ARSITY GREETS CLASS OF 1926 AT 11 ON FRIDAY

Third Outdoor Welcome
Promises to be Impressive Spectacle

The Varsity Welcome, the university's third annual formal greeting to the freshman class, will be held at 11 o'clock Friday morning.

Plans to make this year's greeting a most impressive spectacle will be completed at a meeting of the executive committee at 4 o'clock this afternoon. The meeting is to be open and all students interested are invited to attend.

The welcome is being arranged by a combined committee of faculty members and students. Robert L. Stewart, president of the Student Council of Forty; Merle Shaw, resident of Mortar Board, and Prof. Julius E. Olson, member of the faculty committee on Public Relations, will confer to complete arrangements.

Plan Impressive Ceremony.
The program will include welcoming addresses from officials of the university and the state and representative students. Copy for the programs was sent to the printer last Friday.

"We are planning to make this third Varsity Welcome a stupendous ceremony," Professor Olson said yesterday. "Each year the numbers present at the welcome have increased and it is hoped that the arrangements planned for the various classes this year will encourage still greater numbers to participate.

Holds Great Significance.
"I wish we could impress upon the upper classmen the great significance of this opening ceremony because they can make of it a great tradition."

Professor Olson has asked Governor John J. Blaine to address the freshmen on behalf of the state.

Seniors, graduates, and law students, who at former Varsity Welcomes were obliged to wait until the juniors and sophomores had led up the hill to the Lincoln terrace, will not do so this year, Stewart asserted yesterday.

New Arrangements in Effect.

A new arrangement, which, it is hoped, will encourage more seniors to participate, has been devised by the committee. Seniors, graduates, and law students will congregate at the Bascom Hall arcade and will march down the hill immediately to escort the freshmen who will meet at the foot of the hill back to the Lincoln terrace.

Juniors will congregate at the Law building, and sophomores will meet at the Engineering building. Both classes then will march up the hill while seniors are escorting the freshmen back.

Sophomores and juniors will march toward the center on theross-walk and then will occupy the space between the walk and Lincoln terrace. A guard of twenty-four

G. A. ENTERTAINS WOMEN STUDENTS

Approximately 800 women students were entertained at the welcome of the Student Government Association held in Lathrop Gymnasium last night.

The feature of the party was a brief allegorical play, "Freshmanours," arranged by Margaret E. Melting '22. Boyd's orchestra furnished the music for dancing. Mary Baldwin '23, Edith Hess, and Dorothy Simpson '24 had charge of the entertainment.

CARDINAL POSITIONS

Students desiring to work on the editorial staff of The Daily Cardinal will report at the offices in the Union building, 752 Langdon street, between 10 and 12 o'clock this morning or between 2 and 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Y. W. Tea to be Held at Prexy's Home Tomorrow.

The Y. W. C. A. tea will be held from 3 to 6 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the home of President Birge. The guests will be received by Dean F. Louise Nardin, Miss Nan Birge, Mrs. F. W. Roe, Mrs. M. V. O'Shea and Helen Kasbeer '22, president of Y. W. C. A.

The entertainment will include piano solos by Lois Jacobs '24 and whistling by Janice Boardman '24.

"All freshmen are invited to come and get acquainted. They should not feel they cannot come without their junior advisors," Arleen Klug '24, who is in charge of the tea, said yesterday.

The organization plans to entertain more than 1,000 students.

MAYOR ISSUES PROCLAMATION

Urge Madisonians to Attend Varsity Welcome; Greets Returning Students

In a plea for Madisonians to attend the Varsity Welcome on the upper campus Friday morning, Mayor Milo Kittleson yesterday extended his greeting to the students of the university and especially to the members of the class of 1926 on behalf of the citizens whom he represents.

Mayor Kittleson's proclamation follows:

"To the members of the class of 1926 at the University of Wisconsin, I offer a hearty welcome on behalf of the citizens of Madison.

"It seems to me to be a matter of importance that as many Madisonians as possible should join the faculty and upper classes on the campus Friday morning in extending a formal welcome to the freshmen.

"Residents of this city never have failed to take part in the activities of the university. Last year, when every effort was being made to raise money for the Memorial Union fund a special campaign was successfully carried on among Madisonians.

"A large number of citizens is expected to attend the welcome. Merchants in the Latin quarter doubtless will be glad of an opportunity to witness the ceremony on the campus and probably will close their business houses at that time.

"In greeting the members of the class of 1926, I also greet all former students of the university who are returning to Madison for this school year. A happy smile is on the face of every Madisonian during the advent of the students. He is glad to see the annual influx.

"It is one of my greatest desires that the new and old students alike at the university will have a most successful year and that everything pertaining to the relationship of the students with the town people will be highly satisfactory."

