LOWDEN SPEECH TONIGHT OPENS LECTURE SERIES

Former Illinois Governor to Talk on European Conditions

Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois and agricultural specialist, will speak on the financial and political situation of Europe at the first of a series of all-university convocations directed by the Wisconsin Union which will be held at 7:45 o'clock tonight in Music hall.

"I congratulate every one who is going to hear Mr. Lowden tomorrow night," Stephen W. Gilman, professor of business administration, declared yesterday. "Mr. Lowden is one of the most dynamic, Rooseveltian men I have ever known. He is courageous enough to tackle any monstrous problem and will probably continue to be one of the chief figures in American affairs for some time to come."

Calls Students Blase

"It is high time for the students of this university to shuffle off the blase indifference which possesses them. They are offered an unusual opportunity to hear one of the most forceful orators, one of the most prominent men in the country. I hope as many as can will take advantage of the opportunity."

After having spent several months studying conditions in four European countries, Mr. Lowden is qualified to advance his opinions on how the United States should act in connection with Europe. The former governor is a firm believer in progressive foreign policies and feels that it is essential to the welfare of all the world that America step in and take a more active interest in the affairs of struggling Europe than it has hitherto been wont to show.

Tours United States

It is to depict the condition of Europe and to advance his idea of how that condition can be remedied that Mr. Lowden comes to Madison tonight. He has made a country-wide lecturing tour since his return to the United States several months ago. This trip, however, is quite aside from his lecture tour and is made only as a special favor to the Wisconsin Union and the audience which will hear him tonight.

Lee Mc Candless '23, who is in charge of the Wisconsin Union convocations this year has received a number of letters from professors and Madisonians congratulating the Wisconsin Union on securing such an excellent speaker for the first of the series of lectures.

Mr. Lowden has employed a

St. Andrew Brotherhood Chapter Is Reorganized

General reorganization of the University chapter of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew took place at a meeting of that body last night at the St. Francis club house. Plans for carrying on the chapter's work were discussed at length and a constitution committee was appointed.

Officers elected to serve for the remainder of the semester and the second semester were Wes W. Dunlap '25, director; Walter K. Morley '25, first vice director; George S. Woodward '25, second vice director; Hawley V. Porter '25, secretary and treasurer.

The chapter decided to take over another unit of the churches mission work in the parish of Mazomanie. The parish at Evansville is being served entirely by members of the chapter at present. A lay reader goes to the field each Sunday to hold a service and read a sermon. Work at the Mazomanie mission will be done in the same way.

The chapter also adopted the plan of more informal meetings to be held semi-monthly, one to be a dinner followed by general discussion.

Ten Pieces to Play at Musical Comedy

Dave Chudnow and his 10-piece orchestra has been secured to play for the dancing at the Fifth Annual Haresfoot follies which will be staged December 2, it was announced by Porter F. Butts '24, chairman, yesterday.

Chudnow has augmented his regular 5-piece combination with five more instruments, and when he appears at Lathrop hall the night of the follies, he will have one of the best orchestras that has played at Wisconsin. His orchestra is rehearsing daily preparing feature numbers for the dance.

Tickets for the annual vodvil and dance were placed on sale yesterday with Morgan's, the University pharmacy and members of the Haresfoot club. Only 250 tickets are being sold to prevent crowding. Some fraternity groups are planning to attend the follies in a body.

'STOP THIEF' TO BE PROM PLAY

Candidates Will Try For Comedy and Club at Same Time

"Stop Thief", a farce comedy by Carlyle Moore, has been chosen for the pre-Prom play, the first production of the Wisconsin University Players, new men's and women's dramatic club, it was announced yesterday by the play committee, composed of Dixie Davis '23, Roberta Loudon '24, and Lee Mc Candless '23.

Tryouts for the play will be held next week and will be open to all university men and women except freshmen, according to Olivia Fentress '23, tryout manager. Tryouts for the play will be considered as tryouts for membership in the organization.

Application blanks must be filled out by all who wish to try out, according to the committee. They may be procured at Lathrop hall and the Union building today from 4:30 to 6 o'clock, Friday from 10 to 12:30, and Monday from 4:30 to 6 o'clock. Members of the club will be at the appointed places at these hours to confer with those desiring to enter dramatic work.

Stiver Boosts Meetings of Square and Compass

Informal meetings and social gatherings such as the Square and Compass holds are the best possible means to supply Masons with something that they cannot get while away from their home lodges, Prof. E. R. Stiver of the College of Engineering told members of that club at the regular weekly supper and meeting last night in the Y. M. C. A.

