THE JUBILEE:

AN EXTENSIVE

COLLECTION OF CHURCH MUSIC

FOR

THE CHOIR, THE CONGREGATION, AND THE SINGING-SCHOOL.

TO WHICH IS ADDED,

THE SACRED CANTATA, ESTHER, THE BEAUTIFUL QUEEN.

FOR MUSICAL SOCIETIES, CONVENTIONS, ETC.

BY WILLIAM B. BRADBURY.

NEW YORK:
PUBLISHED BY MASON BROTHERS, 108 & 110 DUANE STREET.
AND FOR SALE BY BOOKSELLERS GENERALLY.

Entered, according to Act of Congress, in the year 1857, by WILLIAM B. BRADBURY, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court for the Southern District of New York.

To Teachers of Sacred Music, Choristers, Choirs, and Classes, and to the Musical Public generally, whose favorable regards he has had abundant occasion to acknowledge, this book is most respectfully inscribed by

THE AUTHOR.

PREFACE.

OF the various Collections of Church Music in which the editor of the present work has been engaged, viz.: "THE PSALMODIST," published in 1844—"THE CHORALIST," in 1847—"THE MENDELSSOHN COLLECTION," in 1849—"PSALMISTA," in 1851—and "THE SHAWM," in 1853, the last-named has perhaps proved the most extensively useful.

Encouraged, and grateful for past success, and the mission of good that he hopes has already been accomplished, he has made it his constant study to ascertain the present wants of the musical public at large, including the Elementary Singing School, the Choir, and the Congregation. "THE JUBILEE" is the result of his experience and observation during the last four years. The material of which it is composed has been increasing upon his hands during this time; and, unless he greatly errs in judgment, it will be found to excel, by far, any former efforts. He certainly was never before so favorably situated—never received so many words of encouragement, and never were half so many willing hands extended to aid him; for all which his warmest thanks are tendered.

To aid in the selection of tunes, a number in the first part of the work will be found designated as "Choir Tunes," "Congregational Tunes," etc., etc., not that the author would assume to dictate what a choir or congregation should or can sing, for of that matter they are themselves the sole arbiters; but simply to hint to the leader that a tune so marked, is, in his judgment, one of a class well adapted to "Choir" or "Congregational" use, etc., etc.

Besides a great variety of Psalmody in all meters, numerous short pieces, such as Hymn Chants, short Metrical Pieces, Introits, Opening and Closing Pieces, and short Anthems adapted to the various occasions of public worship, will be found. And to these is added an unusual variety of larger Choruses, Anthems, etc., for Concerts and various other public occasions. In addition to the above-named, by exceeding the ordinary limits of a Church Music-Book, space has been afforded for the introduction of the Cantata of "ESTHER, THE BEAUTIFUL QUEEN," which has already become a favorite concert piece.

Variety of styles, rich and natural harmonies, and pleasing and graceful melodies, it is believed, will be found leading characteristics of "THE JUBILEE." While the artistic singer and choir have not been neglected, the wants of the people—"ALL THE PEOPLE"—have been mainly considered and provided for—for they are especially called upon to "praise the Lord."

CONGREGATIONAL SINGING.—In immediate connection with the permanent establishment of a good Choir, the practice of Congregational Singing is strongly advocated; and as it is evidently a part of every chorister's duty to encourage and facilitate this mode of public worship, he is urged to introduce, every Sabbath, and at every service, one tune at least that is familiar to the congregation; and if sufficient interest is manifested on the part of minister and people to warrant the movement, let Congregational Singing Meetings, for the practice of such tunes as seem desirable to use on the Sabbath, be established.

POPULAR TUNES.—A tune, to become a favorite either with choir or congregation, and hence useful, must be attractive to the popular ear. It must be a thing of life, possessing a character of its own; and if happily wed to poetry of a congenial temper (to continue the simile), it may stand the test. It must please, not merely upon its introduction, but also upon a more familiar acquaintance. Some tunes, like some persons, make a favorable impression at first, but soon become insipid; they have no depth—they are all surface. Like sight-friends, such tunes are not to be trusted. Others, apparently less prepossessing, improve on acquaintance, and you soon become fast friends.

Nothing can be more evident than the fact that in the composition of devotional music, the soul of the composer must be filled with the spirit of the psalm or hymn he undertakes to clothe with melody and harmony. His music must be, as it were, the outgushing of the poetical sentiment expressing itself more eloquently and powerfully, by the aid of song-language, than it can do through its own simply. The most popular and useful tunes are those that seem to have composed themselves, or to have sprung up spontaneously from the beautiful language of the poetry, or to have been, from the first, a necessity, and not a mere appendage to the poetry.

Again, music to devotional poetry should be duly modest not attracting so much to itself as to detract from the sentiment whose help-mate it is designed to be. Through its gentleness and modest beauty, it should ever impress more strongly the tender sentiments of devotion, confession, penitence, and humble adoration with which it is laden. And when, at other times, it has occasion to break forth

"In loud and joyful song,"

let it still be remembered that mere noise is not music. Let the singing, in no instance, be so rapid as to be undignified, so loud as to be boisterous, or so slow as to be dull and heavy.

Whether in this work the views herein expressed have been successfully carried out, must be left to those who sing the music to judge. One thing is asked, viz.: that the Teacher, Chorister, or private singer, who takes up this work for examination, would try the tunes thoroughly before deciding upon their merits; and if any are found that will not bear the test of frequent repetition, let them be discarded. It is also suggested that the singer who reads what is written in the paragraph preceding might do well to ask if some of the same characteristics therein mentioned as essential to a good tune, are not equally essential to a GOOD SINGER. Certainly, without the cultivation of a spirit becoming an humble worshiper, no one, though he possess the voice of an angel, can ever so interpret the sentiments of the devout poet or successful composer as to be able to sing to the edification either of himself or others.

THE NEW SINGING CLASS.

LESSON I.

THE SCALE.

§ I. "THE SCALE" is a succession of EIGHT Musical Sounds or TONES.

NOTE.—The Teacher will sing or play the scale, slowly at first, allowing the pupils to count each tone as sung, from one to eight. After becoming familiar with its tones by listening, let them then sing it themselves many times, backwards and forwards, before calling their attention to its written form, either in the book or upon the blackboard.

NUMERALS OR NAMES OF THE SCALE.

§ II. The scale is numbered or named from the lowest to the highest tone, thus:

ONE,	TWO,	THREE,	FOUR,	FIVE,	SIX,	SEVEN,	EIGHT.
1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8.

SYLLABLES.

§ III. "SYLLABLES" like the following are used to assist the beginner in reading music, i. e., producing the right tones. When all the sounds of the scale have been made familiar by practice, these "syllables," (which are mere helps to the beginner), may be partially or wholly dropped, and one syllable, (La,) or the words ordinarily set to the music, may be used instead.

SYLLABLES, as Written.	DO,	RE,	MI,	FA,	SOL,	LA,	SI,	DO.
SYLLABLES, as Pronounced.	Do,	Ray,	Mee,	Fah,	Sole,	Lah,	See,	Do.
NUMERALS, or Names.	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8.

REPRESENTATION OF THE SCALE, WITH SYLLABLES AND NUMERALS.

SING, ascending and descending.

THE STAFF.

§ IV. Five horizontal lines with the spaces between them constitute the musical Staff, and upon this the characters representing the Scale and other musical exercises and tunes are written.

THE STAFF.
PRACTICAL EXERCISES.

NOTE.—In the following Exercises, the teacher will give the pitch generally, as indicated by the numeral 1, (supposing the clef and signature to be there,) simply saying to the class, "Now Do (1) is on the lowest (or first) line." "Now between the first and second lines," &c. By thus frequently changing the position of the scale, the beginner learns from the first to regard the intervals in their relative position, irrespective of any given space upon the staff. This we deem of much importance in teaching the art of reading music vocally. (In learning to play upon an instrument the case is different.) After getting some practical idea of what reading music is—by the preparatory exercises that follow—the pupil will easily understand and appreciate the importance of fixed sounds, as indicated by the letters and clefs. "ONE THING AT A TIME," must be the successful teacher's motto.

No. 1.—THE SCALE UPON THE STAFF.

Numerals.	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	8	7	6	5	4	3	2	1.
Syllables.	Do,	Re,	Mi,	Fa,	Sol,	La,	Si,	Do.	Do,	Si,	La,	Sol,	Fa,	Mi,	Re,	Do.

No. 2.—THE SCALE IN ANOTHER POSITION (HIGHER).

NOTE.—The teacher will take the pitch a little higher, and sing the scale first, calling attention to the notes.

(SING.)
Numerals.	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	8	7	6	5	4	3	2	1.
Syllables.	Do,	Re,	Mi,	Fa,	Sol,	La,	Si,	Do.	Do,	Si,	La,	Sol,	Fa,	Mi,	Re,	Do.

No. 3.—THE SCALE IN ANOTHER POSITION (LOWER).

(SING.)
Numerals.	1	2	3	4	5	5	7	8	8	7	6	5	4	3	2	1.
Syllables.	Do,	Re,	Mi,	Fa,	Sol,	La,	Si,	Do.	Do,	Si,	La,	Sol,	Fa,	Mi,	Re,	Do.

That peace on earth, and joy may reign To heaven we pray. A - men, A - men.
Praise God, from whom all blessings flow, Praise him, all creatures here be - low.

§ V. It will be seen from the foregoing exercises that the scale may be placed in any position upon the Staff, higher or lower, at the option of the writer. In the above a short line below the staff has been added, in order to begin the scale lower. This is usually called a LEGER LINE, or ADDED LINE.

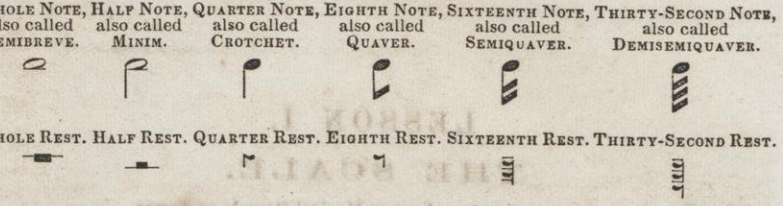
NOTES AND RESTS.

§ VI. The relative length of musical tones is represented to the eye by characters called NOTES.

The different forms of these notes represent the different lengths of musical sounds; while also by their position (higher or lower), they are made to represent the different tones or sounds of the scale.

SILENCE is indicated by characters called RESTS. Each NOTE has a corresponding REST.

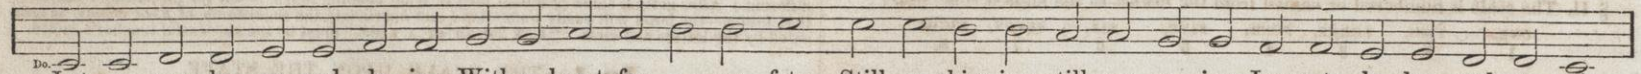
ILLUSTRATION OF NOTES WITH THEIR RESTS.



NOTE.—By practice the pupil becomes familiar with the different forms and shapes of the above notes and rests, and soon learns to govern the length of his tones entirely by them. This is called KEEPING TIME.

PRACTICAL EXERCISES.

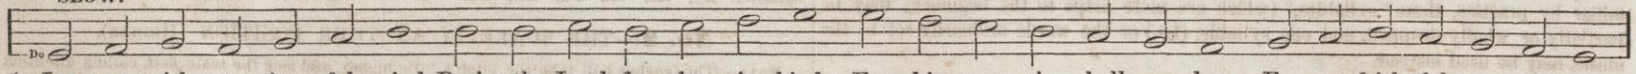
No. 4.—"LET US NOW BE UP AND DOING."—SCALE EXERCISE.



Let us now be up and do - ing, With a heart for a - ny fate, Still a - chiev-ing, still pur - su - ing, Learn to la - bor and to wait.
Up and down, o'er hills and meadows, Rid-ing, walking, quick or slow, On wher - ev - er fan - cy leads us, O'er the fair, bright world we go.

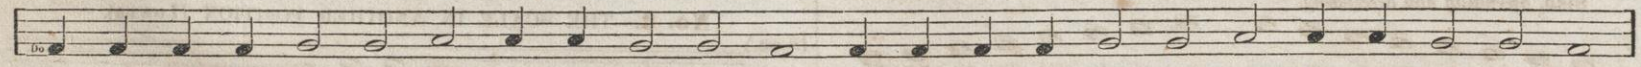
No. 5.—"LET US, WITH A JOYFUL MIND."—TUNE.

SLOW.

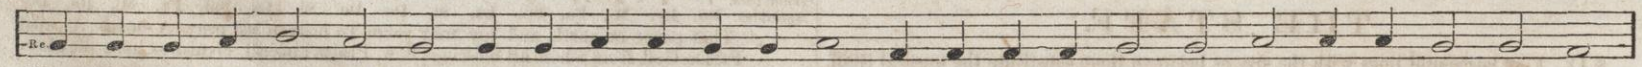


1. Let us, with a joy - ful mind, Praise the Lord, for he is kind; For his mer - cies shall en - dure Ev - er faith - ful, ev - er sure.
2. He with all - com-mand-ing might Filled the new-made world with light; For his mer - cies shall en - dure Ev - er faith - ful, ev - er sure.
3. All things liv - ing he doth feed, His full hand sup - plies their need; For his mer - cies shall en - dure Ev - er faith - ful, ev - er sure.

No. 6.—"SWIFTLY ROLL THE SEASONS ROUND."—SONG EXERCISE.



Swift - ly roll the sea - sons round; Sum-mer's passed a - way, Now the fo - liage strews the ground, Leaf-less mourns the spray.



From the sad and na - ked bower, From the bit - ter storms that lower, Far each feathered song - ster flies, Seek - ing mild - er skies.

LESSON II.

CLASSIFICATION OF ELEMENTARY CHARACTERS.

To the Teacher.—Introduce Measures, beating Time, &c.