PLAN SIMPLIFIES CLASS ENROLLMENT

A new system devised by the assignments committee to simplify class enrollment makes it necessary for all students to report personally to the men's gymnasium between Monday and Saturday of this week for assignments to classes and for the checking of elections program.

Students enrolled in any of the following courses report to the various booths for assignments to proper sections: Botany 1, Chemistry 1, Economics 1a, 1b, 3, 5, 109, 130, 137, English 1a, 1b, 33, Geology 4, German 1a, 1b, 2a, 2b, French 1a, 1b, 10a, 10b, 13, 14, 15, 16, 20, 21, Philosophy 1, Sections a and b, Physics 1, 1 Sc., Spanish 1a, 1b, 10a, 10b, 14, 15, 21, Speech 12a, 7 and Zoology 1a.

Upperclassmen not enrolled in any of the above courses enter through the gymnasium side doors and make out their own class cards without reporting to the different booths. This system results in an even distribution of students in the classes and does away with shifting of sections. George Chandler, secretary of the faculty, said yesterday, the new method also eliminates clerical help to a large extent.

5,000 REGISTER AS ENROLLMENT BREAKS RECORD

Drizzling Rain Fails to Halt Steady Stream Of Students

Approximately 5,000 students already are registered for the first semester, according to unofficial reports, despite a drizzling rain which started at noon yesterday. This indicates that the total of more than 7,440 students in 1921-22 will be passed within a few days.

More than 500 men registered yesterday afternoon, although the lines had considerably diminished by 4 o'clock. An unofficial count of registrants puts the number of first year men at 1,177, and of upperclass men at 2,419, a total of 3,596. The number of women who have registered probably will run the total to date above 5,000.

There are plenty of double rooms for both men and women, according to reports from Deans F. Louise Nardin and Scott H. Goodnight and the university Y. M. C. A. Dean Goodnight reports a few rooms have advanced in price, but that many students are taking the cheaper rooms far away from the university buildings.

The double rooms for men average from $3.50 to $4 per week for each occupant, and singles rent at $4.50 to $5. Double rooms can be secured as low as $3 and as high as $30. A shortage of single rooms is reported.

There are plenty of jobs listed at the Y. M. C. A. but too few permanent jobs open, reports show. Many men will be forced to leave school unless they can secure permanent employment.

1924 Badger Issues Early Call For Senior Pictures

All seniors must send their pictures and summaries to the Badger office in the Union building before November 1 in order to have them in the year book, Gamber Tegtmeyer, editor-in-chief, announced last night. As many seniors have been late in turning in their pictures during past years, the staff is making an especial effort this year to have the senior section completed in November.

BIRGE'S WELCOME.

Seventy years ago the university received at North Hall—its only building—43 college students to be taught by its faculty consisting of the president and three other teachers.

This week more than 7,500 students will register on the campus. Such has been the growth of the University of Wisconsin within the limits of a not very long life.

The university welcomes the returning students. She welcomes those who come back to the well-known buildings and to renew comradships already formed. She welcomes with especial warmth those who this fall try for the first time the adventure of college life and she congratulates them on the opportunities both of profit and of pleasure that are before them.

Is it not right to give a word of counsel with the word of welcome? We who have in many Septembers seen the procession of students coming up the hill cannot fail to recall that not all who thus undertake the adventure of college have that pluck and courage which are necessary to its successful completion.

Is it unfair to ask you to "take stock" of yourselves in these first days? And as you do so you may be sure that success here, as elsewhere, will be not so much a matter of unusual gifts of mind as of determination in the intelligent use of your native powers.

E. A. BIRGE,
President.

Predict Price Reductions In Madison Orchestras

A favorable settlement of negotiations with Madison orchestra agents for a reduction in dance music prices was predicted last night by Walter Porth '23, secretary of the Interfraternity conference, who has been working on the matter during the summer.

Representatives of fraternities and sororities, which agreed last spring not to make any music contracts for this year, Porth and a committee composed of Lee McCandless '23, Herbert Boning '23, and George Parker '23, have been in conference with orchestra men during the past week.

The committee will report to a joint meeting of the Interfraternity conference and Pan-Hellenic association within the next week, Porth said.

FRESHMEN DON CAPS FRIDAY

Wearing of Green Headgear Included In Program of Varsity Welcome

For the first time in the history of Wisconsin wearing of the green cap has been included in the program of an all-university event.

First year men officially will begin wearing their verdant headgear at the Varsity Welcome at 11 o'clock Friday morning on the upper campus.

The traditional jockey-like green cap with a red button this year has been replaced by a green covering similar to those worn by enlisted men in the navy.

Six red ribs run to the center of the crown and a red "W" is sewed on the front of the stiff 2-inch brim. Different colored buttons designate the various colleges of the university in which the yearlings are enrolled.

