STUDENT LIFE SURVEYED BY QUESTIONNAIRE

Commerce Mag Distributes
Thousands of Blanks—
Will Print Analysis of Findings

A survey to determine the life and interests of typical freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior students at the University of Wisconsin is being conducted by the Commerce magazine by means of the distribution yesterday and today of several thousand questionnaires. The results of the survey will be published in a feature article in the January number of the magazine.

Ask Pointed Questions
How late do you study at night? Do you ever feel blue? A job in prospect? Do you aim to be famous? Believe co-education is a good thing? Could you speak before a large audience? Do you favor a Yale-Wisconsin game? What magazines do you read? How many students at the university do you know? These are some of the questions asked in the questionnaires. Two thousand of the most complete sets of questions will be used in constructing the average student type. More than 1,400 answers are expected tomorrow.

"The student body is responding well to our survey," said Humphrey E. Desmond '22, editor of the Commerce magazine. "Few attempts at humor in answering the questions are being made."

Only one student in 50 reads the Atlantic monthly, one in six the Cosmopolitan, one in four the American, but all students read the Saturday Evening Post, according to the results of the undertaking so far.

Good Analysis Expected
An accurate analysis of student types will be obtained, in the opinion of Desmond who is conducting the survey with Reginald Garstang '22, also of the Commerce magazine staff. A reprint of 1,500 copies of the article to appear in the magazine will be ordered.

Those who have not been approached may get blanks from Desmond or at the registrar's office. Two questions have been added to the list: How soon do you expect to get married? and How much money should a man have to marry?

JOURNALISTS GO TO AMES MEET

Charles P. MacInnis '22, and Hickman Powell '23, leave today for Ames, Iowa, where they will represent Wisconsin at the seventh annual convention of Sigma Delta Chi, national honorary and professional journalistic fraternity. The convention will be held on December 8, 9, and 10. Delegates will be entertained by the fraternities of Iowa State college.

The convention will consist of business sessions, a talk by Clarence W. Barron, who controls the Wall Street Journal, and a reunion of alumni members. Copies of campus publications from all the schools represented will appear on exhibit during the sessions.

Petitions for the granting of chapters of Sigma Delta Chi to three schools will be considered at the meetings. The three schools are the Medill school at Northwestern university, the University of Washington, and the University of North Dakota.

Lawrence W. Murphy '21, of Wisconsin, now heads the journalism department at North Dakota,

First Directories Distributed Today

A small supply of directories was received at the registrar's office yesterday afternoon and will be distributed to classes reciting in 165 Bascom hall today. An additional supply is expected in time for distribution in 165 Bascom hall Thursday.

Hicks Speaks Today On Industry Tasks

C. J. Hicks, assistant to the president of the Standard Oil company, will speak this afternoon at 4:30 in 165 Bascom hall under the auspices of the Economics department. He will discuss the problem of "Co-operation in Industry."

Mr. Hicks is primarily noted for the great work he has accomplished in promoting industrial representation plans with the International Harvester company, the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, and the Standard Oil company.

In the light of modern labor situations the Economics department feels that Mr. Hicks' talk should interest every student.

OFFER COURSE IN HUMANITIES

Students May Elect Solely Cultural Courses Under
New Plan

A course in humanities leading to the degree of bachelor of arts has been instituted at the University of Wisconsin. The course is for the benefit of students who may desire to devote a considerable part of their college work to non-professional, purely cultural development, either for its own sake, or as a general preparation for specialized study.

A convocation to be held January 15 is being planned by the committee in charge of the course for the purpose of explaining it to the students. Prof. Carl Russell Fish, chairman of the committee, will preside. Sterling Tracy '22, will be one of the speakers.

Election Open to All
The course offers substantial introduction to the four great fields of learning: language and literature, history, science, philosophy and mathematics. Elections in the course are open to students now in the university as well as to incoming students. Those enrolled in the course may take no electives from professional courses, except those required for the teachers certificates.

"The majority of the faculty considers it the best way a student can spend four college years, if he does not have to make any provision for making a living after leaving school," said Professor Fish yesterday.

