LIFE MEMBERSHIPS

"Organized alumni work to be of permanent value must be assured of continued and adequate support. There is but one way in which this can be assured and that is by an endowment. The usual way of providing for this endowment is by the sale of life memberships. Experience has shown it is wise to have this membership large enough so as to provide for the furnishing of the alumni publication free to life members."—From Hand Book of Alumni Work for the Association of Alumni Secretaries.

"A state has no business to own and support a university not manned by the best men she can attract into her service, and should pay any compensation necessary to attract and keep such men. Fortunately, honor, permanence of employment, and generous treatment, are of more account to the 'best man' than dollars, but dollars should be freely disbursed when other universities bid higher for experts."

That nearly one-half of the 13,000 living graduates of the University now live in the State of Wisconsin is shown from the following tabulation of such graduates by counties. Dane County leads with 1,652. Milwaukee County is the only other one having over 200. Eau Claire, Fond du Lac, Grant, Jefferson, La Crosse, Racine, Rock, Sauk, Sheboygan, Walworth, Waukesha, and Winnebago Counties pass the century mark. Adams, Burnett, Florence, Marquette, Sawyer, Vilas, and Washburn have less than ten each. Florence tops the list with two. (Figures furnished by H. L. Ashworth.)

The Regents did one of the biggest things they have ever done for the student body when they turned the building at 752 Langdon Street over to the Union Board. Now that our various publications have commodious quarters and do not have to move from one unoccupied corner to another every six weeks the way they have been obliged to do during the past few years, they can be put on to a permanent basis and put their efforts to constructive work, which could not be done while there was the constant worry over being obliged to move with every issue.—L. J. R.

The inadequate salaries received by teachers in institutions of higher learning since the general high cost of living advanced by more than seventy per cent is not confined to Wisconsin. Everywhere throughout the United States, members of the teaching profession are suffering from the advance in living expenses while salaries have stood still or lagged comparatively far in the rear. Everywhere the professor has found his duties more burdensome, not alone because of the extraordinary increase in enrollment, but also by the deplorable fact that to recruit desirable young men as assistants and instructors has been extremely difficult, and in many instances impossible. The ambitious younger men have not been blind to the predicament of their older superiors who are enduring increased living expenses, performing more and more work, securing less and less assistance, and receiving relatively stationary pay which really means less pay. Temporarily some advances in the pay of beginners and assistants have been possible, but except as in emergency measures, they are of but slight benefit. American educators were paid so comparatively little before the war that the successful physician, lawyer, engineer, or business man could not only make more money than the successful teacher among his own classmates, but more than the self-sacrificing professor who had instructed him in college. Cornell, Harvard, and Princeton are now hard at work trying to secure increased endowments for salaries. Here in Wisconsin, we are each month voting bond issues for good roads in single counties that equal the amounts these great institutions expect to receive through organized campaigns for private subscriptions. Full and fair publicity of the facts of the case will unquestionably receive full and fair consideration by the people of Wisconsin. A competent committee of the faculty is at work compiling such facts. The Alumni Association has offered space in the MAGAZINE to said committee. The members of the Alumni Association can do much toward seeing that public-spirited citizens and particularly local newspapers everywhere are given the benefit of reports by this faculty committee subsequent to the publication of the same in THE ALUMNI MAGAZINE.

The new alumni directory is finally in the making. When this directory is completed, it will be of much assistance to a large number of loyal University graduates and former students who, realizing the benefits of cooperative efforts in behalf of the University, are desirous of strengthening local U. W. Clubs already formed and ambitious to organize new clubs. While the system of county government in Wisconsin does not lend itself to the formations of organizations having the county as the geographical unit quite as easily as does the system of government in Indiana, we can learn much from our Hoosier friends, who have local university organizations in every county of their state. Two essential elements are requisite and necessary for the successful formation and maintenance of a strong county club of University people. First, local enthusiasm, initiative, and a spirit of being willing to sacrifice some individual ideas for the sake of a collective group spirit; and secondly, the willingness and readiness on the part of the University itself to send speakers and leaders to these county organizations. Some years ago we recall asking a faculty member to give an address at a local University club. The excuses he gave were amusing. Only the other day we heard him expound on how organized alumni ought to take the initiative in this matter of professorial salaries. Lend a hand brother! Remember the biblical gent who buried his one talent—even the Lord would not do much for him. For several years the alumni organization has sparred for an opening on this local club proposition. Any time after the new directory is published when the administration, faculty, and regents are whole-heartedly and enthusiastically behind the plan, we are "rearing to go."

THE SALARY PROBLEM

Aid in securing an early increase in salaries for the entire instructional staff of the University was pledged by the Alumni Council, at a meeting held in Madison, Nov. 1.

"The alumni appreciate the seriousness of the situation and are ready to do all in their power to bring about the needed relief," said J. S. Lord, '04, Chicago, former president of the Alumni Association.

"The entire instructional force of the University is underpaid. This situation affects not only the teaching force of the present, but that of the future, for potential instructors and professors are going into other lines of work.

"We shall take up the matter with the entire body of alumni and urge them to bring pressure to bear upon the legislature.

"The legislators are not in any way unfriendly to the University, but they must be made to understand the situation. They do not yet realize what the present low rate of salaries means to the State and the University.

"Other states in this section of the country are planning to pay higher salaries, and it becomes incumbent upon us to do the same. An underpaid, and hence discontented, faculty cannot instill into students the same spirit as a well-paid and contented staff.

"Loyalty alone has kept many professors at their jobs, but we cannot expect loyalty to keep them here indefinitely, when more remunerative positions are being offered elsewhere."

