TICKETS SLOW IN APPEARING FOR ELECTIONS

Petitions and Advertising
Matter Due at Dean's Office Friday

With 23 positions on various boards to be filled in the coming elections, small interest has been shown and few candidates have appeared. All petitions, with advertising material arranged in proper form for the election booklet, must be filed at the office of the dean of men by 5 o'clock Friday. All board petitions carry with them a deposit fee of $2.50, and must be signed by at least 25 qualified electors.

Deposits shall be made in cash or by check, draft, or money order to the chairman of the committee on elections. If candidates fail to make deposits at the time specified their advertisements will not be included in the booklet nor will their names appear on the ballot, according to the ruling of the student senate.

Athletic board vacancies—president, vice president, and representatives for football, cross-country, basketball, track, baseball, and minor sports, all of whom must be "W" men; and two non-"W" men elected from the sophomore class. The members are elected by all qualified male electors, that is, all sophomore, junior, and senior men.

Badger board vacancies—two sophomores to be elected by sophomore men and women; one freshman to be elected by freshmen. These do not include the editor and business manager, who are elected by the sophomore class and whose petitions carry with them deposits of $10.

Union board vacancies—two inexperienced members, one sophomore and one junior to be elected by their respective classes when nominated by petitions signed by at least 50 qualified electors; and one experienced junior man elected from three nominees designated by the Union board.

Cardinal Board of Control—one junior and two sophomores, elected by the qualified male and female electors of the university. Not more than one of the persons elected is to be a woman. Petitions are to bear the names of at least 25 qualified electors.

Forensic board—two juniors and one sophomore to be elected by the qualified men and women electors of the respective classes.

FRESHMEN CHOSEN FOR ANNUAL "DEC"

Freshman aspirants to forensic honors had their first opportunity to gain fame yesterday afternoon in the open preliminary of the freshman "dec" contest. Fourteen men presented declamations on varied subjects, and four were chosen to contest with the representatives of the literary societies in the final contest Thursday. The quality of the speaking promises a close contest in the finals.

The successful speakers and their selections were: Herbert Hentzen, "A Plea for Cuba"; Karl F. Karel, "What American Means"; Oscar Kiesling, "American Citizenship"; and L. Francis Lamb, "American Citizenship." One speaker has been chosen from each of the men's literary societies to take part in the finals.

CLASSES PUSH MEMORIAL FUND

Freshmen Take Lead in Drive; Hill Students
Also in First Place

Results of class spirit and competition in the Memorial fund drive were evidenced when last night the freshman had advanced to a position with a 3.5 per cent lead over any other class. The freshman percentage was 27.2. Sophomores came second with 23.78, juniors with 18.3, and seniors with 15.6. Miscellaneous organizations listed at 15.2.

Rated as to colleges, courses and schools, Letters and Science takes the lead with a percentage of 36.15. Others rate in the following order: Commerce 23.2, engineering 14.2, agriculture 9.2, law 1.45, graduates 1.4, and miscellaneous groups 14.5.

The drive fund is receiving many large checks, not only from university alumni, but from business men all over the state, who are interested in the university and its welfare.

Several Milwaukee industries have recently pledged subscription funds ranging from $1,000 to $5,000 each, according to reports from the Milwaukee headquarters of the campaign. Several department stores have made subscriptions of $500 each. The directors of the Wisconsin Manufacturers' association recently passed a resolution endorsing the project and sent a letter to manufacturers and merchants throughout the state calling for their support.

"The way industries have responded to our appeal has been very encouraging," declares H. L. Ashworth, executive secretary of the campaign committee. "Many of the industries which have pledged subscriptions have done so merely through pride in our state institution and not because of actual connection through the alumni."

INDOOR SEASON FOR TRACK MEN ENDS SATURDAY

The last indoor track meet of the season will be held Saturday in the gym annex. It will consist of an inter-college competition, and tryouts for Sigma Delta Psi, honorary national athletic fraternity.

In the inter-college competition, all men who have not represented the university in competition are eligible. The captains of the teams are: agriculture, E. M. Smith; commerce, J. C. Holbrook; L. and S., L. E. Norem; pre-med, F. C. Forsbeck; engineering, C. W. Wille. ## SQUAD STARTS WORK-OUT AT RANDALL FIELD

Prepare For Tilt With Northwestern College
Held Next Week

With the first baseball game of the season only one week away, varsity baseball candidates reported at Camp Randall yesterday afternoon for the first out-door practice of the year.

Northwestern college of Watertown will be the first Badger opponent this year when the nine from that school comes to Madison Wednesday of next week for the first of a long list of preliminary games.