§ I. There are three departments in the elements of music, as follows:

Rhythmics, treating of the length of tones.
Melodics, treating of the pitch of tones.
Dynamics, treating of the power of tones.

MEASURES.

§ II. Music is divided into small equal portions; these portions are called Measures.

§ III. Measures and parts of measures may be indicated, 1st, to the ear, by equally counting or telling over the parts, as one, two; one, two, &c.; and 2nd, to the eye, by motions of the hand, called Beats, or Beating Time.

§ IV. A measure with two parts—having an accent on the first part—is called Double Measure; as one, two; one, two, &c.

§ V. A measure with three parts—having an accent on the first part—is called Triple Measure; as one, two, three; one, two, three, &c.

§ VI. A measure with four parts—having an accent on the first and third parts—is called Quadruple Measure; as one, two, three, four, &c.

§ VII. A measure with six parts—accented on the first and fourth parts—is called Sextuple Measure.

§ VIII. Large figures placed at the beginning of a piece of music denote the fractional proportion of the whole note, and thus show the number of parts in a measure; thus, for example, $\frac{4}{4}$ shows that four quarter notes, or an amount equivalent to them, are contained in a measure; $\frac{3}{4}$ shows that three quarters, or their equivalent, fill the measure; $\frac{2}{2}$, that two half notes fill the measure, &c., &c.

§ IX. Measures are represented to the eye by interspaces between vertical lines; the dividing lines are called Bars.

PRACTICAL EXERCISES IN RHYTHMICS AND MELODICS.

No. 7.—Exercise in Double Measure.

Now re - joice, Now re - joice, Sing a - loud with cheerful voice.
Jen - ny Lind, Jen - ny Lind, Come a - gain, dear Jen-ny Lind.

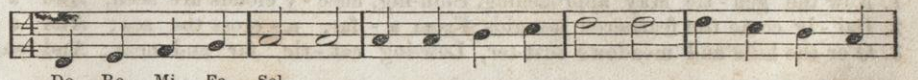
No. 8.—"NOW REJOICE."—Song Exercise in Double Measure.

Now re - joice, Now re - joice, Sing a - loud with cheerful voice.
Jen - ny Lind, Jen - ny Lind, Come a - gain, dear Jen - ny Lind.

(No. 8—continued.)

Now re - joice, Now re - joice, Sing a - loud with cheerful voice.
Jen - ny Lind, Jen - ny Lind, Come a - gain, dear Jen - ny Lind.

No. 9.—THE MEADOWS.—Song Exercise in Quadruple Measure.



1. How I love the mea-dows, Pleasant lights and sha-dows, Love-ly, purl-ing,
2. Winds are gen-tly blow-ing, All a-round are strew-ing A-corns, moss and sil - ver streams; Hear the young birds twit - ter, See the fo - liage glit - ter, To the sun's bright morn - ing beams:

pleas - ant flowers; Larks and rob - ins join - ing, All their powers com - bin - ing, Praise the love - ly morn - ing hours.

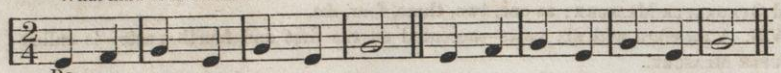
EXERCISES WITH SKIPS.

(Omitting or passing over certain tones of the scale.)

To the Teacher.—Exercise the class on the skips of one, three, and five, and explain the Repeat and Da Capo.

No. 10.—SKIP OF THE THIRD. (Omitting one tone.)

What kind of measure?



One, two, three, one, three, one, three, Come, and skip this third with me.

No. 11.—SKIP OF THE FIFTH. (Omitting three tones.)

What kind of measure?

One, two, three, four, five, one, five, five, one, five, Af-ter wisdom let us strive,

No. 12.—"THE CHEERFUL DAY."—Song.

Commencing on the second part of the measure.

FINE.—(End).

Da Capo.*

let us strive.

1. { The cheerful day is dawn-ing, I hear the cuckoo sing, / To greet the ear-ly morn-ing, And ush-er in the Spring, } O, welcome, welcome, cuck-oo! O, welcome, gen-tle Spring!

D. C. O, cuck-oo, cuckoo, wel-come! O, welcome, gentle Spring!

* Da Capo—Return to the beginning.

No. 13.—"NOW THE GENTLE MAY."—Song Exercise on One, Three, and Five.

1. Now the gen-tle May approaching, Shin-ing, fleec-y clouds are seen, And a joy-ful song of welcome Sounds from ev-ery cop-pice green.
2. Dai-ly come the feathered her-alds, From a-far, a-cross the sea; And a-broad the hap-py children Shout and sing in harm-less glee.
3. O'er the hills and meadows scat-ter, Low-ing cat-tle, far and near; And on zeph-yrs gen-tly floating, Mark the sheep-bell tinkling clear.

No. 14.—"UP AND OFF, BOYS."—Song Exercise on One, Three, and Five.

SPRIGHTLY.

Up and off, boys, Sun is ris-ing, Let him not be-hold you here; Up and off, boys, fields are smil-ing, Ev-ery bird is sing-ing clear.
Light-ly step-ping, gay-ly step-ping, Still our hap-py voic-es join; If the storm comes, we can bear it, If the sun shines, let it shine.

LESSON III.

ABSOLUTE PITCH—LETTERS—CLEFS.

To the Teacher.—Introduce Absolute Pitch of Tones by letters. Explain Staff, Clef, &c.

§ I. The Absolute Pitch of Tones is indicated by the letters A, B, C, D, E, F, G.

§ II. Either of these may be taken as the basis of the series of sonnds that we call The Scale.

§ III. The scale takes its name from the letter upon which it is founded, as e. g: a scale beginning on C, is called The Scale of C, and C is taken as one (Do); A scale beginning on D, is called The Scale of D, and D is taken as one, &c. &c.

Note.—The Teacher will explain further, and sing or play the sounds of the above letters, naming them, and especially drawing the attention of the pupils to the fact that musical sounds are distinguished from each other as to given pitch, or difference of pitch, by the letters, and not by syllables or numerals.

§ IV. In order to determine the position and pitch of the scale upon the staff, a character is used to represent one of the letters,* and is placed at the beginning of the staff. This is called a Clef.

§ V. There are two clefs in general use, called the Treble or G Clef, and the F or Base Clef.

G CLEF. F CLEF.

Note.—Another, called the C Clef,

C CLEF.

is used in many parts of Europe, but seldom in this country, the two above named being regarded sufficient for all practical purposes.

§ VI. The G clef is placed upon the second line, and represents the letter G upon that line.

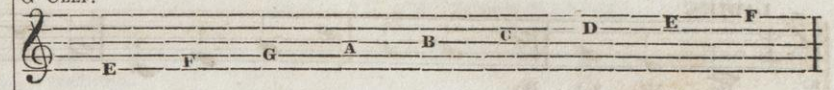
§ VII. The F clef is placed upon the fourth line, and represents the letter F upon that line.

Each line and space of the staff is then named after the letters, as follows:

* A letter was originally used instead of what we now call the clef.

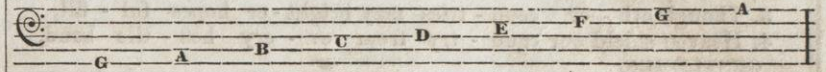
TREBLE STAFF WITH THE LETTERS MARKED.

G Clef.



BASE STAFF WITH THE LETTERS MARKED.

F Clef.



Note.—The pupils should all sing occasionally from the Base staff. Frequently half the school may sing the Base, while the other half are singing the Treble parts.

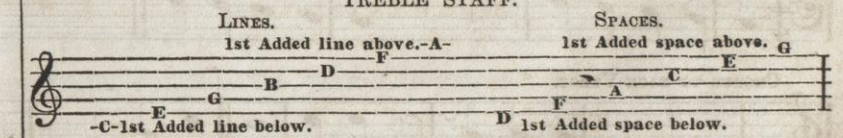
ADDED LINES.

§ VIII. The compass of the staff may be extended below or above by additional short lines, called Added or Leger Lines. These, with the spaces intervening, derive their names also from the letters in the same manner as the staff proper.

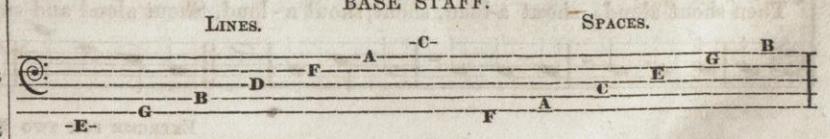
§ IX. The degrees of the staff are numbered from the lowest upward, the lowest being reckoned as the first line.

§ X. It is important to become familiar with the lines and spaces of the staves, by name, thus:

TREBLE STAFF.



BASE STAFF.



§ XI. Notes placed upon either degree of the staff receive their melodic name from the letter of the line or space on which they are placed. Thus, a note on the first line of the Treble staff is called E; on the first space, F, &c.

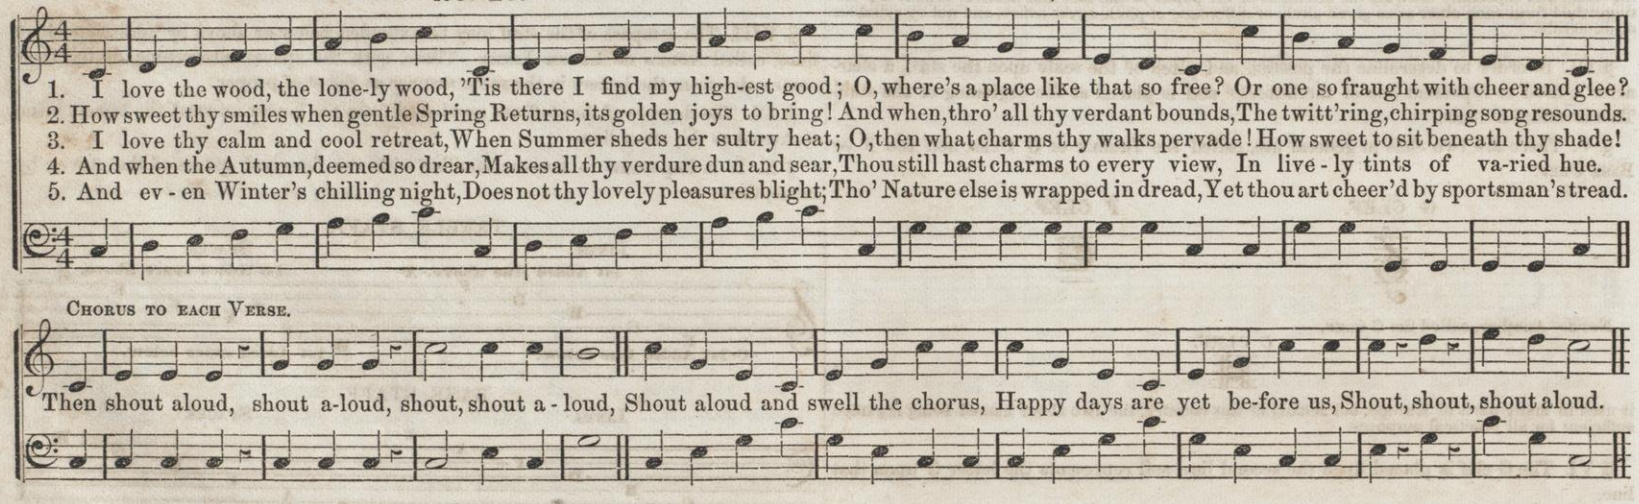
Practice reading tunes and exercises by the letters.

THE NEW SINGING CLASS.

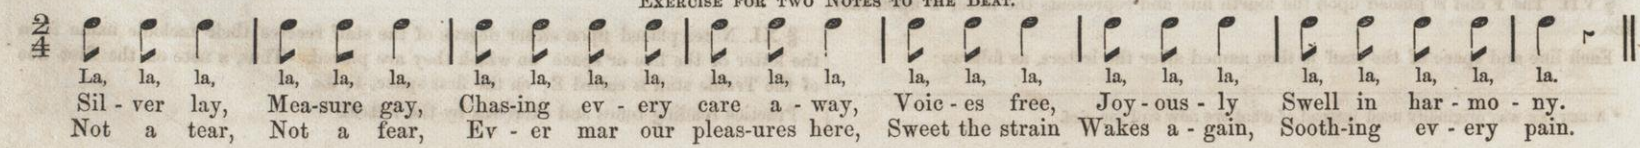
PRACTICAL EXERCISES.

No. 15.—"SING WE REJOICING."—Song Exercise in two Parts—Quadruple Measure.

No. 16.—"THE WOOD."—Two Part Song. Scale Exercise, founded on C.



Exercise for two Notes to the Beat.



LESSON IV.

RHYTHM.

§ I. In a former chapter we considered the length of sounds as indicated by the different forms of the notes, &c., but the time of a piece of music may be slower or faster without interfering with relative proportions.

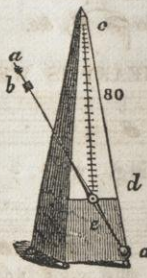
§ II. When, for example, we apply four beats to the whole note, we must allow two beats to the half note, and one beat to the quarter-note, &c.; but when we apply only two beats to the whole note, we must allow but one beat to the half note, &c.

§ III. There may be various kinds of notes in the measure, but there must be an equal amount in every measure; that is, one measure must contain as much in the aggregate as another.

NOTE.—Examine, also, tunes in the body of the work. Question on the relative duration of the notes, &c.

NOTE.—To aid in computing time, Maelzel, the celebrated French mechanist, invented an instrument called a Metronome. It has a pendulum, which swings and ticks at regular intervals of time, like that of a clock. (The instrument is, in fact, a clock turned upside down, but without dial plate or hands.) If the weight be moved upwards, the pendulum will swing slower, if downwards, faster; but put the weight where you will, its motions will always be in equal time; never hurrying, never dragging.

In the performance of a piece of music, the time should be computed with the same accuracy and regularity as by a Metronome, or a clock.



