NEW SERVICE SENDS ITEMS BY WIRELESS

6 Conference Universities Conduct Official Radio Tests

The official wireless tests of the newly-formed Western Conference Radio News Service were successfully conducted last night from 10:30 p. m. to 1 a. m. between six of the Big Ten universities.

Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, Northwestern, and Purdue were able to establish radio communication, and brief items of news were exchanged between the six student newspapers. Chicago, Indiana, Iowa, and Ohio State could not be reached in the preliminary tests.

Although amateur radio station 9ZN in Chicago has been designated as central station by the W. C. R. N. S., conditions last night favored station 9XM at Wisconsin and both the Purdue and the Michigan items had to be relayed to Chicago through Madison.

The tests were held according to a test schedule, each university being allowed 15 minutes for sending. Then, after all the items had been transmitted to the central station, broadcasts were sent out from Chicago, and each school was thus able to receive items from every other university.

The first news received over the W. C. R. N. S. follows:

Sixteen Horses Join the Staff of the Military Department

Not a circus but a riding school. That is the explanation of the 14 horses you saw galloping, trotting and single-footing around the improvised race track on the lower campus today.

With 16 horses at the disposal of the university military authorities for the use of students, military drill may become more popular. The riders are under the general supervision of Lieutenant Southland and will be taught the rudiments of military drill. The horses which are the property of the university may be obtained by students for certain hours upon application at the military offices in the armory.

That the addition to the department's equipment is meeting with enthusiasm is proved by the fact that 14 of the 16 horses were in use the first day.

FRESHMAN WOMEN CALLED TOGETHER

No freshman woman can escape the compulsory meeting to be held in Lathrop concert room tonight at 7:15. Roll call will be taken. Ellen Correll, president of S. G. A., will preside.

Talks will be given by Dean F. Louise Nardin; Helen Ramsey, official secretary; Lila Ekern, last year's Green Button president, and by Isabel Capps '22, census chairman of S. G. A. All organizations on the campus will be explained for the new women.

Nominations for officers of Green Button, freshman women's organization, will be made at the meeting, and as part of the campaign green buttons will be sold for five cents apiece. Those in charge ask that each girl provide herself with a pencil for use during the making of nominations.

City May Cut Back Corner at State and Park

Trees on the northeast and south east corners of the State and Park street intersection may be removed to allow for the cutting back of the curbs by city engineers to increase the street space between the car tracks and the curb.

At present the space of only three feet between the tracks and the curb on the southeast corner endangers pedestrians and automobiles.

The removal of the trees was proposed by the city street repair department last Friday evening, and recommended for the consideration of the university Board of Regents. No further action can be taken by the city until the Regents consent to the proposal.

M. E. Caffrey, secretary of the Board of Regents, promised the city officials early attention to the matter.

Men who wish to try out for the Varsity and Freshman cross-country teams should report to Coach Meade Burke in his office at the gymnasium.

UNION CONCERT SEASON TICKETS SELL RAPIDLY

Already a large number of season tickets have been disposed of in the sale for the Union board concert series which opened yesterday at A. E. Smith's music store and at the University school of music. The residents of Madison and the students of the University have responded to the efforts of the Union board in securing an array of artists equal to that of any series ever offered in Madison.

Today season tickets will be sold in the booth next to the walk below Music hall, if the weather permits, and inside the building, if the weather is disagreeable.

Mabel Garrison will open the Union board concert series on October 10, and there is every indication that the University gymnasium will be packed, for season after season her audiences have filled halls and theatres to the doors. The London Post said of her, "She constitutes a perpetual attraction."

Ferenc Vecsey, the celebrated European violinist, will give the second number of the series on the night of November 15. Vecsey has been the great sensation in European musical circles during the last season. The day the ticket sale for his concert in Berlin opened the house was sold out at eight o'clock in the morning.

Joseph Lhevinne, a pianist of rare gift, will make up the third number of this series. He will appear in Madison on the evening of November 29. Lhevinne's reputation as a genius at the piano will assure him a crowded house here.

