the lookout, always fighting, and never fails to make two or three yards or more when they are sorely needed.

Ryan has announced that Leitl, one of action with an injury to his shoulder, may be sent in for a drop kick if the occasion presents. Leitl is the most dependable drop kicker on the squad, and three points made by him—with his arm in a sling—would certainly put him in the Wisconsin abbey of gridiron heroes.

Two bands today! There is something about a crowd of 20,000 enthusiastic, expectant, yelling people that sends a thrill through one's body. There is color—little whiffs of smoke from cigarettes. Pennants are waving on the top edge of the stadium. The players trot out. Two bands, with cloaks flying and every man in step, march out on the field. It is then that a lump comes to your throat. The game is on!

WRESTLING SEASON
LOOKS PROMISINGSquad Will Be Strengthened
By Football Men When Games End

An abundance of good material, combined with an earnestness more evident than last year, predicts a fairly successful wrestling season, according to Coach George Hitchcock.

After football ceases to call mat stars to Camp Randall, the wrestling squad will be strengthened by Muegge, Stipek, Bieberstein, Sauger, and Leitl who will wrestle in the light-heavyweight and heavyweight divisions. Coach Hitchcock is a firm believer in wrestling for football men. He says that football training should include wrestling for the line and tumbling for the backfield.

Three "W" men who will again grapple on the mat are Captain Holmes, Bieberstein and Zodtner. Hanson, who was for a time believed to be out of competition because of a last year's injury, will probably wrestle in the featherweight class. All of the classes have men who are working hard for a place and the final choice of team members is doubtful.

Preliminary training has been occupying most of the squad's time but hard workouts will begin about November 1. At this time, freshmen tryouts will take place and a number of good men with wrestling experience should be found.

Flags waving, bands playing, crowds cheering, and teams playing, this is the air which will pervade Camp Randall this afternoon when the teams trot out onto the gridiron.

The maroon and gold of Minnesota, the maize and blue of Michigan, the maroon and white of Chicago, the gold and black of Iowa, and all the other Big Ten school colors will float on high masts above the stadium. Yet the cardinal and white of the Badgers of Wisconsin will soar above them all.

Wisconsin's pennant's position is high over that of Minnesota and so also it may be with the football team. There will be no lack of pep and spirit at the tilt when the expected crowd fills the stands.

The gay colors of the many schools easily typify the colorful crowd which will jam the stadium this afternoon.

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Michigan students will form a block "M" at the Illinois game to be played at Urbana. The "M" will not be formed by flags as in the past, but will be composed of large pieces of blue and yellow cardboard. The letter will be yellow in a field of blue, with 2,200 students cooperating in the effect.

Dame also. The dates for the matches will be arranged at the conference meeting December 1.

DESK EDITOR—PAUL S. MCGINNIS

The men from the north are here and welcome. Minnesota is one of Wisconsin's oldest, and we might say most cherished, rivals. Today marks the thirty-third meeting between the football teams of the two institutions. May there be very many happy returns of the day.

The pep band is out today for the first time.

The cheering section, with its organized rosters, makes its debut this afternoon. It has gone over with first class enthusiasm. The athletic department reeks on selling 922 seats for the section and in the end more than 1,300 applications were filled. Long live the cheering section; it has started auspiciously.

At a recent campus political meeting it was said that the ticket in question would win in one way or another. Very likely the sponsors of the ticket did not expect or mean to be taken at their literal word, but it might not be amiss to remind politicians in general that there is one way to win and that "the other way" will not do at all.

It certainly seems unfortunate that students should be forced to wait for the profs; they waste enough time as it is waiting for their dates of a Friday or Saturday night—and also waiting for some incentive to study.

It is strange that so many alumni travel from the far ends of the country to see the Homecoming game and then get themselves in such a condition that they are unable to see a single play.

This same man pleads not guilty on the grounds of insanity. Perhaps he really is insane if he expects to be able to get away with that, paradoxical though it may be.

FOR FATHER

Today not only witnesses an important football clash between two old rivals, it witnesses also an important inauguration of an institution in which every student in the university is tremendously interested, the institution of Fathers' Day.

Fathers of the men and women enrolled in the university every one of them are interested in what the university is doing and it is only right and natural that the university should be interested in them and extend every means to make it possible for them to extend their interest in it.