VARIETIES OF TIME, AND MOTIONS OF THE HAND IN BEATING.

§ IV. There are in general use FOUR KINDS of Measures, and each kind has THREE VARIETIES.

DOUBLE MEASURE

has two beats; the upper figure is 2. The varieties are $\frac{2}{2}$, $\frac{2}{4}$, $\frac{2}{8}$. The motions of the hand are down, up; accented on the first part.

TRIPLE MEASURE

has three beats; the upper figure is 3. The varieties are $\frac{3}{2}$, $\frac{3}{4}$, $\frac{3}{6}$. The motions of the hand are down, left, up; accented on the first and third parts.

QUADRUPLE MEASURE

has four beats; the upper figure is 4. The varieties are $\frac{4}{2}$, $\frac{4}{4}$, $\frac{4}{8}$. The motions of the hand are down, left, right, up; accented on the first and third parts.

SEXTUPLE MEASURE

has six beats; the upper figure is 6. The varieties are $\frac{6}{2}$, $\frac{6}{4}$, $\frac{6}{8}$. The motions of the hand are down, down, left, right, up, up; accented on the first and fourth parts.

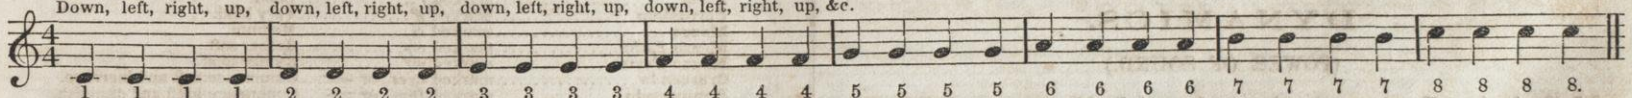
NOTE.—When the movement in Sextuple Measure is rapid, it may be beaten the same as Double Measure. When it is slow, beating may also be performed with three motions repeated, when this method is preferred.

SCALE SONGS.

OR RHYTHMICAL EXERCISES WITH THE SCALE, FOR BEATING TIME AND SINGING.

No. 17. SING BACKWARDS.

Down, left, right, up, down, left, right, up, down, left, right, up, down, left, right, up, &c.



Now the gen - tle May approaching, Shining, fleecy clouds are fly-ing, Cheerly sound our notes of welcome, While with nature's songsters vieing.

No. 18.

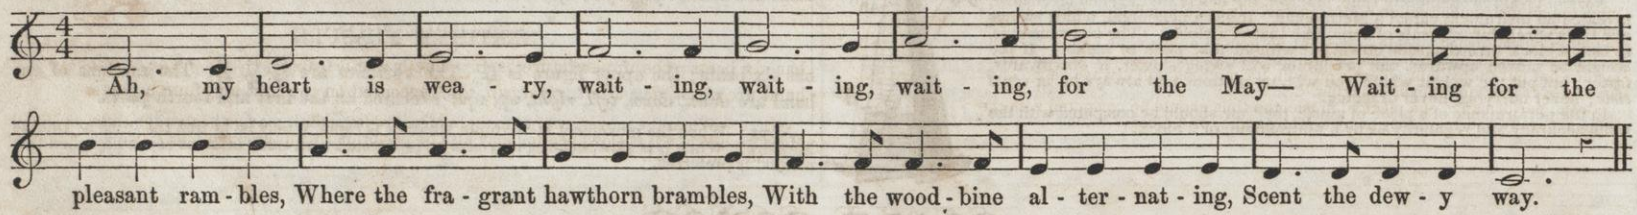
No. 20.—"VOICES RINGING."—TWO NOTES TO EACH BEAT. SING BACKWARDS.

DOTTED NOTES.

§ V. By the addition of a DOT (•), a note is made to represent a tone one half longer than it does otherwise: thus a dotted whole note is equal to a whole and half note, (𝅝. equal to 𝅝 𝅗𝅥); a dotted half note is equal to a half and quarter note (𝅗𝅥. equal to 𝅗𝅥 ♩), &c.

No. 21.—"AH, MY HEART IS WEARY."



LESSON V.

DYNAMICS.

(POWER OF SOUND.)

§ I. To sing in good taste, our sounds must be varied with respect to their POWER or stress, sometimes singing louder, and sometimes softer, according to the character of the song or sentiment. For this purpose, DYNAMICS are used.

DYNAMIC CHARACTERS EXPLAINED.

Piano	marked p	Soft.
Pianissimo	marked pp	Very soft.
Forte	marked f	Loud.
Fortissimo	marked ff	Very loud.
Mezzo	marked m	Medium.
Mezzo Piano	marked mp	Rather soft.
Mezzo Forte	marked mf	Rather loud.
Crescendo	marked Cres., or <	Commence soft and increase.
Diminuendo	marked Dim., or >	Commence loud and diminish.
Swell	marked <>	Swell.
Sforzando, or Explosive	marked sf, or >	Sudden and full.
Staccato	marked • •, or ! !	Short and distinct.
Legato	marked ⌒	Connected and smooth.

DYNAMIC MARKS APPLIED.

MOVEMENT.

EXPLANATION OF TERMS IN GENERAL USE.

ADAGIO—slow.
ALLEGRO—quick.
ALLEGRETTO—not so quick as Allegro.
ALLEGRO ASSAI—very quick.
ANDANTE—gentle, and rather slow.
ANDANTINO—somewhat quicker than Andante.
CANTABILE—pronounced Kan-tah-bi-lee—graceful, flowing.
E—and.
GRAVE—slow and solemn.
LARGO—slow.
LARGHETTO—not so slow as Largo.
MODERATO—in moderate time.
PASTORALE—applied to graceful movements in Sextuple time.
PRESTO—quick.
PRESTISSIMO—very quick.
RALLENTANDO—Slower and softer by degrees.
RITARDANDO—retarding the time.
TEMPO—time.
VIVACE—quick and cheerful.

The above are the most common terms in use among musicians for expressing the different degrees of movement.

For explanation of other musical terms, see page

No. 31.—"SILVER LAY."—THREE PART SONG.

Sing also with La, Letters, and Numerals.

LESSON VI.

MUSIC IN PARTS—CLASSIFICATION OF VOICES.

§ I. A PART in music is represented to the eye by a single set or number of notes on any staff. The treble, for example, is one PART, the base is another PART, &c.

§ II. Music is composed of one, two, three, four, and often more parts. When in two or more parts, it is said to be in Harmony, and is so composed that the different parts agree, or HARMONIZE together.

§ III. Music for choirs is usually written in four parts.

CLASSIFICATION OF VOICES.

§ IV. The voice is naturally divided into four classes, viz.: Lowest male voices, BASE.

Highest male voices, TENOR. Lowest female voices, ALTO. Highest female voices, TREBLE or SOPRANO. Boys sing ALTO until their voices change. Young Misses should practice ALTO until their voices become firm.

No. 32.—USUAL COMPASS OR EXTENT OF VOICES.

§ V. Besides the above there is a BARITONE voice, between the Base and Tenor; and the MEZZO SOPRANO, between the Alto and Treble.

NOTE.—While learning to read music in classes it is sometimes advantageous to change parts occasionally, and frequently all may sing on one part; but in church, changing of parts should not be practiced by any unless at the request of the leader. Every singer should sing the part best adapted to his or her voice, and what that is the teacher or leader will soon be able to decide.

TO THE TEACHER.—Practice the numerals 1, 3, 5, 8.

§ VI. The combination of the sounds 1, 3, 5, 8, is the first, simplest, and most pleasing form of harmony. It is termed the COMMON CHORD. There are many other kinds of chords which the student of harmony must learn, but this (the Common chord) should be familiar to every singer.

LESSON VII.

INTERVALS.

§ I. The scale may be compared to a flight of steps or ladder. It is frequently represented by a ladder with the rounds or steps at unequal distances apart:

§ II. The steps or distances observable in the passage of the voice up and down the scale or ladder, are called Intervals.

§ III. An Interval is the distance from any sound of the scale to the next above or below—the difference of pitch between any two sounds.

§ IV. There are two kinds of Intervals in the scale—Large and Small.

§ V. The larger intervals are called Tones or Steps. The smaller Half-tones or Half-steps.

Note.—Good teachers differ as to the proper use or application of these and other terms. Such differences, however, we do not consider of much importance. So long as pupils make themselves familiar with the general nomenclature of the musical art, and understand its application, we should be satisfied. We have given above both terms; teachers will adopt whichever they prefer.

THE INTERVALS OF THE SCALE.

§ VI. The intervals, as they succeed each other in the scale, are in the following order, viz.:

From 1 to 2, Large,—Tone or Step.
From 2 to 3, Large,—Tone or Step.
From 3 to 4, Small,—Half-tone or Half-step.
From 4 to 5, Large,—Tone or Step.
From 5 to 6, Large,—Tone or Step.
From 6 to 7, Large,—Tone or Step.
From 7 to 8, Small,—Half-tone or Half-step.

The intervals of the letters are as follows, viz.:

From C to D, Large,—Tone or Step.
From D to E, Large,—Tone or Step.
From E to F, Half,—Half-tone or Half-tone.
From F to G, Large,—Tone or Step.
From G to A, Large,—Tone or Step.
From A to B, Large,—Tone or Step.
From B to C, Half,—Half-tone or Half-step.

Note.—If the pupils observe carefully where the small intervals are situated, they will not be liable to make mistakes, as they will then have only to remember that all the rest are large.

Note 1.—Practice in key of G, D, or A, &c., plain tunes, or any of the following exercises, making no allusion to signatures, other than to say, Now One (Do) is on G, D, &c.

Note 2.—Desirous of continuing the plan of progressiveness, adopted as the basis of these Elements, interspersing the practical with the theoretical, we think it better to let the class practice in different keys, before the subject of Transposition or Signatures is explained. The lesson of Intervals is a very important one—indispensable, if they would understand Transposition. Let them, therefore, learn this thoroughly, and sing on.

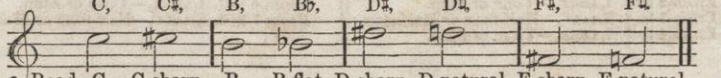
SIGNS OF ELEVATION AND DEPRESSION.

§ I. A sign is used in music which, when placed before a note, indicates a sound a half-tone (half-step) higher than the letter upon which the note is written would otherwise represent. This is called a Sharp, (♯).

§ II. A sign is used in music which, when placed before a note, indicates a sound a half tone (half-step) lower than the letter upon which the note is written would otherwise represent. This is called a Flat, (♭).

§ III. A sign is used in music which will counteract the influence of either of the above. This is called a Natural, (♮).

EXAMPLE OF THE SHARP, FLAT, AND NATURAL.



Read, C, C sharp. B, B flat, D sharp, D natural, F sharp, F natural.

§ IV. By the aid of these signs any change of the intervals can be made.

To the teacher. Practice plain tunes in any key

LESSON VIII.

MINOR SCALE.

§ I. In addition to the Diatonic Scale as explained in Lesson VII, there is another diatonic scale, differing from that in respect to intervals, called the MINOR SCALE. The former scale is called MAJOR.

§ II. There are two forms of the MINOR SCALE in use. We distinguish them from each other by the terms FIRST FORM and SECOND FORM of the Minor Scale.

§ III. In both forms of the Minor scale the intervals differ from those in the Major.

§ IV. The chief difference (to the ear) between the Major and Minor scales is in the THIRD; that of the Major being composed of two steps (two tones), while that of the Minor is only a step and half (tone and half). See Minor scale below.

NOTE.—Those who have made themselves familiar with the intervals of the Major scale will readily understand the difference between that and the Minor now to be presented.

§ V. In the first form of the Minor scale the intervals are not the same in descending as in ascending.

MINOR SCALE—FIRST FORM.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8.	8	7	6	5	4	3	2	1.
A,	B,	C,	D,	E,	F♯,	G♯,	A.	A,	G,	F,	E,	D,	C,	B,	A.
La,	Si,	Do,	Re,	Mi,	Fi,	Si,	La.	La,	Si,	Fa,	Mi,	Re,	Do,	Si,	La.

NOTE.—Let pupils examine the above by intervals of letters, and then give the form or order of intervals, ascending and descending.

MINOR SCALE—SECOND FORM.

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8.	8	7	6	5	4	3	2	1.
La,	Si,	Do,	Re,	Mi,	Fa,	Si,	La.	La,	Si,	Fa,	Mi,	Re,	Do,	Si,	La.

NOTE.—Pupils examine and name the order of intervals in second form of the Minor scale. QUESTIONS: Wherein do the two Minor scales differ from each other? What is the order of intervals in the first form? Second form? Wherein do the Minor scales differ from the Major?—Examine and compare.

§ VI. The MINOR scale commences on the numeral 6, syllable La, of the Major. 6, (La), of the Major is taken as 1 of the Minor, but the syllable (La) is retained. See scales above.

§ VII. When the MAJOR and MINOR scales have the same signature, they are said to be RELATED. Thus the key of A MINOR is the RELATIVE MINOR of C; and the key of C is the RELATIVE MAJOR of A MINOR.

§ VIII, The "RELATIVE MINOR" to any Major key is found a sixth above, or a third below, the Major key note.

§ IX. Every Major scale or key has its "RELATIVE MINOR," and, as above stated, both have the same signature.

LESSON IX.

THE CHROMATIC SCALE.

NOTE.—The Chromatic Scale, being more difficult to sing than the Diatonic, and not being much required in plain music, it is not usually studied or practiced until pupils are well versed in the Diatonic Scale, and able to read with considerable facility. But we would urgently recommend the introduction of either a part or the whole of the Chromatic Scale, as an exercise for the voice and ear, just as soon as pupils can read plain music in the Diatonic Scale. Do not attempt too much of this kind of study at any one time. One or two chromatic exercises at each lesson will generally be found sufficient, and, by judicious management, pupils will not become wearied. The easiest, and perhaps the most useful, is the sharp fourth. Next in order may follow the flat seventh; then the sharp second, flat third, &c., then, from sharp one on, gradually introducing the whole Chromatic Scale. If you have an instrument, play the chromatic scale often, that they may become accustomed to its progression. See page 31, Song Exercise, for the study of Chromatic Intervals.

