Riverview Poultry Yards

The Riverview Poultry yards are ideally located for breeding and raising the purest strain White Pekin Ducks.

From the time the egg is hatched from the incubator until the duck is ready for the market, weighing approximately six pounds, only ninety days elapse.

Our ducks are brought to perfection under conditions of unsurpassed sanitation, and they are developed by a scientific process of feeding, and for table purposes they cannot be excelled. Indeed, the Riverview Poultry yard ducks are now served in the most exclusive hotels, restaurants and homes in the country, east and west and north and south.

We have ample accomodations for raising and marketing upwards of thirty thousand ducks in a season, and we have shipping facilities which give us quick dispatch to all the leading centers of the country.

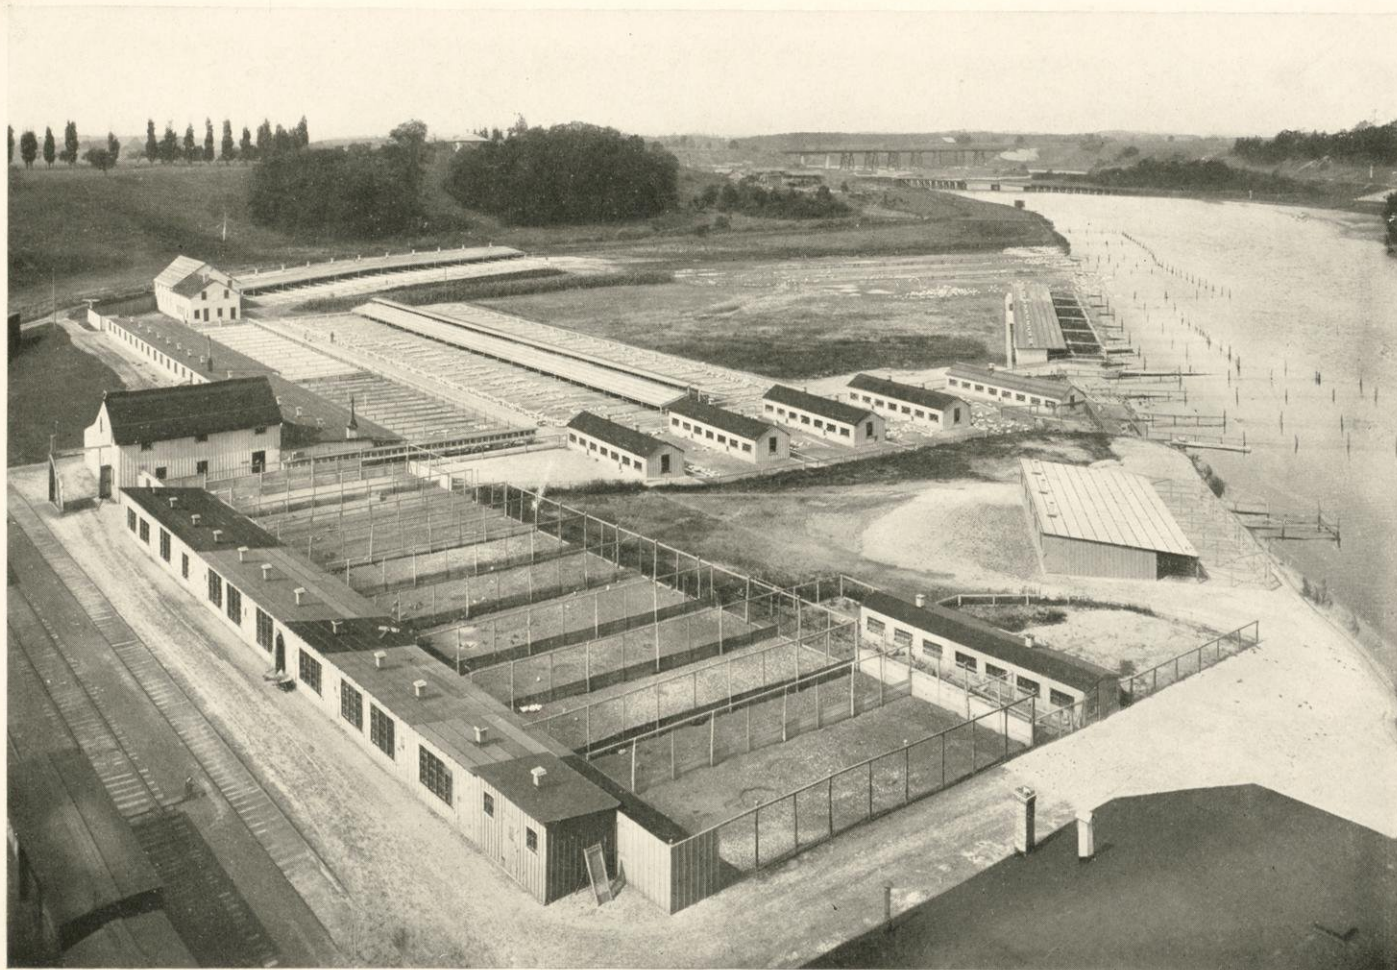

Wherever our ducks have been placed on exhibition they have been awarded prizes which place our yards in the very front rank. In all contests they have been uniformly successful.

We can furnish eggs for hatching purposes, day old ducklings, young and old ducks and show birds to any part of the United States. Prices on application.

The pictures shown on the succeeding pages are taken from actual photographs and they are an exact reproduction of the Riverview Poultry Yards.

We take pleasure in showing our patrons through the yards so that they may see for themselves our very complete plant for breeding and raising ducks.