To use what may appear on the surface as a rather inelegant phrase but one which the fathers will be only ready to admit is true, it is they who pay, and pay, and pay. What do they see of their investments? They have no bond to show for them, they have only the finished products, and hitherto it has not been considered important to show them the products in the process of being finished.

That is why President Birge has invited the fathers of every student to the university today; that is why the 660 fathers who come are to have an opportunity to see Wisconsin at play and at work; that is why they are to meet with members of the faculty tonight at an informal dinner where they may discuss, in the absence of the subjects, the problems of education and learn what sort of persons faculty members are.

The program is simple. The morning fathers will devote to trips through the campus and the buildings, to inspecting the research laboratories which will be open and the new Memorial hospital building, to talking with the teachers of their sons and daughters. The feature of the afternoon will be the football game which will be followed immediately by the president's reception at his house. That in turn will be followed by the father-faculty dinner in the men's gymnasium.

Thus it is that fathers will have plenty of opportunity to be with their sons and daughters the while they inspect the university. Which, after all, is probably the most important phase of the day. So different from the long-established Mother's Day, with the apostrophe before the s, different in many ways, Fathers' Day at the same time is not so entirely different.

Wisconsin is glad to have its fathers here; it is sorry only that they are unable to be here more frequently.

It hopes that they will enjoy their visit to the utmost and that they will come again.

THE BADGER BOARD ELECTIONS

Yesterday morning these columns carried an editorial regarding the present method of selecting the editor and business manager of the Wisconsin Badger. It was pointed out that if politics played any part in the election of the sophomore members of the Badger board of control, who appoint the two heads of the year book, favoritism would inevitably play an important part at the time of the actual appointments. It was also stated that a rumor is current at the present time that this very thing is happening.

This has wrongly been construed by a number of interested persons to be a charge that there is an agreement between the four sophomore candidates for the board of control and certain aspirants to the editorship, pledging mutual support between them. No such application was intended, and it is certain that no such agreement exists, so that there is no cause for any party to be offended.

The true point of yesterday's editorial, and the one which is still maintained, is that politics should play no part whatever in the nomination and election of the members of the board of control. If a candidate for the board is supported by a certain political faction, along with a ticket running for the regular sophomore offices, it is almost certain that he will be somewhat influenced, even though unconsciously, in favor of his supporters when the time comes for the board to appoint the editors. And according to the referendum that was passed by the student body last spring, this appointment is to be made on merit only, without any regard for friendship, partisanship, or past obligations.

If any political faction has been responsible for nominating the present candidates for the board, the leaders of the faction are not to be blamed, because otherwise there probably would have been no candidates at all. The trouble is that students don't seem to be interested enough in the welfare of their yearbook to run for the board independently. But if someone must nominate these candidates, or at least encourage them to run, some other party besides a political group should do it. The only logical body to take care of this function is the Badger board itself.

Either by recommending students directly, or else by encouraging them to file their own petitions, the board could put six or eight candidates in the field, being sure that all of them are capable, sincere, and absolutely under no obligations. It will be well for the board to remember this next fall.

Good morning, Dad! Welcome to our city, but for goodness sake, don't wake up sonny, for he has to cut that 8 o'clock German class every Saturday morning, you know—and furthermore, the flivver parade don't start till later!

Well, if we beat Minnesota today, there's no getting around the fact that we owe much of our victory to our Coe-education!

And your duds are in hock,
And you're blue
Through and through;

Though they claim
You're to blame,
Who is it that dries your forlorn eyes
With long green of proper denomination?
And who is the friend sticks to the end,
The gamest sport of your whole relation?
IT'S YOUR DAD!

HEAR YE!

Gee-rusalem! If Minnesota should happen to win that struggle this afternoon, the Gophers will be sure to say, like the small boy, "I can lick you and your pa, too!" Migo-sh!

And your queen just can't walk,
And each day

Open Tryouts For Prom Play Start; Officers Chosen

Open try-outs for the Prom play and membership in Wisconsin Players will begin October 22 before Miss Gertrude Johnson's advanced production class, according to Pearl Kulp, '25, try-out chairman of Wisconsin Players.

The pre-Prom play will be "The Rescuing Angel" in three acts. Clare Kummer is the author.

Louis A. Mallory, '25, was appointed president of the players a week ago. The newly-elected officers are: Hazel D. Weingandt, '25, vice president and chairman of programs and direction of plays; Charlotte S. Case, '25, secretary; Herman W. Kirka, '26, treasurer; and Kenneth S. Gardner, '25, business manager.

