ARRANGEMENTS COMMITTEE HAS RECEPTION PLAN

Music Hall to Be Used to Receive Grads at Homecoming

One of the innovations added to the list of Homecoming attractions for alumni this year is the reception and meeting place which Allan Walter '24 and his arrangements committee are planning to have at Music hall. The same committee is taking care of the men's reception plans.

Music hall is centrally located and will supplant the stiff, formal registration booths of former years. The alumni also will register here.

The place will be provided with various accommodations for the visitors. A feature will be the fact that no soliciting will be allowed inside of the hall.

Entertainment Provided

Seats and desks will furnish the "old grads" an opportunity to rest and an effort is being made to arrange for the serving of refreshments.

The committee is arranging for a few entertaining features to be given at intervals during the day and evening. The Wisconsin Male quartet will sing. Christopher Hendra '23, Whitford L. Huff '23, Thomas L. Dartnell '23, and Noel H. Stearn grad, are the musicians, while Robert C. Nethercut '24 accompanies on the piano. These men have in their possession indorsements from many of Madison's leading people, including one from Governor J. J. Blaine. They have agreed to select songs particularly appropriate for the Homecoming occasion.

Walter Lists Rooms

In carrying out the work of the men's reception committee, Walter and his men have gotten together a list of all the rooms that will be available for the visitors. The rooms are classified according to location and price. As soon as the rooms are chosen they will be taken off the list so that visitors will not have to spend unnecessary time in getting located.

Phi Sigma Kappa Buys Home on Langdon Street

Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity has purchased the Henry T. Sheldon home, 260 Langdon street and will erect a new $40,000 house on that site in the late spring. The present lodge of the fraternity, 211 Langdon street has been purchased by Mrs. Benslow Hartman, Cleveland, who intends to conduct a women's rooming house there next year. The new lodge is expected to be ready for occupancy next fall.

First Week of Y. W. C. A. Finance Drive Nets $1,000

More than $1000 has been received in the Y. W. C. A. finance drive, which has been extended through this week.

Although the reports have been coming in slowly it is expected that the quota of $2200 will be reached by the end of the week. All sororities have not reported.

The team of Ann Anderson '25 still leads with a total of $120.

Even Coeds Fall for 'Rambling Badger'

The Badger coed may hit the gypsy trail for the Minnesota game if Mr. C. T. Fuller can get enough women to fill a bus. Twenty women will be accommodated at $10 a round trip. The bus will leave early Friday morning, reaching Minneapolis Friday night. The return trip will be made Sunday.

Mr. Fuller also has arranged for a truckload of men at $8 a round trip to leave at the same time. Almost enough men have been obtained to fill one truck and another will go if it is necessary.

Kemmerer Urges Study Of Lakes to Chemists

"Scientific Study of the Lakes" was the subject of a lecture given by Prof. George I. Kemmerer before the Milwaukee section of the American Chemical society at Milwaukee last Friday evening.

Professor Kemmerer gave a general review of the work which has been carried out by the United States Bureau of Fisheries and the Wisconsin Geological and Natural History survey.

"Our lakes should be made to produce their maximum amount of fish both for sport and for food. With this in view we should study the lakes as carefully as we study our soil to make it produce maximum crops," Professor Kemmerer said in commenting upon the value of the investigation.

LOCAL ARTISTS PRAISE ELMAN

Virtually All Seats Sold For Recital in Gymnasium Tomorrow

"There is nothing favorable that cannot be said about Mischa Elman's art as a violinist. The difficulty lies in restricting the number of adjectives," Dr. Chas. H. Mills, director of the School of Music, said yesterday, when questioned about the young Russian violinist who is to appear at the armory tomorrow evening.

Cecil Burleigh, instructor of violin remarked of Elman: "He is one of the world's foremost violinists, and ranks next to Fritz Kreisler, as the second finest violinist in the world. His playing is characterized by marvelous technique, and for splendid interpretation."

Elman has played in all parts of the world and in New York drew the largest crowd of any violinist who has played there. He was formerly a student of Leopold Auer in Russia.

"A few good seats for the Elman concert remain untaken, and may be secured at the A. E. Smith music store. Because of the very limited number of seats available persons desiring them are advised not to wait until Wednesday to obtain reservations," J. R. Frawley, '23, manager of the Union Board concerts said yesterday.

COMMERCE CONVO TO HEAR INGERSOLL

William H. Ingersoll, marketing specialist, will address a commerce upperclassmen convocation this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in 113 Sterling hall.

A dinner under the auspices of the Advertising and Commerce clubs will be given in the Woman's building at 6:30 o'clock at which Mr. Ingersoll will be guest of honor. Reservations for the banquet can be made up to noon today by calling the secretary of the Commerce club.

Mr. Ingersoll is an expert in marketing—one of the foremost men of America in that field, according to Prof. S. M. Gilman. For 20 years Mr. Ingersoll, now president of the Ingersoll Redipoint Pencil company, was in charge of marketing and sales for Robert H. Ingersoll and brother.

While engaged in his business, Mr. Ingersoll studied the marketing system and problems incident to getting goods from the manufacturer to the user. His training as an electrical engineer gives him an angle on the subject from the scientific point of view.

Mr. Ingersoll made an extensive study of the co-operative movement on the continent while acting as member of a governmental commission during the recent depression. He has lectured on problems of distribution at both Harvard and New York universities.

AGRIC TRIANGLE IS PRAISED FOR CONTACT WORK

Kolb Tells Members of Possibilities in High Schools

"The Agric Triangle is one of the best means of contact between the high school and the College of Agriculture," Prof. J. H. Kolb declared to the members of Agric Triangle last Sunday morning.

Professor Kolb asserted that many colleges send literature to high school graduates and often have men speak on commencement exercises to direct them to their colleges.

"The Agric Triangle can touch these boys and girls as they graduate from high school and impress them with the advantages of the College of Agriculture," he said.

Several affiliated country life clubs will be organized by members of Agric Triangle this year, according to T. B. Manny, president of the club. Requests for help in organization of these clubs have come from several high schools. It is planned to form a closer bond with high schools in this way.

Kappa Alpha Delta is Organized as New Local

A new local fraternity, Kappa Alpha Delta, has just been organized. The chapter was started last spring and was completed early this fall, when the fraternity received its charter and was recognized by the dean's office.

