JONES' MEN TO MEET EVANSTON SCHOOL FRIDAY

Weak Purple Squad is No Match For Badger Team

Rain cut short yesterday's workout of the Wisconsin track team which is scheduled to meet Northwestern on Friday afternoon, May 27, at Camp Randall. The Badger runners and field men completed an abbreviated practice before the deluge forced Coach Thomas E. Jones to call off the workout.

The men came out of the Illinois meet in good condition. The squad is intact with the exception of Lylas P. Klug '23, who was unable to participate in the Minnesota and Illinois meets because of illness. Whether Klug will be in shape to assist Paul D. Kayser '21 in the quarter mile run against Northwestern is doubtful.

The Purple possess a weak track team and have not won a meet this season. Decisive defeats by Iowa, Chicago, and Purdue have been handed the Northwestern aggregation. While the team as a whole is not well-balanced, several individual stars have been gathering in points for the Purple. Townley and Blackwood are two of the biggest point winners on the squad. Both men are entered in the weight events, and Townley may compete in the high jump. Szold, quarter miler, is a consistent performer in his event, and Grausnick and Poliak will handle the sprints for Northwestern.

Predictions of critics that Illinois has one of the strongest dual meet track teams in the country were borne out in the Illinois-Wisconsin contest. The Suckers secured first places in all but one event, the pole vault, in which Wisconsin gained three positions. Every Illinois victory was well earned, several of the races ending in a blanket finish. Albert J. Knollin '22, who won individual honors with 12 points, scored close seconds in the high and low hurdles and the two sprints. In the 220 yard low hurdles, Wallace, Illinois, was forced to break the conference record to win. He negotiated the distance in 24 4-5 seconds.

Guy M. Sundt '22 scored six points for Wisconsin by winning second in the javelin throw, tying for second

PRESS CLUB PICNIC AT MONONA TODAY

The annual Press club picnic will be held in Monona park this evening. All members of the club are to meet at the State street entrance of the library at 5:15. A special car will take them to the park.

"It will be the best picnic Press club ever had," David Lacy, chairman of the arrangements committee declared. "We are going to feed on pop and ice cream, weenies roasted over open fires, buns, potato chips, and pickles."

Marion Goodwin '21, will lead the girls in a game of ball against the men in the club. After the supper, the pavilion will be opened for dancing.

Although the picnic is being given by the members of Press club, all journalists are invited. Those who have not yet obtained tickets may get them at the entrance of the library before the crowd starts. They cost 50 cents.

DEAD

Green Frosh Cap is Dying at His Home on Noodle Place

Green Frosh Cap is dying. For several weeks he has been confined at his home on Noodle place where he has daily been growing weaker and more pale.

His physicians, Drs. S. Tudent Senate and Fresh Man Class recently held a consultation and have decided that he is dying of old age and will breathe his last on Saturday evening, June 4, immediately after dinner.

Cap has no friends or relatives, his father having departed this life just one year ago. His family physician, Dr. Fresh Man Class is planning to care for his burial and will hold a tag day on Wednesday, June 1 to raise funds to defray the expenses of the funeral.

Inasmuch as it has been a family custom, and since all the remains of all of Green Cap's forefathers have been so consumed, Dr. Class is planning to hold a cremation ceremony on the lower campus immediately after the patient breathes his last. The cremation ceremony will be open to the public, and a curious crowd is expected to be in attendance.

It is rumored that S. Ophmore Class, an elder brother of the doctor, who is extremely jealous of the latter, is planning to interrupt the crematory rites.

CRUCIBLE ELECTIONS

Crucible, honorary junior women's society, announces the election of the following sophomores: Margaret Henry, Miriam Arey, Helen Elliot, Belle Knights, Marjorie Severance, Alice Ligare, Irene Clayton, Isabelle Capps, Elizabeth Kirk, Helen Kasbeer, Cleo Parsley, Jo Doring, Marjorie Ruff, Merle Shaw, Olga Anderson, Blanche Field, Alma Fenn, Vera Eastman, Aileen Hamilton, Edith Hess, Maude Killam, Mary Lindsay, Louise Moore, Gladys Webber, Margaret Wuerpel.

