100 STUDENTS GIVE EVIDENCE IN 181 FRACAS

Senate Investigating Committee Withholds Information —To Post Minutes of Last Meeting Today

One hundred students testified before the executive committee of the Student Senate at the Union building yesterday, on the alleged unfair conditions existing in course 181 of the accounting department.

Members of the committee refused last night to give out any information relative to the case other than that the investigation so far has been successful. All interviews with students on either side of the case are being held strictly confidential.

Evidence Held Confidential

The executive committee, consisting of Wayne Morse '23, Ralph Axley '23, and Maynard Brown '23, will meet in the Union building next Monday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 o'clock for the purpose of hearing further testimony concerning the dispute. The Student Senate will hold an open meeting in the Law building as soon as the investigation has been completed.

"It is absolutely necessary that the students help us in conducting this investigation if it is to be a success," said Morse last night. "The interviews are held strictly confidential."

Minutes to Be Posted

In case a student does not care to appear in person the executive committee will be pleased to receive any letters which set forth in detail any definite grievance or offer constructive suggestions.

The minutes of the last meeting of the Student Senate, held on Wednesday, Feb. 8, will be posted this afternoon on the bulletin board on the first floor of the library in order that students who are interested may see exactly what testimony was presented at that time.

Arrangements For Senior Invitations Are All Complete

Final arrangements for the printing and sale of senior commencement invitations were completed Thursday afternoon with the Print shop and Kamera Kraft shop by G. Fred Brewer, chairman of the invitations committee of the senior class.

The invitation as chosen and contracted for by the committee is a 40-page booklet containing the names of all those receiving degrees, the commencement invitation and program, and the list of the standing committees of the class.

It is to be bound in a maroon leather cover embossed with the class numerals and a sketch of Lincoln statue. The booklet is illustrated with four steel engravings and some color sketches. Work on the invitations is well under way at the Print shop which was awarded the contract by the executive committee of the class last December.

Mail orders for the invitations will be taken after April 12, and orders may be personally placed after April 24. The invitations will be ready for delivery on or about May 29 and will sell for 40 cents each. They will be sold in the Kamera Kraft shop.

UNION CAMPAIGN HAS FULL SWING IN MANY CITIES

Reports From Goodnight and Gardner Give Encouraging Indications

Reports from Prof. E. H. Gardner and Dean Scott H. Goodnight, who are organizing Memorial Union drives in districts throughout Wisconsin and surrounding states, give encouraging indication of the extent to which the campaign is being pushed and will be pushed during the next few weeks.

Professor Gardner passed through Madison last night on his way from Eau Claire to Chicago, where he will be present this noon at a Founders Day banquet of the Chicago Alumni association at the Hotel Sherman. Edward S. Jordan '05, president of the Jordan Motor company of Cleveland, will speak in behalf of the Memorial Union, and Mrs. Charles Carpenter, Madison, will also speak. About 600 alumni will attend.

Professor Gardner will return to Madison Sunday and will leave again for Eau Claire Thursday, Feb. 16, to launch the campaign mapped out last night at a meeting of 25 Eau Claire citizens, who left the meeting, Gardner said, with great enthusiasm for the campaign. A dinner at the Elks club Friday evening, Feb. 17, will formally open the drive.

Dean Goodnight who has spent the past week in Duluth, the Iron Range district, Superior, Bayfield, and Ashland, will start Sunday for Detroit, to begin the drive there at a banquet Monday, Feb. 18. A. G. Melcher, president of the Detroit alumni association, and Lucy E. Rogers '18, secretary of the Detroit alumnae, are in charge of the campaign there.

Extra Programs for Prom Are Available

Prom-goers who were unable to secure programs at the door may obtain them by presenting the program stubs of their tickets to Marjorie Severance, 819 Irving court, on or before Monday.

The supply of Prom programs is limited, and those remaining Tuesday will be placed on open sale at $1.40 per pair.

PROF. LEONARD WRITES POEM FOR THE NATION

"The Quaker Meeting House," a poem written by Prof. W. M. Leonard, of the English department, was published in the February issue of the Nation. The poem is a contrast between the power of destruction and spiritual goodness depicted in the Quakers.

