CONCERT TICKETS ARE TO BE SOLD ON CAMPUS TODAY

Union Board Announces Previous Sale is Very Encouraging.

A special block of season tickets for the Union Board concert series will be placed on sale at the bottom of the hill today, members of the Union board said last night. They hope that the student body will avail themselves of this opportunity to obtain tickets, which have thus far been sold at the Albert Smith music store.

"The ticket sale has been very encouraging so far," J. C. Dawson, chairman of the concert committee of Union board, said yesterday.

"The Union board ought to be supported by the students in its series of concerts. The concerts offer just the opportunity for 'extra-curricular profits' which students should be glad to have, and they should attend these concerts as religiously as they do their classes and as willingly as they do football games," President Birge declared yesterday afternoon.

Reinald Werrenrath, the first artist of the series, will appear October 18. The London Daily Telegram made the following criticism of Mr. Reinald Werrenrath: "Mr. Werrenrath gave us yesterday at Wigmore hall a practical example of the art which conceals art. The music flowed sweetly and evenly on its way without emphasis or stress. Its appeal was as keen and irresistible as that of a tremendous climax."

The duet pianists, Guy Maier and Lee Pattison, will appear Nov. 20. The London Morning Post said of them: "They spoke with one personality and that a strong one."

Jascha Heifetz, the phenomenal violinist, who will appear here in March, received much praise in Claire Sheridan's interview with Bernard Shaw published in the New York World: "Shaw was extravagant in his enthusiasm of Heifetz, whose playing Shaw thought so beautiful that he said to him: 'You know that nothing may be perfect in this world or God gets jealous and destroys it; so would you mind just playing something badly in your rooms before you go to bed at night?'"

OCTOBER WEATHER COOLER THIS YEAR

Weather Bureau Places Daily Map in Historical Library

Although the weather last week was warm, the average temperature for the first week of October was 2 degrees lower than that of last year. The high temperature of last week was due to an area of low barometer pressure which has been hovering over the Great Lakes region for the last six days, according to Eric Miller, head of the local weather bureau.

A high pressure area is due over Madison, bringing rain, probably followed by colder weather.

The month of September was 3 degrees colder than September of last year, the average temperature being 62 degrees. This is one degree lower than normal. The coldest September of recent years was in 1918, when the temperature averaged 56 degrees. September, 1897, with an average of 68 degrees was the warmest Madison has experienced since 1859, when the weather bureau began recording temperatures.

A map of the United States showing the temperature and rainfall of the entire country will be posted every day at the desk of the Historical library.

American Waiter Lingo Foreign to Most Food Seekers

Did you ever wonder what the waiters in a restaurant were talking about when they repeated your order to the cook in some strange language?

The language used by waiters in small American eating houses is certainly one foreign to the average person who goes in to eat. An order is never repeated in the manner given. The cook seems to be able to understand only the queer terms used by the waiter.

If one should go into a Madison restaurant and order wheat cakes, coffee and toast, the waiter would shriek stack, draw one, buttered.

The order has been given and will soon be on the way. A hamburger sandwich with onions, a bowl of chili con carne and a bowl of milk toast would be bellowed for in this manner: One with, a bowl, graveyard. Again the order is complete.

An order of bacon and a toasted cheese sandwich is called for by the waiter by repeating the name of the greatest Wisconsin athlete, Rollie Williams, while an egg sandwich is termed "egg for".

Y. W. C. A. FROSH TO MEET AT LATHROP

New Group System of Electing Members Will Be Enacted

The 1923-24 freshman commission of the Y. W. C. A. will have its beginning at the massmeeting and get-together of the "Y" for all freshman women to be held at 7 o'clock tonight in Lathrop parlors. Contrary to the usual custom, elections to the commission will not be made at tonight's meeting, but instead, a new system of division into groups will be tried which will elect the commission in the near future.

"This plan is necessary because of the large number of freshman girls this year," explained Dorothy John '25, who will be chairman of the meeting. "The girls will be divided into several groups. Each of the groups will meet once a week, and after a period of about six weeks, nominations will be made among the individual groups. From these nominations the freshman commission will be chosen."

The new method has been selected to aid freshmen women in becoming acquainted and to give them time to choose leaders with initiative. The sophomore commission will take charge of the groups until freshman officers are elected.

Foreign Flashes

LONDON, Oct. 8.—Dispatches from Riga indicate active military preparations as a result of the situation in Germany. Cavalry forces are being transferred to the Polish front and the Ukraine troops are being reinforced. The Red army number 1,600,000 troops fully equipped.

BERLIN, Oct. 8.—Great disquietude was felt here today over the "maneuvers" of Russian troops in this direction.

However, there's a silver lining to every cloud. Dr. Von Kahr, military dictator of Bavaria, today issued a decree forbidding increase in the price of beer.

CHICAGO, Oct. 8.—Brooding over a fancied wrong to her husband, a Greek Catholic priest, Mrs. Strutynsky of Remy, Pa., shot and killed the Rev. Basil Sletsuk as she kneeled before him to make confession. 300 worshippers were kneeling in church as she walked down the aisle to the altar where she knelt, drew a gun and fired five shots.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Three armed men early today held up the night manager and other employees of the fashionable Ritz Carlton hotel and robbed a jewelry display window in the lobby of $5,000 worth of gems.

FRENCH SEEM TO BE RECOVERING RAPIDLY, SAYS OGG

Political Science Professor Studies Conditions of European Countries

That France is recovering completely from the devastation of the war is the opinion of Prof. F. A. Ogg, of the political science department, who has spent several months in Europe.

