PLAY FIRST BALL GAME WITH PURDUE

Governor Blaine Opens the Season at Randall
Today

The 1921 conference baseball season will be ushered in at Camp Randall this afternoon at 2:30 when Coach Lowman's Badger nine meets the Purdue aggregation from Lafayette. Officials are predicting a large crowd for the opening, special bleachers having been erected to accommodate the fans. Late last evening an effort was still being made to secure the band, but no results had been acquired. If the band turns out, there will be a parade at noon, which will terminate at Randall field.

Blaine to Open Game

The usual ceremony will be held when the season will be officially opened. Governor Blaine has enthusiastically accepted the invitation extended him by the Athletic department to throw the first ball. The Wisconsin team will take the field behind the state officer, and after the first ball has been thrown the game will get under way.

Coach Lowman would not make public his choice for mound duty in this afternoon's contest, and is undoubtedly awaiting the outcome of the warming-up workouts. Padlock, however, is due to work, and will in all probability be sent to the hill. Christianson is also ready for use in case it may be necessary to inject a reserve pitcher into the game.

The Badgers will encounter no little opposition in today's contest, for Purdue recently won from Northwestern by a larger margin than did the Wisconsin nine last week. Purdue trounced the Evanston team decidedly, and Wisconsin fans are assured of a speedy, hard fought exhibition today.

It is very probable that the Badger lineup will be similar to that which started against Ripon college here Wednesday. Jack Williams is a fixture at first base, and has even strengthened his firm hold on the position of late by his heavy hitting. Lyman, Ruediger, and Farrington will work in the infield. This combination has proven very satisfactory in the preliminary games. Farrington and Ruediger are sure fielders, while Lyman is a steady man around the keystone sack.

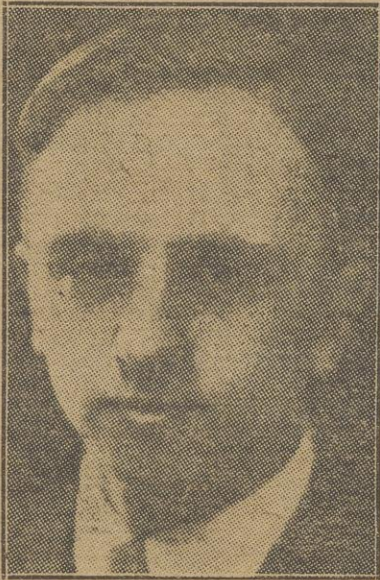

Al Davey will take care of the receiving, and the duties of the outer garden will be divided between Rollie Williams, Captain Elliott, Duke Ceaser and Snow.

OCTOPUS DEADLINE SET FOR MAY NINTH

In order that all Octopus contributors may have a last chance to get in their jokes for the Senior number, the deadline has been extended till Monday, May 9.

A futuristic cover in chrome yellow and sea green by "Heinz" Rubel will be one of the most startling and unusual features of the next Octopus. It portrays the Octopus in a wild sea-scene.

REFERENDUM ON CARDINAL TO BE TAKEN BY BOARD

To Provide for Representation by Editor on Student Senate

A referendum to change the constitution of The Daily Cardinal company, incorporated, in compliance with the results of the Senate referendum will be held in the near future according to action taken by the Board of Control Friday.

That an amendment may be filed with the Secretary of State to the articles of incorporation of 1914 it will be necessary to have the question submitted to all the stockholders. According to the articles of incorporation this will mean that all regularly enrolled undergraduates will vote on the question to make the future editors of the Cardinal the official representatives of The Daily Cardinal company for the Student Senate.

The Cardinal Board, constituting the elected officers of the corporation, felt that to avoid any future discussion an election should be held. Under the constitution a call for election or referendum can be made by any student or officer. The Board interprets the 200 majority vote for the first amendment relating to the official representative of the Cardinal as a call for such a change in the articles of incorporation.

Members of the Cardinal Board specifically stated that the Board being affected by the change, they as a Board, would take no stand on the question other than to submit it to all the students.

CO-ED WAITRESSES

Crucible Members Serve at Chocolate Shop Today

Seventeen co-eds will turn waitresses from 1 to 6 this afternoon to serve fresh strawberry sundaes to thirsty students at the Chocolate shop.

Members of Crucible, a recently formed organization of junior women will work to raise money to create a scholarship of $100 each year, to be given to a Junior girl who has proved herself worthy of assistance.

Ten per cent of the money taken in at the Chocolate shop this afternoon will form the nucleus of the fund.

The waitresses will be Patsy Watson, Charlotte O'Malley, Helen Double, Edith Royse, Esther Ayers, Auta Lyman, Caroline Ideweizer, Matilda Keenan, Erna Klosterman, Marion Strassburger, Mabel Winter, Elsie Ekern, Pearl Lichtfeld, Alice Oakes, Hildegard Maerie, Dorothy Koelsch, and Evelyn McFarland.

