HOLD AG-HOME EC STAMPEDE TODAY

Two Colleges Unite for Farewell Party in Russell's Grove

The Ag Home Ec Stampede, an A. C. F. Board picnic, will take place today, at 4:30 o'clock in Dean Russell's grove on the agricultural campus.

"Last fall the annual A. C. F. Board Round-up was held, and the board felt that a spring stampede or farewell party would be appropriate for both colleges," explained H. C. Schaefer '25, general chairman of the picnic. "An outdoor party of this sort will far more result in better acquaintanceships between the two colleges than any other medium. An immense bonfire, games, college songs, and substantial food will be the order of the day."

The committee appointed by Schaefer is composed of Aileen M. Thiesen '25 and Helen C. Callsen '25, refreshments; H. A. Murray '25, bonfire; H. L. Kropp '25, publicity; J. R. Anderson '25, baseball and games, and G. A. Piper '25, in charge of tickets.

"The primary purpose of the picnic," declared W. J. Zaumeyer '25, president of the Agricultural College Federation Board, "is to make it possible for the graduating class to bid goodbye to old friends and to break the ties of fellowship formed in the last four years."

Mrs. Flett Speaks at Annual Banquet of Yellow Tassel

"It is the senior women who maintain the standings and establish leadership in the university," said Mrs. C. B. Flett, speaking at the Yellow Tassel banquet last evening. Miriam Ingalls '26, president of Red Tassel, presided.

Nominations were made for the officers of Blue Dragon next year. They were: President, Lillian Twenhofel and Lois Bacon; vice president, Eleanor Ehler and Emmaline Lewis; secretary, Dorothy Morris and Louise McNaught; treasurer, Beatrice Richardson, Rena Grubb, and Margaret Wegner.

Bill Barring Prom in Capitol Meets Death in Assembly

The Severson bill which would have prevented the holding of the university prom in the state capitol was defeated this morning when the assembly by a vote of 48 to 10 refused to order it to a third reading. The bill provided that the capitol could not be used for any entertainment to which admission is charged, or from which the public is excluded.

Assemblyman Clinton Price, of Mauston, started the attack on the bill when he proposed an amendment which would have defeated the purpose of the bill. The amendment made the bill excluding entertainments from the capitol applicable only when other than Wisconsin orchestras or musicians are employed. The Price amendment was defeated by a vote of 31 to 22 on motion of Assemblyman Trembath, Hurley.

Characterizing efforts to exclude the prom from the capitol as "old fogey ideas," Assemblyman Prescott praised the annual university function. Assemblyman Glass opposed passage of the bill, as did Mr. Caldwell, who made the motion for nonrecurrence. There was no defense of the bill in the discussion.

Award Prizes in Vilas Contest to Roper and Busyn

"Random Thoughts on the Student and the Outer World" was the subject of the prize-winning essay in the Vilas Memorial contest. The writer is Howard W. Roper '25.

Helen F. Busyn '26 was awarded the second prize, the title of her essay being "Thinking Caps and Students." The first prize is $50 and the second $25.

There were 14 essays submitted this year, twice as many as were submitted in any of the previous years that the contest has been held, according to Prof. R. E. N. Dodge, who is chairman of the contest committee. Other members of the committee are Prof. William Ellery Leonard and Prof. H. T. E. Perry, both of the English department.

SENIORS TO SING OWN CLASS SONG

Contest for Words Closes Friday; Is Open to All Students

As a response to President Birge's last address to a Wisconsin graduating class, the entire group of seniors will answer by singing the new graduating song which will be used at all future commencements. The contest for words to the song is open to all students in the university and closes at 5 o'clock Friday evening, according to Irene Norman '25, associate chairman of the commencement committee.

Music for the song is an arrangement of Beethoven's "Hymn to Joy" and may be secured from the Music School, the university library, or may be found in the Congregational hymnal. The composition was selected by Prof. E. B. Gordon because of its fine rhythm, dignity of tone and adaptability to group singing.

"To the student who writes the winning set of words for the song goes the honor of being the author of a new and truly Wisconsin tradition," Miss Norman said yesterday.

Entries in the contest must be sent to Irene Norman, 15 East Gilman street, before 5 o'clock Friday. Announcement of the winner will be made Sunday.

Make Reservations Tonight for Outing Club House Party

The group intends to leave Madison Friday afternoon, spending Friday at Devil's lake, Sunday at the Wisconsin Dells, and returning to Madison Sunday night.

EXPECT REGENTS TO SELECT NEW PRESIDENT TODAY

Callahan Says Special Meeting
May Choose Successor to Birge

A new president of the university may be selected today.

The possibility of a successor to President Birge being named so soon became known yesterday following a meeting in the afternoon of the committee of the regents which is attempting to pick a new executive. A special meeting of all the regents will be held this morning at which time possibilities for the position may be considered, according to John Callahan, resident regent and state superintendent of public instruction.

Discuss 4 Men

The meeting today has been called ostensibly to take up the matter of the university appropriation measure now before the state legislature, but in view of the presidential committee's meeting yesterday when four men were under discussion, definite action today on the part of the regents as a whole is not unlikely in Mr. Callahan's view.

The men who were under consideration by the special committee yesterday are Dr. Walter A. Jessup, president of the University of Iowa; Dr. W. A. Nielson, president of Smith college; Dr. D. W. Caldwell, president of the teacher's college, Columbia university, and Glenn Frank, editor of the Century magazine. Dean Robert Morse Lovett of the University of Chicago has announced that he would not consider the position.

Frank, Nielson?

The committee came to no definite decision upon any one of the four considered. Mr. Callahan stated that no conclusion was reached, although according to rumors which circulated about the ultimate choice lies between Mr. Frank and Dr. Nielson.

Several of the regents believe a new president should be selected

FRENCH FACULTY TO PRESENT PLAY

Stage "La Farce de Maitre
Pathecin" at Lathrop
Tonight

The faculty will present "La Farce de Maitre Pathecin" at 7:45 o'clock tonight in Lathrop parlors. Although the play was written in the fifteenth century, it is one of the most popular farces on the French stage today. The plot deals with a clever lawyer who succeeds in freeing a shepherd from prosecution for the theft of some sheep by telling him to answer all questions that the judge may ask him by the word "Be." When the case is dismissed and Maitre Pathecin tries to collect his fee from the shepherd he receives only "Be" for an answer.