"One would hardly know that there had been a war from the appearance of the country and the condition of the people," he declared. "The people are at work and fairly prosperous. There is, of course, the problem of the payment of the huge war debt yet to be solved.

England Unfortunate

"England is not so fortunate. Being more dependent on trade and industry, her recovery has been slower, and there is still a great deal of unemployment and social unrest."

Professor Ogg also attended meetings of numerous parliaments and ministries, discussed affairs with the leaders of political parties, and carried on considerable research work in libraries.

Meets League Secretary

Two or three weeks were spent with the secretary of the league of nations, Sir Eric Drummond, at Geneva, Switzerland, and his assistants, Nitobe of Japan, and Montoux of France.

Professor Ogg will incorporate the results of the year's study in a book on "Foundations of Popular Government in Contemporary Europe." The book, however, will not be published for two years at least, as another trip to Europe will be necessary to complete the material.

In England he gathered material for a second book on "Government and Politics of the British Empire," which is now under preparation.

He also arranged for the writing of two or three volumes by foreign authors for the Century Political Science Series, which he edits, published by the Century company.

AG STUDENTS COMPETE AT SYRACUSE SHOW

Dairy judging teams from all the large dairy schools of the country are competing in the cattle judging contests at the National Dairy show at Syracuse, New York, which began last Friday. The four members from the University of Wisconsin are Lester E. Caldwell, Harvey L. Becker and Edward Der's. Byron Heal is alternate. Coach R. S. Hulse accompanied the team.

FOUR NEW STORES WILL OPEN SOON

Kessenich's and Fred W. Kruse to Move to State Street

The Fred W. Kruse company will open their new store on State street next Wednesday morning. The opening of this store will mark the completion of another of the fine business block on State street. Kessenich's new home at the corner of State and Fairchild is rapidly nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy some time in the winter. The Kessenich company will move from its present quarters on the square to the new building, where they will offer their customary line of exclusive apparel for women.

Two smaller stores will be housed in the building with the Fred W. Kruse company. The Model store, given over to men's furnishings, is now doing business in the store at the east end of the building.

On November 12, George Lewis, popular sporting goods dealer will move his shop to the new building.

Hungry Students Feast Nightly On Popcorn

If statistics mean anything, students of the university must almost diet on popcorn. It is a fact that at least 200 pounds of the toasted grains are sold daily to the starving students.

One hundred pounds of the corn seems to be sold mostly among three of the more centrally located shops, and the other 100 pounds is split up among the other merchants.

The wagon at Park and University claims to do the biggest business. Manager Finch asserts that he uses from 40 to 50 pounds a day, and from eight to 10 pounds of butter.

Jack's Place at State and Lake pops in second place. Mr. Fry, the proprietor, claims that he uses between 25 and 35 pounds a day and from eight to 10 pounds of butter.

Ford's stand at Murray street and University avenue is third with an average of 20 pounds a day.

"However," says Ford, "The greater part of my trade comes from townspeople, and not students. I am well known here and there are any number of persons who come regularly every evening to invest in a 25 cent bag of corn."

All three agree they sell the most at night, especially between 9 and 11 o'clock.

PRESS CLUB WILL ELECT AT MEETING

Will Design New Organization Pin at First Meeting of Year

New designs for an organization pin will be presented and voted upon at 7 o'clock tonight by the members of Press club at the Delta Pi Delta house.

This is the first meeting of the club to be held this semester. Policies and plans for the coming year will be discussed by the members.

"Although the gathering will be primarily a business meeting the scribes will be entertained by hearing the experiences of some of their fellow members," said Edith A. Porter, '24, vice-president of the organization. "The meeting will not be long and it is essential that all members be present."

Nomination of officers will be part of the business of the meeting. Three offices are to be filled this year, president, vice-president, and secretary-treasurer.

The blue enamel pencil, present emblem of the Press club, has been unpopular for the last two years but no new emblem has been adopted. Jerry Bjerke '24 will present designs for a pin drawn up by Herbert Brockhausen of the Brock Engraving company.

Application for membership may be made next week through the membership committee to be announced later. All students actively interested in journalism and journalistic writing may send in applications.

PROF. JEAN KRUEGER IS MICHIGAN DEAN NOW

Associate Prof. Jean Krueger who acted as director of the home economics course last year in the absence of Miss Marlatt, now holds the position of dean of home economics and dean of women at the University of Michigan.

Russell Frost, a member of the agricultural journalism department last year, is now associate editor of Hoard's Dairyman, a national dairy magazine at Ft. Atkinson. Frost has charge of the boy's and girl's department. Art J. Platten has been appointed his successor.

RIFLE CLUB TO VOTE ON NEW MAN TONIGHT

The Rifle Club will hold a special meeting at 8 o'clock tonight at the Armory office. Installation of officers will be held and applications for membership in the club will be voted upon. Plans will be drawn up for a schedule of rifle matches for the coming year.

SOPH MEN WILL MAKE PLANS FOR BAG RUSH TONITE

Captains Will Be Appointed For Annual Scrap Between Classes

All sophomore men will meet at 7 o'clock tonight in Music hall to discuss plans for the annual class rush which is to be held on the lower campus next Saturday afternoon before the Michigan Aggie game.

"I want all loyal sophomores to be at the meeting at 7 o'clock sharp. It will be very short and to the point but things vital to every sophomore will be discussed. The committee on the rush has organized the sophomore plan of attack to perfection and this plan will be outlined at the meeting. "We want everybody to get acquainted with each other and with all the particulars of the rush," stated Orin S. Wernecke '26, chairman of the rush committee last night.

