MILITARY DRILL IS FAVORED BY CAMPUS OPINION

Sellery Interprets Act on Land Grant

The general consensus of opinion among the faculty and student body concerning the bill proposed in the state legislature to make military training in the university an optional matter with the students, seems to be against the measure.

Although many professors and prominent students did not feel in a position to express their feelings in connection with the bill, enough opinion was gleaned in a census conducted yesterday to draw the above conclusion.

"Until the conditions in the world settle down," Prof. George C. Sellery, Dean of the College of Letters and Science asserted, "we must do a minimum amount of military training. The bill, furthermore, would not violate the Moral Grant act which states that the university must offer courses in military training, but not that such courses must be compulsory."

"I am heartily against the passage of the bill," said Howard Lyman '24, a major in the cadet corps. "The student realizes after he has graduated, if not before, that the drill is an excellent thing. The few hours that it requires make little difference in the daily curriculum of the student."

"The best thing that could occur for the university would be the abolition of compulsory military drill," David Sinclair '24, declared. "War is more apt to take place if extensive training is carried on in the colleges than if it is not. If America would announce complete disarmament, the belligerent nations of the world would commence to close their military enthusiasm."

"If the United States is to be in a council of nations they must supply not only wisdom but power," Prof. F. C. Sharp of the department of philosophy said. "It is impossible to tell when a war will come and an army of instructors trained in the colleges would make a vast difference in time of need."

"The discipline derived from the military drill is a fine thing for any fellow," declared Gerald Koch '23. "I am heartily in favor of continuing compulsory military training at the university."

UNION BOARD BRINGS

PABLO CASALS HERE

Pablo Casals, the greatest of the cellists, will play at the University Armory Tuesday evening, February 20, in the last concert of the season, under the auspices of Union Board.

Casals is not only the greatest cellist of the modern world, but critics call him the greatest of the players of stringed instruments. His technical skill is not surpassed by any of the artists of violin or any of the lighter stringed instruments, and his interpretation of the spirit and beautiful thought of music is irresistible.

This artist has attained a fineness of tone and shading that brings his art as near the perfection of cello playing as human skill and intelligence would seem able to achieve. The famous violinist, Fritz Kreisler, said of Casals, "He is the greatest musician who has ever drawn a bow."

JIMMIE BRADER LEAVES FOR EUROPEAN TRAVEL

Jimmie Brader '23 left Madison on Sunday to start the first lap of his journey to Europe. He met Bob Sykes '23 in Chicago and the two of them left for New York Monday. They intend to sail for Europe some time next week. They will make an extended tour of Europe although their itinerary has not been definitely decided upon. Both Brader and Sykes are former football stars of the university. Brader completed his course last semester.

S. G. A. Assists Chinese Student

To raise sufficient money to pay the schooling expenses of Whei Lan Chang, a Chinese Junior student and also her sailing expenses, will be the object of a drive to be conducted under the auspices of the S. G. A., to be conducted from February 19 to 26.

The organization for the drive will be made up of squads of 10 girls each, according to house divisions. All houses at which 10 or more girls are located will be visited. The S. G. A. representatives will be left in charge of raising the necessary funds. Dorothy Wilgus '24 is general chairman of the campaign.

Whei Lan is a graduate of the Y. W. C. A. Normal School of Physical Education in Shanghai, China. She is a physical education major here, and expects to return to the Shanghai Normal this summer, where she will do physical education work among her own people.

COACH ATTENDS CLUB TRYOUTS

E. Mortimer Shuter, Dramatic Expert, to Instruct Haresfoot

E. Mortimer Shuter, coach of the Haresfoot club, arrived in Madison yesterday morning and attended the club tryouts which are being held in Lathrop hall.

Coach Shuter will leave for Ann Arbor this noon where he is directing a series of plays to be given this week-end. He will return to Madison for his permanent stay on February 22.

"Although I can give out no definite word as to the results of the tryouts as yet, the prospects are very good and the possibilities for a good show are unbounded. The personnel of the cast and chorus should be ready for announcement in a day or two," Shuter said yesterday.

Shuter has been coach of the Michigan Union Student opera for five years and has brought it from a small local club to an organization which tours the largest cities of the east and which has come to be the main support of the Michigan union. Already Michigan has signed theater contracts for next season during the Christmas holidays. The Metropolitan Opera house in New York city is on the list of engagements.

"With the genius of Shuter to guide us, the Haresfoot club this year and in the future years looks for not only a repetition of its past successes, but also an expansion and development which will place Haresfoot productions on a par in scope with other college shows as they already are on a par in quality," L. Gerold Koch '23 said last night.

Dr. J. R. Mott to Address All University Convo

The first all-University convocation of the year for which classes will be dismissed has been called for Friday, March 2.

Dr. John R. Mott, general secretary of the international committee of the Y. M. C. A., principal speaker of the Religious conference, will address the students. The annual religious conference will be held March 2 to 4.

Doctor Mott is considered as having had a greater influence on civilization than any living man," Dad Wolfe, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. said yesterday.

Doctor Mott has interview more rulers and statesmen than any one in the world, according to Dad Wolfe, and in his travels has circled the earth four times.

NIGHT EDITORS

Cardinal night editors will meet at 5 o'clock this afternoon in the editorial office in the Union building.

MEN'S WELFARE BODY STIRS IRE OF MANY CO-EDS

Indignance Expressed in Interviews

Few students expressed similar opinions yesterday concerning the proposed organization of a "Society for the Welfare of Male Students" which is being sponsored by a number of members of the junior and senior classes when interviewed yesterday.

"The men date only with the frowzy-headed, bobbed haired girls who get their 'lines' from Puck or Life and do not have to display a great amount of common sense to please their partners", a junior, and one of the leading sorority girls, said.

"Unless she is a fusser, a girl has no chance to get a date. The men do not know the nice girls on the campus. Why, some of the leaders in the school take out the most undesirable girls. Very often these are town girls who have never attended the university.

A graduate student had a different viewpoint on the matter.

"The co-ed is responding to what men students demand," she asserted. "Women act as men want them to, and men act as women desire."

Must Have Equality

A sophomore emphatically upheld the belief that college does not fit women for homebuilding. He thought, however, it was foolish for any men to pledge themselves not to marry any college-bred woman.

"College women get too many psychology ideas," he said. "They become too critical and hard to please. Many of them think that homebuilding is not worthy of their abilities and prefer a business career."

"No marriage can be successful without equality between man and wife," a senior girl in the Course in Journalism said. "The college woman is nearer the equal of a college man than a girl who has not received the benefits of such an education. She has a broader concept of life and is better able to understand the problems of life and to inspire her husband to greater success."