Y. W. C. A. Campaign Reaches $1,425 Mark

About $1,425 have been subscribed in the Y. W. C. A. campaign drive for $2,500, leaving $1,000 still to be raised. An effort is being made to reach every girl in the university. Those who are not at home when solicited are asked to call at the Y. W. C. A. office in Lathrop and volunteer their subscriptions.

Buxton Calls For Y. M. Drive Reports

A plea was made yesterday by James Buxton '22, general chairman of the Y. M. C. A. financial drive, to all the canvassers to turn in their reports.

MONOLOGUE IS PURNELL'S ACT

FACULTY TAKES PART IN LIBRARY TROUPE READING

The Little Theater troupe of the Wisconsin Library school will give a dramatic reading under the direction of Miss M. E. Hazeltine, preceptress of the Library school, Monday evening, Dec. 12, at 8 o'clock in Lathrop hall.

Among the members of the troupe who will appear in the reading are: Misses Anne Birge and Sarah Bascom; the Mesdames C. R. Fish, J. Jastrow, A. Beatty, H. P. Greeley, and W. T. Root; Deans F. W. Roe, S. H. Goodnight, Harry Glicksman; Professors E. A. Gilmore, and C. R. Fish; William Haake, Rev. N. C. Kimball, Dr. H. P. Greeley and Justice M. B. Rosenberry.

"Early Ohio and Rhode Island Reds," by Mary K. Reely, member of the Wisconsin Library commission, will be one of the plays read. This play won first prize in the Minneapolis Woman's club contest last year. "A Window to the South," also by Miss Reely, and "The Will," by James Barrie, will be given.

The following committees are in charge: Reba Hayden '22, chairman of the ushering committee composed of 12 Keystone girls, Dora V. Ingram, chairman of six girls from the Charter who will act as the door committee, Anita Schroeder '23, chairman of the property committee, and Mrs. William Scott, in charge of the sale of tickets.

Final Orders Taken For Rings Tomorrow

Tomorrow will be the last chance for seniors to order Blue Dragon rings. The salesman will be in Lathrop hall from 9 o'clock until 12 and from 1 o'clock until 4:30 to receive orders for rings at prices of $8.40 or $10. Rings ordered later will be $14 and $15.

"Blue Dragon rings are a Wisconsin tradition and we want all the seniors to keep it up. The sale has been going very well so far, but we want all those who have not taken advantage of the opportunity to try to do so immediately," said Louise Fritsche '22, who has charge of the sale.

PROM SPEAKERS AID MEN GROUPS

In an effort to make the 1923 Prom a representative affair the committee on men's arrangements has outlined a program of speakers to talk to non-fraternity groups and organizations in order to aid them in making Prom preparations. The committee will meet today at 4 o'clock in the Green room of the Y. M. C. A.

"The men's arrangements committee is organized solely to help persons who will not attend prom with any of the social organizations in making plans and arrangements. The committee is able to furnish information about any of the Prom activities and will be glad to co-operate with those who will call on us," said Dan O'Neil '23, chairman of the committee. O'Neil may be reached at Fairchild 1275.

The committee will have men speak this week to various groups in order to interest them in Prom and to offer their services.

The best thing about the Delta Gamma reception the other night was to see Miss Hooper whoop 'er up. Too bad there was no Miss Hitler there so we could see Miss Hitler hit or miss.

At their reception, the Gam This provided amusement in the form of Olivia Fentress, who appeared costumed in an attractive pair of earrings.

DAY PROFUNDEES

Out of this mess of cakes and tea,
Of open house—a deadly toll
I pay. I thank the gods that be
For my unconquerable soul.

In the fell clutch of circumstance
Where mid-semester rudely crowd
My dates and haunt me at the dance,
My head is bloody but unbowed....

Come let me drink; it's growing late,
Prince Bacchus, let me drain your bowl,
Then I'll be master of my fate,
I'll be the Captain of my Soul.

SEVEN GUILTY OF DISHONESTY

Faculty Discipline Committee Sentences Students For
Cheating in Exams

The faculty committee on Discipline, Prof. George Wagner, chairman, has taken the following actions since its last report in November.

A sophomore in the Chemistry course was found guilty of dishonesty in Chemistry 130. His actions subsequent to detection were exceedingly shifty. He had been reported to the committee year before last, but dismissed for lack of conclusive evidence. Last year he was again reported and convicted. He is therefore indefinitely suspended from the university.

