TRACK TEAM WINS THIRD IN BIG 10 MEET

Two Conference Records
Are Broken at Staggy
Field

(Special to Daily Cardinal)
CHICAGO, Ill.—Two conference records were broken and one tied in the twenty-first annual Big Ten track meet which Illinois won by scoring 61 points at Staggy field yesterday. Michigan was a poor second with 35 1-2 points and Wisconsin nosed out Notre Dame for third place, chalking up 29 markers. Other points scored were scattered among 10 institutions.

Although Illini garnered only two first places, they scored a bevy of seconds and thirds which enabled them to romp away with the meet. Wisconsin placed first in the mile run, pole vault, high and low hurdles. Michigan also gathered five firsts while Notre Dame connected for three.

Marks in the high jump and javelin throw went by the boards and the record in the 100 yard dash was tied. True to advance predictions, the high jump record was shattered in a great duel between Johnny Murphy, Notre Dame, and Dewey Alberts, Illinois. Murphy leaped 6 feet 2 7-8 inches, a margin of seven-eighths of an inch over the 1919 mark of Carl Johnson, Michigan. Huffman, Michigan, hurled the javelin 178 feet 4 inches to beat his own throw of 172 feet 10 inches made last year. He made the throw in the preliminary trials on Friday and entrants in the finals were unable to touch it.

Five W. N. A. C. Records Are Shattered in Annual Contest

Contrary to all expectations, Coach Downer's Milwaukee Normal track squad won the sixth annual normal championship track and field meet which was held at Camp Randall yesterday afternoon. The meet was featured by the shattering of five W. N. A. C. records. Thiessenhusen, Milwaukee, broke both the mile and the half Precourt, Stevens Point, threw the javelin 6 feet 4 inches further than the former record, and Van Ells of Downer's championship squad, broke the shot put record by 1 foot.

During the early part of the afternoon it appeared as though Stevens Point would easily capture the meet. They won several firsts

SOPH WOMEN WIN FIELD DAY

Two Wisconsin Records
Broken in Annual
Contest

The sophomores took first place in three out of four events at the annual women's field meet, which was held under the direction of W. A. A. yesterday at Camp Randall. They won first honors in the track meet, archery contest, and baseball game.

Frances Beecher, with a score of 6-1, 6-1, won the tennis championship for the juniors. Doris Wyatt was her opponent. The juniors won every game that they have played in the series.

The sophomores won the track meet with a score of 38 points. The rest of the classes came in as follows: Juniors 35, seniors 26, and freshmen 4. Esther Mainland '23 had the highest individual score with 45 points; Auta Lyman '22 was second with 11, and Dorothy Kropf, third with 10.

Two Wisconsin records were broken. Jean Kilgore '22 broke her own record in the hurdles, the time being 9 2-5 seconds, and Dorothy Kropf '21, broke the hurl ball record with the distance of 71 feet 8 inches.

The summaries are:
Baseball throw—Grace Gleerup '21, first; Auta Lyman '22, second; Margaret Murray '24, third. Distance 171 feet 6 inches.

First Inning Rally Fails to Win for Notre Dame

After a first inning rally of two runs, the Notre Dame nine was not again able to score on Pitcher Frank Williams and the Badgers won the contest, 6 to 2. The game was played before a good crowd at Randall Field. Excellent baseball weather prevailed and a fast exhibition was offered by both clubs.

Coach Lowman sent "Bill" Williams to the mound at the start of the game and that hurler went the session, blanked the visitors. He entire nine rounds. He was in excellent form, and, after the opening allowed but seven scattered hits, and only on several occasions was he in a pinch. Williams' control was perfect, and in the nine innings he walked but one Notre Dame hitter.

While the Wisconsin sluggers were not up to their usual form, their eight safeties came at opportune times and were responsible for six counters. Casper, who hurled the entire game for the visitors, worked a fine game, but was touched for safe hits by the Badgers where they were most valuable. Casper struck out eight men, and otherwise hurled a good game of ball. He had the locals worried a great deal of the time.

Both teams played good ball in the field, although several errors were chalked up against the Cardinal. Most of these misplays were in the form of wild throws, while the fielding itself was good. Three double plays were completed in the

Soph-Frosh Traditions to Go;
Officials Declare—Senate
to Act

Fist fights, wiggling of clubs, throwing of phosphorous and incendiary bombs, marked a desperate effort of the sophomores to destroy the yearling's pile of wood for the cap night and resulted in the serious burning of two freshmen, and the injury of several others who participated in the fray on the lower campus yesterday.

