PRICE 5 CENTS

USE OF CAPITOL IS ASSURED FOR '24 PROMENADE

Assembly Passes Resolution, But Deplores Expense of Event

The use of the state capitol for the junior prom was assured yesterday when a resolution inviting the class to use the state house was passed by the assembly. The senate passed the resolution Wednesday night.

The passage was forced through only after a short debate in which opposition to a capitol prom showed that it has been growing rapidly. The ranks of those not in favor of extending the invitation started to grow a week ago with the arrival of the assemblymen in Madison.

The prom committee, under the direction of Chairman Gordon B. Wanzer and Wilber Wittenberg, assistant general chairman, has been busy for the past month explaining the situation to the legislators.

Freehoff Disfavors Plan

The joint resolution, as passed by the senate, came before the assembly early yesterday morning. Immediately after it was taken up, Assemblyman Freehoff of Waukesha announced that he had drawn up a resolution to forbid the use of the capitol for prom. He then moved that the favorable resolution be tabled until Tuesday and that a committee of investigation be set to work on it immediately.

Freehoff was then informed by Speaker John M. Dahl that he had made two motions in one and would either have to move that the resolution be investigated or tabled.

A motion to defer the matter until next week was defeated by a vote of 66 to 23. The assembly then passed the resolution as submitted "on request" by Senator Huber, Dane county, by a viva voce vote.

Sachtjen Supports Resolution

The resolution was strongly supported by Assemblyman Herman Sachtjen, Madison, who declared that the opposition was trying to kill the resolution by introducing a motion under which no argument could occur.

"For some reason the opposition is out to kill the motion," Sachtjen declared. "It merits discussion right now and here and should not be delayed."

"We deplore the fact that the prom is such an expensive affair and that is the whole reason for any objection to it," Senator Huber asserted in discussing the resolution. "We will gladly invite the junior class to use the capitol if it shows industrious effort in attempts to curb unnecessary expenses. They should realize that unless expenses are cut it can not go on as it is. Prom is killing itself."

Wanzer to Cut Expenses

Chairman Wanzer's efforts to cut expenses and bring prom down to a sensible basis were applauded by

Comings To Speak On Ideal Of Golden Rule At Forum

Lieut. Gov. George F. Comings, who will speak on "Religion in Action" Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Wesley Forum, is a politician in a hundred, for he avows his belief in the application of the Golden Rule and the doctrines preached in the sermon on the mount.

"What I will say Sunday evening will be based on my experience," he declared when asked about his approach to his subject. "Christianity can be applied practically to political problems. As Bishop Brooks said when someone told him that Christianity was failing when applied to everyday life, 'How can it fail when it never has been tried?'

"That sometime, somehow, somewhere in this great land of ours is to be established the democracy founded the Golden Rule and the Sermon on the Mount is my belief."

3,600 BADGERS SOLD TO DATE

New Opportunity to Subscribe is Offered By Management

A last chance to subscribe for the 1924 Badger will be offered in a subscription drive to be opened by the circulation staff today.

Lists with places for subscribers to sign their names will be placed in buildings about the campus. A list will be placed at Bascom hall, the Physics building, Agricultural hall and the Biology building.

"A total of 3,600 copies of The Badger have been sold to date," Howard Lyman, business manager, said yesterday. "We would like to obtain 4,000 subscriptions in order to make the mark of former Badgers."

"Our year book has always rated well above most every book in the country and we want to keep it there. We can produce just as good a Badger as was published last year with the number of subscriptions we have now, contrary to prevailing opinion. We want more only to keep the record up where it belongs."

Two Students Inaugurate New Phi Kappa Psi House

The State street house of mystery is at last inhabited.

Last night two members moved into the new Phi Kappa Psi fraternity house at the corner of State street and Sterling place and held a house-warming of their own.

Construction of the red brick chapter house was commenced last spring and is now nearing final completion. It is expected that the entire chapter will move from its present abode at 148 Langdon street to the new apartments today and tomorrow.

WEATHER: FAIR

Fair weather is predicted today and probably tomorrow for Madison and the vicinity with little change in temperature.

SINGER, REFUSING $10,000 BID FOR 5 NIGHTS, SINGS HERE SOON

Josef Rosenblatt, renowned Russian tenor-cantor, will appear in Madison January 22 under the auspices of the Jewish Women's council for a varied program at the Madison high school auditorium.

Mr. Rosenblatt came from Russia 10 years ago in response to calls from wealthy New York churches. The Metropolitan Opera company offered him $10,000 for five performances which he refused because of religious objections. He has been doing religious work and making records in Hebrew.

Rosenblatt is gifted with a voice whose natural beauty and range has won for him immediate distinction and public favor. Although he had sung nothing but sacred music before his arrival in America, he has studied the great arias from grand operas, and has collected a notable group of folk songs which he learned in their original language.

Yosele, as his friends and admirers call him, was born in Bialystok, Russia, 40 years ago, but at the age of eight moved with his parents to Austria. He is the son of a cantor and the talent which he displayed at the age of four was recognized and developed. He sang in public concert and in the services at the synagogues where he became the idol of his native public.

Lieutenant-Governor Comings, who modestly refers to himself not as an honored leader in the state, but as a farmer who is doing his bit for the state, is a popular speaker in Wisconsin and other states.

His commencement address given at Beloit College last year, with "Love Should Be the Universal Law," as its theme, created a great deal of favorable interest. Some of the points brought out at that time will be dealt with in his talk before the Wesley Forum Sunday night at the University Methodist church.

Unalterably opposed to force as a means of healing social ills, and believing that the state should be a great moral institution because the people who build it are, Governor Comings stands out as a successful man in politics and at the same time a believer in the value of practical Christianity.

Railroad Jack Back; to Visit Fraternities

Railroad Jack is in town! The step-ladder man of knowledge left Madison three months ago for Beloit where he intended to stay only a few days. He was entertained in such royal fashion, however, that he was persuaded to remain in that town three months. The guest of President C. N. Brannon, the Kiwanis club, the Knights of Columbus, two girls' dormitories and every fraternity house, the silver-voiced preacher was loth to leave the college town.

Now he is back in the city for an indefinite time. He plans to visit every fraternity house on the campus within the next few weeks. Jack declares he spent 12 hours a day gathering new information with which he will astonish the citizens of Madison.

