ALL IS READY SAY LEADERS OF 1922 PROM

Make Annual Affair
a Success

Committees working to make the twenty-sixth anniversary of the Junior Prom to be held February 11 in the state capitol, one of the most successful and economical Proms ever held have completed all arrangements.

Southern smilax will be used in the decoration of the capitol. Many colored lights thrown from the balcony will play throughout the evening. American beauty roses will decorate the governor's office where the reception is to be held.

Isham Jones, director of his own Rainbow Gardens orchestra, which will furnish the music for the night, has agreed to personally direct the playing of the official Prom foxtrot, "Waiting for You," written by Harold Taylor '22. The orchestra which is recognized as one of the leading combinations in the country will arrive here Friday, February 11, after a week's engagement at the Ziegfeld Roof gardens in New York.

Prom Reception February 10

Plans for the Prom reception to be given Thursday, February 10 at 4 o'clock at the Delta Upsilon house are well under way. It is one of the regular functions of Prom and will afford everyone an opportunity of meeting Governor and Mrs. John J. Blaine, President E. A. Birge and Miss Birge, the other guests of honor, the patrons and patronesses and the Prom chairman, Dale Merrick, and partner, Miss Marjorie Boesch.

Formal or informal dress may be worn at the Pre-Prom play, "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh," a three act comedy, to be given by Red Domino, Twelfth Night, and Edwin Booth, on Thursday night, February 10, at the Fuller theater.

Announcement of the method of parking cars has been made, and the committee in charge hopes to greatly facilitate matters by having student police assist in the parking around the capitol square.

Those going to Prom are asked to note the arrangement of the boxes published in yesterday's Cardinal in order to cause the least confusion during the evening. Ushers will be present to direct Prom-goers to their boxes.

Reception in Governor's Office

The reception at the capitol will be held in the governor's office and reception room with the Prom chairman and the members of his committee as well as Governor John J. Blaine and other prominent state and university officials in the receiving line.

Supper will be served at the Capitol cafe and the Garden Grill. It is estimated that about 375 people will be served each hour in the

OCTOPUS CONTRIBS MUST BE IN FEB. 8

All contributions for the February issue of the Octopus must be in by February 8.

Contributions may be dropped in the Octopus boxes located in Bascom hall, Physics building, Engineering building, Biology building, and Agricultural hall, or sent to the Union building at 752 Langdon street.

Satire, short or long, haiku and she jokes, pointed verse, and suggestions for drawings are needed.

Athletic Council to Act Monday on Western Trip

Whether the Wisconsin track team will be sent to Berkeley, Cal., during the spring vacation to compete with the University of California in a dual track meet, will be definitely settled Monday noon at a meeting of the Athletic council.

If the University of Wisconsin does not send the track team to the coast, it is certain that either the University of Illinois or Michigan university, both of whom received the same invitation, will send a team. According to an announcement by an athletic official of the University of California, one acceptance of the offer made to the three Western conference institutions has already been received.

The Athletic council is composed of Dean Scott H. Goodnight, Prof. F. A. Pyre, Prof. James G. Moore, Prof. Otto L. Kowalek, Prof. T. E. Jones, Malsten J. Thorkelson, university business manager, and Allen Davey '21, president of the Athletic board.

The sum of money guaranteed by the California officials will be sufficient to defray the expenses of the trip, according to Coach Jones. The cost of a round-trip fare to Berkeley, Cal., is $164.38. Pullman charges amount to $25. The minimum time required for the trip, as estimated by a local railway ticket agent, will be 68 hours one way. Four days of university work would be lost by making the trip, as the event would probably be scheduled for April 14, making it necessary for the team to leave about April 9.

SKATE RACES TO FOLLOW HOCKEY TOURNEY TODAY

Athletic Department Schedules Second 8 Mile Event and 2 Shorter Contests

In addition to the inter-class hockey tournament which will be held at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon on the rink north of the gymnasium, the Athletic department has decided to hold another series of long distance skating races. An eight mile event across the lake and back will be the principal race of the afternoon.

The distance race will be limited to men only, but two shorter races from the gymnasium to Picnic point and back are scheduled, one exclusively for women and the other for men.

