TEAM TO RETURN FROM CHAMPAIGN EARLY TOMORROW

Squad Due to Arrive at 7:20 O'Clock at C. and N. W. Station

In the cold grey dawn tomorrow morning the football team will arrive home after this afternoon's battle with the Illini. The train bearing the squad's Pullman is scheduled to arrive at the Chicago and Northwestern station at 7:20 o'clock.

The new wagon, furnished by the athletic department, will be at the station to carry the returning gridders to the gym. Following a massmeeting on the lower campus at 6:45 o'clock tomorrow morning, the wagon will be pulled by students to the station.

Build New Wagon

The line of march from the lower campus proceeds down Langdon street to Wisconsin avenue, around the square and down King street to the station. Coming back with the team the wagon will be pulled up King street, around the square and up State street to the campus.

After much deliberation on the design the wagon was built by the service department. It is approximately 25 feet long and eight feet wide. On the wagon bed is an oval shaped bench which seats the players, facing outward. In the center of the oval is a big steering wheel and brake which will be operated either by Marty Below '24, or Coach Ryan.

Arrange for Band

At the end of the wagon is another raised platform for the cheerleader, and the players will place their baggage in the vacant space in the center of the oval. The outside is draped with cardinal. The wheels are rubber tired.

Efforts are being made today to get a band out for meeting the team. Any loyal Badger rooters that are interested in helping with the affair are requested to come to the campus at 6:45 o'clock tomorrow morning with their instruments.

Back in 1912 thousands of students jammed King street to the Capitol the morning that the football team arrived here after defeating Minnesota 14 to 0 at Minneapolis. Their train pulled in at 7 o'clock that morning, and the crowd was larger than that which met the team after the Indiana game this year.

ARMISTICE DAY TO PASS UNOBSERVED

University Will Not Hold Services For World War Vets This Year

Armistice day, Nov. 11, will pass unobserved in the university as far as official programs and speeches are concerned. At 11 o'clock on Sunday morning all activity will cease for one minute for the silent prayer that marks the observance of each Armistice day.

No regular university holiday will be given for the day, since it falls on Sunday this year. Classes are ordinarily excused for convocations or short programs. The first celebration of Armistice day was made a national holiday, but since then the recognition of it has been optional.

Military drill and the customary military services will also be dispensed with this year.

Howard B. Lyman '24, who is in charge of military programs, explained the reason for this omission saying, "In view of the fact that Armistice day comes on Sunday and that the Illinois game is on Saturday with the consequence that there will be but a few people in the city, we have considered against the advisability of holding any sort of program."

Hundreds Follow Team to Illinois To See Big Game

Approximately 1,200 Badger rooters left yesterday in some kind of a conveyance or another to see the game at Champaign. Many took advantage of the reduced railroad fare rates, but others made the trip in automobiles, busses and trucks. It was estimated that more than one-fourth of the students leaving were women.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway ran a student special out of Madison last night. The train consisted of 13 cars including an observation car to provide electric lighting. A diner will be picked up at Chicago and will provide meals at the game as well as enroute. Taking example from the shortage of eating facilities at the Chicago-Illinois game, the rooters are taking no chances on getting meals while in Urbana.

Three fraternity houses each contributed a bus load to the south-bound band of travelers and grips and suitcases were in order along State street throughout the day.

BOARD DISCUSSES U. APPROPRIATIONS

Will Not Call Special Session of Legislature if $800,000 is Granted

The emergency board met at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon to determine whether enough money could be appropriated to the university and normal schools to prevent calling a special session of the legislature. According to a member of the board, of which Governor Blaine is the head, an appropriation of $800,000 is almost certain, for the schools, together with the tax commission which on Thursday appealed for $15,000.

Mr. J. D. Phillips, business manager of the university, said of the emergency board meeting last night:

"No action at all was taken. Normal school and university representatives were there and made known their requests. The university officers made known the need for funds where the appropriations are not continuing."

The appropriation will be made from the general fund, through a statute making special provisions for appropriation by the emergency board for institutions left without funds. If the board appropriates $800,000, no special meeting of the legislature need be called.

In an article on the need for appropriation to the university The Cardinal re-printed several erroneous statements from another paper, in substance, that the appropriations from the emergency board had to be made before the Extension division salaries could be paid.

President Birge said Thursday, "The general appropriation for this division is a continuing one and is sufficient to take care of all the proposed salaries, so that no additional money is needed for this purpose."