SOPHOMORE DANCE FOR ALL TONIGHT

Many colored strands of crepe paper and bright colored sprays of flowers will constitute the decorations of the Sophomore dance at Esther Beach this evening. All kinds of confetti will fly at the dancers and Thompson's first orchestra will furnish the music.

The first boat will leave at 8:30, the second at 9, and the last at 9:30. This will be the last special dance to be given at Esther Beach this year. The rest of the season will be devoted to the regular week end dances.

The committee invites all university students, especially the members of the class of 1923.

PACKED HALL GREETSTRACY WITH OVATION

N. O. L. Victor Delivers
Prize Oration Before
Student Body

Greeted with an ovation such as has never before in the history of the university been given any undergraduate in forensic activity, Sterling H. Tracy '22 last night at Music hall delivered his oration, "America and Great Britain for Civilization" with which he had 24 hours previously taken first place in the Northern Oratorical League contest at Iowa City.

Students began streaming into Music hall fully a half hour before the meeting was scheduled to begin and by the time Tracy arrived from the station, the auditorium was packed to the doors. The victor was met at the station by a reception committee composed of the Intercollegiate debaters, members Philomathia, and many others.

Given Forensic Emblem

After continued cheering and sky-rocketing, I. A. Perstein '21, presented Tracy with the emblem of Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary forensic fraternity, to which he was recently elected, and introduced Alvin C. Reis '13, until Thursday, the last Wisconsin man to annex first honors in the N. O. L.

Reis, in presenting Tracy, spoke of Tracy's oration as a message rather than a speech in contest. He told how 42 years before Robert La Follette won the N. O. L. also at Iowa City.

Before starting on his prize winning oration, Tracy gave a brief message on Wisconsin, saying that it was the spirit of Wisconsin more than any other thing that won the contest, and that after all the evidences of the Wisconsin spirit, in the form of wires received from Madison during the afternoon preceding the contest, Tracy knew that Wisconsin would win, whether the judges decided so or not.

During the 20 minutes that he spoke the "little giant" held the audience bound by the force of his dynamic ability, power and sincerity, as he plead for continued friendship between England and the United States, in the good of civilization.

AN APPEAL

To save starving Chinese, students have so far given about $800; the faculty, nearly $1,200. Sunday the symbolic cemetery must be cleared away. To save those 600 lives we need from the students $800 more. Let every one who has not yet contributed consider what he ought to do and do it now.

Leave your money in one of the cafeteria bottles. Eight fraternities and sororities have averaged $40 each. Will not the others send their donation at once to Eldon Russell?

Students! Go over the top today.

BORMAN GIVES STATEMENT ON SENATE ACTION

Ask Co-operation of Faculty and City in Life-Saving Regulations

Milton Borman '21, chairman of the Senate investigating committee, in commenting on the Senate's action regarding the improvement of Mendota's life-saving service and in outlining the policy to be followed by the university life-saving station, says:

"In approaching the problem we felt two things were necessary: (1) to keep canoes off the lake if the weather is threatening, and (2) to keep people off the lake who do not know how to handle a canoe.

"Cap' Isabel is to be the sole judge of when canoes shall be allowed on the lake. He has police power granted him by the city, and will strictly enforce all regulations. Whenever the red flag is raised on the watch-tower no canoes, privately owned or rented at either boat house, will be allowed on the lake. At night the red lights on the watch-tower will be used for the same purpose. Boats already on the lake will be called in by the siren signal. The city boat house will come under the same regulations as the university boat house.

"Even should the weather permit, 'Cap' will not allow people to take out canoes if they do not know how to handle them. It is not difficult for 'Cap' to tell if a man is experienced at handling a canoe.

"The city council last week passed an ordinance creating a boating season. In the past students have set the pace, going on the lake in the spring before the life-saving station was ready, and staying on in the fall after it has closed. Obviously, such a boating season will make the lake safer. Further city co-operation will be expected with regard to the establishment of a telephone system around the lake and the payment of a full-time assistant for 'Cap'."

Send Letter to Dean

Following is a letter sent, together with the Senate recommendations adopted at its meeting on Wednesday night, to Dean S. H. Goodnight. The Senate is now awaiting action by the faculty.

"Dear Dean Goodnight:

"Enclosed is a copy of the recommendations of the Student Senate in regard to the improvement of the life saving service on Lake Mendota. The Senate asks for immediate faculty action on the first three recommendations. Inasmuch as the city enjoys the university life-saving facilities, we suggest that it bear its reasonable part in the expense of carrying out these recommendations.

"The fourth recommendation will be published in The Daily Cardinal and Madison newspapers as a notice to persons using the lake. We shall make every further effort possible to impress upon the student body the necessity of complying with these regulations.