Prof. Charles Gillen, the lawyer, Mrs. J. E. Greenleaf, his wife, J. E. Harris, the draper, George Darby, the shepherd, and M. Leven, the judge take the leading roles.

Music has been arranged for the play and will be sung by William Ross, grad, accompanied on the viola by Carl Woldenweider. Settings are being handled by Robert Dunstan and costumes have been secured from Chicago. Tickets will be on sale at the door for 35 cents.

WISCONSIN RATES HIGH IN COMING FOUR SIDED MEET

Guthrie and Snyder of Ohio
State Will Press Badgers
Saturday

Looming in the horizon for the Wisconsin track team is the annual Quadrangular track meet which is to be held at Stagg Field, Chicago, on Saturday afternoon. The three other schools which will be represented in the meet are Chicago, Northwestern, and Ohio State.

The battle for first place will be between Ohio State and Wisconsin, with the Maroons a close second, and the Purple lagging at the end.

Badger Team Strong
Wisconsin's representation will include McAndrews in the 100 and 200 yard dashes, McGinnis in the high jump and hurdles, and McGovern in the low hurdles. Schwarze will hurl the discus and put the shot for the Badgers, and Tresler will throw the hammer.

The formidable Badger distancers, Kubly, Bergstresser, Captain Valley, and Schutt should figure well in the long events. Kennedy, Hill, Flueck, and Hilberts will run for Wisconsin in the 440. Krieger is the main hope for the Badgers in the pole vault.

Stars Represent Ohio
Ohio State, which is expected to press Wisconsin for first place, has Snyder and Guthrie, the best known hurdlers in the United States, in the hurdles, dashes, and high and broad jump. Guthrie starred at the Drake Relays recently, while Snyder won the laurels at the Penn Relays on the same day.

The Maroons place their main hopes in Cusack, who is an excellent man in the 440, 880, and 220, and Ranenscroft, whose best work is in the 880 and mile run. Northwestern will make its best showing in the person of Martin in the 440 and 880, and Buescher, who pole vaults 13 feet.

Coach Masely Makes Drawings for Annual Frosh Net Tourney

The drawings for the annual spring freshman tennis tournament were made yesterday by Coach Masely, and the results are posted in the gymnasium. All freshmen entered in the tournament should play off their matches as soon as possible. Twenty-five freshmen entered the tournament, and as a result only one bye was drawn. Many of the matches are expected to be fast and interesting.

The upper half of the bracket includes the following men paired against one another: Bratz-Boutt, Powers-Goldstein, Belanger-Boldenwick, Sandern-Hilton, Stewart-R. Stewart, Gotlieb-Pease, Wernicker-Gibson, Weiland-Bye. The lower half includes McMillan-Kratz, Bulley-Smith, Holz-Kaner, Culver-Rothert, Freeborn-Oakey.

GREENS UNDERGO HEAVY SESSION

Carney Gives Men Pointers in Blocking and Recovering Passes

The Green team underwent a rather more strenuous practice session yesterday afternoon than its opposing Black Knights. While the practice of the Blacks consisted mainly in signal work, the Greens ran ends and halfbacks hard catching Crofoot's passes, and spent a good deal of time under Gerber studying blocking.

Charles Carney, famous Illinois football man and guest of Coach Little, was present in a Cardinal outfit giving both Blacks and Greens and others some dope on blocking. Captain Polaski was out for this practice.

Coach Little devoted some time exclusively to Larry Rueland and Toad Crofoot, working them both at the sending and receiving ends of a flock of passes.

After separate practice of the two teams Coach Little called all of the squad together for some interesting work. Various backs and ends were spread helter-skelter over the field while Coach Little himself pegged passes to Carney, Connell, Polaski, Crofoot, and Rueland. It was pretty to see Carney picking the oval from the midst of a flock of straining men whom Little was shouting at to intercept the passes.

The big game will come off tomorrow afternoon, and Coach Little wants all the men, whether on the Green or Black team or not, to be sure and report for the last two days of spring practice. All of the men who do not play in the game tomorrow will report Friday for a final session.

McCreery played for the British army in the first and second matches and Maj. Lockett in the last matches.

places Freeborn and Boldenwick in the final round. These two players are two of the best tennis men in school and Coach Masely is counting on this pair for next year's varsity team. Kaner and McMillan are also playing good tennis and are likely to upset some of the matches.

500 Men Expected

Approximately 500 men representing th eigh schools of the state are expected to be present for the track meet. In addition, there will be athletes entered in the seventh tennis tournament and the first annual high school swimming meet.

groups start planning now to entertain the prep athletes during the Venetian night week-end.

High Spot in Prep Career

"High school men present at the track meet and our famous Venetian night regard it as one of the biggest events connected with their high school days," declared Klath yesterday. "It is the duty of each organized group to entertain these men, to show them a spirit of hospitality that will make friends for Wisconsin."

Letters will be sent out to the various fraternities in the near future by members of the housing committee, who, realizing the problem before them, are making plans early.

Badger Gunmen Win Easy Pistol Match Against West Point

Experienced army pistol marksmen from West Point bowed in defeat recently to Coach Thomas's Badger team when the latter amassed 2,042 against the army's 2,122. This is the last of the meets this year for the university men, although the results of the national meet have not yet been received.

Irving J. Newman, freshman, has the highest number of match points for the season, and he is the most spectacular first year pistol shot that Coach Thomas has ever seen.

Purdue and West Point are the teams who have lost to Wisconsin this season. Princeton was the only team to defeat the Wisconsin men. Alabama Polytechnic institute failed to accept the challenge sent by the team earlier in the season.

The men shooting in the West Point meet and their scores are Ladd, 635; Newman, 613; Benedict, 576; Bueche, 571; Owens, 547.

