LEAGUE DEBATE IS BACKED BY 200 PETITIONS

Forensic Board Asks Party Leaders to Discuss Issue Here

Members of the Forensic board will call tomorrow on the Republican and Democratic county chairmen and on the mayor of Madison to present petitions requesting that representatives of the two parties hold a debate on the League of Nations issue at the university in order that it may be clearly presented to voters of the university and Madison.

Two hundred petitions asking that this debate be held have been circulated among student voters, and many have already been returned full of signatures. A number of petitions have also been circulated among business men on the square.

The Madison Association of Commerce yesterday issued a statement advocating the debate be held. The statement follows:

"The Madison Association of Commerce endorses the proposal for a public debate on the League of Nations between representatives of the Republican and Democratic parties in order to give the voters of Madison a better opportunity to intelligently judge the merits of this issue. (Signed) C. B. Chapman, president."

In case the parties are unwilling to discuss the issue, a student debate on the subject will be held under the auspices of the Forensic board.

$1,000 RAISED IN Y. W. C. A. DRIVE

Campaign to Continue Until Every Girl Has Been Approached

The Y. W. C. A. financial drive showed a total of $1,000 early Wednesday afternoon.

Although the Y. M. C. A. drive is to be completed tonight, Y. W. C. A. is to continue its finance campaign through Friday of this week. Its object is to interview every woman on the campus personally. If this proves to be too big a job to complete by Friday, the work will be continued until every girl has been approached.

A meeting of captains and workers on the teams was held Wednesday noon where instruction was given in meeting objections which are presented by the people solicited. The members of Y. W. C. A. board were also present to get first-hand information on the drive with a view of spreading it in their respective houses.

At the end of last week Y. W. C. A. membership totaled 500. As a result of the financial drive 180 new members have been added.

SWIMMERS GET INTO SHAPE FOR TANK SCHEDULE

Freshmen Squad Preparing for Varsity-Frosh Meet Next Week

With the first varsity-frosh swimming meet but a week off, and with an all-frosh match scheduled for Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock, Coach Joe Steinauer is fast whipping his men into shape for competition. Sixty candidates have appeared for positions on the yearling swimming squad. The large squad, which has been divided into two sections, will compete in a match this week which will go far to determine the men who will comprise the final freshman squad.

Thirty-nine men have reported to Steinauer for the varsity team. Seven of these candidates have seen former conference competition, and with Captain John Koch leading the squad, there are 24 natators who have positions on the first team assured. Varsity water dogs are taking long distance swims and short wind sprints, but no diving practice has been held for the men up to this time.

The swimmers face an unusually heavy schedule this season. Three other preliminary swims, the varsity-frosh handicap match, November 10, inter-class competition, December 3, and a contest with the Milwaukee Athletic club at Milwaukee, December 17, will put the varsity squad in condition for the conference season. Meets are carded with Illinois and Northwestern, and tentative dates have been arranged with either Indiana or Chicago to make the trip to Madison. The water sport season will close with the all-conference match at Northwestern, March 22 to 26.

"Prospects are only fair," declared Coach Joe Steinauer, "but if the men get by in studies, and there are no losses through ineligibility, we may have a successful team."

S. G. A. TO STAGE COSTUME PARTY SATURDAY NIGHT

Cider and doughnuts and dancing will round out the evening at the S. G. A. costume party Saturday night in Lathrop hall, after a program of vaudeville stunts.

The best group costumes will receive prizes as well as the funniest and prettiest costumes, the committee announces. As the stunts are to be given only by special organizations, girls are especially urged to come in original group formations.

The costumes party is an annual occurrence, and is attended by a large number of women of the university.

NOTARIES TO HELP IN VOTING BY MAIL

Notaries Public will be on duty in different parts of the campus Thursday and Friday afternoons and Saturday morning, for the convenience of students voting by mail. The men voters will find a notary in the basement reading room of the Law building and in the entrance hall of the Biology building. Another one will be in the parlor of Lathrop hall for the convenience of the women.

BEWARE

Engineers Warn Slickers to Stand Back Friday Night and Give Co-eds a Chance

Woe to the unfortunate tea-dancer who fusses Jennie or Eleanor to the All-Engineers' mixer Friday night, which the knights of the slide rule are planning to make one of the big events of the year.