Professor Stiver said that the common interest that Masons have by reason of their membership in the order is one of the greatest forces for uniting them to carry on the work that is expected of such an organization. He believes that college organizations for Masons are among the most influential bodies in existence in dealing with campus problems.

Installation of the local square into the national organization will take place December 15 at the Masonic temple. A banquet will follow the ceremony.

Illinois Gym Prom Plans Dissatisfy Juniors There

Juniors at Illinois are dissatisfied because only 270 couples are going to be able to attend Prom if it is held in the gymnasium annex as planned.

Women Medics Postpone Meeting of Association

Because of an examination for medical students in physiological chemistry the meeting of the Women's Medical association which was scheduled for last night, has been postponed until Tuesday or Thursday of next week.

FROSH TO DOFF GREEN CAPS FOR WINTER MONTHS

Student Senate Votes to Put Aside Headwear Until Easter

The freshman green cap will be laid aside on Thanksgiving morning and will be donned again on Easter morning, in accordance with legislation passed by the Student senate at a special meeting held at the Law building last night.

The vote followed a discussion on a report made by Senator Robert C. Aspinwall, chairman of a special committee appointed to investigate the advisability of using a green toque for the winter.

"The committee had several choices," Aspinwall told the Senate. "We can either abandon the use of freshman headgear for the winter months, as has been done in the past or we can legislate a green toque into existence or ask the freshmen to continue the use of the present cap during the cold weather. I have heard from some that the new cap is considerably warmer than the old, and still there is a continual drop in the number being used."

"There is no great feeling against the present cap," Senator James Flickinger, president of the freshmen class said on being asked for freshmen sentiment. "I think they would wear them if asked to do so. Still I wouldn't like to see it enforced because the cap has no brim to protect the face against winter weather. I feel quite sure that the freshmen will accept the cap next spring in the same manner and will don it in the same numbers as they have this fall if they are permitted to abandon it during the winter."

The vote to discontinue the use of the cap on Thanksgiving day was unanimous.

Senator Aspinwall was unanimously elected to represent the student body on the board of trustees of the Co-op. The election followed a report in which it was shown that no student representative had been elected in the past two years. The constitution of the Co-op provides that such a representative should be elected.

A committee to investigate the feasibility and methods of the point system for scholastic activities will be appointed by President Brown in accordance with action taken by the senate.

"We have been considering the usage of the system for some time," Brown said. "President Birge had nothing to say about it when interviewed the other day. Dean Goodnight said that he would be glad to see it in existence, but that it would take considerable time to study it thoroughly and work out a scheme that would be fair to everybody."

The 17-pound candy football, which is to be given to the Wisconsin football player who makes the first touchdown in the game against Chicago, will be displayed in the window of The Chocolate Shop tonight.

"This football has a fudge filling which is coated with a half-inch layer of chocolate," George Daniel, proprietor of The Chocolate Shop, said.

"We are doing this in order to encourage our team to put up an aggressive fight against Chicago next Saturday. Because the outer layer of chocolate breaks so easily after it is taken from the mold, it is very difficult to prepare such a football."

WEATHER: FAIR

Fair weather is forecasted for today and tomorrow, and seasonable temperatures are promised for Madison and vicinity.

To Hold Forensic Mixer December 1

A Forensic mixer will be held December 1 in Lathrop Gymnasium according to an announcement of the Forensic board yesterday. The annual affair is under the auspices of the Forensic board and the benefits go toward the expenses of forensic activities and to various literary societies.

On December 7, Elias Day, noted reader and dramatic expressionist, will present a program of interpretive readings. He is a prominent member of the Lyceum Arts conservatory of Chicago, and has had 26 years of experience on the public platform. This program is under the departments of public speaking and dramatic expression.

The date of the sophomore semi-public debate has been changed from December 1 to December 16. The literary society teams have recently been organized. The Ship Subsidy Bill has been selected as the question for debate.

3,000 STUDENTS SIGN PETITION

Decision to Be Given Today on Request For Holiday December 1

More than 3,000 students signified their desire for a suspension of classes on the Friday following Thanksgiving day when they signed petitions asking the university authorities to declare December 1 a holiday.

The petitions were taken to Dean Scott H. Goodnight of the Student Life and Interest committee late yesterday afternoon. It is not within his power, however, to act upon the wished-for extension.

"Although the authority to grant an extra day of vacation at Thanksgiving time does not rest with me, I am heartily in favor of declaring December 1 a holiday and will do all I can to assist the students in obtaining favorable action," said the Dean. He expressed great surprise at the number of signatures secured in so short a time.