A freshman in Letters and Science found guilty of dishonesty in Comparative Literature 7, must do five extra credits toward graduation, and his present probation is extended to the end of the year.

A freshman in Letters and Science found guilty of dishonesty in Geology 1, must do five extra credits toward graduation, and is placed on probation to the end of the semester.

A junior in Letters and Science was found guilty of gross dishonesty in Chemistry 130. There was official information before the committee that he had been previously punished by suspension for a similar offense in another college. He is suspended indefinitely.

A girl, Letters and Science, found guilty of dishonesty in English 1a, must do five extra credits toward graduation, and is placed on probation to the end of the semester.

A girl, Letters and Science, was found guilty of gross dishonesty in English 30. She indulged in persistent falsehood during examination of the case. She is therefore suspended indefinitely.

A freshman in Journalism, found guilty of dishonesty in Zoology 1a, must do ten extra credits toward graduation, and is placed on probation to the end of the semester.

Italian Youths to Get Holiday Frolic

A Christmas celebration in the form of a party for Italian youngsters will change materially the aspect of the Y. M. C. A. parlors on December 18 when Badger club expects to bring true the dreams of certain boys and girls who otherwise will be without a holiday frolic.

Final arrangements for the coming entertainment were made at a committee meeting of the club members on Sunday evening. Each person was given the name and address of his particular charge whom he will entertain.

Glee Club Gives First Sing Dec. 16

The University of Wisconsin Glee club will give its first concert on December 16 at the new Parkway theater.

The personnel of the club this year has been increased to 44 because of the large number of applicants. Howard Sharp '22 is president of the club.

AT THE GRAND

It is an interesting co-incidence that the most conscientious artist who ever acted on the stage, and the most conscientious actor on the screen, have both appeared in "A Midnight Bell," the Charles Ray picture showing at the Grand. Maude Adams, in her early professional career, was working for Daniel Frohman for $35 a week when "A Midnight Bell" was produced and Mr. Frohman released her so she could appear in the Hoyt play with her mother. This was about 30 years ago. Now Charles Ray is staring in a screen version of the famous old Hoyt play. Both Miss Adams and Mr. Ray think that the stage and screen should be treated as works of art and both of them devote their best thoughts to their art.

Another of the old time popular stage successes has been adapted to the screen and will be seen in Madison when "Salvation Nell" comes to the Grand tomorrow. Pauline Starke will be seen in the role made famous by Mrs. Fiske.

FROSH BATTLE FOR NEAR TIE WITH VARSITY

Open Practice Again Thursday—Probable Lineup Given

The Varsity basketball squad worked out in a most satisfactory manner yesterday afternoon against the freshman team in the second open practice of the week.

While no official score was kept, the frosh put up a good game and kept Meanwell's men to a narrow margin. The scrimmage was continued for over an hour, and was one of the stiffest workouts given the team this year.

On Thursday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, another open practice will be held. Doctor Meanwell feels that one of the most pressing needs of the team at the present time is to become accustomed to playing in the presence of a crowd. He, accordingly, arranged three practices this week to which the public was invited.

Want More at Practice

Due to insufficient publicity, the attendance at the first two of the open practices was limited, and their purpose was not accomplished. It is hoped that several hundred people will witness the practice on Thursday, as it will be the last big workout for the team before they go into the Michigan Aggie game on Saturday.

The performance of the team is improving with each practice, and Doctor Meanwell should be able to send a fairly smoothly working machine into the game on Saturday. It is now possible to forecast what the lineup for the opening game will be. The three veterans, Ceaser, Taylor, and Williams, have their positions cinched and are already traveling at a good pace. Gibson is fitting into the play rapidly, and he will undoubtedly be given his initial test in this week's game. Tebell does not seem to have any dangerous competitors for the back guard job, and will probably be stationed there, at least in the opening tilt.

No Dope on Aggies

There is little advanced dope as to the strength of the Aggies this year. They are always a strong aggregation, however, and there is no question but that they will offer the Badgers as strong opposition as will any team on the preliminary schedule.