6,938 Are Enrolled For New Semester

With 6,938 students enrolled on the third day of the new semester, the university begins the last half of the current academic year with 254 more students than were enrolled at the same time last year, in spite of "hard times." February graduation of seniors, and other causes that annually tend to decrease enrollment during the second semester.

These are early figures and indications are that the second semester decrease this year, as compared with first semester, will not be as large as it was last year. The new enrollment includes 4,544 men students and 2,394 women students.

ICE CARNIVAL IS HELD TODAY

Festivities Will Continue All Afternoon and Evening

Lake Mendota will become the scene of an extensive round of winter sports when the sixth annual ice carnival begins with the 220 yard dash at 1:30 this afternoon. The celebration will continue throughout the afternoon and evening.

The return of colder weather last night gave assurance of a smooth sheet of ice on the lake for the skating events this afternoon.

The quarter mile girls' singles, quarter mile men's singles, girls' doubles, men's doubles, the half mile singles, mixed doubles, obstacle race, and the inter-fraternity and inter-sorority relays are among the events to be run off today. The two mile open race promises to be one of the main contests, because of the large number of skaters expected to enter.

Lambda Chi Alpha, Sigma Chi, Alpha Delta Phi, Chi Phi, and Triangle have entered teams in the inter-fraternity relay, while more are expected to enter this afternoon. Ten teams have been signed up for the inter-sorority relay.

The night carnival in charge of Fred Goetz '23 will begin this evening with a torch light race around the oval. This is to be followed by a skating exhibition and a special feature by "Bill" Kellet '23.

A program by W. A. A. women follows, after which the bonfire will be lighted. A costume parade and skating to music, in addition to an unusual display of fireworks, are the other events of the night celebration. W. A. A. women will serve refreshments at the boathouse during the afternoon and evening.

Officials for the day are: Dr. Viner, referee; Joe Steinauer, official starter; T. E. Jones, Meade Burke, and C. C. Batchelor, judges; Dr. Elsom, "Dad" Vail, Burt White, timers; Clarence Wille, Clerk of course; Horace Wetmore, assistant clerk; Gilbert Hoffman, entries; "Gus" Tuckerman, announcer.

Walton Pyre Will Read Here Feb. 16

The theme of "Fransica Da Ramini" to be read by Walton Pyre February 16 in Music hall, has provided the basis for several great dramas. The play was acted by Sarah Barnhardt and other noted actresses. According to critics the dramatic reading by Pyre has the same force as a full acting company.

Pyre, who is the brother of Prof. J. F. A. Pyre, is being brought here under the auspices of the Forensic board. Tickets may be obtained from Halsey Kraege, 1727 Van Hise avenue at 75 cents and $1.

BADGER QUINT TRIMS ILLINOIS IN FAST GAME

Spectacular Shooting of Taylor and Fast Floor Work of Gage Feature 25-23 Victory

Playing the brand of basketball that brings championships to Wisconsin, the Badgers climbed one step nearer to the top of the percentage column by defeating the powerful Illinois team at the university gymnasium last night, the final score being 25 to 23.

The game was featured by the spectacular shooting of Taylor, and the fast floorwork of Gage, substitute center. The former sent seven counters through the hoop, in addition to making three free throws. In the second half, the crowd was brought to its feet time after time when "Rollie" Williams dribbled through the entire Illini team for short shots at the basket.

Badgers Improved

The Badger teamwork improved every minute of the game, while the Suckers resorted to long tries at the basket during the whole 40 minutes of play. The visitors were so well versed in this phase of the game, however, that 2,200 persons held their breath every time the huge captain, Carney, received the ball and sent it on its 40 or 50 foot journey towards the basket.

At the end of the first half, the score stood 8 to 9 in favor of the Suckers. Coach Frank Winters sent Stilwell and Popken, two famed basket shooters, in at the beginning of the second period to put the battle on ice, but a basket by Taylor gave Meanwell's team a lead which was never overcome by the visitors. Four times during the second half Badger fans thought that the outcome was settled, but each time the fighting Illini came back with a rush and tied the count.

Game Was Shooting Duel

The whole game was pretty much of a shooting duel between Taylor (Continued on Page 7)

Winter Activities Issue of Octopus to Appear Feb. 15

Winter sports hold sway in the next issue of the Octopus which will appear on the campus on Wednesday, Feb. 15.

