MITCHELL TO TALK HERE TOMORROW

Ousted Air Chief Will Give His Side of Aviation Squabble

Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, former assistant head of the air service, will speak here on the "War Department and National Defense" at 8 o'clock Monday evening in Music hall. This will be General Mitchell's only public speech during his present stay in the middle west, according to George J. Fiedler, vice president of the Forensic board. The Forensic board is sponsoring this speech.

General Mitchell will be introduced tomorrow evening by Prof. William G. Rice, Jr., of the law school. A special moving picture and slide machine is being installed in Music hall to show the exclusive and official slides of the sinking of battleships and other aircraft maneuvers with which General Mitchell will illustrate his speech to support his contention that the United States should have a separate and larger air service.

Immediately upon arriving in Madison Monday morning, General Mitchell will go to the capitol to speak to the legislators, in response to a resolution which was passed Friday inviting him to speak before them. His remarks at the capitol will be confined to thanks for the resolution which was passed a few weeks ago commanding him upon his bravery in his controversy in Washington, it is said.

"As soon as it was learned that General Mitchell was coming to Milwaukee to visit friends, the Forensic board got in touch with him by telephone to see if he would not come to Madison," Fiedler said yesterday. "Efforts to get the armory for the meeting were given up when it was found that it was impossible to use a motion picture or slide equipment there."

$700 PLEDGED TO FRIENDSHIP FUND BY FRATERNITIES

Incomplete reports received up until last night indicate that approximately $700 will be contributed to the student friendship fund by the fraternities, estimated Lincoln Frazier '26, chairman of the fraternity campaign.

Frazier stated that one man has been appointed for each house, and that because some of these men have not yet been able to complete their work, it is impossible to give exact figures on the results of the campaign as a whole.

Considerable sums as yet unreported are expected from the men who have been soliciting in the rooming houses and unorganized groups. The faculty campaign is being conducted under the direction of Prof. Pitman Potter.

Wisconsin, although finishing ninth in the 1925 Big Ten basketball scramble, places one man on the Daily Cardinal's first selection of players and one player on the second team. Barwig is placed on the first team and Diebold on the second.

Miner of Ohio and Logan of Indiana are the outstanding forwards of the conference this year and are given the forward positions on the first team. The men place first and second respectively in individual scoring. Both have played consistently all season. Cunningham of Ohio gets the center position. He is third in the scoring list, is tall and gets the tip-off and works in well on passing and guarding. Sponsler of Indiana in addition to being a stellar guard and responsible for much of Indiana's success the past season, stands high in scoring. Barwig of Wisconsin is given the other guard position in recognition of his consistent playing, fight, guarding and general floor ability.

Mary Eldredge To Be Honorary Colonel for 1925 Military Ball

Mary Eldredge

Announcement was made last night that Mary Eldredge '25 has been chosen honorary colonel of the thirteenth annual Military ball by Cadet Lieutenant-Colonel Clifford C. Franseen '25, chief of staff for the ball. The honorary colonel and the chief of staff will lead the grand march at the ball which will be held in the state capitol April 3.

Franseen and Miss Eldredge attended the President's Guard dance at Lathrop the first part of last night from where they went to the Alpha Kappa Lambda informality dance where the announcement was made.

Miss Eldredge is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wade H. Eldredge of Savanna, Ill. She is a member of Clef club and the Girls' Glee club and is known in music and home economic circles.

The title of honorary colonel was suggested by the practice of the cadet corps at the University of Illinois and other schools of naming an honorary colonel each year to be the partner of the Military ball chairman and is in keeping with the policy of those in charge of this year's ball to make it entirely military in spirit.

CHAMPION OHIO TEAM DEFEATS WISCONSIN, 37-23

Scores Easy Victory Over Badgers Despite Stiff Resistance

(Special to The Daily Cardinal) COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 15.—The Wisconsin basketeers fought hard all the way last night but could not measure up to the whirlwind finish displayed by the champion Ohio State five here and the title holders won the verdict by a 37 to 23 score.