The concert series will be closed by one who is admittedly the world's greatest cellist, Pablo Casals. When this Spanish cellist played in the Aeolian hall, New York, all seats were sold days before the concert, and one hundred and fifty chairs on the stage were sold at high prices in ten minutes on the afternoon of the concert. Four hundred people were turned away and the gross receipts of the concert were $2300. The New York Sun had this to say of this concert, "Tone, technique and style, together with understanding abounded in each composition. The beautiful Locca-telli Sonata with a charming minuet movement, was perhaps the favorite selection. At its close Mr. Casals was recalled any times." Fritz Kreisler said concerning Casals, "He is the greatest musician that has ever drawn a bow."

A season ticket which will gain admittance to the concerts of all four artists can be bought for $4, the best seats being a dollar more, making the season ticket $5. No single admission tickets are being sold at the present time but will be put on sale a few days before each concert at $1.50 and $2.

CARDINAL MEETING

Meeting of Cardinal reporters and special feature writers and applicants for these positions will be held at 11:50 today in the Cardinal office. Editors and department heads will meet at 4:30.

Senate Has Not Been on Trial, Says Sterling Tracy

Green caps, cap night, and the class rush were reinstated by an overwhelming vote in the referendum held yesterday by the Student senate. All traditions will go into effect immediately in accordance with the constitution of the senate.

With only 248 men voting against the green caps and cap night, 1421 voted for them; the class rush was reinstated by a vote of 1286 to 379; and the senate proposal of distinctive headgear for all classes was defeated by a vote of 347 to 1302.

Senate Meets Tonight

Jack Hurley, president of the sophomore class, will take up the matter of appointing a temporary sophomore traditions committee at the senate meeting tonight at 7 o'clock in President E. A. Birge's office. The senate will receive the formal report of the election at that time and will fix the future attitude on traditions.

The traditions commission appointed by the senate to confer on revision of traditions to a more practical basis will continue its work. The commission was chosen to represent all shades of opinion on the subject of traditions, and it is the opinion of the senate that its report will reflect the unbiased opinion of the majority of the student body.

Senate Attitude

"The senate does not feel that it has been on trial," said Sterling Tracy '22, president of the Student senate, last night. "Action was taken last spring because the senate felt after the rioting of Cap night that the green cap tradition could not be sustained without indiscriminate hazing."

We don't believe that the vote taken indicates that the students favor indiscriminate hazing, and the senate hopes that it will not occur. The senate has done its best to stop indiscriminate hazing and it can no longer accept the responsibility for it."

INJURED STUDENTS RECOVER RAPIDLY

Neither of the students run down by the motor truck last Saturday were seriously injured by the accident.

Otis Bersing, a freshman from Blair has recovered sufficiently to be released from the Madison General hospital where he was taken immediately after he was hit. Robert Rothenberg, the other victim of the accident is rapidly recovering at the hospital and will be able to be out in a day or two. He is a junior in the course in commerce and his home is in Springfield, Minn. Both students are living at 310 N. Livingston street.

They were crossing Washington avenue on their way around the square in the height of the storm Saturday night when a Bloom news agency truck driven by Morton Erickson hit them. The umbrella which they carried prevented them from seeing the truck until it was too late.

"Button there, Frosh!!! Both hands!!!"

LONG may the verdant (we are compelled to use that word because we never have heard them caps spoken of without that adjective) green wave, or rather, rest, on the heads of those pesky frosh.

Little freshmen all in green,
Ain't those sophomores awfully mean?
Mama loves you all the same,
Even though the caps bring shame.

THE politicians may be crooked, but the capital is on the square.

AS fast as we are able to solve them, we will give you the hidden meanings of the different pins about the campus. Our first attempt is the Delta Gamma anchor. As far as we have investigated, it merely is the emblem of a select group of see-going girls.

"The labors of the multitude are not easily undone." So spake the four Beta freshmen, as they gazed at the pier.

THE NOSIE NEWSIE

Today's question: "What do you think of Wisconsin?" This was asked of five freshmen.

First Freshman: "I live in Tennessee, and having only seen Madison, I am hardly in a position to say as yet." (He made his exit in the waste basket).