Y. W. C. A. CASHES CHECKS FOR STUDENT WOMEN

The Y. W. C. A. office in Lathrop hall offers the new service of cashing checks for the convenience of all the girls who frequent the hall either for classes or to study in the parlors. Stamps, paper, ink, pens, penny pencils, and even hairnets are always available.

BADGER WORKERS PREPARE FOR BIG SALES CAMPAIGN

250 Staff Members Attend Subscription Drive Meeting

Approximately 250 workers attended a meeting of the entire Badger staff yesterday afternoon in 220 Bascom hall.

Plans for the subscription drive which opens on Monday and preparations for departments of the year book were discussed by the staff executives.

To Give Prizes

Subscription books and buttons will be distributed to campaign workers at the Badger office today. Campaign material can be obtained from Dan Seeber '24, who is supervising the drive, or from any of his assistants.

"Winners in the subscription contest will be awarded beautiful staff badges," Willis G. Sullivan '24, business manager, announced to the staff. "The badges will be in the form of a pendant suitable for men's or women's wear, but must not be considered as keys since the latter are reserved for scholastic and honorary activities. Winners in the boy's and girl's contests will be awarded gold badges. Second highest place will be awarded silver badges. The three runners-up in the girl's and boy's division will get bronze badges."

Organize Special Groups

Seeber explained to the staff that the campaign was to be conducted by groups organized for special type of work. A division of closely organized workers will canvass the fraternity, sorority and rooming houses while a loosely organized group will canvass on the hill and the streets. Subscribers will be given buttons.

"According to university ruling, women are permitted to canvass among women only," Seeber said.

BADGERS AT URBANA READY FOR BIG GAME; DENY GRANGE CHARGE

Protest Against Illini Star Branded as False By Jones

Rumors that Wisconsin was contemplating a protest of Grange of Illinois on grounds of professionalism is denied absolutely by the Athletic council and branded as a false statement which was given prominence through the activities of a local newspaper correspondent who published the story on mere hearsay.

In a telegram which T. E. Jones, athletic director, sent to Illini Wednesday evening regarding the rumor, he said, "I have just learned with regret that a rumor has been published that Wisconsin was contemplating protesting Grange on grounds of professionalism. No such thing was even thought of."

Based on Rumor

Evidently the Daily Illini, which sent a telegram to The Cardinal Thursday evening to the effect that Wisconsin should go further by stating that it had nothing on which to base a complaint against Grange, had not yet been the recipient of Director Jones' telegram, which certainly cleared matters regarding this point by stating that "No such thing was even thought of."

The whole affair was given prominence, much to the regret of the athletic council and the student body, when a local correspondent published a story in his paper on no more authenticity than a mere rumor which was said to have originated from an outside source.

No Ground for Protest

Papers immediately seized upon the opportunity of developing a good story, which, following the Gerber case, could be played up to the limit.

In commenting further on the situation, Director Jones said, "The department of physical education at Wisconsin is not revengeful, does not believe in retaliation. We have very friendly relations with all the other schools in the conference and hope to maintain them."

From the telegram it is evident that Wisconsin not only has no grounds upon which to protest Grange, but it never even harbored any intentions of doing so.

"Red Bird" Praised In October Issue of "Drama League"

The monthly bulletin of the "Drama League" for October gives the following account of "Red Bird" by Prof. William E. Leonard of the English department:

"It is a dramatization of history in Wisconsin about a hundred years ago. The hero is the Indian chief 'Red Bird,' a fascinating figure. The story is of his revenge when he thought himself betrayed, of his noble surrender to save his people, and of his pathetic death when he discovers the trick that fate has played on him."

"A fine play, of essential dramatic quality, admirably written, and by far the best drama about the Indians that America has yet produced. The play is well suited to Little theater production. It was first presented by the Curtian club at the Parkway Theatre in Madison."

CALL BADGER 250

Wisconsin Conceded Small Chance in Battle With Suckers

By HARRY P. BARSANTEE

URBANA, Ill., Nov. 9.—With absolute confidence in the Indians, lauding Grange to the skies as the greatest halfback the conference has ever seen, Illinois is anxiously awaiting the whistle which will start the Badger-Illinois game tomorrow. Confidence reigns supreme, and local rooters concede Wisconsin but a very small chance to win.

Grange Will Play

Coach Jack Ryan, who with his squad of fighting Badgers has been here since early this morning, directed a rather lengthy practice session this afternoon working the boys both at the stadium and at a secluded place in the country, light formation drill and signal practice was the order of the day.

