MORE SMALL-POX

ERNEST V. MOORE, 524 STATE ST.,
THE VICTIM.

Contracted in South During Vacation
—House Quarantined—Dean Birge
Interviewed in Regard to Disease.

A case of small-pox was discovered about 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at 524 State street. The victim is Ernest V. Moore, a Junior law student who lives at Liledown, N. C.

The case was discovered by Dr. Harper and immediately reported to Dr. Phil Fox, city health physician. The house was quarantined at once and a sign placed upon it. Four students were in the house at the time besides the family of Mr. Thomas Mills. There were twenty-one people rooming there, including fourteen students, but most of the students were at classes and were not shut up in the house.

Those confined are Robert Kraus of Marshfield, L. Ludlow of Waukesha, William Boyle of Kaukauna, and C. W. Peterson of Racine. Mr. and Mrs. Mills, Misses Sadie and Jennie, and Thomas Mills, Jr. Mr. Kraus is Mr. Moore's roommate.

Mr. Moore spent his vacation at Liledown, and was twice exposed to the disease there, so it is evident that his case has no connection whatever with the recent one at the Kappa Sigma house. He returned from his vacation Monday and attended classes up to yesterday morning.

It is stated positively by Doctor Fox and Mr. Trainor that this is the only new small-pox case in the city. The numerous rumors which were circulated to-day concerning other cases are absolutely without foundation.

On account of the danger from infection various rooms in the Law Building which Mr. Moore had been in were locked up and will be thoroughly disinfected this evening. These rooms are the Senior and Junior class rooms and the cloak and toilet rooms. All the classes of the Law School at present are being held in the Middle Law room. Dr. Russell, the eminent bacteriologist of the University, is overlooking the work together with the health department and Associate Dean Gregory announces that no precautions will be overlooked to prevent the spread of the disease.

Mr. Moore has been removed to the contagion hospital on E. Washington Ave., and the other inmates of the house will be quarantined for fourteen days according to law.

Those who roomed at the house but were not quarantined were compelled to make complete changes of clothing and to take all other necessary measures to prevent infection.

It is stated that Moore did not attend the inaugural ball but had been with a skating party on Lake Mendota.

There is much talk concerning over-sterilized virus and Dr. Fox states that some of that made by an eastern firm was ineffective for that reason. The virus made at Fond du Lac is now being used and is found satisfactory so that students need have no hesitancy in being vaccinated.

The rumor that the University is to be closed is entirely unwarranted. Dr. Fox considers it entirely unnecessary and Dean Birge, when seen this morning said in substance:—

There is absolutely no reason why the present case of small-pox among the students should create a panic in the student body. There is no especial occasion for individual fright and practically no danger of a general infection. The possibility of contagion in the present case is very slight. Not only has the health department done its best by immediately quarantining the house and all those in whose case contagion was at all possible but they have also, as a precautionary measure, notified all who boarded at Mrs. Mills that they must report any symptoms whatsoever of small-pox. Those to whom the disease is communicated could not in their turn communicate it for between four and six days. The best authority leans somewhat toward an acceptance of the higher term of six days. This allows for precautionary measures of great value in entirely stamping out the disease. Small-pox is now the most easily controlled of all infectious disease and statistics prove that the mortality is extremely low. The one great reason for the spread of small-pox is the large number of susceptible people, that is, of unvaccinated people. Laxity in this respect is rather inexcusable for as Dr. Russell affirms vaccination is practically a specific.

Indoor Meet Jan. 26.

Owing to the reading to be given on the evening of Jan. 19th by Mr. Frederick Paulding, Coach Kilpatrick has decided to postpone the indoor meet until a week later, or Saturday evening, Jan. 26th. This will give all concerned a week more of training and will insure better form and faster contests at this time.

From all indications this meet will surpass all similar contests that have hitherto been held. Larger fields will contest in each event while the program for the evening will include several unique events. Among these will be the fraternity relay race. Over half of the "frats" have signified their intention of entering teams and it is expected that several more will enter before the meet. The chapters that have entered so far are Psi Upsilon, Beta Theta Pi, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Kappa Psi, Delta Upsilon, Sigma Chi, Phi Rho Beta, and Theta Delta Chi. These fraternities have already begun preparations to send out their fastest men and owing to the natural rivalry, each relay will be fought to the end. Another new event that will probably be brought off at the meet will be a relay race between the agricultural and dairy students. Such a race would create great interest and if possible the two departments should select their representatives as soon as possible. During the evening several gymnastic "stunts" will be done by members of Dr. Elson's squad.

From President Adams.

Registrar Hiestand received a letter from President Adams this morning. The president states that he and Mrs. Adams are entirely well and are getting on gloriously. He has reached the weight of one hundred and seventy-six pounds. They are able to sit in a room with wide open windows and no fire. They expect to remain at the Grand Hotel Royal, San Remo, Italy, until March.

