COACH NAMES 20 FOR HARESFOOT "KIKMI" CHORUS

Will Make Much of Dances

Final announcement of the chorus for the 1923 Haresfoot show, "Kikmi," was given out yesterday by E. Mortimer Shuter, coach of the production.

The chorus will include 20 men, four more than were used last year and will be made up of eight men and 12 women. A pony chorus of six will be a novel feature of this year's show.

Much more will be made of the chorus dances this year, according to club officers. The dances used will be the same steps made famous by the "Palace Girls" with Fred Stone of "Tip Top" fame.

Welch Directs Chorus

The chorus coaching is under the direction of Howard Welch of Ann Arbor who has worked under members of Stone's cast. All the steps are novel and of an intricate variety.

"Although the men still have a great deal of their masculine awkwardness, 20 real women are developing rapidly and will tread the boards with all the grace of the Palace girls" Welch declared last night.

The chairman of the chorus tryouts is Hobart C. Price '23, who has taken part in the last two productions and who is one of Haresfoot's most graceful women. Those assisting Price in the chorus tryouts were Everett Yerly '23, Thomas Niles '23, and J. Huston Schee '23.

Twenty Are Chosen

The eight men as chosen by Shuter for the men's chorus are Francis Lang '25, John M. McCausland '25, Herbert Taylor '24, Arthur Ardiel '24, Carl Vonnegut '24, Walter Kidder '23, Harry Edwards '23, Charles Hayden '24.

The pony chorus is Carroll Callen '25, Hobart C. Price '23, Irving Goldstein '25, Charles McKivitt '25, Carl Hausmann '24, Thomas Nuzum '23 and Frederick S. Baker '25.

The large girls' chorus will be made up of Everett Yerly '23, Donald Marvin '23, Gordon Arey '25, Thomas Furlong '24, Le Hanson '24, and J. Huston Schee '23.

The Haresfoot show will play at the Parkway Theater two nights and Saturday matinee, April 20 and 21. The Haresfoot club this year is celebrating its silver anniversary and is planning on the most elaborate production of its existence.

STUNT TRYOUTS FOR JAMBOREE ARE HELD SOON

Tryouts for the feature stunts to be given at the Varsity Jamboree will be held in Lathrop parlors from three thirty to six o'clock Wednesday, March 21. The best three groups will be selected to provide entertainment for Jamboree goers the night of April 14, when the annual spring masked ball will take place.

The stunt committee of the Varsity Jamboree has sent letters to nearly all of the campus organizations urging each to compete in the elimination contest. It has also outlined the kind of stunt desired.

Each feature stunt should be planned to last longer than five minutes. It must be able to get across on its own merits rather than on the costuming, the committee states. The tryouts will be held without costumes and the preliminary judges will base their decisions only on the originality and quality of the act itself.

A silver cup will be awarded to the winning group the night of the Varsity Jamboree. Other prizes will be given to the best costumed group and individuals attending the function.

Groups or individuals who wish to enter the elimination contest are asked to call Baker or Crutcher at F. 1841 as soon as possible.

PLUMBERS PREPARE TO WELCOME ST. PAT

Friend shaving mug and razor will be deserted for one week by all loyal plumbers, for only seven days remain until the annual St. Patrick's day parade.

There is now much speculation among the engineering students as to who will be elected to fill the place of St. Patrick who is unable to be present at the parade next Saturday.

Individual and group prizes are being offered and all organizations and men whether in the engineering school or not are urged to participate in the parade.

GLEE CLUB IN GOOD CONCERT

Excellent Program Will Be Repeated This Evening

Did you hear the champion glee club of the mid-west sing at Music hall last night? The club, the University of Wisconsin Glee club, exceeded anticipations raised by its enviable reputation for excellent entertainment and ability, in a program of varied musical selections.

The club but lately returned from New York where it sang in competition with glee clubs from eastern universities. Many commendations for excellence of style and quality of performance were received by the club during the New York contest, although it competed with only seventeen members while some of the eastern schools sent clubs of more than thirty men.

Jane Dudley Plays

Features of the concert were four violin solos by Jane Dudley, and groups of vocal solos by Kenneth Damon and Carroll Robb, '25.

Beethoven's "Creation Hymn" sung by the club opened the program, and this more intricate piece was followed by Haydn's "Maiden Fair, O Deign to Tell" and a quaint old English ditty, "Chit Chat."

