CAMPAIGN FOR APPROPRIATION IN FULL SWING

Council of Forty Plan All-University Mass-meeting to Push Work

The state-wide university appropriation publicity campaign initiated last week by students and now in full swing, is the largest undertaking of the kind ever attempted by the student body, according to H. J. Thorkelson, business manager of the university.

Publicity given prominence locally is also sent throughout the state. By the beginning of the Christmas vacation it is planned so completely to acquaint each student with the needs of the university that he will not have to be urged to take the message personally to his home community. Personal messages will supplement efforts already made through the press to create sentiment favorable to the passing of the $15,000,000 bill at the January session of the legislature.

Council Backs Plan

The Council of 40 is actively engaged in pushing the campaign and plans in the near future to sponsor an all-university mass meeting at which time the proposition will be brought directly before the students by undergraduate speakers. Executive boards of various women's organizations have also taken up the work.

A committee of women is engaged in districting the state and in going through the student directory to find students in each section. Certain ones residing in the various districts will be asked to make special appeals to their senators, assemblymen and newspaper editors so that the needs of the university may be placed in the proper light. They will also aid in showing the legislators the necessity of securing the total appropriation for the running expenses and expansion of the university.

CONCERT BEGINS CELEBRATION OF PILGRIM LANDING

A concert by the Madison Choral union set in motion the state-wide commemoration of the tercentenary of the landing of the Pilgrims last night at 8 o'clock at the university armory.

Two elaborate numbers, "The Wreck of the Hesperus," a cantata, and "The Rock of Liberty," a Pilgrim ode, were presented by the Choral union, in a chorus of about 200 voices. The chorus was assisted by Miss Mary Moutray, soprano, Miss Josephine Jones, contralto, Prof. E. Earle Swinney, baritone, Prof. Charles H. Mills, pianist, and Prof. Lowell L. Townsend, pianist.

The music for the first number, "The Wreck of the Hesperus," was composed by Prof. Charles H. Mills of the Music school and a large ovation was accorded him by the audience, not only for the excellence

WILL TAKE LEADING ROLES IN RED DOMINO FARCE AND DRAMA

FRANCES RYAN

Frances Ryan '21, will play the self-centered wife whose frivolity is strongly contrasted with the tragic figure of her husband, played by Henry Rubel. This role is in the intense sketch, "The Bank Account."

EDITH ROYSE

Edith Royse '22, will play the role of the young wife slavishly dependent on her Swedish maid, who, despite the devotion of her mistress, does not long remain in service. This role is in the one-act play "Where But in America?"

RED DOMINO WILL GIVE PROGRAM OF FARCE AND DRAMA

Three One-act Plays to be Presented in Lathrop Tonight at 8

Three one-act plays, under the direction of Julia Hanks '21, Eleanor Riley '21, and Elizabeth Sehon '22, will be presented by the Red Domino dramatic societies tonight at 8 in Lathrop parlors.

"Where But in America?" featuring Edith Royse '22, Olivia Fentress '23, and John Warren '22, is a satirical farce, the scene of which is laid in Chicago. The characters are: the young wife, slavishly dependent upon her Swedish maid, the serenely Americanized young maid, and the perplexed husband.

Frances Ryan '21, Henry Rubel '22, and Miriam Doan '22, will play the three parts in the second of the plays to be presented. "The Bank Account" is the intense story of the frivolous wife and her harassed husband.

The program will conclude with "Helena's Husband," a modernized, "bolshhevized," socialized story of Troy. Esther Guerini '22, Agnes Samuels '21, Donald Marvin '22, Lee McCandless '23, and David Lacey '21, make up the cast. A special feature of this production will be the display of Paris styles by Donald Marvin.

Tickets for the plays may be secured in Bascom hall or at the door tonight. Admission is 40 cents.

MAJOR KELIHER TO LEAVE UNIVERSITY

Maj. John H. Keliher, assistant commandant of the university cadet corps, will leave December 20, for Fort Sill, Okla., where he will take up a six months' course in the school of fire. He hopes to return to Madison next summer in order to be present for the 1921-22 term.

Communications with respect to Major Keliher's possible successor have been received although no definite appointments have been made. The officer to fill his place will probably be a major of infantry.

Commandant John S. Wood and assistant commandant Orlando Ward have recently received their majorities in the appointments now being made by the government by seniority.