Second Freshman: "I think there are the darlinest boys here." (We made two dates with her immediately).

Third Freshman: "I've met nearly everyone and I'm just crazy about them. But who is this Bascom Hall I've heard so much about? I'm sure he must be a very popular boy." (No, Hazel, not as popular as you would think).

Fourth Freshman: "I've never seen Chicago university, so I'm still crazy about Wisconsin. (We have seen Chicago, but we agree with you just the same).

Fifth Freshman: "I haven't thought yet. I'm putting it off as long as possible." (He looked it, too).

TRYOUTS FOR CRACK CORPS HELD SOON

The president's guard will hold a meeting of all its old members tonight at 7:30 in the Armory to make plans for the coming year and discuss the selection of new members.

Last year the guard was organized to fill a long felt need in the University for a crack drilling corps to grace special ceremonial occasions. Competitive tryouts among men of the freshmen and sophomore companies were held and a corps selected by the commandant, Major John S. Wood, and his assistants.

The guard is made up of sergeants. The date for tryouts will be made commissioned officers. Social affairs comprise a part of the guard's activities as well as the sterner duties. Old members feel that this is an even added incentive for freshmen and sophomores to take advantage of the tryouts which will be held in the near future. Announcement of the date for tryouts will be made later.

BELOIT busted another beautiful bubble.

THAT'S going to make it hard to find any Northwestern money to pay our expenses when we go down there to see that game.

THE unknown are beginning to appear. For instance, CUSS p DOOR tells us this one. He says that he was in the butcher shop the other day and Horace Wetmore came in and asked for a dime's worth of dog meat. The butcher asked Horace if he wanted it wrapped up or would he eat it there? Whereupon it was hard to tell which was Horace's face and which was the meat.

SOME of the incoming Frosh think they need an adding machine to count themselves. But old Cuss mentioned above thinks that Dean Roe will have them counted by Thanksgiving, all right. We are of the same opinion.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Sophie Stieger was back in school?

The girls in Barnard pull their shades down now???

The Sigma Nus are proud of George Stolley? (Neither do we).

All Agric Frosh are requested by Dean James to provide themselves with shoe brushes this year?

"That's over my head," said the farmer, as he looked at the aeroplane.

Lawrence On Toes For Game

STRONG SQUAD READY TO MEET BADGERS OCT. 1

"Cub" Buck Helps McChesney Whip Fast Team Into Shape

(Special from the Lawrentian)

APPLETON, Wis.—Lawrence college has a squad of 35 men out for daily practice with a number of old men back and the new material constantly coming in; indications point to a good team for Lawrence. The school has added another coach to its string, "Cub" Buck, Wisconsin '17, having been engaged to act as line coach. Buck helps MacChesney whenever he can take the time off from his regular work.

The team got away for a very late start this year, the first scrimmage being held last Thursday. This practice showed very clearly that the main trouble will be with the line. The Appleton high school squad which the college team scrimmaged had little difficulty in keeping together and although on an average 30 pounds lighter, held their older opponents in good shape. Besides the line, "Mac" must develop a new quarterback, Johnson of last year's team having left school. This leaves a big gap to fill.

The Lawrence Lineup

"Bill" Smith of Wisconsin Rapids is captain of the team this year. As a center, "Bill" ranks above anything else in the Little Five conference. At guard, Lawrence has Hunting '22, and Ketchum '22. At tackle, "Mac" has McGlynn '23, Blackburne '25, and Kiesling '25. For end, there are Normington '24, Doering '24, and Starke '24. Basing '23, Kubitz '23, Roeder '23, Winder '24, Boetcher '25, and Preston '24 are working out for backfield. The coaches have been trying various combinations at quarter but so far have found nothing very satisfactory.

The following lineups will probably start against Wisconsin on Saturday, Oct. 1.

	Position	Weights
Smith	C.	180
Ketchum	L.G.	170
Hunting	R.G.	171
McGlynn	R.T.	172
Doering	L.E.	156
Starke	R.E.	150
Ziebell	Q.B.	140
Kubitz	R.H.B.	143
Roeder	L.H.B.	150
Basing	F.B.	165

Team Averages 160 Pounds

This was the lineup used in the scrimmage Thursday and it looks as though these men would lead the positions. The team averages around 160 pounds and is rather light for a college team, but it is hoped that the men will gain enough in speed to make up for their lack of weight.