PRIZE FOX TROT VERDICT MAY BE REACHED TODAY

No decision on the prom fox trot could be reached by the committee last night, Mayo Story '24, chairman, announced.

Final judging was to take place at the Chi Psi house late yesterday. Because of a standstill in the committee verdicts, no judgment could be reached.

The fox trots will be heard by the committee again today, after which the decision probably will be announced.

EXTRA FEATURES ARE PLANNED AT PRE-PROM DANCE

An elaborate program of special features has been prepared by the committee in charge of the pre-prom dance tomorrow night in Lathrop parlors.

The acts arranged for are a song and dance by Ida Creery who will be supported by Porter F. Butts, saxophone numbers by Jimmy Van Altena and "Skeets" Gilmore, and Mildred Rodolph and Deborah Olds will also be featured in song and dance.

The majority of the 500 tickets already have been sold, but there are still a few left at Morgan's and the University Pharmacy. Provisions have been made for overflow dances in the Concert room.

REFUGEE WILL GIVE ADDRESS

Mme. Ponafidine Will Describe Russian Soviet Regime

Under the auspices of W. A. A. Mme. Pierre Ponafidine, whose series of letters in the Atlantic Monthly have caused much interest will speak on her actual experience in Soviet Russia at 7 o'clock tonight in Music hall.

Mme. Ponafidine is a woman of American birth and the wife of a prosperous Russian. She lived in central Russia with the peasants on the estate before the War and for four years during the terrors of the Soviet regime there. She tells of the actual operation of the experiments carried on at their estate.

Stepping from cake to cake of ice she and her party made a perilous escape from Russia across the river with the Bolshevik spotlights playing upon them from all sides.

12 Speeches in Buffalo

Her story is so interesting to American audiences that she has spoken in Buffalo more than a dozen times since coming to the United States last February, and has been asked to give another series there next winter.

"Mme. Ponafidine was heard with the closest attention here when she gave her remarkable account of four years of Bolshevik rule," declared Alice W. Waite, dean of Wellesley college.

"The actual experience and conditions seen and felt in the country among the peasants and her escape with her two sons across the cakes of ice were given with a restraint and absence of resentment at which the audience could only wonder when it heard the utter wreck of civilization, injustice, cruelty, starvation and murder which had swept away most of the intelligent population of Russia.

Narration Carries Conviction

The narration of direct experience carried conviction to the minds of even those who had been sympathizers of the Russian Communists. This story of heroic courage and endurance was told with graphic power and yet without emotional effects.

Committees in charge are: Wilma Trost '23, general arrangements; Janet Cumming '24, tickets; Lenore Luenzeman '25, and Lucile Salentir posters; and Nina Ferris '24 and Frances Warren '24, publicity.

POLLY AMBROSE, PROM QUEEN, WILL BECOME BLUSHING BRIDE

Polly Ambrose '23 will become a blushing bride the night before prom.

Unknown to friends and inquisitive reporters who have watched every movement of the prom queen, Polly has been secretly preparing for her wedding day for some time. The news finally leaked out when frequenters of Lathrop hall reported that Polly has often been seen there with her future husband — and displaying signs of affection, too.

SENATE REJECTS COUNCIL'S POINT SYSTEM METHOD

Committee Would Be Un- wieldy, is Unanimous Vote

In a meeting featured with sharp debate, the Student senate last night unanimously voted to reject the Council of Forty's resolutions on the point system for student activities.

Senator Balliette, chairman of the Student senate special committee on the point system, read the resolutions which had been sent to him by the Council of Forty.

In his comment on the resolutions Senator Balliette stated that the issue before the senate was whether the point system was a question for a large committee of 50 or 60 students to decide or whether it was a matter to be carefully worked out by the senate committee.

Committee Too Large

"Such a large committee as that suggested by the Council of Forty would tend to be unwieldy," Balliette asserted. "The smaller senate committee of 6 members appointed by the senate president could work with fine dispatch and surely and yet could call on any students or organizations for advice and aid."

Senator Lamb, a member of the same committee, suggested that the resolutions of the Council of Forty, if accepted by the senate, would infer that the senate felt itself unable to formulate a plan of its own and that it was willing to accept the first plan of any nature that was presented to it.

"The question seems to be whether the senate wants to do its own work as the only legally constituted legislative student body or whether it wishes to accept a doubtful plan and by such acceptance surrender the senate's name," Lamb said.

Point System Debatable

Maynard Brown '23, president of the Senate, stated that the committee appointed by him was not a temporary committee, but fully empowered to act until its report was completed and a final plan presented to the senate for adoption or rejection.

"The senate feels that the point system is to be debated at some length before any final action is taken," President Brown continued. "As the senate is the only legislative body having power to deal with the matter it wishes to know that every angle of the situation has been studied and the senate will not lightly accept any pet plan that may be presented to it."

Co-ed Baseball Teams Prepare For Champ Race

With the juniors and sophomores both turning out strong delegations to carry off honors in the women's indoor baseball class tournament, it is necessary that the seniors and freshmen have more women out for the sport if they are to show up in the championship race. There will be open practice at 4:30 o'clock for everyone that is interested. Squads will not be picked until the week of February 12, and teams will be selected two weeks later.

And who is th groom- No, it is not Gordie. The prom king will be only a spectator while his queen is led to the altar before prom.

Polly would not commit herself on the subject, but when asked if she preferred to be betrothed of her prom king, she only sighed and repressed a little sob.

"This will be a terrible ordeal for me," said Gordie, "but I am game enough to applaud the successful man."

The wedding will take place in the third act of "Stop Thief."

NOTED SOCIETY PROGRESS GOOD

Wisconsin Director of Economic Institute Issues Statement

A marked progress has been made by the Institute for Research in Land Economics and Public Utilities during the past year, according to a statement issued by Dr. Richard T. Ely, director, to The Cardinal last night.

Incorporation, the publication of four volumes, a considerable increase in staff, and a widening interest on the part of the management of large railroads and other public utilities are the leading features.

The Institute was founded in October, 1920, for research in economic problems connected with the land and natural resources, but the investigation of these problems soon led it into the field of public utilities. When it was incorporated last October, this fact was recognized in the name chosen for the Institute.