The next group presented by the club was composed of character selections, Southern songs of humorous and lullaby types.

Group of Variety

Variety characterized the next group, which opened with "Give a Rouse," a militant and stirring composition from Bantock. A sentimental song, "I'll Take You Home Again, Kathleen," Westendorf, was followed by a travesty on "Comin' Thro the Rye."

The group of songs which the club sang in competition with other clubs both in Chicago and in New York were sung, including "O Peaceful Night," German, "Toast to Wisconsin," and "The Hunter's Farewell," from Mendelssohn.

"On the Sea," a popular number from Buck, was the closing song on the program.

The club will present the same concert tonight at Music hall. This will be the last concert given by the organization in Madison this year.

A scandal sheet, the Type Louse, edited by Joe Lawler '24 and Harold McClelland '23, made its appearance, and was met by a rival sheet, the Type Delouser.

The party was chaperoned by Assemblyman and Mrs. Freehoff and Professor and Mrs. E. Marion Johnson. Mr. Freehoff is a member of Sigma Delta Chi.

A light luncheon was served.

MARCH NUMBER OF REVIEW ON SALE MONDAY

James Naismith, originator of the basketball game and athletic director of the University of Kansas, has written a 1500 word article on the origin of the game for the March number of The Athletic Review which will be sold at the Indiana game Monday.

The magazine will be sold by "W" men after a short talk by Joe Steinauer, swimming coach, between the halves of the game. This issue of the Review is devoted largely to basketball.

"The Ineligibility Bugaboo" by Dr. W. E. Meanwell, and a general article concerning the members of the squad will appear in this number.

The front cover will have a large picture of Gus Tebelle, captain of the team. The center spread is to contain several individual pictures of members of the team.

One article will tell of the work of the baseball squad so far this season and will review the prospects for the coming season. Other articles will deal with track, hockey, rifle shooting, wrestling, gym work and the W. I. A. A. basketball tournament.

Coach Steinauer has contributed 1500 words on the work of the swimming squad.

WEATHER: FAIR

Today will be fair. Tomorrow there will be increasing cloudiness, with not much change in temperature. The maximum yesterday was 42.8 at 5 p. m., and the minimum was 30.2 at 1 a. m.

MEASLE DAYS ARE ON WANE, SAYS CLINIC

"Measle days," the bane of childhood, are over for the university student body as a whole, for only occasional cases of scarlet fever and measles have been reported since the holidays, the last one more than two weeks ago.

"There have been no cases reported lately, in general, few at all," Dr. Robert Van Valzah, of the university clinic, said yesterday.

In Madison grade and secondary schools these contagious diseases have been so prevalent among the pupils that school officials contemplated shutting down the buildings.

NOTRE DAME TO MEET CARDINAL IN ANNEX TODAY

Both Teams in Good Condition

A squad of 26 Notre Dame star track men will arrive in Madison today at noon to attempt to break the jinx which has hung over them for the past two years when they have entered competition with Wisconsin track men. The meet begins at 2:30 this afternoon in the gym annex.

"Make it three straight" is the watchword in the Badger camp with the men who are determined to take a third consecutive meet from the Notre Dame men.

Badger track men are more dubious over the outcome of the meet than they have been in former years, however, for the Catholics are reported to have an unusually strong team and the breaks are likely to be the deciding factors which will determine victory one way or the other.

Teams are Evenly Matched

So evenly are the two teams matched that the entire meet may not be decided until the relay race is run, according to Mead Burke, track coach. The races will all be close and the sure wins in the field events are equally divided between the two teams.

Notre Dame stock rose several points with the announcement of eligibility a short time ago of Layden, Catholic sprint ace. Layden has been out of competition until recently and his presence on the Irish squad will help considerably.

Both Wisconsin and Notre Dame have tasted defeat at the hands of conference teams in indoor meets this winter but the defeats do not signify weakness in either team. Notre Dame dropped a hard luck contest to Illinois when one of her relay men dropped the baton. The meet ended with Illinois in a 50 to 45 lead.

Wisconsin took a wallop from Iowa two weeks ago but the men have improved greatly since that time and today's contest should show them in better form.