SOCIETIES TO GIVE PROGRAM AT Y. W. BAZAR

Music, Drama, and Dance Numbers in Afternoon and Evening

A joint production of the women's dramatic societies, a selection by the Men's Glee club, and several numbers by members of Miss Margaret H'Doubler's dancing classes will constitute a program, to be one of the special features of the Y. W. C. A. Bazaar of Four Seasons, Saturday, December 11, in Lathrop hall. Two performances will be given, one at 3:30 in the afternoon, and one at 8 o'clock in the evening.

"Nevertheless," one of the Stuart Walker Portmanteau plays, will be presented by Red Domino and Twelfth Night members. The presentation is under the direction of Miriam Doan '22, and Rachel Hauck '21 is coaching the play. The characters are the Little Boy, to be acted by Frances Farrington '22, the Little Girl, whose part will be taken by Carol Goodyear '23, and the Burglar, who will be impersonated by Mary Parkinson '21. This type of dramatic effort is a new one to be attempted by the dramatic societies.

Present Solo Dances

Solo dancers for the afternoon program will be Julia Hanks '21 and Frances Ellen Tucker '21, and Agnes Samuels '21 will give a feature solo dance in the evening. Group work will be done by the following members of Miss H'Doubler's classes: Lillian Stupp, graduate, Eleanor Riley '21, Dorothy Schaper '22, Janet Epstein '21, Esther Graham '22, Susie Fisher '21, Elizabeth Sehon '22, and Elizabeth Waterman '21.

"The Vagabond," an interpretive dance to be executed by Julia Hanks has proven itself a favorite with many previous audiences. "The Juggleress" is the name of the dance to be given by Frances Ellen Tucker, and Agnes Samuels will give a "Gypsy Dance."

The contribution of the Men's Glee club consists of the selection, "The Bowlegged Boy," by de Koven and "Rosalie" by Bergen.

MANY REAL KICKS IN CHRISTMAS OCTOPUS

Santa Claus on Cover Rejoices Over "Christmas Spirits"

BY A. B. M.

Unlike the "near-beer kiss" of one of its jokes, the Christmas number of the Octopus certainly has a "kick." The censor must have been very lenient this time, or perhaps he hated to ban the whole Octopus, and left just enough to fill it.

Even the jolly old Santa Claus on the cover, at first sight so innocently cheerful, is really rejoicing over a flask of "Christmas Spirits."

Four lively full-page pictures all have to do with the eccentricities, charming or otherwise, as you look

Ten Piece Orchestra to Play for First Event on Prom Program

A ten piece orchestra including such well known artists as "Jean" Juster, Earl Carpenter, and "Bill" Olds has been secured by the committee in charge for the pre-Prom dance to be held January 21, in the concert room in Lathrop hall. It is believed by the committee that the larger orchestra will prove a big success in a hall the size of the concert room.

Reginald Garstang, chairman in charge of special features for Prom, is planning stunts for this dance similar to those put on at the Haresfoot Follies. Announcement of the program will be made later, though plans have already been put under way.

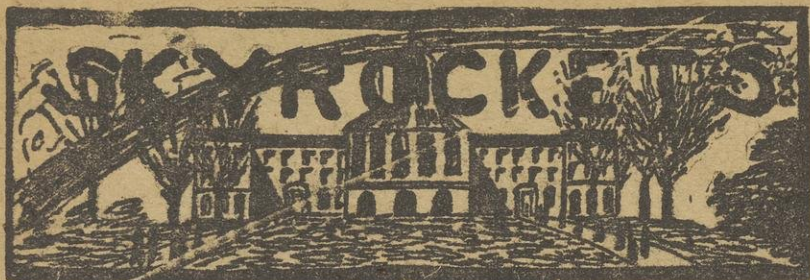

Inner Gate and Skull and Crescent inter-fraternity organizations, have given up parties planned for this date. "It is hoped," declared Harry Phillips '22, in charge of the dance, "that all other organizations planning parties for January 21, will postpone them and co-operate with the committee in making this pre-Prom dance an all university affair."

Money made by this dance will be used to help pay the expenses of Prom. The junior class, through the ways and means committee, William B. Ellis '22, chairman, is putting on the party.

