WILLIAMS BAY

EDWIN BRANT FROST PARK

It was in 1934 that the Garden Club began to consider the project of making a little park at the intersection of Geneva and Congress streets. The idea was to convert into a thing of beauty, the triangle plot which was a constant eye-sore in the very center of our village.

It is now a great satisfaction to the members of the club to have, in so short a time, accomplished what seemed at first, an impossible dream. This shows once more that the Williams Bay people can do things, because everyone and every organization always cooperate and work together for anything that is to be beneficial to the community.

First- the Village Board acquired the lot so as to make it public property and permit the use of FERA labor. Second- The Congregational church very generously added quite a stretch to the Park by donating half the lot west of the parsonage belonging to the church.

Under the auspices of the Garden Club, who financed all the expense, the plot was graded, a cement curb built on the side of Congress Street; the piping was installed throughout the Park for automatic sprinkling. A bird bath and flag stone walk were installed, also a stone pillar to support the sun-dial, made and donated by Mr. Carl Ridell. Top soil was brought in (part of which was furnished and hauled by the village) and the grass seed put in. To this point the Garden Club expenses amounted to a little over $200.

Since the park was named Edwin Brant Frost Park, in memory of Dr. Edwin Brant Frost, contributions have come in from Dr. Frost's many friends which has enabled the Garden Club to plant many and varied choice trees and shrubs.

HISTORY OF WILLIAMS BAY (Installment No.2)

In the last issue of Bay Leaves reference was made to the Indians leaving here late in 1836. This was done in accordance with an agreement made by some 20 to 30 Indian Chieftains at a Grand Council held in Chicago in September, 1833.

On the afternoon of September 21st several thousand braves and their families, dressed in their best were encamped on every available spot surrounding the settlement at the mouth of the river overlooking which was the fort Dearborn.

The Indian Chieftains representing the various tribes of the Pottowatomies spent several days in dickering with the representatives of the government. As a result of the Council, they agreed to give up the land on which they lived, some five million acres within three years, and in exchange were to receive an equal amount of land out in Kansas (near Lawrence). In addition the U.S. Government agreed to transport them thither and pay all costs for the trip and to support them for one year after their arrival, and nearly $1,000,000 was to be expended in various ways for their benefit. They were to receive for twenty years annually the sum of $16,000 and mills, blacksmith shops, physicians, the promotion of education, the domestic arts and other contributions which civilization could provide.

Before they left the Great Council some $83,000 in goods and $50,000 in silver coins were distributed.

The final scene was a great 'war dance' in which some 800 took part.

Chief Bigfoot had a prominent part in the Council. He had never been very friendly and for a while during the Black Hawk War had wavered as to where he might cast his allegiance. However, after making his choice with the white man he was loyal.

That the Indians had been here for a long time is evidenced by the large number of arrow heads, spear heads, etc. found by the thousands by the residents, some being found recently. When it is remembered that these were valuable and always retrieved when possible, those we find had been lost by the hunter.

It is estimated that there were some five hundred Indians living around this lake when they left for the West.

The stones from which the arrow and spear points were made were traded from tribe to tribe, some coming from as far as the Rocky Mountains.

By the time of the coming of the whites, the Indians had acquired many of the articles of civilization at the trading posts at Chicago and Milwaukee, including a few guns, not to mention 'fire water'.

Before leaving for his long trek to the West, Chief Bigfoot visited the burial place of his wives and children at Williams Bay. (Possibly the children had died from the plague of whooping cough which was playing havoc at the time of the departure.) Likewise he had placed his arm around the Council Pole at Fontana and taken a last, long look at the Lake and at the coffin of his son in the tree top overlooking the fishing grounds. Then after stopping for a word of farewell with Mrs. Van Slyke and commending the care of the treetop grave to her, he followed his tribe on the way over the hills toward the long trail to Kansas, never more to see Lake Geneva.

The early residents told of Indians coming to the Lake during the Summer. These were usually some homesick Indians who made the long trip back or some from the northern counties.

(Next week - The land as found by the settlers.)