If MacChesney can develop a line that will fight and a heady quarterback, Lawrence should have a team that will make all its opponents in the Little Five work.

MENORAH TO HOLD OPENING MEETING

The university Menorah society will hold its first open meeting of the year, Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Lathrop hall parlors. The meeting is to be a welcome for new students interested in the work of Menorah and will be open to all.

The Menorah society is an inter-collegiate organization whose work is the study and advancement of Jewish culture and ideals among college students.

1500 Enrolled In Athletics

Nearly 1,500 men are registered in various athletic activities at the gymnasium. Coach A. E. Schlatter's general gym class claims the greatest number with an enrollment of over 800; Coach Meade Burke has approximately 500 in the track events; Coach "Dad" Vail has 72 men working on the rowing machines; and Coach Joseph Steinauer reports 45 men out for varsity swimming and 23 men on the freshmen squad. The rowing and swimming classes will be increased later in the season as soon as capable men are found in the general gym classes.

50 REPORT FOR FROSH PRACTICE

First Workout Shows Material Light But Speedy

About fifty of the yearling football squad were on hand for the first real workout of the year, which was held at Camp Randall yesterday afternoon. The men are under the direction of "Keg" Driver and Ralph Scott.

Many of the men were fast and handled the ball well, but weight was noticeably lacking on the whole. After short breathing and setting up exercises, different groups were selected and various candidates were tried out at their respective positions.

Dean Millman, Platteville, and Oscar Techmeyer, a former Madison high school star, looked good, and seemed to show some promise of developing into future Varsity material. The former is exceptionally fast, and assumed the quarterback position in a most professional manner. It is entirely too early, however, to make any accurate predictions as many of the candidates have not even been issued suits as yet.

It will take several practices to put the men into fit enough shape so that they can stand the heavy grueling against the Varsity "regulars." Once they are in shape, however, no time will be lost in acquainting them with the plays and formations of the conference teams who are on the Badger schedule this season.

JONES EXPLAINS COUPON MATTER

Books Were Financial Loss to Department, Communication Declares

Pointing out the various reasons which were responsible for the banishment of the athletic coupon book, Thomas E. Jones, director of the athletic department, yesterday issued a statement defending the action taken by the Athletic council. The coupon book, which cost students $7.50 last year, entitled holders to admission to all athletic contests.

Its abolishment has been the subject of much discussion by lovers of amateur sports, and the wisdom of the Athletic council has been questioned.

The reply of Director Jones follows:

Editor Daily Cardinal:

The communication in last Friday's Cardinal commenting on the discontinuance of coupon books by the Department of Physical Education merits both a reply and an explanation. I am therefore asking that this be published for the benefit of the writer of the communication.

SQUAD DONS CARDINAL JERSEYS FOR FAST SCRIMMAGE MONDAY

Presenting--
GUS TEBELL

Presenting Gus Tebell SPORT

Gustav K. Tebell '23, Varsity end, is one of the old reliables who reported to Coach John R. Richards at the beginning of the football practice season. As soon as he received his uniform, "Gus" was stationed at his right end position, and no new material has displayed enough class to dislodge him. Nipping forward passes with the ease that comes naturally to experienced ends, Tebell has shown up splendidly in the early practice. He covers punts with exceptional speed, tackles with deadly precision, and, on defense, never fails to get an opponent carrying the ball.

Tebell played his first year of Big Ten competition in 1920. With the loss of "Paulie" Meyers, one of the greatest ends, who ever wore the Cardinal, Coach Richards had to look for new material. From a large number of candidates, "Gus" was selected to hold down the flank opposite Captain "Red" Weston, and his work throughout the season proved him a worthy successor to Meyers. He played consistent football all of the way, at times showing flashes of brilliancy in his work, but never mediocrity.