The series of races is the result of demands by students that the events be held while the ice is good for skating. Coach T. E. Jones, chairman of the athletic department, has announced that awards will be made to the winners of the various events. The long distance skate will be the most hotly contested, for Badger skaters are intent upon bettering the time of 26 minutes and 10 seconds which was hung up by Chester Rieck '21 in the first eight-mile race on Wednesday afternoon.

The skating races will begin at 4 o'clock, immediately after the hockey tourney has been completed.

Because of a conflict with the ice boat race planned by the Madison Junior Association of Commerce, the University ice yacht event open to all university students and organizations has been postponed until a later date.

PROM CARDINAL

Fraternities and organized groups attending Prom are asked to mail their material (list of attendants and chaperons and post-Prom events), together with their orders for the Sigma Delta Chi Phon edition to C. P. MacInnis, 131 Langdon street, at the earliest possible date. Deadline is Tuesday, February 8.

BADGER FIVE INVADES GOPHER CAMP FOR FINAL BATTLE OF SEMESTER; KNAPP'S LAST GAME

Cardinal to Give Readers Wireless Service on Game

Detailed play by play reports on the Wisconsin-Minnesota game at Minneapolis tonight, will be received by wireless telegraph by The Daily Cardinal at its offices in the Union building and The Capital Times building.

The wireless reports will be received by Malcolm Hanson '22 at the university radio station, and will be transmitted by telephone to The Cardinal. The messages will come from a similar station at the University of Minnesota, and The Cardinal has arranged with The Minnesota Daily to get detailed reports of the game while it is in progress.

Students and townspeople who cannot see the game, but who are anxious to hear how Coach Meanwell's men are faring against the Gopher five, will be permitted to assemble in the Union building to get the plays as they are deciphered from the wireless code. The reports will be telephoned from The Cardinal office to Morgan Brothers' where they will also be announced.

Those who cannot be at either the Union building or Morgan's may get reports on the game by calling Badger 1137 or B. 250.

Arrangements have been made for the handling, between halves, of messages from the Wisconsin team to Madison and messages from Madison to the Wisconsin aggregation at Minneapolis.

NON-COMS CHOSEN FOR NEWLY FORMED PRESIDENT'S GUARD

Russell, Caluwaert, and Luning Re-elected Officers at Last Drill of Semester

Non-commissioned officers of the newly formed university cadet corps president's guard have been announced by the military department.

The election of the commissioned officers of the guard was held immediately following the last drill of the first semester, Thursday night, January 27, and the following cadet officers were re-elected: Maj. Cecil M. Russell '21, Maj. Evrard C. Caluwaert '22, and Capt. Robert L. Luning '23.

The Wisconsin basketball five will play its last game of the semester against the University of Minnesota quintet in Minneapolis tonight. Dr. Cooke has a fast aggregation at the northern institution, and, in anticipation of a stiff game, Coach Meanwell has been driving his Badger tossers hard this week. The varsity was put through a light workout yesterday afternoon and left at 9:30 o'clock last night for Minneapolis.

PURDUE 27, INDIANA 19

By a strong finish in the second period which necessitated the overcoming of a four point lead the Purdue basketball team defeated Indiana university last night by the score of 27 to 19. It was Indiana's first defeat of the year.

The Wisconsin men who made the trip were: Coach "Doc" Meanwell, Captain Taylor, Knapp, Ceaser, R. Williams, Tebell, Frogner, J. Williams, McIntosh, Horne, and Reynolds.

The Gophers have run true to their traditional form this year in that they have shown marked improvement since the season opened. Oss, playing his third year of conference basketball, is one of the best dribblers in the Big Ten. He and Arnston have figured prominently in Minnesota's scoring this year, and together have gotten no less than seven baskets in any one game. Their running guard, Sullivan, has attracted considerable attention due to his average of two baskets a game this year. Hultkraus, center, is playing a brilliant defensive game as well as feeding Oss consistently.

Team in Poor Condition

The Badger lineup will be the same as in the Michigan game: Captain Taylor and Knapp, forwards; Ceaser, center; R. Williams, running guard; Tebell and Frogner, defensive guards. Practically every member of the team is suffering from injuries received in the two hard games of the past week, therefore it is very probable that McIntosh and Jack Williams will be used for a portion of the game.