The "Grange" bugbear which has caused so much comment in Madison for the past three days has proved to be absolutely nothing but a rumor, and it is certain that the Illinois flash will be very much in the game. Grange according to local officials, has never so much as seen the towns in which he is reported to have played professionally.

Champaign Crowded

The red-headed back is an idol here at Illinois. All day long the crowds have been pouring into Champaign and it appears that the crowd tomorrow will almost equal that which saw Illinois romp over Chicago a week ago. A quiet morning is the order for the Wisconsin team which is staying at the new Urbana Hotel.

MORTAR BOARD TO HOLD CONVENTION

Representatives Gather Here Today in First Sectional Meeting

Representatives from the Appleton and Minnesota chapters of Mortar board are here this week end to attend the first sectional convention of the organization.

Miss Gertrude Wilharm, national secretary, will speak on "The National Organization" at a meeting at 9:30 o'clock this morning at the Chi Omega house.

At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Pi Beta Phi house Miss Foster, of the Appleton chapter, will speak on "Mortar Board Relationships."

"The object of this convention," said Margaret A. Callen '24, member of the local chapter, "is that we may discuss our common problems, and each chapter benefit by the experience of the others."

Mimeographed sheets of the results of the discussions will be sent to the chapters all over the country.

Miss Hazel Moren, sectional director, is calling the convention which is attended only by members from the chapters in this section, Minnesota, Appleton and the chapter here.

DAY MEMORIAL IS NEAR COMPLETION

Brnze Statue to Be Dedicated and Placed in "Y" Lobby Soon

The brnze cast of the Kenneth Sterling Day memorial will be finished this month, according to word from Gorham Silversmith Co. of New York, received by Frederick E. Wolf, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. The figure will be placed in the lobby in January with appropriate ceremony.

The cast was designed by C. C. Codman, who made the plaster figure of the boy scout statue that was presented to Gen. Baden-Powell, the international head of the scout movement. The memorial is being cast according to the plans drawn up by the Y. M. C. A. cabinet last year. Allan Halline '23, suggested the legend around the equator of the world, which is supported in the uplifted arms of a young college man. The quotation reads, "So long as names like these endure, so long shall hope remain."

The memorial will be valued at $2,000, it is said. Each year a list of men who have displayed marked characteristics of leadership will be made by a nominating committee of faculty members and members of the association. The entire membership will vote in April to decide the man to have his name engraved on the globe for that year.

The election will be made on the basis of character, efficiency, influence for good on the university as a whole, and interest in outdoor sports. It is hoped that an all-university convocation may be obtained for the annual announcement of the man to have his name engraved on the memorial. A religious leader will speak on the subject of "Young Men and Religion." Dean Shailer Mathews of the University of Chicago will speak at the dedication of the figure this January.

"This will probably be the most unique memorial in America," said Frederick E. Wolf, general secretary, yesterday. "I know of no school that has a trophy for the exaltation of leadership for men. The engraving of the men's names will be significant of their life work," he continued. "If a man is going to work in China, his name will be engraved on that country on the globe."

Though less than two-thirds developed as a state, Wisconsin with 2,195,000 dairy cows leads the nation. Her nearest competitor is New York, with 1,678,000 cows.

"Making Up" Costs More Now, But Is Old Egyptian Trick

At the meeting of the beauty culturists and hairdressers association of Wisconsin, held November 7, W. J. Scott of the Chicago laboratories, announced that the American use of perfumes and cosmetics has gone from $4,600,000 in 1889 to $73,000,000 in 1921 and will amount to $100,000,000 in 1923.

Mr. Scott gave a lecture on the history of perfumery and cosmetology from the time of ancient Egypt to our present day. The use of cosmetics was very common in Egypt. The woman of the pyramid period beautified herself according to the style—by painting her complexion green.

The King Tut flapper made up as the girl of 1923. She had modern rouge, her eye brow pencil consisted of a peculiarly-shaped coal, she used skin lotions and perfumes excessively, and her black, straight hair was cut much in the same manner as that of the modern man. After the fad of short hair was passed, luxurious wigs were common for both men and women.

Ancient Rome had a guild of perfumery which occupied an entire street in Capua. It is known that Nero, at his wife's funeral, burned incense which was more odorous than any obtained from Arabia. The use of perfumes and oil during and after the Roman bath became so enormous that a law was passed which prevented the use of perfume, lest the supply should run out and the temple ceremonies should be without it.

In all these years, the love for perfumes and cosmetics has not diminished. The Oriental women especially live continually in an atmosphere heavily laden with perfume and incense.

Mr. Scott concluded his lecture by urging all the beauty shop owners to join the association, keep up with the times, and always keep the modern public "looking its best."