J. S. Lord

University Salaries With Which Wisconsin Must Compete

At Leland Stanford University what has been the maximum salary of the different grades of university instructors and professors has now become the minimum.

The rise in the scale has been as follows: Professors are to range from the former maximum of $4500 up to the new maximum of $7500; associate professors from the former maximum of $3250 to $4000; assistant professors from the former maximum of $2500 to $3000; instructors from the former maximum of $1800 to $2400.

At the University of Michigan the maximum salary of professors in the College of Arts (Letters and Sciences) is now $6000.

At Harvard University the maximum salary paid to the men upon the staff before the beginning of the present vigorous drive for large increases, was $5500. The alumni of Harvard University, in their drive for further funds, have already passed well beyond the $9,000,000 mark. The intention is to raise $15,000,000, the income from which will be chiefly used for increases in the salaries of the staff.

Exceptional salaries are paid in law schools on account of the competition with the legal profession in active practice. Two former University of Wisconsin professors teaching in the Columbia Law School are now receiving salaries of $10,000 a year.

Chicago University, likewise, has recently raised the maximum salary in its commerce department from $7000 to $10,000.

Dr. C. H. Vilas, '65, president of the Board of Regents, said:

"The Board of Regents would have been glad to increase salaries this year, but lacked funds. The legislature was asked epoch in its history, one of great promise of large success, and also one of great and difficult problems on whose solution its future depends.

"Some of these, like that of the immediate provision for teaching, are solved to increase the appropriation, but was unwilling at this time to place a heavier tax burden upon the people. We hope that the next legislature, however, will see its way clear to make the necessary appropriations."

In his address to visiting alumni at the Homecoming, Pres. E. A. Birge said:

"The opening of the year brought with it a flood of old students returning to us, and of new students entering the University, together with a crowd of soldier bonus students, young men and old. So great is this number that you return to find the University entering on a new in whole or in part. Others belong to the future, in which they will be solved. The question most pressing of all—that of adequate salaries for teachers—is urgent both as a matter for the present and for the future, and in all of them the University and the State need your help to make real as never before our motto, 'On Wisconsin.' Here is, perhaps, a greeting too serious for a homecoming game, but we welcome you here not only to help us cheer the team, we welcome you also as sons and daughters of Alma Mater, sharing all of her successes and all of her cares. You come here to strengthen and renew these ties that bind you and your home. You go out again with a fresh affection for the University and a new will to aid her in her great work."

REPORT OF BOARD OF VISITORS

WE renew our recommendation of a series of lectures so planned as to reach all freshmen, constituting a brief course in ethics and dealing particularly with the problems of university life. Very helpful lectures are now given by certain members of the faculty; an extension of the work now done would apparently not be difficult and would certainly aid many students in the formative period of their college life. Special emphasis should be put upon the desirability of maintaining simplicity in life and manners and restraining the present tendency toward excessive social activity.

(2) We also renew our former recommendation of a course, or courses, of instruction in methods of study and the successful carrying on of university work, to be given all freshmen. The transition from high school to university is difficult and most students need assistance and stimulus. There is opportunity for the right man or woman to encourage and animate the incoming body of students and to preserve or create the intellectual enthusiasm now apparently lacking in so large a proportion of students.

It seems to us that a due regard to the dignity of the institution and to the health of faculty and students demands something more in the way of simple decoration and a decided improvement in the janitor service. A somewhat prolonged observation of conditions leads us to the conclusion that a university housekeeper should be employed—a woman of ability and energy who should act as a general inspector of all the university buildings.

The lack of dignity and neatness which should characterize the buildings of the University is particularly noticeable in the building occupied by the Extension Department in Milwaukee. This building is physically unattractive and is not well kept.

(3) It is difficult to maintain intellectual enthusiasm without first-rate teaching; and first-rate teaching usually requires a first-rate man. There is still too much teaching done in the university by men and women who may be or become first-rate teachers but who are immature and inexperienced. During the past year there has been more teaching of freshmen, even in the technical courses, by undergraduates, or inexperienced recent graduates, than should be permitted. Teaching is an art and a difficult one and we reaffirm the opinions heretofore expressed that freshmen ought so far as possible to be taught by men of rank and experience, and that the teaching of new and inexperienced instructors should be supervised.

(4) In this connection it is proper to say that we are not unmindful of the difficulties under which the university labors in the obtaining and retaining of a suitable faculty, nor of the corresponding troubles of the members of the faculty, due to a salary scale which has lagged far behind the increased cost of living. We feel, as we understand your board does, that every practicable effort should be made to put the present salary list upon a basis more nearly commensurate with present conditions.

(5) We call attention to the physical condition of many of the rooms in the various buildings, particularly in University Hall. There is serious need of paint and minor repairs and of greater cleanliness; plumbing, locks and latches and seats are out of order and the janitor service is not good.

(6) We have already discussed, informally the condition of the law library. The annual additions to the library are now considerable and the limit of the present quarters seems to have been reached. No further load should be placed upon the second floor of the building. It seems to us that the entire west end of the building must ultimately be given up to the library and this portion of the building should be made fireproof when the funds are available. As a means of temporary relief the removal of some of the rarely used books to the Historical Library Building may be practicable.

(7) The inspection and supervision of rooming and boarding-houses occupied by young women is on the whole quite efficient and satisfactory. There have been, however, during the past years some cases of laxness in observing the S. G. A. rules, which show the need of constant vigilance.