MASELY SEEKING NEW COMBINATION

Hawkeye Defeat Shows Weak
Link in Badger Racket
Team

After the defeat at the hands of the Iowa tennis men Coach Masely is endeavoring to find a new combination in both the singles and doubles which will be able to make a good showing against the Chicago tennis men this week end. Chicago will meet the Wisconsin racquet wielders on the local courts this week, and several fast matches are expected, as the Chicago men easily defeated Northwestern, showing decided strength in doing so.

Miller was once more on the courts, playing real tennis with Durand, and Coach Masely feels that he has at last found a real doubles pair in these two. Both are tall, fast players, and a combination of the two ought to form an unbeatable doubles team. Manierre has been off form for the past few days and it seems as if he will not start in any of the single matches this week, although he will see some action in one of the doubles matches.

Poster and Gissel are playing good tennis and are expected to play number three and four respectively on the team. Miller is showing good form after his absence of two weeks and is likely to have berth number two with Captain Durand at the head of the list.

After the matches with Chicago here the team will prepare for the conference matches at Chicago the next week.

FROSH NINE MENTOR, UTERITZ, REPLACED BY TUFFY SUNDT

Majority of Freshman Ball Stars Experienced Men Through Past Years

Guy Sundt has taken over the position of coaching the freshman baseball team for the remainder of the season, because of the departure of Irwin Uteritz last week for the east coast, where he will play shortstop in the Waterbury, Connecticut team of the Eastern league.

The freshman baseballers furnish opposition to the varsity diamond team in the daily practice at Camp Randall, and their work is highly commendable. In two of the five inning scrimmages which the frosh had with the varsity, they held the varsity team to a 1 to 0 score at one time and 2 to 0 at another.

Frosh Are Experienced

An inquiry into the past baseball experience of the yearling diamond personnel revealed that all had played either on a high school, prep or academy, or amateur team before coming to Wisconsin. Some of the men have followed the sport with notable success for as many as six years, while others have developed their baseball ability within one year.

Each of the five pitchers have had a chance to perform on the mound before this season. Hawker of Elgin, Illinois, played two seasons on the Missouri Military academy team. Haggerty, of Chicago, experienced one year of work with the St. Viator nine.

Carlson Well Versed

Blankenship worked with the Gibraltar high school team of Baileys Harbor for one season. Severson, of Mondovi, played high school ball for two years. Broecker was a pitcher on the Wausau high school team for two seasons.

Among the catchers are Carlson, of Hudson, who was on the high school team for two years and played army, normal school, and River Falls ball for some three years, and Balkansky, who caught four years on the Manitowoc high school nine and experienced one year of amateur ball last summer.

Four Years for Murphy

Murphy, first baseman, is another Manitowoc high school player who was on the Russel high school team of Russia, Minnesota, team for four years, and worked amateur ball one year. Seneca, who plays third base, was a member of the West Dallas aggregation.

Ellerman, who plays second, played two years in high school and over a half dozen years with interchurch and industrial leagues. Pezanoski, of Racine, was a member of the Racine high school nine for a few years.

Decker Played 5 Seasons

Decker, shortstop, comes from Phillips, and besides putting in two years with Phillips high school, has seen three years of amateur ball. Boldenwick is from Chicago, and played one with the Loyola academy prep team.

Center fielder Massey has had two years of work with Lake Geneva teams, besides other amateur playing. The experience of Burbridge, right fielder, includes three years of playing with Tilden Tech high school of Chicago and two years with amateur leagues.

Hohnbeck, of Milwaukee Washington high school, has played for three years with Milwaukee teams. Heidt saw two years of work in Portage high school. Pahl saw three years of action with the city teams of Arcadia, Wisconsin. Schorer was with Sauk City high school for four years and played amateur ball for two years.

GOPHERS RALLY; WIN 10-9

A break in the Badger pitching in the eighth inning cost the Wisconsin team a hard fought game at Minneapolis yesterday when the Gophers bunched five hits after two outs and piled up six runs to win 10-9.

It was clearly Wisconsin's game until the fatal eighth, and there was little doubt as to the outcome, so great was the Badger margin. However, the unforeseen happened, and Stroll, who started the inning on the mound for Wisconsin, blew up. Schrenk was put in, and he did likewise. It was four walks and five hits that accounted for the six Gopher runs.

Barnum played a heady game behind the bat throughout the contest, and as far as all around playing goes the Badgers showed up the better of the two teams. Just as Wisconsin was one run behind the winners, so were the winners one hit ahead of the visiting team.

Clausen had started in the box for Wisconsin and he had worked fairly well, holding the Gophers to but a few hits. After the shades of the eighth had fallen, however, the northern team had 11 hits to its credit, while Wisconsin had rapped out 10.

As usual, Larson was the star bat wielder of the Wisconsin team. This time he succeeded in cracking out three wallops that put him on the base. The other Badger hitters were Edwards and Steen with two each, and Gillingson, Barnum, and Dongan with one apiece.

Sigma Chi took second in the meet by yinning a number of second places. Their only first was won by Stewart in the 220 yard free style.

The Betas won the dives and plunge, the dives being taken by McGinnis, varsity high jumper. Winchel won the plunge with a distance of 50 feet. Allaney, Phi Kappa Tau, placed first in the backstroke.

RECENT VICTORIES SERVE TO ELATE BADGER GOLFERS

Maple Bluff and Marquette Fall; Next Comes Iowa at Iowa

Encouraged by their recent victories over Marquette and the Maple Bluff team, the varsity golfers are preparing to meet Iowa at Iowa City Saturday in the first conference meet.

Solbraa Wins

A team of picked class "A" golfers from the Maple Bluff club was defeated 17 to 7 last Saturday. Adolph Bock defeated Phillip Sanborn, Captain R. T. Porter was victorious over Max Mason, Val Guenther over Andy Leith, and Solbraa over Nelson Hagan. Tom Long lost a hard fought contest to Bill Gernon, and D. C. Head was defeated by M. Manchester.

Three regulars from last year's squad in the persons of Capt. Bob Porter, ex-Captain A. B. C. Bock, and Val Guenther form the nucleus of the team this year. Daniel Head, Tom Long, Bush Solbraa and Roscoe Grimm, while not having had the same experience, are turning in excellent scores in the meets this year.