If the Student Senate can be of any further assistance to you in effecting these measures, we ask that you call upon us without hesitation.

"Sincerely yours,

Jones Approves Course

"Thomas E. Jones, director of the department of physical education, has approved the plan of giving a course in life-saving and canoe-handling," said Borman, "and has stated that the courses can be embodied practically in the physical education curriculum. The physical education department will work out the details of the plan.

"The Student Senate will publish in the Cardinal each spring and fall a statement which will aim to safeguard student interests on the lake as far as possible and call to their attention the accidents which have occurred and the dangers which exist.

"Emphasis, however, must be laid upon this thing: every student going on the lake is taking his own risk. The university cannot do their thinking for them."

WOMEN ORGANIZE LIFE-SAVING CLASS

Instructors to Teach Proper Methods in Rescue Work

Wisconsin women will direct a series of life-saving demonstrations in the women's swimming classes next week as a preface to organizing a university branch of the national Red Cross Life-saving corps. This work is under the management of Miss Mary Brownell, faculty advisor; Olga Anderson '23, chairman; Inez Levenson '24, secretary, and Marcia Hinkens '21, student instructor. Classes will be held from 10 to 12 and from 2:30 to 5 daily in the Lathrop pool.

In rescue work there are different methods employed. For this reason the program of instruction will consist of lessons in proper methods of rescue work. The lessons will include the four standard carries, how to break the four different strangle holds, what to do when being rescued, the process of resuscitation, and endurance swimming.

Any swimmer who is able to pass the tests is eligible for the instruction.

On Thursday, May 12, an official examiner from Milwaukee will determine whether the applicants for membership are qualified for the national life-saving corps. If enough candidates pass the test a branch of the corps will be established at the university.

Full information can be obtained from the bulletin board in the Lathrop tank room or from those in charge.

REFERENDUM ON CARDINAL TO BE TAKEN BY BOARD

John Pinney '21, candidate for the Cardinal Board last spring who was defeated by a few votes, was elected to fill the unexpired term of Foster Strong '21, resigned. The president of the Board was elected as Senate representative for the rest of this year to replace Strong.

No definite arrangements for the proposed election have been made but it is hoped that it may be had in the near future. If the proposed change is carried it would straighten out the now existing clash between the constitution of the Student Senate and the Cardinal company. It is for the purpose of making the two constitutions coincide to prevent any future difficulty that the Board proposes to have the election as provided.

BRYAN'S VIEW INDICTED BY FACULTY MEN

President Birge and Professors Criticize Stand on Darwinism

Sweeping indictments on the attitude of William Jennings Bryan concerning the theory of evolution and its blame for present-day "brutality," as vividly depicted to 2,500 people Thursday night at the gymnasium, were made yesterday by Pres. E. A. Birge and other university officials.

Upon the idea advanced by Mr. Bryan that the theory of evolution is a "guess" and that adherence to such a doctrine destroys belief in God, the comment was unanimous in declaring such to be a fallacy.

President Birge declared, "I must say plainly that when one attempts to induce young people to unite up their religious faith to discredited scientific doctrines, he commits a very grievous error and endangers the religious life of those he is trying to help."

"The leaders of religion in general have learned this lesson, and I can only regret that Colonel Bryan has not done so. The whole method and temper that underlay that part of his speech was just what I used sometimes to hear in the early and middle seventies."

Old-Fashioned Thought

That the address was worthy, however, of being presented to students, was expressed by President Birge. It represented, he said, the address of the kind listened to by their fathers and grandfathers. Prof. E. A. Ross, sociology department, was equally emphatic in his opinion of attacks upon the evolution theory, as popularly known through Darwin. He compared the criticisms on the Darwin theory similar to those made in the sixteenth century against the theory that the sun and not the earth was the center of our system.

Modern Reaction

"Mr. Bryan is right in connecting the modern re-action toward struggle and brute force with Darwinism, but that is no ground for rejecting an enormous mass of evidence which has been piled up," said Professor Ross.

"In time the highest moral ideals will find a modus vivendi with evolution. I remember 18 years ago while dining with Colonel Bryan that he then said, 'I've been looking into Darwinism lately, and believe that the extreme materialism of our time is connected with the spread of the theory that man descended from lower species. I cannot but think,' he remarked, 'that this theory breaks up the moral foundations of democracy.'"

Prof. M. C. Otto, philosophy department, stated that Mr. Bryan in attacking the theory of evolution was defending what he believes to be the common man's concept of God.

"As for Mr. Bryan's contentions that Darwin is responsible for Nietzsche, that Nietzsche in turn is responsible for the recent war, and that therefore Darwin is responsible for the alleged brutality of contemporary life, only a very unsophisticated man can swallow this fiction and get the taste of reality.