Eight men were taken to the clinic following a series of encounters. Those injured included:

Ingwald Viste '24, seriously burned by phosphorous on face and arms. Rudolph Noe '24, burned on scalp and left arm.

Gordon Huseby '23, cut and bruised about the head.

Howard Willett '23, cut and bruised about head.

William Hammann '24, cut and bruised.

Three other men whose names the clinic did not record were treated for burns.

Abolition of all freshman-sophomore traditions, including the rush, cap night and the wearing of the green cap will probably result from what is said to have been one of the most bitter inter-class struggles in the history of the university.

Harder feeling was shown and a fiercer contest conducted than by any under classes in years. The men of the freshman class were out early gathering packing boxes, crates, and burnable wood of all kinds including an old motor boat and several small buildings and piling them in the middle of the lower campus for the traditional fire to consume their green caps.

Try Fake Photograph

Shortly after noon the sophomores made their first attempt to break up the preparations. A fake photographer got the attention of the frosh who lined up in front of their pile for a big picture. Meanwhile an automobile, manned with sophomores drove to the other side of the wood stack and the '23 men showered it with kerosene bombs. The fake picture broke up and the frosh grabbed the burning torches from the pile and drove away the second

THE NOSIE NEWSIE

Today's Querie: "What do you take to keep up these days?"

Where asked: The Libe.

Chandler Osborn: I find that there's nothing like pure, sparkling, spring water to keep one feeling fit. It carries me through the hardest days.

Alice Munroe: A good pipe of opium is the thing I most like.

The Chi Phis: We're trying dandelion wine, and find that it is very beneficial.

Dean Nardin: I suggest to the student body, and to those of the faculty who can stand it, a large dose of sulphur and molasses.

Peter Platten: Just a little run and a jump does the trick.

THERE'S not much use in attempting to put up a Cap night celebration when there's no spirit of freedom and liberation. A class that has disregarded, and has been permitted to disregard traditions as much as the present freshman class doesn't really deserve a rum-pus of any kind. They're not any freer today than they were day before yesterday.

OFFICIALS TABLE BALL CONTROVERSY

The question of summer baseball by college players was left untouched at the meeting of faculty representatives of conference institutions at Chicago yesterday. It was the general opinion of the faculty committee on Big Ten athletics that nothing should be done about the matter.

"We decided to let the matter of summer baseball drop," said Prof. J. A. Pyre, Wisconsin representative on the committee, last night. That, however, does not mean it will not

The present controversy as to the playing of summer baseball by members of Big Ten nines arose from the ineligibility of Capt. "Slicker" Parks, Michigan pitcher, who was ruled out of competition because he played baseball on the Pacific coast last summer.

Senior Vespers will take place this afternoon at 4:30 on Muir Hall in accordance with the traditional custom whereby the juniors hold these special vespers for the graduating class the Sunday after Swingout.

Underclassmen will invite the seniors to accompany them to the service but this is merely an optional custom and Zirian Blish '22, in charge, wishes to assure all seniors that they are specially invited to attend by the junior class.

Auto Lyman '22 will preside and Miss Abbie Marlatt will give a short talk which will be followed by two-minute speeches made by Mildred Rogers '21, Margaret Swift '21, Marie Bodden, Elizabeth Chandler and Margaret Crosby.

Special music will include violin selections played by Dorothy Bacon '23, and Hildegard Maedje '22, and songs by a quartet of seniors. The entire service will last no longer than an hour and, in case of rain, will be held in Lathrop parlors.

It is customary each year for the junior girls to take an interest in the freshman girls who are to enter the university. The Junior advisory council, for this purpose, secures the names of the freshmen who have registered.

Every junior woman has a freshman advisee, with whom she corresponds during the summer, and looks after during the first year. Through these efforts, the freshman girl is able to get acquainted.

"In past years, this system has not been very successful," said Cleo Parsley, recently chosen chairman of the Junior advisory committee. "We are looking forward to making a success of it next year."

Through the advice of the committee, the booklet, "If I Were a Freshman Again," will be sent to all the freshman girls as a guide.