§ I. All the intervals of the scale that are a whole tone (step) distant from each other may be divided into half tones, (small steps), forming an entire scale of small intervals, (half tones), called the CHROMATIC SCALE.

NOTE 1.—CHROMATIC. From a Greek word, signifying color, the intermediate, or chromatic tones, having been formerly written with colored ink. The term may also have a figurative signification. as chromatics in music may be regarded as analogous to coloring in painting.

NOTE 2.—Let the pupils recall the intervals of the scale, and then name such only as must be divided in order to form the Chromatic Scale.

§ II. The division of the large intervals, (tones), is represented by the sharp, or flat. See Chromatic Scale below.

§ III. All the tones (steps) of the scale being thus divided, either by means of the sharp or flat, we shall have for our Chromatic Scale, thirteen intervals, of a half tone (small step) each.

§ IV. The scale heretofore used, consisting of five tones (steps) and two half tones, (small steps), is called the DIATONIC SCALE.

NOTE 1.—DIATONIC. From two Greek words, signifying through the tones, or from tone to tone.

NOTE 2.—In singing the Chromatic Scale, or exercises, with syllables, use the vowel sound of e long, as in mete, for the sharps, (Di pronounced Dee, Ri Ree), and a long, as in fate, for the flats, (Se pronounced Say, Le Lay, &c.) By observing this rule, we are enabled to preserve uniformity in printing the syllables.

NOTE 3.—Read the numerals thus—ONE, sharp one; TWO, sharp two; SEVEN, flat seven; SIX, flat six, &c. Read the letters thus—C, C sharp; D, D sharp; &c. &c.

LESSON X.

TRANSPOSITION.

§ I. Transposition is removing the scale from one place, or position upon the staff, to another, either higher, or lower.

§ II. The scale takes its name from the letter on which it commences; as for example, a scale commencing on C is said to be in the key of C, and is termed the Scale of C.

§ III. The scale may commence on any letter of the musical alphabet.

§ IV. The process of transposition will be explained in a future lesson.

§ V. Sign of the Scale or Signature.—When music is written on any other scale than that of C, the signature or sign of the key is placed at the beginning of the piece of music. These signatures or signs are one or more sharps or flats. The reason for using these as the sign of the key will be apparent so soon as the process of transposition is understood. In order to read music in other scales or keys with as much ease and readiness as in the key of C, the pupil has only to make himself familiar with the signatures, and then continue his practice.

§ VI. Signatures to all the Keys with Sharps.—The signature to the key of G, (first transposition with sharps), is one sharp (♯).

§ VII. The signature to the key of D, (second transposition with sharps), is two sharps, (♯♯).

§ VIII. The signature to the key of A, (third transposition by sharps), is three sharps, (♯♯♯).

§ X. The signature to the key of B, (fifth transposition by sharps), is five sharps, (♯♯♯♯♯).

§ XI. The signature to the key of F sharp, (sixth transposition by sharps), is six sharps, (♯♯♯♯♯♯).

§ XII. The "relative minors" have the same signatures as above.

TRANSPOSITION.

ILLUSTRATED AND EXPLAINED.

§ I. In order to transpose or remove the scale to any position (any key) two things are necessary to be borne in mind, viz.:—

1. That the intervals of the scale must be the same as represented in Lesson VII—subject, Intervals, page 15.

2. That the sounds represented by letters are permanent—they never change; the sound of C, for instance, is the same sound in one scale as in another. In different scales it simply bears a different relation to the other sounds; in one scale it may be the first or key-note, in another scale it may be the third, in another the fourth, &c., but it is ever the same sound, C.

§ II. By examining and comparing the intervals of the scales with those of the letters, it will be seen that when the scale commences on C, its intervals correspond with the intervals of the letters.

ILLUSTRATION, No. 1—SCALE ON C, INTERVALS RIGHT.

C	step	D	step	E ½	step	F	step	G	step	A	step	B ½	step	C.
1		2		3		4		5		6		7		8.

ILLUSTRATION, No. 2—SCALE ON D, INTERVALS WRONG.

D	step	E ½	step	F	step	G	step	A	step	B ½	step	C	step	D.
1		2		3		4		5		6		7		8,
Do,		Re,		Mi,		Fa,		Sol,		La,		Si,		Do.

§ III. In the above it will be perceived that the half-steps occur between 2 and 3, and 6 and 7, (these now being E F, and B C,) instead of between 3 and 4, and 7 and 8, as they should. Here is a discrepancy for which a remedy must be provided. The intervals of the letters must be made to correspond with those of the scale, wherever we choose to place it. But before providing for the discrepancy here alluded to, let us see that the discrepancy itself is manifest.

NOTE.—The teacher can not be too particular about this, if he would have his pupils thoroughly understand the subject.

ILLUSTRATION, No. 3—SCALE ON E, INTERVALS WRONG.

E ½	step	F	step	G	step	A	step	B ½	step	C	step	D	step	E.
1		2		3		4		5		6		7		8.
Do,		Re,		Mi,		Fa,		Sol,		La,		Si,		Do.

NOTE.—Pupils examine the above and point out the wrong intervals.

PROCESS.—From 1 to 2 there must be a large interval—step; but from E to F is a half-step—wrong. From 3 to 4 must be a half-step, but from G to A is a step—wrong. From 7 to 8 must be a half-step, but from D to E is a step—wrong.

§ IV. It will be observed that in the above there are small intervals where there should be large, and vice versa. It will be seen also, we think, by all who have examined the subject, that we now need the signs of elevation and depression—sharps and flats—representing half-steps, by the use of which we may introduce larger or smaller intervals at pleasure, thus correcting all the faults above alluded to, as will be seen by the following:

PROCESS.—SCALE ON E.—E to F is a half-step. E is now ONE, F is TWO. Wrong, because from ONE to TWO a step is required. Insert ♯ before F and the sound is no longer F, but F♯, (F sharp) a sound a half-step higher than that of F. Now from E to F♯, (ONE to TWO) is a step—right.

Again—from TWO to THREE must be a step, but from F♯ (which was taken in place of F) to G is but a half-step. Question: "What shall be done?" Answer: Insert ♯ before G, introducing G♯, a half-step higher than G. From THREE to FOUR a half-step is required, and from G♯ (3) to A (4) is a half-step—right.

ILLUSTRATION, No. 4.—SCALE ON E.

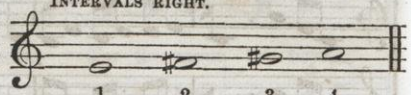
INTERVALS RIGHT.



NOTE.—Let the pupils complete the transposition or construction of this scale, according to the principles given above, and transpose also into G, D, A, F, &c. Music slates or music paper will be convenient for this purpose, while some will be willing to go to the black-board, (which should always be on hand for illustration,) and transpose the scale before the class. It will be well to let this study follow some half hour's practice in singing.

APPOGGIATURA—TURN—SHAKE OR TRILL—PORTAMENTO.

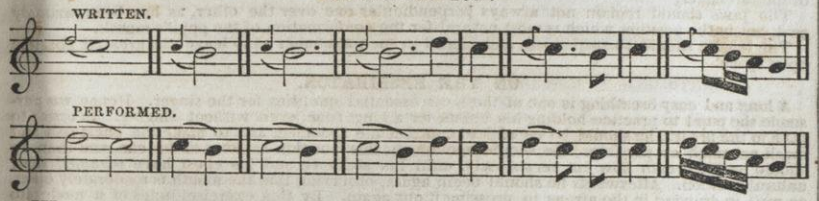
I. PASSING TONE.—Tones not essentially belonging to a melody are often introduced into music, called PASSING TONES. They are sometimes represented by notes of smaller size than those in which the music is mostly written, though this distinction is not generally observed.

NOTE.—Passing tones, considered with respect to harmony, do not belong to the chord in which they occur.

II. APPOGGIATURA.—When a passing tone precedes an essential tone on an accented part of a measure, it is called an APPOGGIATURA.

NOTE.—From Appoggiare, an Italian word, which signifies to lean, or to rest upon. An appoggiatura is a tone on which the voice leans or rests in its passage of intervals, or of one tone to another. The appoggiatura is generally considered a tone of embellishment, but it should rather be regarded as a tone of expression, since it is designed to give tenderness or pathos to a performance.

ILLUSTRATION.



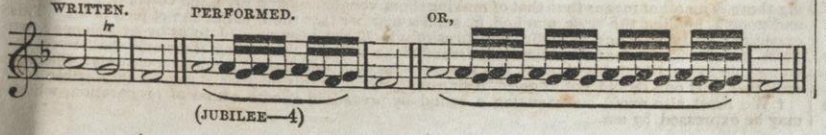
III. AFTER TONE.—When a passing tone follows an essential tone, on an unaccented part of a measure, it is called an AFTER TONE.

ILLUSTRATION.

IV. THE SHAKE OR TRILL.—A rapid alternation of a tone with the conjoint tone above it, at an interval of either a step or a half step, is called a SHAKE or TRILL.

NOTE.—The shake is a very brilliant musical embellishment. Its proper practice gives flexibility to the voice.

ILLUSTRATION.



V. THE TURN.—A tone sung in rapid succession with the conjoint tones above and below it, so as to produce a winding or turning melodic motion or movement, is called a TURN. The turn has a variety of forms, a few of which may be illustrated, as follows:

VI. PORTAMENTO.—When the voice is instantaneously conducted by a concrete passage, or graceful and almost imperceptible glide from one tone to another, so as to produce a momentary previous recognition or anticipation of the coming tone, such a carriage or transition of the voice, or such a blending or melting of one tone into another, is called PORTAMENTO.

NOTE.—The portamento should only occur between tones of comparatively long duration, and in connection with words or tones expressive of deep emotion. This beautiful grace, which, when properly introduced, gives an inexpressible charm to singing, is sometimes, nay often most sadly misrepresented, caricatured or counterfeited, and coarse slides, or vocal avalanches are heard in its place. Ferrari, in his "Singing Method," has applied the very significant term "harsh shrieks" to these frightful lurchings of the voice; but, by whatever name they may be called, they should be most watchfully and determinately eschewed.

ILLUSTRATIONS.

NOTE.—"The ornaments, graces, or embellishments of vocal music, some of which have been merely glanced at in this chapter, with the partial exception of passing tones, can not be said to belong to ordinary singing, and certainly not to choir or chorus singing. The turn, the shake, and the portamento, rather belong to that artistic style which can only be acquired by the few possessing natural great flexibility of voice, accuracy of ear, quickness of musical perception, and habits of persevering application; nor should they be attempted even by these until they have been carefully studied for years under the direction of an accomplished teacher."—LOWELL MASON.

THE STUDY OF SINGING.

BY LABLACHE.

THE VOICE AND ITS FORMATION IN GENERAL.

What is called the voice, is the sound which human beings have the faculty of producing with their own organs. The lungs and the larynx are the principal agents of it; but it is modified by the co-operation of the maxillary sinuses, the nasal cavities, and the frontal sinuses. The greater or less opening of the upper extremity of the larynx, called the glottis, produces sounds more or less grave. The purity of the voice depends upon the exact relation which there should be between the degree of opening of the glottis, and the degree of elevation of the sound which it is desired to produce.

What is called talent for singing consists then principally in the aptness to seize this relation, and in the promptness with which this organ can articulate the sounds with which the mind has conceived.

ON THE REGISTERS OF THE VOICE.

Men have the faculty of forming two series of sounds, which are called Registers of the Voice. The first series commences with the lowest note of the voice and extends for the Base as far as and is called the Chest-register. Above this sound would begin another series, which would be called the Head-register; but the base voice has such a force in its chest-register, that it is almost impossible to well unite or equalize these two qualities of sounds. Hence the use of sounds of the head-register has been discarded in this kind of voice.

Baritone and Tenor voices, which are softer and more flexible, can make use of the two registers; and these are distributed in the following manner:

The female voice is divided into three series of sounds, or registers—the Chest, Medium, and Head registers.

The Contralto voice, which is the base of the female voice, rarely employs the head-register.*

The Mezzo-Soprano and the Soprano divide their sounds in the following manner:

* This voice varies in its capacities with almost every individual; hence it is impossible to fix the limits of its register precisely.

OF THE MANNER OF EXERCISING THE VOICE.

Experience has shown that in order to form the voice and equalize it, the pupil should sing much on the vowel sound ä, and a little also, but at a later period, on the sound a. This is called vocalizing.

Vocalizing—by laying bare, so to speak, all the faults of the voice, which would be in part disguised by the employment of words—becomes for this reason the most efficacious means of combating them.

The conditions of good vocalizing are 1st, to know how to hold the mouth well; 2d, to breathe well; 3d, to form and send forth the sounds of the different registers; 4th, to pass insensibly from the sounds of one register to those of another; 5th, to attack and connect sounds for forming successions. We proceed to devote a special section to the analysis of each of these conditions.

ON THE POSITION OF THE MOUTH.

The mouth should be kept smiling, without distortion, and opened sufficiently to admit the end of the forefinger.

The jaws should remain not always perpendicular one over the other, as has been wrongly said, but in the position which is most natural for the conformation of the pupil's mouth.

The tongue should be suspended, and placed in such a manner as to leave the greatest possible open space.

ON THE RESPIRATON.

A long and easy breathing is one of the most essential qualities for the singer. Hence we persuade the pupil to practice holding his breath for a long time, even without singing. In order to take in the breath, he should be careful to contract the abdomen, and to make the chest rise and swell as much as possible. He should remain in this position as long as he can, and then he should let the breath flow out very slowly, until his abdomen and his chest have regained their natural position. Afterwards he should begin again, observing that the mouth is moderately open, as well in drawing in the air, as in pressing it out again. By this exercise, lungs of a moderate capacity will become able to furnish a well-pitched sound which will last from 18 to 20 seconds.

