MERRICK WINS RUN FOR PROM CHAIRMANSHIP

Hurley Ticket Sweeps Field
in Frosh Race—Voting is Heavy

Dale Merrick was yesterday elected 1922 Prom chairman over David Mahoney by a margin of 90 votes. Warren Taylor won the presidency of the class by 105 votes over Alvah Eliot. Other officers of the junior class elected were: Dorothy Ware, vice-president Marion Strassburger, secretary; Albert Knollin, treasurer.

John Hurley was elected president of the freshman class, and his whole ticket won by a large majority.

The senior members of the student senate chosen are, according to their standing: Milton Borman, Henry Dennis, David Lacey, Joseph Bolender, and Philip Falk. The junior positions in the senate went to George Stolley, Melbourne Berman, and Birney Miller. Thomas McCandless and Joseph Hook won in the sophomore vote. Howard Brant won the graduate membership.

Voting is Heavy

Yesterday's elections showed much keen competition, and a hard fight was put up for the candidates. Wide interest on the part of the student body as a whole brought a heavy vote. Good spirit and much

ENGINEERS HAVE MIXER IN WHICH STUNTS FEATURE

Dean Turneaure Gives Short Talk—Hindu Mind Reader
Answers Queries

Jazz music, songs, stunts, and yells created pep in abundance for about four hundred slip stick artists at the Engineers' Mixer last night.

Music hall, filled to overflowing, shook with the tuneful declaration that "St. Patrick was an engineer, he was, he was!" Dean Frederic E. Turneaure gave a short talk which was greeted with enthusiasm, and then the stunts began. The A. S. M. E. furnished a ventriloquist stunt, "Doc" Dorward sang Sotch songs, slides showing professors in caricature were flashed on the screen, and the "miners" featured a jazz orchestra.

The entertainment ended with a touch of the mysterious in the shape of a Hindu mind reader, who answered many baffling questions like: "If it takes a snail six years to crawl around the block, how long will a peanut have to fall to kill a horse?"

The assembly then adjourned to the Engineering building, where all were given cider and doughnuts after matching the different parts of a series of algebraic equations.

Those in charge of the mixer were: Alien Gerhardt, general chairman; programs, Cecil Parsons, C. C. Congdon, P. H. Kurtz, Bill Moehlman, and A. R. Stregel; publicity, P. F. Nord, Louis Mann, Arthur Olson, and Birney Miller; eats, H. H. Brown and E. D. Johnson; finance, C. Peterson and A. B. Hawkins.

A meeting of all Daily Cardinal reporters will be held in the Union building at 11 o'clock this morning.

SPOOKS CAVORT AT S. G. A. MIXER

Annual Hallowe'en Party Tonight Will Find Spirits in Every Corner

With the weird fascination of Hallowe'en in the air, all the spirits and famous characters of story land will gather tonight at the women's S. G. A. mixer at Lathrop gymnasium, for an evening of stunts, dancing, and regular Hallowe'en eats.

The stunts, which are under the general supervision of Frances Ellen Tucker, will be a series of highly clever affairs put on by some of the best talent in the university. Among the organizations which have prepared stunts are W. A. A., under the direction of Jo Virginia Doring, Pythia literary society in charge of Ima Winchell and Gladys Borchers; Castalia literary society, supervised by Rowena Brown and Charlotte Calvert. The women's dramatic clubs, Red Domino and Twelfth Night, have collaborated on their stunt, and it will be in charge of Esther Guerini.

Mother Goose Coming

Since Hallowe'en parties, by tradition, seem to be costume affairs, the S. G. A. party will be a veritable

HILL MEN WIN FIRST IN MEET

Engineers Cop Second in Annual Inter-College
Field Event

The College of Letters and Science, scoring in thirteen of the sixteen events, took the annual inter-college track and field meet honors at Camp Randall yesterday afternoon, by a margin of six points over the College of Engineering. The School of Commerce, a contender all the way, grabbed third place in the meet, with the agriculturists trailing in last place. The final results were: Letters and Science, 53; Engineers, 47; Commerce, 28; and Agriculture, 15.

The men from the Letters and Science college gained nine first places, scoring most of their points in the track events. The engineers made a clean sweep of the field competition, and garnered 34 of their counters in the field contests. Small Field Enters

A small field entered the meet, with only 50 starters lined up for the various events, but keen competition resulted from the unprecedented fine showing of the Letters and Science runners.

