PRICE 5 CENTS

PLEDGE $6,500 TO UNION FUND FROM CHICAGO

Young Alumni Are Strong
Supporters of Gardner's Campaign

45 AT TUESDAY'S DINNER

More than $6500 was pledged to the Memorial Union fund by 45 Wisconsin graduates at the Chicago drive now being conducted by Prof. E. H. Gardner. Already the canvassing committee of 200 has 1700 names of Wisconsin alumni, and every day additional names are located.

The younger Wisconsin fellows, meeting at dinner Tuesday night at the Adventurers' club, gave a riotous greeting to the movies of Wisconsin life, and pledged their support to the campaign for the Memorial Union, which is now well under way. The meeting ended in a roll-call, suggested by the men themselves, in which it was discovered that those present, numbering about forty-five, had pledged upwards of $6500, and that nearly every man was signed up to canvass with a committee.

"If it is true," said Walter Bemis, one of the speakers at the dinner Tuesday night, "that Wisconsin men care less for their Alma Mater than do the alumni of Yale, Harvard, Amherst, or Dartmouth, the reason is that they have never done anything for her. We men who have made our pledges to Wisconsin now will think a hundred times as much of her as we did before, and will take more pleasure in coming back to reunions and Homecoming."

"We are astonished to find how many Wisconsin men and women are in Chicago," said Ben Brindley, secretary of the Wisconsin club. "We now have about 1700 correct names and addresses, and every day turns up people we had not heard about. Our problem now is to put 200 canvassers in the field, but if that can be done, Chicago should lead the country in her contributions to the campaign."

Up to Tuesday night, the executive committee in charge of the campaign states, there had been no refusals, and no subscription less than $100.

A large edition of the list of Chicago alumni is being printed for distribution to canvassers, in addition to the distribution of cards, so that hundreds of alumni shall have the opportunity of adding names to the list as they note the omissions of people they know.

MOTOR BOATS WILL RACE ON VENETIAN NIGHT

Feature Races and Tilts Will Thrill Crowds at Annual Fete

A program of novelty canoe events will be held on Saturday May 29 in connection with Venetian night ceremonies.

The program will include sailing canoe races, standing races, tilting, bow races, hand paddling, combination canoe and swimming races, and other events. Prizes of cigars, paddles, and other appropriate articles which will be donated by Madison merchants will be awarded to the winners.

20 Entries In

About 20 entries have already been registered with Merritt Giles '22, chairman of the canoe committee.

A motor boat race will also be held. Townspeople as well as Varsity students will be allowed to enter crafts in this event. The winner will receive a loving cup. A small fee will be assessed upon all persons entering the race.

Two Mile Course

The race will be held over a two mile course. Further information may be secured about this event by calling G. O. Stevens at B. 197.

"The canoe races will be held on a circular course so that spectators on the shore will have no difficulty in seeing every part of the race," Giles said. "The race course will probably be laid out just off the shore between the university boat house and Park street."

Steinauer is Judge

Some of the races will be thrillers in which the canoeists will be required to jump from their canoes and get back in before continuing on the course. The tilting events in which battles with long poles will be held will also be exciting.

Joe Steinauer will be judge of all the races. Entries can be registered with Merritt Giles.

FROSH TO TAG FOR CAP NIGHT BUDGET TODAY

Class of '25 Tagging to Raise Money For Annual Bonfire

FIRE WILL START AT 8:30

A tag day for the purpose of getting funds for rubbish and junk to be burned at the annual cap night celebration will be held by the freshmen will be held on the campus today and tomorrow.

The white tag with a green 25 will be sold by freshmen all over the campus in an effort to clear enough money to settle the deficit of $110, which the freshmen already have, besides clearing enough to hire trucks and other things necessary to get their junk pile on the campus ready to burn by 8:30 Saturday night.

The committee appointed by Jack Larsh, president of the freshmen class, which is in charge of the celebration has been working on various plans and holding conferences in an effort to determine what can be done with the rubbish that will be gathered throughout the day, but which cannot be put on the campus until about 6 o'clock.