Freshmen Win Annual Game 19-0

YEARLING RALLY BEATS SOPHS IN FOURTH QUARTER

Three Touchdowns in Final Period Enable Frosh
to Win Game

Scoring three touchdowns in the last few minutes of play the freshmen won the traditional freshman-sophomore football game, 19 to 0, yesterday afternoon.

The first score came shortly after the beginning of the fourth quarter. The freshmen, by a series of straight line bucks, carried the ball to the sophomore 20-yard line, where Barofsky shot a 30-yard pass to Larson who scampered across the line for a touchdown. Barofsky failed to kick goal.

Score on Pass

On the kickoff following this a soph back fumbled the kick and the frosh recovered on their opponent's 20-yard line. Larson, on the next play, tossed another pass to Barofsky, who went over for the second marker. Larson kicked goal, making the score 13 to 0.

After an exchange of punts the sophs got possession of the ball on their 5-yard line. Leo Harmon, from behind his own goal line, shot two passes, both of which were grounded. A third was intercepted by Shaw, right half back, who raced 20 yards for a touchdown. Barofsky again failed to kick goal and the game ended in another minute.

Barofsky Stars

The first three quarters were fairly even, the freshmen having a slight edge on their opponents. Neither team was able to gain much through the line and both were kicking on the third down.

Barofsky, captain and quarterback of the freshman team, led the attack with a number of brilliant dashes down the field. He was fast as a streak and several times eluded three or four tacklers before being downed. He put a lot of snap and life into the men and displayed good judgment in selecting his plays.

Harmon's Star

Bonini, at center, was the mainstay of the frosh defense. Time after time he broke through and threw soph backs for a loss. He is fast and heavy and with the exception of one bad pass early in the game he played unusually well.

The Harmon brothers, Leo and Del, carried the brunt of the sophomore attack. Leo, at fullback, hit the line for consistent gains and did the punting. He got off several 60-yard punts and his average was close to 50 yards.

CHAMP FOOTBALL TEAM RECEIVES GRID TROPHY

The winner of the Knights of Columbus football trophy which is being awarded a Madison High school for the first time in history, will be determined this afternoon after the all-city championship gridiron battle between Central High school and the East Side high school. Parades, snake dances, and pep sessions will be held this morning. At 1 o'clock this afternoon the high school band and student body will follow the team to Camp Randall.

VARSITY SOCCER TEAM ENGAGES CHINESE TODAY

The Wisconsin soccer season will officially open at 2 o'clock this afternoon when the varsity meets the Chinese team on the lower campus.

The Chinese team is composed almost entirely of men who have played soccer in their own country. Capt. S. F. Wang was a star half-back on the St. Louis college team in China, and F. Liu played with Tsing Su college in Peking. Lawrence Weinreich '25, captain of this year's varsity, and most of the squad have played soccer at Wisconsin for one or two years.

Coach Schlatter is confident that next year will see a team worthy of representing Wisconsin with any in the middle west.

No lineup has been announced for the varsity team, as probably all members of the squad will be used in the game. Coach Leitz will referee.

3 TEAMS REMAIN IN WESTERN RACE

Washington, California, and Idaho Loom as Strongest Contenders

BERKELEY, Cal., Nov. 5—Three undefeated teams remain as likely contenders for the Pacific Coast Conference championship. These are the University of Washington, the University of Idaho, and the University of California. Washington and California are regarded as the strongest teams on the coast and the conference title should be decided when they meet November 17 at Berkeley.

The Golden Bears received considerable of a shock last Saturday when the University of Nevada eleven held them scoreless. This is the second time that California has failed to win in four seasons, the first being the 0 to 0 game with Washington and Jefferson in 1921. Coach Smith was not greatly disturbed, however, as Nevada is not in the Conference and he believes that the sting of the tie will do his men a world of good.

California is one of the few teams of the country that has not been scored upon this season. The Bruins have played several games and their goal line remains inviolate. Considering the powerful attack of the teams they have played this record is remarkable.

YOST FIELD HOUSE DEDICATED TODAY AT GRID BATTLE

Expect 45,000 People at Ann Arbor For Big Ceremony

(Special to The Cardinal)

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 9—More than 45,000 people are expected to jam this city today to witness the dedication of Yost field house, the world's largest building devoted exclusively to athletics, and to see the football game between Michigan's unconquered gridgers and the powerful Quantico (Virginia) Marines.