Salentine, Letters and Science entry, coped individual honors in the track field with a total of 20 points. He took the 100 yard dash in 10 4-5 seconds, and gathered firsts in the 220 yard dash, and 40 yard sprint, running into a tie for first with Hammann in the high jump. Salentine gained seconds in the 45 hurdles and the broad jump, and the activity of this versatile athlete was the main factor in the Letters and Science win.

Hammann, engineer, followed close upon the heels of Salentine for individual honors, winning the shot put, discus, javelin, and pole vault, with a tie for first in the high jump.

Athletes Battle Weather

A cold wind swept Camp Randall during the meet, driving the spectators to shelter in the grand stand, and forcing the contestants to bat-

BADGER CLUB WILL GIVE SHORT MOVIE TOMORROW EVENING

"Dad" Wolf to Speak on League of Nations Proposition

Tomorrow night the Badger club will conduct its usual entertainment of university men and women in the university Y parlors at 8 o'clock. The committee is to attempt a novelty in showing a short film of Venice, with the object of finding the feasibility of giving movies in the parlors. Paul H. Jamieson will be the operator.

"Dad" Wolf will be the speaker of the evening, choosing the topic of: "Do We Want a League of Nations—If so, What Kind?" "Dad" confesses a shyness in presenting this subject, having chosen it before the many political talks here recently, with the object of giving an impartial diagnosis of the national problem from the college point of view, and also to give some of the American objections for the benefit of the foreign students who attend the club.

There will be the regular singing and refreshments. Hosts and hostesses of the evening will be Miss Sterling, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stark, and Prof. and Mrs. E. B. Gordon.

FORMER STAR AT BIG MEET

"Eddie" Gillette, 1912 Star, to Preside at Homecoming Mass-meeting

Edward S. Gillette, all-western quarterback of the champion Badger eleven of 1912, known to tradition as the man who won the varsity "W" in football, baseball, track, and tennis, is to preside at the mass meeting which will open the Homecoming celebration on Friday evening, November 12.

The meeting will be held promptly at 6:45 in order that the gym may be ready for the Engineers' minstrels later in the evening. A snappy program of short talks by the regular Homecoming speakers is being prepared; and pep will be supplied by two brass bands, an all-university saxophone sextet, and the varsity cheer leading staff.

Immediately after the meeting the crowd will assemble on the lower campus where Minnesota's goat will be paraded around an immense bonfire and the team will be given a final out-of-door cheering.

In view of the fact that there are always several hundred people turned away from the massmeeting, the committee plans to hold an overflow meeting in Music hall, relaying the speakers between the two meetings. By this means many more will be able to participate in cheering the team to victory.

"Y" BADGER CLUB TO GIVE HIKE TONIGHT

The members of the Badger club of the university Y, in addition to their regular entertainment Sunday night, are to stage a Hallowe'en hike and wiener roast for members and guests tonight.

The party is to leave the Y at 6:30, and will hike from there to the stone quarry, where the evening will be spent in games and campfire singing. This hike is to take the place of the planned hay-ride, which has had to be postponed.

All Badger club members who intend to go see Miss Koehler, in the Y office, before 3:00 this afternoon to make arrangements.

DISTANCE MEN MEET CHICAGO IN RUN TODAY

Cross-Country Squad Meets
Maroons in First Long
Grind This Afternoon

The Badger long distance runners will tilt the conference cross-country lid this afternoon at 4 o'clock, when they stack up against the hill and dale men from Chicago.

The Maroons come to Madison with an exceptionally strong lineup, nine of last year's squad being eligible for competition this season, and Coach Eck, Chicago mentor, has had a group of one hundred men from which to select his varsity team.

While Coach G. T. Bresnahan has been handicapped by a scarcity of candidates for varsity cross-country work and by the loss of several of last year's conference championship squad, he will put a well developed sextet into the meet, with Captain W. E. Brothers leading the men. Wisconsin stock which had been in a slump has taken a decided rise since the entry of Powell in the race for the Badgers.

Seven Enter for Wisconsin

The seven men who will start for Wisconsin are Capt. W. E. Brothers, H. C. Dennis, R. A. Noble, R. B. Powell, G. C. Wade, M. H. Wall, and C. W. Wille, with R. O. Blodgett, T. R. Daniels, W. L. Dayton, A. M. Knutson, F. A. Zielsky, H. C.

