THIEVES BREAK INTO FRATERNITY AND TAKE CASH

Members of Square and Com- pass Lose Watch and Money

The first fraternity robbery of the university year occurred Monday night when house bandits entered the Square and Compass lodge at some late hour and rifled the personal effects of the sleeping members.

Though apparently the thieves worked undisturbed they did not get away with a big haul, seeming to be content with what they were able to filch from trousers' pockets. The total loss was approximately $18 in cash and a $100 watch.

Robbery Systematic

Whether one bandit or two accomplished the robbery cannot be determined. That the thieves had planned the robbery was evidenced by an apparent systematic search through the trousers of those robbed.

In the center of the front hall, piled on the floor, were found trousers which had been lifted from the various rooms and from which everything valuable had been extracted.

The first, second and third floors were covered in the robbers' search though every room did not seem to have been entered.

$100 Watch Taken

W. P. Rand '26 was the heaviest loser, being robbed of a $100 watch and some small change. Entering the room of Edward Coleman, College of Engineering instructor, on the third floor the thieves lifted $15 in cash. Howard Funk sleeping on the second floor, across the hall was the lightest loser, $3 being taken.

Whether this robbery is a beginning of a series of fraternity house robberies such as occurred last spring cannot be said. With their doors never locked and the presumption of sleeping members when disturbed at night by some noise that it is one of the brothers getting in late the fraternities fall easy prey to petty robbers.

RAILROAD JACK LOOKS UP NOTED WOLVERINES

ANN ARBOR, Mich.—Railroad Jack, world-famous memory expert (as he admits) was found rummaging in the Michigan Daily files. Upon questioning, he admitted that he was just studying up all the world figures whose pictures have appeared in the paper during the last few years.

S. G. A. BEGINS DANCING PARTIES

Vodvil Stunts, Bridge, and Mah Jongg Planned For First Night

An all university women's get-together will be held Friday night, when the first of the regular S. G. A. dancing parties will be given in Lathrop parlors from 7 to 8 o'clock.

Dancing, bridge, mah jongg and a special vodvil stunt will be features of the hour. No admission is charged at these informal parties, according to Clara Hortsburg '25, chairman.

This is the second year that S. G. A. has held these meetings on Friday nights for the purpose of bringing about a closer relationship between all the girls on the campus. Last year the parlors were crowded at all of the parties.

Different girls are appointed by the chairman to take charge each Friday night. Music is usually furnished by some member of the committee for that night.

Special music is to be obtained for the Thanksgiving, Christmas, Valentine, and St. Patrick's day parties, according to the present plans of the committee.

Commerce Women to Hold Meeting of Club Tonight

The Women's Commerce club will hold its first meeting of the year in 105 Sterling hall at 7 o'clock this evening.

Membership in the Women's Commerce club is based primarily on scholarship, elections being held in the fall of the year, soon after the annual all commerce women's banquet. At this time all women interested can hand in application for admission. Membership is restricted to 40.

"We plan to discuss the banquet, which will be held sometime in October, a hike for freshmen and other technicalities at our meeting tonight," said Freda Audtner '25, president of the club.

LIT REORGANIZED WITH NEW STAFF

Harland Gilbert '25 is Ap- pointed Head of Business Department

In order to re-establish the Wisconsin Literary magazine on a firm financial basis, the complete business staff has been reorganized. A complete new staff, headed by Harland Gilbert '25 as manager, will work to make the magazine a paying concern.

The major positions of the business department have been filled, but the minor ones will be awarded on the competitive basis. Persons may try out for positions on the circulation and business staffs by applying to Rice Miller '26, circulation manager, or to Gilbert. It is expected that 80 such positions will be open but the number will be cut to approximately 20 later in the year.

The staff at present is Harland Gilbert '25, business manager; Firman Rass '25, assistant business manager; Rice Miller '26, circulation manager, and Richard Yeo '26 Art Publicity, Alfred Moorehead '27, in charge of local advertising and Carrie Rasmussen '25 of foreign advertising.

An extensive campaign for subscriptions will be conducted during the next week. A member of the staff will be located in each rooming house and fraternity house or subscriptions may be made at the office in the Union building. The price will be $1.50 as in former years.

No More Statistics Till Student List Is Published Nov. 1

"No further statistics concerning the number enrolled and advance information regarding the registration and different clauses will be given out by the registrar's office until the official report which is published about November 1 in connection with the new student directory," said W. D. Hiestand yesterday.

Work on the new directory has been going on ever since registration began and the registrar's office and the statistical office are now busy compiling figures and checking over classifications.

"This work naturally takes a lot of time," Mr. Hiestand said, although we are getting the facts out as fast as we can, people seem to think that we are responsible for preparing the minutest details and answering the most foolish questions.

"Just this afternoon," he said, "five different people have been in to see how many married women are in the university, the number of girls in the engineering college, and what percentage of the freshmen class are taking frosh English.

LAST CALL FOR GLEE CLUB IS MADE TODAY

The last call for Glee club volunteers is being made today. Those who wish to try out will have their final opportunity this afternoon between 4:30 and 5:30 o'clock and from 7:15 to 9 o'clock at Prof. E. E. Swinney's studio in Music hall.

VODVIL TRYOUTS WILL BEGIN IN MIDDLE OF MONTH

"Bill Purnell Will Have Charge of Union Vodvil This Year

Preliminary tryouts for Union vodvil acts will start on October 17 and 18 in Lathrop concert room. "Bill" Purnell '22 has been engaged by Union board to take charge of producing the vodvil, and Hawley V. Porter '25, member of Union board, is selecting the business staff. Union vodvil will be presented at the Parkway theater on December 5 and 6.

Profits from Union vodvil, which was started in 1912, go to the building fund of the Memorial union. In former years the vodvil was produced in December of every other year, but this spring permission was granted to hold it every year.

To Select Ten Acts

Persons, groups of two or three, or entire organizations may enter the tryouts which will be held on October 17 and 18, and from the material trying out from six to ten acts will be selected for the vodvil performance in December.