No Military Hop.

There will be no Military Hop Saturday evening on account of the recent case of small-pox.

—George B. Nelson, '97, is studying law in Washington and at the same time filling a government position.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

DEVOTES MUCH SPACE TO UNIVERSITY NEEDS.

Read by Governor in Person This Morning—Favors New Agricultural Building.

Governor La Follette's message was this morning read before the legislature which is now in session. Considerable space is devoted to the University, its present condition and its future needs. He says in part:

"The Reports of the Board of University Regents and of the President of the University convey to you detailed information respecting the growth and needs of this institution. The value to the State from its continued development, and its reputation throughout the country, are so well established and so generally appreciated that its friends and supporters can have no cause of apprehension for the future. Its growth in influence and usefulness within the last decade has exceeded the anticipations and hopes of its most sanguine promoters. State provision for the increasing expenses inseparable from growth has been generous and prompt. The new burdens have been carried by the people without complaint. If the advocates of university expansion will keep in mind their obligation to the State, which can be done without lessening the zeal for the cause in which they have enlisted, I am sure that they will meet with few obstacles in legislative action or in public sentiment."

"The plea sometimes made that State universities cannot afford to compete with institutions of learning lavishly endowed by multi-millionaires is not valid. It is not necessary to engage in competition in extravagant expenditure. In point of fact, our own and certain other State universities in the West are competing successfully in work and growth with the oldest and most richly endowed colleges in the country, without expenditures which would bear comparison. You will not forget—indeed the friends of the University will not permit you to forget—that the University of Wisconsin has its rivals in universities of neighboring commonwealths. Few citizens of Wisconsin will be found ready to argue that this State cannot afford to keep pace with adjoining States in educational work and advancement."

"Under the head of immediate and special needs which will call for extra appropriations, the University authorities make most prominent a new building for the College of Agriculture, suitable equipment for the new building of the College of Engineering, and provision for the School of Commerce. I have no hesitancy in commanding each of these proposed improvements as worthy of your approval, but confess some doubt as to whether you will be able to honor all the worthy demands upon the taxing power without imposing an onerous burden upon the tax paying power of the state. For reasons somewhat similar to those which prompt recommendations of State and to county schools, I am inclined especially to favor every practical encouragement to the growth of the College of Agriculture without delay."

"Perhaps it is well to admit that the executive may be influenced somewhat by a kindly prejudice in favor of the University of Wisconsin. But I am convinced that its friends will have no cause for disappointment if you deal with its requisitions and arguments with the most strict analysis of their merits."

ART EXHIBIT TOMORROW.

Instructive Lectures on "Italian Art" Begin Tomorrow Afternoon.

The art exhibit under the auspices of the Self Government Association promises to be a great success. The photographs from the Chicago Art Institute and Caston prints from New York have arrived and everything is now in readiness.

The exhibit will open tomorrow afternoon and continue for one week. Members of the faculty will speak every afternoon and evening. Dr. Stearns will talk tomorrow afternoon at four o'clock on the subject of "Italian Art as a Whole." In the evening at eight Professor Haskins will speak on a subject which has not yet been announced. Further announcements of speakers will be made later.

The exhibit will be found in the Northeast Gallery on the fourth floor of the new library building. For the convenience of those wishing to make a study of Italian Art a list of references on the subject has been made by the librarian. It is hoped that as many as possible avail themselves of this opportunity for studying Italian art.

EX-PRES. HARRISON INVITED.

By Senior Laws to Deliver Commencement Address.

At the meeting of the Senior Law class yesterday afternoon a committee was selected to tender an invitation to Ex-President Harrison to deliver an address at the commencement exercises next June. It is customary at commencement times to obtain some eminent person to render an address. Last year Chief Justice Brewer was fortunately procured. There is nothing positive known whether ex-President Harrison will be able to accept the invitation, but it was thought best to get him here if possible. Not long ago he gave an address at Ann Arbor.

Should this committee not be able to secure Mr. Harrison they will correspond with other eminent men with the view of obtaining as popular a man as possible.

To-morrow's Convocation.

Dr. Russell of the department of Bacteriology will address the Convocation to-morrow upon the subject of "Small-Pox, its Cause, Methods of Dissemination and Methods of Prevention."

Inter-Collegiate Debates.

A debate with Iowa is not a certainty as yet. In the near future, however, representatives from the literary societies will confer with Prof. Frankenburger upon the expediency of such a debate, and it may be arranged some time in the spring.

—The agent of W. C. E. Seeboeck, one of the most eminent pianists in the United States, is trying to make arrangements to give a recital in Madison. It is possible that a canvass will be made of those interested to guarantee a good attendance if Mr. Seeboeck should come here.