FORENSIC BOARD UNABLE TO GET MEN TO DEBATE

Anti-Leaguers Too Busy to Send Speaker—Democrats Willing

The League of Nations will not be debated tonight in spite of the extended efforts of the Forensic board to arrange such a discussion. The board's appeal for a speaker opposed to the league was refused by both the Republican and the Progressive Republican campaign heads on the grounds that all their speakers are actively engaged. Democrats were willing to supply a speaker for the affirmative, but the Republican refusal forestalled the debate.

The board then tried to arrange for a student debate, and secured Sterling Tracy, closer on one of Philomathia's successful semi-public debate teams last year, winner of second place in the final Northern Oratorial League contest tryouts last year, and a member of this year's joint debate team, to uphold the affirmative. Tracy spoke for the League at Mt. Horeb recently.

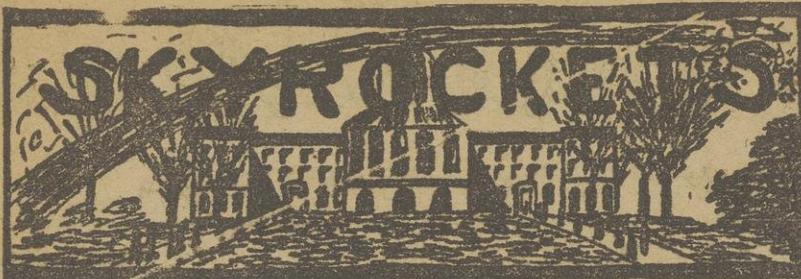

Fail to Get La Follette

Neither "Phil" La Follette, son of Senator La Follette, nor Frank Cosgrove, former inter-collegiate and joint debaters could appear; the former because of an engagement to speak at Black Earth, and the latter since he was called home by the illness of his father. As neither the Extension division nor the Political Science department could supply a speaker who had the necessary vocational force and intimate knowledge, the plans for the debate had to be abandoned.

OCTOPUS MEETS DELAY IN OFFICE

The delay in sending copies of the Octopus to subscribers was caused by a mistake at the post office, according to the business manager.

All the Octopuses were ready to send out Saturday, and were taken down to the post office early on Tuesday, so that they might reach subscribers Wednesday morning, but there was some delay in sending them out.

All material for the next number must be in by November 6, the editors announce. The number will appear the last week in November.

"LIT" SOCIETIES HOLD MEETINGS

Hesperia Stages Mock Trial With Judge Gerholz on the Bench

Accused of having stolen Philomathia's mascot goat from the lounge in its home on Lincoln terrace on the night of October 22, the Hesperian joint debate team, Halsey Kraege, Ralph Axley, and Leo Kohl were summoned to the court of Hesperia Literary society in Bascom hall at 7:30 last night.

The team was defended by Attorneys Voltz and E. A. Kletzein.
Wayne Morse and Robert H. Klet-zein acted as prosecuting attorneys, and Judge Gerholz rendered the decision.

"Resolved, that all immigration to the United States for a period of three years be prohibited," was the subject of an informal debate at Philomathia Literary society, which met at 7:30 p. m. yesterday.
L. Wolf led the affirmative discussion group and C. Hawkes, the negative. The decisive vote, 14-7, was in favor of the affirmative. "Outlining a Speech" was the subject of a talk by F. Stewart, and "The Present Political Situation in the State of Wisconsin," by Frautchi.

Ag Society Debates

The Agricultural Literary society debated on the question. "Resolved, that the Esch-Cummins bill should receive the support of the farmers."
The affirmative was supported by Casperson, Hanouseck, and Taylor;
the negative, by Davidson, Hartman, and Travis.

Special entertainment for new girls was arranged by Castalia last evening at Lathrop hall in the form of musical numbers, a short sketch, and informal dancing.

Gladys Riggs, dances Sawyer, and Alice Saunders sang after a few minutes of group singing, in which both guests and members took part.
In the platlet, "Overtones," Adelaide
Anderson, Mabel Winter, Katherine Winter, Katherine Leitzel, and Katherine Stausbecker made up the cast.

Pvthia tryouts were held last night and new members, decided upon by the judges, will be announced in a few days.

CROSS-COUNTRY MEN IN FIRST RACE TODAY

Smith, E. Sneider, and S. Shapiro held in reserve. Coach Eck will use Moore, Dooley, Swett, Roberts, Highland, Pearce, and Watkins in the meet.