With the exception of Taylor, the Badgers do not give indications of being particularly good shots. Taylor was one of the highest scorers in the conference a year ago, and his eye appears to be even more accurate this season. Ceaser's shooting is improving, but Duke's long suite has always been his consistent teamplay. Much of the success of the team will depend on the manner in which the new center performs on the offense. Gibson seems to have a fairly good eye at short range, which is a good qualification for a center.

Champ Runner Dies With Heart Disease

Charles H. Kilpatrick, former graduate of the Wisconsin athletic department and holder of the world's championship as a half-mile, died on Monday after he had been stricken with heart disease on a train. He was riding to work from his home in Fordham, N. Y. Kilpatrick was 47 years old.

From 1900 to 1905, the champion runner was connected with the university athletic department. Previously as a freshman at Union college, he had won the intercollegiate half mile championship, and as a member of the New York A. C., he won the National A. A. U. and Canadian titles. In 1895 Kilpatrick won the world's championship and established a record of 1 minute 25.2 seconds which stood until beaten by "Red" Meredith in 1916.

BASKET GAME AT BEST IN WEST; EVANS FROWNS ON FOUL SYSTEM

Preparations are going forward in all parts of the country for what promises to be one of the greatest basketball seasons since the beginning of the game. Especially is this true in respect to the West and Midwest.

In a recent article, Billy Evans, noted sport writer, made the statement that basketball, due to the large number of fouls called, was not as popular a game as it might be. He backed up his statement by citing the case of Penn winning the eastern championship when it had actually been outscored in four games.

However much this may be true in the East, it is hardly applicable here. The game is gaining popularity at a tremendous rate and in many cases is rivalling football in the amount of interest shown. The Big Ten conference proves it. Basketball is the major sport at Indiana, and larger crowds are in attendance at the games there than at the gridiron contests.

It is true that in the East the game is handled in an inefficient manner. Non-basketball men are in charge of the game there. A second reason for lack of eastern interest is the limited space in gym-years ago when the great crowds of nasiums. They were, in a majority of cases, built a great many today were unthought of. The old Harvard gym, for instance, accommodates only 600 persons.

Evans was right when he stated that there is "too much whistle" in the East. Officials there make it an "old ladies' game," the whistle being blown so much that a good display of teamwork is impossible. In a regular game, such as may be seen here at Wisconsin, there is never seen any such stalling and slowing up of play as was seen done by the Illinois and Michigan football teams this fall.

Basketball is certainly at its best in the West. The only thing that is possibly hindering the popularity of the game is the lack of facilities to handle the crowds. The new Patten gym at Northwestern accommodates 4,500 people, and is always sold out days ahead of a game, despite the fact that the Purple are not ordinarily a winning team. Chicago and Illinois, who can accommodate 3,300 and 5,500 spectators, respectively, also find their seating space sadly inadequate. At Wisconsin, the seating capacity is limited to 2,500.

Four Teams Stay In Soccer Compet; Games Announced

Four teams remain in the race for the soccer championship. They are the Skull and Cross Bones, Horse Shoes, Red Diamonds, and Black Circles.

These four teams will play off their remaining games this week. The Skull and Cross Bones will play the Horse Shoes on Wednesday at 4:30, and the Red Diamonds will meet the Black Circles at the same hour on Thursday. Both these games are in the semi-final series. The winners of these two games will compete in the final game on Saturday at 2:30.

The line-ups of the four remaining teams have been announced. Skull and Cross Bones has Banner, captain, Swift, Baldwin, Harrington, Perry, Willard, Aberg, Bruske, Hindes, Giles, Donavan, and Isaacson.

The men who compose the Horse Shoes team are as follows: Matteson, captain, Peterson, Satter, Thompson, Viste, Shuman, Klos, Pfeifer, Schackel, Gleason, Clemens, Steddum, and Von Der Merve. The personnel of the Red Diamond team is: Shimansky, captain, Marx, Hitchie, Forbes, Sinclair, Boeckh, Rieck, Handberk, Franks, Coat, Cutts, and Mautz.

The Black Circle outfit is composed of these men: Houghton, captain, Bertolet, Verbrick, Crosby, Ross, Bond, Brusewitz, Noer, D. Jones, and J. Smith.

The captains of these four teams are instructed to see that every man on their teams is present at the matches scheduled for this week.