Charter members are Bernard A. Weimer '24, president; Edgar L. Erickson '23, vice president; Ernest W. Greene '24, secretary; Henry A. Hofacker '23, treasurer; Warren Coate '25, sergeant-at-arms; Alban J. Hunsader '24, Gustav P. Schenk '23, Bert E. Hopkins '24, Louis B. Butte '24, Harold E. Ashcroft '25, Allen S. Baker '25.

The pledges of the fraternity are Henry W. Klos '24; Chris L. Heyl '25, and Edward W. Peterson '26.

The fraternity has not secured a house, but plans are under way to obtain one for the second semester.

NAME FORENSIC MEET TALKERS

Four Are Selected to Address Debaters' Annual Banquet

Prof. J. M. O'Neill, head of the speech department, attorney M. B. Olbrich, a former Madison debater, Alvin C. Ries, winner in the Northern Oratorical league in 1913, and Carrol Heft '23, representative of the veteran intercollegiate debaters will speak at the University Forensic banquet to be held November 7 in the Badger room of the Woman's Building at 6:00 o'clock.

The purpose of the banquet is to present the plans for this year's debating and oratorical season and to develop a greater student interest in forensic activities in general. All those interested in forensics have been invited to attend.

The tickets are $1 a plate. The committee in charge of the affair is E. P. Meyer '23, H. A. Seering '23, and M. P. Erickson '24.

League of Women Voters Outlines Year's Program

Plans for a banquet and a tentative working program were outlined at a business meeting of the Collegiate league of women voters yesterday afternoon, in S. G. A. parlors. Speakers prominent in legislative and political issues are to be engaged for special meetings to be held throughout the year. The banquet on November 14 will be given to welcome new members and women interested in state and national political problems.

ELECTION PROXIES DUE ON THURSDAY

Members of the football and cross-country team who will be out of town on Friday when the general student elections are to be held and who can vote by proxy, according to the rules of the Student senate, must have letters of application for proxy vote in to the senate by Thursday night, Maynard Brown '23, chairman of the elections committee, announced yesterday.

Proxy permission will not be extended to any but members of the team, Brown said. Members of the band who are to make the trip will have time to vote before they leave. Students making the trip can vote by proxy.

Members of the two teams have been asked to make duplicate copies of their requests. One of the copies is to be presented to Brown before Thursday night. The other is to be presented at 12:45 o'clock election day in the Biology building irrespective of the college to which the proxy belongs.

FROSH MEETING GIVES $16,812 TO UNION HOME

All Alumni Tell New Students of Former Spirit

A total of $16,812 was pledged to the Memorial Union fund by the new students at the massmeeting held yesterday afternoon in the gymnasium.

Approximately 375 new students pledged an average of $44.60 each and several $100 pledges were obtained.

The state of Wisconsin gave a total of $8,463 of which $1,531 came from Madison. Milwaukee county scored highest with $2,523; Dane had $1,531; Walworth, $465; La Crosse, $396; Rock, $315; Racine $305; and Brown $300.

Foreign Countries Give

The rest of the United States gave a total of $7,196. Illinois stands in the lead with $3,809, of which $2,279 came from Chicago; Ohio gave $450; Indiana, $450; Michigan, $576; Minnesota, $319; New York, $302.

Three foreign countries totaled $153. Mexico gave $50, the Philippines $50 and China $53.

Hall Introduces

Approximately 2000 new students gathered in the gymnasium and annex at the meeting, which was opened by "On Wisconsin" and "Varsity" played by the Second Regimental band. The gymnasium was dotted with signs designating the counties of Wisconsin, the states of the Union and the 12 foreign countries.

Lawrence Hall '21 introduced the speakers. The Rev. Albert Mc Cartney, '00, gave an appeal to all to help build this "great academic hearthstone around which the student family can come together."

It is college life rather than college learning that we see when we look back over our university life," President Birge told the meeting. "The learning is very important but the college life stands out as something which continually grows dearer." He stressed the idea of the proposed Union as a center for this college life.

Karel Gets Skyrocket

Dean Scott H. Goodnight told the new students of men who have given their lives to work for Wisconsin, and made the appeal that each should do his own small part. Skyrocket after skyrocket followed Judge John C. "Ikey" Karel, '94 of Milwaukee as he told the new Wisconsin students about the old days, when the same fellows were

Self Government Party Postponed Indefinitely

The S. G. A. Hallowe'en party which was to have been given to-night in Lathrop hall has been postponed indefinitely, by order of Dean F. L. Nardin. Members of the committee in charge said that Dean Nardin would give no statement as to her reason for postponing the affair.

It's Hallowe'en--and Beware of Goblins

Gee, aint you scared and shivering? 'Cause today is Hallowe'en, and spooks is going to be out to-night, and black cats and hobgoblins—and gee, have you said your prayers every night for about a week? If you haven't—the goblins 'll sure git you.

And probably pumpkin heads with glaring eyes will be staring out of shop windows, and peeping around dark corners flanked by autumn leaves and corn stalks. Then tonight is Window Soaper's holiday too, but being followed by All Saint's Day makes a successful occasion rather doubtful. 'Spect we'll have some fun watching Pollyanna, the Gold Dust twins and Uncle Sam perambulating around too,—doot' you 'spose?

CONVOCATION TO OPEN WITH TALK ON EVOLUTION

Evanston Rector Will Speak At Music Hall Thursday

The first all-university convocation, to be held in Music hall on Thursday night under the auspices of the Campus Religious council, will open with an address by Dr. George Craig Stewart, rector of St. Luke's church at Evanston, Illinois.

Doctor Stewart has been closely associated with under-graduate affairs for some time. His parish at Evanston is visited by many students from Northwestern university and Chicago. His address, "Evolution: A Witness to God," undoubtedly will be of particular interest to students on account of the widespread attention that this subject is receiving from scientists and religious men at this time.

"Doctor Stewart is perhaps better known to college students than any man in his profession," the Rev. S. M. Cleveland, secretary of the council declared. "His knowledge of student affairs and problems makes him exceptionally qualified to talk on subjects affecting student life. The council is very fortunate in having a man of his calibre to address the first convocation."