"Mr. Bryan is attempting to revive a combat which was fought out over a generation ago between such men as Huxley and Gladstone. He seems unaware of writers who insist that the evolutionary theory and faith in God are not incompatible. He strikes me as an excellent illustration of the type of man referred to in Hosea as a pancake not turned."

Calls Talk Dead Issue

Prof. M. F. Guyer, zoology department, in commenting upon evolution, declared that the theory dates back to the time of the Greeks.

"Modern evolutionists are investigating the inheritable changes that occur in animals and plants. Bryan's talk is a dead issue, popular 40 years ago."

GREEN ADVOCATES HEADLINE CHANGE

Radical headline changes involving gradually decreasing type sizes for each line of the head, until the body of the story is reached, all to be in the form of a single sentence continued in the story, are advocated by George Greene '23, in an article in The Editor and Publisher for April.

"Critics of the newspaper claim that 50 people read the headline of a story for every one who reads the entire story," said Greene in the article. "Others say the headlines now used waste space. Followers of 'Brass-Checkism' claim headlines are inaccurate.

Headlines written under this new plan are really easier to write than the three or four-line pyramid, according to Green, and save ten to sixty per cent of the space used by the present headline. More exactitude and less repetition will also be secured, and it will draw interest to the story.

Greene has had extensive experience in newspaper work, having been editor of the Round Table at Beloit, and a member of the staff of the Tribune at Wisconsin Falls, and of the Tribune at Bismarck, N. D., before he entered the department of journalism here.

Asks Four Year Course in State Normal Schools

A four year course in normal schools, leading to a degree in education, has been advocated before the assembly committee on education on Wednesday. A bill introduced by Assemblyman F. H. Cotton, president of the La Crosse normal. "More than half of the states in the union provide such degrees."

DO IT TODAY, PLEASE!

THOSE who have stopped to consider the terrible plight of the Chinese people caused by famine and pestilence are moved by the appeal these unhappy people are making to get help to tide them over until the next harvest time. Two successive crop failures in China have brought intense suffering and starvation to countless thousands who are now at the mercy of those of us who are blessed with abundance.

The Cardinal desires to second the appeal made in another column of this paper by Professor Ross, who has made such a commendable effort to assist in lining up Wisconsin in the ranks of those who are not deaf to the cry of the needy.

The students have given about $800, approximately one-half of the allotment, while the faculty has done its part splendidly. Today should find sufficient funds collected to remove the symbolic cemetery that will be added to the cemeteries of China—unless every student who can possibly help will do so today.

Heed this call today, please!

THE UNION MEMORIAL

EVERY now and then the great need of the Union Memorial building comes home to us. Thursday evening when Mr. Bryan spoke here, hundreds of people were turned away because the gymnasium could not accommodate them. Whenever a great symphony orchestra comes here, many people are disappointed in not being able to secure seats.

Mere inconvenience such as are suffered for the lack of an auditorium are after all not the most important thing when we consider the need of the Union building.

The function of the Wisconsin Union will be to provide facilities which will be suitable for convocations, mass meetings, commencement exercises, forensics and other special affairs that bring out and develop the spirit of unity at Wisconsin.

The need of the Union Memorial building is so clear and so urgent that we must not delay nor let up in the effort to put across the building program.

One of the ways by which to speed the day when the Union will be a reality on the campus, is to send the committee in charge of raising the money your contribution as soon as possible. Those who have pledged definite sums are requested to come across without delay.

THE SOPHOMORE FROLIC

IT is hardly necessary here to say a word to encourage indulgence in popular indoor sports of tripping the light fantastic to the tuneful noises of a jeanjusterean orchestra. Since student dances of the right sort should be encouraged, and since our enterprising sophomore class is putting on a dancing party across the lake this evening for the benefit of the whole school, this bit of a suggestion encouraging attendance of a goodly crowd is gladly made.

According to the sophomore class press agent, this will be the last private dance of the season to be held at Esther Beach, and what not. Therefor, by all means get on the boat and shove off for the pavilion this evening.

Music Memory Contest

The committee in charge of the Second Music Memory Contest met Thursday night and passed on the returns on the examination papers. They found that the contestants whose names are printed below had made perfect records and were thus entitled to take part in the final contest which will decide definitely to whom the prizes are to be given. This test will be held at the Woman's Building, 238 W. Gilman Monday, May 9 at 5:00 p. m. At this time the contest will be made more searching by using shorter sections of the selections, and omitting frequently the opening or main theme. The number of selections to be played will be increased to forty by repeating some of the 28 compositions included in the contest.

No. 19. This Contest Only a Beginning

With the holding of the final contest in the High School Auditorium this evening at 7:30, and with the handing in of the scrap books on Thursday, Friday, or Saturday of this week at the office of the Joseph M. Boyd Co., it may seem that the Music Memory Contest for this year has come to an end. It is true that after the prizes are announced the contest part will be finished, but the music and the memory should by no means come to an end this week. The much larger number of persons who have taken part this year—certainly four or five times as many as last year—shows that last year's contest was an excellent preparation for what has been done this year. In a like manner this second contest should serve as preparation for the third.