Ohio, by virtue of this victory, finished the season with a record of eleven victories and one defeat, the first championship since Ohio became a member of the conference in 1913.

Ohio Leads at Half

The Badgers swept the Buckeyes off their feet during the first half, holding the lead most of the way until a split second before the gun announced the end of the game, when Johnny Miner, Ohio ace, sank a basket which gave the Buckeyes a 15 to 14 lead.

Eleven minutes had elapsed in the second half before Barnum registered Wisconsin's first point for this period, and by that time the champions had the game sewed up.

Badgers All Fight

Barnum scintillated at forward for the Meanwellites. He tallied six points on three baskets. Brooks led his teammates in counting, having a foul-counter lead over Barnum and Merkel. Merkel played a fighting game and came through with three field goals. Captain Diebold and Barwig both starred. They watched Johnny Miner and "Cookie" Cunningham, all high point makers for Ohio, so well that Shaw was left to take over the Buckeye scoring burden.

The game was the roughest seen here this season, though Referee Schommer failed to call many fouls. Both teams played at a furious pace all through the fray and the players were nearly worn out when the game closed.

Miner, Shaw Tie

Merkel was replaced by Bain for a while during the second half and Brooks relieved for a few minutes in favor of Anderson. But both regulars returned to the game in time to stage a last minute rally.

Gymnasts Cop Close One from Purdue

Fencers Win Five Out of Nine
Bouts; Season's Last Meet

By CLARENCE SCHLAVER
The Badger gymnasts triumphed over Purdue in the gymnasium last night, 1148.75 to 1135, and the fencers won five out of nine bouts from their strong opponents. It was the last contest for the apparatus and fencing squads.

Engaging in his last dual contest for Wisconsin, Capt. "Huck" Schmidt left but one first place to Purdue. "Huck" placed first on the horizontal bars, parallel bars, flying rings and finally tumbled his way to victory in the tumbling event. He tied for third with Li of Purdue in the side-horse exhibition and thus was awarded a place in every event.

Freytag High Fencer
Earl Hicks, also competing in his last meet, won third in the horizontal bar event and third on the flying rings. Kress, the third Badger man working in his last dual contest, placed second in the side-horse exhibition. Walter Huxley was awarded third on the parallels and tied for third with Van Meter in tumbling. Vornholt and Hiemke were the other men on the Wisconsin team.

In the fencing competition Freytag turned in a perfect score by beating his opponents in all three matches. He lost a hard fought duel combat to Schmidt of Purdue. May, of Wisconsin, won one fencing bout and lost two as did Hollister, the other Badger fencer. Walter Parsons lost a slashing battle by one point to Telkamp of Purdue. The Badger fencing team has an excellent record this year with victories in three out of four meets.

The Summary
Summary of the gymnastic competition:

Horizontal bars—Schmidt (W), Rier (P), Hicks (W).

Sidehorse—Rier (P), Kress (W), Schmidt (W) and Li (P) tied for third.

Flying rings—Schmidt (W), Jackson (P), Hicks (W).

Parallel bars—Schmidt (W), Jackson (P), Huxley (W).

Prizes were awarded the winners by the ice carnival committee for first, a pair of hockey skis; for second, a pair of snow shoes; for third, ski harness.

BARWIG, DIEBOLD ON BIG TEN HONOR TEAMS

Although it may be the opinion of many that Diebold is a better guard than Barwig, and certainly Marsh is a more heady player, Barwig combines all those qualities that go to make up an ideal guard. Diebold is placed as guard on the second team, along with Cameron of Ohio. Doyle, Michigan center, is a clever floor man and a good shot, a trifle better than Wolden of Minnesota. Spradling of Purdue and Haggarty of Michigan, two fast and versatile forwards, get the forward positions.

