8,000 ALUMNI HOMECOMING LETTERS SENT

Nearly Every Graduate in Country to Be Reached

Getting in direct touch with 8,000 alumni and reaching as many more indirectly is the aim of the Homecoming Alumni committee this year. The program mapped out by the committee reaches more graduates than any heretofore attempted.

Personal letters are being sent out this week to all the members of the Alumni association urging them to return for the Homecoming festivities. According to Mr. Crawford, alumni secretary, this will reach 6,500 alumni scattered all over the country.

In addition to this, 1,500 letters are being sent out to alumni not members of the association who live in the central states. The committee believes that this will reach nearly every graduate who would be apt to return.

Athletic Department Co-Operates
Along with the personal letters sent out to the alumni, Coach Jones is sending two letters telling of other football games, the method of securing seats, and the facilities for taking care of spectators in the new additions to the stadium. By sending these letters out together the athletic department hopes to get a large number of alumni to return for the Michigan game as well as for the game with Minnesota.

Reached Through Other Means
During the summer the committee sent out letters to the 50 alumni associations all over the country urging them to send delegations to the big event. Fraternities and sororities have also been urged to do everything possible to get their alumni back and these groups are aiding the central committee in that respect.

Alumni to be Cared For Immediately upon their arrival the alumni will be confronted with registration booths at the stations, in the capitol, and on the campus. Here they will be told of class reunions and given any information they may desire to obtain.

The Alumni committee is attempting to provide rooming accommodations for any alumni who are unable to locate quarters.

NEW FACULTY RATE ON S. DAKOTA GAME

Under the recent action of the faculty, student rate of 50 cents is extended to members of the university. Those desiring to take advantage of this rate for Saturday's game may sign the regulation student card at the ticket booth in front of the gymnasium and receive a ticket for the student rate. Identification card from department head is required where person is not known. This rate will be given at the gymnasium sale up to noon Saturday.

CO-ED HAZING

Barnard Frosh Submit to
Ordeals Imposed by Soph
Court

Anyone falling accidentally into Barnard's much plastered parlor on Wednesday night would have reached a hasty and decided conclusion that Mendota was not the only institution of its peculiar nature in this vicinity.

In much confusion a wild assortment of persons was scattered among the piles of lumber, step ladders and like paraphernalia in the will be fine parlor. The sophomore court was holding forth in side splitting dignity to judge the cases of the frosh. The penalties tendered by the much spectacled judge were the results of great plotting by the sophs, and varied according to the nature of their disturbing cockiness and distressing verdancy. Much regret was shown for past sins of both omission and commission by the frosh as they were taken to their cells to await the time for their act.

The super cocky Frosh was given advantage point on the piano and told to crow loudly at short intervals to show her own importance. Those who had been guilty of handing out too many lines to upperclassmen were given huge balls of rope and made to wind and unwind them until sufficiently experienced in more careful and discriminate handling of lines. Those who had kept their noses at too high an angle were told to roll onions the length of the hall to get their noses at a lower elevation and to see if they were still of real use.

WILL DEDICATE MEMORIAL SITE

Formal Dance and All Day
Exercises to Mark Event

November fifth is the big day—and night! The site for Wisconsin's new million dollar Memorial Union building will be dedicated on that date, and the drive to raise the funds necessary to complete the building will begin. Classes will be dismissed on Dedication day which will be devoted entirely to the Memorial Union building. An open date in the football schedule makes this time especially convenient for the all-important occasion.

A formal ball to be held in the men's gym that evening will bring the day's celebration to a fitting close. Those who have been chosen to make the necessary arrangements for the ball are as follows: L. Gerald Koch '23, general chairman; Norman Clark '24, publicity; Stanley Welsh '22, programs; Lawrence Cramer '23, decorations; 'Bud' Buell '23, music and entertainment; Vilas Hanks '23, invitations; John Fitzgerald '23, finance; and Richard Gibson '23, floor.

A parade, the most stupendous in the annals of the university, according to those in charge, besides many other features, will herald an occasion that will long be remembered. Both university and state officials will attend the dedication ceremony, as well as the festivities of the day. Everything is being done to make this a great day for Wisconsin and the university.

RHODES SCHOLAR TO BE SELECTED FROM FIVE CANDIDATES

Two Wisconsin Men Are Now
Studying at Oxford University

The new Rhodes scholar from the state of Wisconsin will be selected in December of this year. The five university men who will compete for this collegiate honor are: Melbourne Bergerman '22, Paul Gangelin '23, C. B. Puestow '23, Sterling Tracy '22, and R. H. Tyrrell '23.

These men, together with representatives from Beloit, Lawrence, Ripon, and other colleges will appear before the committee of selection in Milwaukee on December 3. J. H. Wilson and A. G. Fite, instructors in the French department of the university, are members of this committee, of which Arthur B. Doe of Milwaukee is chairman.