Make Poor Husbands

A junior girl working on the Badger thinks the society is the result of a few disastrous prom dates. She advises these men to stand up under the punishment rather than become antagonistic toward all college women.

"Don't you think that male students make as poor husbands as women students make wives?" asked another junior. "We will have to put up with the men; why shouldn't they be expected to do the same?"

Equally divergent views were expressed on the "tux" parties which are being given by sororities and fraternities this year. Parties of this nature will take place this week-end in spite of the opposition which has arisen against them.

Hit Tux Parties

"The 'tux' parties are keeping a lot of fellows from going out, because they have not the proper outfits for the occasion," one senior said. "These parties limit the number of men that can date up and make for artificial conditions, many men are forced to extend themselves beyond their means or else to refuse the invitations."

Another was of the opinion that the men were as much responsible for the "tux" parties as the women. They sanction them by their attendance and by giving such a party occasionally, he said.

"Comments on Art" to Be Given By Jens Jensen

The committee on Lectures and Convocations announces a lecture to be given this afternoon at 4:30 in 165 Bascom hall by Jens Jensen, a well known landscape architect of Chicago. The lecture, "Comments on Art", is the first of a series of two public lectures on "Art and the Out-of-doors".

Religious Convo Is Being Planned

Plans for the all-university religious conference to be held here during the week-end of March 2 to 4 are rapidly emerging from the formative stage and assuming definite form.

The event will be the first this school year for which all classes are suspended for a few hours in order to enable students to attend the convocation, which will probably be held in Lathrop hall.

Dr. John R. Mott will be the principle speaker. Mr. Mott has made four complete trips around the world, addressing people everywhere on religion, according to "Dad" Wolf of the Y. M. C. A. It is thought that he has met more of the world's greatest personalities than any other man living.

$100 IN PRIZES FOR BREEDERS

Over Forty Head of Cattle Will Enter Show Competition

Prizes valued at more than $100 are to be awarded to exhibitors of beef cattle at the Wisconsin Little International Live Stock show and Winter Farm Festival that will be held at the University Stock pavilion on February 24.

More than 40 head of fat stock will enter the ring in competition for the numerous prizes. The exhibits include four classes of Shorthorns, three classes of Angus, one class of Herefords, one class of Hereford bulls, and two classes of baby beefs.

Many valuable animals are included in the display. The Short horn cow, College Girl, one of the foundation cows of the herd, is highly valued by the animal husbandry department. College Princess, an Angus Cow is also a favorite with beef cattle authorities. Master Gainford, the Shorthorn sire, and Maple's Lad the king of the Hereford herd are strong contenders for prizes. Among the younger stock, the Angus heifer recently purchased from Stanley M. Pierce, Creston, Ill., is expected to place high.

A great variety of prizes and trophies will be awarded to champion exhibitors. In the Shorthorn classes, the following awards will be made: four histories of the short-horn breed, American Short Horn Breeder's association; four Shorthorn watch fobs, American Short-horn Breeder's association; short-horn medal, American Shorthorn breeder's association; History of Shorthorns, Ralph Reynolds, Lodi; two subscriptions to the Shorthorn World, D. A. Whelan; $2, cash, Griswold Bros. Livingston; $7.50 silver cup, Wisconsin Shorthorn Breeder's association.

Herefords, $7.50 silver cup, Wisconsin Hereford Breeder's association; Story of Herefords, J. C. Robinson, Evansville; subscription to Hereford Journal, Erving Jewell, Mineral Point.

Angus, Silver cup; Baby Beef $10 silver cup by Madison Packing company. Miscellaneous prizes, $50, cash, by Bowles Commission company, Chicago; Show halter, R. Laache, Co., Milwaukee.

Scholarship is Granted to Medill Students By Waldo

A scholarship in the Medill School of Journalism at Northwestern university beginning with the current semester and continuing for 10 years has been given by Richard H. Waldo, New York magazine editor.

WEATHER: FAIR

A severe cold wave was predicted last night for today and tomorrow. The highest temperature yesterday was 26 degrees at 4 p. m. and the lowest was 21 degrees at 3 a. m.

INELIGIBILITY TO TAKE FIVE MEN FROM MICHIGAN

Miller, Star Forward, is Lost

GAME TONIGHT Wisconsin at Michigan.

Wisconsin basketball stock jumped several points yesterday when it was announced that Miller, Michigan star forward and high point scorer of the Conference, Birks, Varsity guard, and three substitutes will be unable to represent the Wolverines in their important contest with Coach Walter E. Meanwell's quintet tonight. The men were declared scholastically ineligible at the end of the semester.

In addition to the loss of five ineligible men, two others are sick and may be unable to participate in the tilt. Haggerty, star forward who was the "find" of the season, and MacWood are ill; Rice and McGregor, centers, and Emery, forward, are ineligible.

The loss of Miller and Haggerty, forward, would practically wreck the scoring combination, leaving Capt. Ely to bear the brunt of the offense. With Birks out of it, the defense is somewhat injured, although Cappon and Paper have been playing the guard positions during most of the games.

Kipke Returns to Team

Reports from Ann Arbor indicate that Coach Mather has sent out a hurry call for reserves and is hard put to build up a combination, but like many "bear stories" these can be partly discounted. Miller and Birks are undoubtedly disqualified for further competition, but it is likely that Haggerty will get into the game despite his alleged illness.

Michigan was strong enough to defeat Minnesota Monday night, 34 to 13, which is a larger margin of victory as Wisconsin gained in its game with the same Gopher quint. Kipke, All-American football half, has returned to the squad, and can capably fill one of the guard or forward positions. Mather has pressed into use Reason, a member of the squad last year, Merkle, tennis captain, and Martin, winter on the track team, who will be held on the bench. Although his team undoubtedly has been weakened, yet it is stronger than most Big Ten outfits and should have an edge over

OCTY WILL EXPLAIN HOW TO KEEP YOUNG

The "Fashion" number of the Octopus will be on sale Wednesday, Feb. 21.

"It will resemble a combined issue of Vanity Fair, Vogue, and Shadowland," declared Hubert Townsend '23, editor. "In few ways will be paralleled to other numbers of the Octopus."

"The last thing in styles, new types of cars for students, and how to keep young will be explained and portrayed," he continued. "Then too, there will be several lessons on how to play golf." Copies of this issue will be distributed outside of Wisconsin.

Milwaukee Dairy Man to Address Ag Students

C. E. Lee of the Gridley Dairy company, Milwaukee, will address the agricultural students at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night on "College Trained Men in the Modern Milk Plant" in the Dairy building, under the auspices of the Babcock Dairy club.

Mr. Lee was formerly professor of Dairy Husbandry here. He was also a member of the dairy and food commission of Wisconsin.