"Only once a stranger" is to be the slogan of the evening, the early part of which will be taken up by a short snappy program, including several numbers by the Mens' Glee club, and a ventriloquist and mind reading act. The formal program will be concluded by "Screen Smiles," affording those of the faculty present opportunity to see themselves as others see them. The remainder of the evening will be given over to a variety of mixing stunts, the object being to promote a better acquaintance among the students themselves, and between the students and faculty.

During the evening, the party "relay" from Music hall over to the Engineering building where the program will be resumed, and where refreshments will be served.

Tickets are now on sale, and may be secured from Al P. Gerhardt, the general chairman, or from Birney Miller, at F. 200.

TEAM GETTING IN CONDITION FOR GOPHERS

Frosh Use Minnesota Shift in First Workout This Week

Coach Richards sent his crippled football squad through their first stiff workout since the Ohio State game yesterday afternoon, when both the frosh and "All-American" elevens were sent against the varsity. Owing to hard battle at Columbus last Saturday, and the large number of minor injuries the squad had received no scrimmage was held until last evening.

"Keg" Driver has drilled his yearlings in the Minnesota shift, and yesterday the Gopher plays were used against the varsity. Richards spent some time instructing his line-men in breaking up the shift which has been the outstanding feature of the Gopher attack for years. After the frosh had offered some fast competition, Richards called for the "All-Americans."

Neither End at Practice
It may be necessary for Richards to develop a new pair of ends before the Minnesota game. Neither Captain Weston nor Tebell was in uniform last night. "Red" is still suffering from an injured knee received in the early part of the Buckeye game. Tebell has his arm in a sling, his shoulder having been dislocated. The injury may keep Tebell out of the game for the remainder of the season.

Knapp and Barnes were working at the end positions in the scrimmage last night. The latter, who was injured in practice in the early part of the season, is now back in condition, and may be used at one of the extremities. Captain Weston is expected to be out in a suit today.

Backfield in Shape

Sundt and Holmes both took part in yesterday's work-out. The former was forced to retire from the Ohio game with a bad ankle, while Holmes wrenched a shoulder in the same game. By the end of the week these two back-field men should be back in shape, ready to start the final grind for the Gopher tilt.

Both the freshman squad and the "All-Americans" are now pointing for the inter-class battle Saturday. Driver has made the final cut in the freshman squad and is now concentrating on a few men. Practically the entire "All-American" lineup consists of second year men, all of whom are in good condition. It is rumored that the yearling will revert almost entirely to Minnesota formations and line-shifts in Saturday's game.

Score Cards Used to Keep Records in Y. W. C. A.
Finance Drive

"Is that a football score card, or a class schedule?"

This would be no idle question should one but poke his head into the Y. W. C. A. office in Lathrop hall and take a squint at the neatly ruled and red-inked cards which are spread out on a table there.

"We're using these cards to keep the records of the work of the different teams in the finance drive," explained Auta Lyman, finance chairman. "You see, it gives the name of the captain, the amount of money each girl gets each day, as well as the number of people she solicits."

But some people do not have to be solicited! One girl presented herself at the Y. W. C. A. office with a voluntary contribution of $25 the other day. This is the largest contribution that has been made. Many girls contribute $3 and $5 and smaller amounts down to 50 cents. The amount solicited is $2.

They do say the day of miracles is past, but even a man brought in his contribution to the Y. W. office Wednesday noon.

Wednesday afternoon the contributions had amounted to $962.50. This was before all the teams had reported, and it was the opinion of the officers that the $1,000 mark would be reached before night.

This drive for contributions is not connected with membership in the Y. W. C. A. and it is not being confined to members only. However, the solicitors are equipped with membership blanks in order that they may give them to any girl who may wish to join.

EUTHENICS CLUB TO GO ON HIKE TODAY

Members of Euthenics club, and any "Home Ecs" who are interested, are to meet at the main entrance to Lathrop hall, this afternoon at 5:30, for a Hallowe'en hike. Each girl is to bring her own lunch, and carfare for part of the trip. This is the club's second open meeting, and non-members are especially invited to meet the girls of the club and find out what the organization is doing.

The purpose of Euthenics club is to promote interest in home economics and the many lines of work connected with it. For example, in addition to its regular meetings, the club includes among its activities such work as making clothes for needy children in the Italian district, in this way helping to link up the university with the class which offers the greatest field for the work of educators.