A meeting of the council will be held Wednesday evening at 7:15 o'clock in Lathrop hall concert room.

in the track meet but fell down completely in the field events. La Crosse, on the other hand, was exceptionally weak in the track events but captured so many places in the field meet that it was not possible to announce the winner until the report from the last event, the javelin throw, was read.

Coach Downer's squad was well balanced and placed consistently in practically all of the events. They picked up every spare point possible on second and third places, and it was this fact that enabled them to total 41 points, six points more than La Crosse, their nearest rival.

Precourt, Stevens Point, with a total of 15 points, was the individual high point winner of the meet. He received his points by placing first in three of the events. Field, La Crosse, was second, with a total of 13 points to his credit.

The outcome of the meet must have proven a severe jolt to some of the "dopesters." Stevens Point was slated to win the meet on the merits of their well-balanced team but they fell behind after the first few events, and, from then on, were never a source of worry to the leaders. Oshkosh, the supposed dark horse, failed to accomplish anything remarkable. Both Milwaukee and La Crosse were the surprises of the meet; especially the former who were supposed to be strong in only one or two events.

The summaries are:

Mile run—Thiessenhusen M, first; Field L, second; Carlson W, third. Time 4:41 2-5.

BADGERS END BALL SEASON TOMORROW

Meet Michigan in Final Game at Camp Randall Monday

The 1921 baseball team will end its season tomorrow afternoon when they meet the Wolverines at 3:30 on the Camp Randall diamond. The fact that it is the last game is but one of the several reasons why Coach Lowman's men will make a mighty attempt to defeat Michigan, for they are still indignant at the deal they received in Ann Arbor last week.

The season will be ushered out in a most fitting manner. The game will be called at 3:30 p. m. An effort is being made to have the university band present, and members of the Kiwanis and Rotary clubs will be guests of the athletic department.

Michigan defeated Illinois 6 to 2 at Urbana yesterday, and upon the results of the Wisconsin-Michigan game will hinge Michigan's prospects of a Big Ten title. If Michigan wins, the Wolverines will be tied with Illinois with 10 victories and one defeat.

It is not likely that there will be any change in the Badger lineup. Lowman's star twirler, Paddock, will probably do the hurling, although Christianson is a possible choice.

Sophomore - Freshman Traditions to Go, Officials Declare year men with clubs and staves, breaking the windshield of the car.

A protection line of frosh surrounded the pile while others kept piling up the wood which motor trucks brought. A "fixed" crate was placed near the center of the stack and when the dope inserted by the sophs worked through it started to burn, causing clouds of black smoke. This second attempt failed.

An ambitious crowd of sophomores, in another ruse, rolled a hose out of the armory and turned a heavy stream of water on the pile which was reaching a height eclipsing that of the biggest Homecoming piles. In the meantime another squad armed with burning oil bombs stormed it from the opposite side and almost kindled a flame as a gang of frosh rushed the men with the hose stopping the flow of water after several hand-to-hand encounters.

At 6 o'clock an organized attack by sophomores succeeded in starting the blaze. A truck load of sophomores got near to the pile and unloaded their gasoline loaded bombs while others threw their cans from the ground. They so outnumbered the yearlings that the frosh were overcome and the conflagration immediately got beyond control. Two blasts from the fire siren and within a few minutes the fire department appeared on the campus. The frosh used the hose well in spite of the fact that the sophs cut up several sections.

Later a new pile made from the remains and what had been dragged off the heap, flared high and the spirited frosh sailed their head pieces into the flames as they gathered in snake dance over the field. The sophomore men were now scarce, having failed in their determined attempt to break up the freshman even. The freshmen left to parade the city with a red light torch procession, after finally burning their caps. Returned from the square the leaders marched to the lake and had a free-for-all voluntary lake party.

Goodnight Makes Statement

Dean Scott H. Goodnight made the following statement:

"I am going to use all of my power and influence to obtain the abolition of cap night, and the freshman-sophomore rush. The green cap is wrapped up with these two traditions and will also have to go.

"I am told that the University of Illinois has abolished the rush and hazing several years ago. Minnesota also did away with these things some time ago. Chicago does not have hazing. We are the last institution in the middle west to retain it, and it is time for it to go.

"I trust that we shall have the backing of the student body and the student senate, and from the assurances I have been given in conferences with leading men in the student body I am confident that we shall have their support.

"We shall make every effort to find the men who were responsible for the 'phosphorus' incident.