The results of the games played last week are as follows: Skull and Cross Bones 2, Spades 0; Horse Shoes 2, Red Wings 0; Red Diamonds 2, Crescents 0; Black Circles 1, Red Dominoes 0.

Great Track Record By South African Lad

South Africa has developed another schoolboy athlete in L. B. B. Betts, whose performance early last month at the Jeppe high school meets, and school contests suggest that he may better the records of Reggie E. Walker and B. G. D. Rudd, both of whom are credited with exceptional performances as schoolboys. Betts, a lithe and clean limbed youth of 17 won the 100, 440 and 880 yards at Jeppe school. In the quarter he won his preliminary in 50.7-8 seconds, while in the final on the following day he covered the distance in 50 seconds, and won the 100 yards in 10 seconds. The half-mile was the next event and without retiring to the pavilion he went on to his mark and won from L. Phillips of Krugersdorp by 25 yards, who put up a record last year of 2 minutes 6 seconds.

Catholics Will Lose Eleven Grid Players

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—The fact that 13 University of Notre Dame football stars will say farewell to good old college days next June might be taken as an unlucky omen by some coaches, but Knute Rockne, who turns out the football teams at this school, is not abashed. To Rockne it simply means developing 13 more who are just as good. He may not be able to do it, but intends to try, he says. The baker's dozen to leave Notre Dame are Capt. Eddie Anderson, Buck Shaw, Hank Anderson, Roger Kiley, Johnny Mohardt, Chet Wynne, Jim Dooley, Glenn Carberry, Dan Coughlin, Jim Phelan, Earl Walsh, Harry Mehre, and Chet Grant.

DETROIT—Stanislaus Zbyszko, world's champion wrestler, defeated Giovanni Mazzen, Italian champion in straight falls.

CHICAGO—The annual meeting of the International Skating Union was set for Dec. 10, at Pittsburgh.

Zuppke machine next fall through graduation but the Illini should have a top-notch eleven with the many regulars and freshmen who will return.

GREEK FIVES TO PLAY GAMES IN EIGHT DIVISIONS

The executive committee for inter-fraternity basketball, divided the 38 teams into eight divisions, and discussed schedule plans at a meeting yesterday. The schedule for the first round of games will be published within a day or so.

It was found advisable to have smaller divisions, and so limit the number of games played by each team. The first two teams from each division will go into the semifinals.

The eight divisions are as follows:

1. Kappa Sigma, Psi Upsilon, Zeta Psi, Delta Chi, Sigma Chi.
2. Phi Sigma Kappa, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Sigma Phi, Pi Kappa Alpha, Alpha Gamma Rho.
3. Lambda Chi Alpha, Theta Delta Chi, Alpha Sigma Phi, Delta Upsilon.
4. Triangle, Phi Beta Pi, Phi Kappa Psi, Phi Sigma Delta, A. T. O.

Took Eleven Men to Beat Ohio, Says Bob

URBANA, Ill.—Although Illinois won but one Western conference football game during the 1921 season, Coach Bob Zuppke declares this year's team was the greatest he has had in his nearly 10 years' coaching at the university.

"I don't care what people think," Zuppke says, in his characteristic, vigorous way, "I consider this year's team my greatest because it has taught me that I can stand hard bumps."

Starting the season with a 14-2 defeat at the hands of Iowa, "Big Ten" champions, Illinois successively went down before Wisconsin, Michigan and Chicago. Then came the upset. The Illini had showed steady improvement all through the season but were never quite strong enough to beat their opponents, although Michigan won by a lone drop kick from Steketee's boot. In the last game of the season, at Columbus, Illinois took Ohio State into camp, 7 to 0, and earned the praise of football followers all over the country.

"At Ohio I said 'only 11 men will play—only a dead man comes off that field, and he would be ashamed to,' the little coach declared. And only 11 men did play—but that was enough to beat Ohio. Ten Illinois football players will be lost to the

PARKWAY ATTRACTIONS

The Daily Cardinal does not print the review of Parkway attractions because the management of that theater does not see fit to extend the usual courtesy of the press to its representatives. When this policy is changed, The Cardinal will be glad to furnish its readers with such information.

THE MAN WHO WORKS HIS WAY

HERE is something heroic about the man who works his way through school.

