MORSE WILL BE BADGER ORATOR IN N.O.L. CONTEST

Forensic Meet Held Tomorrow

Wayne L. Morse '23, who is representing Wisconsin in the Northern Oratorical League, will leave tomorrow for Minneapolis, where the event will be held tomorrow evening.

The N. O. L. contest is the most important oratorical event of the year, and one which attracts the greatest amount of attention from forensic enthusiasts of the Mid-west.

Talks on The Court

The subject of Morse's oration is "The Supreme Court and the People." His arguments are chiefly against the present system of judicial review, through which the court declares congressional acts unconstitutional. He will lay stress upon alleged inconsistencies of this high judicial body, using as examples certain child labor and minimum wage law decisions. He claims that the court is a hindrance to real representative government.

Representatives from the Universities of Iowa, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, and Northwestern will compete against Wisconsin. Northwestern almost always has a very strong candidate and has a preponderance of wins to its credit. Michigan and Illinois are also noted for ensic accomplishments.

Tracy Last Winner

The last win for Wisconsin was gained by Sterling Tracy in 1921, after a period of but poor success by Wisconsin representatives. Alvin C. Reis, a prominent attorney, and Senator La Follette are other well known winners of the annual contest.

Through the fund established by the Lowden family of Illinois, of which former Governor Lowden is a member, a first prize of $100 and a second place award of $50 will be given. The University Forensic Board also has an additional prize for the winner, as well as a $25 award for the Wisconsin candidate.

FIELD DAY SLOGANS

MUST BE IN SATURDAY

With more than 25 slogans already submitted and with two and a half more days left to the contest, there promises to be a good snappy one for Field day. The best slogan sent in so far is "Stand By for the Women."

The prize is a box of Whitmans Samplers which is being donated by John L. "Jack" Boyd of Boyd's Candy Shop.

The slogans must be appropriate for the week-end of May 25, which includes Swing Out, Dance Drama and Field Day, and it is important that they be short, peppy and to the point. Last year's slogan was "Be With the Women."

All slogans are to be sent to either Lina Norman, Chadbourne hall, or to Frances Warren, 430 Sterling Court. The contest closes at noon Saturday.

Exam Engagement Books Will Be Offered Students

Students in the college of Letters and Science will be offered new memorandum booklets which will appear on the campus in about two weeks.

Besides the usual space for days of the week, this little time saver also has columns for the name of the subject, and also the hour and place at which you will keep your appointment.

The exact headings of the columns are something like this: "Subject, Time of Examination, Room and Building," and it is hoped that the students by carrying this schedule around with them and jotting down the hour and room for each examination, will have less trouble in keeping their examinations in mind.

Boys' and Girls' Round-up is Opened at Lafayette

The annual Boys' and Girls' Round-up was opened at Lafayette on Tuesday.

CARDINAL CUBS GIVEN HOLIDAY

The regular staff of the Cardinal will have a holiday Saturday while members of Theta Sig, honorary journalistic fraternity for women, put out the annual Theta Sig Cardinal. The Theta Sig Cardinal for this year, which will come out Sunday morning, will be a twelve page paper with distinctive features. Among these will be a page for Theta Sig, a society page, and "Book Chatter."

This issue of the Cardinal will be given to the regulation only. No special copies will be printed.

Slogans For W. A. A. Contest Must Be Turned in Friday

All slogans for women's week-end must be submitted before Friday noon if they will be considered for the prize box of candy which is being offered by the committee in charge.

The slogans must be short and of an inclusive nature, as the one chosen must be applicable to the whole week-end, including senior swingout, dance drama, and women's field day. It will be used in all of the publicity for the various events.

Send the slogans to Lina Norman '25, Chadbourne hall, or to Frances Warren '24, 430 Sterling Court, before Friday noon.

The winning slogan will be announced in Sunday's Cardinal.

Names of Final Emblem Receivers Were Misstated

In yesterday's Cardinal, Isabel Clayton was mentioned as being one of those who received final emblems. It should have been Isabel Capps and Irene Clayton.

Credits should have been given to the Badger studio for the photograph of a Pul K. Robertson published in The Cardinal yesterday. The cut was made by the Brock company.

UNION BOARD TO BE BACKED BY S. G. A. IN HOPS

The S. G. A. consul has decided to back the Union board in giving the new Union Hops after considering various phases of the matter, according to a statement made by Malcolm Millar '25, chairman of the Union hops committee, last night.

Largely due to the objections voiced by the S. G. A. consul, the old student mixers were abolished. After discussing the plans with the Union board the consul decided that the plans were feasible if they can be carried out as an orderly and strictly student affair.

The objections of the consul were considered as they have acted as partners with the Union board in giving past mixers and have received a third of the profits from each dance.

According to the new system the S. G. A. will continue to have its interest in the Union hops on the old basis.

The opinion of Dean F. Louise Nardin, dean of women, is in concurrence with that of the consul as she declared that the need for an all-university mixer during the year has passed and that the get-together couple dance is the best possible substitute.

Grad of 1920 is Creamery Instructor at Purdue U.

T. H. Binney, graduate of the University of Wisconsin in 1920, who has been in the commercial field in dairying at Olsaloosa, Iowa, has been appointed assistant creamery instructor in the creamery license division at Purdue university.

STAFF HOLIDAY

Regular members of and all students trying out for the editorial staff of The Cardinal have been granted a holiday Saturday and will not report for service. Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalistic fraternity, has taken over complete editorial management of the Sunday issue.

POLLS WILL OPEN TOMORROW FOR SPRING ELECTION

Seering Urges Early Voting

The polls for the spring elections tomorrow will open at 9 o'clock in the morning and remain open until 5 o'clock in the afternoon, the elections committee of the Student senate announced last night. Students may vote at any time between these hours at the regularly designated places.

"We urge all voters to cast their ballots early," Harold A. Seering '24, chairman of the committee said. "Early balloting will facilitate the work of the students at the polls and will insure an early count from the registrar's office after the polls close. To avoid any rush at the end of the day every student should cast his vote early."

Polling Places Listed

All students enrolled in the college of Agriculture will vote in Agricultural hall.

All engineering students will vote in the Engineering building.

Medical students will vote in Science hall.

Commerce students will vote in Sterling hall.

Those enrolled in the College of Letters and Science will find two booths for their use. Those whose names begin with the letters A to L inclusive will vote in the Biology building; those whose names begin with the letters M to Z inclusive will vote in room 151 Bascom hall.

The elections committee issued a warning to all voters in regard to conduct around the polling places tomorrow. Any undue solicitation of voters or shouting on behalf of any candidate will be suppressed and the action may result in the disqualification of such candidate.

VENETIAN FETE PLANS BEGIN

Committees in Charge Will Meet at Noon Today

Plans to make the Venetian Night fete in connection with the twenty-ninth Interscholastic day more of an entertainment and function for the hundreds of visiting high school students are under consideration by the committees for the event. Definite action along that line will be taken at the first meeting of committeemen with general chairman Gordon B. Wanzer at 12:45 o'clock today in the Union building.