A salesmanship course for Memorial Union drive canvassers was opened. Five hundred workers were expected to attend. A film of the Michigan Union was to be shown.

MERCHANTS GREET STUDENT SHEKELS

Students Big Factor in Madison Business Life; Spend $550 Yearly

University students are a big factor in the business life of Madison. Purely from the financial standpoint, the students increase the transactions of local merchants to somewhere near the degree of $4,000,000 or $5,000,000 above what they would normally be.

There are more than 7,500 students enrolled in the university and they purchase many necessities and luxuries of life here. The average expenditure of each student is placed at slightly more than $550.

The chief factor in a student year as far as expense goes is, of course, food and lodging. After these items are cared for, and books have been purchased, it is estimated that the remainder of the students' annual fund is distributed at something like $60 to the clothiers, $50 to the theaters, $10 to the confectioners, and $20 to the tobacconists.

Prexy's Portrait Just Completed; Given to Bascom

A new portrait of President Birge by Merton Grenhagen of Milwaukee has just been completed and will soon be hung in Bascom hall. The picture, showing him in a characteristic pose in his doctor's robe with glasses in hand, was painted from real life. The sittings were taken in Lathrop hall.

Mr. Grenhagen has likewise just completed a portrait of Prof. R. L. Jones of the College of Agriculture which will be hung in Agricultural hall. This portrait of Professor Jones was painted at the request of his friends in the college.

Among other portraits of eminent college professors which Mr. Grenhagen has painted is that of the late Prof. John J. Mack, state

The Reader's Say-So

A FLY IN THE OINTMENT.

Editor, The Daily Cardinal:

The dance given last Saturday night by the Graduate club of the university in the Lathrop gymnasium was most successful, except for the fact that a borrowed Victrola was stolen. Part of the evening's entertainment was to consist of a solo lance for which Victrola music was to be used. A small Victrola had been borrowed and left for a few minutes on the landing between the first and second floors of Lathrop. During these few minutes some one, student or otherwise, managed to make way with the Victrola, which it will be necessary for the club to replace. From all that can be learned it must have been taken by some young man who seemed to be a part of the university. Whether it was meant as an actual theft or simply a joke matters very little; it must be replaced. Were it done in the spirit of fun, someone must now have in his room a Victrola which it will be he "boasts" to have gotten away with. It is a deplorable fact that articles of any kind are not safe for even a few minutes in a building of the university. If such thefts are made by outsiders, is there not some way of keeping them out of the building? If made by some student, cannot we create some spirit that gives us pride in our school and the affairs of the school, some sense of honesty that makes it possible for a engineer, and former faculty member of the Course in Mining.

E. J. B.

Editor, the Daily Cardinal:

Three cheers for the junior rooting section (the kiddies) at the game with Coe! Those lusty-lunged youngsters typified the true Badger spirit (as it should be), lots of pep, and enthusiasm. They are developing quite early into Badgers, the loyal kind, the kind that believe in your team, supports them, and is a credit to the university.

There isn't enough of that particular formulae in the student body, the cheer leaders have to coax too much. Many universities outstrip us in honest-to-goodness pep. Let's pull up, and have a rooters organization, the members wearing some special kind of clever uniform dress at each game—not sweaters, they are not distinctive enough. For cleverness this student body has a standing, par excellence—witness the Ford nomenclatures.

O, boy, howdy! who has seen that bunch of "Texas Cowboys" (University of Texas Rooters) in typical cowboy hats, spurs, red shirts, and yellow kerchiefs, file in at a game, and not felt your pep and enthusiasm break out of bounds, and soar skyward? Then hear them as they lead off—zip! boom!—jumping jupiter, it is great, they make the welkin ring.

Yes, Miss Fair Co-ed is there too, organized and in unique dress, special section, etc. I am a girl, and would like to see a girls' rooting organization perfected, and in competition with the boys' organization put over the greatest rooting aggregation ever assembled at

BEST ROUTES TO MICHIGAN SHOWN

Association of Commerce Gives Detailed Highway Directions to Ann Arbor

The highway information department of the Madison association of commerce has the following information for the benefit of those students who are contemplating driving to the Wisconsin-Michigan game October 25.