After more than two months indoor practice in the gymnasium annex, Coach M. A. Kent yesterday issued new equipment including new uniforms purchased this year, and gave the order to report at Camp Randall.

The squad, which at present is composed of at least 30 candidates, was put through a short drill and hitting practice and let go. The squad this year is the largest and the most promising which has reported for practice for a long time and has been hit less by ineligibility than usual.

The production staff and management wish to correct the impression that either of the evening performances are to be formal. Many of the fraternities are planning for box parties but there will be no attempt to make any of the Vodvil performances formal.

All

acts are working hard on rehearsals this week and the production manager is certain that the show will be a success from the first blare of the orchestra to the last fall of the curtain.

S. G. A. WILL ELECT OFFICERS FRIDAY

Urge Better Representation
Than Shown at Primary
Vote

Final elections of S. G. A. officers will be held Friday in Lathrop. The response at the primaries was not very representative, in point of numbers, of the women of the university, and the officers of the organization feel that the co-eds ought to take more interest in the elections.

"If the girls do not turn out for the finals," said Amy Jobse, president of the association, "we feel that they ought not to have any voice in the further affairs of the self-government association. This is their organization and they should co-operate with the officers to further the best interests of the women of the university."

The candidates selected at the primaries are as follows: President, Marie Bodden and Hazel Wright; vice president, Marguerite Croskey, Virginia Conklin and Hildegard Wipperman; secretary, Gladys Haskins and Marion Strassburger; treasurer, Rachel Commons and Esther Haven; census chairman, Ruth Reed and Cleo Parsley.

BRITISH RELATIONS IS LECTURE THEME

"The Importance of Intimate Relationships between the United States and the British Empire," is the subject of an address to be given by Carl Russell Fish this afternoon at 4:30 in 165 Main hall, under the auspices of the Anglo-American club. Professor Fish was director of the London branch of the American University union during the war and has had numerous opportunities at other times of studying Great Britain in its relations to the United States.

The Anglo-American club, of which Professor Fish is honorary president, was organized last fall by several students who were members of the British university army detachment. The local organization is the first of a number of clubs of similar purpose which are being established in the larger American universities, modeled after the parent British-American club at Oxford university. President E. A. Birge is an honorary member of the club at Oxford.

The meetings of the local club are semi-monthly. A short survey of comparative British and American subjects is given by some member of the faculty, followed by an open discussion by the members.

NINE FRESHMEN UP FOR SENATE TRIAL

Nine freshmen will be tried tonight by the student senate for violations of traditions. Most of the charges against the first year men are for smoking on the campus, loitering on the steps of university buildings, and disrespect to upperclassmen. The senate promises to give out the penalties in short order, and those convicted will be given to the sophomore class traditions committee for execution of the penalty.

WE WILL — ONCE!

Dear Ed:

After a week of experience on the campus during this beautiful spring weather, and after avoiding with great difficulty a co-ed's auto that came far too close for comfort, the following could no longer be repressed. Forgive me.

IMA BONEHEAD.

Don't try to pass upon the walk
The co-eds when they stop to talk;
Just through the clay mud lightly stalk,
And at your shoe shine bills don't balk.

With tea hounds this is quite a fad,
They send their shoe shine bills to Dad.
Our faces, too, show feelings glad;
Just plain clay mud is not so bad.

But, oh, these co-eds that have cars!
Ye Gods, I'd rather be in Mars
Than have to dodge to escape scars,
Or to be struck and see bright stars.

We walk along quite dignified,
Then look, exclaim, and leap aside.
This certainly does hurt our pride,
But not to jump means suicide.

Then flashes forth a hopeful ray,
And cleverly our plans we lay.
We'll get a racing car some day,
And all these co-eds we'll repay.

We'll speed along (we think it's just),
We'll be disliked; we may be 'cussed';
But in clay mud they'll walk,
though fussed,
And, by the Jinx, they'll take our dust.

IMA BONEHEAD.

Uh-huh, 'Tis

Dear Ed:

TWO room-mates had had a tiff, and without much reason each had been rather crabby. However, the next morning while both were hastily preparing for 8 o'clock, the following polite conversation took place:

"Got pancakes smoring," said the one affiliated with severe back-aches.

"I'm SO sorry," said the other solicitously.

"I can tell by the smell," went on the other.
My dear, ain't that perfectly alarming?

CO-EDS MOURN WHEN FIVE ORPHANS DIE

NORTHFIELD, Minn. — Upon finding five tiny waifs, deserted by their parents, several benevolent co-eds at Carleton college decided to agitate the establishment of an orphans' asylum. The helpless babes were found late in the evening, and after much discussion the girls finally decided upon a lodging place for them for the night.