Purnell will assist anyone who has ability to dance, sing, or to give a monologue in rounding an act into shape or he will write an act for anyone who has stage talent. After the acts are selected, Purnell will coach the entire production.

All Students Eligible

All students, excepting freshmen, are eligible to present an act at the tryouts in two weeks. In former years there has been a variety of acts, similar to vaudeville on the stage of B. F. Keith and Orpheum circuit theaters, presenting a well balanced vaudeville performance.

Several organizations will give one-act plays, and dancing and singing acts. Monologue and acrobatic acts are desired by Purnell who wants to present a varied program, using all the vaudeville talent in the university this year.

LAST YEARBOOK TRYOUTS TODAY

Editor Issues Final Call For Students Interested in Staff Positions

Students who wish to try out for the Badger staff should make application at the Badger office in the Union building between 2 and 5 o'clock today, this being the last chance according to Otis Wiese '26, editor.

A new rule requiring students to have one year's experience on the staff before becoming eligible for the positions of editor and business manager, makes it necessary for all candidates to get an early start.

There are three departments in which the applicant may work on the editorial staff, departmental, production, and technical departments, and, also, three departments in the business staff, advertising, circulation and office departments. There are vacancies in all of these.

As appointments to the staff will be made in about a week, all interested students are urged to apply at once.

INITIAL MEETING OF GERMAN CLUB TONIGHT

Members and guests of the German club will be welcomed by Prof. A. R. Hohlfeld, chairman of the German department, at the first meeting of the club for this year at 7:30 o'clock Thursday in the German house, 508 N. Frances street. Professor Hohlfeld will be introduced by E. A. Hohm, president of the German club. Following Professor Hohlfeld's talk, Ruth Bolle and Carrol Owen will entertain with several musical numbers. Group games will be played in German, and popular German songs will be sung. Refreshments will be served.

WHA Will Resume Operations; Hours For Visitors Named

University broadcasting station, WHA, will get under way as soon as possible, according to statements made today by Prof. W. H. Lighty, who will have charge of the programs.

Professor Lighty had hoped to resume broadcasting by October 1, but that is now impossible. It is expected, however, that programs will go out on the air early next week. The nature of the programs has not been disclosed.

Students who are interested in radio may come to the station on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, between the hours of 11 and 12 o'clock, when they will be shown the apparatus.

SUBSCRIBE $310 OF COTTAGE FUND

Women's Athletic Association Starts Drive in Special Meeting

More than $310 was subscribed to the W. A. A. cottage fund by members of the Women's Athletic association in the special meeting last night in Lathrop parlors. This meeting marked the beginning of the intensive drive which W. A. A. will make among the women of the university for the remaining $700 needed to build the cottage this fall.

"The W. A. A. cottage will be a contribution to the life of Wisconsin women and will give each one a different conception of our campus life," said Blanche Trilling in her discussion of the plans for early building. "One dollar from every woman in the university will make the cottage a reality."

That the cottage can be built and will be the greatest single enterprise which W. A. A. has ever attempted was the opinion expressed by Dean F. Louise Nardin in her talk to the members.

In order to carry the drive over successfully the entire association has been divided up into teams of eight members each. Marian Streng '25 is general chairman of the campaign. The seventeen subchairmen acting under her direction and in charge of the association teams are, Dorothy John '25, Elizabeth Shepherd '26, Alice Drews '26, Edith Jennings '26, Martha Williamson '25, Venus Walker '25, Mabel Rugen '25, Judy Callis '25, Daisy Simpson '25, Jo Winters '27, Marion Rhode '27, Evelyn Tough '27, Marian Reid '27, Ruth Klingler '25, Carita Robertson '25, Genevieve Ellis '26, and Marian Bigelow '26.

Violet Means Well But She Does Like to Kid the Girls

Goldilocks' little bear has been found. It has left the safe and secure residence of the Big Bear and the Middle-Sized Bear in the Canadian woods, and is now living at the Phi Kappa Sigma house. Kerbert Earl '28 captured the six-months-old Canadian black bear this summer.

Although it answers to the dainty name of Violet, it is not as modest and shrinking as its name implies. Quite the contrary; it relishes frightening young ladies by pretended attacks, although we are assured that it is not of the fierce variety.

Violet will take the place of the two Badgers who were Wisconsin's mascots last year, and who died of pneumonia last winter.

BIRGE GOES TO TROY FOR ANNIVERSARY FETE

President Birge leaves today to represent the University of Wisconsin at the centennial anniversary of Renneslaer Polytechnique institute at Troy, N. Y. He will spend eight or nine days in Troy, where he was born, before leaving for Cleveland, Ohio, to assist at the installation of Robert E. Vinson as president of Western Reserve university.

FROSH AND SOPHS WILL ENGAGE IN BATTLE SATURDAY

Annual Rush is Scheduled For Lower Campus at 1 O'Clock

At 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon, October 4, the annual class rush between the freshmen and the sophomores will be held on the lower campus, Byron Barwig '25, president of the athletic board, announced late yesterday.

The athletic board will have charge of the administration of the event as in the past. At their regular meeting this afternoon, the police captains will be appointed.

No Deportations

The captains and the assistants whom they will select from the members of the junior and senior classes will see that the rush is conducted with fairness and will have charge of protecting both sides from wholesale deportations.

There will be a meeting of all sophomore men at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the gym annex, Virginia Sinclair '27, acting president of the present sophomore class, announced last night.

"I hope that all the sophomore men will turn out for this meeting so that the class will have a formidable organization to meet the freshmen Saturday afternoon," she said last night. "We want to have the organization that will be able to win."

Frosh May Use Gym

Freshmen will have no class organization to direct their activities. If they hold a meeting, it must be away from the scrutiny of the sophomores and in some secluded spot. No public announced meeting has ever been held for the organization of the new students for the annual class rush.

Director of Athletics, Tom Jones, has given his permission, however, for the freshmen to meet from 12 to 1 o'clock Saturday in the gymnasium annex.