The approximate distance from Madison to Ann Arbor, by way of Chicago and Michigan City, is 400 miles. The routes followed are, number 13 to Beloit, Illinois number 2 to Rockford, and number 5 to Chicago, entering Chicago over West Lake street. Those who wish to avoid the congested part of Chicago upon entering Garfield park over West Lake street can follow the boulevard system south and east, which will eventually lead them to the south line of Jackson park and over the South Shore drive which is also known as Illinois number 42. This number 42 connects at the Indiana state line with the Dunes highway which is known as Indiana number 43 and which passes through Hammond, Gary, Michigan City and many other towns on the south shore of Lake Michigan and finally connects up with Michigan's number 11, a few miles north of Michigan City. This highway number 11 should be followed to its intersection with number 17 at Watervliet. Highway number 17 leads through some of the better towns in southern Michigan such as Kalamazoo, Battle Creek, Marshall, Albion and Jackson to Ann Arbor.

Those who wish to avoid Chicago entirely may follow highway number 13 to Beloit, Illinois highway number 2 to Rockford, number 5 to Elgin, leaving number 5 at Elgin and taking highway number 22 which leads by way of Geneva, Illinois, Aurora, Joliet, and Chicago Heights. This highway number 22 is also known as the Lincoln highway from Geneva, Illinois, on.

Wisconsin versus Minnesota

CAMP RANDALL, OCTOBER 18TH

Ready for the Game

Wisconsin is ready. Minnesota is ready. But are you, yourself, ready for the game? A trip, this morning, to Kessenich's and you will be.

The Full Collared Topcoat

—will start the day off right, and end it just right, too, for before the game is over, it will probably get pretty chilly. Here at Kessenich's are swagger Shagmoor topcoats in loose, comfortable styles. Here, too, are soft suede-finished coats with generous fur collars and cuffs. Some of the them are very slim and straight, while others have a flare in the cap or panels.

Prices begin at $39.50

And of Course, a Flannel Frock

Invariably, the college girl will choose a flannel frock to wear under her topcoat. They are made of the softest flannel in medium weight. Selections are so varied—plaids, checks and solid colors in a host of different and distinctive styles.

$18.00 to $27.50

For Dancing Later

After the game, this evening she goes to a dance, where there is much celebration and a general good time. A sleek, shiny satin or a smart bengaline with bright touches will be just the thing for Miss Co-ed to wear. There are many of this type of frock here.

"Such Charming Frocks for an Evening Formal!"

$29.75 to $37.50

TO HAVE new dance frocks oftener, you need not sacrifice the dainty styles and lovely fabrics that you admire. Indeed, you'll find adorably youthful evening frocks of crepe georgette in soft tints, often made even more luscious by underslips of contrasting color. Bouffant skirts are given picture-quaintness with lace medallions.

MANY PROMINENT MEN are guests today when the East meets the West and the South the North as Varsity welcomes its dads. Left, the son at the wheel, John L. Bergstreser, general chairman of Fathers' Day; below, Rev. J. C. White, bishop of Springfield, Ill.; right, Mr. M. B. Hoffmann, the father who is traveling the farthest distance from the west, coming from Sioux Falls, South Dakota, to be here for this week-end.

THE LIVING "W" will be one of the special cheering features at the Homecoming game again this year. The picture shows the "W" as it was used at the Minnesota game last year.

SOME WHAT UP IN THE AIR was the situation in which Allen Pedersen '28 found himself when Hawley Cahill '25 took him up in a hydroplane over Lake Mendota this fall and placed an Alpha Chi Rho pledge pin on him.

IT'S MONEY SAVED FOR FATHER

When Son and Daughter Join the Co-op.

Fathers, it is to your interest to encourage your sons and daughters to buy everything on their Co-op number, at a saving of 15%.

That suit or overcoat for your son can be purchased more cheaply here than at home, or anywhere else. All furnishings, books, and supplies, many articles of women's wear, nearly everything that enters into student expenditure is to be found at the Co-op. We carry the finest lines of merchandise only, at the lowest market prices.

This is a non-profit organization, which returns all its profits to members at the end of the year. For three years past the rebate has amounted to 15%. A life membership costs but $2.50, and the member receives a $2.50 fountain pen. Thirty thousand Wisconsin students, past and present, hold memberships in the Co-op.