The first five men on each team score in the order of their finish, first place counting one point; second place, two points; third place, three points, etc. The team finishing five men with the lower total score is declared winner.

Run in Afternoon

The race will take place in the afternoon instead of Saturday forenoon as formerly announced by cross-country authorities, with the distance cut from five to four miles.
The pack will face the gun at the gymnasium, take the course along the lake shore drive and passing the stock pavilion, cross the marsh round Picnic point, and then double back along the same route.

The course is still muddy from the heavy rains of the week, with little chance of any records for the distance being broken.

MILLER TO DISCUSS ESCH-CUMMINS BILL

Mr. S. L. Miller, of the Economics department, at the request of university students interested in some of the economic phases of the present national situation, has consented to lead a discussion on the Esch-Cummins bill next Monday evening at 7:30, in the P. P. E. building on the third floor. All students who are interested in this bill are invited to attend.

FROSH-SOPHS MEET IN GRID BATTLE TODAY

Yearlings Will Use Minnesota Shift Against All-American Players

While the Badgers enjoy their only open date of the 1920 schedule today, the freshman and sophomore elevens will mix this afternoon in their annual battle for gridiron supremacy. The game will take place on the varsity field at Camp Randall, where the Madison high game will be played as a curtain-raiser. Both class teams are on edge for the contest, and their respective mentors are both predicting victory.

The yearlings have been drilled for the past week on Minnesota plays and formations, which are used against the varsity. Coach "Keg" Driver starred last evening that his men would run these Gopher plays against the sophs in today's encounter. The frosh have perfected Minnesota's shifting offense, and the second year men will find considerable difficulty in stopping them.

Game Unusually Hard Fought

In former years the game has usually been a hard fought contest, with the freshmen at a considerable advantage because of their long period of training and scrimmage against the varsity. They have also taken this opportunity to avenge the hazing of the sophomores. However, this year the condition are not the same. Practically the entire 1923 team is composed of members of the All-Americans, which eleven has also been drilling since September.

Coach Lowman, who has worked with the All-Americans, believes that the two classes will exhibit some fast football this afternoon. A number of new plays have been given the sophs, and they have spent their evenings this week in indoor signal drill. The second year men will enter the class game this fall with the sole purpose of evening matters with the '24 men, who were awarded the class rush.

Taft Leads Frosh

Last night the frosh held a long signal drill, after which a meeting was held to elect a captain. Taft, who is holding down the left end position, was chosen to lead the frosh against their rivals today. Taft's home is at Whitewater, Wisconsin, where he played for several years on his high school eleven.

Coaches Quick and Driver announced the following line-up last night: Taft (Capt.), left end; Johnson, left tackle; Alton, left guard; Pierce, center; Hendricks, right guard; Peterson, right tackle; Rosello, right end; Stone, quarter; Rowland, left half; Whitten, right half; Kessenich, fullback.

PHILOS GOAT THEFTOther Societies Hold Debates
at Tonight's Meetings

The Hesperian Joint Debate team composed of Halsey Kraege, Ralph Axley, and Leo Kohl, is accused with having stolen Philomathia's mascot goat from the lounge in its home on Lincoln Terrace on the night of October 22. The Court of Hesperia, meeting in 451, Bascom hall, at 7:30 tonight, will have the case fought pro and con. Judge Gerholz will render the decision, after the report of the jury has been given.

The team will be defended by Attorneys Voltz and E. A. Kletzien. Wayne Morse and Hobart H. Kletzien will be the prosecuting attorneys.

All students are invited to attend the mock trial which officers of the club predict will surpass many vaudeville acts in mirth and humor.

The topic for debate in Philomathia tonight is "Resolved, that all immigration to the United States for a period of three years be prohibited. The affirmative speakers are Messrs. Hawkes, Sims, and Goodman. The negatives will be Messrs. Wolf, Mintz, and Mohme.

The Agricultural Literary society debates the question: Resolved, that the Esch-Cummins Bill should receive the support of the farmers. The affirmative will be supported by Casperson, Hanouseck, and Taylor; the negative, by Davidson, Hartman, and Travis.

ARRANGED BY BOARD

of the board was the appointment of Walter Koehler and Charles Assovsky to arrange for the all-university forensic dinner on November 10.