Notre Dame Has Stars

Besides Layden, Notre Dame has several stars in Gus Desch and Barr, dash men, Wentland, two-miler, and Hogan, pole vaulter. Tom Leib, and Moes are both husky shot putters who have made names for themselves in past meets and who will make Badger weight men work to place.

CHEMISTS PLAN TO MAKE TRIP OF INSPECTION

Junior and senior majors in the chemistry course will make their third annual trip to Milwaukee during the Easter vacation, April 4 to 6. All chemistry majors are required to take the trip during the junior or senior year.

"This trip offers an exceptional opportunity to visit a large number of important chemical industries in a short time and at small expense," said Prof. George Kemmerer, chemistry department.

"Every plant visited furnishes special chemist guides who explain the details of the process in their specific manufactures," he continued. "Some of the plants that the class will visit are the White Rock Spring company, and the Thompson Malted Food company, Waukesha; the Palm Olive company, the Federal Rubber company, and the U. S. Fertilizer company, Milwaukee.

The party will be limited to 30, and, since it will be necessary to make hotel reservations and secure passes for each student from the various plants, students are urged to register with Prof. George Kemmerer before March 28.

The chemists will leave Madison Wednesday morning, April 4, and return Friday evening.

Scholarship Fund For Co-ed From China Nears Quota

Four hundred dollars has been collected so far for Waei Lang Chang. Barnard's subscription has not come in as yet. Waei Lang Chang lives at Barnard so it is expected that this subscription will cover the quota which is $500. Waei Lang Chang graduated from a Normal school in Shanghai, China, and came here because of the scholarship. This is her third year and when it is completed she will return to China.

Country Mag Sales Exceed Those of Previous Months

March sales for the Country Magazine, the student publication of the College of Agriculture, exceeded those for all previous months of this year. The staff attributed a large part of this increase to the novel "photo-art" cover which was featured for this issue.

ST. PAT'S SONS FINISH PLANS

Engineers Carefully Uphold
Traditions of Annual Parade

Traditions were upheld when the engineers held their pep meeting in the Engineering auditorium yesterday to complete their plans for the Engineers parade. The auditorium was packed when James Mackey '23 stopped the singing and called the engineers to attention.

"We have planned to have the parade form the foot of Park street. The parade will start at 1:30 o'clock sharp. The line of march will be down State street and around the Square as far as the post office, returning on Wisconsin avenue and Langdon street to the Historical library where the Blarney Stone ceremony will be held," said Chairman Mackey at the meeting.

"Madison business men have contributed so liberally that we are able to offer several worth while prizes, there will be a silver cup awarded to any fraternity or organized rooming house group. In addition there will be a cash prize for the best society group, and the best individual group, and the best float in the parade. We will also give special prizes to individual stunts in the parade. Above all don't shave until after the parade," said Sherman Green '23, assistant chairman.

"Johnnie" Cassidy '25, Leo Garret '23, and Arthur Rabuck '23, who are candidates for the office of Saint Patrick gave the reasons why they were best fitted to represent the patron saint.

"The judges of the parade have not been picked as yet," said Mackey late yesterday, but we have planned to have the parade pass by the judges twice so that no one who is deserving of a prize will be missed when we award the prizes."

Badger Studio Spends $2,500
In Remodelling New Home

Over $2500 has been expended in refitting and remodelling the rooms of the new Badger Studio, 17 W. Main street, which has recently moved from 21 E. Main street, due to the rapid increase in business. The workers have increased three-fold since 1921, in order to accommodate the students of the University to whom the studio caters especially. Over a thousand pictures have been made by them for the 1924 Badger.

In June 1921 F. W. Mold and S. G. Liesman bought the old Goff studio, and later in August 1922, Mr. Liesman bought out Mr. Mold's interest. The studio has since been known as the Badger studio.

The new studio has an attractively furnished waiting-room, two dressing rooms, an office, and four work rooms. The large operating-room is equipped with five Cooper-Hewitt tubes and twenty 200 watt nitrogen lights to be used on cloudy days, when the large sky-light is unable to furnish sufficient light.

Norwegian Ship Model Is Given To Museum

A model of an ocean going Norwegian sailing vessel has been added to the collection of former boat types at the state historical museum by Nels Johnson. The model was made by J. J. Olauson, who spent the spare time of five years to build the vessel. The ship is made on a scale of six feet to the inch, is perfect to the minutest detail and is 38 inches over all.