"The situation has become absolutely intolerable. Last year cap night cost us the life of a student. This year it has caused the serious injury of several and the less serious injury of others. The university can not stand before the public as tolerating that sort of thing, and we are not going to tolerate it. We are going to clean it up."

David Lacey '21, president of the student senate, said, "The unsportsmanlike conduct shown by both classes will probably end cap nights and class rushes. The senate will meet at noon today."

IT MUST NEVER HAPPEN AGAIN!

YESTERDAY'S outbreak on lower campus presents one of the most disgraceful spectacles in the history of the university. The event brings home with telling force the need of drastic and unflinching action on the part of the student senate and the support of such action by the faculty.

The Cardinal demands for the preservation of the good name of the university and for the prevention of future outrages the abolition of class fights (including the class rush) and the abolition of green caps.

The efforts to enforce the worn-out traditions, and the miserable failure of such efforts has shown the utter futility of our present system. The only fruit has been increased class animosity and hatred culminating in yesterday's disgraceful outrage.

When phosphorous bombs are hurled into a crowd of students in the name of school spirit; when students are beat like dogs to bring home a school tradition—the time has come to call a halt in the pussy-boot policy heretofore pursued. The root of the matter must be struck. The one solution is the abolition of class fights and of the green caps.

Doubtless such a program will be a severe shock to some of our gladiatorial spirits. Doubtless some of our belligerent minds will bemoan the passing of the days of clubs and bombs. But over the protest of these few, there is a higher cause which demands the complete extinction of the relics of brutality.

We cannot tolerate a spirit which stimulates free-for-alls. We cannot have men beaten almost to unconsciousness in the name of loyalty to the school. We cannot have half-crazed bomb-throwers maiming students, perhaps for life, to satisfy certain bestial instincts.

What will become of school spirit if class fights and green caps are gone? Most certainly it will not suffer. School spirit was never beat into anyone by pounding him over the head with a two-by-four. School spirit was never instilled into anyone by burning his face with phosphorous bombs. In fact, if there is anything that would crush the school spirit out of a man, it is to bear through life a scar that was inflicted under the name of school loyalty.

It is inconceivable that school spirit should vanish simply because the freshmen do not wear small pieces of green cloth on their heads, and because freshmen and sophomores do not hate each other and treat each other like beasts.

The school that cannot command the loyalty of its students without such outrages as we witnessed yesterday is unworthy of any loyalty. Wisconsin, we are sure, can always command student loyalty and support without scaring or beating such loyalty and support into her students. Forced loyalty is no loyalty at all.

Disgraceful as such outbreaks may seem here, they appear worse in the eyes of the people of the state. Small wonder, indeed, that the university has a poor standing throughout the state when we see men beat over the head and burned in the name of higher education.

These are times that call for action. No mollycoddle tactics will satisfy. We must make an end of the brutal and disgraceful foolishness that results in class war. The whole trend of the times is for such action. The university demands it and demands it now.

PUNISH THE LEADERS

THE ring leaders who were unquestionably responsible for yesterday's tragic occurrence on the lower campus should be weeded out and brought to a speed justice.

There should be no effort on the part of either the student senate, the student body or the faculty to attempt in any way to whitewash the guilty by merely eliminating the cap night tradition. There are those who will attempt to charge the outrageous actions up to the system, but it must be remembered that no university tradition in itself, however well ingrained it may be, permits of the indiscriminate use of phosphorous bombs and the out-cropping of lawlessness.

Two things must be done immediately.

The one consists in the abolition of the system which makes an outrageous cap night possible.

The other should come in teaching the lesson that some thought must be given to human life even if it interferes with the wild-eyed plans of a group of enraged class leaders.

Sympathy cannot in any way be associated with the perpetrators of yesterday's fiasco.

BASEBALL TEAM TRIMS HOOSIERS

course of the contest, two being made by the snappy Notre Dame infield.

"Pat" Snow was easily the star performer of the afternoon. The Wisconsin right-fielder gathered three safe hits out of four attempts, and two of these went for extra bases. All the hits came when most needed and were responsible for several of the locals runs. In the outfield Snow made a running catch of a long fly into right center that brought the crowd to their feet.

"Rollie" Williams registered the longest drive of the day. His only hit was a triple into deep center field, that looked for a moment as if it were good for four bags. Davey connected for one hit out of twice as many tries at the plate.