This dinner is being conducted for the purpose of giving the forensic season a royal send-off and precedes the preliminary tryouts for the intercollegiate debating teams by about ten days. Anyone who is at all interested in making the squad should make reservations with either Assovsky or Koehler.

At the dinner, Prof. J. M. O'Neill will outline plans for the season and a number of old time forensic stars will attend to tell of debating experiences in their day.

The board also expects to have definite word from Columbia and California as to the probability of debates with those schools ready for announcement at the dinner.

BURY THE HATCHET

THE student election is finally over. The cry of the campaigner has deserted the Hill until next spring. The victors are rejoicing. The losers no doubt are regretting their fortune.

During the campaign considerable rivalry was stirred up between the candidates and their friends. Inevitably, in such a campaign as we have just witnessed, factions sprang up within the classes. This was especially true in those cases where the competition was keen.

It is to be hoped, however, that the entire campaign will be taken in the spirit of true sportsmanship. The animosities and rivalries that have sprung up during the campaign should be forgotten. The support of certain persons or organizations for one candidate should not be held against those persons or organizations by the opposing forces. It is something to be a good winner; it is more to be a good loser. Now that the election is over, it is best to forget rivalries and pull together.

The persons who won were elected because the majority of voters wanted them to fill the job. By all the rules of the game, they are the victors. By all the rules of the game, these candidates also deserve the support of every student. The class officers and members of the senate should have the support of all the students in their respective classes. Every junior should co-operate with the new Prom chairman.

Similarly, the persons elected should cherish no grudge against those who did not vote for them. Of course, all the candidates could not be pleased. All of them can forget.

Let's all pull together then. Let the dead past bury its dead. We are all united for a better Prom than ever before. We all want class administrations to surpass those we have previously had. We all stand for a senate that will improve student life. We all favor anything that will better the university.

Now that the campaign is over, let's bury the hatchet.

THE CROSS-COUNTRY MEET

WHILE the varsity football squad is resting up for the encounter with Minnesota next Saturday Wisconsin will have an opportunity to witness a cross-country tilt today.

The Badger line-up will oppose Chicago this afternoon at 4 o'clock. The Maroons are certain to have a formidable team and the contest will be well worth the seeing.

The importance and interest of the tilt are not to be judged by the sign over the door of the gym which announces in large letters the soph-frosh football game, and as an after-thought heralds the cross-country meet in smaller and more humble characters. This unfortunate circumstance, no doubt accidental, should not detract from a big turn-out.

In the hurry and bustle of multiplied activities we must not slight the cross-country squad. Coach Bresnahan has worked up a team highly creditable to the school. His men are going to fight to the last breath this afternoon to beat Chicago.

Everybody out when the gun is fired at the gym this afternoon.

MYSTERIOUS MESSAGES

SOME six years ago a St. Louis woman, Mrs. John H. Curran, the wife of a former immigration commissioner of Missouri, for amusement began experimenting with a flat wooden board, about two feet long by one and a half wide, and a smaller heart shaped board having three stout legs. On the larger board she scratched the letters of the alphabet and such common words as Yes, No, Don't know, and Good-by.

Today thousands of university students have copies of these boards. Each day from these mediums they receive important messages from the Great Beyond. They place the larger board upon their knees. The heart shaped three legged board is placed upon this, and the finger tips of their hands lightly rest upon it. After a short time an unseen power, a spirit being, begins to move the heart shaped board causing its narrow end to spell out or point to the words which convey to the sitters answers to all the great problems of their lives.

There are many co-eds at Wisconsin who have great faith in the ouija boards.

Scientists have said that the messages which the girls think come from the mysterious spirit ouija, are due to the unconscious muscle rhythms of the hands and arms, and that the spirit exists in the person. But girls will be girls and the ouija boards continue to be extremely popular even among senior and graduate students.

WRITES MEMORIAL ON C. R. VAN HISE

Prof. C. K. Leith in Tribute to Late University President

C. K. Leith, professor of geology at the University of Wisconsin, writes in a memorial of the late Charles Richard Van Hise, with a very intimate insight into the life of the geologist, his personal friend and associate in study.