The 56 compositions of these two years may well be included in the library of every phonograph and player piano owner. They themselves furnish a varied and interesting program for every type of use. Moreover, with these as a start other compositions by the same composer may gradually be added or the expansion of material may be along the line not of the composers but rather the types of compositions we have studied. We are only at the beginning, for instance, of the available symphony material. Likewise the gems from oratorio are only suggested by the few we have had. Some of the operas from which we have had selections are available almost in their entirety in certain records. Practically every type of music in fact which is represented in the Music Memory Contest has many companion pieces which would furnish great delight to persons who have become acquainted with these 28 numbers.

TENNIS TEAM PLAYS TODAY

Matches With Beloit College Take Place at 2 O'Clock

At 2 o'clock this afternoon the Wisconsin tennis team will play their second match of the season, with Beloit furnishing the opposition. The games will be played on the varsity courts, which are in excellent condition after the past few days of clear weather. Little is known of the strength of the Beloit net men but Coach Linden is taking no chances, and intends to use his strongest men.

The Badgers found Milton College very easy last week in both the singles and doubles, and beyond all probability will win their second preliminary matches, although not in such an easy manner. The Wisconsin team has not taken part in conference competition as yet, but have been working regularly on the local courts, weather permitting.

Coach Linden has built a team this year out of one regular from 1920 and three new men. Captain Fanning was declared ineligible recently, and will not be eligible to compete all season. Godfredson is the veteran about which Linden has moulded his team this spring. He is an experienced net man, and will offer all comers stiff competition in the singles.

New Varsity Men

"Bill" Pickard, varsity cheerleader, has stepped into the place left vacant by Captain Fanning's ineligibility. Pickard is an old man at the game, but is now playing his first season of varsity tennis. "Bill" is also being used in the singles, and will face Beloit today.

In "Tommy" Tredwell and "Nick" Agason, the Badger team has a pair that will stand watching in the doubles. The men are both sophomores, and played together all last year on the freshman team. Tredwell captained the yearling squad, and proved that he was worthy of that honor when he finished in second place in the all-university tourney, losing only to Captain Taylor of the 1920 varsity team. Agason is a fast, consistent player, and with the aid of his present partner, afforded considerable worry to the varsity doubles team last spring.

More letter writing to relatives and friends of indentured children would result from passage of this bill and much benefit gained from the correspondence, Frank Metcalf, former assemblyman of Milwaukee, remarked in supporting the measure.

A Moral with a Think in it

Once upon a time there lived a man who went to school and after a while he did finish.

And all the while he didn't use a Kodak. In spite of himself he gradually forgot all about his Alma Mater and the many friends he had made and the good times he had had.

He still lives but he has been a "dead one" for a long time. He has nothing to help him recall his past life, and thus he has lost interest in it. He missed one of the really big things that go to make up a college career—Kodaking—and he will regret it as long as he lives.

Moral:—(say it yourself.) We've told you often enough. Now get a Kodak.

S. G. A. NEW TO COLLEGE LIFE

President Birge Describes Need of Regulation to Delegates

"In my college days, our individualism was unrestrained by any organization," said Pres. E. A. Birge in his speech to the delegates of the S. G. A. conference yesterday afternoon. "Restraint is a necessity now because the spirit and temper of the outside world are represented by the young students of today. You have organized society in the university. College amusements and college politics are similar to those of the outer world. These interests have developed until they need regulation."

President Birge then explained that it was the duty of the self-government associations to uphold high ideals and bring students to a clearer conception of the spirit of the institutions of which they were members. "Make your college life as different from everyday life as possible," he said. "Let these four years be unique. Catch the spirit of your college and live up to it. Your instructors are trying to lead you to an intellectual life."

Delegate Speaks

Isabell Rising of the University of Minnesota explained the "Big Sister" idea as it is carried out at Minnesota. She said, "About 375 capable girls, chosen from the junior and senior classes, are given the names of new girls who will enter the university as freshman. In big sister fashion, they write to the new girls during the summer, offering their advice and help. Then in fall, they help them register and take them to their first classes. They endeavor to show these freshmen how university women are expected to act and try to set them a good example."

"The University of Minnesota also has a tutoring bureau to help freshmen who come to the university and don't know how to study," said Miss Rising. "This is also under the auspices of S. G. A."

Co-operative houses and "town girls" were discussed, after which the meeting adjourned, and the delegates were entertained by members

CHURCH GATHERING HAS MANY SPEAKERS

The Student Volunteer conference being held this week end has drawn speakers from all parts of the world. These men and women have traveled in the countries which they represent and lived and worked in them for many years.

