HOLD FRESHMAN BANQUET TONIGHT IN "Y" PARLORS

Students Will Meet C. V. Hibbard '00, New Secretary

Continuing its entertainment of incoming students, the Y. M. C. A. yesterday evening held its second mixer. Tonight's event is the annual freshman banquet, which is expected to accommodate a greater number of freshmen than ever before.

Coach John Ryan will say a few words on football at tonight's banquet, and Prof. Carl Russell Fish will dispense his proverbial advice to the new students. "Shorty" Walsted '25, will be there to handle the cheers and songs.

Hall Presides
Prof. A. B. Hall, as toastmaster, will introduce Wes Dunlap, '25, Clifford Franseen, '25, and Ellis Fulton, '25. Seating according to geographical status will lend a touch of the novel to the occasion.

C. V. Hibbard, the new secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will be formally presented to the students. In speaking of the banquet, Mr. Hibbard said, "It will be the first good opportunity for freshmen to get acquainted with the students generally, and this will give them an opportunity to meet a number of professors and officers of the Y. M. C. A. I want them to meet just as many of the men as I can."

Mr. Hibbard, a graduate of Wisconsin in 1900, has been active in Y. M. C. A. work not only in this country, but in Europe. During the Russo-Japanese war, he led the association service with the Japanese army. In 1914, he was put in charge of all American Y. M. C. A. work for the allied armies and prisoners of war in Europe.

LIST TRADITIONS FOR 1928 CLASS

Six Customs Have Grown Up That Freshmen Should Respect

Traditions which have grown up at Wisconsin and which will be handed down to the class of 1928 this year are for the most part voluntary with the freshmen.

1. No freshman shall wear a stiff hat or carry a cane without adequate excuse. This regulation formerly applied from registration to Thanksgiving and from Easter to Varsity Night.

This year the wearing of the green cap by the new students will depend upon their loyalty to their class, their college and their university; all three are represented in the symbolization of the cap. This is one of the first ways in which the freshmen may show their fidelity to Wisconsin.

2. Freshmen are not to sit or loiter upon the upper campus nor its walks, on the steps of the Historical library, Bascom hall, Engineering building, Law building, Biology building, Science hall, North or South halls.

3. No freshman shall lean or sit on the railing in front of the gymnasium.

4. High school letters, numerals, rings or insignia shall not be worn on the campus.

5. No freshman shall smoke on the campus.

6. Respect and politeness shall be shown to upperclassmen.

Varsity Night became a tradition in 1922. The interfraternity sing and the award of W's took place at Varsity Night last year. After this, the president of the freshman class lighted the bonfire.

Honest Students Pay 23 Cents For Free Cardinals

Twenty-three cents found their way into the coffers of the Daily Cardinal business office yesterday after lying about the campus unmolested by the thousands who walked past the points of distribution.

Evidently the caption "free copy" was not enough of an inducement.

If the purchasers will call at the business office, 752 Langdon street, today and identify the coins, the money will be refunded cheerfully, and a complimentary copy of this issue thrown in for good measure.

COMMITTEE PLANS "FATHERS' DAY"

Students and Faculty to Co-operate in Bringing Parents Oct. 18

An all-university "Father's Day" during the week of Oct. 18, the week of the Minnesota football game, started toward realization yesterday, when the plans of a university committee arranging Wisconsin's first annual "Father's Day" were nearly completed.

The plan to have as many fathers of students as possible come to spend a week-end has now taken definite form in the appointment by President Birge of a committee of faculty members and of students, to make arrangements for what it is hoped will result in an annual get-together of fathers at the university.

The members of the faculty on the committee are: Dr. H. C. Bradley, chairman; and Professors C. K. Leith, Max Mason, Thomas Lloyd Jones, and J. F. A. Pyre. The students on the committee include: John L. Bergstresser '25, chairman; Eugene Tuhtar '25, Marshall Diebold '25, Elliot Sharp '25, Lester Kissel '25, Clifford Franseen '25, and Ellis Fulton '25.

The tentative plans include a program extending from Friday afternoon through Saturday evening, with an opportunity during Saturday morning for fathers not only to visit classes in session but to meet professors in their offices. A special section will be reserved at the Minnesota-Wisconsin game, where fathers and sons can cheer together. A large banquet Saturday evening will climax the event.

Further announcement of plans for inviting the fathers of all students to the university, for the securing of tickets to the game and banquet, and the program for the entertainment of the fathers during their visit to the university, will be made following further meetings of the committees during the next few days.

OCTOPUS STAFF PLANS WORK FOR SIXTH YEAR

Plans for the sixth year of its life as the university humor publication were made for Octopus at a meeting of the staff members Tuesday afternoon.

Gordon Lewis, '25 editor, outlined his policies to the editorial staff and Mike Stiver talked to the prospective artists. Style books were given to staff members for the first time in the history of Octopus.

October 1 has been set as the deadline for copy for the first issue, which will be out on October 15.

Three loving cups will be awarded at the end of the year for the best short joke, verse, and playlette or short story, while two will be given for the best pieces of art.

The judges will be O. D. Brandenburg, the editor, and a faculty member.

EDITORIAL STAFF

There will be a meeting of the entire editorial staff of the Daily Cardinal in the editorial rooms of the Union building on Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. All members are urged to be present, as well as any other people who are anxious to try out for the staff.

Pi Beta Phi and Alpha Kappa Lambda Lead in Hill Standings

Triangle and Sigma Kappa Rank Second; Farm House, G. A. E. Are First

Alpha Kappa Lambda again leads all the social fraternities in scholastic averages, while Triangle, which changed from professional engineering to social since the last list was compiled, holds second place. Farm House holds its leadership among professionals, with Phi Chi second.

Pi Beta Phi leads the sororities, with an even higher standing than last semester, and Sigma Kappa advanced into second place. Of the two professional sororities Gamma Alpha Epsilon leads, Barnard Hall leads the three dormitories on the campus.

Chi Phi Pledges First

Among the pledges Chi Phi is first and Triangle second, with Beta Phi Sigma first and Phi Chi second in the professional group. The pledges of Kappa Alpha Theta are first, and of Alpha Delta Pi second.

Professional fraternities again rank somewhat higher than social, and non-fraternity men higher than fraternity men, but sorority women seem to have a slight edge over the non-sorority members.

Women Beat Men

The status of co-eds again shows a margin in favor of the women, all classes of whom show a higher scholarship standing than the corresponding class of men. The average of students in the College of Agriculture leads the list, with the College of Letters and Science second.