The physical conditions in some of the houses occupied by young men have led us to suggest that the system of occasional inspection throughout the year should be extended so as to cover all rooming houses. Until the erection of one or more dormitories sets a standard of price and of service supervision by university authorities seems to be necessary.

(8) The Extension Department is gaining in scope and usefulness. There is a great opportunity for still farther development, particularly in the City of Milwaukee.

The Americanization work now in progress is of the highest importance and will, we feel certain, play a great part in the social and political development of the State.

(9) For several years there has been informal discussion of the affairs of the Cardinal. The editors and managers of the paper have been working under very unfavorable conditions and the situation has become almost intolerable. It is not now possible to get out a paper really creditable to the institution, or to get out any paper without an unnecessary waste of time and energy.

While the Cardinal is primarily the organ of the student body and its independence should be preserved and respected, it is also representative of the life and ideals of the University. It should have a place on "The Hill" with the necessary mechanical equipment and should be in position to cooperate with the Departments of Journalism and Commerce.

The present Cardinal board is desirous of bringing about these results and we recommend that suitable quarters be provided in South Hall and that financial assistance be given in the form of a subsidy or loan to aid in the purchase of the necessary equipment.

J. E. McCONNELL, Chairman.

IMOGENE H. CARPENTER, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE REGENT COMMITTEE

REPLYING to the report of the Board of Visitors submitted at a meeting of the Regents held June 24, 1919, it is recommended that Items 1 and 2 be referred to the University faculty with a request that they report on these subjects.

The Regents appreciate the situation of the teaching staff as outlined in paragraphs 3 and 4. With the gradual return of faculty members who have been absent during the war, more experienced faculty men will be available. It is recommended that the question of supervision of new and inexperienced instructors be referred to the faculty for consideration and report. The Regents realize that the matter of adequate salaries requires further and in fact almost continuous study. It is expected that it will be necessary to ask for increased funds from the State before this matter will approach a satisfactory condition.

Regarding Item 5, the matter of maintenance, the Regents appreciate the criticisms brought out in the Report of the Board of Visitors, and regret that the appropriations of the legislature for the biennium of 1919-21 are considerably below the requests presented by the Board.

The enormous increase in the cost of such material as is required and the extreme difficulty in getting men needed for this work, has made it difficult to keep repairs and maintenance up to the standard of the past. Still further, during the past two years, the government specifically requested that all work of this kind should be postponed as far as possible, which, coupled with the presence of the S. A. T. C., account in large measure for the existing conditions. It is the plan of the Regents to attempt as rapidly as possible to continue the work of rehabilitation, and to that end a reorganization of the employees has been effected. The new Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds has already secured more adequate inspection and is considering the recommendation of employing a woman for this purpose.

The Regents agree with the recommendation in Item 6 regarding the Law Library.

In fact, the plan of the administration for future improvement of this building is identical with the recommendation of the Board of Visitors.

The Regents during the past winter took action regarding the inspection of rooming and boarding houses, and included fraternity and sorority buildings as well. The recommendation of the Board of Visitors will be communicated to the University Committee on Student Life and Interests.

With the return of Dean Reber, it is expected that plans will be developed for the continuance of the excellent work done by the University Extension Division, and it is hoped that improvements will soon be apparent in this department of the University.

The Regents have considered the problem of adequate space for the Cardinal staff, and agree with the general plan of locating this on University ground as soon as possible.

It is, however, impossible for the Regents to make an advance of funds for financing this project, and with the extreme difficulty of operating a private plant of this kind, coupled with legal restrictions regarding printing, it is felt that the question of locating the Cardinal press in a University building should wait until adequate funds and a more definite plan of organization can be submitted for consideration.

The Board of Regents desire to take this opportunity to express to the Board of Visitors their appreciation of their work, and the helpful suggestions contained in their report.

As the minutes of the last meeting were published in the August issue of the WISCONSIN ALUMNI MAGAZINE, their reading was dispensed with.

Motion made and seconded that the president appoint a nominating committee to consider the election of president, vice-president, recording secretary, and two members of the Alumni Board. Motion carried.

Mrs. W. A. Scott, '97, Thomas Lloyd Jones, '96, and F. H. Elwell, '08, were appointed to act on this committee.

A very favorable report of the condition of the treasury was made by Treasurer C. N. Brown, '81.

As chairman of the funds committee, C. B. Rogers, '93, offered the following resolution:

Whereas a life membership in the Alumni Association now costs $50, and that is the approximate amount necessary to carry each membership and,

Whereas there are now 47 paid up life memberships and 7 partially paid life memberships, and

Whereas the life membership fund strictly so-called, as set aside and permanently invested amounts to but $600.

Now therefore Be it Resolved, with the approval of the Alumni Board that there be transferred from the general funds a sufficient amount to create an endowment fund, subject to such disposition as may be conformable to the constitution, so that such fund, including the amount now on hand shall equal $50 for every paid up life membership and whatever has been paid in to date on partially paid life memberships, such funds to be so invested in good real estate and bond securities.

Motion made and seconded that the above resolution be adopted. Motion carried.

The question of starting reunion plans early was discussed.

President F. H. Clausen, '97, gave a very favorable report on the activities of the Memorial Union Project.

Dr. C. H. Vilas, '65, President of the Board of Regents, discussed the question of the salaries of the faculty of the University and advised the alumni throughout the State to organize in such a way as to have some influence on the legislators and thus assure the University of the funds needed.

Motion made and seconded that a committee consisting of the president and two other members be appointed to act in behalf of the Association in the effort to see that proper salaries are paid to the faculty of the University. Motion carried.