"No traditions committee will be appointed until after the rush. The freshmen so far have followed traditions better than ever before and are proving to be fine sportsmen. There are more of them than usual and we have a tough job on our hands. We can win only with the support of all sophomores at the meeting Tuesday night. We will do nothing in violation of the rules interpreted by the student court," finished Wernecke.

The members of the rush committee are Orin S. Wernecke '26, chairman, James Flickinger '26, James Van Wagenen '26 and one to be chosen at the meeting.

A meeting of all the rush captains with the chairman of the committee will be held at the Sigma Nu house to discuss further the details of the rush.

GLEE CLUB TRYOUTS IN MUSIC HALL TODAY

The last tryouts of the Girls' Glee club will be held at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon at Music hall. All women except first semester Freshmen are allowed to enter the tryouts.

At yesterday's tryouts 24 girls competed. So far the voices are pretty evenly divided, according to Miss Charlotte Belscamper, president of the organization. The names of the successful competitors will be announced in tomorrow's Cardinal.

Dr. C. H. Mills of the School of Music will address the first meeting of the Glee club which will be held at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday. The general plans and conduct of the organization for the year will be drawn up at the meeting. All members are urged to be present.

HALL RE-ELECTED POLITICAL HEAD

University Professor Will Lead National Conference on Political Science

Prof. Arnold B. Hall of the political science department was re-elected chairman of the National Conference on the Science of Politics. He is also Chairman of the work of the conference dealing with methods of coping quickly with various political problems that arise.

The meeting at which he was elected was held in Madison and was the first of its kind ever held. The attendance was unexpectedly large, and members were very enthusiastic. A program of research was outlined and the results will be reported at the next meeting of the conference.

One group will analyze the policies of the average citizen to find out why he does or does not vote, why certain persons take no part in civic affairs and others take much, and other facts relative to the subject.

The civil service, state legislatures, governmental statistics, and public law will come under the scope of the investigations of the conference.

MRS. J. L. TORMEY KILLED BY AUTO

Wife of Former Professor Receives Fatal Injuries in Wreck

Mrs. J. L. Tormey, 137 E. Gorham street, wife of John L. Tormey, formerly an associate professor of animal husbandry at the university, was killed and ten others were injured in an automobile accident which occurred at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon about five miles this side of Columbus.

Professor Tormey was driving the car at the time of the accident. He was approaching a farm house and failed to see a lane which connected with the main road. When Professor Tormey's car was within a car's length of the lane, the occupants saw a Ford coupe approaching Professor Tormey swung out in an attempt to avoid a serious crash and in so doing, the car skidded in the loose gravel and turned over.

Mrs. Tormey died shortly after the accident. Her sister, Miss Elizabeth Lynch, is in a critical condition at St. Mary's hospital. Other members of the car escaped serious injury.

Funeral services will probably be held Wednesday morning at St. Patrick's Catholic church.

UNIVERSITY SENDS 310 PACKAGES TO BADGERS

During the month of August, 1923, the Extension division of the University of Wisconsin sent out 10 packages of selected reference material to 110 Badger committees. The packages treated 233 different subjects, according to the monthly report prepared by Miss Almere I. Scott, secretary of the extension department. This is an increase of 48 packages over the work of the same month last year. Over 47 of the communities served did not have access to public libraries.

NEW FRATERNITY PLANS TO REGULATE HAZING

At the University of New Mexico, a local fraternity, Omega Rho, has been organized to take the place of the Ki-Yote club, which was organized several years ago for the purpose of regulating hazing on the campus. Membership is based on 15 semester hours of average work.

YALE STUDENTS HAVE REVOLUTIONARY IDEA

Undergraduates at Yale seem to be a revolutionary lot. Straw votes held by them show that they oppose many of the ancient traditions of the college. They would, for instance, revise the college curriculum, abolish required courses, and allow unlimited class cuts.

HAREFOOT MEETING
There will be a meeting of the Haresfoot club Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Loft. The meeting is important and all members are asked to be present.

Werrenrath Gives
First Concert of Union Board Series

Reinald Werrenrath

Reinald Werrenrath, "America's foremost baritone," will give the first concert of the Union Board series on the evening of October 18 in the University gymnasium.

The greatest baritone on the concert stage today, Werrenrath possesses a voice of the highest quality, an attractive personality, and extraordinary acting ability.

In his singing he combines fine art, intelligence and good taste. He has complete mastery of voice technique, a quick imagination, strong character, and a cultured mind, all of the qualities which a critical public demands in an artist.

Werrenrath is a young singer, popular for his personality as well as for his singing, the kind of man who appeals to students. His art is essentially sane, healthy, and normal, full of expression but lacking sentimentality or studied expression.

During his former appearance in Madison, Reinald Werrenrath was received by his audience with an enthusiasm which promised him future welcome in the city. Ticket sales for the concert this year indicate that the promise will be fulfilled.

ALUMNI PRESENT FAMOUS PAINTING

Chicago Men Make Early Gift to Memorial Union Building

"The Visit of the Shepherds" world famous painting by Peruzzi, is now hanging in the Historical Library on the wall between the third and fourth floors of the building.

This painting is valued at $40,000, and is the gift to the university of 30 Chicago alumni, who bought it for $5,000. The difference in the value of the picture and the selling price makes an interesting story.

Because of his interest in the state in which his father first made his start toward success, Paul Reinhardt, a graduate of Cornell university, was willing to sell the picture at this price, thus virtually giving $35,000 to the university.

