BOARD FAVORS DORM BUILDING

Visitors Declare Adequate Housing For Women Imperative

That there is a pressing need for dormitories, both for men and women, at the university is the firm opinion of the university Board of Visitors, according to statements made yesterday. The question of dormitories has arisen from the building proposal which Israel Shrimski, Chicago, of the university Board of Visitors, made at the joint meeting of the regents and visitors held in Madison March 2.

Mr. Shrimski proposed that private capital be interested in the construction of dormitories for men. This proposal, however, was changed to a plan whereby private interests might be used in constructing women's dorms, rather than men's. The secretary of the regents, M. E. McCaffrey, was appointed to investigate the legal and business side of the proposition.

Shrimski Plan Up to Morgan Attorney-general Morgan has been asked for an opinion on the legality of permitting private capital to erect buildings on university ground, the buildings to be leased to and operated by the university administration. Several years ago, H. J. Thorkelson, former business manager of the university, endeavored to get private interests in the state to build dormitories on private grounds adjacent to the state property, but the plan was unsuccessful.

That the board of visitors is unanimously in favor of the dormitories here is the opinion of George P. Hambrecht, member of the board. He declared that the (Continued on Page 10)

FILIPINOS HERE CATER TO STUDY OF AGRICULTURE

Eighteen students, coming from widely scattered parts of the Philippine Islands and who are majoring in eight different courses here, is the enrollment of Philippine students at the university at the present time. Of the 18 students, seven are enrolled in the College of Agriculture; two each take engineering, economics, and plant pathology; and one each take medicine and commerce. One student is making a special study of labor problems.

There are at present about 850 Philippine students in this country. Of these about 350 are sent by the government, and the other 500 are private students.

Almost all of the 850 Filipino students in this country are post-graduate students, reports show. The native Filipino is compelled to start in the primary school between the ages of six and seven. When he has finished this school, in which there are seven grades, he attends high school for four years.

Upon graduating from high school, many attend the Philippine university at Manila, which at the present time has an enrollment of more than 6,000 persons. Students who received a degree at the Philippine university may attend universities in this country at the government's expense.

"What Is There In Religion?"

THE number of cliques, secret societies, and pet groups is amusingly large around here. Most institutions of the kind have them. The "Five-Minute Egg Club" is an example. Chicago university claims that group as the most unique of its order. But lately word has reached us that Wisconsin has a particular gathering which has all others backed off the edge of the world. It is "The Breakfast Club"! Feature it, gentle reader! It meets for the betterment of the intellect. Ye Gawds! At breakfast! What a place and time to improve the mind. But then, we suppose, the advertisements for the 5-foot shelf of books know the slogan—"A Few Minutes a Day in Good Company Improves the Mind."

WITH the increased activities of Volstead agents in Madison and the falling off in trade at the clinic, Milwaukee doctors are becoming extremely popular. This however is only the masculine side of the matter. The only way we can explain the feminine popularity of the Milwaukee M. D. is to attribute to him a certain air of charm and masterfully winning ways.

THE WHY AND WHEREFORE
When college women stoop to folly
And gayly trip the primrose way,
There is no cause for melancholy
For girls are well-informed to-day.

Ay, all the the arts they soon discover
To hide their guilt from every eye
And that is why the modern lover
Thinks he's the one and only guy.

profession, not only teachers who are educated to teach, but those who want to teach, and can inspire their pupils. For in this age of the slum and apartment house, teachers have the moral as well as the intellectual care of their pupils," Mr. Durand said.

R. E. Loveland, secretary of the state retirement system followed Mr. Durand with a short discussion of the new state retirement law which went into effect this year. The following points were made:

All teachers in the schools included in chapter 459 are under the new law. Senior teachers only are to have deductions made from salary. Senior teachers who enter upon new contracts after July 7, 1921 must deposit 5% of compensation as teacher.

Senior teachers with contract made before July 7, 1921 may go to the end of such prior contract according to the terms of the old law if they prefer, but during this time they must have at least as much deducted as would have been required if the law had not been changed. Such senior teachers may however, have the regular 5 per cent deducted and the state will make deposit accordingly.