Octopus' high school page has been discontinued temporarily because of lack of good copy from prep school contributors.

"No exceptional feature stands out in the Winter Sports number," declared G. Fred Brewer '22, editor, last night, "but it is the best all-around book the Octopus has put out this year."

Tickets Go Fast For Punkin Holler Show

More than 200 tickets for the "Punkin Holler Community Program" to be held in Agricultural auditorium, on February 17, have already been sold, according to reports of those in charge.

"As only 550 tickets will be sold to university students, those who plan to attend the entertainment are urged to place their orders at once," declared Lippert Ellis '23, in charge of the ticket sale.

The price of the tickets is 15 cents each. Tickets will be mailed to any one enclosing the money for the tickets together with a self addressed stamped envelope. Mail orders may be addressed to Ellis, at 129 Lathrop street.

IT'S NONE of our business, but where are all these people who are talking last week about settling down to some hard studying this semester? For the first correct answer we shall award one hand-engraved class card to 181.

WINTER sport—Have you seen the new toboggan slide? Coach Hound—Why, no, I haven't been to a dance in ages.

SCOTTY is back in school. With a brand new, ultra-modern haircut, he may be seen any day from 2 to 4 at the University pharmacy. For the benefit of his large following we are announcing that during his absence he collected an entirely new list of funny stories and anecdotes about the West, and at the expense of a little coaxing and a mild cigar he will rattle off the repertoire.

ANOTHER thing, if you notice Scotty carrying a great pocket full of official-looking papers, don't ask him what they are—it might embarrass him. When we sneaked up on him yesterday, we stole a glance at the bundle and read the following words: "Terms of Probation and List of Things I Mustn't Do."

NELL—I'm getting tired of this school. Bell—I wasn't asked to Prom either.

ABOLISH PROM!
ON THE second page of the State Journal yesterday there appeared a story of some of the awful things that happened last Friday at the state house. Liquor was consumed, women were scantily attired, and brilliant lights were shining. It was something terrible—the carrying on. Now, the only solution to this awful problem is to abolish the annual social function altogether, and substitute in its place some other kind of celebration.

THEREFORE, we are starting a contest and want suggestions from our readers as to the nature and character of such a substitution. Get to work and think up some kind of event in which everyone could participate, could be nice and proper, wear plenty of clothing, and yet be bored. We shall publish the answers as soon as possible.

JUST when we heard that "The Beggar's Opera" is shockingly bad, we learn that the S. R. O. sign has been out for a week.

PETE Burns is writing a book entitled, "The Mirrors of State street." Pete ought to know.

OBSERVING Oscar says: "If many more movie people kick the bucket, there will be plenty of jobs waiting for all of us aspirants."

YOU WILL* * * please notice that we haven't made a single remark about the dean or about the low grades we got.

His place was taken by Edward A. Fitzpatrick, secretary of the state board of education, who spoke on "Teaching as a Profession."

MOTHER LOVE IS THEME OF MOVIE AT PARKWAY

"Over the Hill," the William Fox production at the Parkway starting tomorrow, is one of the most remarkable attractions ever shown on Broadway where it has been playing for over a year.

The theme of "Over the Hill" is mother love, and the story is based upon the work of Will Carleton, the poet. The action is drawn from an incident which occurred during the boyhood of Carleton, who lived on a farm and knew intimately the characters who have been made immortal upon the screen.

BETTER SPORTSMANSHIP NEEDED

FAILURE of the athletic department to make proper and adequate arrangements for ticket sales during the year has been repeatedly scored by indignant students.

Matters were brought to a climax Thursday afternoon at the sale for the Wisconsin-Illinois basketball game.

Not all the responsibility lies with the athletic department. Arrangements have generally been inadequate—that must be admitted. During the sales for the first basketball games of the year, however, the department profited by its mistakes of the football season and seemingly tried in some measure to remedy the faults. The student body as a whole was willing to meet the department half-way in its campaign for greater efficiency and fairness in ticket sales. They realized that it would take time and many adjustments before an ideal arrangement could be worked out.