Mr. Reinhardt's father came to Wisconsin with Carl Schurz, former regent of the university, got his start in Milwaukee, and finally established the art concern of which the son is now the head.

The picture is the first donation to the Memorial Union, and is to be hung in the Memorial hall of the new building. The idea of giving the picture was first conceived by George I. Haight '99 of Chicago, and the gift was made possible through the cooperation of the 30 alumni and the generosity of Paul Reinhardt.

CONFERENCE
WIRE SERVICEBIG TEN FOOTBALL
TEAMS SHOW FORM
IN FIRST CLASHESMichigan, Iowa, and Illinois
Loom as Conference
Contenders

Indiana's defeat by De Pauw, 3 to 0, and the Illinois' win over Nebraska, 24 to 7, were the only upsets of dops in Saturday's middle western football games.

Illinois, by this victory, looms as a conference contender. The Suckers followed the ball well and displayed a brand of football that is rarely seen in a preliminary game. There is still much room for improvement, however, before they meet Butler, who gave them a stinging defeat last year. Pat Page has his last year's team practically intact and the Butler eleven got away to a flying start by trouncing Franklin, 13 to 7.

Although Indiana was handicapped by the new style of play that Coach Bill Ingram is teaching, credit is due the De Pauw team. Coach Jimmy Ashmore has been pointing his men for this game and they should figure well among the smaller Indiana colleges.

As was expected, Michigan won handily from Case, 36 to 0. Steger, who was laid out last year with a leg injury, did some brilliant work at halfback and should make an admirable running mate for Capt. Harry Kipke. Vanderbilt, who held Michigan to a scoreless tie last year, will be met next Saturday and will undoubtedly give the Wolverines some stiff competition.

Injuries to Ollie Klee in Saturday's game with Ohio Wesleyan have decreased the Buckeyes' conference chances at least 10 per cent. Coach Wilce has been depending upon Klee to carry the unbalanced line, which they employed so successfully last season, was used, and they should find little difficulty in disposing of Purdue this week end. The Boilermakers, however, had little trouble in winning from Wilmington, 39 to 0, and seem much stronger than last year.

Chicago achieved its first inter-sectional success of the season by administering a 10 to 0 defeat to the Colorado Aggies. The Maroons have no game scheduled for two weeks and will have plenty of time to recover from their injuries and to perfect an attack for their first conference game with Northwestern. Although the Purple triumphed over Beloit by a count of 21 to 6, they showed poor teamwork and will not a lot of grooming to perfect an attack for their coming game with Indiana.

Minnesota, who has been touted as the dark horse of the conference, failed to come up to expectations, defeating Ames by the narrow margin of 20 to 17. The Gophers seemed unable to cope with Ames' forward passes and Coach Spaulding must perfect a defence against the open game.

Although Notre Dame defeated Lombard 14 to 0, their stock took a big drop when Gus Stange, tackle, was taken out of the game with a twisted ankle. Coach Rockne will be badly handicapped in the coming games with Army and Princeton, as Stange was by far the best punter and drop kicker on the squad.

Except for the defeat of Pennsylvania by Maryland, 3 to 0, games in the east turned out as expected. Yale and Harvard won their games handily, but Princeton experienced some difficulty in defeating Johns Hopkins, 16 to 7.

Hoosier-Badger
Ticket Sale Opens
at Gym Thursday

All students intending to go with the football team to Bloomington, Indiana, November 20, to see the Hoosier-Badger game may secure tickets this coming Thursday and Friday at the men's gym.

Three hundred tickets have been secured for Wisconsin rooters and it is expected that all will be sold out before the booths close. The railroads have offered to make a special rate for students going to the game if a sufficient number signify their intention of going.

The Hoosiers have a strong team this year as many of their letter men have returned.

GRIDDER STRIVE
TO ERASE DEFECTSCoaches Find Many Weak Spots in Coe Battle; Injured Men Recovered

With one preliminary football game under its belt and another looming for the near future, the Badger gridders went to work yesterday afternoon with a vim that made sceptical fans look hopeful.

Coaches Ryan, Brader and Traynor found plenty in the Coe college game to find fault with, and in an effort to iron out some of the difficulties they started immediately yesterday.

None the worse for wear, the complete Badger squad reported yesterday. In addition to those who were in the lineup Saturday afternoon several men who have been on the list of injured were present.

Halfbacks Opitz and Carlson, both of whom have been out of practice for the past week with hurt legs were back in uniform last night looking fit for work. Each went through his paces in the backfield and seemed little bothered with the injured members.

Tom Nichols and Merrill Taft, regulars who did not see action Saturday were out and very much in evidence.

Kibo Brumm, who scouted the Aggie game last Saturday and who is helping on the freshmen coaching staff will have the yearlings drilled on the former's plays shortly, and scrimmage will begin in earnest.

But two weeks remain before Wisconsin launches on its conference schedule match. On October 20 the Badgers meet Indiana on enemy territory.

HIBBING STARS SCORE
WIN OVER IRONWOOD

The game between the Hibbing stars and the Ironwood Legion team was enlivened by a fight between Novak and Bobby Marshall. Both were put out of the game, and later George Simpson, an old Wisconsin gridder was put out of the game for roughing. Simpson's ejection from the scrimmage was met with wild protests from the bleachers.

The Hibbing stars defeated the Legion's team 13 to 0. One touchdown was scored in the first quarter on straight plays, and the second in the fourth quarter when Underwood grabbed a fumbled punt from Ironwood and raced over the line for a touchdown.