The strength of the Gophers is shown by their victory over Iowa and by their recent games with Illinois and Indiana. After completely out-playing Illinois for the greater portion of the game they encountered some hard luck in scoring from close shots and lost by a single point. Indiana won from Minnesota by one basket in the

LAST CARDINAL TODAY
With this issue The Daily Cardinal suspends publication during the examination period. The first issue of the second semester will appear Tuesday morning, Feb. 15.

One of the good habits we are about to form is that of not being late to any more classes this semester. We were late for the last one Friday.

Willard Duncan and Fanny Ward are beginning to look fairly well after a month of recuperation from their Cuba trip.

Wherein we revive a commendable department of this col. in years gone:

UNIVERSITY INSEPARABLES
Gordy Fairfield and Dody Seaton.
Allusions to the same and this column.

Shorty Barr and his thesis.
Dean Roe and some of our most illustrious Frosh.

The Phi Psis and their nine-inch hair.

Carl Russell F. and his drooping cigarette.

The Gammas and the Kappas.
Mickey McConnel and his ebony whiner.

Earl Hardy and that foolish grin.
The Ag. school's swine and the inhabitant of the fur thereof.

What to Do After the Last Exam

1. Censored. (The first thing we thought of.)

2. Censored. (Something we shouldn't think of.)

3. Start studying for next semester.

4. Read Pilgrim's Progress.

5. Go to Chi staying a week at the Blackstone.

6. Sleep far into February.

7. See if you can't catch a street car.

(This ought to be possible with a week on your hands.)

8. Write your friend's thesis for the practice.

9. Resign before you get fired.

10. Clean the engine on the Packard. (Our's don't need it.)

11. Go to church. (If you can find it.)

No. 6 strikes our fancy exceeding well. Our observations on the matter are as follows:

My long wait in the lobby
Gives me ample time to snore

Most lectures lull me off to sleep.

During the intermission, the Prom Cardinal, published by Sigma Delta Chi, journalistic fraternity, will be put on sale in the capitol. All the news that can be obtained, the lists of the Prom boxes, the pictures of the committee chairmen, and the Prom picture will be included in the paper. The price will be 10 cents.

Smooth black leather folios lined with black moire silk, containing a mirror and place for a snap-shot will constitute the girl's program. A bill fold made of the same material will be used for the men. The outside of both programs will carry a specially prepared design and pen and ink sketches of university scenes will be run at the bottom of each sheet in the printed dance program.

After the reception at 9:30 o'clock as Isham Jones' Rainbo orchestra strikes up "On Wisconsin," Dale Merrick, Prom chairman, and Marjorie Boesch will lead the grand march, assisted by Walter K. Schwinn and Della Mann, Clarence Rasmussen and Ruth Nelson, Harold Selvage and Margaret Green, and William Bloecher and Julia Lightbody. The marchers will wend their way around the capitol and when they are assembled on the first floor around the balcony, Governor Blaine will deliver his address of welcome.

Prom tickets and spectator tickets may still be obtained at the various pharmacies and will be available at the door the night of Prom. Spectators have been requested to use the State street entrance.

According to action by the committees and in keeping with the spirit of the Prom, there will be no flowers nor Prom favors this year.

Sunday morning, January 30, a display of the pictures of the chairmen of Prom committees will be placed in the window of De Longe's studio. The following Sunday the pictures of the partners of the chairmen who will be in the receiving line will be on display.

The names of Artur Strehlow and Marjorie Todd have been added to the Prom decoration committee, and of Edward Lee to the Prom publicity committee.

county. Wisconsin paid a total tax on personal incomes, after exemptions of $11,382,127. This was 1.01 of the nation's total.

A remarkable increase in the number of persons in Wisconsin paying income taxes is shown by the figures for 1916, 1917 and 1918. In 1916, before the United States entered the war, only 8,251 persons in the Badger state filed personal returns. In the succeeding year, the number increased to 70,554, while in 1918 the total swelled to 94,704.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The wealth of Wisconsin is succinctly shown by the statistics of income taxes paid by individuals and corporations of that state for 1918, announced by the commissioner of internal revenue.