Among the spectators will be 1500 Marines led by Gen. John A. LeJeune, Gen. Smedley Butler, General Feland, Admiral Niblick and 74 other high officials of the corps. Their famed 300 piece band will provide competition for the big Maize and Blue aggregation and will be one of the feature points of the program.

Expect Many Notables

Other notables who are expected to attend are Henry Ford, Secretary of War Weeks, Gov. Alex Groesbeck, John L. Griffith, Big Ten director, and Senators Couzens and Ferris.

The new field house cost approximately half a million dollars and will seat 12,500 persons. It contains an eighth-mile track, a 75-yard straight-away, several basketball courts and is arranged to present a dirt floor for football and baseball practice. The dimensions of the large indoor room are practically the same as those of a football gridiron and the floor is absolutely clear of obstructions to a height of at least 70 feet at all points. The basketball games this season will be played on the removable floor in the main room. Night football practice has been going on in the big "gym" for over two weeks.

Tough Battle Expected

Fielding H. Yost, for 23 years Wolverine mentor, is the person in whose honor the field house is named. Coach Yost, as well as Marion L. Burton, president of the university, and Secretary Denby, will give short addresses during the dedication. Experts predict a tough battle for the Big Ten team.

Women's bowling teams recruited 399 students here last year.

The Annual class scrap honors rest with the Freshmen today. They won a 19-0 scrap by scoring all their points in the third quarter by an aerial attack. It looks like there'll have to be another Bag rush now.

* * *

This gent Barofsky is like a greased tin horn alright. One time he fumbled a punt on his 20-yard line, recovered it on his 10-yard line and then circled around the left side for a five yard gain. Watch this boy Ryan.

* * *

To push that Frosh line out of the way is just like trying to move the library with seven men. Schwarze, Bonini, and Sauger look like a trio of street improvers with flat wheels on. They're there though.

* * *

Credit must be given the Sophs, however, for coming out for the team with almost nothing as the reward. The Soph line looked like a sieve lots of times, but that is only due to the superior weight they were up against, and the short time they had to work together.

* * *

Well, the team is in Urbana now, rarin' to step on Grange's neck. If only two of the five gent's who said they were out to get Grange, really get him, we're all right. Here's hoping.

* * *

We're the underdogs alright, but the Illini will know the Badgers were in town after the game, you can bet. Odds of 3 to 1 on Illinois were prevalent at the Park last night.

SWIMMERS BUSY IN PREPARATION FOR PRELIM MEET

Steinauer Rounding Squad Into Shape For First
Tryouts

These are busy days around the men's swimming tank, Coach Joe Steinauer has got the training schedule for both varsity and freshman swimming squads under way. The second of the freshman tryouts was held last night and brought out several good men. R. S. Monihan, who showed up well last week in the 40-yard swim, tried out last night in the 100-yard event and made fast time. F. Teich proved to be a good endurance swimmer, and Steinauer will point him for the longer events.

Four Meets Arranged

Coach Steinauer will pick 25 of the most likely of the freshmen for the yearling squad. The first clash between the varsity and the frosh will be November 27, with a second practice meet scheduled for December 4.

The annual inter-class swimming meet has been set for December 17 with an inter-college meet December 14.

Water-basketball bids fair to be a big event in swimming this year. The various fraternities are forming their water basketball teams already for the competition to begin December 1.

Encourage Water Ball

"Water basketball is a sport that has never yet been recognized by the athletic council as a sport," said Steinauer last night, in talking over plans for the year. "It has been played at Wisconsin since 1914."

Details of swimming practice are being attended to by four class managers. The managers are E. A. Banner, senior; Hugh Folsom, junior; Matt Richdorf, sophomore, and C. J. Westrich, freshman.

By this time about a thousand loyal Badgers are in Urbana—some anxious for the game to start—some being entertained by their Illinois chapter brothers and sisters, and others, not knowing what it's all about.

The problem of heating buildings with water heated by injected steam was recently investigated by university engineers.

MID-SEASON PROTESTS

The conference and the American sport world is in an uproar as a result of the recent declaration of Irv Gerber's ineligibility.

The Michian Daily yesterday ran a serious review of the situation which presented the smallness of the affair; the Indianapolis News scoffingly showed how debator's can give political speeches and still be eligible for competition; Walter Eckersall in the Tribune, a paper supposed to be anti-Wisconsin, loudly declaims the protest and cries for a rule to forbid mid-season protests; Minnesota runs a scathing and sarcastic comment which is printed today in the Other Editors Say column.

The day after the announcement of Gerber's ineligibility The Cardinal editorially announced that "protests should be filed at least one week before the first conference game and not allowed thereafter."