BADGERS ARE STILL AVAILABLE TODAY

Distribution of the 1922 Badger will continue every afternoon this week from 12 to 5:30 at Music hall. "It is imperative that every subscriber to the book should call today and get their copy," said "Cap" Rasmussen, business manager, yesterday. "On Wednesday the remaining copies will go on open sale, and the first to come will be served first."

According to Rasmussen, the Badger has been oversold by about 135, and it will therefore be necessary for subscribers to call early in order not to be disappointed in receiving their book. The sale this year has gone faster than ever before, and it is improbable that many books will remain to be sold on Wednesday.

LAST NUMBER OF ATHLETIC REVIEW ON SALE FRIDAY

Will Contain 56 Pages and Sell for 25 Cents per Copy

The largest and last number of the Wisconsin Athletic Review will be off the press in time to be sold at the Northwestern track meet on Friday, and at the interscholastic track meet Saturday, according to Wesley Travers '21, business manager. The practice of selling two copies for twenty-five cents will be discontinued with this issue and the magazine will be disposed of at "two bits" a copy.

With its fifty-six pages the final number of the year will be far larger than its predecessors. The feature of the issue will be the co-ordinating of the program of the interscholastic meet with the regular material of the Review. Eight pages will be devoted to a list of the events and the entries of the meet and a complete list of the activities of the week-end, including Venetian night.

"United student support of this last number of the Wisconsin Athletic Review is essential," declared Travers yesterday. "The publication was revived this year with the object of stimulating athletics and encouraging the coming of athletes to Wisconsin, and with so many high school students on the campus this week-end we must all show that we are backing Wisconsin athletics and the publication that is most actively devoted to its support."

A. C. F. TO ELECT BOARD ON JUNE 7

The annual election for next year's board members of the Agricultural College federation will be held Tuesday, June 7.

Two agricultural students are to be elected to represent that body on the board and two girls to represent the home economics students.

Any undergraduate in the College of Agriculture is eligible to vote and to hold office in the A. C. F.

Candidates for these offices should circulate petitions and secure twenty-five signers who are qualified to vote. These should be turned in to Jennie Heisig, chairman of the nominations committee before May 31.

WHITE SPADES ELECTIONS

STATE SCHOOLS ENTER 366 MEN IN TRACK MEET

16 Class A and 24 Class B High Schools Are Represented

With 366 contestants from 40 high schools in the state, the 27th annual interscholastic track meet to be held at Camp Randall at 1:30 p. m. Saturday afternoon, May 28, promises to be the greatest high school contest ever held within the state of Wisconsin.

Sixteen class A high schools, with enrollments of over 300, and 24 class B schools are entered, including Antigo, Chippewa Falls, Kenosha, La Crosse, Madison, Manitowoc, Marshfield, Milwaukee Bay View, Milwaukee North Division, Milwaukee Riverside, Milwaukee South Division, Milwaukee Washington, Milwaukee West Division, Oshkosh, Sheboygan, Superior, Cambridge, Dodgeville, Jefferson, Kaukauna, Kilbourn, Lake Geneva, Lancaster, Mauston, Merrill, Mineral Point, Monticello, New Lisbon, Orfordville, Rice Lake, Soldiers Grove, Stevens Point, Stoughton, West Allis, Whitewater Normal, Wilton, Wisconsin High, Woneewoc, and Wauzeka.

This is the largest group that has ever entered a state meet, and much competition is offered in all the events. The contestants are to be entertained at the various fraternity houses during their stay in Madison, and will be guests of honor at the Wisconsin-Chicago baseball game and the Wisconsin-Minnesota track meet on Friday afternoon.

Because of improper facilities on the campus for handling a banquet so large, all plans for the big dinner on the night after the meet have been abandoned. "It is impossible for us to get a large enough banquet hall to entertain the men," said Meade Burke, interscholastic manager, yesterday. "We regret that we have to give up this important part of our schedule, but we can make no other arrangements." Dinner on Saturday evening will be served at the fraternity houses, after which the men will be given an opportunity to see the Venetian Night on Lake Mendota.