At the close of the gridiron season, Tebell reported to Coach W. E. Meanwell, and earned a place on the basketball squad. Although not a regular, Tebell was sent into many conference games, and his good defensive work at guard was a steady factor in crucial moments. Tebell will be back fighting for the old position on the basketball team during the 1921-22 season.

Three Touchdowns Scored By First Team in Practice

Inspired by the Cardinal jerseys which were issued to the first men yesterday the Varsity eleven smothered a squad of reserves in the fastest scrimmage held on the Camp Randall practice field this season. The line co-ordinated almost perfectly and rarely did it fail to open holes through which the plunging Badger backs rushed for substantial gains.

Three touchdowns were scored by the first team during the set-to. "Rowdy" Elliott rammed the reserves' forward wall for the first counter soon after play started. "Kibo" Brumm gathered up a fumble and spurred 90 yards for the second marker, and Crozier ended the scrimmage when he crushed through the line for a third score.

24 Wear Cardinal

Twenty-four candidates for the Wisconsin football team doffed the black equipment which they have been wearing and donned the brilliant Cardinal jerseys Monday afternoon. Others will be added to this number as various men prove they have assimilated the teachings of Coach John R. Richards and are ready for Big Ten conference competition.

Lineup Shifted

After the usual series of calisthenic exercises under the direction of Trainer George Berg, the Varsity men were given a chalk talk by Coach Richards, and new formations were handed them. Another shifted lineup surprised the spectators when Captain Sundt led his men on the field for a workout against the reserve squad. Gould was stationed at the left end position, Williams held down his regular left half, and Gibson piloted the team. In the line, Bunge played center, Nelson and Brumm drew the guard assignments, Hohlfeldt and Brader remained at tackle. Tebell retained his right end job. Taft failed to report. Elliott and Captain Sundt completed the backfield.

Richards gave the ball to the second squad on the Varsity 30-yard line. For two downs the reserves were unable to move the stolid Badger line, and a forward pass was attempted. Williams intercepted the heave, and flashed down the field on a 30-yard run. Elliott crashed through the line and secondary defense, Sundt added several yards, an after two tries near the goal line, Elliott carried the sphere over the mark.

Brumm Runs 90 Yards

The reserves were given the ball on the Varsity 10-yard line. Hohlfeldt broke through and tackling a second team halfback, hit him so hard that the reserve dropped the ball. Brumm scooped it up on the run and evaded a field of tacklers for his 90-yard tear. Varsity took

VOX POPULI

IT was a landslide—one of the old-fashioned kind that makes glad the hearts of the victors and stuns the vanquished into much humility.

Out of the mass of wreckage two things stand out in bold relief. For one thing the students are determined that freshmen shall wear green caps. The vote on this question was more overwhelming than on the others. The green cap has been sustained beyond the hopes of its most ardent devotees.

Another thing settled is that the students at Wisconsin are throughgoing Jeffersonian democrats at heart. Last spring the leader of the green cap supporters echoed the classic epigram of the first great democrat that "that government is best which governs least." The students resented the senate's decree abolishing the caps, and they voiced their feelings yesterday so that all the world may know.

There are some things which the referendum did not settle.

It would be a calamity to interpret the vote as an indorsement of the system under which students have been killed by drowning, exposure to cold, and the bullets of policemen, and their lives endangered by incendiary bombs, lead pipes, and liquid fire.

The senate abolished the caps because most of the members sincerely believed that such tragedies and outrages were the inevitable results of the system of putting in the hands of sophomores the enforcement of the cap tradition by terrorization. In the light of the vote yesterday it is hoped that the senate erred grievously in judgment.

The senate had tried two years of "regulating" the business and the result was about as successful as some of the modern methods of "humanizing" warfare.

The students have brought back the green caps. Whether the tradition can be maintained without excesses depends on the sense of decency and respect for the good name of the university on the part of the students during the coming weeks.

The report is that the Traditions commission appointed by the senate will continue its work to put traditions and their enforcement on a sound and wholesome basis. The commission now knows how the students feel on certain fundamentals and it can proceed with more clearness of aim. The work should be pressed to a speedy issue.