AGRICS HOLD ANNUAL WALK-AROUND TODAY

All agriculture and home economics students who are new in the college will be guests of the remainder of the student body at the annual walk-around this evening from 4:30 to 7:30 o'clock in Dean H. H. Russell's grove. Professors J. A. James and G. H. Mortimer will be among the speakers.

W. J. Zaumeyer '26 is the general chairman in charge of the event. Assisting him are H. C. Schaefer '25, entertainment, and H. L. Kropp '25, publicity.

All freshmen and new students will be admitted free of charge, but tickets for the others will be $.25.

"PEP" BAND CALL BRINGS RESPONSE

Organization Planned at Meet- ing Last Night; Call is Extended

The call for men to play in the proposed "Pep" band, which met for the first time in Music hall last night, brought out a goodly, but insufficient, number of enthusiastic musicians.

Plans of this newly formed and unique organization were aired by those in charge, and met with hearty approval by those present. The "Pep" band will act independently of the other university bands, and will be maintained for the sole purpose of adding spice and zest to the sendoffs and receptions of the football team.

The next rehearsal will be held at 7:15 o'clock Tuesday evening, October 7, at Music hall. More instruments, mainly bugles, baritone and alto horns, trombones, and snare drums are needed. All wanting to enroll are asked to call Paul Faust, B. 191.

PHI KAPPA PHI TO ELECT IN OCTOBER

Seniors Will Be Chosen This Fall on Basis of Activities

Elections to Phi Kappa Phi, honorary fraternity for men and women prominent in campus activities, will take place about the middle of October, word from the organization revealed today. The exact date has not been decided as yet by the committee in charge. Activity on any of the various university extracurricular pursuits is the basis for election, together with a weighted scholastic average of 85. In this way, anyone from any of the colleges is eligible for election. A student is selected primarily with regard to the number of activities with which he is connected.

Only seniors will be elected this fall. Junior election comes ordinarily in the spring, but, because of a recent new ruling of the national council which declared junior election illegal, no elections took place last spring. The sources from which names are taken for consideration are Badger summaries, The Daily Cardinal files, campus committees, and replies from circular letters sent to all faculty members of Phi Kappa Phi and department heads to recommend persons majoring in their departments. Last year approximately 50 were elected from some 250 to 300 names recommended.

It has also been the custom for the fraternity to elect annually one or two faculty members to honorary membership, based on their recent accomplishments at the university. Last year Max Mason, professor in the physics department, was elected on this honorary basis. The officers of the fraternity this year are W. G. Bleyer, professor of journalism, president; Lelia Bascom, assistant professor of English, vice president and Professor Ramsay, secretary and treasurer. It is the wish of the organization to obtain several speakers for general convocations of the fraternity within the coming school year.

WOMEN OF COMMERCE SCHOOL ADVISE FROSH

The new advisory system being initiated this year in the commerce school is proving very successful in making new women students, transfers and freshmen, acquainted with the old students, according to those in charge of the new program. This system is separate from the general junior advisory system.

The first event to acquaint the new students with old ones will be a movie party which will take place next Thursday and Friday nights. Hikes and other forms of entertainment will continue later on.

Removal of Clinic Causes Discomfort to Lazy Students

Whether 'tis better to get up for an 8 o'clock, or walk a mile to the new clinic, that is the question.

This complication arises from the removal of the clinic from its convenient location near the corner of Park and Langdon, to the new General Wisconsin hospital at the corner of University and Warren.

It has been assured that there was nothing personal in the change in location of the clinic; but it is expected that there will be a decided slump in those excuses issued for minor disabilities.

Distance may lend enchantment—but the protests which greet the announcement of classes to be held in the agriculture auditorium is an indication of the students' attitude on physical exertion.

The problem facing the student body resolves itself into the following proposition: Is more energy required to fling oneself from one's downy couch into the cold realities of conscious existence, than to betake oneself over considerable distance, register illness while filling out a little tan slip, and return at some future date over said distance to obtain said slip.

WE LACK QUALITY, SAYS EDWARD BOK

Writer Claims Our Ideal is Quantity Only, in Recent Article

That we are a nation whose ideal is quantity instead of quality production and that the progress we have made may not be such an admirable thing, after all, considering the price we pay for it, is the opinion of Edward W. Bok, widely known writer, in an article in the October number of The Rotarian, Rotary club organ.

Lack of thoroughness in all that we do is one of the most glaring faults in the lives of the American people, he concludes.

"The American's lack of thoroughness is not because he does not want to be thorough," he declares, "but because thoroughness is not taught him as a child. On the contrary, the gospel of quantity and not quality is brought home to him the moment he reaches a point of understanding. When he gets into business he finds the gospel of quantity attuned to the nth degree.

Every step of manufacture is gauged by the amount of a day's work and how far below or above it is compared with the quantity produced on the same day last year. Rarely is the question asked: 'Is the product better?' A man's efficiency is gauged and based on how much he can produce.

"That is why in our education we are so deplorably lacking. The American wants to know, he wants to be intelligent, but he will not dig for it; he will not go to the source of information. The result is that as a nation we have an amazing quantity of general information, with an equal amazing amount of misinformation.

"The fundamental ignorance of the average American is staggering, as it must occur since there is no desire to be thorough.

CARDINAL SPORTS

ATHLETICS IN THE
COLLEGIATE WORLDVARSITY GRID MEN
FAIL TO STOP THE
YANNIGAN SQUADAll-Americans. With Reuland
Running Wild, Score on First Team

Another long drill on fundamentals, followed by a hard scrimmage, constituted the work for Coach Ryan's hopefuls yesterday afternoon. The varsity was on the defensive for the greater part of the time and failed to stop the All-Americans, who carried the ball up the field and ploughed through for a touchdown.

Larry Reuland Stars

Reuland, playing quarter for the Yannigans, fooled the varsity time after time on a fake cross buck play and slid through the tackles for the counter, getting his ankle neatly wrenched in the final plunge. He is ineligible this season, and his playing was on a par with that of other All-Americans of former seasons.

The first and second teams seemed able to gain at will against the scrubs, but were unable to stop their line bucking attack and will require a lot of drill on defense before they can hope to hold the hard-hitting Ames back.