"I would refer to one of Van Hise's qualities less generally known, but an essential part of his character and philosophy," he writes. He had not only a passionate desire to ascertain truth, but the keenest appreciation and love of its fine expression, whether in the form of prose, poetry, painting, music, or sculpture. Seldom did he take any extensive trip without carrying with him some well-selected volume of verse, usually verse interpreting nature. Tennyson's In Memoriam, with its wonderful expression of geologic principles, was a favorite, and those of us fortunate enough to work with him are not likely to forget the evenings spent about the campfire listening to those beautiful words read over and over again by Van Hise in tones of deep appreciation.

"In his implicit belief and faith in an ordered universe under supreme control, his passionate desire to understand its make-up, and his love of adequate and beautiful expression of its essence, Van Hise was one of the most deeply religious men I have known.

CHINESE STUDENTS MEET

The Chinese Students' Alliance in America had three interesting sectional meetings in the late summer. The western section met at the University of California, the mid-western section at the University of Michigan, and the eastern at Princeton. A total of 590 Chinese students attended these conferences and took part in both Chinese and English debates and oratorical contests.

U STUDENTS RETURN TO HELP CELEBRATE RIPON HOMECOMING

The 1920 Ripon college homecoming, celebrated yesterday and today, has drawn a score or more of ex-students and alumni of Ripon now enrolled at the university, back to their alma mater this week-end.

The feature of the celebration is the Lawrence-Ripon clash on the gridiron this afternoon. The Appleton rooters have chartered a special train for the event. Ripon and Lawrence, traditional enemies, are the only undefeated teams in the 1920 Little-Five race, and the game is the biggest football attraction in the state today.

FORMER FRENCH STUDENT SENDS PLEDGE FOR MEMORIAL BUILDING

"My pledge for $100 for the Memorial Union building fund is enclosed."

This is the text of a French letter received the other day by A. L. Sommers, campaign manager of the University of Wisconsin Memorial Union building committee at Sheboygan. The letter was written by A. Kateon, a young Parisian who was formerly a student here.

"The idea of a young Frenchman subscribing $100 toward the enterprise is certainly an exhibition of loyalty that we may well be proud of," said Dean S. H. Goodnight, to whom the letter was sent by Mr. Sommers.

In the letter Mr. Kateon speaks of the Memorial Union building project as "une oeuvre pieuse" and says, "Je suis particulièrement heureux d'y participer."

The letter follows:

Paris, June 28, 1920.

Sir:

I have just received your letter of the third instant, relative to the subscription campaign made among the former students at the University of Wisconsin for a memorial which you wish to raise as a remembrance of the Americans killed during the war.

I beg you to find here enclosed my pledge for the sum of one hundred dollars which I will send in two payments. I will send you the first, when you will tell me the time of the sending.

I am particularly happy to partake in your good work.

Please accept, monsieur, the expression of my very cordial devotion.

(Signed) A. KATEON.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Snappy music, some good chatter, and some pretty girls feature a varied bill at the Orpheum this week end.

Headline honors are divided between Johnny Burke, a former musical comedy star, in "Drafted," and Johnny Black, composer of Dardanella. Besides his personality which is his biggest telling point Mr. Black has some clever lines that makes his military burlesque a skit of much mirth.

With Johnny Black as a dainty dancer, their act which is very artistically set, combines song and dance. Mr. Black gives his interpretation of Dardanella on the saxophone, while Miss Dardanella his partner, dances.

Hollis and Kenney keep their audience in laughter with their rapid fire jokes and puns. Their act is a satire on medicine called "The Two Doctors."

The Great Nagel opens the bill with some unusual tricks of magic.

Daisy Dean and her company present a dramatic sketch called The Crisis.

LAST DAY

This is the last meeting in the tabernacle.

Complete returns of the election are as follows:

Junior ticket: Prom chairman Dale Merrick, 343; David Mahoney, 253; J. Bon Davis, 162. President, story book ball. Among those expected to be present are Jack in the Box, Old Mother Goose, Uncle Sam Little Miss Muffet, and even Goddess of Liberty herself. Because it has been asked that some of the women come costumed as a group, it is expected that there will be a number of attractive groupings. Other clever costumes will be of the "backwards" variety.

From this great conglomeration the best will be chosen and awarded prizes. One prize will be awarded to the cleverest group, a second will go to the prettiest, and the third prize will be given to the funniest costume.

One of Thompson's snappiest orchestras will furnish the jazz for dancing. The stunts will last from 7:30 to 8:30. Following that will be a grand march. At 9 o'clock dancing will start. Later in the evening cider and doughnuts will be served.