Although the names of taxpayers are not revealed, the report shows that one person in Wisconsin paid taxes on an income of more than $400,000 but less than $500,000. The record return for 1918 on an income was for the highest class under the law, $5,000,000 or over and was credited to New York.

Other large returns from Wisconsin include one in the $300,000 to $400,000 class, one in the $200,000 to $250,000 class, six in the $150,000 to $200,000 class and twenty-four in the $100,000 to $150,000 class.

The largest number of taxpayers in the state were those in the $1,000 to $2,000 class, which numbered 24,488. There were 15,511 persons in the same class, however, who filed returns but whose personal exemptions and dividends exceeded their net income and they paid no tax.

EVERY DAY TO BE BUSY ONE FOR FARMERS

College of Agriculture Prepares Good Program for Conference

That every day will be a busy day for the thousands of farmers of Wisconsin who will be the guests of the university at the annual "get-together" conference which begins February 1 and lasts for a period of 10 days is evidenced from the program which has been prepared for them by the College of Agriculture.

TICKETS FOR PROM PRODUCTION GO ON SALE FRIDAY, FEB. 4

"Mrs. Bumpstead Leigh" to Be Presented Jointly By Three Dramatic Societies

Open sale of tickets for "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh," the pre-Prom joint production, will commence Friday, February 4, at the Fuller theater. Tickets for two performances will be sold at this time.

Prices for the matinee performance Thursday afternoon, February 10, will range from 25 cents to $1. Practically all the floor for the evening performance has been reserved in blocks for groups. The balcony and gallery tickets will be disposed of in the open sale, for prices ranging from 50 cents to $2.20.

Reservations for blocks of seats must be called for at the Sigma Nu house by this afternoon. No reservations will be given out until paid for.

"Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh," by Harry James Smith, is a sparkling comedy of American society, full of complications and surprising situations. The cast represents the three dramatic societies, Twelfth Night, Red Domino, and Edwin Booth. The characters are as follows: Justin Rawson, Ralph Scheinfug '23; Miss Rawson, Esther Guerini '22 (Red Domino); Anthony Rawson, Don Marvin '22; Jeffrey Rawson, Harold Benson '24; Mr. Leavitt, John V. W. WEATHER

The highest temperature during the past 24 hours was 35 at 4. p. m. and the lowest was 22 at 7 a. m. Sun sets at 5:05 p. m.

Rain and snow accompany a passage of barometric depression in the Rocky mountain region. Southwesterly winds and rising temperatures precede this disturbance as far east as the Mississippi Valley. Northerly and colder follow in the plateau regions.

INTERFRATERNITY BASKET-BALL RESULTS

Interfraternity basketball results last night are as follows:

Lambda Chi Alpha 13, Phi Sigma Kappa 3.

Yesterday's Cardinal in announcing the score of the game between Beta Theta Pi and Phi Sigma Kappa stated that Phi Sigma Kappa won by a score of 21 to 12. The score should have read 21 to 12 in favor of Beta.

closing minutes of play.

Knapp's Last Game

Tonight is the last time that "Mike" Knapp will wear a cardinal uniform, as he becomes ineligible at the end of the semester. Doctor Meanwell faces a serious problem in filling the gap left by the star forward. Either Jack Williams or McIntosh will be delegated to the vacancy. Both men are fair shots but are less reliable than Knapp and both are much less valuable on defense.

The hopes for a victory tonight rest in the steady improvement shown by Wisconsin since the season began. From week to week the team has progressed remarkably, especially in its teamwork and in the individual defensive play, particularly that of Taylor and Ceaser. Moreover, the shifting of Ceaser to center and Frogner and Williams to the guard positions has strengthened Wisconsin in every department of the game. Frogner's work on defense is approximately equal to that of Lynn Smith and has rendered the defense much more capable of handling the taller men on opposing teams.

The outcome of this week's games will make one or two important changes in the percentage column. As a result of her victory over Indiana last night, Purdue now has the undisputed right to first place. Until last night the Hoosiers, coached by George Levis, a former Wisconsin star, had four victories and no defeats to their credit.