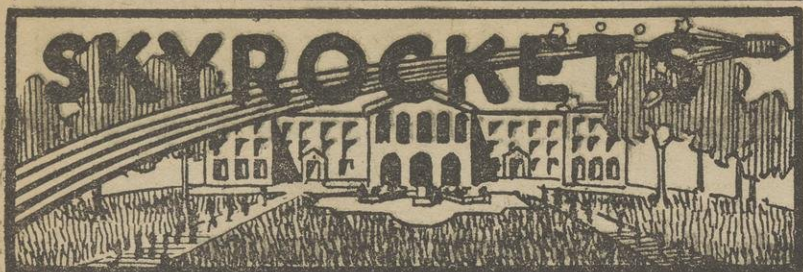

Entertainment arrangements are in the hands of Dexter Brown '22, who is making every plan for the reception of the visitors. Any one who has made or can make arrangements to take care of some of the visiting men should call him at the Psi Upsilon house.

HAMBRECHT SPEAKS AT ARTUS MEETING

George P. Hambrecht, chairman of the Wisconsin industrial commission, will speak on the subject of industrial problems, before Artus, national honorary economics fraternity, in 303, Physics and Economics Building at 7:15 o'clock tonight. The meeting will be open to the public.

Mr. Hambrecht has been selected by Artus because of his intimate knowledge of economic facts and his long experience in the field of industrial problems. For years, he has been connected with the administration of governmental economic problems. In this capacity, Mr. Hambrecht has attained a national reputation. Recently, Mayor Kittleson chose Mr. Hambrecht chief arbitrator in the building trades dispute in Madison.

After Mr. Hambrecht's talk, Artus will elect its officers for next year.

WE sincerely warn you against anticipating any humor in the col. today. Just now it looks as though it may rain, but we have serious doubts if we shall ever cool off again. Maybe this is just a premonition of the hot weather that's not so darned far off, as you may have noticed if you read the examination schedule in Sunday's col.

QUITE earnestly we ask Dean Sellery to reconsider his half-completed plan of some weeks ago, and really carry out the cemetery notion that he started just outside his office. We would much prefer being buried among our friends, in our native hills and heath.

PENN CROSBY IS ELECTED TO HEAD JOURNALISM HOUSE

Organization Will Strive to Purchase Home Soon

The first annual election of officers of the Journalism house took place yesterday at a meeting of the organization at the house, 430 N. Frances street. Pennel Crosby '22, president; Portia Lugoff '23, secretary-treasurer, and Leona Nagler '22, comprise the executive committee for next year. Mrs. Olive Mitchell, who owns the home, will act as chaperon.

The Journalism house was founded this spring at the suggestion of Isabelle C. Bugbee '21, and organized by 12 charter members, under the guidance of the journalism department. The aim of the organization is to bring together women students who are inspired by a common interest in their work and a spirit of friendship. Any woman majoring in the course is eligible to apply for membership.

It is the dream of the organization to own a house and to direct a dining room where all members of Press club and the journalism course, both men, and women, may come for meals. It is hoped that the dining room plan may be realized by the opening of second semester next year.

There is one vacancy in the house, and the committee urges those women who are interested in joining, to apply immediately. Applications will be placed upon the waiting list in the order that they are received. As there is no waiting list at present there may be a good chance for present applicants to get into the house next fall.

DIXIE DAVIS '23 TO HEAD DOLPHIN CLUB

Dixie Davis '23 was elected president of the Dolphin club at the meeting held in Lathrop hall Tuesday evening. The other officers elected were as follows: Edith Ewald '22, vice-president; Libby Kirk '23, secretary-treasurer; Florence Westendarn '24, instructor.

It was announced that the Dolphin club would enter a float for Venetian night.

What to Say?

Dear Ed:

A friend of mine, who stutters, was trying to tell me something the other day, and was having much difficulty.

"I j-j-just saw a b-b-bunch of d-d-d-d-d," he began.

"Ducks," queried I, hoping to help him out.

"N-not d-d-ducks," he replied, "b-b-but they l-l-look like ducks."