Letters and Science men will wear hats with yellow buttons. Headgear with red buttons was ordered but failed to arrive. Students in the Course in Commerce will wear white buttons, Agricultural students, brown, and Engineers, purple.

The new caps were selected by Maynard W. Brown '23, Robert Aspinwall '22 and Cyril Erickson '22, members of the Student Senate committee, and were secured from the Rex Cap company of Chicago.

Because the new headgear is warmer than the former caps, and is thought to be warm enough to be worn throughout the winter, members of the Senate decided the freshmen this year should not discard their caps until cap night in the spring.

That the new caps are well chosen is the opinion of Dean George C. Sillery of the College of Letters and Science.

"It is a pretty cap," he remarked yesterday. "If I were a freshman this year I should be glad to wear it. But it must be the charm of the cap and the esprit de corps of the class of 1926 which makes it possible to continue the cap tradition. Coercion in the matter never will succeed."

Closely connected with the green cap tradition is the senior law cane tradition which was instituted last year. Black canes with silver knobbed handles were carried last year by all seniors in the Law school and the custom probably will be continued this year.

Mischa Elman, Violinist, To Give Concert Nov. 1

Mischa Elman, Russian violinist, will appear in the university gymnasium November 1, in the first of a series of three concerts which will be given there this winter under the auspices of Union Board.

The two artists who will follow Elman are Reinhard Werrenrath, American baritone, and Pablo Casals, cellist. Werrenrath will appear here November 14 and the Casals concert will be given February 20.

Tickets for the Union Board concerts will be on sale at the A. E. Smith Music company, 215 State street, and in the Union building, first floor, beginning Thursday. Season tickets for the entire series may be secured.

FORTY-SIX MEN WORK OUT FOR GRIDIRON TEAM

Coach Richards Begins Task of Building Badger Machine

By CHAS. J. LEWIN.
Can John R. Richards win the Conference football championship this year?

Faced with a small squad which contains only a fair number of veterans, fighting with his back to the wall after two banner years in which a title eluded him by the narrowest of margins, "Big Jawn" will this fall attempt to shake the omnipresent jinx and lead Wisconsin to the place it deserves in western football circles.

The veteran mentor, who himself carried the ball for the Badgers many years ago, will have to solder together the pieces of a formidable machine.

He has lost Guy Swift, fullback; L. Gould, end and half; "Jimmie" Woods, half; George Baugh, all Conference choice for center; James Brader, now assistant coach, who was one of the mainstays of a powerful line, and "Rowdy" Elliott, a slashing halfback.

Brumm Out of Race.

"Kibo" Brumm was injured recently when he fell from a silo and there is little chance he will don a Cardinal uniform this season.

Forty-six men, generally termed a small squad, have caravanned around the practice field at Camp Randall since the season opened on Thursday. Of this number, five were regulars on the 1922 Varsity eleven and seven were reserves. The remainder of the squad is composed of players who flashed with the freshman outfit last year or who showed up well in the spring gridiron practice.

Coach Richards officially put the ball in motion last Thursday with an order for light work including passing the ball, forward passing,

Predict 1,200 Bonus Men Will Enter University

Between 1,100 and 1,200 ex-service men will enter the university this year under the opportunity offered by the state bonus award. C. O. Brown, in charge of the registration of bonus men, announced yesterday. This will be an advance of about 200 over the number enrolled last year. At Monday noon 180 men had enrolled.

The bonus is awarded by the state to men who served in the late war and amounts to a straight salary of $30 a month, with a maximum of $1,080 for the four years. The number also includes federal board men, who are paid by the federal government.

It is impossible to determine at this time just what number of these men are reentering and how many are registering for the first time, Mr. Brown said.

CARDINAL IS NOW 5 COLUMN DAILY

To enable the staff to give better service and to furnish a larger amount to news for the readers, The Daily Cardinal now is being published for the first time as a five-column paper instead of the four column make-up previously used.

The policy of running a full page of sports every day and a feature section every Sunday will be continued. The position of the skyrocket column has been changed from page 2 to the editorial page.

The first four issues of the Daily Cardinal will be distributed free to the students. Regular distribution will be begun next Saturday.

MANY VOLUMES ARE ADDED TO VARSITY LIBRARY

Fiction is Scarce in 1,900 Books
Received Since Last June

Fiction is conspicuous by its scarcity in the shelves of new books received at the university library during the summer of 1922. More than 1,900 volumes have been added to the library since June.

The Outcast, by Selma Lagerlof, and Merejkowski's Peter and Alexis, are the best known books of fiction. Three volumes by R. Brimley Johnson, a two volume series of essays on Some Contemporary Novelists and a study of Moral Poison in Modern Fiction, also have been received.

Recent books that also will be of interest to students of modern literature and drama are W. H. Hamilton's John Masefield, a study of the life and characteristic writings of the popular poet, The Odyssey in English Prose, by Samuel Butler and essays on Thomas Hardy's Dorsey, by R. H. Hopkins.