All amounts withheld from salaries of senior teachers must be sent to public school retirement board, Madison, each payday with payroll. We furnish payroll blanks. No deductions from any Junior teachers.

All teachers, juniors and seniors, will be credited with the amount paid in under the old law, with in.

PLAN MOVIE OF MILITARY BALL

Entire Reel to Be Taken; Will Be Shown Throughout
State

Motion pictures of the Military ball, the last dress rehearsal of "The Bells of Beaujolais," a play to be given by the Gun and Blade club, and the outside of the state capitol at night, will be shown at various cities of the state after April 7, according to John C. Fritschler '22, assistant chairman of the ball.

According to the present arrangements the pictures are to be shown in Madison during the week following the Military ball and then are to be sent to Milwaukee, Eau Claire, Appleton, Green Bay, Neenah, and Antigo. Three Illinois cities, Rockford, Freeport, and Oak Park, are also on the list.

H. L. Diemer, university photographer who will have charge of making the films, plans to take pictures at the Military ball of the reception, grand march, address of welcome, and closeups of prominent members of the faculty. Before the ball begins, "movies" of the capitol at night will be taken for the first time.

Motion pictures of any university social event were taken for the first time at the Military ball last year. The photographers feel that varying the scenes instead of taking pictures only of the dancers will make the pictures this year even more popular than those taken last April. An entire reel will be filmed.

AT THE GRAND

A double bill is being featured at the Grand the last half of the week. The first part of the bill will consist of a five reel Norma Talmadge picture "A Daughter's Strange Inheritance." The story deals with prenatal influence and Norma plays a dual role—that of a mother who was cursed with a craving for drink, and later the role of the daughter who inherits an unquenchable desire for liquor. How she was eventually cured forms a dramatic climax of this really remarkable picture. The second half of the bill will consist of a five reel Mack Sennet comedy "Home Talent," with Ben Turpin, Charles Murray, Phyllis Haver and the whole Sennett aggregation contributing to the merry-making. This is one of Sennett's latest releases.

BOY OWNS VOICE OF FIVE OCTAVES

Robert Murray, twelve-year-old pupil of Frederick Haywood of New York city, is said to possess a voice range greater than any known singer. In technical terms the range of his voice is from C. 128 V.P., below middle C., over five octaves to 6827 V. P. S., or over the top of the present piano forte. The lad sings in three languages and renders difficult arias with ease.

District Basketball Tourney to be Held Here at City Y. M.

Amateur basketball teams from Dane, Jefferson, Dodge, Sauk, Columbia, Crawford, Richland and Iowa counties will take part in a district tournament to be held in Madison March 17 and 18 to select a team to represent the fourth district in the state tournament which will be held in Milwaukee a week later. The tournament at Madison will be held under the direction of the State Physical Directors' society, and all games are to be played in the city Y. M. C. A. gym.

Entries must be made with A. H. Grimm, athletic director of the Madison Y. M. C. A., and will close March 13. Other Madison men aiding in the meet include Jerry Coulter, Leslie Brown, W. Edison, G. F. O'Brien and Charles Roeder.

No man who, in any way has become a professional, will be tolerated. The Physical Director's society plans to make the tournament an annual event to attract to amateur ranks players who might sell their abilities to professional teams, were they not offered some sort of championship inducement.

Rules governing the tournament are:

Each team will be permitted not more than eight amateur players. The assigning of the contesting team will be determined by lot by the games committee.

Spaulding rules on basketball shall govern the tournament.

The games committee shall have jurisdiction over all questions not covered in the rules.

Every player on every team must have been a member of that team at least 30 days before the meet, and must have played at least five games.

Eight gold medals will be awarded the team winning first place in the district tournament, and the net balance from gate receipts, after expenses are deducted, will be presented the first place team to help defray its railroad fare to the state tournament.

Any amateur basketball team in the district, upon signing an entry blank, is eligible to participate in the tournament.

The state amateur tournament is destined to settle the annual mooted question as to what town is represented by the best amateur quint.

Student Sent Here By Roumanian Crown Prince Forced To Leave

Roumania Exchange Closes— John Nestor Leaves For Europe

John Nestor '25 of Constanza, Roumania, sent to the university last semester by the Crown Prince of Roumania, and enrolled in the College of Agriculture, was forced last month to leave school and return to Europe because of the closing of the Roumanian exchange here.