Sadness settled down over the entire dormitory next morning when it was discovered that the waifs had passed away during the night, rendering further attention unnecessary. The cause of their death was probably exposure due to the desertion of their parents. The grief stricken girls buried the tiny corpses in a secret place.

The plot where lie the little flower heaped mounds is dedicated to "five orphan mice."

MODERN COLLEGE MAN IS SETTLING DOWN TO WORK

CHICAGO — Is the American college student reversing the time-honored tradition and letting his studies interfere with his college life?

The Interchurch World Movement says "yes." Reports received by the movement in connection with a nation-wide survey of education indicate that young men in college have settled down to work.

The renaissance of work as a college ideal is said to result from the influence of the war veterans scattered through our colleges. These young men have passed through the sobering experience of war. They have traveled and come in contact with many different types of people. They have benefited by the discipline of military education. And in the process they have grown up. The college man has supplanted the college boy, and he is a man who feels that he must make up for the years lost in camp and field by good hard plugging.

The Interchurch World Movement sees in these veterans promising material from which to recruit the hundred thousand trained workers, lay and clerical, that will be needed by Protestant churches during the next five years for work at home and abroad.

PLAN ENGINEERS' SUMMER COURSES

Summer engineering courses for practical engineers, teachers in technical schools, regular and advanced students, men returning from the service, former correspondence students, and students with deficient entrance qualifications, are being arranged by the College of Engineering for the 1920 summer session.

For manual arts students instruction will also be offered along technical engineering lines. Apprentices, artisans, and students taking work by correspondence may also secure theoretical and practical training in special courses. Facilities for special research in engineering subjects will be available.

Uniform Education Act Subject of Philomathia Debate

R. B. Stewart will address Philomathia at the meeting Friday evening, April 2, on "The Teachers Federation." There will be a debate on the question, "Resolved, that congress should enact a uniform education act, bringing under federal control all elementary schools, supporting them from the national treasury." Peterson, Sarles, and Theodore Smith will support the affirmative, and Nyhagan, Hawkes, and Gahagan the negative. An address by Emerson Ella, Madison attorney and Philomathia alumnus, will complete the program.

Two short talks will feature the Hesperia meeting. E. J. Koch will speak on, "How to Judge a Debate," and E. Kletzein will discuss "Shipping Lenin's Friends to Him." "Resolved, that the principle of the closed shop should be adopted in American industry," will be debated by Muskat, Heur and Pope on the affirmative, and Lehrdahl, Katz, and Blodgett on the negative.

Athenae will hear a discussion of the Esch-Cummins bill by Joseph Pleck. The debate will be, "Resolved, that a universal eight hour day should be adopted in all industrial and commercial establishments in the United States," the affirmative being taken by Miller, Fritschler, and Halverson, and the negative by Buckstaff, Wallen, and Charney.

Agricultural Literary society will have an impromptu discussion of topics of current interest, and hear a debate, "Resolved, that one third of the indemnity imposed on Germany by the Peace Treaty be cancelled," affirmative by Grant, Sears, and Boerner; negative by Schroeder, Langen, and Staus.

STATE SOCIALISM HELD NO NEW PLAN

That the modern trend toward state socialism evidenced in government experiments in retail merchandising is not a new thing in this country and has a precedent in the government trading houses for Indians during pioneer days is pointed out by Dr. M. M. Quaife, editor of the State Historical society, in an article on "An Experiment of the Fathers in State Socialism," published in the current issue of the society's Wisconsin Magazine of History.

"The rapid advance of recent years along the pathway of state socialism has commonly been regarded as a new phenomenon in American life, as indeed, in many respects it is. Curiously enough, however, one of its most advanced and recent manifestations, the entrance of the government upon the field of retail merchandising with a view of controlling prices in the supposed interest of the general public as opposed to the machinations of a set of grasping middlemen, closely repeats in many particulars a notable and now long-forgotten experiment of the United States government in the field of retail trade a century and more ago."

Dr. Quaife tells of the history of the experiment from early colonial days to 1824, the trading posts established, congressional legislation, and discusses the obstacles which led to its abandonment in the first quarter of the nineteenth century.

JUDGES ARE NAMED FOR JOINT DEBATE

The judges for the Pythia and Castalia joint debate to be held Thursday night in 165 University hall are to be Prof. Leonard S. Smith, of the College of Engineering; Dr. D. S. Robinson, of the department of philosophy, and J. C. White, state superintendent of heating plants.