REGISTRATION SWELLS VOTE

Election Officials Predict Heaviest Balloting in History

Election officials predict the heaviest vote in history at the general election next Tuesday, as a result of the registration Tuesday. Although the primary election had brought out a large number of voters, including many women voting for the first time, there was a heavy registration Tuesday. Many women registered for the first time.

October, with its many moving days, required re-registration of persons who had moved from one ward to another. Precincts in which students live had the largest number of transfers.

There were 245 new registrants in the eighth ward, and 200 in the fourth ward. The first precinct of the seventh ward has a total registration of 1,900 voters as a result of the increase Tuesday.

HUMANE BODY NAMES HEADS

Mrs. Kittleson Elected Vice President; Discuss Vivisection

Mrs. I. M. Kittleson was elected vice president and will preside at the meetings of the Dane County Humane society until a new president is elected. This was decided at the annual meeting of the society held at the city library last night. Other officers who were elected are: secretary, H. S. Siggeko; treasurer, Miss Rosette Woldenberg; counsel, Rufus B. Smith.

Reports from the former officers, President, Dr. L. B. Wolfenson; vice president, Rufus B. Smith, secretary, Mrs. A. R. Fish, treasurer, Mrs. I. M. Kittleson, were read. At present, according to Mrs. Kittleson, there is a balance of $1,347.88 on hand—this year's returns being the most successful of all years. William Busse, agent of the society declared that there were fewer cases of child delinquency during the last year than ever before. There were 90 horse cases, 21 cases concerning human beings, 6 bird shooting cases investigated, 3 homes investigated, 2 cases of cruelty to children.

The question, "Is Vivisection Necessary?" was discussed. The society intends to investigate this matter thoroughly. It is through the medium of the schools that the society will reach the younger generation and teach them to do right.

The following were elected to the board of directors: Mrs. Burt Mason, Mrs. Henry Johnson, Mrs. V. C. Melville, Mrs. A. F. Dexter, Miss Rose L. Woldenberg, Mrs. Fred Bremer, Mrs. L. M. Hobbins, Mrs. I. M. Kittleson, Mrs. C. C. Udell, Mrs. Phillip Fauerbach, Mrs. G. M. Neckerman, Mrs. E. H. Van Ostrand, Mrs. Alma B. R. Fish, Mrs. J. C. Wolcott, A. W. Siemers, H. S. Siggeko, D. C. MID-TERM EXAMS CAUSE OF STRIKE

At New York University the students are raising the question whether college instructors have the right to quiz their pupils. One of the English classes in Washington Square college says "No." In order to punish their instructor for promising them a mid-term quiz, the students departed at the beginning of the period, before the appearance of their "prof.", to another room, where they remained for the rest of the hour.

Fancy Names Find Disfavor, So Poultry Club Takes Con- servative One

It's the Badger Poultry club. Fancy chickens may be approved of but members of the new organization do not look with favor on fancy names, so Fry and Fricasse, Beak and Claw, Crow and Cackle and other suggested titles were tabooed at the second meeting of the student fanciers held Tuesday night in the poultry building.

The constitution of this latest addition to campus organizations was presented at the meeting and unanimously adopted. It stipulates that the purpose of the club shall be to promote the interests and activities of students in various phases of poultry husbandry. Any student in the university may become a member. Those who come for the agricultural short course may also join. Meetings will be held at 7:30 on the second and fourth Tuesday nights of the month.

"The Wild Chickens of the Philippines," was the subject of a talk given by Felipe O. Cevallos following the business session. Mr. Cevallos, who is a native of the islands, described the fowl that is peculiar to the country and gave an interesting description of its habits.

The poultry club expects to cooperate with Saddle and Sirloin in exhibitions at the Little International to be held this winter and is planning an extensive display of prize winning poultry.

BADGER CLUB HOLDS HAY RIDE SATURDAY

An old-fashioned hay ride to Nakoma, where the party will be entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Nickles, is planned for Saturday night by the Badger club. It is planned to make the affair a real old-fashioned Hallowe'en party; and to aid in this, the girls will wear gingham and aprons and the boys, overalls and army clothes.

There will be cider and doughnuts for everyone and plenty of ghosts and amusing Hallowe'en games are promised by the committee.

The charge for the party will be 40 cents; and all who intend to go are asked to call either Miss Debbink at B. 4724 or Herbert Muth at the university Y. M. C. A.