The Michigan-Chicago game will probably serve to strengthen Chicago's hold on second place. Chicago is evidently somewhat worried about the outcome of their game at Iowa on Monday night. Last year they received one of their two defeats from the Iowans. However, they should have no trouble in annexing another victory, as Iowa has received three straight defeats.

LOOKING BACKWARD AND FORWARD

ANOTHER semester has come to an end. The past four months have held many things that should arouse the pride of the university.

In athletics Wisconsin added new laurels to her fame. Only 60 seconds separated the Badgers from the conference football championship. The closing of the semester finds the basketball squad a fighting machine that has surprised the middle West.

In publications the developments are equally gratifying. Over in the Union building the Badger staff is working night and day to get out a book which will exemplify the service which the university is rendering the whole state. Most of the work on the book is nearing completion. Then there is the Octopus. It has been better this semester than ever before. No humorous college publication in the country excels it now. The "Lit" has set a high standard and is keeping it up.

Some misgivings have been expressed regarding the finance campaigns that have been held. The Union Memorial fund is coming slowly. The European relief fund was not all it might have been. The Wisconsin in China fund is also coming slowly. No doubt there has been a reaction against these campaigns. People do not have the money now that they had two or three years ago. However, retrenchment should not be made at the expense of legitimate and worthy causes.

In scholarship things are tending to come back to normal. The standings this semester showed a higher average than last year.

The big activity next semester will be the exposition. To make it a success means that a lot of hard work will have to be done.

ECONOMY AND DEMOCRACY

BEFORE the next regular edition of the Daily Cardinal comes off the press the 1922 Prom will be history. It is customary to deal in superlatives when making predictions about Prom. Each one is described as just a little bit better than the preceding one. There is no reason why this should not be the case. Those in charge of the affair would be negligent in their duty if they did not bend every effort to improve on the mistakes of the past.

There are unmistakable signs that the Prom this year will show many improvements in details over those in past years. The directors of the affair are on the right track. They have sounded the note of economy. If everybody responds in this spirit the Prom will not be a riot of extravagance. The settled opinion of most of the students now is that unwonted extravagance is foolish and unnecessary. It shows poor taste and does not add one desirable feature to the Prom. The announcement that economy will be the order of the day is extremely gratifying.

Another favorable sign is that the coming Prom will realize in large part the idea of democracy. It is reported that at least 12 groups of non-fraternity men have organized and will be out for the party. This makes for better feeling all around and lends to Prom an element of universality that has often been lacking.

Economy and democracy are good watchwords for the Prom. If they are carried out in the same spirit they have been planned, the Prom this year will be one to be long remembered.

BULLETIN BOARD

10TH ANNUAL ROAD SCHOOL WILL MEET IN CAMPUS BUILDING

The tenth annual road school under the direction of the Wisconsin Highway commission will open its sessions Monday, January 31, at Music hall and continue for a period of four days.

The school is held every year for the benefit of all those who are connected with state road construction and maintenance so that they may get together to discuss past successes and failures and plan future work.

Each of the four days is devoted to some phase of road work. The program for the session is as follows: Monday, January 31, registration day; Tuesday, constructors and contractors' day; Wednesday, administration day; Thursday, maintenance day; Friday, county highway commissioners' day.

REGISTRATION FOR SECOND SEMESTER 1920-21

The following regulations apply to all undergraduate students in the College of Letters and Science, Engineering, Agriculture, Medicine, Law, and the School of Music, who are in attendance during the present semester.

1. The rule regarding absences from first recitations after Christmas recess applies to the opening of the second semester. Students will be held responsible for attendance on the first exercises of the classes for which they have registered.

2. College of Letters and Science and Agriculture. Students must arrange the studies for the second semester by personal consultation with the adviser before the close of the first semester. Each advisor will post on his office door a statement of the hours when he may be consulted during the examination period and on registration days.

3. College of Engineering. Students are urged to register at the Registrar's office early, during the first week of the examination period if possible.

Engineering advisers will register students on Friday, February 4th. They will post their office hours for the above date on their office doors.

All advisers will register engineering students on February 10th and 11th from 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 2 to 4 p. m. The advisers of freshmen will be in the Engineering Library during the above hours.