Unfortunately there was also the small minority that seemingly were not willing to come half-way. This group of about 15 or 20 students came into the gymnasium at noon Thursday and, seeing a line of about 500 students ahead of them, began to crowd around the second window at the head of the line and wondered whether they should take their rightful places or try to get in at the window ahead of their turn. Their good intentions must have been only momentary, for the latter course evidently seemed the most feasible to them.

The hisses and cat-calls of the crowd behind them had absolutely no effect. This, despite the fact that many of those in the line had skipped the customary noon lunch in order to secure a place in line and thereby get a ticket to the game.

The actions of this group were unfair and unsportsmanlike to say the least. It is entirely too bad that this action took place. But as it did once it may happen again and suitable measures should be taken to prevent the recurrence. There has been entirely too much notoriety of the wrong kind attending ticket sales at Wisconsin during the past year, and in view of the present athletic troubles every university in the West is now facing, clean sport needs the loyal support of every student.

A larger gym is badly needed. Madison supporters of Wisconsin athletics are not able to secure seats to the game. Those students who have many classes on the day of the ticket sale have no opportunity to secure a ticket. Surely a gym large enough to amply hold the crowd of supporters must come soon. Until such a gym is built, however, other measures are necessary.

The athletic department should provide police to see that fair play is enforced, and if it does not feel that this is part of its duty, the Student Senate should provide them. At any rate, unfair means of securing tickets should be stopped. Such actions are contrary to all spirit of fair play and the square deal.

A disgraceful mob scene in the gym was prevented only by the coolheadedness of the majority there. The 20 offenders could easily have been thrown out bodily by those whose places in line they usurped. The offenders have offended the school as well as the hundreds back of them in line. They should be punished and members of the Student Senate and Student Court, appreciating their duty, have expressed a worthy desire to see the matter brought to justice.

PLEASE!

INCONSISTENCY may sometimes be a virtue. When it relieves a tedious monotony and gives us a carefree moment of relief at something else than the perpetual round of things it may be not only excused but welcomed.

A certain order, however, is in all things essential. Especially must this be true where large numbers are concerned. It may be irksome to perform duties and conduct always in a certain and definite way. What is only unique when one individual is concerned becomes a nuisance when others acquire the habit.

Cement walks on the campus would not be needed to such an extent if it were not for the human failing to be different, to avoid the routine of walking around the longer, but the expected, way.

With every spring comes the same trouble on the campus grounds. Paths cut across from building to building and from one walk to another are as much a sign of spring as are the robins and the games of marbles. When the ground is hard or covered with snow there is not much lasting harm from this tendency to cut across. But on the warmer days with the ground soft and yielding, considerable damage may be done to the beauty of the grounds.

Wisconsin has naturally a beautiful campus. We rightfully boast of it. But it is not consistent to boast of it if it is to be marred and criss-crossed by diverging paths. A little thought and care now will prevent such disfiguration.

The little "Please" posts should not be necessary. But if there are students who continue this practice of saving a minute of time or a little extra walk, the only alternative will be to see the campus again dotted by the cardinal and white signs.

WILL ERECT BIG THEATER

The University of Michigan plans to build a campus theater to cost approximately $400,000. It is the intention of the theater committee to have a building to house all campus productions and give Michigan predominance in educational dramatic work. Michigan will be the first university in the country to build a large modern theater of this kind.—Exchange.

Reports to the Association of American Colleges show that there has been an increase of 50 per cent in the salaries of presidents and faculty members since 1913-1914.

And Yourself

"Over the Hill" tells a story as old as life itself and as new as the present moment. It is a story of mother-love divine—of beautiful sacrifice suffered uncomplainingly, and finally rewarded.

Tears there are, of course, but tears that are immediately followed by wholesome laughter. It fairly bulges with fun—the kind of fun such as the older ones have had in their youth and such as the youthful are now having. It is the humor that results from the inconsequential things in the every-day life of a plain unpretentious family—the kind of humor that centers about a family of six lively children, a dog, a shiftless father and—a loving, forgiving mother.

Last Two Acts Save Orph Bill This Week Says Cardinal Critic

By PROEHL H. JAKLON

Two extraordinarily good acts—the last two—save the entire bill at the Orpheum the latter part of the week. Clay Crouch is without doubt the best black-face comedian seen here in a long time and as an entertainer he is a knockout. The last act, Murdock's "Rubeville," also deserves special mention.

