Medtronic... leading the way to man's heart.

Medtronic... a name synonymous with technological advancement in heart care through the years. A name that means superb craftsmanship and superior reliability in applied biomedical engineering today. A name that stands for commitment to excellence in cardiac screening, diagnosis, treatment and rehabilitation.

Medtronic helps you help the heart patient with a broad spectrum of outstanding products and services. Medical Data Systems, a division of Medtronic, specializes in software programs for nuclear cardiology. Cardiacare, another division, provides monitoring and arrhythmia detection services. Kastec Corporation produces prosthetic heart valves.

With the broadest selection of pacing leads, an entire family of accessories, and now, the introduction of the remarkable new Spectrax pacers and programmers, Medtronic continues leading the way to man's heart.