He has appeared before the state legislature on several occasions to speak on "Protection of the Modern Milk Industry." He has studied extensively the problems of the butter industry and will tell the Ag students about it tonight.

CHANGE CLASS IN LIBE WORK

Usual Summer Course Will Be Supplanted By Con-

Although no regular course in library training will be given during the summer session this year, the Library school will hold a general conference on library work, from July 16 to July 28.

Beginning technical courses with practice work are not offered, but it is thought that all who would have profited by such courses will profit equally by the discussions during the conference.

Two weeks will be devoted to the growing problems of library work. Such subjects as library administration, finances, extension, publicity, book selection, new methods of library technique and records, and many others will be covered by the conference.

Some of the subject matter will be covered in a definite series of lectures, conducted by experts in these subjects, including members of the university faculty; other subjects will be taken up in informal round table discussions.

It is planned to make this an inter-state conference, and library workers from every state will be made welcome. This is the third conference of the kind to be held here. The previous conferences held in 1911 and 1915 proved so successful measured by the results in work afterwards, that many requests for another have been received.

All lectures and discussions will be open to anyone in attendance; however, it will be possible for students of junior rank to gain two credits. Those who desire to gain university credit must follow a definite course and pass an examination upon its completion. An additional fee of $5 will be charged those who register for credit.

Saturday, July 14 is registration day, and lectures will begin at 9 o'clock July 16.

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—One known dead two probably lost in the flames, a score injured and $1,500,000 in property loss stood the toll today as Syracuse checked up in cost of the fire which last night destroyed the six story Bastable Block, the Belvedere hotel, and damaged several other buildings.

ILLINOIS BOASTS TWO REAL D. A. R.

Mrs. Lucinda Porter, on top, and Mrs. Josephine Wodetki.

Incredible as it may appear Illinois shelters two women whose fathers were soldiers of the American Revolution. They are believed to be the last now living with this extraordinary distinction. Mrs. Lucinda Porter of Lawrenceville, who is 87 years of age, and Mrs. Josephine Wodetki of Lincoln, aged 93, have the right to be termed real daughters of the American revolution. Both are honorary members of the D. A. R.

PRINCETON PROF TO GIVE SERIES OF TALKS HERE

Prof. Frank Jewett Mather, professor of art at Princeton university, will give four illustrated lectures during the week beginning February 19. He comes to the university at the request of the department of Classics.

The subject of the lectures will be Romanticism and its Sequel, February 19; The Great Traditionalists of the Nineteenth Century, February 20; The Problem of Landscape and Luminism, February 21; Expressionism and Cubism, February 23. The lectures will be held at 4:30 o'clock in 165 Bascom hall.

Professor Mather is recognized as the foremost professor of the history of art and critic of the fine arts in this country. His Particular interest is in the history of painting.

MILWAUKEE JUDY CHARGES THREE WITH CONSPIRACY

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—Winfred C. Zabel, former district attorney, late Monday was indicted by the county grand jury in a blanket indictment, naming, besides Mr. Zabel, Attorneys Nebel and Arthur W. Richter. All gave bail of $1,000 each.

A fourth man was named, but as he had not been arrested up to late last night, the terms of the indictment were kept secret. From a statement of Mr. Zabel, it was learned that the four men were charged with conspiracy to accuse Arthur J. Baum, prominent club man, of a serious crime in an attempt to extort from Baum $50,000.

The indictment grows out of an investigation made by Mr. Zabel while he was district attorney or the charge that Mr. Baum had assaulted Mrs. Jane Borstadt in her apartment on Aug. 10, 1921, and the subsequent civil action commenced by Mrs. Borstadt against Baum.

After Graduation—What?

A QUICK rise to a responsible position in the business world—or a long period of training at minor work before you are fitted for an executive role? Which shall it be? A college trained man, if he has earnestly applied himself, has acquired one of the greatest assets in life—the ability to think. It is a tremendous advantage. For now you are trained to set yourself for a certain definite goal and not be side-tracked. Have you chosen business for your life's work? If so, and if you seek leadership in the commercial world, here are facts worthy of your deepest consideration.

The principles of leadership in business are not many in number. They are not hard to grasp. Yet less than two men in one hundred ever learn them. The two chief reasons for this failure are: (1)—lack of an all-round business experience. (2)—the difficulty of drawing sound conclusions from the relatively few experiences that any one person can have.

A Study of Leaders

Through your studies thus far you have created for yourself a substantial background—a foundation upon which you can build high. Why not use this foundation in the largest possible way? If you are truly ambitious for steady and permanent progress, it will be well for you—in addition to your undergraduate work to consider the advisability of special training which will cut off years of apprenticeship in the business world. This training is available at the Babson Institute—an educational institution organized under the laws of Massachusetts not for profit.

Every man who hopes to be a leader in the business world needs special training—a training that can be had only from actual experience. A study of the successful business men of today shows they are those who have—(1)—a fundamental knowledge of business principles; (2)—a faculty for the practical application of these principles to daily business life.

These tried and proven principles, this gift for application may now be yours.

The Business of Learning Business

The specialists of the Babson Institute have spent years in business research, laboratory work, and the study of the lives of successful men. They have arrived at the fundamentals which every one must have to achieve leadership in business. These vitally important facts have been put together in clear, understandable form and concentrated into an intensive one-year training course. Babson Institute, an endowed educational institution, is conducted for the purpose of training young men who are to occupy positions of responsibility and trust.

The Laboratory Method

Since it is the purpose of the Babson Institute Course to train men for business, all work and all study is conducted in the same manner as work is conducted in any regularly established business house. For instance, there are regular office hours not merely school hours. Lessons and reports are dictated by the student as in an office—not written. Thus the student acquires a mastery of business English and the ability to transform quickly his thoughts into definite form.

Teaching in Conference

Classes are conducted on the conference plan. The teachers, or directors as they are more properly called, are experienced business men, successful in their own line. Factory inspection trips are not long distance walking matches, but personally conducted tours by experts in that particular industry. The problems discussed are present-day ones and are drawn from actual experience. They are the same problems on which over 17,000 of America's keenest executives are seeking aid and solution from the largest organization of business advisers in the world. The student at Babson Institute works on actual cases—not hypothetical problems—and consequently he develops the business man's point of view.

Business Clinics

The student at the Babson Institute learns to do the things he will be expected to do in business by constant contact with actual business procedure. He participates in the clinic instead of sitting in a class. The training covers the four major divisions of business, Manufacturing and Production, Financing, Distribution and Marketing, and Management. If you are anxious for achievement, if, by inheritance or initiative, you seem destined to become one of our leaders of business, send for particulars about this training and its unusual teaching methods.