The numerical report issued by the office of the dean follows:

SOCIAL FRATERNITIES

Active Members

| Rank | Average |
|-----------------------|---------|
| 1. Alpha Kappa Lambda | 1.927 |
| 2. Triangle | 1.672 |
| 3. Phi Pi Phi | 1.648 |
| 4. Theta Xi | 1.630 |
| 5. Chi Phi | 1.554 |

A. X. P. Takes Man Off Feet in First Aerial Pledging

Collegiate fraternity rushing for the first time in history literally took a man off his feet in pledging him when members of Phi Omicron chapter of Alpha Chi Rho placed a pin on one of its rushees half a mile in the air between the blue sky and the green water of Lake Mendota.

Allen Peterson '28, Milwaukee, accompanied by Hawley Cahill '25 after awaiting their turn on the shore in front of the Beta house, where the principle factor in the latest college outdoor sport is parked, climbed aboard over an improvised gang plank and blew off. Spectators heard Cahill speak to the pilot, acquainting him with the purpose of the trip.

"I'm going to pledge a man to a fraternity," he yelled, being unable to judge the pitch of his voice because of the mufflers on his ears. "I want you to cut off the engine for a minute while we're up there. Now A1—," and his voice was drowned in the roar of the engine as the throttle was opened and the ship taxied around the D. U. pier and pointed down the lake.

When the flight was finished and the hydroplane dropped to the water again the entire chapter was at the edge of the lake waiting for the signal that the trip had been successful. The word was passed before the boat was within speaking distance. The work was accomplished and the Alpha Chi's had another pledge.

Fallows House is Opened as Annex to Barnard Hall

The Fallows house, a new co-operative house at 921 University avenue opened this fall as an annex for the overflow of Barnard. The house was named in honor of the late Bishop Fallows.

A two-year lease has been obtained from Mrs. H. B. Burton, by the Barnard corporation which pays all expenses exceeding those of general maintenance.

Twelve girls chaperoned by Mrs. Mabel Lacy, in charge of speech at the public schools in Madison, comprise the occupants. Meals are served three times a day to about 20 girls. A dishwasher, cook and janitor will be regularly employed.

REGENTS CREATE NEW GRAD OFFICE

Recorder Will Keep in Touch With All University Alumni

How the university can keep in vital contact with every one of the 40,000 alumni and former students was recently solved by the board of regents with the creation of the office of university recorder, which yesterday was located in quarters on the first floor of the old Clinic building.

The task of this office will be: First, to keep up to date the addresses of more than 17,000 graduates, to secure addresses for 20,000 former students, and keep them on file by colleges, by geographical locations, by occupations, and alphabetically, and to have all these addresses in such form that mailings to any group can be swiftly and conveniently made when any occasion arises.

Secondly, to prepare a folder for each alumnus and former student, in which will be kept a complete summary of the career of that student, clippings concerning him, and every item of information that can be secured.

The success of this will depend on the cooperation of every one interested in the promotion of the university, upon information furnished by heads of departments, by fraternities and sororities, and by local alumni associations.

Other Big Ten universities, among them Michigan and Illinois, have kept records of all graduates.

"The office of recorder is not intended to supplant the work of the alumni secretary's office," said J. D. Phillips, business manager of the university, in commenting upon the innovation, "but rather to extend it beyond the limits of the membership of the Alumni association to which it has heretofore been largely restricted because of lack of adequate funds."

The work of the new office is being rapidly organized under the direction of John Dollard '22, recorder, and Porter F. Butts '24, assistant recorder, who were appointed at the July meeting of the regents. Working quarters are located in the old Clinic building until the construction of the Memorial Union building makes other quarters available.

M. C. FIELD '21 MADE ASSISTANT TO GILMAN

Morse C. Field '21 has been appointed assistant to Prof. Stephen Gilman in business law. Mr. Field is a graduate of Harvard law school and is a member of the Wisconsin bar.

BUSINESS STAFF

All appointed members of the Daily Cardinal business staff and all new students who wish to try out for positions on the staff will report to the business manager in his office in the Union building today.

VARSITY WELCOME COMMITTEE SETS PLANS FOR EVENT

Guard of Blondes and Brunettes to Head Line of March

Plans for the annual Varsity Welcome to be held at 11 o'clock Friday morning on upper campus are rapidly nearing completion, according to Prof. Julius Olson, who, with representative members of the student body, is working to make this welcome the most enthusiastic in the history of Wisconsin.

Members of Keystone and of Union board are serving on the committee. The women are Alice Corl, '25, Hazel Weingardt, '25, Mary Hussong, '25, Janet Hull, '26, and Mary Biehuse, '26.

The men on the committee are Lester Kissel, '25, Gene Tuhtar, '25, Wes Dunlap, '25, Leonard Wilbert, '25, John Bergstresser, '25, Walter Taintor, '26, Fred Gustorf, '25, and George Walsted, '25.

Guard Meets Freshmen

According to the line of march, the freshmen will form at the foot of the upper campus in front of Music hall. The sophomores will meet on the walk in front of the Engineering building and form by twos, the women leading and headed down the hill. The juniors will gather in front of the Law building and march in twos down the hill. The seniors, graduates, and law students will form by twos in front of Biology building.

When the University band begins to play at Lincoln terrace, the classes will start to march. They will be headed by the guard in white to be composed of 26 women, 13 blondes and 13 brunettes, dressed in white, who will march down from Lincoln terrace to meet the freshmen as they approach the terrace, then take their positions on the stone bench behind Lincoln monument.

Corp Directs March

The senior group will march to Bascom hall and pass through the central arch of the entrance, divide and pass down the hill in twos on either side of the campus. On reaching the bottom of the hill they will form in fours behind the freshmen. The sophomores and juniors will enter the line of march in a weaving formation from either side.

Prof. C. I. Corp and his assistants will direct the line of march to the terrace. File leaders will be given definite instructions at a committee meeting at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon in 109 Bascom hall.

Students who do not have 10 o'clock classes are urged to be in place at 10:50 o'clock so that the work of forming may begin. The rest are requested to be in their places promptly at 11 o'clock.

The preliminary pageant of the classes is timed to occupy 20 minutes of the program.

REGISTRATION IS EARLY THIS YEAR

Lines Formed By Students in Spite of Increased Facilities

Early and heavy registration has made this fall a remarkable one at Wisconsin. Official records are not available as yet, but the big crowds in all registration rooms since the first day has made the foregoing an apparent fact.

Previous years have seen two or three lonely students on the university streets, and in the Latin quarter the week before registration.

This year students came back much earlier than usual, even a week before the opening of school, and the early registration lines were nearly as long as those that greeted students this morning.