The petitions will be presented to President Birge some time this morning by Dean Goodnight. The ultimate decision will probably be given today by the President and Dean George C. Sellery of the College of Letters and Science.

It is necessary to have a certain number of days in each school year. A day, therefore, will probably be deducted from the Christmas vacation. Such action, it is felt, will not be objected to by the majority of students, since there are three more days of Christmas vacation this year than last.

When a petition was presented to the university two years ago asking that the Friday following Thanksgiving be a holiday the deans of the various colleges voted to grant the request, provided that a day be taken from the mid-year holidays.

Circulation of petitions and presentation to Dean Goodnight was done under the direction of Lee D. Hanson '24.

Lecture Canceled When Speaker Fails to Appear

Disagreement concerning the date of Alfred Zimmern's scheduled appearance to lecture in Bascom hall this afternoon under the auspices of the University Lecture committee led to a complete cancellation of the engagement, Prof. J. M. O'Neil, chairman of the committee, stated yesterday. Zimmern was unable to appear today and made no effort to arrange for a future engagement.

Union at Michigan Has Its Fifteenth Birthday

The Michigan Union celebrated its 15th birthday as a student home Sunday. This union had its first home in a small house, and now occupies the new building completed a few years ago.

BADGER ELEVEN SET TO BATTLE FAST STAGGMEN

Chicago Maroons Favored to Win in Annual Tilt

Pointed to upset the Chicago Maroons in their last football game of the season, Coach J. R. Richards and his Badger squad of 35 men will leave tomorrow morning for Chicago where they will rest one day before going into action against the prospective Big Ten champions.

The regular eleven is slated to work out at Stagg field on Friday afternoon in their final practice of the season. Wisconsin has prepared a whole bag full of tricks, any one of which may upset the Maroons and puzzle them long enough to give Wisconsin a margin of victory.

Badger Attack Versatile

While the Staggmens are expected to play the old army game of smash 'em up with straight running formations through the Wisconsin line and attempts around end, the Badgers will depend upon a versatile attack to carry them to victory and to spill Chicago aspirations for a Conference title.

Coach Richards can build enough forward pass plays around the Barr-Irish-Tebell-Williams combination to send any opposing team into the air. Long and short throws can be mixed, and if passes fail, Williams or Gibson are certain ground gainers when they carry the ball behind interference.

May Play Polaski

It will be no surprise of several changes are made in the Wisconsin line-up for the tilt with Chicago. Polaski may get a strangle hold on the left end position by his showing this week, and if Irish is not in the best of condition, Steve has the call. Both Nichols and Pearce will see service at center. These two men have traded places in every Big Ten game this season and the work of both has been up to standard.

"MEETIN'" CAST TO REHEARSE TONIGHT

The local talent of the mythical "Punkin Holler" neighborhood will rehearse for the last time tonight in final preparation for the third annual "Punkin Holler Community Meetin'" which will be held in Agricultural auditorium at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

The task of converting Agricultural auditorium into a one room country school for the occasion is in charge of Harry Clements '24, chairman of the decorations committee. Paper chains, Japanese lanterns, pumpkins, and other rural school material is available to lend a country school atmosphere to the event. More than 2000 feet of crepe paper will be used to decorate the room.

Pumpkin pie will be served as refreshment during the program, according to Harold Wicker '24, chairman of the refreshments committee. More than 100 pies have been ordered for the meeting. Home economics students are assisting in preparation of the refreshments for the occasion.

"All of the tickets for the program are sold," said H. C. Schaeffer '25, chairman of the tickets committee. Numerous requests have come to Agric Triangle to repeat the entertainment, but no definite announcement for a repetition has been made.

Gilman Will Address

Y. M. Meeting Tonight

Prof. "Steve" Gilman will speak at a Fellowship meeting in the Y. M. C. A. parlors at 7 o'clock tonight under the auspices of the Freshman Inner circle. The talk is said to be one of his best. Added features have been arranged for the program.

THE SENATE STARTS

FRESHMEN are to doff their green caps after Thanksgiving for the winter months, as they have in the past. The Student senate showed wisdom in that ruling.

To show loyalty is all right but colds and influenza are not conducive to high emotions, and the introduction of a new cap at this time of year would be impractical.

As suggested by The Cardinal some time ago, the senate has caught up an inexcusable loose end by appointing a member to the long vacant undergraduate position on the Co-op board of trustees, to look after student interests. If this is followed up by an investigation and report on the Co-op, it will clear up considerable student sentiment toward the establishment.