Send for this Booklet!

"Training for Business Leadership." It describes the courses in detail, and gives complete information of the facilities of Babson Institute. You will learn of the practical methods peculiar to this institution by which men are fitted without loss of time for executive positions. No obligation.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

SIX MID-WEST SCHOOLS FORM ATHLETIC BODY

Three States Will Be Represented

A new conference of six mid-western colleges, embodying similar athletic rules to those of the Western conference, was formed and selected Walter Eckersall, football expert, as commissioner of representatives of the colleges, at a meeting held in the Chicago Auditorium Sunday.

The new Tri-State conference representing Valparaiso university, Columbia of Dubuque, Western State Normal, St. Viator's Depaul and Lewis institute of Chicago has offered Eckersall, in unanimously choosing him as commissioner, a power to enforce all conference rules, the same as held by Maj. John Griffith for the Western conference.

Others May Join

The constitution accepted in principle at the meeting has been delayed in adoption pending the answer of Eckersall and the possible admission of Carroll college and La Crosse Normal to the conference.

These two colleges have been asked to enter and have shown signs of acceptance. Both will be represented at the final meeting to be held soon in Chicago, when it is thought that two more Iowa colleges will be admitted.

Delay Frosh Ruling

Faculty control of athletics was voted for unanimously in the tentative constitution drawn up with the assistance of Maj. Griffith. It was decided, however, to delay acceptance of the freshman rule for one year to give some of the schools opportunity to adjust conditions.

Out-of-town delegates at the conference were: Rev. M. Sheehy, Columbia college; Earl Goheen, Valparaiso university; Rev. E. M. Kelly, St. Viator's; and Milton Olander, Western State Normal, Kalamazoo.

Wolverine Basketball Lose

Bill Miller After Exams

Michigan's basketball team loses Bill Miller, her leading scorer, as a result of last week's examinations, it was learned Sunday. Because Miller fell short in his scholastic work he must be dropped from the team, according to the rules of the conference. The Wolverines will suffer a severe blow from the loss Miller will probably be replaced by Kipke.

Five Kansas Runners to Enter Illinois Relay Meet

Five University of Kansas track athletes will enter the Illinois relays and possibly more, according to Coach Karl Schladerman. Unless the men fall short of expectations in their initial winter meet with the Kansas City Athletic club in Kansas City, February 17, Coach Schladerman will send more than his stellar quintet of performers to the Illinois meet.

Wisconsin and Illinois Are Included in A. and M. Card

The University of Wisconsin and the University of Illinois are included in the 1923 baseball schedule of the A. and M. college of Starkville, Mississippi. Schedule of the games was made public Saturday. Both games will be held on the A. and M. field. The Illinois game will be played March 30-31 and the Wisconsin game April 9-10.

Michigan to Play Five Games in Eleven Days

Because of Wisconsin's refusal to play in Waterman's gym, on Saturday, the night after the Michigan Prom, the J hop, the Wolverines will be forced to play five conference games in 11 days. Coach Mather was not entirely averse to the change in schedule, although Coach Jones' postponement from Saturday to Wednesday will place an additional strain on the Michigan passers.

Ohio State Track Relay to Test Buckeye Power

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 13.—Indoor track strength will get a real test at Ohio State university on February 24, when the Buckeyes stage their second annual indoor invitation relay carnival. Oberlin, Wooster, Case, Ohio Wesleyan, Denison and Cincinnati, have been invited to participate. Special events for Columbus high and grammar schools will be sandwiched between collegiate relays. Approximately 250 athletes will participate in the meet.

Case and Denison will send medley teams against a pair of Ohio State teams. The first man will sprint 220 yards, the second 440, the third 880 and the anchor man will run a mile. Wooster will put a team of two half-milers against an Ohio State quartet similarly constructed. Four half-milers from Wesleyan will run against an Ohio State four. Cincinnati will put four milers in the field against the Buckeyes.

Each university will enter men in the five special individual events the 50-yard dash, 60-yard high and low hurdles, high jump and shot put.

Y. M. C. AGERS HEAD LEAGUE

Twelve Teams Battle For Top Place in Rooming House Group

An independent basketball league, taking in a number of rooming houses, which was formed last December has been playing games regularly since a week or two after the holidays. The city Y. M. C. A. and the University Y. M. C. A. are leading the league at present. Each aggregation has a strong team and so far both have kept out of the losing column.

The games are played in the gymnasium during hours that will not conflict with the fraternity league or Varsity practice. The Chinese students have formed a quintet and to date they have won more games than they have lost.

Schedule for today's and Friday's games is as follows:

Tonight 8 to 9 o'clock—City Y. M. C. A. vs. 812 W. Johnson; 415 North Murray vs. University Y. M. C. A.; Chinese students vs. 411 North Murray.

Friday: 7 to 8 o'clock—City Y. M. C. A. vs. 1021 Clymer place; 415 North Murray vs. 812 West John-

RACE CARNIVAL ATTRACTS MANY PREP SCHOOLS

Greatest Meet to Be Held Saturday

With entries for the relay carnival practically all in, last minute plans are being made for one of the greatest carnivals in Wisconsin's history. The meet will be held in the gym annex Saturday afternoon.

Besides the fraternity entries, outside entries including military academies, normal schools, and high schools have poured into the gym office.

Five military academies, including Culver and St. John's, are entered in the meet and will probably provide one of the most exciting races of the carnival.

Four High Schools Sign

While all of the entries from normal schools and junior colleges are not in, four institutions have already signed and will be here for the meet.

Marquette university will probably stack up with the best in this class although there will be worthy competition in Milton college and other entries.

So far, there have been only four entries from the high school class, three of which are local schools. Central High, East High and Wisconsin High have entered and there is certain to be considerable rivalry between these schools for superiority.

Monticello is the only other high school which has signed for the meet.

son; University Y. M. C. A. vs. 411 North Murray.

Friday 8 to 9 o'clock—Chinese students vs. 223 West Gilman; 211 North Mills vs. 215 North Murray.

The standings are as follows:

	Won	Lost	Pct.

MATCHING OF WILLARD AND JOHNSON MIGHTY CLEVER STUNT ALL AROUND

The cleverest bit of matchmaking pulled off in some time in these halcyon days of kidding the fistic public has just been put over. That is, the fifteen-round battle between Jess Willard, earnest ex-champ, and Floyd Johnson, prominent among the youthful aspirants to Jack Dempsey's crown. The match will draw big because Willard will be making his second debut in it. The attention paid to Johnson recently will help make him a drawing card.