Books of scientific and economic interest make up the greater part of the threading material. The first two volumes of J. Arthur Thomson's Outlines of Science, Early Civilization, an introduction to Anthropology by A. A. Goldenweiser, and Science and Human Affairs, by Curtis are included in the list of scientific books.

The Problem of the Pacific in the Twentieth Century—Goloven; Germany in Travail—Manhey-Zorn; The Holy Alliance—Cresson; Problems of Peace—Ferrero, and J. A. Hobson's Incentives in the New Industrial Order, treat with timely problems of economic interest. The Settlement Horizon, by Woods and Kennedy will be interesting to students of sociology and welfare work.

Madison Pioneer Is Buried on Sunday

Funeral services for Henry Wildhagen, a pioneer settler in Madison, who died at his home in Blooming Grove last week, were held Sunday afternoon, Rev. Henry Harris of Pilgrim Congregational church, Madison, officiated.

Interment was made at Blooming Grove cemetery. Many friends and relatives of the deceased were present, and the floral offerings were a bountiful tribute to the life of Mr. Wildhagen. The church choir sang. He was born in Mecklenberg, Germany, Sept. 19, 1844. He came to Madison in 1856 and to Blooming Grove in 1871, where he was a florist and market gardener.

Two sisters and one brother survive. Pallbearers were Fred Schlueter, Charles Hoyt, Mr. Olsen, William Weber, H. Schultz and Peter Pfum.

Japanese Alliance, by Wood; The Island of Roses and Her Eleven Sisters, a history of the Aegean islands written by Volonakis; The Short Constitution, an explanation of the United States constitution by Wade and Russell, the Our New Regional Geographies, by Brooks; Edmund Gosse's Aspects and Impressions of English writers and their writings are useful and interesting.

Prof. G. M. Hyde's Handbook for Newspaper Workers which now is being used as a textbook in the Journalism course, and G. Stanley Hail's Senescence, also are among the new books.

senior women dressed in white will lead the senior escore to the freshman body.

President Birge to Speak.

Following the formation of classes before the Lincoln terrace, the university band will play "On Wisconsin." The entire group also will sing the University hymn. Dr. Charles H. Mills, director of the music school, will lead the singing.

Dr. George C. Sellery, dean of the College of Letters and Science, will preside at the welcome. The address on behalf of the university will be made by President Birge. He will be saluted by the Varsity toast when he steps on the platform.

President Walter J. Kohler of the Board of Regents will make an address on behalf of the regents. The faculty welcome will be extended by Prof. William H. Kieckhofer.

Frosh Don New Caps.

His address will be followed by the "Badger Ballad" to be sung by the upper classmen. The address on behalf of the student body will be made by Wayne L. Morse '23.

The singing of "America" will close the program.

Freshmen will don the green caps immediately after their arrival before Lincoln terrace. The new cap is striped with red on the seams and has a brim turned up sailor-fashion. Professor Olson is making arrangements to have motion pictures made of the preliminary pageant of classes and of the speakers.

"The success of the Varsity Welcome is in the hands of the upper classmen," Stewart said. "They should realize the value of this function, and in that realization they must see that its success is in their hands. Their presence at the ceremony is all that is necessary."

FORTY-SIX MEN WORK OUT FOR GRIDIRON TEAM

kicking, jogging and calisthenics under the direction of Trainer George Berg.

Barr's Fate Unknown.

In their fourth practice on Saturday afternoon, the men were ordered into a light scrimmage and for the first time, the thud of the pigskin was accompanied by the clash of charging bodies.

Wallace "Shorty" Barr, chubby quarterback, is still a question mark as regards eligibility. Although he has piloted the first team in its workouts, Barr is officially ineligible until the powers that be decide that his work in Equity has satisfied the stringent requirements of law school.

Taft is working out in the full-back position. The Whitewater product will have his hands full making rooters forget the sterling work of "Tuffy" Sundt, but he has the necessary size and speed to fill the bill. Taft is a kicker of no mean ability and a large number of his punts travel fifty yards or thereabouts.

Rollie Up To Standard.

Capt. Rollie Williams, heavier and more powerful than ever with just as much speed, will be one main cog in Wisconsin's powerful offensive machine.

With Gibson, regular last year, until he was hurt; Murry, a find about whom few seem to know anything definite; Bob Whitten, Nolte and Harris to battle for backfield positions, and with "Shorty" Barr slinging forward passes behind a well-timed screen offense, the Wisconsin attack will be as strong as any in the Big Ten.

The center position is causing Coach Richards his portion of worry at the present time. Just who will fill George Bunge's shoes is a moot point of discussion. Alton, Ben Pearse, Teckmeyer, of the 1921 freshman squad and Ellingson are possibilities.