Nestor's enrollment in the Wisconsin Agricultural college was made possible by the Crown Prince of Roumania who visited the United States of America some time ago on a tour of the principal universities of the country and ranked the Wisconsin agricultural college first among all the colleges he visited which offered agricultural courses.

Nestor, who was a captain in the Roumanian army during the war, and who has studied at Paris, was managing the estates of the Crown Prince at the time of the American tour. In the fall of 1921 he was sent to America, and to Madison, at the Prince's expense, to equip himself thoroughly in the agricultural field. His most extensive study here has been in farm management.

The Crown Prince's pocket-book could not supply the outlay necessary to change Roumanian money into American dollars and finally the rate of exchange became so low that the exchange office was closed, and Nestor sailed back to the royal estates. That he will come back when the financial situation is on a sounder basis was his firm declaration to his friends when he left.

"Foreign students here are continually placed in an uncertain position," Johannes D. de Wet '24 of Jagersfontein, South Africa, stated when interviewed yesterday. "With the daily fluctuations in the foreign exchange, one never knows what his money will buy for him. At the present time, I lose $2.00 on every $5 I spend."

TOBACCO POOL IS HELD VITAL NEED IN STATE

Market Body Says Southern Prices High

The need for a marketing organization of state tobacco growers is shown by the present low price received for the Wisconsin product, the state department of markets declared in a bulletin today.

It is pointed out that while tobacco in Virginia is selling at 20 to 25 cents a pound, the best of the Wisconsin tobacco brings 12 cents at its highest quotation.

This discrepancy in prices is said to be due not so much to the difference in type of the product or to production as to the absence of a marketing organization among the growers.

Before the present pooling system was introduced in the Southern states last year, tobacco there was selling for less than in Wisconsin, the department said. Organization of a pooling concern a year ago is said to have raised prices to a much higher level than those received by the unorganized Wisconsin growers.

"The organization of tobacco pools in Kentucky and Virginia show that the producers of tobacco intend to have more to say in the future about marketing their product," the department statement declared.

"The pooling system enables the producer to avoid the danger of violent fluctuations by holding his crop so as to meet the consuming demand throughout the year. It enables him to grade his tobacco so as to get good prices for the better grades. It also solves the problem of financing through the system of bonded warehouses and warehouse receipts.

"The sooner Wisconsin growers realize the tremendous advantages of tobacco pooling the sooner will they be in a position to command prices for their tobacco similar to those of Kentucky and Virginia."

PERHAPS

THE modern student tunes his receiving set and "listens in" to a concert in Pittsburg or the account of a Conference game. He reaches out the front door in the morning and finds a compiled account of the world's progress during the past twenty-four hours. He goes to the theater and easily absorbs the carefully worked out and visibly presented ideas waiting for him there. In class alone is he required to exercise his thinking mechanism. Perhaps this requirement too will one day be removed.

We realize that prophecy is regarded with suspicion by those who scorn Sir Oliver Lodge's photographs of ghosts or deny the possibility of making rain commercially. But all evidences seem to point to a not far distant future when we will be able to take our education in small and frequent doses without the bother of using our reasoning power. Perhaps the student of 1952 will buy his history or philosophy by the case and take his chemistry or law in the form of pink pills. Certainly by so doing he could be fairly sure of getting the right ingredients with a minimum of wasted effort, and without doubt painless education would appeal to those who now use even pre-digested breakfast foods.

"IN THE SPRING—"

SPRING will soon be with us. The astronomers, with their dry certainty, have declared that she will appear on the stage at exactly forty-nine minutes past four on the morning of March 21. That, of course, is pure dogma. No man, be he scientist or scholar, can ever tell us exactly when spring arrives. She tiptoes past the sleepy old foggy and a momentary gleam lights up his watery eyes; she calls to the children, and skipping-ropes and marbles are received; she beckons to the student and the imperative paper is postponed till later; she whispers some unknown message to the waiting trees and a surge of life flows upward through their winter-stiffened branches.