In case the campus is too wet, officials in charge of the horse show say it may be held at Camp Randall, and in that case the freshmen will be able to get their pile started somewhat earlier. Otherwise they will have to make a temporary pile somewhere in the vicinity of the lower campus, and then carry it over after the horse show.

"In case this must be done," said Kenneth Ruggles, chairman of the committee in charge of the celebration, "we will need a great deal of help, and I strongly urge every freshman to lay aside everything else, and be out to help us with our rubbish."

VENETIAN NITE TO HAVE NOVEL LIGHTING PLAN

Best Decorated Floats and Piers Will Be Awarded Loving Cups

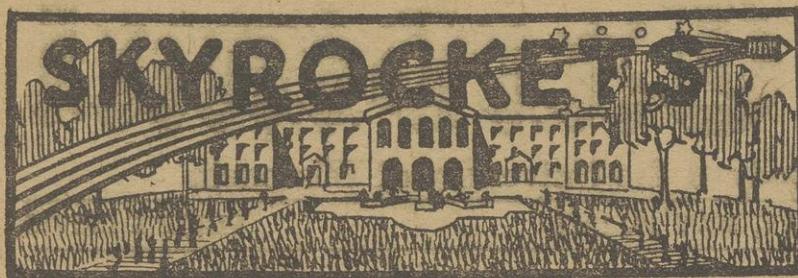

A greater number of floats will be entered in the Venetian Night water parade, May 27, than any previous year, according to Ralph E. Hawks '23, chairman of the parade committee. "Entries are coming in every day and it is advisable that organizations intending to have floats notify me as soon as possible," said Hawks yesterday. Motor boats or canoes may be entered in the carnival.

Lighting for the floats will be supplied by an electric generator placed on a barge near the university boat house. Power will be furnished by the university and the bulbs and wiring by the organizations having floats. An average of thirty lights will be allowed to each float.

Prizes will be given for the best decorated floats, and piers, and for the best orchestra on the lake.

First and second prizes of silver loving cups are to be awarded. For the pier and float decorations, and first prize will be given for the best orchestra on the lake or on any of the piers.

Organizations are eligible for two prizes. The decorations are to be judged from the standpoint of artistic beauty and uniqueness.

IT was reported to this office that there was a shot heard in the vicinity of the Pi Phi house one night recently. It is not known whether they were of the ordinary variety or somebody shooting a firearm. The rumor that it was the sisters trying to get rid of their dates has been discredited; no one who knows them believes that anyone wants to stay that badly. The Dean's office is investigating with a view towards regulating shooting after 8:30.

THE DANCE DRAMA

Canto II
I saw a barefoot lady dip
And kneel and rise and poise
and hover,
As if to pin a pillow slip
Upon the line stretched high above her.
"This must be comedy," I said
"Some esoteric highbrow posh-ing,
This nymph who moves with classic tread,

Is hanging out the family washing."

The program told me I was wrong,

The dance was labelled "Slumber Song"

I saw a maid with flying feet,
Whose clothes were singularly airy

Go running through a field wheat
With all the fleetness of a fairy.

When I had gazed awhile askance
At her abbreviated habit,
I thought, "The title of this dance,
Is 'Girl in Nightie chasing Rabbit'."

My guess was wrong—the program said:
"A Russian Peasant's Prayer for Bread."

This is dedicated to and inspired by Katherine Sic simper tyrannis.

A real man
Is Mr. Lighty
He never says
Oh, yes, alrighty.

We consider the recently adopted slogan a most unfair attempt to break up the Hermit Club.

vice; those who do need it won't take it.

Agric Summer Work To Start June 26

The College of Agriculture's summer school course will open June 26, at the same time as the regular session for all colleges.

Students of agriculture and home economics will have an opportunity to take the required and elective subjects toward their degrees during the summer session. The course also provides an excellent opportunity for special experimental work in all lines of agricultural research.

