Badgers' Pennantward

BREAK THREE RECORDS

Coach Joe Steinauer's Badger swimming squad took a step forward in its pennantward race last night by defeating Minnesota 32 to 36 in a meet, which was characterized by the breaking of three conference records.

Wisconsin scored 21 points in the first three events, establishing a lead that the northerners were never able to overcome. The Gophers climbed rapidly in the next three events, but Steinauer's men cinched the victory when they captured second and third places in the 150 yard back stroke event.

Bennett Gets Two Firsts

The point getters were well distributed on the Badger team, Bennett being the highest man with two firsts or 10 points to his credit. Captain Collins, Koch, Lamboley and Czerwonky also figured prominently in the scoring.

Faricy, of Minnesota, lived up to his record of being the best man in the Big Ten Conference at the present time by defeating Czerwonky in the breast stroke. The former swam this event in 2:40 2-5, lowering the conference record by 4 3-5 seconds. He displayed wonderful form in the water, but was only able to count 5 points, as he was only entered in the single event.

Relay is Close

The first event of the evening, the 160 yard relay, was one of the most interesting races on the program. The men swam neck to neck until the final pair, Bennett and Holmes, were on the last lap, when the Badger far outdistanced his opponent and broke a conference record by 2-5 of a second. Bennett broke another record when he negotiated the 220 yard free style event in 2:29 4-5, cutting off 1 3-5 seconds from the time of the famous Chicago star, Blinks.

Minnesota had little difficulty in winning the first two places in the distance plunges. Atwood and Jordan were much larger than the Wisconsin plungers, and the former

JOHNSON LEAVES FOR MILWAUKEE

Prof. E. M. Johnson, of the Course in Journalism, left yesterday for Milwaukee to attend the convention of the Wisconsin Press association at the Hotel Pfister. Prof. W. G. Bleyer and G. M. Hyde will also be present at the convention.

Professor Johnson will speak on the "Results of a Survey of the Country Weeklies of Wisconsin." That a short course in journalism be conducted in Madison between semesters for the country newspaper editors is the plan to be discussed by Professor Bleyer.

The Milwaukee Journal entertained the editors of the convention at a dinner given at the Hotel Pfister last night. The Wisconsin representation will return to Madison tonight.

SALE SAYS TIMES' ARTICLE IS FALSE

Scolten Denies Having Made Statement Attributed to Him

"The Capital Times of Thursday, March 2, carried a statement attributed to me and relating to the legality of the election of the Cardinal Board of Control which was entirely false," said William M. Sale, editor of The Daily Cardinal, last night.

"I absolutely made no statement of any sort to reporters," continued Sale, "nor did I make such a charge before the investigating committee of the Student Senate, as the Times stated."

Adrian Scolten, president of the Board of Control, was reported by the Times to have said that the dismissal of the managing editor was to be considered at an early meeting of the board. Scolten denied having made this statement, and the other members of the board stated that they had not considered making such a move.

U. W. Men Study Lumber Practices

D. G. White and E. P. Ivory, of the Forest Products laboratory, are making a study of trade practices at a number of western lumber mills, preparatory to attending a nation-wide conference on lumber standardization, which will be called in April by the U. S. Forest service.

They left Madison late in January to make a complete inspection of the western mills, and intend to return early in April.

Trade names, sizes, and grades vary in different markets, causing great confusion. Standardization in the lumber industry is, therefore, imperative.

Haresfoot Changes Name of Production

"Kitty Corner" has been selected as the name of the twenty-fourth annual Haresfoot production replacing "Jerusalem Junction," the title originally chosen. The change was made by the production committee last night working with Harry Spingold, of Chicago, who arrived in the city yesterday to make selections for the cast and chorus of the show.

250 ATTEND GUN AND BLADE FEED

Edwin Booth Club Entertains With Humorous Sketches and Songs

Two hundred and fifty veterans of the World war attended the second annual banquet of the Gun and Blade club which was held last night in the Woman's building.

Pres. E. A. Birge, the first speaker, appealed to the Gun and Blade men to instill into the student body of Wisconsin the war-time spirit of loyalty, patriotism, and service. He was followed by Major A. A. Sprague, Washington, D. C., C. W. Spofford, Captain M. E. Adams, Mayor I. Milo Kittleson, and Edison M. Boerke. Col. C. R. Forbes, personal representative of President Harding, was unable to come.

The Edwin Booth club entertained with a few humorous sketches and songs, in which "Heinz" Rubel, "Doc" Hughes, and Arthur McCaffery were the fun-makers. Paul Coutant in his role of a French dancer, and two blackface comedians with their negro songs, added to the merriment of the evening.

GILMAN SPEAKS AT VESPERS

Prof. S. W. Gilman will speak on "What Is Difficult?" at the Y. W. C. A. vespers tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 in Lathrop parlors.

BLACK CROSS ON FLAG MYSTIFIES STUDENTS

Students hurrying to their 8 and 9 o'clock classes yesterday morning were terrorized by the sight of a large piece of white canvas stretched across the upper campus bearing an immense Maltese cross and the words, "We are Here," printed in black.

Small hand bills bearing the same dread insignia were posted on every bulletin board and left in every classroom in Bascom hall.

The whole affair is veiled in a deep mystery. The entire building was strewn with the hand bills this morning at 7 o'clock, according to Thomas Egan, janitor of Bascom hall. The bills were thrown around on the floors and in all the rooms that were unlocked, Egan said, and in those rooms that were locked, they were slipped underneath the doors.

Birge Orders Banner Down

The large banner was stretched across the campus between North and South halls. P. M. Franzen, head of the paint shop, who is now in possession of the banner, said that he received orders from the office of the president a little after 9 o'clock yesterday morning to take it down.

The exact time when the banner was put up, or the bills distributed, is not known. The campus is carefully guarded by watchmen, according to George Werhle, head of the right watchman, and the banner must have been put up by persons who had kept close watch of the men, and knew when they would be absent from the immediate vicinity of the upper campus.

Gophers Also Mystified

The university buildings, officials claim, are closed at 6:30 every night. Because of a faculty meeting in Bascom hall Thursday night, that building was not locked until about 11 o'clock. As far as is known, the hand bills were not found in any of the other buildings.