—Miss Susan A. Sterling was again unable to meet her classes because of the severe cold from which she has been suffering the past two days.

—Dr. Jones was unable to meet his classes to-day on account of illness.

No Danger of Epidemic.

In another column is published a complete account of the smallpox situation as it exists at present. There is no need of any alarm or hysteria on the part of anyone. The best medical and legal advice has been consulted and every measure taken to mitigate the danger. An epidemic would, of course, be a serious matter but there seems to be no probability of such a thing occurring. Certainly the University will not suspend exercises, as some of the rumors current today have stated.

Don't Procrastinate.

The time has come around again when the professors feel it necessary to warn students against postponing their "bucking" for exams until the last days before examination week. The nature of University work is such that it is very easy to let these duties slip along until excessive "cramming" becomes necessary. It is easy enough to pass exams, after putting one's mental equipment through an operation of that nature but the amount of knowledge thus acquired which will be in the crammer's possession a week afterwards is a mighty uncertain quantity. The system of quizzes in use at present in the University is designed to correct this tendency and does so to a limited extent but a word of warning is not out of place. Freshmen especially ought to take some heed as to this matter. Older students, whatever they practice, at least know better and are supposed to have acquired sufficient judgment to lead them to do the best for their own interests. The feverish activity of exam week is bad enough as it is without adding thereto the necessity of doing several months work in a week.

Wisconsin Popular at Dubuque.

The "Echo," of the Dubuque High School, contains this month a fine article on the University of Wisconsin. It would not be a bad plan for the High Schools of Wisconsin to follow this plan so that the readers of their magazines may understand something of the life and customs at Wisconsin.

Fencing Instruction.

Attention is called to a notice in another column of the formation of a fencing club under the instruction of Mr. de Soucy. This is distinctly an opportunity worth grasping. Mr. de Soucy is a thoroughly competent instructor in this finest of exercises and there ought to be a large class. Credit is given as gym. work.

CHANGES IN SCIENCE HALL.

New Quarters for Physics and Psychology Departments.

Owing to the construction of the Engineering building many important changes have taken place in the University buildings this year. However, in none have this change been so marked as in Science Hall. The Science department has of late been handicapped considerably for the want of room. Accordingly it has not expanded as much as it otherwise would. All attempts to relieve the cramped condition of affairs have been futile until this year when by the erection of their beautiful and spacious building which now graces upper campus the engineers have been able to desert Science Hall. The rooms which were previously occupied by them will be used by other departments. The engineering department is comfortably located quite permanently in the new quarters.

Room 34 of Science Hall is being refitted and remodelled into a Seminary room to be occupied by Prof. Van Hise. This will serve as a reading room. After being calcined which will relieve the gloomy aspect that it now has the room will be furnished with reading tables, desks and chairs while the walls will be adorned with the pictures of the world's greatest geologists living and dead. Prof. Jastrow who formerly occupied this room will move into room 10, the northeast room in the basement, with his department. Large book-cases have been placed along the south side of the room. Room 37 which has previously been the civil engineering draughting room will be occupied by Prof. Hobb's blow pipe laboratory and a smaller room will be cut out of this for the use of the petrographical laboratory.

The old civil engineering drafting room will be occupied by Prof. Snow's physics laboratory. When this laboratory is requartered in this room it will be more commodius, well lighted and better ventilated than was possible in the room which it at present is occupying. The laboratory will be suitably equipped—much of the old apparatus will be moved from the basement and new apparatus will also be added. Large slate tables will extend about the room. And in all its apartments it will be first class equaling if not excelling the laboratories of many institutions.

A part of the mechanical engineering draughting room will be given up to Prof. Owen as a zoological laboratory where he will place his large collection of butter flies.

Room 36 has been added to Dr. Harper's department and is connected with his room immediately above. This room will be occupied by psychology graduate students being fully equipped for research work.

The Psychological Laboratory finds its present quarters in the north wing of the basement of Science Hall. It occupies six rooms. The main laboratory which also contains the collection of apparatus in a room about 25 feet by 40 feet. Leading off from it to the north are three smaller rooms—each about 15 feet square. Of these the one to the west serves as Professor Jastrow's office. The one in the east corner has been fitted up with special appliances for a dark-room. Between these two is a preparation room and an experimental stage may be built.

Leading off from the general laboratory to the south in a special recitation room intended for experiment in which the time and nature of mental processes are to be measured. This room is surrounded by a passage-way, used as a store-room, and is protected by double walls so as to insure a maximum of quiet. The apparatus is placed in the adjoining corridor while the subject is seated in the reaction-room. The last room of the series is for the purpose of any special research which may be made and is also fitted out as a permanent anthropological room where general tests of physical and mental endowment may be made.

The preparation of these rooms has involved the erection of several new partitions and all the walls have been tinted in pleasing colors. The labora-