Conference Rules Will Be Altered at Illini Meet

Western conference rules will be expanded at the Illinois indoor carnival, scheduled at Champaign for March 3, Coach Gill announced Monday. All men in fourth year competition in schools which sanction freshman varsity activities will be admitted to special events.

The new rule makes the carnival an open event, requiring only that the participants in the specials be eligible for competition in their own schools.

With the largest entries thus far listed, Iowa has hopes of carrying off the honors of the meet. Kepler, Morrow, Brookings and Wilson, the one mile relay team of the Hawkeyes who took the honors of the event last year, are on the schedule.

Ineligibility of Doug Fessenden and Art Hyde, two of the Illini heavy work trackmen, shattered Illinois' hopes for the classic. Fessenden, champ quarter-miler, holds the carnival record of 49 seconds.

BORGELT PLANS BOXING BOUTS

Inter-Class Tourney Will Be Held Early Next Month

An inter-boxing class tourney will be held early next month, according to Coach Eddie Borgelt. The date has not been definitely set Borgelt said. This tournament will be followed two weeks later by an all-university meet.

Everyone interested is eligible for the first tourney except men who have previously won an official match in the university. There are usually about 100 men who participate in the class matches, but the predictions this year point to a much larger number.

Coach Borgelt is being assisted in getting the men in condition and in drilling the boxing classes by Ray Moore, who won the university championship in his class last year. These men have more than 130 students in their classes and a large number of other men work outside the classes.

The coaches stress the importance of getting in condition at once, as the time left before the tourney is short. The inter-class affair will be run off in the most informal manner, Borgelt said. It will be a series of elimination bouts. Most of the men who will enter the contests will be purely novices, according to the coach. He urges all men who are interested to start work at once. Previous boxing experience matters very little.

The five men who won the championship matches of the university last year are in school this semester and will probably take part in the all-university tourney again this year, although they are not eligible to enter the first tourney. These men are: Edmund Hirsch, lightweight; Al Martin, welterweight; Ray Moore, middleweight; Fred John, light heavyweight; and Ray Stipek, heavyweight.

SEVEN SUBMIT WORK IN ORATION CONTEST

Seven manuscripts have been turned in to Prof. J. M. O'Neill's office for consideration in the Northern Oratorical League competition.

On Monday the best of these manuscripts, some of which are "When Civilization Failed," "The Ku Klux Klan," "The College Blunder," "The College at the Cross Roads," "The National Peril," "American Allegarchy," will be selected.

The winners in this competition will be put through a two weeks course of intensive training in oratorical delivery. The winner in the final oratorical competition, which is to be conducted within the next three weeks, will receive the league board award of $25 and will represent Wisconsin early in April at the inter-collegiate meet at Minneapolis.

The universities to be represented in the N. O. L. at Minneapolis are Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Illinois, Northwestern, and Wisconsin.

HILLTOPPERS TO PLAY PUCKMEN HERE SATURDAY

To Play in Milwaukee on March 2

Despite the fact that no game was on the original schedule for this week-end, the Badger hockey team will get a workout, Coach Viner announced yesterday. Plans were concluded yesterday to bring the puck chasers from Marquette university here for a game next Saturday afternoon.

Marquette was not put on the original schedule because no definite date could be set. Neither team had games for this week-end, and a deal was closed so that they will meet.

While little is known of the strength of the Marquette sextet, the Badgers will certainly have to work for a win. The championship-seeking Minnesota team considered them worthy of consideration.

Snow Delays Practice

The Wisconsin squad has not been considered a strong squad until the showing it put up against Minnesota last Saturday. The Badgers held the Gophers to a 1 to 1 tie in the second of a two-game series and scored the first points which have been counted against the Northerners this season.

The snow which has fallen continually for the last few days has put a damper on practice and the Badger team will be somewhat behind time on preparation. The snow will be cleared from the rink shortly and regular practice will begin again.

To Go to Milwaukee

The brunt of the work in the games so far has fallen upon Capt. Howie Combacker who scored both tallies against Minnesota and who has led the offense throughout the season.

Johnson plays a speedy game and gets away for many shots, but has not been able to find the net.

A return game will be played with the Marquette team on March 2 when the Badgers will go to Milwaukee.

Harold W. Zilisch of Milwaukee was chosen captain of the freshman track team yesterday. He will lead the yearling squad for the remainder of the season. Zilisch is a hurdler who has been showing up extremely well recently. He is a first year student in the electrical engineering course.

DANE COUNTY FARMERS MAKE FIGHT ON OLEO

Reports that farmers in Dane county plan to boycott grocery stores that sell oleomargarine were in circulation Monday.

It was said that several farmers after attending a meeting of the Madison Milk Producers' association in Madison stopped at two grocery stores in the west end of the city on their way home and advised the grocers that they would lose farmer trade if they sold oleomargarine. They asked the grocers to remove signs advertising oleo.

The farmers argued that the oleo business is a detriment to the dairying business and told the grocers that the farmers were planning to organize to fight oleo.

TOO MANY GOING TO COLLEGE?

When two college presidents make the declaration that too many young men are going to college, it is time for educators to sit up and take notice. American beliefs have always upheld universal and free education. The new trend is, therefore, outstanding.

W. H. P. Faunce, president of Brown university, said recently:

All young men who want education ought to have it. But the vast majority would profit by some other kind of education than that given by the traditional American college.

England has solved the problem, not by building more Ox-fords, but by developing other types of training, and we must do the same.

Restrict the enrollment, limit the opportunity and the solution is magically found for the present crowding of college and universities: This would be the answer of President Faunce.

"Too many are going to college!" So declares Dr. Ernest Martin Hopkins, president of Dartmouth college, in comment on President Faunce's stand. His views, as quoted in a recent issue of the Elk's Magazine, follow:

The opportunity of securing an education by way of the college course is definitely a privilege and not at all an universal right. Funds available for appropriation to the uses of institutions of higher learning are not limitless and cannot be made so.

Education is here placed on the basis of a privilege. The views of President Hopkins are interesting. They reflect an attack upon the democratic principle of America for uncurbed opportunities for education.

The answer, we believe, lies in the statement of Meredith Nicholson, novelist, who in a comment on America colleges, said:

The business of a college is to teach, and it strikes me as utterly UN-AMERICAN DOCTRINE for any school, great or small, to shut its door in the face of any honest seeker after knowledge.

If enrollments are to be curbed, a better way would be to cull out students on a basis of their scholastic inability. Even this would have prevented the graduation of many business men, now successful, who displayed little brilliancy during college years.

Education is the builder of citizenship and character. It must be safeguarded.

THE UNPROTECTED MALE

Another society has been added to the long list of organizations on the campus.