PERCY DAWSON TO ADDRESS MENORAH

Prof. Percy Dawson of the Medical school, with a talk on the Prophets, will be the main speaker at the regular bi-weekly meeting of Menorah at 7:30 tonight at Lathrop parlors.

Dr. Dawson has been prominently identified with the Menorah movement since its inception, and has appeared before the local society on several occasions. The business session will be the most important of the whole term, with a selection of a delegate for the Mid-west conference the chief item for decision.

WITH the advent of cold weather, the merchants report increased sales in hairnets. Leave it to these co-eds to look out for the health.

LIT SALES DOUBLE FOR NEW NUMBER

Increase Number of News-stands to Accommodate Patrons

More than twice as many copies of the Literary magazine were sold yesterday than ever before on the first day of sale, according to Horace Powell, circulation manager.

The increased number of news-stands at which the magazine was sold was one cause of this sale. The Lit was sold in 25 places in Madison, between Menges drug store in Wingra park, and the Northwestern station. It was also placed on many of the large news-stands in Milwaukee, at the request of the dealer who owns them.

Subscriptions have come in from all parts of the country, from New York city to California, and even as far south as Brazil. There is also an unusually large subscription list in Madison this year.

The Literary magazine will be on sale again today.

CALL ISSUED FOR LARGER SQUAD OF FROSH WRESTLERS

Suggest Use of Boat House to Meet Need for Bigger Quarters

Only eleven first year men have responded to the call for freshman wrestlers, and athletic authorities are appealing for a larger number of candidates to report to Coach G. T. Hitchcock.

The small freshman squad works out in the gym wrestling room on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons from 3:30 to 4:00. All freshman athletes, regardless of weight and experience, who are interested in the wrestling game are asked to report to Coach Hitchcock for a tryout on one of these afternoons.

Twenty-three men are left to battle for positions on the varsity wrestling squad after the tryouts of last week. The fine early season showing of these men has strengthened Hitchcock's hopes for a winning squad.

Squad is Aggressive

"The men are strong and aggressive wrestlers," declared Coach Hitchcock Tuesday afternoon. "They are a little weak in the scientific points of the game, but we are practicing four afternoons each week and expect to show mid-season form very early."

The varsity squad has added a new position for bantam weight wrestlers who weigh between 108 and 116 pounds. The bantam weight matches have proved popular in professional wrestling, and the conference are considering authorizing bouts between bantams of Big Ten meets.

The urgent need of the Wisconsin wrestling squad is for larger quarters in which to train. That the number of men reporting for wrestling is not larger is ascribed by Coach Hitchcock to the fact that the gym wrestling room cannot accommodate many candidates. For this reason, Hitchcock has been forced to announce that he can handle only 24 freshmen.

May Use Boat House

Wrestling enthusiasts and members of the varsity and frosh squads are pushing a movement to have the upper story of the boat house renovated and heated for the use of the wrestling teams. The boat house is large enough so that Coach Hitchcock would have no difficulty in handling any number of candidates who reported for the mat squad, while the small quarters in the gym forces the coach to cut down the squad before every man has had an opportunity to show his ability.

MEET TO DRAW UP LEAGUE SCHEDULE

Representatives of all the fraternities on the campus will meet in the gymnasium tonight at 7:15 to draw up the schedule for the interfraternity basketball league.

Officers will be elected at the meeting, and plans for the interfraternity basketball season definitely settled. Dr. W. E. Meanwell, varsity basketball coach, will have charge of the meeting and the launching of the new league.

of his composition, but also for the artistic and completely sympathetic manner in which he rendered the piano score.

The chorus work was unusually well co-ordinated and artistic throughout the program, especially in consideration of the extreme difficulty of both numbers, and the fact that the chorus was large and composed of amateurs. The first number is an elaborate tone-poem, holding in it the wild abandonment of the sea, with a thousand difficult intricacies of harmony. The chorus picked up the difficult modulations with good effect.

"The Rock of Liberty," the music for which was composed by Rosseter C. Cole, former director of the Wisconsin Music school here, is more massive in structure than the first number, and the effort is more that of a sustained volume of tone than of intricately shaded modulation. It represents the vision, the struggle, and final triumph and achievement of the Pilgrims in the new land.

Much credit is due the soloists, Miss Moutray, Mr. Swinney, and Miss Jones, for their sympathetic rendition of the solo portions of the two numbers. Prof. Peter W. Dykema, musical director, is to be commended for his splendid work in handling so large an amateur chorus.