TRIBUTE PAID TO DR. FROST

Friends, neighbors and associates of Dr. Edwin Brant Frost gathered in the Congregational Church last Friday afternoon to pay final tribute to their most beloved and most distinguished citizen, who passed away in Billings Memorial Hospital Chicago, on May 14th, the result of an operation.

Dr. Frost had been a resident of the village since 1898 when he was made director of Yerkes Observatory, and has been director emeritus since 1931. He joined the church in 1912 and served as trustee for a number of years, being chosen to that office in 1917.

The public schools and business places were closed during the service. Extra seats were placed outside the church and microphones installed so that those outside might hear the service.

Many beautiful floral tributes filled the front and along the side walls of the church, arranged by Mrs. C.M. Bjorge and Mrs. L.A. Hollister.

Rev. Victor H. Keiser, pastor of the church, spoke of Dr. Frost's deep abiding faith and his spiritual belief in a order in the universe. Rev. David Schaefer, Lake Geneva, spoke of him as a master in the art of living. He put much into this life and received much out of it. Dr. Paul B. Jenkins, Williams Bay, spoke praisingly of his influence felt in the community, that it might always remain with us, and of his truly great sense of humor.

"He that walked in darkness, has seen a great light."

In a few days the sprinkler will be attached which by a single turn of a faucet will automatically sprinkle the whole surface.

The workmen sent to do the work by the FERA bureau have mostly been men from the community who have taken an unusual interest and pride in their work as they realized what an asset the park would be to the community. The Garden Club had the competent advice of Prof. F. Aust from the University of Wisconsin, in the laying out of the plans and landscaping.

To all who have contributed to the park with money, time and good will, the Garden Club wishes to express its gratitude. All that is needed now is patience to give the trees and shrubs time to grow, and the combined cooperation of all to protect and respect what has been accomplished so far.

BELFRY PLAYERS

Once again the Belfry Theatre Players scored a success in their presentation May 15-18 of Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest".

The little Belfry Theatre (known to many as the old Mormon church) depicted scenes of British town and country life in a most adequate manner. The cast follows-

| | |
|--------------------|-------------------|
| Algernon Moncrieff | Allen Peacock |
| Earnest Worthing | Arnold Stuyvesant |
| Lane (A. Butler) | Lee Fredrikson |
| Lady Bracknell | Irene Stubbins |

| Cecily Cardew | Virginia Buell |
| Miss Prism | Louise Hotton |
| Dr. Chasuble | Alfred Hotton |

To those of our readers who may not be acquainted with the work of the Belfry Theatre Players, may we say for them that they have recently extended their scope and included in their roll, members from Walworth, Delavan, Elkhorn and Fontana as well as Lake Geneva and Williams Bay.-(Con't)

WILLIAMS BAY TO HAVE SUMMER SCHOOL

A volunteer committee composed of J.S. Hotton, Wm Freytag, Volmer Sorenson met at the home of Prof. Van Biesbroeck to discuss the possibility of an adult education program for the summer.

It was decided to have Mr. Jack Vincent, CCC Educational Director, see if there was enough interest to justify the program, and if so, to begin at once to organize a summer program which would form the nucleus of a splendid fall and winter program.

Considerable interest has been reported by Mr. Vincent in Public speaking, Salesmanship and Physical Education, so that classes will begin next week in Physical Education and the other two above mentioned. Any person wishing to join these classes will call Mr. Sorenson at the high school or see Mr. Vincent at the Community Room between 3 and 6 P.M. from Monday to Friday

Wms Bay will be a part of the County Adult Education program which is supervised by Mr. Arnold Blodgett, County Adult Education Supervisor, and Mr. Vincent, the local director is supplied from the office of the County Supt. of Schools, Miss Laura McDougall.

BELFRY PLAYERS (Con't)

An active dramatic program is being planned for the summer and anyone who may be interested is invited to get in touch with Mrs. Geo. R. Hotton, Wms Bay. A play "A Murder" Has Been Arranged" by Emlyn Williams, will be presented by the players the latter part of June.

The Players were pleased to have Orson Welles and wife present at their play given last week at the Belfry Theatre. Mr. Welles is an internationally known actor and director.