KENTUCKIANS MEET IN LATHROP TONIGHT

"The Kentuckian is more interested in the Kentuckian than Wisconsin is in the Kentuckian" said Frank Crutcher '25, through whose efforts the Blue Grass club of Kentucky is being organized.

The club has been organized in order that there may be some definite headquarters for the students from Kentucky who are attending the University, and also in order that a spirit of friendliness and geniality among themselves may be promoted.

The first meeting of the club will be held in the S. G. A. rooms at Lathrop hall this evening at 7:30 o'clock. Every Kentuckian here is urged to be present.

"I have met with hearty cooperation from all Kentuckians," Frank Crutcher '25, said yesterday, "and I feel that the success of the organization is already assured."

Any team not on the alleys ready to play at five minutes after the hour set for the match will forfeit the game.

TENNIS YEARLINGS
TO HAVE TRYOUTS
AT TOURNEY MONDAYThe yearling tennis enthusiasts will receive their opportunity to show their ~~talent~~ when the freshman tennis ~~commence~~ commences a week from Monday.

To make this possible, it will be necessary for those competing in the all-university tournament to speed up their play.

It has been decided by the officials who are running the tournament that those who have not played off their first round by next Friday will forfeit their right to further competition for the champion ship.

In speaking of the material that has so far shown up as possibilities for the squad next spring, Captain-elect Moulding seems highly pleased.

"The prospects are excellent, excellent," he repeated, "in fact never during my career here have I seen such promising candidates, and so many of them. They seem to assure us of a team worthy of representing Wisconsin in conference play."

MEANWELL CALLS
FOR MORE FROSHCoach is Not Satisfied With
Number of Basketball
Candidates

Approximately 100 candidates for the frosh basketball squad reported at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the gym. "Doc" Meanwell, Varsity cage coach, while pleased at the appearance of the material, is far from satisfied at the number of candidates.

"At Illinois" says Meanwell, "450 men were out for practice on the first day. Here we have about one-fourth of that number. Yet basketball was our championship sport last season. I want to see at least twice as many frosh out here tomorrow afternoon."

Among the promising yearlings whose fame had preceded them here according to their mentor Coach Lewis, is "Bud" Walsh of Madison Central high school, who was attending school here last fall and was a promising member of the frosh football squad when he suffered a badly strained knee. This was healed almost entirely now and "Bud" is expected to add much strength to the frosh lineup. "Pinkey" Stehr, forward, and Otis, guard, Wisconsin high school, Hargett, forward, La Crosse; "Johnny" Hayes, forward, Duluth; Brooks, center, Louisville, Ky.; and Bain, Martinsville, Ind. Guard.

An historical sketch of the region was given by C. E. Brown, curator of the historical museum. Mr. Brown also organized an Indian relic hunting expedition. A fried chicken dinner on Sunday, following a talk on birds by Glenn Custer, completed the program.

BADGER HARRIERS
PUT TO TEST AS
MEET APPROACHESTime Trials Will Be Held in Latter Part of Week;
Gophers Here Soon

Candidates for the cross country team are now rapidly approaching that point where their condition will warrant harder practice in the way of longer and faster runs.

Coach Burke intends to put the men through a time trial over a two or three mile course during the latter part of the week. The outcome of the trial should give the coach a better idea of the caliber of the competing candidates for the team.

"No great time can be expected so early in the season, and furthermore, great care must be taken that no man overdoes the limit of his capacity," said Coach Burke last night. Serious injury, resulting from over exertion at a time when a man is not in good condition, may incapacitate a candidate for the remainder of the season."

Coach Burke has been proceeding with care in regard to the conditioning of the cross country candidates during the past few weeks. Starting with simple exercises and short runs, he gradually increased the cadence until the men are now going over the course at a stiff pace.

Unless something unforeseen happens in the way of injuries the Cardinal harriers should be in the best of condition when they line up against the Gophers on the morning of the 26th. Although the Badgers have defeated the runners from the northern state for the last two consecutive years, the coming race is expected to be a close affair, for the Gopher team is composed of practically all of last year's men.

The entry blank for the interclass track meet is now posted on the wall in the office of Coach Burke. All those desiring to enter the meet are advised to sign up as soon as possible. Then inter-class meet, which is an annual affair, is open to everyone in any class with the exception of varsity men. Winners in the various events will receive their numerals.

W. A. A. POSTS DATES OF SWIMMING TRYOUTS

Tryouts for the women's swimming teams are to be held at 8 o'clock Friday night in the Lathrop pool, according to Helen Robinson '25, swimming head of the W. A. A.

This year's team should be of the very best, and much competition can well be expected with such stars as Helen Robinson '25, Rhoda Koch '25, Dorothy Raper '25, Anne Smith '25, Elna Mygadil '26, Lois Barry '25, Joe Snow '24, and any number of others.

It is with a fearful heart that the upperclassmen look to the freshmen class. It is rumored that there are many stars to be suddenly revealed at the tryouts.

Aspirants are requested to be on time at the tryouts. There will be another tryout held at 8 o'clock next night for those who do not tryout Friday. Teams will be announced the following Saturday.

THE LITTLE THINGS

It is a general belief that life is made up of a few great outstanding things, while the truth of it is that it is made up of the little things of ordinary, daily life. Everyone is so much on the lookout for the great things that are to happen tomorrow that he fails to notice or to think about the things that make up today.