A. W. McConnell, '87 and A. W. Hopkins '03 were appointed on such committee.

The nominating committee recommended that F. H. Clausen, '97, act as president for another year; A. W. McConnell, '87, as vice-president; Lillian Taylor, '05, as recording secretary; that Mrs. T. E. Brittingham, '89 be reelected as a member of the Board; that L. F. Van Hagan, '04 be elected as a member of the Board to represent the College of Engineering.

Motion made and seconded that the secretary cast a ballot. Motion carried.

Secretary R. S. Crawford, '03, gave a report on the number of members of the Wisconsin Alumni Association as 5,187.

On recommendation of the Alumni Board, W. A. Foster, '15, of Elkhorn, was appointed a member of the Board of Visitors to succeed Richard Lloyd Jones, who resigned in June. Mr. Foster had been previously appointed a member of the Board of Visitors but had not served owing to the fact that he entered the army.

The following telegram from Harvey Holmes, '00, of Pocatello, Idaho, was read at the council meeting:

"Greetings to Home-comers. Hope Wisconsin wins game November 1."

The meeting adjourned at 12:00 M.

ALUMNI BOARD MEETING

THE meeting of the Alumni Board was held at the Alumni Headquarters, 821 State St., Madison, at 9:30 A. M., Nov. 1, President F. H. Clausen, '97, presiding. The following members were present:

THE 1919 HOMECOMING

By CLARENCE JOERNDT, '20,
General Chairman

TWENTY thousand people at the game and a profit of at least seven hundred fifty dollars by the committee in charge gives a picture of the real success of the 1919 Homecoming.

Early in fall the committee distributed some eight thousand circular letters which promised to every returning alumni the greatest week-end in university history. That promise was faithfully fulfilled, and every alumnus here made it a point to express his conviction that the 1919 Homecoming had been all that had been promised.

The responsibility for the success of the undertaking fell directly upon the shoulders of some seventy people who comprised the Homecoming Committee. From the very beginning the members of the committee realized that their task was a heavy one, and each and every one set himself to do his very best. Too much commendation, therefore, cannot be given to the following students who worked in the capacities as outlined:

Assistant general chairman—Doris Simonson, Floyd Hewett, Harold Draper. Publicity—John McPherrin, chairman; Walter Schwinn, Ella M. Schulz, Carson Lyman, Bernard Meyers. Decorations—Stanley McCandless, chairman; George Beardsley, Fred Sperry, Kirke Avery, Harry Westphal. Programs—Harold Gill, editor, William Florea, business manager; Clarence Rasmussen, Florence Wright, Elmer Snyder, Ralph Falstad, Donald Bailey, Henrietta Schaffner. Aline Elles, manager of distribution; Joseph Bollender, Vincent O'Shea, Bonnie Hawthorne, Ludlow North, Dorothy Dwight, Irene Haley, Dorothy Shaner. Button sale—Helen Snyder, chairman; Women's Athletic Association. Special stunts—Lothrop Follette, chairman Ku Klux Klan, Alumni—Loring Hammond, chairman; Robert McDonald Stuart, A. Pond, Clarence McIntosh, Franklin Bump, Elizabeth Snider. Registration—Marion Dickens, Chairman; Margaret McDowell, Dorothy Ware. Reception—Helen Sackett, chairman; Mabel M. Smith, Dorcas Hall, Marjorie Simpson, Helen Cheetham, Bertha Blaul, Esther Haven. Parade and bonfire—Willard Duncan, chairman; Daniel Murphy, Geo. Thiesen. Mass meeting—John Brindley, chairman; De Witt Pinkerton, Thomas Brittingham, Hubert Perrin. Homecoming dance—Frederick Stuhler, chairman; Adolph Teckmeyer, Lloyd Strobe, Irene Haley, Charles Culbertson. Finance—Ray Linehan, chairman; Marcus Link, Mabel Winter, A. Hubert Fee.

Several features of the 1919 Homecoming call for special mention. The first of these features—and the outstanding feature of the week-end—was the scheme of decorations. The problem of decorations had been early put in the hands of Stanley McCandless, and he set to work to produce the best in decorations. Assisted by George Beardsley, Fred Sperry, Kirke Avery, and Harry Westphal he "did the job up brown." Every fraternity and sorority house on the campus was a maze of cardinal and white. Every store on State Street and the square was likewise in cardinal and white. While at the football field itself was artistically displayed the colors of our country. Few were there among the alumni who did not express their admiration for the work done by these men.

As in previous years silver loving-cups were offered for the best decorated fraternity, sorority, and dormitory. The decision of the judges awarded the prizes as follows:

Fraternities—Sigma Nu, first place, Phi Kappa Sigma, first honorable mention, Theta Xi, second honorable mention. Sororities—Delta Gamma, first place, Gamma Phi Beta, first honorable mention, Pi Beta Phi, second honorable mention. Dormitories—Chadbourne Hall.

A second feature was the printed program for the game. It differed considerably from previous programs, and that difference made its success. Included in the fifty-two pages were the histories of Wisconsin in football, basketball, baseball, track, cross-country, and minor sports. The booklet included also pictures of many of Wisconsin's famous athletes. Besides space was found in which information about the game itself might be written. The credit for the make-up of the book is due entirely to Harold Gill who, after the idea had been conveyed to him, made it a true history of Wisconsin in athletics.