This time it is the "Society for the Welfare of Male Students," purposed to be an anti-coed club. Like the menace of the ancient Amazons who triumphed over the lowly male, the masculine students in the club proclaim a need to curb our woman.

"NO coeds for our wives" is the rallying cry.

Perhaps the masculine galoshes, gay bandana handkerchiefs and even knickers have moved the males to a protest of the new femininity.

Sororities are attacked for their "tux" parties. Campus publications and activities are controlled by coeds, critics say. Soon we may expect Milady to sit as a fair prexy at Bascom hall.

The surprise of the situation is that the amazing Amazons of Wisconsin, who wield such great power and are to be feared, have failed to send as much as one letter of protest to The Cardinal. A letter is a woman's prerogative, too. Short communications will be welcomed.

OUR VALENTINE

Valentine day, here once again, reminds us that the ideas of our youth have changed considerably. A time once existed when we would chuckle at the scalloped-edge valentine from our curly friend with the

EDITORS SAY--

ACTIVITY FEES

(Iowa State Student)

Students at Kansas State voted this year to pay an "activity fee" of five dollars at registration time, admitting them to all athletic events, debates, dramatics, oratorical contests, band concerts and public stock judging events. They pay this amount each semester, making ten dollars per year.

At Kansas State this plan is new and so there is no certainty about how successful it will be there. It has been tried in other places, however, and has been not only a guarantor of sufficient funds for the athletic department, but a money saver for students.

Such a plan was attempted at Ames eight or ten years ago, but met with difficulties. Perhaps these difficulties don't exist now, or if they do there may be some way around them.

At any rate a plan whereby everybody would help support the athletics that are for everybody, and a plan that would at the same time be a means of cutting the price of athletic tickets approximately in half, is worth serious investigation.

Popularity has fallen upon us unsolicited! We have been a farmer university down here in the cornfields of Illinois but we are a type, subtle, sordid type of giants or pygmies.

Literati are clamoring to immortalize us. Already two books and any number of short excerpts have been dedicated to this purpose. "Town and Gown" and "The Goose Step" will lift us from the soil of the cornfields, maybe to fame, but more likely to the kind of provincialism which marks genius when it isn't genius.—Daily Illini.

blue bow in her hair. But those days have gone with the gleeful search for the Easter Bunny who layed the wonder colored eggs.

Still Valentine day is here.

In absence of any perfumed present to make, we hope that a comic valentine, the result of the Wisconsin-Michigan basketball game tonight, will be left at Coach Fielding Yost's door tonight.

Not wishing him any hard luck, of course, but—that's our valentine.

EDISON "CUSSES" US

Thomas A. Edison had a birthday Sunday.

Ordinary folks when they have birthdays are doing well even to remember the date, another grim reminder of the passing years.

But Edison because of his genius and brilliancy is expected to "sound off" some intellectual fireworks on that date just, of course to demonstrate the point that he is still young mentally if not in years. Here is what he said, and he was 76 at the time:

"College men don't know what is going on. They are too dense. Newspapers are a great force and the college boys overlook them. If I had a paper, I'd put more popular science into it. I'd make the candidates for jobs fill out a questionnaire to see if they knew anything."

WORLD-WIDE NEWS

The professor's domain often seems to be restricted to the classroom.

Prof. Graham Stuart's willingness to devote time for a special interview on the Nicaraguan canal, of political science interest to students, is an example of the attitude of Wisconsin educators.

Students should be informed of international and national subjects. Co-operation of the faculty is appreciated by The Cardinal.

Philadelphia, City of Brotherly Love, saw a movement to abandon the use of the word "love" in tennis games at the tennis conference held there recently.

"Love" is to be removed from the score sheets of tennis games because its persistent use has given the impression to outsiders that tennis is an effeminate game, when in fact it is a battle for real men and stalwart women.

It is not in the game, so why say it is? It doesn't mean anything, anyway.

The gentlemen who are forming the Protective society, against the co-eds as prospective wives * * * really gentlemen * * * most of the co-eds can do much better than marry any of you—that I don't fancy you have to worry.

And as to the dress at the parties—well, we'll take to gingham dresses—and you, dear boys, can wear your corduroys and your overalls and your foul boots all covered with the filth of the ditch-digger.

We strive to please—ever thus.

Small wonder you all object to "tux"—they are uncomfortable (so we've been told) when one only climbs into one once a year, and then a borrowed or rented one that is too small.

Yes—yes—Let us us hie back to the gutter and the snipe-shooting—far more fitting such habits to an institution of higher learning than dinner-dress and chivalrous taxicabs.

HELPLESS HINTS FOR HOPELESS PEOPLE

1. When a young lady has told you on three different occasions that she is "busy all next week-end"—don't call her up again.

2. When taking a young lady's arm at a crossing, or coming down the steps of Main hall, etc.—do not be over-chivalrous to the extent of pushing her notebook from under her wing into the newly-fallen and wet snow.

3. If this cannot be avoided, however, then do not fail to apologize.

Catholic Churches Here Issue Supplementary Regulation For Lent Which Begins Today

In addition to the Lenten regulations published by Archbishop Sebastian G. Messmer, Milwaukee, for the guidance of Catholics, the following explanations of regulations have been issued and were read in all Catholic churches in the city Sunday:

"1.—When it is either physically or morally impossible to observe the law, or when it would entail serious difficulties, persons are excused from it. The church ordinarily exempts from fasting the sick and those in feeble health; women nursing children; those engaged in laborious and exhausting occupations. Persons in doubt whether they are excused either from fast or abstinence or both, should consult their confessor or pastor for advice or dispensation.

"2.—Persons excused from fast may use fleshmeat more than once on the days when it is allowed at all, whether in Lent or outside of that season.

"3.—By a general papal indult, we permit workingmen and their families the use of fleshmeat at the principal common meal on all fast and abstinence days throughout the year, with the exception of all Fridays, Ash Wednesday, Wednesday and Saturday (forenoon of Holy Week and the Vigil of Christmas.

"4.—In virtue of a special papal indult, we hereby delegate pastors to dispense within their parish limits and in each single case, from abstinence the men engaged in threshing as well as the farmer families at whose place threshing is going on.

"In case where the same arduous and exhausting labor is demanded in filling the silo, pastors may avail themselves of the same privilege.

"5.—Persons excused or dispensed from fast or abstinence ought to perform some other good works or piety or charity in the spirit of Christian penance and sanctification. Hence the pious custom of Lenten alms. "Redeem thou thy sins with alms, and thy iniquities with works of mercy." Dan. LV. 24. "Prayer is good with fasting and alms more than to lay up treasures of gold. For alms delivereth from death and purgeth away sins, and maketh to find mercy and life everlasting." Tob. XII. 8, 9.