"Heretofore the Venetian spectacle has been looked upon as a university event rather than an entertainment for our high school guests," Wanzer said yesterday. "We want to urge all students to co-operate with us in making that particular part of the week-end an entertainment for the high school pupils who will be guests of the university."

Other universities in the Big Ten, particularly Illinois and Indiana, place as much importance upon their spring carnival and state high school meets as they do upon the homecoming celebrations in the fall. These universities have found that it is fully as important to interest prospective students as it is to retain the interest of old graduates, and the officials of the affair here intend to work on the same principle this spring. The first step in that direction was taken last year when the management of the interscholastic meet was handled by the university instead of the state committee.

Women Medics Hear Talk on History of Medicine

Frances Holford gave the "History of Medicine from 1870 to 1900" at an open meeting of the Woman's Medie association held at 6:45 o'clock in the pathological lecture room of Science hall last night.

MAIER TO WORK ON HOMECOMING

—Cut by Brock Engraving Co. Harold R. Maier '24 is one of the four assistant chairmen of the 1923 Homecoming. His home is in Antigo.

Under his direct supervision are the six committees working on publicity, mass meeting, registration, information, bonfire and art.

"Homecoming committees are preparing to furnish entertainment for the largest crowd that ever attended a football game at Camp Randall.

"The increase in the seating capacity of the stadium will influence many who never before attended Homecoming celebrations to come to Madison for the Wisconsin-Minnesota game on October 27.

"An effort is now being made to obtain popular speakers for the mass meeting on the evening preceding the game," said Maier.

S. G. A. TO VOTE FOR CHANGE IN CONSTITUTION

Six articles of the S. G. A. constitution will be amended and the votes of every university woman will be recorded through the S. G. A. district system, as a result of the plan adopted at the S. G. A. board meeting last night. S. G. A. representatives from every sorority and rooming houses were advised to take up the census of opinion on the revision.

A change from 1-3 to 1-10 of the members to constitute a quorum for nominations of officers has been made, and the district chairman is not to be elected by the association as a whole.

A decrease in the number of members to serve on the student judicial committee is provided for, the aim being to extend the jurisdiction of this committee.

The number necessary to petition a mass meeting is changed from 10 to 25, which otherwise will be held at the discretion of the president or the legislative board. One third of the members shall constitute a quorum for all meetings, with the exception of mass meetings.

The personnel of Keystone Council will be enlarged. Membership will be maintained by these additional organizations: Mu Phi Epsilon, Clef club, Chadbourne, Barnard, Census Chairman, Cardinal, Physical Education club, Collegiate League of Women Voters.

The legislative board will be composed of the president of every rooming houses where three or more girls stay, and one representative from each sorority and dormitory. Members are to be elected in the fall, before October 15, by the bodies they are to represent. House meetings are to be reported in writing once a month.

WEATHER: COOLER

Partly cloudy weather is predicted for today. Friday will be fair and cooler. Maximum temperature for Wednesday was 76.9 degrees at 2 p. m., minimum 53.8 degrees at 5 a. m.

BUSINESS MEN AND STUDENTS HOLD BANQUET

H. E. Byram and W. H. Alford Are Speakers

The joint banquet of commerce students and Madison business men last night at Lathrop parlors was well attended and enjoyed by both the students and the Kiwanis, Lions and Rotary clubs who co-operated with them in the affair. Vincent Colin '23, told of the purpose of the banquet. The chief speakers were W. H. Alford and H. E. Byram, who were introduced by Carl Johnson, toastmaster.

President Birge made a short address in which he spoke of the increasing co-operation between the business and industrial worlds and the educational institutions of the country.

Alford Discusses Bills

Mr. Byram, president of the St. Paul Railroad, took as his subject, "The Crisis of Railroad," and in a wonderfully interesting talk he gave his audience a new viewpoint on the much discussed railroad situation.

Mr. Alford, of the Nash Motors Co. of Kenosha, told how the manufacturers of this state feel about some of the bills now pending in the legislature, and related some amusing conversations with legislators. About 300 were present at the banquet.

Byram Gives Address

In his address before the commerce convocation yesterday afternoon, H. E. Byram said:

"There is not another country in the world that is so utterly dependent upon its transportation system as the United States, excepting Russia."

This dependence is caused by the great distance between different parts of our country, between producers, markets, and consumers he continued.

Mr. Byram humorously related the troubles of a railway system in combatting the many laws which state legislatures pass to limit the freedom of action of the railroads. "If government ownership of railroads happened, there would be no opportunity for advance in railroad work through merit, but only through establishing better relations with someone," said Mr. Byram.

LEWIS THEMES MUST BE IN BY SATURDAY

Themes for the Lewis prize of $25 for the best expository essay in Freshman English will be due on May 9 and 10 when the longest theme of the semester will be handed in. The choice will be made from these themes, the best of which will be handed in by the English instructor.

No definite subject is given. Mary E. Reid, Ruth C. Wallerstein, Morris Roberts, and Roberts Tapley of the English department are on the judging committee.

The winner of this prize will take part in the commencement program. Last year's prize was won by Ellis G. Fulton, newly elected editor-in-chief of the Badger.

Richard Butler Becomes President of Apis Club

Richard Butler '24 was elected president of the Apis club Tuesday at the regular meeting in the Etomology building. Ernst E. Ehrhott '25 was elected vice president and was also selected to represent the club in the Agriculture College Federation board. Everett Oertel '24 was elected secretary and treasurer. The talks after the business meeting were on the bee industry. Oertel gave some statistics on the bee industry in the United States.

George E. Marvin '23 spoke on the temperature of a bee hive, and Butler and C. D. Adams of the state department of agriculture both spoke of the life and work of A. I. Root, the eminent Ohio bee-keeper who died recently.

PLAY WRITTEN BY TANNEWITZ WILL BE GIVEN

Perhaps one of the most charming of the plays to be given by the Wisconsin University players, on Comedy night, which is to be held May 10 in Lathrop Concert room, is "A Matter of Choice" written by William Tannewitz, a senior in the speech department. This is the first time that the Players have given an original production.

The plot of the play is a typically modern one. Mrs. Brent, a modern mother in a small town, is anxious that her children be brought up to make decisions for themselves and to be able to cope with any situation which arises in their lives, no matter how trivial or how important.

The part of Mrs. Brent is being played by Dora Ingraham and Mr. Brent by Lawrence Hastings '24. The children are Phoebe, Lillian Bresler '23; Marcia, Pauline Ambrose '23; Jeanette, Reinette Douglas '24; Henry, Calvin Oakford '24. Theaunt, Margaret Brent, is being played by Gertrude Harely '23.