So far today, nothing great has happened; it was the same way yesterday, the day before, and the day before that. Thus it is practically every one of the 365 days of the year. Yet man lives on those days as well as on the eventful days, he enjoys life equally as well, and he performs those little duties that help to swell the total of each person's life.

It is the little things, or as Wordsworth called them, "The little, nameless, unremembered acts of kindness and of love, that give pleasure of our existence." Annoyances, discomforts, griefs are worn away by time, while pleasures leave a lasting impression in the mind. Indeed, man's psychology is such that he tends to forget the unpleasant and to remember only the pleasant. Hence the displeasures of today are forgotten tomorrow and mean nothing at all, while pleasures are always remembered, even if unconsciously so. It is the little ordinary things of life, the little pleasures, the little daily seemingly unimportant duties, the little help given and received, the little word of comfort and of encouragement that are remembered and that change the course of our lives.

A NATIONAL PROBLEM

Men like to speak of the average American as red-blooded, alert, quick-witted, and active. It is a true description of the majority of Americans, but there is another side to the picture that they do not like to look upon and with which many are not acquainted. That is the side that tells of the incompetent, the weak, the criminal, and the mental defective, who constitute an ever greater portion and a constantly growing share of our nation.

Americans pride themselves upon the educational facilities provided for their youth and the millions spent for their education. At the same time, few know that more money is spent to take care of just the insane in public institutions in this country than is spent in behalf of the entire college population of the country. This is all the more to be considered since the insane constitute but a portion of the undesirable population. A better conception of this problem is to be obtained when it is realized that just within the state of Wisconsin the number of mental defectives in public institutions requiring care is approximately twice the number of students at the university. This approximation does not take into consideration those at large within the state nor those in private institutions.

This problem is a constantly growing one, for the foolish sentimentality of the American public insists that these unfit be allowed to reproduce. The danger of this is to be realized when it is known that they reproduce much more rapidly than the normal individuals and that families from 15 to 30 are a usual thing, and that the progeny are always likewise mentally defective, regardless of whether one or both of the parents were defective. Thus the true proportions of the problem become alarmingly large when the facts of the matter are known.

At first thought it seems that there is nothing which can be done about the problem, but this is far from the case. A dissemination of the facts will help to abolish the sentimentality with which the incompetent are unnecessarily regarded. Actual constructive work could be begun by the mere segregation of the sexes into colonies and the commitment of all mental defectives, whether harmless or not to these colonies. There they could be allowed to assist in their support, and the constantly growing problem would become a constantly lessening one. The able could assist in the support of the less able and the burden would be gone. But so long as ignorance of the facts and sentimentality hold sway the problem will exist and continue to grow.

AMERICAN JOURNALISM

American journalism prides itself upon being the best in the world. That it is, is not questioned, but the question that does arise is why it is content to be just that and nothing more. American journalism is far from perfect and self-admittedly so. It openly fosters the two worst possible practices, namely Yellow Journalism and the dissemination of pseudo-educative material. Its loudest boast is that the American newspapers are not purchaseable with cold cash, and yet its greatest inconsistency is that it continues to hold to these disreputable practices solely for the money that is in them, regardless of the fact that value is no given for money received.

The newspapers of today claim to be the educators of the mass. To a certain extent this is true, but it is also true that they fill the mind of the mass with unlimited amounts of false material and a most undesirable intimate knowledge of crime and of the muck and mud of the deepest gutters of human life. They seem to forget or willfully ignore the fact that true education consists in having an intimate conception of the best and not the worst.

Yellow journalism is excused on the grounds that it is what the public wants, and that what the public wants, it will have. So long as scandal is published in every newspaper from San Francisco to New York, the public will want its yellow sheet. The publication of the details of crimes is nothing more than the playing to the morbid curiosity of the public, and what is worse, it incites the imagination with bold suppositions. The public may want its yellow journalism now, but let it become a matter of the past and the public will at once forget it. That such a step would not be a death blow to the subscription list, the Christian Science Monitor has successfully proved.

Pseudo-educative matter and pseudo-science is a splendid field and well exploited in the newspapers. Let some scientist make a modest little discovery and the newspaper heralds it in terms, not of the truth, but of what it thinks it might have been and what it could have been and what the public may think it wants. A few years ago a scientist discovered that blonde characteristics were recessive and brunette dominant. Immediately the newspapers became hectic in their explanation of the disappearing blonde, along with the doom of the white race and its gradual and inevitable transformation into a race of negroes. Accordingly, the public became disgusted with the seeming idiocies of science, and genuine science withdrew farther within its shell of reserve and exclusiveness.

In the mad rush to be the first in the field, truth has not place in the published matter. If a newspaper story is true, it is either an accident or a happy coincidence, unless well confirmed from reliable sources. Wars are declared upon the slightest of rumors, and lost in the same way; obituaries precede the death of statesmen; far reaching catastrophes are brought to pass, all within the fertile mind of an imaginative reporter. The fact that the newspapers do have a great hold on the mind of the unthinking majority makes this characteristic of journalism all the more dangerous and gives explanation for the Hearst declaration, "Give me the newspapers, and I'll make the war." Their power is great and wrongly so.

Success is to be achieved in other ways and has been. Newspapers must and will in time become worthy of the place they hold in the daily life of the public. Until then, criticism of them must continue.

with one twist of his little finger

this was sought to Confucius, un-

PROF. SNOW ENJOYS TRIP IN SPAIN

Spanish Experts Drill Tourists in Romance Language Studies

Prof. Benjamin W. Snow who accompanied Professor Ortega of the Spanish department on his trip through Spain this summer, found everything over there beautiful and interesting.