Mang & Snyder

Two athletes who entertain without the aid of props.

Gibson & Betty

Two laughs and a ripple were all this pair could squeeze out of a special drop and a couple of costume changes.

Cecil Grey

Another "single" act which puzzles. Miss or Mr. Grey would have been quite successful if he or she hadn't removed the wig at the last moment. The "Kismet" offering was well done, and whatever Cecil Grey's sex may be the voice was pleasing.

Jim Fulton & Co.

Mr. Fulton and his drollery were the outstanding features of this act—a 15 minute playlet. By the way, why doesn't someone conceive a new plot and forever eradicate the worthless young man who pulls the American magazine stuff?

Clay Crouch

When this person appeared, we took our pencil and noted just how many laughs he got during his act. They totaled 71. Crouch had the audience with him from the start and the only reason more applause was not forthcoming was because people's sides ached. Jokes alone were not relied upon to obtain his end; the absolutely novel manner of his presentation combined with the good line got him across.

"Rubeville"

Lots of people—all men—who sing, play, and cut-up. The quartette got across well, but weren't generous enough. The old man with the bass drum was an act by himself.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

BADGER QUINT
TRIMS ILLINOIS
IN FAST GAMETaylor and Gage Star in Spectacular 25-23 Win(Continued from Page 1) and Carney; each backed up by four fighting floormen. Carney made nine of his 15 points via the free throw route, however, giving Taylor an edge of four field goals.Five minutes after the game started, the score stood 6 to 1 in favor of Illinois. Irish was sent in at back guard, and the Badgers staged a rally which left them only one point in the rear. During the remaining minutes of the initial period, Carney made three more free throws, while Ceaser garnered a basket just as the gun sounded.Both teams battled furiously as the second half began. Wisconsin had just succeeded in piling up a 13 to 11 lead when the new center, Stilwell, sank two baskets in rapid succession. Taylor tied the count, and the score stood 15 all, with 10 minutes to play. Geaser made a basket, and "Rollie" Williams made a beautiful run down the entire length of the floor and scored two points on a perfect short shot. After this, the Badgers remained in the lead, and, when the final gun was shot off, the Wisconsin team was playing a class of basketball that no Big Ten conference championship team could have beaten.

Irish Plays Great Game

No man on the team deserves more credit for the victory than does Irish, the substitute guard who replaced Tebell. Besides holding the highly touted Carney to three field goals, he received the ball off the bounding board consistently and started the plays which netted the Wisconsin victory. His play in the second half approached that of Lynn Smith, who is reputed to have been one of the greatest guards turned out at Wisconsin. Several times in the second period Irish guarded two men under the basket and prevented them from scoring until his mates could come to his aid.Leslie Gage, who played center during the greater portion of the game, was all over the floor, and, time after time, he broke up the Illinois offensive rushes before they had hardly started. Gage's performance last night insures his being used considerably in the games to come, as his fight at times when the score is close makes him as valuable as a more experienced man.