SUPERIOR—Heart failure caused the sudden deaths of two local men on Wednesday. Robert Dixon, 53 years old, was found dead in his bed, and Nelson Williams, also 53, dropped dead in a poolroom.

These College Lads May Draw Big League Spotlight Later On

That the big league clubs, already supplied with more new material than they have had for many years, are continuing their search for more new stock is indicated by the way the scouts are signing up college stars for tryouts within the next few weeks or at the close of the college year. Two members of the University of Illinois nine have already been signed and five others

INFORMAL DANCE OF GUARD HELD IN LATHROP GYM

The President's Guard held their spring informal dance at Lathrop concert room last night.

Eye openers and slight of hand magics by Rudolph Teshan '25 and songs by Shorty Walstead '25 were features of the party.

Decorations were of draped flags and artillery arrangements set off by various colored flood lights.

Lieut. and Mrs. E. M. Sutherland and Capt. and Mrs. J. A. Ballard were chaperons.

The president's guard this year is considered the best in the history of the organization. It is composed of 100 men and three officers. New distinguishing insignia recently has been chosen.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

FANS TURN TO MAROON, BADGER CLASH TONIGHT

Teams Are Evenly Matched

GAMES TONIGHT
Wisconsin at Chicago.
Indiana at Minnesota.
Purdue at Northwestern.

Eyes of the basketball world are turned towards Chicago where the Maroons and Wisconsin clash in a near-championship tilt tonight.

The Badgers stand or fall with the results of the battle. If they win, they approach a tie for the Big Ten basketball championship. If they lose, they are relegated to the list of "also rans".

Iowa leads the title chase with 11 victories, 1 loss, and a completed schedule. Wisconsin must beat Chicago tonight and Indiana on Monday night if it is to challenge Hawkeye supremacy.

Teams in Good Shape

A team which is in the best of shape left for Chicago yesterday afternoon. Realizing the importance of their ante-finals tilt, the Badgers have been developed to as high a pitch as they reached in the Michigan game here.

The Maroons are also in tip-top condition, reports from their camp say. They have improved greatly in recent contests and are now at the top of their game. Barnes has leaned ahead in scoring until he now leads the Conference. Dickson is close behind, and Capt. Yerdley is playing a strong floor game.

Chicago Has Smashing Style

Chicago has a smashing, crashing style of play and the Badgers will be lucky if they pull out of the Maroon strongholds without several cripples.

A possibility exists that many personal fouls will be called on the players, and in that case, both Les Gage and Capt. Tebelle will need to super-accurate in their free throws. Barnes is sure to take care of the Chicago free throws. He tossed in 16 out of 17 tries against Purdue last week.

Purdue Meets Purple

Coach Meanwell will probably start his regular line-up with Gage and Spooner, forward, Gibson, center, Tebelle and Williams guards.

Two other Big Ten games will be played tonight. Purdue's in and out team meets Northwestern at Evanston, and Indiana travels to Minneapolis for a game with the Gophers.

The Hoosiers will be having an easy time of it with their Minnesota opponents while Wisconsin will have to exert every effort to win at Chicago.

BADGER TRACK MEN HOPE FOR DRAKE VICTORIES

Wisconsin hopes to carry off the honors in the middle distance events at the fourteenth annual Drake university relay meet, scheduled for April 27 and 28. Results of the Iowa meet have caused Wisconsin to be a big factor for the Drake meet. Donahue and Platten are two high jumpers who will be hard to compete against.

Knute Rockne of Notre Dame will have one of the largest delegations. Lieb, the present holder of the Drake discus throw record of 133 ft. 4 in., will be entered for the relay carnival. Lieb suffered a broken leg in football last fall, but he is now in good condition for the events at Des Moines.

The University of Florida and Leland Stanford university are listed among this year's large entries.

Michigan has one of the best track squads in years and will make a strong bid for honors. Coach Steve Farrell is training Hubbard, broad jumper, and Landowski, pole vaulter, for the special events.

Iowa's one mile relay team which walked away with the trophies at the recent indoor meet of the Kansas City Athletic club, intends to make new records at the Drake relay.

FOOTBALL MEN HEAR NEW COACH GIVE HIS IDEAS

Jack Ryan, newly appointed football coach of the University of Wisconsin, yesterday met about 40 men of the football squad in the Trophy room of the gymnasium. Coach Ryan in a short talk to the men gave them a statement concerning his ideas in coaching a football team.