"Doves," I suggested.

"N-n-no," he stuttered, "I ss-said t-they l-l-l-looked l-like d-d-ducks. A bunch of d-d-d-d-d."

Finally light penetrated the darkness, and I murmured, "Dekes?"

He nodded assent.

MOONSHINE.

AND that is all.

DULUTH REGATTA JUNE 28 IS AD FOR UNIVERSITY

O'Neil is Given Charge of Preparation by Varsity

A hot publicity campaign for the University of Wisconsin is to be carried on at the rowing regatta at Duluth on June 28.

Duluth has been the scene of two national regattas and many smaller ones. The interest in such events in that section of the country is always great. The object of this campaign is to work up enthusiasm for the university in northern Minnesota and Wisconsin, and to get the men and women of both states to attend the regatta at the Duluth Boat club on St. Louis bay.

Daniel O'Neil, general chairman, and Charles H. Fitzsimmons '23, chairman of the regatta committee, are formulating plans for Wisconsin's part in the event. A. H. Fee '21 has been appointed chairman of the entertainment committee, and John S. Wangenstein '23, is publicity manager.

Preparations are being made by the entertainment committee to provide "pep" and entertainment for the visitors, and everything will be done to put Wisconsin across.

NOTICE TO TREASURERS OF ALL SCHOOL ORGANIZATIONS

Treasurers of all school organizations, whether incorporated or not, are required by an act of the Student Senate adopted May 4, 1921, to submit their financial statements to the Student Financial Advisor, room 22, South hall, every semester. Those for the second semester should be turned in not later than June 1. The advisor will be in the office from 12:30 to 1:30 every day except Saturday for any information or assistance that is desired.

The report should include four statements: one of assets and liabilities; one of income and expenditures; a schedule of accounts receivable and accounts payable; and a statement giving the location and amount of the bank account.

"Wisconsin has no alibi for the defeat by Illinois," said Coach Jones yesterday. "Illinois won a clean victory although the size of the score does not indicate the comparative strength of the two teams. All of the races were close and the Illinois were pushed hard to win each event. The Badgers complete their dual meet schedule against Northwestern on Friday, but the big competition for which the men are being pointed is the Big Ten track meet at Chicago on June 4."

CHURCHES UNITE AT BIG PICNIC ON SECOND LAKE

A shrill blast of whistles called 120 picnickers to the boats at Wirka's landing Saturday afternoon waiting to take them to Lake Waubesa. Wesley Memorial and Presbyterian young people decided to join this spring for a hilarious good time outdoors.

With Wilbert Iwen '24 pitching for the Methodist team and Charles Rawson '23 for the Presbyterian, a hard-fought baseball battle resulted in an 8-4 victory for the latter.

Not to be outdone, the girls put on a swift game that ended prematurely, due to the lack of sufficient muscle, lung power, and staying ability.

In a track meet arranged by Al Willet '23, the following winners made honors:

100 yard dash—Ernest Watson '23 first, and Stanley Jacka '21 second.

Three-legged race—Ernest Barnes '22, and Sheldon Wolf '24 first.

Shoe race—Ernest Watson first, and Wilder Crane '23 second.

In the wheelbarrow race and the necktie race with a friendly contest between both churches, the Methodist young people carried off the honors.

After supper served on the lake shore, Al Willet again starred as a leap-frog leader expert. His technique was perfect, his gang of talented assistants thoroughly capable and excellently trained, and his variety noteworthy. The endurance of Elmer Kraemer occasioned vigorous applause from the big audience which witnessed the curiously ludicrous novelty entertainment. Howard Hara distinguished himself in "The Spanish Fly," "Retrieve," and "Turkey in the Oven."

With the "End of a Perfect Day" still echoing in song over the moonlit water, old and new friends said goodbye with a unanimous vote to make the "Federated Picnic" an annual affair.

THE WESTERN CONFERENCE EDITORIAL ASSOCIATION

THE Wisconsin delegate has just returned from the Western Conference Editorial association convention at Ann Arbor. The calling of this conference was of the most recent steps to better college and university journalism.