The point system also was taken up at the meeting last night, and a committee is to investigate the proposal.

That is a good beginning for the new senate. If the body follows up its start in a vigorous, industrious and intelligent manner, it will merit considerable commendation.

SCHEDULE SEASON

SOON it will be the open season for schedules. After the Chicago game Wisconsin will sign up with adversaries for next year.

The students are interested in that schedule. They should make their interest and desires known and felt.

Badger undergraduates have been dissatisfied with the schedule this year. They don't want to spend large sums of money or undergo the hardships of blind baggages in order to see their team in big games.

They have had to do so this year. Immense numbers have followed the eleven to distant gridirons. But they want to get more use out of their own stadium next year.

Wisconsin students want an inter-sectional game. They want some games outside the conference that are worth seeing.

There is no doubt that Wisconsin could have such a game. Opportunities for inter-sectional contests come every year in several sports. Many institutions want to play Wisconsin.

Students have wanted some worth while extra-Conference sports for long while. So have athletic officials. But always, at each proposal, the autocracy which controls Wisconsin's athletic destiny has shaken its head. And the matter has ended there.

That head-shaking has become a habit, but habits can be broken. It is possible to exert enough pressure to change the direction of head shaking.

When students decided that they wanted an extra day of vacation at Thanksgiving time, someone took the initiative; and in 24 hours 3,000 students petitioned for that extra day.

Whether the petition will be successful is not yet known, but its circulation shows what can be done in the way of organizing.

If that big a shout is possible in 24 hours, what could be done in a week with unified backing of student organizations?

If men shout loud enough, even the gods will hear. It's time now for students to do some unified hollering. A few more days and it will be too late.

If the Council of 40 won't take the initiative, some other organization should do it—Athletic board, or some of the honorary groups.

Wisconsin athletics may be ruled by an academic autocracy, but even autocracies may be influenced if enough effort is made.

Miraculous Cures Act on Diseases From Hysteria

"The universal type of disease caused by hysteria is the one that these miraculous cures act upon," is the answer of Prof. H. C. Hull, psychology department, in answer to the reports of marvelous cures being performed by the popular Paris clinic, Dr. Emil Cone, who through his principle of auto-suggestion is relieving those who flock to worship him.

Dr. Hull proceeded to give the psychological analysis of the subject when he declared:

"Fundamentally, bible cures, hypnotism, psycho-analysis, and auto-suggestion are all based on suggestion. All their cures are those of patients whose ailments are the result of hysteria. People in this condition think themselves into being ill. Cheerful thoughts and encouraging atmosphere can work these wonders in people in this condition. All these types, in my opinion,

Looking Back On Wisconsin

IN THE CARDINAL FILES

20 YEARS AGO

President Harrison declared the Friday after Thanksgiving a holiday and there was great rejoicing in the university.

Wisconsin was making extensive preparations for the trip to Milwaukee where Northwestern was to be met on the gridiron.

The faculty passed a resolution prohibiting any student from being exempted from any university examinations.

20 YEARS AGO

A Purity banquet was held at the Capitol house after the Minnesota game at which more than seventy football men were present. The coaches, managers, players and scrubs were escorted to their repast by more than 300 students in parade. The Minnesota players were greatly impressed, declaring that nothing like it had ever been offered at Minneapolis.

In a heated debate Senator LaFollette was decided to be superior to William H. Taft for the presidency.

The frosh trimmed the soph team in a one sided scrimmage; the score was 14-0.

10 YEARS AGO

The Articles of Control of the Wisconsin Union were published.

Wisconsin defeated the Hawkeyes at Iowa, 28 to 10.

Argument for a democratic prom won in an Athenae debate by a vote of 4-1.

5 YEARS AGO

More than $14,000 was subscribed in 30 hours for the army Y. M. C. A.

Coach Lowman called 16 fraternities together to arrange for a interfraternity basket ball tournament.

More than 150 Wisconsin men applied for admission to the third officer's training camp.

FLOWER AND FRUIT EXHIBITION OPENED

The Flower and Fruit show opened yesterday in the Horticulture building. The exhibition was planned for one day only, but the time has been extended for one more day in order that more people may see the displays. A large room in the basement of the building is filled with displays of fruit, and the air is fragrant with the smell of large, beautiful chrysanthemums.