It is not possible for him to secure many of those hours of recreation which mean so much to the rest of us. He has no time to engage in extra-curricular activities. Often, in order to properly prepare his studies for the next day, he must burn the Tungstens past the midnight hour.

The man who works his way receives little of the campus glory that is the lot of his luckier classmates. He receives no hero-worship, no mention as a campus idol or "man about the college."

His studies and the work that he is doing to earn his way are practically his sole engagements. But if the truth were known he is probably securing a deeper and a wiser education than the rest. Living and mingling with the other students in the little college world that is so full of theories and unrealities, yet he can keep immune from the faculty touch of it.

The man who works his way through school meets the realities of the working world as well as the problems of the college student. He can see the college world from the outside in as well as from the inside out. He can sense as others cannot how much of college is true—how much is false. To him is given the advantage of mixing practice and theory. The value of perspective is his.

It is entirely probable that were he who works his way to tell us what his candid opinions are, he would bare for us some of those foolish pursuits that we now believe essential. He would show us the absurdity of following false gods and unworthy ideals. For any one who spends part of his time in working is bound to see with a clearer vision the panorama of college life. They have the opportunity of keeping in touch with the real and vital as well as with the theoretical and imaginative.

The difficulties daily met by the man who works his way are not of his own choosing. But in the end they are for his betterment. When college days are over he slides easily and naturally into the working world, the business world. For him there is no need for adjustment, nor time lost in forgetting the old life before beginning the new.

If he has missed in his college life much that would have been a pleasure, he has also escaped some of the effects. He may have lost something in a small way of the social and campus life, but he has gained a wealth of experience, of perspective, and of balance.

THE BALANCE OF POWER

AT any other time the world would have laughed at such preposterous demands. Preposterous because they come from a little nation of the yellow race and are indicated to the greatest nations of the world.

But Japan at present is listened to by the United States and the European Powers. She is given ear because of the strategic position this little island empire now holds. Japan now sits in the conference at Washington with perfect confidence that she hold the balance of power and of course the whip hand. She knows that as the world is weak, so is Japan strong. And now, with the greater nations torn and tired from war, is Japan's opportunity to make defiant demands.

Those demands include a 10-10-7 ratio of battleships between England, the United States, and Japan. If there is failure to provide such ratio, she demands an allegiance between these three powers. And in addition, she demands the colonization right in American territories and in the United States itself.

Japan claims that her lands are being overriden, that her population is increasing so fast that it will soon overcrowd her shores.

Is the rest of the world to blame for the crowded condition of Japan? Is that a reason why our lands of California, the Philippines, and Hawaii should be thrown over to possible and probable domination by the yellow and brown races?

Rather let Baron Kato's demand for a 10-10-7 ratio be secured than that the Pipponese colonization plans succeed. In that ratio there would be the possibility of alliance with England against the U. S., but in the colonization plan our doom is sure and Japan's ascendancy only a matter of time.

SELF-PROPELLED

Back in the days before the invention of the steam engine, the ocean-going ships were entirely dependent on the wind as a means of propulsion. If the wind failed, the vessels floated for days and even weeks before they could continue on their way. The crew was idle and the cargo, if perishable, would spoil.

How many of our people of today are like the sailboats of old? Instead of going out under their own steam to secure the best out of life, they wait for somebody to come along and push them into good fortune. While the natural talents lie dormant they wait for "luck" or "pull" or "influence" to take them ahead in the world. Few are ever raised above the average in the successes of life by mere "pull" alone.

Just as long as you are going ahead by your own courage and ability you are making progress, but once you wait for luck you are no longer dependable. Why wait for luck when the greatest progress can be made by going ahead under your own power?—Purdue Exponent.

IRISH AGREE TO TAKE OATH OF ALLEGIANCE

Text of Terms Published Yesterday in London

LONDON—The articles of agreement in the "treaty between Great Britain and Ireland" as the agreement reached last night is designated, provides in article IV that the oaths to be taken by the members of the parliament of the Irish free state shall be in the following form:

"I do solemnly swear true faith and allegiance to the constitution of the Irish Free State as by law established, and that I will be faithful to His Majesty King George V, and his heirs and successors by law, in virtue of the common citizenship of Ireland with Great Britain and her adherence to and membership of the group of nations forming the British commonwealth of nations."