Kane, the visitors' third sacker, got to Williams for a trio of safe ones, and counted one of the Notre Dame runs.

Next Monday afternoon Coach Lowman's men will close their season at Camp Randall with the Michigan Wolverines. After the eighteen inning battle that took place at Ann Arbor last week, it is needless to say that this last contest will be hard fought to the end.

TRACK TEAM WINS THIRD IN BIG 10 MEET

Two Conference Records
Are Broken at Stagg
Field

"Bill" Hayes, Notre Dame, stepped the century in 9 4-5 seconds. He traveled the distance in the same time in 1919 and is joint holder of the record with Blair and Ward, Chicago, and May, Illinois. The sprinters were aided by a strong wind from the lake which blew across the field and it is doubtful if the mark will be allowed.

Hamilton, Missouri, and Knollin, Wisconsin, were individual high point scorers of the track and field games. Knollin won both hurdle races over a formidable field of starters. He was returned victor in the high hurdles in 15 seconds flat, defeating Crawford, Iowa, and Anderson, Minnesota. The Badger hurdler vanquished Wallace, Illinois, and Anderson, Minnesota, in a fast low hurdles race. Hamilton scored his points in the field events. The national pentathlon champion collected three points in the pole vault, four in the broad jump, two in the javelin throw, and one in the shot put. He was tied with two pole vaulters, but on the toss-up was awarded second place.

Wall Wins Mile

Mark Wall ran a pretty race in the mile to beat McGinnis, Illinois, in a close finish. The entire field was bunched for the greater part of the distance. On the straight-away Wall stepped out and pulled up on even terms with McGinnis, and about 10 yards in front of the finish line he took a small lead which he held to the end. Capt. Nash won third place in the half mile after he had led the field for three-quarters of the distance. As the men drew into the stretch, Yates, Illinois, overtook Nash, but Higgins, Ames, started a winning spurt in the last yards of the race and broke the tape a winner. He traveled the distance in 1 minute 50 2-5 seconds in the face of a strong wind which bothered the middle and long distance runners.

Dale Merrick did some pretty aviating for a win in the pole vault. Wilder placed fifth in this event. Guy Sundt scored five counters for the rest of Wisconsin's 29 points. He won fourths in the board jump and shot put, and fifth in the javelin throw.

Northwestern Takes Discus

Blackwood, Northwestern, threw the discus 145 feet 1/2 inch in the Friday preliminary trials and the mark was enough to win for him in the finals. This was the best throw which has been made during the entire Big Ten track season.

A closely contested relay race went to Michigan by a few feet. A Chicago sprinter took the lead in the first lap after a bad spill on the turn. His teammate was unable to keep up the fast pace, and the final contest between Michigan and Illinois was decided when Butler nosed out his Illinois opponent.

Summary of the meet follows:

One mile run:

Won by Wall, Wis.; second, McGinnis, Ill.; third, Patterson, Ill.; fourth, Sweitzer, Minn.; fifth, Ferguson, Ohio State. Time 4:31 2-5.

In "The District School," a Musical Revue With Snap at the Orpheum Monday Night

At The Theaters

COMING TO THE ORPHEUM

The old adage 'tis an ill wind that blows no good' is a present particularly appropriate to vaudeville. The temporary closing of several moving picture studios has released for a short period several prominent screen players and some who are well known both on the stage and screen, and vaudeville was quick to take advantage of their release. Among this number is Carlyle Blackwell. Mr. Blackwell has been the hero of any number of screen productions. His exploits have thrilled and entertained audiences throughout the whole world. There are hundreds and thousands who know Mr. Blackwell well, but have never heard him speak and this host will be eager to see him in the flesh in a playlet presented in person instead of in celluloid. For this purpose he has acquired a playlet by Mark Swan, called, "Eight, Six and Four," and will be featured on the Orpheum Vaudeville program for four days starting Thursday June 9.

AT THE ORPHEUM

There will be three vaudeville performances at the Orpheum today and tomorrow, matinees at 3 o'clock and evening performances starting at 7:15 and 9 p. m. Janet of France in a musical playlet "Song Shopping," Moody and Duncan in songs and patter; Nick Hufford; Dunlay and Merrill; Frear, Baggott and Frear; La Fleur and Portia and Pathe News reel making up the programme.