There are many selections that might be made for forwards on the third team. Laude, Iowa, holds only a slight edge over Janse, Iowa. Daugherty, Illinois star, was inconsistent, but even so rates higher than Mauer of the same school. Harmeson, Ohio, is a clever floor man, but has a poor eye for the basket. Rasey, Minnesota, started out the season well, but did not finish up the year with the same force with which he started. Wolden, Minnesota, takes the center job on the third team, with Raffensperger, Iowa, a close second. Cherry, Michigan, and Seiffer, Ohio, get the guard berths on the third selection.

Badger Icemen Threaten Minnesotta Goal But Are Unable to Score

(Special to The Daily Cardinal)
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 14.—Wisconsin hockey team lost to Minnesota last night 1 to 0 in the first of two ice contests here. The Badger team started off by sweeping their opponents off their feet. Many attempts were made by both teams to score in the first few minutes of play, only to be checked by the remarkable work of both goal guards.

Every man played his position to perfection, the first period ending with no scores.

Gross Tries, Fails

The second period started fast then as both teams neared exhaustion from the intensity of the scrimmage, Minnesota substituted five fresh men, putting Wisconsin at great odds. After a fast trip down the ice and a tough scrimmage, Scott of Minnesota succeeded in getting the puck past the good posts, making an unavoidable score.

In the third period the game sawed from one end of the rink to the other, the Minnesota goal being threatened many times. In the last minute of play Gross made a beautiful run down the ice, fighting his way past Minnesota's forward line and defense. He followed with a fast shot at the goal, which was checked by the goal tender.

WRESTLERS LOSE CLOSE MEET TO OHIO, 6 TO 8; NO FALLS MADE

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 14.—Fighting for victory the Wisconsin wrestling team lost a close meet to the strong Ohio grapplers by a 6 to 8 score. No falls were made in the match and many of the decisions were close.

Wisconsin took three decisions and Ohio came through with the last three events to win them all and the match. Coach Hitchcock's men won the first event, but failed by a close decision to take the second. O'Laughlin and Zodtnar fought their way to victory in the next two events by winning their matches by decisions. Ohio took a brace and won the next three matches and decided the fate of the Wisconsin men.

Elmer (W) 115-pounds won a quick decision from Fisher (O) in one minute and 28 seconds. Bundy (W) lost a close decision to Snider (O) in the 125-pound class in six minutes and three seconds. In the 135-pound class O'Laughlin (W) won a decision in three minutes and 30 seconds from Hummel (O). Zodtnar (W) won from Wilford (O) by decision in two minutes and seven seconds. Chada (W) lost to Watkins (O) in the 158-pound class in six minutes and 50 seconds. In the 175-pound class Splees (W) lost to Withacre (O) by a decision in seven minutes and 15 seconds. Stipek (W) failed to win from Roschon (O), the decision being against him in two minutes and 45 seconds.

OHIO STATE WINS FIRST CAGE TITLE

Bucks Have Great Team; Badgers Fail to Land Over Ninth Place

Ohio, for the first time since that university entered the conference in 1913, is conference basketball champion. With a record of eleven wins and only one defeat, the Buckeyes stand undisputed champs. They were doped to win long before the season started.

Ohio's chances for a victory, however, looked less promising as the Illini started out the season and held on to a perfect record until the latter-season games. Minnesota, Michigan and Iowa started the year in promising form, but succumbed as the play progressed.

For the first time Coach Meanwell's Badgers finished below the first three positions in the final standing. With practically only three veterans back, one of whom graduated in mid-year, Meanwell was forced to work with nearly all green material.

Wisconsin did not win a conference game until it took on Iowa; then repeated over Iowa and took the fast-waning Illini into camp. Wisconsin's record of scores for the year was 235 points to 289 points for opponents.

Northwestern surprised the basketball world by finishing above Wisconsin.

Indiana did in basketball what she could not do in football, and threatened all comers, finishing in second place. Purdue, after losing several games, came back and took most of her latter-season contests.

Chicago was a total failure, losing eleven games. Chicago tied for the championship last year.