LANDSCAPE CLUB TO HOLD MEETING

The autumn meeting of the Wisconsin society of Friends of Our Native Landscape will be held at Nakoma park, Saturday, October 30, at 4 o'clock. Members living in the Nakoma suburb, will be hosts. Each one will take his own lunch. There will be singing led by Prof. E. B. Gordon, folk-dances, and Indian stories told around a campfire. All university students are cordially invited.

REV. DUDLEY SPEAKS AT CHURCH BANQUET

"Every young man and woman is a vital factor in the making of the modern world," said Rev. W. E. Dudley of Winona, Min., in an address at the seventh annual banquet of the Congregational students association attended by 400 students Tuesday night. "University students are inclined to regard the class room and the pulpit as antagonistic after their first study of the sciences," Rev. Dudley continued.

"The world is a progressive ceptions must always be recognized. As new principles in science have been introduced by Copernicus, Newton and Darwin, so must new conception in religion be accepted. After a thorough study of modern science and philosophy, a student will find harmony between science and religion."

Prof. E. A. Gilmore was toastmaster of the dinner. Musical selections by Robert Nethercut and Clarence Winchester and a whistling solo by Reba Hayden completed the program.

FIGHT IT OUT

PETITIONS have been in circulation on the campus calling upon the Dane County Democratic and Republican committees to arrange a joint debate in Madison some time this week on the league of nations.

The movement to have such a debate held is being sponsored by the Forensic board and has the support of students on both sides of the question. It is not to be a partisan affair. The whole purpose is to clarify the issues and to enable the students to come to some definite conclusion before election day.

Some speakers have already appeared here on one side or the other. Former Senator Beveridge made a speech against the league some three weeks ago. Not many students heard him. Later the Social Science club planned to have Roland Mahaney present the pro-league side. He was unable to come and his place was taken by a Democratic state senator from Indiana. His speech was inadequate. Few students heard Dr. Paul Reinsch Friday night.

Consequently, the situation demands a thorough and vigorous joint discussion of the league by men who know what they are talking about. It is highly desirable to have the paramount issue of the campaign threshed out by both sides in open debate. Hundreds of students eligible to vote, have not yet decided how they will cast their ballots. The joint discussion will be a great help to them.

The petitions requesting the county committees to put on the debate should be generously signed.

THE "Y" FELLOWSHIP MEETINGS

TONIGHT at 7 o'clock Professor L. B. Wolfenson of the department of Semitic languages will address the Y. M. C. A. fellowship meeting on the "Jewish Idea of Jesus." It will be remembered by many that last Thursday, in a similar meeting, Professor McGilvary spoke on the non-religious life. During the next three weeks other speakers will present other points-of-view in religious matters.

The purpose of the Y. M. C. A. in undertaking such a program is twofold: first, it represents an effort to get all the different conceptions of religion before the students in an unbiased manner; second, it seeks to arouse student thought in regard to the spiritual and philosophical beliefs that influence our lives.

The purpose of these discussions is admirable. It answers a crying need in university life.

To know the beliefs and conceptions by which other men, to a marked degree, mould their actions is one of the most valuable and broadening influences that can be offered a university man. It is a knowledge which betters a man intellectually. It is a knowledge which helps in his contact with other men in the university and in the life outside the university.

Again, an understanding of the various religious conceptions—of their points of strength as well as their points of weakness—makes for toleration and open-mindedness. Bigotry, intolerance, and ill-founded prejudice flourish in narrow and ignorant minds. Toleration and indulgence follow enlightenment upon opinion contrary to our own.

The intellectual stimulus afforded the student is also a point of strength in the "Y" plan. To encourage student thought on these gigantic and complex problems as well as on the lighter phases of life is a laudable undertaking. To show students that they must defend their points-of-view with sound reason if these points-of-view are to stand, is an achievement of utmost value.

The students should hear the speakers at the "Y" Fellowship meetings. The opinions voiced there should be discussed in student groups. By so doing the students can become broad-minded, versed in other people's beliefs, tolerant, and intellectually keener than they now are.

It is only required that the student sign his own name and the name of the organization using the equipment, if it is to be used on a hike or picnic, and return the same when through with its use.

Communication

MAY PETERSON AGAIN
Editor, Daily Cardinal:

As one of the many music lovers in the community I should like to congratulate the university and the town on the fact that we have a group of students who are not only willing but unquestionably able to arrange a series of first class concerts that will set a new record for extra-curricular activities and will add enormously to the intellectual life of Madison. It is a matter of the deepest pleasure and hope to several thousand people. In thus expressing my thanks, may I add a few words to what has already appeared in your columns about the first concert of the series?