While practical courses in all branches will be given, the course is not given primarily for practical farmers, but for instructors and teachers in vocational and high schools who cannot attend the regular terms. The short courses in the fall are held to give practical farmers an opportunity to take work when they can best be spared from the routine farm work. During the summer their duties on the farms do not permit them to get away long enough to take regular courses, but it is thought that a few men will be able to take advantage of the summer school course.

Pistol Team Shoots Against Yale Today

The University Pistol team will shoot against Yale today, and against West Point Sunday, Purdue May 27, Princeton, Ohio, and Oregon May 30. At the West Point game, they will try for government medals.

The Pistol team has made an excellent showing this year by beating the Missouri team, two Iowa teams, losing by two points to Harvard, and, according to latest reports, showing good chances of winning the Utah game.

Colonel Morton Munna, head of the national contests, at Camp Perry told the team in a letter that they would surely win the national meet to be held next summer at Camp Perry. He declared it to be better than the team which won last year.

IF YOU were at a certain convocation in the Spring of '20, you heard a prominent manufacturer—a Wisconsin alumnus, by the way—tell of how he spent practically all of his first year's salary, after he had finished college, in buying good things to eat and good things to wear.

Some people may call that poor economy; but a body needs good food to keep brains active and good clothes to help "put them across."

PHILIP PORTER OF OHIO STATE WINS DAILY IOWAN ACTIVITIES CONTEST

Philip W. Porter, Lakewood, Ohio, a senior in the college of commerce and journalism at Ohio State university, has been selected as the winner of the Big Ten activities contest which was conducted recently by the Daily Iowan assisted by other student papers among the universities comprising the Big Ten Conference.

The purpose of the contest was to find the man or woman among these universities who was the most prominent in campus activities. Athletics, scholarship, forensics, and every other branch of university life was counted in selecting the winner, and the Ohio State man was pronounced winner because of his marked prominence in every activity with which he was connected.

Porter's record is as varied as there are activities in Ohio State University, and judging from the completeness of his record, it would be difficult to find many activities in the university with which he has had no connection. An athlete, journalist, dramatist, musician, and an active member of numerous campus organizations, is a brief summary of his record in non-scholastic activities, while his scholarship reports indicate that he has maintained a grade of G (75-85) throughout the entire four years of his university work.

Y. M. Spring Camp Opens at Kegonsa

The Y. M. C. A. Spring camp which will be held at the Ravenswood hotel at lake Kegonsa opens today, and continues until Sunday evening.

The members of the Sophomore commission, Junior council, and the Cabinet will leave Friday evening for the camp. This is the first time that such a camp has been attempted, and the rate at which the members of the committees are signing up to go promises to make it a success.

At this camp, the Sophomore commission and the Junior council with the aid of the Cabinet and "Dad" Wolf, will formulate the plans for conducting the activities of the "Y" for next year.

Ample recreation will be furnished for all present by baseball, swimming and other athletic contests.

Sunday noon the Board of Directors will be guests of the camp for dinner.

Want To Know What Speech Looks Like? Then Go To High School Scientific Expo.

If you want to see what speech looks like, if you want to know how to get thin or how to get fat, go to the Wisconsin High School Scientific exhibit. There seems to be absolutely nothing the students down there can't tell one. And they've worked it all out themselves. It's there in exhibits, in black and white.

One of the most interesting exhibits is the expose of patent medicines. Analyses have been made by students, the exhibits fastened to the big cardboard posters, and explanations of them written below the exhibits.

Perhaps most remarkable exhibit is the high frequency apparatus built entirely by John Seastone, one of the students, and operated by him. Another interesting one is the motion picture apparatus. How to take successful pictures is clearly shown in the photograph section, in charge of two girls.

Exhibitors in the plant husbandry department are: William Foss, Eleanor Gilbertson, Theodore Frost, Elmah Hall, Carol Bullard, Marion Sachtjen, Karl Dykema, Thomas Alberti, Lucile Norgord, William Stone, Kenneth Sarles, Theodore Schmidt, Elizabeth Crowell, Pierius Hibma, Fred Sarles, Gerald Fitzgibbon, James Schmelzer, Harlow Schubring, Richard Kropf, Elizabeth Wald, Phyllis Nelson, Sam Krosnafsky, Louise Coxon, Harry Schmidman, Allen Ostrander, Ruth McCarty.