"6.—All loyal children of Holy Church should willingly obey the admonitions addressed to them in her beautiful hymn of the Lenten Matins, when she asks us "to be more sparing in our words, in food and drink and sleep, in merriment, and to redouble our watchfulness over our roving senses; to shun the noxious things that play bad havoc with unguarded careless souls, and to avoid whatever might help the tyranny of our crafty enemy, the devil." What a beautiful example to others when Catholics during Lent abstain from feasting and banquetings; when they stay away from theaters and moving picture halls, from dances and card parties and other profane amusements.

"Let every Catholic be mindful of the simple and beautiful prayers with which Holy Mother church opens the Lenten season: "Grant us, O Lord, so to enter upon the duties of our Christian warfare by holy fasts, that in the fight against the spirits of wickedness we may be fortified by the help of self denial. We solemnly offer the sacrifice of this Lenten beginning, beseeching Thee, Lord, that while we restrict ourselves in the use of bodily food, we may also refrain from harmful pleasures. Give to our prayers, O Lord, and grant that we may keep with devout service this solemn fast wholesomely ordained for the cure of our souls and our bodies."

Hoover Approves Work of Lutherans

The relief work the American Lutheran congregations are doing in Russia is meeting with the unqualified approval of Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover. At the recent annual meeting of the National Lutheran Council, held in Cleveland, the Rev. Lauritz Larsen, D. D., LL.D., its president received the following telegram from Secretary Hoover: "On the occasion of annual meeting of National Lutheran Council I want to express personally and on behalf of American Relief Administration our appreciation of your work in Russia. Your work is being carried out efficiently and in accord with highest principles of American relief and of nondiscriminatory and nonsectarian aid to the most needy. You are meeting a very distinct need. Our representatives in Russia have only the highest praise for both the spirit in which your work is carried out and for the unflinching cooperation and support your representatives have given to American Relief Administration which is only what was inevitable from the fine relationship which has always existed between our organizations in America."

VARIETY BRINGS FORMER U. W. STUDENT FAME

Experience gained while holding down some 42 jobs have enabled Robert E. Pinkerton fiction writer, a former Mazomanie man and student at the university during the years 1899-1901, to become a convincing and intersting writer. His positions include work as a farm laborer, bull-cook on a log drive, lumberjack, trapper, copyreader on several Chicago newspapers, guide, and free lance writer. For a time he built log cabins, wrote advertising copy, and drove a team on a 26-mile portage.

After leaving the university he worked on newspapers in Milwaukee and Chicago. Then he went north for a year, to be free from responsibility. For five years he was a reporter and a trapper, a lumber camp cook, sporting editor, theatrical press agent, Indiana trader, telegraph editor, commercial fisherman, Associated Press editor, and a member of the United States forest service.

In 1911 he married Kathrene Gedney. After a honeymoon journey, consisting of a 1,000 mile canoe trip, the couple settled down in a cabin north of Lake Superior, eight miles removed from any living human being, and began writing fiction together.

Pinkerton's most recent story, "Indian Blood?" is now appearing in serial form in the Chicago Tribune blue ribbon fiction section.

Three Days of Festivities

Accompany Michigan Prom

The most brilliant social event of the year, the annual J-hop, was attended by more than 700 couples last Friday night in Barbour and Waterman gymnasium on the University of Michigan campus. John P. Lawton, general chairman, and Elizabeth Childs, both of Hinsdale, Michigan, led the grand march.

Prom itself marked the opening of a three day gala celebration. Teas, lunches, parties and informal dances at Ann Arbor were held in abundance.

Four performances of "In and Out", the school play, were given.

MAUDE ROYDEN TO TALK HERE

Will Interpret World Events and Discuss the Future

Miss Maude Royden, "the Jane Addams of England", will arrive in Madison Friday evening at Lathrop parlors under the auspices of the university, the Campus Religious council, the Y. W. C. A., the Y. M. C. A. and the city Y. W. C. A.

Miss Royden, who has made extensive and intensive studies of the world from an economic standpoint and of things philosophical and religious, will speak on, "Can We Set the World in Order," giving a review of world events and gringing a message for the future.

She is the daughter of the late Sir Thomas Royden, Lord Mayor of London. Following her graduation from Oxford university, where she won class honors, she went direct to the slums of Liverpool as a member of the University settlement, but after a year her health broke down. She then went into service at South Luffenham, England, visiting women in their homes, speaking at a mission and giving lessons in literature.

TAILORED FROCKS FOR SPRING ARE OF HEAVY CREPES

Both youth and charm are combined in this prettily tailored dress for school or business wear. It is made of a heavy brown roshanara crepe bound with tan. The slashed sleeves are faced with the tan and the vestee is tan. A narrow manish belt marks a low waistline.

The Rev. W. Hudson, impressed with her personality and ability, obtained for her a lectureship with Oxford University Extension. Her appointment was the first ever made to a woman. "In this work she had extraordinary success," say the Reverend Hudson.

During the dark days of the war Miss Royden was given her big opportunity when she was appointed, amid a storm of protest, assistant pastor of the City Temple, London. This was the first time that a woman had occupied a great city pulpit, and every Sunday night for two years he spoke to immense audiences.

"FURIES" CLUB IS ORGANIZED FOR CO-ED AUTHORS

A group of eight women students known as the "Furies" has been organized to foster individual talent in writing.

The group meets to criticize their attempts at poetry, prose, narrative and criticisms, and discusses magazines of interest to them. They have no officers and no regularity about their meetings.

Five years ago, Janet Durrie, a member of the Literary Magazine staff at the time organized a group which met to discuss their literary works. The meetings ceased to be held for several years. This fall the group was renewed. The present club is an outgrowth of it.

Before a member can be admitted her compositions must be read and criticized. The present membership is composed of the following students: Margaret Emmerling '24, Margery Latimer '25, Catherine Meyer '23, Alberta Leonarze '26, Elvira Ritter '26, Cheryl Mohr '25, Louise Smith '23, and Mildred Fish '24.

BILL AIMS TO GOVERN POWER

E. J. Gross Backs Bill For Survey on Question of Power in State

Legislation that would revolutionize the entire economic structure of Wisconsin and the ultimate state ownership of privately owned and operated electric power companies in the state will be sought under a bill to be introduced in the lower house of the Wisconsin legislature tomorrow.

The bill seeks the electrification of Wisconsin by the conservation and utilization of water sites to develop electric power. It was drafted by and will be introduced at the instance of Edwin J. Gross, a Milwaukee attorney who is a member of the executive committee of the Public Ownership League of America. Mr. Gross, a prominent progressive, declared the bill had no political significance.