To distribute the pamphlet was a problem. Aline Elles was early appointed as the manager of distribution. She realized at once that to sell and distribute six thousand copies was a tremendous task. Shortly after her appointment the plan of campaign was announced. Two silver loving-cups were offered as prizes—one to the sorority or rooming-house selling the greatest number of programs and the second to the individual selling the greatest number. With these cups as incentives the girls began work and during the week-end sold some five thousand copies. Gamma Phi Beta won the cup offered to the sorority or rooming-house with a grand total of 1,052 copies sold. Dorothy Crook won the second cup with a grand total of 475 sold. Special mention must be given here to the girls of Kappa Alpha Theta, who, led by Ruth Dickover, sold copies to the number of 1,002.

A third feature of the week-end was the Homecoming Dance of Saturday, November 1. Early in the school term the fraternities had been petitioned to give their house dances on Friday night and to leave Saturday for the Homecoming Committee. The fraternities responded practically unanimously, and as a result the students in charge of the dance were able to give a successful Homecoming Dance. Too much credit cannot be given to Frederick Stuhler, Adolph Teckmeyer, Lloyd Strope, Irene Haley, and Charles Culbertson for the work which they accomplished.

As in previous years the Women's Athletic Association conducted the Button Sale. Under the direction of Helen Snyder, Auto Lyman, and Margaret Shepard ten teams of girls worked industriously for two and one-half days. Their services to the 1919 Homecoming can never be fully expressed. They fulfilled their functions as had been hoped, and to them the alumni and students of Wisconsin owe a deep debt of gratitude.

There were other things about the 1919 Homecoming which made it unique in Wisconsin's history, but they are too numerous to mention here. Suffice it to say that the occasion will long remain in the memories of those who had the privilege of being here.

To any of my readers who were unfortunate enough to have lost the opportunity to have a part in Wisconsin's greatest celebration let me offer this suggestion: "Do not fail your Alma Mater next year."

"Sit together, listen together, sing together, eat together, and talk together, and you'll work together"

AKRON

By F. F. HOUSEHOLDER, '13

LAST Friday evening, Oct. 10, several of the boys gathered at the Men's Room, Gymnasium, University of Akron, and formed a local alumni organization. Walter Juve, '13, was elected president, Reynolds North, ex '16, vice-president, and F. F. Householder, '13, secretary-treasurer. Arrangements were made for a get together at noon for luncheon on the first and third Saturdays of each month. The following alumni were present:

Walter Juve, '13, L. A. McQueen, '15, S. D. Wonders, '13, Neale F. Howard, '14, A. A. Nigosian, '13, J. Garver Kerch, '18, F. T. Tucker, '18, C. E. Granger, '16, R. B. North, ex'16, C. C. Waterhouse, W. L. Smith, '17, Chas. A. Pfahl, ex'19, F. F. Householder, '13.

The first meeting was set for Oct. 18 at the University Club.

CHICAGO

By W. H. HAIGHT, '03

At our Friday luncheon October 17, the speaker was Frederick William Wile, Berlin correspondent for the London Daily Mail before the war. Needless to say he was a most interesting speaker and there was a large attendance.

On November 7 was inaugurated a series of talks to be given by our own members, or friends, in the nature of shop talks. The course was most auspiciously started by a talk on "Cheese" by J. L. Kraft, the man who made Elkhorn famous. Mr. Kraft was full of his subject and made a strong talk. The members present were treated to generous helpings of Kraft's Wisconsin cheese.

The annual football dinner will be held at the Hotel Sherman, November 21, the evening before the Chicago game. As usual, an unusual program is provided. Don't miss it.

To the younger U. W. men in Chicago, a most cordial invitation is extended to join the Club. Annual dues are only $5. This covers at least two free entertainments during the year. Anyone who has attended the University is eligible. You can't afford to be a non-member. Good luncheons every Friday; good society; lots of fun; and good for your business, whatever it is, except undertaking.

CHICAGO ALUMNAE

By MRS. L. P. MEHLIG, '14

Every Friday noon between 12:30 and 2:00 o'clock a Wisconsin visitor in Chicago will find some one to talk shop to at the Chicago Woman's City Club, 17th floor of the Stevens Building. We will be more than glad to add a Madison visitor to our group of Wisconsin alumnae.

These weekly informal luncheons are proving very popular and we are certainly acquainting the Chicago Wisconsinites with each other. We have 278 members on our list this year and a great deal of enthusiasm has been shown so far. The next Friday you are in Chicago come to the City Club and ask for the Wisconsin table.

Mrs. Rosenberry (our Dean Mathews) again delighted the Chicago Association of Wisconsin Alumnae by her acceptance of its invitation to speak to them October 14. The tea given in her honor was unusually well attended by the younger members of the Association. She spoke on "Some Larger Opportunities for College Women" stressing the need of the college woman in community life.

CLEVELAND

By R. K. CONAWAY, '13

The Cleveland Club held their first meeting of the year, at the University Club, Nov. 1, 1919. M. D. Cooper, '08, presided and there were numerous short speeches by those present.

The meeting was especially interesting due to the fact that the newly organized Akron Club was represented by a delegation of ten. Much enthusiasm was displayed by the members of both clubs and plans were laid for joint meetings in the future. The Cleveland Club is also planning for more "get together" meetings during the winter.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: D. Y. Swaty, '98, president; J. F. Casserly, '05, vice-president; R. K. Conaway, '13, secretary-treasurer. Alumni present at this meeting were:

Akron Club—R. North, ex'16, F. F. Householder, '13, H. N. Legreid, '08, J. G. Kerch, '18, F. T. Tucker, '18, A. A. Nigosian, '13, N. A. Nigosian, ex'17, W. H. Juve, '13, George W. Becker, '17, and R. C. Pickett, '15. Cleveland Club—M. D. Cooper, '08, E. A. Anderson, '13, R. G. Davis, Ex'19, J. F. Casserly, '05, R. K. Conaway, '13, D. Y. Swaty, '98, H. H. Magdsick, '10, R. R. Etter, '17, A. E. Etter, '13, V. C. Hamister, '16, M. C. Lake, '14, R. P. Sanborn, '08.