Dean Goodnight Attends Conference at Iowa City

Dean S. H. Goodnight returned to Madison on Sunday night after attending a conference of summer school directors at Iowa City. The session opened last Friday morning at the Triangle club with reports of the work and attendance of the summer schools of the larger universities of the country. Statistics showed that there was a large number of teachers who availed themselves of the opportunity for advancement during the summer sessions. Many schools offer a bonus to the teacher who attends the summer session and the great value of such encouragement was discussed.

President Jessop, of the University of Iowa, entertained Dean Goodnight at his home during the conference. The directors were entertained at the home of Dr. Weller, of the University of Iowa, on Friday evening with a large dinner party. Saturday afternoon the delegates were the guests of the university at the Iowa-Purdue game, which marked the close of the conference.

Directors of the summer schools of the following universities were present: Cornell, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Kansas, Illinois, Drake College, Ames College, Ohio and Wisconsin.

Literary Magazine Adds Three Editors to Staff

Heat Records Broken by Warmest October in Annals

Sunday was one of the warmest October days on record, according to officials of the U. S. weather bureau here. The temperature reached 73 at 3 p. m., an unusually high temperature for Oct. 29.

October this year has broken all heat records, October 5 with a maximum temperature of 86, smashed all previous high marks, beating by two degrees the erstwhile maximum of 84 set on Oct. 7, 1915.

GLAESER LECTURES ON TRANSPORTATION

That a regulating machine which will adjust itself to the present price level, a definite program, and a low basis of credit are necessary for good transportation were the points stressed by Prof. Martin B. Glaeser of the economics department in his lecture on transportation before the league of women voters at the Y. W. C. A. last night.

"If there is localization of industry you must have transportation," he said. "Transportation breaks up provincialism and tends to bring about human contact. The first thing that the war did was to bring about an immense increase in traffic," Professor Glaeser said. It was his opinion that automobile trucks probably will be used for hauls of 150 miles or more in the future.

The lecture was the fourth of a series on citizenship which is being conducted by the league.

Triangle Installs New Chapter at Minnesota

Eight members of the local chapter of Triangle fraternity returned from Minneapolis last night after the installation of Chi Sigma Tau, a local fraternity at the University of Minnesota as the eighth chapter of the Triangle national fraternity.

The installation was held at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the chapter house when 22 students and 3 honorary faculty members were admitted to the fraternity. The national president F. W. Vogt of Chicago presided during the service.

Following the initiation a banquet was held at the Curtis Hotel at which Professor Baker, who has been at the head of the civil engineering department of the University of Illinois for the past 38 years served as toastmaster.

The men from the Wisconsin chapter who were present are: Clifford Bruder '23, Anthony Nerad '23, Rufus Phillips '23, Reinhardt Raube '23, Carl Zander '23, Arthur Rabuck '23, Eugene Wheeler '22, Fred Schusted '16.

State Street Ruts to Be Remedied By Composition

The reconstruction work on State street has been ordered by the city council because of the deep ruts which had worn into the pavement due to continuous traffic along one course. The parking of cars on both sides of the street has made it a necessity for moving vehicles to use the crown of the pavement and incessant wear has destroyed the asphalt sheeting. Work should be finished by tomorrow according to the assistant city engineer.

The new composition being used is known as asphalt concrete and consists of asphalt mixed with crushed granite. The mixture has been used with good results under test experiments.

The contract for the work has been let to J. Rasmussen Sons Co. of Oshkosh. The work will involve an expenditure of about $6,000. In order to speed up the job, the Butler Construction Co. from Waukegan has been assisting in tearing up the old surface pavement.

WEEKEND TILTS SHOW TREND OF BIG TEN TEAMS

Princeton-Chicago Battle Called Greatest Inter-sectional Game

CONFERENCE	STANDINGS
	W L T Pct.
Iowa	2 0 0 1.000
WISCONSIN ..	1 0 0 1.000
Chicago	2 0 0 1.000
Minnesota ..	2 0 1 1.000

Purdue	0 2 0 .000
Indiana	0 2 0 .000
Ohio	0 2 0 .000

Although the Chicago-Princeton game was the big contest played in the West last Saturday, other games between members of the Big Ten Conference were important in furnishing a line on the strength of the teams.

Chicago was defeated by the Tigers in one of the greatest inter-sectional battles that ever has been scheduled. The eastern team used a western style of play while the Staggmen used the eastern style until late in the last quarter.

Princeton used every possible means to eke out a win. Once the Tigers passed from behind their own goal line and made a 40-yard gain. Another time an inside kick was successful. Another unusual play occurred when a Princeton back received the kick-off and successfully forward passed to mid-field. The play was cancelled because it was illegal.

Princeton appeared to be outside sed by the Maroons in the first half. Chicago had no difficulty in piercing the Tiger line, but instead of consistently calling running plays, quarterback Strohmeier elected to kick on the first down. It was this bad generalship which, although safe, had a great deal to do with Chicago's downfall.

Purdue Walloped

Purdue took a walloping from Iowa, 56 to 0. Gordon Locke, shifted from fullback to quarterback, was the outstanding star of the contest while Parkin, who scintillated against Yale, sat on the sidelines for most of the game. Parkin's fine work against the Bulldogs evidently went to his head, for Coach Howard Jones has withheld him from scrimmages and continually lectured on proper team spirit.

That Iowa has a powerful offensive is evident from its victory, but the fact that the Hawks have the easiest schedule of any important team will go to discount their record if they go through the season without a defeat.

Michigan Has The Power

Michigan trampled over Illinois, scoring 24 points while the fighting Illini were whitewashed. The Wolverines are without a doubt the class of the Conference and if they maintain the early season pace, they should win every game. Coach Yost has a strong, powerful line and a speedy, hard-hitting backfield. Kipke, Cappon, and now Herb Steger, have demonstrated that they rank with the best backs in the Middle West.

Although the Wolverines were tied by Vanderbilt, O to O, their line was not charging with its full power. Now that it is hitting on all seven cylinders, it is doubtful if there is a Big Ten team capable of stopping Michigan.