Last Event, Robs Wisconsin of Victory(Special to The Daily Cardinal.)
EVANSTON, Ill., March 14.—Wisconsin's tracksters failed by two points of winning the Big Ten track meet here tonight.

The deciding event for Wisconsin was the mile relay. At the beginning of this event Michigan led the Badgers by one point, and Kennedy of Wisconsin was leading the mile relay when Spence, of Chicago, cut in on Kennedy, tripping him. Wisconsin was thus pushed out of a place in this event and Michigan won the meet by 22 1-3 points, with Wisconsin second with 20 points.

The final results gave Michigan 22 1-3 points, Wisconsin 20, Chicago 18, Illinois 17 1-3, Ohio 17, Iowa 9, Northwestern 6 1-3, and Indiana and Purdue 0.

McGinnis won the high jump from Russel of Chicago with a jump of six feet two inches and a half. Schwarze won the shot put, heaving the weight 47 1/2 feet. Bergstresser and Valley placed second and third in a mile, Kreiger tied for fourth in the pole vault, and Tuhtar tied for fourth in the high jump. Perry took fourth place in the two-mile run. Outlook for '26
Basketball Good;
3 Regulars Back

With the Wisconsin 1924-1925 basketball season drawn to a close by the playing of the Ohio game, the Badger fans are already looking toward next year.

Although this season was not entirely successful from the outlook of games won, yet the team seldom lost by more than six points. They defeated the veteran Iowa five in two games, and handed the fighting Illini one of the hardest defeats of the season.

Elsom did not report for varsity basketball because of lack of time. Wackman was graduated in the mid-semester and Doc Spooner, star forward, was made ineligible by his having competed in his second semester in track at Coe.

With only two men, Diebold and Barwig, to form the nucleus, the little doctor went at his job with vigor. With a green team he started on one of the hardest schedules in the conference, and ended up in ninth place. This is the lowest that any of the doctor's teams have ever rated in the conference.

It is curious to notice that Chicago finished in the cellar below Wisconsin. These two teams were tied with Illinois for first in the conference last year.

Meanwell looking over the material for next year, finds the prospects bright. Tangen, Brooks, Merkel, Bain, Younge, Andrews, Anderson, Martell, Harget, Barnum and Bodden will be back from this year's varsity. Hotchkiss, Bahr, Dunn, Nelson, and Eye, likely men, are coming up from the freshmen squad.

The hardest problem of the veteran coach will be to form a pair of good guards. The only guards back from this year's varsity are Tangen and Bodden. Bodden was one of the best guards on the squad at the start of the season, but could not remain out because of lack

For She has an eye for the design in a bit of china, and whether it goes with the curtains or not. Just the right shade of ivory-and-old-blue chair may make the dinner—and determine what she thinks of your technique when it's over.

The Final Triumph is to divine whether she prefers Chicken, or Honey Steak, and order for her.

THEIR LAST GAME

The last basketball game of the season, not only of Wisconsin's season but also of the Big Ten season, was played last night when the Badger quintet met Ohio.

It has been an interesting year in basketball from beginning to end, with constant and unusual upsets in the dope. Iowa was one of the teams which was picked to lead the conference, and it lost more than 50 per cent of its games. Ohio and Illinois were the only teams which held true to pre-season predictions.

One of the most interesting phases of the year is that the three teams which tied for the championship last year are at the bottom of the ladder now.

Wisconsin may not have done wonders in the matter of winning games. For the second time in five years Wisconsin failed to tie for the championship ship.

But after all, what are championships? Those who saw the home Iowa and Illinois games know that Wisconsin had a fighting team this year, that it did its best from beginning to end. Some first class material will be on hand for next year, some material which received its first year of experience during the 1925 season and which will show up surprisingly next year.