Conference newspaper sentiment seems to indicate that mid-season protests should be outlawed as suggested. Wisconsin has no attitude of "sour grapes" charges made against any particular school.

It is evident, however, that these protests which come just before big games not only cause hard feelings but also disrupt the smooth working team work of the eleven.

Conference students should unitedly storm their respective athletic departments to bring pressure to change the unfair system now in vogue.

Track protests are required to be filed at an early date. Why not the same with football.

THE BAND SITUATION

Six cornets, two piccolos, one trombone, one baritone, one trombone and a base drum comprised the band which Thursday gave the team a send-off at the Northwestern station while the First Regimental band in Music hall listened for an hour to the leader's harangue and finally played one piece for rehearsal.

The columns of The Daily Cardinal have upheld the university bands and have complimented their work and endeavor. Wisconsin students are proud of their musical organization and wish them to play well and earn the reputation of being the best concert band in the conference.

During the football season, however, athletics is the one activity which occupies the attention of the entire student body. It seems just that the study body can at this time claim a small portion of the services of its own organization,—the band.

But yet Thursday the second band, which was idle, failed to show up on the Lower campus and the first band was compelled to sit in rehearsal and listen to a lecture when at least fifteen of the men were anxious to join the parade but were afraid of being docked their tuition if they left.

At a time like this the band master should give permission for his men to leave if they so desire. It is not asked that the second or first bands should appear as such, but at least it would be an expression of true Wisconsin spirit if the leader would announce to his men that they were welcome to join the pep band if they desired and might be excused from regular convocation.

After the Indiana game, the excuse of the band was that it was Sunday, and it would not due for a regular student organization to promote a demonstration on that day. The point was well taken at that time, but does not seem to hold for a Thursday.

The bands are not alone in their fault however. There are at least 100 men in the university who are earning from five to twelve dollars a night playing jazz for Thompson or Boyd, but who on Thursday night stood on their fraternity porches and watched the pigmy volunteer band march past.

It is not doubtful, indeed, but that these men are the greater offenders. Theirs was not the delicate fingers and lips of the concert musicians. Usually they have not the expensive musical education to back their talent which the average band man has. They are the men who should express Wisconsin spirit and bring out their saxophones, snare drums, trombones, and what not.

One saxophone player was seen to go to the station with a girl and in an automobile. It is just possible that he should be thanked for appearing in the crowd at all.

There will be a few more opportunities for Wisconsin men to appear in a volunteer band. The student body is aroused and is meeting the teams in a fashion reminiscent of the old days. All that is needed is a good band. The individuals are in school. All that is needed is a get-together.

Other Editors Say—

WARNING TO MINNESOTA ATHLETES

E. G. Gerber, star Wisconsin tackle, has been declared ineligible.

His crime, a heinous one, as crimes go, even in the world of athletics, was using his knowledge of athletics for financial gain. His means of obtaining this money was by teaching swimming at the La Crosse, Wisconsin Y. M. C. A.

For such a perversion of purpose a man, of course, should not only be barred from playing football. Nay—he deserves far worse punishment. He deserves dismissal from school, the scorn of his friends, the abuse of his enemies, yea, he should even be quartered and hung, burned in oil, or shot by a firing squad.

Is Gerber's offense not a terrible one? Did he not teach swimming and thus, though the fact that he was helping to save lives, corrupt athletics?

If he had been an orator on his school debating team, he would not have been barred from competition had he given political speeches for pay.

If he had been a journalist he would not have been kept off the college paper or magazines because he reported for money during the summer.

If he had been an actor, he would not have been excluded from campus dramatic performances because he played in a stock company during the holidays.

For these reasons, and furthermore, not because he received money for competition in football, basketball or baseball, but because he taught swimming, Gerber of Wisconsin is barred from Big Ten play.

Let Minnesota men take heed; let them be warned. Let them hide well their past. Who knows who may be disqualified, or when, or for what?

Perhaps 'Marty' will be disqualified next because he won a $1 prize when he was in sixth grade and won the 100-yard dash.

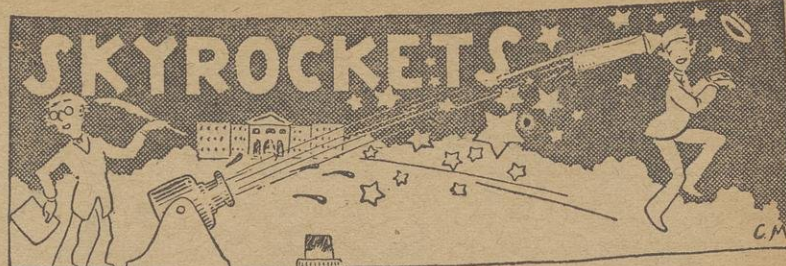

Possibly Abrahamson, while in primary school, threw a baseball farther than his competitors and won a 50c prize. If so, he may be in danger of being disqualified.