The S. G. A. gives a mixer every year for the women of the university, and a special effort is being made this year to make the party an attractive one, and one that will

OHIO-CHICAGO GRID BATTLE IN SPOTLIGHT

Big Ten Interest Today Centers in Chicago Game
—Badgers Rest

With six conference football teams in action this afternoon throughout the middle-west, all interest is turned toward the Chicago-OHIO State game which is the only game which will have any bearing on the conference race. Minnesota will meet Illinois at Urbana and Indiana and Northwestern meet in Indianapolis.

The team which is eliminated at Chicago today will virtually be out of the race, while the winner of this game must be given serious consideration as a contender for titular honors. Conference dopesters figure that the Buckeyes have a slight advantage over Stagg's, although it is generally believed that the battle will be close.

Buckeyes Have Stars

Ohio State demonstrated, in its last minute victory over Wisconsin last Saturday that it has one of the most bewildering forward passing machines ever developed in the western conference, and Coach Wilce's Buckeyes will prove a serious obstacle for any conference team.

In Workman, Ohio State has a clever quarterback who has unusual accuracy in forward passing. Workman is also a good kicker although his generalship was criticised by Walter Camp in the Wisconsin game. Stinchcomb is a fast open field runner who has almost uncanny ability in picking forward passes out of the air. Taylor will undoubtedly be a regular fullback now that William is out of the game indefinitely.

Maroons are Darkhorses

Chicago is more or less of an unknown quantity since they have not met any opposition comparable with Ohio State. Maroon rooters are confident that their team will win today and there is even talk of a championship on the Midway.

Nothing short of a miracle will enable the Gophers to win over Illini. The Suckers are certain to figure prominently in the conference race and their team is equally as strong as the last year's championship eleven. The close game with Michigan last Saturday does not lessen the formidable aspect of the Illini.

Northwestern Meets Indiana
Northwestern and Indiana will meet in a game tomorrow which although it will have no bearing on the championship will be witnessed by a crowd of nearly 20,000. Both teams are of about the same strength and it should be a close game.

While Ohio State and Chicago are fighting it out to see which team will remain in the race, Coach Richards' team will rest today. The varsity has been working out all week against Minnesota formations and when the Badgers line up against the Gophers in Minneapolis a week from today they will be thoroughly acquainted with the defense of the famous Minnesota shift.

The men are rapidly recovering from their injuries which they incurred in the Ohio State game, and the Badgers will be in excellent condition when they meet Minnesota. Tebelle will not be in next Saturday's game and it is questionable whether Captain "Red" Westen will start or not. Barnes and Knapp have been working the ends this week and are going well. The former made an excellent showing in the game against Ohio State and will be a valuable man now that Wisconsin's ends have both been put out of the game.

AT THE GRAND

Olive Thomas never made a better picture than "Youthful Folly" which is now showing at the Grand. The story has a Southern setting, and is a curious mixture of comedy and drama, the mixing process having been so skillfully conducted as to keep interest alive from beginning to end without apparent effort. It is an unusual plot, developed in an unusual manner, and having a freshness possessed by few present-day attractions. All who see this picture will regret that the screen has lost so promising a star. It will be remembered that Miss Thomas was the victim of accidental poisoning in Paris.

Tomorrow morning at the children's performance, the Grand will present as the feature attraction, a screen version of Robert Louis Stevenson's book "Treasure Island," there will be the usual nature studies and cartoon comedies for the kiddies.

AT THE STRAND

One surprise follows another in "Crooked Streets," the photoplay in which Ethel Clayton will be seen at the Strand theater for the last time today. The scene is Shanghai and the central figure a resourceful young American girl, who is serving as secretary to an alleged collector of antique vases. In reality, he is engaged in opium-smuggling, and his guilt is established in a most dramatic manner and only after his youthful secretary has been involved in all sorts of romantic adventures. Jack Holt is the leading man.

There will also be shown a comedy "Torchy Comes Through."

PLAN LECTURES FOR AG SCHOOL WOMEN

Lectures, which will be of interest to agricultural women, are to be held at various times throughout the year, according to a decision made at a meeting of the Agricultural Women's association held last night at Lathrop hall. This plan is a continuation of one begun last year.

At present the members are in communication with agricultural women of other colleges in the hope of organizing a national association.

The purpose of the association is to investigate the opportunities in this particular field which will be of future use to the members, several of whom have already had practical experience.