But Wisconsin is sorry to lose the three men who have played their last game for Wisconsin as undergraduates, two of whom played their last game last night. For three years they have represented Wisconsin on the basketball court and have represented her well. These men are:

CAPTAIN MARSHALL JOHN DIEBOLD
BYRON RALPH BARWIG
RALPH BRUCE WACKMAN

TRY IT SOME TIME

It would have been a good thing if more university students had been able to attend the finance committee hearings the other day on the question of university funds. There has been a great deal written and said about the conditions of the university but students have yet to learn the attitude of their legislature on the question.

They would have derived a lot of benefit from the hearing, outside of the fact that it had to do directly with their interests, for it is sure to be interesting to have a legislator intimate that more money should not be given to the university since its enrollment has not increased materially in the past three years, instead of inquiring in the logical way as to why it has not increased in that time.

All the college and university students of this country do not have the opportunity of getting first hand information about the representative workings of their government. Wisconsin students should consider themselves fortunate in having that privilege. The only unfortunate thing is that so few university men or women avail themselves of the opportunity now to study first-hand the things of their government which they will have to deal with as leaders of this country in a few years.

Rhodes scholars are generally expected to have some sort of an athletic bent. In a recent track and field meet at Oxford, Americans took first and second in the shot put and second and third in the high hurdles. Several years ago a scholar from Wisconsin rowed on the Oxford crew.

You can still do your part in helping to restore friendly international relations by donating to the Student Friendship fund drive.

Wisconsin Should Know

WHERE INFORMATION MEANS ECONOMIES

The city of Fort Atkinson had four wards and four representatives on the county board. Under the law it was entitled on a population basis to eight representatives, but to secure them the number of wards had to be increased to eight and the city redistricted accordingly. It was a hard problem. The wards had to be compact, contiguous territories bounded by lines as nearly straight as possible but drawn so as not to legislate any of the existing aldermen out of office or to make more than one of them resident in the same new ward.

The mayor called on the Municipal Information bureau of the Extension division and the chief worked out a plan involving a population survey. In accordance with his plan and suggestions the entire city was redistricted, the eight new wards created, and all the aldermen kept properly in office. The work was unanimously approved by the city council and a resolution of thanks sent to the bureau chief.

Through this bureau the university seeks to improve local government and to reduce its cost to taxpayers. Local government costs more than all other branches of government put together; any increase in its efficiency, any saving in its cost, means considerable and direct saving to the taxpayers of the community.

A few years ago the federal government imposed a tax on transportation, a tax which could not be collected legally from the state or its municipalities.

Most city officials and local railroad agents, however, did not know it, and so at first hundreds of dollars were paid in taxes on coal brought in for schools and municipal plants and on the materials imported for street improvements. The Municipal Information bureau promptly issued a report explaining that municipalities were exempt from the tax and that they could secure refunds for payments already made. As a result all cities of the state were saved further taxation and many of them received hundreds of dollars in refunds for taxes that had already been paid.

Information, some of it quite as helpful as the above, was furnished 7,591 times to 493 cities and villages during the last biennium.

Movies Where Movies Were Never Seen Before

Lantern slides, educational films, anatomical models, welfare exhibits, and the best feature films that appeared in Milwaukee and Madison not so long ago are being sent daily by the Extension division to all parts of the state. When the extension student is told, he also is shown. Wisconsin is not lagging in the important movement toward education through visual instruction. During the last biennium more than 33,000 reels of film and 8,000 sets of slides were lent to 1,400 organizations.

A Janesville newspaper has equipped an automobile with a motion picture machine and a lighting outfit and for the past two years has been sending it into the more remote communities of Rock county with educational films from the Extension division. The woman in charge of the work reports that she has shown the films in many places where there were as many as 25 in the audience who had never seen a motion picture before.

Most of the charitable and penal institutions of the state receive films weekly and use them for the instruction and edification of their wards. From these institutions have come reports of ever-increasing interests in the film programs and a noticeable improvement in the well-being of the derelict groups who see them.

ALUMNI HANDBOOK

And our light spring suit came in with the snow. If we had an eye for business, we should say, "Well, it will last so much longer in the summer," but how are we going to give Circe a thrill until the robins and bluebirds can find food on the ground?