Use Special Text Books

The books which have been published are designed as fundamental texts in the subject. They consist of Land Economics, three volumes, and Urban Land Economics, all written by Dr. Ely and his associates. The books are published by Edwards Brothers, Ann Arbor, Mich., and are being used as texts in courses offered in the university.

Notwithstanding the newness of the field, members of the staff of the Institute, in co-operation with the university, are offering 10 courses this year in land economics, public utilities and allied subjects.

Nine of the large railroad systems of the country have become members of the Institute by subscribing to its funds and have suggested problems which they would like to have investigated. Among these are the Chicago and Northwestern, the Illinois Central and the Nickel Plate.

Noted Men on Board

Some of the large organizations which are interested in the work of the Institute are the Carnegie Institute and the National Association of Real Estate Boards, both of which have subscribed liberally to its funds.

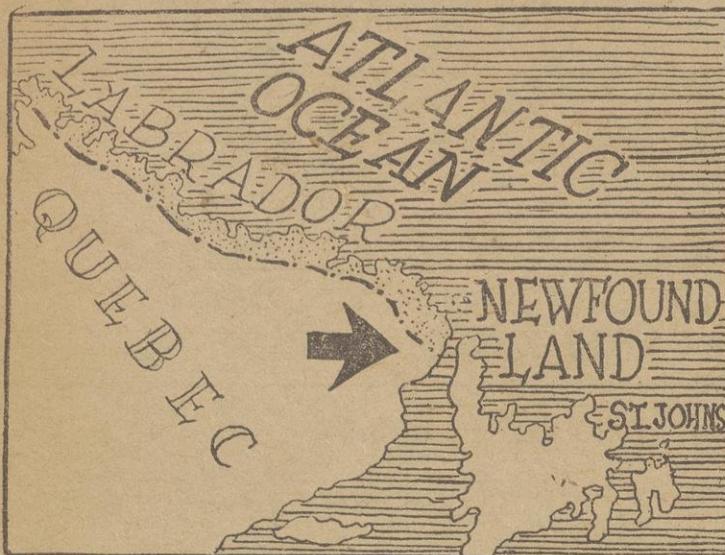

The board of directors of the Institute includes Dr. Albert Shaw, editor of the Review of Reviews and president of the board; Justice M. B. Rosenberry, Supreme Court of Wisconsin, who is vice-president and treasurer; Dr. Henry C. Taylor, department of agriculture, who is secretary; Dr. Richard T. Ely, director of the Institute; Dr. F. H. Finley, New York Times; Col. Henry S. Graves; and W. S. Kies, Aldred and company, New York City.

The advisory committee consists of Dr. Frank A. Fetter, Princeton University, and Dr. R. M. Haig, Columbia University.

Deer Dazzled By Headlight Killed At Devils Lake

DEVILS LAKE — A deer was killed on the Northwestern railroad track near the south end of the lake early Thursday. Game Warden F. A. Docklam states that the animals are attracted by the headlights of the engines and seem dazed by the strong lights. One engineer recently shut off his headlight to enable two deer standing on the track to escape. The remains of the deer killed this morning will be dressed and the venison sold at a Baraboo meat market.

Martin to Direct Girls' Fancy Skating Classes

Special classes for fancy skating will be conducted by George Martin '23, Saturday mornings at 10 and 11 o'clock for all women interested in the sport. These groups have not met yet, but a great number of girls have already signified their interest.

The regular women's skating and skiing classes, which began as a physical education course after the holidays, have started out with large enrollments and great enthusiasm.

Approximately 200 have enrolled for skating, while skiing shows a registration of almost 40 in five different classes.

BLAINE URGES STATE CHANGES

Governor Asks Graduated System for Obtaining Money for Highways

Far-reaching changes in the Wisconsin revenue laws, calling for an adjustment between general property and income taxes by increasing the burden on incomes while decreasing it on general property, were recommended by Gov. J. J. Blaine today in his message to the fifty-sixth Wisconsin legislature.

Addressing a joint meeting of the two houses, both of them under his control, the governor asked repeal of all surtaxes on incomes and on property, totalling $7,000,000 annually with the substitution in their stead of a ratio between the revenue returns from incomes and from property. This ratio would be adhered by successive legislatures in enacting laws to raise funds to finance all state projects including schools, highways, and the teachers' insurance and retirement fund.

Gov. Blaine called upon the legislature to repeal the secrecy clause to the income tax law, to repeal the personal property tax offset to the income tax law, to raise the exemptions under the income tax, and to establish a tax on stock dividends and bank stock. He suggested an increased appropriation for the tax commission to investigate back income reports. The result of enactment of these laws would be greatly increased returns from incomes with relief to general property, the governor said.

To finance a highway program, tempered to the ability of the state to pay for it, the governor asked enactment of a law establishing a graduated licence fee based upon weight and horse power. He expressed opposition to a valuation tax on automobiles and made no mention of the gasoline tax, urged by county boards. It was suggested by him that the personal property tax against automobiles should be continued. Other principles contained in the progressive platform were enunciated by the governor.

Thievery is Rampant! Investigation Planned

Thieves have invaded Madison! Peaceful and law-abiding citizens declared yesterday that they were held up in broad day light by armed men. A university student testifies that the robber wore a black cap pulled down over his eyes and that he drew his gun immediately. Signs of the thieves are evident on the main streets of the city.

To investigate the outrages and to take definite steps toward the protection of the city, students and towns people will meet at the Parkway theater, Thursday, February 1.

7 Million Appropriation Asked For U. of Michigan

BADGER HOCKEY SQUAD TO MEET MICHIGAN TODAY

Eligibility of Mokrejs Brightens Badger Hopes For Victory

With his squad of eight hockey men, Coach A. K. Viner left Madison last night for Ann Arbor, Mich., where the Badgers will meet the Wolverine puck chasers in two meets today and tomorrow. A light workout was taken yesterday afternoon after which Coach Viner made his final choice of men to take the trip.

The last minute announcement of the eligibility of Mokrejs, star defense man, has brightened Badger hopes considerably. It was feared that he would be ineligible. No suitable man has been developed to take his place.

Tredwell In Action

The games at Michigan will see goal-tender Tredwell in action. He is an experienced man, having played on last year's team during the entire season. Blodgett and Mokrejs will hold down the defense positions.

Blodgett did good work last year and Mokrejs is a dependable man. At the left wing Johnson will perform, holding down the position he worked in last year, while Fiske, a spare from the 1922 team, will hold down the other wing position.