Tom Jones in introducing Mr. Ryan spoke of him as a man of great strength of purpose, of pleasing personality and an abundance of football experience that ably fits him to act as the head Badger coach. He expressed satisfaction that Mr. Ryan had received the appointment.

In his talk to the men Mr. Ryan expressed the desire to start spring practice immediately, stressing the necessity of doing a great deal of work in the spring as a preliminary conditioning of the men for the fall work. He especially pointed out the need of the working together of all the men in learning the fundamentals of the game.

Coach Ryan intends to start practice in about ten days and he urges that all men who are not engaged in other university activity be out. Before the spring vacation the coach intends to take up the fundamentals of the game and as soon after the vacation period as possible he will have suits issued to the men and will begin outdoor work.

Captain Marty Below in a few words to the men also urged that they all get out and get in a few good licks before the summer months. He will be out himself at the expense of a career on the baseball diamond.

"It gives me great pleasure in being appointed coach of the University of Wisconsin," Mr. Ryan said yesterday. "I assure you that I will put forth all effort that is possible in producing a team that you will be proud to have played on, and that will be a credit to the school."

FROSH OUTSTRIP UPPER CLASSMEN IN SWIM MEET

The freshmen completely swamped the sophomores and the upperclassmen in the inter-class swimming meet held at the gym Thursday night.

The purpose of the meet was to discover varsity material and to see what the frosh could do in action.

The frosh-soph relay was easily taken by the frosh. The yearlings also won in the plunges. The record plunge was made by John H. Ray '26, 60 ft. in 43 3-5 seconds. W. K. Marley '25 took second place with a plunge of 58 1/2 feet.

Few upper classmen competed in the other events and the freshmen had no difficulty in piling up points.

WISCONSIN WINS TANK MEET AT CHICAGO 40 TO 28

Bennett Shows Old Form

(Special to The Cardinal)

CHICAGO, Ill., March 10—Wisconsin outclassed the University of Chicago tank team here last night, winning the dual meet at Bartlett Gym pool, 40 to 28. Five firsts, two of which were won by Captain Johnny Bennett, piled up a lead that the Maroons never threatened.

Bennett overcame a lead in the relay to beat out young Dany Protheroe for the event. His work in the 40 and 100 dashes showed he has regained his 1922 form.

Czerwonky was a half length ahead in the breast stroke, while Ellicott ran away with the back stroke event.

For Chicago, Protheroe was the star. The little fellow was an easy winner of the 220 swim.

Wisconsin was beaten by the Maroon water basketball team 10 to 0. The midway water-hogs completely outdid the Badgers in handling the ball.

BOOSTING TRACK BY STAGING IT

Spirited effort is being made to secure the band to play at the dual track meet with Notre Dame at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Nothing will contribute so much to the success of that meet,—the only home indoor meet this year,—as the presence of the band.

Track until recently has been a disconcerting affair to the uninitiated spectator,—an affair straggled out over the entire afternoon and seemingly having no particular beginning or end. It has just happened,—like a three ring circus which no one is able to follow, which reaches no high spots, and which you have to read about the next day to find out what took place.

Track could be a sport just as thrilling and just as interesting as basketball or football if it were staged as are basketball and football. The necessary elements of competition are present; there is sheer joy in seeing the finesse with which a runner uses his legs,—and his head,—to oustrip his opponent.

But the thing has to be staged. How much better a person knows what happens in a one act play than what happens in a three ring circus! Other Conference universities have learned the secret of what dramatic effect counts for in track and as a result they have thousands present at their meets.

Iowa brings forth its band, centers attention on the crucial events of the meet, intensifies cheering to apply where it is needed, keeps the crowd informed of the winnings and losings,—stages its track meet. And Iowa draws 1,500 people to the match. Illinois get 5,000.

Obtaining the band for track meets here will be the first big step in injecting dramatic effect into those meets and ultimately in bringing Wisconsin more in the lime-light as a winning track school.

The runners know what it means to have the encouragement of the band and of the persons which the band will draw to the meet. Particularly the young runners need that encouragement.

Virtually half the team that went to Iowa was composed of sophomores. Wisconsin has the best prospects in years for developing a championship team out of those men. Wisconsin cannot afford to deprive them of any means which will make them better runners and better winners.