It is a pleasure to agree with Mr. Saunders in his communication of yesterday, on his appreciation of Miss Peterson's flawless technique. I do not think that in a score of years of concert-going in Madison I have ever heard here a more beautiful voice, more perfectly controlled or more exquisite to listen to. There were moments in that concert that one can never forget. But that is not all, for there were far too many that one would gladly forget, if possible. The writer, and there are many who will agree with him, has seldom if ever been more annoyed and disappointed by an artist on the local concert stage. Why? Here was a singer whose luscious tones and faultless singing did not prevent her from neglecting one of the most important features of an artistic performance,—to build up an artistic program in the first place and to adhere to it in the second. The list of songs as given on the printed program left much to be desired of so great a singer, especially in the later groups. However, that is a personal opinion and there is room here for disagreement. Yet surely all true music lovers, and there were many more present than Miss Peterson realized, will agree that the audience was sadly maltreated by the singer in two respects.

First, the inexcusable jar Miss Peterson gave us by her impromptu and at times silly analysis of the song she was about to sing in a large measure destroyed the sympathy her appearance, gracious manner and really amazingly beautiful singing of the first Mozart number created. From that moment she allowed her geniality, greatly overdone, to jeopardize the artistic effect of her performance.

Second, let us hope again through an excess of good nature, she weakly allowed herself further to spoil her program by kindly enough intended accessions to popular requests, a highly dangerous kindness on the part of any real artist who knows how carefully a program must be built up as a unit, in which no hurried changes can be made without throwing the whole off balance, and leaving the audience with mental reservations as to the singer's artistic sincerity and varied ability. This, Miss Peterson undoubtedly did. And one instance among several, for she made at least three unpardonable substitutions, she omitted the Campbell - Tipton Elegy, a difficult, exacting, emotional song, and gave us (twice over!) an utterly worthless popular ditty. Following other substitutions of an exactly similar character, the inevitable conclusion was, if you will forgive the vernacular, that she "pulled our legs". She didn't do what she agreed to do and she took the money!

In no sense does the writer think the slightest blame for these two defects in what should have been a most remarkable concert is attached to the committee in charge. The first defect no one could have foreseen. The second, no committee which has not run many concerts could have guarded against unless it had foreknowledge of the performer's tendency in that direction. But the second defect can be eliminated from future concerts. How? Secure from the artist well in advance a copy of the program. Publish it in the notices of the concert. Insist that the program be given as announced. To many artists are under the impression that because Madison is a small town in the Middle West they can do as they please after the contract is signed. The result is often what they do not foresee and do not later learn, that their artistic sincerity and depth of power is placed under suspicion. I

COMMERCE CLUB TO HOLD SOCIAL EVENTS

The Commerce club is making extensive plans for this year, which will include a Commerce dance, a Commerce banquet, and the bringing of prominent speakers to the university.

The following committees have been appointed to handle the club's activities: Inter-club association, William G. Fischer, chairman, Carl Farrell, Harvey Meyer, and Carl Fuhrmann; athletics, Warren Taylor, chairman, Ronald Mattox, Hobart Kletzien, and Abe Abrahamson; social activities, Rudolph Zimmermann, chairman, R. W. Garstang, Emil Hofsoos, and David Smith; alumni, Walter Neisser, chairman, Robert Lindsay, George F. Brewer, and W. W. Crane; special feature, Phillip Fox, chairman, Earle Tower, Ralph Scheinpflug, and Lester Griem; soph advisory, William Rubert, chairman, Humphrey Desmond, W. S. Olin, and Lloyd Wilder; publicity, Charles Hawkes, chairman, Thomas T. Coxon, R. Reynolds, and R. Lowenthal; pin, Earle W. Hardy, chairman, Elmer Snider, and Norman Johnson; membership, Taylor Seiber, chairman, Lloyd Strobe, Dewey Nelson, and Vernon Sell.

SUFFRAGE LEAGUE DISCUSSES POLITICS

The coming election was the main topic of discussion at an informal meeting of the Suffrage league on Tuesday afternoon. Mary Alice Newton, chairman of the meeting, suggested that all women of the university ought to be so well informed on present day topics that they can get all their friends to think in political terms.