Bucking Harness used

The bucking harness made its first appearance on the field, and Coach Ryan sent his entire string of backs heaving and tugging against the heavy leathers held by a couple of huskies.

While the backfield was thus engaged, the linemen were drilling on blocking, which seems to worry the coach quite a bit, and were then set to pushing the bucking ram all over Camp Randall.

McMasters at Tackle

Another shift in the lineup was made when McMasters, Whitewater Normal star, replaced Straubel at tackle. Although Mac is not in a red jersey, he has been showing a lot of fight and may be slated for a place on the squad.

The coach is still looking for a man to fit into the fullback position and tried Barnum at the post in preference to Stangel and Leo Harmon, but yanked him when he failed to show up on the defensive.

End Positions Juggled

The whole lineup has been juggled from time to time, especially the line, with the result that Percy Solbraa spent the greater part of the afternoon on the sidelines watching Burrus on right end. The lanky Louisville boy has been showing a lot of stuff and pulled in a pass in the Dakota game that netted 20 yards.

Pulaski, on the other end, is almost sure of his place as he seems to have a good edge over Blackman. Neither of the tackles on the varsity are resting any to easy, for McMasters is pushing Straubel hard, and Stannard is giving Leitl a big run for the place.

New Men Saturday

The game Saturday will probably see several new men in the game, and there is a possibility that both tackles, as well as several backfield positions, will be filled by what is looked on at present as second string material.

Danaghey a promising-looking end, and Stone, a fast quarterback, have both been declared ineligible and will no longer be seen on the field.

Hold Smoke Inspector
Examination This Week

An examination for applicants to fill the position of smoke inspector will probably be held the latter part of this week by the police and fire commission. A list of questions are now being compiled for use in the examination. The three candidates with the highest standing will be submitted to the common council for consideration. A special meeting of the council will probably be called early next week to elect an inspector.

Coach Vail Starts Work on Next Season's Badger Crew

First steps in the making of a 1925 Badger crew have been accomplished with one eight working as often as possible on the water and with greener material learning the fundamentals of rowing on the machines in the annex.

Uncertain weather and brisk fall winds make practice on the water uncertain but one eight has been able to get out two or three times. Coach Vail planned on about three crews on the water for fall practice.

Howard E. Johnson '24 has been appointed assistant crew coach by the athletic council and will handle the crews on the water this fall while Dad Vail, varsity coach, will work with the men inside. Johnson was captain of the crew in 1923 and stroked the varsity eight to second place in their sensational race at the Poughkeepsie regatta last spring.

That interest in rowing has increased is evidenced by the gain in enrollment in this year's rowing classes over that of last year. Approximately 140 men are taking rowing on the machines for gym credit which is an increase of thirty over last year.

Freshmen candidates reported yesterday afternoon and will begin work immediately on the machines.

SO IT SEEMS

By Ken and Ken

That fullback position seems to be bothering Ryan a great deal. In yesterday's session he tried Barnum, Harmon, and Stangel, all three.

One glaring fault that was uncovered in the North Dakota game last Saturday was that of blocking. Coach Ryan stated after the game that this was one great weakness, and that he and his assistants would set about to remedy it this week. In both Monday's and yesterday's workouts a great deal of attention was given to this phase of play.

Here's a good one from the basketball floor. Last night Coaches Meanwell and Levis met their freshman material. Captain Diebold, of the varsity, was standing on the sidelines looking over the material. A diligent frosh, trying out for frosh basketball manager, was passing out cards to the yearlings for them to fill in. He is a good picker. He passed one out, with all earnestness, to Captain Diebold.

We are in favor of letting the kids into the stands to see every preliminary game as long as there are so many rows of seats which will be vacant anyway. The little fellows are all potential Wisconsin supporters; some of them, perhaps, future Wisconsin athletes.

Don't blame us for this: Mother swims the breaststroke Father swims the crawl, Sister swims the trudgeon, Brother swims them all.

Grandad swims just dog fashion, It ain't no hy' falutin' name, He splashes like a drowning man, But he gets there just the same.

They were filling Joe Steinauer's bathtub yesterday, but, Joe, tell us, was that ink they were putting in. It was as black as mud soup.

We suppose Jack Ryan is breathing easier now since that hydroplane is gone. Some of his star athletes had a weakness for going up, Teckmeyer actually taking one.

"I didn't say goodbye to my machine, just said au revoir," said Lt. Lowell H. Smith, commander of the expedition, and pilot of the flag plane Chicago.

Badger Captains

No. 4—George Piper

Unlike most of the other Badger captains George Piper, leader of this year's cross country team, came to school here from the town of Sharon with no impressive record as a prep school athlete to help him break into university athletic circles.

On entering the university Piper enrolled in one of the freshman track classes and followed the routine of hundreds of other frosh in gym classes. During the year the strength of Piper attracted the attention of the coaches and he was persuaded to come out for cross-country and track in his sophomore year but failed to do anything out of the ordinary.

Last year George again tried out for the cross country team and that year his two years of previous training began to tell and Piper came through in great style and was always one of the members of the team that could be counted upon to fight all the way of that five mile grind over hill and dale. After the cross country season Piper went out for track specializing in the two mile. He, along with "Spike" Read, formed a pair of two milers that gave a good account of themselves all season.

This year, as captain of the team, Piper will end his athletic career by participating in what should be one of Wisconsin's most successful seasons. With Piper at the lead and a squad of excellent material to choose from there is no reason why George and his harriers should not annex the gonfalon in the Big Ten Cross Country race. Piper will leave Wisconsin with two of the coveted W's won in cross country.

Piper is an example of what hard work and strict adherence to training rules can do for an athlete. Coming here with no knowledge of athletics, he worked himself up to the captaincy of a varsity team through hard work. His spirit has been that of a true son of Wisconsin and he is well fitted to lead his team to victory.

Very Optimistic
About Gym Team

Hopes for a conference championship gym team looked very bright last night, when forty three men reported for the gym and fencing teams. According to Coach Schlatter, this is the largest turnout ever reported for either of these teams.