We don't dare enter the door of Shorty's Dugout any more. We called for the score at Morgan's the other night, and told Shorty that Wisconsin won, 26 to 22. Shorty says, "Hurray, I win $15," and right away we lose another eating place.

Little Jimmie fresh azzell Pushed his sister in the well. Mother said, while drawing water, "Gee, it's hard to raise a daughter."

We think that some of our brothers should listen in on some of the pledges, when said animals are talking over the phone. The latest was:

"Now, don't string me, I'm no parrot."

Another piece of sultry conversation came to light when we heard the following:

"My car was frozen up this morning."

"I didn't think that it was so cold last night."

"Well, it wasn't, but then the gears were stripped."

He—"What were you doing last night?"

She—"Oh, helping Dad around the house."

He—"Drunk again?"

That fellow who took a pop gun down to the A. O. P. house to shoot out the lights, was greeted the other night by the entire chapter, who sang:

"I See You in Your Schemes."

Every time we go down one of the girls opens the door; says "I'm sorry, but the treasurer is not in now;" and slams the door in our face. What the —!

Apparently we cannot coin on our appearance.

"My husband will come home in about five minutes. You had better go."

"Why?"

HAREFOOT SHEBOYGAN NIGHT
Anybody's old man—"Why the singular 'foot'?" All I can see is feet."

Dottie—"Oh, Doc, I thought that you are merely round-shouldered."

He drew her close to him
In the fragrant sheltering gloom.
Cause she was so sweet and slim,
And they were in the drawing room.

CLIFF HUFF CLIFF HUFF CLIFF HUFF

We are trying to make up for what poor Cliff has missed lately. He hasn't seen his name in the paper for quite a while.

Despite the fact that the Engineers' parade doesn't come off until March 28, we heard that green was in evidence at the parlors last night. The Frosh had a mixer there. All of the Betas were down there trying to get a new start. They should have gone masquerade, Ken Gardner especially.

HEROES OF THE WEEK
Booberstein, who lets his whiskers grow so that he will have stubble for his Charley Horse.

A dry sage says that anyways the cleaners are not responsible for the scarcity of women's clothing these days. It hurts their business. Circe's dad says, "Who says that they are scarce?" I have to pay more for them."

"Hey, where are you going?"
"What do you want to know for?"
"Oh, I just want to know."
"Want to know real bad?"
"Sure I'm interested."
"Promise you won't tell?"
"Sure I promise."

Hazel Horstmeyer
Becomes Bride of
James R. Price '21

A pretty wedding took place at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at St. John's Lutheran church when Hazel Ethel Horstmeyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Horstmeyer of this city, became the bride of James Robertson Price '21, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Price of Milwaukee.

Following the ceremony a dinner for twenty guests was served at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Price attended the university in 1919 and 1920, and graduated from the Columbia training school for nurses at Milwaukee in 1924. She has been working as an industrial nurse in Milwaukee.

Mr. Price graduated from the university in 1921. He is a member of Triangle fraternity, and is now a civil engineer employed by the Milwaukee sewage commission.

After their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Price will be at home May 1, at 745 Bartlett avenue, Milwaukee.

Women's League to Bring Mrs. W. Park
Here on March 28

The Women's League of Collegiate Voters is having Mrs. Wood Park, former president of the National League of Women Voters, speak on "The Enrichment of Life by the Power of the Vote," on March 20.

Mrs. Park graduated from Wellesley in three years with very high honors, and immediately started work in the field she was most concerned with. She travelled extensively and worked in tenement districts of San Francisco and Boston and obtained first hand information concerning the condition of women.

After procuring such enlightenment Mrs. Wood began working for and developing the right of women to vote. She served for four years on the National League of Women Voters and is now touring the country lecturing on the observations and experiences she has had. By these numerous lectures she hopes to enlighten women as to the function and duty of their vote.