S. G. A. VOTES ON CONSTITUTION

A two-thirds majority vote of a quorum of association members for the amendment of the constitution and the amendment of house rules and other regulations will be required. Voting shall be done by the Australian Ballot System at a place to be determined by the Executive Council. Proposed amendments shall be made public at least one week previous to the day of voting, and shall be discussed at a previous mass meeting.

A motion was carried to substitute the annual S. G. A. freshman party in the fall for a joint party of S. G. A. and W. A. A. where a program of entertainment will replace the regular dancing. The program is to be preceded by a Keystone tea for freshmen, in Lathrop parlors. A Junior Advisory tea will be the only function where freshmen will be escorted by upper classmen. The change in this function is expected to do away with the customary rushing that takes place at the S. G. A. freshman party.

WOMAN LOUVRE LECTURER WILL SPEAK ON ART

Miss Florence Heywood, who will speak this afternoon on "Appreciation of the Important Pictures of the Louvre," at 4:30 o'clock in room 165 Bascom hall, is the lecturer at the Musee Louvre on art of the Louvre, officially named by the French government.

Miss Heywood is the only American and the only woman to be honored with the title of official lecturer at the Louvre. Previous to becoming a lecturer at the Louvre, Miss Heywood was an officer of the French Academy.

The lecture this afternoon on the best-known pictures of the Louvre will follow closely those Miss Heywood gives as lecturer at the Museum of the Louvre. The speaker is in Madison under the auspices of the Madison Art association.

Dawes Heads Society For Respect Of Laws

CHICAGO—More than 3,000 citizens signed pledge cards to become members of the Minute Men of the Constitution, an organization formed by Charles G. Dawes, former director of the national budget, and personal friends, at the association's first public organization meeting in Evanston, last night. Mr. Dawes said applications for membership had been received from more than 50 cities outside the state. The association, he stated, is a non-partisan organization, dedicated to the following "statement of purpose": "Increased respect for laws and the constitution, condemnation of all class-breaking influences and agencies, elimination of religious discrimination, endorsement of the individual's rights to work or cease to work without unlawful interference and placing loyalty to the government above any civil or industrial organization."

Hedquist Presides At Sunday School Meet

A. O. Hedquist presided at a meeting of the young people's section, Presbyterian church, yesterday at Baraboo, at the convention of the Wisconsin Sunday school association being held in that city.

Arrangements Made For Methodist Student Spread

Final arrangements for the annual banquet for Methodist students of the university have been made for two hundred Methodist students at the Tenth Annual Installation banquet at 6 o'clock tomorrow evening.

Dr. C. E. Brown of the State Historical museum will give the main talk of the evening. Special music, toasts and other features will comprise the program. The room will be transformed into a miniature valley of the Nile with sphinxes, camels and pyramids. As a climax, King Tut will appear in person to greet the newly elected cabinet which will be installed at the banquet.

Arrangements for the banquet are in charge of Esther Harris '23, general chairman, and Lucius Chas. and L. O. Denyes, assistant chairmen. Committee chairmen are Mabel Batchelor '24, program; Vir-delle Simpson '23, supper arrangements; Margaret Carpenter '24, ticket sale; Olive Lean '23, decorations.

Tickets for the banquet may be reserved at the Wesley Foundation, B. 2858, and from Margaret Carpenter, B. 504.

Kittleson Appoints Weed Commissioners

Peter Gannon, and Robert H. Stadelman were reappointed as weed commissioner's by Mayor I. Milo Kittleson today. The appointments will be confirmed at the next meeting of the city council. The work will be conducted in addition to their present duties as assistant street superintendents.

VETS IN AG SCHOOL TO WORK ON FARMS

Veterans' Bureau students in agriculture are to have the benefit of an indefinite period of practical experience, combined with technical supervision, according to a recent plan in which the department of agriculture of the university, represented by A. H. Cole and a staff of assistants, will co-operate with the bureau.

Supervision, to be carried on by Mr. Cole and his staff for the bureau, will take the form of technical and practical advice and suggestions. During this period which will probably average from six months to a year, the men will be carried on the bureau's pay-roll.

The students who accept this mode of training have been urged to buy their own farm on which to commence work, although a great many are planning to rent until a time when they will be better able to bear the greater expense of buying. Some men have already left the university to embark on the new venture. Students of agriculture in other Wisconsin schools will have the benefit of this experiment also.

Schools Only Will Observe Arbor Day

Arbor day, Friday, will not be observed in Madison with central exercises for the city. Mayor I. M. Kittleson stated today. Neither will the mayor issue a proclamation, as he deems that issued by Gov. J. J. Blaine yesterday to be sufficient. The day will be observed in schools of the city however, where plans are being made for the planting of trees and shrubbery, and for arbor day programs.

Glides 25 Miles In Test Of Small Airplane

DAYTON, Ohio—Gliding 25 miles against a 49 mile wind with his motor developing less than 15 horsepower, Lawrence Sperry, arrived at Dayton after a four hour flight from Washington, D. C. Twenty-five horsepower had previously been required to keep a plane in the air. Sperry flew a Sperry Messenger, the smallest ship ever flown successfully.

CONFERENCE SPORT NEWS

ILLINOIS NINE WILL PLAY HERE NEXT SATURDAY

Badger Players Expect Stiff Battle

Wisconsin's baseball team will oppose a nine on the Randall diamond Saturday afternoon made up of veteran ball players, several of whom have contracts with major league clubs which go into effect as soon as they graduate. At least five of the nine players are under surveillance by league scouts.

Willie Roettger, centerfielder and lead off man, and Dougherty, catcher, are two of the men headed for the big tent circuit. Lefty O'Connor is the leading pitcher on the Illini staff. In the game against Purdue he struck out 12 of the Bollermaker batsmen. O'Connor is one of the few pitchers able to pommel the ball as well as hurl. Jackson is another of the reliable pitchers on the team. O'Connor is likely to get the call to go in against Wisconsin.

Illini Bring Stars

Two football stars are on the Illinois lineup, Happenny playing first base, and Durant covering the third bag, Vogel in left field, and Hellstrom on second are two other all-round athletes on the team.

Stewart, at short stop, is said to be one of the whizzes of the Conference when it comes to fielding. At bat he doesn't rate so high.

With one game already gone in the lost column, Illinois will be showing all the fight that has made Illinois teams famous when they meet their old foe, Wisconsin. The Badgers also have something besides keen rivalry to stimulate them into playing over their heads, for it was Illinois that handed Wisconsin a Homecoming football defeat last fall.

Badger Play Third Game

Coach Guy Lowman's outfit took its first work on the home field since their return from the road yesterday afternoon. The pitching force of Pickford, Radke, Johnson, and Schrank started on the grind to get their arms in condition for Saturday. The outfielders worked extra time chasing flies, and the whole squad went thru a long turn in the batting cage.

With two more days of fair weather Lowman should round the team into good shape for the biggest home battle of the season, Wisconsin will have a few advantages in the contest, as they will be playing on their own diamond before their own crowd, and the Badger set-to will be the third this week for the Illini.