Captain Huck Schmidt, conference all-round champion, and Walter Huxley, last year's captain of the freshman squad, look like the two best bets for the team. Other veterans reporting include Hicks, Baker, Hiemke, Kress, Snawley, Weiss, and Dale.

Although no veteran fencers reported, Coach Schlatter believes the foils, duelling swords, and the sabres will be taken care of by capable men.

Meets will be held with the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A., La Crosse Normal, Chicago, Minnesota, Illinois, and possibly Northwestern.

The first practice will be held today at four thirty, and Coach Schlatter asks all men who are interested and did not attend the meeting, to see him some time today.

Frosh Basketeers
Get First Workout
Under Coach Levis

Wisconsin's frosh basketball aspirants took their initial workout Tuesday night under the tutelage of Coach George Levis. About 70 men answered the first call of their mentor.

The material appears to be promising, if not unduly exceptional, and contains names that have won honor in high school circles, but it remains to be seen how good they really are.

Coach Levis seems to have sufficient material for an unusually fast but not heavy squad of basketeers, and he expressed hope that a large number of them might develop into varsity material. He warned the men of the eligibility rule and stressed the necessity of promptly reporting for practice.

The frosh will receive light workouts for a period, but will engage the varsity later in scrimmage as in other seasons, and the yearling squad will be cut to 40 men by that time, according to Levis.

ALL-AMERICANS
NEEDED ON FIELDMen, Ineligible or Not, Are
Wanted to Scrimmage
Against Varsity

"More All-Americans" is the cry given out from the varsity football practice field as Ryan's squad is entering in on scrimmages in earnest. The All-Americans, a sort of gridiron tradition here, is made up of all men ineligible for varsity play, and each night they battle the regulars and try to outwit them. Many stars have played on this aggregation, including "Shorty" Barr, and last year the two Harmon brothers, now making good on the varsity, played with the ineligible.

"Gundy" Nelson is in charge of the All-Americans this year, and asks that any ineligible report to him at the varsity field any afternoon, when uniforms will be issued. He asks all players, even if they are doubtful of their ability, to report for a trial.

Players on this squad really get more experience than the regulars, it is pointed out, as they play, each week, the plays of the Big Ten school the varsity is to engage the following Saturday. The scouts give the All-Americans the dope, and the team follows them out and tries to imitate the style of play used by the various schools.

Nelson also wants soph players to report to get ready for the annual frosh-soph football classic. He reports that the yearlings are already practicing for the fray, and warns the second-year men to report and start practice.

Football First
Played at Boston
School, Not Yale

Many football enthusiasts think erroneously that the American game of football was founded and started at Yale and Harvard. This idea possibly grew out of the fact that from the early 80's until the 1910 period the so-called "big three" more or less dominated the game.

As a matter of fact, American football was founded at a Boston high school.

Last year a tablet was unveiled to Gerrit Smith Miller, the real father of this great school and college game. The plate reads:

"In honor of Gerrit Smith Miller, a member of Epes Sargent Dixwell's school, 1860-1865. Founder and captain of Oneida football club, Boston, 1862, the first organized football club in the United States."

The tablet was placed in the Noble and Greenough school, Dedham, Mass., because this school is the lineal descendant of the old Epes school where Mr. Miller was a pupil. During the four years of the Oneida's existence it enjoyed the distinction of not witnessing the crossing of their goal line. Mr. Miller and six members of this famous Oneida team still survive.

TENNIS ASPIRANTS
TO MEET FRIDAY
IN TROPHY ROOMCoach Masely Issues First Call
For Varsity and Frosh
Net Men

The first call for all aspirants for both the freshman and varsity tennis squads has been set for 4:30 Friday afternoon by Coach Masely. The meeting will be held in the trophy room of the men's gymnasium. Coach Masely wishes to interview all hopefuls and intends to pick a skeleton squad with which to start the coming spring season.

Men wanting to enter the all-university tennis tournament should sign up on the bulletin board on the first floor of the gym. All names must be on the board by Tuesday night, October 7. Drawings for the tournament will be made Wednesday morning and play will begin that afternoon. Frosh as well as upperclassmen may enter this contest.

Due to the coach's efforts, all courts belonging to the university will be equipped with standard heavy service nets. He expects to have eight clay and two concrete courts installed on University avenue, in addition to the present courts.

Harrier Squads
Must Work Hard
For Coming Meets

"The 1924 varsity Cross Country team looks mighty good on paper, but from the showing the team has made in the early practice it looks mighty poor. We have a very heavy schedule this fall, and the team will have to get down to some real intensive practice if we expect to win the conference title at Michigan on November 22," said Meade Burke, varsity Cross Country coach, to his candidates at a meeting last night.

50 men attended the meeting, and George Piper, cross country captain, and Lloyd Valley, track captain, each spoke a few words emphasizing the need of intensive practice in order to round out a championship team of harriers.

Piper, Perry, Schutt, Bergstreser, and Petaja have been showing up well in practice; and around these men the squad will be built. Hopes were boosted, when it was announced that Ray Kubly, star of last year's freshmen squad, is eligible for conference competition.

After the varsity meeting, Coach Burke talked to the freshmen. Those reporting were Chapman, Marshall, Rasmussen, Bullamore, Hanson, Stedman, Weyker, McKee, Esser, Sharp, Reeves, Swallow, Finnerty, Van De Mark, Elleson, Gumbreck, Hunley, Hatcher and Peterson. Of this number the most promising are McKee, who is a former St. John's Military Academy star; Reeves of Evanston, Illinois; Earl Elleson, who was a shining light while he attended Ripon College, and Richard Swallow, who hails from Danville, Illinois.

ANOTHER FAMILY TIE

It is a matter of great pleasure to the editors of the Daily Cardinal that the athletic department has signified its intention, and already set out to fulfill those intentions, of supplying the student newspaper with every bit of news that it can possibly divulge and of cooperating with the sporting editors of the Daily Cardinal in giving them news "tips." This year the sport editors have personal conferences with the athletic coaches every day following immediately upon the regular practice.