4. The Registrar's office is open for registration during the examination period and students are urged to register early. Registration days are Thursday and Friday, February 10th and 11th.

5. University fees must be paid before class cards are issued. Fees may be paid at the Bursar's office, Administration Building. Office hours—8:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. and 2:00 p. m. to 4:00 p. m. An additional fee of one dollar must be paid by students paying fees after the 11th.

6. Bonus students see notice in time table of classes.

W. D. HIESTAND,
Registrar.

January 31, 1921.

DEPARTMENTS PLAN NEW COURSES FOR SECOND SEMESTER

To Benefit Students Interested in Economics, Journalism and English

"Industrial Insurance," a course for economics students will be one of several new courses to be given next semester. B. S. Beecher, secretary of the National Guardian Life Insurance company, of Madison will have charge.

Another course for economics students will be given by Dr. Smiley Branton of the Speech department, called "Correction of Speech Discorders." It will offer three credits to those who are interested in employment management work.

A new course, for the benefit of women students, will be given in the journalism department. It is a course of instruction in how to conduct women's departments of newspapers and magazines. Mrs. Genevieve Boughner will have charge of the class.

A two credit course in narrative writing, a course which has not been offered since the war, will be given by Prof. William B. Cairns of the English department. This course is intended for those students who desire to learn to write, and is open to advanced undergraduate and graduate students.

Wins Promotion—Stanley W. Penewell, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Penewell, 1214 Jenifer street, has been appointed staff sergeant of headquarters company, 33d U. S. infantry. BADGER MATMEN
TO MEET AMES
SQUAD TODAY

Peterman Unable to Make Trip
—Coach Takes Squad
of Seven

At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon the Wisconsin wrestling team will open the 1921 season against the Iowa State college matmen at Ames.

With the exception of Ivan H. Peterman '22, the squad is intact and all in good condition for the opening meet. The Badgers are well represented in every class, however, with Harry M. Pier '22 substituting for Peterman, who had not sufficiently recovered from an attack of tonsilitis to make the trip.

Coach G. T. Hitchcock believes that his men will return from Iowa college with all honors, for he has grouped together a squad of grapplers that will give any western school tough opposition. Nevertheless, the Ames meet will be far from easy for the visiting Cardinal wrestlers, for the Iowans have a strong squad and have meets booked with a number of eastern universities. Coach Mayser is as confident of a victory as is Hitchcock, for he placed Wisconsin at the start of his schedule, doubtless expecting less opposition than in other meets.

The following men made the trip: C. J. Posepny, 115 pounds; P. P. Livingston, 125 pounds; L. J. Culver, 135 pounds; W. N. Klass, 145 pounds; Harry Pier, 168 pounds; H. H. Holmes, 175 pounds; Ora McMurray, heavyweight, and Coach G. T. Hitchcock.

The Prices are Moderate

tuneful musical comedy, "Listen Lester," at the Fuller.

Unlike many good girl and music shows that have survived the vicissitudes of time, this one comes to Madison with much of the Chicago company intact. And the additions are creditable ones.

The scene, as would be expected, is in a hotel, a fashionable hotel at Palm Beach, where many aspiring nouveau riche and near riche sojourn, and where many who would attack plutocracy bask and hunt.

There comes, then, to this hotel a gentleman with a half dozen ciphers trailing on behind his name and a beautiful daughter, who, by the way, is unusual because she possesses all the accoutrements of an accomplished little heroine, twinkling feet, voice, et cetera. Of course, she has to meet and fall in love with some handsome young Appollo. But to save the affair from being a review, a plot has to be devised. And this comes in the form of syncopated manicurist who poor pere has set up in business and to whom he has written some sweet sentiments on pink paper. The pink letters tied in the red ribbon serve the purpose of holding the principles together.

Fred Heider, the long, lean clerk in whom all confide, shows his capabilities as a fun maker in the role of William Penn Jr., the fixer. A sweet young thing with nimble feet and a pleasing voice is Miss June Roberts, who sings and dances the part of Mary Dodge, who is looking for some man who wants her for herself and not for her father's money. And she finds him in the person of Jack Griffin, played by Frances X. Donegan, a virile chap with lots of enthusiasm and ability. The tailing Arbutus finds a capable and comic interpreter in Miss Betty Kirkbride.