Ag Triangle Conducts

Play Day Meet at Verona

Several members of Agric Triangle spent yesterday at Verona conducting a country school play day celebration. The play day idea is comparatively new, Dane county being one of the few counties in the state in which it has been tried out.

Six schools attended the playday at Verona. Races and games were held in the forenoon, followed by a picnic lunch at noon.

The students who conducted the celebration are Lippert Ellis '23, Stephen H. Matteson '24; Ernst E. Ehrigott '25; Elsie Hodgson '23; George Phelps '25; and Elizabeth Bice '23.

Rumors Name Karstens

Head Of Public Works

F. W. Karstens will again be named chairman of the board of public works at its meeting this afternoon, according to rumors rife in city circles today. The board was to hold its annual reorganization meeting at the city hall this afternoon.

A change is advocated in the board which now consists of citizens appointed by the mayor and confirmed by the council. Some want a board composed of the city comptroller, city clerk and possibly the city treasurer, and attorney.

Ag and Commerce Teams to Play Off Ball Game

The postponed baseball game between the Agrics and the Commerce students will be played on the Lower campus Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock sharp. The managers request that all men be there promptly so that the game may be played off early.

CREWS ARE ON LAKE MENDOTA

Coach Vail is Considering Several Meets For Men

With nine crews working out daily on Lake Mendota, Coach "Dad" Vail is slowly moulding the men into shape in preparation for the meets that will be held. Although no definite announcements have been made as to opponents for the varsity crew, it is expected that at least two clubs will come to Madison.

The rowing organizations that are being considered at present at the Duluth Boat club, Duluth, Minn., and the Minnesota Boat club, St. Paul, Minn. Of the two clubs, the Duluth bunch is conceded to have the stronger outfit, and if only one club is brought to Madison the men at the head of the Great Lakes in all probability will get the call.

The junior crew will stack up against St. John's Military academy here May 25 and will go to Culver, Ind., to race the Culver Military men June 2. No other meets have been booked as yet.

Because the ice was so late in getting out of the lake, the crews were greatly handicapped in their work. The men are working up gradually, said Coach Vail yesterday, and because of the late start much cannot be expected of them. The men on the first crew average 177 pounds in weight, according to the Coach.

The temporary lineups of the first and second crews follows: First crew—stroke, Newcomb; 7, Captain Johnson; 6, Crozier; 5, Schultz; 4, Okerstrom; 3, Benton; 2, Kingston; 1, Sly; coxswain, Housman. Second crew—stroke, Bacchus; 7, Pletten; 6, Pletten; 5, Smith; 4, Klusendorf; 3, Jax; 2, Puestow; 1, Holmes; coxswain, Luhering.

Lutheran Students Hold

Banquet on Friday Night

The Students Association of Lutheran Memorial will have their first anniversary banquet at 6 o'clock Friday, May 4. At this time the officers and cabinet members will be elected for next year. All Lutheran students be sure and come out to vote. The price of tickets will be 50 cents. For reservations call B. 7855.

Y W C A Lake Cottage

The Y. W. C. A. cottage, on the shore of Lake Mendota near Blackhawk cave, will open officially for the use of university women when Y. W. C. A. cabinet holds their annual house party there Saturday and Sunday.

The cottage will be open from now until May 31. Any group who would like to reserve the cottage for a night may do so by coming into the Y. W. C. A. office and signing up for a date on the calendar.

Miss Mary Anderson, Y. W. C. A. secretary, will be at the cottage every night during this month. There is bedding and cooking equipment there for the use of the women when they are spending the night there. No charge of any kind is levied.

Dates which are still open are May 6, 7, 16, 17, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 26, 27, and 28.

Y. W. C. A. cabinet will spend May 4 and 5 there, freshmen commission May 11 and 12, sophomore commission May 18 and 19. Some members of the Y. M. C. A. have been invited to have Sunday dinner at the cottage as guests of the Y. W. C. A.

New Pastor For Baptist

Church Not Yet Named

A new pastor for the Baptist church, to take the place of the Rev. J. Sherman Wallace, who left last Monday, has not yet been named. The committee has taken no action yet.

VARSITY MEETS MINNESOTA IN TENNIS MATCH

Linden Men Finish Week of Practice

About 20 candidates responded to Coach Linden's first call for the frosh tennis team yesterday afternoon. Some very likely looking material appeared.

Larry Robinson, Madison, who placed second in the frosh tournament last fall, reported, as well as Claude Bennett, brother of George Bennett who is now on the varsity squad.

The men will continue practice during the remaining few weeks, and the regular freshman team will be picked as soon as possible. If any other first year men care to try out they are urged to report to Coach Linden as soon as possible.

Varsity Meets Gophers

The varsity team is also practicing diligently this week in preparation for the match with Minnesota tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock. The meet with Iowa last Saturday brought out the weak points of the individual men, and Coach Linden is endeavoring to polish up the rough spots. Lack of sufficient practice this spring has handicapped the team to a great extent, as most of the other Conference teams were able to get out on the courts one or two weeks sooner than the varsity.

If the men are able to get in good condition within another week they should be a strong contender for first place in the Conference this season. With three former varsity men back, and with Bennett continuing in the same form he displayed last Saturday, the Wisconsin team will have one of the best balanced quartets in the Conference.

In the practice games, Aageson has been playing about even with Tredwell. Moulding still seems to have the edge on Bennett, although the latter is improving rapidly.

Pidgeon Heads

Minnesota is said to have two expert tennis players in Pidgeon and Kuhlman. They are both letter men, and are expected to display unusual ability in the match tomorrow. Pidgeon is captain of the Gopher team.

Little is known of the ability of the other men on the squad, as this is their first year on the team. The loss of "Hank" Norton, captain of last year's team, will be a great handicap to the Minnesota team. He was one of the best tennis players in the Conference and the Gopher coach will have a difficult job finding some one who is capable of filling Norton's shoes.

Conover Gives Address on Architecture of Churches

Mr. A. D. Conover, prominent architect of Madison, gave a very interesting talk on "Architecture in Town and Country Churches" to a student audience yesterday afternoon in Agricultural hall. Mr. Conover has made a particular practice of studying the local facilities offered by a community wishing to construct a church and then adapting his ideas and plans to those available.

"The essential thing in planning a church edifice" said Mr. Conover, "is to endeavor to give the building local character by the use of local material, which also tends toward economy."

Mr. Conover exhibited many pictures of different church styles used in both this country and abroad. Toward the end of the hour a general discussion was held, during which Mr. Conover answered various questions on architectural problems.

Dolphin Club to Complete Plans at Meeting Tonight

Plans for this semester's exhibition will be completed at the meeting of Dolphin club this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the fifth floor lecture room of Lathrop hall. The exhibition dates have been set for May 10 and 11, and tickets may be obtained from any Dolphin member. They are 25 cents. After the meeting there will be a compulsory practice in the Lathrop pool for every one in the exhibition.