Minnesota's defeat of Ohio State by a 9 to 0 count surprised some followers of football, but those "in the know" expected such a result. Spaulding has a good team at Minneapolis while the Buckeyes have the weakest outfit in years. Coach Jack Wilce is depending upon Workman and his famed forward pass to pull Ohio out of the ruck, but this form of attack has had little success thus far. The Ohioans rest next Saturday and then tackle Chicago at Columbus. In the two weeks of rest, they may be able to absorb enough football to defeat the Maroons who have a team that should finish one-two-three.

Indiana, with most of its regulars on the bench, beat the Michigan Aggies. The contest served to put them in trim for the Notre Dame battle this week.

Fresh Efficiency Tests For Women Start in Gym

Efficiency tests for the freshmen women started yesterday. The tests are being given by the women's physical education department, and are used in assigning the women to their gym work for the winter season. The tests are in the form of a research, and include tests for agility, efficiency, and speed to see whether or not the bodily co-ordination is good.

The best 5 per cent are allowed to choose any two sports for their winter work, the next 80 per cent may choose between folk dancing and regular gymnasium, and the lowest 15 per cent have no choice in their assignments. The sophomore women are also given their work on a definite per cent schedule from similar tests.

The winter season will start on December 4, the week after Thanksgiving.

TRAIN TO TAKE 1,000 TO GAME

Specials Arranged to Carry Students to Michigan and Chicago

"Approximately one thousand students will accompany the team to Ann Arbor to witness the Michigan - Wisconsin game," "Gus" Tuckerman '23, varsity cheer-leader, said yesterday. The entire band also will be sent to the game, he said.

In order to accommodate this large number, a special train has been secured from the St. Paul railroad. The train will leave Madison at 5:30 o'clock Friday evening and arrive at Ann Arbor Saturday morning. The round trip fare is $15.16, or about a fare and a third. Returning, the train will leave Ann Arbor Saturday evening.

The game with Michigan is booked for their homecoming day, and the dope points to a very interesting struggle. This is shown by the number of students who are expected to witness the fray.

The Chicago game on November 25 probably will be attended by twelve thousand Wisconsin fans; at least that is the number of tickets which has been reserved for Badgers. In former years there has never been an excess of tickets. $3.00 will be the price asked for the seats. It will be impossible to obtain tickets in Chicago on the date of the game.

Special trains to the Chicago game will begin running Friday noon preceeding the game and will leave at intervals until Saturday morning. Returning, the first train will leave Chicago Saturday night and the last Sunday night. The round trip fare will be about a fare and a third.

The band will accompany the team to the Chicago game also.

SEVEN MEN TO MEET GOPHERS IN HARRIER RUN

Saturday Will Be Minnesota's First Race of the Season

Seven men will make the journey to Minneapolis next weekend when Coach Meade Burke's cross country team will meet the Gopher harriers on their five mile course. Burke has not yet definitely decided which seven men of his squad he will take.

While the trials which were held last Saturday were expected to show which material was best, Burke feels that the results were, in many cases, not representative of the real ability of his men.

The race Saturday will be the first meet of the season for Minnesota. Wisconsin, with the experience gained through the meet with Michigan will go into the race slightly better prepared than the Gophers. The Wisconsin course, is only a three and one half mile course, and in the meet Saturday the Badgers will run on a five mile course for the first time this season.

Tschudy and Vallely, two men who did not compete in the tryouts Saturday, are men of ability upon whom Burke depends a great deal for points in the meet with Minnesota. Tschudy placed second in the meet against Michigan, coming in a short distance behind Isobel.

In addition to these two men who are sure of making the trip, five men of the following six will be chosen. Captain Ramsey, Wade, Perry, Schneider, Rossmeissel, and Moorhead.

Jerry Dye, a senior, captain of the Purdue cross-country team, is putting his men through some hard licks in preparation for the fall meets. He is confident his team will be a winner.

Michigan Center Same Type as Predecessor

When Ernie Vick finished his career as varsity center for the Michigan football teams the popular cry became, "Who will fill Vick's shoes at center?" The answer has come back, "Jack Blott".

It is a rare coincidence that the veteran and the new-comer should have so many points of similarity. In the first place, they are of very similar build and Blott now weighs within two pounds of Vick's playing weight.

Both Vick and Blott played full-back in high school and came to Michigan without any experience in the line. Both learned to pass from center, a duty the importance ever realize, with remarkable ease and within a short time both were unusually accurate.

In the Ohio game last Saturday Blott proved conclusively that the center of Michigan's line will continue to be one of its most strongly fortified positions.

SCHOOLS FACE SEAT PROBLEM

Conference Unable to Handle Huge Football Gatherings

Football in the Middle West is rapidly attaining such popularity that western conference officials are perplexed over the problem of seating between two million and three million persons in bleachers designed when football was "just another piece of college foolishness."

Between 1,500,000 and 2,000,000 spectators will get the thrill of Big Ten games this season, and judging from experiences in former years, Conference officials believe that one third to one half that many are turned away because of lack of accommodations.

Receipts from the games in the conference this season will total in all probability more than $1,500,000. That much more will be expended in building seats to increase attendance.

At Ohio State university where a new $1,400,000 stadium seating 63,000 people was dedicated last Saturday, 72,000 people jammed their way into the enclosure and thousands were turned away. The demand for tickets for the Chicago-Princeton game Saturday was so heavy that all of the seats were sold nearly three weeks ago, and thousands of applications were returned to the unlucky. Stagg field has a seating capacity of only 31,000 even with the erection of temporary bleachers, but more than 100,000 applications each calling two or more seats were received.

Extraordinary crowds have turned out at all of the Conference games thus far this season. The Iowa-Illinois game at Urbana last Saturday drew capacity, 23,000, while the Indiana game here drew over 20,000.

Last summer, Iowa built its field into a stadium of steel, but even with this added capacity, Hawkeye officials expect difficulty in satisfying the demands for tickets.

George Huff, director of athletics at the University of Illinois, who built Illinois's first bleachers seating 300, almost thirty years ago, turned the first spadeful of earth for a new stadium seating 63,000 at Urbana last month. Architects have completed plans which will increase the capacity to 80,000 if necessary.

YEAR TEAMS IN HOCKEY PICKED BY SPORT HEAD

Schedule For Women's Games To Be Given Out Later

Members of the 1922-1923 girls' hockey teams were announced yesterday by Belle Knights, '23, head of hockey for this year.