Rebell Is Reliable.

Kiessling or Christianson may be shifted from the guard positions. Below and Hohlfeld are a well-matched pair of tackles and Bentson, Nichols, Bieberstein and Schernecker will make a hard fight to cinch one of the line jobs.

The listener er-ac, qh; Hr, Reliable Gus Tebell is slated to hold down the right wing. Tebell is usually not flashy, yet he has the uncanny ability to be in the right place at the right time. On defense, he senses the opponents' next move and that his judgment is sound is indicated by the effectiveness with which the doughty wingman holds down his end.

Hume, Russell, Irish, and Carlson will be among those in the first fight who battle for the other flank job.

The list of men who have been issued uniforms and their positions follows:

The Candidates Out.

E. E. Alton, '25, center; W. A. Barr, '23, quarterback; M. P. Bell, '23, tackle; H. J. Benton, '24, linesman; A. J. Bieberstein, '24, linesman; J. B. Cassidy, '25, linesman; G. A. Carlson, '24, halfback; C. Christianson, '23, guard; A. W. Christianson, '23, John Collins, '25, V. O. Ellingson, '24, center; T. O. Eaton, '24, Paul Echweiler, '24, linesman.

L. S. Eagleburger, '23, backfield; K. D. Farwell, '23; J. A. Fladoes, '25; Wenzel Fabera, '25; E. H. Gibson, '23; W. W. Harris, '23, backfield; R. A. Hohlfeld, '23, linesman; L. E. Hume, '23, end; R. J. Irish, '24, end; O. E. Kiessling, '23, linesman; W. E. Montgomery, '23; D. A. Millman, '23, backfield; J. F. Manierre, '25; D. E. Murry, halfback; A. E. Mabrey, '23; T. C. Nichols, '23, guards.

C. S. Nolte, '25, backfield; L. E. Nelson, '23, linesman; S. W. O'Brien, '25; B. H. Pearse, '24, center; Rudolph Pabst, '23, linesman; L. J. Pelegrom, '25; H. W. Risteen, '24; F. W. Radke, '25; R. H. Sykes, '23, backfield; A. R. Saari, '24, halfback; M. E. Strain, '25; E. G. Schernecker, '23, linesman; J. Slaughter, '24; M. E. Taft, '24, fullback; G. K. Tebell, '23; O. W. Teckmeyer, '25, center; R. C. Whitten, '25, halfback.

FROSH FOOTBALL CANDIDATES MEET

Candidates for the fresh football squad will meet in the trophy room of the gymnasium on Thursday night at which time Jimmy Brader, tackle on the 1921 team and "Keg" Driver, who will coach the squad, will issue instructions to the men.

"I don't know just what the material is going to be like," Brader said on Monday. "There are three or four real good men being talked about at the present time, but I don't know just what chances are. We want every hopeful man to be at the gym at 7:30 on Thursday. After that we can tell more about what's in the school."

Football equipment will be issued to the squad on Friday and Saturday, Coach Jones said Monday.

WILLIAMS WILL PILOT BADGERS

CAPT. "ROLLIE" WILLIAMS

Speedy, flashy "Rollie" Williams, Wisconsin superb halfback, will captain the Badger hopes when they enter the Big Ten Conference championship battle.

Williams was the sensation of the West last year and his hurtling end runs gained him nation-wide recognition. But for a few hard breaks and his shift to the quarterback position in the middle of the season, "Rollie" would have been an inside choice for the All-American squads. As it was, he ranked with the best in the country and his work will be closely watched this year.

Chinese Students Win Cups at Conference

Twenty Chinese students have returned to the university bearing four out of five silver trophy cups won in competition with representatives of other Conference universities at the thirteenth annual Chinese Students' conference held at Evanston, Ill., Sept 3 to 11.

The cups represent victories in soccer, basketball, singing and stunts. The cups will be placed on exhibition in the State Historical museum.

T. A. Sun was leader of the Wisconsin delegation to the conference; N. G. Chang was captain of the basketball team; Miss H. L. Chang led the singing team; and Miss Anna O. Chang was in charge of the playlet which won the stunt prize.

The Chinese students will continue their soccer and basketball teams and will accept challenges from any group.

WILL DEDICATE RANDALL STAND AT FIRST GAME

FRESHMEN WILL HAVE SEATS OF HONOR IN NEW STADIUM

A new $30,000 addition to the Camp Randall stadium will be completed for the first football game on Oct. 7 at which time it will be dedicated by the freshman class, according to Thomas E. Jones, director of the physical education department.

The new section will permit an increase of 3,000 seats over the number in the old wooden grandstand which burned early last June. Concrete pouring on the new stand was completed Saturday, and only the finishing touches remain to be done, Director Jones stated.