FROSH SOCCER PLAYERS WIN

Juniors Lose 1-0 in First Inter- class Soccer Series

The first game of the inter-class soccer series played yesterday afternoon on the Lower Campus was won by the Frosh. They defeated the Junior team by the close score of 1-0. The score was made late in the second half by Captain Zweiger after the teams had played scoreless ball for one-half and 20 minutes of the second. The score was made on a free kick.

The Frosh played the more consistent ball of the two teams. They are showing some good stuff considering the short time that they have worked together, and also since few of them have never played the game before they came to Wisconsin last fall.

The lineups:

Frosh	Juniors
Mecikalski Goal	Miller
Wernecke L. F.	Sun
Simmonds R. F.	Matteson, C.
Killam L. H.	Hsu
Mac Cain C. H.	Leo
Foster R. H.	Sinclair
Kleavay I. R.	Wu
Tseng R. W.	Kao
Parkinson I. L.	Sollinger
Eggart L. W.	Sah
Zweiger, C. C.	Migone

Referee—Weinreich.

JONES STATES RULES

FOR TENNIS PLAYERS

Since there are not enough tennis courts for all during afternoons, Athletic Director T. E. Jones and the athletic department have placed sign posts on the courts proclaiming the tennis rules and regulations.

"We want to stop monopolization of the courts for a whole afternoon by a few people," Mr. Jones explained.

The following rules and regulations have been drawn up:

University courts are for the use of students and faculty only. Players are required to register for the use of courts at the Men's gymnasium. Cards will be issued, which must be shown upon demand at the courts. The hour system in the use of courts will be enforced during all afternoons. Play limit to one hour where other players are waiting for a court. Times for change of players on courts, 1:30, 2:30, 3:30, 4:30 and 5:30.

Men students may use 3 courts on Park street, 3 courts on Breeze Terrace, 6 courts on Camp Randall on Warren st. Three courts on University avenue reserved for Varsity players and team activities. Varsity courts are excluded for these conditions.

Courts for women students are: 3 courts east of Chemistry building, 3 courts on Charter street east of the Post Office, 2 courts at Chadbourne. Women to reserve courts for hour after 5:30 at Women's gym.

BADGER CINDER TEAM TO MEET STRONG MAROON

Hope to Redeem Selves Saturday

When the Wisconsin track team steps on the field next Saturday afternoon to meet the University of Chicago track team on the enemy field, it will experience one of the most crucial moments of its 1923 season for the outcome of the meet will mean much toward heading the Badgers on the road to conference success or to failure.

After going through an indoor season with but indifferent success, and a preliminary outdoor season in like manner, the Badgers look to conference dual meets in hopes of redeeming themselves. The Chicago met will be the acid test, for it is the first dual meet against a conference school since the start of the outdoor season.

Chicago Team Is Strong

Chicago presents a strong team, and with the advantage of competing on the home track, the Maroons are favorites over the Wisconsin men. Chicago has a team of veterans which has showed great strength during the indoor season, while the Badgers lay their hopes on a team of almost entirely new men.

In Pyott, Chicago has a sprint man who is expected to break the tape ahead of the best that Wisconsin can offer. Capt. Spetz, of Wisconsin, however, is a speedster of great ability, and he will fight to set the best example for his men. Mac Farlane is another Chicago sprinter who, while he is not in a class with Pyott, can be expected to finish near the head of the procession in the dashes.

Bates, a sterling Chicago quarter miler, will fight it out with Johnson, of Wisconsin, for first honors in the event. He does not have the quarter mile burden to lift alone, however, for both Jones and Stitt are reliable Chicago quarter milers.

Half-milers Feared

Wisconsin's half-milers have become feared in conference circles recently because of the showing the two-mile relay team has made in the various contests which have been held throughout the middle west. They will have to step their liveliest Saturday to score, for they have the justly touted Krogh to contend with. Kennedy and Barnes are also half-milers. Hilberts, Vahely and Ramsay are the Badger mainstays in the half-mile.

Krogh also runs the mile. Schneider, Rossmessel and Bergstresser will work to beat him and if they do their fame will be made as far as the track is concerned.

Bourke is the only two-miler who is feared by Wisconsin distance men. Tschudy, Badger distance ace, will push him hard to break the tape and has a fair chance of doing it.

Javelin Throwers Compete

Wisconsin javelin heavers will go into the event to compete for second and third places, for report from Chicago has it that Frieda hurled the spear 173 feet recently, a distance of some 30 feet above that which the best efforts of Wisconsin can attain. Stehr is doing the best work for Wisconsin in the javelin.

A lively battle is expected to take place when Nichols, of Wisconsin, and Michaels, of Chicago, fight it out in the finals for first place in the hammer throw. Each man has been swinging the weight a distance of about 130 feet.

High Jumpers Contend

If Wisconsin high jumpers were in the condition in which they have been at other periods of their track existence, they might be expected to provide some healthy competition for Dickson, Maroon jumper who makes 6 feet 2 inches. As it is, Platten, Donohue, and Tuhtar will compete against other Chicago jumpers for the points which go for second and third place.

Brickman is a speed demon in the hurdles, but Newell of Wisconsin will not allow him to loiter on the way to the tape in either the high or low barrier events. Jones, of Chicago, is also dependable in the hurdles, as are Tuhtar and Hammann of Wisconsin.

HEADED THE WRONG WAY

A referendum on the Student senate resolution providing for the abolition of Union board's power of recommending half of its prospective members has been called for tomorrow; we are asked to vote on it; and we will.

Our single concern as students, however, is not one of repudiating either the Senate or the Union board for the stands they have taken, but rather one of whether or not the proposed non-recommendation system of election will work advantage or disadvantage to the future welfare of vital university affairs as executed by Union board.

One principal and sufficient objection to the passage of the resolution is that without recommendation power Union board cannot command the regular services of the men it needs to execute its activities,—the same as The Cardinal, the Badger, any publications, any committee organization, and any business cannot command the interested and continuous services of their workers without the possibility of reward or recognition of some sort extant.

The men receive no salaries, no recompense. Theirs is a menial job that continues the entire year and precludes the possibility of extensive activity elsewhere.

It must be understood (as it evidently is not by many) that Union board duties are not judicial or legislative but plainly administrative. Union board members are the general managers of regular functions that figure in the university's social life,—concerts, mixers, dances, convocations, etc.

With the completion and operation of the Memorial Union building, the board's managerial duties will increase ten-fold. Then, more than ever, will the board need an efficient personnel and some method of commanding outside student aid. The best method that has yet been devised and the method that is used by other Unions has been the offering of recommendation rewards to prospective candidates working as apprentices.

But the charge comes back that even with its recommendation power, the Wisconsin Union board has not been able to draw enough workers to serve it and that consequently the board has had to recommend men who have not done the preliminary work and who therefore do not merit a recommendation.