Schedules for inter-class hockey games will be announced the early part of next week.

GHOST BALL IS USED AS TEAM ENGAGES FROSH

Richards Shifts Line in Preparing For Gopher Battle

Preparing for its game with Minnesota next Saturday the Varsity eleven went through a long scrimmage with Coach "Keg" Driver's freshmen yesterday afternoon. The ghost ball was called into use and freshmen carried the whitewashed pigskin in an effort to crack the regulars' line.

They succeeded more than once in piercing the first team defense. Coach John R. Richards ordered the yearlings to take the oval on Varsity's 5-yard line. Each time the frosh were able to open holes big enough for a back to plunge through.

Ruhland, freshman quarterback, looked like a real football player and his work excelled that of Ed Williams, who is now out of the game with injuries.

Game in Limelight

Richards' re-vamped line will undergo a hard week of practice before the contest at Minneapolis. The Badger coach shifted Hohlfield to the left side of the forward wall last week. Whether the change is permanent or not will depend upon the showing made by the line against the Gophers.

This game gets the center of the stage for Saturday. Minnesota has won two Conference victories over Indiana, 20 to 0, and Ohio State, 9 to 0, but was held to a 7-7 tie by Northwestern. Under the new coaching methods of Spaulding, the Gophers are reputed to have the strongest team since Harry Williams turned out a championship outfit.

The Gophers were without the services of good endmen last year and this played a big part in their poor showing. Spaulding has a pair of clever wingmen holding down the flanks this season. His backfield is also strong, Martineau being one of the best ball carriers in the Big Ten.

Hear Reports in Gym

Spurred on by their two victories, the northernmen will be primed to "take" Wisconsin when it invades the Northrup field stronghold. The contest furnishes an occasion for homecoming in Minneapolis and with thousands of "old grads" looking on, the Gophers will fight to the last ditch to beat their traditional rivals.

While hundreds of Wisconsin fans will travel to Minneapolis, many more will get play-by-play reports of the game at the men's gymnasium. The athletic board has arranged to install a grid graph in the gym and a special operator will come here from Columbus, Ohio, to run the device. Plays are recorded on the miniature field a few minutes after they actually occur on the gridiron. Electric lights show where the ball is being carried and a code system shows who is carrying the ball and who makes the tackles.

ning, Phyllis Tatman, and Eleanor Head.

The junior team includes Esther Bilstead, Janice Boardman, Margaret Callsen, Helen H. Clark, Lora Ellsworth, Nina Faris, Florence Fox, Maurine Hall, Frances Hellebrandt, Margaret Henry, Hazel Miller, Carol Mortimer, Rosamonde Nolte, Ethel May Smith, and Esther Tilton.

The class of 1925 will be represented by Genevieve Brown, Ann Craig, Esther Fifield, Dorothy Haskins, Dorothy John, Virginia Kellogg, Ruth Klinger, Betty Mc Coin, Vivian Nelson, Daisy Simpson, Marion Streng, Marion Telford, Elizabeth Thompson, Hazel Weingandt, and Elizabeth Wells.

TOLERANCE

A UNIVERSITY of the magnitude of Wisconsin is inevitably beset with many problem. It is like our great country, a conglomeration of many elements, a mixture of various ingredients.

The elements that go to make up the student body are gleaned from almost every nook and cranny in the state of Wisconsin, from perhaps every state in the Union, and from many different places on the civilized globe.

Each one has a different past. All come from slightly or radically different environments.

All have acquired certain attitudes of mind as a result of their rearing and experience.

Here there are to be found all conceivable shades of wealth, prestige, creed and character. All have their ambitions, their little cosmos in which they move and think and feel.

In short, this institution contains quite a multiplicity of differences.

Naturally, where great variety is, subtle inconsistencies arise. Prejudice is liable to make its ugly appearance. Silent antagonisms will stealthily come to the surface.

Pettiness, vainglory, smartness, and snobbery will perhaps now as ever strut their ungainly forms on our campus.

Some of these unpleasant features are part and parcel of every community life. They must be borne with some resignation. Yet many of the inconsistencies and antagonisms that arise can be mitigated, if not eliminated, by the development of a spirit of tolerance.

Tolerance presupposes understanding. Let people then understand each other. Let them learn something of the other fellow's views before too blatantly condemning them.

LET IT PASS

SOME busy reformer is always engaged in telling college students that they are becoming self-centered. That they live in a world of their own. That they ignore the world that exists outside of the campus limits.

Dry and brutal statistics are thrust before the student body. These statistics tell the story of how few students read the current news, how few can name the members of President Harding's cabinet.

And these reformers expect that hands will be raised in horror and faces will be lowered in shame.

But after all what is so bad about it?

It is a generally accepted truth that university students know little or nothing at all about current news.

Doubtless there are many students on the campus who do not yet know that Bonar Law has replaced Lloyd George as premier of England. Perhaps many do not even know who either of the men are.

But is there anything about that to be so utterly ashamed of?

The world is passing on winged feet. Events pile on events so fast that not even an ardent follower of the news can expect to keep up with what the world is doing.

Anyone that would try to keep up would soon be an object for a padded cell. The pace is too fast for normal man to follow.

When college life is over there will be many years ahead in which to battle with the world. In the meantime college students have interests peculiarly their own, studies of their own.

Those studies are a necessary part of college work. For the college student it is more vital that he learn what he is sent here to learn than it is for him to know how Liberia is governed.

If the world must move at such a rapid pace, then why expect or hope to keep up with it?

Let the reformers talk. If college students do their work faithfully, they can afford to consider the campus problems, the campus issues. And just watch the rest of the world go by in its killing, breathless pace.

Varied Orph Bill Easy to Sell, Says Cardinal's Critic

BY R. B. S.

The Orph offers quite a mixture for your approval this week and we feel that it won't be hard to sell you most of the bill.

Harry Bussey

Strange as it may seem he didn't get on his feet until he tumbled.

Bayes and Fields

Two black wall-nuts that couldn't keep still. Very rich.

The Kill-Kare Kouple

They mellowed with time.

Ethel Parker and Al Allen

An extremely exotic act with lots of personality. Something new.