The C. P. pins to be given to the debaters afterwards by Dean Nardin are the first of the kind, but will be an annual appearance after this. They were designed by Dorothy Axter of the art school especially for Castalia and Pythia.

Equity News Would Jail Regents if Hazing Outbreaks Result in Injuries to Students

Hazing in the university is condemned as "the spirit of mob and riot," in an editorial, "Mob Spirit and Our University," in a recent issue of The National Equity News, which further makes the rather startling statement that "whenever a student is injured by hazing of any kind, either by bruises or ducking in the lake, he should recover damages, and all the Board of Regents and faculty should be held as participant criminals and be made to pay the penalty, whether it be in money or sent to prison. I was a teacher for 20 years and never could reconcile hazing as any part of an honest moral life, nor could I ever reason out why any school with high grade moral regents and teachers would allow it. Some of these times when a student is severely injured, as they sometimes are, we hope to see the law reach over to the real criminals, the Board of Regents and teachers."

The editorial, written by a teacher, illustrates how sentiment against hazing has been taking shape in the state. Articles similar to this appeared in publications throughout the state last fall criticizing the university for tolerating hazing.

The editorial in The National Equity News is as follows:

"Much is being said about the tendency of the mob spirit prevalent throughout the country. The riots in Omaha and other places are the effects of a cause, just as material as effect following a cause in any other sphere. Our civilization, our teachings, our morals or lack of them as the base, and each of us a factor, some more, some less, than others. Our teachers more than any other, and they according to his or her position of influence. Our university occupying the most influential position is, of course, more responsible than any other in shaping civilization. When a university permits hazing of any kind or permits one class or set to dominate over another, to that extent the university is cultivating rowdyism and the spirit of mob and riot, and whenever a student is injured by hazing of any kind, either by bruises or ducking in the lake, he should recover damages, and all the Board of Regents and faculty should be held as participant criminals and be made to pay the penalty, whether it be in money or sent to prison. I was a teacher for 20 years and never could reconcile hazing as any part of an honest moral life, nor could I ever reason out why any school with high grade moral regents and teachers would allow it. Some of these times when a student is severely injured, as they sometimes are, we hope to see the law reach over to the real criminals, the Board of Regents and teachers."

POLITICAL COURSE OFFERED BY MAIL

To prepare the women of Wisconsin for the exercise of suffrage, a concise discussion of political parties and their organization has just been prepared by the municipal information bureau of the University Extension division as part of a correspondence course on "Voting Methods and Elections," which nearly 300 Badger women are now studying.

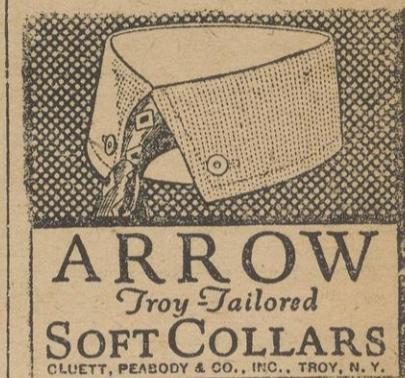

The discussion covers the place which the political party occupies in the government, the history and development of political parties, what the present political parties stand for, and the way in which parties organize and carry on their work. It explains the make-up and work of the national committee, the appointment and functions of the state central committee, county committees, and the election of precinct committeemen.

OUTING CLUB PLANS PICNIC FOR FRIDAY

The first spring picnic planned by Outing club for Friday, April 2 will be open to all university women who sign on the poster in Lathrop hall by noon of the same day. Starting from the Lathrop center table at 4:30 p. m. Friday, a hike to Sunset Point will be led by Ruth Romig, and a supper furnished by Outing club at a cost of 25 cents for each girl who signs will be included.

This hike will be a good preliminary for all who wish to take the trip around Lake Mendota planned for the near future. All who plan to take the 25 mile hike should "get in trim" by taking shorter hikes of five or ten miles.

A bicycle ride to the fish hatchery will be another feature of Outing club's activities for this week end. Saturday at 1:30 p. m., those who have obtained bicycles will meet at Lathrop hall. For those who have no wheels of their own, a list of owners will be posted on the bulletin board in Lathrop hall, with whom individual arrangements may be made at a cost of approximately 50 cents for the trip.

GET INTO THE RUNNING

FRIDAY marks the dead-line for the filing of petitions for offices in our system of student self-government. Positions are open on various boards covering practically all phases of student activities.

The restricted interest which seems to crop out on the campus with regularity should be avoided in the forthcoming campaign. Not only the wide range of offices, but the fact that we want our activities to continue to be conducted on the plane of efficiency and merit is sufficient to lead students to conscious effort in getting candidates out for offices.