A similar affair has also mystified the University of Minnesota. According to members of the Minnesota swimming squad, a large banner was erected there and hand bills were also strewn around. The bills and banners at Minnesota bore the same kind of a cross, the words "We are Here," and in addition, the warning "Beware Slackers" and the initials "O. I. C."—possibly meaning "Order of the Iron Cross."

Police Surprised

The bills at Minnesota were found on class-room chairs, posted on bulletin boards, and scattered around the campus last Monday morning.

Up until late last night, the Madison police had heard nothing of the matter. They claim that they have never had their attention called to anything of like nature before.

CLASSIC STOCK SHOW OF YEAR OPENS TONIGHT

Agrics Hold Annual Little International in Stock Pavilion

INVITE PROMINENT MEN

The Little International Live Stock show, a student exposition of university herds and flocks, will be held in the Stock pavilion at 7:30 this evening.

The show is considered the classic live stock event of this section of the country and will be attended by prominent men from all parts of the United States. Proceeds of the exposition are used to finance the student stock judging teams that compete with other colleges at the national live stock shows every year.

Prominent Guests Invited

Many prominent guests will attend the exposition. Invitations have been sent to Gov. John J. Blaine, Lieut. Gov. George Comings, Secretary E. S. Hall, State Treasurer Henry Johnson, the heads of the different state departments, Pres. E. A. Birge, Dean H. L. Russell, and to 35 heads of various live stock organizations. President Birge and his party will occupy a box near the center of the arena.

Judging of the animals will take place in the afternoon. Awards will be based on the amount of improvement that was made in the animals and on the students' ability in the show ring. The Madison public is invited to witness the judging free of charge. An admission of 50 cents will be charged to see the show in the evening.

Parade Opens Show

The evening show consists of a grand parade of university herds and flocks, demonstration horse riding, triple bar jumping, inter-sorority riding contest, a mounted wrestling match between the Madison guard and the university cadets, broncho busting, and special features by the different student organizations. The special features will be held in the form of a three ring circus so that all parts of the audience may be entertained at the same time. Music will be furnished by the Second Regimental band.

HOLD JAMBOREE TRYOUTS TUESDAY

Tryouts for the stunts to be given by various fraternity and sorority groups at the Varsity Jamboree will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the auditorium of the Engineering building. Four or five groups will be chosen from those contesting, to put on their stunts the night of the Jamboree. Prizes will be awarded the two best groups.

The judges for both the tryouts and the final presentations will be town men who will be absolutely impartial in their decisions.

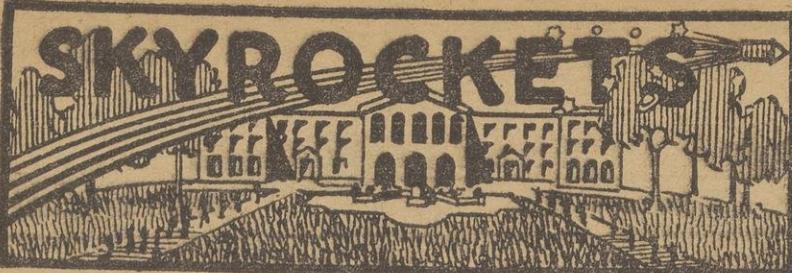

Pictures of the groups selected to give stunts will be exhibited in the windows of the Kamera Kraft and Photoart houses. They will also be printed in the 1923 Badger.

There will also be prizes for the best costumed groups in the grand march, which will open the Jamboree.

TONIGHT CHICAGO vs. WISCONSIN

Gymnastic and Wrestling Meets

Gym, 7:30—Admission 50c

WHEN we were getting our coat and galoshes last night in the libe, we brushed against another coat, and something fell to the floor with a dull thud. We picked it up, and found it to be a bomb, weighing about 16 pounds. It had a skeleton of a hand painted in red upon it, with the letter N. We hid around the corner to watch the coat, lest it escape, and about an hour later we saw Professor Cestre come in, put on the coat, and depart. We followed him, and after an intricate pursuit through Sorority alley, and other alleys, we observed him lift a manhole cover and disappear into the heating tunnel. By the time we reached the manhole, Willett Kempston had parked his car on it, so we were foiled. But this deep, dark mystery we believe will soon be solved, as tomorrow we intend to secret ourselves in the heating tunnel.

WE are beginning to think that we ought to be given the entire front page. Not only have we alone succeeded in discovering the Cestre-Kempton mystery, but we have just gotten, after three years of persuasion, and the paying of a fabulous salary in advance, the services of the great literary genius of today and yesterday, the renowned and illustrious LE DOGUE. We are able today to present to our readers the first work he has written under our contract. The superior quality of this masterpiece, as well as its unparalleled excellence, will be further understood when one realizes that Stevenson has already parodied it. This, of course, is an insult which LE DOGUE has considered beneath his dignity to notice.

CARD OF THANKS
I WISH to express my profound and heartfelt thanks to my unknown benefactor. If the person who returned my lost Joe Miller joke book by parcel post will make himself known, I should be only too pleased to take other means of expressing my gratitude. — James Francis Augustine Pyre. (advt.)

LAMENTATION OF THE GHOST OF JOHN BARLEYCORN, DCSD.

Under a gored and grisly sky
They dug the grave in which
I lie—

Glad did I live, and sadly die,
But they found me hard to kill.

This is the verse they graved for me:
"Here he lies, where he ought to be,
Home is the father, home from the spree,
And the sons are home from the swill."

LE DOGUE.

THERE is much to be said regarding the Regents' attitude toward the problem of free speech, but why should we be the ones to remark thereon. You know we have always had the most perfect freedom. Why just think of some of the stories that come out in this space when no other one will stand for it. And is there anybody whom we're afraid to rebuke or to praise? No—not outside of a few sacredotal deans and everybody that has a debt against us or has something else on us. Why, come to think of it, we're so free that we're costly—you know—dear to the censor.

HAVE you a little flu bug in your home? This is the vital question of the hour. Everybody is fluing to everybody else. Yes, we, ourselves are about to desist from spreading this diseased stuff and put our own little case of flu beneath the covers and around a few dozen grains of quinine, etc.

CASE X113
(Bowing to Dr. Johnson)
I took my girl upon my arm
And walked into the Strand,
And there I met another man
Who tried to hold my hand.
PER OX-HIDE.