Bock Stars

Bock starred in the Marquette meet, going through the entire 36 holes in 151 against a 144 par. He should provide some strong competition for his Hawkeye opponent this Saturday.

Coach Joe Steinauer is supervising the squad this season and has spent many hours with the men on the Maple Bluff course.

Freshman Shell Repaired; Weather Conditions Satisfy

First Year Men Still Learning Fundamentals; No Definite Selection

Once more riding in the 1924 varsity shell, now repaired, the freshman oarsmen had a long workout last night, one of the many yet in store for them before the race on the Hudson. The varsity also rowed with a vengeance last night, as the waves of Lake Mendota were comparatively still.

Damage to the freshman shell by the tip-over of last Saturday was not as great as was expected, and the craft was ready for the water last night. It will be taken to Poughkeepsie along with the new shell, and a four-oared barge.

Long Rows for Frosh

"Practice for the freshmen from now on will consist mostly of long conditioning rows," said Coach Johnson yesterday. "The men have been working to get the correct stroke, and the other essentials necessary before strenuous workouts are taken. Two rows a day will be taken at Poughkeepsie and in the two weeks the men will probably learn more real rowing than is possible here.

The following men have been rowing on the first freshman crew:

Green, No. 1; Bassett, No. 2; Kieweg, No. 3; York, No. 4; Sellers, No. 5; Griffiths, No. 6; Bibby, No. 7; Kesting, No. 8; and Baillies, coxswain. Coach Johnson has not picked his first crew, however, and is trying out the men until the best possible combination is secured.

Warmer weather and quieter waves the last few days have done much to help the crews. If the fates are kind to "Dad" Vail now, the oarsmen will be able to take long rows on Lake Mendota daily and should be in good condition by June 6, the date of the exodus to Poughkeepsie.

BARABOO — Baraboo won its third game of the season when Friday afternoon they defeated the Reedsburg nine 9 to 8 in eight innings of fast baseball. Seagraves and Donahue umpired the game.

FROSH TRACKMEN SET FOR GOPHERS

Badger First Year Cinder Men on Feet After Defeat by Ohio

Disgusted at their own showing against the Ohio freshmen last Saturday, Wisconsin's yearlings are training with a vengeance for the telegraphic meets Thursday with Minnesota and Friday with Ames.

The frosh have had poor luck with weather so far, that being one of the chief causes for the last defeat, but it is bound to improve, and, with the material developing as it has lately, most of the remainder of the meets should result in favor of Wisconsin.

Little is known of the strength of either Ames' or Minnesota's first year men, but without a doubt Captain Sappenfield and his men will have to step on their best marks to come out ahead.

Meade Burke called a meeting of his charges last night and raked them over the coals for the last showing. In order that this year's freshman team may keep up the past record of first year teams, they will have to be successful in the rest of the telegraphic contests.

GLEE CLUB WILL GO ON SERENADE TONIGHT

The Men's Glee club will go on its annual serenade tonight through the Latin quarter. The serenade will begin at 10:30 o'clock. The annual banquet of the club will be held tonight also at 6:30 o'clock in the Woman's building.

Kodaks and Campuses

Where could there be a better combination for obtaining perfect pictures than a Kodak and a campus—your campus—at this time of year?

What better subjects for your Kodak could you find than wide sidewalks bordered with stately elms; broad sweeps of smooth, velvety lawn; dignified, vine covered buildings? And, best of all, the results obtained are not meaningless pictures, but will serve as reminders in the years to come of happy college days.

WILLIAMS VOTES DOWN RELIGION

Some time ago popular student opinion at Williams college was expressed when a campus vote showed that the students there were opposed to compulsory attendance of chapel to the tune of 385 against 101. The press took the results of this vote as an indication that it "shows religion to be unpopular."

The Press rather jumped to unwarranted conclusions in that statement, for another vote held in the same connection showed that 314 held that compulsory "attendance creates disrespect for religious observance" and only 175 held that such was not the case. So it seems that perhaps the majority who were held by the press to look upon religion with disfavor were actually trying to elevate student attitude toward religion.

Human nature is very apt to hedge in such a matter as compulsory religion, is very apt to chaff under such a yoke. Fortunately Wisconsin is not faced by such a problem, but we suspect that if it were, that if a vote were taken, compulsory chapel would be voted down overwhelmingly, and that those who would be strongest against it would be the habitual churchgoers.

"You can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink."

INVENTORS SHOULD BE IMPRISONED

A girl of 15 years has found a new fuel which has double the power of gasoline and can be manufactured for about six cents a gallon. It is called Irolene, after its inventor, Irene Laurent, and an explosive, Irol. Mere accident resulted in its discovery.

Whether or not this fuel will be practical, whether or not it will ever be used to any great extent is a question. If it is, however, if it does develop into something of value and use, heaven help us! Who will there be without a car, with fuel so cheap as six cents a gallon? Chicago will have to hurry its double-deck traffic plans, huge blocks will have to be turned over to parking space in the middle of cities, chickens will have to be kept off country roads and those few unfortunates who do not possess machines will have to take to the tall timbers for safety.

If things go on much further as they have been going, it will become expedient to forbid 15-year old children to play, lest they discover some new wonder which will increase the complexity of an already complex civilization, and deliberate inventors will have to be jailed.

By Your Leave

Into The Dread Abyss

There was a mountain, high and sloping which took very long to climb. The way was arduous, and at its end there was—nothing. But the climbers thought little of that nothing . . . they plodded on, some falling by the way-side to tumble down into what, their companions knew not. The rest continued forward, only vaguely aware of that Nothing.

Not until they neared the end did they become fully conscious of it, wonder what it was to bring, regret that they had not prepared themselves the better for it. They came at last to realize that they were walking toward a great abyss into which they must fall. They would stop, but they could not, for Time would not let them. And they imagined many horrible things about that Nothing into which they must fall.

They imagined grotesque strangenesses waiting below to confuse them, unheard sounds and unseen sights to deafen and blind them, giants to trample them mercilessly under foot.

And they worried, made the road more arduous thinking on that Nothing.