Such a situation has existed in some years. And such facts played a big part in influencing the Senate to undertake an equitable readjustment through student referendum. The Senate declares that the present system gives opportunity for undue favoritism on the part of the board.

Is it not reasonable to suppose, however, that it is the very fact that the election is half-way an open election that has prevented Union board from drawing the services of needed workers? It is human for a man to avoid a year's work if he knows that without it he has a chance of being elected that is equally as good as and oftentimes better than the man who has labored away at his prescribed duties during the year.

Will not the resolution if passed, then, not only hamper Union board's effectiveness but defeat the Senate's own purpose of remedying evils by making them worse,—by placing the election entirely on a non-merit basis?

Every candidate for Union board should serve an apprenticeship that will qualify him for his future duties. That is the end to be sought. Some go as far as to insist that for the sake of self-government the bounds of practical wisdom have been overstepped in allowing even half the Union board members to be elected on a non-merit basis.

In any case it seems that the Senate resolution takes the wrong direction to remedy. Rather, the resolution should have taken the other road,—that of making certain that a candidate be elected only after proving his worth by work.

Union board expresses itself as being entirely in favor of a measure providing that all candidates be elected on an open basis, but that those candidates be eligible only after doing a certain amount of work with Union board. The board also declares its willingness to back a measure providing for specific non-fraternity representation among its members.

Such frank declarations indicate that Union board does not care to countenance petty favoritism and that they do want only experienced and trustworthy men to do Union work. It is regrettable that the Senate and Union board could not agree on a suitable counter resolution of the nature mentioned above, as they attempted to do.

Since such an agreement could not be reached, it is the immediate duty of the student body to defeat the proposed resolution in referendum tomorrow, to go on under the present system, which is satisfactory from the viewpoint of results achieved, and then to vote at a later date for an election measure that will relieve all suspicion that Union board is not playing the game squarely.

JOB OR VOCATION?

The Conference on the Ministry today brings to the fore the two ways men look at their work in the world.

Some men find jobs; others follow vocations. Every piece of work has two parts; what you do, and why you do it. The man with the job and the man with a vocation may do the same work, but their reasons are different. You do your job for the money that's in it. You follow a vocation because—well, why? Someone has said, "This is a rational world. You believe there's a purpose in it. God has a plan. He needs men for the plan. Like a cog in a machine there is just one place each one fits. Find your own niche, you find efficiency, usefulness, happiness,—that is vocation."

The so-called higher professions are called because their best exponents have the point of view of a vocation, rather than a job.

What is your life-work going to be,—Job or Vocation?

OLD STUFF, BUT VITAL

With agonizing regularity college activities follow each other in monotonous rotation, one after the other, until the job of the editorial writer, who feels called upon to enthuse over each event, becomes a mere rehashing of what journalistic prototype of another day have said with the last remnants of originality.

Whether or not originality is possible, however, there is always one activity which so affects the entire student body that its regularity is overshadowed by its importance.

Friday, May 4, is election day. As it has from the beginning, The Cardinal continues to insist that self-government is vital and that its continuance is dependant upon each student taking his voting power as a personal responsibility.

Shuffle your convictions concerning the candidates as you will, but be certain of one,—the conviction that you will cast a ballot tomorrow.

 The Rhodes scholarships, intended to develop cordial relations among the English-speaking nations of the world, left their task half accomplished. Americans have poured across the sea to Oxford and the association with Englishmen in their own country has been profitable. But the feeble trickle of Englishmen to American universities has prevented the thorough understanding which Rhodes intended. "Reciprocity," in this case, is necessary, and the stimulation has been provided. Each year the Davison scholarships will support one student from Oxford and one for Cambridge at Harvard, Yale and Princeton; in all six men. As with the Rhodes scholarships, general fitness and ability, as well as scholastic aptness will be the determining factors in selecting the men, and similarly, all expenses will be covered.

RECOMMENDING MEN FOR UNION BOARD

Editor, The Cardinal:

On any board in the University of Wisconsin which claims the right to nominate men to positions on it, there is a burden of proof to show that such nominations are not only just and fair but absolutely necessary to the effective administration of its affairs.

The Union board claims this right. It not only must hold its member for the rest of their university career after they are elected, but it must also have the right to say who shall be one-half of the members elected. If we were living in Utopia where all men would do what is right and fair all of the time, perhaps this privilege would not be abused. But not even the Union board can claim that the millennium has come. We respectfully submit that this practice of nominating gives many opportunities for unfair practices.

It might be worth while to note in passing that both of the sophomores nominated are members of fraternities which already have a member each on the Board.

Vote for the amendment taking away the right of the Union board to nominate its own members.

ARE YOU SATISFIED?

Editor, The Cardinal:

Is the burning question among the women on the campus, "Have we real self-government?" or is the question, "Do we want self-government?" The attendance at the last mass meeting of scarcely 150 —the maximum number of women interested in the affairs of S. G. A.—surely proves that the latter is the question at stake.

Of course, there was an unavoidable conflict with the Curtin club plays, but Curtin club hardly drew 2000 women. To be sure, it is spring, and possibly the drive and the moon could account for some of the absent members.

Several weeks ago, the attendance at the first mass meeting indicated a vital interest in self-government, but it was only a seeming interest. What that meeting did prove was a vital interest, not in self-government at all, but in more personal liberty. And the most critical optimist cannot say, today, that personal liberty and self-governing are one and the same thing with all people on this campus.

People seem to forget that a certain amount of responsibility is a part of belonging to any organization. Is this responsibility lessened when one is a member of an institution which governs the lives of as many people as the university does? No, on the contrary, it should be increased. Lack of interest on the part of university women in their own self-government will necessitate a return to faculty regulation. Do you want it?

TO ABOLISH SMOKING ON THE CAMPUS

Editor, The Cardinal:

Several high schools forbid smoking on their premises. Yet I have known some high school teachers, graduates of this university, who could be found around the corner of a store or behind a barn with cigarettes in their mouths. I used to wonder why, but now I have found a reason. Something is tolerated on the university campus that was not allowed on the high school grounds.

Last Tuesday Leo Sorenson suggested in the Student Forum that smoking on the campus be abolished.

With a reform or two of that kind, people who argue about whether this is a university of "tea-hounds", a hot-bed of Bolshevism, or a breeding place for militarism will have to agree that we are a body of clean students.

I am sure that the little discomfort the reform might cause some of us would be overcome by the pride which will replace it.

Has any one a serious objection to Mr. Sorenson's proposal? If not, let us put it into effect as quickly as possible so that the world may take note of an other progressive move on the part of Wisconsin.

Orpheum Stock Company gives "Turn to Right"

A kettle of peach jam, placed on the window sill of an old-fashioned farmhouse plays one of the important parts in "Turn To the Right," the comedy-drama of mirth and mother love, which is being presented at the Orpheum all this week by the Dorothy La Vern Stock company.