The university has at present two scholars in residence at Oxford. They are Leroy Burlingame, who is entering upon his second year and Clyde Emery, just entering. The number of candidates which an institution is entitled to send before the Committee of Selection depends upon the number of students in residence; those schools with an enrollment of over 2000 being entitled to five.

350 Pounds Per Year

The scholarship, which amounts to 350 pounds per year and is tenable for three years, was established by Sir Cecil Rhodes, an Englishman, and its purpose is to encourage students from foreign countries to study at Oxford. Men from every state in the United States, from Canada, France, and several other countries are enjoying the privilege of studying three years at the English institution.

Candidates are chosen on the basis of the following qualities: manhood, force of character, and leadership; literary and scholastic ability, and attainments; physical vigor, as

RELIGIOUS COUNCIL RECEPTION TONIGHT

An all university reception arranged by the Campus Religious council is to take place at 8 o'clock tonight at the Lathrop hall gymnasium. Dr. J. C. Elsom has charge of the games, and Prof. Edgar B. Gordon, music school, will lead the singing.

A brand new stunt called "A trip around the horn," it is whispered by the reception committee chairman, leading the participants through dark and sinuous passages, will make many a manly heart palpitate, and many a co-ed heart to flutter.

Al Willet is chairman of the reception committee. Those assisting him are: Louis Kessler, Consuella Burwell, Caroline Schweizer, Blanche McKeever, Walter Daniels, Esther Haven, Winifred Titus, Margaret Emmerling, Rowena Brown, Myrtle Jobse, Florence Teichgraber, and Marion Neprud.

CARDINAL DESK EDITORS

Cardinal desk editors and assistants will meet this afternoon at 4:30 in the editorial office, Union building. All men must be present.

MANY OFFICES TO BE FILLED IN ELECTIONS

May Postpone Vote—Tra- dition Referendum Still Unsettled

On account of the numerous offices to be filled in the fall election and the possibility of a referendum on new traditions, students are now being confronted with one of the most complex political problems in several years.

The probable change in the date of the election which was originally set for November 4, but which is expected to be changed in order not to interfere with the opening of the Union Memorial drive on the following day, has added much to the complexity of the situation. The Student Senate will set a new date for the voting at its meeting Tuesday night.

Sterling Tracy '22, president of the Student Senate, stated last night that the matter of changing the regulations for student elections to conform with the constitution will probably be taken up at the meeting. These regulations, which were passed on February 19, 1918, conflict with the senate's constitution in regard to the time the senate elections shall be held.

As the regulations are not a part of the constitution, it will not be necessary to submit any such changes to a student vote.

Positions Open

The following are the offices to be filled in the coming election:

Class officers: President, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and sergeant-at-arms for each of the four classes.

Senate representatives: Five seniors, three juniors, two sophomores, and one graduate student.

Union board: One man from each of the three upper classes.

All qualified male and female electors in the university may vote

TO INSTALL NEW PARKING SYSTEM

A new parking system, planned to reduce the risk of stolen cars, has been created for the university football games. An effective guarding system will be carried out with the co-operation of the Madison police force.

According to the plan, all the cars will be watched throughout the entire game and will be carefully tagged so that each owner will have to identify his car when the game is over. A charge of 25 cents will be made for this service.

The new system is the result of popular demand and while the men in charge of the parking will not be liable for stolen goods, the possibility of having cars or their contents stolen will be minimized, according to the managers of the system.

GRAFTERS CHOOSE SOCIETY OFFICERS

The Grafters' club, oldest society in the Agricultural school, was addressed by Prof. J. G. Moore at its meeting Wednesday evening in the Horticulture building. Professor Moore briefly summed up the history of the club and its aims, to be an informal body tending to make the students better acquainted among themselves and with their instructors and to provide an occasional social evening.

At the election of officers F. W. Roewekamp was chosen Grafter-in-chief and Bert Langen scribe. Frank McKay was designated to be keeper of the graft.

The Grafters decided to push for a larger membership and discussed holding a mushroom hunt next week, the one held a year ago having proved a decided success. The meeting closed after refreshments were served.

SOUTH DAKOTA BEATS NORMAL SCHOOL 40-0

Preliminary Game Shows Strength of Team Here Saturday

(Special to Daily Cardinal)

Coach West's State college huskies trounced the Northern Normal and Industrial school team 40 to 0 in the annual practice game with the Aberdeen boys here Saturday. West used 32 men in the game. The Aberdeen men, although somewhat lighter, put up a good fight and showed excellent coaching. Speelman and Collinge, it is evident, will turn out a team to be reckoned with in the Dakota conference.

Although the game served as a practice game in many respects, State's coaches still face the fact that they must in the course of the next few days select the men who will face the University of Wisconsin next Saturday. Most of the men used showed up so well that it will be a difficult matter to decide whom to leave at home.