COLLEGE FRIENDSHIPS

Of the vast number of acquaintances formed by college students, how few become friends!

Together for a semester in the same class, attracted toward one another by a similarity of ideas, by mutual interests, and a keen appreciation of each other, and yet when the semester draws to a close, they separate and their budding friendship comes to an end.

Perhaps they meet again; perhaps they do not. Perhaps efforts are made to continue the intimacy, but even so, those efforts soon cease. Each goes his way feeling a sense of loss and regret, wishing that it were not so, taking with him the few benefits derived from short acquaintance and leaving behind the great values to be obtained from true friendships.

Beyond a small coterie of constantly changing personnel, there can be no true circle of friends. They come and go, each contributing his little and receiving in turn some small benefit. And it is from this circle that the individual must glean his more intimate knowledge of men which he, social creature that he is, must have to most fully and completely enjoy life.

SUNDAY HORRORS

Were the "horrors" of Sunday at the University of Illinois extant here, we wonder whether rebellion or jubilation would result.

All movie houses, places of amusement, dance halls, and pool halls are shut tight on Sunday in the twin cities where repose the Illini campus. Galavanting is taboo simply because there isn't any place to galavant. The cornfields circumjacent to Champaign don't offer the diversion and the back-to-nature impetus that comes with the lakes, woods, and hills of the Madison country.

And so 9,000 or more students twiddle their thumbs or book leaves through Illinois' day of rest. The alternative is to go to church. At 10 o'clock chimes in the library ring out to awake the habitual morning lethargist, notifying him that the Sabbath day has dawned. Perhaps he arises and reads the Sunday paper and perhaps he doesn't. In any case the whole situation is so circumvented by nature and rule, that nothing detracts from the supposed business of the day,—resting and going to church.

How immediate and how puissant would be the cry for free action, toleration, and even free speech were the physical surroundings and the restrictions of Champaign transported to Madison!

Again, how exuberant would be some who have longed for the time when the Sabbath should not be shadowed by extra-religious activity!

How interesting, how intriguing would be the reactions of our ever surprising ever wonderful community! It would be almost worth advocating the transformation to watch the turbulent outcome.

Editors Say—

ENLIGHTENED OKLAHOMA

(Michigan Daily)

About a year ago the legislature of Kentucky created a great stir throughout the nation by its attention to a bill providing for the abolition of the teaching of the doctrines of evolution in the state. Considerable indignation was aroused, communications filled the mails, editorials swamped the newspapers, and the Kentucky legislature finally decided that the theory of evolution might not be such a bad thing after all. At any rate it was allowed to maintain its freedom in Kentucky.

Now, a year later, Oklahoma has heard vague whisperings about evolution and the lower house of its legislature has passed a bill forbidding the purchase of books or copyrights dealing with the theory of evolution. There was only one dissenting vote. Only one man was willing to get up and admit that perhaps he might have descended from a monkey.

Fortunately Oklahoma is not a large state, or one which is particularly noted for its advanced thinking, and even if the bill is fully enacted in the legislature other states will look upon the action as one to be expected rather than one to be followed by similar action in other legislatures. The United States as a whole is enlightened enough so that the states which exert the greatest influence in the nation do not wish to blind themselves to the findings of modern knowledge and to scientific facts.

Although the action of Oklahoma's lower house is an insult to the intelligence of the nation as a whole, still there is a hope that the upper house will be sufficiently higher both in station and intellect to step heavily on the bill forbidding the purchase of books or copyrights dealing with evolution when it is brought up for passage.

But, the statement is made, the state university is no place to install a system for training men to be warriors! Then where under the sun shall we look for leaders in time of national emergency? If we are to trust our men to leaders who are responsible, is it not logical to suppose that the institution of highest learning can furnish the best leaders? One would think it a shame to mention military arms and the revered Plato in the same breath. It would be very enlightening to witness the results that a genius in the arts would achieve with a bunch of rookies.