"I'm undone," shrieked the package as the man cut the string.

BERLIN—At a recent convention of German and Swiss brewers, the brewers admitted that they feared prohibition would sweep Europe.

E. A. Trowbridge

Grad Lauds Badgers For Hold-

Prof. E. A. Trowbridge, Wisconsin '06, now professor of animal husbandry at the University of Missouri, addressed the meeting of the Saddle and Sirloin club Friday evening, March 3, in the auditorium of Agricultural hall.

The talk was preceded by a brief business meeting at which final plans and instructions for the Little International show this afternoon and evening were given out.

Professor Trowbridge began his address by describing the activities carried on by the agriculture students at the University of Missouri, telling of the Farmers' fair held in April each year.

"This fair," he said, "at first was simply a take-off on county fairs. Lately, however, it has taken on a more serious aspect and now resembles what agriculture colleges throughout the country carry on and what we are having in the Little International show."

"The importance to undergraduates of putting on such a performance as the Little International can not be over-rated. The undertaking tends towards growing interest in agriculture affairs and affords an admirable experience to the men partaking in it."

"I want to emphasize another fact; which is, that agriculture as a calling has a dignity of its own. The task, no matter what its nature may be, is as big as the man undertaking it. Agriculture can be made as dignified a profession as any other."

The talk was followed by a business meeting of the Agricultural Literary society.

Air Infiltration
Into Buildings to Be Studied Here

The University of Wisconsin has been selected as one of several American universities to co-operate in the study of the problems of air infiltration into buildings.

The work is being done by B. S. Spieth, instructor in the department of steam and gas engineering, in co-operation with the American Society of Heating and Ventilating engineers, which has been carrying on research in its Pittsburgh laboratories. Various types of buildings and the amount of air infiltration in each will be studied.

Another experimentation, that of a plan of heating buildings with hot water which has been heated by steam injected directly into the water, is being carried on by G. C.

Wilson, of the same department, in co-operation with the Wisconsin state power plant engineering department.

Both of these research studies will probably be completed during the current semester.

Methodists Present
Oratorio, "St. Paul"

The Methodist Student choir directed by Prof. Lowell L. Townsend, will give Mendelssohn's oratorio, "St. Paul," at Wesley hall Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

The chorus of 42 student voices has been in training for some weeks for the performance. Solo parts will be sung by Earl Brown, Bernard Huebner '22, tenors; Winifred Collier '23, Verle Kring '25, and Minda Louise Irish, soprano; Chorale Boyd Cook, alto; Arthur Van Velzer, John Irwin '23, and Richard Van Houten, bass.

U. S. Has Two Thirds of All Telephones In World; Leads In Use of Modern Appliances

Europe Has Only One Phone to Every Hundred People; American Companies Earned 11 Percent in 1921

NEW YORK—The American people exceed all others in the use of modern appliances, it is demonstrated in the annual report of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. issued today.

Forty-five years after the invention of the telephone, says Pres. H. B. Thayer, Europe has only one telephone to each 100 of the population, while the U. S. with one-sixteenth of the population of the world, has two-thirds of the world's telephones.

Referring to the companies financial condition, Pres. Thayer states that while gross earnings in 1921 did not increase as might have been expected had business been normal, net earnings more than held their own.

Earnings applicable for dividends amounted to 11.10 per cent against 11.72 per cent in 1920. That the net earnings in 1921 aggregated $73,523,813 and assets of $1,050,330,663 exceeded those of 1920 by $110,462,417.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. claims to have the largest number of shareholders of any American corporation, the total aggregating 186,342.

Dead Birds in Handbag Show Storm Terror

Marc Catlin Brings Lifeless Partridges Here; Hundreds Are Starved

Marc Catlin of Appleton arrived in Madison today with some pathetic evidence of the ferocity of the storm which has laid waste that section of the state.

In a handbag, Mr. Catlin was carrying four lifeless partridges picked up in the woods in the vicinity of Appleton.

"Thousands of these birds starved to death," said Mr. Catlin. "There does not seem to be a spot in Outagamie county that is not covered with several inches of ice and the birds starved to death when unable to get through the ice for food."

"We sent scores of men out of Appleton to distribute feed in the swamps for the birds and partridges. These men encountered scores of dead partridges and others so weak that they could hardly stand. The storm has worked havoc to wild game life in that section of the state."

Mr. Catlin says that game protective associations in that section of the state did a great work in attempting to save game life by distributing feed in the swamps.

Even Legislators Can't Dope Out Their Incomes

WASHINGTON—The man or woman who is having difficulty these days with his or her income tax blanks has nothing so far as lack of understanding is concerned on the men who drafted the law under which the tax is levied. Senators and representatives alike, it was learned, have been assigned experts by the treasury department to help them with their returns.

Madison May Have Woman As Alderman

Madison may have an alderwoman after the spring election, it was learned today. Mrs. E. A. Ledwith, 509 W. Dayton st., is being urged to become a candidate from the eighth ward.

When interviewed today, Mrs. Ledwith said she has not quite made up her mind whether or not to make the race. The next few days may witness the entrance of a number of women into the election field. A number of women's organizations are proposing to place candidates in the field to gain control of one or two council seats, as well as at least one seat on the board of education.

35 Rocky Mountain Students Form Club

About 35 students representing eight Rocky Mountain states met in Lathrop hall last Wednesday evening and formed the Rocky Mountain club.

The following officers were elected: President, Browning Warren '28, Boise, Ida.; vice-president, Mayo Story '24, Bozeman, Mont.; secretary, Eleanor Anderson '28, Boise, Ida.; treasurer, Marion Strain '25, Lamar, Colo.; sergeant-at-arms, George Gilland '24, Cheyenne, Wyo.; social chairman, Kathleen Harms '25, Salt Lake city; historian, Don Anderson, Montana.

Members were enrolled from Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Utah, Colorado, and British Columbia. A wider representation is anticipated for the next meeting of the club.

The purpose of the club, as outlined Wednesday evening, is to stir Wisconsin spirit among western students, to promote friendships among the members, and to further the interests of Rocky Mountain people at the university. Beginning Wednesday, March 8, meetings will be held every two weeks in the S. G. A. room of Lathrop hall, at 7:15 p. m. All western students are invited.