Excellent Passing

Hoon, Anderson and Thune did some excellent work at the throwing end of the forward pass, while the men at the receiving end, with but one exception, grabbed the ball for a gain.

Both Welch and Anderson have the earmarks of making good quarterbacks, as well as showing considerable ability to run with and pass the ball.

At left half, Thune showed considerable improvement over his form of last year. He is hitting the line harder and running the ends and punting much better. Hoon, also at left half, is very promising as a punter, drop kicker and passer. Ryger, of Brookings high school fame, made some pretty gains around end and did some exceptionally good blocking in interference.

Art Johnson at fullback is in better shape than last season and is playing good ball. He tore off some sensational smashes off-tackle, as well as getting away with a couple of passes. Schuette at fullback looked good, heading the interference both off-tackle and around end. He did some of the prettiest blocking ever seen on State's field.

Owens at right half lived up to his reputation as a broken field runner and did a good share of State's ground gaining while he was in the play. Roberts, all-state half last year, skillfully returned punts for good gains and also made ground on end runs.

Salisbury and Smith, all-state tackles, showed their usual form in opening holes and breaking up defense. They will prove to be powerful tackles as the season progresses.

Thompson at end played his usual consistent game, managing to tackle his opponent for a number of losses.

FIVE MEN BACK FOR GYM SQUAD

Schlatter's Men Start Work For Preliminary Schedule

Five veterans of last year will form the nucleus of Coach Schlatter's Gymnastic squad this season. Eighteen men were present at a meeting held at the gymnasium last night for the purpose of outlining the season's program to the candidates.

There is little way of determining the prospects of the squad, as this is one of the few sports which is dependent upon individual rather than team work. With a man of Captain E. Klitzlein's calibre leading the team there is no reason why they cannot be given a fair chance of winning the championship.

Coach Schlatter feels that there are a number of good men in school who possess gymnastic ability, but have not as yet signified their intention of entering into the competition. He desires that any men who have ability along the following lines see him in his office at the gymnasium between 10 and 11: apparatus work, foils fencing, broadswords, and tumbling.

The preliminary schedule will include the Freshmen-Varsity, the all-university, the Inter-college, and the Interclass meets. In addition, two meets will be held against the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. squad. The Badgers defeated the latter last year, but they have been practicing all summer and are confident of evening things up this year.

Big Schedule

The conference schedule includes a dual meet with Chicago, and one with either Illinois or Minnesota. The Maroons always have a strong team, and they are the Badger's most formidable foes.

The following men are on the squad: F. Leitz '23, N. Hansen '23, W. Porth '23, F. Bumer '23, D. Kitchen '23, A. Hoelz '23, C. Hoelz '23, A. Tucker '24, W. Elrman '24, E. Kruger '24, W. Hammon '24, N. Koch '24, A. Luden '23, W. Pfeleger '23, and T. Bagulmill '23.

Sixteen enthusiastic freshmen signed up for the yearling gymnastic squad at the meeting held by Coach Schlatter Wednesday night. There are about twice as many freshmen as there were last year, but they are not as experienced as was the 1924 frosh squad. F. Braun, W. Chamski, R. Florsheim, E. Fulton, C. Gauper, K. Gebhard, J. Jenkins, H. Kleitzien, J. Pelton, C. Phillips, H. Pries, E. Uehling, R. Whitefield, and N. Baswaser are the candidates who have signed up for the squad thus far.

Trophy of Wisconsin Gridiron Victory In 1894 Given Varsity

Glorified because it is 27 year old, the football used in the first Wisconsin gridiron victory over Minnesota way back in 1894, was presented to the Athletic department yesterday by its owner, Dr. Walter H. Sheldon, Madison. Coach John R. Richards and his Varsity squad were guests of the Madison Rotary club when the presentation of the oval was made.

In 1894 Wisconsin's record of wins over Minnesota was a blank column. The Badgers had gone down to defeat before the hardy northerners in every contest played by the two institutions. Resolved to do or die, the Wisconsin team traveled to Minneapolis for the annual contest in the fall of 1894. When the four periods of hectic battle had been completed and the final whistle of the referee had closed the game, Wisconsin was returned victor by a 6 to 0 score.

Presenting-- "KIBO" BRUMM

In Roman Brumm the Badgers have a new lineman on this year's team who can be relied upon to put up a fight equal to that of any man on the squad.

Brumm's athletic career began when he was attending the Madison high school. His brilliant basketball and football playing attracted the attention of fans, and, by the time he graduated, he was heralded as one of the greatest athletes ever turned out of that institution.

He entered the university in the fall of 1918, and won his letter playing center on the S. A. T. C. team. Last year he attended the Eau Claire normal school. He played on the football team there, and it was largely through his efforts that the state normal school championship was won by that school.