Captain Combacker will hold down the pivot job. He is Wisconsin's best bet for a point winner. Combacker's consistently aggressive work last year made him outstanding in every game. Hauch and Hilsenhoff will make the trip as spares.

Badgers at Disadvantage

Wisconsin will be somewhat at a disadvantage at Ann Arbor because they will play at night in an indoor, artificially-lighted rink. The Michigan rink is an excellent one. Because it is indoors and shielded from snow, the ice can be kept smooth at all times.

Sororities Bowl Fourth Round of Tourney Today

The fourth round of the women's bowling tournament will be played off in the Madison bowling alleys this afternoon and tomorrow morning.

Following is the schedule of games and the alleys:

Chi Omega vs Alpha Xi—1 and 2.

Tri Delt vs Alpha Chi—3 and 4. Kappa Delta vs Pi Phi—5 and 6. Kappa vs Alpha Delta Pi—7 and 8.

Phi Mu vs Delta Zeta—9 and 10. Saturday Morning

Phi Omega Pi vs Theta... A. O. Pi vs Alpha Gamma Delta.

Outing Club to Hold Credit Skating Party

A skating party for regular credit will be given by Outing club tomorrow morning from 10 to 12 o'clock for all women who like to skate and all of those who would like to learn.

Girls who are interested are to meet at the warming shack at the foot of Charter street, Anita Haven '24 will be in charge.

A bob and a good sized toboggan are also available at 428 Charter street. The rent will be 25 cents the first hour and 15 cents each additional hour.

Northwestern Quintet Will Meet Ohio Tonight

Northwestern journeys to Columbus this afternoon to meet the Ohio State in its second conference game. From the Buckeye stronghold Coach Kent will take his men to Purdue where the Hoosier quintet will be met on Monday night. Northwestern has been developing the offensive since the defeat by Wisconsin last week.

Glen Killinger, a former all-around athlete at Penn State, has been appointed recently as assistant coach in football, baseball and basketball. Hugo Bezdek, director of athletics at Pennsylvania, announced Wednesday.

SPORT EXPERT REVIEWS U. W. COACH ISSUE

Hugh Fullerton, sport expert of the Chicago Tribune, was in Madison yesterday interviewing Director Thomas E. Jones and coaches about the Wisconsin athletic situation. Fullerton is making the rounds of Big Ten colleges in an effort to outline activities at each college. He recently published stories dealing with Northwestern, Illinois, Michigan. Before that, he analyzed the football situation in the East.

QUINTET GETS DOUBLE WORK

Chicago and Badger Grid Players to Meet on Floor Tomorrow

Two workouts were given the Varsity basketball squad which clashes with Chicago university tomorrow night. The men went through their paces yesterday afternoon and then repeated in the evening.

They will be in tip-top shape for their third game of the season and are all set to hand the Maroons their second Conference defeat and their fifth straight loss.

Football stars will meet on the basketball court when the two teams prance onto the gymnasium floor tomorrow. Gus Tebelle and Rollie Williams played in the memorable zero gridiron tie last fall, and Barnes and Dickson, Chicago ends, were men who kept the Maroon eleven in the running.

Six Big Ten Teams to Play

Barnes played here three years ago when he was a member of the Cedar Rapids, Ia., basketball team which won the mid-west high school championship by defeating the Winfield, Kan., quintet, 21 to 20. At that time, Barnes was named for the all-tournament team.

Six other Conference teams will swing into action this week-end. Michigan is slated to travel to Minneapolis and take on Cooke's Gophers. It will be the second game for Michigan, which defeated Illinois last week, and the first for Minnesota. Indiana with one defeat and Illinois with two jam with each other at Urbana. Northwestern and Ohio State complete the schedule.

Coach Mather and his rip-roaring Wolverines should have little difficulty in "taking" the Minnesota outfit. The Gophers lost their final six games last year after leading a strong chase. Cappon, Kipke, Haggerty, Capt. Ely and Paper form a combination that will finish near the top of the heap.

Indiana Meets Illinois

Indiana and Illinois are looked upon as an even match. Indiana has a slight edge on the Suckers who are under the direction of a new coach.

Northwestern started its season, as usual, with a defeat, but Maurice Kent has a team of veterans which is likely to show its heels to a majority of the Conference teams before the final game is played. Two former Wisconsin men will vie their protégés against each other in the Ohio-Northwestern game.

Kent coached baseball here in 1920. Olsen was a star basketball player several years ago. He was chosen for all-American guard while a member of the Badger quintet.

Pfann Chosen Captain of Cornell Grid Team

George R. Pfann, quarterback for the past two years on the Cornell football team, has been chosen captain of the team to succeed Eddie Kaw. Pfann has been placed on nearly every mythical eleven picked by authorities in this country.

TICKET SALE TODAY
Tickets for the Wisconsin-Chicago basketball game can be procured at the gymnasium from 12:30 until 5:30 o'clock this afternoon. Townspeople as well as students can purchase ducats today. The student sale yesterday was brisk.

WRESTLERS ARE TO MEET PURPLE SQUAD TONIGHT

Coach Has Good Material; Badgers Have Chance to Win

Coach Hitchcock's squad of varsity wrestlers leave this morning for Evanston where they oppose Northwestern in the first meet of Wisconsin's season. The men will weigh in at 4 o'clock this afternoon for the matches tonight.

Coach Hitchcock has a wealth of good material on hand at the present time and feels confident that his men will emerge victorious in the meet. Illinois won a dual meet from Northwestern a week ago by a 17 to 10 count.

The big jobs of the evening will fall upon Benbow, Wisconsin's representative in the 125-pound class, and on Bieberstein who will work in the heavyweight class. Benbow will grapple with Bryan Hines, captain of the Purple team. Bieberstein will work against Larry Horton, star center of the Purple football team last fall.

Captain Templin Doped to Win

Captain Templin, wrestling in the 158-pound class, probably will take his match, although he will be pitted against a good man, Herman Hathaway, brother of the former conference heavyweight champion.

Holmes, in the 135-pound class, will be matched against David Rost, a new man in wrestling at Northwestern.

Heuer, 145-pounder, will meet stiff competition from Bud Fischer of the Purple team. Gregor, in the 175-pound class, is matched against Berolzheimer.