A banquet will be held at the University Methodist church this evening to which all students are invited. Dr. Coonradt of China will give an illustrated talk. The tickets are 75 cents and may be obtained at the Presbyterian headquarters, 731 State street.

Short talks are to be given this afternoon at the church, including speeches on Korea, by Edward Adams; India, by William Waide; Africa, by Mr. Wood, and Japan, by Miss Caroline Peckham.

All students may arrange for personal conferences with any of the speakers. Several denominational secretaries will be in the city for the week end. They are: Miss Mary Ashby Cheek, who will represent the Presbyterian church; Miss Frances Greenough of the Baptist church; and Miss Florence Pierce who will speak in the interest of the Y. W. C. A.

The opening session of the conference was held last evening at 8 o'clock at the University Methodist church. Lawrence France of Appleton, state president, welcomed the students. Dr. Vaughn of Lawrence college spoke and devotions were led by Miss Melby.

PASS RIGID MEASURE ON NAVIGATION

Council Declines Hand in University End For Present; Alters Old Law

By a unanimous vote, the city council Thursday night at a special session passed the new navigation ordinance, reported earlier in the week by the ordinance committee, and by its action made a half score or so alterations in the present provisions which will affect every boat owner in the city of Madison. The city, however, declined to extend its jurisdiction to the university, after City Atty. Ryan had informed the council that it was not the desire of such officials as Dean S. H. Goodnight, H. J. Thorkelson, or Capt. Thomas Isabel that such action be taken.

A plea by Joseph Steinhauer, for years associated with the life-saving crew at the university, followed by argument by Ald. A. B. Groves, first ward, that the city is far more able to handle the situation on its own lakes than is the university faculty, resulted in the mayor being instructed to appoint two more members from the council to sit on the present ordinance committee with a view to drafting an addition to the measure passed which will take care of the university situation.

Calls Situation Serious

Ald. J. H. Behrend, eighth ward, characterized the university situation as "serious", referring to the accident two weeks ago, and Ald. Groves added his support by declaring that "it is the city's duty" to handle that situation. Ald. Behrend pointed out that the university faculty cannot "control students on the lakes," and explained that the students check out their canoes from the university boathouse and take them over to city boathouses, over which the university has no jurisdiction.

The councilmen urged the adoption of suggestions made by Mr. Steinhauer to the effect that a dras-

HOME RULE MEASURE WINS

Assembly Favors Vote in 1922 to Give Milwaukee Further Authority

Milwaukee made a winning fight for home rule Thursday night, when the assembly advanced the Arnold resolution, extending home rule to cities and villages in purely local matters. The vote was 57 to 21.

This proposed change in the constitution, for which Milwaukee has been fighting for many years, will be submitted to the people at the general election in 1922, providing a clerical error in the certification of it two years ago does not stand in the way. The last legislature had before it two home rule resolutions, the original one and a substitute. The substitute was adopted, but due to an error the original was published in the official paper.

Without debate the house sent to engrossment the Huber bill for the establishment of psychiatric institute for the treatment of shell-shocked soldiers. This institute will be located by a board created under the law and will probably be established either at Waupaca or Mendota.

By a vote of 25 to 32 the house killed the Kenyon bill to permit cities to establish competing public utilities and it killed a bill to prohibit the transfer of employed from one state department to another without the approval of the heads of both departments.

tic ordinance, applying to all boat-houses, prohibiting any canoes on the lakes after 10 p. m., demanding a rigid observance of weather bureau storm reports, exacting the use of flag signals, and providing for the installation of a system of siren signals and telephone communication from Picnic point, Tenney park and Second point.

Mayor Appoints Two

City Attorney William Ryan said he did not feel it was in the city's province to handle the university situation and urged the passage of the bill up for adoption in order to provide "some measure of protection." He pointed out that university officials are at present drafting drastic regulations and said the big thing for the public to remember is to call Badger 16—the live-saving station—in case of an accident on the lakes. Ald. Thomas Quinn, John Stock and G. H. Mason, regular members, will be aided in their new work by Ald. Groves and Behrend, appointed by the mayor. They will call in Mr. Steinhauer and other university officials.

OFFICIALS MAY OPPOSE CHANGE

City Traffic Bill Would Affect Contract is Charge

The one-way-around-the-square traffic ordinance to be reported to the council for adoption at the next meeting is likely to meet with opposition from the government. Post-office officials here may appear before the council to either oppose the ordinance or ask that the department be granted privileges, as will undoubtedly be extended to the fire and police departments of the city.

Postmaster Devine pointed out Friday that the ordinance would force the department to violate its contract, which has worked out the distances of mail haul from the various railway stations to the last hundredth of a mile. Mail trucks drivers are paid by the distance of haul, and if the ordinance is passed it would necessitate either breaking the contract or an entire revision. Trucks coming from the east end of the city would not be affected, but loads from the west end, coming on to the square from State or W. Mifflin sts., or W. Washington ave., would have to be hauled around the square. In some instances it would alter the haul by almost half a mile.