"I went over purely for a vacation and I felt myself amply rewarded at the end of the summer," said Prof. Snow. "There were 43 people in our party under the guidance of Mr. Ortega."

Mr. Ortega arranged a four-weeks intensive training for the party in Madrid. It was addressed by well-known Spaniards, experts in their line. Correct pronunciation was emphasized.

The party visited all of the well-known spots in the country.

Visit Notable Places

Segovia, Toledo, Malaga, Cordova, Grenada, Seville, Mont Serrat, and Ronda were a few of the places we went. Ronda, the home town of Mr. Ortega, boasts of a gorge 300 feet deep running through the middle of the town.

Mont Serrat, situated on the top of an unbelievably high mountain peak, is the seat of a very old monastery which was built in the time of the Moors.

"This monastery is still used today as a place of worship," Prof. Snow continued. "The day we were there, there were 200 people who climbed up the mountain to make their pilgrimage."

The Roman remains throughout Spain are remarkable. Few people realize the extent of them. In Segovia there is still standing an aqueduct which was built in the time of Christ. It is in as good condition today as the day it was built and can still carry water.

Alhambra Still Stands

"The Alhambra at Grenada is still in good condition. While part of it is in ruins, most of it is as good as when it was built, over 800 years ago."

"I believe the Alhambra is the most beautiful building in the world," the Professor concluded.

Their Fluent WRITING Induces
Fluent THINKING
Your Education Demands It

IF there's any one thing that students are entitled to have, it's a fountain pen that makes their thoughts flow freely. So don't let "False Economy" put an unruly pen in your hand. That is a mental hazard you can't afford to hold before your eyes throughout your college days. Pay a little more and use the pen that gives your thought free rein—the black-tipped, lacquer-red Duofold—the fountain pen classic.

Parker Duofold is not only handsomer than gold—its color makes it hard to lose. Its balanced swing and super-smooth point make it a fascinating pen to use—a point no style of writing can distort, no years of use can wear away.

Make Fine ShowTHREE WISE FOOLS
Presented at the Parkway.
Directed by King Vidor.
Featuring Eleanor Boardman.
Released through Goldwyn.AND
ERNIE YOUNG'S REVUE

By EVER

It is hard to decide just which of the two above features rates the higher, whether the revue should be mentioned first or the picture, they both were so exceptionally good. For no reason, then, let it be the movie.

The Three Wise Fools were done with much feeling, they were so wise in their sympathy for each other and for their friends and yet they were such fools, entertaining fools. No greater team-work has ever been required of a trio, and they lived up to their task.

Eleanor Boardman was right up to their level in taking her part as their ward. She's not flashy—not like Mae Murray or so many others—but she is charming. And the remarkable part of the picture was that the rest of the casts, down to the insignificant butler was splendid.

The revue was a surprise, complete. Such a large company, there must have been over 25 people in it, such attractive costumes, such clever dancing on the part of the male members was entirely unexpected. It must be confessed that none of the singing was extraordinary and that the chorus dancing was poor and the musical pieces amateurish.

The three leading ladies managed to get over their songs; one of them in particular drew the attention of the audience in a Fannie Brice sort of a piece which, I think, was done much better than Fannie herself can do.

All in all, it's a good show.

"Salomy Jane" Has
Real Movie Action

By SAPPY

"Salomy Jane"—Paramount production with Jacqueline Logan, at the Madison theater.

Salomy Jane is a pretty good western picture, telling of the wild life in California way back in '49. The story is fairly good and the acting and directing saves it from being the usual sentimental, adventurous slop. There is enough action to keep the most blasé audience awake. The cast is good, especially Miss Logan as Salomy Jane, and Charles Ogles as her father, Madison Clay.

Maurice Flynn as the hero and nameless stranger did the best he could as the hero who keeps the heroine, in the foreground. And Miss Logan is worth while keeping in the foreground; she is not only good looking, but also a good actress, never going too far in being the wild flower among many wild men in a wild camp.

The direction is good and the photoplay excellent—a picture worth going to. It is the kind of movie the movies were made for.

The comedy. Ben Turpin in "Where is My Wandering Boy Today," is good, better than the usual comedy.

RENEE ROBERTS AND GIERS-DORF, SYMPHONISTS, AT ORPHEUM THURSDAY

Upstage Bits

Announcement has been made that Duse is coming to this country but will give only two performances a week. She doesn't belong to the union either.

Ernie Young's review is at the Parkway now and we went back stage Sunday and watched all the girls skurrying around getting set for this is their premier.

All the costumes and sets, etc. are new. So new in fact that half of the necessary material was lacking and the Haresfoot club had to denote all its lights, switch board, and back drops.

The show is diversified and mighty good, however, and has some real dancers. Better see it and see how much stuff from last year's "Kikmi" you can recognize.

Manager McWilliams of the Fischer theater staged a little party for Tormentor and his journalistic friends at the Madison last night. The picture was "The Spanish Dancer" and it's nuff said to say that patrons have a treat in store.

The Wisconsin Players are entering into the second season of their amalgamation with much enthusiasm and work. Rehearsals for "Mixed Marriage" are near at hand. It is whispered that Roy French will do at least the preliminary directing.

Roy French, by the way, spent his summer in Spain so he should be up on all the Sheik stuff. With Scheinflug gone some one with first hand information will come in handy.

The greatest secret on the Madison boards right now is the story of Doug's midnight swim.

Bill Purnell was in town Sunday and gave us an accurate description of Joe Cook, who he claims is the best man in vaudeville. Bill liked the Orpheum last half.