In the biology department there are the following exhibitors: Frances Smith, Mary Pidcoe, Carleton Stephens, Theodore Wiedenbeck, Arthur Stephens, Potter Brayton, Sarah Stebbins, Helen McMurry, Edwin Hotchkiss, Henry Stevens, Stewart Schmelzer, Eugene Hotchkiss, Dorothy Potter, Dorothy Walker, Rosetta Tiedeman, Richard Bubolz, Florence Thorkelson, Arlene Weidenkopf, Virginia Hibbard, Grace Burke, Marguerite Wojta, Madeline Stell.

THE NEW SWIMMING TANK

IT IS understood that work will be started soon on the new swimming tank to be installed in the gym. There has been a crying need for a new tank for some time. The water this year was not what it should have been and the accommodations have not been in keeping with university standards.

Coach Steinauer has been fussing for better tank facilities all year, and, as usual, he had his way. The improvement will mean much to the hundreds of students who like to take a plunge every once in a while and to the swimming team, which covered itself with glory this year and may be expected to do still better next year.

FACULTY DISCIPLINE

THE CARDINAL regrets that, through a misunderstanding of fact, its stand, taken yesterday on the subject of "Hot-headed Discipline," was not entirely justified, insofar as any specific incident was concerned. The incident which inspired the editorial followed a warning that any breach of class order would result in expulsion from the class.

This fact makes irrelevant the question of hot-headed action; but the question of extreme penalties is not altered. The Cardinal reiterates its stand that a professor has no right to deprive a student of his credits as a punishment for a minor offense, such as whispering in class. He has the power to do so, but the use of such power to impose an extreme penalty is unjust.

Consideration of this power in yesterday's editorial brought up the question of its justification, and involved the implication that students have little redress without being liable to incur the ill will of those in power. The Cardinal believes that this situation deters students from protesting, and thereby tends to stifle justice; but it did not intend to imply that any particular faculty member has taken advantage of the situation.

CLASS OFFICERS

TIME changes the aspects and functions of things. What once was important and necessary may come to be of minor significance as time passes.

Consider the class office. From what necessity of college life did it arise? There was a time when the class was the unit at the university. The number of students was small, and there existed few outside groups to draw the attention of the scholar. The class meeting provided a common meeting ground. It satisfied the desire for organization. The class office was an honor conferred upon those who were the best known or who had administrative or executive ability.

Time has changed those conditions. The enrollment has increased many fold. A large body is unwieldy and often does not accomplish what it sets out to accomplish. The identity of the individual has become small. Outside organizations and groups have grown up which satisfy the desires for organization. No longer is the class meeting attended by a majority of the members. Class meetings are seldom held, in fact.

Is there a need for the class office? Does the interest displayed by individuals warrant an organization? What are the duties and responsibilities of the class officer now?

A certain amount of training is acquired in meeting people, in adjusting oneself to various circumstances, and in participating in political activity. Outside of these attributes there seems to be little importance attached to class offices. Are they sufficient?

THE STUDENT SENATE

THE Student Senate is the representative and legislative body of the male students of the university. That it has been legislative in character is not questioned. But has it been representative?

How many students have manifested any interest in the activities of this organization? The problems that it deals with are those that concern the male students as a whole. Are they acquainted with all the questions that are under discussion, or just those that receive the greatest publicity? Do they make their desires known to the senate? A representative body should have a consensus of opinion as a working basis.

Has the opinion of the student body been sounded out by the senate in the solution of the various problems of discussion? The student is the primary cause for the existence of the senate. Does he warrant its existence by talking with the senators, by presenting arguments for and against certain measures, or by requesting action on certain things? Has the senate endeavored to obtain an expression of student opinion on all questions with which it deals? It is the duty of the senate to truly represent the student body. Does it do so?