In a family spirit this new system is being instituted this year, for it is being recognized more and more that every department of the university is closely connected with every other department and should be working for each other in a spirit of co-operation for the general good and well being of the whole.

FACULTY OUTSIDE ACTIVITIES

Every so often some one bursts out with a tirade on the subject of undergraduate extra-curricular activities pro or con. In the magazines of the country and in the papers of the universities and colleges frequently appear some argument tearing down the so-called outside activities or bolstering up the principles upon which they are founded.

Work on publications, athletics, forensics, social events and the like is denounced as being bad for the student because of the fact that it takes his valuable time away from what should be the important matter at hand—that of obtaining an education. Such work is likewise praised on the other hand, because of the fact that it enhances the participants' chances for making friends, securing valuable experience and building up physical bearing.

But under any number of any student body, especially of this one here at Wisconsin, ever stop to think of the extra-curricular activities entered into by members of the faculty? No tirades are ever published on that score; no one appears in print as favoring faculty outside activities because they enable teachers to make friends, gain experience or build up physique; no one criticizes members of the faculty for entering into extra-curricular activities on the ground that by so doing the teachers impair their powers of doing their best on the chief matter at hand, that of giving education.

Yet the faculty are as active in proportion to their number as are the students. For the most part they are beyond the age when they are seeking new friends or experience or physical well-being, yet they enter wholeheartedly upon the business of working for the university outside of their regular teaching duties.

And, just as is the case in the student body, so is it with the faculty, that it is always the same persons who enter these outside activities. It is those men who serve on committees which have to do with undergraduate activities, who make speeches, help conduct meetings, advise publications as to their policies and work out plans for theatrical and forensic organizations that students should not forget to thank. They take up extra-curricular activities for no petty gains, not to acquire a host of badges and pins and charms; they enter into their work outside the class room simply because they are interested in undergraduate pursuits which they believe will increase the glory of Wisconsin, the purpose of education and the pleasure, in a broad sense, of the students.

THE SMOKE NUISANCE

Each year more or less organized protest is made against the smoke nuisance. But that protest has always been made hitherto in midwinter, a time when everybody has their coal, and hence, when nothing can be done.

The smoke nuisance is a familiar thing. With everybody burning soft coal, it is impossible for a student to open his windows on a winter's night with any hope of letting in fresh air. Instead of fresh air, coal smoke, with its accompaniments of foul odors and poisonous gases, pours in as a substitute for fresh pure air. It may be that the soft coal smoke is not physiologically dangerous, but there is no question about its being intensely disagreeable.

Notes From a Dean's Clinic

By G. C. SELLERY

2. OUTSIDE ACTIVITIES

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." That maxim reflects the aspirations of an age, long since gone in most places, when unrelieved toil was the common lot. It belongs to the era when our forefathers sang "O land of rest, for thee I sigh." The maxim of our time which carries more conviction is this: "all play and no work makes Jack withdraw from college."

Wisconsin's "outside activities" are mirrored in the "Badger". Their number is hard to count. They range from the great college game of football, which enlists almost as much partisanship and loyalty in contemporary America as chariot-racing did in sixth-century Constantinople, to the dramatic, musical, debating, and journalistic organizations which foster non-athletic graces. They have this in common with play: they are devoted to the employment of leisure hours. They are extra-curricular, not curricular. They come second not first. If they are put first the student is likely to be separated from both of them.

Bitter experience has shown that eagerness to get into "outside activities" has shipwrecked many a college career almost before it has begun. Run over the list of men you have known who "went out" for this or that as soon as they set foot on the campus, flashed fitfully across the academic horizon, and then disappeared. Does any one now recall the social group which sent its 12 pledges out in September to make a name for themselves and in February found their number reduced to one? I recall it. And well do I remember the youngster who excelled at a certain game in the high school (and in little else), came down with a resolve to become a student, was bulldozed by his fellows into going out for the team—"any good man can carry his studies and play the game too"—and went on the rocks.

"What's the matter here?" This is the matter: The average student coming to the university for the first time should make certain that he has got his studies well in hand before he "goes out" for anything. He is a fool to do otherwise. When he finds that his studies are "going strong," let him get into a good "activity," and make sure that it does not interfere with his studies. By putting his studies first, and carrying on his "activity" out of his leisure time, he will develop the power of concentration—perhaps the most valuable tool which man possesses. And the activities won't suffer. And parents' hearts won't be half-broken. It is the solemn truth that the best way to support the team is do your college work.

Merely a Contrib.—

The question is, are the freshmen losing their sense of humor? To an observing ear the forced laughs which floated from the class-rooms as the profs reviewed their annual wheezes sounded even less forceful than usual.

W. A. A. FOSTERS CO-ED ATHLETICS

Membership Qualifications and Awards Are Based on Points

The Women's Athletic association of the university sponsors interest and participation in athletics through their point system, under which membership in W. A. A. is earned by 125 points. The points are awarded for classified activities and sports, such as hockey, volleyball, tennis, dancing, rifle and the managership of any team.

Four goals in addition to membership keep the W. A. A. girls interested and active. Four hundred and fifty points are required to earn a "W" pin, 900 points for a small "W", and 1,200 points for a large "W". Exceptional service and contribution to W. A. A. and the university is rewarded by the symbolic gold pendant which is presented to a few senior "W" girls each year. Spirit, scholarship and service are considered in the selections.

A dance drama and field day at the end of the spring sports season is held by W. A. A. Tennis finals, interclass field and track meets, archery tournament and the championship baseball game are held at Camp Randall on field day.

W. A. A. plans to introduce all entering women to Camp Randall and the field house at a party on October 17. There are hockey fields, volley ball courts and archery fields, and a running track around the field house where there are lockers, showers and dressing rooms for women.

Thirteen Books of Fiction Are Added to S. G. A. Library

Thirteen new books of fiction and non-fiction have been added to the S. G. A. library, which, including the old books, makes a total of about 100 books. The library will reopen Friday in the new reading room in Lathrop hall. The books may be drawn free of charge.