The irresistible order of the jam, carried forth on the evening breezes, attracts to Mother Bascom's kitchen door a weirdly varied group of folk from the world outside, folk who convey to the homely domicile a tang of Gotham life from its widest sociological extremes. First it brings grasping old Deacon Tillinger, who would turn the golden hearted old lady out of her home and so grasp the whole peach orchard and jam industry. Then it brings, at the proper dramatic moment, "Slippery Mugs" and "Dynamite Gilly," smooth crooks from the city and former prison pals of Mother Bascom's erring son, Joe. Likewise, at the right time, it attracts a glib salesman whose contract for great quantities of the confection puts the repentant and tender-hearted crooks on the high road to respectability and wealth, wins Deacon Tillinger's loyal daughter for the regenerated ne'er-do-well son and reveals the silver lining of the clouds that threatened the little homestead. The cleverness of the scene builder is given free rein in a series of beautiful stage settings.

"Turn To The Right" closes with the two performances Saturday and will be followed by "Up in Mable's Room," the famous Broadway Comedy success by Wilson Collison and Bertram Harrison; presented by A. H. Woods, and one of the biggest laughing hits that Broadway has had in seasons. Other plays to follow are "East is West," "Welcome Stranger," "The Storm," "Three Wise Fools" and other big successes.

Railroads Cannot Maintain Income Declares Byron

Milwaukee Road President Tells Commerce Club Of Conditions

Failure of most of the railroads to make enough net income to maintain a surplus for credit is the most serious feature in railroad transportation today, President H. E. Byram of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad declared in an address prepared for delivery here today before the Commerce club of the University of Wisconsin.

Without this it is difficult to borrow money with which to provide needed additional facilities, he said.

"I believe the railroads of today as a whole are an example to other institutions, large and small, of clean and efficient administration, free from the taint of individual profiteering," he declared.

"The railroads are not only unfavorably criticized because their efficiency. They are berated by some because they do not more vigorously try to reduce wages so that the rates may be further reduced, and by others they are attacked because they do not try to burden the public with still greater payrolls.

"Then their operations result in deficits they are charged with wasteful practices, and when they earn some net income they are held up to public contumely as profiteers.

"To keep the transportation machine abreast of the country's business development, terminals must be expanded and side tracks added from year to year in addition to the acquisition of new equipment. Shippers would not be benefited by the addition of more cars without corresponding increase in yards and side tracks. Shops and engine houses must also be expanded and adequate machinery and return by the government of the roads to private operation did not necessarily mean a return to private control. "The government bodies and state commissions still control about everything," he said.

"The government could not take over ownership of the lines without protecting the interests of citizens who hold railroad bonds and stocks, and whether by outright purchase or guarantee of returns to these citizens," Mr. Byram concluded.

"In Spring"—And It Doesn't Have To Be A Youth

The old adage of honi soit qui maly pense was never more aptly illustrated than yesterday morning, when a co-ed was taking a walk with her "man" on University drive.

It was about 10 o'clock in the morning. The day was warm, so the girl and the man decided to sit down the better to contemplate the lake. They were seated near a clump of bushes, when suddenly they heard a deep masculine voice speak:

"Come, dear, don't you want to sit on my lap?"

No answer, but there came a faint rustle. Then a muffled sound of a kiss.

"Goodness," thought the co-ed, producing a blush for her sister co-eds, "how bold some girls are getting, and in broad daylight, too."

Her escort wanted to know who it was. They tried to peer through the bushes, but could see nothing, and decided to stroll around and see. They planned to surprise the affectionate couple, and walked around as quietly as they could until they came upon—an old white-haired man with a little two-year old girl sitting on his knee.

Waupaca Home Open To Spanish War Vets

The senate voted today to open the Wisconsin Veteran's home at Waupaca to veterans of the Spanish American war today, when it engrossed the Price bill, already passed by the assembly. An attempt to extend the scope of the law requiring employers to allow one day's rest in seven to their workers, was killed by the senate.

Baldwin Says Americans Would Hesitate To Attack British

LONDON—Duncan Millar, Liberal member for Fife, raised a question in the house of commons this afternoon regarding the report that the U. S. intended to use her navy to prevent rum running, and asked what steps Great Britain purposed taking to prevent the possibility of armed conflict with vessels of a friendly power.

Stanley Baldwin, chancellor of the exchequer and government spokesman said in reply:

"I have no official information regarding the alleged intention of the U. S. government to use vessels of the navy for preventive work, but I hesitate to believe that a friendly power would attack British ships on the high seas.

"If, however, British ships break the U. S. law within U. S. territorial waters they naturally render themselves liable to any general measures of control which the U. S. government may institute.

Mr. Millar asked whether the government would do anything to encourage recognition and enforcement of the laws of a friendly state by British subjects, to which Mr. Baldwin replied.

"The British government has every desire that their citizens should work in conformity with the law of a friendly state."

Open Blockade on Runner

WASHINGTON—While government officials continued to puzzle over application of the supreme court decision on ship liquor, coast guard headquarters issued an order today concentrating all available coast guard boats in the north Atlantic along the New Jersey shore. It was said that henceforth, the rum fleet massed off Atlantic highlands would be under surveillance of two coast guard cutters day and night.

The government, centering a triangular attack on the rum fleet off the Jersey Coast today had seized a tug and motor launch carrying provisions and fuel to the alien craft anchored outside the three mile limit.

A conference of treasury officials today decided to make June 15 the effective date of the new prohibition regulations, issued as a result of the supreme court decision. The regulations now are in preparation.

The decision means that foreign shipping lines will have nearly a month and a half to adjust their service to meet the new interpretation of the law.

Clinton G. Price

Resolution Introduced In The Assembly Today By Juneau Man

Congress is urged to repeal the secrecy on federal income tax returns in a resolution introduced in the assembly today by Assemblyman Clinton G. Price. The resolution follows:

"WHEREAS, Secrecy in governmental matters is not conducive to good or efficient government, and

"WHEREAS, The subject of taxation is a public matter and is not merely of private interest, and

"WHEREAS, Secrecy in income tax returns permits an evasion of the laws either by way of fraud or mistake, and acts as an invitation to dishonesty, and

"WHEREAS, The people of the state of Wisconsin have expressed themselves in no uncertain manner as being opposed to the secrecy clause in income tax laws. Now, therefore, be it

"RESOLVED by the assembly, the senate concurring, that the legislature of the state of Wisconsin requests and petitions the congress of the United States to repeal the secrecy clause in the federal income tax law."

FILL MONONA PLANNERS BID

Need Room For Growth, Dumping Ground; May Begin Soon

Lake Monona as a dumping ground for city rubbish and the construction of a causeway across Monona bay, to bring South Madison into close communication with the city, are two big problems, contained in the plans of Harland Bartholomew, which are now coming up for consideration among city officials.