These questions are not asked in a derogatory or critical manner. They are only meant to direct attention to an institution that concerns the student. Any organization exists on the campus for certain purposes. Unless the student body asks itself what that purpose is, how the aims it has set out to accomplish can be fulfilled, and unless the student body aids in the solution of problems, the organization can hardly act for the best interests of everyone.

Habits formed in college are not easily shaken off in after life, and if there is anything which dooms one to defeat in the business and professional world it is satisfaction in mere idea of self-interest, and should be a factor in making the student wish to get all he could out of educational facilities which someone else is largely furnishing for him.

State Battles Writ Aimed at Rate On Coal

Will Fight Request Of Michigan For In- junction

The Railroad commission is preparing with Atty. Gen. William J. Morgan to contest the action of the Chamber of Commerce of Menominee, Mich., asking the U. S. district court to grant a permanent injunction restraining enforcement of the commission order reducing freight rates on coal shipped to points within Wisconsin.

In its answer to the complaint, the state will argue that there can be no relation between regulation of rates on a product shipped between points within a state, and regulation of rates on a product shipped from its borders.

Contention is made by Michigan shippers that through its reduction, the Wisconsin commission has discriminated against out-of-state coal men who must pay higher rates on their products sent from points across the board in Michigan.

As a result of the reduction order on coal rates, which became effective May 10, interior points in Wisconsin had freight costs cut from a few cents to nearly $2 a ton. Shipments affected by the cut are all made from lake ports.

No Money To Pay Way of City Delegates

Council members delegates to any conventions must pay their own way as no provision was made for this in the budget. The convention of Wisconsin Municipalities at Appleton will be attended by Mayor I. Milo Kittleson. One or two aldermen may accompany him. The council has set aside $75 to be used in connection with the work of the league's legislative committee in securing legislation of interest to the city.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—Change in the constitution of the Southern Baptist convention to admit women to membership on the executive committee and various boards, was adopted today after a spirited discussion. Latest Radio Receiving Set Has No Aerial

Novel Idea Is Tested In Inside Office Of Loop Building

CHICAGO — A new type of radio receiving device without aerial, electrical power line connection, or any assisting apparatus except several yards of wire tacked on the back of the cabinet which houses the set, was announced today by B. F. Miessner, radio engineer.

Reception of signals is accomplished by a super-amplifier which, magnifies the signal about 50 times more than the ordinary three tube amplifier, rendering it fully as audible as signals received with aerial antennae. The receiving set is simplified, having only a button to turn on the power, generated in small storage batteries also and a dial on which the wave lengths are marked.

In demonstration today, signals from KYW Broadcasting station, Chicago, were received in an inside office of a large loop building.

"It would work just as well if the cabinet were buried fifty feet underground," Mr. Miessner said.

Prof. Griffith Revises Book on Carpentry

How to frame a roof accurately might seem to be a trivial matter, but Prof. Ira S. Griffith, chairman of the department of Industrial education and manual arts, confesses that he spent 15 years seeking a method by which the average carpenter, without knowledge of higher mathematics, could properly construct any type of roof. As a result of his research in this field, Professor Griffith has revised his book "Carpentry," and the revision has just been released by the Manual Arts press of Peoria, Ill.

The board decided to loan some money on farm mortgages, the soundness of which it was assured, but intends to proceed carefully in investing the teacher's fund, according to the secretary.

Farrar Made Hit On Palm Beach And Pet Poodle

A private car, called "Palm Beach," two automobiles, and a brown poodle dog are a part of the paraphernalia accompanying Miss Farrar, who sang at the Parkway theatre Wednesday evening, on her trip through the Middle-west.

"Yes, Miss Farrar likes Madison very well," said her accompanist as we waited for her on the observation platform of her car near the Illinois Central depot yesterday afternoon, "but she doesn't talk to reporters. I wouldn't advise you to wait." And he disappeared into the car.

I decided to wait.

On the other platform sat the old colored porter.

"She'll be back any minute," he said, chuckling.

It was not long until a high powered motor drove up and stopped at the crossing. The maid who sat beside the liveried chauffeur, held the small brown dog in her arms. A rather tall woman in a red coat, the companion was the next to step out. And last, from the depths of the car came Geraldine Farrar herself.