TO FORM SOUNDS OF DIFFERENT REGISTERS.

The sounds of the chest-register should be produced by sending forth the breath freely, and in such a manner as not to strike against any part of the mouth on its passage; the least rubbing against the glands destroys the vibrating quality of the tone. Females will obtain them more easily by keeping the mouth a little rounded.

The medium sounds are produced by directing the breath against the upper teeth.

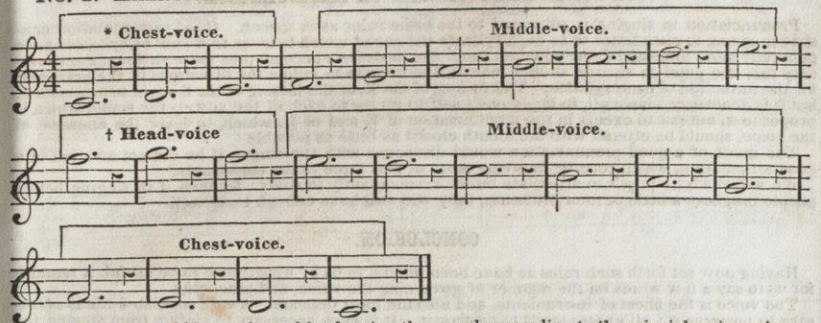
The head sounds are made by directing the breath entirely towards the frontal sinuses.*

Every sound ought to be uttered without feeling or groping about for it. Many persons when they are required to sound one, are disposed to strike six or seven and then lead the voice rapidly up to the required tone. This occurs frequently in striking notes which are pretty high. It is a fault which must be carefully avoided.†

* There are two faults to be avoided in the delivery of the voice—1st the guttural sound; 2d, the nasal sound. The first proceeds almost always from this, that the tongue is too much pressed backwards and against the lower part of the mouth. It may be avoided by pushing the tongue forward a little, and keeping it suspended. The second fault proceeds from this, that the breath is forced into the cavities of the nose. With attention, beginners who may have a tendency to this, will be able to avoid it easily; but in order to eradicate it with persons with whom it is a habit of long standing there is no other means than that of making them vocalize at first upon the vowel O, then upon ä and upon a, holding the nose pinched in such a manner that the breath can not pass at all. This expedient is the only one the efficaciousness of which has been proved to us by experience; we point it out without fear of ridicule, pursuaded as we are, that when the pupil shall have become able to send forth his voiee in this manner, the fault will have disappeared entirely. Observe only this, that one should not attempt to sing with words in this manner, it is quite impossible.

† We must also avoid commencing a sound by preceding it with a kind of preparation, which may be expressed by um.

No. 1. Exercise for Soprano.



The exercise should be performed by forming the sounds according to the principles given above, and breathing on each rest.

For Baritone and Mezzo-Soprano voices, this exercise should be commenced a third lower, and for Contralto and Base voices, it should be transposed a fourth.

OF THE MANNER OF UNITING SOUNDS OF DIFFERENT REGISTERS.

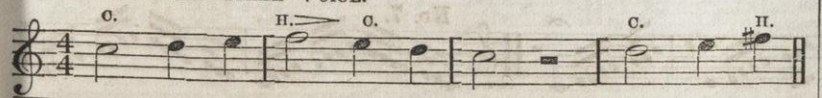
The two registers of the male voice frequently afford unequal sounds, which would produce a very disagreeable effect, if the ability to unite them could not be attained by study. The highest tones of the chest are very strong, by the very effort which they require, while the first head-tones are very soft and often feeble. Hence it is necessary to apply one's self to strengthening the latter, and softening the former. As our organs permit us to produce the extreme sounds of one register in the next register, the best means of uniting the two kinds of sounds, is to begin by making a single sound pass from the chest-register to the head register, and vice versa.

EXERCISES FOR UNITING THE CHEST-VOICE WITH THE HEAD-VOICE.

The letter C indicates the chest-voice, and the letter H indicates the head-voice.

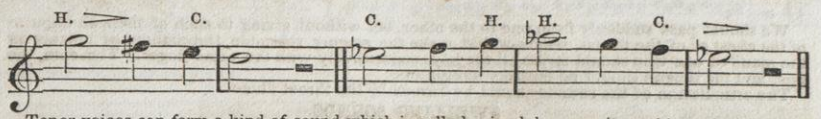
No. 2. For the Male Voice.

No. 3. For the Male Voice.



*When one finishes a sound without having exhausted all the breath, it is necessary to use care to stop the remaining breath very gently, and not to fling it out with a kind of expiration very disagreeable to hear. We should equally avoid shutting the mouth as soon as the sound is finished.

†Men who have Tenor voices will do well to exercise themselves in singing the entire scale from the chest-voice.

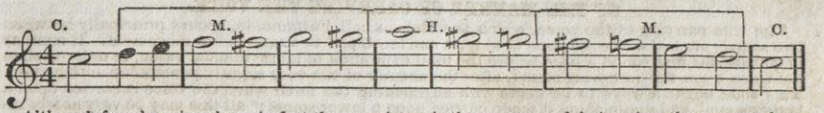


Tenor voices can form a kind of sound which is called mixed, because it combines the vibrating quality of the chest sounds with the softness of the head sounds.

It is very difficult to fix the upward and downward limits of this kind of voice. We have heard Tenors who, in descending scales, prolonged it even to  and only regained the chest-sound at the lower G. This aided them admirably in making the difference of sound existing between the chest and head-register disappear.

Hence we urge Tenor pupils to exercise this kind of voice in its whole extent. As for the means to be employed, they can only be pointed out by the verbal instruction of the professor. We shall merely recommend to them to guard themselves against the habit of the guttural sound, which is easily contracted in the use of the mixed-voice

No. 4. For the Mixed Voice.

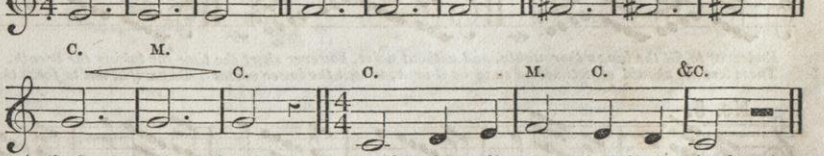


Although female voices have in fact three registers in the compass of their voice, the passage from the Medium to the Head voice, offers but little difficulty to them. They should above all, direct their attention to the union of the chest-register and the medium-register. The difficulty to be overcome is the same which men experience, and the means to be employed are identical, namely, weakening the high sounds of the chest, and strengthening the first tones of the medium.

EXERCISES FOR UNITING THE CHEST-VOICE WITH THE MEDIUM-VOICE.

The letter C indicates the chest-voice, and M the medium voice.

No. 5. For the Female Voice.



As the head-tones with females are stronger than the medium tones, in order to unite these two registers they must follow a process the reverse of the preceding: this is to say, they must strengthen as much as possible the last medium-tones, and soften the first head-tones.

These exercises ought to be sung very slowly at first, and in proportion as the pupil shall acquire facility in passing from one register to the other, he can accelerate the movement.

TO ATTACK AND CONNECT SOUNDS.

Sounds which should form connected successions, as diatonic and other scales, ought to be attacked boldly, and connected without sliding (save in the case of Portamento, of which we shall speak at a later period.)

* There are many female voices which experience almost no difficulty in changing the register—these are generally those which have not great power. It is for the master to distinguish who need to perform these exercises, and who can do without them.

We should pass suddenly from one to the other, but without giving to each of them an impulse of the chest or of the throat, which would make the singing resemble the manner of playing on the piano of one who should strike all the keys successively with the same finger. The chin, the lips, and the tongue should be entirely motionless.

The articulation of the sounds should be formed by the throat alone.

SWELLING SOUNDS.

To swell a sound is to strike it with firmness, but as softly as possible, augmenting the force gradually to the middle of its duration, and from this point to the end, insensibly diminishing to the degree of force with which it was commenced.

To succeed well with the exercise of the scale with the swell, it is necessary to take breath before each note, to remain a moment with the chest raised, before giving forth the voice, and then to strike the sound in the manner we have before suggested, taking care to make no movement either with the mouth or with the tongue while the sound lasts.

The practice of scales with a swell is the most useful exercise which can be performed for good singing. By this means one corrects the faults of the voice, gives firmness to it, increases its power, and acquires the flexibility which is indispensable for coloring the melody. Pupils who desire to speedily gain command of their vocal organs, should sing at least four scales with the swell, every day for two months.

OF THE MANNER OF CARRYING THE VOICE.

The true carrying of the voice, which the Italians call Portamento, occurs principally between two sounds pitched at the distance of at least one third, and in a rather slow movement. It consists in quitting the first sound a little before the total expiration of its rhythmical value, in order to slide the voice upon the following sound, after the manner of the very slightly perceptible anticipation. This slide ought always to be made with augmenting the force when the voice is carried upon a higher sound, and diminishing it when carried upon a lower sound;* all this may be very nearly indicated. For Example see last "Illustration," p. 49.

* It is necessary to avoid with care leaning strongly upon the carriage of the voice in the descending. This would produce a kind of yawn, which would be very disagreeable.

ON PRONUNCIATION AND ON ARTICULATION.

Pronunciation in singing is subjected to the same rules as in speech. Good pronunciation consists in giving to each letter or to each syllable the sound which belongs to it; but as syllables have generally more force and duration when sung, and as defects become thus more striking, it is necessary that the pupil in singing should take still more care to follow the directions of the grammar, for the formation of each syllable. The rolling of the R, or the hissing of the S ought to be avoided; but it is necessary, above all, to apply one's self to giving to each of the vowels the sound which is proper to it, but not to excess in the pronunciation of E and of U, which, to favor the emission of the voice, should be uttered with the mouth closed as little as possible.

The merit of a good pronunciation would disappear with the singer, if he did not add that of a good articulation, which consists in giving more or less force to the consonants.

We would advise pupils to articulate rather extravagantly in study; for then if in singing before people they lose a little of their precision, they will still have enough to do well.

CONCLUSION.

Having now set forth such rules as have been proved to us by experience to be useful, it remains for us to say a few words on the manner of governing the voice, and practicing.

The voice is the finest of instruments, and also the most delicate. A well regulated life is necessary to preserve it; all excess tends to destroy it. It is even necessary to abstain from singing too long at a time: for as it is indispensable to always sing with a full and sonorous voice, the organs would suffer by too long continued exercise. The singer should be careful to leave off singing a little while before being fatigued. It is impossible to fix a limit to the time of study; this depends on the strength of the individual. But we repeat that this study should invariably be performed, not always with the entire fullness of the capacities of the voice, but always with an open and sonorous voice; nothing is more injurious, and nothing more retards the progress than the habit of singing through the teeth, or of practicing a mere humming tone. The chest is fatigued, the throat acquires not real facility, and the voice gains neither certainty nor development.

VOCALIZING EXERCISES.

From MASON'S Vocalizing Exercises and Solfeggios.

To be sung with vowel sounds, (principally Ah,) for flexibility of voice, and with syllables for distinctness and facility in articulation. May be repeated several times before singing the last note. Not so fast as to be indistinct.

Endeavor to fill the lungs thoroughly, and without noise, however short the time for taking the breath. Sometimes loud, and sometimes soft, sometimes increasing, and sometimes diminishing.
These lessons should sometimes be sung in G or A, to suit the lower voices Be careful not to force the voice upwards.

SYLLABIC COMBINATIONS.

1.—Initial Syllables.

[The common faults in the enunciation of syllables, consist in a slack, obscure articulation of the single elements of which they are composed, and, in addition, the fault of negligently allowing a vowel sound to intervene between the consonants; thus, "bāla" for blā. It is undoubtedly one of the greatest faults of our language, that it abounds in unmusical collocations in the sounds of letters and syllables. But true taste will never allow this fact to excuse a slovenly style of articulation, but will always maintain a neat, clear, and exact sound of every element, in whatever combination it may occur.]

* These words should always be read as if spelled without o or e, in the last syllable. In singing, the o or the e must be sounded, when the verse requires, but should never, through negligence, be made broad or full, in the faulty style of "o-pun," "ta-un," &c.

† These words are usually to be sung, as well as read, without the sound of e after v, but never in the low style of "e-vun," "heav-un," &c.

DIFFICULT COMBINATIONS.

EXERCISES IN ARTICULATION.

By careful training on such difficult combinations as the following, one will soon acquire great command of the muscles of the face, (generally too rigid), and the tongue will move with fluency and precision.
Practice at first slowly, and then more rapidly.

THE TWISTER. (Tongue Exercise.)

When a twister, a twisting, will twist him a twist,
For twisting his twist, he three twines doth intwist;
But if one of the twines of the twist do untwist,
The twine that untwisteth untwisteth the twist.

MUSCLE BREAKERS.

Thou waf'd'st the skiff over the mountain height cliffs, and saw'st the full orb'd moon, in whose effulgent light thou reef'd'st the haggled sails.
He was unamiable, disrespectful, formidable, unmanageable, inextricable and pusillanimous.

Lip and Tongue Exercise.

Peter Prinkle Prandle picked three pecks of prickly pears from three prickly prangly pear trees; if then Peter Prickle Prandle picked three pecks of prickly, prangly pears, from three prickly, prangly pear trees, where are the three pecks of prickly pears that Peter Prickle Prandle picked from three prickly prangly pear trees; success to the successful prickly prangly pear picker.

R. (With one trill of the tongue only.)

The rough rock roars; round and round the rough rocks the ragged rascal ran.

THE THISTLE SIFTER.

Theopholis Thistle, the successful thistle sifter, in sifting a sieve full of unsifted thistles, thrust three thousand thistles through the thick of his thumb; if then Theopholis Thistle, the successful thistle sifter, thrust three thousand thistles through the thick of his thumb, see that thou, in sifting a sieve full of unsifted thistles, dost not thrust three thousand thistles through the thick of thy thumb.

PRONUNCIATION.

The words The, By, My.