The most certain of all safeguards is a group of good candidates. For not unlike actual participation in activities, the only trouble with the governing bodies seems to be the failure to create excitement at elections that always results from a large field of contestants.

In a university that boasts of an enrollment in excess of 6,000, an election calling candidates for less than fifteen places should not see a single office filled by default. Stifling the work of small cliques of campus politicians becomes easy when every place is the object of a close contest.

It is clear that a large portion of the success of college activities depends upon the fitness, quality, and calibre of the persons who handle them. These assets are here in abundant quantities—those in possession of them owe it to their school and to themselves to pick out the jobs for which they are best fitted and to work hard to get them.

Let's crowd the political roll with a representative turnout of candidates for all offices at the spring elections.

THE ALUMNI SPIRIT

THE executive committee for the Memorial Union drive has coined the slogan, "All Wisconsin alumni, not a few, will build the Memorial Union."

For the campus campaign, the slogan should be, "All Wisconsin students, not a few, will build the Memorial Union."

Every member of the alumni body and every student should participate in the raising of the Memorial Union building fund, even though his or her subscription may be small. This is the call to Wisconsin men and women that the executive committee is emphasizing strongly.

Appealing to the alumni, the committee has declared:

"There is a tendency on the part of many alumni to back, possibly in the hope that the fund will be raised from large subscriptions without their help. Our idea is that this project should be put over by the alumni as a body and that every graduate and former student of the university should, by all means, have some share in it."

That is the spirit in which Wisconsin alumni are tackling the Memorial Union project. It is the spirit which should be reflected on the campus. If YOUR share is not already pledged to the Memorial, SIGN UP NOW.

What the College Editors Say

PENNSYLVANIA VS. THE PROCTOR

That the honor system is a sure destroyer of haphazard proctoring has been instanced at the University of Pennsylvania within the last two months. Like Dartmouth, Pennsylvania found herself in a quandry. She was a house divided against itself, for in the three schools which make up the university three systems existed.

In the college proper the elimination of cheating was left to the individual judgment of each instructor. Some chose to act as proctors and others placed their confidence in the inherent honor of the examined. In the engineering college, the plan was enforced by the strength of public opinion. However, the Wharton school maintained the only efficient and effective system. Its honor code was definitely drawn up and placed before men taking an examination. This code had three steps in its enforcement, (1) the signing of a pledge on every examination paper, (2) reporting all offenders by the undergraduates to the student committee and (3) trial by this body with failure given as a punishment for the first offence, and expulsion for the second.

Only partial success was experienced in the engineering school where no written code existed. Wharton school accomplished two-fold results: it eliminated cheating, and it presented such a contrast to the irregular proctoring of the college that an insurmountable wave of protest against proctoring gathered. This wave culminated in an agitation for one universal honor system for the three schools. In a student mass meeting an overwhelming vote was registered for a code similar to that of Wharton school. Members of a student committee were appointed and are now writing the articles of a constitution to be submitted to a university referendum.—The Dartmouth.

Blackness, darkness, oblivion! And a horrid fate ahead!

So thought the 31 trembling, blindfolded initiates into the Press club as they stood outside Lathrop parlors yesterday afternoon awaiting orders. At last the fatal word was spoken, and they stumbled fearfully in to the—but there! We don't dare give away initiation stunts. All we know is that they emerged half an hour later, a trifle pale perhaps, but nevertheless in a sufficiently healthy condition to descend to Lathrop basement and carry away a good square meal.

The members, new and old, assembled in the S. G. A. room with their trays, and after the business of eating had been successfully accomplished, "Bernie" Meyers, Press club president, presided at an informal meeting of the society. Plans were discussed for appointing a committee to draw up a set of "ideals" which should serve as a basis for practical work in the journalistic field. David Weiss, a graduate student and member of the club, told of his experiences with a Milwaukee editor.

"Be honest," said "Dave." "Don't ever distort a story because you think it reads better that way, or because the editor wants it 'colored.' He may fire you for telling the truth, but ultimately an editor respects only a reporter who is honest."

The members were reminded that Prof. W. G. Bleyer of the Journalism department will conduct an inspection trip to Chicago on April 15, the first day of spring vacation, to go through the printing establishments there.

Press club meetings for the rest of the year have been arranged for April 14, May 1, at which time the delegates to the national convention of Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalistic society, will be entertained, May 6, and May 20. Plans were also discussed for staging a picnic and dance across the lake in the latter part of May.