"Kibo" has been shifted to a guard position this year, and he has shown as much skill there as he did at his former stand. Since he is a Madison man, he has the support of the local fans, who are expecting to see him make a name for himself in mid-western football circles this fall.

The victory was not without drawbacks. Walter Sheldon, left end and star of the game, suffered a broken arm. He was removed to the gymnasium where his father, who had traveled to the Minnesota city to see his son play, attended him.

"Too bad Walt was hurt," consoled friends.

"Yes," answered the elder Sheldon, "but wasn't that a nice run."

The football used in the Badger-Minnesota struggle was presented by teammates to left end Sheldon. For 27 years the Madison doctor has retained the oval. At the luncheon for the squad yesterday, he decided to present it to the athletic department.

Now the old pigskin is returned unto its own. It will rest along with other prizes in the trophy room of the gymnasium.

BADGERS DRILL FOR GAME WITH SOUTH DAKOTA

Lineup to Be Practically Same as in Lawrence Game

Rain interfered with the Varsity football practice yesterday, preventing the squad from getting in its last scheduled heavy workout before the game with South Dakota State college to be played here Saturday afternoon.

Coach John Richards is taking no chances of an upset by the westerners, however, and it is entirely probable that a harder than usual practice will be dished out to the squad this afternoon. The big coach upset all precedents by putting his men through a strict two hour drill the day before the Lawrence game last week. He tried several new plays and ordered light scrimmage for a few minutes. The same portion will be assigned to the men today, it is believed.

Injuries to regular players are holding back the development of a regular eleven before the Northwestern game on Saturday, Oct. 5. Nelson, who is still carrying his arm in a sling, will not be in the best condition for the contest with the Purple unless the injury heals more rapidly. Gibson has been resting this week, and Horne, the lanky end, did not get into a Varsity practice after the Lawrence battle.

Develop Guards

Richards is developing a pair of guards who can step into the breach at any time if the regulars are laid up for any reason. Christianson and Hans Gude are two heavy, well-built guards capable of holding their own against anything in the conference and adding weight to a light line. Brumm and Nelson have been working well at their guard jobs, and the coach is hesitant about permanently changing the lineup. Gould played left end Wednesday afternoon. His position on the team still remains a question. "T" played a sterling game in the backfield when the Badgers conquered Lawrence. He is a good secondary defense man, a steady advancer of the ball, and a heady player. Whether he will be better as a regular left end or rotating with Williams at the left halfback position is a puzzling question.

Rip Up Scrubs

Gibson appears to be the best bet for pilot on the Badger first eleven. His running back of punts in the first game of the season added many yards to the Wisconsin total. If Gill drop-kicks consistently from the 30-yard mark, it is not unlikely that he will be pressed into service in several games this season. Elliott and Williams have been tearing up the scrubs in great style. "Rowdy" and "Rollie" are a pair of good open field runners. Scrubs and freshmen were unable to fathom Williams' dodging tactics, with the result that he broke away for long runs against them. Elliott's hard driving off-tackles are expected to gain many yards for Wisconsin before the season ends.

Dakota Arrives Today

The South Dakota State college squad will arrive in Madison at 5:15 this afternoon. Arrangements had been made for the outfit to go through a signal drill at Camp Randall this afternoon, but because of the lateness of their arrival, it is unlikely that they will practice today. About 25 men are included in Coach West's squad. He is taking no chances on injuries disabling the squad, and has several good reserve men who can step into backfield and line when the eleven takes the field against Wisconsin at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

R. K. Kane, end, is captain of Harvard. "Bob" Fisher, a Crimson alumnus, is head coach.

CRITIC FINDS BETTER BILL AT ORPHEUM

In spite of my wet feet I found the current bill at the Orpheum possessed of a few novelties. The house was rather cold and the entertainers found it difficult to put their stuff across. I have seen better bills but also, further and far worse. The show is a decided improvement over the bill offered the first half of the week.

Les Valadons

Slack and tight wire artists. The lady although rather buxom, trips across the wire with facility and ease, in spite of the fact that she has wicker baskets attached to her feet. The act closes with a thrilling race between the man and lady. Needless to say, the woman wins, causing a mild excitement among the customers.

Harry Watkins

A skinny contortionist with a line of drawl. He claims to have been a model in a pretzel factory and lives up to his reputation by assuming impossible positions.

Ray Fern and Maree

The act opens with a clever impersonation of a minstrel show. The gags are echos from the vintage of 1875. Next they resort to a wierd combination of hoakum and militaristic satire. They fail to cause any undue uproar from the first-nighters.

Tom Brown's Musical Revue

Against a passionate background of lucid purple this musical family plays an assortment of instruments in a satisfactory manner. The boy pianist is an accomplished and unusual proccity. The ladies do most of the work while the male members of the act sit about and approve. One of the girls attempted a song but should have stuck to her fiddle. The saxophone sextet was put across in a lively manner. A better than the ordinary musical act.