You, who pay the bills, know that students are not always as thrifty as they might be. You are interested in a store, conducted under university supervision, that helps them watch the dollars.

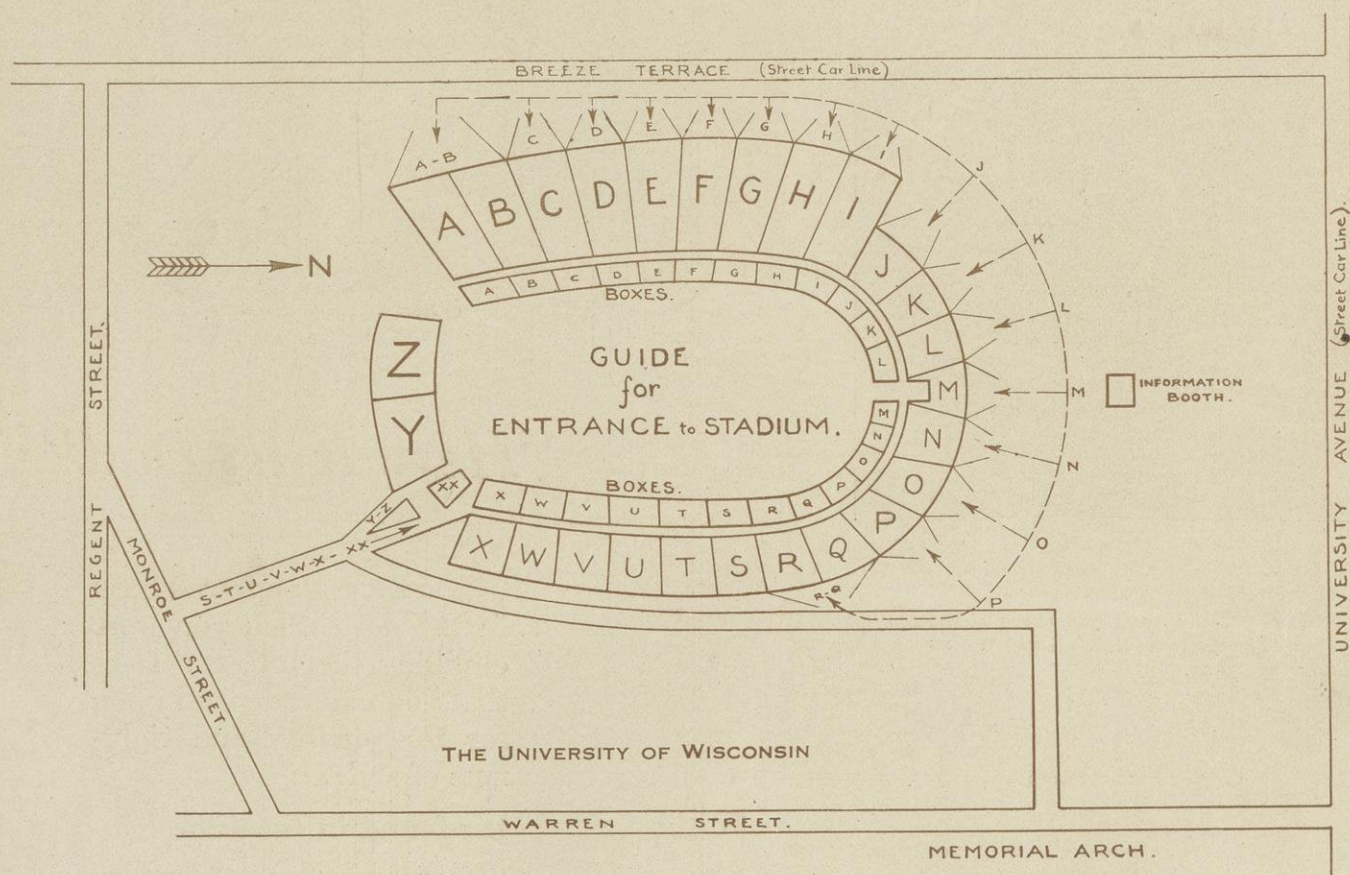

Your pride in your splendid boy or girl makes you desire the best for them. You do not want to limit their expenditures too closely, or to have them spend with too free a hand.

Their habits of thrift will be encouraged, and their needs will be better served, if you make sure they have a Co-op number, and use it for all their purchases.

We respectfully invite you to visit us while you are in Madison.