Mrs. Bleyer Not Candidate For Re-election

Turner is Mentioned As Successor; Mrs. Bleyer May Leave City

Mrs. Williard G. Bleyer, woman member of the board of education, will not be a candidate to succeed herself at the spring election, it was learned today. Prof. and Mrs. Bleyer are contemplating a trip to Europe this summer.

The name of Mrs. Glenn P. Turner is mentioned as a successor to Mrs. Bleyer on the board, but she may decline to make the race. Mrs. Turner is now a member of the state board of education.

Prof. Bleyer, chairman of the journalism course at the university, has asked for a year's leave of absence. If this is granted, Mr. and Mrs. Bleyer will probably be out of the city for a considerable portion of the year. Mrs. Bleyer declared that she will not run for the board again.

If the leave is granted Prof. Bleyer, he and his wife will probably spend some time in Europe. Prof. Bleyer is now engaged in writing a book. Mrs. Bleyer declared today that she is much interested in her work on the board and regrets that family circumstances oblige her to withdraw.

Funeral Rites For Mrs. W. F. Vilas Conducted Friday

State May Receive Trust Fund To Benefit University

Funeral services for Mrs. William F. Vilas, widow of the late Col. Vilas, who died at her residence Tuesday night, were held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, 12 E. Gilman st. There were no services at Grace Episcopal church of which Mrs. Vilas was a member, but Rev. H. H. Lumpkin, pastor, officiated at the Vilas home. Joseph M. Boyd is in charge of the music.

Pall bearers, all nephews of husbands of Mrs. Vilas' nieces, were Morris Fox of Milwaukee, Neill Fox, Prof. V. A. C. Henmon, George E. Gary, L. J. Pickarts and T. R. Hefty. Interment was at Forest Hill cemetery.

The estate of the husband of the deceased may be handed in part over to the State of Wisconsin for a trust fund for the benefit of the university to foster the advancement of knowledge. If the state accepts the property when it is offered, it will be put into a trust fund, one-half of the income of which will be put back with the principal until it is worth $20,000,000. After that, one-quarter of the income will be put with the principal until its value is $30,000,000.

The income will be used to provide undergraduate scholarships paying $400 a year, fellowships of $600 a year and professorships which will pay from $5,000 to $10,000 a year. If the regents and the trustees agree, parts of the income may be used for the erection of university buildings.

Claims Babcock Test Substitute Unreliable

Wisconsin dairymen are being canvassed with another substitute for the Babcock fat test, the second to appear on the market within a year. That the device is unreliable as an indicator of the fat content of milk is the opinion of E. H. Farrington of the dairy department of the University of Wisconsin. The new test is pictured as a gravimetric spindle with levels marked off on it designated as "watered," "skim-milk," "whole milk," "cream." "Any form of a gravimetric spindle that attempts to give the fat content of milk is unreliable," says Farrington. "It is possible to add a considerable amount of water to a sample of milk and the spindle will sink to the cream mark."

Quality

Quality has a fixed value in all markets, whether the commodity be carpets, furniture, locomotives, pianos, or clothes, and no man ever buys that quality below its intrinsic worth. He only thinks so!

What appears to be as good as Grinde's garments for less money, only proves the appearances are deceptive. You can always find substitutes for our garment, but you can't find one to take its place.

A WELCOME TO FINKLE

THE injury to George Finkle has been lamented by the students and by the athletic department as a serious loss to the track team. It is a loss which will be deeply felt in all the meets of the year.

There is inherent in most of us an intense desire to show our emotions, our sympathies and appreciation for others. Even this natural reticence is overcome, however, when, as in the present case, a Wisconsin athlete is injured at the time he is serving, as best he may and can, his Alma Mater.

The injured athlete has had suffering and a setback in his college work, but he has gained the sincere regards of all—regards that would probably have come in the natural course of events, but which were hastened and intensified by the recent stroke of an unkind fate.

When Finkle returns Sunday evening from South Bend it would be a splendid testimony to him if more than his immediate friends were there to meet him. It would be one way of rewarding meritorious college service.

THE LITTLE INTERNATIONAL

UNIQUE in its conception, varied in its program, and altruistic in its purpose, the third annual Little International Stock show will present this evening a program which is second only to the Chicago International held every fall.

Fancy and professional riding, wild west steer-roping and riding, tugs of war, and monkey riding by cadets and former cavalrymen are but a few of the novelties provided in the program.

The Little International solves the problem of being entertaining as well as educational. To lovers of live stock the parade of prize-winning animals would be of itself highly interesting. Every class of live stock at the agricultural barns includes winners of national and international repute, animals whose individual value runs into several round figures.

But the program is arranged for a wider appeal. It is difficult to conceive of anyone being bored watching events so radically different than the general university entertainments. Novelty has been aimed at and effectively secured.

The proceeds from the exhibition are to be used to send the Wisconsin stock judging teams to Chicago. These teams will represent the university in competition with other universities and colleges. Wisconsin's representation and success will largely depend upon the success of the Little International here this evening.

The nature of the program and the altruistic purpose to which its proceeds are to be given should assure a large attendance from the student body.

AIR

IN almost all of the university classrooms the air is most stifling. The moment some intelligent person opens a window, even during the 10 minutes between classes, some tenderfoot invariably closes it immediately. This shows (1) lack of hygienic thought or care; (2) lack of courtesy and consideration for others.

Some of these lecture rooms are occupied by classes several hours in succession. During all of these periods, most of the rooms are practically air-tight. Not only are all the windows closed, but the doors are shut also.

This limitation of oxygen is irritating to the nerves and deadening to the brain. To a person with any sensibilities it becomes quite unbearable.

Air we breathe into our lungs was intended to be untainted. This air, which we are forced to consume, is, to express it mildly, impure.

Who wants to breathe the same air over and over? Certainly no one, when we come to think about it. The bare idea is sickening.

No fine spirit, no strong intellect, can be housed in an unhygienic body. Neither can a mind function properly under wretched conditions.

Many persons drowsy through a class not always because the professor is boresome, but because, due to the poor ventilation, it is difficult to keep awake.

In some cases the instructors are as thoughtless about proper ventilation as are the students. In other cases the ventilating system itself is at fault. When this is the case, extra care must be observed.