Jos. Browning

The hit of the bill. He took the only encore of the evening and certainly deserved it. Although his monologue is too full of references to the female sex, it is good fun and earned a large amount of laughter. Browning has a grotesque smile which is better than any of his material. He is a rather good single and deserved more applause than he received.

Zarrell Brothers

Hand-to-hand balancers. The usual large athlete with a small partner. They execute difficult feats while the audience yawns and gathers its clothing.

This bill is not up to the standard that we have been enjoying since the opening of the season. However, the frigid audience and the sloppy weather contributed an atmosphere of gloom that was hard for the actors to overcome. All in all, it is a pleasing bill and furnishes a good measure of excitement for the vaudeville hounds.

KEYSTONE MEETING HELD LAST NIGHT

At the first regular meeting of Keystone last night, a committee was appointed to work out a new point system for office holding. The committee is composed of Isabel Capps '23, census chairman; Auta Lyman '22, Marion Strassburger '22, and Evelyn Shaw '23. The president, Mildred Gerlach '22, is an ex-officio member. The members are working under the old system until the new one is evolved.

A committee, with Merle Show '23, as chairman, was vested with power to arrange for instruction for Keystone in parliamentary practice.

In order to avoid complications in regard to elections, the president of each organization is to file election data with the president.

Two Assistants in Instruction Department

The state department of public instruction has been able this year to increase its facilities for giving psychological service and supervision of special work for handicapped children. Two assistants have come into this department. Miss Pauline Camp, trained in the Yale School for the Deaf and having special training in speech correction, will take charge of the supervision of day school for deaf, speech defective, and blind children.

The other addition to the psychological staff is Doctor Melicent Waterhouse, who has for the last four years been psychologist for the Juvenile Court of Los Angeles city and county. She has had a rich experience in doing not only the original diagnosis but follow-up work with cases of dependent and delinquent children who have been wards of the Juvenile Court. These children of problem cases, making recommendations for the proper education of handicapped children, and helping in the establishment of proper classes or other facilities to care for such cases.

Already some twenty-three cities have day schools for deaf children. Two cities have day schools for blind. Seven cities have teachers dealing only with children having defective speech. Twenty cities have classes for children who are mentally defective. Re-examinations are made each year in all of these places and additional classes are to be opened in vicinities not having had them heretofore.

Work has already been done in the rural schools in five different counties. Three other counties are now on the program of the Flying Clinic as part of this fall's work. The splendid cooperation which is being received from school people, from the county and city nurses, and from public-spirited physicians is an inspiration.

Prevent Fires, Urges Chief Heyl in Appeal

By CHAS. W. HEYL
Chief Fire Dept.

The attention of the citizens of Madison is called to Fire Prevention day, Monday, Oct. 10. The president of the United States, the governor of Wisconsin and the mayor of Madison have by proclamation called attention of the people to the importance of this day. I wish to impress on the minds of the citizens of Madison the great important necessity of cleaning their chimneys, their boilers, their basements, their attics and all other places containing inflammable matter that may cause the loss by fire of lives and property. Please bear in mind the date and see that on that day set, your premises will be secure from fire that may start on your property and destroy your own home and perhaps that of your neighbor and result in the loss of life of some beloved one in this community.

SADDLE-SIRLOIN PLAN BIG YEAR

Short talks by Prof. A. W. Hopkins, G. C. Humphrey, J. G. Fuller, and Frank Kleinheinz, and refreshments of doughnuts and cider were features of the first open air meeting of Saddle and Sirloin held in the auditorium at Agricultural hall at 7:30 last night when eighty-five old members entertained the new students in the college of agriculture who are especially interested in live stock and live stock problems.

"An unusually interesting and beneficial program of about eight meetings has been laid out for the ensuing year," said Ben Peacock, president, last night. "Among the speakers who have been secured are Dean H. L. Russell of the College of Agriculture, who will speak on 'Live Stock Conditions in the Middle West,' and William McFad, secretary of the American Poland China Breeders association."

"The annual social event of Saddle and Sirloin will probably be in the nature of a barn dance to take place sometime next month," Mr. Peacock said, "and the Little International will be put on in the early spring."

A team representing the organization of the agriculture students and comprised of K. E. Carlson, R. C. Munkvits, J. C. Nesbitt, and Helmar Casperson leave today to judge the National Dairy Show at St. Paul. The same team with Prof. R. C. Hulce as coach, won the silver cup for judging Jerseys at the Waterloo Iowa Dairy Congress Sept. 26 and placed fifth in the judging contest.