The need of developing such journalism has grown as the colleges and universities have increased in size. At one time, the college newspaper was an insignificant factor in the student's life. The student body was knit together by personal contact and personal friendship. In many of the larger universities, such as our own, this personal relationship among all the students is no longer possible. The college newspaper has come to form the strongest bond uniting the student body. Unity of effort and spirit among the students is attained largely in proportion to the excellence of the college press. Every agency, including the Western Conference Editorial association, which betters college journalism is doing a commendable work in bettering student life. It is enhancing the force that is so instrumental in promoting student success and welfare.

There is another later development in university and college life that the editorial association can influence to good advantage—inter-college and inter-university relations. The common interests, aims, and purposes of our higher educational institutions and the many contests carried on between them have made necessary common efforts in many fields. Since the college press is so powerful in each institution, it is fitting that the editors confer on matters of inter-college and inter-university relations.

A stand for uniform ruling in regard to students who play professional summer baseball was taken by the last conference. Such a uniform ruling will do away with the source of much antagonism and misunderstanding among the universities.

A Big Ten news service whereby the larger mid-western universities will co-operate to give news of general student interest to the various student bodies is being contemplated.

Numerous other matters of a like nature will be taken up from time to time.

Wisconsin is glad to have been represented at a conference which strives to better one of the most potent influences in student life and to better inter-college and inter-university relations.

OPEN ARTUS MEETING

TONIGHT, George P. Hambrecht, chairman of the Wisconsin Industrial commission, will address the members of Artus, national honorary economics fraternity, in 303 P. E. P. building. The meeting will be open to the public.

The activity of Artus in securing men prominent in the economic world to address the society and the public presents a curious situation among the honorary societies of the university. Most such societies show signs of life at the time when they elect new members, and then they hibernate for six months or a year. It is a pleasing spectacle to see an honorary society that is active.

Artus' activity, moreover, has been, and is, well directed. The speakers secured are of highest rank. Mr. Hambrecht, for example, is one of the most prominent men in the country in the administration of government economic policies. The speakers generally are well versed in their lines and present facts worth knowing.

Students will do well to hear Mr. Hambrecht speak on industrial relations at the open Artus meeting at 7:15 o'clock to-night.

BADGER STATE 73 YEARS OLD

Blaine Asks Special Programs for "Wisconsin Day"

Gov. Blaine on Monday issued the following Wisconsin Day proclamation:

"On May 29, 1848, or 73 years ago, by an Act of Congress, Wisconsin was admitted to the Union, and we are therefore reminded that May 29 is the anniversary of our admission as a State to the Union.

"Since then great and momentous changes have taken place all over the world, in our own country, and this is true of our own commonwealth. Time has wrought many changes and improvements, and as citizens of Wisconsin we might cease for at least a part of a day to review the history and advancement of our state, and to recount the deeds of those who have been instrumental in converting a wilderness into one of the great agricultural and manufacturing states of the union. Wisconsin's citizens may well feel proud of the achievements that have taken place, not only in the advancement of agricultural and industrial movements, but also along educational lines. Whether in peace or in war, Wisconsin's citizens have played their part in developing a better civilization.

While the anniversary of Wisconsin's admission to statehood is not a legal holiday and is not so proclaimed, it is proper and fitting, however, that our schools, and colleges, civic bodies, and other organizations, and the press of the state, review the history of our state and our achievements, and thus honor the memory of the men and women who laid the foundation for our prosperity and the achievements that have been accomplished through the 73 years of our history.

"It is therefore suggested that the history of our state be reviewed, and that the industry, devotion, and loyalty of our citizens received such consideration as will lead the present and future generations to understand and follow WISCONSIN and the spirit typified in our motto 'Forward.'

HESPERIA TO HOLD BANQUET

Literary Society to Celebrate Reunion On Thursday

Thursday evening the alumni and active members of the Hesperian Literary society of the University will meet in a Reunion Banquet to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the joint debate.

The Hesperian Society is the largest and one of the oldest literary societies in the U. S. It was founded in 1854, six years after Wisconsin became a state, and the following year it was incorporated.