But for all the joyousness she brings and all the life she revives, she leaves a touch of sadness and dismay in the hearts of those who have been touched by the fringes of her garments. Some few there will be who shall arise one morning content, shall feel her breath upon their cheeks as they mount the hill to their classes, shall pass the hours in futile day-dreaming; and shall know the curse of Tantalus before the sun gives place to the twilight. These are the true adventures. They have tasted life in the open and have known the promise that waits beyond the hills.

It is well for us that they are few. They are the anomalies of our staid and somber community, the annoyance of friends, the delight of comic artists, and the despair of professors. Their eyes are not our eyes, their dreams are meaningless to us, their visions are shattered by the grind of the day's classes. Some shall long for the "wine-dark sea," some for the clean sweet smell of the pines, and some shall long for the hills. Some shall gaze across the mist-bound lake in the morning and see the spires of Camelot gleaming in the sunlight; some shall listen to the freshening winds and dream of the pathless haunts of the ocean or the sky; and some shall find the recrudescence of old battles in the flames of the punny fireplace.

And we who cannot share their dreams or plumb the depths of their desires, laugh at them in our ignorance while romance goes by without. We who have not felt the urge of far places, who have never known the true meaning of that spirit which has given to our race new worlds and new opportunities, smile at old Adventure's victims and grub on at the day's work. We study the sagas their kind has written or analyze the soil their breed has won for us; while they, who have known the color of the sunset in the desert or the sting of the cold winds past the Horn, sit cooped up and impatient, with life just out of reach.

The winds in countless forest aisles are calling to their devotees, and there are still streams that lead to unknown places. Red poppies blossom on a thousand fields of France where adventurers lie sleeping, and the bases of the seven seas are encrusted with their bones. But we who find no pot of gold at the foot of the rainbow laugh at the simple faith of such as these, whose reward is but the glimpse of new horizons or the feel of new land beneath their feet.

Let us not be too free with our scorn—which contains no small element of jealousy—nor too quick with our derision of these men we cannot understand; for Spring brings new adventures for them and Youth has claimed them for all time.

COLLEGE REPUTATIONS

The deeds of our lives are as grass; the wind passes over them and they are gone. Such is the destiny of the acts of most of us—fading memory, occasional recollection, and then oblivion. Not even the evil that men do lives after them for long.

But it is ludicrous to ask that what a man does during his college career should make him immortal, or even cause his memory to be revered for long. He works for temporary reputation, for the value of meeting his fellows, for the experience which comes from doing the work of the campus, for the good of a campus which must have that work done.—McGill Daily.

Orph Refuses To Spoil Record Of First Half Show

There is no let down in the quality of vaudeville offered at the Orpheum for the last half of the week. Some of the acts might have been better in spots, but as the show is reviewed as a whole, it can be pronounced satisfactory.

Ernie & Bert Gordon

An acrobatic act in disguise. The songs are hardly convincing, but the offering is passable.

Mignonette Kokin & Maria Galetti

Dancing, songs, and strange but extraordinary on account of the novelty and the personality of the players.

Ray Conlin

If we say that this is a ventriloquist act, we will handicap it from the start. That is what it really was, but that is nothing against it. Conlin's line of chatter by way of the dummy was bright and quite new.

Simpson & Dean

A man and woman cutting up in "Honky Tonky Town" cashed in on most of the possibilities offered by such a vehicle. The act starts with a novelty silhouette effect which is well carried out.

Savo & Franza

Entitled "A Salvo of Screams," this offering is not misnamed. Savo's idea of comedy is original and extremely eccentric. He received the best welcome of the evening.

Gautier Bros.

An animal act presented in a new way. The drollery of the men and the intelligence of the horses make an entertaining offering.

DR. DONOVAN MAKES REPLY TO REV. HUNT

Says Catholics Make No Effort to Con- trol Politics

Dr. Joseph P. Donovan issued a statement last Tuesday on the charges made by Rev. George E. Hunt in a sermon at the Presbyterian church Sunday night that Catholics are attempting to wield political control in Madison. The statement of Dr. Donovan follows: "Dr. Hunt's article in the evening papers Monday was a great surprise to me. I was not only surprised, but felt hurt and disappointed. I have always been an admirer of Dr. Hunt, and believed him to be a fair-minded, charitable, Christian gentleman, and one feels hurt when a man one has so admired fails him. The statements he made are so palpably false and ridiculous that one would think he was reading a chapter from Du'mas' Religious Crimes of the Thirteenth Century. If it were not such serious matter, one would feel with Sancho Panza 'Tis a waste of lather to shave an ass.' But it is a serious matter and cannot be ignored.