Commission Plans On Fire Prevention Day

The state industrial commission is preparing programs for special exercises in schools to be used on Fire and Accident Prevention Day, Oct. 10. It also is making an effort to secure an observance of the day by chambers of commerce and other civic organizations. The commission reports that increased interest is added to the occasion because of recognition for the first time by the president of the U. S. who has proclaimed a national fire prevention week. Fire losses in Wisconsin in 1920 were greater than for many years previous, the commission says. The past year they caused 89 deaths and property loss of $11,000,000, according to the commission, which says that in 1921 they are likely to be even greater. In Milwaukee to date, the fire losses in 1921 have exceeded those of any year since 1892.

Lay First Plans for Red Arrow Meet Here

First plans in the campaign to make the 1922 convention and reunion of the 32nd division the best ever, were discussed last night at a meeting of former officers and men of the division in the adjutant general's office. A committee of 10 men was selected to prepare preliminary plans for the organization of a local Red Arrow club, and to meet with committees from the Association of Commerce, state, city, and university officials. The committee will also meet Col. Gilbert E. Seaman, president of the 32nd division Veteran association, when he arrives in Madison in the near future. All former members of the division are urged to attend the next meeting, Wednesday, Oct. 19, 8 p. m., at a place to be announced later.

WASHINGTON—The question of parole or pardon for Eugene V. Debs has been "laid aside for a while" by the department of justice, according to Atty. Gen. Daugherty, who said today that such recommendation as he had prepared would be changed "in phraseology" before going to the president.

Lay Cornerstone For New Church Oct. 9

The cornerstone of the students' Lutheran Memorial Church being built here, will be laid Oct. 9, instead of Oct. 10, as previously announced, church officials said today. Exercises in which Gov. Blaine, Mayor Milo Kittleson of Madison and church officials will speak, are to be held. The church which will be the center of Lutheran activities among University of Wisconsin students is being built at a cost of $250,000.

School Lighting Code Goes in Effect Today

The school lighting code adopted by the industrial commission some time ago becomes effective today, the commission announces. It applies to all schools of the state, and to old as well as new construction. The code is modelled after the industrial lighting code, which has been in force since 1918, but is said to require better lighting because the eyes of school children are more susceptible to injury than those of adults.

Monona Park Budget Ask for $15,969.50

THE FORENSIC SEASON OPENS TONIGHT

THE forensic season opens tonight with the meetings of the four men's literary societies. Forensics is one of the leading outside activities at Wisconsin, and rightly so. It is an activity that gives a man just what he puts into it. It teaches him to speak and think on his feet; it teaches him how to present an argument or view in the most effective way; it helps him to appreciate the value of thinking on both sides of a question; it teaches him to weigh evidence; and it gives him an active interest in current events, political, economical, and social.

In short, forensics make for the broad minded man, the man who is governed more by his intelligent judgment than by his prejudice. Forensics help a man to think quick and think straight and to put his thoughts in a form most effective for influencing his fellow men.

But all this does not come from just joining a literary society. It comes from taking an active part in the life of such an organization. To get the benefits that forensics can give the participant has to work hard, but the effort is worth while.

The literary societies extend a cordial welcome to all new men and others interested in debating. Here is a splendid opportunity to meet a group of congenial fellows and to become identified with one of Wisconsin's leading extra-curriculum activities.

CONSTRUCTIVE WORK

THE Campus Religious council will formally open the year's work tonight with a welcome to the new students of the university.

It is the function of the council to foster religion on the campus. Certainly no extended argument is needed to justify such an organization. This body of men and women is doing one of the truly constructive pieces of work in the university. Their accomplishments are eloquent testimony against those who fling the charge of "Godlessness" at the university.

It is hoped that the council will broaden and extend its activities during the coming year.

THE MERICAL SCHOOL'S HONOR SYSTEM

THE Medical School has stolen a march on the rest of the university. It has an honor system in operation. While the university at large argued for and against an honor system without coming to a definite conclusion, the Medical School quietly formulated and adopted a plan that went into effect this fall.

Briefly, the plan provides that each student, upon entering the Medical School, formally pledges himself to practice honesty in all his college work, and to use his influence to help maintain the spirit for honesty in the school—the precise manner in which he shall use his influence not to be prescribed by rules, but to be left to his own judgment and sense of honor.

The following extracts of the pledge are especially illustrative of the principle of the system.

"I understand that in entering upon the study of medicine I am seeking to prepare myself for a profession in which honor, integrity, and trustworthiness are of fundamental importance. A physician can do little for a patient in whom he does not inspire trust. To be worthy of such a trust one must not diverge from an ideal of perfect integrity of character, and this ideal must be held steadfast from the day of beginning the study of medicine.

"I understand that in the Medical School of the University of Wisconsin I am placed on my honor to be honest in all my work. I understand that I am placed upon my honor in examinations, in the preparation of written work, and in the use of books and apparatus.

A committee investigates and acts upon such cases of dishonesty as may be formally brought to its attention.