Phelps to Match Jenness

Phelps has been chosen to represent the Badgers in the 115-pound class. He will be matched against Art Jenness of the Northwestern squad.

With the exception of Bieberstein, all of Hitchcock's men are in the best of condition and will be down to proper weight for the matches. Bieberstein's football training has put him in good condition. He will probably not suffer for want of endurance.

Northwestern-Indiana Basket Game Postponed

The Northwestern-Indiana basketball game which was to have been played at Evanston on January 20, has been postponed for one month, according to an announcement made Monday by Dana M. Evans, director of athletics at Northwestern. The game will be played February 20.

GRID HERO IS HONOR GUEST OF HAWAIIANS

Buck Bellows didn't leave the game of football when he left Wisconsin. The famous Badger quarterback of 10 years ago, who coached the Navy football team which met Army in one of the big games, played in Honolulu, Territory of Hawaii, on December 23. One of the "biggest five men in the islands for the next seven days" is what the Honolulu advertiser called Bellows. He was an all-western pilot when Wisconsin rode rough-shod to an undisputed Conference championship in 1912. Buck also played basketball.

LOWMAN GIVES PITCHERS DRILL

Coach Will Issue General Call For Material After Exams

Battery candidates for the Varsity baseball team are working out daily in the gym annex under the direction of Coach Guy S. Lowman. The men are ironing the kinks out of their arms.

After examinations, Coach Lowman will issue a general call for all baseball men, and regular practices will be held.

Montgomery, a yearling catcher last year, and Johnson are behind the log in the early drills. Aschenbrenner, substitute receiver on the 1922 team also is reporting.

Lowman's worries at present are centered around the eligibility of certain men and the possibility of finding a pitcher to take the place of Forrest "Paddy" Paddock, star twirler of last year. When Paddock hurried for a Chicago semi-pro team last summer he opposed Slicker Parks on the mound just as a year before he had stacked up against Parks in the Michigan-Wisconsin game.

House For Skaters Arranged on Lake

A new shelter house for skaters has been constructed by the university at the point where the drive turns from the campus on to the edge of the lake. The house is equipped with seats, a cloak room and a nice warm stove. A fire is kept in this stove every day from before noon until 10 o'clock at night. All students are invited to make use of this convenient shelter house.

TANKMEN STAND FAIR CHANCE TO WIN, COACH SAYS

Ineligibilities Make Outcome of Indiana Swim Meet Doubtful

An even chance for victory over Indiana in the swimming meet tonight is predicted by Coach Joe Steinauer, providing the Hoosier aggregation is not large enough to allow for freshman men in each event.

With a better team on the sidelines than in the tank, Wisconsin will stack up against one of the best swimming squads ever turned out at Indiana. The Hoosiers already have had one meet, taking the scalp of the Indianapolis Athletic club, 38 to 30.

Nine Men Ineligible

Nine ineligible men make Steinauer's task of picking a team an unpleasant one, for he has had only a week to watch his men practice. Among those on the ineligible list are such star tank men as Hippel, Taylor, Johnson, Page, Pabst, Gilbreath and Ellicott.

The team which Capt. Johnson Bennett will lead against the Crimson is as follows: relay—Bennett, Story, Porter, Crane; 40 yard dash—Bennett, Porter; fancy drive—Koch, Moroney; breast stroke—Pope, Czerwonky; 220 yard—Bennett, Porter; plunge—Saltzstein, Dummer; back stroke—Porter, Czerwonky; 100 yards—Bennett, Story.

Ellicott's Eligibility Uncertain

A possibility exists of some slight changes in the line-up. Chester Ellicott's eligibility is uncertain. A report will be given from the office this noon.

Upon Captain Bennett falls the heavy work of the meet. Without question he is the leading swimmer at Wisconsin and will rank high in the Conference again this year. Competing in half of the events is no easy task for any swimmer, and he will do well to place in two or three events.

Close Game Features Frat Basket Schedule

The game between the Alpha Gamma Rhos and the Pi Kappa Alphas which resulted in a tie was the feature tilt of last night's fraternity basketball schedule. Another close game was registered when the Sigma Pi's defeated the Triangles by a score of 9 to 8.

The other tallies were as follows: Phi Kappa Psi 18, Delta Chi 6. Psi Upsilon 17, Alpha Pi Delta 8. Beta Theta Pi 14, Farm House 6.

AN APPRECIATION

With the passage by both houses of the legislature of the resolution introduced by Senator Huber, the holding of the 1924 Prom in the capitol building is assured.

Not that there was ever much doubt that prom would be held in the capitol. Numerous rumors of opposition have been heard, but those same rumors recur each year.

A few pessimists perhaps had visions of dress suits in the gym; perhaps a few more of like pessimistic nature neglected to get a prom date until the capitol was assured.

But optimism prevailed in the main.

What is most pleasant is not that any lingering doubts were removed but that the initiative was taken by the legislature itself. The cordial invitation expressed in the resolution makes it clear that every welcome is extended by the legislature to the prom guests.

No university function in the country has as beautiful and magnificent a setting for such an event.

That setting might have been refused by the legislature. Or its permission might have been hesitatingly and grudgingly given. Instead, the senate and assembly have sensed the lack of a suitable building on the campus and, with a fine spirit of unselfishness, have extended a cordial invitation to share not only the capitol corridors but the senate and assembly chambers as well.

When brocade and silk slippers feet are treading the corridors on prom night, when the prom flashlight is taken, and when the governor's message of "On With the Dance" is sounding resonantly from the capitol rotunda, there will be many prom-goers who will remember the action of the legislature. Remember and appreciate more fully all that their invitation implied.

To the senate and the assembly for its generous invitation and to the Capital Times for its splendid editorial of yesterday, The Cardinal expresses the appreciation of a grateful student body.

PITILESS PUBLICITY

The action of the faculty committee on appeals in backing up the student court is a welcome conclusion to the beginning made this year by the student judicial body.

It is not the most pleasant thing to do—sitting on a court of justice—before which the accused is a fellow student.

Jury duty is never popular. The members of the student court must be jurors as well as jurists.

Certain niceies of justice were involved in the scalper cases.

There existed that little matter of an unwise precedent of former years, a precedent that had been too lenient, too kind.

In former years there was much talk against scalping, but little action taken against the wrong-doers.