"When the World war was on and when 200 boys of St. Raphael's church marched to the front, and when 13 shed their life's blood on Flanders field, Dr. Hunt or no one else asked what their religion was. When the allies were backed to the wall and England, France, Italy and America demanded a commander to save them, no one asked what General Foch's religion was. When our boys laid wounded and sick on the battle field, the Y. M. C. A., the Salvation Army, and the Knights of Columbus did not ask what their religion was but gave them the best they had. As hundreds of thousands of our boys will testify, a Knight of Columbus secretary never asked whether a soldier was Jew or Gentile, Catholic or Protestant. The fact that he was a soldier was enough.

"I was born in Madison. I have been a member of St. Raphael's church since birth, and there was more politics in Dr. Hunt's article than I have heard in St. Raphael's church in almost a half century.

"I am now and have always been a great admirer of ex-President Wilson, and during a conversation with a Catholic priest, I was lauding the president and the priest was criticising him, but not a word or thought was given to the president's religious views.

"I am a member of the Knights of Columbus, and I betray no secret when I say that it is upon penalty of expulsion from the order for any member to bring politics into the council chamber.

"As to Catholics being opposed to the public schools, does Dr. Hunt think the Catholics are fools? I have a child in St. Raphael's school, two children in the high school, and my oldest son in the University of Wisconsin. Would I do anything to injure the public schools?

"When the scars of the World war are healing, when all good citizens are giving their best efforts to bring the world back to a normal condition, when most of us thought that the bitter religious prejudices of the dark ages were a thing of the past, it is a public calamity for a man of Dr. Hunt's standing—for the selfish purpose of making a sensational sermon—to stir up class-feeling which should have been buried centuries ago; but, probably, we should feel as the crucified Christ on Calvary did when he said: 'Forgive them, Father, for they know not what they do.'"

Only Two Types of Men Made Civilization

"Thus far there are only two types of men which were creative in civilization: the eastern Asiatic type and the western European," said Prof. Michael I. Rostovtzeff in a lecture delivered last night in Science hall. The lecture was one of a series on the influence environment has had in the making of races.

"There are only two types of civilization, oriental and European," he said. "These are not a result of racial peculiarities but of the influence of land and history. Though many different races have at different times conquered and ruled in ancient Babylonia and Egypt, the civilization has remained the same as it was in 4000 B. C."

Union Saves Money By Mailing to Homes

A saving of several thousand dollars has been effected by sending Memorial Union subscription notices to home rather than school addresses. The plan has been adopted to make sure that notices reach the students, since many have either changed their addresses or have left school.

If home addresses have been changed or if notices have failed to reach their destination, the difficulty can be remedied by notifying "Hap" Baker, at the Memorial Union headquarters, Alumni building.

City Health Board May Elect Officer This Week

The board of health hopes to select a full time health officer for the city some time this week, according to Ald. G. H. Mason, president of the board. Last night was the deadline for applications. He said that about 20 persons have filed, some of them not residents of Madison or Wisconsin.

Some members of the board have limited their selections half the number of applicants. One member, it is said, has determined upon the man for the position. Other members are yet undecided. Correspondence is being continued, Ald. Mason said today.

There's a Large Quota of Charm In These Flower Trimmed Hats

There's a posy on the Hat that is most truly Spring-like—a vivid silk or lacquered one—a yarn flower design—or a shining cellophane flower of beautiful coloring. It may be a single huge blossom against a wide brim or an entire garden plot that makes crown or brim. Large capeline shapes in chrysanthemum straw, timbo or cellophane cloth wear their flower trimmings especially well.

A mannish tweed hat for wear with the popular tweed and homespun suit is quite the newest thing in hats.

Mrs. Charles R. KUBOSCH AND BUMER SHINE IN GYM MEET

First All-University Event Sets Varsity For Gophers

Frank Kubosch took three firsts and one third place in the All-University Gymnastic meet which took place at the gym last night. In the total number of points scored, Bumer placed first, and Kubosch second.