MINNEAPOLIS

By E. J. FESSLER, '06

The Minneapolis alumni held their regular monthly meeting at Dayton's Tea Rooms, on Nov. 7. William Webster, '14, a practicing attorney at Hudson, addressed the club on "Russia under the Czar, Kerensky, and Lenine." Mr. Webster has just returned from four years of service in Russia and Siberia under our Government and the Red Cross. Over forty alumni were present. It was one of the big meetings of the year.

Alumni visiting Minneapolis, or passing through the city, are cordially invited to our luncheons. Regular meetings are held the first Thursday of each month at Dayton's Tea Rooms, at 12:15.

NEW YORK

By O. V. THIELE '08

Secretary-Treasurer

On Tuesday, Nov. 11, at 12:30, the first luncheon of the season occurred at Stewart's Restaurant, Park Place. There were some committee reports, but no formal program.

"On Saturday, Nov. 1, the New York alumni gathered to celebrate a Wisconsin victory. We didn't do that but had a pleasant time, nevertheless. On Nov. 22, a meeting will be held to reestablish a permanent organization here. I hope it grows as it should for Wisconsin is much in favor here. I look forward to the news of Saturday's game in detail."—Arthur K. Schulz, '16.

TEACHERS' CLUB

By PHILIP A. KOLB, '01

The annual luncheon of the Teachers' Club was held Friday, Nov. 7, in the Badger Room of the Hotel Wisconsin, Milwaukee.

President Birge was the guest of honor and spoke briefly but pointedly on the activities at the University. Those fortunate enough to sit at the same table with him enjoyed especially his stories of earlier day student capers. Some of us felt that "Prexy" came mighty near being personal in his citation of freshmen and sophomore pranks, but of course he didn't know it.

The new officers elected are: B. E. McCormick, '04, La Crosse, president; W. L. Smithyman, '96, Milwaukee, secretary-treasurer.

ATHLETICS

ON November 1 the University of Wisconsin welcomed home the largest number of alumni ever gathered for such an event. It was "Minnesota Day" at Wisconsin, the cross country teams of these institutions competing in the forenoon, and the football teams meeting in a battle royal at Camp Randall in the afternoon.

G. T. Bresnahan, '15
Coach of Cross Country

The Badger distance runners won over the Minnesota Cross Country team by a score of 36 to 19, Captain Burr of Wisconsin finishing with a lead of 280 yards ahead of any other contestant. Second place went to Crump (W) and Brothers (W) copped third place by a magnificent burst of speed in the last yard, winning from Wilder, the Minnesota favorite, by but a few inches.

In the afternoon the new stadium and stands at Camp Randall were crowded with 20,000 enthusiastic fans. The weather was ideal and the crowd in holiday spirit. The splendid exchange of courtesies between Minnesota and Wisconsin supporters and the never quit spirit of the team and the Wisconsin crowd, who stayed in the stands and sung the "Varsity Toast" twice after the whistle blew which signalized defeat, marked the day as one never to be forgotten in the hearts of those who cherish the old Wisconsin spirit.

The team made a wonderful fight but after defeating two conference teams in as many weeks, the Minnesota-Wisconsin football game passed into history with the Badgers on the short end of the 19 to 7 score.

We have no alibis to offer and neither do we feel that we should have any occasion to apologize for the team that battled the Northmen in this grueling game. It is of course disappointing but let us come back in a hearty "NO" to the old cheer leader's call of "Are you down-hearted?"

Saturday's conference games were something of a big surprise on more than one field when Illinois defeated Chicago while Minnesota won from Wisconsin, leaving Ohio State the sole possessor of a full set of tires on her championship machine.

The Ohio-Wisconsin game at Camp Randall on November 15 will throw the full glare of the spotlight on Madison. The odds are in favor of Ohio and her wonderful scoring machine, but they will find the Badgers no mean foe.

The football schedule closes with the Chicago game at Chicago on November 22, the game that can always bring a thrill to the alumni of both institutions. A great deal of interest always settles about this contest and this year particularly so, since the teams appear to be so evenly matched.

The 1919 Homecoming, in spite of the disappointing score in football, was a decided success and the friendships renewed, the meetings and the greetings more than justified the homecoming alumnus for his effort in getting there.

DEATHS

In the death of CHARLES E. VROMAN, '68, the Alumni Association has lost one of its oldest and most active members. He was born in the town of Fitchburg, near Madison, October 5, 1845, on the farm on which his father and mother, pioneers in Wisconsin, had located.

His father was for some years County Treasurer of Dane County, and for many years lived in Madison after retiring from the farm.

Charles graduated from the University in 1868 in a class of nine, when there were only three University buildings, when the faculty consisted of five or six persons, when there were probably not more than three hundred students, and it is safe to say that he personally knew every one of them. He graduated from the Albany Law School in 1869.

Charles E. Vroman

In 1871 he married Emma P. Phillips, '67, whom he had known while they were students at the University, and who had graduated in the class of 1867.