With the increased enrollment new devices are adopted for separating various classes of students and sending them through as many different rooms as possible, to avoid congestion and long waits in line; but even with all the machinery at the disposal of the registrar the making out of 7,500 schedules and the collection of 7,500 fees is certain to involve some delays.

NURSES' SCHOOL NOW ORGANIZED

Three and Five Year Courses Will Be Given in Medical School

Training for nursing as well as academic college work will be offered to women in the new school of nursing which has just been organized in connection with the Medical school of the university.

Two courses, one of three years and one of five years, will be given under the direction of Miss Helen I. Denne, director of the school. In the three-year course, students will take one semester of regular work in the College of Letters and Science, and then will take 32 months of work in the school of nursing. Graduates receive a B.S. degree and a certificate of graduate nurse. Three years of regular college work in Letters and Science or home economics are required for the five-year course.

Twelve students have enrolled in the short course and eight in the long course. More entrants are expected this week.

This is the only university school of nursing which requires academic work along with the training for nursing. Yale University and Western Reserve in Cleveland, have the only college training courses which are separate departments. In other universities the training schools are under the direction of the medical schools.

Miss Denne, who is director of the course and head of the nurses of the Wisconsin General hospital, received her A.B. degree from Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario, and her nurse's training at the Presbyterian hospital, Chicago. Miss Lila Fletcher, assistant superintendent of nurses, received her training at the same hospital.

COLUMBUS, Ohio—Seventy nine members of the Ohio State university faculty. Representing forty-four different fields of learning and activity are included in the list of distinguished men and women in the new Who's Who.

Enlarged Timetable Includes Regulations of Green Book

A brown antique cover measuring 9x12 inches that can be rolled, folded or carried flat, enclosing 72 pages of information including a table of contents, with index, the calendar, exam schedule, university curriculum, and regulations for the guidance of under-graduate students makes the 1924 time-table both valuable and serviceable.

No longer will the campus be strewn with bits of the old-fashioned calendar time table that scarcely stood an hour's thumbing by an ambitious student. No longer need the student search through catalogues, booklets, and pamphlets for information he cannot find.

The advisory system, grade points, extra curricular activities, social life, physical education, military training, requirements for degrees, and the election of studies are all amply given in this handy little book.

The first five pages contain a complete table of contents with index, the yearly calendar with the dates for the removal of conditions asterisked, the administrative officers and their offices, and the examination schedule.

A page of general information explaining course numbers, prerequisites, credits, freshman courses, and notes immediately precedes the curriculum which occupies the space from pages 7 to 52. The regulations for guidance of undergraduates occupies the last 19 pages. The last pages shows two samples of the upperclass card.

TEACH ARITHMETIC IN NEW MANNER

"Two-plus-two" will be taught in a new way to the youngsters in the grade schools, according to the plans of Prof. Frank L. Clapp of the School of Education, who is making an intensive study of educational problems in arithmetic through the Bureau of Educational Research recently established at the university.

Standardized drills are being made so that pupils may improve their skill in computing, and so that the teachers may judge the relative ability of each pupil.

One book of drill studies is to be prepared for each of the five upper grades and they will be published in the fall by Silver, Burdette and company.

OUT AT RANDALLRegulars Gain Often But Fail

Power

The varsity put on a regular sham battle yesterday afternoon, with a kickoff and most of the appurtenances of an actual combat, as the conclusion to what was probably the hardest workout of the season to date.

A faint foreshadowing of an offense was uncovered, with passes and off-tackle drives featuring the play, but as yet any attack that could be employed would be sketchy and far from complete.

The regulars were given possession of the ball and at times registered material gains against the defensive eleven, but failed on the whole to display any great driving power. McAndrews and Doyle Harmon used their speed to advance on one or two occasions, but at other times were thrown for a loss.

The backfield is still unsettled, and Coach Ryan used his entire stock of reserves, without, however, uncovering any one with more than ordinary ability. Stangel and Leo Harmon operated from the fullback position, but neither showed anything like the dash and drive that characterized Taft's play last season.

SECRET PRACTICE

From now on including, this afternoon, football practice will be strictly private, according to Coach Jack Ryan, and students are requested to cooperate with the coach's wishes in order that it will not be necessary to maintain a large force of guards.

That is one of the biggest problems confronting the coach at present—to find a man to fill Taft's shoes. Several men tried their hands at punting, and the coach spent some time working on drop and place kicking. Marty Below demonstrated the various phases of kicking, but his successor is still undetermined.

The defensive eleven got possession of the pigskin several times and once advanced a third the length of the field on two successive passes. When it came to hitting the line they were checked short and had to kick, but the regulars showed little understanding of a defense against passes.

Squad To Be Cut

Coach Ryan drove the men hard during the early afternoon and had rings of huskies hitting the dummy and shoving the bucking ram all over the lot. He seems especially anxious to perfect his ends in grabbing in passes, and worked a full half hour sending wing men after the ball.

Varsity uniforms will be issued within a few days, but the squad will not be cut until after the North Dakota game, and the number dropped will depend entirely on the showing made by aspirants. The all-Americans will be organized next week and will start scrimmaging the varsity soon thereafter, using their own offensive formations for a time.

Fight for Guard

End and tackle positions are pressing the coaching staff a lot, and Coach Lowman had at least fifteen men working on blocking and other rudimentary details of the position.

A merry fight is being waged for right guard. Miller seems to have the edge at present, but is having a rough time keeping it clear from Spek, McCormick, and Houked. McCormick, playing on the defensive for the greater part of the entire scrimmage, broke through to throw his man for a loss several times.

The squad is slated for two more rough days, tapering off Friday with a light workout and skull practice, in preparation for the tilt Saturday.

New Kickoff Rules Prevent
Serious Gridiron SituationsNEW FLOOR LAID ON BASKET COURT

Another old landmark has fallen before the march of progress—yes, a new floor has been laid on the basketball court of the gym. A new ruling to the effect that all the players must be in view of spectators and officials all the time necessitated this drastic step, and from now on rooters will not be subjected to the discomfort of searching in the trough of a wave for a sight of their favorite star. The floor which has recently been laid will prove a big addition to the gym, as the old one was antiquated and worn beyond practicability. The court itself is now on a par with the best in the conference, and when adequate seating room is provided the entire gym will be worthy of the teams that year after year march home with conference penants.

SO IT SEEMS

The longer practice and scrimmage continues the more it seems that the Harmon brothers, Leo and Doyle, are every bit that they have been heralded to be. Doyle started in the scrimmage yesterday with several long runs. Then Leo replaced Stangel and he pulled off some very clever playing.