The meet was the first All-University gym meet held here; the department of Physical Education plans to make it an annual event hereafter. The contestants were entered without regard to their class or college. Three awards were given for each of the seven events, consisting of blue ribbons for first place, red ribbons for second, and white for third.

11 Enter Events

The men were judged for their form in performing the exercises and points were given each man for his work in each event in which he participated. The total scores had nothing to do with the awards which were only for the ranking of the men in each event.

Following is a list of the entrants in the meet, and the total number of points scored by each: Bumer, 91.00; Kubosch, 89.50; Schmidt, 73.50; Rand, 55.75; Gebhardt, 48.25; Erdman, 41.25; Pfeiffer, 40.00; Koch, 35.00; Kress, 26.75; Leitz, 18.75; Stevens, 18.75.

The awards for the various events were as follows:

Horizontal bar: first, Kubosch second, Leitz; third, Bumer.

Side horse: first, Stevens; second, Gebhardt; third, Schmidt.

Flying rings: first, Bumer; second, Schmidt; third, Kubosch.

Parallel bars: first, Kubosch second, Koch; third, Schmidt.

Tumbling: first, Kubosch; second and third, Bumer and Rand tied.

Club swinging: first, Rand; second and third, Bumer and Schmidt tied.

Fencing: first, Thompson; second, Reinhold; third, Choinski.

Hit Gophers Tomorrow

For all the events except fencing, John Reingold acted as chief scorer, and Coach Fred E. Schlatter as judge. In fencing Coach Schlatter acted as scorer and judge.

The fencing event was the only one which contained any element of personal competition. Each of the entrants had to fence with each of the others, and the man who won over all his opponents was awarded the first place.

Many of the men who were in the meet last night are members of the Varsity gym squad, and the meet afforded them an opportunity to get in good shape for the dual meet with Minnesota to be held at Minneapolis tomorrow night. The gymnastic season will end with the all-conference meet at Madison on March 16 and 17 in which all the schools of the conference, as well as half a dozen others, will be represented.

Kappa Sigs Cinch Third in Bowling

The Kappa Sigs last night cinched third place in interfraternity bowling by winning three consecutive games from the Tekes. The scores were Kappa Sigs 909, Tekes 811; 774, 769; 828, 772.

The Greek bowling season ended with three teams tied for third place, the Kappa Sigs, Alpha Chi Sigs, and Tekes, and three post-season matches were scheduled to play off the tie.

The Kappa Sigs won two out of three games from the Alpha Chi Sigs last Tuesday night, and the additional three victories last night assures them of the third cup.

The Alpha Chi Sigs and the Tekes will roll next Tuesday night to determine the winners of fourth and fifth places.

440-yard dash—Spetz, Johnson, Ellison, McCandless, Hofacker, W.; Beck, Brookins, Grell, Keppler, Meyer, Morrow, Read, Wilson, I.

TANK MEN OFF FOR EVANSTON

Swimmers in Best Condition For Fast Dual Meet

The Wisconsin swimming team will entrain tomorrow for Evanston, Ill., where it is scheduled on Saturday to stack up against the Purple natators in its last conference dual meet of the season. One week from Saturday, the Badgers will enter the Big Ten swimming meet which is to be held in the University of Chicago tank.

Although Northwestern was beaten last week by the Gophers who went down before Coach Joe Steinauer's speedsters, the Purple team is one of the strongest in the conference. Coach "Tom" Robinson has consistently put out winners since he took charge of the Purple tank squad. Northwestern, weakened by the loss of Agnew, was beaten by Illinois by a score of 36 to 32, but the Methodist badly defeated Chicago.

Paver and Hayford are a duo of Purple natators who will be point-winners. Paver is a good man in the sprints. He and Bennett will probably furnish another set of duals during the meet. The Northwestern water basketball team is one of the best in the Big Ten this year.

Swimmers on the Wisconsin outfit are in the best of condition.

With the return of Gilbreath to eligibility, the team has been strengthened. Bennett has tapered down to form, which will make him a serious contender for individual high-scoring honors. Capt. "Bill" Collins and Koch are perfecting their dives for the Big Ten meet. If Czerwonky, Storey, Bennett and other Badger fish come through in regulation style, Wisconsin will be a serious contender for the conference title.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Mail robbers entered the Wabash station here this morning and stole two bags of first class mail.