Throughout the 67 years of its life, Hesperia has held the foremost place in Wisconsin forensics. Its work in debating, oratory, parliamentary practice, and court proceedings has ever been acclaimed as the highest type.

Over 1500 members have been initiated, and this army of Hesperians is sowing the seed of Hesperian principles throughout the world.

A joint debate league was formed with Athenae and Philomathia, the two other men's debating societies, in 1871. The annual joint debate has become a foremost traditional feature of university life, and Hesperia has carried away creditable honors in these annual clashes.

The reunion banquet will mark a notable event in the history of Hesperian activities since 1854. Letters of invitation have been sent to alumni whose location could be ascertained, and the enthusiastic acceptances give promise of an unprecedented success.

The Hesperian alumni who have not been reached are urged to communicate at once with the president, Carl H. Laun, 211 North Murray St., Madison. The banquet will be held at the State Capitol Cafe at 6:30 p. m. A program has been arranged.

200 SENIORS PAY DUES IN TWO DAYS

In the first two days of collection, 200 seniors have paid their class dues of $3.00. The rest are urged to mail their payments immediately to William B. Florea, Class of 1921, 752 Langdon street. All payments must be made before June 1.

The $3.00 tax includes $1.00 for the chimes fund and $2.00 for membership in the Wisconsin alumni association. When all dues are paid the class of 1921 will graduate with 100 per cent membership in the alumni association. The $1,500 which the 1921 Badger will turn over to the class makes it possible for the class to contribute $2,000 to the chimes fund and still have money to cover current expenses.

ZOO BECOMES CITY PROPERTY

Animals Are Presented to Madison by Dr. Dwight

The Vilas Park zoo animals, 512 in number, were presented to the city of Madison by Dr. C. G. Dwight on Saturday. Dr. Dwight says that the zoo is no longer a one-man affair and that provision should be made to perpetuate the institution. An annual tag day is planned to provide replacement funds for the zoo. The first will be held next Saturday and will be sponsored by the Madison Association of Commerce. It is planned to have high school students as taggers. Some $3,000 will be needed each year.

As a special feature a few of the zoo's most popular animals will be brought uptown to make a closer acquaintance with the people on the street. The funds will be in charge of Frank W. Hoyt, treasurer of the Madison Park and Pleasure Drive association. Dr. Dwight will continue to give his services in the selection of the animals.

MISS WYATT SAYS HEAR, TALK, BOOST AMERICAN MUSIC

Clef Club Members Put on Program of National Composers

"Hear American music, talk American music, and boost American music," said Miss Doris Wyatt at the annual open program given by Clef club Sunday afternoon, May 22, in Lathrop parlors.

"Just give the American composer a chance and he will do the rest," she said. There is no reason why America with its strong national spirit, its love for the beautiful, and its vastness and rugged grandeur cannot be the home of the finest music.

Miss Wyatt discussed the three stages in the development of national music: Imitation of music of the old world, revolt and cultivation of folk music, and awakening of a national consciousness. This country is about to enter the third stage.

The excellent presentation of the numbers indicates the high standard of the club. An original setting to Robert Louis Stevenson's "Even Song," by Miss Jane Salisbury was of special interest.

The program was as follows:

LILLIAN WALKER IS ORPH ATTRACTION

Dimpled, laughing, and winsome, Lillian Walker, the famous moving picture star, told in a charming way stories of the movie world, at the Orpheum last night. She won everyone with her anecdotes of little Jackie Coogan and other movie children, and her tales of the times when the Cinematograph was still in its infancy.

Her personality was what put her act across, for she did nothing but stand before the audience and talk simply and unaffectedly. She gave an effect of unstudied improvisation that was very winning.

"Prevarications," the one-act farce, most decidedly featured Bert Baker, as Benny Butler, the prevaricator, although the rest of the cast very ably seconded him. "Benny" put new life in a time-honored act, and kept the audience amused with his naivete, and hearty appreciation of the funniness of the situation.

Ziska, the strikingly handsome nimble-fingered, and quick-witted magician, puzzled the audience with the customary egg and handkerchief tricks, better done than usual.