FISCHER WILL RUN MAJESTIC

Returns to City to Take Charge of Local Theater

Frank W. Fischer has again taken over the management of the Majestic theater which he operated in 1915-16 and '17. Mr. Fischer is going to introduce Musical Tabs to Madison. Tabs to the uninitiated are the "high lights" taken from popular musical shows and operas. Two evening performance and an afternoon matinee will be given daily, with two changes each week. The opening show, "Make Yourself At Home" is a musical comedy featuring 20 principals and ten girls in the chorus.

Mr. Fischer is conducting a chain of theaters throughout Illinois, nine houses being located in La Salle, Kewaunee and Jacksonville.

AT THE STRAND

Folly, the giddy little actress and London idol, was really joking when she said that she'd sue for breach of promise if her millionaire fiance backed out at the last moment. But that light remark was repeated to him! And he believed it! He went through the elaborate marriage ceremony, the most gorgeous wedding that London had seen in a decade. But that night he told her that he had done it as "a business proposition," as he figured that it was cheaper and less distasteful than the publicity of a suit, but that she was to be his wife in name only. Poor little Folly! She really loved him, and had hoped for great happiness with him. To console herself, and partly to annoy her husband, Folly plunged into a very whirlwind of reckless gaiety, while Anthony, ever angry and suspicious, watched, watched, watched. Friends tried to patch up the wretched misunderstanding. And then the watching husband suspected the friends! Scorching, searing, blighting suspicion, that was what made their marriage a veritable furnace of unhappiness. But of course pure gold comes out of the fire not damaged, but purified and refined.

W. D. Taylor's "Furnace" is being shown at the Strand Theater for the last times today.

Sunday, Monday and Tuesday Ethel Clayton in "The City Sparrow" and a Mack Sennett comedy "Great Scott" will be the star attractions at the Strand.

AT THE FULLER

is one of the niftiest comedies to reach the screen for some time. It has an idea which could be used for more serious expression. You may call it a polity comedy—a satirical comedy—a melodramatic comedy and not go wrong on either count. It is one of the few comedies which has a purpose in its telling—there being very little recourse to outrageous comicalities. The high spot in the picture is a baby who enacts her role in a fine spirit of playfulness.

AT THE FULLER

"Billions," Nazimova's latest contribution to the screen, now showing at the Fuller theater, makes use of numerous unusual and fanciful sets, all of which have been designed under the personal supervision of Nazimova. Simplicity, however, has been the keynote, even where the bizarre was sought.

Incidentally, it is a tale that will baffle the fan who likes to anticipate the unfolding of the plot by predicting developments in advance of their appearance. For "Billions" is a picture of surprises.

One of the effective touches of the production comes at the very opening of the picture, where the scene is laid in a street of old Russia, which shows several hundred mounted Cossacks, riding amid a mob in front of the Czar's palace and near the Greek Cathedral.

As the result of a protest by the Purdue baseball team, the Junior Prom at Purdue has been postponed from May 6 until May 13, because the team is to play at Wisconsin on the former date.

40,000 Books Free to Rural Badger Readers

Forty thousand books are free to Wisconsin readers. There will be no lack of good live reading matter to fill in the long winter evenings on the farms or in the villages of Wisconsin this winter if one may judge by the activities of the traveling library department of the Wisconsin Free Library commission here. Within the past three months more than 40,000 volumes have been shipped to eager readers living in all parts of the state. More than 2,500 individuals have received books by parcel post since the first of October. These borrowers have simply written a letter asking for certain books and the books have been sent by prepaid parcel post for a three weeks loan, at the end of which time the borrowers return the books, paying return postage.

Failure to obey the University Housing bureau in the settlement of a dispute with landladies resulted in two students being placed on probation at the University of Michigan and rendered ineligible for student activities until they should follow the instructions of the bureau.

Plans for increasing the attractiveness of the campus by planting many new shrubs have been perfected at Ohio state. Two or three years will be needed for the work which will afford practical laboratory demonstrations for students of botany, horticulture, zoology, and landscape architecture.