At present there is a great deal of sickness among the students. If this is of an epidemic nature, then the prevalent careless methods will add rather than detract from the numbers daily sent to the infirmary or confined in their rooms. Epidemics of all kinds thrive best and happiest where poor ventilation is the rule.

It is time that we came down to earth and to realize that the body has a soul as well as the soul has a body.

ARE WE IN DANGER?

Pow! There goes another college man's head! That's what they'll say every day about the year 2022, when all the tetes, cabezas, and cocos are crammed full of the information which is flooding into the university student's heads every day. Did you ever sit in the library and watch the people there browsing so intently over their books? They are learning, learning, learning. They know all that everybody before their time knew, and have to stoke up all the new facts which are being unearthed and brought to light daily. Faster and faster, more intelligent and brighter, must be the men of today in meeting the swift competition of the world.

Even the humblest laborer can read and write and do sums—accomplishments of only the wisest, not so long ago.—Daily Iowan.

Girls' Glee Club
Scores Success In
First '22 Concert

The Girls' Glee club scored a great success in its first concert of the year, held last evening in Music hall. The program consisted of solo and chorus work, and much of the credit for the success of this concert is due to Miss Madelon C. Willman, the director.

Miss Aagot Borge, soprano, was the soloist of the evening. Miss Borge sang two solos. The first was "Snow," by Lie, and was a descriptive piece, in a minor key, but which moved along with ease and finish. "The Spirit Flower" was Miss Borge's second solo. Miss Borge has a voice which takes you up and holds you there. Her solos were light and easy.

Great credit is due to Miss Frances Landon, the accompanist. Miss Landon, as well as playing the most difficult pieces with ease, sang a solo, "The Big Brown Bear." Miss Landon has a charming personality, and puts this into her work.

A cantata, "The Lady of Shalott," was given by the chorus and three soloists, the Misses Winifred Collier, Louise Madden, and Temperence Johnson. Other solo parts were taken by Martha Chandler, Merle Gibbs, and Frances Landon. A number of light pieces, as well as heavier ones, were given in chorus and solo work.

The soloists, as well as the chorus, are to be given great credit for the fine program. The pitch was always exact, the quality and voices perfect. All the work, with the exception of the cantata, was given without music.

Third Music Memory Contest

(A movement to acquaint Madison with the best music, through a contest in naming selections from hearing them. Open to everyone without fee or restrictions.)

Selection No. 25.

For week beginning March 5th.
Overture to Der Freischuetz (The Devil's Marksman), by Karl Maria von Weber (born at Oldenburg (Ger.), 1786; died in London, 1826.)

A Teacher of Composers

Interesting tho it is in itself, this overture is of great significance because of the influence it had upon the music which was written after it appeared. Some men are themselves creators of beautiful works and also profoundly influence other producers. Weber was a great composer, but he was an even greater example and stimulus to composers who followed him. In this respect his influence was probably more important than Beethoven's. Weber inspired much of the developments of Mendelssohn, Schumann, Wagner and many other composers.

One of the great geniuses of the Germanic race, he is all too little known. The verdict that he shares with Beethoven the honor of unlocking the musical productiveness of Germany states his position with remarkable accuracy. Himself a piano virtuoso of great skill, he gave form to the piano concerto, to much of the modern technique of piano playing. He plays a much more important part in the development of program music than is generally understood. He wrote over a hundred songs, and practically established the chorus for men's voices. He producer concertos for such unusual instruments as the clarinet, horn, and bassoon, and is responsible for extensive experiments and formulations in orchestration. It was Weber who started the cultivation of national music, in which he has been followed by a composer like Brahms. Lastly Weber was the first among great composers to be a man of the world; and this resulted in a significant change in the social position of artists.

A Dramatist

Weber should be viewed as a dramatic composer. Dramatic genius is the essence of his nature, and gives all his works an individual stamp. The production of Der Freischuetz in Berlin (1821) marks the turning point of the contest between Italian and German methods in opera. The overtures to the three operas, Freischuetz, Euryanthe, and Oberon are brilliant examples of program music. It is a mistake to consider them loosely knit selections from the operas just because use is made of motives in the operas; these overtures are much more than this they summarize the emotional contents of the operas.

Der Freischuetz

With the Devil's Marksman Weber laid the foundation of German romantic opera, by which we mean an opera in which all elements of the marvelous or supernatural are treated seriously, and not as a matter of amusement. In typical romantic opera there are four main elements: imaginative, national, comic, and realistic. All these are successfully combined for the first time by Weber, who is thus the great precursor of Richard Wagner. It was Weber, also, who first invented and used the device of the Leitmotiv later so effectively used by Wagner. From a character's first entrance on the stage, Weber appropriated a certain mode of musical expression to that figure, which he maintained as a kind of keynote through all the varying emotions of the opera.

With the plot of the Devil's Marksman we are not here concerned. It is sufficient to explain that the leading character in the drama is so termed because, by virtue of a pact with Satan, he has charmed bullets which cannot fail to hit any mark at which they are aimed. (The literal translation of the title is Free Shot, or Free Shooter—that is one who has bullets which are free from the possibility of missing their mark.)

The Music Analyzed

The overture opens with an adagio. After an introduction the horns present a lovely melody to the tranquil accompaniment of the strings. (This has been made into a hymn with the words "My Jesus,

"As Thou Wilt.") Toward the close of this part a sinister tremolo is heard in the strings, associated in the opera with the demon, Samiel. The main movement of the overture then follows upon a sonorous and eloquent sounding of the C major chord. The first theme is an agitated one. The second subject is partly based on the hero's recitative in the second act and then a melody from the famous "Leise, Leise (Softly, Softly)" aria, so much beloved of dramatic sopranos. The usual development proceeds and the coda, which is practically the same as the finale of the opera, except for the vocal parts, provides a brilliant climax.

The Overture Interpreted

The essence of the Freischuetz overture is this:—The peace and innocence of forest life invaded by the powers of darkness; struggle between good and evil with the victory of the former. The main part of the Introduction Adagio depicts the sylvan purity and peace; later on the Satanic influence is felt by the fear-inspiring motive of Samiel, the evil spirit. The first subject of the Allegro is made up from a motive of Max's Aria (What evil power) and one from the Wolf's Glen Scene, when the thunder storm breaks out; in the second subject a motive from another of Max's arias (No ray will shine) is combined with the jubilant one from Agatha's aria. This last is the redeeming motive which, after the struggle between good and evil that goes on thru the rest of the overture, finally triumphs.