ALL OVER IN BIG TEN BUT CHICAGO GAME TOMORROW

Badger Win Will Tie Michigan Five For Second Place

CONFERENCE STANDINGS
Purdue	8	1 .888
Michigan	8	4 .666
Wisconsin	7	4 .636
Illinois	7	5 .583
Chicago	5	6 .454
Minnesota	5	7 .416
Iowa	5	7 .416
Ohio State	5	7 .416
Indiana	3	8 .272
Northwestern	3	9 .250

With the exception of the Chicago-Wisconsin game, which will be played on the Midway tomorrow night, the 1921-1922 Big Ten conference basketball schedules have now been completed, and the various teams are anxiously awaiting the end in order that the standings may be determined.

On the eve of the closing pennant fight, it looks as though Wisconsin and Michigan would tie for second honors. The Boilermakers are the undisputed champions with a total of eight games won and one lost. They played an ineligible man long enough to win a sufficiently large per cent of their nine-game schedule to cinch the flag, and are now watching the remaining members of the conference fight for the runner-up positions.

Wisconsin Should Repeat

Wisconsin's performance against the Maroons on Wednesday night would indicate a second win from Chicago tomorrow, but Norgren's team has a habit of pulling unexpected surprises at inopportune times, and the Badgers may only tie with Illinois for third place.

A victory in the final game would give Wisconsin the same rating as last year, when Meanwell's aggregation tied for first place in the conference with eight victories and four defeats. Since the locals have won as many games as any of the association teams which have a schedule of reasonable length, Wisconsin can feel well satisfied with the showing made by Coach Meanwell and his men, especially in this true when it is considered that the team is now playing a brand of ball that is equal to any seen on the home floor for several years past, during which time championships have been easily won.

Minnesota, Iowa, and Indiana are all teams that were far better than their positions in the percentage column indicates, but each dropped games unexpectedly to weaker fives and consequently sent themselves further into the cellar. The Maroons have climbed steadily until they now rate almost among the first division teams. A defeat tomorrow will send them into a four team tie for fifth place in the conference.

Roll High Scores In Women's Bowling

Several scores were turned in during the contest to make the class teams in women's bowling. Esther Harris '23 has the highest score of 192. Katherine Fuller '24 has the highest average for the four games of 166. Other high individual scores were Rosamond Nolte '24, 183; Elizabeth Katz '22, 183; Maude Kilham '23, 183; Bess Blanding '23, 177; and Charlotte Voorhis '22, 171. Class contests will be played off played off soon to determine the class championship.

Two Badgers Picked For Mythical Five

(Michigan News Bureau)

Two Wisconsin basketball stars, Taylor and Williams, are given berths on the second all-conference team picked by the sports editor of the Michigan Daily. His second team lineup is as follows:

Gullion, Purdue, center.
Taylor, Wisconsin, forward.
Severinson, Minnesota, forward.
Williams, Wisconsin, guard.
Hicks, Iowa, guard.

RUSSELL AND FABERA TAKE GLOVE TITLES

Last Class Tourney Scrap Held This Afternoon

Two more crowns were awarded yesterday afternoon in the interclass boxing tournament, Russell winning over Jorgensen in the 140 pound class, and Fabera shading Stipek for honors in the heavy-weight division.

By far the best bout of the tournament was the grueling battle between the two heavyweight contenders. Fabera, lean and rangy in build, seemed dwarfed beside his stocky opponent. From the moment time was called for the beginning of the first period the fight was one of deadly earnest. Fabera rushed the bearlike Stipek, who stood his ground, and the two men gave and took a series of hard-landing wollops of the haymaker variety until the lighter Fabera, who had taken several of the heavy swings upon his unprotected jaw, was dazed and wobbly.

Fabera Stages Comeback

The climax of the scrap came when Stipek landed one straight from the heels on the point of his dizzy partner's chin. Fabera's knees sank from under him and he measured his length on the mat just as Coach Eddie Borzelt called time for the end of the round.