The, before a word beginning with a vowel, should be pronounced with the same sound of e as in relate: before a word beginning with a consonant, it should have the obscure sound, as in the second syllable of eternal; but never the sound of broad a.

By, in colloquial, or very familiar language, may be pronounced short, with a sound of y, corresponding to that of i, in the word it, and not, as sometimes heard, to the e of me. But generally the y should be full.

My should always be pronounced with the short sound of i, mentioned above, unless, in emphatic expression, or in solemn style: and in the latter, only in phrases directly associated with solemnity, as in the following; "my God." Familiar phrases, even in serious or solemn style, should retain the short y; thus, mў hand, mў heart, mў mouth,—not "my hand," nor "mė hand," &c.—So also in phrases of address, mў lords, mў friends, mў countrymen, &c.—not my lords, &c. The word myself should never have the long y.

The termination ed.

In the reading of the Scriptures, the solemnity and antiquity of the style are supposed by some to require, or at least to authorize, the sounding of e in such words. This, however, is a matter of taste merely, and should never be extended to other reading.—In chanting, the e should always be sounded: in singing, the pronunciation is regulated by the verse, as retaining or omitting the sound of this letter.

The words Guide, Guard, Regard, Sky, Kind.

These, in cultivated usage, are pronounced with a slight sound of y, following g and k. The omission of this sound characterizes the local usage of Scotland and of New England. The local mode has, no doubt, the sanction of reason and system. But general custom is the only law of spoken language. Words are facts of speech, not logical deductions.

The words Amen, &c.

Vocal music, of a sacred character, is properly allowed the same liberty which is conceded to the language of poetry, with regard to the use of a style of pronunciation which is obsolete, for common purposes, but appropriate in the expression of deep, solemn, grand, or lofty effects of emotion. Hence the just preference, in the singing of sacred music, for the pronunciation of the word amen, with a broad, as in arm.

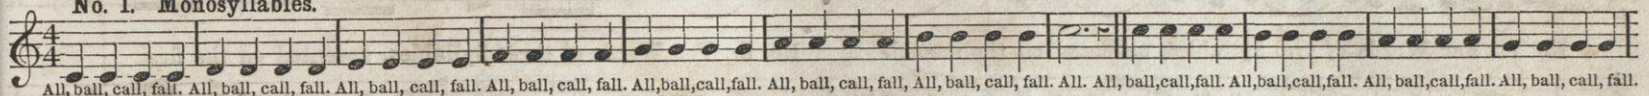
The same remark may be applied to all instances of variable pronunciation in which the current modern sound of a vowel is flat and unmusical, and that of an older style is broad and melodious.*

* Some vocalists extend this rule to the word my, giving it the long y in all devotional music.

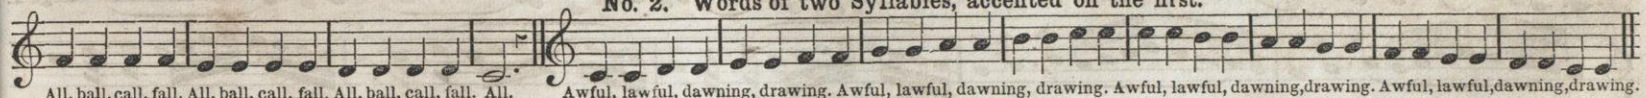
SINGING EXERCISES.

To be sung sometimes in Slow and sometimes in Quick time, sometimes Piano and sometimes Forte. The scale may be transposed to suit different voices.

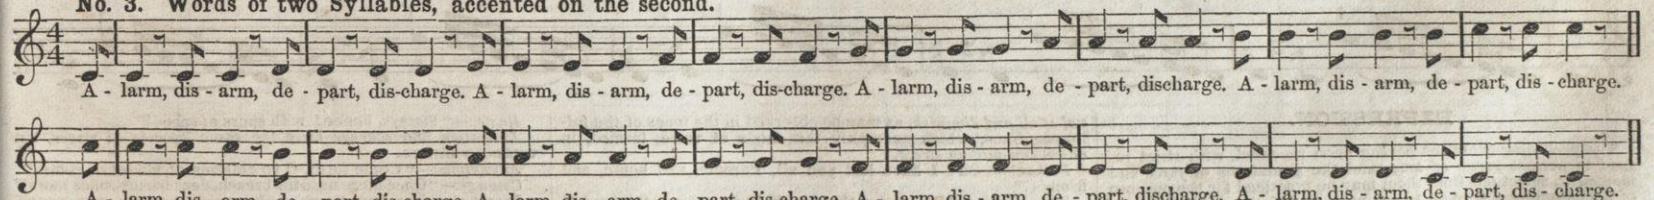
No. 1. Monosyllables.



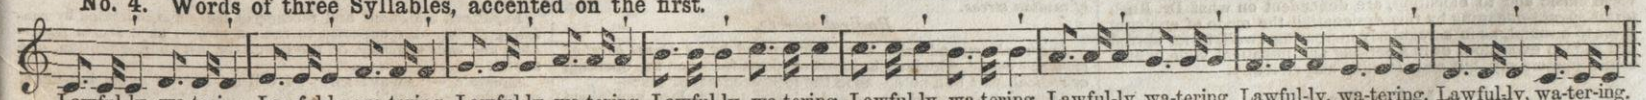
No. 2. Words of two Syllables, accented on the first.



No. 3. Words of two Syllables, accented on the second.



No. 4. Words of three Syllables, accented on the first.



No. 5. Words of three Syllables, accented on the second.

No. 6. For Monosyllables, or Words of two Syllables, accented on the first.

No. 7. For Words of two Syllables, accented on the second.

No. 8. For Words of three Syllables, accented on the first.

No, 9. For Words of three Syllables, accented on the second.

EXPRESSION.

The preceding exercises having been repeated, with strict regard to perfect purity of tone, and the gradations of force and movement, selections from them may be practiced for the purpose of accustoming the voice to maintain a perfectly distinct articulation along with the effects of feeling in expression.

The most important effects of expression which are common to vocal music and to elocution, are dependent on what Dr. Rush terms stress,—meaning by this designation the mode of applying force to a sound, as in a regularly increasing swell, in an abrupt and sudden explosion, or in a jerking and impatient style, which begins moderately, but ends forcibly and violently.

Median Stress.

Pathetic, tranqul, and solemn feeling, adopts a regular and gradual swell and diminish, as may be observed in the tones of the following lines, which exemplify this mode of voice, termed, in elocution, median stress.

Pathos:—"Oh! I have lost you all, Parents, and home, and friends!"

Tranquility:—"How sweet the moonlight sleeps upon this bank!"

Solemnity:—"How sweet and solemn is this midnight scene!"

Repeat a selection from the musical examples, with the expression of median stress.

Radical Stress.

Anger, alarm, and haste, are distinguished by an abrupt burst of explosive sound, which strikes, with sudden force, on the opening, or radical, part of a note.—as in the following examples:—

Anger:—"You shall die, base dog! and that before yon cloud has passed over the sun!"

Alarm:—"To arms! they come! the Greek! the Greek!"

Haste:—"Sisters, hence! with spurs of speed!"

Animation and courage have the same species of stress, but without violence.

Animation:—"Come forth, O ye children of gladness, come!"

Courage:—"Once more unto the breach, dear friends, once more!"

Repeat examples from the musical exercises, with the expression of radical stress.

Vanishing Stress.

Impatient, indignant and revengeful feeling is indicated by vanishing stress,—the opposite to radical stress; as it begins moderately and ends violently, on the vanish, or last audible portion, of a sound.

Example:—"Away! away! I will not hear of aught but death or vengeance now!"

Repeat, with vanishing stress, a selection from the musical examples.

THE SACRED STREAM. L. M. (QUINTET.)

T. Wood, ALBANY.

1. There is a stream whose gen - tle flow, Sup - plies the ci - ty of our God, Life, love, and joy, still gliding through, And wa-ter-ing our di - vine a - bode.

1. There is a stream whose gentle flow, Supplies the ci - ty of our God, Life, love, and joy, still glid-ing through, And watering our di - vine a-bode.

2. That sacred stream whose holy fount, Does all our rag - ing fears con - trol; Sweet peace thy prom - i - ses af - ford And give new strength to faint - ing souls.

NOTE. In the Second Verse use the Small Notes.

SLOW and SOFT.

ROSEDALE. L. M.

G. F. Root.

1. { Great God, to thee my evening song With humble grat-i - tude I raise; } Oh, let thy mer-cy tune my tongue, Omit. - - - - - { And fill my heart with live-ly praise.

2. { My days un-cloud-ed, as they pass, And every gently rolling hour, } Are monuments of wondrous grace, Omit. - - - - - { And witness to thy love and power.

CHRISTIAN'S SLEEP. L. M.

W. B. B.

1. Dear is the spot where Christians sleep, And sweet the strain which an-gels pour; O, why should we in an - guish weep? They are not lost—but gone be - fore.
2. Say, why should friendship grieve for those Who safe ar - rive on Ca - naan's shore? Released from all their hurt - ful foes, They are not lost—but gone be - fore.
3. How ma - ny pain-ful days on earth Their fainting spi - rits numbered o'er! Now they en - joy a heaven-ly birth; They are not lost—but gone be - fore.
4. Dear is the spot where Christians sleep, And sweet the strain which an-gels pour; O, why should we in an - guish weep? They are not lost—but gone be - fore.

QUITO. L. M.

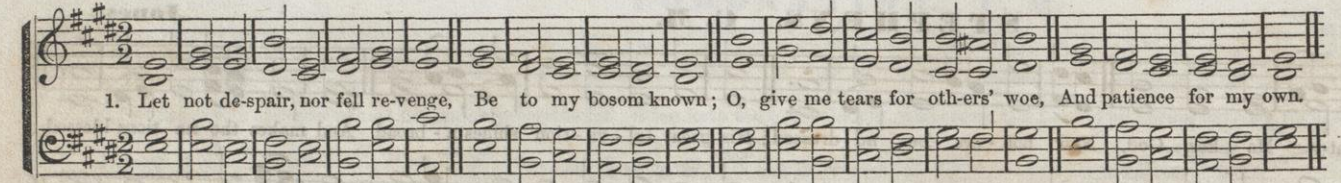
From the "Scotch Psalter." 1616.



1.
Thro' all the changing scenes of life,
In trouble and in joy,
The praises of my God shall still
My heart and tongue employ.

2.
The hosts of God encamp around
The dwellings of the just;
Deliverance he affords to all
Who make his name their trust.

The name of this tune in the old books is French. The Dundee of Scotland is the same as the Windsor of most of the English and American books of Psalmody. There is no objection, in tunes of this class, to such consecutive fifths as occur between the tenor and the base in passing from the third to the fourth line.

* In the above, and other similar arrangements from standard authors, we simply ask the credit (if any there be) of putting into the limited compass of a psalm tune a beautiful musical thought, originally designed for another purpose. To do this so as to make a euphonious and popular tune, and yet preserve inviolate the author's meaning, is no light task. In this work it has been our constant endeavor neither to add to nor take from the original one note that was not necessary in order to transfer it from its native to its newly adopted and metrical form.

1. EVERY day hath toil and trouble,
Every heart hath care;
Meekly bear thine own full measure,

Fear not, shrink not, though the burden
Heavy to thee prove;
God shall fill thy mouth with gladness,
And thy heart with love.

2. Patiently enduring, ever
Let thy spirit be
Bound, by links that can not sever,
To humanity.
Labor, wait! thy Master perished
Ere His task was done;
Count not lost thy fleeting moments—
Life hath but begun.

3. Labor! wait! though midnight shadows
Gather round thee here,
And the storm above thee lowering
Fill thy heart with fear—
Wait in hope! the morning dawneth
When the night is gone,
And a peaceful rest awaits thee

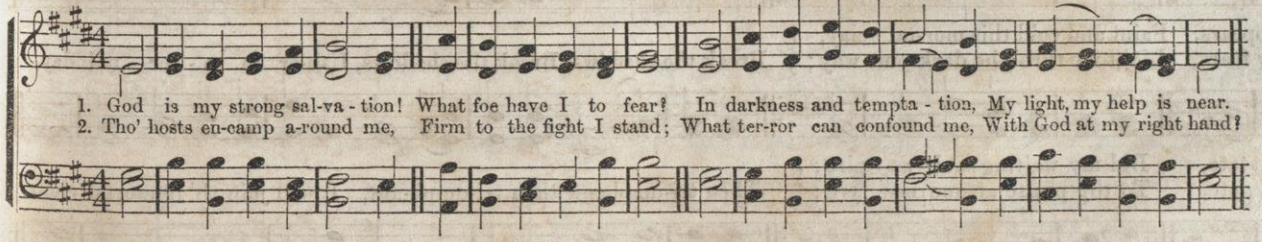
2. He has pardons, full and free, Drooping souls to gladden; Still he cries—"Come unto me, Weary, heavy laden." Tho' your sins like mountains high, Rise, and reach [to heaven,
D. C. Soon as you on him rely, All shall be for - - - given.
3. Precious is the Saviour's name, Dear to all that love him; He to save the dying came; Go to him and prove him. Wandering sinners, now return; Contrite souls, be- [lieve him!
D. C. Jesus calls you, cease to mourn; Worship him; re - - ceive him.

CECIX, or PHUVAH. 7s & 6s.* (76,76.) Or 7s, 6s & 4s† by the ties.



1. God is my strong sal-va-tion! What foe have I to fear? In darkness and tempta-tion, My light, my help is near.
2. Tho' hosts en-camp a-round me, Firm to the fight I stand; What ter-ror can confound me, With God at my right hand?

3.
Place on the Lord reliance,
My soul with homage wait:
His truth be thine affiance,
When faint and desolate.

4.
His might thine heart shall strengthen;
His love thy joy increase;
Mercy thy days shall lengthen;
"The Lord will give thee peace."

THYATIRA. 7s & 5s. [75,75,75,75.]

1st. 2d.