(Note:—Explanatory notes on the twenty-four preceding selections will be found in Wednesday papers of the past twenty-four weeks. Material on the twenty-sixth selection, Onaway Awake Beloved, from Hiawatha's Wedding Feast, will be printed in next Wednesday's paper. Copies of all issues may be found at the newspaper office.)

Better Days Ahead For the Sheepman

"The prices of wool and mutton are gradually rising and better times are ahead for the Wisconsin sheepmen," says Frank Kleinheinz, veteran shepherd at the College of Agriculture.

He says that the depression is over for the sheepmen, because the surplus supply bought by the government has been completely exhausted, a fact which will naturally tend to raise the price. Again he states that the flocks which are being raised in the West are smaller, due to the hard times of the past year. Thus, both wool and mutton are gradually rising.

Recent reports from the wool pool in Chicago quote wool at from 25 to 30 cents a pound, and it was at one time as low as 15 cents a pound. It is true that one extreme follows another, we have had our low period and a higher one must follow. It may not go extremely high, but it is certainly going up.

Men's Forum Meets Sunday at 9 A. M.

Classic Stock Event Of Year Held Tonight

Keen competition is anticipated in the inter-sorority riding contest for the silver cup that will be awarded to the winning sorority. Seven sororities are entered in the contest. Work-outs have been held daily in the Stock pavilion.

Rides Unbroken Horse

Much speculation is current among agrics as to who is the best milker, in the dairy maid contest. Co-eds will actually compete to see who can milk a cow in the shortest time.

An unbroken horse will be led into the ring and ridden in the broncho busting exhibition. Harold Wicker '24, will do the riding. He will be assisted by his brother, Kenneth Wicker '23, in order to keep the horse from getting on the pavement. Harold Wicker has been riding one of the outlaws of the Cavalry, during the week, but is saving the unbroken horse for the evening performance. The horse is said to be wild and unmanageable.

1. Extra Tons of Garbage is City Problem

New Contract to Require Collection at Hotels; Adds Big Load

The city street department is reorganizing itself to handle some 15 extra tons of garbage a day. Since the city abandoned the incinerator and turned the matter of garbage disposal over to Dr. J. P. West, its contract includes the duty of hauling the garbage to the West farm, just north of the sewage disposal plant.

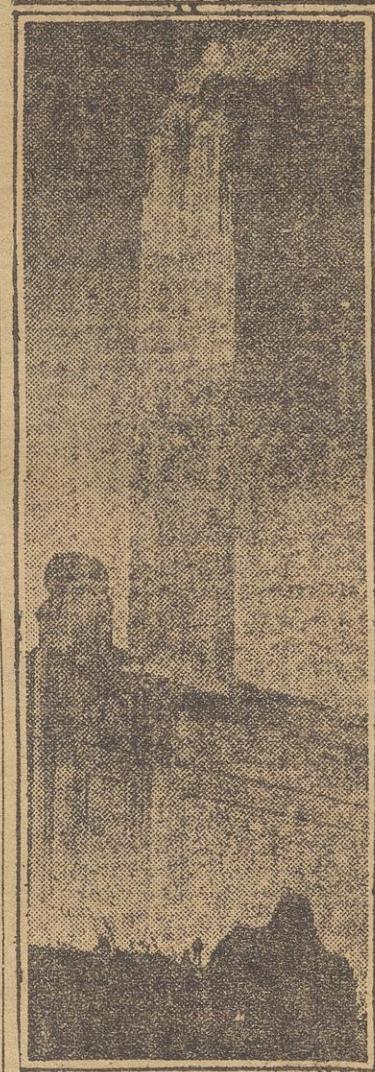

The question of the disposal of the garbage from hotels, restaurants and cafeterias is one of the biggest matters facing the street department. In the past all of this class of garbage has been taken care of by private parties, who called for it at the hotels and other eating places.

In the future the city contemplates collecting this garbage as a part of its contract with Dr. West. At a meeting yesterday of about 20 hotel proprietors and owners and cafeterias and restaurants with Peter H. Walsh, street superintendent, the matter was discussed. It was pointed out that about 15 tons of garbage would be collected by the city from these places. This load will be in addition to the regular city garbage collection.

NEENAH—Residents along the lake shore in this city and at Menasha are complaining that they are slowly losing their property due to the lake which claims a little of their shoreline each spring. The ice piles high on the shore during the winter and the spring melting washes a bit of their land each year into the waters of Lake Winnebago.

DENVER—Plans for the organization of a national federation of wheat marketing associations on the contract pooling basis were adopted by a conference of state associations.

Nelson Urges Broad Policy in Reclamation

Sends Message to Tri-State Conference; Dean Russell Also Speaks

MILWAUKEE—Adoption of a broad and comprehensive national reclamation policy for the full development of available cut-over, swamp and arid land areas in the entire U. S. was urged at the Tri-State development conference today in an address by Cong. A. P. Nelson, Wisconsin. Mr. Nelson was not present and his address was read by C. P. Norgord of the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture.

There should be no cessation of efforts to bring about the reclamation and settlement of the cut-over lands in the Great Lakes basin said Dean H. L. Russell, of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture, addressing the conference on "Land settlement in relation to production" Dean Russell quoted figures showing that the newly settled portions of Wisconsin are not self-supporting agriculturally and that further development is necessary.

pair easily, plunged the length of the tank within the required time.

Have Championship Hopes

Since the Gophers have already registered victories over Northwestern and Iowa, and as Wisconsin has triumphed over Illinois and Chicago, Steinauer's men appear to be well lined up for the conference championship. The Badgers should be in great trim by the time of the Conference meet, which will be held at Evanston on March 16. They have been able to overcome all opposition thus far without availingly themselves of every possible scoring opportunity, giving them a slight edge over most of the teams in the conference.

The summaries are as follows:

160 yard relay—Won by Wisconsin. Time 1 minute, 21 seconds.

Fancy diving—Collins, W., first; Koch, W., second; Brunner, M. third.