Prof. V. A. C. Henmon, director of the School of Education of the university, was elected president of the National Society of College Teachers of Education at the meeting at Cincinnati, Ohio.

"BLOSSOM TIME" WELL RECEIVED AT PARKWAY

By CHATTY

"Blossom Time" was charming as put on yesterday afternoon and last night at the Parkway theater by a competent road company which was 100 per cent better than the company which appeared here in the same piece last January.

An operetta which far outclasses the typical musical comedy, "Blossom Time" was received by a crowded house with great enthusiasm.

The star of the show was Franz Schubert, and the crowning feature was his music which has been set to words and called "Song of Love."

SOPH CLUB WILL HEAR

F. C. SHARP TOMORROW

Prof. F. C. Sharp, of the philosophy department, will speak on "Student Government and the Honor System," before the Sophomore Lunch club Monday noon. The dinner is scheduled to start at 12:15 o'clock in the authors' room of the Y. M. C. A. An open discussion will be held after the speech.

NO ADVANCE IN REGULAR PRICES

The Co-op Announces

Its Annual Rebate

in merchandise, on purchases by members from March 1, 1924, to March 1, 1925.

THERE ARE NO STRINGS ON THIS RE BATE.

Rebate Researches

The largest rebate is $90.00. For this wise student it may mean a suit of clothing, a top-coat, hat, shoes, shirts—a full wardrobe for spring.

A member of the faculty will buy shoes, shirts, underwear, books for his library—yes, and golf-balls!—on his rebate, purchasing from time to time as he needs them.

Another faculty man has turned his rebate over to his wife, who declares she will buy hose, lingerie, and many other necessities. Faculty wives are waking up to the fact that they can buy at the Co-op.

One student with a rebate of $22 will apply it on a new Kodak, a line the Co-op has just installed.

A $66 rebate will allow its holder to get the finest of drawing instruments, books and supplies for a year—and all the shirts, ties, and socks that his spring-time fancy may select!

"A regular account at the bank" is the way one man looks at his rebate. He's going to buy a pair of low shoes now, and a traveling bag or suit-case in June, when he graduates.

Spend your rebate wisely! It will help you to appreciate the economy of buying at the Co-op.

This may be taken out at once, or deferred until you have important purchases to make.

This yearly announcement, the most important merchandising event in Madison, emphasizes certain facts:

Every student and member of the faculty should join the Co-op and "buy everything you need on your Co-op number."

The Co-op distributes its profits to members. It is administered by a board of five directors, including alumni, a member of the faculty, and a student. The two latter are appointed by the Board of Regents of the University. The board serves entirely without pay. NOBODY MAKES A PENNY OF PROFIT OUT OF THE CO-OP BUT ITS MEMBERS.

The operations of the Co-op are managed with the most rigid economy and efficiency. Its accounting is supervised by Prof. F. H. Elwell, of the University Course in Commerce. Its buying is done carefully, so that dead stocks do not accumulate. We know what students need, and we estimate our market. EXPERTS IN MERCHANDISING TELL US THAT THEY KNOW OF NO STORE WHICH CAN SHOW FIGURES LIKE OURS. This is all for your advantage.

OVER $100,000 IN REBATES HAS BEEN PAID OUT BY THE CO-OP IN THE LAST FEW DAYS

Reasons for Our Remarkable Showing

A great volume of business, made possible because wise students by the thousands buy all their necessities from us.

Merchandise priced AT THE LOWEST MARKET PRICE. It always pays to buy at the Co-op, whether member or non-member. Low profits, quick turn-over, make the best return on the capital invested.

Low expense, careful watching of all outgo, every foot of space working. A building we own ourselves—no landlord gets a profit out of us.

SERVICE. The Co-op attracts trade because its well-arranged windows and counters, as well as its advertising, keeps students informed of what they can buy here to advantage. Our sales personnel is friendly, courteous, informed. We are proud of our organization.

If every parent knew what every student knows, everyone at the university would follow our advice, "Buy everything you need on your Co-op number."