Ah well, ask any senior who doesn't want to be pulled on by some relentless force what it is all about.

Worry, an American has said, is a poison which slows the heart-beat and makes the blood stagnate but which does not kill. Perhaps Nero was not a very nice man, but he could sit by, eating his peanuts—or was it playing a flute? and reciting Homer while he watched Rome burn. What modern American could have behaved in such a manner? Certainly we know of none who could have recited Homer. Then, after the circus was over, he set about and built up a grander Rome.

The ancients did not worry: when they did, they committed suicide and ended their worry. They had always the fool by their side. But if we would pause to laugh, we needs must bide our time until we can seek out a scalper and secure a seat for Fred Stone, or until we happen to pass some news-stand and bethink ourselves to purchase College Humor.

The Abyss is inevitable; and when we feel headlong into it, perhaps we shall find that it is not so dark and dread as we feared—that we may be able to disperse the sounds and sights and strangenesses and step ourselves on a few of the waiting giants—that it is, after all, not the Nothing we supposed it to be, but the Everything that it is.

Spring Elections

(Editor's note: This the second of a series of articles discussing coming spring election to be held Friday. The writer has consented to give his views on the political situation for the Daily Cardinal; his observations are the result of a long study of campus politics and secret manipulations by various groups. This article deals with the Forensic board candidates.)

BY POLITICUS

The Forensic Board

One of the paradoxical things about student elections on this campus is the interest displayed in the office of Forensic board representative elected at large from the classes. It is evidently deemed too insignificant by the professional politicians to bother with for very few of the politician type ever go after the office.

But not so the students who take a real interest in forensics. There is always a great deal of interest in the class choices on the part of the literary societies and debaters. Just why there should be I have never been able to see. The Forensic board officer has no plums to hold out to his followers, no rewards in the way of committee chairmanships to give as promises. The glory of it must be the prize. At any rate there are five junior men naffer the two positions to be filled.

And now comes a counter-paradox. The single candidate who filed for the sophomore office goes in by default. Why all the interest in one class and not in the other? Maybe this is an off year in politics.

The five candidates for the two junior offices present Messrs. Bell, Hamlin, Nickel, Sheldon, and Sumner, each with an imposing list of recommendations in forensic and debating lines, and miscellaneous accomplishments ranging from Haresfooters to honor societies. Just what these gentlemen should go so wild about for two offices is hard to see. But this is to their credit, they display an interest in seeking office that is prompted by something besides gerrymandering and corrupt bargaining so often practiced by their rivals of other boards.

Ho-hum! Any seniors advice to any junior at this time of year would be; flunk of course, get all the poors you can, but don't raise enough grade points during your first three years to require you to write a thesis.

Prizes—oratorical, beauty, form, essay prizes which go to young people are apt to demoralize them. It is to be hoped that the 15-year old youth who won the recent oratorical contest won't, as a result, be lost forever as a speaker.

First thing to strike our eyes these mornings is the big sign on Langdon in front of the Union building—"Watch '25." The real dope on this is that it was painted by the juniors. We should think that the seniors would resent the implication that they would steal anything. But you never can tell, as the criminal said when he shot his accomplice.

We went to church Sunday, and the nice man in the black coat wanted to tell us all about heaven. But we wouldn't listen, you see we want it to be a surprise.

Speaking of signs, there's one on the lawn of the Wisconsin Alpha of Phi Kappa Psi which proclaims "WET paint."

If the Listerine and cigarette people quit advertising, just what would we fill up the college magazines with?

What are YOU going to do this summer? Work on the farm? We sincerely wish that we could, but we've got hay fever, thank God.

The roommate says that the reason we talk so much and sing so badly must be that when we were vaccinated the doc made a mistake and used a Victrola needle on us.

"Sir, I believe that you are trying to kiss me."

"Well, now that you understand, suppose we quit assaulting each other, and cooperate a little."

Every time we watch Gene Miller tearing up the hill in that violent four-wheeled passion of hers, scattering the Phi Eds and the Phi Bates hither and yon . . . well, we wonder if we are getting all that we should out of school.

HURRAH!

The results of our ad in yesterday's Rockets have been more wonderful than we expected. But no decision has been made as yet—you still have a chance, girls. Just send your name and photograph, and the capacity of your canoe or motorboat.

Somebody will have a date with Stew for Venetian night—YOU may be the lucky one.

Here are a few of the letters—Dear Stew—

I haven't a canoe, but I'm a Phi Ed and if you'll get one I'll paddle it. Can't it be me?

A. B.

Dear Stew—

We have a washboiler that floats, and I know how to handle it very capably. And I'll furnish the lunch. Do I rate?

B. (Home Ec.)

HOORAY. Nine hoorays. We just learned the news that the genial chaperons at Barnyard and Shadburne, are both leaving, going, exiting forever at the end of this year. The girls proved too much for them. Anyhow, we can date at Barnard again NEXT year—NOW.

On second thought, we cut out four of those hoorays. We want to write next week.

Note: Whyezuz you don't call us up to call us down?

HINDENBURG TAKES OATH OF OFFICE

New German President is Inaugurated With Little Protest

BERLIN — Field Marshal Von Hindenburg was inaugurated president of Germany yesterday.

Except for a brief shout of protests from the Communists, the inauguration was carried out according to schedule, the field marshal being sworn into office by Reichstag President Paul Loebe before a crowded house.

In a manifesto to the German people this afternoon, President Von Hindenburg said:

"True to the oath, I will devote all my energies to guarding the constitution and laws. Let us strive through honest, peaceful work to gain the recognition of other nations to which we are entitled and to free the German nation from the unjust stain which still lies on it today."

At the door Von Hindenburg was greeted by the vice presidents and the administrative director, who conducted him to Herr Loebe.

At noon Von Hindenburg, accompanied by Loebe, entered the chamber, which was bare of decorations except around the president's table. Behind the president's chair hung a huge tapestry bearing the German coat of arms incased in laurel wreathes interwoven with the Republican colors of black, red and gold.

The president's table, at which Von Hindenburg stood, while being sworn into office, was covered with a large Republican flag.