The dazed fighter was helped to his corner and revived in time for the start of the next period. During his minute's rest, the lighter man seemed to gain new life, for from this moment on the fight was his. He danced around the rapidly tiring Stipek, and in all the frequent exchanges of slugs, came out the victor. The second round was Fabera's by a shade.

Fabera spurted in the final period, and almost reversed the happenings of the first round by knocking Stipek groggy in the last minute of the fight. With the plainly all-in heavier man leaning unprotected against the ropes, his hands sagging at his sides, Fabera refused to go in and finish him for a knock-out, but stood back until he had sufficiently recovered to go on with the fight. This round went to Fabera also, and he was given the decision.

The Russell-Jorgensen bout for 140 pound title was much slower than the scrap between the heavies. Throughout the battle, the winner, Russell, stood his ground and refused to lead until the other man had opened fire. In the exchange of punches, however, Russell landed by far the majority of the clean hits, and these with several bursts of speedy mit slinging won him the bout.

Decide 130 Pound Class Today

The last scrap of the tournament between Le Vielle and Leonard for the championship in the 130 pound division will be held this afternoon at 4:30 in the gym room.

The All-University Boxing tournament will open immediately after the conclusion of the class scraps. The finals will be run off on the afternoon of March 18th, before the conference wrestling meet which is to be held in the gym that evening. In this tournament the all-university championship will be decided in six different weight divisions from bantam to heavy. Medals will be awarded to the winners in each class. The first of the elimination bouts will be run off on Tuesday, March 14th, and all men going out for the meet are urged to begin work in preparation for it immediately. The boxing room will be open to those wishing to work out on Saturday afternoon.

Dispose of 500 Reviews at Game

500 copies of the Minor Sports number of the Athletic Review were sold at the Wisconsin-Chicago basketball game Wednesday night. The rest of the issue has been disposed of among the fraternities and rooming houses.

U. S. REJECTS BID TO GENOA FINANCE MEET

Must Stay Out of European Politics, Says Hughes

WASHINGTON—Because it believes there has been an exclusion of questions which makes it not primarily an economic conference but rather, one of a political character in which it "could not helpfully participate," the American government has declined the invitation to take part in the international economic conference at Genoa next month. The declination was conveyed in a note yesterday from Secty. Hughes to Ambassador Ricci, Italy, who had presented the invitation pursuant to the resolution adopted by the allied governments.

The note, made public last night, emphasized the desire of the American people to assist in the economic recovery of Europe but stated the U. S. government could not be unmindful of their "clear conviction," that they should not unnecessarily become involved in European political questions. The note added that "questions appear to have been excluded from considerations without the satisfactory determination of which the chief causes of economic disturbance must continue to operate."

Without the establishment in Russia of the essential basis of productivity, the note stated, the U. S. believes "all considerations of economic revival to be futile."

The conviction was expressed that this could not be secured "until adequate action is taken by those chiefly responsible for Russia present economic disorder."

Constitution of Irish Free State Completed

DUBLIN — The constitution of the Irish Free State has been completed, it was announced yesterday.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Opening with two performances tonight and remaining for the balance of the week, including the three shows on Sunday, the new bill at the Orpheum, should come close in favor to the one offered the first of this week. Headlining the new program, will be Jimmy Savo and Joan Franza in a comedy offering called "A Salva of Screams." Gaudier Brothers will present their animated Toy Shop act, in which each top is impersonated by some well trained pet. Mignonetti Kokin, assisted by Maria Galetti, present a high speed dancing oddity. Madison's favorite Ray Conlin, the acme of Sub Vocal comedy returns with a line of songs and chatter and Simpson and Dean, offer Honky Tonky Town a comedy act. Gordon and Gordon, in titters, twists and turns, will be the first act following the Pathe News and Topics of the Day films.

A teacher who reaches the 25th birthday after July 1 of any year remains a junior teacher until the following July 1.

After a lengthy discussion as to the adoption of a uniform teachers contract and application, which had been prepared to be put before the convention, the uniform contract was killed, and recommended to the committee for reconsideration, and when settled sent to all school boards at least two months prior to the next convention. The application was accepted.

The purpose of the convention was to compare experience of the different boards, promote friendship and to abolish antagonism.