Perhaps at some Sunday-school picnic Graham guessed the right number and won a pocket knife in a contest, and then sold the knife. Now, if this is proven, he may be declared ineligible—because he is calling signals now and, as that is part of his athletic ability, he once indirectly received money for athletic competition.

Or possibly one of the Minnesota men once played on an army football team. If so, he is, of course, ineligible, for did he not receive the magnificent sum of $30 monthly for his "athletic ability?"

Yea, let us purge Big Ten athletics. Swimming should not be tolerated, let alone the teaching of swimming, and, more horrible, teaching it for money.

The moral of this is—hang your clothes on a hickory limb, but don't go near the water. If you must earn your way through school, do not try to do it honestly and fairly as Gerber did. No—by all means, no, simplify matters by getting some wealthy alumnus to pay your way. Athletics must be purged—A. S. T. The Minnesota Daily.

Every effort is being made by the Skyrocket staff to publish a column worthy of this university. But we cannot help class as goat grabbers those high minded persons who dissect the column each morning in search of a word or phrase that does not come up to their estimation of unquestionable morality.

We do not know whom we are striking at but earnestly hope those persons will refrain from reporting their suspicions to the deans at least until the deans have had time to eat breakfast.

It is possible that a great many jokes have a double meaning. Why is it that so many persons get the meaning opposite to that which the conductors of the column had in mind? Do we have to censor our readers, too?

Some persons grow pale every time the subject of prohibition with its resulting moonlight flow is mentioned. How can indiscreet drunkenness among the one half of one percent of the students be eradicated unless the matter is given well directed publicity?

Perhaps some of the 7000 students who retained control of their senses throughout the week-end of Homecoming realize what brought this forth.

And that's that for this time.

You sing a little song
You have a little chat
You make a little candy fudge
And after you've eaten that
You bid her good night as sweetly as you can
Now ain't that a hell of an evening
For a great big healthy man.
J. S. GRAY.

Heard on the campus. A Frosh: These funny sounding fraternity names are all Greek to me.

PERICLES SAID THIS
"That woman is of best renown
Who is least talked of in the town
Whether they praise or run her down."

THE NEW RULE

Editor the Cardinal:
Wisconsin women are governed by S. G. A., together with certain unshakable rules from that Supreme Court, the Board of Regents. Aside from these fundamental restrictions no rules are to be enforced without the approval of an affirmative vote by the Wisconsin co-eds as a body.

Dean Nardin and the S. G. A. chairman have evidently seen fit to abolish this red tape. After a private conference they have announced to the public that henceforth any girl intending to drive to a conference football game in an automobile must first show her house-mother a written permission from home.

It is a good rule. At first glance it rather resembles that of a Select Finishing School for Young Ladies, but it has undeniable merit in that it shifts much responsibility from the overloaded shoulders of the house-mother. After surveying the circumstances, the average sensible co-ed might possibly suggest such a rule herself, and vote accordingly. But she did not.

Truly an excellent rule. One's only criticism could be that it is unconstitutional, and the conservative mind is all too prone to object to such sudden innovations.

ARMISTICE DAY

Editor the Cardinal:
To many ex-service men for whom Nov. 11 has a real meaning, your editorial on "Armistice Day" will be hard to understand. It is not clear to me just what idea you wish to set forth, but I do wish to call your attention to two points.

First, the war did end victoriously for the Allied armies on Nov. 11, 1918. This is true, regardless of how badly the diplomats and statesmen may have handled the settlement of peace terms and re-

Here's another slant at "University Education" (Wis. Lit.).

At one minute to eight,
A seven-thousand legged worm scrambles hurriedly up the Hill and squats fear-stricken at the feet of the Faculty. The Faculty peers at it searchingly over its glasses, seizes a blue-book, rolls it into a weapon, and swats vigorously at the worm. Oh, Horrible!..... Big juice slowly trickles down the Hill in all directions.

Dear Mr. Skyrocket,

I hear you're short on material. Here's an idea your genius should suffice to work into something.

Prof. Kieckhefer in today's lecture announced that

There are securities that are not secure,

Real estate that is not real."
Here's a couple he missed:
Grass-widows who are not green
Jack-asses whose names whose aren't John.