Stan Stanley

Stan is all right but wait till "she" comes on. We're still in a fog. Ziegfeld sort of slipped up that time.

Althea Lucas and Company

The first acrobatic act we ever saw that was mighty easy to look at. The young woman was far from the usual Amazon type but had grace and strength that was astonishing.

STAGE CHILDREN

Editor The Cardinal:

When "hard-boiled" women of the stage entertain Madison at the Orpheum with songs about "My Daddy's Lovin' Arms," "Gee, but You'll Miss My Kissin'," and "My Johnny Ain't so Slow," we can stand it. But when mere infants from eight to twelve sing these songs and do ultra-modern dances in a latest-from-Broadway manner, it is time for someone to call a halt.

Last week when the Orpheum was celebrating its centennial and the mayor congratulated the management on its great benefits to the amusement of Madison, six tiny children, two boys and four girls the star being twelve (the smallest boy looked about eight) were the headliners on the bill.

At 11 o'clock they made their third appearance on Saturday and went off the stage about 11:30. These youngsters were allowed to strain their infant voices in songs which (praise the gods that be) they are too young to understand, and to perform dances. The star of 12 years, as her big hit, came down into the audience and sat on the lap of some male member of the audience and sang to him while fondling his hair. Each performance it was a different man.

The smallest boy sang a song about "Mother Love" at 11:20 in a voice that was pathetically tired and strained. Had he ever known mother's love he would have been in bed before the doors of the Orpheum opened for the first show.

This is not the first time that youngsters have been on the bill at the Orpheum, but I certainly hope it will be the last. Wisconsin is supposed to have advanced child labor laws; yet it allows children to work at late hours where not only their physical well-being is endangered but their morals are bound to be corrupted. The 16-year age limit for employed children has exemptions, one of which is "children with permits from a judge in musical, theatrical, or other performances."

Wonder what judge gave those children permission to do the act they gave at the Orph?

Isn't it about time for this state to pass child labor laws without all these loop holes?

Current Events Study

Vital, Says Miss Capps

"If we are to understand the problems that are continually coming up before the Student movement in this country, we will have to read and discuss current events more than we have heretofore," Isabelle Capps '24 said at Vespers Sunday in her talk on the national convention of Y. W. C. A. held at Hot Springs, Arkansas last summer.

"Reading will become a pleasure instead of a burden if we once get the habit of reading," Miss Capps declared.

Helen Kasbeer, '23, president of Y. W. C. A., welcomed the new members of the association. Merle Shaw, '23, had charge of the service.

AUNT SAMANTHA'S CORNER

Dear Aunt Samantha:

I am a young girl of sixteen summers, (and about twenty-four hard winters) with nice refined pre-Volstead tastes, but who doesn't mind white mule, if nothing else can be had. I have a young man friend, a DKE, to be quite frank. Neither he nor I could figure out just what was meant by the initials "D. D." as used in connection with a man lying, inebriated, in a gutter, but who could still move one arm. Would you be kind enough to give me the reference?

PRISCILLA

Dear Priscilla:

Surely, delighted to see that you are showing an interest in literary references. It refers to an old classical expression "divina discontemum" which translated means "divine discontent."

Dear Aunt Samantha:

Can you tell me what the tall frame structure in back of the Engineering building is? It seems to resemble a toboggan slide, but has it any other use in the out-of-season month? I am a minister's girl and know the Old Testament by heart. Can furnish other references on request. I hope I don't seem bold or vulgar in asking this. Thank you.

Prunella.

Dear Prunella:

The structure to which you refer is the Ski Jump. It is built on the bluff so that the jumpers can get the beautiful view as they leave the slide. This inspires them, so that their jumps have that truly aesthetic grace that only comes from inner beauty and appreciation of beauty. I believe there is another use for the platform in the warmer seasons of the year. Couples go up these and roll peanuts down the slide, or play hop-scotch until one of them falls off. Only one couple allowed up at a time, so go early and avoid the rush.

AND WITH THESE remarks about the

BUDGET ASKED FOR NORMALS

Million and Half Dollars Increase Asked By Badger Schools

Budget requests of the nine Wisconsin normal schools will total $4,985,273 for the coming biennium, a report completed today by William Kittle, secretary of the board of normal regents, shows. This is an increase of $1,500,000 over expenditures of $3,500,000 made by these schools during the past two years.

The budget drawn up by the board of normal school regents requests an appropriation of $2,566,911 for the school year 1923-24 and of $2,418,362 for the year 1924-25. In 1923-24, expenditures for operation would amount to $1,677,256, for maintenance, $91,911, and for capital, $797,744. In 1924-25, operation expenditures would amount to $1,732,541, maintenance, $69,757, and capital, $615,964.

Larger appropriations are needed by the normal schools, Mr. Kittle said, because of the marked increase in enrollment during the past year. Attendance at the teacher training institutions jumped from $5,223 in 1921 to 6,395 in 1922, an increase of 1,172, or nearly 25 per cent.

The largest requested appropriation for a single school is asked for Oshkosh where $343,785 is wanted to build a new teacher training school. At present classes are held in old barracks which are said to be unsatisfactory.

At Stevens Point $86,696 is asked for 1923-24 and $267,000 for 1924-25 to provide for a new teacher training building. Superior asks $50,500 for the first year and $15,350 for the second to construct a front unit for the school gymnasium.

A new teacher training building is wanted by the River Falls Normal school which requests an appropriation of $127,250 for capital expenditures in 1923-24 and 176,330 in 1924-25. Milwaukee Normal school asks $58,250 for the next year to add class rooms to its main building, and $37,250 for the following year with which to purchase land.

The La Crosse normal asks $43,345 for the purchase of land during the next year, and Eau Claire normal for $27,200 for the same purpose. Platteville asks $48,566 for the purchase of land in 1923-24 and $45,134 for the same purpose in 1924-25.

BADGERS LEAD IN EDUCATIONAL PLANS

Wisconsin with its plan for education of children forced into industry before the completion of a normal schooling, stands among the leaders of a world-wide movement for the economic betterment of working boys and girls, George P. Hambrecht, state director of vocational education, said today on his return from a two months' survey of continuation school methods in Europe.