The year before his marriage Mr. Vroman had established himself in the practice of his profession at Green Bay, and there he remained for about thirty years during which time he and Mrs. Vroman were active in the social life and the civic duties of their chosen home. For several years he was City Attorney of Green Bay, and he was also for several years District Attorney of Brown County.

Although he went to Green Bay as a stranger, he was soon recognized as one of the energetic, public spirited young men of the community, and before many years was known as one of the ablest and most successful trial lawyers of his State. Green Bay was then, as it is now, a center for the legal business of a wide region in Northeastern Wisconsin.

He was successful as a trial lawyer partly because with superior ability and great energy he mastered and presented the law and the facts involved, and largely because he won the unbounded confidence of courts and juries. They soon came to know that trickery and guile were utterly foreign to his nature and that he would scorn to mislead them.

For some years he was associated as a senior partner with a former schoolmate at the University, L. B. Sale, '70, who died Aug. 10, 1892. Afterward he was a member of the firms of Greene & Vroman, Greene, Vroman & Fairchild, and Greene, Vroman, Fairchild, North & Parker. During all that time he was a busy trial lawyer ably trying important cases in many counties.

In 1900 he removed to Chicago and joined a firm which had been organized by James M. Flower, '56, a kinsman of Mrs. Vroman.

During the later years of his practice as his reputation had widened, he was naturally often retained by railroad companies and other corporations, and in 1906 he became Assistant General Solicitor of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad Co. He resigned this position in 1910 and organized the firm of Vroman, Munro & Vroman, hoping that his son William, '01, might succeed him in the business and profession he loved. William's early death prevented the realization of this hope, and from that time he never had quite his former zeal for his work.

Often some of his friends in the republican party urged him to become a candidate for public office for they knew that his spotless reputation, his charm of manner, his ability and his enthusiasm would be an asset to their party. But for nearly fifty years he gave his work to his profession never yielding to the temptations of politics.

During his long and happy life nothing could exceed his devotion to his family. He loved his University, and as he returned on commencements and other occasions he was eagerly listened to as he told his recollections of John Muir, who had been his roommate, and of University life when the University was young. All his life he was an optimist. He loved music, children, the woods, and above all with fond enthusiasm, his friends. In roundabout and unexpected ways they would hear of his devotion to them and how he had extolled their virtues. He had a genius for making friends and holding them fast. This was so true that few men have left our University who had a wider circle of devoted friends. He liked to gather them around him on his loved Island Espanore, Lake Huron, when summer came, and it was there with family and friends around him that on July 29, 1919, the peaceful end came. His widow, his son, John C. Vroman, and his sister, Mrs. E. C. Mason, survive him.—Burr W. Jones, '70.

How they would be able to fight or go over the top with their swords dangling at their sides is beyond me. ## CAMPUS NOTES

The Norwegian House, in which 15 native Norwegian students enrolled in the University have set up home life with Norwegian cooking, books, pictures, and other touches of home, is to be found at the University. All are expert ski men and purpose this winter to show the University what real ski sport is.

About 1,450 men students are taking military drill in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps this fall. They are divided into the various units as follows: infantry, 1,362; field artillery, 160; signal corps, 60; band, 60. Twenty-eight are taking advanced military tactics with a view to securing commissions as reserve officers.

The French House, which was established during the 1918 summer session, has been moved and newly furnished this fall. Seventeen women students, including four women scholars from France, are enjoying the privilege of living at the French House. Tables in the dinning-room accommodate about 42 persons, including men. The chaperone is Miss Helen McClintock, instructor in the Romance Languages Department.

Seventy-five discharged soldiers, disabled in the Service, are enrolled in the College of Agriculture, either long or middle course, for agricultural training under federal aid. At least 100 or more men in the College are discharged soldiers, sailors, or marines who are receiving the $30 a month educational bonus granted by the State. It is expected that many more will avail themselves of the opportunity for some agricultural training in the winter short course.

The Wisconsin Library School has an enrollment of 37 students this year, the largest enrollment in the school's history. Four Filipinos, who came last year to take up the work, are now completing their course and expect at the end of the year to return to the islands and organize libraries.

E. Marion Johnson, a graduate of the U. of Kansas in 1916, was recently appointed instructor in journalism at Wisconsin.

About 1,500 former soldiers, sailors, marines, and nurses have so far been assigned to the University under the state educational bonus law. Of these about 1,300 are in residence at present.

Major General W. G. Haan, commander of the 32d division, who delivered the annual address at the 67th annual meeting of the Wisconsin State Historical Society held in Madison on Oct. 23, was greeted by about 300 former soldiers of that division. At least 150 of these "Red Arrow" men are students at Wisconsin this fall, and it was through their initiative that the reception was held. General Haan told how the "Red Arrow" division won its name—signifying point forward, flanks exposed—when it not only retrieved an error which threatened the success of the American Army, but broke the Hindenburg line in October, 1918.

The State Historical Library added 13,399 titles during the past year, the largest number ever added in a single year in the society's history. Included in this figure are 1,262 bound volumes of newspapers, an increase of about 33 per cent over the usual annual addition. The newspaper collection of the library is the second largest in the country.

The principles of mechanical drawing and geometry which are used in sheet metal work are taught in a correspondence course on "Sheet Metal Drafting," which was recently revised by the Engineering Department of the University Extension Division. Other courses intended for men who work in the sheet metal trade are of "Advanced Sheet Metal Drafting" and "Sheet Metal Layout."

"Traffic Rules" have been adopted to relieve the congestion in the corridors of University Hall, and the old tradition that the central entrance belongs to men students has been shattered. With 1,400 students and 150 instructors occupying the building's 50-odd class-rooms in the morning, it has been found necessary to rule that certain doors can be used only for entrance, while others are exits only. Without traffic rules, ten minutes were required to empty the building.