Wednesday's bill is expected to be but a stepping stone to future legislation that would achieve the object of the state's electrification. It provides, through some department of the state, to make a survey of potential or undeveloped water power sites in Wisconsin and to prohibit the leasing or giving away of natural resources that may develop power. An appropriation of approximately $50,000 will be asked to carry on the work.

"We are satisfied, from the surveys now available, sufficient power can be developed to warrant the expense of the undertaking," Mr. Gross said. "The project is so far reaching that it will penetrate every phase of life," he added.

"The present cost of electric power in the state ranges from five to ten cents per kilowatt hour but with Wisconsin's natural power sites controlled by the state these rates would be reduced to one cent or perhaps lower.

"This first bill will permit the survey and in the meantime campaigns among civic and economic groups to aid in the problem will result in our being able to present to the next session of the legislature a practical and workable bill covering hydro-electric, super power for Wisconsin," he said.

"Eventually we will face a coal shortage. The coal situation even now is such that it compels the farmer and poor people to resort to primitive means of living. It won't be long until this condition resolves itself to electrification not only in this state but throughout the nation. It is our hope to be able to take care of the problem before it comes."

State Street Photographer's Studio Bought By DeLonge

Exclusive control of the DeLonge studio, 525 State street, has been acquired by O. F. DeLonge who recently returned to Madison after two years spent in art study abroad. L. C. Robinson who managed the studio during the absence of Mr. DeLonge has sold his entire interest and will go to Grand Rapids, Mich.

Plans for extensive remodeling and improvements in the studio are being made. DeLonge comes back to Madison with many new ideas and will install improved photographic apparatus purchased by him abroad.

Numerous art treasures, including oil paintings and Italian marbles and mosaics, are arriving at the studio daily. These will be placed upon exhibition within a short time.

Mr. DeLonge has photographed such notables as Presidents Talt and Roosevelt, William Jennings Bryan, Irvin S. Cobb, and Zona Gale. Tuesday Ex-Governor W. G. Harding of Iowa had a sitting before him.

Albion College Methodist Drive Makes Half-way Mark

The Methodist educational advance, in its drive for $2,200,000 for Albion college and for Methodist religious work at the University of Michigan, M. A. "A HAPPY MEDIUM" IS ORPH'S FUN PRODUCER

Percy Bronson and Winnie Baldwin, two Orpheum favorites, are being welcomed by the first half audiences at the local vaudeville theater. This time they are presenting themselves in a brand new comedy, "A Happy Medium."

Vorinne, the dainty, captivating, vavacious dansense has a new act this season called "Coquettish Fancies," in which she is assisted by Jack Himber, a clever juvenile.

Dick Fitzgerald and Jack Carroll are a pair of rollicking and fun making comedians whose every move and gesture is laugh compelling.

Mascot, the human mind pony, springs equine surprises that are highly pleasing and entertaining.

Novelty dominates the act of Paul Kahn and Company who present "The Vaudeville Chef."

Billed as "Cycling College Girls" the Four Girted Girls as tomboys on wheels show remarkable ability. Al Moore and his jazz Band of Syncopated Melody Makers are featuring the program for the last half.

WOMEN'S LITS CHOSE TEAMS FOR DEBATES

The contesting teams for the annual joint Castalia-Pythia debate scheduled for early in April, were chosen Saturday by tryouts before the entire societies. The basis of judgment in each case was argumentative ability and presentation.

Castalia's team is composed of: Fannie Gallas '24, Frieda Auchter '25, and Eleanor Hanson '25, with Martha Kohl '24, as alternate. Pythia's debaters are: Martha Dalrymple '25, Kathryn Bigham '25, and Blanche Jandell '26. The alternate has not been selected.

Pythia will uphold the affirmative and Castalia the negative side of the question: "Resolved: that the constitution of the United States be so amended and verified so as to provide for child labor legislation."

German Club Meeting Will Feature Contest

A contest in German geography will be a feature of the German club meeting tonight at 7:30 in Lathrop parlor. A first and consolation prize will be given to the winners. The program for the meeting consists of music and a reading "Wildendruck das Hexenlied" by William Holderman of the German department. Otto Toenhart '26, will play a violin solo, accompanied by Irmagard Siegmeyer '23. Russian folk songs will be sung by Mrs. William Holderman, and a piano solo will be rendered by Mildred Rodolf '25. Refreshments will be served after the program.

August F. Nerlinger and Nellie E. Jewett both of Madison were married at the Fourth Presbyterian church in Chicago last Saturday, it was announced today. They will make their home in apartment N, Baskerville.

APIS CLUB TO GIVE BEE SHOW

Playe tand Exhibition to Be Features of Big Program

Work on the "Bee show" to be given by the Apis club on Saturday, February 17, at Agricultural hall is progressing rapidly. The cast of "Did You Ever Get Stung?" is rehearsing regularly, and members are working on the exhibits which they will place on display in the corridors.

Through these exhibits spectators will be shown what a bee-hive is like inside, how the bee lives, rears its young, and makes honey. A honey-extractor is to be set up and put in operation to show how pure honey is removed from the comb without injuring it.

Most interesting of all will be an exhibit and sale of honey candy and other food products made with honey. The booths will be thrown open at 7 o'clock.

At 8 o'clock, members of the club will present a program, including two reels of motion pictures, a playlet, and talks by Harvey G. Ahrens, grad, and Ernst E. Ehrsgott '25. Ahrens' talk is to be illustrated by lantern slides.

The evening's entertainment is planned for those who are not beekeepers. It is not a beekeeper's meeting, although the club invites all beekeepers to come with the general public.

INELIGIBILITY TAKES FIVE MICHIGAN MEN

the Badgers in the battle tonight, and should have an edge over the Badgers in the battle tonight.

Start New Lineup
Coach Meanewell and 10 members of the squad left last night for Ann Arbor where they either stand or fall in their fight for the title. Wisconsin has four victories and one defeat. Michigan is in second place with five wins and a single loss. Another defeat for either team means elimination from the chase. The game will be a battle all of the way.

A line-up different from that in previous games will start for Wisconsin. Either Spooner or Ken Mainland will be in Elsom's forward position for part of the game at least, and Diebold may get an opportunity to jump at center in place of Gibson. Capt. Tebell and Rollie Williams are fixtures in the guard posts.

Iowa Facing Indiana

Coach Meanewell has a penchant for surprising opposing teams with last-minute changes. He may have Williams and Tebell playing the floor with Gibson and one of the forwards handling a large part of the defense.

With one of the two teams out of the race after tonight, Iowa will have to fear only Indiana, Purdue and the victor in the Michigan-Wisconsin game. Of these four teams, Michigan is the only one which has a game scheduled with the Hawkeyes.