Price fixing rings are responsible for the gap between wholesale and retail prices in many commodities, Atty. Gen. W. J. Morgan says. In a letter to Mrs. Frank F. This is the first experiment of its kind and is being watched with interest by other educational institutions.

HOUSE FAVORS GARMENT BILL

Huber Measure Aims at Sweat Shop in Apparel Industry

Manufacturing of wearing apparel in homes will be subjected to the supervision of the department of health. The Huber bill aimed at the sweat-shop evil was given final consideration in the house on Friday and now goes to the governor.

The Catlin fish and game bill has been placed on next Wednesday's calendar. This bill provides for a closed reason for prairie chicken and shortens the partridge season four days. This bill seems to have attracted so much attention that it is to be given special consideration next week. Passage was given the committee bill for increasing the amount of county aid for indigent soldiers.

The house killed the Cole bill giving the county board power to appoint a committee to fix the boundary of towns. It also killed the Heineman bill for a change in the consolidation school law.

Both houses of the legislature rushed through their calendars Friday. The members will be taken to the dells of the Wisconsin river Saturday. There is a proposal before the legislature to buy the dells as a park.

Exciting drama of the Stock Exchange with the athletic George Walsh living up to his reputation for pep and action.

MILWAUKEE HOMES IN PERIL AS LAKE EATS INTO CLIFF

Faulty construction of a breakwater is said to be the cause of land slides on the shores of Lake Michigan which are threatening the lives and property of several Milwaukee families. Houses are in imminent danger of toppling into the lake from the brink of a hundred-foot precipice due to caving of the bank. The endangered property is valued at $100,000.

At The Theatres

AT THE GRAND

Thomas E. Fallon, who wrote the story for "The Plunger," the George Walsh picture now running at the Grand, spent several weeks with an intimate broker friend at the New York Stock exchange in order to be able to reproduce the stock exchange scene and the curb market scenes with true fidelity. The picture is marvelously true in this particular—critic proof in every particular. George Walsh is seen as "Take a Chance Schuyler," a millionaire broken who leaped into fame from the lowly position of office boy. Miss Virginia Valli, known as the girl with the perfect profile, is the leading woman.

AT THE FULLER

Mary Roberts Rinehart, eminent American author, has again done something individual and different. She has admitted that "It's a Great Life," a pen child of her, is better as a moving picture than it was as a picture. Following closely upon the expressions of several well known authors whose novels have been filmed at great cost by picture studios, and who were "surprised," "displeased" or "indifferent," over the results, this frank enthusiasm by one of the country's most popular humorists is decidedly refreshing.

No parent can fail to appreciate it, and every boy and girl will feel that indissoluble bond—the affinity of youth for the romance of youth, when Stoddard and The Wop, the young heroes, embark to their "Imaginary Isle" of dreams.

A romantic tale of moonlight and pearls, white elephants and Grand Viziers, it is also a picture of every day boy life, creamed with humorous situations.

"I hoped to find the spirit of the picture had been maintained, and I was amazed to find that E. Mason Hopper, its director, had not only done this, but has developed possibilities I did not know existed. I am delighted also to find that the picture is excellent from an artistic standpoint. It is one of the most beautiful films I have ever seen," said the author, who traveled from Chicago to the Goldwyn studios, Los Angeles, to personally cut and sub-title "It's a Great Life."

This remarkable photoplay will be seen at the Fuller theater for three days commencing Sunday.

AT THE STRAND

Maurice Tourneur's "Deep Waters" is being shown at the Strand theater for the last times today. The story is laid on the New England coast, and centers around Caleb West, a deep sea diver and his attractive young wife who hears the call of youth when she becomes acquainted with Bill Lacy, her husband's helper.

Buster Keaton in "The Haunted House" is the added attraction.

Tom Moore in a new comedy adapted from the Cohan and Harris stage hit entitled "Officer 666," and the very latest Mack Sennett comedy, "She Sighed by the Seaside" will be the attractions at the Strand Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

CINDER MEN LEAVE TODAY FOR CHICAGO

Badger Squad in Good Shape to Meet Maroons

Minus the services of two runners who are ill, the Wisconsin track squad leaves for Chicago this morning to engage the University of Chicago team in the first outdoor dual track meet of the 1921 season. The Badger track men who are ill are Lyle P. Klug '23, quarter-miler, and Henry H. Noble '23, distance man, who has recently undergone an operation for appendicitis.

With the exception of these two men, the Badger track and field squad is in excellent condition for the meet with the Maroons. Steady workouts last week on the Camp Randall track served to put the men in shape after the rains of last week which prevented them from practicing daily.