NO FALL IN PRICES IN ICE CREAM SODAS

Students will have to be content for a while with the prevailing high prices of ice cream sundaes and sodas. Until overhead expenses are reduced, there will be no drop in prices, according to "Dad" Morgan, proprietor of Morgan Brothers. "The drop in the price of sugar," said C. L. Sniffen, proprietor of the Candy shop, "does not materially affect the price of ice cream. Cream is the important item in the manufacture of ice cream, and that has not come down in the price enough to count."

Despite the fact that sugar has come down, labor and rents are still so high that a decrease in the price of ice cream is impossible, was the opinion of the proprietor of the Chocolate shop.

WISCONSIN AND HUMANITY

It is gratifying that Wisconsin has heeded the call that comes from her fellow students in Central Europe now battling hard in the struggle against hunger and destitution.

The plight of university students in Serbia, Jugoslavia, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Czechoslovakia, Poland, and the Baltic provinces is tragic almost beyond understanding. Most of them are subsisting on bread and soup. Thousands have not partaken of breakfast for five years. Two scanty meals and often only one a day are all they are having. Large numbers of the students are clad in the same rags they have been wearing for five years. Few have money enough to buy even so much as thread to patch their worn-out clothes.

They have not the choice of quitting school and earning a living in the industries. There is no work for them. The most they can do is to tutor and for this work they are rewarded with the munificent sum of fifty dollars a year.

The situation calls for action. The world cannot afford to see higher education perish in Europe. The age cannot be built with safety when one of its pillars rests upon ignorance. This is the practical side of the question. It should be unnecessary to stress the humanitarian side. Students the world over have always regarded themselves as bound together by strong fraternal ties. The distress of one group is the concern of all other groups.

Wisconsin has answered the call which has been sent broadcast over the nation by Herbert Hoover. The Student Senate and S. G. A. promptly saw the need and have undertaken the leadership to line up Wisconsin behind the movement for relief.

Don't be alarmed. No "drive" is going to be put on. No campaigning or soliciting is being planned.

All the leaders will do is to make it possible for every student in school to offer a voluntary gift.

The spirit of the season favors this action. Nothing could be better just now for Wisconsin students than to share a small part of their Christmas with their fellow students over there, making it possible for them to enjoy a few of life's necessities while we enjoy its luxuries.

THE GREEK DANCE WRITE-UP

A VAIL of protest is uttered in several letters to The Daily Cardinal in regard to the criticism in Tuesday's issue of the Greek dance program presented Monday night. Our horribly shocked correspondents hurl their venom-laden anathemas at this paper and at the student body as gravely as Jupiter was wont to hurl his thunderbolts from Olympian heights.

The Daily Cardinal told the truth about the dance performance. The presentation did fall flat. Hundreds who saw the spectacle were keenly disappointed.

From the very nature of things the show could have been little more than ludicrous. Greek tragedy cannot be successfully presented by amateurs. When a complete cast of true artists portray Sophocles the result is sublime. When any less skillful group attempt Sophocles the result is usually ridiculous. Unfortunately the latter was the case Monday night at the Fuller. Many of the spectators laughed. Americans have always considered it an inalienable right to laugh at anything funny.

The occurrence Monday night in no way indicated that Wisconsin students are not appreciative of the Greek drama and the Greek dance. However, they refuse to pose and pretend enthusiasm for anything but the real article.

One irate scribe asks in his letter, "What must one think of American college students when the upper stories of the theater vomit coppers, peanuts, and wads of paper upon the main floor, and upon the stage?" The answer is that if the spectators Monday night had been Athenians of the classic age they probably would not have stopped with missiles as harmless as those "vomited" by the American college students.

at it, of the co-ed. Some of the smaller pictures are on the same subject, but the others are even funnier.

Slangy, poetic, and all-inclusive "Letterature," surprisingly anticlimactic odes "To My Lady," and a bitterly realistic sketch called "A Woman's Privilege," are the longer literary efforts in this number. Poetry, chiefly of the disillusioned type, brilliant epigrams, scintillating dialogues between "He and She," "Sophisticated," and "Young 'n' Innocent," and such famous duos, and satalogues of every sort from "Things We Must Do Over Vacation," to "Read 'Em and Weep," are the other things that amuse one.