There are two points in this honor system that deserve special attention. In the first place the primary object of the system is not to abolish a situation that is aggravating to the students. Its purpose is to inculcate and foster ideals of character that are of fundamental importance in the medical profession. In the second place, the individual student influences the maintenance of the system by his own judgment and sense of honor rather than by rules. In other words, the feeling that one is "snitching" when he reports dishonesty on the part of a classmate is eliminated.

Of course, conditions peculiar to the Medical School are advantageous to a plan such as the one just outlined. The fact that the school is comparatively small in numbers makes possible a personal spirit on the part of the students, a spirit that is very essential to the success of any honor system.

Then, again, the realization on the part of the student that honor and integrity are absolutely necessary to a successful physician is a great incentive towards cultivating that character in school.

Be that as it may, there seems to be no reason why the other colleges cannot adopt these same principles. Is not honor, integrity, and trustworthiness of fundamental importance to the lawyer, the engineer, the business man, the journalist, and, in short, to every man and woman, whatever may be his or her walk of life?

Probably a detailed plan of an honor system for the university at large would have to differ from that of the Medical School. However, these two principles offer a nucleus for a successful honor system; namely, the principle that the system is established primarily to encourage honor and not merely to do away with the present policing system. Secondly, the principle that individual honor and not student proctoring is to be the means of maintaining the system.

O'NEILL ADVOCATES DECISION DEBATES

A single judge of intercollegiate debates was favored by Prof. James M. O'Neill, head of the Public Speaking department, in a talk to a Fellowship meeting at the Y. M. C. A. last night.

"One good judge who will explain his decision is an asset, while a freak decision by thoroughly incompetent judges does more harm than good. I shall try to arrange what the students of the university want," said Professor O'Neill, who then explained that the forensic board and competing universities would have to pass on the plan before its final adoption.

The no-decision debate was also tried last year, but it was not thought to be a complete success, due to the fact that the lack of a decision seemed to take initiative out of the contestants. This system may be tried again this year, however.

Professor O'Neill outlined the forensic program for the year, explaining the methods of choosing contestants and what was expected of them. New men in the university were urged to join a literary society and get in touch with forensic activities.

"Last year was the most successful Wisconsin has enjoyed in forensics for some time, and with the return of seasoned debaters the prospects for even better things this year seem bright," said Mr. O'Neill in closing his address.

Hears Pleas on Legality of Warrants

Attorneys Argue Validity of Search Before Luse
in U. S. Court

Arguments on the legality of search warrants which federal officials used in seizing liquor on the premises of George Bleiler, Monroe, and Jacob Weiss, town of Monroe in May, 1920, and petitions for the quashing of indictments based on the liquor evidence so seized, were heard by Judge Claude Z. Luse in the U. S. district court Thursday morning. The motions to quash the indictment in the first case was granted and Judge Luse ordered George Ihrig, prohibition officials' group chief, to destroy the evidence at Superior. Judge Luse will consider the second case.

In the first case it was shown that a warrant was issued for searching a residence where there was no information that there had been any sales of liquor. In the second case the decision of the court partially hands on the question as to whether a complaint of the federal prohibition official under oath to the effect that liquor was being sold in a place of business was a complaint which could be and was filed by the presiding magistrate. Catigan and McGrath are the attorneys for Bleiler and Weiss. The warrants were issued by Willard T. Saucermann, justice of the peace.

HOMEcoming BALL As Big a Part of Celebration as Football Game

Lover's quarrel? Is that why he didn't take her to the Homecoming dance as well as the game?

That will probably be the opinion expressed regarding the couple who fail to appear at both Homecoming functions. From allows of no slighting of its functions and Homecoming too is developing into a fusing function of considerable eminence.

The Homecoming ball will take place in Lathrop hall, October 28, with a full 10-piece orchestra playing for the crowds that always make Homecoming balls long remembered in the annals of Wisconsin festivities. Other entertainment features have all been planned.

Sororities and fraternities are asked by the committee in charge to refrain from holding parties on that night in order to enable all to attend the ball. In as much as the dance is the greatest financial support of the Homecoming, the committee does not feel that it is asking very much of the fraternities, sororities and other organizations not to hold schedule dances on that date.

Your judgment will tell you that electricity is the most practical and safe method. Our improved apparatus uses electricity.

Only 15 to 18 minutes time is required to set the curls with the Oil Process which we use in connection with the Hoffman machine.

John N. Kyle in action.

The trusty boot of Captain John Kyle is counted on to keep Indiana's goal out of danger in the Big Ten gridiron battles this season. Kyle's punting was spectacular last year. He is already driving long spirals down Jordan field, on which the crimson eleven practices.

This photo of the Indiana leader was snapped a few days ago during practice. The Hoosiers meet Harvard October 8 and Coach Stiehm is prepping his squad now for that battle, one of the first of the big east-west clashes.