1. Onward speed thy conquering flight; Angel, onward speed;
Cast abroad thy radiant light, Bid the shades re - - - cede;
Tread the idols in the dust, Heathen fanes destroy, Spread the gospel's holy trust, Spread the gospel's joy.

2. Onward speed thy conquering flight; Angel, onward haste;
Quickly on each mountain's height Be thy standard . . placed;
Let the blissful tidings float Far o'er vale and hill, Till the sweetly echoing note Ev - ery bo-som thrill.

ONEIDA. 7s & 5s. 8 lines. Trio.

Tenor.

1. Peace to thee, O favored one,
Weeping thus before the throne,
O'er the ills that thou hast done, With relenting sighs: While thy heart with grief is riven, All thy follies are forgiven; And beneath a smiling [heaven, Light will soon arise.

Alto, or Soprano, or both.

2. Earthly joys to thee are dross,
Earthly gain is heavenly loss,
Look upon the bleeding cross, View the Victim there: He that for thy sins hath died Bids thee in his love confide; Trust in him, and none be- [side—He will hear thy prayer.

OSMAN. 7s & 4s.

1. When the vale of death appears, Faint and cold this mor-tal clay,
Blest Redeemer, soothe my fears, Light me thro' the darksome way;
Break the shadows, Break the shadows, Ush-er in e - ter - nal day.

2. Upward from this dy-ing state, Bid my waiting soul as - pire;
O - pen thou the crystal gate, To thy praise attune my lyre;
Then tri-umphant, then tri-umph-ant, I will join th' immortal choir.

The Blessing of Aaron." Num. vi. 24–26.

The above beautiful little melody is believed by M. Leopold Haupt, a learned German of Görlitz, to have been that sung by the Israelites in the "Blessing of Aaron," Numbers vi. 24–26. M. Haupt assigns as a reason for this belief that he has discovered the key to the interpretation of the Hebrew vowel points and "accents," generally held by Hebraists to indicate the inflections of the voice in reciting, and that these representing definite musical sounds, the melodies of the ancient Temple Worship may now be restored.—Ed. I ASK thy boundless grace to share,
I SEEK for pardon through thy blood,
I KNOCK by earnest, fervent prayer,
Lord, hear, and answer me for good.
"ASK—ye shall receive,
SEEK—and ye shall find,
KNOCK—and enter in, but leave
All doubts and sins behind."

3.

Yes, each mistrustful doubt of thee,
Each long-indulged, besetting sin,
Repented and renounced must be,
Ere we may dare to enter in.
Then asking, we receive;
And seeking, we shall find;
Till entering heaven's gate, we leave
Earth, sin, and death behind.

NEARER TO THEE. 6s & 4s. (64,64,664.)

1. Nearer, my God, to Thee, Nearer to Thee! E'en though it be a cross That raiseth me; Still all my song shall be,—Nearer, my God, to Thee, Nearer to Thee!
2. Though like the wanderer, The sun gone down, Darkness be over me, My rest a stone; Yet in my dreams I'd be Nearer, my God, to Thee,—Nearer to Thee!
3. There let the way appear, Steps unto heaven; All that Thou sendest me, In mercy given; Angels to beckon me Nearer, my God, to Thee,—Nearer to Thee!
4. Then with my waking thoughts, Bright with thy praise, Out of my stony griefs, Bethel I'll raise; So by my woes to be Nearer, my God, to Thee,—Nearer to Thee!
5. Or if on joyful wing, Cleaving the sky, Sun, moon, and stars forgot, Upward I fly; Still all my song shall be,—Nearer, my God, to Thee,—Nearer to Thee!

Weep not, my friends, weep not for me,
All is well;
My sins are pardoned, I am free;
All is well.
There's not a cloud that doth arise,
To hide my Saviour from my eyes;
I soon shall mount the upper skies—
All is well.

3.

Tune, tune your harps, ye saints in glory,
All is well;
I will rehearse the pleasing story,
All is well.
Bright angels have from glory come,
They're round my bed, they're in my room,
They wait to waft my spirit home—
All is well.

LEAD THOU ME ON.

2.

I was not ever thus, nor prayed that thou
Should'st lead me on ;
I loved to choose and see my path ; but now
Lead thou me on !
I loved day's dazzling light, and, spite of fears,
Pride ruled my will : remember not past years !

3.

So long thy power hath blessed me, surely still
'T will lead me on
Thro' dreary doubt, thro' pain and sorrow, till
The night is gone,
And with the morn those angel faces smile,
Which I have loved long since, and lost awhile.

THERE'S REST IN THE GRAVE. 5s.

Words by Rev. Charles Beecher.

f pp

1. There's rest in the grave, Life's toils are all past, Night cometh at last: How calmly I rest In the sleep of the blest, Nor hear life's storm rave O'er my green, grassy grave.
2. No rest in the grave—Heaven's dawn purples fast, Morn's splendors are cast Like shafts thro' the gloom Of the dark, silent tomb; Heaven's fair bowers wave—No rest in the grave!
3. Arise from the grave! Heaven's bright, burning throng Come rushing along; They gird me about, And triumphant shout, As myriad palms wave, "Ascend from the grave."

To be read.—"So Esther was taken unto king Ahasuerus unto his house royal in the tenth month, which is the month Tebeth, in the seventh year of his reign.

"And the king loved Esther above all the women, and she obtained grace and favor in his sight more than all the virgins; so that he set the royal crown upon her head, and made her queen instead of Vashti.

"Then the king made a great feast unto all his princes and his servants, even Esther's feast; and he made a release to the provinces, and gave gifts according to the state of the king."—Esther ii. 16–18.

"After these things did king Ahasuerus promote Haman the son of Hammedatha, the Agagite, and advanced him, and set his seat above all the princes that were with him.

"And all the king's servants, that were in the king's gate, bowed and reverenced Haman; for the king had so commanded concerning him; but Mordecai bowed not, nor did him reverence."—Ibid iii. 1, 2.

TO BE READ, ESTHER III, 12 to 15.

"Then were the king's scribes called, on the thirteenth day of the first month, and there was written according to all that Haman had commanded unto the king's lieutenants, and to the governors that were over every province, and to the rulers of every people of every province, according to the writing thereof, and to every people after their language; in the name of king Ahasuerus was it written, and sealed with the king's ring.

"And the letters were sent by posts into all the king's provinces, to destroy, to kill, and to cause to perish, all Jews, both young and old, little children and women, in one day, even upon the thirteenth day of the twelfth month, (which is the month Adar,) and to take the spoil of them for a prey.

"The copy of the writing for a commandment to be given in every province was published unto all people, that they should be ready against that day.

"The posts went out, being hastened by the king's commandment, and the decree was given in Shusan the palace. And the king and Haman sat down to drink; but the city of Shusan was perplexed."

The lark scatters song,
But I list for thy voice,
O, how long! O, how long!

4.

Then come back, my darling,

The couch and the chamber—
Why com'st thou not yet?

My father, dear father, I loved so to greet;
And kind, gentle mother, whose voice was so sweet:
When they bore them away, and whispered, they 're dead,
I wept that my spirit with theirs had not fled:
And while o'er these idols the warm tears did start,
A voice whispered peace to the orphan's lone heart;

QUARTETTE or CHORUS.

p or pp

Not friendless child; a Friend on high For you his pre - cious blood has given; Cheer up, and bid each tear be dry—"There are no tears, no tears in heaven."
For - got - ten? No! still let her love Sus - tain thy heart with an - guish riven; Strive thou to meet thy bride a - bove, And dry your tears, your tears in heaven.

3. I saw a gentle mother weep,
As to her | throbbing heart she prest
An | infant, seemingly asleep,
On its kind | mother's shelt'ring breast. ‖
"Fair one," said I, "pray, weep no more."
Sobbed she, "The idol of my hope
I now am called to render up;
My babe has reached death's gloomy shore."
Young mother, yield no more to grief,
Nor be by passion's tempest driven,
But find in these sweet words relief,
"There are no tears, no tears in heaven."

4. Poor traveler o'er life's troubled wave—
Cast down by | grief, o'erwhelmed by care—
There | is an arm above can save.
Then yield not | thou to fell despair. ‖
Look upward, mourners, look above!
What though the thunders echo loud;
The sun shines bright beyond the cloud,
Then trust to thy Redeemer's love.
Where'er thy lot in life be cast,
Whate'er of toil or woe be given—
Be firm—remember to the last,
"There are no tears, no tears in heaven."

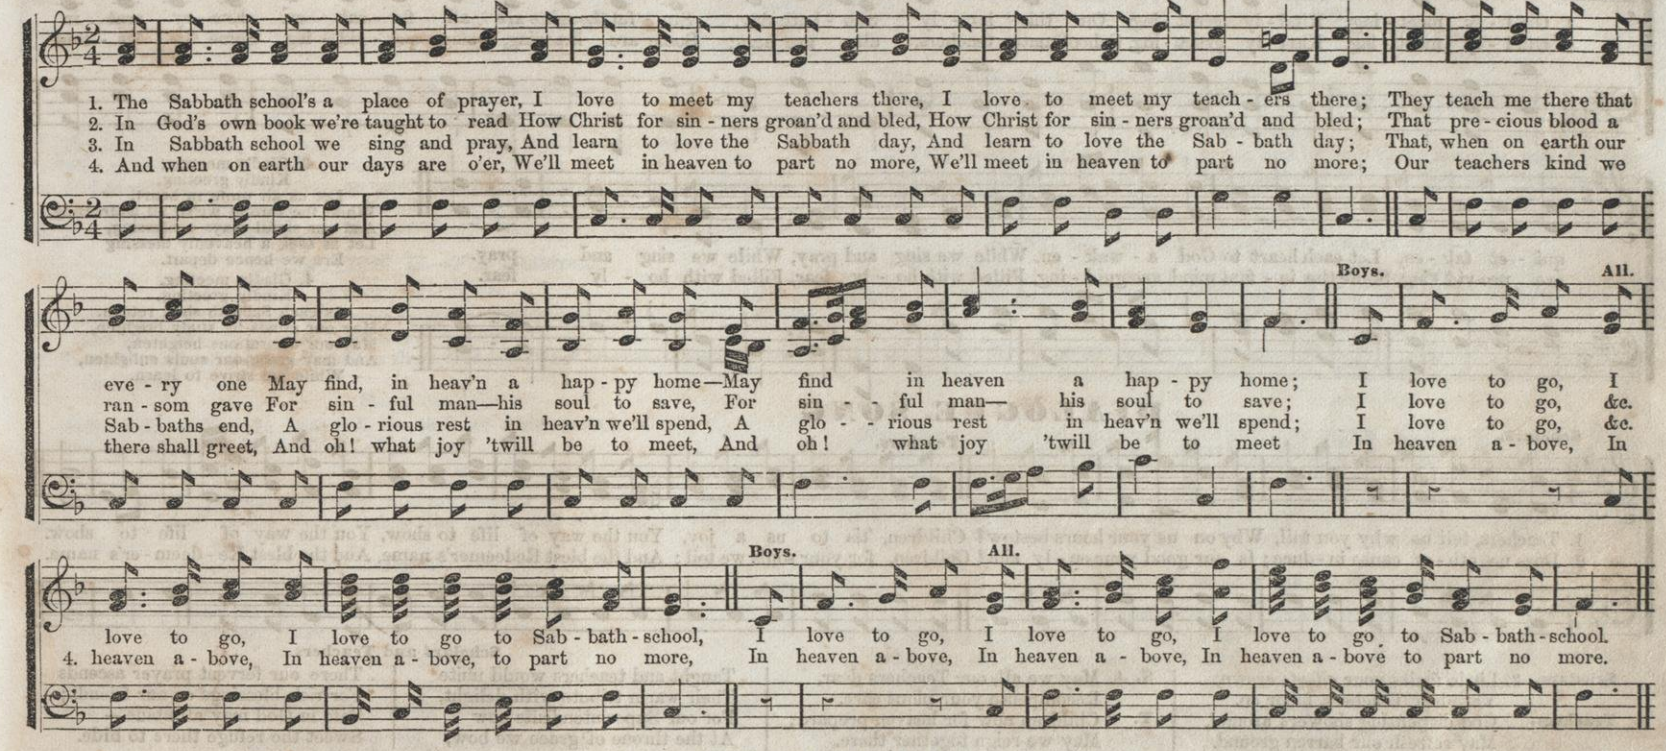
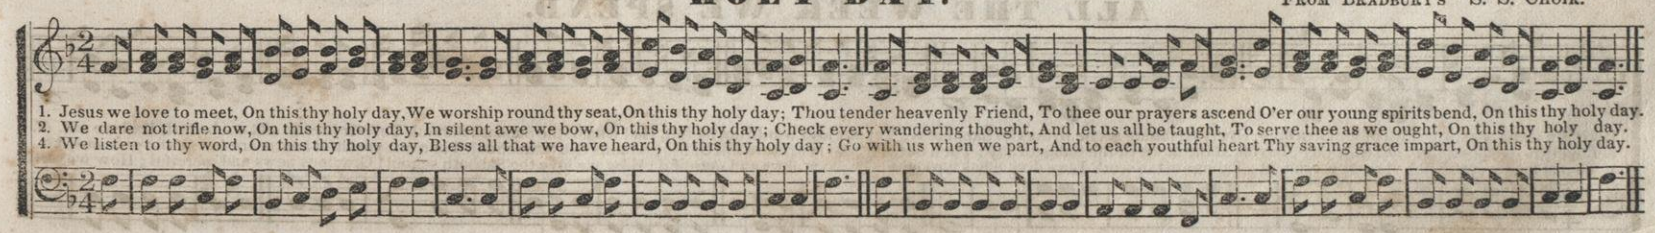
From Bradbury's "S. S. Choir."