Readers in search of real humor are recommended to read the editorials. "Pour La Toddle" is really a gem of deep irony buried under diction that would make a dictionary interesting if it were always combined that way. The others are all clever trenchant declarations of the Octopus' very praiseworthy attitude on important subjects. There is not a dull word in one of them.

The Christmas number of the Octopus is altogether brisk, snappy, and humorous. Its "kick" must not be censured too sternly, when one compares it with the other humorous publications in whose field it is well established by this time, every one of which goes a great deal farther.

UNIVERSITY BAND TO GIVE CONCERT

Once more on a pre-war basis, the university First Regimental band of 60 pieces will present its first concert of the season in the university gymnasium on Sunday afternoon, December 12, under the direction of Maj. E. W. Morphy, for eight years at the University of Illinois.

The band this year is the largest in the history of the school, and is said to be the best university band in the country. Major Morphy after rehearsing the band for six weeks for the coming concert, has brought each instrument to its high degree of efficiency.

The individual members of the band have been chosen with greater care than in any previous year. Many of the men have had experience in army bands and other musical organizations. John Rydjord, the first clarinetist played in the American Headquarters band at Chaumont, and John Jacquish, solo cornetist, served as leader of a 32nd Division band in France.

Reserved seats are now on sale at Albert E. Smith's and at Music hall.

STUDENT RELIEF FOR EUROPE IS GIVEN SUPPORT

Senate and S. G. A. Endorse Plans of National Committee

"Practically none of the students of central Europe has had a daily breakfast since 1917. Many have had only a crust of dry bread and have not tasted butter or chocolate for four years."

Statements like this made, by travelers returning from central Europe, brought about the inauguration of the European student relief fund that has just been endorsed by the student senate and S. G. A. at Wisconsin.

The collection of the fund, which is in the hands of the American Relief administration, headed by Herbert Hoover, former food administrator, was inaugurated by student representatives of 39 nations at a meeting of the World Student Christian federation held in Switzerland last August.

Sherwood Eddy, prominent Y. M. C. A. worker, gives a most graphic account of conditions and the work that is being done.

He tells of students trying to support their mothers and sisters on less than $6 a month, of a doctor of philosophy who is learning shoe-making, of a student of music who is trying to eke out her existence by spending 60 cents a month on food and 65 cents a month on her music.

"Many students in the technical college are working as laborers, mechanics and woodcutters to appease their hunger, but after four years of under-feeding the students have not enough strength for effective manual work," says Mr. Eddy.

"A student association has been formed to furnish relief for these students, and 2,200 are being fed one meal a day. They are charged one third of a cent for the breakfast. The meal consists of about one tenth of a loaf of white bread and a cup of cocoa."

LINE REPRODUCTION WILL BE EXPLAINED

A demonstration of line reproduction will be given at the meeting of the Arts and Crafts club tomorrow night by Herbert Brockhausen '22, art director of the 1922 Badger. The demonstration will show what kind of lines reproduce best, and the difference between professional

PLAN TO COLLECT MADISON PLEDGES FOR UNION FUND

The Union Board has taken over the work of collecting subscriptions from Madison alumni for the Wisconsin Memorial Union building. There are over a thousand of these alumni, and, in order to facilitate collection, plans have been devised in which the city is divided into wards, and cards bearing the name and house number of every alumnus in each ward have been prepared.

Student volunteers are needed to handle this work, and the Union board urges any students who can spare the time to offer their services at once. Any information concerning the project may be secured from John H. Draper, president of the Union board, or H. L. Ashworth, secretary of the Wisconsin Memorial Building committee.

To correct an evident misunderstanding, Mr. Ashworth announces that student subscriptions are due now without individual notification.

drawing and most amateur drawing for reproduction.

The members of the club and others who are interested in the subject will meet at the Applied Arts laboratory, leaving there at 7:30 for the print shop, where the demonstration will be held.

This is the second of a series of practical aids to campus artists. The first was a lecture and demonstration on poster lettering and the use of the air-brush by John Schaub of a Madison sign painting concern.