Sound and motion predominated in the act presented by the Three Blighty Girls, whose kilted clogging and strenuous voices were far from soothing to the nerves of the T. B. M.

Rather lacking in stage technique were Billy Green and Homer Dean, whose contribution was "Nifty Songs Sung in a Nifty Way."

At The Theaters

AT THE STRAND

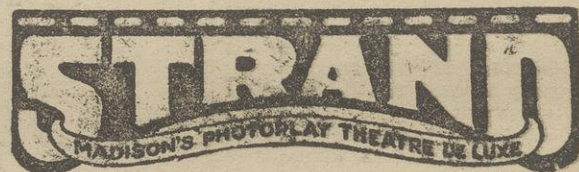

Dorothy Gish is a high flyer in more ways than one in her new Paramount picture, "Flying Pat," which is being shown at the Strand theater for the last times today. The peppery comedienne has the role of an amateur aviatrix in a rollicking story of young married life.

Miss Gish is Jane Van Nuys, who married Captain Bob Van Nuys, an aviator overseas. When they return from their honeymoon and Bob is settled down as an airplane manufacturer, he insists that his wife pick a career for herself too. She decides to be a champion lady flyer. Bob is too busy to teach her the game, but a Captain Endicott, his superintendent, is right on the job—several ways. There is an airplane accident that causes a domestic crash also, with Jane leaving home in a huff. Then follows some disillusioning adventures out in the cold, cold world, while friend husband searches frantically for her. The climax is declared to be mirthful in the extreme, and of course, brings about a reconciliation.

The added attraction is Buster Keaton in "Hard Luck."

Marion Davis in "The Restless Sex" will be the feature picture at the Strand Wednesday to Saturday.

BIG TEN PLANS NEWS EXCHANGE AT CONFERENCE

Association is Formed to Unite on Common Problems

An adequate Big Ten news service and exchange looms as a reality as the result of the action taken by the newly-formed Western Conference Editorial association in its first meeting held at Ann Arbor, Mich., on May 20 and 21.

Stories of special interest to one university will be sent to it by wire from the other college dailies and will appear under the caption "Western Conference Press Service." The dailies will also exchange advance stories on athletic contests and prospects for the games compiled by the respective athletic editors of the papers. During the scholastic year there will be an interchange of photographs of the athletes and coaches which will be used when the occasion arises. Upon the suggestion of Charles P. MacInnis '22, Wisconsin delegate to the conference, lists of the full names of athletic contestants will be exchanged to be used as checks in preparing programs and newspaper stories.

Radio service to supply stories of games and late news is the aim of the association. A test of the efficiency of the university wireless stations will be made next week. Should they not prove satisfactory, it is possible that the Wisconsin station, because of its long wave length, may be used as the central distributing point.

Ten delegates representing all Big Ten schools with the exception of Chicago and Northwestern were present to form the association. It was formed with the idea of bringing about a better understanding of the universities involved and arriving at common decisions regarding campus and journalistic problems. Yearly conventions have been arranged for. Next year's conference will be held at Minnesota. Any campus publication may send a representative.

HOLZBOG WINNER OF ALPHA ZETA ESSAY CONTEST

Winners of the Alpha Zeta essay contest have been announced by the judges. The essay receiving first prize was written by Walter Holzboog '22 on the subject "How the Proposed Great Lakes to Ocean Waterway Would Affect Agriculture in the United States." The article showed the great reduction that could be made in the price of agricultural products to the consumer as well as a better profit to the producer if the cheaper lake and waterway transportation could be employed.

The winner of the second prize essay, Gordon Hamley '23, and the winner of third prize, Charles D. Byrne '23, chose for their theme, "Can Education Keep the Boys and Girls on the Farm?" The prize given by Alpha Zeta was a neat gold charm in the form of an ear of corn with the husks partly turned over. This is the second essay contest that Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity, has recently conducted. Alpha Zeta was organized in 1897 and now has 27 chapters. Judges in the present contest were Professors B. H. Hubbard, W. D. Frost, and A. W. Hopkins.