Three Orpheum Circuit acts of importance will be featured on the new vaudeville bill which comes Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. Heading the list will be "The District School" a snappy musical revue, featuring seven players, in which songs, dances and musical specialties follow in fast order. Maude Powers and Vernon Wallace in "Georgia on Broadway" will present song and dance, and "Chasing the Blues" singing, dancing and talking by Frank Kellam and Patricia O'Dare together with The Clifford Wayne Trio; Chas. D. Keating, as "Huckleberry Finn and Jas McClay as Tom Sawyer; Marguerite and Alvarez; Pathe News and Topics of the Day pictures completes the programme. There will be a matinee on Wednesday.

AT THE GRAND

Intense and sustained interest, suspense and astonishingly spectacular situations combine in "Trumpet Island" to make the great Vitagraph special production a notable achievement in the motion picture world. The picture drama will be shown at the Grand theater on Sunday. The surpassingly sensational feature of the production is the wrecking of an airplane bearing a bride and groom through a terrific electric storm and the crash of the shattered machine into a tree on lonely Trumpet Island. The daring is beyond anything attempted in the field of motion pictures in the past. The realism is flawless and the effect tremendous.

AT THE MAJESTIC

"The Branding Iron," which comes to the Majestic Theatre, for three days, commencing Sunday is the latest Goldwyn feature production, enacted by an all star cast, and directed by the well known Reginald Barker.

The story is truly dramatic, and deals with the life of a beautiful girl, Joan, who is imprisoned in a cabin in the mountains of Wyoming, by a crazed father. Her opportunity came one night, when her father, more intoxicated than ever before, unthinkingly leaves the door unlocked. Joan took refuge in a ranch house, where Pierre, a handsome rugged type of man, woos and marries her. Conway Tearle in "The Road of Ambition" will be shown last times today.

AT THE FULLER

Priscilla Dean evidently had use for all her reserve fund of energy and pep in the making of "Reputation," her latest and biggest Universal-Jewel production in which she is now appearing at the Fuller theater.

Playing the two extremely opposite roles in "Reputation," dashing like a hurricane through its animated scenes, displaying the tense repression of a pent-up volcano, and again bursting forth like a mighty explosion of a charge of dynamite, Miss Dean displays more energy to the square inch in this forceful drama than has been presented on a screen in years.

Priscilla's wild desert ride in The Virgin of Stamboul seems tame in comparison with many of her scenes in "Reputation." Her desperate battle with the Chinatown gangsters in Outside the Law fades into insignificance after one sees her tempestuous climaxes in "Reputation." In this photodrama one sees Priscilla in the two antithetical roles, one opposed to the other, and by some of the best double exposure photography ever accomplished, many scenes show the two characters in the same scene, each expressing a contrasting emotion.

"A kick in every foot" may sound like an attempt at humor, but it seriously describes the whirlwind action in "Reputation." It was directed by Stuart Paton, from False Colors, a magazine story by Edwina Levin, made into a scenario by Lucien Hubbard and Doris Schroeder.

COMING WEEK AT GRAND

Sunday — Vitagraph Super-Special, Trumpet Island.

Monday and Tuesday—Vitagraph Super-Special, Trumpet Island and The Emerald Isle, views of Ireland.

Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday—Marguerite Clark, Scrambled Wives.

Trumpet Island

Vitagraph has achieved a winning combination of a story full of action and play of emotion, written by a famous author and directed and acted by well-known stars, in Trumpet Island, the smashing screen special to be shown at the Grand theater today.

It is enough to know that Gouverneur Morris wrote the story and that it is one of the most interesting and vivid tales he has turned out. People who have read his magazine stories and books—and who has not?—know the intense human quality, the truth to life, which characterize them all.

Not one of these qualities was lost in transferring the narrative to the screen. Rudolph de Cordova adapted the story, and Mr. and Mrs. George Randolph Chester, the latter the noted author of Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford, added their talents to insure the bringing out of every dramatic possibility in the original. To do justice to the finished work of the collaborators, Tom Terriss, who has handled many of Vitagraph's big specials, was given the directing of the splendid all-around cast.

STRAND CALENDAR

Sunday, Monday, Tuesday—Mary Miles Minter in "The Little Clown," also Larry Semon in The Hick, and pictures of Madison events.

Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday—Wallace Reid and Lila Lee in The Charm School, also a Lyons Moran comedy Blue Sunday.

The Little Clown

Mary Miles Minter in "The Little Clown" will be shown at the Strand theater for three days starting today.