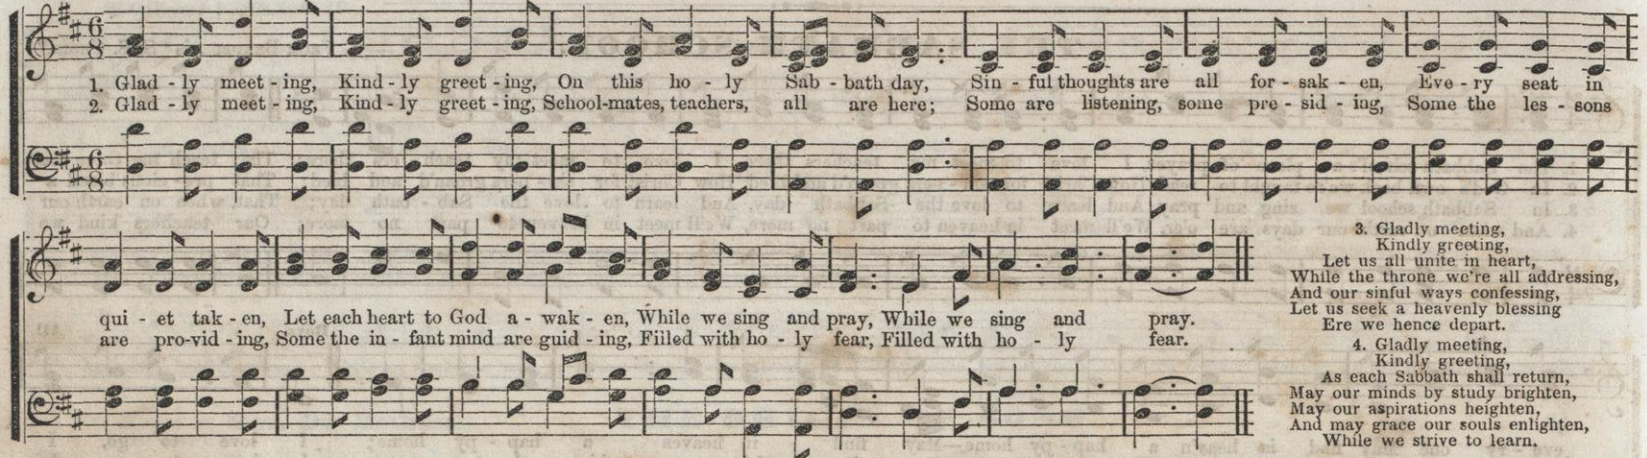
HOLY DAY.

From Bradbury's "S. S. Choir."



GLADLY MEETING.

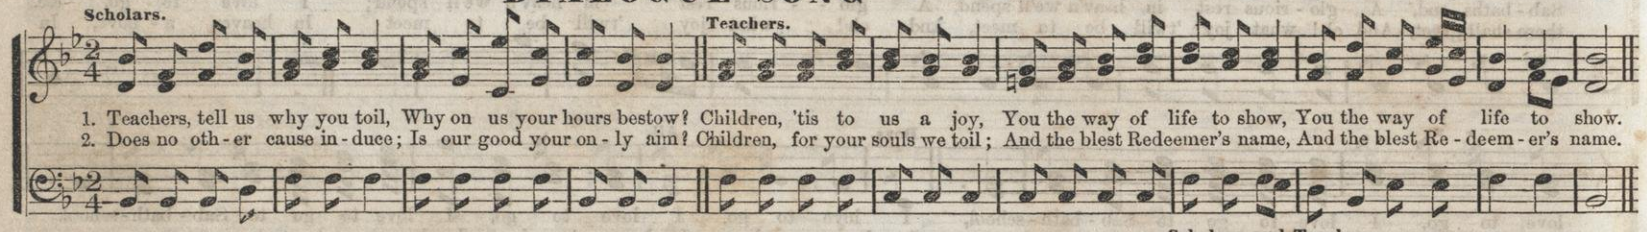
From Bradbury's "S. S. Choir."



3. Gladly meeting,
Kindly greeting,
Let us all unite in heart,
While the throne we're all addressing,
And our sinful ways confessing,
Let us seek a heavenly blessing
Ere we hence depart.

4. Gladly meeting,
Kindly greeting,
As each Sabbath shall return,
May our minds by study brighten,
May our aspirations heighten,
And may grace our souls enlighten,
While we strive to learn.

DIALOGUE SONG



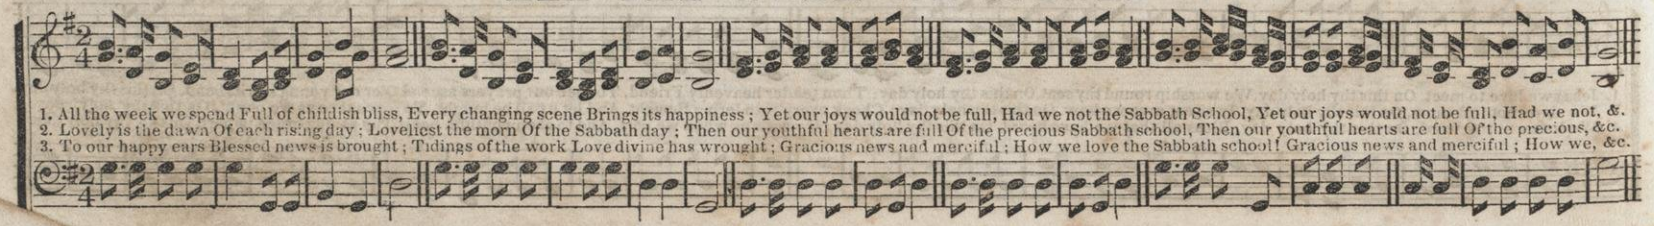
Scholars. 3. Little fruits your efforts crown,
Yet, dear Teachers, labor on.
Teachers. God dispensing showers around,
May refresh our barren ground.

S. 4. May we all, our Teachers dear,
Recompense your pious care.
T. Children now for heaven prepare;
May we reign together there.

Scholars and Teachers.

Taught and teachers would unite
Their warm tribute with delight,
For our Superintendents now
At the throne of grace we bow,
There our fervent prayer ascends
For rich blessings on our friends;
Safe in God may all abide—
Sweet the refuge there to hide.

ALL THE WEEK WE SPEND.



CHANT No. 1.—Single. Tallis.

SELECTION I.—The Lord's Prayer.

1. Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed | be thy | name:
2. Thy kingdom come; Thy will be done, on | earth, as it | is in | heaven.
3. Give us this day our | daily | bread;
4. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive | them that | trespass a- | gainst us.
5. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver | us from | evil;
6. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the | glory,..for- | ever,..and | ever.

SELECTION II.—For Children.

Psalm 103: 17, 18.

1. The mercy of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting, upon them that fear him, and his righteousness unto | children's | children:
2. To such as keep his covenant, and to those that remember his com- | mandments to | do | them.

Mark 10: 14.

1. Suffer little children to come unto me, and for- | bid them | not:
2. For of | such..is the | kingdom..of | heaven.

Isaiah 44: 3, 4.

1. I will put my spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing up- | on thine | offspring:
2. And they shall spring up as among the grass, as | willows..by the | water- | courses.

Isaiah 40: 11.

1. He shall feed his flock like a shepherd; He shall gather the lambs with his arms, and carry them | in his | bosom,
2. And shall gently lead | those that | are with | young.

Acts 2: 30,

1. For the promise is unto you, and | to your | children;
2. And to all that are afar off, even as many as the | Lord our | God shall | call

SELECTION III.—For Baptisms.

Matt. 28: 19, 20.

1. Go ye, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the | Holy | Ghost:
2. Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you; and lo, I am with you alway, | even..to the | end..of the | world. ‖ A- | men.

SELECTION IV.—For Opening or Closing Service.

INVITATIONS.

Matt. 11: 28.

1. Come unto me all ye that labor and are | heavy | laden.
2. Come unto me all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and | I will | give you | rest.
3. Take my yoke upon you, and learn of me; for I am meek and | lowly..in | heart;
4. And ye shall find | rest un- | to your | souls.
5. For my yoke is easy, and my | burden..is | light,
6. For my yoke is | easy,..and my | burden..is | light.

Psalm 51: 17.

1. The sacrifices of God are a | broken | spirit.
2. A broken and a contrite heart, O | God, thou | wilt not..de- | spise.

Rev. 22: 17.

1. And the Spirit and the Bride say, Come, and let him that | heareth..say, | Come;
2. And let him that is athirst, come, and whosoever will, let him take the | water of | life— | freely.

CHANT No. 2.—Triple Chant.—Gloria in Excelsis.

SELECTION V.—Gloria in Excelsis.

TO THE FIRST PART OF THE CHANT.

1. Glory be to | God on | high, ‖ and on earth | peace, good | will towards | men.
2. We praise thee, we bless thee, we | worship | thee, ‖ we glorify thee, we give thanks to thee | for thy | great— | glory.

TO THE SECOND PART.

3. O Lord God, | Heavenly | King, ‖ God the | Father | Al— | mighty!
4. O Lord, the only-begotten Son, | Jesus | Christ, ‖ O Lord God, Lamb of God, | Son.. of the | Fa — | ther!

TO THE THIRD PART.

5. That takest away the | sins..of the | world, ‖ have mercy up- | on— | us.
6. Thou that takest away the | sins..of the | world, ‖ have mercy up- | on —us.
7. Thou that takest away the | sins..of the | world, ‖ Re- | ceive our | prayer.
8. Thou that sittest at the right hand of | God the | Father, ‖ have mercy up- | on— | us.

TO THE FIRST PART.

9. For thou only | art— | holy, ‖ Thou | only | art the | Lord.
10. Thou only, O Christ, with the | Holy | Ghost, ‖ art most high in the | glory..of | God the | Father. ‖ A- | men.

CHANT No. 3.—SINGLE.

SELECTION VI.—For Opening or Closing Service, or for Funeral Occasions.

PSALM 90: 12.

1. Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in | all gene- | rations.
2. Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever Thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to ever- | lasting, | Thou art | God.
3. Thou turnest man to destruction; and sayest, Return ye | chil..dren of | men.
4. For a thousand years in thy sight are but as yesterday when it is past, and | as a | watch..in the | night.
5. Thou carriest them away as with a flood; they are as sheep: in the morning they are like grass which | groweth | up.
6. In the morning it flourisheth, and groweth up; in the evening it is cut | down, cut | down and | withereth.
7. For we are consumed by thine anger, and by thy | wrath..are we | troubled.
8. Thou hast set our iniquities before Thee, our secret sins in the | light of | thy— | countenance.
9. For all our days are passed away in Thy wrath; we spend our years as a | tale.. that is | told.
10. The days of our years are threescore years and ten; and if by reason of strength they be fourscore years, yet is their strength labor and sorrow: for it is soon cut | off..and we | fly a- | way,
11. Who knoweth the power of thine anger? Even according to thy fear, | so is.. thy | wrath.
12. So teach us to number our days, that we may ap- | ply our | hearts..unto | wisdom.

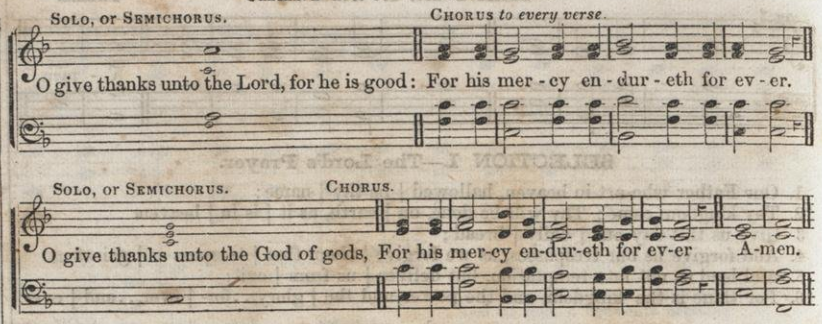
CHANT No. 4.—SINGLE.

SELECTION VII.—For Opening or Closing Service.

REV. 4: 8 & 11, and 5, 10 & 13.

1. Holy, holy, holy, | Lord..God Al- | mighty, ‖ which was, and | is, and | is to | come.
2. Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory, and | honor..and | power; ‖ for Thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they | are and | were cre- | ated.
3. Worthy is the Lamb | that was | slain, ‖ to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength; and | honor,..and | glory,..and | blessing.
4. Blessing, and honor, and | glory...and | power, ‖ be unto Him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the | Lamb, for- | ever..and | ever. | Amen.

CHANT No. 5.—"O GIVE THANKS."



PSALM 136.

1. O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good; CHO. For his mercy endureth for ever.
2. O give thanks unto the God of gods; CHO. For his mercy endureth for ever.
3. O give thanks unto the Lord of lords; CHO. For his mercy endureth for ever.
4. To him who alone doeth great wonders; CHO. For his mercy endureth for ever.
5. To him that by wisdom made the heavens; CHO. For his mercy endureth for ever.
6. To him that stretched out the earth above the waters; CHO. For his mercy endureth for ever.
7. To him that made great lights; CHO. For his mercy endureth for ever.
8. The sun to rule by day; the moon and stars to rule by night; CHO. For his mercy endureth for ever.
9. Who remembered us in our low estate; CHO. For his mercy endureth for ever.
10. And hath redeemed us from our enemies; CHO. For his mercy endureth for ever.
11. Who giveth food to all flesh; CHO. For his mercy endureth for ever.
12. O give thanks unto the God of heaven; CHO. For his mercy endureth for ever. Amen.

CHANT No. 6.

SELECTION VIII.

"Thy will be done."

"Thy will be | done!" ‖ In devious way
The hurrying streams of | life may | run; ‖
Yet still our grateful hearts shall say, |
"Thy will be | done!"

"Thy will be | done!" ‖ If o'er us shine
A gladdening and a | prosperous | sun, ‖
This prayer will make it more divine— |
"Thy will be | done!"

"Thy will be | done!" ‖ Tho' shrouded o'er
Our | path with | gloom, ‖ one comfort—one
Is ours:—to breathe, while we adore, |
"Thy will be | done!"

BOWRING.

Close by repeating the first two measures, "Thy will be done."