Gibson and Tebell Handicapped

Gibson and Tebell were not in a position to show up to their fullest advantage last night, due to the fact that they have both been on the hospital list almost all week.
"Gus" has been suffering from an injured knee, while Gibson was in the infirmary with an attack of appendicitis. The little strength that they had gained back in one night of practice was quickly used up against the heavy Illinois offense, and consequently the two regulars had to be replaced by substitutes.Substitutions: Wisconsin, Irish for Tebell, Gibson for Gage, Gage for Gibson, J. Williams for Ceaser, Ceaser for J. Williams. Illinois, Popken for Tabor, Stilwell for Vogel.Baskets: Wisconsin, Taylor 7, Ceaser 2, Gage 1, R. Williams 1.
Illinois, Carney 3, Tabor 2, Stil-well 3.Free throws: Carney, 9 out of 13 attempts; Taylor, 3 out of 6 attempts.Officials: Young, Chicago, referee; Kearns, Illinois Wesleyan, umpire.Eight Conference Quintets Meet in Crucial BattlesEight Conference teams will swing into action in games which will probably be the turning point of the Big Ten basketball season tonight.Illinois and Minnesota will stack up in one of the most important struggles. Tired from their exercises of the Wisconsin game, the Suckers will not have as good a chance to overcome the battling Gophers as if they were fresh. The long trip to Minneapolis immediately after a hard struggle has undoubtedly left its mark on the Illinois players.Minnesota will strive to chalk up another victory. "Doc" Cooke will have his aggregation keyed up to avenge the defeat suffered last week at the hands of Indiana, and the five will play a better game than it has at any time this year.Indiana and Purdue will fight for the championship of their state as well as for a higher place in Conference ratings. The remarkable rise of Coach George Lewis' Hoosiers has surprised the Big Ten, and with an even break in luck, Indiana may be able to defeat the Boilermakers. When Don White was barred from the Purdue team, Coach Lambert lost the keystone of his offense. Although he was a guard, White usually scored more points than any other member of the team.
Guillion, a center, will be primed to drop in most of the Purdue baskets.Two other games which will have a distinct bearing on the pennant chase are those between Michigan and Ohio State, and Iowa and Chicago. The Wolverines showed much strength even after the loss of "Duke" Dunne. Ohio State took the measure of Michigan in a game at Ann Arbor. Whether they can repeat is a big question in the mind of Wisconsin fans who saw the Badgers forced to travel in an overtime contest to lick the fighting Wolverines.Chicago and Iowa are carded to battle in a hard game. Chicago has come back after a poor start. In Iowa, it is likely to meet a tartar.
The Iowans were narrowly defeated by Purdue in the second battle between the two teams. While Chicago defeated Illinois, its victory can be partly attributed to disruption of the Illinois five after the loss of "Laurie" Walquist because of professionalism.With the season half over and five teams still in the running for a championship, all games played until the end of the season will be bitterly contested.Notre Dame-Badger Meet Set For Feb. 18NOTRE DAME, Ind.—The 1922 Notre Dame track season will open at the local gym on Saturday, Feb.
18, when Wisconsin appears for a dual meet. Rockne's athletes will journey to Urbana for a dual meet with the Illini on February 25 and a picked group will appear at the Illinois relays on the following Saturday. Prospects for a Notre Dame victory over the Badgers, bright at the beginning of the season, paled after the suspension of Wynne and Shaw and the injury to Bill Hayes which will probably keep him out of the indoor meets. Desch and Murphy will be the sole survivors of the quintet of stars who were expected to carry Notre Dame to the pinnacle in track that was reached by the football team of the last fall.Ohio State Quintet Plans Trip to CoastCORVALLIS, Ore.—The Oregon Aggies basketball team will play the Ohio State college five here in the latter part of February, according to present plans. Invitations have been sent out by the coaches of California and Washington for the Ohio State team to play in Berkeley and Seattle.Frosh and Varsity Gym Teams ClashThe Varsity gym team will meet the freshman squad in a dual meet today at 2:30 p. m. in the gymnasium. Coach F. E. Schlatter picked the two squads yesterday that will line up against each other. The following are the lineups in the five events:Horizontal bars—Varsity, Leitz, Erdman, Bumer, Rand. Freshmen, Uehling, Schmitz, Geiwitz, and Geb-hardt.Side horse—Varsity, Klitzlein, Hansen, Stevens. Freshmen, Kress, Schmidt, and Gebhardt.Flying rings—Varsity, Porth, Leitz, Stevens, Bumer, and Rand.
Freshmen, Schmidt, and Gebhardt.Tumbling—Varsity, Kitchen, Stevens, Mumer, and Rand. Freshmen, Schmidt, and Geiwitz.Fencing—Varsity, Whitehead, and Reinbold. Freshmen, Choinski and Abbott.The Varsity suffered a severe loss when Frank Kubosh '23 was declared ineligible by the faculty.
Kubosh was the mainstay of the Varsity and his loss will be felt when the Conference meets come off.
He would have been entered in four events in all of the big meets and would probably have been one of the highest scorers in the Conference.Hockey Game With Michigan PostponedThe Wisconsin-Michigan hockey game scheduled for yesterday afternoon was not played because of softness of the ice on the Varsity rink. Athletic Director Thomas E.
Jones wired the Wolverine authorities and succeeded in having the game indefinitely postponed.It will probably be played within a week or two. Other games which have been carded for the Badger puck chasers will undoubtedly be played. A match with the Milwaukee Athletic club is slated for March 11 and will be fought in Milwaukee.The Badgers will travel to Lansing, Mich., and engage the Michigan Aggies in another contest on February 18. Two days later they will stack up against the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.Positions Still Open On Baseball SquadEvery position on the 1922 baseball squad is yet to be filled, according to Coach Guy Lowman, several of whose candidates have been hit by the examinations, and who is not satisfied with the showing of the few men who have so far reported. Infield men are especially scarce, the ineligibility of Ruediger making it necessary to build up a combination almost entirely based on inexperienced material."Many good men who have not reported have perhaps believed that the squad has already been picked.
The squad has not been selected yet, and any position on the team is open to a good new man," Coach Lowman said yesterday.The team is working out in the annex each afternoon save Saturdays from 2 to 4:15. Freshmen batteries are also called out for next Monday's practice, and are to be trained along with the rest of the team from then on.California Athlete Admits Being a ProBERKELEY, Cal.—"Crip" Toomey, star football and baseball player of the University of California, will not compete in intercollegiate athletics as a result of having played professional football.Toomey voluntarily admitted that he participated and received remuneration for a game played at Exeter for the American Legion knowing that he would be unable to participate in university sports. He felt that pressure of college work this semester would make it impossible for him to compete for a position on any one of the teams.CINDER SQUAD MEETS FROSH
IN FIRST TILTYearlings Will Offer
Varsity Strong OppositionCoach Jones' Varsity track squad will go into action for the first time of the season at 8:30 this afternoon when they meet the freshman squad in a contest which will decide the personnel of the team which will represent Wisconsin against Notre Dame next Saturday at South Bend.Although crippled by the loss of two of their best men, the yearlings will put an interesting fight against the veterans of the Varsity squad, and while they stand no chance of winning the meet, they will force the older men to show their best paces. The two stars lost to the freshman squad are Gordon Roberts, a broad jumper who has done better than 22 feet in intra-mural meets this season, and Raymond Theissenhusen, a very promising distance runner.Lloyd Valley, a freshman who clipped off the half in the fast time of 2:06 in time trial Tuesday, will give any of the Varsity runners a keen scrap in the middle-distance race. The pole vault also promises to be a closely contested event.
Don Jones of the frosh squad has done better than 11 feet 6 inches in meets this year.