If one was caught at it, nothing much was done. Nothing at all was said that friends might hear with sympathy, over which enemies could gloat.

Altogether, a quite safe little business. Even so safe as to be uninteresting—except as to the profits obtained.

But what a sudden change this year.

The veil of secrecy was lifted, the student court busied themselves, an ambitious prosecutor found the cases, the court met and heard and sentenced. The Cardinal printed the proceedings, not even neglecting as in other years to publish the names of the offenders. A new use for the term "pitiless publicity."

One of the convicted students, wondering at the sudden change from a lax tolerance to stern justice, appealed to the faculty committee on appeals and an interested student body waited to learn whether student government was to be upheld.

The answer came yesterday when the faculty committee unanimously approved the action taken by the student court.

By that action the status of the court has been raised definitely in the minds of all possible offenders of student law and ethics. A student court which is earnest in endeavor and just in jurisprudence and further backed by the faculty becomes something to be respected and feared.

That is the sort of harmony between faculty and students that The Cardinal is gratified to see.

VENTRILLOQUIST

Act Astounds Orpheum Fans

By K. I. P.

Dialect humor and some rather clever costumes greeted the Orpheum fans this week, until the end of the bill brought on the ventriloquist act that made the house gasp.

John Alden and Sandell Sisters

The voice and violin of John Alden pleased the audience quite as much as the fancy costumes and the dancing of the Sandell Sisters. Their number called "Orphans of the Storm" is quite a unique idea.

The Great Lester

A vantriloquist who can smoke, drink, and smile serenely while his puppet sobs, shrieks and sings in an unusually good voice made the listeners gasp.

Charlie Wark and Co. in "Babies"

A one act comedy featuring Jewish dialect and broken French shows us a discordant domestic scene. The end is quite exceptionally sentimental.

Weir and Crest

The Wop and the Yank composing a song, music, words and harmony brought a good laugh.

Vivian and Lenore

Attractive satin costumes, and the novelties of a street car scene and a baseball game gave the act some originality.

The Flying Nelsens

Aerobic act unusually enjoyable because of the safety spring places below to save the Nelsens if they should slip.

And this taken from the deet's Classified Ads:

FOR SALE cheap—14 volumes American Law and Procedure, 1 Blacks Law Dictionary, 2 volumes of Gillespies Higher surveying, Smiths Theory and Practice of surveying, 1 Kimball's College Physics, 1 West's Experiment Organic Chemistry, 1 Colt's Automatic Pistol Cal. 32.

Which we take it means that the man who put in the above ad has decided to go to PROM!!!

The editorial col. of the deet asks What is the most popular pastime for fussors, next to dancing?"

Ha! Ha! Ha! Three guesses.

You know we was talking to the editorial writer about this here subject the other day and we asked him what he did when he went out on a date and he says, "Oh, we talk about the weather for a while and then drift into a discussion of Einstein's Theory of Relativity and then slide over to Royce's Absolute, and about that time it's time to go home. What do you do when you go fussing?" And we says, "The same thing as you do, you darn liar!!!"

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THIS PICTURE???

(Bet this one fools you)

Imagine this if you can. We are behind the scenes at a production of some half-shot road company.

The leading lady, a long, tall, skinney drink of water has got her self a mad-on over something and she is sailing into one of the stage hands for no reason whatsoever.

The aforesaid stagehand tells her where to get herself off at in something like the following: "Well, you ain't so swell!??!??!?"—I've seen lots what's better than you!??*!?" and she says "Sir remember, I am the star." Now try to figure out what's wrong with this picture. (Answer at the bottom of this col.)

A FIERCE TRAGEDY

Oh golly, this is awful

"I only cut off a hundred heads yesterday!"

"Zatto? They must have been big fellas if that's all you got."

"Well, they was pretty big—but, the bigger they are the harder they fall!"

"Say, how would you like to cut off a few heads for me?"

"Fine! That's my business. I can cut off all the heads you want."

"Well, you might cut off a barrelful for me. You know we're pretty fond of cabbage!!!"

If any girl ever suspects you of loving her because she has money, tell her she's all wrong, that you love her on her own account!!!

"Ah, my time has come," murred the man to himself as his watch was delivered from the jewelers!!!

O'Hara Provides Airy Sweetmeats In Charming Play

By H. H. P.

Fiske O'Hara's famous smile as usual, filled the Parkway with an atmosphere of pleasantness last night, besides reforming a couple of criminals. The perennial favorite, in "Land O' Romance," another "new play by Anna Nichols," continues his claim to popularity. The play will be repeated tonight and twice Saturday.

A light, airy nothing, entirely sentimental and unaplastically romantic, is the play; also entirely pleasant, entirely in sympathy with the sweet lyrics sung by the star.

We like meat and potatoes to live on; we also like crackers and cheese; but we also must confess a failing for sherbert and other sweets of scant substance.

Though lacking the substance of serious drama, Mr. O'Hara's plays satisfy the sweet tooth common to most theater goers.

Eighteenth century costumes, coupled with tasteful sets and lighting, add materially to the atmosphere of the production; and the supporting company is excellent.

Especially do we like the work of Pat Clary (or Mrs. O'Hara) whose pert personality supplies the humor as well as the romance. As the pickpocket waif in tattered coat and breeches, whom the handsome hero unceremoniously adopts, she keeps things interesting for everybody; and her rhythmic exuberance makes her a most delightful foil for her husband's songs, those simple sentimental airs which everybody likes if he isn't too highbrow.

Emmy Knill, in the character role of "Granny", merits her bouquet—for her clever acting as well as for the humorously human part she plays.

But why waste space in description? See the show. You'll like it. It's a good bet for fussing.

Incidentally, Mrs. Minnie Madern Fiske is booked for a week from Saturday in "The Last Card." We feel sorry that she is on the boards for only one day; for many are likely to lack tickets.

SCHOOLS OPEN MEETING HERE

Delegates From Normals of 8 States Discuss
Teaching

Nearly 30 delegates from eight states and the District of Columbia convened at the university yesterday for the first day of a three-day conference of the schools of the Mississippi valley which are engaged in training teachers of manual arts and industrial education.

Morning and afternoon meetings were held in the regents's room of the Administration building, and the evening session convened in the Hearing room of the state capitol.