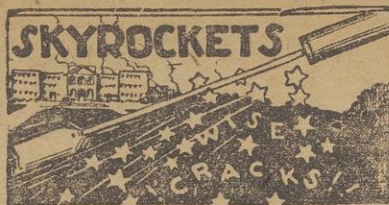

There are 60 varieties of apples, and 25 kinds of chrysanthemums on exhibition which were all raised by students in the College of Agriculture. There are two enormous lemons and a stalk of bananas on display that were raised in Madison. Besides the Wisconsin fruits, there were apples from Missouri, Michigan, Iowa, New York, and New Hampshire. Very interesting new methods of packing apples were demonstrated.

Prof. G. H. Townsend said that the public was becoming interested in fruit and flower shows from the economic standpoint. People must learn to know varieties, seasons and values in order to buy "wisely", he stated. "It is a pity that people should buy inferior apples which are shipped in, because they are red when they could buy much better ones that grew in Wisconsin."

Several large apple pies were on exhibition that were made by girls of the Home Economics department. These pies will be auctioned off tomorrow night. The winners for the best pies were: First—Miss Gladys Mahar, Second—Miss Dorothy Van Holten, Third—Miss Marg Purcell, and fourth—Miss Mary Kriz. The prizes were a large bunch of prize chrysanthemums, a Jerusalem cherry plant, and two potted primroses.

ion, are good imaginary cure for imaginary diseases."

The attitude of this psychology professor is interesting in the life today, when such an astounding number of people are coming to believe more thoroughly than ever in mental processes that effect cures.

Did you notice that the week of Dec. 3-9 is going to be National Education week? By golly! That's pretty swell! We do so hope it gets to be a habit with our national government to take one whole week off every year and devote it to educational interests!

Let's make a rule, "No Fair Cutting Classes"—for that week.

Then all the rest of the year, we can feel that we have devoted a substantial amount of time and energy to the acquiring of an education.

And after that, if our Philosophy man should say: "What is matter?" We could just up and say back at him: "Never mind."

Or p'haps, if he should say: What is mind?"—we could say in reply "No matter."

What the Sam Hill is all this big idea about Dec. 1st being a holiday? Everyone is going to be broke from going to Chicago, anyway. I sh' think all you men would rather have the time after New Year's Eve.

You poor dummies! Never thought of that, betcha.

TITLE CONFLICT BETWEEN BEARS, TIGERS IS TALK

Princeton and California Teams Declared Class of Country

The champion football team of the United States and of the world could not be more easily determined than by a game between the University of California and Princeton university.

Many complications, of course, would arise from the picking of Princeton to represent the East, but as a whole they have not only showed their superiority over some of the best teams in the East but have also beaten one of the strongest in the Middle West; namely, the University of Chicago.

Wins Three Years

California is the undisputed champion of the far West for the third consecutive year. It is a case of "in numbers there is strength." From the 15,000 students at the western university 11 men can be produced that are able to crush any hopes which other institutions in that part of the country might have.

The Bears have had little difficulty in downing the University of Southern California, Washington state, the University of Washington, St. Mary's, and the University of Nevada. Those teams are considered the strongest in the West and all have fallen before the brand of football that beat Ohio State 28 to 0 two years ago.

Doped to Beat Stanford

California plays Stanford next Saturday but should not have to extend themselves a great deal as Stanford has lost to U. S. C. and the University of Washington.

Although Princeton has not defeated teams like Penn State, Pittsburgh, Cornell and the University of Pennsylvania they have demonstrated their ability in trouncing Chicago, Harvard and Yale.

Critics throughout the country feel that Princeton could battle any of these teams on even terms and is therefore representative of that section.

The Army is another powerful team in the East, but their record was shattered by Notre Dame, who held the West Pointers to a tieless score.

Penn State to Play Stanford

Penn State, who goes to Pasadena for a game with Stanford New Year's Day, need not have great fears of leaving the field a defeated team. If they were playing California they would have something to worry about.

Princeton has officially closed its gridiron season but many games will be played in the East this Saturday which should show to some extent the strength of other teams on the Atlantic side of the continent.

The Army mule will stack up with the Navy goat at Philadelphia in one of the most important games on Saturday's schedule.

Cornell, Penn to Clash

Another game at Philadelphia that will be a world beater is the contest between the University of Pennsylvania and Cornell. Both of these teams have been hanging up great records this season. Although the University of Alabama slipped over a 9 to 7 win on Pennsylvania, the latter redeemed itself last Saturday when it defeated Penn State 7 to 6.

Notre Dame goes to Pittsburg Saturday, engaging a powerful eleven in Carnegie Tech. A chance at comparative sectional strength will be afforded by this game.