Scout Troop No. 1 to Celebrate Anniversary

Celebrating its first year, Troop 1, Boy Scouts of America, and fathers of the boys will attend a supper Tuesday night at St. Andrew's church. Troop members will explain and demonstrate the various phases of scout work. There will be no lengthy speeches or formal program. The troop includes Scouts Astell, Bruce, Chase, Doherty, Forrest, Gosling, Hicks, Kemp, Larson, Lester, Miller, Norris, Schafer, Steffen, Steffenson, Stelling and Wilson. Scout Forrest is senior patrol leader, Scout Norris is junior scout leader, and Scout Gosling, scribe.

Call Badger 843

Fletcher Wheeler, director of the Wheeler School of Music, announces the return to the faculty of Mr. John Penewell, Hawaiian guitar teacher, who has been on leave of absence for the past two years, appearing on the professional stage. Mr. Penewell has appeared in some of the largest theaters throughout the country and has a national reputation as an interpreter of this enchanting music. He received most of his training from Thomas Hennessey, David Kaleigoa, and Edwin Shaw. Mr. Hennessey, a native Hawaiian who has taken an American name, was first to introduce Hawaiian music at the Panama Exposition and is considered the best steel guitar player in the country today. He will organize a string orchestra at the Wheeler School of Music in the near future.

DOLPHIN CLUB WILL SHOW FANCY DIVING

Dolphin club members will give their first exhibition of life-saving and fancy diving in Lathrop pool tomorrow night, at 7:30. Difficult dives and strokes will be illustrated including a water-snake dance, two legged race, a tub race, porpoise diving, plunging, and double diving.

The Dolphin dive, the emblem of the club, will be made by every member. The new seal dive will be the opening number of the program. Another feature will be the spelling out of the name of the club in the water. Olga Anderson, one of the members of the club will illustrate how to break the strangle hold—a dangerous hold taken by a person who is being rescued from drowning.

All women are invited, and those men who have previously secured tickets from some member of the club will be admitted.

PIE MAKERS WILL RECEIVE REWARDS

Apple pies, baked by home economic girls for the apple pie making contest of the Grafters club, will be auctioned off today at 4:30 in the Horticultural building to the highest bidder, after the prizes have been awarded for the best pies.

The auction is one of the main features of the annual apple show which is being held by the club all day today.

Mrs. D. H. Otis, former instructor of home economics in the Kansas state agricultural college and wife of former assistant dean D. H. Otis of Wisconsin College of Agriculture, will award the prizes. Following the awarding of the prizes, John Brann, instructor in horticulture, will hold the auction.

OPPOSE ISSUANCE OF "COLORED" NEWS

A definite stand against promiscuous journalistic efforts which have resulted in the false reports of university conditions such as the article appearing in the last Sunday edition of the Milwaukee Journal was taken by Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalistic fraternity, in their meeting last night at the Pi Beta Phi house.

Marie Bodden '21, spoke briefly concerning the effect that indiscriminate subordinating of journalist ideals to the matter of earning a few dollars has upon the university as well as upon the profession of journalism. The organization has gone on record as being behind any movement of the university to suppress such practices.

After the business discussion, the meeting was given over to reading of original literary productions by the following members: Helen Ponder '21, Rachel Commons '21, Alice Munro '21, Katherine Beebe '21, Katherine Rockwell '22, and Mildred Gerlach '23.

Passenger and baggage rates will increase 20 per cent next Saturday, according to rumors current in Milwaukee more than a month before the raise was anticipated. This information is believed to be based upon an order of the interstate commerce commission at Washington, which has not yet been made public.

At The Theaters

AT THE FULLER

Those who love to hear sentimental ballads sung by sweet-throated song birds, skillful and graceful dancing, talented musicians and famous blackface comedians, should not overlook the fact that Gus Hill's Minstrels is the attraction announced at the Fuller tonight. This mammoth organization of burnt cork stars comes direct from the Auditorium theater in Chicago, where they scored a most pronounced hit. Watch for the parade at high noon.

Fiske O'Hara

Local theatergoers are in for a genuine treat at the Fuller tomorrow evening when Fiske O'Hara appears in his fascinating play of melody, love and Irish wit "Springtime in Mayo," under the direction of Augustus Pitou Inc. Not to see America's favorite actor-singer and his excellent company in "Springtime in Mayo" has been placidly cited by one enthusiastic critic as a calamity, and to witness and ecstasy, which, to say the least, is praise indeed. Mr. O'Hara portrays the role of Terence McWarren the true hearted young Irishman, in his characteristic manner. One of the delights of an O'Hara performance is his musical numbers, and several opportunities are given him to display his charming tenor voice in melodies that are popular with lovers of song of the Emerald Isle. There is a heavy demand for seats.