Other of the articles are textually as follows:

"Article VII.—The government of the Irish free state shall afford to his majesty's imperial force (A) in time of peace such harbor and other facilities as are indicated in the annex hereto, or such other facilities as may from time to time be agreed between the British government and the government of the Irish free state; and (B) in time of war or of strained relations with a foreign power, such harbor and other facilities as the British government may require for the purpose of such defense as aforesaid."

"Article VIII.—With a view to securing observance of the principle of international limitation of armaments, if the government of the Irish free state establishes and maintains a military defense force the establishment thereof shall not exceed in size proportion of the military establishments maintained in Great Britain as that which the population of Ireland bears to the population of Great Britain."

70,000 Motor Vehicles Escape Tax in State

Approximately 70,000 motor vehicles in Wisconsin escaped taxation during the past year, according to a statement in the Good Roads magazine of the Good Roads Association of Wisconsin. Had this number been taxed an additional $700,000 would have been added to the treasury, the statement says. On local assessment rolls it says that 19,000 new cars were recorded than had obtained licenses from the state, and that 50,000 cars were purchased after May 1 when the tax rolls are completed and as a result escaped assessment.

Nearly 10 Millions in Security Issues Denied

Applications to issue securities in Wisconsin amounting to $9,941,528 were denied by the securities division of the railroad commission during the past year or withdrawn by applying companies after learning of Wisconsin requirements, its annual report made today, shows. Many of the applicants were prepared to institute fraudulent schemes on the people of Wisconsin, had their application been granted, the commission says. Denials totalled $7,013,578 of securities which would have been issued in the state had not the securities division interfered. The balance of $2,927,950 represented withdrawals made by companies which proposed to enter the state but drew out when the requirements were learned. The total number of applications filed during the year was 684, with 172 pending on Jan. 1, 1921. This is a reduction over the previous year. Out of the total applications 651 permits were issued, and 125 denied or withdrawn.

APPRECIATION OF RALPH YEWDALE

Princeton, New Jersey,
Nov. 30, 1921.

Editor Daily Cardinal:

I have just learned of the sudden accidental death of your brilliant young historical scholar, Ralph Bailey Yewdale.

He was one of the most lovable, noble, and brilliant young men I have ever known, and I count it a high honor to have been associated with him almost continuously during the two years he held the Proctor fellowship in history in our Graduate college. If ever a man deserved his rapid advance in scholarly fame, it was he. The loss to historical studies is very severe, and perhaps irreparable,—for such men come on but rarely.

But I love to think most, not of what he knew, but of what he was—a pure, high-souled lover of truth, a winning, modest comrade, gentle as a woman, brave as a hero.

Ever sincerely yours,
ANDREW F. WEST.

Middle Western Circuit Helped by Football Meetings

With most of the colleges of four states who have been mentioned as prospects for a berth in the embryo mid-west athletic conference meeting for the first time on the gridiron, or renewing old-time athletic negotiations, much has been accomplished this fall in the establishment of harmonious relations between the foremost colleges of the upper Mississippi valley and the ultimate formation of such a circuit.

While the conference is a long way from formal establishment, it is thought that a meeting of the representatives from Hamline, Carleton, Lawrence, Beloit, Knox, Cornell, and Coe which will convene in Chicago during the Christmas holidays, may accomplish much in clearing away some of the difficulties that obstruct the erection of a conference.

It will be remembered that a conference was seriously discussed at a meeting in Chicago at the same time last year. This meeting resulted in an inter-state track meet on Coe field last spring.

Conflicting eligibility and residence laws of the different colleges concerned, and the distance for the competing teams to travel, are the chief obstacles which must be reduced before any actual formation can be accomplished, authorities here say.

Acquaintance between several of the schools on the gridiron was effected this fall by games between some of the representatives. Beloit, Knox, and Carleton battled among themselves while Coe played Knox, and engages Cornell tomorrow. Hamline also played Cornell at Mount Vernon early in the season. With a game scheduled between Lawrence and Beloit to be played soon, the circuit is complete and relations established between most of the prospective conference members.