The Pittsburgh—Penn State game at Pittsburg on Thanksgiving Day will go a long way toward clearing up doubtful superiority in the East.

YEARLING FLOOR SQUAD IMPROVED, DECLARES COACH

About 25 men are reporting to Coach Carl Harper for freshman basketball practice twice a week. The practices now are being held in the gym, one in the afternoon and one in the evening, except for one picked team which will scrimmage the varsity one afternoon a week. Coach Harper expects some men to report from the frosh football squad, but as yet he is not certain of the material. He expects to find some valuable material on the gridiron squad.

Some of the best men will be picked to stack up against the varsity. Men who have been showing up well in practice are Meyers, Christoff, Christiansen, Larsen, Skoagland, Olson, McCarthy, Nicols, and Grennan. According to Coach Harper, some of these men look like future varsity material. Skoagland and Larsen, however, are lacking in endurance.

The squad has improved steadily the Coach declared last night. Their passing and shooting is fairly accurate, and is expected to improve as soon as they get some competition against the varsity. The fundamentals of the game are being stressed now. Blocking, shooting, and passing are the points most emphasized by Harper in the daily practices.

Coach Richards to Send Son of Sprinter to U.W.

ST. PAUL—Jimmie Maybury, son of the late James Maybury, famous sprinter, has a chance to go through the University of Wisconsin at the expense of John Richards, Badger football coach, it became known today.

John R. Richards, today, confirmed the report that he had offered to pay the expenses of a university education for Jimmie Maybury, son of the late James Maybury, famous Wisconsin sprinter. The boy has been asked by Coach Richards to attend the university here.

"James Maybury and I were close college friends at Wisconsin," the coach said. "I learned when at Minneapolis, Nov. 4, that his young son, now a high school pupil, might not be able to attend the university because of his father's death. I asked to be permitted to pay his expenses as a student here."

"The boy is not an athlete and this request of mine was made as a friend."

WASHINGTON—By a vote of 200 to 110 the house today adopted a rule giving privileged status to the administration shipping bill which will be taken up tomorrow and voted on Friday Nov. 29.

made this coming summer will not affect the field at all, for lower deck seats are going to be constructed on the north end of the horse shoe and an additional 1,000 seats added on the south right hand side.

Not until some time in the future when the gate receipts permit the erection of second decks to accommodate a total of 68,000 people, will the hockey field be infringed on in the least. And then, the interference for only about ten feet in the center of the arch construction will be easily remedied by cutting down no more than two trees to make up for the ground lost.

CROSS COUNTRY MEN LEAVE FOR BIG TEN MEET

Six Harriers Depart Tonight to Participate at Purdue

Six cross country men, besides Coach Mead Burke and Trainer Enos Jones leave tonight for Purdue where the cross country squad will enter the conference meet on Saturday. The contest is the last race of the season for the Badgers and hopes are high for finishing an already successful season with a good showing against the other conference teams.

After two weeks of intensive practice the team is in excellent condition. The weather has been ideal for workouts throughout the fall and the men have used it to the best advantage. Evidence of the good condition of the men has been shown at the finish of several meets this fall when the Badgers have seemed almost as fresh as they were before the race.

Not Doped to Win

While Wisconsin is not doped to win the race, it is certain that they will not be far behind the winners. The local course is much like the course at Purdue, and the Badgers, with the advantage of being accustomed to running on an uneven course, should finish near the top.

Wade and Tschudy are Wisconsin's best bets for high points in the meet. These men have vied for first honors throughout the season and will undoubtedly cause some of the speedy men of the conference considerable worry. Wade has been improving steadily throughout the season and it would not surprise many fans to see him lead the field at the finish.

To Take Six Men

Besides Wade and Tschudy, Coach Burke has two good men in Valley and Moorhead. Both of these men have shown good form in the dual meets of the season and can be depended upon to score points. Rossmessel and Perry make up the remainder of the team.

In Ames and Michigan will be found the class of the meet. Ames has been cleaning up everything in that part of the country and is primed for a win Saturday. Two weeks ago the Iowa school romped away with the Missouri Valley meet without having any serious competition.

Rathbun May Run

Rathbun, one of the fastest distance men in the country, may run for Ames in the meet. He has not run in any meet this fall but he has not been needed for Ames has

GOPHER ELEVEN TO BE IN SHAPE FOR WOLVERINES

(Special to The Cardinal)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 22.—With the crippled condition of his players fast disappearing, Coach Bill Spaulding of Minnesota's grid eleven is pointing his squad toward the impending Wolverine attack, feature on the Gopher bill next Saturday. The game will close the first year of Spaulding's regime at Minnesota and probably Coach Yost's last at Michigan. The conflict between these schools will have the traditional 'brown jug' as a reward for the conquering eleven.