40 yard dash—Bennett, W., first; Lambole, W., second; Gow, M., third. Time 20 1-5 seconds.

200 yard breast stroke—Faricy, M., first; Czerwonky, W., second; Dimmore, M., third. Time 2 minutes 40 2-5 seconds.

Plunge for distance—Atwood, M., first; Jordan, M., second; Huebner, W., third. Distance, 60 feet in 31 2-5 seconds.

150 yard back stroke—Day, M., first; Copeland, W., second; Czerwonky, W., third. Time 2 minutes 2 3-5 seconds.

Gymnasts Stack Up Against Maroons In Gym Tonight

The Badger gym team, crippled by the loss of five men through ineligibility, will meet the University of Chicago gymnasts at 7:30 tonight in conjunction with the wrestling meet.

The Chicago team is reputed to be very good, as they have most of the men back this year who took the first place for them in the conference gymnastic meet last season. This meet will give the Maroons a good chance to become familiar with the apparatus in the gymnasium here, and in this respect they will have somewhat of an advantage over the other Big Ten teams in the 1922 conference meet which will be held in Madison.

The entries for the various events are as follows:

Horizontal bar—Wisconsin, Bumer, Leitz, Pfleger, and Rand. Chicago, Morris, Kessler, Schenidenbach, and Collins.

Side horse—Wisconsin, Kletzien, Hanson, Stevens, and Bumer. Chicago, Schneidenbach, Elliott, and Hargraves.

Flying rings—Wisconsin, Porth, Leitz, and Bumer. Chicago, Kessler, Collins, and Schneidenbach.

Parallel bars—Wisconsin, Porth, Bumer, Leitz, and Koch. Chicago, Kessler, Collins, Ricketts, and Schneidenbach.

Tumbling—Wisconsin, Kitchen, Stevens, Bumer, and Koch. Chicago, Hargraves, Ricketts, Elliott, and Kessler.

Indian clubs—Wisconsin, Porth.

CRIPPLED TRACK SQUAD OFF FOR ILLINOIS RELAYS

Sickness Keeps Wall and Hohlfeld Out of Meet

Weakened by the loss of several athletes who became ill this week, the Wisconsin track team left yesterday afternoon for Urbana, Ill., where it will compete in the annual University of Illinois relay carnival.

Wall and Hohlfeld are two runners who will be scratched from the entry list, and it is doubtful if George Stolley, hurdler, can start in the high and low hurdles. Other members of the squad are not in the best of condition.

Coach Thomas E. Jones was undecided yesterday as to whether Wisconsin would enter each of the four relays or only the one and four mile events. Ramsey, Rossmeissel, Schneider, and Wille are scheduled to run in the four-mile race, and Wade, Spetz, Johnson, Stolley will probably each travel a quarter-mile in the mile run.

Capt. "Al" Knoll is entered in the all-around championship as well as the high and low hurdles. Johnson is counted on to place in the 300-yard run. "Pete" Platten will furnish some stiff competition to Osborne, Illinois high jumper, in his event. Dale Merrick and Hammann will enter the pole vault, and Guy Sundt, Badger field man, is slated to place in the broad jump and the shot put.

Thirteen members of the team made the trip to Urbana. They will be accompanied by George Finkle, injured distance man, on the return journey.

Minnesotans Are Confident as Eve Of Tilt Approaches

(Special to Daily Cardinal)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 3.—With their last game of the 1922 season scheduled for Saturday night, the Gophers with five wins to six defeats will do their best to make their last appearance this year a successful one against the invading Badger quint. The Maroon and Gold has dropped six consecutive games, and the dope would give the Madison men an easy win. But the Gophers already have beaten the Cardinal men on the home floor and with a week's training and rest after an unusually hard road trip, can be expected to take the measure of the proteges of Coach Meanwell.

A win will give the Cookemen an even 500 percent rating and perhaps fourth place while a loss would consign them to about fifth or sixth place. It will be a battle—not for the Big Ten title—but to uphold a reputation established early in the season as far as the Minnesotans are concerned.

The Gophers are in poor shape after a hard four game trip occupying a full week. Four Conference games in seven days is a tough assignment and the Maroon and Gold men are worse for the wear.

Captain Kearney is sure to lead his men for the last time at his usual post of running guard, while Rudy Hultkrans will play the other guard. Hanson probably will appear at the pivot while Severinson and Swanson seem to have the call for forwards.

The game will be featured at Minnesota by a sort of second homecoming, all Greek houses opening their doors after the battle is over.

Chicago, Kessler.

Foils—Wisconsin, Reinhold, Chicago, Wood, and LaMont.

Broad swords—Wisconsin, Boerke, Chicago, LaMont.

In addition to the loss of five men through ineligibility, the Wisconsin team is further hampered by the inability of Hanson to compete, due to a sprained wrist. The men who are left on the team are all capable, and will put up a tough scrap, but it will be against big odds, and with small hope of winning.

Frosh Cinder Men Meet Iowa Squad Via Radio Route

The first meet of its kind ever held, will be staged this afternoon in the annex when the Badger freshmen contend in track and field events with the Iowa yearlings via the wireless route.

A test of the apparatus between the two schools was made yesterday afternoon with highly satisfactory results, and arrangements have been made with M. P. Hanson, the operator of the University station in Sterling hall, whereby the results of each event as it is run off will be telephoned from the gymnasium, and returns from the Hawkeye station will be announced at intervals during the progress of the meet.

Iowa Strength Unknown

Although little is known of the strength of the Iowa team, Coach Bresnahan is sure to have developed a strong squad to oppose the Badger yearlings. Coach Burke's freshmen are in excellent shape for the meet, and after their near victory in the meet with Illinois, they are out to win from the Iowans. With the advantages of the track equalized, Burke feels that his squad will be able to clean up.

Among the contestants in today's meet are many freshmen whose performance compares favorably with marks of former varsity stars. Valley in the half mile and the mile is sure to be a star of the meet. Supporting him in these two events will be Bert Hilberts, Bergstresser, Phil Niederman, and Robinson, all good middle distance men. The squad will be able to clean up.

Should Do 11 Feet 6

Don Jones, Widder, and Fellows are all exceptional performers in the pole vault for first year men. Jones should do 11 feet 6 inches in his event, and the others run close to his mark.