Communications

Editor Daily Cardinal:

I desire an opportunity to say a few words in reply to L. P. Walker '22 with reference to tickets for the football games. I hope I am not imposing upon your limited space.

It must be remembered that the University of Wisconsin is a state institution, supported by the people of this state, and the people of the state should be given as much consideration by the university authorities as the students. It would seem to me that if the students receive an equal break on tickets with those sending in mail orders from the cities and towns of the state, that they ought to be more than satisfied. By this I mean that student orders for tickets should be filled, alternating with mail orders sent in by the people of this state. The public, taxpayers, support and make possible this institution of learning.

Students should not be given preference, but should share equally with the public, in having seats set aside for them by the athletic authorities. Those of us who have graduated—and many others who attend the games—enjoy mixing with the students. It puts the zip into us. It helps to maintain our spirit. We thoroughly enjoy the associations and we share in the joys of the student body. If in the allotment of tickets on the basis of filling an order for the public and then filling an order for a student, we were thoroughly mixed, watching the big battle, how much more enjoyment most of us would get and how much more enthusiastic we would be—we who are out a number of years. "Mix with the grads" might become a slogan at Wisconsin that would help complete the bowl on short notice. Surely, the 50 cent admission charged students (many of whom cannot afford more) will not do it.

I believe the question: "Do we get seats in preference to the public?" is the wrong attitude for a student to take. This attitude makes it hard for all concerned. Let's rather adopt the policy of taking our chance, on an even break, with the public. It builds a feeling for Old Wisconsin that listens like victory.

AT THE STRAND

Maurice Tourneur presents
"The Foolish Matrons"

Maurice Tourneur's "The Foolish Matrons" is now being shown at the Strand theater. The picture shows the folly of trying to lick up selfish and vain pursuits with love and happiness. Like oil and water they cannot mix. In this picture there are three leading figures, three women, one of whom finds love and happiness because she has enough moral stamina to realize that woman's reward is found in the home and children, while the others encounter tragedy because they are unable to give up their selfish desires. Hobart Bosworth and Doris May are cast in two of the lead roles.

There will also be shown a "Snub" Pollard comedy and a scenic study in color.

Co-op Society Change Term of Contracts

Step Will Cause Dissolution of Stevens' In- junction

The cooperative society of Wisconsin notified R. M. Hoyt, deputy attorney general today, that it had changed its form of contract and would start selling its notes in this state commencing Monday, October 10. This step will cause the injunction granted against sale of the society notes Tuesday by Judge E. Ray Stevens in circuit court here, to be dissolved.

Mr. Hoyt said that the new form of contract did not comply with the state cooperative law in his opinion, and will go before the court Monday morning and apply for an injunction restraining sale of the new notes. The suggested contract expressly provides that interest instead of profit sharing dividends will be paid but provides further that the purchaser is to understand that he is not buying stock and has no voice in management of the concern.

"We will apply to the court Monday for an injunction against use of this form of contract," Mr. Hoyt said, "and this will squarely raise the question whether the society has a cooperative plan for doing business."

TANK MEN START TRAINING MONDAY

The training schedule for Varsity tank men has been posted in the gymnasium. Training will begin Monday. The 40 yard and the 100 yard practice occurs from 4 to 5; the diving from 5 to 5:30, and water basketball from 5:30 to 6, on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. On Tuesday and Thursday the breast and back stroke men swim from 5, and 2:20 and 4:40 yard men take the tank from 5 to 5:30 o'clock, and the water basketball players practice from 5:30 to 6. Plungers practice at 11 a. m. daily.

Several big men, including Brader and Gude, have been lined up for Coach Steinauer's waterbasketball squad. He intends to work two teams, but has not got all of his material lined up yet.

The memorandum published by the Rhodes Trust states, "The ideal Rhodes Scholar should excel in all three of the qualities indicated. The Committee will prefer a man who shows distinction in personality and intellect. Participation and interest in open-air sports form an essential qualification for a Rhodes Scholar, but exceptional distinction in athletics is not to be treated as of equal importance with the other requirements."

ELECTIONS WILL FILL MANY OFFICES

for the officers of their respective classes. Freshmen can only vote for the officers of their class, although the president automatically becomes a member of the senate. Only men are permitted to vote for representatives to the senate for their respective classes.

The graduate member of senate is elected by a general vote of men in the three upper classes. No member of the faculty can represent the graduate students. Junior men and women vote for prom chairman.

The sophomore election to Union board is regular, but the junior and senior electors are necessary, because provisions made during the war. Members of the Union board are elected by the men voters of their respective classes. In conformity to the constitution the board will recommend next Tuesday three students for each of the positions to be filled at the fall election. Other students are allowed to become candidates, however.

All candidates must have their petitions filed at the office of S. H. Goodnight, dean of men, at least two weeks before the election. They must be eligible scholastically.