"The indifference of the American people regarding public affairs is appalling," said Miss Newton in explaining the purpose of the organization. "Recent statistics show that only one-tenth of the voting population of the United States actually casts a ballot. The Suffrage league ought to arouse the interest of the women on the campus in order that they may cast their votes intelligently."

The various political platforms will be the subject of the discussion at the next meeting to be held in the S. G. A. room in two weeks. All the women of the university are invited to be members of the league. Live discussions on all subjects of interest to the woman voter, will be the program for the coming year.

OUTING CLUB PLANS WEEK-END EVENTS

Horseback riders will have an opportunity for an hour gallop Saturday morning with Outing club. All those desiring to go must notify Pearl Lichtfeldt, Badger 117, or sign up on the Outing club board at Lathrop before Saturday. Horses will cost two dollars for the one hour. All going must be at White's stable at 11 Saturday morning prompt.

Bicyclists of the Outing club will take their weekly ride Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Everyone desiring to go must be at Lathrop hall at 10 o'clock Saturday morning with her own bicycle. A few extra bicycle can be obtained from Mary Maxwell, Badger 1334.

I regret to say that I shall have to hear Miss Peterson again before this impression is removed.

This criticism of our first concert is meant to be helpful and constructive. I trust that it will be so received. Wouldn't we all raise an unholy row if we bought seats for a rendition of "Hamlet" by a great actor, and when the first act was over, were given "Charley's Aunt" instead? It wasn't quite that bad last Friday night, but too nearly so to allow the similarity to pass unnoticed. The worst of it is that Miss Peterson did not know that if she had followed the true course she would have stirred that huge audience to its depths. Instead she treated us as if we were unintelligent children going to our first afternoon concert. Let encores take care of the less worthy numbers. Don't let us have great artists give us small town stuff at prices,—to the committee,—of Metropolitan Opera stars.

At The Theaters

AT THE ORPHEUM

The composer of "Dardanella," Johnny Black, will headline the Orpheum vaudeville bill which opens tonight and continues for the balance of the week including the three performances Sunday. Mr. Black, assisted by Miss Dardanella, will offer an unusual routine of song, dance, handsomely presented and well executed. Next of importance on this new bill will be seen the late musical comedy star, Johnny Burke, who will be seen in the skit called "Drafted," a military burlesque idea of much mirth. In an act of song and story entitled, "The Two Doctors," Kenny & Hollis, the original college boys will appear, while Daisy Dean and company will offer the dramatic sketch, "The Crisis," a big warm slice from the life of a million homes. The Melroy Sisters, two dainty artists, possessing grace and charm, appear in song and dance, and The Great Nagel company submit an act called "The Knut and the Chicken." Kinogram pictures complete this bill.

AT THE FULLER

The magnificent and massive mounting that the producer, George M. Gatts, has given the newest singing, dancing, song and girl show, "Katzenjammer Kids" made from the famous comic supplement cartoons, makes it one of the most attractive plays of its kind ever produced.

"Katzenjammer Kids" with its big fashion plate chorus, composed of the handsomest girls ever seen in musical comedy, will be the attraction at the Fuller opera house for tonight only.

"Katzenjammer Kids" is the joint effort of John B. Mulgrew who wrote the books of lyrics, and Donald H. Bestor, who wrote the jingly tunes. The piece was staged by Virgil M. Bennett, who is responsible for the fantastic dances and the beautiful ensemble numbers.

AT THE STRAND

A fierce battle at fisticuffs over a pretty girl in an opium den in Shanghai is only one of the exciting episodes in "Crooked Streets," the new adventure-romance starring Ethel Clayton, which is now showing at the Strand theater. Miss Clayton, as the heroine, has been taken to the den by a treacherous rickshaw driver. A supposed gambler and a drunken French sailor battle for possession of her. Of course, the adventure turns out happily, but brings some unexpected results in its wake.

"Crooked Streets" was adapted from Samuel Merwin's story, "Dinner at Eight." Jack Holt and Clyde Fillmore are included in the supporting cast and Paul Powell was the director. It is a Paramount Artcraft.

In addition there will be shown an extra added feature, Johnny Hines in "Torchy Comes Through," which was adapted from a Saturday Evening Post story by Sewell Ford.