STUDENT DISCOVERS
AN EFFECTIVE DRINK

oberlin, O.—A certain keytroller from the business college department at Oberlin college, brought himself into the limelight when he tried to "mix the products of the barbershop with the favorite beverage of our secretary of the navy." The mixture of equal parts of extract of Bay Rum and grape juice proved very effective. This was shown by the fact that a jug of ice water and several towels were requisitioned from the landlady in the morning. His condition was critical for some days but his recovery is now assured.

TRUCK DRIVER INTERESTS THE ART WORLD
WITH LARGE EXHIBITION OF LANDSCAPES

Emile Branchard at work on a landscape.

A recent exhibition of eighty-odd paintings of landscapes, exhibited in a Fifth avenue, New York, gallery, attracted the attention of artists. They are by Emile Branchard, a man who has driven a truck on the New York waterfront for years. He is a man of middle age and a big, husky chap. He has taken no lessons, does not paint direct from landscapes, seldom getting out to the country. His ideas are derived from remembrance of pictures in books and stage settings.

MANY AT HARVARD
EARN OWN EXPENSES

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Some Harvard students who are self-supporting earned $5,000 or more in their four years at the university. It is not unusual for a student to earn $3,000, stand well in his class, and be a leader in student activities. One man who earned the latter sum belonged to four college clubs, rowed on the varsity crew and was among the best known men at college, investigators report. Another who earned a similar amount was an officer of his class, was elected to three clubs, sang on the glee club and was first marshal of the Phi Beta Kappa fraternity.

AT THE NEW STRAND

A double feature program will be shown today, tomorrow, Friday and Saturday.

"Love all the ladies and keep a Chinese valet to warm your slippers and sew on your buttons," is the motto of Bruce Sands, the leading character in "The Beloved Cheater" which will be shown at the Strand commencing today. In this Robertson-Cole special, Lew Cody, the star, has a role with which he fits in perfectly, that of a fascinating bachelor, willing to love and kiss quite often, but keeping entirely free of the marital noose.

"The Beloved Cheater," which was produced by Gasnier, tells the story of Bruce Sands, the "devil among the ladies" who has a friend, Kingdom Challoner who is very backward. It happens that Eulalie

Morgan, the young woman to whom Challoner is engaged, belongs to a progressive cult which says that nobody should kiss until married. So Challoner appeals to Sands whom he knows to be an authority on women and their fascination, and asks him what to do. Sands assures his friend that any woman will kiss, if rightly handled, and suggests, "Just take her in your arms and kiss her." So the two men agree that Sands shall kiss Eulalie in the dark, and step out of the way, so that it will appear, when the lights come back, that Challoner is the kisser. All goes right until the lights come on, when the young lady holds in her hand a rose which she snatched from the lapel of the man who kissed her. The rose is still on the lapel of her fiance. So it was another man! This situation ushers in a series of swiftly moving and novel episodes.

An added special feature Charlie Chaplin in "The Vagabond," a revival of one of his past successes will also be shown.

HARTFORD TO STUDY
COMMUNITY NEEDS

Hartford, Wis., will study its needs and development at a community institute to be held on April 8 and 9, under the direction of the University Extension division. Hartford is the first Badger city to request such a program this spring.

Community singing at all the sessions and in the schools will be conducted by Prof. E. B. Gordon, of the Extension division. The preliminary program schedules:

Prof. B. H. Hibbard, "The Relation of Cost of Production to Prices"; Prof. F. H. MacGregor, "Woman's Part in Government"; Mrs. E. E. Hoyt, "The New Obligation of Citizenship for Women"; Miss Emma Conley, "Federal Legislation Affecting Women and Children"; Prof. A. B. Hall, "The Playground of Life"; Prof. Thomas Lloyd Jones, "A Square Deal in Education."

M. T. Buckley, county superintendent, Milton Button, county agent, C. P. Cary, state superintendent of public instruction, Dr. J. L. Harrington, of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, Judge Martin Lueck, and Burt Williams, federal collector of internal revenues, will also speak.

SIX PROFESSORS AT LANGUAGE MEETING

Six professors of modern languages are representing the university at the combined quadrennial meeting of the Modern Language association, which closes a three-day session at Columbus, Ohio, today.

The Romance language department is represented by Professors H. A. Smith, C. E. Miller, and L. Cardon; the English department by Prof. O. J. Campbell, and the German department by Professors A. R. Hohfeld and B. Q. Morgan.

Forest Lab to Hold
Kiln-Drying Session

A school of instruction in kiln-drying and handling of lumber will be held at the Forest Products Laboratory, April 12-23. Requests are coming in to the Association of Commerce for lists of hotels with rates for these dates from manufacturers. The most recent request comes from Montgomery, Pa., with the information that the superintendent of a manufacturing concern in that city expects to attend.