Tom Morony is still sending out his "theatrically yours" literature in an endeavor to get acts for the Homecoming Carnival.

"THE FRENCH DOLL"

At the Majestic.
Starring Mae Murray.
A Tiffany Production.

By J. F. W.

M'gosh—it's the way she walks; if you don't believe it, watch the first few scenes in this new picture over at the Majestic.

Mae starts out in Paris this time, and shortly after takes in New York, and ends with a bang—rather a kiss in Palm Beach. And through the whole thing, she never stops once for breath—it's a hop, skip, and jump, into one beautiful gown after another, and all the time she's selling furniture to some poor fish or other.

Of course, she dances—with the assistance of Rod La Rocque, gifted by the gods with manly beauty,—and also a long white plume with which she sweeps a beautifully polished floor.

One thing you'll like is the scene in the park, when milady goes to stroll with her dog, and collects an army of men—twenty strong—which parades after her. Also the men in "B. B. B.'s".

It's as good as "Jazzmania" or "Peacock Alley" and possibly better than even "Broadway Rose." Surely that's saying a lot.

There is also a Snub Pollard comedy, called Jack Frost. 'S dam funny.

A musical number "Melodyland" completes the show.

DINNER PLANNED BY WOMEN'S CLUB

Intercollegiate Club to Hold First Banquet of Year

The Intercollegiate club will give its first semi-annual banquet for this year at six o'clock Thursday evening in Lathrop parlors. All girls who have transferred from other colleges to Wisconsin are invited to attend.

The club was founded three years ago for the purpose of bringing together the new and old transfer girls, and giving them an idea of campus activities. It gives a banquet at the beginning of each semester at which all girls who have attended other colleges before coming to Wisconsin are invited.

Lois Jacobs, president of S. G. A., Marion Metcalf, president of Y. M. C. A., Esther Bilstead, president of W. A. A. will each talk for a few minutes telling the new girls of their respective activities. Dean F. Louise Nardin and Mary Anderson will make short addresses telling the girls of fields of activities into which they may go. Mary Blaix, Dorothy Mores, and Gertrude Bingenehms will entertain with a stunt, and readings will be given by Alpha Roth and Vesta Ritter.

Tickets for the banquet, which will sell for 60 cents, will be placed on sale at the Y. W. C. A. office in Lathrop hall, Monday morning and may be secured up to 4:30 o'clock Wednesday. About 400 girls are expected to attend the dinner.

CANDY TABLE OPENS FOR BUSINESS TODAY

The Y. W. C. A. candy table, one of the busiest and most popular places of business in previous years commences operations again today in Lathrop hall, just outside the Y. W. C. A. office.

Candy bars, nuts, crackers, and apples are on sale guy time during the office hours. The candy table committee signs up girls to stay an hour at a time to take charge.

"The money received from the sale is used toward the Y. W. C. A. budget," said Sere Stolen '26, chairman of the committee.

Badger Glee Club Will Take Part in Chicago Concert

The Wisconsin Glee club will enter the contest to be held at the Intercollegiate Glee club concert at Chicago early next spring, according to Bob Nethercut, president of the club.

The Intercollegiate concert is a competition of college glee clubs held every year, the winner of which usually enters a final contest in New York.

Final try-outs for the Wisconsin Glee club will be held today at 7 o'clock in Music hall. Of the new men who sang in the voice try-outs last week, 29 have been selected to appear for a final test in right sing. Tenors will try out tonight and basses on Thursday. Those who have been selected after the final try-outs will be notified by mail.

CHADBOURNE GETS FIFTY NEW BOOKS

Gifts and Treasury Make Additional Volumes Possible

Approximately 50 new books have been added to the Chadbourne library, located in the attractive reading room on fourth floor space formerly occupied by the Rotunda, through gifts and a sixty dollar treasury.

The library now numbers about 9 books on a fifty-fifty basis of fiction and non-fiction. Current magazines and papers, including "House and Garden," "National Geographic," "Review of Reviews," "Saturday Evening Post," "Musical Quarterly," "International Studio," "Atlantic Monthly," "Life," and "Chicago Tribune" and "Wisconsin State Journal" have been added to the magazine and newspaper files.

No dues are requested but a fine is charged for over time books, the money being used to buy new volumes. A campaign is to be launched soon among the hall residents to have the girls donate used books to the library, thus increasing its value and circulation.

War Veterans Will Gather at Meet in Ag School Here

Sixty-three world war veterans who are now receiving training on Badger farms will be brought together at the Wisconsin college of agriculture October 17 and 18 for a two day institute and meeting.

Operating farms throughout the state, the veterans are being aided by the government financially while they receive instructions from the state farm school. Each month four demonstrations are held on each of the individual farms as part of the instruction which the men receive.

New books are being added to the library every day and it is hoped that soon all four walls will be lined with the best books of the day," said Beth Harrison, librarian, yesterday.

SEMETIC LANGUAGE ENROLLMENT DROPS

Seven Courses in This Department Are Offered to Undergraduates

Semitic language students this year are not as numerous as in former years, Prof. F. T. Kelly, acting head of the department, reports.

As a rule few students enroll in this department despite the fact that it was organized in 1889. At present only seven courses including Hebrew, Yiddish, Arabic, and Hellenistic Greek are offered.

Prof. Kelly pointed out that Jewish and ministerial students are usually interested in the curriculum of this department. The headquarters for this language work are now on the ground floor of Bascom hall, rooms 61 and 67.