Part of the new Varsity dressing quarters will be built below the stand. The Varsity teams are using temporary quarters adjacent to the new section at the present time. New locker rooms, showers and heating system will be included in the addition.

FROSH DEDICATE STAND.

"The new stand will be decorated with bunting and prepared for formal dedication by the freshman class at the first game," Coach Jones said following a meeting of athletic directors in his office Monday night. "It will accommodate 4,000, which is more than the class needs, of course, but we will give them the best seats in the stand so they can all be together and have a good time."

STEINAUER WANTS TO SEE TANK MEN

Friday evening, Sept. 22, at seven o'clock Coach Steinauer wishes to meet all members of the Varsity and freshman swimming squads of the past season at the gym—first floor.

Any other students who have ever entered any of the following races report also: 40 yard free style, 200 yard breast stroke, 110 yard back stroke, 100 yard free style; plunge or fancy dives are not only welcome but their presence is desired.

The remodeled tank and showers are practically ready for use. Coach Steinauer expects to begin training early next week.

3,000 seats will be made on the west side of the stadium where basketball bleachers are to be erected above the present stands for the Homecoming game. This will bring the seating capacity on the west side of the stadium to 14,000 and the total seating capacity well over 25,000.

PAVE BREEZE TERRACE.

City engineers have promised Coach Jones that Breeze terrace will be paved. The improvements will not be made this fall, however, since the street will be needed before the paving could be completed. The street will be widened and curbed, however, during the fall.

The three large entrances to the stadium on the west side which were used last year will be replaced by ten entrances, Coach Jones said. This will allow one entrance way for every section in the west side stands.

A new concrete decorative wall reaching from the stadium to University Avenue is also included in the improvements. Work will be started on the wall after the terrace being done on the west side is completed.

DISTANCE TEAM FEELS LOSS OF CAPTAIN FINKLE

START TRAINING WITH EVEN CHANCES OF WINNING CONFERENCE VICTORY

Handicapped by the loss of Captain Finkle, conference cross country champ, but loaded with 16 veterans and several promising runners from last year's freshman squad, the 1922 Varsity cross country team started regular training yesterday with even chances of developing into a winning aggregation.

According to Mead Burke, cross country coach, the absence of Captain Finkle, who broke his leg in an indoor track meet with Notre Dame this spring, will spoil the Badger chances for winning the conference championship this season. Coach Burke stated yesterday, however, that he was confident that the team would rate high in the conference standings.

TWO "W" WEARERS

Included in the list of seasoned runners who have reported to Coach Burke for practice this year are Ramsay and Wade, "W" winners, and Moorehead, Rossmeisel, and Daniels, "aWa" men.

The other experienced candidates for places on the Varsity are Schneider, Chase, Greely, Vaile, Straka, Herrman, Sommer, and Peterson. These men have all trained with the Varsity squad in previous years and most of them have run in competition with conference teams.

From last year's freshman team,

YOUR PART

Today The Cardinal begins its thirty-first year of service to the university. It is your paper. It needs and deserves your support.

University life focusses in the columns of The Cardinal Daily the paper reports, forecasts, and comments upon the important events of a complex campus life.

Its page of sport news is the first and most authentic source of information on varsity athletics. Its special features show and explain the real traditions of the university and the great work it is doing.

Student organizations find in it the means of rallying support.

On its editorial page student opinion is precipitated.

Wisconsin boasts of its student spirit. Without a daily paper there could be no unanimity in a throng so large and unwieldy as that enrolled in the various colleges. What is Wisconsin would be a disjointed group of cliques.

To unify the university, that is the function of The Cardinal.

In its new five-column form The Cardinal is in better position than ever before to perform its function. Inadequate printing equipment has for some years impaired the efficiency of the paper. A new press minimizes the mechanical difficulties.

Old readers will observe many alterations in the paper. News and feature departments have been shifted. Type sizes have been changed. Each innovation is for the express purpose of giving the readers a more complete and easy-to-read digest of university life.

Bucking the bugbear of ineligibility, a staff of several dozen stigmatized men and women is working day and night throughout the year to give you a good paper every day.

Each staff member is determined that The Cardinal shall be a first class paper. Each staff member will do his part.

But the staff alone cannot make a newspaper. Subscribers are necessary.

Subscribe today.

AGAIN THE GREEN.

Brightening a window here and there along State street the new green caps are seen, verdant insignia of the freshman year.

Now and then a seasoned senior drops by, sees, stops, and muses.

"Not much like the frosh foliage of my day," says he to himself. "Almost wish I were a freshman. Kind of like to wear one. The old postage stamp has gone through quite a metamorphosis."

The new cap is popular. It is sightly and comfortable to wear. Already about the campus may be seen an occasional yearling proudly disporting the headgear which shows he is a full-fledged university student.

The green cap has changed in appearance, but that is a minor consideration.