That Madison's 1921 tax rate will be 23½ mills is almost a certainty, it was declared today by Ald. John Stock, chairman of the council finance committee. This is just one mill higher than last year.

The 1922 budget for the city of Madison will probably be placed in the hands of the common council for adoption tomorrow night, it was learned this morning. The council members will meet with the committee tonight, and it is expected to complete the survey. If this is possible, the budget will go to the council at a special meeting Wednesday night following the regular meeting of the claims committee.

Reading Is Better Than Rummaging

When you go to buy a pair of boots, a malted milk, or a party dress, do you know what you want? Or do you just take "pot luck?"

SUPREME COURT SHOOTS QUERIES AT OLBRICH

Local Attorney Argues Before Court on Rail- road Question

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Rate provisions of the Esch-Cummins law were assailed here by M. B. Olbrich in a brilliant argument commenced Monday and continued Tuesday before the supreme court in a suit brought in behalf of the Wisconsin railroad commission and commissions of other states to restore state control of intrastate rates.

Appearing as special counsel for the state of Wisconsin, Olbrich for two hours late Monday presented an analysis of section 15 of the act under which interstate commerce commission invaded the rights of states to regulate rates within their own boundaries. Mr. Olbrich based his argument on the proposition that congress had not expressly empowered the commission to boost rates within the state in order to pay a guaranteed return of six per cent on fraudulent and fictitious valuation claimed by railroads.

"Such a scheme is revolutionary and inconsistent with all the traditions of American government," said Olbrich. "It might be suited perhaps to the regulation of captured provinces but is hardly to be reconciled with a government of the United States."

Lomax Tells How Cowboy Used Song

"Songs of whiskey, songs of their home, their mothers, their sweethearts, songs of heroes such as Sam Bass, Jesse James, and Cole Younger, songs of old world Ballads, of mix-ups with the law, and songs of the thought of death were some of the songs that the cowboy sang as he rode over the great wide western plains," said Professor Lomax of the University of Texas in an address given by the Forensic board at Bascom hall last night.

"These songs," he said, "were not written and published like the songs we sing, but were passed along from place to place by the cowboys as they led their cattle 'up the trail' to the prairies of Montana and the Dakotas."

During the address Professor Lomax sang several cowboy songs and the whole audience united in singing the chorus.

Professor Lomax was born in Mississippi, but in his youth his parents moved to the frontier of Texas where he was brought up and sent to school, and where he became acquainted with the cowboys, and learned their songs. He used some of them at Harvard, and they aroused such great interest that he began to make a collection of them which he has published in book form.

Severson Law Works, Dry Commissioner Says

The first six months' operation of the new Severson prohibition law in Wisconsin has proved its efficacy as an enforcement measure, in the opinion of W. Stanley Smith, prohibition commissioner. Since enactment of the law, arrests and fines have more than doubled, and with its application continually becoming more stringent through cooperation of federal and local officials, Mr. Smith believes that the illicit traffic in liquor in Wisconsin is rapidly being wiped out. The only court attack on the statute, affecting its stringent licensing and regulatory provisions resulted in a lower court decision upholding the law in every contested particular. Appeal has been taken to the Supreme court. District attorneys and local police officers as said by Mr. Smith to have given thorough cooperation in enforcing provisions of the statute. Courts, he believes, are also giving larger fines and often imposing jail sentences on violators.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Singing, dancing, comedy, musical numbers, juggling and acrobatic stunts make up the vaudeville offering for the first three days of this week. Joe Thomas' Sax-o-tette, featuring five men, who play both the cornet and saxophone and Miss Jeanne Mai, singer and dancer, are the headliners in a very nifty musical offering. Helen Higgins and Betty Braun, with Horace Bentley at the piano offer a very pretty routine of dancing numbers, featuring beautiful costumes and their own stage setting. George Morton, the Black Dot, has a line of stories, some songs, a few fancy steps and numbers on the ukelele. One of the best casting acts seen here in a long time is the offering of the Four Lamys, while Raines and Avery offer a series of patter and musical numbers and Ethel and Ward Shattuck, open the show with juggling features. There will be three performances today, matinee at 3 p. m.

Gardner and company in a comedy of today "No Trespassing," and Adelaide Bell, Danseuse Extraordinary, late of the Ziegfeld Midnight Frolics.