Coach Spaulding and his assistant, Len Frank, journeyed to Ann Arbor last week and got an inside peep on Yost's pet formations and tricks. Coach Spaulding is now developing an attack that he hopes will prove the down fall of the so far undefeated Wolverine aggregation. Michigan is bound to play her best as the Gophers are the only obstacle remaining between them and a clear slate for the season.

Minnesota's attack will be centered around her sensational halfback, Earl Martineau. The Gophers will undoubtedly open up with a forward pass attack that will cause trouble for the Wolverine eleven. All Minnesota is waiting to see Kipke and Martineau in the same game.

Both of these men are wonderful defensive players, with Martineau probably having the edge on offensive abilities. Kipke, on the other hand, is the best punter of the two. Just how these great backs will show when in the same game is keenly anticipated by every Gopher.

With the end of the Michigan game Minnesota will put her football togs away until next fall. Bill Spaulding has won the whole-hearted support of every Minnesota follower and the first year of the Minnesota revival of football has been tremendously successful. When the gates to Northrup Field open in 1923 nine men on the first team this year will be back ready to do their fighting.

had no trouble in winning every meet in which it has entered. Rathbun placed second in the conference meet last year, coming in close behind Finkle of Wisconsin. If he is entered in the meet Saturday he is almost a sure winner.

Michigan, with a fast team, won from Wisconsin in a dual meet several weeks ago and will try to repeat the performance. Wisconsin has improved greatly since that time, and unless the Wolverines have improved in proportion they will have to be content to come in behind the Badgers in the race.

Captain Pown and Isbell are the stars of the Michigan team, and from the speed they have displayed this fall they are men to be feared.

BADGER ELEVEN SET TO BATTLE FAST STAGGMEN

nois, were all played off their feet by the Badger center rush men.

Coach Richards used many men in scrimmage with the All-Americans at Camp Randall yesterday afternoon. Some of the reserves are getting test under fire. Jack Harris continues to be the same ripping ball-carrier. His leg has healed well enough so that he can play in a regular game, and if Richards decides it is safe to risk the halfback, Harris may get his chance against Chicago.

Fear John Thomas

John Thomas is the man the Wisconsin defense will be watching for. In practice with the omelettes, Varsity makes it a point to grab the player in Thomas' position. Thomas plays either half or fullback, sometimes supplanting Harold Thomas at half and sometimes going in for Bill Zorn at full.

It is the usual procedure for Coach Staggs to wait for a break before he sends Thomas into the game. Smashing against a tired forward wall, a fresh back can always gain ground. In the Chicago contest last year, Thomas was withheld until the break came and then almost single-handed, he took the ball down the field. Romney's drop-kick beat the Badgers, but Jack Thomas made the try for field goal possible.

Has Clear Slate

Although Chicago has beaten four opponents this season, none of them were of topnotch calibre. Northwestern is still near the bottom of the heap, while Purdue is no stronger than a small college eleven. Ohio State and Illinois, the other teams which lost to the Staggmens, are not in the top flight. Illinois is probably the only worthy outfit that has clashed with the Maroons, as Ohio State has yet to win its first game.

Because of its clean record, Chicago goes into the Wisconsin battle a slight favorite, but the two teams are about as evenly matched as any machines in the Big Ten and a battle royal will result when they meet on Saturday.

Five Madison car drivers were fined $1 and costs for violation of the city auto light ordinance when arraigned in Superior court today. The men who were fined are: Eugene Sinaiko, Albert Schleicher, A. O. Barton, W. F. Morhoff, and Edward Miller.

Till Eulenspiegel's Merry Pranks—R. Strauss
The Ride of the Valkyries—Wagner.

The orchestra will be under the leadership of Max Reiner, the new conductor from Hungary, who won his fame at an early age in Europe and now appears for the first time in America. The Glazounow symphony is one that has never before been performed in this country, while the other numbers are familiar to Madison audiences.

Illinois High School

Officials Convene Today

The linking of the secondary schools more closely to the university has been accomplished in Illinois by an annual conference of Illinois high schools which is held at the university, Urbana, each year. The conference this year, which will be called today and last until the end of the week, is under the direction of Prof. H. A. Hollister. These conferences have been growing in interest each year. At the first session in 1903 there were only 75 high school principals and representatives present, while the attendance last year was 2,700. The work has been declared to be a real constructive influence in education in the state.