STORM VICTIMS PLACED AT 157

Fear Total May Increase With Reports From Isolated Districts

CHICAGO—The death toll of Sunday's tornadoes which ripped paths of destruction through sections of eight states stood early Tuesday at 157.

Stricken communities are emerging from the wreckage and relief measures for the thousands of injured and homeless are well under way.

Wire communication in the affected areas is being restored and this is expected to aid in clearing up the extent of the destruction and the total number of those who lost their lives.

An unverified report that 15 white persons were killed at Stovall, Ga., a village near La Grange is being investigated. This would increase the death list to 172.

A number of persons were reported as missing in various localities hit by the storm and it was feared that some of these might have been killed.

No accurate estimate of the total property damage could be made Tuesday. In Illinois it was estimated that the material loss was $6,000,000 in Western Ohio $2,000,000; Michigan $2,000,000 and Georgia more than $1,000,000.

WOULD RECALL INDIAN VICEROY

DELHI, India—The special commission appointed by the National congress to inquire into recent disturbances in the Punjab has published its report. It says that the commission finds Baron Chelmsford, Viceroy and Governor General of India incapable of holding his high office and demands his recall.

The report declares that no conspiracy designed to overthrow the British government has been proved.

Red Troops Occupy Russian Harbor City

NOVOROSSISK, Russia—Occupation of this city by bolshevik forces occurred Saturday morning at 10 o'clock.

Thousands of General Denikine's volunteer soldiers went over to the soviet side, and most of the remainder went on board ship and departed for the Crimea with Denikine. Virtually all shipping of value was removed from the harbor before the bolsheviks gained control of the city.

Far East Islands Want U. S. Teachers

Many calls for university graduates are coming to the college of education of the university here from the Hawaiian and Philippines, according to Prof. M. V. O'Shea. They are wanted in those places to instil American ideas into the natives.

WEATHER

The highest temperature during the past 24 hrs. was 41 at 5 p. m. and the lowest was 35 at 11 p. m. Precipitation was 0. The sun will set at 6:22 p. m.

The weather is generally fair in the United States, with rising temperature from the Mississippi, westward. A series of barometric depressions is moving eastward through Canada, accompanied by light rains and wind. It is colder in the Atlantic states and in northern Manitoba.

SHIP CHRISTENED WITH WATER FROM MARNE

S. S. Marne ready for launching.

A bottle of water from the Marne river was shipped across the Atlantic to be used in christening the S. S. Marne, built at the Hog Island shipyard. The vessel was named the "Marne" in commemoration of the heroic defence of the French at that river. Mrs. Newton D. Baker, wife of the secretary of war, was asked to be sponsor for the boat.

WE BABIES ARE GOING TO STRIKE; WE OPPOSE JOUNCING AND CASTOR OIL

Rusk County Shows Work in Child Welfare in That Section;
Margaret Thomas is County Public Nurse

AND now the babies are striking.

"No more jouncing on knees, we are not human churbs!"

"Nix on castor oil!"

"We want our share of fresh air and sun!"

"No more waking up for exhibition purposes!"

"We'll have our rights, even if we have to yell for them!"

"Down with mustard plasters!"

"No more feeling for teeth with dirty fingers!"

"Long live the cow!"

These are some of the babies' demands.

The pupils of one of the Rusk county rural schools, where Miss Margaret Thomas is the county public health nurse, made a poster, which is displayed at the assembly chamber when the public health nurses of the state are meeting in their first state conference. This poster shows the striking babies on parade, and the mottoes quoted appear on banners and transparencies which the babies are carrying.

Miss Thomas is in charge of public health promotion work in Rusk county, one of Wisconsin's newest counties.

To a representative of The Capital Times Miss Thomas said that Rusk county farmers are now engaged in land clearing contests and in efforts to increase pure cattle. And she is trying to promote an improved human development, by increasing sanitary conditions in the schools and the homes.

The most effective method of work is through the organization of Health clubs in the schools. In these organizations teachers and scholars are taking much interest. The names of the clubs are interesting. Here are a few of them: Hercules Health club, The Microbe Chasers, The Robust 30, The Good Health Soldiers, and The Busy Bee Health club.

These clubs have made a large number of posters besides the one mentioned which are shown at the assembly chamber together with similar exhibitions from other schools.

One Rusk county poster well illustrates exactly the work that the health clubs are doing. It shows a blank for recording the results of a daily inspection of the school children. The inspections are made by two "policemen," elected by the Health club, and who serve for one week. Credits at inspection are given for the following points:

Shoes, clean and polished,
Clean face and hands,
Clean nails,
Neat hair,
Book covers, clean, and in good condition.