But why should we optimistically hope for anything different in the future from what it has been in the past? Every war has seen the country unprepared. Millions of men have been sent to death, because a few legislators hugged "the delusive phantom of hope" that there would be no more war. But war has continued, and no one will venture to predict that the millennium has yet come. No one wants war; but as long as the causes are not removed, the results will not be changed, and the person who is too proud, or negligent, to offer what little he can to keep the enemy from our shores when he comes, is as much a traitor as the

MINNESOTA AG DEAN SPEAKS TO STOCK MEN

Dean W. C. Coffey, head of the Minnesota College of Agriculture, addressed 180 agricultural students and members of the Agricultural faculty gathered at the Saddle and Sirloin banquet Thursday evening. Doh Brace '23 prepared the menu called Brace's feeding trial. A prime university steer furnished choice meat for the revel of the husbandmen.

Dean Russell and several members of the animal husbandry faculty talked previous to Dean Coffey's address. Coffey voiced his appreciation for the great work that the animal husbandry men at Wisconsin have done and spoke at length on the influence of the raising of livestock in America.

"Go into a community where livestock is a leading industry and you will find a live community."

Coffey. He stated that animals were the greatest crop on the farm of America and that the love which man had for animals led men into the animal husbandry industry.

"Rubeville", a musical offering of classic and jazz tunes, dancing and song, and the three Romanos Sisters, Spanish dancers, share the honors on this week-end bill at the Orpheum theater. The scene of rural mirth and melody is the occasion for the appearance in Madison of Felix Rush in an old time, by heck rube character.

One act plays are favorites at the local Orpheum house. "The Tale of a Shirt", a novelty plot and presentation, brings Erwin and Jane Connally here again. The story of their new sketch is an unusual one.

Comedy mingles with a tinge of sadness when Stanley Chapman produces a "crying jag" and with other individual methods of fun making wins a hearty applause.

Dances as they are done in Sunny Spain are introduced by the three Romanos Sisters, dancing beauties, experts with the castanet. Songs in Italian, French, German, Hebrew and English comprise the novel offering of Rose O'Hare, an attractive girl with a beautiful voice. "The Laugh Cure", by Eddie Caffney and Tess Walton, dig up all the amusement ingredients necessary for laughs.

Who's This Man Douglas?

One of the most popular, progressive, original, resourceful men in the American pulpit today.

Michigan University students over-crowded his church Sunday after Sunday while he was pastor in Ann Arbor.

His message is one of special interest to young men and young women. Douglas is a virile thinker. He expresses himself in his own inimitable way. He's a man you'll not forget.

NEWSGene O'Brien
Appears Here
in New Play

The appearance of Eugene O'Brien in a new play, "Steve", is announced by the Parkway for March 20. Eugene O'Brien is well known as a leading man in the movie world. He is a veteran on the stage, however, and his appearance here will be watched with interest.

Students desiring seats for the Kreisler concert on March 19 are advised that the seat sale is practically ended.

Fritz Kreisler, one of the leading artists of the violin, experienced an interesting dilemma after the World War when he appeared in concerts in the United States. Because of his Austrian war relations, he was severely criticized and "boycotted" by many American Legion posts.

Kreisler is welcomed now, however, by all American music lovers. Tolerance and love for music has triumphed over war prejudice. Kreisler's appearance here this spring is the first one for many years.

Critic is Pleased With Gloria's New Film at Madison

By R. B. S.

When we entered the imposing portals of our newest and most elegant city institution, The Madison theater, we must confess that we bore with us no few qualms as to our ability to review Gloria Swanson in her latest vehicle, "My American Wife."

This uneasiness was due to an uncontrollable habit of ours of going into any production in which Gloria has the throne and proceeding to be "just tickled pink" and enjoy every minute with a perpetual grin, which we also enjoy until the end of the show when we come down to earth and think how foolish we must have looked during the last hour and a half.

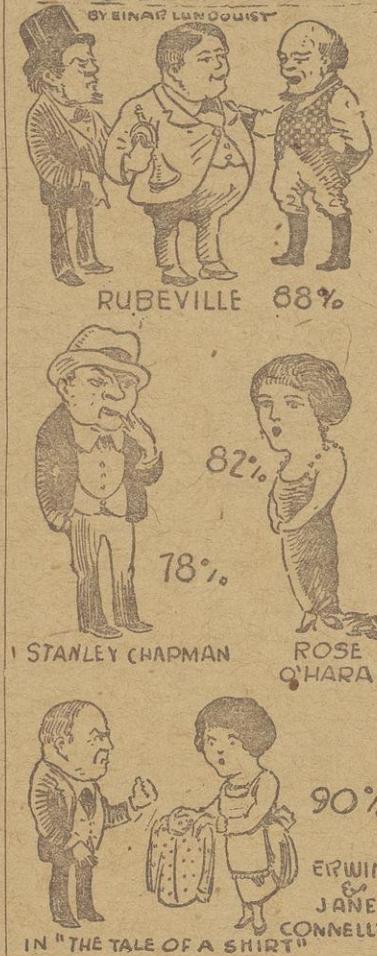

So last night we put on our most severe and critic-like attitude and entered, determined not to let the seductive Miss Swanson inveigle us into any compliments unless she really had a perfect-plus play to back her up.