To Entertain Eastern Presbyterians Tonight

All Presbyterian students from the Eastern states will be entertained at an informal party this evening at Presbyterian Student headquarters, 731 State street. Tom Dartnell '23, a student from New York state, will give several vocal selections. A chart has been put up in the headquarters containing the names of all registered Presbyterians in the university. Each student who visits the house will have his name checked and it is the aim of the cabinet to have every name on this list checked before the close of the school year.

German College Students Reported Without Rooms

Apis Club Hears Report on Book Written in 1792

V. G. Milum gave a report on the first bee book published in America at the Apis club Tuesday evening. The book was written in 1792 by "a farmer of Massachusetts", and contained many peculiar notions in regard to the behavior and management of bees.

A discussion, by Dr. S. B. Fracker, state entomologist, of the progress of apian inspection and the eradication of bee diseases, was included in the program. The club is planning a bee show of some kind to be held during the first weeks of the second semester.

MRS. C. R. FISH SINGS FOR GERMAN CLUB

Mrs. Carl Russel Fish, singing three groups of German songs, made up the main part of the program at a meeting of the German club in the Lathrop parlors last night. Her songs were all from famous German masters. The first group from Schubert, included "An Die Musik," "Die Forelle," and "Der Tod und das Maedchen."

"Fruehlingsnacht" and "Mondnacht" from Shumann comprised the second group. The presentation was completed by Mozart's "Das Veilchen" and Strauss' "Allerseelen".

Two dramatic readings by Miss Sterling's Schiller class and Prof. Ernst Voss' class respectively, constituted the balance of the program.

Miss Susan Sterling's class offered the climax from "Die Braut von Messina." The characters included Habighorst, Kolbus, Lawrence, Lenz, Wisch, Catherine Boyd, Alma Haaka and Doris Koemanan. Prof. Voss' students presented Goethe's drama "Goetz von Berlichingen". Those taking part were Jax, Steidmann, Wenzel, Bertha Barkhardt, Gladys Dieruf, and Louise Schlichting.

Chicago Men Prominent in Michigan Activities

Eugene L. Dunne and Harry A. S. Clark, both of Chicago, have received appointments in student activities at the University of Michigan. Dunne, brother of R. Jerome Dunne who was last year's football captain and basketball star, is assistant master of costumes for the annual Michigan Union opera, "Make It for Two," and a member of the sophomore literary class auditing committee. Clark has been appointed assistant publicity manager of the Michigan Union opera.

Says Scholarship Should Dominate University Life

"The spirit of scholarship should be the predominating influence in university life here at Wisconsin," Dr. George Bryan of the botany department said Sunday afternoon at the Y. W. C. A. vespers. Dr. Bryan spoke on "The Changing World", and gave illustrations to the effect that evolution is a reality.

"In the dynamic world in which we live, the driving force is evolution—each life is a proof of evolution, the ability to adapt oneself to changes. This is reflected in greater life as well as in that of individuals, as in religion for instance. The changing idea of God is evolution with its highest expression in the living Christ who is the spirit of the law, not the letter of the law that was demanded in the old Testament," Dr. Bryan said.

EDUCATORS HEAR TALK BY O'SHEA ON PSYCHOLOGY

"The Psychology of Belief and Conviction" was the subject of an address delivered by Prof. M. V. O'Shea at the annual address at the convention of Chicago educators in the Illinois theater on Saturday. That children need to be taught so that they will not be so credulous or so prejudiced as most adults was advocated by Professor O'Shea. The young are born with a tendency to believe everything they want to be true. Likewise, they take a superficial view of natural phenomena: if two things happen together they think they are related to cause and effect. Fakery and propagandists take advantage of this trait and make people believe all sorts of unreal things," the professor said. "America is the home of fake telepathists, mind readers, new religionists, and other persons who claim to possess supernatural powers, and a large proportion of our people believe that they have supernatural ability. Also, our people very easily take sides for or against men according to their personal interests in respect to them."

Professor O'Shea claims that if children were taught in the schools every day to trace cause and effect in natural and human relationships, they would be less easily induced than most of us are to take sides in their relations with people so as to advance their own interests no matter what the outcome may be for the welfare of the people as a whole.

Postpone Landscape Talk By Chicago Park Expert

The lecture on landscape gardening which was to have been given at the Horticultural building today has been postponed on account of the fact that Mr. Jens Jensen, the speaker was unable to come to Madison at this time. Mr. Jensen is supervising landscape architect of the Chicago city parks and also oversees the designing of Mr. Henry Ford's estates.