She was wrapped in a long coat of gray chinchilla. Her small yellow hat, worn low over her dark eyes, was draped with a flowing net veil. She seemed smaller than I had imagined her, and her voice was low and pleasing.

Her favorite sport, almost the only one she cares for, is motoring. Both yesterday and the day before she drove around the four lakes. She plans to spend the summer in America, she said, touring through the East.

Begin Action to Remove Washington Ave. Tracks

Action to have the tracks and equipment of the defunct Wisconsin Interurban system removed, will be taken in ten days, Ralph M. Hoyt, assistant attorney general, announces. In an action brought by the state in circuit court, Judge E. Ray Stevens, Tuesday, declared the franchise granted to the company in 1913 forfeited.

Should the company representatives refuse to remove the tracks on E. Washington ave., after the order is issued, the city can remove the tracks at the expense of the defunct organization, Atty. Hoyt asserted.

GO TO CUBA CITY.

Mrs. Mary P. Morgan, director of the State Bureau of Child Welfare, and Mrs. Robert Jenkins were at Cuba City, Tuesday, for an engagement in connection with the visit of the Child Welfare Special, which is now touring Grant county.

Wood Painting Work Subject of New Study

To begin a scientific study of the painting of wood, a number of men prominent in the industrial field spent a day last week conferring with engineers of the Forest Products laboratory.

A permanent organization will be established by July 1. Funds for it will come from industries that are interested in the subject of paint on wood, particularly furniture, automobiles, and farm implement fields. Much of the investigation, it is expected, will be carried on at the Forest Products laboratory.

Paints and varnishes have been improved greatly in the past few decades but there is a great need for information on the best methods of conditioning wood to receive the coating, variations in methods of application for different species of wood and different purposes, how to make paint and varnish last longer, and how to get the desired results at least cost. In the past paint problems have been studied from the standpoint of the man familiar with paint. Now it is proposed to study them from the standpoint of man familiar with wood.

BADGERS WILL MEET GOPHER CINDER SQUAD

Minnesota Has Strongest Team in Many Seasons

The Wisconsin-Minnesota track meet will be the closest in years. The Gophers are undefeated and their outfit is the strongest which has represented the northern institution for several seasons. It would be hard to predict the winner."

This declaration was made yesterday by Coach Thomas E. Jones, whose Badger aggregation of track and field men will leave tonight for Minneapolis where they stack up against Minnesota speedsters in the annual meet, Saturday.

Hurdles to Be Close

That the Wisconsin team will meet close competition in many events is indicated by the list of stars who are entered from the northern institution. Karl Anderson, sprinter and hurdler, is one of the best track men ever developed in the Big Ten. He is excelled only by Capt. Knollin in the high and low hurdles. Both men have stepped the heights in 15 second flat, although Knollin invariably has the edge and breaks the tape. The Badger's fast finish after he has cleared the last hurdle is always a place-winner for him.

"Rudy" Hultkranz, sprinter, is good for 10 seconds flat in the century and does the 220 yard dash around record time. Capt. Merle Sweitzer is a distance man who, with Hoverstad, is sure to amass points.

Merrick Supreme

Hawker and Kelly will offer strong competition to champion Dale Merrick in the pole vault, and Sam Campbell is slated to hook up with "Pete" Platten in another high jumping duel. Schjoll is the most consistent winner in field events.

Minnesota defeated both Ames college and Northwestern by overwhelming scores. It also finished well up in several events at the Drake relays.

Badgers in Good Condition

Badger entrants are in tip-top condition for their last duel meet. Capt. Knollin is topping the timbers in fast time. In the dashes, Spetz and Johnson continue faster than the majority of Conference sprinters. Ramsey will race up with Sweitzer in a fast mile run, and Wall will meet Hoverstad and Sweitzer in the two-mile.

Guy Sundt is again counted upon to take the most points in his field events. He has been entered in five events, the broad jump, shot put, discus throw, hammer throw, and javelin.

freshmen on the campus today and tomorrow.