Well, here we are, the show's over and we haven't had such a good time at the movies in weeks. But we couldn't tell you now whether the play had much to do with our enjoyment. This we do know. It was great. You ask us why?

In the first place beside our weakness for Gloria we have a very similar one for "The Paris of South America." The thought of it always makes us see its glittering and cosmopolitan social and diplomatic whirl, its beautiful women, its unusual and imposing architecture and besides we feel carried along by its captivating and impulsive manner of living.

"My American Wife" more than satisfied us in every one of these points. Even if it was just out in Hollywood all the time, who cares,

Film Cost in
'Knighthood'

By CHATTY

One of the most stupendous motion pictures yet heralded for Madison audiences is forecasted in the showing here of Marion Davies in "When Knighthood Was in Flower."

When a director employs more than 3,000 actors for a mere movie we are certain that he is either a millionaire with a disposition for spendthrift, a fool or else a genius.

The thrills promised for this picture are so many we can only relate them as they were told to us. (Use your own judgment!).

Ancient armor from famous European collections.

Thirty-three cavalry horses. Approximately 3,000 Tudor period costumes were used in one scene.

And then there's the delightful, charming Marion.

We wait anxiously to see her. Thank you!

they got by with it with us, and we got to South America whether any of the actors did or not.

But at the bottom of all his we probably will have to confess that Gloria was more gorgeous than ever before.

The ending of the play might be said to be a too much of a good thing, sort of rah rah stuff and some flag waving and "all that rot" you know, but we are positive that if there had been a flag within hailing distance we would have been the first to wave it.

NEWLIN GOES TO BUILDING MEET

Head of Timber Mechanics at Forest Products Lab is in Washington

John A. Newlin, in charge of timber mechanics, Forest Products laboratory, has left Madison for Washington, D. C. to attend a meeting of the building code committee of the department of commerce Friday.

Mr. Newlin is the only man in the government service on this committee. The committee has issued recently a bulletin, "Recommended Minimum Requirements for Small Dwelling Construction." This pamphlet has been given wide circulation. It is believed that the committee will soon enter upon an extensive study of larger building requirements.

The committee was formed after it was learned from dependable statistics that the shortage of homes in the United States was 1,200,000. It was apparent that if building regulations could be so modified and standardized as to effect even a small saving on each efficiency or permanency a large total economy would result.

Further investigations showed also that many of the buildings erected where there were no building regulations or no means to enforce existing regulations were of such low-grade construction that much of the money invested in new homes was wasted.

Boy Defies Death By Crossing Niagara Bridge

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y.—Lea Castle, 18, Alberta, Canada, made a spectacular attempt to get into the U. S. today by running across the lower girders of the Michigan central international bridge which spans the gorge over the lower rapids, near the whirlpool. He was captured by immigration authorities and sent back to Canada. Castle climbed to the girders of the bridge at the Canadian side. Starting across the narrow steel framework where only the most experienced bridgemen traveled and then with great caution, Castle, apparently indifferent to the fact that there was but a foot of security between him and eternity—the swirling rapids 200 feet below—literally ran across.

LIBRARY HOLDS TERCENTENARY FOLIO EXHIBIT

An exhibit of rare and valuable editions and prints will be put on in the Historical library for the commemoration of the tercentenary of the printing of the first folio of Shakespeare's works which occurs on April 23. The prints will be of the neighborhood of Shakespeare's home, of himself, and of many of his friends and associates.

The University library contains many rare editions of Shakespeare's works, and these also will be shown. There will probably be a program at which Charles D. Stewart of Pike Lake, Wisconsin, will be the principle speaker. He is one of the greatest living authorities on Shakespeare, and the manuscript of his book on Shakespeare will be one of those on exhibit.