Both steps are the logical outcome of the city's rapid growth in population, city officials say. With the probability of annexation of South Madison within a year, some direct means of transportation between the city and the suburb must be worked out. Bartholomew's plan is to fill in portions of the bay and erect a roadway and sidewalk across that portion of the lake.

This filling in will, incidentally, give the city a temporary solution to its problem of dealing with its rubbish swept up in the annual spring cleanup. Tons of refuse of every conceivable sort is picked up each spring. The city's dumping grounds are about filled and new low sections are being sought.

The irregular shore line of Monona offers another possible solution to the rubbish problem, city officials say. Next year in all probability, the street department will begin depositing its rubbish along the shores, filling out to the dock lines. After the shores are filled in they will be graded and beautified.

Another plan, fostered by many citizens, is the complete filling in of Monona Bay and the two triangles formed in the lake by the intersection of the Northwestern and the Milwaukee road tracks. The road-bridge could be built parallel to the Northwestern track, joining the city at S. Hamilton st.

"Something will have to be done eventually to handle the rubbish problem in the city and filling in of the shores to the dock line will aid materially," Mayor Kittleson said. "I do not feel that more than that should be done in filling of the lake."

"Y" INNER CIRCLE MAKES PLAN FOR '26 COMMISSION

The Inner Circle, freshman Y. M. C. A. organization, held an open meeting yesterday noon at the university Y. to discuss plans for the Sophomore Commission next year. The nomination committee to select officers for the election at the meeting next week was named by George Gore '26, president of the Inner Circle. It consists of Max Badstuber, chairman, Harold Read, Otto Toenhart, Hillier Kriehbaum and George Millard.

Gamber Tegtmeyer '24, president of the Y. M. C. A., talked on the importance of making friendships for a common ideal and not having the Y a bare building. "Dad" Wolf, secretary of the university Y, talked on the work of the Sophomore commissions in former years. He spoke of the committees of work open to the men—letting writing to prospective freshmen, meeting trains, handling rooming house lists, helping men register, managing the two Frosh Mixers the annual Frosh banquet, and the Hi-Y boat ride.

Kikmi Neophytes Show How Cleo Danced and Galli Sangs

The few spectators who were fortunate enough to secure grand stand seats for the Haresfoot performance of Kikmi neophytes last night were treated to many rare sights which tickled their funny-bones.

They learned how Cleo danced of yore, how cupid really shoots his darts, how Galli will sound at her Stock Pavilion performance. In fact those who heard Galli's understudy sing last night won't get over it in time to hear he real Curci herself.

The Haresfooters attracted almost as much attention as the boys yesterday afternoon did. Starting out from the steps of the Library where they gave a dress rehearsal, they marched up Langdon, performed for Henry street passers-by and then went on for their grand finale on the Barnard terrace.

Had they heard the groans that issued from sorority alley when they passed by that place without the slightest recognition they would have realized how the success of their performance had been heralded before them and would have given the Alley occupants a special performance in accordance with all past precedent.

Physicians Believe Limbs Can Be Saved

Hope of saving the arms and limbs of Frank Johnsons, 24, Cottage Grove, and Calvin Rosman, 15, Hope road, run down Sunday by a car driven by J. E. Booth, was expressed today with the passing of the fourth day since the boys were injured.

St. Mary's hospital attendants stated that physicians are not entirely certain that the fractured limbs may be saved, but as time passes hope increases.

SUSPECT MOUNT WAS MURDERED

N. W. Students Are Quizzed in Regard to Death of Freshman

CHICAGO—Pending further investigation, the coroner's inquest into the death of Leighton Mount, believed to have lost his life in a hazing affair in 1921, was continued today until Friday after preliminary testimony had been heard.

CHICAGO—Twenty-five Northwestern university students were questioned on Tuesday in connection with the death of Leighton Mount, whose skeleton was found buried beneath rocks and sand under a lake breakwater at Evanston on Tuesday.

The police expressed the belief that Mount's death resulted from a freshman-sophomore clash in the fall of 1921, and Robert E. Crowe,

SEE USE OF CHEMICAL

CHICAGO — That Leighton Mount, was murdered and his body chemically treated to prevent early discovery, was the theory advanced by Dr. George Tyson, family physician of the Mount family.

"It is my conviction that the body was chemically treated from the outside," said Dr. Tyson. "Those bones are too well preserved."

"Some chemical may have been applied to the body to prevent odors from arising and attracting attention."

state's attorney, ordered an assistant to attend the inquest this morning.

"I am inclined to believe from the reports I have received that it is a case of murder," said Oscar Wolff, Cook county coroner, who took personal charge of the investigation. "The peculiar position of the skeleton and the fact that it was weighted with stones precludes the idea of suicide in my opinion."

Charles W. Leggett, chief of police of Evanston, expressed the belief that Mount's death was accidental and may have resulted from injuries sustained from a class fight which took place the night he disappeared.

"It must have been an accident," said Chief Leggett, "for students would not wish actually to kill one another. Then, frightened by what had happened, those responsible must have taken the body out to the lake shore and hidden it. That's how it appears to me. Two or three boys were necessary to drag the body to its hiding place and cover it with stones."

University authorities, after investigating the death of another student, Louis Aubere, killed in an automobile accident after a class fight, abolished for all time class wars and rushes and hazing on the campus.

At a solemn chapel assembly Walter Dill Scott, president of the university, informed the student body that sophomores and freshmen are to be deprived of all social privileges for the rest of the year and that the freshmen cap-burning ceremonial scheduled for Thursday can not be held.

Dahl Aids In More Delay On Education Bill

State Forces Seek Postponement Of Vote; Put Over Until Friday

The state board of education forces, through the aid of Speaker Dahl, this morning succeeded in getting further delay on the Garey bill when it came up for consideration. Through a parliamentary maneuver the bill was again laid over until Friday.

It is evident that the state board of education forces, facing defeat at the present time, are seeking to catch the assembly at a time when absences may enable them to defeat the bill.

The bill was set as a special order for 10 o'clock this morning. When 10 o'clock arrived, Speaker Dahl paid no attention to the special order and proceeded to the consideration of other bills on the calendar. About 10:20 Speaker Dahl was reminded that there was a special order set at 10 but the speaker talked the member out of pressing his point. Finally Sachjen again raised the point that there was a special order.

Speaker Dahl, however, persisted in disposing of the entire calendar before taking up the Garey bill and the measure was reached after 11 o'clock.

Assemblyman Millar, who introduced the substitute to the Garey bill last week, then obtained the floor. He proceeded to raise the point that he considered his substitute to the bill germane in spite of the fact that no member had yet made the point that the substitute was not germane. Then in spite of the fact that no one but Mr. Millar had raised the point that the substitute was not germane he asked that the speaker be given opportunity to consider the point. The speaker stated that he was not prepared to make the ruling although the substitute that had been introduced was the Dahl education bill. After consideration wrangling in which it was charged that the maneuvers were simply to stall the matter was laid over until Friday. nitpuffa,