Determine Topics

"The topics, selected from the choice of the men who are actually engaged in the vocational training of teachers for manual arts and vocational work are determined finally by correspondin" with each representative previous to the convocation and learning what interests and ideas he wishes to discuss at the convention," William T. Bowden of the United States bureau of education and chairman of the convocation declared yesterday.

"Our conference is different from any other in that one man presents a topic with all the points that he wishes to make. We then discuss this particular subject to the finish during one session. One topic only is considered at each session."

Mississippi Valley States

The states represented include those of the upper Mississippi valley, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Ohio and Wisconsin.

Addressing the opening session yesterday morning, Major E. A. Fitzpatrick, secretary of the Wisconsin state board of education spoke of the dual control of education in Wisconsin and expressed the belief that the vocational schools of the state have less power to meet the definite problems in training teachers.

Discussions will center today around "Progress in the development of plans for training of teachers," with Prof. Ira S. Griffith,

FORENSIC BOARD MAY ESTABLISH DEBATE SOCIETY

The movement to establish a chapter of a national debating or literary society at Wisconsin was discussed at the regular meeting of the Forensic board yesterday afternoon. A resolution was made to obtain more facts concerning the national organization before any definite policy is adopted.

A committee was appointed and the first definite action was taken toward establishing the proposed point system by which the six literary societies are to compete for an annually awarded prize.

According to plans, the women's groups will be separate from the men's organizations because of the lack of mutual activities between the two groups.

The points are to be awarded on a basis of the joint debate, Agric "Hill" debate, representatives on intercollegiate debate teams, sophomore semi-public debates and representatives in the N. O. L.

Banquet Marks Third Day of Wisconsin Fruit Show

Today marks the third day of the annual convention and fruit show of the Wisconsin State Horticultural society at the state capitol.

The dozen or more varieties of apples line the walls of the rotunda. One interesting display which has attracted considerable attention, was grown in the vicinity of Madison. The beauty of the display is enhanced by the flowers which help to decorate the rotunda.

A convention banquet was held last night at the Capital hotel. A talk on "The Spirit of the Middle West", by Prof. J. C. Blair of Illinois will close the convention today.

KLAN WITNESS GUARDS LIST

Names Only Skipwith as Exalted Cyclops of Order

BASTROP, La.—Fred Higgenbotham, who declared himself a member of the Ku Klux Klan, a charter member, and still a member, asserted on the witness stand today at the open hearing inquiry into hooded band activities in Morehouse and the slaying of Watt Daniel and Thomas Richard, that although he attended meetings of the Klan he could name but one official, Capt. Skipwith. Skipwith is exalted cyclops of the Morehouse Parish Klan.

Higgenbotham declared the last meeting of the Morehouse Klan he attended was held in the Parish court house. He could not remember who was at the meeting other than Skipwith and L. L. Home.

Questioning as to Klan affairs brought repeated declarations from the witnesses he knew nothing of the business of the Parish Klan.

Higgenbotham was mentioned by Harry Neelis, youthful automobile salesman who testified yesterday, as one who seemed active in carrying messages between men who took part in the kidnapping of Richard on Aug. 17 or 18, last—when he was taken into the woods and questioned but later released.

Higgenbotham denied he conversed with Neelis at that time to the extent stated by Neelis, and asserted that he, too, had been held up by the black hooded band and that his reason for being in the vicinity was that he was on his way from Bastrop to Mer Rouge too by an automobile.

"Do you approve of what happened to Daniel and Richard?" Higgenbotham was asked.

He replied he did not.

Higgenbotham, who operates service cars between the towns in this section was questioned at length as to several recent trips and the identity of his fares. He declared the men he transported, and whose identity states attorney seemed anxious to learn, were strangers to him. Higgenbotham was asked the direct question as to whether he did not go out on the Mer Rouge-Bastrop road at the time Richard was held up, to talk with the men engaged in the hold-up.

"I did not," Higgenbotham said.

FRATS DIVIDED ON EXTENDING RUSHING SEASON

Sentiment among the fraternities seems to be quite evenly divided on the prospect of a lengthened rushing season at the beginning of year, according to George Parker, '23, a member of the committee.

The committee as yet has not been able to ascertain definitely what the majority of the organizations consider an adequate rushing period. Some of the fraternities have gone so far as to agitate postponing all rushing until the beginning of the second semester.

Second semester rushing has been tried out in some schools in the West.

M. A. Karls, east side merchant, was reported to be very much improved at his home, 1941 Hudson ave., today. Mr. Karls was taken seriously ill last Sunday.

whether he did not go out on the Mer Rouge-Bastrop road at the time Richard was held up, to talk with the men engaged in the hold-up.

"I did not," Higgenbotham said.

Penn Coach to Introduce Co-operation of Pressmen

Co-operation between coach and newspaper men will be the innovation introduced by Coach Lou Young, Penn State's 1923 grid instructor. Coach Young says he believes that the journalists who are in touch with the alumni and student body can be of a great help to the coach in rounding out his work. He feels that the men who keep the public posted should have something to say.

GRAD'S DUTY IS TOLD AT CONVO

President of Carbine Company Urges Ideal of Service For Students

That the university graduate has a distinct job of solving the problems of the day was the declaration of A. R. Brunker, president of the Liquid Carbine company, who spoke at a commerce convocation yesterday afternoon.

"The university graduate must get away from the tendency towards greed and selfishness, and learn to exercise true service without a high financial remuneration," he declared. "The reason for a great deal of criticism in the world today is the ignorance on the part of the critics of the real problems confronting us."

Mr. Brunker was a former regent of the University of Pennsylvania for many years. He has always manifested keen interest in the problems of students. The Commerce club entertained him at dinner in the Woman's building last night. He also delivered a speech before the Rotary club here.

FROSH TO MIX AT 'GOOLASH' IN GYM TONIGHT

A definition of the word "goolash" cannot be found in the dictionary but a meaning will be given it at the "Frosh Goolash" mixer tonight at the Lathrop gymnasium, according to Russell Gage '26, in charge of the affair.