The passing of the old scullion marks the death of one of the most discordant influences in student life at Wisconsin. With it go the intolerable ideas of compulsion and personal inferiority, stimuli of rowdiness.

That old cap represented a tradition of intense class rivalry and enmity. It was a dangerous tradition. It began in the days of small enrollment, when it was good fun to let good-natured class spirit break forth into harmless hazing and friendly fights.

Then Wisconsin grew. Greater enrollment brought more rowdies. Student groups, formerly small enough to be held in check by individual sense and decency, became unruly mobs.

The tradition became degenerate. It came to mean icy water and pneumonia. Lead pipes and goose-eggs. Brick-bats and blood. Phosphorus bombs and burns.

It became a loathsome thing. It is well dead.

That new cap means Wisconsin, and freshmen will wear it because they are proud to be Wisconsin students.

It represents the traditions that have come from the men who have made Wisconsin great—personal service, clean competition, fearless academic inquiry, militant persistency.

These are real traditions of which every student can be proud and against which none can rebel.

It will be with these in mind that freshmen will don their green headgear next Friday morning at the varsity welcome on the upper campus.

THE PRICE OF JAZZ

Dancing is Wisconsin's greatest indoor sport.

Every week end night the Latin quarter shrieks and moans with a conglomerate conflict of syncopated sound. Intermittent laughter comes from fraternity and sorority houses, temporary temples of jazz.

That's all right. Dancing is mighty fine sport.

For a dance to be enjoyable, the music must be good. Students insist on good music. Fortunately, Madison orchestras are excellent.

Unfortunately, however, musicians want money for their services, as much as they can get. As there is a strong demand for good music, musicians demand high pay and orchestra agents demand high commissions.

Enthusiastic dancers, spending dad's money and wanting good music have spent more money for music than dad could really afford.

That's not all right. Students, not earning their own money, are morally bound to be as moderate in their expenditures for pleasure as in this expenditures for text books.

Last spring, with some urging from the deans, students got together and decided that orchestra prices ought to come down.

They appointed a committee to meet with orchestra agents and negotiate for a slash. They agreed not to contract for orchestras until the committee had obtained the slash.

The committee reports progress.

We feel sure that the committee will succeed, that it will be firm in the knowledge that the students it represents are behind it, that it will not be content with half way measures.

We feel sure that the students will feel content with nothing less than a reduction proportionate with the recent reductions in the price of corn beef and cabbage.

FROSH BLUES

Loneliness is a drug on the market in Madison these days.

Scores of freshmen, fresh from the lares and penates of the home town fireside, have seen every movie in town and are now spending their spare time in unfamiliar rooms where not even the radiators yet extend a warm welcome.

Some of these freshmen found their way over to the University "Y" last night to the freshman mixer and made some new friends. Those friendships are with classmates. Many will gain in warmth and intimacy through four years of student life.

It's a great work the "Y" is doing in helping new men to get acquainted. During this week it fills what is perhaps its most important function.

Tonight the "Y" will hold another mixer, and tomorrow night is its annual freshman banquet.

Any freshman who misses that banquet is losing one of the best experiences of his first year.

It is an opportunity, not only to meet dozens of classmates, but to become acquainted with one of the best known leaders of student body and faculty.

The men who attend will learn that professors are not all pedantic bookworms, but really very good fellows. They will hear, from students who have succeeded, what opportunities are in store for them in student life and how to grasp those opportunities.

TO SAVE TIME

With an immense throng of students mounting the hill tomorrow morning, it will be essential that everyone observe the traffic regulations for Bascom hall if time-wasting congestion is to be averted.

The rules are simple. Enter at the center and climb the center stairs. Descend the stairs at the ends of the building and exit from the end doors.

These rules were made to save time. They do save time if they are followed.

For Football Weather—

It's pretty cold in Madison before the football season ends, so you'll want a warm coat. There are trig sport coats in soft grays and in the lovely Imported English Snowflake coating. Flattering indeed are the becoming lines of the wrappy, fur-collared, fur-cuffed coats of the new materials—Gerona, Veldyne, and Fashona, Coats, $20 to $20.

If You Wear Your Hair Bobbed

You will wish to visit our Women's Barber Shop on third floor. An expert is in charge of the shop. You will appreciate the convenience of this service for women and children exclusively.

Co-eds are Finding "Just What They Want" at Manchester's

FOR every glorious occasion of the academic year, whether on the campus or off, here are smart, becoming things.

For the Campus—

A new slip-over sweater! Choose between gay colored affairs with dainty designs in white fiber silk, and darker Autumn colors relieved with Indian figures in typically Indian hues. $2.50 and up. Cozily warm Angora sweaters, $6 to $9. Then, of course, you'll want a new skirt. Probably you will select a prunella in navy or black which discloses a stunning stripe in lighter colored ratine when you walk. $15.50, others at $6.75 to $20.