Many hints have been dropped as to some of the proposals which the commission may consider. One plan is to have the freshmen wear the cap as a matter of class pride and as a symbol of school loyalty, leaving the freshmen to be the guardians of the tradition. In the same connection the commission is said to be considering a plan which would make the donning of the green cap an impressive ceremony at the Varsity Welcome. From that time on, it is urged, the freshmen will regard the cap as an outward sign of inner fidelity to the things for which the university stands. Not to wear the cap would mark the freshman as unworthy of respect by his fellow classmates and out of harmony with the great spirit of his school. In other words, the freshman without a cap would be a slacker instead of a clever evader of sophomoric wrath.

Such an idea is at least constructive and indicates a trend of thought in the right direction.

The students await the report of the commission with hope.

Now that the battle of ballots is over it is time to drop the bitterness and ill will that unfortunately crept into the fight. To prolong the acrimony is unsportsmanlike. Out with it. The Homecoming game is not far off. Studies are pressing for attention. The gaiety of weekends invites. Let Milton's L'Allegro be read as cheer for the winners and balm for the losers.

WHAT THE MARKET WILL BEAR

FROM a small paper in the state of Wisconsin, The Daily News (Marshfield), the following is quoted in regard to the $5.00 bank charge for the privilege enjoyed by students of having a checking account in local banks:

"If the state university were located elsewhere than in Madison, or if the Madison people would be half way decent about the way they charge the students, the institution would be vastly more popular. Here's a 'petty graft' scheme, which brings the Madison bankers at least $30,000 a year; They charge each student $5 a year for allowing him to have a bank account, unless he keeps at least $100 on deposit all the time, in which case the $5 is returned to him at the end of the school year."

Quite a masterly bit of insidious writing directed against the state university and the city in which it is located, according to our way of thinking. The student's deposit is a small bit of currency, subject to check and not infrequently to overdraft.

However, a charge of $5.00 is too great. We admit the nuisance caused by the accounts; the banks must not overlook the benefits accruing to them. With the charge at this rate sentiment will accumulate against the banks; the point of maximum returns will be reached, and students, taking advantage of the par clearance rates, will keep their accounts in their home banks. It looks as if somebody might be killing the goose.

21,000 SEATS ASSURED FOR HOMECOMING

Concrete Work on 4,000 New Seats Already Begun

A new grand stand with 4,000 new seats, under construction on the east side of the stadium, will be ready for the Homecoming game on October 29, making a total of 21,500 concrete and temporary seats ready for use. The first part of the concrete has been poured and the last of it is expected to be in October 10.

Next summer four sections more will be built when the east side is completed.

Under this wing will be the permanent dressing quarters. Concrete tunnels will be built thru the hill on the west side. This year the crowd will be handled from the west side by a temporary entrance leading over the hill.

The new stadium was started in 1917 when 6,000 concrete seats were constructed. The field was graded and drainage tile laid every twenty feet under the cinders of the gridiron. Turf was cut and laid over the cinders.

Until 1915 the maximum attendance at any game was 15,300 including the general admission. In 1919 the largest crowd was 17,000. Last year the attendance reached 21,500.

The Department of Physical Education hopes to earn enough money to erect seating sections in the new stadium to keep up with the public demand. If this hope is realized, no demand will be made to the alumni for contributions, as has been done by some mid-western institutions.

Even if this plan does not succeed no outside contributions will be asked. The alumni will be requested to buy their seats in the new stadium for the period of five years, paying in advance. This plan will give the department a building fund.

By building 4,000 seats each year a real stadium will soon be erected. When completed it will resemble a horse shoe with the open end to the north and will accommodate 53,000 persons, or more than twice as much as the number which can be cared for this fall.

MIXER MAKES $550 FOR MEMORIAL FUND

More Than 2,000 Students Attend First Union Dance

About $550 totaled the proceeds from the mixer, held in the men's gymnasium, Saturday, Sept. 24.

A record crowd of about 2,200 students attended the first get-together of the 1921-22 school year. The majority of those present were new students, and the girls were decidedly in the minority.

Morton Frost of the Union board was in charge of the affair. All the proceeds from the mixers go to swell the Union Memorial building fund.