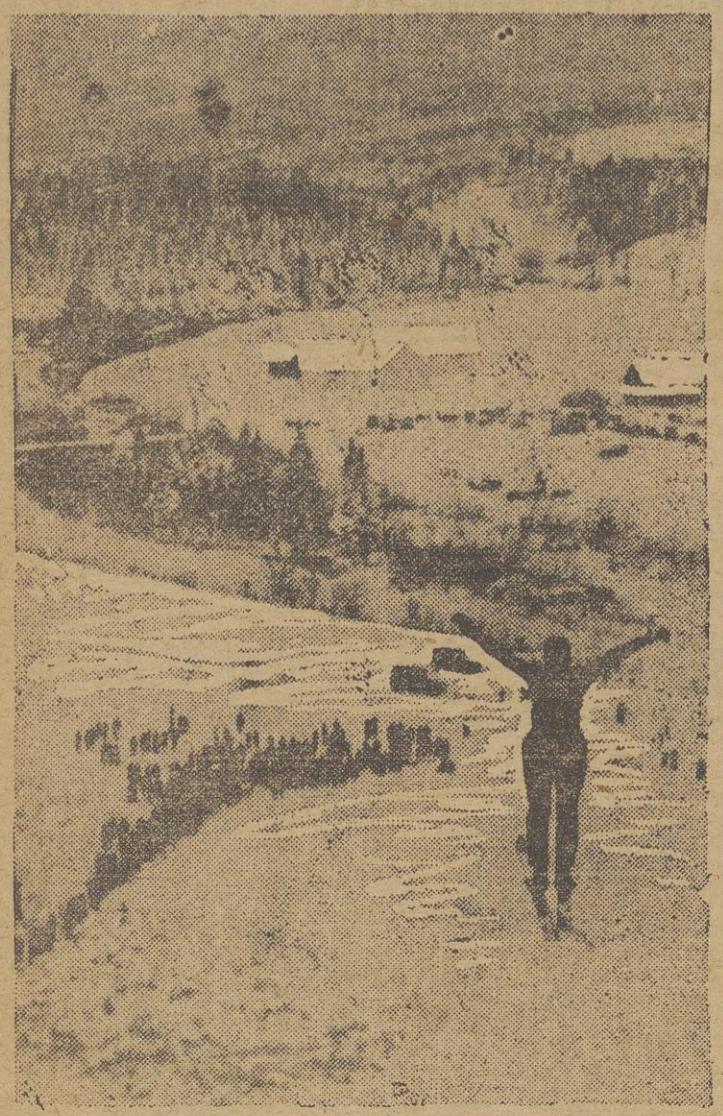

The dance will be the first of a series of freshman dances and parties. Plans for the others will be based on the success of this one, and all members of the class are urged by the chairman to turn out.

Present plans are to accommodate 300. Tickets which are on sale by members of the class will cost 50 cents. Music will begin at 9 o'clock and will be furnished by "Duke" Dorsey's orchestra.

Schools Close Friday In Honor of Baillie

Public schools of the city will be closed Friday in honor of E. T. Baillie for years a member of the board of education.

T. J. Frost of Dartmouth, in a remarkable jump.

German gliders have nothing on T. J. Frost of Dartmouth when it comes to sailing gracefully through the air. Give Frost a pair of skis, a hill high and steep and he'll glide with the best of them. LEGISLATURE GIVES USE OF CAPITOL

Senator Huber. Wanzer has supported such inexpensive functions as the ski tournament which will be held on February 3, has delayed music contracts in search of reasonable bids, declared himself against flowers and favors for prom, advocated economic fraternity prom parties and cut the budgets of practically every committee.

"I was unpleasantly surprised to find that opposition at the capitol has been encouraged by some few students at the university who have been working among the legislators during the past few days," Wanzer said last night. "When we approached the legislators, we found that they had been visited already by a few who declared that they had the backing of a majority of the students who did not wish to see the prom in the capitol.

"Some of them even said that most students were opposed to any sort of a prom. Others advanced charges of immorality at prom. I couldn't appreciate their attitude at all."

"Even Assemblyman Freehoff notified me in advance that he would submit a bill in opposition to a capitol prom. Why couldn't these few students have done it openly and come to me with their troubles. We are glad to meet any objections which may arise. Prom is not and never has approached the immoral."

The students of the university will be under the watchful eyes of the legislature at prom and will be held responsible in future years for every false move, Senator Huber told Chairman Wanzer.

"We are not working with immediate aims only in view," Wanzer said. "We have the interests of every future prom and every junior class at heart. There will be nothing objectionable at prom. We appreciate the kindness of the legislature and will prove it by our actions."

Germans Recall Envoy
PARIS—Dr. Wilhelm Mayer, the German ambassador to France, left Paris for Berlin at noon today.

When Premier Poincare started his explanation in the chamber of deputies of the government's action in the Ruhr valley, he was interrupted frequently by Marcel Cachin, communist deputy. These inter-deputies of the right and center:

"Put the traitor out."

Premier Poincare in his statement on the steps being taken by France in the Ruhr district, said the government's plans provided for the eventual occupation of Bochum "if Germany fails to carry out the French demands."

The occupation of Bochum, which is the site of the iron and steel works of Hugo Stinnes, is said to be set for Saturday, although this is not officially confirmed.

M. Poincare was cheered for fully five minutes by a crowded chamber. All the deputies with the exception of the communists, rose to their feet to honor him, and many crowded to the open space before the rostrum to shake his hand. He made no appeal for sympathy nor effort at eloquence as he began his speech.

"If Germany," he said, "would make a serious appeal to the industrial interests of Germany, she would have no need for a moratorium.

"After having been led from conference to conference, and after misunderstanding after misunderstanding, where we felt we were being led into inextricable complications and there was nothing we could do but watch our interests in Germany.

"That is what we are going to do for the present. We may be obliged to resort to constraint in case Germany remains unyielding. We have been patient too long but we wanted first to exhaust every means of compromise and persuasion.

"We have made every concession compatible with our own situation. Unfortunately we have been unable to agree with our allies, the British."

No Lectures But Daily Conferences

At Babson Institute they make a business of teaching business to college trained men who wish to fill positions of responsibility and and trust without spending years at routine work.

Standard office equipment throughout. No classes or lectures, but a business schedule of work from 8:30 to 5:00 o'clock, including daily conferences directed by men with years of business experience, and discussions with active factory and office executives at their plants. This removes the instruction from the hypothetical stage and helps the student to look at things in the same light as a man actually engaged in business.

Babson Institute, an educational institution endowed for the purpose of fitting men for executive responsibilities, invites you to send for the booklet, "Training for Business Leadership." Write today.