In the shot put Van Ells will star. This promises to be a close event, for the Iowans have with them this year a freshman who did stellar work in the weight events as member of the Superior high school team which took part in the outdoor relay carnival at Camp Randall last spring. Hancock, in this meet, tossed the discus a distance of 130 feet for a win in the event, his mark rivaling college distances for the throw. In the shot put this season he will be a formidable opponent to the Badger star.

Tuhtar, in the hurdles and high jump, will be a strong aid to the freshmen's hopes. In the meet with the Illinois frosh the big freshman cleared the bar at 5 feet 3 inches and negotiated the high hurdles in the rapid time of 5 2-3 seconds. He will be aided in the high jump by Sackert, but Dunshee, a new man of considerable ability, is out with a bad foot. In the hurdles Porter and Stehling make up the rest of the freshman aggregation.

Crane Laid Up

In the dashes, Elumenstein, Menke, Hart, and Stebbins step a fast 440, while Harms and Lonergan show up well in the 40. Crane, a speedy frosh, is laid up with a broken ankle.

In the two mile run Trier, Suzuki, and Sam Thompson can be depended on for a good showing. Unless some exceptionally good men turn up in the Iowa squad, the meet should go easily to the Badger freshman.

The contest will start at 2 p. m. in the annex and will be finished by 4 o'clock. Before the beginning of the meet, the squad will meet in the gymnasium office to elect a captain of the freshman team. This meeting is scheduled to start at promptly 1:30.

Were old time athletes better than those of the present day? Was "Pete" Russell a better Maroon quarterback than "Mit" Romney? Was Eber Simpson more versatile than Rollie Williams? Could Eckersall have shown up Aubrey Devine or "Bo" McMillan? These are questions that will ever be answered.

BADGERS MEET DOCTOR COOK'S QUINT TONIGHT

Dope Favors Wisconsin In Second Clash

PROBABLE LINEUP

Wisconsin	Minnesota
Geaser	F. Severinson
Taylor	F. Doyle
Gibson	C. Hansen
Williams	G. Hullcrantz
Tebell	G. Kearney

Coach Walter E. Meanwell and nine of his basketeers left for Minneapolis last evening, where they meet the Gophers tonight in the second engagement between the two teams this season.

The Badgers have a hard job on their hands if they are to avenge the two point defeat which Doctor Cook's men administered to them six weeks ago, and thereby remain in the running for second place in the conference.

Badgers In Good Shape

The Wisconsin team is in good shape for the game, but they have not settled down to a typical Meanwell style of second semester game this year, and there is no telling what kind of a battle they will put up.

GAMES TONIGHT

Wisconsin at Minnesota.
Iowa at Michigan.
Northwestern at Ohio State.

up against the Gophers. On a few occasions the team has worked nicely together and has played in regular championship style, but again the men have not been able to locate their shooting eyes nor their smooth passwork.

It is a certainty that both the defense and the offense will be forced to the limit in tonight's encounter. It will be necessary to extend the former out from the basket, as Captain Kearney and Hullcrantz have dangerous eyes for both long and short shots. The latter made a few long shots in the second half of the game here which gave the Northerners a lead that the locals were never able to overcome.

Dope Favors Wisconsin

Coach Meanwell will probably use Gage and Irish for a considerable portion of the time. Their playing in the past few games has placed them about on a par with the regulars, and the fact that either man can be used in practically any position makes them especially valuable.

Comparative scores in recent games would make the Badgers slight favorites in tonight's game, but the dope has been upset so many times this season that the outcome cannot be safely predicted. Wisconsin has a team which has been taught basketball from every possible angle, and Minnesota has five fighting basketball players who are not beaten until the final gun sounds.

Grapplers Are Set For Chicago Meet

Coach George Hitchcock has his wrestling team all primed for the dual meet with the Chicago squad, which will be held at the university gymnasium this evening.

The Badger team has rounded nicely into shape and should stand an even chance in most of the events. If Chicago sends only four men to compete with the six Wisconsin wrestlers, Coach Hitchcock's team will undoubtedly come through with their third consecutive win.

The following men compose the Badger team for tonight: Phelps, 115; Cattau, 135; Peterman, 145; Templin, 158; Heuer, 175; and Kiessling, heavy. The latter is a new man on the wrestling team, but is an all-round athlete who possesses plenty of size and speed which should enable him to win a decision over his man.

The Theaters

Frances Kennedy Shares Headline Honors at the Orpheum

"Sawing a Woman in Half" is still the vaudeville mystery at the Orpheum. Many and assorted are the methods that you will hear from a casual hearing among the spectators. It is a smoothly managed bit of trickery that causes interest among all. Frances Kennedy is in her gayest humors when she chats with her auditors in informal snatches when not singing a song or two. She ends up with the whistling finale where actresses and audiences join the chorus. Richard Kean revives the characters from the masterpieces of Dickens in a distinguished manner that places him among the best of the program. Barber and Jackson might be termed the long and short of it in a comedy act that derives its funniest features from the elongated appearance and dancing of the man. Bernard and Garry are active young men in a syncopation number that they have learned well. The end TAOIN TAOIN NO the brighter stars. Clifford and Bothwell combine music and art with the music by Miss Bothwell, while Leland Clifford paints the landscapes.

AT THE MAJESTIC. Members of local Scottish societies turned out in force at the Majestic theater last night on the occasion of the first presentation here of the Paramount picture, "The Bonnie Brier Bush," produced in England and Scotland by Donald Crisp. The picture scored decided hit because of its appealing qualities, the beauty of its story and the charm of the scenery. Climbing the highest mountain peak in the United States to gain merely a flash in a dramatic motion picture is the latest adventurous exploit of the photoplay makers in "Fool's Paradise," Cecil B. De Mille's latest Paramount production, which will be the feature at the Majestic theater Sunday.

AT THE PARKWAY. "Thunderclap" a thrilling story of the races, is the attraction at the Parkway. It contains a punch in every reel and is a true-to-life replica of the race track atmosphere.

AT THE STRAND. Lois Weber's latest production "What Do Men Want?" starring Claire Windsor, is now being shown at the Strand theater. The story tells of the gauntlet a married man runs before he finds real happiness in his home. There will also be shown a "Snub" Pollard comedy and "The Little Match Girl," a Prizma colored picture.