Mr. Hambrecht expressed his belief that only by giving the working boy or girl a chance to improve his condition by further education, can a country arise its economic standards and the standards of its working people.

This state with its compulsory part-time education laws, requiring children up to the age of 18 to spend at least eight hours a week in a continuation school, he said, has taken as long a step as any other state or nation to give an opportunity for advancement to the children in industry.

"Wireless on Every Farm" Market Commission Aim

A wireless receiving outfit in every Wisconsin farm home is the objective of the state department of markets as it commences an enlargement of its wireless market reporting services. The department is now constructing the master wireless market broadcasting station of the state at Waupaca.

When this station is completed early in December every farmer in Wisconsin will be able to get reliable government market reports by wireless within a few minutes after prices are quoted in the large markets of the country. Four market reports are to be sent each day with summaries twice a week.

The Wisconsin department of markets was the first in the country to establish and maintain a regular daily wireless telephone reporting service. It was first started in October of last year, when a leased wire was installed by the department and wireless reports started from the university station.

This service proved extremely popular and valuable, and as a result it is extending facilities for broadening the report. Markets to be covered are on live stock, dairy, and poultry products, fruits, vegetables, hay and grain.

In addition to wireless reports a daily mimeograph bulletin giving all the markets is to be distributed by the department.

As soon as the Waupaca station is opened the department will discontinue entirely its Madison service and center all of its activities at the new station. B. B. Jones is in charge of the market news service of the department. M. M. Littleton will be in charge of the Waupaca station.

Council May Place Ban on Curb Gasoline Tanks

No more gasoline filling stations will be permitted to install pumps at the curbs of city streets, if an ordinance recommended to the council by the street committee Friday night is adopted. Due to the large number of filling stations in the city it was deemed advisable to draft an ordinance permitting such pumps to be erected only inside the property line. The bill was referred to the ordinance committee.

BANDITS KILL WISCONSIN MAN

James L. Wright, Former
U. W. Instructor, Murdered in Syria

NEW YORK—The murder by bandits near Aleppo, Syria of James Lester Wright of Waukesha, Wis., a near East Relief worker was reported today in a cable message to near East Relief headquarters by Stanley Kerry, one of its workers in the Aleppo district.

The message said Wright was in charge of a group of one thousand Armenian orphans being taken from Harpoot, Turkey to Aleppo. The message did not state the exact location of the attack or whether or not the children escaped.

Charles V. Vickrey, general secretary of Near East Relief said however, that he was certain that the orphans Wright was escorting were safe. He expressed belief that Wright had been murdered by one of the numerous forces of brigands that prey on travellers on roads leading into and through Asia Minor.

Wright, he added, was the first Near East Relief worker to meet a violent death during the seven years of the organization's service.

Wright who was 36, formerly was an instructor at the Agricultural College of Wisconsin and for two years had charge of the college of Experimental Farm at the University of Wisconsin. He enlisted with the near East relief about 15 months ago and had been in charge of agricultural work at various relief orphanages in the Levant.

Cannon balls, abandoned by General John C. Fremont in his expedition to California in 1844, were uncovered recently by a prospector searching for gold in a small ravine not far from Fales Hot Springs in Mono County, California. Fremont's diary records that on January 28, 1844, he was obliged to leave his howitzer at a point in Deep Creek. This is eight miles north of where the cannon balls were discovered. It is supposed General Fremont abandoned his howitzer ammunition as of no further use.

Forced Italian Premier Out

Benito Mussolini.

The resignation of the Italian cabinet headed by Premier Facta, forced by the Fascisti through their opposition to the cabinet and their threat to mobilize military and industrial forces unless the cabinet resigned, brings Italy face to face with another political crisis. Benito Mussolini, head of the Fascisti, is the man responsible for the rise in power of that bod. Early dispatches stated that Vittorio Orlando, premier during the war, or Giovanni Giolitti, also a former premier, might be summoned by King Emmanuel to form a new cabinet.

PUBLIC URGED TO SAVE COAL

Shortage of Anthracite Makes Immediate Conservation
Necessary

An adequate soft coal supply to meet the normal needs of Wisconsin is assured for this winter, but the anthracite situation is serious, "a fact that can be side-stepped no longer," the state fuel committee says in an official statement today. It advises that there must be conservation on all grades of coal to make up for the expected shortage of anthracite.

"This statement of coal conditions is based on figures compiled showing shipments from lake ports Aug. 21 to Oct. 23, during which period a total of 7,874,428 tons of bituminous coal was shipped to Lake Michigan and Lake Superior ports for distribution to the Northwest territory," the committee said.

"There are just 50 days left before the close of navigation," its statement continues. "Assuming that shipments will continue as in the past, we can expect at least another six million tons to come up the lakes, making a total of over 13,000,000 tons via the lake route. We can safely assume that rail tonnage will total 2,500,000 tons, or a grand total of 15,500,000 tons based on conservative estimates.

"In addition to this, the various Lake Superior and Lake Michigan docks carried over approximately 3,235,700 tons which gives us a tons bituminous supply of 18,735,700 tons, sufficient for all needs.

"The anthracite situation, however, is serious. According to figures compiled in this office and prepared by the various dock operators about 505,000 tons of anthracite were carried over from last season, or a total of 961,092 tons of anthracite received and on hand this season.

"Assuming that the northwest requires 2,100,000 tons of anthracite, it shows that we are short 1,100,000 tons of anthracite today.

Bridge Dedication Is Postponed at Sauk City

SAUK CITY, Wis.—Dedication of the new state bridge at Sauk City will be postponed until next spring, according to plans announced by the committee, Saturday.

There is considerable work to be done yet in planting shrubs, installing lighting standards and general clean up details, which will make it impossible to hold the ceremonies on Nov. 4, as planned.

By postponing the event until the spring the committee can make arrangements for an outdoor celebration and picnic at the same time.

This year in evaluating the papers, no additional mark will be given for correct spelling.

SELECTION NO. 10

Lo, Here the Gentle Lark, by Henry Rowley Bishop, born and died in London, 1786-1855.