Coach Ryan started Solbra and Pulaski at ends yesterday, and it seems likely they will be his choice to start against North Dakota Saturday. Stevie is fast and clever, above all a hard worker. Solbra has the build, the desire to learn, combined with considerable ability.

But whatever may be said of the team along lines of speed and cleverness, there certainly is a need for a kicker. There is not a man on the squad who has so far displayed anything in kicking to get even a little bit excited about. No height, no distance, and only now and then are the punts well placed. Ryan and his assistants have one great weakness there to iron out.

At passing the boys are only fair, it seems. Jack Harris, the Harmons, McAndrews, Stangel, and Ed. Williams all can shoot the pigskin, but at this time the passing game has not been mastered enough to give hopes of great gains by the aerial route.

Players from eight states are represented on Wisconsin's gridiron squad this year. Men are here from Montana, Indiana, Pennsylvania, South Dakota, Iowa, Illinois, Kentucky, and Wisconsin. The majority, of course, are from Wisconsin.

In a few days now the freshman hordes will trot out on the practice field and then we can get a glimpse at our potential next year's team. Coach Ryan has made a special effort to get all good high school players to come to their own university, and as a result expects some likely men. With Guy Sundt in charge we know they will be taught the rudiments well.

"What is Wisconsin going to do?" is the query heard on every hand. Last year we finished almost in the cellar, yet had as many men on honorary elevens as did Michigan and Illinois and some teams who were on top of the won and lost column. They always look to Wisconsin for a gritty game right through to the last minute, year after year. The Wisconsin game at Ann Arbor is nearly sold out already, according to reports from the Wolverine school.

Schwarze, the little fella who resembles Arlie Mucks and who is also trying to equal his weight records, is being subjected to a steam bath daily in an effort to erase a little of the surplus weight.

Clause Allows Receivers to Advance Within Ten Yards of Ball

A change in the football rules for 1924 which permits the receiving eleven to be behind a line ten yards in front of the point from which the kickoff is made, no matter what yard line is chosen by the kicking team, has been announced by Chairman E. K. Hall of the American intercollegiate football rules committee.

The following clause is added to Section 3, Rule 8, and is effective immediately:

"In case the kickoff is made from a point behind the middle of the field, the opponents shall be behind a line ten yards in front of the spot from which the kick is made.

In 1923 and for several years previous, the rules provided that a team should kick off from "its own 40 yard line at a point equidistant from the sidelines." "At the meeting of the rules committee last February the kicking point was placed at midfield, artificial tees were abolished and the opposing eleven was restrained on its own 40 yard line.

It was then suggested that on a muddy field it might be difficult to get away a good kick without the use of an artificial tee and accordingly the rule was changed to provide that the kickoff might be made from the middle of the field or "any point directly back of it," thus making it possible to go back such distance as might be necessary to get a firm spot for the kick.

Immediately coaches and officials foresaw a result that might cause some serious gridiron situations this fall. The rules were studied closely and it was learned that while the opposing team was restrained on its 40 yard line the kicking eleven might retreat to any part of its territory, directly behind the center of the midfield line, make a short kick and recover the ball itself at midfield, the kicking team being permitted to recover after the ball has traveled 10 yards.

A telegraphic poll of the rules committee members was taken and the situation was relieved legally by lifting the 40 yard line restriction on the receiving eleven. The receivers may now range 10 yards from the point of the kickoff at all times.

YANKEES, GRIFFS WIN;
GIANTS OBTAIN LEAD

By defeating the Pirates, 5 to 1, while Brooklyn was losing to Chicago, the Giants stepped into a full game lead in the National league pennant race yesterday. Both New York and Washington won in the American league, the Griffins taking a close game from the White Sox, 7 to 6, while the Yankees slugged out an 8 to 2 victory over Cleveland.

MEANWELL CALLS MEN
TOGETHER FOR MEET

Coach Walter Meanwell has called a meeting of last year's varsity basketball squad and last year's freshman squad, to be held in the gym at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon. Coach Meanwell states that it is necessary these men be present, as practice plans will be laid and practice uniforms issued.

FRESHMAN CUTS LIP
IN MIXUP WITH DOOR

Truman H. Marsh, Milwaukee, a freshman in Letters and Science sustained a cut lip as he plunged headlong into the glass window of the door of his room at the Y. M. C. A. about 10:30 o'clock Monday night.

Unaware that the door was so near, he walked through the dark corridor and into the glass.

He was rushed to the clinic in a taxi cab where the injury was dressed. One stitch was taken.

BRIGHT PROSPECTS
FOR TRACKSTERSNew Men and Last Year's
Stars Set For Successful Season

The prospects for a big season in indoor and outdoor track look unusually bright this year, according to Coach Mead Burke. Most of last year's squad have reentered school, and several of last season's frosh seem to be conference caliber.

The only regulars who will be lost to the team through graduation or other reasons are ex-Captain Hammann, Read, Donohue, and Limberg. These were "W" men and point winners, but their places will be taken by men who have had some conference experience.

The regulars who will be on hand this year are: Valley, Hilberts, Tuhtar, Harmon, McAndrews, McGiveran, Kennedy, Muzzy, Cassidy, and Gil Smith. These men won their "W" last year, and Coach Burke hopes for a winning team.

Three "W" dash men are also in school. They are Lewis, Hill, and Menke. Some of last year's frosh should be ready for the coming indoor season and will undoubtedly help strengthen the team.

Some of these are: Schwarze, one of the best shot putters in the conference; McGinnis, an all-around athlete; Frackleton, Annis, and Miller in the dashes, and Stehr in the weights.

According to Coach Burke, there are several high-school stars in the entering freshman class. Among them are: Swallow, Mattison, and Sharp in the 440; Barmore and Schroeder in the high jump; Erickson and McKee in the mile; Reeves, a Cook county star half-miler; and Elleson, a man who runs the half-mile, mile, and two-mile equally well. With these men as a nucleus, a very good frosh team should be developed this season.

The cross-country squad was strengthened with the return of Tom Carter, Schilke, McDonald, Laughlin, Lang, and Gaudynski. This increased the harrier squad to 25 men, but Coach Mead Burke would like to have ten more men turn out. Anybody who is interested in cross-country should see him in the gym as soon as possible.

T. E. JONES URGES
FRESHMEN TO TRY
OUT FOR SPORTSFussers Do Not Become Leaders
in Athletics, Says
Head Coach

The future success of Wisconsin athletics will be determined within the next few days, according to a statement issued yesterday by T. E. Jones, director of athletics; for the freshmen of today make the varsity teams of future years, and upon the number and caliber of freshmen who turn out for sports depends the fate of Badger football and basketball teams in the next four years.