The aristocratic Beverleys had never seen a lady turn a cartwheel, and as Pat, their son's little circus sweetheart, was especially good at cartwheels, they decided that she was not a lady and never could become one. Pat's stay at Beverley hall was a most miserable experience, and at last in despair she went back to the circus, where her old friends loved her just as she was, with her Tomboy manners and her kind little heart. Oddly enough, the aristocratic Beverleys found that they missed her. The grand old mansion seemed silent and gloomy without Pat and her lively tricks. They begged her to return, not as a mere guest on probation this time but as young Mrs. Dick Beverley.

The special added attractions will be Larry Semon in The Hick, and The Wisconsin State Journal Madison news weekly consisting of the University Athletic Field day, the Varsity Swingout, and other subjects.

Band at Tenney

Park On Sunday

Scherer's band will play at Tenney park Sunday. VARIETY AND HIGH LEVEL OF EXCELLENCE MARK JUNE "LIT"

By MORRIS ROBERTS

The June number of the "Lit." is marked by variety, and throughout, by a high level of excellence. There is facility in the treatment of conventional themes, and in efforts that are avowedly imitative—facility, and not infrequently strength also. What is more, in some of the prose, in Miss Latimer's "The Dark Gate," for example, one feels the fresh movement of a true creative impulse, a tingling vividness, the impact of a sensitive and individual imagination.

Much of the verse seems by comparison rather tame. Mr. Gangelin's "Intimations" is a pleasing and graceful variation on a familiar tune, and Mr. Culman's "The Mildenhall Birches" produces a melodious little sigh in the shape of a triolet. More compelling and suggestive than either of these is the free verse "Cinquains," by Elizabeth Gray, containing some finely traced and poignant impressions and ending upon a note of tender regret which doesn't quite sustain itself. Miss Lovell offers an eloquent tribute to W. E. L. as vates poet. "Un Depart," by Guy Tallmadge is a skillful and charming exercise in French versification. In Mr. Guillemain's dramatic monologue, Browning himself is the speaker. After lamenting, not without a touch of smugness, the need of "stirring dull brains," he expounds, with the help of quotations from Ixion and Prospice, his notion of courage with a gusto and exuberance that reminds one more of his own Fra Lippo Lippi than of the urbane hero of the earliest Browning societies. One regrets that his sojourn in another world has been so bad for Mr. Browning's manners. Still, the poem reveals great, not to say frantic, vigor, a firm grasp of the thought, and sustained movement towards an effective climax.

There are some moments of strong feeling and imaginative warmth in Miss Emmerling's two prose sketches, "Threnody," and "Moth Under the Moon." The title of Mr. Gregory's dramatic sketch, "A Morality Without a Moral," offers a challenge which turns out to be a fiction. For, so far from having no moral at all, the thing fairly bristles with morals, such as, to mention only two, "He should have a long spoon who would sup with the devil," and "Beware the counsel of a daughter of Eve;" and the reader, bewildered by an embarrassment of moral riches, is disposed to reject them all, so that in the end Mr. Gregory, perhaps artfully, achieves his purpose by leaving the reader with nothing to show for his perusal of the sketch except a feeling of disappointment.

In "The Right Thing" Mr. Gangelin recounts, in a way that derives power from its sobriety and matter-of-fact directness, a story of defeated aspiration, the frustration of a youthful hope, of a momentary rebellion and final submission to the rule of things. Miss Latimer's "The Dark Gate" has already been referred to. The psychology of the story is evoked with a good deal of subtlety and precision. Here and there Miss Latimer's imaginative probing carries her, in its restlessness, too far, to the point of the banal or the eccentric; but on the whole, I venture to think, there is more true poetry in this prose tale than in all the verse put together. It is pleasant, finally, to dwell for a moment on the second of Mr. Ramsdell's "Adventures of Gaudelm"—better, I think, than the first. Its style possesses verisimilitude and fluency; the dialogue, particularly in the dispute between two medieval scholars as to whether the elephant sleeps lying or standing, is uncommonly spirited and apt. The dispute in question is a delightful bit of satire, the absurdity of the argument being equaled only by the fierce earnestness with which they are advanced; a host of recondite authorities are cited with an air of easy familiarity, and the debate ends—as all debates should—in a passage at arms or cudgels, with the disciple of Aristotle literally on top and sparing no pains to make his presence felt.