MISS ANNA LEE'S PUPILS GIVE RECITAL

If you had stepped into the Congregational Church Tuesday evening and listened to the young piano pupils of Miss Anna Lee, Milwaukee, in recital, perform in a most confident and musician-like manner pleasing and difficult piano numbers, amid a setting of beautiful spring flowers and soft lighting; you would have said - 'how lovely', and gone away with the feeling that some very fine musical talent is being developed among Williams Bays' young people.

Those taking part were- Victor, Jack and David Keiser, Virginia Sorenson, Elaine Reid, Carl Cable Bjorge. Mrs. Eldred Howe Anderson, Elkhorn, showed in her skilful and artistic technique that she possesses a thorough understanding and training in the art of music.

Miss Margaret Buckley, Milwaukee gave selected readings in a most professional manner.

F.A. Anderson, Wm.H. Freytag, E.H. Hollister and L.A. Hollister and wives attended the Walworth Co. Consistory, Dist. No. 1, Banquet at Walworth Monday evening. One hundred thirty-five were present. The banquet was served by the Walworth Cong'l church ladies Aid Society.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

For the Memorial Sunday Service, May 26, at 10:30 A.M., the combined choirs of the church will sing "Recessional", Rudyard Kipling's great poem set to music by De Koven. Mrs. Victor Keiser will sing, "There Is No Death". The pastor, Rev. Victor H. Keiser will speak on a theme appropriate to Memorial Sunday,; "Not In Vain".

Church School meets each Sunday at 9:30 A.M. Miss Mary R. Calvert is Superintendent. There are classes for all ages from beginners to young people. New members and visitors are always welcome.

On the evening of Sunday May 26, 7:45 at the church, Mr. Harry Frank, Whitewater will lead a forum discussion on "Consumer's Cooperation, Why and How?" Many thoughtful people are beginning to see that the new way to a Christian social order is through the development of the cooperative spirit in business and industry.

A special adjourned meeting of the members of the church is set for this evening May 23rd, 7:45 P.M. IMPORTANT!

| Nitwits | 800 | 4 | 1 |
| Scalawags | 250 | 1 | 3 |
| June Bugs | 200 | 1 | 4 |
| Pickups | 000 | 0 | 3 |

COMMUNITY PICNIC

The Williams Bay Community Picnic will be held June 3rd this year and a splendid program is being planned.

"Webb" Johnson is chairman of the committee. A special effort will be made to "bring out the ladies". In fact, it might be called a "Ladies Day" with a special track meet for ladies. Fortune telling by a famous "Hindu" and probably a popularity contest. Community singing, music by the band and Glee Club, also a special speaker will feature the evening program.

Save the date and plan to be there. --especially "The Ladies".

Saturday May 25 is Poppy Day.

These poppies of paper, replicas of the Flanders poppy., and made by the disabled world war veterans, non-compensated hospitalized-the only compensation they get. Buy a poppy and help the boys who gave their "all".

FERNDALE INN OPENS

Miss Edith Hatch is now at Ferndale Inn on the lake shore ready to serve her many patrons.

Ed Perry has returned to his home near East Delavan after seven weeks in Milwaukee General

The Hearing on the Special Assessments for the Extention of Water to the Southwestern limits of the Village, including Loch Vista Club, was adjourned until the June meeting of the Village Board on the 3rd at the request of Loch Vista Club.

There were several members of Loch Vista present, including Ivar Viehe- Naess, the President. College Camp was represented by R.R. Vernon, the Business Manager and H.B. Bentsen.

The deed to the West Half of the lot West of the Parsonage was presented to the Trustees by the Congregational Church. The Clerk was instructed to notify the Church of the acceptance by the Village and extend the thanks of the officers for the gift in behalf of the citizens.

Those who have been brave enough to go after the fish have found plenty of them there. Get out the pole and line and get your string.

Visit the Green Houses in the vicinity and see the fine plants that have been raised for your delight this Spring. It takes a lot of work to get as fine a collection as you will find.

There is a riot of color for you to select from.