Albert J. Knollin '22, joint holder with Carl Johnson, Michigan, of the conference indoor high hurdles record, is nearing top form. Knollin is going over the sticks in championship fashion, and with a little more work should be in condition to finish ahead of every Big Ten hurdler. Dale Merrick '21, winner of first place in the pole vault at the Penn relays, and Lloyd Wilder '21, who captured third in the same meet, are both ready for the start of the conference season. Merrick cleared the bar at a higher mark than he had made previously when he vaulted 12 feet 7 3/4 inches at Penn. Wilder made 12 feet, a record which gave him a tie for the pole vault title at the conference indoor track meet at Evanston.

Capt. Clyde Nash '21 will be hard pressed in his half mile event by Bartke of Chicago. The Maroon runner is one of the stars on his team, and has placed up in front in several meets. In the shot put, Guy M. Sundt '22 is counted upon to score. The Badger field man copped a fourth place in this event at the indoor meet. He is also entered in the javelin throw and the broad jump.

The longer distance runs will be taken care of by Mark H. Wall '22, Clarence W. Wille '22, and Wellington Brothers '21 in the mile and George Finkle '23, Henry C. Dennis '21 in the two mile. Wisconsin is weak in the sprints, but Coach Thomas E. Jones hopes to over-balance this by counting a majority of the Badger points in the longer runs.

Chicago Strength Unknown

Chicago has a team of unknown strength. Although the Maroons failed to show championship class in the indoor conference meet, they scored more points than Wisconsin at the Drake relays. Captain Harris in the hurdles and quarter mile run, and "Joe" Hall in the middle distances, are two of the fastest Maroon speeders. McWilliams, who is entered in the hammer throw, javelin throw, and shot put, is one of the best field men in the Big Ten.

"Wisconsin runners are in good shape," said Coach Jones yesterday afternoon. "The men have not reached top form as yet, but they can be counted upon to make a good showing in every event. Little is known of the Chicago team, but on the basis of previous showing, Wisconsin will probably win the meet."

Entries in Meet

Wisconsin and Maroon entries in the events follow:

WATER STUNTS EXHIBITED BY DOLPHIN CLUB

Unusual ability in every phase of swimming was shown at the Dolphin club exhibit Friday evening at Lathrop hall. From the exhibition of the breast, side, crawl strokes through the relays, dives and stunts, much skill was evidenced.

Musical selections by the harp, three violins, and the flute, furnished accompaniment to the almost perfect rhythm of the swimmers who illustrated the breast, side, and waltz strokes. The enjoyment of swimming to music was demonstrated.

The "brightest lights" of the evening came in the stunts. Swimming and racing with middies, floating by means of umbrellas, as well as a fictitious "fall in", were unique features. The backward evolution, swimming in water without the use of hands or feet, and "Will O'Wisp", a blindfolded chase gave evidence of the swimmer's talents.

Water Polo Game

The water polo game in which the "reds", captained by Olga Anderson and the "blacks", Edith Ewall's team, lined up against each other, was the exciting event during the exhibition.

The remarkable dives took much applause. A few of the "specialties" were the head stand, the elbow jack, back jack, double dive, and the sailor's dive.

Miss Mary Brownell, sponsor of the club with the cooperation of the members, is responsible for the capable exhibition.

CAREFUL STAGING OF CURTAIN CLUB DRAMA PLANNED

Production Committee Gets Special Sets and Costumes for "Tragedy of Man"

Careful study of English life as it was early in the nineteenth century is being made by the production committee of "The Tragedy of Nan," in an effort to make the staging of the Curtain club play at the Fuller theater Tuesday, May 10, as much of a masterpiece as is the drama itself.

"Nan" is regarded by critics as one of the strongest and most gripping tragedies written in the English language during the past hundred years," says Prof. J. F. A. Pyre, director of the production. "The play has the beauty of poetry although written in the simplest prose."

"One who witnesses the play finds himself strangely worked up by the desperate straight which confronts Nan," he continued. "One can hardly keep from interfering. One is reduced to so elemental a state of mind that he becomes very lik the man at a melodrama who insists upon climbing on the stage to save the heroine from the villain."

In an effort to make the staging worthy of the play special sets have been designed by Mr. Frank Riley and Prof. W. H. Varnum. The scenery is being painted under the direction of Professor Varnum, who is also working out the lighting effects which will at all times suggest the spirit of the different scenes.

Costume that will be correct in every detail are being made under the direction of Mrs. Eugene H. Byrne and Prof. Pyre. Mr. C. B. Leake, assisted by Mr. Russell Bond, has charge of the properties.

The supervision of the play is in the hands of a production committee consisting of Professors J. F. A. Pyre, O. J. Campbell, and J. M. O'Neill.

Park Committee Will Meet at 7:30 Tonight

The special east end park committee will meet at 7:30 tonight at the city hall to discuss the matter of providing a park on the east side. Ald. George J. Fessler is chairman.