For the Classroom—

A poiret twill one-piece frock is very practical and will go on in a jiffy. One of this type is of navy poiret with flaring sleeves richly embroidered in Bulgarian colors. Self-material loops and buttons fasten the front. The girdle is of Poiret, $22.50. Others from $15 and up.

For the Sorority Tea

Or the Friday night dance, you'll need a silk frock. One especially delightful is of black georgette of tan. The king-panels of georgette start at the shoulder in the guise of sleeves, but end below the hem-line as full-fledged panels. The front and back of the skirt and blouse are embroidered and beaded in the richest of colors around cut-work petals, $55. Others, in satin-back crepe, canton, and crepe de chine at $25, $27.50, $35 and $37.

BUREAUS FIND STUDENT WORK

Y. M. C. A. Gives Out 1,300 Pieces of Work Each Year

Each year a large number of students earn a great part of their expenses through the help of the various employment bureaus on the campus. The university Y. M. C. A. employment office has been busy all summer corresponding with men who desire such help.

The employment bureau run by the Y. M. C. A. is the finest among the various universities of the country. It was effected only after other employment bureaus of the Big Ten had been studied. W. L. Young, the new associate secretary, is giving all of his time to interviewing and listing the men seeking work. Miss Letts Veerhausen is also helping with the work. Men wishing temporary employment are asked to see her.

Last year this office gave out over 1,300 pieces of work. With the many calls for student help coming in every day, the outlook for work seems even better for this year. Three hundred men registered on the list last week and more are coming in daily. The office has so far been able to send out help as soon as the calls come in.

Secretary F. E. Wolf, who is in charge of the Y. M. C. A. employment says, "The men should not feel discouraged if they do not get work the first day. We have never, so far as I know, had a man leave school for lack of employment. We invite them to keep in touch with us constantly. If a student is willing, I see no reason why he can not work his way through school."

"We do not encourage men to work, however, who are not in need of financial aid. I believe all their spare time should be given to outside reading and recreation."

The employment bureau for women is at present in charge of Mrs. Clara B. Flett, assistant Dean of Women. Miss E. D. Young, mistress of Barnard, will have complete charge of the work as soon as she is relieved of the duties necessary each year at the opening of the hall.

Last year over 200 women found employment through the Lathrop office. This year positions as stenographers, typists, nurse girls, housemaids and tutors have been listed with Mrs. Flett. Girls are daily applying for help, and so far all have been supplied.

Mrs. Philip Shano and daughter, Miss Phyllis, of Milwaukee, are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Henter, 312 South Park street.

CROSS COUNTRY MEN FEEL FINKLE'S LOSS

which was exceptionally strong for a yearling squad, will be recruited such men as Valley, Perry, Trier, Hilberts, Bergstresser, Smithyman, Grubb, and Carter. Valley was undisputed frosh champion in the half mile last spring; the other runners were consistent winners in inter-class and freshman telegraphic meets.

Start Easily.

The workouts for the first few days will be easy jogging for distances up to two miles; the full distance of five miles will not be covered until the squad has become hardened to the grueling cross country work. Until the first part of October, when new showers are put into operation at the gymnasium, the team is working from the stock pavilion.

A stiff schedule has been made out for the coming season, including two or possibly three meets with conference schools and the conference meet. The doubtful date is a three and one-half mile race with either Iowa or Michigan on Oct. 21.

The schedule as it now stands is as follows:

Nov. 4—Minnesota or Minneapolis
Nov. 11 (Homecoming)—Chicago at Madison
Nov. 25—Conference at Purdue

Committee Recommends 260
Men and Women For Awards

Approximately 260 students have been recommended to receive scholarships during the past year by the committee on loans and scholarships. About 243 of these scholarships are awarded by the Board of Regents, the others are awarded by various organizations and from private funds.

"In addition to the legislative and to the Wisconsin scholarships", said Prof. Julius Olson, chairman of the loan and scholarship committee, "we recommended at our June meeting the award of 10 cash scholarships to women students of the state varying from $100 to $350. These will be awarded on the basis of scholarship, general worthiness, and financial need."

Legislative scholarships for 1922 and 1923 have been recommended for 133 persons. These scholarships are awarded to only non-resident students and exempt the holder from the payment of the $124 tuition fee. Besides the 133 legislative scholarships awarded to undergraduate students, 50 such scholarships awarded to either men or women, are each of the value of $100. They were established by the Regents of the university in 1919. The students receiving these scholarships must be residents of Wisconsin who have shown worth and ability and who are in need of financial assistance.

Other scholarships were awarded as follows:

Helen F. Shafer, Wauwatosa, and Maude Killam, Milwaukee, received the Fannie P. Lewis scholarship. Helen M. Burwick, Milwaukee, and

The board assisting the chairman is composed of Eleanor Head '23,