Prof. Leon S. Greene, a graduate of Alfred University in 1913, has been appointed assistant professor in the Department of Manual Arts at Wisconsin to succeed Thomas Diamond.

The scientific library of the late President Charles R. Van Hise, which was bequeathed to the University according to his will, was recently added to the University Library. Several hundred volumes and public documents, most of which deal with geological, mining, and metallurgical subjects, as well as books on political economy, in which Dr. Van Hise was greatly interested during the last years of his life, comprise the major part of the collection.

The Music School of the University has an enrollment of 434 students, the largest enrollment in the school's history. Dr. C. H. Mills says, "We are so crowded for rooms that students practice from 7 in the morning till nearly 9 at night. We have a waiting list of 12 persons for organ lessons."

The Alpha Xi Delta sorority house was damaged by fire recently to the extent of about $1,500. As the fire occurred at 10 o'clock in the morning, the occupants of the house were away attending classes and no one was endangered. Because the house is situated in a crowded district, the fire threatened several other sorority lodges.

Prof. Waldemar von Geltch

Prof. Waldemar von Geltch, who recently went to New York to continue his violin studies under Leopold Auer, has been appointed supervisor of violin instruction in the public schools of New York and Brooklyn.

The dome on Main Hall will not be rebuilt this year. Business Manager H. J. Thorkelson is of the opinion that the dome never will be added to the present structure and that it will be necessary to tear down the main building and erect in its place a modern edifice of larger dimensions and on more modern plans.

The Daily Cardinal has made a radical change in its circulation policy. Instead of publishing a Monday morning paper, the Cardinal will publish a Sunday morning edition, thus getting athletic news to the students more rapidly than under the old system.

Stewards of fraternity and sorority houses are cooperating to hit the H. C. of L. The stewards' society elected F. S. Stuhler, president; Harriet Bartlett, vice-president; F. E. McIver, treasurer; and Roy Austin, secretary. A committee also was appointed to confer with establishments that have offered discounts on merchandise of two to ten per cent if these houses are patronized exclusively.

Mischa Elman, the world famous violinist, played to a capacity house of over three thousand in the Gymnasium, Oct. 19. This is the opening of the series of artists' recitals arranged by Dr. C. H. Mills of the School of Music.

Prof. Arthur Beatty has returned to the English Department after several months in the army educational corps of the A. E. F. University, Chaumont, France.

Dr. F. C. Rinker, who has been on the staff of the clinic for six years and chief of medical instruction of the Extension Division, has resigned to enter private medical practice in Norwalk, Virginia.

The Class Rush, held October 25, was won by the sophomores. The second-year men hauled 13 bags to their side of the field while the frosh dragged only 2 to safety. Lined up in battle array, the freshmen numbered about 900 to some 600 sophs.

The Annual Banquet of the Y. M. C. A., held in the University Gymnasium on Oct. 16, was attended by 270 men. Prominent speakers outlined broadened programs in every phase of "Y" work and it is expected that 1919-20 will be the banner year in the annals of the association.

Brigadier General Enslin, D. S. O., from the Union of South Africa, is in Madison to study the Agricultural Department of the University. He is here as a representative of the agricultural department of the Union of South Africa.

The S. A. T. C. barracks have have been disposed of recently. Of the four barracks, two have been assigned to the College of Agriculture and will be used as hog and steer barns by the department, while the remaining two will be used to house stores of the R. O. T. C. unit and the Service Department.

The 1921 Badger started its campaign recently by the announcement of a prize of five gilt-edged, gold-embossed Badgers to the five teams handling in the largest number of subscriptions.

The Photoart House was recently appointed official photographer for the remainder of the school year by the Athletic Department. According to the contract the Photoart House must maintain at its own expense a large picture scrap-book of all athletic pictures of the past and present. This book will be kept in the gymnasium.

"The Hamilton collection of prehistoric Indian metal instruments, estimated at $25,000, is the most valuable gift that the State Historical Museum has received in 50 years," declares Charles E. Brown of the museum. Henry Pierpont Hamilton manufacturer at Two Rivers and an officer in the Wisconsin Archeological society, started as early as 1884 to collect Indian metal instruments. At the time of his death this collection contained the largest number of native copper implements in any public or private institution in the world. Perhaps the most interesting relics are 2,000 jewel points found along the Columbia river in Oregon. These are a remarkable sample of Indian flint chipping. Tiffany has paid as high as $25 for a jewel point.

Among the Wisconsin people on the program of the annual meeting of the Wisconsin Teachers' Association held in Milwaukee, Nov. 6-8, were: Pres. E. A. Birge, F. C. Sharp, W. W. Hart, H. A. Smith, C. D. Cool, T. E. Jones, J. M. O'Neill, Gertrude E. Johnson, Gladys Stillman, V. A. C. Henmon, M. F. Guyer, F. A. Manchester, G. C. Fiske, and W. H. Varnum.

An Armistice Day Convocation was held in the University Armory Hall, at 11 o'clock, Nov. 11, Prof. W. A. Scott presiding. The singing of patriotic songs was led by Pro

E. B. Gordon. Dr. P. S. Reinsch, '92, late Minister to China, ad-

Rinker, chief of medical instruction, and Dr. H. P. Greeley of the University Clinical School, under the direction of Dr. Rock Sleyster, head of the organization of the work. Each consisted of six series of lectures and clinical instruction, according to the biennial report of the Regents.