PYTHIA MEETING

cation as well as the student body at large.

The coupon book has been for some time a financial loss to the department, the printing alone costing a large per cent of the amount received from its sale. Added to this was the loss occasioned by the need of reserving seats from our limited capacity for coupon holders at approximately 19 cents a coupon, and thereby losing their sale at public rate of $2.00 or at the regular student rate of 50 cents.

While it is true that minor sports will suffer somewhat from the discontinuance of the book, it is a notable fact that the number of coupons redeemed for minor sport events has been very small in comparison to the number used for the more popular events at which our seating capacity has been taxed to the utmost.

It is true that the complaints of the coupon holders of last year are in a measure responsible for the action of the council in abolishing the book, since the agitation caused by them following the Homecoming game resulted in the appointment of a committee by the Student Senate to discuss the matter with a view to a possible improvement in conditions. This committee, under date of March 25, submitted the following recommendation for the consideration of the Athletic council:

"The elimination of the coupon book and the sale of tickets to all students at student rate of 50 cents when personal fee card is presented."

Since at no time was there any thought of discontinuing the student rate of 50 cents which has and always will, no doubt, remain in force, the council accepted the recommendation of the committee and voted to discontinue the sale of the coupon.

T. E. JONES,
Director of Athletics.

BIRGE STRESSES NEED OF SCIENCE AND RELIGION

Relation of Church to School Told in First Badger Club Meeting

The inter-relation of science and religion was the subject of the address with which President Edward A. Birge opened the first Badger club meeting Sunday night.

More than 250 members and guests of the club were greeted at the door of the comfortable Y. M. C. A. parlors and given a hearty welcome before the program began.

"Science, including all knowledge; art, appealing to the emotions; religion, bound up in human conduct; all are circles with distinct centers but with circumferences that overlap," declared President Birge. "If religion is a revelation of God, then also are science and art. All are the outward expression of the human spirit or the power of nature operating through man.

"Learning and religion have been connected since the earliest times. The religious emotions of man years ago grew in independence and strength and came to have a value of their own beyond their influence on outside activities.

"As one finds his place in the world and realizes his responsibility in human conduct he needs to see clearly the connection between religion and education.

"No institution except the church is as the university. There are those who think that in either place they are getting an insurance from the trouble of the world and that the less they pay, the better off they are.

"Some join the church for the sake of business; they have their reward. Some think of college as a kind of fetish that will do them good, possibly not in the next world, but at least in the life of bigger opportunity that follows school preparation."

President Birge spoke of the choice of a college education as one of the half dozen great steps that can be taken by an individual. He termed it an "act of faith" and made a plea for constancy that faith might not be dulled and the life that "might have been" might not fail to be realized. He indicated how necessary it was to give oneself wholly and unreservedly with true confidence that there was something vital to be sought, found, and treasured.

The purpose of Badger club was explained by Edwin Schneller, president of the club, and plans for recreational activities outlined.

Officers of the club are Edwin Schneller '24, president; Helen Kaetor '23, vice-president; Paul Gallagher, secretary - treasurer; Norman Reitan, and Grave Worth circle leaders; Mary Thompson '24,

NOTED PAPERS ARE GIVEN TO LIBRARY

Some of the papers written in Madison by the Rev. James Wilson Ward, a distinguished New England clergyman who lived in this city during the later fifties and was later editor of The Independent, have recently been acquired by the Wisconsin Historical society.

The Rev. Mr. Ward, while traveling in Europe, became acquainted with Governor Farwell, who persuaded him to invest funds in the young western capital and to make his home here. He was accompanied west by his son, William H. Ward, who had accepted a tutorship at Beloit College, and by his daughter, Susan H. Ward, who taught in one of the Madison schools.

After their return to the east, William and Susan Ward became members of the staff of The New York Independent, and in later years Rev. James W. Ward was editor-in-chief.

The other officers are Mary Ausman, secretary; Edith Black, vice-president; Selvida Kenseth, treasurer; and Adelaide Anderson, Forensic board representative.

A party for all new girls interested in the work of the society will be given October 14.