The novels included in the new books are "The Tattooed Countess" by Carl Van Vechten, "A Man in the Zoo" by David Garnett, "The Divine Lady" by E. Barrington, Edith Wharton's "Old New York" which is comprised of four novelets, "The Spark," "The Old Maid," "The False Dawn," and "New Year's Day," "Heirs Apparent" by Philip Gibbs, and "Saint Joan" by George Bernard Shaw are also recent additions.

"Some Contemporary Americans" by Percy Boynton, professor of English in the University of Chicago; "Gypsy Fires in America," by Irving Brown, a former Wisconsin man; "The Spoon River Anthology" by Edgar Lee Masters, and "The Well Dressed Woman" by Anne Rittenhouse, complete the list of new books.

FROSH ENTERTAINED AT CHADBOURNE ROAST

Raw, burned or browned marshmallows, a crackling bonfire, and favorite campus songs entertained the freshmen of Chadbourne hall at a roast given them by the upperclassmen on the drive early last evening.

"The fall roast is one of Chadbourne's traditions," Pauline Patterson '25, social chairman, said.

Because of many withdrawals Chadbourne does not have its full quota of freshmen this year. According to the constitution of this hall the number of upperclassmen is limited each year to allow the freshman quota of 60. Lots are drawn by the upperclassmen each spring to determine who shall return to the hall.

NEW ORLEANS, La.—Mourning as killed in a battle in France six years ago, and finally laid to rest in his native state, John Bergeron, of Menasha, Wis., is a convict in the federal prison in Atlanta under the name of Robert St. Clair, with several aliases, it became known here last night, on the return from the Georgia city of F. W. Bergeron, who identified the prisoner as his son.

The elder Bergeron stated he was sure of the identification but added that Bergeron, who was gassed or wounded in the world war in France during the fighting of July 1918, "has changed."

St. Claire or Bergeron arrested in New Iberia, La., charged with having transported a stolen automobile from Jackson, Miss., to that place, was indicted here by a federal grand jury and upon a plea of guilty was sentenced to 18 months in the Atlanta penitentiary. He was indicted in the name of Robert St. Claire, alias Dr. Robert E. Frank, alias Robert E. Taylor. At the time of his trial he was said to have been wanted in Wisconsin and middle western and southwestern states on various charges.

A Dr. Frank figured in the sensational elopement case at Grantsburg, Wis., about a year ago when he and his wife's niece, Marion Christopherson, 17 years old, eloped. The convict is said to be the same man who is wanted in western cities in connection with a series of illegal marriages.

Bergeron's parents were notified by the war department that their son had been killed in action, July 13, 1918, although they had received a letter from Bergeron in a French hospital dated July 25, 1918, they accepted the casket bearing the body of a soldier reaching Me-

Fraternities

Beginning Thursday morning there will be full lists of fraternity pledges run in this section of the Daily Cardinal. All lists of pledges must be turned in at the Daily Cardinal office on the second floor of the Union building by 3 o'clock Wednesday. Leave lists on spindles labeled "Society." The lists should include the names of the men, their numerals, and their home towns.

Social Events Are Now Being Planned
For Winter Season

Now that classes have begun and things in general are getting settled down, social affairs are being planned for the coming season. Sororities are making plans for open house; a number will hold this function on this coming Sunday, and others will entertain within the next two or three weeks. Fraternities and sororities are planning their semester parties now, Union Board has started its weekly dances and has arranged for the first Union Board concert series, Y. W. C. A. vesperes will begin soon, and S. G. A. cosies and dancing classes will also be organized within a few days.

Bergeron's release from the penitentiary is being sought on the ground that as a war casualty his alleged crimes were those of a mental incompetent.

GRANTSBURG, Wis.—On Dec. 14, 1923, Marion Christopherson, 17 year old honor student at the high school here, vanished from Minneapolis with her uncle by marriage Dr. Robert C. Frank.

On the pretext that he was ill, Dr. Frank left his bride of two months ostensibly to go to Albuquerque, New Mex., and contrived an elopement with his young niece by asking at the last moment that she be allowed to accompany him in order that he might be cared for. His promise was to send for his bride and her family when he reached the south.

Three months later, Marion wandered into the Salvation Army home in San Francisco, deserted by her uncle, penniless, but still vowing her love for him.

A police search for Frank was extended to all parts of the south.

His arrest on a charge of speeding in a Louisiana town three weeks after Marion was found, led to Frank being jailed when police became suspicious of the ownership of his car.

Hiram Again Assails
Ban On La Follette

SAN FRANCISCO—The state supreme court which denied the right of the La Follette and Wheeler electors to appear on the California ballot under the independent heading is "controlled by partisanship," Senator Hiram W. Johnson declared yesterday. "It would be more appropriate that independent electors should be chosen, but we cannot assume that the independent Progressive citizens of California will not hesitate to vote for electors under the Socialist label, when a court controlled by partisanship denies them their constitutional rights," he said.

MRS. FERGUSON TO BE ON BALLOT

Final Decision of Qualifications to Be Made Next Monday

AUSTIN, Texas—Final decision as to the qualification of Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, Democratic nominee, to be governor of Texas remained, today to be made by the state supreme court, probably next week. Dist. Judge George C. Calhoun, in a verbal opinion yesterday brushed aside the common law barriers against the right of a woman to hold office and ruled that Mrs. Ferguson is legally qualified to fill the place to which she aspires.

Counsel for the plaintiff, Charles M. Dickson, San Antonio, attorney gave notice of appeal to the court of civil appeals. It was expected that the appellate court would certify the questions to the supreme tribunal, which meets Monday.

Judge Calhoun's decision was a refusal to grant a temporary injunction to restrain election officials from placing Mrs. Ferguson's name on the ballot in November. He declared that neither the constitution of Texas nor the statutes bar women from office and that the conceptions of women's position under the old common law as being too delicate for the arduous official duties and as lacking sufficient education had gradually changed as women became more educated and old ideas gave way to the modern conception that women are in all things the equal of men.