CREW LEAVES TO ENGAGE CULVER

The junior varsity crew will row against Culver Military Academy tomorrow on Lake Maxinkuckee. The Badgers left yesterday morning on a special train with a car of rooters and a special car for the shell.

Culver always has a first rate crew, but as they have not been in any races this season, it is impossible to predict how they will show up against the Wisconsin eight. Coach Vail is fairly confident of a victory for his men.

The junior eight is in a good or better condition than the first crew, since the members of the second crew have been practicing all winter with the various college eights. The next race that the junior crew will enter will be against St. John's Military Academy on May 27, at Delafield.

Plans For Regatta Drawn at Rockford

A wet diamond and outfield prevented the Wisconsin baseball team from getting in a good practice yesterday in preparation for its second contest with Iowa which will be played here tomorrow.

The Badgers have been hitting a steady pace and a short respite will enable them to stave off whatever signs of staleness appear in mid-season. With five more games on the schedule, a win over Iowa will keep Coach Lowman's aggregation in the running for the title, or at least, for a place near the top berth.

After Wisconsin clashes with the Hawkeyes, it takes on Northwestern at Madison next Thursday, Michigan at Ann Arbor the following Saturday, and Chicago here a week later. The postponed game with the Maroons may also be played off when they come here.

Iowa's strength was shown when it held Illinois until the last inning and defeated Wisconsin, 8 to 6, at Iowa City. Frohwein, Hawk twirler will probably try to duplicate his last week's victory over the luckless Lowman outfit.

The time of the game has been set forward from 2:30 to either 1:30 or 2 o'clock.

OLSEN TO COACH OHIO STATE BASKET SQUAD

COLUMBUS, Ohio. May 13.—Harold G. Olson, athletic director at Ripon college, has been appointed director of basketball at Ohio State university. Olsen had been athletic director at Ripon for four years. He was graduated from Wisconsin in 1917.

PLAN ANNUAL REGATTA FOR ROCKFORD MEET

Athletic Director Thomas E. Jones, returned yesterday from Rockford, Ill., where he conferred with Mid-western rowing enthusiasts who want an annual regatta to be held on the Rock river at Rockford.

Plans were drawn up to run the crew races each year in four classes comprising university senior and junior crews, academy crews, and clubs. A two-mile course, 600 feet wide, and a monomoth boat club makes Rockford an ideal place.

Northwestern university, Wisconsin, Drake college, Duluth Boat club, Peoria club, Lincoln Park Boat club, St. John's Military academy, and Culver were represented at the meeting.

Johnson, Holbrook; Anderson, Wilson, Campbell.

Shot put—Sundt, Gude; Oster, Schjoll.

Discus throw—Sundt, Norem, Otto; Droll, Schjoll.

Hammer throw—Nichols, Norem, Sundt; Oster, Madsen.

Javelin throw—Sundt, Nichols, Norem, Stehr; Schjoll, Oster, Droll.

BADGERS MEET CHICAGO TENNIS WIZARDS TODAY

Coach Linden is Banking on Tredwell and Gotfredson in Doubles

The Wisconsin tennis team left last night for Chicago, where it will engage the Maroons in the third Conference tournament of the season this afternoon at the Midway.

Coach George E. Linden took four men on the trip, and although he was confident his men would perform well he made no prediction. Gotfredson will play first man for the Badger team with Tredwell, Moulding, and Hastings playing the second, third and fourth men respectively.

The Badgers have one Conference victory to their credit and one tie match. Last year's tournament with Chicago resulted in a 3 to 3 deadlock.

Frankenstein, ace of the Midway men, will put up a hard game against Gotfredson. A. A. Stagg, Jr., son of the Chicago football mentor, plays a wizardly game of tennis and will stack up against Tredwell.

It is on the doubles results that Coach Linden is banking most of his hopes. The Tredwell-Gotfredson combination is one of the most feared doubles team in the Conference, and a great match should result when they take the opposite side of the net with Frankenstein and Stagg.