Standing, sitting and marching straight,

Attitude to teacher.

At the end of the week the percentage standing of each scholar is figured out.

These health clubs the children take much interest in, and they produce great improvement in the children's appearance and lead to habits of cleanliness.

The sessions of the conference continue through Thursday, and the poster display may be seen at anytime in the assembly lobby.

Expulsion of Turks Favored by French

PARIS—It was said at the foreign office Tuesday that the French point of view regarding Turkey and Armenia is in agreement with that of President Wilson as to the desirability of the largest possible Armenian state and the expulsion of the Turks from Constantinople. The question is raised, however, as to how these ends can be achieved without the force necessary to deal with the trouble certain to result among the Musselman population.

Explains Methods of Voting to Women

"The provision for voters are determined by the various states," declared Prof. Ford H. MacGregor in a talk before a class in citizenship Monday night at the city Y. W. C. A. "In Wisconsin they are determined by act of legislature. Women may vote on all question of school matters and for presidential electors, but not for delegates to the national convention. The reason for this is that the electors are voted on under the state regulations and delegates under the national rules."

Says Socialism is Taught in Colleges

WASHINGTON, March 29.—"Bolsheviks, socialists, and anarchists are given teachers' certificates and they are teaching in every state in the union," Representative Campbell, rep., declared today in the house.

"College professors of high and low degree are socialists, anarchists, enemies of congress, enemies of the constitution, enemies of this government, and they teach it daily in the colleges of this country," he said.

SPIRITS TALK AS TOES MOVE

Tricks of Spiritualism Exposed by Professor Jastrow

"By dislocating their knees and big toes, Margaret and Hettie Fox produced the rappings that gave rise to spiritualism in 1848. When they were examined by physicians, they inveigled the maid into stamping on the floor, so that knockings were heard in the cellar even when their limbs were held. For years the two girls enjoyed the sensation which their performances created, and finally, in 1888, they confessed."

The history of spiritualism, begun in this manner, was described by Prof. Joseph Jastrow yesterday afternoon in a lecture on "Spiritualism," one of the series of talks on the Occult.

"Records, eighteen hundred years old, give us knowledge of the first symptoms of communications with spirits. In Rome, Alexander tells of reading sealed packets of letters by sleeping on them, and the answers to the enclosed questions being given to him in his dreams. The answers were somewhat ambiguous, especially when the packets were so carefully sealed that Alexander feared to open them, even by melting the wax with his hot needle."

"Writing on slates and table moving have been popular fads, but fraud has always been detected and the theories have given way to new ones. The motive of telling of the future has much to do with the whole set of beliefs."

Professor Jastrow related the story of Palladino, a foreign peasant woman, supposedly gifted with superhuman powers in lifting furniture. "It was natural that Palladino's powers should tend to physical phenomena, for she could not read or write. Palladino was exposed by witnesses concealed under the table which she lifted. It was discovered that while her feet were apparently held tightly, she had released one of them from her shoe, and with the strength which a robust woman can possess proceeded to perform the miracle.

"At no time in history have men satisfied themselves that there is not some spirit power. Some have believed in the spiritualistic side, and some have been convinced of mediumism, but no matter how many frauds have been detected new theories have risen to replace the exploded ones. A late revival of spiritualism, sponsored by men of science who have been convinced of its existence, has proved that while we know that every way of discovery is a way to disturb the powers, and that whenever a person is detected, the spirits have not been congenial, we cling to the idea, and think that maybe after all 'there is something in spiritualism.'

"DISRAELI" GIVEN BY BLIND READER

Edward A. Thompson, the noted dramatic reader and interpreter, gave a remarkable rendition of Louis M. Paker's "Disraeli" at Music hall last night under the auspices of the Forensic Board. Mr. Thompson, who is totally blind, surprised his audience with a character delineation that has seldom been equalled in the auditorium.

Although he came to Madison after a strenuous engagement in Minneapolis, supplemented by illness from overwork, the wonderful quality of his voice, its perfect mellowness and remarkable resonance, was very apparent. Sincere applause was evidence of the fact that Mr. Thompson read with poise and force.

His ease on the platform was characteristic of the finished artist; it in no way led one to believe that he was at all handicapped by his lack of sight. George Arliss, who played the lead in "Disraeli" several seasons ago, would surely have been highly pleased with the reading last evening. The play portrays the struggle of Disraeli, English statesman and Jew, to gain control of the Suez canal for Great Britain in spite of the intrigues of Russian spies and skepticism at home.