Every man has an opportunity to go into athletics or fussing in addition to his regular scholastic work, according to Mr. Jones, but a man can't play sororities and still help turn out winning teams and uphold the Wisconsin spirit.

Sports For All

Thirteen sports in which a man may win his "W" are open, while 25 minor sports are conducted in which a man may win minor insignia. Wisconsin promotes a more extensive athletic program than any university in the country, but coaches, athletic directors, and equipment are unable to turn out Big Ten champions if the men themselves are lacking.

"If a man falls in with the Nancy crowd he is a total loss so far as helping the school is concerned," said Mr. Jones. "Athletics do much for a man—they broaden him, give him qualities of leadership, and form lasting friendships and associations. There is a place in athletics for every freshman in school, and we are providing these facilities in the hope that a larger number of freshmen than usual will take advantage of them."

Freshmen Called Out

All candidates for the freshman football squad are requested to report in the equipment room at Camp Randall at 3:30 to draw uniforms, and to report to Coach Sundt for further orders. Work will commence as soon as men are equipped.

Coach Meanwell wants all men trying out for the freshman basketball squad to report at 7:15, Oct. 1, on the main floor of the gym, in street clothes, to hear plans for the season outlined by Coach George Lewis.

Freshman football managers are asked to see the varsity manager at Camp Randall no later than Wednesday.

Other assignments will be posted in the gym.

AVOIDING THE BUMPS

Have you ever been in a New York subway train between the hours of 5:30 and 6:30 o'clock at night? If you have not, did you see Gloria Swanson's last picture, "Manhandled"? If you didn't, wait until you reach Bascom hall this morning and find that the traffic rules are being disregarded by old students and overlooked by new. Then you will know what we are talking about.

At any rate, take a look at the cut of the chart of Bascom hall and the traffic rules printed in this issue of the Daily Cardinal and profit thereby, lest you return home at noon with a black eye, a broken arm and a pet corn sadly mutilated, the gifts of a subway-rider and any one who attempts to reach a class-room on time in Bascom hall when the traffic rules are not being heeded.

OUR OWN RUSH

Once more the Latin quarter has gone through a hectic period of hectic rushing. It appears that every organization has emerged from it successfully from their own standpoints; it also appears that practically no organization has emerged successfully from the standpoint of the university and fair rushing.

Last fall a serious charge was brought against fraternities by the National Inter-fraternal council which accused fraternities of injuring student life and of providing no excuse for their existence. Its charge was answered and answered well. This year no similar accusation has been launched. Nationally the answer seems to have been satisfactory.

Locally, however, another charge may be made and it is doubtful whether it can be answered. Practically every fraternity man who is frank with himself must acknowledge that every rushing rule was disobeyed grossly during the recent season. Freshmen were lodged in fraternity houses, freshmen were pledged before—and frequently long before—they were registered. It might be expected that members of honorary societies—Iron Cross, for instance—would be the kind of men that would be bound to abide by rushing rules. But it appears that they are not, and it seems only too evident that if they will not obey the rules no one else will.

What is the matter? Obviously something is radically wrong. If every rushing rule is discarded by general consent of the fraternities, where is the sense of having such rules? But some rules must exist, some regulations to control rushing. Otherwise the system will become even more cut-throat than it is at present. Fraternities will end by putting buttons on new-born babes if things continue as they are.

Last spring, a week before the close of the semester, a group of students interested in improving rushing conditions met together. The upshot of it all was that a letter was sent out to every fraternity, asking if it would join a gentleman's agreement not to practice hot-boxing, station rushing or boarding trains outside of the city in order to meet rushees, providing that 80 per cent of the organization agreed. Favorable replies were received from 33 fraternities, only a little more than 50 per cent and the matter went by the board, for then it was too late to make another move.

But the move was a step in the right direction and should lead to more action this year. The Inter-fraternity council on the campus is dead, defunct and quite forgotten. It has been for several years and operated only a few years after it was founded way back in 1908. Something must take its place or the situation will go beyond the power of recovery. It might be rebuilt on firmer soil.

In fact, the entire rushing system might well be rebuilt. This year Minnesota established a deferred rushing system whereby no freshman can be pledged until the end of the first quarter. It still remains to be seen how successful Minnesota will be. But it is beyond a shadow of a doubt that other institutions, Yale and Dartmouth and many others, find the deferred system profitable in every way.

What of the deferred system? Suppose fraternities here had a gentleman's agreement that no freshman should be pledged until the end of the first semester. Then they would have an opportunity to make sure of the type of men they were pledging. And the freshmen would have four months to look over the organizations on the campus and make up their minds.

Obviously written university rules are useless and absurd on the face of them. Wisconsin men are gentlemen, it must be granted, and therefore the university written rules might be supplanted with student-made unwritten gentlemen's agreements to advantage. Obviously man's power of sizing up fellow beings is not great enough to enable fraternities to choose their rushees or rushees to choose their fraternities infallibly. For the sake of the freshmen as well as the rushees the deferred rushing system ought to be established.

But some fast rushing will have to be done if the changes are to be made and made successfully in order that it can be put into operation for next year before conditions become more stinking than they have been this year.

A fraternity on the campus pledged a rushee the other afternoon in the hydro-airplane which has been soaring over Lake Mendota. Sort of taking the man off his feet with a rush, you might say.

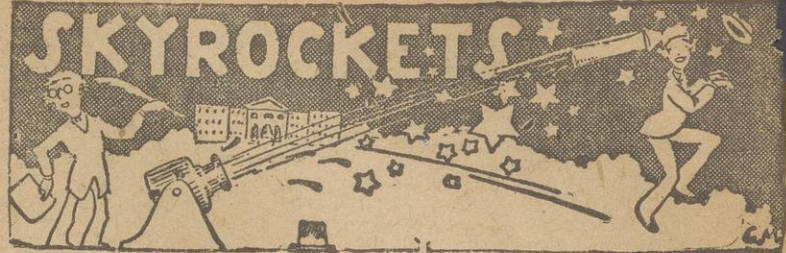

It is amazing what a typewriter will do some times and how it will lie. In yesterday's editorial column it was said that the circulation of this paper exceeded 30,000 and that since each paper reached at least half a dozen students, the Daily Cardinal each day was read by more than 7,000. Talk about higher education!

Our statistician has been working. He says that if all the lines which have formed on the campus since registration commenced Thursday were put together end to end they would reach two-thirds of the way to the nearest planet which is out of sight of this world.