Sparkling Wit and Fun Make "Beggar's Opera" Big Success

The "Beggar's Opera," given at the Parkway theater last night proved that an eighteenth century production can be just as entertaining and delightful as the best of the modern comic operas. Moreover, it proved that the good music may make its appeal to the modern theater goer just as effectively as King Jazz. Even the most blase individual must have derived keen pleasure from the genuine fun, the wholesome fun, the sparkling wit, and the melodious tunes of Gay's sprightly musical play.

The "Beggar's Opera" appeared first in 1728. It is a keen satire on the foibles of the eighteenth century—an age of artificiality in literature and manners and of peri-wigs, patches and powder in dress. It rivals the modern comic opera in witty repartee. The music is taken from various sources. Hayden, Dr. Orne and Purcell are responsible for many of the melodies; others are taken from the popular folk songs of the day. They are very tuneful, and catchy enough to satisfy an ear accustomed to popular music.

The opera was given by an English company from London, every member of which presented a type of acting not often seen in Madison. Mrs. Peacham rivalled Eva Tanguay. However, her acting was of a more wholesome type and her humorous portrayals were done much more subtly. Percy Heming, played the part of Macheath, is an actor of high rank. He was the fickle lover who loved all the ladies ardently and gave each one a promise of faithfulness unto death, only to break it the next minute.

The chorus' singing was excellent, the voices blending remarkably well. The solo voices, although not exceptional, were adequate for the parts.

The orchestra consisted only of violins, a cello, wood winds and a piano made to sound like a harpsichord. True to tradition, the orchestra was made up principally of ladies. The accompaniments were played in a finished and refined manner.

The way in which the huge audience received the performance shows that comic opera of a high type is appreciated in Madison.