Beauty is Its Own Excuse—Most songs aim to give a sincere and moving expression of the meaning of their texts. There are, however, a few pieces—practically all of them dating from earlier periods, because today they are not being written—which use the text merely as a starting point for a journey of vocal display. There is a pleasure in hearing beautiful tone when combined in passages which are difficult to execute. Today's selection is a delightful and frequently sung example of this type of song.

A TALENTED COMPOSER

A purely British product was Sir Henry Rowley Bishop. He appears never to have left either his native country or his native town. His early training was completed under Francesco Bianchi, and that was apparently the closest approach he ever made to the musicians of other lands or their music. His talent soon carried him into the dramatic and operatic field, and his first great success was attended with dramatic sensation. The night after his first opera, The Circassian Bride (1809), had its premiere amid great enthusiasm, the theater burned down together with his entire score. However, his name and fortune were made, and for some years he devoted himself to operatic composition, until the dismal failure of his "Aladdin" in 1825 turned his energies into other channels.

The Composer of Home, Sweet Home—Nevertheless, it was during this period that he composed the song by which we all ought to know him, but whose immense popularity, by an odd paradox, is so great as to have made us indifferent to the composer's identity—Home, Sweet Home! It is just one hundred years ago (1822) that the now world-famous song was first sung to an English audience. It is noteworthy that Bishop himself was a singer, as were both of his wives—for he was twice married—and that practically all his compositions were for the human voice. His name lives today principally in his many glees and songs, where his gift of flowing melody and pleasing harmony shows to the best advantage.

A Famous Coloratura Song—Lo, Here the Gentle Lark is one of the many songs which Sir Henry composed to words taken from Shakespeare's poems and plays, and as in the other cases, the words are almost wholly indifferent to the musician's purpose, except that the reference to a lark affords an opportunity to write music that suggests the warbling of a song-bird. The song is full of shakes and trills, grace-notes, and embellishments, runs and cadenzas, and is an admirable showpiece for a coloratura voice. All these adornments are draped on a smooth-flowing melody in three principal parts. The song terminates in a very elaborate cadenza ending with a long and brilliant high C. Delightful use is made of the flute which appears in a mimic combat with the voice, each trying to outdo the other in displays of agility.

The song is recorded on Columbia, No. 5876; Edison, No. 80316; Victor, No. 45115.

NEW ENGLAND, N. D.—The wheels of time turned backward 300 years here yesterday when an entire village forgot the dizzy pace of the modern world and knelt as did their puritan fathers to give thanks to the divine Father that granted them a bountiful harvest.

For four years farmers of this community watched their crops wither and die. Last spring the community joined in a common prayer for a more successful season. Yesterday the people gathered again to give thanks to the Divinity who, they believe, heard and granted their prayer.

Frear Raps Mellon On Oil Dividend

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Representative Frear (Wis.), who is keeping up a running barrage letter fire on Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, took him to task again Saturday in connection with the 400 per cent stock dividend of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

"The purpose of issuing stock dividends to avoid payment of individual surtaxes has never been more flagrantly evidenced in the history of the country than now, and your failure to impose any penalty on the Standard Oil company will arouse more widespread concern than you seem to realize," says Mr. Frear in his latest volley. "What explanation can you make, Mr. Secretary, satisfactory to the 7,000,000 income tax payers of the country who pay their taxes according to the law and are faced with this attempt to escape over $100,000,000 in income taxes by one company, whether through a financial and political power exerted by the great company or because of the shrewdness of its officers is immaterial?"

Episcopal Society Gives Halloween Dinner Party

Goblins, witches, jack o' lanterns, pumpkins and fall decorations featured the Halloween dinner and party of the St. Francis society given Sunday at the club house on University avenue. Tables and walls were appropriately decorated in fall color schemes.

Following the dinner the members of the society played a few old fashioned childrens' games, eating apples suspended from strings proving the most popular.

The society will give a Halloween dance and party next Friday night in the guild hall of Grace church. The party is for all Episcopal students and their friends according to Henry S. Rubel '23, president. Tickets may be bought at the door for 35 cents.

Sick Visitation is Task of Y. M. C. A. Committee

Over one per cent of the 5,000 students are in the infirmary all the time, according to university records. To visit these twice a day is the duty of the Y. M. C. A. Sick Visitation committee under Howard K. Willett '23.

The committee's work consists of running such errands for the sick student as getting newspapers, magazines, toilet articles, books, candy, writing paper and cigarettes and in making phone calls. Last year the committee made 3,703 visits, 2,409 errands, and 177 phone calls. The committee also sees to it that the victrola which was presented to the infirmary by Mrs. Walter A. Rogers, is kept in good condition.

"We are planning to have a large reserve force on hand for any epidemic that may beset us," Howard Willett said yesterday. "It is the new students and the students who live far away from home to whom we hope to be of greatest service. We help where help is most needed."

Pictorial History

THE other day the Athletic Department called on us for some old pictures of athletic events—like the lake rush of the late '90s, the bleacher collapse of 1914, the old grandstand, Bascom Hall fire, some celebrated athletes of the good old days, etc., etc. The U. of W. Pictorial History contained them all.

The History is compiled of University pictures made from 1912 to the present date and by some prints gleaned from the files of the late E. R. Curtis, running back to 1886. As the years roll on these pictures become more and more valuable historically. Some day we intend presenting them all to the Historical Museum to be preserved for the generation upon generations that are following us.

Among the pages you will find old sorority pictures with the girls wearing "leg o' mutton sleeves,"—the pictures are forty years old and look mighty odd to us now—the old Gym Prom with its miles of cheesecloth bunting used for decorations—and in those days they had the Prom house parties in connection; you will find hundreds of pictures of profs, sorority and fraternity pictures of every description—some may include pictures of your mother, father or grandparents—ad infinitum. You'll enjoy looking thru these volumes.

The 8th volume has just been bound—it includes all pictures made last year. Lately we have added a new volume to the set and we dedicate ourselves to maintaining the books and adding to them from year to year as long as fate will permit us to.

Our Invitation

These books are not for sale—the few prints that may be sold from the negatives are negligible if not actually a liability; we maintain them mainly because we feel that we are rendering a service to our Alma Mater and the generations of students to come. It is solely in this spirit that we invite you to drop in and feast your eyes on their contents. All we ask is that you handle them carefully—they are bulky and are easily damaged. Come in as often and stay as long as you like.