He also says that if all the letters which are sent back and forth by students registering at Yale and the Yale registrar's office were put together end to end they would not nearly reach to the moon.

If you are registered in the university and are a male student, you may not know it but you are automatically made a member of the Wisconsin Union and are possessor of the franchise to vote for the officers of the union.

Only the freshman who has little, or no, respect for Wisconsin will wear his high-school sweater with numerals and letters emblazoned in gaudy colors. High-school rings belong to those who act like they were in high school. Freshmen, show your loyalty but not your high-school labels.

EIGHT O'CLOCK. The curse is upon us. All hope is lost. Nine months to go before next summer's "only girl in the world."

"Love," says the Dubuque philosopher, "is a form of pathology." Quite right. Illness is rampant in spring, raging in summer, either hopeless or convalescent in fall, and lapses into a sort of coma in winter.

Grandson of Oldest Living Alumnus Enrolls This Week

The third John Parkinson is registering at the University of Wisconsin this week and enters the institution as a freshman.

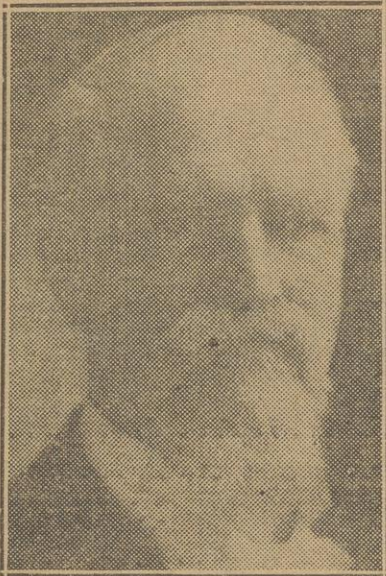

The young man who is entering is John Strong Parkinson, son of John M. Parkinson of Lakewood and grandson of Prof. J. B. Parkinson, oldest living alumnus of the university.

Prof. J. B. Parkinson was graduated from the university in 1860. The son, John Monroe Parkinson, was graduated in the class of 1886 and now the grandson becomes a member of the class of 1929.

The younger Parkinson enters a different institution than that which his grandfather entered back nearly 70 years ago. The university was organized by the legislature in 1848. In February 1849, Prof. John W. Sterling opened the preparatory school with twenty students. When the first class consisting of two students was graduated in 1845 there were 41 in attendance at the university and 15 in the preparatory department. The university opened in temporary quarters and the first building was North Hall, completed in 1851. South Hall was completed in 1855. The faculty consisted of seven professors including the president.

J. B. Parkinson entered the university in 1856. In those days North and South halls were dormitories. On the first night Prof. Parkinson slept on the floor in the northwest corner of South Hall because the beds had not yet been put up. Prof. Parkinson obtained his board at North Hall for $2 a week. The buildings in those days were heated with stoves.

The younger Parkinson now enters the university at a time when an enrollment of nearly 8,000 is expected. To-day students come to the university with automobiles and luxuries that are at strange variance with the hardships endured in the old days at North and South hall.

OFFER NEW SEMINARY COURSE IN COMMERCE

A new seminary course in "The Marketing of Manufactured Goods" will be given this year under the direction of Prof. E. H. Gardner of the Course in Commerce.

Preliminary undergraduate courses leading to this seminary include marketing methods, retail advertising and advertising campaigns, the thesis course in advertising, and commercial correspondence.

The seminary will study the economic aspects of advertising and other modern elements in the distribution system of manufactured goods. It will bring out the contrast between the distribution of manufactured goods and agricultural products.

BERKELEY, Cal.—On the recommendation of the Student Affairs committee, action was taken dissolving the charter of Alpha Beta Phi fraternity. The fraternity was on probation, and the death of its president as a result of an accident brought the matters to a crisis.

For Young Men There is nothing like a STETSON

MOST young men today know the importance of looking fit. Good appearance counts much in the game of life. The young man who dresses with taste has a decided advantage.

But—it is surprising how little thought the average man gives to his hat. It is his crown, yet he seems to stop dressing at the neck.

Be careful in your selection of your headwear. When you buy a hat, select a Stetson. Its style is right, its quality means long wear.

RUSHING PARTIES ARE LESS FORMAL

Observe Pan-Hellenic Rules;
Split Dates Allowed Thursday and Friday

Rushing functions, which opened with sorority teas Saturday afternoon, are very informal this year due to changes in the Pan-Hellenic rulings.

Decorations and expensive menus have been ruled out and the functions are designed for better acquaintance.

Preceding Monday's and Tuesday's informal functions, will be the preference functions.

Split dates will be allowed for these functions only at 6:30 o'clock on Thursday and at 9:30 o'clock on Friday. Menus are limited by the new ruling for Thursday's parties to salad courses to be served until 6:30 o'clock and desert from then on, so that rushees splitting dates will be served at each house. Rushees are allowed to split dates only once on each of these preference nights.

Friday, Sept. 26, each sorority will hold its formal function from 6 to 11 o'clock. No charges are made for these preference parties.

According to the general regulations no rushing takes place except at the respective chapter houses except on the lay of the "Dutch Treats" when the groups are privileged to arrange for service at any of the tea rooms but not at private clubs.

Strict silence between sorority members and rushees except at the appointed places during rushing hours is carefully maintained.

Until rushing season is closed no sorority girl can entertain, help register a new student, nor appear with her on the hill.

Saturday and Sunday are days of silence, preceding the last rushing party, which will be Friday night. The written bid system is used according to ruling of Pan-Hellenic and no personal or oral bids can be given. Formal pledging will take place Sunday at 5 o'clock.

These general rules regulating sorority rushing are compiled by Pan-Hellenic council, which includes two representatives from each sorority on the campus.

Indian Farmers Will Visit U. of W. College

Probably the most interesting group of farmers that is to visit Madison and the Wisconsin college of agriculture during the next ten days in connection with the National Dairy Show in Milwaukee, will be a party of 150 Indians. The Indians will come to the college to get first hand information on modern farm methods. They will be from Wisconsin reservations.

Already arrangements have been made for parties of Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Oregon, Mississippi and Wisconsin farmers and bankers to come to Madison.

Our College Section

A department entirely for University men, where you will be served by Wisconsin men—a place to sit, smoke and visit, to see the newest things in collegiate wear.

Freshmen, Welcome!

WE are sincerely glad to have you here and want you to like Wisconsin and Madison. During your first days at school you will have experiences and sensations which will never be repeated. We know because we too were once freshmen.