"Down with Monarchists, Long live the Soviet Republic," was the shout raised by the Communist deputies as the president-elect entered the Reichstag chamber. They withdrew immediately afterward and the rest of the ceremony proceeded without a hitch.

President Von Hindenburg in taking the oath preceded the prescribed text with the name of the Deity beginning:

"In the name of the Almighty, all knowing God, I swear," and then proceeding with the words of the oath, and ending with the religious affirmation.

The inauguration took place in the presence of the members of the Reichstag whose Socialist members wore red carnations. Many of the other Republican members wore the Republican colors. The entire diplomatic corps was present.

Herr Loebe had addressed the Field Marshall briefly expressing the hope that during his administration the economic reconstruction of Germany which had begun under President Ebert would be continued as well as the policy of mutual understanding in the formulas which had been successfully initiated so that the terrible consequences of the war would gradually be removed. In acknowledging Herr Loebe's greetings, Pres. Hindenburg referred especially to "The Republican constitution of August 11, 1919," adding:

"The Reichstag and the Reich president belongs together, as both are elected by direct vote of the people."

The president's voice as he replied to Herr Loebe was firm and resonant. He said he had solemnly, on his word as a man, taken the oath of the constitution and he once again affirmed that he would particularly devote himself to the task of uniting the German people.

Praises German Wehrmacht
President Von Hindenburg after his inauguration issued a manifesto to the army and navy. In it he said:

"To the Wehrmacht (Defensive power): The German people have placed me at the head of the Reichstag. According to the constitution I take over this day the chief command of the Wehrmacht. I greet the army and navy with pride.

"From my seclusion in Hanover, I have watched the development of the Wehrmacht. Straight ahead and undeterred it has led the German people on the only road upon which re-construction was possible, namely through hard discipline and loyalty in every detail to accomplishment and success.

"It is built upon the old principle of duty and sacrifice. Its activity is intended, for the present and the future, for the service of the people and the state, true to its symbol and the tasks imposed by the constitution.

"With unswerving faith they rely upon the German Wehrmacht in my work for the Fatherland's peace and prosperity."

Distance Records for WIBA Broken Friday; Hear Mayor in Maine

The Capital Times-Studio station, WIBA, Friday night broke its record for distance up to that time. According to two cards received yesterday the dedication program on WIBA was heard in two cities in Maine. The following are the cards which were received yesterday:

Charles L. Veazie, Box 121, Rockport, Me.—We heard your program Friday evening, May 8, at 11 o'clock, eastern time. We particularly enjoyed the Moose male quartet. Your program came through fine. I received it, using but two tubes.

P. H. Merchant, 4 Silver st., Fairfield, Me.—On Friday, May 8, at 11:10 p. m., eastern time, I heard your station, WIBA, broadcasting. WIBA came through well on loud speaker. Enjoyed Moose quartet in its numbers as well as your audience appeared to. Heard Mayor Kittleson speak of the new station and stayed with you till you signed off at about 11:35. For very fraction the quartet sang "Dreaming in the Moonlight" at about 11:20, just after the number sung for your Washington, D. C. friends.

NORWAY SINGERS APPEAR MAY 24

University Chorus Will Stop Here on Way to Twin Cities

The University Chorus of Norway will give a concert in Olin park on Sunday afternoon, May 24, according to an announcement made by Prof. Julius E. Olson of the university faculty. The singers are on their way to Minneapolis to take part in the Norse-American centennial to be held in that city in June. The organization is the pick of the singers of Norway and its concerts are expected to be the outstanding feature of the celebration.

The group comprises 30 women and 20 men, all alumni of the University of Norway. It has been training since last August.

The Madison concert will be given under the auspices of the Scandinavian department of the university in conjunction with a Dane county committee and the support of the Lutheran pastoral conference of the community. Committees will work in Stoughton, Mt. Horeb and other places in the county to assist in welcoming the singers, who comprise the first body of musicians from that country in more than 20 years.

14 CLASSES TO BE HERE FOR REUNION

All Alumni of Years Ending in 0 or 5 to Gather at University

Fourteen alumni classes of the University of Wisconsin will "re-une" this June at Madison. They include the members of all the classes ending in 0 or 5, except the class of 1881, which "reunes" every year.

The oldest class, 1860, now has but two living members—John B. Parkinson, Madison, and William P. Powers, Los Angeles. Mr. Powers will come for the class reunion in order to make the attendance 100 per cent this June.

The class of 1910, under William J. Meuer, Madison, has already sent out reunion information. The class of 1920 has its first reunion this year under the direction of Dorothy Belle Wood, Milwaukee.

The class of 1915 has challenged the class of 1920 for a contest in attendance. The class of 1920 has the largest potential delegation, and the class of 1915 claims Pres. E. A. Birge because of the honorary degree conferred upon him at that time. He issued an invitation to all members of the class of '15 to "reune" in June.

Class secretaries in charge of the June reunions include, 1860, J. B. Parkinson, Madison; 1865, Annie Chamberlain, Philadelphia; 1870, B. W. Jones, Madison; 1875, Clara Moore Harper, Madison; 1880, Annie D. Swenson, Mendota Beach,

On Other Campuses

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—A motion that seniors of the University of Indiana will not be compelled to attend the baccalaureate services or any exercises of the class during commencement week except Commencement itself, was passed at a meeting of the members of the class of 1925 of that university. It was strongly urged that students should attend their class exercises if possible.

NORMAN, Okla.—Since sorority and fraternity houses of the University of Oklahoma have been exempted from paying taxation by the Oklahoma supreme court, on the grounds that they are operated for educational and benevolent purposes, proprietors of rooming and boarding houses have petitioned the dean of women to refuse to approve the operation of these fraternity houses this summer, except for the occupancy of bona fide members of the organization.

PALO ALTO, Calif.—Students of Stanford university have found an added attraction in diving since the sediment in Lake Lagunita has settled leaving the water transparent. Among the articles retrieved by the life guards and swimmers at the lake have been fountain pens, a portable Victrola, records, coins, ranging from silver dollars to pennies, countless numbers of deceiving buttons, and several water worn compacts.