The court further ruled that the impeachment of former governor, James E. Ferguson, could not be visited upon his wife.

LA FOLLETTE TO SPEAK IN EAST

Will Not Appear in Wisconsin; Philip May Accompany Him

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Sen. La Follette will probably start his speaking tour in the east Oct. 6 covering points in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Missouri and Nebraska before striking out for the Pacific coast.

His itinerary of between fifteen and eighteen speeches does not call for an appearance in Wisconsin but he will probably speak at both Chicago and St. Paul.

It is probable his son Philip will accompany him on the tour.

The senator is in excellent physical condition. He believes he can make daily appearances on the platform but he will be urged to limit his speeches at three or four a week. He will probably return from the Pacific to finish his campaign in the east.

Wheeler in Colorado
DENVER, Colo.—His two-day stay in Denver concluded, Sen. Wheeler returned today to his special car and resumed his stumping tour. He left early for Cheyenne, Wyo., his next stop.

Colorado managers of the third ticket campaign, however, arranged two additional speaking engagements for him enroute, both station stops, one at Boulder and the other at Fort Collins. He will proceed into Montana in time to make Billings Wednesday and Butte Thursday.

Governor Blaine Attacks Klan in Stirring Speech

MT. CALVARY—An attack upon bigotry and intolerance and "invisible empires" was made by Gov. John J. Blaine speaking Sunday afternoon at a local church gathering. The executive said such movements have been "the curse of every age" and that their "is no place in Wisconsin for organizations promoting such."

"In the solution of our economic and social problems, we need a broad fraternity and larger brotherhood, especially in these days of bigotry and intolerance," the governor said. "Fraternity and brotherhood stand for all that is good. Bigotry and intolerance bring together all the hatreds and they are a menacing plague."

Saturday half holidays for postal employees at Madison were discontinued last Saturday. The order had been in effect since last spring.

JUNIOR ADVISORY TEAS BEGIN SOON

Chadbourne Freshmen Will Be Guests at First Series of Teas

Chadbourne freshmen will be guests of their junior advisers Thursday afternoon at the first of the junior advisory teas which will be held for each respective district every Tuesday and Thursday from 4:30 to 6 o'clock in the apartment of Dean Nardin at 612 Howard place.

The Latin quarter is divided into districts and each junior woman has a freshman advisee in her district. This system is a part of the general plan of S. G. A. to help the new girls to become acquainted.

Each district will have its individual teas, and the chairman of that district acts as hostess with the assistance of two faculty members.

The junior advisory system not only helps the new girls the first few weeks of school, but, beside the large general mixers and teas which are always held before classes start, the system carries on through the entire year, according to Genieve Ellis '26, general chairman.

"Plans are also being developed to have a junior advisory week immediately before mid-semester examinations during which each junior will make a personal call upon her advisee," Miss Ellis said in discussing the plans for the year.

At the first of the second semester a general tea will be held for all the new girls entering then.

The chairmen of the various districts and the dates for the teas are October 2, Chadbourne hall, Mary Schneider, chairman; Tuesday, October 7, Francis street, Rena Grubb, chairman; Thursday, October 9, State, Gilman, and Henry streets, Edith Norris and Julia Peet, chairmen; Tuesday, October 14, Langdon and Howard court, Alice Drews, Margaret Wagner, and Edith Boyes, chairmen.

Tuesday, October 21, W. Dayton, Johnson, N. Murray, and Park streets, Beatrice Beatty and Louise McNaugh, chairmen; Thursday, October 23, east of the Capitol and University avenue, Beulah Naset, chairman; Tuesday, October 28, Barnard hall, Miriam Inglis, chairman; Thursday, October 30, Heights and Wingra park, Margaret Morning, chairman; Tuesday, November 4, Lake, Mills, and Brook streets, Lillian Twenhofel, Gen Drake, chairmen; Thursday, November 6, East side, Janet Clark, chairman; Genieve Ellis, general chairman; Alice Colony, publicity.

Meeting Rooms at Y. M. C. A. Will Be Redecorated Soon

The Green and cabinet rooms on the second floor of the Y. M. C. A. will be redecorated and refinished during the next two weeks, it was announced at the meeting of the association cabinet Tuesday noon.

"This change is made to make the Y. M. C. A. of more service to the members in the university," Clifford Franseen '25, president said. "It will offer another place where student groups may meet or gather for conferences. Students will have these rooms for quiet study, letter-writing or reading."

Announcement was made of the first discussion group which will meet in the parlors of the university association at 9 o'clock Sunday morning. Other bible study and discussion groups will be organized later.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 30.—Thomas Cavanaugh '27 was appointed president of the Michigan union yesterday. He succeeds William J. Wilkins '26 whose resignation was recently sent into the board of directors.

U. W. Press Bureau Reaches All Parts of United States

"Fifteen hundred copies of the Press Bulletin of the University of Wisconsin are sent weekly to various newspapers throughout the country, and 50 percent of this number is sent to state papers," says Miss Kay Perry of the journalism department.

The journalism department maintains this university news exchange, publishing news which may be of interest to members outside the university. Several columns are written by members of the College of Agriculture. Other articles pertain to new books written by faculty members, researches conducted by the university, and activities of the students that are of interest to people outside the university.

Prof. Grant M. Hyde of the journalism department is editor of the Press Bulletin, and members of the journalism department aid in mailing it to outlying points the first part of the week, and to newspapers within the state on Tuesday, except local points which receive it on Wednesday.

U. W. MEN WIN IOWA DAIRY JUDGING EVENTS

First place in the recent dairy judging contest which was a part of the dairy cattle show at Waterloo, Iowa, was won by a team from the University of Wisconsin. First place in three events of the contest and second in a fourth event were garnered by the local students.

Cups offered by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America, the National Ayrshire Breeders' association and a plaque from the American Guernsey Cattle club were presented to the Wisconsin team.

The highest individual score was made by George Klowser '25. Other members of the local team were Harry Hill, George Bracke '26 and Walter Farner '26. The team was coached by Prof. R. S. Hulce of the animal husbandry department.