One of the first things you are sure to notice is the individual dress of the smartly garbed collegian—the snap brim hat—the loosely fitting coat, the full cut, straight hanging trousers—the brilliantly striped necktie, the yellow slicker, and the broad toed oxfords. A typical university man is always marked by his clothes.

If you would quickly assimilate the college atmosphere, you will adopt these vogues. Clothes are important in your new scheme of life. But you must select carefully. Everything in collegiate wear that is smart and correct is shown by us. We invite you to come in to look—don't buy unless you like.

FRESHMAN BANQUET
TONIGHT AT Y. M. C. A.

Secretary Hibbard traced his connection with the Y. M. C. A. and of the organization's "ups and downs" in early days. He made it plain that the Y. M. C. A. might successfully deal with the spiritual side of life, regardless of its attitude toward religion.

"I think that our organization has been most successful when it has been a university enterprise. It ought to touch the life of every student," Secretary Hibbard said.

Clifford Franseen, president of the Y. M. C. A., opened the evening with a short speech dealing principally with the functions of the organization. Mr. Hibbard's speech followed. Coach T. E. Jones then said a few words on the status of athletics in the university. Although witty and entertaining, Dean S. H. Goodnight's talk contained much material for thought. "Isn't it strange," he said, "that the words 'college spirit' mean so very many different things to different people. Not only that, but college spirit is a commodity that means different things to the same person at different stages of his career."

Tickets for the evening's dinner can be purchased at the Y. M. C. A. office for 50 cents.

Statue of Famous Civil War Hero Will be Erected Here

Madison is to have another statue in memory of a distinguished citizen of Wisconsin. Contracts have been let for a statue of Col. Hans C. Heg, Commander of the 15th Wisconsin regiment, known as the Norwegian regiment, and who died on the battle field of Chickamauga, June 20, 1863.

For some years committees among the Norwegian organizations in America have been collecting funds for this statue and it is hoped to have it unveiled July 4, 1925, which will mark the centennial of Norwegian immigration to America. Norwegian immigration is generally dated from July 4, 1825, when the little sloop Restoration sailed from Stavanger with the first ship load of less than 100 immigrants. This centennial will be observed with a great celebration in Minneapolis next June and it is hoped to have an observance in Madison July 4th. The committee having this fund in hand have voted to have the statue go to Madison.

As Colonel Heg came from the Muskego settlement in Racine County, the people of Racine have also made a bid for it. The statue which will be of heroic size and showing Colonel Heg in his military uniform will be made by Paul Fjelde, a son of the well known Minneapolis sculptor, Hans Fjelde.

Waldemar Ager of Eau Claire, editor of the newspaper Reform and well known author, is the national secretary of these committees, and has been the chief factor in raising the necessary funds. Mr. Ager was in Madison some weeks ago and delivered an address in Olin park.

It is hoped by the promoters of this project to have the statue placed in the capitol park and negotiations are under way looking to that end. It was expected that such statue should be considered a memorial not only to Col. Heg and the 15th Wisconsin but to the Norwegian pioneer element which they also represent. O. P. B. Jacobsen of Minnesota, recent candidate for Governor of Minnesota is chairman of the National Committee and A. M. Sudheim Minneapolis is national treasurer. Among members of the local committee are A. J. Myrland and R. N. Qualley.

Hans C. Heg was born near Drammen, Norway, in December, 1829. At the age of eleven he came to America with his parents, who settled at Muskego, Wis. His father, Even Heg was a man who rose to prominent leadership among his people. His home became the center of the pioneer colony. Here was printed the first Norse-American paper. Here religious instruction of children was begun. Here the pioneers of the community met for divine worship. In brief, the Heg home is the cradle of the cultural activities which loom large on the pages of Norse American history. It is but natural that from this home should come the illustrious son whose name shines so brightly on the pages of the history of his country.

The youthful Hans Heg entered into the spirit of the country of his adoption. At the age of twenty he joined the Forty Miners crossing the frontier wastes to search for gold in California. Two years later he returned to take charge of the home official, the first of his nationality farm. The following years finds him as farmer, business man and public to hold a state office. Although renominated State Prison Commissioner in 1861, he declined the nomination in order to join in the great fight for Liberty and Union. He organized the Fifteenth Wisconsin Regiment, made up almost exclusively of Norse immigrants. As colonel of this regiment he proved himself a fearless leader of fearless men.

Col. Hans C. Heg was laid to rest among his kindred in the home churchyard at Muskego. The modest tombstone (erected by the local Masonic lodge) on the grave of this distinguished soldier bears the brief but eloquent legend:

RENT-A-CAR BUSINESS IS PICKING UP—SMART

Evidence that the demand for rented cars is increasing is brought out by the announcement of O. D. Smart, '14, who declared that the Smart Motor company of which he is manager has recently purchased several new cars to take care of the fall business. "Students find," he said, "that it is much better to rent a car than to bother about taking care of their own." Mr. Smart received his degree from the university in mechanical engineering.

Commerce Group Asks $2,500 Fund To Advertise City

An appropriation of $2,500 to advertise the city in an effort to bring more industries and greater development, especially on the East Side, was asked in a letter to the board of estimates from the Madison Association of Commerce Thursday.

The letter declared that building and expansion records of the city show a greater development on the West Side than on the East Side and that the retail area has raised in value faster than some persons believe it should have in proportion to the growth of the city.

More buildings are required on the East Side, according to this letter, which also declares that a systematic campaign should be carried on to bring in more manufacturing plants. These plants should preferably be of a type which has little liquid industrial waste which would overtax the sewage disposal plant and probably add to the pollution of the lakes and rivers.

AUSTIN, Texas—Six new buildings which are estimated at $2,000,000 are now under construction at the University of Texas. The buildings include a new Recitation building, a Biology building, a dormitory which will be the Alice Littlefield memorial, a Chemistry building, and the Texas memorial stadium which will be built through the efforts of the students.

Need Regulation For Air Traffic Here, Says Mayor

Legislation regulating the height at which airplanes may fly over the city is being seriously considered by members of the common council, it was learned Tuesday. Several aviators have been carrying passengers over the city during the summer, often flying so low that they have become a nuisance, it is said.

Although no city ordinance now exists which specifies the height over the city, Mayor I. M. Kittleson Tuesday declared that it would be advisable to have such a law.

Considerable comment was made Monday on a hydroplane which flew exceedingly low over the city, landing on Lake Mendota. Rumors persisted throughout the day that the plane had fallen in a yard near the Masonic Temple, residents receiving the impression from seeing the plane dive for the lake from a low altitude.