Now you carry on. Oh, yes!
Co-eds who will not scream.
No. That's not so good. We must avoid the obvious. I warn you some wise egg is going to try Skyrockets that do not burst.

You'd better beat him to that one.

VERY MUCH MOORE.

FLEA WALTON

A potentate
In fleadom state
"Hop" Walton laid a ban,
His biting rule
Crushed every fool
In Okla's Wing Beat Klan,

But Wing Beats hold
Would not be told
When, how, and whom to clout,

And said, "Unwing
This triator king
Impeach, and give him rout,

They did and since
Fail to convince
Flea Walt his light's gone out.

It takes a good man to do that.

SOLOMON the SAPIENT.

parations. In so far as concerns the fighting forces, the victory should not be qualified by the terms "more or less."

Secondly, you state that Armistice day could be celebrated unostentatiously without hurting anybody's feelings. Surely the feelings of true Americans could not be hurt by a real celebration of armistice day. Perhaps to some who were not interested in the war, the day has no significance. But to the men who saw the end of hostilities on the front lines, to the wounded men and nurses in the hospitals, to the men in camps both in this country and abroad, to the sailors on all our vessels, and to the parents at home, Nov. 11, 1918 has a real meaning. Do they want to forget?

Permit me to quote these lines by Stewart M. Emery:

It's a long long way to the hills of France,
Where the new green grass
takes root,
It's a long way back to the last mad rush
When the sullen guns went mute.
Five far years to the nights that blazed.
To the mud, and wire, and sweat,
From the easy paths of every day
But who is going to forget.

WAUPON CHURCH ASKS FOR DEPUTATION TEAM

Realizing that the foreign students of the university have an insight into the political, social and religious conditions of their native lands that no traveler can obtain, the Congregational church of Waupun has asked the Y. M. C. A. to send a deputation team composed of foreign students to visit them in the near future. The deputation teams committee has planned for students to go to high schools and Y. M. C. A.'s of the state and tell them of the university and its activities. These teams will go out after the beginning of the second semester.

"Y" CAMPAIGN IS WELL UNDER WAY

Canvassing Over Week-end to Swell Funds Already Turned in

The all-university Y. M. C. A. finance campaign with two more days to go is getting well under way. At a late hour last night reports showed $300 to have been subscribed. This means that there is a still great deal of work to be done before the goal set for $3,500 is reached, but officials feel that a great deal of canvassing will be done over the week end.

"Up to date the campaign has progressed very well in that a very large share of the student's names have been given out for canvass," was the opinion of "Dad" Wolfe, secretary of the association. "It is the intent of the Y to see every male student in the university," he added.

There have been only partial reports from the fraternities, but it is felt that fuller reports will be received after chapter meetings have been held Monday night. It is the desire of William J. Fronk '24, manager of the campaign, that all reports be in Monday night so that a complete check-up can be made then.

PAGEANT GIVEN BY PYTHIA LIT SOCIETY

Pythia Literary society held its weekly meeting last night in the dancing room of Lathrop hall. The program, which contrived to amuse the old members of the society was furnished by the recent initiates.

The business meeting was followed by a piano solo by Anita Netzow, a reading by Louise Webb, and a vocal solo by Marjorie Craft. These were followed by a pageant representing the fashions of each month of the year. Introduced by a short reading by Ethel Hanson and accompanied by music appropriate to each idea represented, the months slowly filed in.

First came January, represented by Erma Wolfe, followed by February, Marjorie Craft; March, Ruth Powers; April, Ida Bierke; May, Louise Webb; June, Elsie Palmer; July, Eilene Blackey; August, Grace Goldsmith; September, Mercedes Zander; October, Anita Netzow; November, Irma Dick, and December, Mercedes Zander.

Representative of the costumes were November with its football; July with its tennis; June with its bride; February with its formals, and January with its skating. The costume of April was particularly striking and representative with its yellow slicker, umbrella and overshoes.

TEAM ARRIVES EARLY TOMORROW MORNING

7 o'clock in the morning after that Minnesota game in 1912 they ought to be able to do it in 1923," an old grad said late last night as he commented upon that rally which he helped organize.

"At the first sound of the train whistle everyone was up on his toes, yelling for all he was worth. But when the team stepped from the train that old concourse almost fell in from the cheering and singing.

"The biggest part of a rally is the band. They deserve lots of credit for getting out there and popping the gang up. I'd like to see a bigger crowd out tomorrow morning than the one that came out back on that cold Sunday morning in 1912," he concluded.