BOULDER, Colo.—Seniors of the University of Colorado are excused from final examinations this quarter if they carry out the regular senior week program. This was the answer of the faculty to the petition of the senior class in which they asked to be excused from examinations.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—The class of 1925 of the University of Minnesota will hold its graduating exercises in the new Gopher Memorial stadium. In former years the Minnesota school held its exercises in the armory. This building is not large enough to accommodate the crowds any more, therefore the stadium will be appropriated for the occasion.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill.—The examination period of the University of Illinois starts May 29 and ends June 8, according to the registrar. There will be no examinations on May 30, Decoration day, however.

Venetian Night Should Be Union Board Function, Say Students

Whether Venetian night should be left under the direction of the Athletic board, or whether it should be transferred to the auspices of the Union board was discussed by four university men in interviews given yesterday.

"The Wisconsin Union is an organization of all men students in the university, and consequently anything that concerns the student body would come under the jurisdiction of the Union," said Lester Kissel '25, president of Union board.

"Venetian night, although originally organized for the entertainment of the interscholastic athletes who came here for the track meet, has become an all university affair," said Byron Barwig '25, president of the Athletic board, "and for that reason the university should back it, and the Union should help. I am not in favor of turning Venetian night over to the Union board."

The management should stay as it is, but those organizations that have available funds should help in financing it."

Orin Wernecke '26, editor of the Athletic Review, said, "The success of Venetian night does not hinge on the athletic events, but on the real Venetian night spirit. I think it should be taken over by the Union board, because it is more capable of selecting the right man for chairman than the Athletic board."

Gordon Walker '25, Homecoming chairman, was of the opinion that with the increasing responsibility of the Union board, Venetian night should not be turned over to Union board until it has been put on a paying basis.

"I would suggest as the easiest way to work up interest would be to charge admission for floats, and also to have bleacher seats," he said in conclusion.

SENATE SUSTAINS VETO BY BLAINE

Fail to Repass Conservation Appropriation; Sauthoff Hits Blaine

Following strictly factional lines the state senate shortly before noon today failed to pass the conservation appropriation bill over the veto of Gov. Blaine.

The vote was 17 to 12, but the majority vote cast was less than the two-thirds necessary. It was preceded by a bitter attack on the veto made by Sen. Harry Sauthoff of Madison.

Three senators who were expected to vote for passage over the veto proved recalcitrant. They are Senators Herman Bilgrien, Iron Ridge, Bernard Gettelman, Milwaukee, who voted to sustain Gov. Blaine, and Sen. J. H. Carroll, Glidden, who bolted the vote entirely.

Roll call on the measure:

For passage notwithstanding the objections of the governor—Boldt, Casperson, Daggett, Hull, Hunt, Mehigan, Morris, Padway, Polakowski, Quick, Roethe, Sauthoff, Severson, Smith, Teasdale, Titus, White—17.

Against passage—Barber, Barker, Bilgrien, Cashman, Chase, Englund, Garey, Gettelman, Heck, Kemp, Keppel, Staudenmayer—12.

Absent and not voting—Lange, Johnson, Schumann, Carroll—4.

Sen. Gettelman afterward explained his vote by saying he had never voted to overturn a veto of the governor. Sen. Bilgrien said he had been assured a new appropriation bill would be introduced giving almost as much money for conservation purposes and therefore wished to "harmonize."

Sauthoff Attacks Governor

Sen. Sauthoff delivered two speeches on the bill in which he severely scored the objections raised by Gov. Blaine as "laughable" and not consistent with the facts.

The senator asserted he would, within the year, bring suit to compel an accounting for every dollar which he said had been "misappropriated" from the conservation fund. By "misappropriated" he said he meant wrongfully withheld from conservation uses and devoted for other uses of state government. Under the present arrangement all moneys earned by the commission are turned into the general fund and a portion reappropriated for conservation purposes.

Sen. Sauthoff completely vindicated Frank N. Graess, legislative representative of the Wisconsin division, Izaak Walton League of America, who had been by inference attacked by the governor in the veto message, as the representative of "an insolent lobby" which sought to "bludgeon" the membership of the legislature and "intimidate" the executive into bringing about the enactment into law of the bill. The senator stated that the efforts of Mr. Graess were directed without pay in a worthy cause and that he had at all times presented his views in a courteous and gentlemanly manner, statements of the governor, notwithstanding.

Defends Appropriation

The senator said in part:

"The objections raised that the appropriation made would be an extravagant use of the state's money and that it would mean an additional burden on the taxpayers have no foundation in fact, whatsoever."

"Conservation for a period of 20 years has not cost the taxpayers of the state one dollar. Conservation has raised more revenue than it has expended. The receipts have always exceeded expenditures. The figures in the office of the secretary of state will bear out this statement. There have been times when, because of lack of appropriated funds the emergency board had to vote additional money to keep up conservation."

"For two more years the pirates in fish and conservation will be allowed to range the state at will."

"Conservation Commissioner Elmer Hall and the governor do not agree on this claim of the bill taking money out of the taxpayers' pocketbook."

Referring to his impending suit for accounting of conservation funds, Sen. Sauthoff cited the Ross Miller case decided by the state supreme court in support of his contention that throwing conservation receipts into the general fund to be used for other purposes was a wrongful "misappropriation" of money.

REGENTS EXPECTED TO PICK NEW PRESIDENT

before commencement because at that time many graduates will be back for reunions expecting to have the matter settled and they also believe it is not desirable to let such an important question as the choice of a successor to President Birge hang over during the summer.

Finance Bill

One of the regents intimated that the reason why the presidential choice has been delayed is that it is intimately tied up with the appropriations question, the regents believing it would be virtually impossible to get a high grade man here if he were faced with the problem of running the university on insufficient funds.

Members of the legislative finance committee met with some of the regents last night to discuss the university finance bill. The measure was not brought up in the senate yesterday as scheduled but probably will come before that body today.

Wisconsin Course in Journalism is Placed in Class A

Wisconsin is one of the 11 universities in the United States which has a class A Course in Journalism.