Hunters in the city are especially opposed to the hydroplane type of air craft. They claim they frighten ducks and other water birds from the lakes.

COLUMBIA, Miss.—Freshmen women in the University of Missouri are now required to wear a freshman button just below their left shoulder, at all times except during Sundays and at dances. Violation of this regulation will the offender to appear before the council. The button must be worn until the W. S. G. A. party on Dec. 15.

S. G. A. Opens New Reading Room in Lathrop Parlors

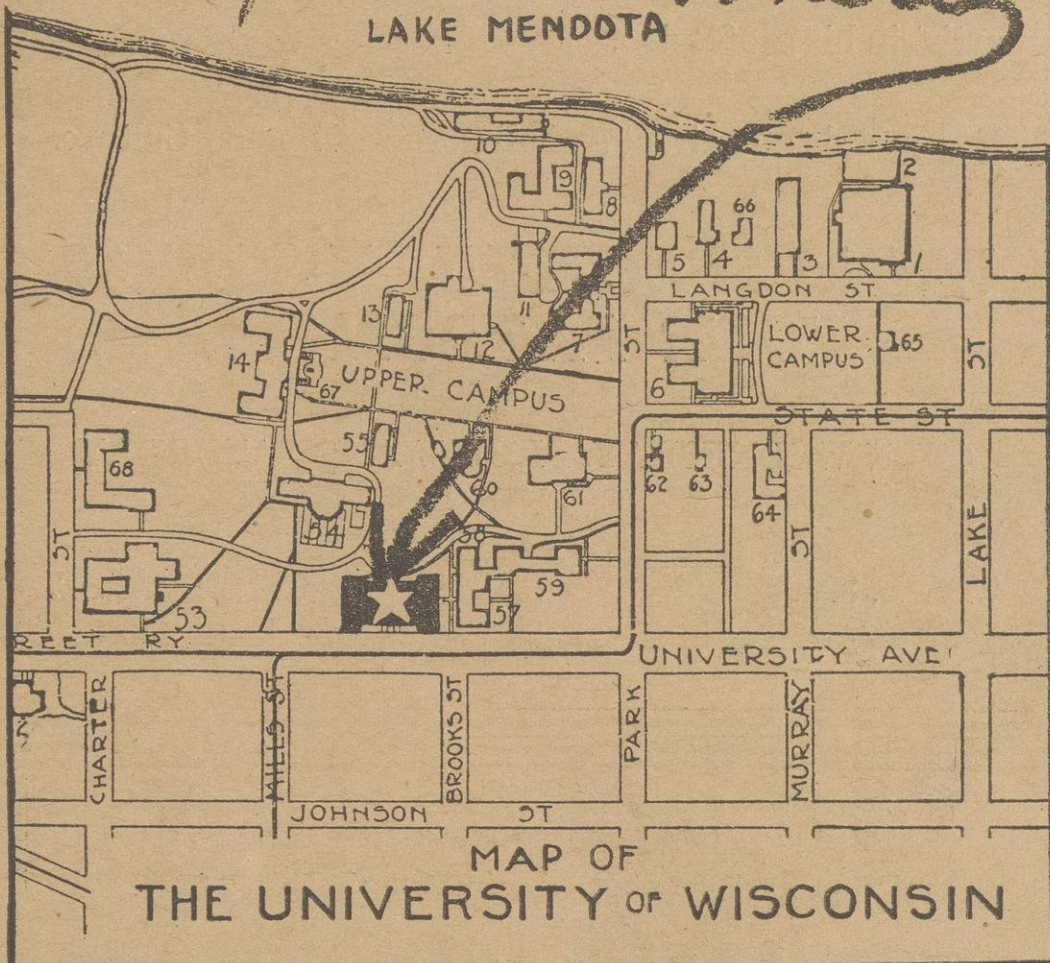

Those who have a penchant for latest fiction will find the new Self Government library reading room a quiet corner in which to browse. The library has been moved to the small room off the Lathrop parlors, which, until recently has been used as the caterer's kitchen. Equipped with novels, poetry and other books, the librarian announces that several magazines and papers will be added in order that those interested may keep in touch with current literature and events. About five books are added each month to keep the library up to date.

Fashion Chatter

Alice '26 met Vivian '28, a friend from the home town, on the campus yesterday.

Said Vivian to Alice: "You dear, how glad I am to see you, and how stunning you look. Where did you get that smart coat? You look like you had stepped right from Fifth avenue, instead of Call City."

Answered Alice: "My dear, just because I do want to help you, I will let you in on a secret. The girls on the hill who want to dress smartly do their shopping at Simpson's, right here in Madison. It's an awfully smart shop, right next door to the New Belmont hotel. If you're wise, you'll do your shopping there, for everything they have is individual. You never see two coats alike, or two dresses alike. It's such fun choosing things."

Said Vivian: "Gee, it's good to see you. I do appreciate the help you've given me."

Join the Co-op Today

THE primary purpose of the Co-op ever since its founding over thirty years ago, has been to provide you—the students of the University of Wisconsin — with a place where you can buy practically everything you need at the lowest possible cost.

A Real Co-operative Store

The Co-op is a truly co-operative institution. Each member can hold only one share of stock. All members participate in the distribution of profits in the form of a rebate at the end of the school year.

Expert and careful management of the Co-op is constantly necessary in order to insure maximum rebates to members. The market is closely watched; merchandise is bought at wholesale prices and in such quantities as to insure no left-over stocks, and then is sold at the lowest retail prices.

A Big Rebate on All Purchases

Last year the rebate to members was 15% of purchases. This means that if during the school year a member purchased one hundred dollars worth of merchandise, at the end of the year he was entitled to fifteen dollars worth free of charge.

How to Join

You may become a life member of the Co-op on payment of $2.50, which entitles you to a $2.50 Parker, Waterman or Conklin fountain pen free. Or your money may apply on the purchase price of a more expensive pen. Your membership card carries a number. You give the clerk this number whenever you make a purchase. The transaction is recorded, and at the end of the year you are allowed the declared rebate.

Three alumni, one faculty member, and a student form the Co-op board of directors. All of these directors serve without pay.

Everything You Need

The entire stock of merchandise in the Co-op is purchased with your requirements in mind. By studying the needs of many generations of students we have gathered together a wide variety of merchandise from which you will be able to buy practically everything you need during the whole college year.

Begin Saving Money Today

Your purchases at the beginning of the year are always larger than at any other time. Why not let these large initial purchases help increase your rebate?

We earnestly urge you to join the Co-op immediately, and buy everything you need on your Co-op number.

You Must be a Member to Get the Rebate