CLASS ELEVENS TRAIN FOR TILT

Freshman and Sophomore Warriors Have Stiff Workout

The freshman and sophomore football elevens are undergoing a stiff course of training in preparation for the annual inter-class game Saturday. The frosh gridders have been stacking up against Richards' varsity squad, and Coach Lowman's "All-American" team during the last two weeks, and the men will take things easy for the rest of the week. Light signal work will serve as the finishing process. Coach "Bob" Quick is taking no chances of having any man injured before Saturday's game.

Frosh Offensive Strong

The sophomore squad, under the direction of A. C. Beyer, will be composed of men who have been working out with Lowman's "All-American" aggregation, and a few players who reported at Camp Randall for the first time Monday evening. The second year players are learning new formations, which will be used against the freshmen, in an attempt to break the long string of yearling victories in former years. While Beyer is teaching his men new plays designed to stop the frosh attack, the latter will remain content to use Michigan Aggies, Minnesota, and Northwestern formations. The yearlings have been working these successfully against the varsity in the past few weeks.

Frosh to Elect Captain

The 32 men who have been selected for the freshman football squad will elect a captain Friday night, on the eve of the big game. "While the freshman team is better organized and has the experience of playing against the varsity squad, I do not look for any easy victory over the sophomores," declared Coach Bob Quick. "We expect to win, but by a close margin, and one or two touchdowns will do it."

The game will start at 3 o'clock, immediately after the Madison high school and the Waupun contest. The admission will be fifty cents or coupon No. 5, which can be exchanged at the field before the game.

JEWISH IDEAS TOPIC OF FELLOWSHIP TALK

"The Jewish Idea of Jesus" will be the topic for discussion at the Fellowship meeting at the University Y. M. C. A. parlors tonight. Prof. Louis B. Wolfenson of the department of Semitic languages will be the leader.

"The Non-religious Life," which was discussed last Thursday night under the leadership of Prof. E. B. McGilvary was one of the chief subjects of conversation among students the next day.

Prof. G. C. Robinson will conduct the discussion next week on the subject, "Why Gospels are True."

Besides the weekly Fellowship meetings on Thursday nights, the Y. M. C. A. is holding special classes every Monday night at 7:00 p. m. The coming subjects to be discussed are: "Industrial Relations," chief speaker, Willis Wisler, chief of Bureau of Commercial and Industrial Relations, University Extension division; "Psychology and Methods of Boys' Work," speaker, F. P. Cockrell, boys' secretary, city Y. M. C. A.; and "Principles of Leadership," speaker, "Dad" Wolf, University Y. M. C. A.

"Y" PLANS TO FORM DISCUSSION GROUPS

The "Y" discussion groups which are to cover the student quarter are now organized, with leaders in nearly every section and fraternity house. In all there are leaders for forty of the groups, and it is hoped that even more can be organized before the program becomes too advanced.

At present the plans are to present major religious problems to as many men of the groups as can attend the weekly fellowship meetings in the Y, having an able member of the faculty at each meeting to give some one of the varying religious faiths or philosophies.

The first of the talks upon which it is intended to base the discussions was the talk by Professor McGilvary, last Thursday evening, in which he explained what is denoted as the non-religious life. The meeting itself was turned into a most lively discussion group as soon as his talk was completed. Professor Gillen, of the Romance language department, taking strong issue with many of the points and premises of Professor McGilvary, and a large group of students supporting the arguments of one or the other.

The second meeting will be held tonight, with Professor Wolfenson, of the Semitic language department presenting "The Jewish Idea of Jesus."

Student Training Valuable in War Time, Says Major Wood

"Do not sneer at the 'tin soldiers,'" said Major John S. Wood, commandant of the R. O. T. C., in his talk to the American Legion Tuesday evening in the Y. M. C. A. "The cadets are, of course, rookies, but at the same time they are receiving a valuable training, the importance of which the war department considers very great. During the past war one-half of the American lives lost were lost because of a lack of that fundamental training which the R. O. T. C. gives the men in their two years' drill. At present there is a very small chance of universal training being adopted, so we must rely on such organizations as the National Guard and the R. O. T. C. to train our citizens. The magnitude of the R. O. T. C. speaks strongly for its importance. There are 300 units in the United States totaling approximately 100,000 men in training."

At the meeting which followed Major Wood's speech plans were rejected for an Armistice day dance. The dance would have to be given Saturday, Nov. 13, which is the date for Homecoming. A campaign for new members was launched in an endeavor to enroll a large majority of the 1600 ex-service men now in school in the Legion.