Other universities in which such schools are located are Columbia university, New York university, University of Missouri, University of Kansas, University of Washington, Northwestern university, Stanford university, University of Oklahoma, University of Louisiana, and Ohio State university.

Texas university had a class A course up to the present date, but when Mrs. Miriam Ferguson became governor she had to cut appropriations, and the journalism department was abolished.

This is the last meeting of the year and officers for the coming year will be elected.

The Board of Publications

(Editor's Note: This is the last of the series of articles concerning the proposed publications board.)

BY HAMPTON K. SNELL

The remainder of the provisions of the Article of Miscellaneous items of the measure for publications reads:

(4) "The publications board is to be advised by an organization to be called the publications advisory board which shall consist of one member from each student publication, this representative to be selected from the major staff members of the respective publications. Further organization details of this advisory body may be determined by the publications board."

(5) The publications board is to interfere as little as possible with existing organizations, allowing editors and business managers to select their staffs and organizations and to conduct their publication's business as restricted by preceding provisions of this act.

(6) No new student publications may be established on the University of Wisconsin campus without the approval of the publications board.

(7) This act is to take effect upon approval of authorities, but not sooner than May 15, 1926."

By establishing an advisory body to aid the actual board, contact will be maintained between the board and the subordinate organizations. Important matters involving details can thus be presented by trained and experienced staff members, and needs of the various papers taken care of with greater ease. This measure does not introduce complications, but only establishes closer contacts.

As to the various articles written in criticism of the proposed measure, every one showed a lack of study of the plan, frequent misstate-ments being apparent in each article. The suggestion is made that other writers analyze more carefully before venturing criticism. Wails go up from those who see in their power and subordinating it to this measure a means for reducing regulation and positive control. Wild financial ventures will be curbed and excess profits to certain individuals steered to better uses. Instead of a heterogeneous collection of publications wandering as each desires, a coordinated system of needed control will be insured, and at the same time not kill initiative or blunderingly attempt to regulate special functions. The crying need right now is financial regulation under a good business head, with uniform methods and sure action, so as to eliminate the constantly recurring deficits and bungling common to all college papers under non-regulatory policies. Other similar plans are without exception proving financially successful, on campuses of all sizes, from north to south.

This plan will, if approved by the Student Life and Interest committee, be passed on to the Board of Regents, and along with the needed reform of all student activities, be finally decided there. Certain it is that Wisconsin presents a sorry comparison with other first class schools in the matter of student government, the reasons being ascribed to passing of senate power to subordinate boards until the parent organization lacks sufficient functions, to control of the senate by those office seekers desiring only additional material for Badger summaries, abortive attempts to regulate traditions and to serve as a police force, which attempts have gathered sentiment against the body when it tries to accomplish something worthy and lack in the original grant of power of specific mention of business to be regulated.

Will critics of the senate admit that no legislative student body is necessary, or do they favor the continuation of squabbles among the ager; Charles Swetil '26, assistant advertising manager; Clara Pratt '26, assistant advertising manager; John Best '28, assistant publication manager; Lawrence Moe '27, assistant collection manager, and Ernest Kahn '27, foreign advertising manager.

The executive board is composed of John Powell, editor, 5 votes; Don Trenary, associate editor, 2 votes; Frank Lathers, art editor, 2 votes; Kenneth Kehl, editor appointee, 2 votes; William Doudna, exchange editor, 1 vote; Ralph Crowley, business manager, 5 votes; Kneeland Godfrey, assistant business manager, 2 votes; Floyd Gray, assistant business manager, 2 votes; Clark Hazelwood, business advisor; Fred De Vries, assistant business manager, 1 vote, and Frances Beebe, office appointee, 1 vote.

Plans and policies of the Octopus staff for next year also were discussed.

families of boards as to which shall do this and which something else? Why not clean up the situation by reenacting measures for student government and specifically line up the powers of each body, cut out superfluous material, and establish some settled governmental forms so that Wisconsin can take her place among similar schools with a real form of student government?

Lord Balfour, At Age of 77, Makes Long Pilgrimage To Holy Land To Dedicate Hebrew University

LORD ALLENBY

FOR the first time in the two thousand years since the Romans laid waste to the country, the Holy Land will be the scene of a gala international celebration when noted scholars and diplomats from many lands will come to Jerusalem to participate in the dedication of the Hebrew University on Mount Scopus overlooking the Holy City, April first.

Outstanding in the brilliant array of world-famous men who will participate in the ceremonies is Lord Arthur James Balfour, dean of British statesmen, who, at the age of seventy-seven is making the long pilgrimage from London to Jerusalem to deliver the principal address at the dedication exercises. Lord Balfour, for many years a champion of the Jewish Homeland movement as British Minister of Foreign Affairs, issued the now famous Balfour Declaration, November 2, 1917, which was the first official endorsement of Zionism by any world power.

Lord Allenby, British High Commissioner to Egypt, will be another personality closely connected with the Zionist movement, who will participate in the exercises. It was the brilliant campaign directed by Lord Allenby which drove the Turks out of the Holy Land during the last few months of the

SIR HERBERT SAMUEL

World War and prepared the way for the modern development of the Jewish Homeland.

Dr. Chaim Weizmann, President of the World Zionist Organization, the Jewish leader chiefly responsible for the success of the movement, and Sir Herbert Samuel, British High Commissioner of Palestine, the first administrator of the country under the British Mandate, will also play an important part in the opening festivities.

American Jews who have been the chief financial supporters of a rebuilt Jewish Homeland, through their contributions to the Palestine Foundation Fund, American Zion Commonwealth, Hadassah, and other agencies, will have the largest representation of any country in the world at the exercises. Over fifteen hundred Jews from the United States will be in Jerusalem for the ceremonies. It is estimated that over five thousand persons, including representatives of leading governments, universities, royal academies and other scholastic bodies, as well as Jewish delegations from every country in the world, will be present.

The United States Consul at Jerusalem will represent the American government at the dedication and will present to the University Library on behalf of the United States Department of State, important Government publications, dealing with educational matters.

Dr. Albert Einstein, world-famous physicist and author of the Theory of Relativity, heads the distinguished group of scholars on the faculty of the University.