AT THE STRAND

The same sheer dramatic force that made "Behind the Door" a motion picture always to be remembered lives anew in Hobart Bosworth's second Thomas H. Ince's vehicle "Below the Surface," which came to the Strand for four days commencing today.

The star is so well suited by physical prowess and natural temperament to depict strong seafaring roles as Mr. Bosworth. He served before the mast for several years. And he is a real actor.

As Martin Flint, the sturdy New England deep-sea diver, Mr. Bosworth descends to the ocean bed to rescue an imprisoned submarine, fights his way to safety from a sinking steamer, and finally plunges to the sunken wreck without the aid of a diving suit to save his son, who is strapped on its deck.

The story, written by Luther Reed, deals with the hoodwinking of Martin Flint's son by an unscrupulous promoter and his pretty girl-companion. The youth's infatuation for the latter leads him to marry her and attempt an enterprise in which he nearly loses his life. Later she deserts him, and it is only the courage of Martin that brings happiness for his son out of the mess.

Grace Darmond, Lloyd Hughes, and George Webb make effective support for Mr. Bosworth. Thomas H. Ince produced the picture for Paramount Artercraft release.

A Paramount magazine and a comedy cartoon will also be shown.

WHY, THE POOR FISH!

Y. M. SHORT COURSE WORK IS ORGANIZED

The Y. M. C. A. for the short courses in agriculture and dairying has been fully organized during the last week, and the newly elected cabinet is starting plans for the work among the students in the two year courses. The short course "Y" is a distinct organization, separate from the university "Y," and has a special field in the association work.

The following men are to fill the cabinet positions this term: Ralph Constance, finance; Ralph Flagler, music; Charles Weinreich, religious; Victor Mohms, social; Alf Olsen, membership. Roy Kreucher is president. The cabinet of the dairy course is made up as follows: H. B. Hoover, chairman, M. A. Burke, J. H. Foster, Adolph Schultz, W. E. Bailey, J. D. DeWitt. This cabinet is in charge of the "Y" service among the dairymen.

The "Y" has been holding regular

Sunday meetings in the auditorium of Agricultural hall, featuring short talks and religious services. "Dad" Wolf, secretary of the university "Y," is to be the speaker at the meeting next Sunday morning at 9. The Y hopes to get a large proportion of the 300 men in the two courses interested in its activities and is working upon a membership campaign.

MISS HAZELTINE ENTERTAINS

Miss Hazeltine and the faculty of the Library school will entertain the members of the University league on Saturday afternoon December 11, at 3:30 o'clock, at the city library (second floor), North Carroll street. At this meeting the members of the league will be addressed by Mrs. Lucy Fletcher Brown, the well-known authority on Japanese prints. Mrs. Brown is just back from a trip to the Orient, and will speak on "Summer Pilgrimages in Japan."

MEN VS. WOMEN IN OCTOPUS HILL SALE

The competition between the men of the university, represented by "Pat" Dennis and "Fred" Sperry, and the women, represented by Marie Bodden and Helen Harper, as to who can sell the most copies of the Octopus, will begin at 7:30 this morning.

The losers will be announced in tomorrow's Cardinal. Penalties will be enforced on the hill tomorrow morning. If the men lose they will wear red hair nets; if the women lose, they will wear caps. This contest is a result of the discussion about tag-days and attendant evils. The respective selling abilities of men and women is to be demonstrated. The editors hope to start a new precedent on the hill.

The Octopus will be on sale at tables in campus buildings, and at news-stands.

FEATURE WRITER ADDRESSES CLASS

Miss Lenore Dannegan, a writer of special feature articles on the staff of The Farmer's Wife, St. Paul, Minnesota, gave a talk yesterday morning to Prof. W. G. Bleyer's class in feature writing in the department of journalism.

"Personal experience articles are what we want most, emphasizing achievement. The story of how one woman refurnished her house may help another woman to do the same thing," said Miss Dannegan, advising the class on the kind of article that would sell best. "Pictures will always help to sell your article, because when several articles come in at once the one that is read first is always the one with the most interesting pictures."

Miss Dannegan is a graduate of the class of 1916 of the department of agricultural journalism of the Iowa Agricultural college at Ames, Iowa.