Coach Linden put his men through a strenuous schedule this past week. The men will be in mid-season form. The team will be groomed next week for the Conference meet which is held in Chicago on May 27, 28, and 29.

Inter-class Tennis Finals Are Being Brought to Close

Aided by fair weather for the past week, matches in the inter-class tennis tournament have progressed rapidly. Battles became champion of the senior class when he defeated Giles in a three set match, 2-6, 6-2, 6-1.

Bennett and Hentzen will take the opposite sides of the net before Saturday night to determine who will be junior champion.

Henika, who has reached the finals in the sophomore tournament, is waiting to play the victor of the Stebbins-Erdman match, which will decide the premier racquet wielder in their class.

The freshman tournament is progressing slower than the other matches because of the large number of men entered. The outstanding stars of the yearlings seem to be Campbell, Deutsch, and

In the doubles, Battles and Giles automatically became senior champs by default.

Bennett and Hentzen emerged doubles champions of the junior class by defeating Enna and Woschutz, 6-1, 6-3. No doubles matches have been played in the sophomore tournament.

Hamlin and Deutsch slipped into the finals in the freshman class by virtue of their defeat over Rainsberger and Franks, 6-0, 6-2. This pair will meet the winner of the Campbell-Johnson Manierre-Nolte match to decide the freshman champions. Tredwell and Gotfredson emerged all-university doubles title holders when they defeated Bennett and Hentzen in two hard fought sets, 6-3, 6-3. The all-university tournament was started last fall, but because of early snow was postponed until this spring.

In the singles, Tredwell is the only man who has reached the final round. His opponent for all-university champion will be the winner of the Fanning-Bennett match.

511 ATHLETES ENTER ANNUAL SCHOOL MEET

Teams From All Parts of State Entered in Contest

Exactly 511 athletes from 56 Wisconsin high schools have been entered in the 28th annual Interscholastic Track meet and in the tennis tournament which will be held on May 26 and 27. Sixteen more high school and one hundred forty-five more performers will take part than participated last year.

The tennis tournament this year promises to be a success, as 8 schools placed men in either the single or doubles. Sixteen racquet wielders will strive for the honors.

FILM BUREAU TO HAVE NEW STORAGE ROOMS

In order that the bureau of visual instruction of the University of Wisconsin Extension division may have more room and better shipping and storage facilities for the negatives, and for the lantern slides, motion picture films that sends to hundreds of schools and organizations throughout the state, the Board of Regents has approved a plan of making available the flat over the branch post office, University avenue, not far from the Extension building.

The film and slide service conducted by the bureau of visual instruction has increased rapidly during the last year, so that the bureau has outgrown its present quarters in the Extension building, and need for more room has been evident. The new quarters consist of several rooms and will be ready for occupancy by fall, it is expected. Probably just the administration work of the office will then be handled in the present office in the Extension building.

Street Car Law New City Aim

Tentative Ordinance Asks For Arbitration Board, Fare Schedule

A definite step toward the solution of the street car company's argument with the city over street car zone paving was taken last night at a meeting of the special committee having this matter in hand. The committee instructed City Atty. Roman A. Heilman to draw up a tentative ordinance as a working basis for a settlement. The ordinance will contain provision for:

- 1.—Relieving the company of future paving costs.
- 2.—Provide a fare schedule.
- 3.—Appointment of a committee of five to arbitrate matters. Two members will be from the council, two from the company, and these four to select a fifth.

4.—A jury trial at any time to decide the necessity of purchase by the city of the railway company.

5.—Repeal of the present paving ordinances as they relate to the street car company. These provisions were tentatively approved by the committee, and another meeting will be called soon which the company officials will be asked to attend. Their approval or disapproval of the ordinance can be expressed at that time. The committee at its next meeting also will discuss the new ordinance.

The commission, provided for in the proposed ordinance, would have the power to dispose of all funds expended for maintenance. These funds would amount to the annual earnings of the company in excess of $80,000, which is 8 per cent upon its investment.

No date was set for the next meeting. It is hoped to have a report ready for the next meeting of the council May 26. The council is anxious to speed up the paving work on University ave. and Johnson st.
